"A park? Is this what you wanted to show me?" Chopper asked.

"Poyo." Kirby nodded happily. He then jumped on a swing and signaled Chopper to push him. Chopper smiled and got behind Kirby and started to push him on the swing. They were having fun as, once again, the mechanized grasshopper was there, watching their every move. Chopper and Kirby then noticed Luffy and the others heading to the restaurant.

"They are back so soon?" Chopper asked sadly as he wanted to play with Kirby more.

"Poyo…" Kirby said sadly.

"Oh, we can play after eat. Let's go with them." Chopper said.

"Poyo." Kirby replied as they both left the park and to the restaurant. Everyone regrouped in front of the restaurant, with Luffy wanting to go inside already.

"And here is Kawasaki's restaurant; the only restaurant in town." Tiff said.

"Yes! Let's go!" Luffy said as he and Kirby went in there first, with everyone else following them inside. Tiff and Tuff where the last ones to go in as they then started to talk.

"So, did they show any signs of pretending to be nice or anything?" Tiff asked.

"It was hard to tell." Tuff said, "Maybe we were wrong about them. Maybe they are nice pirates afterall."

"I don't know. But still, keep your eyes open for anything suspicious." Tiff said. They both then got inside, with nothing bad happening to them or the Strawhat crew yet. But just how long will that last?

Meanwhile…

"Awful… Awful… AWFUL!!!"

In a humongous yellow castle on a big hill, there were several creatures that has the same body figure as Kirby, only that their faces are white, their backs are brown, and they have no mouths, are guarding an entry to the dining room, where somebody inside was making a ruckus.

"This is disgusting! How come I can't get a decent meal in this place!?" Yelled the one responsible for the ruckus. He is a big and large penguin, not bigger than Franky or Robin or Chopper in his Heavy point, but he is fatter than they are. He is wearing yellow gloves, and a red royal finery, with a peace sign on the back of his robe. He was arguing about the food he was eating.

"Waddle doo! I demand that I get some delicious meals, or I'll give you the death penalty!" The penguin threatened.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" responded a creature with the same body figure as Kirby, only he has a big eyeball for a face. The creature-- Waddle Doo, left the dining room as the penguin sighed.

"I am so dang bored!" Whined the penguin, "Being King isn't as good as it used to be anymore. I could try and get rid of Kirby again, but I am so irritated on doing that again. -sigh-… I wish something different would happen."

"Your Majesty!!" yelled someone from outside the dining room. The person who yelled then barged inside the dining room, panting heavily. It was big, purple snail with his eyes that are together instead of being separate from eachother like other ordinary snails have.

"What is the meaning of this, Escargoon!? How dare you barge in here like some sort of maniac!?" The penguin asked angrily.

"My apologies, Your Majesty." The big snail-- Escargoon panted. "It's just that we have big trouble in our hands!"

"What are you babbling on about!?" The penguin asked.

"Outsiders have just came into Dreamland, Your Majesty. I used our mechanized grasshopper to spy on them, but when I took a look on their ship, I saw something unbelievable!" Escargoon said in panic.

"What!? What did you see!?" The penguin asked.

"I saw a pirate flag on top of their ship's mast!" Escargoon cried out.

"A pirate flag!?" The penguin said in shock, "But that means…"

"We have been invaded by pirates!" Escargoon yelled.

"DYEEEEEHHHHHHHHHH!!!!" The penguin got out of his chair and started to frantically run all over the place. "Quick, put all Waddle Dees in full alert; raise the bridge; use the commoners as the sacrifices for the pirates! DON'T LET THEM GET ME!!" The penguin cried in fear as he hid under the table while covering his eyes.

"Wait, Your Majesty; I still haven't told you the entire story!" Escargoon yelled, "The pirates got here with Tiff and Tuff leading them."

"Wha!?" The penguin asked angrily as he got up, knocking the table he was under over. He then got out his binoculars and went towards the balcony. He used the binoculars to look around at the ocean. "Oh!? There is the pirate ship!" He noticed the Thousand Sunny from afar, "But where are the pirates!?"

"The last time I saw them, they entered Kawasaki's restaurant." Escargoon said, "Which is strange if you ask me. If they were pirates, they would have started attacking us with no mercy. I wonder why they didn't-eh!?" Escargoon noticed that the penguin had a very angry look on his face as he put his binoculars down. "Your Majesty, what's the matter!?"

"Tiff! How dare she commits such treason!?" The penguin said very angrily.

"What do you mean, Your Majesty?" Escargoon asked.

"She has formed a rebellion against me!" The penguin yelled, "She hired a group of pirates so they can take over my throne!"

"Eh!? Are you sure!?" Escargoon asked in shock.

"Why else would of bunch of pirates would come here quietly!?" The penguin asked, "I bet they are planning to do their first move right now, but I wont let them do that as long as my name is Dedede! Escargoon, let's go!" The penguin-- King Dedede, then rushed out of the dining room, with Escargoon following him.

Dedede ran through the hallways, and then running down the stairs as he was soon outside. He ran to his limo, which had a big engine. He jumped to the passenger seat while Escargoon got behind the wheel.

"Go, Escargoon! I'll teach Tiff not to form a rebellion against me! Dyeh heh heh heh heh heh heh!" Dedede laughed as Escargoon started the engine, and drove out of the castle, and headed towards the village.

Kirby Pt 3

This one turned out to be a little longer than I thought. I hope you like it. Enjoy!

The people of Dreamland. The Strawhat crew met an odd looking creature named Kirby. They then with two other odd looking creatures named Tiff and Tuff. They suspected that the Strawhat crew are vicious pirates, so they pretended to be nice to them and showed them towards a village. The creatures in the village are called Cappies, which are quite nice. The Strawhat crew looked around before entering a restaurant, but somebody else is not really happy upon their arrival, which turns out to be King Dedede. What will he do when he confronts with the Strawhat crew.

Chapter 70: Introducing King Dedede!, The royal feast

The Strawhat crew and Kirby entered the restaurant, followed by Tiff and Tuff. The restaurant didn't look all that special. The walls were messy, the tables were kinda dusty, it looks like nobody has stepped foot in this place for decades.

"This is a restaurant? It looks like a ruin." Franky said

"Kawasaki? Are you here?" Tiff asked loud enough for everyone in the restaurant to here.

"Welcome!" Said somebody as he came out of the kitchen. He looked different from the other Cappies. He has light-brownish skin, has a cooking apron around his waist, and has a chef hat on his head. "Ah, Kirby, Tiff, and Tuff. It's nice to see you here again. Oh?" The chef then noticed the Strawhat crew. "Hello. Welcome to Kawasaki's restaurant. I am Kawasaki at your service."

"Kawasaki, these people are from out of town." Tiff explained, "They would like to eat here after having such a long trip."

"Splendid! It has been weeks since I have had any customers!" The chef known as Kawasaki said, "Why don't you all take a seat while I bring you the menus?"

"Yosh!" Luffy said excitedly as he quickly sat next to a table next to a wall. Nami, Zoro, and Franky sat next to Luffy's right side, while Usopp, Sanji, Robin and Chopper sat next to Luffy's left side. Since there was no longer any seats available for that table, Kirby, Tiff, and Tuff sat on a table that was close to Luffy and the others. Kawasaki quickly gave everyone a menu and took out a notepad.

"Now, what would you be having?" Kawasaki asked nicely.

"Eh, nothing here sounds that tasty…" Usopp said while looking at the menu with a disgusted look.

"Okay, I want to eat every single dish in this menu!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Everything!?" Kawasaki asked in shock.

"EVERYTHING!!" Luffy repeated loudly.

"Wow! Coming right up!" Kawasaki said happily as he rushed back into the kitchen.

"Luffy, you do realize that we don't have any money to pay for this meal, right?" Nami asked while glaring at Luffy.

"That's no problem. We can pay it for you." Tiff said kindly.

"Awesome! Now we can eat as much as we want!" Luffy said excitedly, which caused Sanji to kick him while sitting down.

"Oi! What is wrong with you!? You can't take advantage of little kids like that!" Sanji yelled angrily.

"Um, no. It's okay, really. We have enough. Heh heh…" Tiff laughed weakly.

"Sis, how long do we have to keep this up?" Tuff whispered to Tiff.

"Until they show their true colors. That is when Kirby will get rid of them." Tiff whispered back.

"But this is taking too long. These guys are really good on pretending to be nice." Tuff whispered.

"Which is exactly why we brought them here." Tiff whispered, "Once they taste one of Kawasaki's meals, they sure to get on a rampage afterwards."

"Oh, so that's why were here. That's a really good idea, Sis." Tuff whispered happily, "Once they get on a rampage, Kirby will get rid of them like bugs, right Kirby?"

"Poyo…" Kirby said unenthusiastically.

Back in Strawhat crew's table, the crew was talking about what to do next. "Okay, now that we have found some townspeople, we can start some questioning about the location of the 6th heart." Nami said.

"Can we talk about that later? I want to eat food." Luffy said.

Nami glared at Luffy for a bit before looking back at her crewmates. "As I was saying, since this place is somewhat small, finding the heart should be a little more easy for us."

"We just got here and you already want us to work our butt for finding the next heart?" Franky asked grumpily.

"Yeah. You got a problem with that?" Nami asked rudely.

"Tsk.. no, I don't." Franky said, "But the only thing we know about this world is this village. There is alot more landscape out there, you know?"

"We might as well fuel up with some decent food that wasn't cooked by this idiot here before we get going." Zoro said tiredly.

"Oi!" Sanji yelled angrily.

"Yeah! Where is the food!? I want food!" Luffy yelled while pounding his hands on the table repeatedly.

"Yes, I am coming out right now!" Kawasaki said from the kitchen.

"Poyo! Poyo!" Kirby said excitedly, waiting for Kawasaki with the food. Kawasaki then came out of the kitchen, carrying dishes with what looked like food. He placed the food ordered by Luffy on the Strawhat's crew table for them to eat.

"Enjoy your meals!" Kawasaki said as he was expecting the Strawhat crew to eat what he made for them. However, instead of eating it, most of the Strawhat crew was looking at it with disgust.

"What in the world did this came out of?" Franky asked in disgust. On the Strawhat crew's table, their was plate with a couple of riceballs on it, only that they were so sticky, they are stuck on the plate. There was also a steak, but it was green and there was a putrid odor coming from it. There was a bowl of ramen, but they seemed to be undercooked. And their was a bowl of soup that really doesn't look like soup at all, but more of a frozen treat. To put it simple, all the food Kawasaki made was poorly done. A two-year old could make the dishes look better with it's own puke.

"So many mistakes…" Sanji muttered.

"Um, do we have to eat this?" Chopper asked worryingly.

"Not much of a professional cookmanship, I must say." Robin commented.

"Oh… not again…" Kawasaki said sadly with his head down.

"Uh, no. This looks just fine." Nami lied with a weak smile. "I am sure that it tastes much better than it looks. Heh heh heh…"

"Is this even edible?" Zoro asked. Nami glared at him and stomped his foot. "GYEEEEEEEEEEAAAAAAHHHHHH!!!"

"Shut up and eat it, you big baby!" Nami said as he grabbed his dish filled with Kawasaki's food and placed all of it inside Zoro's mouth before closing it shut.

"Seriously… something like this should never be eaten by any kind of person." Usopp said while narrowing his eyes down at his disgusting looking dish.

"Mmm! What are you guys talking about!? This is delicious!" Luffy said happily, already eating Kawasaki's food. This shocked most of the crew, including Tiff and Tuff, while Kawasaki was simply surprised.

"Oh!? Do you really mean that!?" Kawasaki asked with tears of happiness coming out of his eyes.

"He… actually likes Kawasaki's cooking?" Tuff asked in shock.

"He must have no taste…" Tiff said.

Luffy's crew looked at their dishes as they slowly placed their forks inside their green steaks. "I guess it wouldn't hurt to try." Chopper said.

"I could be wrong, but it may taste decent." Sanji said.

"Eh, let's give this a shot." Franky said, ready to eat.

"Alright, then. Time for Eating Champion Usopp to rate this meal." Usopp said as he then placed his part of the steak in his mouth and ate it. Everyone else did the same did the same thing. It got a little quiet for a little while until… "GYAAEEEEHHHHH!!"

"GYEEEEEEEEEEEEE…" The Strawhat crew's faces were completely red, except for Zoro who's face is blue for eating most of meal. "!!!!" Everyone, except for Luffy, grabbed their cups of water and drank the whole thing as their faces turned back to their original color.

"Wait for it… they will soon try to attack." Tiff said assuring, "Kirby, you will attack them once they do, okay?" Kirby didn't respond as the Strawhat crew started to calm down.

"Well… 1 out of 8 isnt so bad." Kawasaki said while rubbing the back of his head in shame. Robin, who didn't react as much like the others did before, wiped her lips with a napkin.

"It was a little too hot." Robin said plainly.

"A little!? I felt like I was drinking lava!" Usopp yelled, "Luffy, how could you possibly like this!?"

"Hmm.. you know what? It is missing something…" Luffy said while thinking, "I know! It needs hot sauce!"

"Huh!?" Usopp asked as Luffy poured some hot sauce on his meal and ate it.

"Mmm… so good." Luffy said happily. Tiff and Tuff were waiting for something else to happen, but strangely, it didn't.

"Hey, sis. Why aren't they are on a rampage?" Tuff asked.

"I don't know…" Tiff said, "Hey, aren't you guys angry that the food didn't taste good?"

"Hm? Not really. Why do you ask?" Chopper asked.

"Aren't you guys going to get on a rampage? You guys are pirates afterall." Tuff said.

"Pirates!?" Kawasaki said in shock, "Oh no! Please don't trash my restaurant!"

"Hey, wait a minute. We are not here to cause a scene." Nami said.

"Yeah, just because the food wasn't really great, doesn't mean that we would kill anybody just for that reason." Sanji said. Tiff and Tuff were now really confused whether to believe them or not.

"So… you guys really aren't here to cause any trouble?" Tiff asked.

"Of course not. We are just here to find something important. We didn't come here to hurt anybody." Nami said, "Look, I know we are pirates, but that doesn't mean that we are going to cause havoc here. We are the good kinds of pirates that only want to get back to our world."

"So that's it. Tiff, I think they are telling the truth." Tuff said.

"Well…" Tiff wasn't really sure what to believe. "I guess… you don't look like you're lying. Well, I think you are telling the truth too. We are sorry for suspecting you guys."

"Swure, no pwoblem. I dwont eben knowf whyf youwhile guysh sushpectched ush anywaysh…" Luffy said with a mouthful as Tiff sweatdropped upon this.

"Anyway… we didn't properly introduced ourselves earlier. My name is Tiff, and this is my little brother, Tuff." Tiff said.

"Hi!" Tuff said.

"And I am sure you all know that this is Kirby." Tiff said.

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily. Luffy managed to swallow all the food in his mouth as he started to introduce himself.

"I'm Luffy, and I am going to be the Pirate King." Luffy said confidently while pointing himself.

"You are?" Tuff asked.

"Yep!" Luffy responded.

"Amazing!" Tuff said happily. "So do you guys have lots of adventures together?"

"Sure we do! But I gotta say that these guys are nothing without me." Usopp lied, "They don't call me 'Usopp, The Great Warrior' for nothing. Without me, these guys would be already under the sea."

"I'd say that you are more like 'the Great Coward'." Franky said, which caused Usopp to glare at him.

"I never knew their were actually friendly pirates out there." Kawasaki said, "If you guys were really mean pirates, I would have been dead by now. Ha ha ha!"

"That is really not something to laugh about." Sanji said, "You can't really call yourself a chef if you make fun of your cooking. If you like, I could give you some pointers on how to cook right. I am chef myself."

"Really? You would do that?" Kawasaki asked, "This must be my lucky day. First, another customer other than Kirby likes my food, and now I can learn more about cooking from a pirate chef."

"Don't be so grateful; he is not that good anyway." Zoro said, but Sanji ignored him.

"Speaking of cooking, does anybody want to eat my meal. I lost my appetite." Usopp said.

"Poyo!" Kirby happily jumped on the Strawhat's table, looking at Usopp's dish.

"Oh, do you want some?" Usopp asked. "I think you are a little too young to eat something this big. Here let me cut-"

Before Usopp could cut a little piece of green steak for Kirby, Kirby opened his mouth and started to inhale so strong, that all the food on the table went right inside his mouth, including all the dishes on it. The Strawhat crew were quite surprised as they slowly looked towards Kirby, who licked his lips. Usopp was the most dumbfounded of them all as his eyes popped out of his head after a couple of seconds.

"HE INHALED THE WHOLE THING!?!?" Usopp asked as he fell down in shock.

"Wha-Wha just happened?" Chopper asked.

"The puffball inhaled all the food like some black hole!" Franky said in shock.

"Whoa! That was so amazingly cool!" Luffy said excitedly.

"Oh, I forgot to tell you about that." Tiff said in realization, "Kirby has the ability to inhale things at a strong rate. He would inhale everything in front of him."

"It's like he has a black hole inside of him." Tuff said.

"That is cool! I wish I can eat things like that!" Luffy said.

"If you did, then food would seize to exist." Usopp said as Luffy laughed.

"Also, Kirby can copy the abilities from the living or unliving things he inhaled." Tiff explained, "For example, if Kirby would have inhaled some fire, he would have the ability to breath out fire."

The crew were amazed by this. "So, if Kirby would inhale Usopp, he would have the power to lie?" Luffy asked in shock.

"Oi!" Usopp yelled angrily.

"He can also copy some physical traits. Like if he inhaled a bird, he would have wings." Tuff said.

"Seriously!?" Chopper asked with sparks of joy coming out of his eyes.

"Hiya ha ha ha! This place rocks! It's filled with copycat marshmallows!" Luffy said.

"Alright, I think we had enough time slacking off." Nami said as she got up from her seat. "Let's start finding the dang heart already.

"Boo!" Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper disagreed.

"Shut up and get going!" Nami barked. They sighed and got up from their seats, while Tiff and Tuff gave a frightened look to Nami.

"Sis, she is scary." Tuff whimpered.

"I know. But it's alright; she is a good pirate… I think." Tiff said.

"Poyo." Kirby said plainly.

"We'll pay you back for the meal, Kawasaki. See you later." Tiff said.

"Of course. Come again! Do bring the friendly pirates again sometime." Kawasaki said as he waved goodbye. The crew, and everyone else got out of the restaurant, with Kirby coming out first.

"So, where do we start?" Robin asked.

"Let's try asking some residents around here." Nami said.

"Wait a minute, what's that sound?" Franky asked. It was a sound of an engine that started to get louder by the second. Suddenly, Dedede's limousine appeared in the streets, and drove straight towards Kirby.

"Kirby, look out!" Tiff yelled.

"Poyo?" Kirby said as he looked towards the limousine before…

CRASH!!

"POYO!!" Kirby went flying right into a big tree behind him.

"Kirby!" Chopper cried as he and Tuff went to his aid. Luffy and the others were shocked as they then looked back at the driver of the limousine, which turned out to be Escargoon, with Dedede in the passenger seat.

"Stop where you are, pirates!" Escargoon yelled, "His Majesty has arrived to stop your putrid actions!"

"That's right!" Dedede yelled angrily as he jumped off his passenger seat, and stood on his limousine. "I hope you pirates are ready to fly, because Dedede is here to send you flyin'!"

"What the!? Who are you!?" Sanji asked.

"Dedede! What are you up to this time!?" Tiff asked angrily.

"Ah ha! So it's you, Tiff!" Dedede said angrily, "I knew your were behind all this! I should've known you were going to plan something this horrible! But I am not going to let you take my throne! It's mine, I tell you, MINE!"

"What are you talking about!?" Tiff asked.

"Don't talk back to His Majesty!" Escargoon yelled, "You and your men are going to suffer severe consequences for this treacherous act!"

"Tiff, it is time that you finally suffer the death penalty!" Dedede yelled.

"Death penalty!? Luffy, do something against this whacko!" Nami said worryingly, "Luffy, why aren't you responding!?"

Luffy was still in shock, not by what just happened to Kirby, but for what he is seeing right now. "It's a snail… driving a car… ! It's a snail driving a car! I never thought I would see this so soon!" Luffy said excitedly as he then quickly approached Escargoon, "You are like one of the coolest things I have seen so far! It's an honor to meet you!" Luffy then shook Escargoon's hand, shaking his whole body as well.

"H-Hey! W-W-W-What are y-you d-d-d-doing!?" Escargoon asked as he then fell off the driver's seat.

"Oh!? The assault has begun!" Dedede said in shock. Dedede then jumped of his limousine as the Strawhat crew backed away from him. "You want to take over my throne!? Then you are going to have to go through me, you filthy pirates! Where are the rest of your crew!? I want to hit you all repeatedly at the same time!!"

"Dedede, they are not here to take your throne! They are just here to look for something!" Tiff yelled.

"And we are all here, buddy! If you want piece of us, then bring it on!" Franky yelled. Dedede then calmed down as he had a confused look.

"Wait… this is it?" Dedede asked confusedly, "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight… are you serious? Who is the captain then?"

"Uh, that's me." Luffy said with a smile. Dedede looked at him oddly.

"He… is the captain? Uh…" Dedede said as for the first time in a very long time, Dedede started to think deeply. At the same time, Escargoon started to get up after falling off the driver's seat.

"Ugh! How dare you attack me!? I will make sure that neither are breathing after th-"

BONK!

"Ah!" Escargoon got hit on the head by Dedede, knocking him down to the floor. Dedede then sheeplessly smiled in front of the Strawhat crew, rubbing his hands together at the same time.

"Forgive Escargoon; he is an idiot sometimes." Dedede said happily, "We are sorry for making such a rude appearance; it's just that this is the way we greet outsiders to our land."

"Oh, so that's why. I thought you guys were actually mean." Luffy said.

"No, no, it's just a tradition we have to follow. Dyeh heh heh heh heh heh…" Dedede laughed, "Anyway, you guys look a little pale. Why don't you eat in my castle? I bet you guys are hungry after eating all that garbage inside that pathetic excuse of a restaurant."

"What!?" Escargoon yelled in shock, "Your Majesty, have you completely lost your mi-"

BONK!

"Ah!" Escargoon got hit by Dedede again as he fell on the floor once more.

"I should have said this earlier, but welcome to Dreamland, the land of dreams. No pun intended of course." Dedede said, "And I am… Escargoon, quit slacking off and introduce me to these fine people!"

"Eh… as you wish." Escargoon said while groggily getting up, "Ahem, ladies and gentlemen, I would like to introduce to you, the king of Dreamland, and one of the greatest role models of all time, Your Majesty, King Dedede!"

"Dyeh heh heh heh heh heh heh! Thank you, thank you, you are too kind." Dedede said grateful, even though nobody was clapping for him, "So, whaddya say? You want to come to my castle?"

"I don't know…" Usopp said, "I am not sure if we can trust you after you-"

"Sure, we'll go!" Luffy interrupted.

"Luffy!" Nami yelled.

"It's rude if we don't accept his invitation. Besides, I am still hungry." Luffy said while rubbing his tummy.

"Great! I will meet you back at the castle!" Dedede said as he then got back on his passenger at the same time Escargoon got on the driver's seat. "See you there! Dyah ha ha ha ha!" Escargoon drove Dedede around the tree Kirby crashed into earlier and out of the village to return to his castle. After he left, Chopper finished treating Kirby as they and Tuff regrouped with the others.

"What was that all about?" Zoro asked.

"That was Dedede. He is the lowest of the low here in Dreamland." Tiff said sternly, "He would always try to relieve his boredom by disturbing the peace in this village. But I wonder what he is up to this time."

"-sigh-… Luffy, whatever you do, don't try to do anything stupid to a guy like him." Nami said.

"Ah, Nami. There is no way anything bad would happen to us in his castle." Luffy said with a smile.

Meanwhile…

Dedede opened the double doors to his big throne room as he and Escargoon went inside. "Ah, what a day this turned out to be." Dedede said happily as he was walked to his chair at the end of his throne room.

"Your Majesty, have you realized what you have done!?" Escargoon asked. "You have invited pirates into the castle! What were you thinking!?"

"Pirates? Dwuh huh huh huh huh huh!" Dedede laughed as Escargoon was confused. "Those guys aren't pirates, Escargoon. They are just big frauds."

"Frauds? What do you mean?" Escargoon asked.

"Pirates are suppose to have big groups of ruthless people. They are suppose to be tough looking, and merciless against the innocent, and say 'Argh!'. The guys we met back in the commoner village had nothing of that. Instead, they have a stupid-looking captain, a swordsman poser, an orange head weirdo, a Pinocchio clone, a freaky eyebrow man, a raccoon, a hot lady, and a stripper. Not in a million years would they be pirates."

"Then why did you invited them here?" Escargoon asked.

"Since I now know that Tiff hired them just to scare me off, I am going to show them who is the king around here." Dedede said, "After they have their pleasant meal here, I am going to throw them in the dungeon and leave them there for the rest of their days for impersonating pirates."

"Since when is it illegal to impersonate a pirate?" Escargoon asked.

"Since I made that regulation just now." Dedede said, "And after I imprison them, all of their belongings shall be mine! Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

Meanwhile…

"Demon beasts!?" Usopp asked in fear. The Strawhat crew, including Tiff, Tuff, and Kirby, were walking along the road to Dedede's castle, with Tiff telling about Dedede's habits.

"That's right. Dedede used to buy demon beasts from an evil corporation known as Holy Nightmare to either get rid of Kirby, or to have some fun horrifying the villagers of Dreamland." Tiff explained, "But after Kirby defeated the founder of Holy Nightmare, Dedede lost his reason to buy any more demon beasts again."

"That Dedede really is a bad king." Chopper said, "Reminds of another awful king back in our world…"

"Poyo…" Kirby said.

"But things are peaceful now. He hasn't done anything reckless, or suspicious until today." Tiff said.

"He must be leading us towards one of his traps." Robin said.

"And this idiot fell for it." Nami said while pointing at Luffy.

"Food, food, food!" Luffy said excitedly. Nami sighed as they then came to a halt.

"We are here." Tiff said.

"Wow! CooooOOOOOLLL!!!" Luffy yelled out. In front of them was a really big yellow castle, with some vines around it's towers. Their were also some unused cannon on top of the castle walls. And there was a small river around the castle.

"It's been a while since we have been on a castle." Sanji said.

"Doesn't look that special." Franky said. The drawbridge of the castle lowered so the Strawhat crew, including Tiff, Tuff, and Kirby, to cross over. Before they did though, Waddle Doo came approached as his presence freaked out Usopp and Chopper.

"Welcome! His Majesty is waiting for you in the dining room." Waddle Doo said.

"Yes, we will be on our way there, Waddle Doo." Tiff said kindly. Waddle Doo made his salute before leaving as Usopp and Chopper were still dumbfounded.

"Was that a walking eyeball? And how was it talking?" Usopp asked in fear.

"Hee hee! This is so awesome!" Luffy said. Tiff led the way through the castle walls, and into the front garden, where there several Waddle Dees doing their daily chores. "Look at all these brown marshmallows. Makes me want to eat some right now."

"Those are the Waddle Dees. They are the soldiers here in this castle." Tuff said.

"These are soldiers?" Zoro asked an eyebrow raised, "They… don't look like it."

"Hey, Tiff. How is it that you know so much about this place?" Chopper asked.

"We live here." Tiff responded. "My father is the Cabinet Minister of the castle. So we live here because of his important job."

"Ah, so your family is rich." Nami said, "You are so lucky."

"Not really. Living with Dedede close by isn't that comfortable." Tiff sighed.

"Well, atleast you can have some money for some time." Usopp said kindly, "Unlike us since we have to buy huge amounts of food for a certain idiot that cant control himself from eating everything."

"I know, right?" Luffy asked with a big smile.

"I MEANT YOU!" Usopp barked which startled Luffy. They walked inside the castle and went up the stairs. They walked along the dark greenish hallway, with nobody in sight.

"This place is enormous. We could get lost in here." Franky said.

"It is big, but Tuff and I have gotten used to this place." Tiff said, "Now the dining room should be over here. Follow me."

Tiff, Tuff, and Kirby led the Strawhat crew towards the dining room. But Zoro suddenly stopped walking as he noticed that they aren't the only ones in the hall. He looked behind his right shoulder, and saw three small knights up against the wall, observing him. One of them was wearing a green helmet and boots, and a brown armor. The other one also had a green helmet, but he was wearing brown shoes and a blue armor.

The one that caught Zoro's attention was the knight that was in between those other two knights mentioned earlier. He has the same body structure as Kirby, only he has hands. He was wearing a blue cloak, and has a silver mask over his face, showing nothing but his yellow eyes. Zoro and this knight stared at eachother for a little while before Zoro decided to leave them.

"Where those people invited by King Dedede?" Knight No. 1 asked.

"I suppose they are." Knight No. 2 said, "But they don't seem to be from around here."

"Hmm…" The knight with the mask watched Zoro leave as his eyes glowed green with thought.

The Strawhat crew went through a double door and were now in a big dining room. "Here it is; the dining room." Tiff said.

"Fancy!" Luffy said excitedly as he then noticed somebody else in the room. One of them was a man with a purple mustache and purple hair. He was wearing an elegant purple suit and an orange bow tie around his neck. The other one was a lady wearing a violet dress and an orange scarf around her neck. The last two inside were two floating creatures. They have a ball-shaped body, and they have little arms and feet. One of them is blue, which is the boy, and the other one is pink, which is obviously a girl due to the bow tie on her head. And they both have no mouths.

"Hmm? Oh, Tiff and Tuff." The man with the mustache said, "Your have arrived just in time for His Majesty's royal feast."

"Hi Dad. Hi Mom." Tuff said while he and Tiff were approaching them.

"Now listen, you two; you must be on your best behavior during this feast." The lady said.

"Yes, mom." Tiff and Tuff sighed. The floating ball creatures then noticed the Strawhat crew.

"Hey, who are these guys?" the blue floating ball asked.

"Oh, they were the ones invited by Dedede." Tuff said.

"So these are the young lads His majesty invited." The man with the mustache said as he and his wife approached the crew, "Good day to you. My name is Sir Parm, and this is my wife, Memu. We are Tiff's and Tuff's parents."

"It is nice to meet you." Memu said.

"Same with us! We are grateful for your king inviting us into his big castle." Nami said.

"And I am Lololo, and this is Lalala." Said the blue ball creature known as Fololo.

"This place is filled with odd creatures…" Usopp said dumbfounded.

"Where is the king?" Robin asked.

"Welcome! You got here just in time!"

Everyone turned and saw Dedede, with Escargoon, walking in the dining room. "Glad you can make it. I am sure you already met my Cabinet Minister, and the rest of the residents here in the castle."

"Well--" Usopp began to say.

"Great! Let's say we start this feast already!" Dedede said proudly with Luffy and Kirby jumping up and down excitedly.

"Your Majesty, are you sure this is a good idea?" Escargoon asked.

"Don't worry." Dedede whispered back, "These outsiders will never forget this day."

5 minutes later…

"Uwah!? What is this!?" Dedede asked in shock.

He and everyone else were already sitting around the dining table as they are seeing Luffy stretching his arms towards all the food within his reach, eating them afterwards. Kirby was amazed by Luffy's stretching while everyone else were just quite shocked to say anything.

"W-Wow! I didn't know he can stretch like that!" Tuff said excitedly.

"Oh… that is interesting…" Tiff said unsuringly.

"Quit it, Luffy! Leave some for the others!" Usopp yelled, but Luffy didn't pay attention to him.

"Hey, Robin? Can you pass the salt please?" Chopper asked.

"Certainly, Doctor-san." Robin said kindly as she then sprouted an arm right next to the salt container, which was right next to Dedede's plate.

"Wha!?" Dedede stared at the sprouted arm as it grabbed the salt container and passed it to Chopper. The arm the disappeared as Dedede was still stunned. "T-The arm.. grew from the table… he is stretching.. eating everything… am I the only one who is surprised about this!?"

"Now do you regret making this decision?" Escargoon asked as he watched Luffy swallowing a turkey.

"This doesn't change anything." Dedede hissed as he then coughed to get everyone's attention, "So, um… may I ask for what reason you visited my great land?"

"As a matter of fact; we are here to look for an odd-looking heart. Do you, by any chance, happened to see one around here?" Nami asked.

"A heart? What do you want it for?" Dedede asked.

"So we can go to the next world and get another one." Luffy said, "We might meet one of the smash participants on the way." Hearing this surprised Dedede and the others.

"Oh, so you on a journey to meet those participants?" Dedede asked.

"Not really; he just sort of made that up." Usopp said.

"Dyeh heh heh heh. Well, today is your lucky day." Dedede said with a smirk, "Because I happen to be one of the smash participants myself."

"Eh!? You are!?" Luffy asked.

"Of course I am. I am not just for good looks, you know?" Dedede asked, "As a matter of fact, I am one of the strongest participants ever! Just one whack from my mallet will send a guy flying out across the sea!"

"Not if he knocks you out first." Escargoon commented before getting hit by Dedede again.

"Hey, Kirby is also one of the Smash participants too." Tiff said. The Strawhat crew were shocked by this.

"Are you serious!? That is so awesome!" Luffy said.

"I don't believe it. I cant believe that Master Hand guy would pick somebody like this little guy." Nami said with her arms crossed.

"Kirby, can I have your autograph?" Chopper asked while taking out his autograph book and pen. Kirby took the pen and looked at it oddly. He then swallowed the pen, which shocked Chopper.

"Escargoon, why isn't that raccoon asking me for my autograph?" Dedede asked.

"Maybe he doesn't want to. Why, are you jealous?" Escargoon asked.

"No way! I just want to see the look on his face when I reject him." Dedede said rudely. "Oh, wait! I have figured a way to make that happen." Dedede got out of his chair and walked towards Chopper and Kirby as Kirby did a lousy signature under Samus' name with another pen besides the one he swallowed. "Say, wouldn't you guys like to know who all the Smash participants are?"

"What do you mean?" Zoro asked.

"I have a portrait of all them, only in an advanced and limited edition one." Dedede explained, "Would you like to see it?"

"Yeah! We want to see it!" Luffy said excitedly.

"Okay! Escargoon, bring it here." Dedede said plainly.

"Bring what here, exactly?" Escargoon asked.

"The portrait! It's in my room. Go get it." Dedede said.

"Eh!? But that thing is heavy!" Escargoon said in shock.

"JUST BRING IT IN HERE!" Dedede yelled very loudly. Escargoon lowered his head and walked out the dining to get the portrait.

"You are a little abusive to your servants." Robin noticed.

"Oh, that's just how he likes to get treated. He doesn't mind, really." Dedede said simply while Chopper wasn't too sure about that. A couple of seconds later, Escargoon came back to the dining room, carrying a huge portrait that was covered in a sheet with both of his arm. He then fell in exhaustion as the portrait leaned on the wall. Dedede proudly went to the portrait and grabbed the sheet over it. "Behold! The roster of the Smash tournament!" Dedede pulled the sheet off the portrait as Luffy went 'Oooo' upon seeing it.

"But that's just a big portrait of you." Usopp said as the portrait only showed Dedede, posing heroically.

"No, everyone else is in here. They are just really tiny, that you can't see them." Dedede said. "Now then, I am sure that somebody wants my autograph now, huh?" Dedede looks towards the crew as he only saw Usopp using his goggles to zoom in on the portrait.

"Can you see anybody, Usopp?" Chopper asked.

"I am starting to see something." Usopp said. He had to focus his goggles to their limit to see the entire roster in the portrait. "I see it now! Let's see… Hey, Peach and Zelda are in here!"

"WHAT!?" Sanji yelled in surprise as he shoved Usopp out of the way and squinted his eyes to the portrait. "Incredible! No wonder they were so beautiful when I met them for the first time!"

Usopp grumpily moved Sanji out of the way as he continued to look at the portrait. "Whoa!? Pichu is in here too."

"Hm?" Zoro lifted his head in surprise hearing that.

"And there is Mario, there is Luigi, there is-AAHHH!!" Usopp fell back, shocked at who he just saw. "Bowser and that crazy Ganondorf are in here too!"

"What!?" The Strawhat crew were surprised, including Zoro.

"Well, go on; keep looking!" Luffy said.

"Oh boy…" Usopp whimpered as he resumed. "There is a blue jackal, two guys with blue hair, and there is like a robot in here. Hey, there is also a wolf in here."

"A wolf?" Luffy asked curiously, "What do you mean?"

"Okay, that's enough." Dedede said as he covered the portrait with the sheet, "You are going to ruin it if you are going to keep staring at it all the time." Dedede then happily turned to Chopper, "Now then, it seems like you have been asking for autographs. Since you wanted Kirby's, you obviously want mine."

"Um, no thank you." Chopper said kindly.

"Oh, don't be so modest. I know you want my autograph. Just hand it over, and I'll gladly sign it for you." Dedede said while grabbing Chopper's autograph book.

"No, it's okay. I don't want yours." Chopper said, not letting go of his autograph book.

"Seriously, let me sign it!" Dedede said angrily.

"No!" Chopper yelled. They both then pulled on the autograph book.

"Quit being such a brat, and let me sign it!" Dedede yelled.

"No, I don't want yours! Get away!" Chopper yelled.

"Why you… GAH!" Dedede pulled very hard, only for his hands to slip off the book. "WHOA!" Dedede went flying back to his seat and crashed into it, shattering it to pieces.

"Oh, I am so sorry!" Chopper said. Dedede angrily got up and glared at Chopper.

"You are going to pay-dyah!?" Dedede tripped over the unconscious Escargoon, making him on the fall on the floor. Once he fell, it caused a tremor that startled everyone, and shook a plate that was near the edge of the table. Before Dedede could get up, the plate fell on his head, which shattered to pieces as Dedede staggered upon getting up. Once he did, he dazedly fell backwards, grabbing on to the table sheets that went off the table as it covered him completely. Luffy and Kirby were laughing at this as everyone else was worried.

"Oh my. Another feast ruined by His Majesty himself." Sir Parm said ashamed. Then Waddle Doo came in with a couple of Waddle Dees carrying a cake.

"The dessert has arrived… uh?" Waddle Doo looked around at the mess. "What happened here?"

"CAKE!" Luffy yelled as he stretched his arms and grabbed the cake. He pulled it close to him as he was about to eat it until Usopp stopped him.

"Wait, Luffy! You can't eat the whole thing! We want some too!" Usopp yelled.

"I want to eat it though!" Luffy whined as he and Usopp was starting the pull the cake from eachother. Kirby was having fun as he jumped up and down while Nami sighed.

"I know something like this would happen." Nami said sadly.

"Oi, bros! Calm the heck down already!" Franky yelled to Luffy and Usopp.

"Oops!" Usopp couldn't overpower Luffy's strength as he lets go, causing Luffy to accidentally throw it behind him. Everyone stared at the cake flew across the dining room as Dedede got up, and angrily removed the table sheet off of him.

"LET ME HAVE IT!"

SPLOSH!

The cake went right into Dedede's face. Tiff and Tuff blinked for a few seconds, looking at Dedede covered in cake.

"Ha ha ha ha! That's funnier then the time he got hit by that big pie!" Tuff laughed.

"Yeah! Ha ha ha ha!" Tiff laughed as well.

"What a mess…" Memu said sadly. The dining was now absolutely a mess after all that disorder Dedede went through.

"Luffy, next time someone of royalty invites you for a feast, don't accept it!" Nami said strictly. Luffy whined as Chopper was putting his autograph book away.

"It's so hot." Sanji said.

"Your imagining Peach and Zelda again?" Zoro asked.

"No, seriously; this place is starting to get really warm." Sanji said as while sweating.

"Ugh! Why is it so hot all of a sudden?" Usopp asked, sweating nonstop, and with his tongue sticking out.

"That might be the cause." Robin said simply. Everyone looked towards Dedede, who still had cake on him. For some reason, the cake was bubbling like crazy as it started to evaporate as well. Once the whole cake evaporated, you could see Dedede's skin turning from blue to red, as he was so angry, the heat from his body was heating up the whole room.

"I.. tried.. to.. be.. nice.. but.. I.. can't… ANYMORE!!!" Dedede opened his eyes furiously, and slammed his hands on the table with great force, showing the pure anger he is feeling right now as it looked like it was on fire.

"AAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHH!!!!" Usopp and Chopper cried in fear while Luffy looked at Dedede oddly.

"GET OUTTA HEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR REE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEE EEEE!!!!!!!!!!!!"

The next thing they knew it, the entire Strawhat crew were thrown out across the drawbridge simultaneously by Dedede himself, and out of the castle. They all landed with a thud as Dedede glared at them for a couple of seconds before closing the drawbridge in front of them.

"Oooohhh…" The Strawhat crew were all dazed from being thrown out that roughly.

"Hey, you know what?" Luffy asked as everyone dazedly looked at him, "That Dedede guy isn't really nice." The Strawhat crew, except for Robin, slapped their foreheads in grief.

Kirby Pt 4

Hello! A long time since I made such a short chapter, but that's because my head is foggy at the moment, and I cant really come up with anything right now. So, try to have a great time with this chapter or not. Enjoy!

A royal feast turning tragic. The Strawhat crew have met the king of Dreamland, Dedede. Of course, Dedede thought the Strawhat crew were simply impersonating pirates. He invited them to his castle to have a royal feast, which didn't turn out that good for him at all. Instead of getting things his way, he got humiliated by the crew, and threw them out because of that. Will getting on Dedede's bad nerves lower the Strawhat crew's chances of finding the 6th Mystery heart?

Chapter 71: The Star warriors, Secrets that are untold

The Strawhat crew were groggily getting up after being thrown out of the castle by Dedede himself. "Ugh… he sure is strong for picking all of us up at the same time." Usopp said while rubbing his head, "I didn't even know how he did that in the first place."

"How that fat penguin ever got to be king of this place, I'll never know." Franky said.

"Atleast he is funny. Too bad he is so mean." Luffy said with his arms crossed.

"Mean or not, we already got on his bad side." Nami said, "We'll have to avoid him as much as we can from now on."

"I'll turn him into a feast if he does this sort of thing to us again." Sanji said angrily.

"Anyway, that whole meal was a waste of time." Zoro said, "And this place doesn't suit my tastes either. I say we should just find the dang heart and get out of this dump already."

"You jerk!" Usopp yelled.

"Dumbass!" Luffy yelled.

"Stupid marimo…" Sanji muttered.

"Marimo!" Chopper yelled.

Zoro then fought with Usopp, Luffy, Sanji, and Chopper angrily, with Usopp and Chopper getting knocked out as soon as the battle began.

"Eh.. these idiots can never get along." Nami said irritatingly while Robin giggled and while Franky was scratching his head. Suddenly, the drawbridge lowered again, catching Nami's attention. Out came Tiff, Tuff, Kirby, Lololo, and Lalala, who approached Nami, Robin, and Franky.

"Are you guys okay?" Tiff asked worryingly.

"That must have been a nasty throw back there. I never thought Dedede can do something like that." Tuff said.

"We're fine. We are used to this sorta thing." Franky said.

"Um… what's wrong with them?" Lololo asked while observing Luffy, Zoro, and Sanji still fighting eachother.

"Oh, that's normal for them. They will stop around five minutes." Nami said.

"I am so sorry that this happened. Dedede tends to get angry very easily." Tiff explained.

"He was a little frustrated with us." Robin said, "I wouldn't be surprised if he had high blood pressure."

"Honestly, to think that loud people like him have the nerve to tell us what to do." Nami said as she was getting irritated by the noise of Luffy, Zoro, and Sanji's battle. "WILL YOU THREE CUT IT OUT!?" Nami yelled furiously while turning towards the trio as she caught the their attention.

Lololo and Lalala were a little startled by Nami's yelling. "She is scary." Lalala said.

"I still can't get used to be around her." Tuff said.

"Poyo." Kirby said.

"So where shall we go now, Miss Navigator?" Robin asked.

"Hmm… I'm clueless what to do so far." Nami said while thinking, "We already tried talking to the 'king' of this place, and he doesn't know anything about the 6th heart, even though he is one of the smash participants."

Nami started to think a little more while Usopp and Chopper were regaining their consciousness.

"Poyo! Poyo, poyo!" Kirby said while jumping up and down.

"What is it?" Franky asked.

"Poyo!" Kirby said.

"You know where it is?" Franky asked. Everyone looked at Franky oddly.

"You can understand him?" Sanji asked.

"I am starting to get what he is saying; I can feel it from his soul, bro." Franky said. "Now where is the heart, puffball bro?"

"Poyo!" Kirby responded.

"Kabu? What is a Kabu?" Franky asked while scratching his head.

"Kirby, do you mean that what they are looking for is where Kabu is?" Tiff asked.

"Hey, that makes sense. Kabu knows everything!" Tuff said happily.

Kirby nodded happily as the Strawhat crew was still confused.

"Hey, who is this Kabu guy you keep talking about?" Usopp asked.

"Kabu is a stone statue that lives in the Kabu canyon." Tiff explained, "He is more like the guide of the people here in Dreamland. He knows alot of things that are going to happen because he can see the future."

"Whoa! Is he a bronze statue!?" Luffy asked excitedly.

"She just said it was a stone statue." Zoro said.

"So it's a statue that can talk? That sounds so cool!" Chopper said happily.

"Anyway, we know where Kabu is. We can go there, and ask him where the object you are looking for is if you want." Tiff said.

"Okay! Let's go and see the bronze statue!" Luffy said excitedly.

"It's a stone statue." Zoro corrected Luffy.

"A statue that can talk… I don't think that sounds safe." Usopp whimpered.

"Ow! Maybe he can tell us how supaaa I am going to be in the future!" Franky said while doing his traditional pose.

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily while doing Franky's pose.

"Or better yet, he can tell us how many beautiful women I will meet in the future!" Sanji said happily while dancing.

"-sigh-… I guess we have no other choice." Nami said, "Lead the way, Tiff."

"Sure. It's this way." Tiff said. They then started to walk towards Kabu's location.

Meanwhile…

Dedede stomped his way towards his throne, kicking the double doors open as he angrily went inside. "I have never been so embarrassed in my entire life!" Dedede yelled furiously while heading towards his chair. Escargoon followed him inside the room, still feeling rather tired after carrying Dedede's portrait.

"I beg to differ, Your Majesty." Escargoon began to say, "You have been embarrassed, insulted, laughed at, and humiliated countless of more times besides what just happened now."

BONK!

Dedede hit Escargoon with his big mallet, almost knocking Escargoon out. "Besides those events! This one took the cake!" Dedede exclaimed, "And I didn't mean that literally since that stretching imbecile threw that big cake at my face!"

"It's no big deal, Your Majesty." Escargoon said as Dedede sat on his chair, "They are gone now. They wont be causing anymore disturbances to you anymore."

"Hmm… you might be right. I am the king afterall, so I was better then them to begin with." Dedede said.

"Now that I noticed, they look like characters that would come out of a good anime." Escargoon said while rubbing his chin.

"If they had an anime, what kind of a moron would watch it?" Dedede asked, "Besides, no anime is as good as mine; Dedede of the stars!"

"You mean the one that got a 0.000000001 rating?" Escargoon asked grumpily.

"Gyeh!? Well, what do the people know!? They don't know a good anime when they see one, that's all!" Dedede said, "Back on topic, these impersonators have committed such foul act to humiliate me. Escargoon, I want you to spy on these guys, and make sure that they do something that the pathetic commoners find horrible."

"Like what?" Escargoon asked.

"I don't know! Breaking an entry, jaywalking, stepping on a piece of gum on the street; I don't care!" Dedede yelled, "Just tell me when they do something bad. And once they do, I'll give them the death penalty for their crimes! Dyah ha ha ha ha ha!"

"You know that you could just give them a death penalty without an excuse, right?" Escargoon asked. "And besides, that death penalty thing is so old already. You never gave the death penalty to anyone at all since you became king.

Dedede got silent and started to think that over. "Ugh… well… um…" Dedede said as he was trying to come up with an excuse, "Now that you mention it… oh, fine! I'll think of something else! But don't just stand there like some idiot; go and spy on those impersonators already!

"Yeah, yeah, I'm on it." Escargoon sighed as he left.

Dedede rested his head on his hand, thinking about the Strawhat crew. "Pirates… yeah, right. They will probably be so stupid, that they would recruit a skeleton or something. Dyeh heh, a skeleton; that sure won't happen."

Meanwhile…

Tiff and her friends were walking along the plains, leading the Strawhat crew to Kabu. "Hmm…" Usopp thought to himself.

"What is it, Usopp?" Chopper asked.

"I was wondering about that portrait we saw back there in the castle." Usopp said.

"The one with the loud penguin on it?" Zoro asked.

"Besides him. Some of the participants got my attention." Usopp said.

"You are talking about Ganondorf, right?" Franky asked.

"Well, yeah; Him and Bowser." Usopp said, "I thought that tournament held by Master hand are filled with nice people. But now that we know that people like those two are in that kind of tournament, I don't know if this Master hand guy is a nice or a bad person."

"Ganondorf was strong enough to be in that tournament." Zoro said, "Trust me; I know from experience."

"That's not the point! For all we know, Master hand could be holding tournaments just for his entertainment only, and all the participants there are just fighting eachother for no good reason."

"No, that's not it." Luffy said, "That tournament is special! It's shows how other people can fight with eachother with honor and dignity; no matter if good or bad people participate in it."

"It's funny how Bowser is one of them then." Chopper added.

"Yeah, I know! Ha ha!" Luffy laughed.

"Ugh… I just don't seem to understand this at all." Usopp sighed.

"Your getting worked up over nothing, Longnose bro." Franky said, "Puffball bro here is one of those participants, and he doesn't seem to be regretful about it."

"Poyo!" Kirby said.

"You see? He is cool with it." Franky said as Usopp stared at him.

"Who cares about those two!? Peach-san and Zelda-san were fantastic in portrait!" Sanji said happily.

"Hmm… now that I think about it, a wolf mentioned in that portrait reminds me of someone." Luffy said, "But for some reason, I can only think of a cyclops. Don't know why."

Suddenly, a strong wind almost blew the Strawhat crew out of the ground as some kind of huge bird with colorful wings flew by.

"What was that!?" Chopper asked.

"That was Dynablade; she is one of the fastest birds around here." Tiff explained, "Strange that she showed up around here."

"I never knew that big creatures would have such speed." Robin said.

"Oi, Sanji. Can you cook us some turkey back on the ship?" Luffy asked.

"Maybe later." Sanji said.

They were now walking towards a huge canyon, walking between a narrow path. "It got scary all of a sudden." Chopper said.

"We are almost there." Tiff said.

"About time. We can finally get some answers." Nami said. They walked passed some torches that were along the path as they could see something big ahead of them.

"Whoa! AwesoooOOOMMEE!!" Luffy said happily. He and everyone else saw a big brown statue at the end of the path. It looked like a cappy, only it had no arms and was made of stone, not bronze. "A big bronze statue!" Luffy exclaimed, even though I just said it wasn't bronze.

"Is this him?" Robin asked.

"H-He is big. I can't approach him. My I-cant-get-close-to-big-and-scary-statues disease is acting up again." Usopp lied while pretending to be ill. Tiff approached the statue.

"Kabu, we seek your wisdom!" Tiff said. The statue didnt move at all.

"Hmm? I think he didn't hear you." Chopper said.

"Hello, Tiff." That statue said- Kabu. Usopp and Chopper got frightened as the rest of the crew were simply amazed.

"Cool! The giant bronze statue is talking to us!" Luffy said excitedly.

"For the third time, he is not a bronze statue." Zoro said.

"Fascinating. I never seen something like this before." Robin said.

"Kabu, these people seek an object from this world." Tiff said, "May they use your knowledge to find it?"

"Ah, yes. The Strawhat pirates; I have foresaw your arrival some time ago." Kabu said.

"Hee hee! This is like the third guy that told us that he saw us coming." Luffy whispered. Lololo and Lalala were surprised to find out that Luffy and the others were pirates.

"P-Pirates!? They are pirates!?" Lololo and Lalala asked in shock.

"Yeah, we forgot to tell you about that." Tuff said. "But they are good pirates, so don't worry about it." Lololo and Lalala wasn't too sure, but decided to forget about that for now.

"I see you have went through great obstacles to try and return to your home world." Kabu said, "And now, you are here to find out where the 6th heart lies?"

"If it's not so much trouble, could you please tell us where it is?" Nami asked kindly. It was hard to tell, but Kabu acted rather hesitant to answer.

"It is difficult to answer your question. I am sorry, but I cannot foretell anything at the moment." Kabu said.

"Wh-What!?" Nami asked. "I thought you could look into the future."

"I can, but some answers are not suppose to be told." Kabu said, "In order to keep the balance of mankind, I have to answer questions that are nothing related from far beyond this time. Therefore, my answers are limited."

"Oh, great." Franky said sarcastically.

"However…" Kabu began to say, "I do know when the heart was hidden, but in order for me to explain things perfectly, you must know what happened on the darkest day of Dreamland."

"Darkest day?" Chopper asked. Tiff and Tuff didn't say anything, including Lololo and Lalala.

"I don't think we have the time for storytelling right now." Nami said.

"This will help you in the future." Kabu stated. Everyone was a little quiet for a couple of seconds.

"Sure, why not? Let's hear it." Luffy said. Everyone else agreed, while Tiff and the others didn't say anything.

"10,000 years ago…" Kabu began to say, "Their was an Emperor of darkness known as Nightmare. He has the power to create demon beasts out of anything. He made an army of demon beasts to try and take over the universe. No one knows where he originated from, but all we he had to know he wanted to destroy us all."

The Strawhat crew was quiet as they had serious looks on their faces. "But, there were was a group of warriors that tried to stop him. They were known as the Star warriors." Kabu said, "For countless of years, they fought with Nightmare's demon beasts, but it all went in vain as they lost at the very end. Time flew by to this day as it seemed that nothing could stop Nightmare. But their was hope. Their was only one creature that was able to stop Nightmare. And that person was Kirby."

"Kirby!?" Most of the Strawhat crew were surprised to hear that.

"Poyo?" Kirby said in confusion.

"Kirby is a special star warrior, but also a creation of Nightmare." Kabu said, which shocked the crew again, "Nightmare was not happy creating Kirby since he never obeyed him, so he intended to get rid of Kirby, but failed. Kirby was then suppose to sleep for 200 years so he can mature, but his ship caught some signals of demon beasts in this world, waking him earlier than expected. The causes of the demon beasts in this world are from one person only."

"Dedede." Tiff said angrily with her head lowered.

"Exactly." Kabu said, "Dedede bought demon beasts from Nightmare's company, Holy Nightmare. It's a company that sells Demon beasts to people and Dedede used to be one of them. Luckily for the peace of this world, Kirby fought the demon beasts that would appear here. Eventually, Nightmare himself attacked Dreamland with his army of Demon beasts, but Kirby saved us all by defeating Nightmare and his corporation, bringing the peaceful habitat as you see today."

"That ended nicely." Luffy said.

"WAAAAAAAAAAHHHH!! To think that such a little guy could have such a tragic past! And yet, he took it like the man he is! Waahaaahaaaaaaaa!!" Franky cried as tears poured out of his eyes.

"Why is a grown man like yourself crying?" Tuff asked.

"Idiot! I am not crying! I am not!" Franky cried in denial.

"It was hard time during that day, but it was all worth when Kirby defeated Nightmare, right Kirby?" Tiff asked.

"Poyo." Kirby said happily.

"Wait, so it's going to take 200 years for Kirby to be an adult?" Usopp asked baffled.

"It's better than to have Dedede ruling this land for 300 years already." Tuff said.

"300 years!?" Chopper asked in shock.

"What!? How old are you people!?" Franky said in surprise.

"Not to be rude, but what does this have to do with anything with finding the heart?" Nami asked.

"In due time, you will get your answer." Kabu said.

"Huh?" Nami asked, "Tsk, then coming here was almost a waste of our time. To think that we can actually get some answers, yet we get more questions."

"Wait, he still didn't say when the heart was hidden." Usopp said.

"Oh yeah. When was the heart hidden, bronze statue?" Luffy asked.

"The heart that you seek was first hidden here in this world just the day after Nightmare was defeated." Kabu said, "That is all I can say…"

"That still doesn't help us." Nami said.

"Atleast we found out something." Chopper said.

"Well, let's get going. I want to eat some turkey." Luffy said happily.

"We just ate two times today, and your still hungry?" Usopp asked dumbfounded.

"Actually, I just came up with a good idea." Luffy said, "How about me and Kirby compete in a food eating contest? That way, we can see who eats the most."

"Poyo! Poyo!" Kirby said happily.

"Your are not going to use our food, that's for sure!" Sanji said bitterly at Luffy.

"Let's leave already; this place is boring me more than usual." Zoro said.

"I'm sorry that Kabu wasnt much help to you all." Tiff said, "Let's go back to the village; we might find some information there."

"Like we have no other choice." Nami said tiredly.

"Yosh! Thanks, Bronze statue! You have been a great help!" Luffy said as he was about to walk away.

"Wait! There is something else you must know." Kabu said. Luffy looked behind his shoulder curiously as everyone was wondering what Kabu had to say.

"What is it this time?" Sanji asked.

"Probably some other thing that happened in the past." Tuff said, "Sorry, Kabu; but we don't have time to hear things from the past."

"This is of most importance. You must listen." Kabu said, "… Before you have arrived here, I saw something unlikely in the future. There was nothing but darkness surrounding everything in it's grasp. Strawhat pirates… the chances of you returning to your home planet has gotten slimmer."

"What do you mean?" Luffy asked.

"Beware of the new world that will bring darkness to all. You have already encountered with their minions, and it's only a matter of time before they retaliate…" Kabu began to say, "Beware of the new world… Obscurum!"

The Strawhat crew stood in silence, hearing the term 'new world' had startled them.

"O-Obscurum!?" Usopp asked while falling on his rear in disbelief.

"Is that the same new world all those idiots keep talking about?" Franky asked.

"Darkness? Is this new world really that big of a deal?" Sanji asked. Zoro and Robin kept silent about this as they only frowned instead.

"Why? Why is it harder to go back home? What does the new world have to do with us?" Nami asked in fear.

"I cannot say…" Kabu said, "It is either destiny that it has come to this, or maybe it was just a cruel fate. No matter how terrible the situation is right now, you eight… can either have the power to overcome this great darkness, or lose all hope and remains of living on. It's all up to you…"

The Strawhat crew were silent, especially Luffy, who simply lowered his hat with a frown.

Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 72: Befriending the villagers, The stalking king. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

P.S. BROOKE WILL JOIN! PUNCH ME IN THE FACE IF I AM WRONG!

Kirby Pt 5

'It's all up to you…'. After the Strawhat crew were rudely 'escorted' out of the Dedede's castle, Tiff led them to Kabu; Curse my lack of motivation! I just cant seem to update quickly these days. Oh well… here is the next chapter to the Kirby arc. Enjoy!

The great statue that can see the future. Kabu told them about the history of Dreamland, where a ruthless emperor who is known as Nightmare tried to defeat Kirby, but failed. Kabu also told the Strawhat crew about something that could happen in their future. Will this the Strawhat crew's hope on returning home?

Chapter 72: Befriending the villagers, The stalking king

Tiff, Tuff, and Kirby along with Lololo and Lalala, walked out of Kabu canyon area. "Gee… that new world Kabu was talking about sounds a bit terrifying." Tuff said.

"I never even knew something like that could exist." Lololo said.

"What will everyone else say about this?" Lalala asked.

"We must not tell this to anybody." Tiff said sternly.

"Why, Sis!?" Tuff asked, "We cant just not say anything to the others! They are going to find out eventually!"

"So what do you plan to do after we tell them? It's not like we can do anything about it!" Tiff said, "If we tell them, we will cause nothing but havoc and fear to everybody. It's best not to tell them anything for now."

Tuff, Lololo, and Lalala nodded in agreement. "But… what about Luffy and the others?" Tuff asked, "What are they going to do?"

"I don't know…" Tiff said while rubbing her chin, "They already have enough things to worry about. Let us not trouble them about this situation."

"Poyo…" Kirby said sadly.

Tiff looked back at the Kabu canyons with a worried look on his face as he noticed the Strawhat crew slowly coming into his view.

They were a bit quiet after what they just heard from Kabu. It was hard to see what Luffy's expression is since his hat is shading his upper face.

"I knew it…" Usopp whimpered, "At the moment we got sucked in by that scary door back in our world, I knew that we were destined to die in vain."

"We are not going to die from this." Zoro said, "This is just another obstacle we have to go through."

"This isn't anything like we have done before!" Usopp yelled angrily, "We are dealing with something much more dangerous than the government, and the enemy pirates combined! I am telling you; we are going to get killed real soon!"

"Will you just shut up!?" Nami yelled, "We don't need to hear all your negativity!"

"I am not being negative; I am just being realistic!" Usopp replied.

"Don't yell at Nami-san!" Sanji said angrily, "And stop thinking about this! We can figure this out without panicking!" Usopp just lowered his head in fear as Robin looked up at the sky.

"We now know that the new world is called 'Obscurum'. But that doesnt really give us any important information about it." Robin said.

"I say that we find those ruler guys, and beat their faces inside their skulls." Franky said while hitting his palm.

"But we don't know where they are." Chopper said, "And I don't think it is a good idea to find those guys. They could be stronger than us."

"So what? We'll prove to them that they shouldn't mess with us; even if they are stronger, which I seriously doubt." Zoro replied.

"We are not going to find out, because we are going to avoid them." Nami said, "The last thing I want to do is to confront a group of insane people for no reason. All we have to do is just to fine the last three hearts and then we can go back home, and pretend this little thing never happened."

"I agree with you one hundred percent! Let's start scavenging this whole place so we can find the heart, and get going already!" Usopp suggested.

"No, let's not…" Luffy said plainly. "Why do we have to rush? It's not like we are going to avoid this."

"Now, Luffy; let us not be negative." Usopp said while Zoro looked at him oddly, "I know this may seem unbelievable to you, but if we hurry, we can go back to our world with no trouble at all."

"Is that right?" Luffy asked while turning to Usopp. "I guess the situations we dealt with on the last five worlds so far was no trouble for us, huh?

"Eh? Ah…?" Usopp couldn't think of an answer.

"Now you see my point." Luffy said, "We are going to continue at our normal pace. The Mystery heart will show up to us eventually. And when we see those ruler people again, we are going to kick their asses." Luffy then showed his big smile, "Now let's get going. I want to go back to Kawasaki's restaurant and eat some more of his great food!"

Luffy walked off happily, with Nami just glaring at him from behind. "Ergh! I just hate it when he acts like a leader at times like this!"

Nami yelled while trying to pull her hair out.

"Too bad; he already made his decision." Zoro said, "Looks like we are going to be here for a while. I guess I have to put up with it till we leave."

"Ohh… my I-am-going-to-die-sooner-then-I-think disease is acting up again…" Usopp lied while holding his stomach.

"Chopper, Usopp is going through one of his diseases again." Sanji said.

"There is no cure for that." Chopper replied.

The Strawhat crew walked along the path and regrouped with Tiff and the others.

"Are you guys feeling alright?" Tiff asked concernedly.

"No…" Usopp said depressingly.

"We're fine." Luffy said happily, "We are used to this sort of thing."

"Speak for yourself…" Nami said irritatingly.

"Wow, you really don't look all that worried about this. You must be really brave." Tuff said in amazement.

"He is just stupid." Nami and Usopp said simultaneously while waving their hands in front of their faces.

"Well… if there is anything we can do to help, just ask." Tiff said.

"Thanks, but this is no big deal for us." Luffy said while Nami and Usopp disagree, "Now if you excuse me, I am going back to Kawasaki's restaurant."

Luffy walked off ahead, leaving Tiff and Tuff confused. "He really doesn't seem to care." Lololo said.

"That's how he is." Sanji while walking past them.

"-sigh-… Let's follow him just in case he doesn't cause any trouble." Nami said. They all then followed Luffy to the village. Unknown to them that their was one of Dedede's mechanized grasshoppers stalking them as they left.

Meanwhile…

Dedede's throne room was dark as Dedede and Escargoon were watching a huge screen on the upper left side of the room. The screen was showing the mechanized grasshopper's point of view. Dedede and Escargoon watched as the Strawhat crew, with Kirby and the others, leaving from it's sight.

"What's with those outsiders and hearts? It's like the only they talked about since they got here." Dedede asked while on his chair.

"It must be a treasure of some sort." Escargoon said.

"Treasure!?" Dedede asked, "Hmm… but I can't really believe that since it came from them."

"Your Majesty, how long are we suppose to keep spying them?" Escargoon asked.

"Until they do something that angers the pathetic commoners, that's when." Dedede replied.

"Have you thought of way to take care of them yet?" Escargoon asked.

"I haven't thought of anything yet, so quit bugging me about that!" Dedede yelled, "In order to think of a cruel punishment, I need to come up with something nobody else has come up with before. And in order to come up with something like that, I need all the time in the world to think of such punishment."

"With you thinking about it, it will take forever." Escargoon mumbled.

"What did you say!?" Dedede asked angrily.

"Ah! N-Nothing! I said it will take forever for someone else other than you to think of such plan! Heh heh…" Escargoon laughed weakly.

"Yeah, you're right." Dedede said while calming down, "In order to destroy my enemy, I need to know my enemy. Waddle Doo!"

Waddle Doo came running into Dedede's throne room and saluted Dedede. "Yes, Your Majesty! How can I be of service?"

"I want you to take some of the Waddle Dees with you and take pictures of everything that is inside those pirate impersonators' ship." Dedede ordered, "Make sure you go around the village, and also make sure that nobody sees you!"

"Yes, sir!" Waddle Doo saluted once more before leaving.

"What are you planning to do?" Escargoon asked.

"That ship of theirs must have some info about them. And once I have all the information I need, I will use it against them! Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Dedede laughed.

"How is it that you are going to use their info against them?" Escargoon asked.

"I don't know yet! Now shut up already!" Dedede yelled angrily. The screen then showed another mechanized grasshopper's point of view and saw that the Strawhat crew were just a couple of feet away from entering the village. "Oh! They are close to the village now!"

"They sure to cause some disorder once they arrive. Then that will be our moment to strike!" Escargoon said.

"Dyeh heh heh heh heh heh! Come on, you pathetic commoners! Treat the impersonators like the garbage they are!" Dedede said as he then continued to laugh. Unknown to him and Escargoon, the knight with the mask was observing them both behind one of the throne room's columns.

Meanwhile…

The sun was starting to set as the Strawhat crew, along with their new friends, were walking back towards the village.

"I can't wait for this day to be over." Usopp said with his head lowered.

"I for one liked what happened today." Franky said, "We found out that puffball bro here is quite the warrior."

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily.

"You can say that again. Ahahaha!" Franky laughed.

"So how long are you guys going to be here?" Tuff asked.

"Until we find the 6th heart." Nami said, "And we are never going to find it unless Luffy could be serious about getting back home as fast as we can."

"Alright!" Tuff said, "Hey, Chopper; do you want to play some soccer with us tomorrow? We could use some more players." Tuff said.

"Uh, okay." Chopper said happily. Usopp then raised his head upon hearing that and let out a small smirk.

"You know…" Usopp began to say, "I used to be one of the greatest soccer players of all time."

"Really!?" Chopper, Tiff, Lololo, and Lalala asked simultaneously.

"Sure! They used to call me the great soccer player Usopp!" Usopp lied while pointing to himself, "No matter how tough my opponents are, I can always score a goal with ease!"

"That's amazing, Usopp!" Chopper said with sparks of joy coming out of his eyes.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! I was also one of the greatest baseball players of all time!" Usopp lied, "In fact, I am the god of all sports!"

"Wow!" Chopper, Tuff, Lololo, and Lalala were quite amazed at this.

"There is no such person that can be good at everything." Tiff said while walking next to Robin, "He is obviously lying."

"That's how he is." Robin said kindly.

"We're here! Food!" Luffy said excitedly while going in the village, with his comrades and friends following him. As they got in the village, the Cappies were giving them the odd look. Some of them even locked their doors and windows as soon as they passed by.

"Hey, is it just me or the people here trying to avoid us?" Franky asked.

"They must have got scared by something here." Luffy said.

"Gee, I wonder what could have scared them? Not a hungry imbecile, for sure." Usopp said sarcastically.

"I wonder what's wrong…" Nami said. They then started to walk around the tree in the middle of the village, but before they could do that, a Cappy with a big mustache and police uniform rushed to Tiff.

"Tiff, is it true what I just heard!?" The policeman asked.

"Huh? What did you hear, Chief Bookem?" Tiff asked curiously.

"That a bunch of pirates have come to Dreamland? Is that true?" the policeman-- Chief Bookem asked.

"Wha!? How did you know that?" Tiff asked in shock.

"Kawasaki told me that just a few minutes ago!" Chief Bookem said. "He said that a group of pirates entered his restaurant a couple of hours from now."

"Uh-oh, I think you guys are in trouble." Tuff said to the crew.

"Now, Tiff; As the police officer of Dreamland, I want to know where these pirates are!" Chief Bookem demanded. Usopp, Nami, and Chopper backed away without the Chief noticing.

"Take small steps… and then we make a run for it…" Nami whispered.

"Of all the rotten luck, we had to encounter with a police officer." Usopp whimpered quietly.

"I don't want to go to jail…" Chopper whispered in fear as they continued to back away, until…

"Hey, we are the pirate group you are talking about." Luffy said while raising his hand.

"No! Why!?" Nami, Usopp, and Chopper said simultaneously while falling down in disbelief.

"Oh!? You are the pirates!?" Chief Bookem asked.

"Yeah! We are pirates with large bounties on our heads. It's nice to meet you." Luffy said kindly.

"You just worsened our situation, Luffy." Zoro said with a frown.

Suddenly, Chief Bookem got out his handcuffs and handcuffed Luffy wrists. "Hmm? What's going on?" Luffy asked.

"You and your crew are under arrest!" Chief Bookem said.

"Did we do something wrong?" Luffy asked.

"You are pirates! There is no need to explain anything to the likes of you!" Chief Bookem said, "Now let me take you to your cells." Chief Bookem turned around and intended to bring Luffy to the police station. The Cappies that were watching were completely shocked to what happened next. "Hmm? What is wrong with all of you?" Chief Bookem turned around and saw that he was only stretching Luffy's arms. "OOOHHHH!!??" Chief Bookem let's go of Luffy's arm by surprise and falls on the floor as Luffy's arms snapped back into place.

"Wait, Stop it, Chief!"

Everyone then saw Kawasaki running towards the chief. "Chief, these are not bad guys!" Kawasaki said. Tiff and Tuff, with Lololo and Lalala, quickly approached Kawasaki.

"Kawasaki, what is going on!?" Tiff asked.

"Why did you tell the chief about Luffy and the others!?" Tuff asked.

"It's not what you think!" Kawasaki said in panic, "Everyone wanted to know who Luffy and his crew were, so they visited my restaurant to get some answers. At first, I told them that if they wanted to know who they are, they have to eat in my restaurant. After everyone ate, I simply told that they are just nice pirates, and they are only here to look for something, but they didn't believe me."

"You made people to eat in your restaurant just so they can know who Luffy and his crew are!?" Tuff asked.

"Kawasaki, that's very childish! You should be ashamed of yourself!" Tiff said.

"I know, I know! I feel so bad about telling everyone! I am sorry!" Kawasaki said regretfully. Tiff sighed as she then looked at Chief Bookem.

"Listen, Chief. These are nice pirates. I know that sounds awkward, even I didn't believe that at first, but they really are nice people once you get to know them. Please, don't arrest them." Tiff said. The Chief got on his feet while rubbing his head in confusion.

"Uh… I am not sure." Chief Bookem said, "But what about him! His arms stretched like rubber! That must mean something bad!"

"Hmm? Well, now that you mention it…" Tiff then looked at Luffy, "How is it that you can stretch?"

"I ate a devil fruit that allows me to stretch my body like rubber. See?" Luffy then grabbed his lower lip and pulled it down towards his waist, opening his mouth humongously wide.

"Whoa!? Eating a weird fruit can give you such ability? That sounds so cool!" Tuff said happily.

"Poooyooo…" Kirby said in amazement, while staring at Luffy's stretched mouth.

"I see… well, if Tiff says that you are nice pirates, then why should I doubt that?" Chief Bookem said. "I am so sorry about my misunderstanding; I was just trying to do my job as a police officer."

"Hee hee! No problem." Luffy said with a smile. The Cappies that were watching were also relieved that Luffy and his crew were not bad pirates. Kawasaki wiped off the sweat of his forehead in relief as he then noticed an old-class brown car driving up to the scene.

"Chief Bookem, is everything all right here?" A cappy behind the driving wheel asked. He has a white mustache, was wearing a brown suit with a brown hat on his head.

"Oh, Mayor Len." Chief Bookem said in realization, "No, no. There is no problem here."

"Hmm? And who might they be?" The Cappy-- Mayor Len asked as he was referring to the Strawhat crew.

"Ah, these are the pirates that were mentioned by Kawasaki today." Chief Bookem said as Mayor Len got frightened, "Oh, but don't worry sir; I have found out that these pirates are really nice, and wouldn't hurt a fly."

"Usopp couldnt even hurt a fly if he wanted to." Zoro said.

"Oi!" Usopp yelled angrily.

"Nice pirates, you say…" Mayor Len said as he started to think about it, "My, I never know that such people would exist." Mayor Len then got out of his car and approached Luffy. "It's nice to meet you. My name is Len, and I am the mayor of this village."

"Nice to meet you too, old man." Luffy said kindly.

"Chief Bookem, would you please remove the handcuffs from this young man?" Mayor Len asked kindly.

"Oh, certainly sir; I am almost forgot." Chief Bookem said as he tried to find his keys. "Confound it; I seem to have lost my keys."

"No problem!" Luffy raised his arms and spreads them apart, easily breaking the chain of the handcuffs. He then grabbed the handcuffs around his wrists, and ripped them off of them. "Here you go." Luffy then gave the broken handcuffs to Chief Bookem.

"Um… thank you…" Chief Bookem said in dismay.

"He sure is strong." Lololo commented.

"He broke those handcuffs like if they were made out of plastic." Lalala said.

"These guys just keep amazing me by the second!" Tuff said happily.

"He is strong…" Tiff said as she blushed.

"Heh heh! Sis got a crush on Luffy." Tuff teased.

"Be quiet! That's not true!" Tiff said angrily.

"As of now, you and your comrades are welcome here at the village at anytime. Feel free to visit when you have the time." Mayor Len said kindly.

"Why, that's very nice of you." Nami said as she quickly appeared in front the mayor. "By the way, you didn't happen to see an odd shaped heart here, did you?"

"A heart? Why, no. I haven't seen one." Mayor Len said, "Chief, have you?"

"I don't think I have." Chief Bookem said, "But if I do, I will notify you at once."

"Thanks anyway." Nami said. She then noticed that it was already starting to get dark. "It's getting late. We should be getting back to the ship so we could rest."

"Wait! Not until we eat at Kawasaki's restaurant again!" Luffy said.

"Oh!? You want to eat in my restuarant again!?" Kawasaki said in happiness, "Well, come on in! I have plenty to serve!"

"Yosh!" Luffy yelled excitedly.

"Poyo!" Kirby yelled excitedly as well as he and Luffy quickly went to Kawasaki's restaurant.

"Hey, you don't mind if I give you some cooking tips, right?" Sanji asked.

"Oh, not at all! I am going to need all the help I could get in order to atleast get one or two customers a day. Ha ha ha!" Kawasaki said.

"By the way, if you can, could you pay me back by introducing me to some beautiful women around here?" Sanji asked with a grin as they both entered the restaurant.

"Ugh.. Kirby is going to eat all of Kawasaki's food again." Tiff said.

"Not unless Luffy eats it all first." Nami said. They both sighed as they and everyone else went inside the restaurant, leaving Mayor Len and Chief Bookem alone.

"I should be leaving as well. I have to get back home for dinner, or Hana is going to scold me again." Mayor Len said while getting on his car.

"Have a pleasant drive, Mayor." Chief Bookem said as Mayor Len then drove off to his home. "-sigh-… What a day this turned out to be. I wonder what would happen tomorrow." Chief Bookem then proceeded to walk back to the police station as Dedede's mechanized grasshopper watched him leave.

Meanwhile…

Dedede and Escargoon were both shocked at what they just saw. "They… like them!? The pathetic commoners actually liked them!?" Dedede said enraged while getting up from his chair.

"The commoners have finally lost their minds." Escargoon said in shock.

"Grr rrr rrr rrr rrr rrr rrr RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRR RRRRR… THIS IS UNFORGIVABLE!!!" Dedede yelled furiously. "How is it possible that those pathetic commoners would like those impersonators more than me!?"

"Truth is, Your Majesty; they dont like you at all." Escargoon said.

BONK!

Escargoon got hit on the head by Dedede's fist. "That's it! These impersonators have crossed the line this time! They first invaded my land, humiliated me after I invited them over, and now they are winning the respect of the commoners in just a matter of minutes! These people are really getting on my nerves!!"

"Ow…" Escargoon groaned while rubbing his head, "Atleast we know something about them."

"Huh, your right." Dedede said while sitting back on his chair. "From those previous footages you showed me earlier, I can tell that they have a distinct liking to certain things. The Straw hat idiot, for example, is a food maniac; the green head is obviously acting like some tough person; the orange head likes valuable things; Pinocchio is a lying coward; Blondy is a ladies man; that racoon with no taste in role models is gullible; the beautiful lady is interested in ancient stuff; and the stripper likes his ship."

"Such a random group of people, if you ask me." Escargoon said.

"This is still not enough. We are going to need more information to get rid of them." Dedede said.

"Why don't we just wait until they go away?" Escargoon asked, "Didn't you see how that Straw hat kid broke those handcuffs with such ease? He could hurt us if we try to get him."

"Idiotic people that are strong are really common these days. Too bad you're not one of those. Dyeh heh heh heh heh!" Dedede laughed at Escargoon.

"What is that suppose to mean?" Escargoon asked.

"Nevermind." Dedede said, "Just where is Waddle Doo with those pictures?"

Suddenly, the double doors of the throne room opened as Waddle Doo entered the room holding a couple of photographic pictures.

"Your Majesty, we were able to sneak on their ship, and take some photos of it."

"Great! Give me!" Dedede said as he got out of his chair and snatched the photos off of Waddle Dee's round hands.

"What do you see?" Escargoon asked.

"Hmm… just a bunch of stuff. They got alot going on in that ship of theirs." Dedede said while looking at each photo at a time. "Oh!?"

"What? Is it something interesting?" Escargoon asked as he took a look for himself. He noticed a photo of Luffy's bounty on a wall. "Wha!? That Straw hat kid has a bounty, and a big one at that!"

"I don't believe it…" Dedede said in shock, "They would try their best to impersonate pirates, that they would have fake bounties of themselves. How pathetic."

"Now that I look at it, your right." Escargoon said, "Look at this kid; he has a very big bounty. Nobody will ever believe this with that stupid grin on his face."

"Let's see who else has bounties…" Dedede looked through at other photos, and saw Zoro's and Franky's bounties. "These guys have them too. This should be the other way around. The stripper should have the higher bounty because he looks tougher than the green hair one."

"Check the rest of them!" Escargoon said impatiently. Dedede looked at another photo and saw Sogeking's bounty.

"Sogeking? I dont even know who this guy is." Dedede said as he then looked at another photo. "Oh? Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

"It's that little guy who didn't want your autograph." Escargoon said. They were looking at Chopper's unimpressive bounty of 50 Berri.

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! I knew that this one was the weakest of the group! Dyah ha ha ha ha ha!" Dedede laughed uncontrollably, "Just look at the bounty that he has; that amount wouldn't even be enough to buy gum! Dwuh huh huh huh huh!

"He must have low self-esteem." Escargoon said.

"Who cares!? Dyah ha ha!" Dedede then threw away the photos as he happily began to walk out of his room. "This just made my day. I am going to sleep early, and think about how to get rid of those impersonators tomorrow."

"Good night, Your Majesty." Waddle Doo said.

"Yeah, yeah." Dedede said, "Only 50… Dyah ha ha ha! What a joke!"

Dedede left the room as Escargoon just sighed. "It's too early for me to sleep. I'll just watch His Majesty's lame anime. Waddle Doo, you are dismissed!"

"Yes, sir!" Waddle Doo said as he then left, leaving Escargoon to watch an anime with really bad drawing and illustrations.

Dedede happily walked into his room. He got changed into his green pajamas and turned off the lights. He then got on his bed, and placed the bed sheets over him. He started to snore until he quickly sat up.

"That's it! I know a perfect way to get rid of them! That will teach them not to anger me! Dyah ha ha… oh…" Dedede went right back to sleep, snoring loudly in the process. "Z's are good for snoring…"

One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 73: Pirate hunting season, the first victim. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

I have a feeling that this arc will be a little shorter then the previous one, which is sort of a good thing for some readers. From here on out, Dedede will cause mayhem! Want to know what he is going to do? Then you are going to have to wait for the next chapter! Ciao!

Kirby Pt 6

It seems like you guys love the Kirby arc or something. That's good to know. Anyway I finally got the this chapter ready to go! Enjoy!

Angering the King even more. Nami and Usopp believe that if they fasten their pace on finding the hearts quicker, they could get back to their world without any trouble at all. Luffy, however, does not want to do such method as he believed that fastening the pace wont solve anything and if they have to confront the rulers of Obscurum, then that will just have to be the case. Meanwhile, King Dedede has been stalking the crew, and has came up with a way to get rid of them. What does he have in mind for the Strawhat crew?

Chapter 73: Pirate hunting season, The first victim

It was already the next day in the peaceful land of Dreamland. Just like yesterday, it was a bright and sunny day, with not a care in the world. The Cappies in the village were doing their usual thing. The Strawhat crew slept in their ship last night, and they were now on their way back to the village.

"I haven't had a good night sleep like that in days." Nami said happily, "This place really does add the peaceful touch."

"Oh, Nami-swan; your are so beautiful when you are so happy!" Sanji said while dancing happily.

"Hey, let's take a vacation here." Luffy suggested.

"Yeah, that's a great idea!" Usopp said.

"Can we really we have a vacation here?" Chopper asked happily.

"No way; why do we want to have a vacation here?" Zoro asked.

"Dont start with us, Zoro!" Usopp said angrily.

"I am saying that we have a heart to find." Zoro replied a bit grumpily.

"Relax, bro." Franky said, "I am getting a supaaa feeling that we will find the heart this week."

"Forget your week; we better find it today." Nami said rudely.

"Tsk! Whatever…" Franky mumbled. They continued to walk towards the village until they heard something from behind them. It turned out to be Kirby, who was just happily approaching the crew.

"Good morning, Kirby." Robin said kindly.

"Poyo." Kirby replied kindly as well.

"How's the little puffball bro doing today?" Franky asked with a smile.

"Poyo, poyo." Kirby replied happily.

"Ow! You are so right!" Franky said while giving a thumbs up to Kirby.

"I find it weird that you are the only one out of all us that can understand him." Zoro said.

"I am surprised, Marimo; I thought you already mastered the baby language." Sanji mocked.

"What is that supposed to mean?" Zoro asked while glaring at Sanji.

"Marimo." Kirby said. Zoro was shocked as Sanji laughed at him.

"Stop calling me that! My name is Zoro!" Zoro yelled angrily. Kirby simply tilted his head confusedly as Sanji patted on Zoro's shoulder.

"Even Kirby knows who you really are. Heh heh!" Sanji laughed as Mar- I mean, Zoro, started to mumble angrily about this. Luffy then happily towards Kirby and lowered to his height.

"Hey, Kirby. How about we compete in a eating contest?" Luffy asked with a smile.

"Poyo!" Kirby replied excitedly.

"Okay! Let's get going!" Luffy yelled out. They both then dashed towards the village at the same speed, leaving the crew alone.

"There they go again…" Nami said with her eyes narrowed.

"It's amazing how they can eat almost anything." Chopper said.

"As long as they don't eat all of our food, then I am okay with it." Sanji said.

They resumed their walk towards the village, where it was as peaceful as usual. Once they got there, they were greeted kindly by the fellow Cappies.

"Looks like they gotten used to us." Franky said.

"Good thing too." Usopp said, "Now things will go more smoother than yesterday."

"I hope nothing ruins this nice day." Chopper said. "Hmm? Oh, there is Tiff and Tuff!" Tiff and Tuff were coming into their view. Once they saw the Strawhat crew, they waved to them as they then approached them.

"Hey, guys." Tuff said.

"Looks like you guys slept well." Tiff said.

"You can say that again." Nami said.

"So, are you guys going to search for the heart again?" Tiff asked.

"That will be a little later; I feel like talking to that Gus guy yesterday about the machinery around here." Franky said.

"Since when do you make the decisions?" Nami asked, "Today is the perfect time to find what we are looking for. Once we find the heart, we can get out of here." Hearing this made Tiff and Tuff a little sad. "Oh, I didn't mean it like that. I was just…"

"Wait a go, Nami." Zoro said as Nami then glared at him.

"No, it's okay; we understand." Tiff said, "I would try and get back home if I was in another world too."

"Man… couldn't you guys just take a break from that or something?" Tuff asked.

"Tuff, don't be so selfish!" Tiff scolded.

"I am just saying." Tuff replied.

"You know, Nami-san, he does have a point." Sanji said, "Maybe we should just relax for a bit. We may not have another relaxing time as this in the future."

"Well…" Nami began to think.

"Come on, Orange-head sis. It's not going to hurt." Franky said.

"Okay, fine. We'll relax for a couple of hours. Then we will start searching the heart." Nami said.

"Alright!" Tuff said happily.

"Sounds like a plan! And by far, I like that idea the most!" Usopp said.

"Whatever. We'll meet back here in a couple of hours. You guys do what you want." Nami said.

"Great. I can finally catch up on some sleep." Zoro said. He then walked towards the big tree in the middle of the street and sat next to it as he already started to snooze.

"What are you going to do, Nami?" Chopper asked.

"I don't know. Maybe I should find out how money looks like here." Nami said as she then walked off.

"I guess I'll just be here reading my book then." Robin said. She sat on a stair step and started to read a book. Sanji loved this for some odd reason.

"Oh, Robin-chwan! Can I stare at your beauty while you read?" Sanji asked happily.

"If you want to." Robin said while still reading her book. Sanji's visible eye turned into a heart as he then stared at Robin without interruption.

"These guys are sure odd for being pirates." Tuff whispered to Tiff.

"I guess that's how the people are in their world." Tiff whispered back. Tuff then realized somebody was missing.

"Hey, where is Luffy?" Tuff asked.

"He is with the puffball bro. They are eating everything in that place you call a restaurant." Franky said.

"Aww, man. I wanted Kirby to play soccer with us." Tuff said. "Are you still up for that, Chopper?"

"Sure, I'll play." Chopper replied.

"-sigh-… It's going to take a long time for Kirby to finish eating." Tuff said in boredom. Usopp noticed this and let out confident smirk.

"Well I guess this is the perfect time for me to tell you how powerful I am." Usopp said.

"Powerful? What do you mean?" Tuff asked curiously.

"Usopp may not look like it, but he is really strong." Chopper said, "He once told me that he can take down ten scary giants by himself. Right, Usopp?"

"Sure! Giants don't scare me! In fact, I have encountered harder people then giant people themselves!" Usopp said as Chopper and Tuff listened to him, "I once fought with a powerful fire-breathing turtle, but he stood no chance against me after I destroyed his castle. Then there was this other guy that was a powerful warlock, but I managed to defeat him by summoning a powerful dragon upon him! And I also faced with this evil man that wanted to control all the creatures in the world, but I stopped him using my ice powers! Yep; I am an unstoppable being!"

"That's incredible!" Chopper and Tuff said simultaneously. Tiff rolled her eyes in annoyance as he then noticed Franky dancing for no reason.

"They really are the weirdest." Tiff said while sweatdropping.

Nami was walking around town, pretty much bored and irritant. "Eh, I dont feel relaxed. There must be something I can do." Nami said. She then a noticed a small house, with a crystal ball above the entry. "Is that…?" Nami approached the building and took a peek inside. She saw a small room that was a bit dark. Their was nothing but a small round table in the room. At the other side of the table, their was a Cappy wearing earrings and bracelets and was also wearing one of those fortune telling hats.

"Ohh? A visitor." The fortune teller said, "My name is Mabel; the fortune teller of this village. Would you like me to tell you your fortune?"

"Eh? I don't know…" Nami said while rubbing the back of her head.

"I heard that you are one of the nice pirates that arrived here yesterday." The fortune teller known as Mabel said, "How about I give you your fortune for no charge at all?"

"Works for me!" Nami said as she sat in front of the crystal ball behind Mabel.

"Shh… silence! I need to concentrate to see what lies for you in the future…" Mabel said while concentrating on her crystal ball.

"Yeah, yeah; just hurry it up." Nami said impatiently. Mabel closed her eyes and began to see something in the crystal ball of hers.

"I see… something green." Mabel said.

"Green? What do you mean?" Nami asked.

"Wait… I see money. I see you covered in money." Mabel said. Nami got out of her chair and looked at Mabel with a shock and happy expression.

"Are you serious!? I am going to be covered in money!?" Nami asked bewilderingly.

"Yes, indeed you will be. I am not sure when, but it will surely happen someday." Mabel said.

Nami squealed in delight as she then got to the other side of the table and hugged Mabel tightly. "Thank you, thank you, thank you!! You are so much a better person then that Kabu! I will never forget this! Thank you so very much! Woohoo!" Nami ran out of Mable's house happily as Mable just blinked.

"Oh… I didn't thought she would actually believe me." Mabel said, "Good thing I am good pretending to be a fortune teller, or I wouldn't have any customers at all. Heh heh."

Back outside, Nami was as happy as ever. "Eeek! I cannot wait for my fortune to come true! I can already feel the wealth around me!" Nami said happily. She then stopped as she could hear something from afar. "That sounds like… oh no…"

At the same time, Luffy and Kirby came out of Kawasaki's restaurant with upset look on their faces. "Ermm… that wasn't the eating contest I was hoping for; we didn't eat enough food." Luffy said, "Let's try to find someplace where there is unlimited amount of food."

"Poyo." Kirby agreed. As soon as they were about to walk on to the streets, Dedede's limousine appeared out of nowhere and headed straight towards them.

"Hey, you two; get out of the way!" Nami yelled. Luffy and Kirby were a little confused what Nami was yelling about as they looked towards their left before…

CRASH!!!

"WHOA!!!" Luffy and Kirby both went flying right into the tree Zoro was sleeping next to. Everyone was completely shocked over this.

"Oh no!" Chopper cried out in worry as he went to Luffy and Kirby to see if they were okay.

"Oh man! Not again!" Usopp said while slapping his forehead. Sanji and Robin stopped what they were doing and went to see if Luffy and Kirby were fine. They were not hurt; just a bit dizzy.

"Luffy, Kirby; are you okay!?" Chopper asked.

"Oh… what happened?" Luffy asked dazedly.

"It's that penguin again." Nami said while angrily looking behind her shoulder to see Dedede and Escargoon happily coming out of their seats. Zoro then rubbed his eyes in tiredness as he noticed all the ruckus going on.

"Wha? What's going on?" Zoro asked while getting up.

"We'll soon find out. Here comes Humpty and Dumpty." Franky said. Dedede and Escargoon kindly approached the Strawhat crew, who were not happy to see Dedede again.

"Dedede! What do you want this time!?" Tiff asked.

"Oh, I am so sorry that my lousy driver bumped into you guys." Dedede said, "He is just that dumb of a driver, you know?"

"More like he did it on purpose." Sanji said bluntly while glaring at Escargoon, who was trying to avoid eye contact.

"Anyway, I just came here to apologize for my reckless behavior yesterday." Dedede said while rubbing his hands, "You see, I have a disease known as angerlisticulosis. It makes me get very angry for no reason at all, and if I don't let out my anger on someone, I could have probably turned into a fried turkey by now. Dyah ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Exactly; His Majesty is just too dumb and irresponsible to prevent that kind of disease from happening to him in the first place." Escargoon said. Dedede was about to hit Escargoon, but stopped himself by simply patting Escargoon on the head.

"Dyeh heh heh… I try to overcome it sometimes. But it can be a hard disease to get rid of." Dedede said with a sheepless smile.

"Great… now can you tell us why you came here again?" Zoro asked uninterested with Dedede's problems.

"Well… I would like to make things up from yesterday by letting you all come back to my castle." Dedede said with open arms, "I cannot let visitors from another world to hang around in this low class facility."

"His Majesty is being very kind to you all. Please accept his gratefulness he is showing to you." Escargoon said.

"Now hold on! You expect us to go back to your castle after throwing us out like a bag a garbage!?" Nami asked while stomping her way in front of Dedede, "I can understand you kicking most of these imbeciles out of your castle, but after the way you treated me, I am not going to step in that second-class castle of yours!"

"S-Second class!?" Dedede said in shock as Sanji also got in front of him.

"If Nami-san says that she doesn't want to go back, then I suggest you walk away." Sanji said while giving a glare at Dedede, "I don't care if you are the king of this place, if you try to displease Nami-san again, I swear, I will hunt you down." Dedede took a few steps back as he then placed Escargoon in front of him as a shield.

"L-Like I said before; I came here to apologize. Seriously, I will never do something that will ever anger any of you again. I promise." Dedede said as he crossed his fingers behind his back.

"Ha! Like we'll believe that! I bet you are crossing your fingers behind your back right now!" Usopp yelled, which startled Dedede.

"Ah! No, of course not! See?" Dedede showed Usopp both of his hands, and his fingers weren't crossed anymore.

"If you wanted to apologize, you wouldn't invite us back to your castle." Robin said, "If that disease of yours does exist, then their might be a chance for you to get angry again, and you would let all your anger out on us like the previous time. You wouldn't want to alarm your guests again, do you?"

Dedede started to sweat in fear. " No! They are much more smarter then I thought they were! My plan cannot work unless they accept my invitation! " Dedede thought as he hoped for a miracle to happen.

"Okay. We accept your apology." Luffy said plainly. Everyone, except for Robin and Tiff, had their jaws opened in shock as Dedede and Escargoon were a bit shocked as well.

"Poyo?" Kirby said during the shockness.

"Luffy, you are getting on my nerves again!" Nami said while glaring at Luffy.

"He said he was sorry. And it would be rude for us not to accept another invitation to his castle again." Luffy said simply. "Besides, he said that he has a disease. It's not his fault he was angry at us."

"He was lying, Luffy!" Usopp yelled at Luffy's ear, "There is no such thing as angerlisticulosis! I mean, come on! Even I can come up with something better than that! You have been making a lot of stupid decisions ever since we got here, and it's starting to worry me!"

"Dyeh heh heh heh heh! So, I guess I'll see you guys back at the castle." Dedede said as Escargoon got back on the driver's seat of the limousine. "Hope to see you there soon. Oh, and do have a great day." Dedede waved before turning his back on them. "Trust me… I know I will."

With a smug smile, Dedede sat back on the passenger's seat of the limousine as Escargoon drove the limousine around and back to the castle. Chopper was quiet; he wasn't really sure if Dedede was telling the truth or not.

"He is up to something." Franky said, "But what?"

"Gah! Why does Dedede always have to ruin good times like this!?" Tiff asked angrily.

"It's not like him to be this nice with anyone." Tuff said.

"That settles it; he wants to get us." Usopp said, "Good thing we are smart enough not to fall in his little trap."

"I wonder if he has food…" Luffy was already walking towards the castle as everyone was dumbfounded by this.

"Luffy, don't tell me you are going there." Nami said with an irritated face.

"I just want to know if he has enough food for that eating contest I want to compete with Kirby with." Luffy said while looking at Nami behind her shoulder.

"Ugh… there is no helping him." Usopp said with his head lowered. Usopp then noticed Zoro going with Luffy as well. "Zoro, you are going too!?"

"It's not like I have anything else to do here. Might as well encounter with that penguin now." Zoro said.

"Don't worry, Zoro; I'll make sure you don't get lost." Luffy said with a smile, which irritated Zoro. They both then walked away, leaving Nami more irritated.

"I can't believe those idiots can be that careless!" Nami mumbled. She then noticed Robin walking ahead of her. "Hm? Robin, where are you going?"

"I am a little interested about this land's history. Perhaps if I go to the castle, I might learn something there." Robin said with a kind smile. Nami's right eye twitched as Sanji had a worried expression.

"I can't let Robin-chwan go to that place unprotected! It's up to a man like me to protect her from harm! I am going with you, Robin-chwan!" Sanji said as he accompanied Robin to the castle.

"Ergh! Fine then! Go and get fooled by that stupid king! I don't care!" Nami yelled loud enough for everyone in the village to hear. She then turned around and faced the rest of her crewmates. "Well!? Aren't you guys going to follow them too!?"

"Nah. I prefer hanging out here for a bit." Franky said.

"Yeah, me too. I am way too smart to be fooled by Dedede." Usopp said.

"Me too." Chopper said. Nami sighed as she then started to walk away.

"I am going to take a walk. You come find me if something happens to those idiots, okay?" Nami said before she left.

"Ehh…" Usopp, Chopper, and Franky replied unenthusiastically as Kirby simply waved bye to Nami.

"Tsk! I don't know about you guys, but I am going to the gas station to talk to Gus about some machinery here. See ya!" Franky said as he then left.

"Well, now what do we do?" Usopp asked.

"Hey, we can play soccer now! Come on you guys." Tuff said.

"Poyo!" Kiry said happily.

"Yeah! Usopp can show us his great soccer playing skills!" Chopper said excitedly. Usopp flinched by this.

"Um… I would go with you guys, but I just remembered… that… I must go to the castle and protect my friends!"

"I thought you didn't wanted to go." Tiff said with her arms crossed.

"Well, they don't call me 'Usopp the Bodyguard' for nothing! Without me, those guys are toast. Catch you later!" Usopp then started to run towards the direction of the castle, with a fearful look on his face.

"I guess it's just us now. Let's go to the meadows! That place is perfect for playing soccer!" Tuff suggested.

"Okay!" Chopper said excitedly as they and Kirby happily went out of the village.

"-sigh-… might as well join them." Tiff shrugged as she caught up with Tiff, Chopper, and Kirby.

Meanwhile…

Just right up at the hills, Dedede and Escargoon were watching as Luffy and Zoro were on there way to the castle.

"It looks like we were able to fool that captain and that poser, Your Majesty." Escargoon said, watching Luffy and Zoro from afar with binoculars.

"I thought so… I knew those two would be stupid enough to come here." Dedede said with a grin.

"And three more of them are coming too." Escargoon said as he noticed Sanji and Robin going to the castle, with Usopp soon joining them.

"Dyeh heh heh heh heh! This is better then I expected." Dedede said, "There is no way my plan will fail now!"

"What about the other three, Your Majesty?" Escargoon asked.

"This is also part of my plan. I knew that some of them wouldn't come here again, especially that raccoon."

"So what you are saying is…?" Escargoon asked with a smirk.

"My first victim will be… that raccoon! He will pay dearly for not having my name in that pathetic autograph book of his! Come on; let's go to where he is now! Dyah ha ha ha ha!"

Escargoon drove the limousine around the horizon so Luffy and the others cannot see them and headed straight to the meadows.

Meanwhile…

"Catch!"

Tuff, Chopper, and Kirby were playing soccer, along with some other Cappy kids. Tiff, on the other hand, was reading a book under the hollow tree Kirby sleeps in.

"I got it!" Chopper said as he caught the ball with his feet and kicked the ball past the goalie to make a goal.

"Yeah, we scored a point!" Tuff said happily.

"Poyo!" Kirby said while bouncing up and down.

"Great job, Chopper. You are really good at this!" Tuff said to Chopper.

"Ah!?" Chopper's mouth was wide open when he heard that.

"Yeah, you are really good!" A Cappy wearing a blue shirt and a hat said.

"You are pretty cool for someone that came from another world! You should come here more often!" A Cappy with spiky hair said.

"Ugh!?" Chopper was more surprised than before.

"You are really cute too. Are all the creatures in your world like that?" A cappy girl asked. Chopper was now blushing as quickly turned around.

"I AM NOT HAPPY BECAUSE YOU GUYS SAID THAT!" Chopper turned into his Heavy point and smashed a boulder into pieces. Everyone was shocked to see him transform, including Tiff and Kirby. Chopper then turned back to his original self as he just realized what he just did. "Oh no… I hope I didn't scare them…" Chopper slowly looked behind his shoulder to see that Tuff and the others were actually amazed at what Chopper did.

"That was incredible! You can transform into a muscle guy too!? You are so cool!" Tuff said excitedly.

Chopper covered his mouth; he didnt wanted to do his happy dance in front of his new friends. So, he quickly ran into Kirby's house and locked the door. Tuff and the others were confused as they could only hear loud and muffled yelling from Chopper from inside the house. Chopper then came out as he sighed in relief.

"Phew… okay, now let's keep playing!" Chopper said happily. Everyone agreed as they started to play soccer again. Tiff was a little confused at what happened as Tokkori came out of the house while holding his head in shock.

"I have never heard such foul language from a happy raccoon in my entire life!" Tokkori said, "Ugh… I need to lie down again." Tokkori got back in the house as Tiff giggled.

"And I never knew that pirates can be this friendly. Let's hope that never ends." Tiff said as she then resumed reading her book.

Suddenly, the bushes near a forest started to sway around a bit as Dedede and Escargoon arrived at the scene as they have their eyes set on Chopper.

"There he is, Your Majesty." Escargoon whispered. "Look at him having fun with those rotten kids."

"This is the perfect place to get him." Dedede whispered, "Let's get in position."

Dedede and Escargoon went away from the bushes as it made some sound before they left. This caught some of Tiff's attention as she looked at the bush.

"Wha? What was that?" Tiff asked herself.

"Here you go!" Tuff said while kicking the ball. Kirby tried to catch it, but the ball went over him and right past the bushes. "Oh, went into the bushes. Kirby, why didn't you catch it?"

"It's okay; I'll go get it!" Chopper said. He went through the bushes and looked for the ball. "There it is!" Chopper said as he saw the soccer ball. As soon as he grabbed it, he could here someone crying. "Hmm? What's that?" Chopper walks with the ball and walks around another bush to see Dedede crying on the grass.

"Oh bo ho ho ho ho! Oh bo ho ho ho ho ho! Woe is me! Oh bo ho ho ho ho!" Dedede cried with his hadns on his face. He then took a quick peek at Chopper to see he was paying attention before crying again. Chopper tilted his head confusedly as he slowly approached Dedede.

"Um… is something the matter?" Chopper asked.

"Ohhh!! I am really sad! Waaaaahhhh!!!" Dedede cried even louder.

"Why are you sad?" Chopper asked concerned.

"-sniff-… When your friends came to my castle, they started to be so mean to me." Dedede said while wiping the tears out of his eyes. "The green hair guy called me a fat ugly loser, and spanked me with a ruler while everyone else laughed at me. Bo ho ho…"

"What!? Zoro did that!?" Chopper asked in shock, "I knew that Zoro was going to do something, but I didn't know he would do something that horrible to you."

"That's not all…" Dedede began to say, "The blonde guy said that he hated me just because he told me that I am more handsome than he is. He even threatened to kick me in the face multiple times just for being more gorgeous than he is.

"That's terrible!" Chopper said, "Sanji went way too far on saying that!"

"Then all of them kicked me out of my own castle. And now, here I am, crying my eyes out! Oh bo ho ho ho ho ho…" Dedede cried. Chopper was really sad for Dedede as Escargoon appeared out of the bushes.

"Your Majesty! Oh thank goodness you are okay!" Escargoon said with tears coming out his eyes.

"Escargoon!" Dedede cried as he hugged Escargoon as they cried even more. "Oh, Escargoon; why did this had to happen to me!?"

"I am so sorry about this, Your Majesty! I tried to stop them, but they are just so darn cruel that they kicked me out as well!" Escargoon cried.

"No! What am I going to do!? If it wasn't for this disease, none of this would be happening!" Dedede yelled out in sorrow, "If there only was a way to get rid of this disease, then I don't have to live like this."

"And their must be some way to get those pirates out of our castle as well." Escargoon cried.

"Gyeh… there is no hope for us anymore! WAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!!" Dedede and Escargoon cried some more. Chopper then puts down the ball he was holding and approached them with a confident look.

"I will help you!" Chopper said determinedly, "I will talk to them; they will listen to me. I will get them out of there!"

"-sniff-… You are going to help us?" Dedede asked as he started to calm down.

"Yeah! I will help you and your problem! I am a doctor, and I can help you get rid of that disease you have!" Chopper said confidently.

"Oh, bless you!" Dedede said with tears of joy, "You are my savior; I will forever be in your debt."

"Just because you said that to me, it won't make me any happier, asshole!" Chopper said happily while doing his happy dance. This threw off Dedede for a second before he just laughed that off.

"You don't need to be so modest. Come on and let's have a little chat with those comrades of yours." Dedede said while wiping some of his tears away, "Escargoon, where did you park the limousine?"

"Just outside here. Let's hurry before something bad happens to our castle!" Escargoon suggested.

"Yosh! Let's go!" Chopper said as he went ahead, with Dedede and Escargoon behind him. They got on the limousine, with Chopper sitting between Escargoon and Dedede, as Escargoon drove to the castle.

As soon as they left, Tuff and the others went through the bushes to see why Chopper was taking so long. "Chopper! Where did you go!?" Tuff asked loud enough.

"Poooyooo!?" Kirby said, looking for Chopper too.

Meanwhile…

Escargoon drove up the hill as Chopper was very concerned about this situation. "I can't believe that Luffy, and the others would do such a thing. I have to see this for myself." Chopper said with his arms crossed.

"Believe me; these guys acted like completely different people when they got to my castle." Dedede said with his arms crossed, and nodded several times with his eyes closed.

"That's true! But as long as you're with us, you can straighten them out." Escargoon said while driving. Chopper nodded as he looked forward, not noticing that Dedede and Escargoon where then sharing smuggish smiles with eachother. Escargoon then a slight turn and stopped the limousine as they were facing towards the ocean.

"Huh? Why did we stop here?" Chopper asked.

"They said if that we come back with the limousine, they would use my cannons to fire at us." Dedede said, "We'll just play it cool for a while until we get to the castle by foot."

"Oh…" Chopper said. "Hey, listen. I am sorry about what happened to you yesterday. I just thought that you were a bad king at heart, but you actually have disease I didn't know about. I certainly misjudged you, and I want to start things over again."

"Aww, isn't that sweet?" Dedede said with a kind smile as he then stands on his passenger seat, "Of course, I accept your apology. And from now on, we will be best buddies and together, we will bring peace and love to this kingdom of mine; the way it should be treated in the first place."

"Really?" Chopper asked happily.

"NOPE!" Dedede said cruelly as Escargoon pushed a button on the steering wheel that caused some handle bars surround Chopper around his body.

"Huh!? What are you doing!?" Chopper asked in shock as spot he was sitting on rose up a few inches.

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha! Did you actually believe I would do those things!? Well guess what!? I lied!! Dyeh heh heh heh!" Dedede laughed cruelly, "Never in a billion years I would stoop into your level, raccoon! There is nobody more important than me!"

"But… but I thought…" Chopper said in surprise.

"Escargoon, would you do the honors?" Dedede asked while taking out his big mallet.

"My pleasure, Your Majesty." Escargoon said with a wicked smile. He pushed another button that made the chair Chopper on fly up in the air. Chopper screamed in fear as Dedede winded up his mallet.

"Have a nice flight!" Dedede said before he swung his mallet right behind Chopper so hard, he destroyed the chair he was on as well. The force of the blow was so hard, Chopper went flying in a humongous distance, which amused Dedede and Escargoon.

"There he goes! Nice shot, Your Majesty." Escargoon laughed.

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha! That takes care of him! Now let's get the other impersonators!" Dedede said as he sat back down on his chair and laughed cruelly as Escargoon drove him back to the castle.

"WAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAH HHHHHHHH HHHHH HHHHH!!!" Chopper screamed as he went flying right into the ocean, which was really bad since he can't swim. "Ugh… Is this… the end?" Chopper thought as he slowly closed his eyes, losing conscious as he sank deeper into the ocean. Deeper… deeper… and deeper…

Kirby Pt 7

Hellloooo! The next chapter is finally here! Now, there might be a point in this chapter where it could get scary. I don't think that it is really scary, but I just feel that I should give you the heads up anyway. Enjoy!

Tricked! It was just an ordinary for the Strawhat crew, until Dedede showed up once more. He wanted to apologize for the rash things he did before and wanted to invite them back to his castle. However, some of the crew were suspicious of Dedede, but Luffy accepted his offer as he, Zoro, Usopp, Sanji, and Robin went to the castle, while Nami, Chopper, and Franky didn't. Dedede then began his plan to get rid of the Strawhat crew by eliminating Chopper first. Will the rest of the Strawhat crew get tricked by Dedede as well?

Chapter 74: Who's next?, The threat of Dreamland

"Huh? You can't find him?" Tiff asked. We are back in the green meadows were everyone was playing soccer just awhile a go, but stopped after they couldn't find Chopper.

"He went to go get the soccer ball back, but he suddenly disappeared. We can't find him anywhere." Tuff explained.

"Poyo…" Kirby said sadly.

"That's strange. He wouldn't just leave like that." Tiff said with her hand around her chin.

"Do you think that something happened to him?" Tuff asked.

"I don't know, but keep searching for him. I'll take a look behind those bushes Chopper went through before." Tiff said.

"Right! Come on, Kirby! " Tuff said.

"Poyo!" Tuff and Kirby both went out to find Chopper while Tiff went into the forest. She went through some bushes walked around to find any clues of Chopper's disappearance.

"Now where could… huh?" Tiff then noticed something just outside the small forest. She went through other bushes and noticed tire tracks on the grass that lead up to the horizons near the castle. "Tire tracks… hmm…" Tiff followed the tire tracks until she saw that they were facing near the ledge of the hill before leading to Dedede's castle.

Meanwhile…

Luffy, Zoro, Usopp, Sanji, and Robin just entered through the castle walls, and are now back in the castle. "Hee hee! We are back here again." Luffy said happily.

"I wonder if there is a good place to sleep around here?" Zoro said while looking at his surroundings.

"Why sleep if there is a beautiful women such as Robin-chwan to stare at all day?" Sanji said happily while staring at Robin's beauty.

Usopp seemed to be the only one that was on full alert as he was alertfully looking at his surroundings. "There is something wrong here. I just know it!" Usopp said cautiously, "It's a good thing that I am here to protect you guys or things might get really nasty here."

"Where would be a good place to read a book?" Robin asked.

"Are you guys paying any attention to me!?" Usopp asked.

"More importantly, where is the kitchen?" Luffy asked happily.

"Looks like they're not…" Usopp said to his dismay. Usopp then heard a sound of an engine behind him as it turned out to be Escargoon, driving the limousine with Dedede back into the castle.

"Oh, hello there." Dedede said kindly while getting off the limousine, "I am glad that you were able to come."

"Hey, Dedede. Thanks for inviting us back to the castle again." Luffy said as he approached Dedede, "It was really nice of you to do that."

"You don't need to be so thankful. After all, my casa is your casa. Dyeh heh heh heh." Dedede laughed happily, "But hey, where is the rest of your crew?"

"They didn't wanted to come; they thought that you were planning something bad against us. But I know you wouldn't do something like that. You don't look like the kind of person that would come up with something that brilliant." Luffy said happily.

"What's that suppose to mean?" Dedede asked angrily while his eye twitched.

"Your Majesty…" Escargoon hissed, reminding Dedede to not lose his temper.

"Oh, sorry for that rude question." Dedede said, "My stupid disease is acting up again. Dwuh huh huh huh huh."

"Don't worry about that; we know that you can get offended really easily." Luffy said, "I'll make sure that I wont say things that will offend you. Like calling you a big fat ugly balloon, for example."

"Balloon!?" Dedede asked angrily again until he then calmed down, "Dyah ha ha ha! It's alright; you can say those things to me all you want. I won't mind." Dedede lied.

"It's best that he doesnt." Usopp said.

"Anyway, His Majesty hopes that you have a pleasant stay in the castle." Escargoon said kindly, "If you need anything, just come look for me in my room in the top floor."

"Enjoy your evening, nice pirates. Dyah ha ha ha ha!" Dedede laughed as he and Escargoon left Luffy and the others alone.

"I still dont trust that guy." Sanji said, "We should keep an eye out for him while we're here."

"He won't do anything to us as long as I, Captain Usopp, we'll protect you from all kinds of danger!" Usopp said proudly.

"Aww man! I forgot to ask him where the kitchen was. Might as well find it myself." Luffy said as he simply walked off.

"Let's go inside, Robin-chwan. There are sure to be some place where we can relax in." Sanji said.

"Sure. Perhaps the Cabinet Minister could give us a little tour around here." Robin said kindly as she walked off.

"Oh, joy! This world is so great, that it's giving me time to be with Robin-chwan! Mellorine, mellorine, mellorine!" Sanji happily follows Robin inside the castle, leaving Usopp and Zoro behind.

"They ignored me again…" Usopp said with his head lowered. He then noticed Zoro walking away. "Where are you going?"

"To find someplace where I can take a nap. There is nothing better to do here anyway." Zoro said as he walked around the front garden of the castle. Usopp gulped as he was now alone.

"Great… even though this place is relaxing, I feel so scared at the same time." Usopp whimpered, "Maybe I can distract myself if I find something that could cheer me up. I know; I'll look for Fololo and Falala to tell them one of my adventures. I just got to make sure that I don't exaggerate this time."

Usopp confidently went inside the castle, no longer having any fear inside him. For the moment anyway.

Zoro walked around the garden, walking by some Waddle Dees that were doing their daily chores. "Ermm… those definitely don't look like soldiers." Zoro said, "Bah, does everything here has to look cute and kiddy in some way? Other than that penguin and snail, I can't imagine what ugly people look like here."

Zoro then noticed a big fountain in the east side of the garden. "That looks like a good place to nap." Zoro said as he walked to the fountain. He took the swords around the waist and placed them on the ground before sitting down and leaning on the fountain. "I guess this world has some good things about it." Zoro yawned as he placed his hands behind his head and started to snooze.

He then slowly opened his eyes halfway. "Do you want something?" Zoro asked. Zoro was not alone; he can feel the presence of someone else nearby.

"I see you have the ability to sense the presence of other people. You are quite skilled."

Zoro looks to his right and sees the same knight with the white mask he saw yesterday. "Oh, it's you." Zoro said, "Didn't expect to see you again."

The knight approached Zoro, who just simply stared. "Forgive me if I interrupted your nap; I was just simply walking around until I noticed you sleeping here." the knight said.

"The penguin invited me and my comrades back here again; I am just taking advantage of that." Zoro said.

"I see…" The knight said, "Are you friends of His Majesty?"

"No way; he wouldn't be any of my friends. But as long as he offers me stuff, then I am okay with him around." Zoro stated.

"Oh…" The knight said, "My name is Metaknight. I am His Majesty's trusted warrior."

"Zoro." Zoro said as he sat upright.

"So, Zoro; I heard that you and your comrades don't come from this world. Is that true?" the knight known as Metaknight asked.

"Yeah." Zoro replied, "To make a long story short, me and my comrades got sucked into this door, and now we have to collect these hearts to get back. It's been a rough trip so far."

"Hearts? Are you referring to the keys to use the Master door?" Metaknight asked.

"Uh, yeah. How do you know that?" Zoro asked.

"I used to be one of the Smash participants, along with Kirby and His Majesty." Metaknight said, "Although, despite having multiple people fighting eachother for no reason, it does give you a sense of pride and friendship in some odd and unique way."

"Is that so?" Zoro asked. "I really dont know much about that, but I guess I can say that I fought in those kind of battles."

"I noticed that you have three swords with you." Metaknight said, "Are you a swordsman?"

"Sure am. I intend to be the strongest swordsman of them all. I made that promise to her a long time ago." Zoro said while looking at the skies. "So, why is someone like you serving someone like that self-centered penguin?"

"That's also a rather long story to tell." Metaknight said.

"Like I have anything else to do." Zoro replied.

"Hmm… alright. I guess I can tell you." Metaknight said as he then looked at the clouds. "Ten thousand years ago, their was a battle between Star warriors and Demon beasts."

"Oh, I heard of that. That Kabu statue guy told us about that yesterday." Zoro said, "Why are you bringing that up?"

"I was one of those Star warriors." Metaknight said, which confused Zoro for a bit, "No matter how hard we fought, we ended up losing. So, I began to find more Star warriors to fight the dreaded evil known as Nightmare, but it was not an easy task. I only managed to find two like me and we joined together to find more Star warriors."

"Are you talking about those two guys that were with you yesterday?" Zoro asked.

"Yes; Blade and Sword are their names." Metaknight said, "We traveled together with our star ships, which are ships that are programmed to go where Demon beasts are located. One day, our Star ships lead us right into this world and that was when we met His Majesty, Dedede. He used to buy Demon beasts from Holy Nightmare corporations, so the three of us served loyalty to him ever since."

"That doesnt explain why you are serving him though." Zoro said.

"Since our ships were programmed to go where Demon beasts are, I knew that someday other star warriors will also come here."

"Kirby, right?" Zoro asked.

"Of course." Metaknight replied, "Kirby was our savior. He defeated Nightmare with the Star rod. And ever since, everything here has been at peace."

"Nice story. Even though I heard some of that yesterday…" Zoro said, "Although, there is something that bugged me a bit. You said that you fought with this Nightmare fella ten thousand years ago. Wouldn't that make you more than ten thousand years old?"

"Yes. Why do you ask?" Metaknight asked. It was a little quiet as the wind whistled by. Zoro gave Metaknight an odd look, raising his right eyebrow with great confusion.

"Everyone was right; just how long can you guys live?" Zoro asked as he then rested on the fountain again.

While both of them continued to talk, Dedede and Escargoon were watching them from a balcony. "It looks like Metaknight is befriending with that guy." Escargoon said.

"Grr! Curse you, Metaknight." Dedede said with a clenched fist, "How dare you communicate with one of my victims. Tsk, and just when I was about to get him next."

"What do we do, Your Majesty?" Escargoon asked.

"Will just skip him for now." Dedede said as he and Escargoon went back inside the castle, "Besides, I haven't come up with anything dreadful for that poser yet." Dedede and Escargoon then began to walk through the quiet hallways.

"So, who is the next impersonator to fall in one of your brilliant traps, Your Majesty?" Escargoon asked.

"Oh, I know the perfect thing for this next guy." Dedede said, "Of course, I was planning to do this on you, but I guess I can try it out on him first."

"Wha!? What are you talking about!? You were planning to get rid of me!?" Escargoon asked in shock.

"Of course not, you idiot!" Dedede yelled angrily, "It's just something I wanted to do in case I get bored."

Escargoon did not know what Dedede had in mind. Once he did, he stood in shock. "You are going to scare him! You plan to scare the next guy to death, aren't you!?"

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha! Now, Escargoon, don't go yelling that all over the place. Or else, you'll spoil it for everyone." Dedede said with a smirk, "I'll give you all the details you need to know back in the throne room, okay?"

"Err… fine." Escargoon said with a snarl, "But who are you going to scare?"

"Dyeh heh heh! That's a stupid question. It's going to be…"

Meanwhile…

"Robin-chwan! You look so fabulous reading that book of yours!" Sanji said happily while staring at Robin again. They were in Tiff's and Tuff's house, which is one of the castle's rooms. Robin and Sanji were on a couch, just enjoying what they were doing. Parm approached the two from the dining table.

"Mr. Sanji, Miss Robin; are you two comfortable?" Parm asked.

"Yeah, we're okay." Sanji said, "Thanks again for inviting us into your home."

"Oh, it was no problem." Parm said kindly, "Friends of our children are always welcome to our home."

Memu than kindly approached Robin from behind the couch she is sitting on. "Robin, would you like to stay for dinner tonight? It would be an honor if you did so."

"Certainly. I would love to join you for dinner." Robin said kindly to Memu.

"Wonderful. Parm, darling, could you please help straighten out the house for a bit? It looks a bit dusty around here." Memu said.

"Yes, Honey." Parm said. They both left Sanji, who resumed looking at Robin, who continued to read her book again. Parm dusted the windows with a feather duster, while Memu vacuumed the carpets with a vacuum cleaner. "My, they certainly are the nicest pirates I have ever met."

"Tiff and Tuff shouldn't be making friends with pirates, but since these are nice ones, then I shouldn't argue." Memu said while continue to vacuum.

While normal things were happening to Sanji and Robin, Usopp was having a hard time trying to find his comrades.

"Ugh, this place is very big. They should have a map of this place." Usopp said exhausted, "I wonder if I should ask Escargoon about this place. But he is with Dedede, and I will get nothing but trouble if I see him."

Usopp continued to walk through the empty and quiet hallways. The only thing he could he was the sound of the steps he is taking.

"Now that I think about it; this place is a bit scary when nobody is around." Usopp said while shivering a bit, "Any minute, a ghost might appear right in front of me. Ha ha! Good thing that we are in clear daylight, or else I would be in trouble."

Usopp happily walked through the hallways again until he suddenly felt scared once more. "Seriously, even in plain daylight, this place is scary." Usopp whimpered, "Now, calm down, Usopp. You are too manly to let simple things like this scare you. You must remember that you are the bravest warrior of the seas. Nothing is too big or scary to make me whimper."

Suddenly, Usopp heard a sound, which almost made Usopp lose his footing. "AAAHHHH!!! WHAT WAS THAT!?" Usopp cried as he quickly looked at his surroundings. Their was nothing he sees that was out of the ordinary. "Did I imagined it? -sigh-.. Thank goodness."

But it wasn't Usopp's imagination as he heard the same sound again! "Wahhh!! There it is again!" Usopp shrieked as he looked around once more, but still nothing. He then heard that sound again from behind him. Usopp turned around in fear as he could see nothing but the dark halls behind him. "Um… h-hello? I-Is someone there?"

There was no response. The only thing he was hearing was the same sounds from before. Usopp whimpered as he could then tell that the sounds of steps. "Whoever you are, stop it! This is a really cruel joke!" Usopp yelled, but got no answer. "Zoro, is that you trying to scare me!? No wait; Zoro is too dull for that…"

The sound of the unidentified steps started to sound louder and louder. "Eek! I don't know who you are, but get away from me!" Usopp yelled before he ran away as fast as he could. As Usopp, he could hear the sound of steps behind him getting more frequent, meaning that the person behind him is chasing after him. "Leave me alone!" Usopp ran as fast as he could until he saw a pure daylight coming in the hallways through open space in the walls.

Usopp stopped himself and looked beyond that space to see the front garden that was really far down from where he is. "Oh man… it's too far for me to jump." Usopp whimpered, "And I can't just keep running forever. That unknown person behind me is bound to catch me sooner or later."

Usopp then heard the sounds of steps behind that are getting closer and closer. Usopp could also the sound of his heartbeats, which are getting more frequent by the second. "This is it… this is where I meet my demise." Usopp said, getting all dramatic. "Goodbye, my dear good friends. I will never forget the adventures we had together. Do not cry for me; though I know that I am the role model you want to be so much. But know this; I will always be in your hearts, no matter if I have I lost my life so cruelly…"

Usopp then began to cry as he could see another shadow besides his own was approaching him from behind. Usopp fell to his knees as the guy that was chasing him was now behind him. "And so it ends… the life of the great, Captain Usopp, will now end." Usopp said dramatically as he lowered his head, "I dont know who you are, or why you want from me, but if you plan to kill me, then do it already!!"

He did not get a response. The only thing the person behind him did was that he touched Usopp's shoulder.

"WAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAHHHH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHH HHHHHHH!!!!!!!"

"Hi, Usopp."

"Eh?" Usopp opened his eyes and looked behind him. It was none other than our favorite captain, Luffy. To think that Usopp got all scared for nothing. "Luffy? Is that really you? Ohhhh, thank goodness it's just you." Usopp panted heavily as Luffy just smiled at him.

"Good thing I found you, Usopp. Why did you scream all of a sudden? You almost shrieked like a girl. Hee hee!" Luffy laughed.

"YOU NEARLY SCARED MY HEART OUT OF MY CHEST!!! WHAT'S WRONG WITH YOU!?!?" Usopp yelled so angrily all of a sudden.

"Ugh!? Well, since you get scared really easy, I thought I just approached you all quietly so I wouldn't startle you." Luffy explained.

"How in the world is that not suppose to scare me!?" Usopp asked, "Why didn't you answer to me when I asked who was approaching there!?"

"Like I said before; I wanted to get to you without alarming you, so I stayed quiet." Luffy said plainly.

"Well that didnt work, did it!?" Usopp yelled sarcastically. "Ugh, man!… Just tell me what you came here to ask me already."

"I was trying to find the kitchen, but it's really hard to do that with this place being so big. I think Zoro gave me his sense of direction." Luffy said with his arms crossed.

"Tell me about it…" Usopp agreed.

"Hey, since I found you, why don't you help me look for the kitchen?" Luffy asked.

"No, thanks." Usopp said, "I have to find Sanji and Robin so I can protect them from danger."

"Ohh…" Luffy said with slight amazement. "Well, good luck with that. Bye!" Luffy said as he just ran off.

"Oi, Luffy! Don't just run away-oh, he's already gone." Usopp said to his dismay. "I was going to ask him to help me to find Sanji and Robin, but that guy never listens to me." Usopp then looked around, seeing that he is now alone again. "Ohh, not again. Might as well continue the search. Heh heh… gulp!"

Usopp walked through the hallways again. As he continued, he got back to the inner hallways, leaving the outdoor hallways in fear. "I liked it better out there. Oh, but bad things always happen in good places." Usopp then noticed a double door to his left. Their was a sign above it that reads 'Escargoon's room'.

"Looks like I found Escargoon's room." Usopp said, "-sigh-… I'll just ask him a quick question about this place, and then I will be on my way." Usopp approached the door as he was about to knock, until…

SMASH!!

Something on the other side of the door broke as this alarmed Usopp. "Huh? What going on in there?"

"No, Your Majesty! Please stop!"

"That voice… ! That sounded like Escargoon!" Usopp exclaimed. He tried to open the door, but it was locked. Usopp then looked through the keyhole of the door to see what was going on. He saw Escargoon trembling with fear as Dedede was approaching him angrily. "That's Dedede! What is he doing?" Usopp whispered.

"Escargoon! You will pay for this treacherous act of yours!" Dedede yelled angrily.

"I have done nothing wrong, Your Majesty!" Escargoon cried in fear, "The only thing I did was to ask you for a small raise in my allowance!"

"That's precisely the thing I am angry about!" Dedede yelled, "How dare you ask me for something I need to raise this kingdom of mine! Isn't the amount I pay you not enough!?"

"Y-You hardly pay me at all! You even forget to pay me at times!" Escargoon yelled nervously.

"SILENCE!!" Dedede yelled as he then grabbed a vase, and threw it at Escargoon.

"Yaaaaahhh!!" Escargoon barely dodged the vase as it shattered into pieces when hit the wall behind him. Escargoon fell off his bed and onto the floor. He stood on the ground as Dedede got really close to him. "Your Majesty, stop! Your are losing your sanity again! Don't let that disease take over you!"

"No, Escargoon. I am a sane man." Dedede said bluntly, "In fact, this is how I am. I lied about my disease."

"What? But why would you lie to me about that?" Escargoon asked.

"The truth is, Escargoon…" Dedede asked while facing his back to Escargoon, "I was raised cruelly during my infant years. I couldn't stand my parents treating me so badly, so I… I… KILLED THEM!"

"What!?" Escargoon asked in shock.

"W-What!?" Usopp hissed as watched on.

"That's right, Escargoon. I am a no good killer." Dedede said sadly, "And the worst of it all, is that I enjoyed for what I did to my parents. It was starting to become a habit of mine. But when I became king, I stopped my ways, but I didn't know for how long. That is when I met you, Escargoon." Dedede then started to let out some tears, "If… you weren't have been on my side for so long, I would have started killing again. Thank you for showing me the light, Escargoon."

"Y-Your Majesty…" Escargoon said sadly.

"But today… you have betrayed me, Escargoon." Dedede said angrily while facing Escargoon, "And now, I will take away your collection of rings because of this."

"No, not my ring collection!" Escargoon yelled as he then tried to stop Dedede, but got knocked down by him. Escargoon fell on the floor as Dedede looked down on him.

"How dare you!? First you ask me for a raise, and now this!?" Dedede asked. "I can't believe this is happening! Bo ho ho ho ho!" Dedede then took out a bag with two holes to see through with as he then puts it on. He then took out a chainsaw and pulled the chord as it turned on.

"W-What are you doing!?" Escargoon asked in fear.

"You know too much of my past, Escargoon. I cannot let you live any longer!" Dedede said with tears coming out of his eyes, "I am sorry, my dear friend… I will always remember you!!"

"NO!! STOP IT!!! AAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHH!!!!!"

From Usopp's point of view, he saw Dedede lower his chainsaw at Escargoon, who he couldnt see since he was on the other side of the bed. As soon as he saw Dedede lower his chainsaw at Escargoon, there was a red substance pouring right out of Escargoon's location.

"OH MY GOD!!!" Usopp cried in fear. Usopp leaned his back on the door, trembling at what he just saw. "That was way too real to be my imagination! I have to tell the others about this!"

But before Usopp could get up, the door he was leaning opened up, causing him to fall on his back. "Eh? Huh?" Usopp looked up and saw Dedede, who was giving Usopp a very angry face. "AAAAAAAAAAHHHHHH!!!! DON'T HURT ME!" Usopp quickly jumped away from Dedede, and leaned on the wall that was in front of him.

"Did you… saw what just happened?" Dedede asked curiously.

"Ugh!? No, of course not! I did not see anything! I am too blind to do that sort of thing!" Usopp panicked.

"Really?" Dedede asked.

"Sure, there is no way I saw you kill Escargoon just now-AHH!!" Usopp covered his mouth as he just realized that he blew his own cover. "Please don't kill me! I have 6 wifes and 2 kids. I wont tell anyone, I swear!" Usopp pleaded as he expected the worst. But for some strange reason, Dedede wasn't doing anything.

"Dyeh heh heh heh heh heh heh! You know, for a second there, I thought you would say that I got crazy, and killed Escargoon for no reason." Dedede said with a smirk.

"Uh? Well…" Usopp began to say.

"YOU WERE GOING TO SAY THAT, WEREN'T YOU!?!?" Dedede yelled angrily.

"GAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH!!!!!! NOOOOOOOOOOO!!!" Usopp cried.

"Then you too will suffer the same fate as Escargoon! RAAGGHHH!!!" Dedede picked up his chainsaw as Usopp screamed in fear before running away. As Dedede began to chase Usopp, we could see from inside Escargoon's room, Escargoon was still alive, but panting heavily after squeezing a bottle of ketchup, which was used to fool Usopp, who thought it was blood.

"Oh my… even though I knew what was coming, that still scared me." Escargoon panted.

Leaving Escargoon for now, we see that Usopp was running with full speed, trying to get away from Dedede as he was swinging chainsaw maniacally.

"I will chop you up into pieces!" Dedede yelled as Usopp quickly ran into a restroom, and locked the door.

"Gotta hide! Gotta hide!" Usopp panicked as he then ran into one of the empty restroom stools and closed the door. Usopp sat on a toilet as he raised his feet and wrapped his arms around his legs, shivering in fear. "I knew that penguin was crazy from the start. I don't know how I am going to live through this! I am in my happy place, I am in my happy place, I am in my happy place…" Usopp whispered repeatedly.

He then heard a slam from the restroom door he locked earlier, startling him at the process. He could hear the noise of the chainsaw was making, meaning that Dedede was now in the restroom.

"I am in my happy place! I am in my happy place! I am in my happy place!" Usopp hissed. He then saw Dedede's shadow in front of the stool door he was behind, which made Usopp to almost wet himself. Usopp sweated in fear so much, it looked like their was a waterfall pouring down his head.

Just as soon as he thought that Dedede would burst the door open, he instead saw that his shadow was no longer there. "Did.. did he leave?" Usopp asked, "Phew… I thought I was a go-"

Before Usopp could finish that sentence, an axe pierced halfway through the stool door. "GAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!!" Usopp screamed as Dedede was destroying the cubicle door with an axe.

Dedede maniacally made a hole on the cubicle door as he then looked through it to see the very frightened Usopp. "HERE'S DEDEDE!!!" Dedede laughed manically.

"UWWAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH!!!!!"

Usopp fainted after this.

Dedede then removed the bag off his head and was proud to what he has done. "Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! That was great!" Dedede said amused. "I never had such a good time in ages. I should do this more often. Dwuh huh huh huh huh huh!"

Escargoon then came into the washroom while panting heavily. "Your were planning to do something like this to me!? You are very cruel, Your Majesty!"

"Thank you." Dedede replied. He then whistled loudly as a couple of Waddle Dees immediately showed up to him. "Put this guy in the dungeon, and make he sure he doesn't escape." Dedede ordered. The Waddle Dees nodded as they then lifted the unconscious Usopp and took him away. "This is too easy. I am just so anxious to get the next one already!"

"Uh-huh." Escargoon said boredly, "By the way, your were a little too loud when you were chasing him all over the place. Everyone in the castle might have heard you, including the other impersonators."

"Hmm… then I guess we should leave here for now." Dedede said as he and Escargoon walked out of the bathroom. "Come along, Escargoon, we have some fishing to do. Dyah ha ha ha!"

Meanwhile…

In the dark depths of outer space, there was a little building of some sort on one of the asteroids. Inside there was a man on a chair, looking at Dreamland through a monitor.

"Ho ho ho ho ho! It has been quite some time since we last visited Dreamland." The man said. He has dark green and neatly combed hair in a wedged style, and was wearing an elegant purple suit, with a pair of orange sunglasses over his eyes. "I cannot wait until we go back there and finish what we have started. Don't you think so too?"

There was nobody else in the room besides him. The only thing that seemed akward in that room was a body shape of a demonic figure on a wall behind him.

Almost frightened to death. Usopp was just having a nice day worrying about what is going to happen in the future, until Dedede and Escargoon pulled a nasty trick on him by almost scaring him to death. Luckily, he only fainted due to this and was taken to Dedede's dungeon. Dedede now has taken care of two of the Strawhat crewmembers. Will he be able to get the rest?

Chapter 75: Fishing for oranges, A honorable knight?

In a beach shore, besides the one that the Thousand Sunny is at, their was a little creature unconscious just near the shore. "Cough! Ugh…" The little creature sat up dazedly as it turned out to be none other than Chopper, who somehow was alive. "Mmm… where am I? How did I get here?" Chopper asked himself while looking at his surroundings.

"Hey, man; are you okay?"

Chopper looked to his right and saw a fish on the ocean close to him. The fish has dark green skin and has yellow fins. He also has a big orange mouth. Chopper looked at the talking fish oddly. "A fish is talking to me? I must be dreaming…"

"Oh, good. You are still alive. I thought you were a goner back there." The fish said which surprised Chopper.

"You can actually talk!?" Chopper asked in shock, "Oh wait, since I am in another world, things like this may be ordinary." Chopper sighed as he then looked back at the fish. "Hey, where am I?"

"We are at the beach shore near Whispy woods." The fish said as Chopper noticed a forest close to him, "Anyway, my name is Kine. Nice to meet you. I saved you from drowning earlier."

"Hi, Kine. My name is Chopper. Thank you for rescuing me." Chopper said kindly.

"No problem. By the way, what were you doing all the way into the ocean?" The fish known as Kine asked, "You could have died back there if it wasn't for me."

"Oh? Well…" Chopper then what happened to him earlier, "Dedede! He whacked me all the way into the ocean!"

"That rude guy? Oh, no wonder. That guy is way self-centered." Kine said. Chopper angrily gets up and looks at the forest.

"Kine, do you know the fastest way to Dedede's castle?" Chopper asked.

"Well, I think the quickest way is through the forest." Kine said, "You don't plan to go, and face Dedede, are you?"

"After what he did to me, I cannot forgive him!" Chopper said, "He is a selfish king that only cares about himself! Those kind of people shouldn't deserve to be royalty! And… I want to prove to my friends that I can fight for them! This time; I will protect my friends from that man!"

"Wow… you are really brave! You should be the king here!" Kine said happily.

"Now I am not happy because you said that to me, idiot!" Chopper said happily while doing his happy dance. He then got serious and faced towards the dark looking forest. "Thanks again for saving me, Kine. I have to go help my friends now!" Chopper then ran to the forest as Kine waved goodbye to him.

"If you happen to know Tiff, then say hi to her for me!" Kine said before Chopper was out of his sight. "Such a brave raccoon."

Chopper continued to run bravely in the forest, passing through a couple of vines and branches along the way. "I must be brave! I will protect my friends no matter what happens!" Chopper said as he continued to run.

Meanwhile…

"Dyah ha ha ha ha! Time to get the next one!" Dedede said happily while he and Escargoon were walking around the castle.

"Cant we take a break? I almost got a heart attack by what happened earlier." Escargoon said while panting a bit.

"No! We got to do this quick! Or else, those stupid impersonators will find out what we are doing!" Dedede said, "As a matter of fact, since we are out here, we might as well get that swordsman poser now."

"But he is with Metaknight." Escargoon said.

"So what? Like I said before, that guy is just posing around. He is not a real threat to us." Dedede explained. They both then walked towards the fountain where Zoro was resting on as Dedede got out his mallet. "Dyeh heh heh! This will be easy. "Hey, swordsman. You out… here?" Once they reached the area where the fountain, Zoro and Metaknight were no longer there.

"They're gone!" Escargoon said, "Where did they go?"

"Grr! And just when I was starting to feel happy." Dedede said angrily, "Bah, we'll get him later! Let's get out of here."

FLASHBACK

"So you and you friends are pirates?" Metaknight asked.

"Pretty much." Zoro replied while still leaning on the fountain, "I know this sounds weird, but I used to be a pirate hunter. Not that I intended to be one, but people keep calling me that for some reason. And now look at me; I am now under the orders of an idiotic captain."

"Is that so? You seem to have quite a life." Metaknight said.

"Not really. Until I become the strongest swordsman, then I am nothing. Back at my world, there is this man that I want to fight again, but that wont happen until me and comrades get back to our world first. And I don't think that anything interesting will happen here." Zoro said while looking at the skies. Metaknight just stared at Zoro before looking behind his shoulder.

"Well, I must be heading off. It was nice meeting you, Zoro." Metaknight said while facing his back to Zoro.

"Same here." Zoro said. Before Metaknight could leave, he stopped and looked behind his shoulder to see Zoro once more.

"By the way, it's best not to be around here. You could get yourself hurt." Metaknight said.

"Eh?" Zoro raised an eyebrow in confusion as he watched Metaknight leave. Zoro then placed his hands on the back of his head and tried to sleep, but couldn't after what he just heard. "Great, he somehow made me fully awake." Zoro then got up and grabbed his swords so he can place them around his waist again. "I guess I should go." Zoro said before he walked off.

END OF FLASHBACK

"Hmm…" Metaknight eyes glowed green, thinking about what he said to Zoro, "Now, does it make me dishonorable to have helped a pirate?"

Meanwhile…

"Ow! Check me out!"

Back at the village, Franky opened his stomach to reveal three cola bottles inside. Some of the villagers were astounded to see something like that.

"Amazing! I have never seen anything like that before." Chief Bookem said.

"So you really are a cyborg, huh?" Gus asked, "Not too shabby."

"Ahahaha! I know." Franky said, "I fuel myself with Cola! That way, I am always in a Supaaa attitude!"

"Cola? That sounds pretty neat." Kawasaki said, "Hey, why don't you try out one of my new beverages I have been working on, and see how they work for you?"

"Uh.. maybe next time, bro." Franky said while waving his hand. While Franky continued to show off, Nami walked by with an irritated look on her face.

"Geez, I don't see what the big deal is about having that." Nami said bluntly, "-sigh-… I feel like I am the only one who doesn't feel relaxed. I am just getting sick of this!" Nami continued to walk, until she picked up an odd scent. "This smell… where have I smelled this before?"

She looked at her surroundings, trying to find the source of the scent. "This smells so much better than food, but I just cant seem to tell what it is." Nami then started to look around the village, leaving Franky to continue posing for the villagers looking at him.

Unknown to the both of them, there was Dedede and Escargoon watching them behind some houses. "There they are. It's time that they also get to see what I am made of."

"Did you just see that guy opened his stomach like a refrigerator!? These guys are a bunch of freaks!" Escargoon said.

"So what? They will be caught by me anyway." Dedede said. Suddenly, Waddle Doo and a couple of Waddle Dees approached Dedede, "About time you got here. You know what to do, right?"

"Yes sir! More of our troops are already in their destinations, waiting to strike under your command!" Waddle Doo said.

"Good! Now begin your mission. And make sure that you leave my mark on it." Dedede said with a smirk.

"Yes sir! Okay, troops; march!" Waddle Doo ordered as he and the Waddle Doos left.

"Now what are you up to, Your Majesty?" Escargoon asked.

"That big fella is going to get a nice little present from me, so I am making sure that Waddle Doo delivers it to him." Dedede said while he spied on Franky, who was still posing. "But right now, let's get that orange head girl! Where is she now?"

"She is heading right towards where we want her to go. Catching her will be like taking candy from a baby." Escargoon said with a smirk.

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! Come on, let's get over there now!" Dedede said as they both left.

At the other part of the village, Nami was still finding the source of that scent she picked up earlier. "It's getting a bit stronger. I should be able to see it right about… !" Nami stopped as she then saw something on the street that made her happy.

"MONEY!" Nami yelled in joy. There was one bill on the floor in front of her, which are known as Deden in Dreamland. "Oh, I have never been so happy to see some cash around here." Nami then looked to her right and left, and saw nobody picking the Deden up. "Finders keepers!" Nami walked up to the Deden, but it strangely moved away. "Huh?" Nami tried to get it again, but the Deden moved away once more. "Is it that windy?" Nami then tried to grab the Deden for the third time, but failed again.

Nami then got really irritated as she then started to chase the Deden while it was getting away. "NOBODY TOUCH THAT!! IT'S MINE!" Nami yelled while knocking a Cappy out of her way. She was having that angry look on her face as she ran at full speed to get the Deden, running past Franky and some of the villagers.

"What's wrong with her?" Gus asked.

"Must be that time of year again." Franky said. "Anyway, I gotta be going. I need to make some adjustments to my ship."

"Alright! See ya later, Franky." Gus said.

Franky waved goodbye to the villagers as they went back to do their usual thing, while he headed back to the Thousand Sunny. "These people sure rock! I just can't seem to not get any attention around here." Franky said to himself.

"Poyo!"

"Eh?" Franky turned around to see Kirby looking inside a trashcan.

"Poyo?" Kirby said as he saw nothing but garbage inside. Kirby slowly got out of the trashcan as Franky approached him.

"Hey, Puffball bro! What are you doing?" Franky asked.

"Ooh? Poyo!" Kirby said happily, "Poyo. Po yoi."

"Wha? Reindeer-gorilla is missing?" Franky said in confusion, "I thought he was with you."

"Po Poyo." Kirby explained.

"How weird." Franky said, "Don't worry about him. He may not look like it, but he's tough! He'll probably come back eventually."

"Poyo?" Kirby asked.

"Trust me; he'll come back. Don't worry about him" Franky said, "Hey, you want to come with me to the Thousand Sunny? I can give you a tour."

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily.

"Great! Come on, I got plenty of stuff to show ya!" Franky said. Franky and Kirby then left the village and went to where the Thousand Sunny is.

Meanwhile…

"COME BACK HERE!"

Nami was still chasing the Deden all over the place, not caring to who or what she goes through. All the villagers got away from her as she ran by. She then ran into Kawasaki's restaurant as Kawasaki was finished making one of his dishes.

"Finally, I am done preparing the soup." Kawaski said happily. The flying Deden suddenly landed on his round hands. "Huh? Well, it must be lucky day."

"GIVE ME THAT!" Nami yelled while barging into the kitchen.

"Huh? AAAAAAHHHH!!"

CRASH!!!

The deden went flying out of the restaurant as Nami also came out to continue chasing it, leaving the mess they caused inside Kawasaki's kitchen. "Ohh…" Kawasaki groaned before he fainted.

Nami then chased the Deden as it was heading to Mable's house, which Mabel was telling a fortune for one of her customers.

"Ohh… I see… that a monsterous being will cause havoc to you soon…" Mabel predicted.

"What!? When will that happen!?" The customer asked.

"STOP RUNNING AWAY!" Nami yelled as the Deden landed on the customer's head. Before the customer could get the deden off his head, Nami barged in and quickly tackled the customer down, including the table in front of him and Mabel.

"Ohh…" Both the customer and Mabel groaned dazedly as the Deden flew out of the house. Nami didn't care what just happened, and continued to chase the deden again. The deden was heading towards the police station.

"You know, it is not nice to barge into someone else's home, and take their things." Chief Bookem said to the only prisoner he has. Suddenly the door bursted open as Nami barged in and tried to grab the Deden. "Hmm!?"

CRASH!

The Deden came flying out of the police station as Nami pursued it, leaving the chief almost unconcious. "You see what I mean?" The chief said before he passed out.

"GRR!! YOU CANNOT RUN FROM ME FOREVER!" Nami roared as the deden headed out of the village and towards the Curio's home.

Curio was inside his home, fixing the ancient artifact that Luffy accidentally broke the other day. "At last." Curio said happily, "After countless of hours, I finally was able to put this artifact back together again. Oh, now I can use some rest."

Suddenly, the deden went through under the door and softly landed on Curio's round hands. "What's this doing here?"

Before he could get his answer, Nami barged into his house and leaped towards the deden Curio was holding. "MINE!!!"

"OOOOOOOHHHHHHH!!!!"

CRASH!!!

Like before, the Deden went flying out of Curio's house as Nami chased it again, leaving Curio almost unconscious and most of his artifacts destroyed, including the one he just fixed. "Why must this happen to me..?" Curio sighed sadly.

Nami was getting closer to the Deden as it no longer had any more houses to go into. "CAN'T GET AWAY FROM ME NOW!" Nami said maniacally as she then jumped towards the deden and finally catches it as she slid across the ground. "AHAHAHAHAHAHAHA! I FINALLY CAUGHT YOU, MY PRECIOUS LITTLE THING!!" Nami said as she then started to pant a bit. "Phew… I think I went a little crazy back there."

She then takes a look at the deden, feeling proud that she has it. "Even though it has Dedede's face on it, as long as it's money, I don't care." Nami said happily while hugging the deden tightly to her chest. She then stopped as she suddenly picked up another scent, only it was more powerful.

She dropped the deden she was hugging as she then stood up in disbelieve. "That.. cant be possible… can it? She rushed to where that other scent was coming from, which was somewhere in a small forest. Once she was inside the forest, she saw something made her happier then ever. "Can it really be?" She landed on her knees, feeling so happy at what she is seeing.

It was a pile of deden.

It was a pile so big, that even she couldn't believe it. "The fortune teller was right…" Nami said as she wiped some tears from her eyes, "I really am going to be covered in money!" Nami then leaped towards the money and hugged it gracefully. "This is the greatest in my moment in my life!" Her happy moment then stopped as she noticed something awkward about the deden she was holding.

"Strange… these feel a bit different from the one I held on to just now." Nami said. She then looked at one of the deden closely. "No way!" She scratched the surface of the deden to see that some of the green texture was coming off. "These things aren't money! They're just a bunch of label tags! What's going on here!?"

Before she could get up, a net beneath sprunged up and caught Nami with the fake deden, hanging her from from the ground. "Hey! What is this! Get me down!"

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! You fell for it!"

Nami looked down to see Dedede and Escargoon coming from behind a tree. "It's you! What the hell do you think you are doing!?" Nami asked angrily.

"Capturing you, of course." Dedede replied with a cruel smirk, "What better way to get an orange head then by swooping her off her feet? Dyeh heh heh heh heh! Although, I gotta admit, reeling you over here wasn't easy." Dedede said while showing Nami his fishing rod with the deden Nami chased for bait.

"Did you think you can avoid us by not accepting His Majesty's invitation to his castle again?" Escargoon asked with a grin, "You were very foolish! You could never surpass His Majesty's intellect, even though he is not smart."

POW!!

Escargoon got hit by the head by Dedede for saying that.

"I knew you two were up to something!" Nami yelled angrily, "Get me out of here before I'll make you regret it!"

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha! You don't scare me!" Dedede said, "I know how you are. You yell alot, but doesn't show any kind of strength to back it up. In other words, you have big barks, but no bite."

"WHAT!?" Nami yelled very angrily while trying to break free of the net around her, "WHY DON'T YOU LET ME OUT OF HERE SO I CAN SHOW YOU HOW HARSH MY BITES ARE!?!?"

"Not a chance! You are just going to run away like the little girl you are." Dedede mocked. "Escargoon, bring in the crate."

"Yes, Your Majesty." Escargoon said as he went behind a tree and pushed in a crate, which had small wheels on the bottom, under Nami.

"Wha-What are you going to do?" Nami asked.

"I am going to give you the ride of your life." Dedede said. He then cuts the rope of the net that causes Nami and the fake Deden to fall inside the crate. Escargoon then quickly closes the crate as Dedede then locked it with a lock.

"YOU ARE GOING TO PAY FOR THIS!!!" Nami yelled from inside the crate.

"I already did. You covered with fake currency already. Dyeh heh heh heh!" Dedede said as he and Escargoon then pushed the crate over a grassy steep hill. "Oh wait, this seems a bit too harsh. Don't you think so, Escargoon?"

"Yes, I think you're right." Escargoon said while smirking, "Do you have another way to do this?"

"Hmm…"

15 seconds later…

"Now this feels so much better!" Dedede exclaimed. Instead of being on a grassy hill, they were now on a rocky hill.

"I DON'T KNOW WHERE I AM, BUT IT BETTER NOT PISS ME OFF LATER ON!!" Nami yelled.

"Don't worry; I am not going to do anything else. I am just going to leave you here." Dedede said as he then decided to lean on the crate, which started to move due to the wheels.

"WHAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA!!!!" Nami screamed as she went down the rocky hill. The crate then tripped over a small rock and roughly landed on the rocky floor, knocking Nami unconscious.

"Whoops! I accidently pushed her down this rocky hill. I am sooo clumsy." Dedede said while laughing a bit.

"Heh heh heh! That takes care of her!" Escargoon said.

"Now there are only 4 of them left." Dedede said while walking back to his limousine that happened to be where he was.

"4? Aint it suppose to be 5?" Escargoon asked.

"Not anymore!" Dedede said, "By the time we just finished with the orange head girl, the orders I gave to Waddle Dee were already done."

Meanwhile…

"Gah!? What the hell happened here!?" Franky gasped, placing his hands on his head in shock.

"Poyo?" Kirby said in confusion.

They were both just right in front of the Thousand Sunny, but to their surprise, it's covered in graffiti. Their were multiple drawings and doodles all over the sunny, including on it's face. Franky then got really angry as he then saw one doodle in particular.

"'Dedede did this.' DEDEDE DID THIS!?!?" Franky yelled furiously as there was a doodle of Dedede doing the peace sign next to the text that Franky read just now. "That does it! That penguin is so dead!!"

"CHARGE!!"

"What the!?" Franky looked behind his shoulder to see an army of Waddle Dees being led by Waddle Doo.

"Poyo?" Kirby asked as Franky cracked his knuckles.

"YOU GUYS DID THIS BY THAT PENGUIN'S ORDERS, DID YOU!? YOU ARE ALL DEAD!!!" Franky charged at the Waddle dees as they leapt towards him. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm towards the Waddle Dees in front of him, knocking most of them back. "RAAAAAAAAGGHHHH!!!" Franky charged in and started to punch every single Waddle Doo in sight.

"Take this! You want a piece of me!? Huh!?" Franky yelled as he continued to punch all the Waddle Dees .

"Men! Begin Attack pattern 'Dog pile'!" Waddle Doo ordered. All the Waddle Dees then surrounded Franky and Kirby.

"Po-Poyo!?" Kirby said in shock.

"You want to jump on us!? Bring it on!" Franky yelled furiously. All the Waddle Dees then leaped towards Franky and Kirby as they tried to fight back. Kirby got dogpiled quickly while Franky was still fighting them off. "FRANKY BOXING!!" Franky delivered multiple punches to all the Waddle Dees, but it was no use. He eventually got covered by Waddle Dees. "Gr… gah!"

A few seconds later, Franky was chained all over his body to prevent himself from moving, while Kirby was innocently tied up and was also taped over his mouth. The Waddle Dees lifted them up and threw them inside the soldier's dock of the Thousand Sunny, and closed the hatch afterwards.

"That wasn't easy, but we were able to get them. Good job, soldiers." Waddle Doo said. Then a Waddle Doo came out out of the kitchen while holding a box. "What do you have there?" Waddle Doo asked. The Waddle Dee opened the box as Waddle Doo was shocked and amazed at the same time. "Whoa! Those are… !? His Majesty might want to take a look at these! Let's get back to the castle immediately!"

Waddle Doo and the Waddle Dees got off the ship and marched back to the castle, taking the box with them.

Meanwhile…

Back in the small building on the asteroid, the man with the orange sunglasses continues to watch Dreamland on the monitor.

"It looks like our best client, Dedede, is having a little fun with some people new to Dreamland." The man said, "It's just like him to be this happy doing such reckless things to others. Ho ho ho ho ho! But… what would be the perfect way to spoil his fun?"

"Nevermind that, Customer Service!" Said a voice in the room, "What about Kirby?"

"Hmm, it looks he is a bit tied up at the moment." The man--Customer Service said, "What a rather unique way to enjoy an evening."

"Ergh.. he will pay for stopping me from taking over Dreamland." Said the voice, "Last time, he attacked us. This time, we will attack him!"

"Ho ho ho ho ho! I can predict so many dreadful things in the future." Customer Service said, "I just cannot wait until we finally commence the attack."

"Yes… we will attack Dreamland.. today!" Said the voice. The voice was coming from the demonic figure on the wall. Customer Service looked at it behind his shoulder and grinned evilly.

"And… when exactly do we start the attack… Nightmare?" Customer Service asked.

"We will strike… in two hours…"

Preview: I still cant find the kitchen around here. This place is way too big to find anything. I think I am missing most of the action because of this. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 76: The last victims, The unlikely visitor. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Most of you might think that what happened to Nami was a very harsh, but so has the other things that happened to her lately, so this one is just an addition.

Okay, I have a very big test on Thursday, so I might not be able to update until then. Not that it really matters that much since I don't update that fast anyway, Ha ha! Ahem, so I'll see you guys till then. Ciao!

Kirby Pt 9

Okay, I managed to update before my big test. This might be my last update until Brawl comes out. I'll try to see what I can do to update before it does. So, here is the big chappy I made for you all. Enjoy!

Unpleasant joy ride and ship-tainted. Dedede's next victims turned out to be Nami and Franky. He caught Nami by reeling her into his trap, using money as bait. He then got Franky by ordering his soldiers to mess up his ship and locking him and Kirby in the Soldiers' dock. Meanwhile, An unknown enemy plans to attack Dreamland in two hours, and the worst part is that nobody in Dreamland knows about this. Putting this aside, there are only 4 Strawhat crewmembers that have not been tricked by Dedede so far. Will they able to escape from Dedede?

Chapter 76: The last victims, The unlikely visitor

"What!? Dedede did that!?"

In the rocky shores of dreamland, Tiff was gathering information from Kine about Chopper's disappearance. She was quite shocked after what she just heard from him.

"Yeah, Chopper said that Dedede knocked him into the ocean." Kine said.

"Where is he now!?" Tiff asked.

"He went to Whispy Woods just an hour ago." Kine replied, "I could have brought him over here, but that would have taken too long."

"Grr… Dedede is up to no good again!" Tiff said angrily while clenching her fists, "I have to tell Luffy and the others about this!" Tiff then started to run off as Kine waved goodbye to her.

"It was nice seeing you again, Tiff!" Kine said before he could no longer see her.

Tiff continued to run until she then saw Tuff in her view. "Tuff!"

"Huh? Sis?" Tuff said in confusion as Tiff approached him, "Where you able to find Chopper?"

"No, but I know who was responsible for his disappearance!" Tiff said, "It was Dedede all along."

"Dedede!? I should've known…" Tuff said angrily.

"Hey, where is Kirby? Wasn't he with you some time ago?" Tiff asked concernedly.

"Well, we split up so we find Chopper quickly, but we haven't seen eachother since then." Tuff said.

"Tsk! And at a time Like this!" Tiff said angrily, "Nevermind about Kirby now! Go find Nami and the others! They need to know about this right away!"

"What about you, sis?" Tuff asked.

"I am going to go to the castle, and tell Luffy everything that has happened!" Tiff said, "Well, what are you waiting for!? Go now!"

"Uh!? Y-Yeah!" Tuff stuttured before he quickly left. Tiff then started to run off towards the castle as fast as she could.

"I don't know if Dedede would get Luffy to. I just hope I am not too late!"

Meanwhile…

Escargoon drove Dedede back to his castle, where everything was normal as usual. "Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! Did you see the look on the orange head's face when we caught her? She had no idea what was going on. Dwuh huh huh!" Dedede laughed as he and Escargoon got off the limousine.

"It was hilarious, Your Majesty." Escargoon said, "She felt great fear upon seeing your presence."

"Exactly, Escargoon!" Dedede agreed, "But this is no time to be fooling around. There are still some of them left!"

"Who shall be the next victim to fall on your great hands?" Escargoon asked with a cruel smirk.

"Oh, I know who is going down next!" Dedede said as he then took out a script, "But first, we need to rehearse this in order to pull it off perfectly!"

"Eh? What are we going to do?" Escargoon asked curiously.

"Oh, you'll see. Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Dedede laughed as he and Escargoon went inside the castle.

At another part of the castle, Sanji was still staring at Robin she was still reading her book. "How long has it been since I gazed upon your beauty, Robin-chawn? Because I never want it to stop." Sanji said happily with a big heart formed over his visible eye.

"For some time." Robin replied, not letting her eyes off that book of hers. Parm then came out of kitchen with a worried look on his face.

"Hmm… Tiff and Tuff should have been back here by now. I wonder where they could be." Parm said while rubbing his chin, "Lololo. Lalala."

Lololo and Lalala then approached Parm from out of nowhere. "Did you call us?" They both asked simultaneously.

"Could you please find Tiff and Tuff, and tell them that it is about time to return home?" Parm asked.

"Of course, sir." Lololo said,

"We'll be right back." Lalala said. They both then flew out of the windows, in search for Tiff and Tuff. Memu then came out of the kitchen with a surprised look on her face.

"Dear, it seems that we have run out of cheese for dinner tonight." Memu said.

"Oh, I believe that there are some in the royal kitchen." Parm said, "But I don't think His Majesty would allow us to have any."

Sanji heard this and stood up from the couch he was sitting on. "It's alright, I'll go ask him for some." Sanji said.

"Oh, you don't need to do that." Parm said, "He can be very cruel when it comes to food."

"I can't let a nice family have dinner without any cheese." Sanji said with a smile, "Don't worry, I'll just talk to him and I am sure he would let you have some."

"That's very kind of you, Sanji." Memu said, "I do wish that every pirate was like you."

"Now that's just saying too much, Miss Memu." Sanji said embarrassed while rubbing his head. He then turned to Robin while making his lovestrucked goofy face at her. "Robin-chwan, I'll be back in a little while! Do you want me to bring anything for you!?"

"I am quite fine. Thank you for asking, Cook-san." Robin said kindly while looking at Sanji.

"Okay, then! I'll be back in a jiffy!" Sanji said happily as he then rushed out the door.

"My, he certainly is a happy man." Memu said in surprise. Robin giggled as she then continued to read her book.

Meanwhile…

Just outside the castle, Lololo and Lalala were just about to fly out of the castle borders until they suddenly stopped due to a breeze.

"It's a bit windy all of sudden." Lololo said while shivering.

"That's a bit weird. It wasn't this windy just a while ago." Lalala said.

"Perhaps it was suppose to get colder during the afternoon?" Lololo said. The breeze then got a little too strong as it blew off Lalala's bow off her head.

"Oh no! I lost my bow!" Lalala said as her bow was going down on one of the castle walls.

"You should have held on to it." Lololo said.

"Help me get it back." Lololo and Lalala flew down to the castle and were able to get back Lalala's bow. Lalala sighed in relief as she placed the bow on her head where it belonged.

"Maybe you should warp it around your head from now on." Lololo said teasingly.

"Oh, just be quiet." Lalala said as they both laughed at this. They then stopped laughing as they could hear something. "Hey, what was that?"

"I don't know." Lololo replied. They were hearing a sound of groaning of some sort, and it was coming from inside the castle walls.

"What do you suppose it's going on in there?" Lalala asked.

"Not sure. Want to check it out?" Lololo asked.

"But we are suppose to find Tiff and Tuff right now." Lalala said.

"That can wait a bit longer. Let's just see what's inside." Lololo said as he was about to go in, but saw that Lalala wasn't following him. "What's wrong? Don't tell me you are scared?"

Lalala just wasn't sure about going with Lololo, but then decided to shrug it off as she followed Lololo in the castle walls. They ventured the dark hallways, which seemed endless. They could hear the groaning noises a bit louder then before. Lololo then peered from behind a wall and saw nothing but another long hallway, only that the groaning noises were coming from there.

"I think that there is somebody over there." Lololo said while looking back at Lalala.

"Do you think that person is in pain?" Lalala asked.

"I don't know, but we are about to find out. Now come on." Lololo and Lalala then flew towards that hallway, hearing the groaning noises that becoming louder and louder.

I might that at the end of the hall, the groaning noises were coming from one person only.

"Ooooooooaaaaaaaaahhhhhhh…"

It was just Usopp, who was still unconscious after frightening thing Dedede did to him. He was strapped onto a table to prevent any kind of movement and was clearly inside one of the dungeons. Usopp then slowly opened his eyes as he finally regained consciousness.

"Ooooohhh.. wha? Where am I?" Usopp asked dazedly. "How did I get over… !? Oh, I remember now!! Dedede killed Escargoon and now I am his next victim! Aww, man! Why do great people have to suffer these kinds of situations!?" Usopp then tried to move, but was unable to due to him being strapped on the table. "It's no use; I'm stuck. Oh well… atleast it's quiet.. not that is a good thing, but atleast it's quiet. Heh heh!"

Usopp was trembling in fear. He couldn't imagine what Dedede has planned for him. He might be cut in pieces with a chainsaw, or be thrown into a pool of acid. Or worse; he might be in that dungeon for all eternity.

"Eeeek! My I-cant-stay-in-here-anymore disease is acting up again!" Usopp said as he cried in pain. "If I could just.. find something to cut me loose with…" Usopp looked at his surroundings and saw something Like a stick just to his left. Usopp didn't knew what that was for, but he tried to grab with his hand. "Come on… almost there…" Usopp was then able to grab hold of the stick. "Yes!"

But he accidentally pulled it, causing something to trigger in the dungeon he is in. "Whoa? What is going on this time?" Usopp asked nervously as he could hear loud noises. Usopp closed his eyes, expecting something to happen, but for some strange reason, nothing did.

"What? So… nothing happened?" Usopp asked in a bit of relief.

He was sadly wrong. A horizontal part of the ceiling opened up, causing Usopp to raise an eyebrow in confusion. Then all of a sudden, a giant pendulum, with an enormous sharp horizontal blade on it's tip, came out of the ceiling. Usopp gawked in fear at this as it came towards him.

"OH SHI-WHOA!!!" Usopp cried as the pendulum nearly cuts his stomach as it went by. "What in the-AAHHHHH!!!" Usopp yelled as the pendulum came back and almost slicing him in half again. "GAAAAAAAAAHHH… OOOOOOOHHHH… EEEEHHHHHHH… HAAAAAAAAHH… NOOOOOOOOO… AAAAAAAAAHHHHHH… !!!" Usopp was screaming every time the blade was swinging by him.

Usopp screaming was so loud, Lololo and Lalala could hear it in the hallways.

"Hey, did you hear that!?" Lololo asked.

"… NYAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHH… !!!"

"Y-Yeah! I heard it again just now!" Lalala said nervously, "Who is screaming?"

"Come on, we have to see what is going on!" Lololo yelled as they both then flew quickly to the end of the hallway. They both stopped as they looked towards their left and saw that Usopp was the one screaming.

"Hey, it's Usopp!" Lalala said.

"Usopp, what are you doing in there!? Are you okay!?" Lololo asked.

"NoooooOOOO OOOOOOooooooo!!!" Usopp cried as the pendulum swung again.

"I don't think he would be alright if he is that kind of position!" Lalala said.

"Hang on, Usopp! We'll come and get you out!" Lololo said.

"Huuuuuuurr RRRRRRRRR RRRRYYYYY YYyyyyy yyyyyy!!!!" Usopp cried once more. Lololo and Lalala looked around desperately and found some keys on a wall. Lololo quickly grabbed it and tried to unlock the cage door. While Lololo was trying to unlock the door with the right key, the pendulum once again swunged horizontally at Usopp, only this time, Usopp felt it's blade going across his suspenders. "EEEEEEEEEEEEEK!!!"

"Hurry, Lololo!" Lalala yelled.

"I'm trying!!" Lololo panicked. He then inserted the last key he haven't tried into the cage door's keyhole and turned it clockwise, which opened the door. "Come on!" Lololo said as he and Lalala quickly flew in towards Usopp and quickly unstrapped. They then grabbed Usopp's shoulder and pulled him off the table just in time as the pendulum crashed into it. Lololo and Lalala panted in relief as Usopp was suffering his aftershock on the floor.

"This world is scary, this world is scary, this world is scary…" Usopp repeated while quivering in fear.

"Usopp, are you alright?" Lololo asked while he and Lalala helped Usopp on his feat.

"I am not sure." Usopp shivered, "That thing almost killed me! I could have died if it wasn't for you guys."

"Usopp, there really wasn't anything to be afraid about." Lalala said. She flew right next to the crashed pendulum and showed Usopp that it was actually made out of wood. "This is just to scare the prisoners here. The tip of the pendulum was actually really broad. You could've survived even if we weren't here."

"Are you crazy!? That thing still would have killed me no matter what!" Usopp said negatively, "Oh! I almost forgot! We gotta get out of here now!"

"Huh? What's the hurry?" Lololo asked.

"Dedede is on a rampage! I saw him kill Escargoon earlier!" Usopp said, trying to forget that scene.

"Dedede? Killing Escargoon? That doesn't sound like something he would do…" Lalala said.

"Quickly, you have to get me out of here! Dedede might come here with his scary chainsaw within any second now!" Usopp said while looking at his surroundings nervously.

"Wait, Usopp! I think you got it all wrong!" Lololo said, "Dedede must have been trying to-"

"There must be some sort of secret passage around here! Help me look for it!" Usopp said, interrupting Lololo. Usopp ran to the walls of the dungeon and was trying to look for some hidden button as Lololo and Lalala approached him.

"Usopp, listen to us." Lololo said, "Dedede Likes to scare people for fun. He might have done the same thing to-"

"Aha! I found something!" Usopp exclaimed. He pushed a slightly loose brick of the wall, that caused a trap door to appear beneath Usopp's feet. "Oh no!!!" Usopp fell into the trap door, which surprised Lololo and Lalala.

"Usopp!" They both flew down to where Usopp was sliding down to.

"OOOOOOHHHHH!!!" Usopp screamed as the trap door led him towards outside the castle walls and into the river around it. Usopp popped his head out of the water and crossed his arms due to the cold water he was in. Lololo and Lalala came out of the hole Usopp came out of and went down to where Usopp was at.

"This might be a dumb question, but are you okay?" Lalala asked while Usopp just sneezed.

Meanwhile…

In Whispy Woods, our brave reindeer, Chopper, was still trying to find his way out of the forest. "Oh.. coming in here wasn't such a good idea afterall.." Chopper whimpered. He was in the forest for some time now. Every time he thinks he is going the right way, he ends up going the wrong way. Chopper was slowly walking around the forest, being almost frightened due to dark looking atmosphere around him.

"I didn't know such a good world would have a scary place like this. But I have to be brave. I cannot let my friends down." Chopper said while walking. He continued to walk until he saw a bright light shining over healthy looking tree, with a garden of flowers in front of it. By the time Chopper walked over there, his little tummy started to growl.

"Oh, I am so hungry." Chopper said while holding his tummy, "I wonder if there is anything to eat around here." Chopper then noticed some delicious looking apples from the branches of the healthy tree. Chopper smiled as he approached the tree and turned into his Heavy point. He tried to reach for one, but was too weak to do anything else. "Ah! My back hurts. It must have been when Dedede hit me with that mallet."

Chopper turned back to his original point and sat down while leaning on the tree. "Perhaps I should try to sleep it off. But it would be better if I had some of those apples."

Suddenly, an apple fell from the branch of the tree and landed right in front of Chopper. "Oh boy!" Chopper said happily as he crawled towards the apple and grabbed it with his little hooves. He then took a bite out of it, and started chewing it happily. "MMMM!!! THIS IS SO GOOD!" Chopper said happily as his eyes sparked with joy. "I never tasted anything like this! It's like eating a part of Sanji's cooking!"

Chopper continued to eat the apple happily as he was unaware that the healthy tree behind him had hollow eyes and mouth appearing so suddenly. The tree then looked at Chopper as he was done eating the apple. "Ahh.. That was the greatest apple I have ever eaten."

"Why, hello there."

Chopper frozed. He didn't knew that somebody was behind him. He slowly looked behind his shoulder and saw that the tree was talking to him. Chopper faced towards it, completely surprised about this. "Did… you say something?"

"Hello. I have never seen you around here before. What is your name?" The tree asked kindly.

"WWWWWWWWW AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAHHHHH HHHHH!!" Chopper screamed in fear as his hat, including his antlers, flew out of his head for a couple of seconds before falling back where they belong. Chopper then quickly hid behind a bush, trembling in fear.

"Oh, did I startle you? I am sorry." The tree said worryingly. Chopper peeked his head out of the bush, looking at the talking tree.

"Y-Y-Y-You can talk?" Chopper stuttered.

"Of course, I can talk. It's only natural around here." The tree said.

"Natural around here?" Chopper looked behind him and saw more trees. "AAAAAAAHHHHH!!" Chopper ran from the bushes as fast as he could, only to end up being close to the talking tree again. "Whuh! I-I-I-I-I-I-I am sorry! I didn't mean to eat one of your apples! I was just hungry!"

"Dont be scared, little one. I am not going to harm you." The tree said assuringly, "Here, have another apple." He shook his branches as some more apples fell to the ground in front of Chopper. Chopper was a little timid about this, but he took an apple anyway. "You see? No harm is done."

"Uh… thank you." Chopper said. He then started to take a bite off his second apple. "You know, I never seen a talking tree before."

"This must be your lucky day then." The tree said.

"Well, not really…" Chopper said as he then took another bite of his apple.

"My name is Whispy Woods. I am the ruler of this forest, which also has my name as well." The tree known as Whispy Woods said.

"Ha ha! My name is Chopper. And I am kinda new around here." Chopper said kindly.

"It's nice to meet you, Chopper." Whispy Woods said, "What are you doing here by yourself? Are you lost?"

"Actually, I am." Chopper said, "I cant find my way out of here."

"That's ordinary around here." Whispy Woods said, "It's this forest's habit to confuse it's intruder's location. It's my job to make sure that this forest does not get destroyed by some greedy people out there."

"I can understand that…" Chopper said,

"By the way, how did you end up here in the first place? Are you alone?" Whispy Woods asked.

"No. It's not that I am alone. I just… got here by accident." Chopper said.

"Oh?" Whispy Woods said curiously.

"There was this mean guy named Dedede. He tricked me, and whacked me into the ocean afterwards." Chopper said.

"Oh, him…" Whispy Woods said bitterly, "I know that man very well. Him and his snail would always try to come here and destroy this forest in order to build his Golf course here."

"That's horrible!" Chopper said, "How could he do such a terrible thing?"

"All I know is that he is very spoiled. He would do anything to get what he wants and get revenge to those who oppose him." Whispy Woods said. Chopper was then angry hearing that.

"If he wanted revenge, then he really must be after the others." Chopper then got up, "I have to protect them! Whispy, is there a quick way out of here?"

"Yes. Over there!" Whispy's root appeared out of the ground and pointed in front of him, causing the branches of the trees he is pointing at to show the way, which shocked Chopper a bit. "Just go that way, and you will be out of here in no time!"

"Thank you, Whispy. I will never forget your kindness!" Chopper said.

"Anytime! Now you better be going." Whispy Woods said. Chopper nodded as he then turned into his walking point and galloped his way out of the forest.

Meanwhile…

Sanji was walking around the castle hallways, trying to find Dedede's throne room. "Would it kill to have some directions around here? I should probably tell him about that too." Sanji said. He then got to the outer hallways as Dedede peeked out of his throne room to see him coming.

"Here he comes. Get ready!" Dedede hissed as he slightly closed the door. Sanji walked and noticed the big double doors Dedede almost closed just now.

"This must be the place." Sanji said as he was about to grab the doorknob.

"Hey, Escargoon. I think it's that time of year again."

"Hmm?" Sanji could hear voices from inside the throne room. He peeked inside to see Dedede and Escargoon talking.

"Forgive me, Your Majesty. I do not know what are you talking about. Could you please tell me?" Escargoon said.

"Ah, Escargoon, you idiot. Today is the day of the great volcano tribute." Dedede said.

"Volcano tribute?" Sanji whispered curiously.

"Volcano tribute? What is that?" Escargoon asked.

"I am not that surprised that you never heard of it before." Dedede said, "The volcano tribute happens every 1000 years, where one man would be brave enough to jump into the Gilauea Volcano."

"And why would they dare jump into that volcano? That sounds like a suicidal attempt to me." Escargoon said.

"Ah, yes. But there is a good reason for that." Dedede said, "Legends say that, if you jump into a volcano with great bravery in your heart, a beautiful women would appear from the lava and rescue you."

"A beautiful woman?" Sanji whispered.

"That sounds a bit weird. Why would there be a beautiful woman in a volcano? And above all, if she came out of the lava, wouldn't she be hot enough to burn the guy she is rescuing?" Escargoon asked.

"You ask too many questions, Escargoon." Dedede said, "To put it simple, a long time ago, a lovely couple where living happily together, until the day that woman's boyfriend died. She was so upset, that she ran to the volcano and jumped into the lava inside, never to be seen again. But.. people have been saying that they have been seeing her spirit lately, and they wanted to be with her by going through the same fate she went through thousands of years ago, but none prevailed."

"That's very sad." Escargoon said, "So, will their ever be a way for that volcano lady to appear."

"Well, there might be one way." Dedede said, "The woman's boyfriend had blonde hair, a curly eyebrow, and has a short fuse with other men. He was also very attractive to other beautiful women. I think that if someone looked like that, there might be a chance that volcano women would show up to save him from falling into the volcano. And if he does get rescued, the lava around her body wouldn't do anything to the person she saved because she would immediately turned into her beautiful self again. Too bad there is nobody here that looks like that."

"Yeah, that's a real shame.." Escargoon said.

Sanji backed away from the door, not believing any word Dedede said. "What are they trying to pull with me?" He asked, "If they think that I am stupid enough to believe that stupid story, then they're out of luck." Sanji frowned and tried to open the door until…

"Did I mention that if you get rescued by the beautiful volcano lady, you'd get all the pleasure you want from her!?" Dedede said loud enough for Sanji to hear. Sanji froze. All the pleasure you want? That something Sanji would want. But good thing that Sanji has more pride then that.

"MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE!!!!"

Or not. Sanji immediately dashed back to the inner hallways, trying to find his way out of the castle to go to the volcano. Dedede and Escargoon peeked out of the door and were happily satisfied.

"That takes care of him. Dwuh huh huh huh huh!" Dedede laughed. "Now stay here, Escargoon. I am going to go and find my next victim."

"Good luck, Your Majesty!" Escargoon said. Dedede then ran into the inner hallways, finding his next victim.

At the same time, Robin was walking around the inner hallways as well. "Cook-san is rather taking a long time. It's best that I find out what is taking so long." Robin said. She then stopped as she saw a blur going past, also hearing the word Mellorine at the same time. Robin turned around and blinked confusedly. "Cook-san?"

"Oi, hey there!"

Robin faced forward and saw Dedede stopping right in front of her. "King Dedede. What a surprise…" Robin said.

"Robin, is it? Good to see ya here. You were the person I was just looking for." Dedede said happily.

"King Dedede, do you happen to know why Cook-san was running rather quickly just now?" Robin asked.

"Huh? No, I don't know. I was about to ask him myself, but he was just too fast catch up with." Dedede lied, "Anyway, I need your help with something."

"Help? What kind of help?" Robin asked.

"You look like a smart young lady. I want you to help me with a little thing I desperately need to figure out." Dedede said, "You see, there is this 'thing' that has been with me since I was born, and I just cant seem to know how it works. I figured that you might help, if you want to that is."

Robin wasn't sure if Dedede was telling the truth or not. "Sure, I would Like to help." Robin said.

"Excellent! I'll show you this 'thing' in the basement, where it seems more appropriate." Dedede said, "Right this way." Dedede led Robin through the hallways and down a dark staircase. Robin was keeping an eye on Dedede, who was having a very naughty grin on his face.

" This is going to be pleasurable. I cannot wait until I show the 'thing' to her. I am going to have so much fun whether she likes it or not. Dyeh heh heh heh heh. " Dedede thought to himself. They continued to walk down until they came to a steel door. Dedede got out his keys and opened the door. "After you." Dedede said kindly as Robin entered a dark room. Dedede flipped a small switch as it caused the lights to turn on.

"What!? Something like this down here!? It cannot be possible!" Robin said in shock.

" Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! I got her now! " Dedede thought, "This room is the perfect place to torture my victims while going through great pleasure!"

It was an ordinary library.

There were lots of books in the bookshelfs on the walls and there was a table in the middle of the room. "I never thought that a room like this would be here." Robin said, "And it seems that it has been unattended for some time."

"I have another library upstairs." Dedede explained, "This room is just for deciphering ancient history and that sort of stuff." Dedede then walked up to one of the bookshelfs and grabbed a humongous book on the shelf and placed it on the desk. "This is the 'thing' I was talking about here. No matter how much I read this book, I just don't understand what it means. Perhaps you could read it all, and tell me it's significance."

"Why, certaintly. This actually seems enjoyably to figure out." Robin said kindly. She sat on the seat as Dedede happily rubbed his hands.

"I am glad that your happy. If you need anything, give me a call. Have fun reading." Dedede said. He then walked out the door, leaving Robin to read that big book. Just outside the entrance, their was a Waddle Dee just standing out the door. "Make sure you don't make her leave until she reads the whole thing."

The Waddle Dee nodded as Dedede happily walked up the stairs. "I knew this would feel great. Nothing makes me more happier to see an innocent victim read a book till her death. Reading that thing is like torture. If I couldn't understand, then there is no way she could. Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

Meanwhile…

Tiff was already running up on the hills as she was getting closer to Dedede's castle. "Almost there! I need to get there quick!" Tiff said. She then noticed somebody running out of the castle walls. "Huh?"

"MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE!!!!!"

It was Sanji as he happily ran past Tiff Like a very fast blur. "What the!? What was that?" Tiff asked in shock. "Ergh, I'll figure that out later!"

Tiff then ran across the drawbridge and then towards the inside the castle. "Luffy! Usopp!" Tiff yelled loud enough for anyone to hear. "Sanji! Robin! Zoro!" No matter how hard she was yelling, she couldn't find anyone. "Grr! I got to keep on looking!" She ran up the stairs and through the hallways, hoping to bump into someone.

"Can anyone hear me!? Usopp! Robin!" Tiff yelled. She then ran to her left and accidentally bumped into someone, causing her to fall on her back. "Ah! Oh.. what?" Tiff looked up and saw Luffy, with a big round stomach while also eating a big turkey leg. "Luffy!"

"Oh, hi Tiff." Luffy said while eating the turkey leg, "I finally found the kitchen in this place. The food here is so good! But, I ate the whole food supply, so I am trying to find Dedede to ask him if he has any more food."

"More food? No, wait! That doesn't matter now!" Tiff said while getting on her feet, "Luffy, you must know what Dedede has been doing!"

"Hm? Dedede is doing something?" Luffy blinked in confusion. Tiff then started to explain the whole thing to Luffy. The more she explained to him, the more pissed off he got, "He did that!?" he asked as he literally chewed off the bone of the turkey leg.

Back with Dedede, he entered back into his throne room, feeling very proud of himself. "I am on a roll! Nobody can stop me even if they wanted to! Dyah ha ha ha ha ha!" He then stopped walking as he noticed Escargoon, looking at the box Waddle Doo brought in. "What's going on here?"

"Your Majesty, Waddle Doo brought something from the impersonators' ship." Escargoon explained.

"Eh? Is this true?" Dedede asked.

"I just had to bring this over here, Your Majesty." Waddle Doo said, "It's amazing. You just have to see what's inside."

"I don't care what kind of junk those lowlifes have. Get rid of them at… ONCE!?" Dedede saw what kind of things were inside the box Waddle Doo just opened. "Is… this for real?"

"Hearts?" Escargoon asked. What was inside the box were indeed the Mystery hearts that the Strawhat crew collected throughout their difficult journey. Dedede picked the happy red heart up and looked at curiously.

"Those guys were telling the truth about the hearts after all." Waddle Doo said.

"If this is true, then… !!!" Your Majesty, we have been dealing with real pirates this whole time!!!!" Escargoon yelled in shock, "We have to find a good hiding place so they would never find us!"

"Dyeh heh heh heh heh heh heh heh heh heh! Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha! This is so amazing!" Dedede said while looking at the red heart, "These things must be so valuable! I cannot wait to see how much they are worth!"

"Your Majesty, did you not hear what I just said!?" Escargoon asked, "We have been dealing with real-"

"Shut up! I heard what you said!" Dedede said angrily while facing Escargoon, "Just because they used to have these in their possession, doesn't mean that that they are really pirates. And even if they are, we still got them. We took down every single one of them down. There is no way they can harm us now."

Suddenly, a Waddle Dee came to the room and said some things to Waddle Doo. "Your Majesty! Tiff is leading one of the pirates here!"

"What!?" Dedede asked angrily.

"I knew it! We are all going to suffer a horrible demise!" Escargoon said fearfully.

"Grr, there is nobody else to deal with in the castle other then that stupid captain." Dedede said angrily, "I bet Tiff is bringing him here." Dedede then placed the heart back in the box with the other hearts and angrily looked towards Waddle Doo. "I want you hide yourself until this is over."

"Uh… yes sir." Waddle Doo said before hiding behind a pillar.

Escargoon wasn't sure what Dedede had in mind. "Your Majesty? Please tell me this is part of your plan."

"I didn't plan this. So it is all up to me to deal with that stupid captain!" Dedede said bravely while placing his mallet over his shoulder.

"Whoa! That's so brave of you, Your Majesty!" Escargoon said, "I will cheer for you during your battle!"

"What are you talking about?" Dedede asked while slowly looking at Escargoon behind his shoulder, "When I meant me, I meant you!"

"WHAT!?"

Meanwhile…

"So he did that to Chopper!?" Luffy asked while running along the outer hallways with Tiff. He was back to his normal look just in case you didn't know.

"Yeah! It was all his fault!" Tiff said, "He might have done the same thing with the others too!"

"Why that fat, ugly penguin! I am going to make him regret this!" Luffy said angrily. They both then got in front of the throne room's entrance. Tiff tried to open it, but it was locked.

"I can't open it!" Tiff said.

"Get out of the way!" Luffy ordered while winding up his arm. Tiff got out of the way as Luffy charged at the door. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm and punched right through the door, breaking it open. Tiff was amazed of Luffy's strength as they both then went inside the throne room.

"Escargoon!" Tiff yelled angrily. She saw Escargoon, chained up to the floor to the other side of the throne room.

"Ugh! Oh no!" Escargoon cried fearfully.

"Escargoon, where is Dedede!?" Tiff asked angrily.

"Please don't hurt me! It wasn't my idea! it was all His Majesty's fault, I swear!" Escargoon pleaded. Luffy then recognized the box that had the Mystery Hearts inside.

"HEY, WHERE DID YOU GET THAT!?" Luffy yelled furiously.

"AAAHHH!! Don't get angry with me! I didn't take them!!!" Escargoon said frantically while trying to break loose.

"LIAR!!!" Luffy charged at Escargoon, stretching both of his arms back. "GOMU GOMU NO…"

"YOUR MAJESTY, PLEASE SAVE ME!!!!!" Escargoon pleaded. From behind one of the pillars to his left, Dedede came out of hiding behind one of them and pushed a button on a remote. This caused a big part of the ground beneath Luffy to open, causing him to fall inside.

"Luffy!!" Tiff yelled as she quickly got close to the hole Luffy fell in, only to see he was hanging to the ledge.

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha!" Dedede laughed as he quickly charged at Tiff and bumped into her from behind with his belly, causing to fall into the hole too.

"Tiff!!" Luffy used one arm and grabbed Tiff from falling any further. But before Luffy could pull themselves up, he saw Dedede lifting up his mallet and then slamming them down to Luffy's fingers. "GAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHH!!!"

Luffy had to let go. Both Luffy and Tiff fell down the hole until Dedede could no longer see them. "DYAH HA HA HA HA HA HA! I did it!! I got them all! DYAH HA HA HA HA HA!!!" Dedede happily pushed a button that closed the floor, and automatically unchained Escargoon as well. "Good thing I got rid of that useless machine to buy demon beasts, or we wouldn't have made it out alive."

"I almost got killed and that's all you got to say!?! I hate it when you use me in these kind of situations!" Escargoon yelled angrily.

"Quit whining; you are alive, aren't ya?" Dedede asked, "Anyway, we stand triumphant, and it is now time to begin our final phase of my plan." Dedede went to his chair and sat on it, looking at the Mystery hearts with happiness. Before he or Escargoon could do anything else, a Waddle Dee entered the room and approached Waddle Doo, who was still hiding as he was told.

"Oh, they're here?" Waddle Doo asked. Waddle Doo then approached Dedede. "Your Majesty, it appears we have visitors that own that 'New world'."

"Huh?" Dedede said confusedly.

"Oh yeah. I remember that we were suppose to have somebody from that club or whatever is to show up here yesterday." Escargoon said.

"What are you guys talking about? What new world?" Dedede asked.

"Don't you remember? We had a call with one of those shadowy figures on the monitor the other day. They said they would show up yesterday, but they never did." Escargoon said

"Ah, you mean those guys." Dedede said uninterestedly, "Why do they have to show up at a time like this?"

"They are walking here right now. Should I tell them to come back another time?" Waddle doo asked.

"Nah, let's hear what they have to say. The final phase of my plan can wait a bit." Dedede said. Waddle Doo went out the door and saw three people approaching him.

"His Majesty is expecting you. Please go on in." Waddle Doo said. They did not respond. They just walked in the throne room after hearing what Waddle Doo had to say. They approached Dedede as the guy in the middle smirked.

"It is honor to meet His Majesty in person." The guy in the middle said as he and the other two bowed to King Dedede.

It was MPNo. 3 and he is also with two of his warriors.

"The pleasure is all yours for meeting me." Dedede said boringly, "Now hurry up and tell me what you came here to talk to me about. I don't have all day."

"Certainly, Your Majesty. This won't take much of your time." MPNo. 3 said. He and his warriors then got up, showing who they are. To MPNo. 3's left, their was young woman with an emotionless face. She has orange hair, a blue suit, a small yellow tie, and red garments on her forearms. To MPNo. 3's right, their was another young woman, only she has brown hair. What she is wearing is the same thing as the other woman.

And lastly, MPNo. 3 is a big and buff man. His attire consists of a red military uniform with large silver shoulder plates, wrist bands, and knee-high black boots with shin guards; on his cap is some sort of skull with wings. His eyes lack both pupils and irises, leaving them a ghastly white color. And he also supports a dark colored cape on his back and around his shoulders.

"Why don't we start off by introducing ourselves?" MPNo. 3 asked with grin, "These two are Juni and Juli; they are my elite guard. And as for me, my name is M. Bison."

Preview: That penguin tricked us! I cant believe he would do such a thing. I am so going to kick his a#$ as soon as I find a way out of here first! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 77: Broadcast gone wrong, Dreamland's worst Nightmare. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

M. Bison comes from the Street Fighter series. It's about time I put him in. Well, wish me luck for my big test tomorrow. Ci.. huh? What's that you say? (You explain me about the part with Dedede and Robin)… WHAT!? YOU THOUGHT THAT DEDEDE WAS GOING TO… EWWWW!! THAT'S DISGUSTING!! Something like that would never happen to Robin! Not in this fic, anyway.

Ahem, sorry for that outburst, it just that pairing seems very unlikely to me. Anyway, I hope you enjoyed this chapter. I'll try to update sooner than Brawl. Ciao!

Kirby Pt 10

Okay, I have good news and bad news. The good news is I am on Spring break. Bad news is I got Brawl, which sounds like good news, but bad news to this fic, since I'd be playing that game most of the time then updating. I'll try to come up with a schedule or something to organize this. Anyway, enjoy the chapter!

An unexpected visit. Dedede were able to somehow trick Sanji and Robin, and Luffy was about to do something about this afterwards, but Dedede manage to get him too, along with Tiff. Before Dedede could start the final phase of his plan, MPNo. 3, which we now know that his name is M. Bison, visited Dedede to talk about the new world, Obscurum. What does he have to say to Dedede?

Chapter 77: Broadcast gone wrong!, Dreamland's worst nightmare

M. Bison, along with his elite soldiers, Juni and Juli, stood proudly in front of Dedede, who didn't seem to care about him or his soldiers. Escargoon was the only one in the room who was having a frightful vibe about Bison's appearance.

"You have some nerve not showing up on time." Dedede said, "You said you were going to show up yesterday, but that never happened, did it?"

"Our sincerest apologies, Your Majesty." Bison said with a grin, "There was supposed to be someone other then me to attend this meeting, but there has been some 'trouble', so I decided to take his place."

"It took you a whole day to think that or what?" Dedede asked rudely, "For someone being so mysterious, you guys are bad at being punctual!"

"His Majesty is right!" Escargoon said, "He does not like to wait for some inferior being to show up!" Bison looked at Escargoon, which caused Escargoon to quickly hide behind Dedede's chair in fear.

"I deeply regret about our delay. We will not cause this sort of thing to happen from now on." Bison said, not sounding that caring.

"Yeah, yeah. So, what do you want?" Dedede asked rudely, "You wanted to tell me something, so go on and say it already."

"Of course." Bison said as he then cleared his throat, "Your Majesty, do you dream?"

"Dream? What does that have to do with anything?" Dedede asked.

"Dreams can show you things beyond your imagination at times." Bison explained, "Some say that dreams never come true, but in this case, dreams cannot show things such as what I am about to offer."

"Ohh?" Dedede was a little curious on what Bison was going to say next.

"Your Majesty, I came here to offer you a position to become one of the new rulers of the new world, Obscurum." Bison said with a smirk. Dedede raised an eyebrow in confusion as Bison continued explaining, "Obscurum is not just any kind of world. Obscurum is the perfect world. You see, once you lay eyes on it, you know that it has no flaws. People all over the universe, no, all existence itself would die just to live on it. People who live there will feel no sadness, no anger, nothing that would make them feel disturbed. Obscurum is just perfect in every way."

"And… what are you trying to tell me here?" Dedede asked.

"This perfect world needs people that can rule it." Bison replied, "Not just ordinary people, I am referring to the ones that are willing to do whatever it takes to make Obscurum the perfect place to live for eternity. I am talking about the people who will show no fear amongst their peers. People who are truly the greatest rulers of all time. That is why we came to you, Your Majesty. We could use your ruling capabilities to make Obscurum much better then it is now."

"Dyeh heh heh! I like that! The way you are trying to be a total suck up to me is like how I love to be treated as such." Dedede said happily, "But even though that fancy new world of yours sounds good and all, I reject your offer."

"Hmm?" Bison frowned at this.

"Why should I listen to you? All the things you said are just crazy. You expect me to believe all that?" Dedede asked, "I mean, come on! There is no such thing as a perfect world. A world is never perfect due to the kind of people that live in it. Just looking at you and your emotionless looking zombies helped me state that fact."

"Y-Y-Your Majesty, I dont think you should make him upset." Escargoon said, fearfully behind Dedede's chair.

"Shut up! I am not finished!" Dedede yelled at Escargoon before looking at Bison. "And further more, this world we are on right now is close to being perfect due to my presence. If I were to leave, then this world would be nothing! I like it here, and I do not intend on being some tool to some whiny babies like yourself. Now get out of my sight! I got work that needs to be done right now!"

Juni and Juli were about to take one step forward to Dedede, but Bison stopped them by simply raising his hand swiftly. "It's understandable that you do not believe me at first." Bison's eyes widened as he then saw the open box where the Mystery hearts are in. Bison smirked upon seeing this. "However… how about I offer you more?"

"What are you talking about this time?" Dedede asked.

"I am saying that you could still stay here, and still rule part of Obscurum." Bison said while walking up the steps to look at Dedede face to face. "In fact, I am willing to offer you more land, more supplies, everything you need or ever wanted out of life. This position is even bigger then mines, and I will be happy to arrange that sort of position for you."

"You don't say…" Dedede said while rubbing his chin, "What's the catch? Surely you'll be asking for something in return for all this."

"Oh, but you hardly need to give me anything. Although…" Bison then looked at the Mystery hearts, "Perhaps you could pay me back by giving me those interesting hearts you have here." Dedede sat straight, not sure what to answer. "Then it's settled; you will rule a big portion of Obscurum, while I keep these in exchange."

Bison then laid out his hand and was slowly trying to grab one of the Mystery hearts. Dedede was thinking very hard on what to say as Bison's hand was getting closer and closer to the heart he was about to grab. Dedede's eyes then widened angrily.

"NO!" Dedede got up from his chair and whacked Bison's hand from the Mystery hearts, which angered Bison. "These are mine! I won't let your filthy hands touch what belongs to me! If you want me to become some ruler, then don't touch my things!!"

Bison stood angrily in front of Dedede, almost losing his cool until he was able to relax. "Is that right?" Bison asked, "Then I'll offer you a normal position then. To show you that we are not bluffing about Obscurum, we are willing to serve you with tasks you find hard to achieve. If there is anything you would like us to do, then ask right now. But be warned, some things you might want us to do are limited. Ask carefully."

"Almost anything I want, huh?" Dedede asked with a smirk. "Okay, then. I want you three to get rid of Kirby!"

"Kirby?" Bison asked curiously.

"He is that round pink puffball around here. If you really want me to become one of those new rulers, then you have to beat him!" Dedede said, "No, wait! On second thought, get rid of his little warp star he always uses. He is nothing without it."

"How do we find it?" Bison asked.

"The warp star is under a stupid stone statue in the mountains not that far from here." Dedede said, "You do all that, then I'll join!"

Bison stood still for a couple of seconds, looking at how Dedede if he was serious or not. "Very well, then." Bison said while turning around, "I will get rid of this pest you are talking about. Let's hope you do keep your end of the bargain. For your sake, that is."

"Whatever, just get going already!" Dedede ordered. Bison walked past his Juni and Juli, who followed him afterwards as they left the throne room. Escargoon slowly came out of hiding as soon as they left.

"Your Majesty, are you sure that was a good idea?" Escargoon asked concernedly, "Those guys could really kill Kirby."

"Bah, they are just a bunch of weirdos that look tough, but aren't. I know these kinds of things, remember?" Dedede asked.

"I guess so…" Escargoon said.

"Anyway, it's now time to commence our final phase of my brilliant plan. To the studio room!" Dedede as he ran through the broken doors, "Oh, and tell somebody to fix this at once!"

"Sure, no problem." Escargoon said as Dedede quickly left. "Now that I think about it, I think we are missing somebody."

"Escargoon, get over here already!" Dedede yelled from the hallways.

"I-I'm coming!" Escargoon quickly catches up to where Dedede is and now walked along the hallways. Walking along with Dedede, Escargoon still wondered who was missing.

Meanwhile…

"Ah, you and your pirate friends sure have went through alot."

In a bar in the village, a bartender named Samo was talking to a person, who was sitting in front of the bar counter. "Most of the things we did are just outrageous. But in this world, nothing interesting has happened so far."

It was Zoro. He was the only one who didnt get tricked by Dedede so far. "Anyway, serve me up another drink, Samo."

"Coming right up."

Zoro rested his hand over his hand, looking at the TV on the upper corner of the bar showing some ads about Dedede. "Is everything all about that penguin? Bleh…"

Meanwhile…

Robin was still in the library under the basement, reading that book Dedede could not read. "Very fascinating. Looking at something this old is quite the enjoyment." Robin said. She was nearly done with the book, and their really wasn't anything important in it so far. "It's really a shame that I almost done with this. I wish there was…?"

Robin noticed something in one of the last pages. There was a drawing depicting some stars, and one of them was a black star. The stars around the black star were really pale. The stars far from the black star were also pale, but not as much as the stars that were close to it.

"What could this be?" Robin asked as she then looked at the writing under the drawing and started reading it. "'All life comes from the planets we live in. What brought planets to life are unknown to us as of yet. There are many theories over how planets are born, but none of them can be proved. Despite this, we continue to live in our worlds, hoping nothing would happen in the future. We were wrong…'"

Robin turned to the next page, and saw a drawing of the black star in a close view. "'At one night, we saw an odd star in the skies. We did not know where it came from, but ever since it was there, the stars around it started to get pale. A couple of more days later, deceased people have come back to life, only it's the kind of people we did not wish to see again. We began to fear what would become of us if this star continues to stay alive. We did all we could do to figure out this star's weakness, but it was all in vain."

Robin turned to the next page, and saw a drawing of the black star with some people in agonizing pain in the background. "'We called the star 'Obscurum'. The sheer darkness it gave to all of us fits perfectly with that name. Not only does this world revive the wicked, but causes normal people to lose their minds just by looking at it. We could do nothing against it's power; we all started to lose hope. Until that day… when the light of hope saved us.'"

Robin turned to the next page, and saw a drawing of a person embracing the light from the skies. "'It was all so simple. How could we have been so dull minded? We used our latest technologies to observe Obscurum, and we found out it's weakness. The only logical way to destroy that cursed world is-'" Robin turned the page, eagerly wanting to read more, but the rest of the pages were messed up, filled with smudges and stains. "His Majesty doesn't take care of his books that well." Robin closed the book and looked at the ceiling.

"Obscurum. That's the world Kabu warned us about. Could that be the new world Dimentio was talking about?" Robin thought. She then got up and walked towards the door, where the Waddle Dee was blocking her way. "I need to use the restroom for a second. Would you please let me pass?"

The Waddle Dee just simply waved it's round arms, which made Robin giggled. "How cute." Robin patted the Waddle Dee on it's head. She then walked past it, and went up the staircase.

She was back in the hallways and noticed that it was a bit quiet. "I wonder if Cook-san and the others are alright. Perhaps I should just look for them." Robin said. She began to walk along the hallways until she noticed three figures walking towards her way. It was Bison, along with Juni and Juli. Robin didn't say anything about them. She simply walked past them as they walked past her. Once they did, Robin felt a spark of fear inside her. She slowly looked back and saw Bison with her soldiers leaving her sights.

Juni looked behind her shoulder for a second before looking at Bison. "Sir, that woman we just passed. According to Dimentio's descriptions-"

"Let me guess; Is she one of those pirates I keep hearing about?" Bison asked while continue to walk. "Hmph! It's no surprise we'd meet one of them here."

"Shall we dispose of her, sir?" Juli asked emotionless.

"No; we don't have the time to face one of them now. We have work to do." Bison said. He then had a cruel smirk on his face. "However, if we do meet one of them in our way, then there would be no reason to not kill them. Neh heh heh heh, let's hope they do not disappoint me. Understood?"

"Yes sir." Juni and Juli responded simultaneously. The three continued to make their way out of the castle while Robin stared on.

Meanwhile…

At the Galaeua volcano, molten lava was boiling to the highest degree. Sanji walked towards the edge and felt how hot it was just getting close to it. "Okay, Sanji. One of the greatest beauties in the universe is right in here, waiting to rescue me." Sanji said. "This looks to good to be true. Once I jump inside, I'll get what all men desire."

Sanji continued to stare at the volcano, looking all cool. Sanji then raised his right foot and was about to take a step down until he stopped himself. "What am I doing? All this woman talk was coming from that penguin and snail. I shouldn't trust them!" Sanji pulled back his foot and faced the other way, "But… could there really be a beautiful that would rescue me from this? I mean, this world is different from mine. It could happen.

Sanji turns back at the volcano, but stopped himself from jumping in again. "Now wait; nothing good could come out of that penguin. And a woman coming out of a volcano sounds really stupid to be true." Sanji faces away from the volcano, "But some fantasies can come true. And if this one is true, then I would be so happy." Sanji turns back towards the volcano, "But if it's not, then I would just be killing myself for no good reason." Sanji once again faces away from the volcano, "Man, I just cant seem to make up my mind. Okay! I am going to jump in!" Sanji faces back at the volcano, "Or not…"

To put a long story short, Sanji kept thinking whether to jump into the volcano or not until he got completely frusterated. "GAH! WHY CAN'T I MAKE UP MY MIND!?" Sanji yelled at the top of his lungs. He then took some deep breaths, which caused him to cough due to the smoke from the volcano. "You know what? Forget this! That penguin must have made all this up! Once I get back to the castle, he really is going to get his ass kicked!"

Sanji then stomped away from the volcano, saving himself from dying pointlessly.

"HERE I COME!!!" Sanji immediately turned around and jumped inside the volcano-wait a minute, he actually jumped in!? "MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE!!!" With a happy look on his face and his visible eye filled with hearts, he fell straight towards the lava, with nothing that would probably save him.

"Beautiful woman!!! Come rescue meeeeeee!!!!" Sanji yelled happily as he was getting closer to his grave. Suddenly, something flew down the volcano and grabbed Sanji by it's shoulders before flying out. Sanji got more happier then ever once he got rescued. "Oh, this just fills my heart with pure joy!! I am so happy to meet you beautiful wo-huh!?"

The one that rescued Sanji wasn't a beautiful woman from a volcano. Instead, it turned out to be Dynablade that rescued him. It was holding Sanji with her feet as she was flying towards her mountains. "Wha-What!? You're the beautiful woman that the penguin was talking about!?" Sanji's hoping to meet the beautiful woman shattered at that instant. "Well… I guess when he meant 'beautiful woman', he meant any kind of species. Or…" Sanji then got angry, "He made all that up just to get rid of me. Tsk, damn! That penguin is going to be hearing from me later!"

Sanji then looked at Dynablade, who was still grabbing Sanji. "Hey, thanks for saving me. Could you please put me down so I can get back to the castle?" Sanji asked. Dynablade then over some mountain cliffs and dropped Sanji without warning, causing him to roughly land on the mountain ledge.

"Geh!… Hey, you didn't need to do that so quickly." Sanji said while rubbing his head. Sanji got up and saw that Dynablade turned around and flew right over Sanji so fast, the wind caused Sanji to roll backwards until he reached the ledge of the mountain. Sanji angrily got up and saw that Dynablade was flying around in circles. "What is wrong with you!? Why are you trying to attack me!?"

Dynablade then flew right towards Sanji, who quickly did multiple backflips to avoid Dynablade crashing on him. Sanji landed on his feet and looked at Dynablade. "Huh? Something is wrong with this bird." Sanji said. Dynablade had some purple aura around it's body, not to mention the purple aura emitting from it's eyes. Dynablade spreads it's wings and screeched loudly, causing Sanji to cover his ears.

"I dont think it's concious right now. That aura around it's must be the reason for it to attack me." Sanji said as he then got into his fighting pose. "Well… the only way I can help her is to knock her out."

Dynablade flapped it's wings and flew above ground a couple of feet from the ground. Dynablade then flapped it's wings hard enough to create crescent shape waves that went straight to Sanji. Sanji quickly evaded the waves by sidestepping, and rolling away from them. As soon as Sanji avoided the last wave, he quickly did a handstand and launched himself towards Dynablade. "POITRINE!" Sanji kicked at Dynablade's chest, causing it to stagger in midair. Dynablade quickly recovered and attempted to grab Sanji with her talons, but Sanji quickly spreaded his legs at the ends of Dynablade's feet to prevent them from closing on him.

Sanji then jumped off of Dynablade's feet and got back on the mountain ledge as Dynablade then started to fly higher. Sanji squinted his eyes to see that Dynablade was flying way up to the skies, until it then started to go down at Sanji with full speed. "Dammit!" Sanji quickly rolled out of the way as Dynablade almost crashed into him as it quickly flew up, saving itself from crashing on the ledge. Sanji then waited for Dynablade to come back as it was turning around to fly straight at Sanji again. As it got really close Sanji jumped right above Dynablade, and grabbed it's rainbow colored wing. Dynablade got startled by this as it tried to shake Sanji off.

No matter how hard Dynablade was trying to get Sanji off, he would not let go. "Come on, just fly a bit higher…" Sanji muttered as Dynablade was once again over the mountain ledges. "Perfect!" Sanji grabbed Dynablade's other wing and pulled on both wings, causing Dynablade to lose it's maneuvering. Before it could crash on the mountain ledge, Sanji instantly jumped off of Dynablade, but was still above it. "BROCHETTE!" Sanji raised one leg up and span down at Dynablade with his other foot, drilling Dynablade's back until it crashed on the ledge. Sanji backflipped off of Dynablade's back, and quickly charged at Dynablade once again.

"COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji thrusted his foot at Dynablade, but it quickly blocked the attack by using it's wings. "GYEH!" Sanji fell on his rear once he kicked Dynablade's wing. "Those wings are like made out of steel of some sort!" Dynablade then charged at Sanji and lowered it's beak on him, which he barely avoided by rolling out of the way. Sanji tried to get up, but Dynablade stopped him by thrusting it's beak down at him again, but Sanji rolled sideways to avoid it. Dynablade continued to attack Sanji with it's beak as Sanji continued to dodge it. The last beak attack almost got Sanji by his lower thigh, but Sanji saved himself by raising his legs over his face as Dynablade's beak impaled the ground.

Sanji then placed his hands on the ground around his head, and launched himself over Dynablade, landing right behind her. "GIGOT!" Sanji quickly charged at Dynablade, and did a sweep kick at the back of it's kneecaps, causing it to fall while it's beak was still impaled to the ground. Sanji then quickly got in front of the right side of Dynablade's face. "EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji delivered multiple kicks at Dynablade's face, trying to snap the creature out of it. Dynablade got furious and quickly got it's beak from the ground, and quickly used it's wing to whack Sanji away. "Grr!" Sanji quickly recovered and landed on the ground with his feet.

"This is one tough bird." Sanji commented. Dynablade then spreads it's wings and flapped them with great force, creating a big sandwave that headed right towards Sanji. Sanji had no other choice but to charge at the wave. "MOUTON SHOT!" Sanji performed a powerful horizontal kick that was strong enough to negate the sand wave from going any further. As soon as Sanji did that, Dynablade flew right at him with great speeds and tackled him with great force. "AHH!!" the attack was strong enough to send Sanji flying out of the mountain, but luckily, Sanji saved himself by grabbing onto Dynablade's left wing to stop himself.

Sanji quickly got on Dynablade's wing and jumped off of it, and landed behind Dynablade with his hands. "COTELLETE!" Sanji does a strong kick at Dynablade's ribs, causing it to screech in pain.

"SELLE!" while still in a handstand position, Sanji span himself in the opposite direction, and delivered a fast kick at Dynablade's lower back, causing it to stagger forward. Sanji then jumped above Dynablade from behind. "EPAULE!" Sanji did a downward kick at Dynablade's right shoulder, causing it start falling down. Before it could hit the ground, Sanji immediately landed in front of her. "COLLIER!" Sanji did a back kick to Dynablade's neck, which caused it to fall backwards instead of forward.

Sanji then took a deep breath and took some steps back. "I am sorry about this, but this has to be done!" Sanji then jumped really high in the air, and started to do multiple front flips in midair. "CONCASSE!" Sanji went straight down at Dynablade and did a very strong heel kick to Dynablade's head. The attack was so strong that Dynablade bounced off the ground and into a hole in a mountain cliff. Sanji landed on his feet, and slapped his forehead in surprise. "Oh, man! I didn't mean to kick it that hard!" Sanji said as he then jumped off the mountain ledge and into the hole Dynablade was kicked in.

It was a bit dark inside, but Sanji was able to see Dynablade, who was groggily getting up, but no longer had that strange aura around it. "I think that kick did the trick." Sanji said with a smile. Dynablade noticed Sanji, and stared at him. It got up as Sanji backed away a bit. "After all I did for you, you still want to fight me?"

Before anything could happen, a big baby chick came out of hiding behind some rocks. Sanji's eyes widened in surprise as the baby chick was happy to see Dynablade. The chick then went to Dynablade and hugged it as Dynablade placed it's wing over the chick. Sanji then concluded that Dynablade is a female. "Is that… a baby? Have I been attacking a mother for this whole time. Eh.. wait. It was for a good cause, so I practically did the right thing." Sanji to himself. Sanji then looked at the mother and child as the chick started to cry for a bit.

"I bet it's hungry." Sanji said. Sanji looked around out of the hole and saw some things he could use for food. He then looked back at Dynablade. "Hey, um… I could help get some food for your baby, if that's okay with you." Dynablade looked at Sanji, confused at what he just said, "Look, I know we just met, but you could trust me. It's the least I can do after you saved my life."

Dynablade stared at Sanji for a sec until she nodded her head. "I guess that's a yes. I'll be right back then." Sanji said. He then started to walk out of the cave to look for some ingredients.

Meanwhile…

"Mmmmmm… huh?"

At various floors under Dedede's castle, Tiff was starting to regain consciousness after going through that horrific fall with Luffy. "Eh, what happened? Oh, I remember. It's just like Dedede to do something like this." Tiff said as she got up on her feet. She appeared to be in some spooky place filled with really dark hallways, and with the sound of molten lava coming from a distance.

"I remember this place." Tiff said, "Nothing has changed down here. I wonder how am I going to get out of here this time." Tiff then realized somebody was missing. "Oh no! Where is Luffy!? Luffy! Luffy, where are you!?"

"MMMTTTIFFF!! OBBEERRR HERRETTHHH!!!"

Tiff heard a muffled kind of voice not far from where she is. She ran around the place, looking for where the voice came from. She then found it. There Luffy was, with his head completely covered with some rocks. "MMTTTIIFFF!! GET MEEFF OUTTA HERETTTHH!!!"

"How did you get stuck like that!?" Tiff asked in complete surprise. Tiff hurried towards Luffy and mustered up all the strength she had to remove the rocks off of Luffy's head.

"Bwah! Huh… huh…" Luffy panted while quickly sitting up. "Oh, man; that was scary. I could have suffocated."

"Luffy, are you okay?" Tiff asked concernedly.

"Yeah…" Luffy said while getting up, and picking up his Straw hat from the ground. "Hm? Where are we?"

"Were at the lower levels of the castle." Tiff replied, "This is where Dedede trapped me and my friends just so he can have some fun."

"You don't say?" Luffy asked while placing his Straw hat on his head. He looked at his surroundings with great amazement. "Wooooooooooooo! This place looks so big and scary. You could probably get lost here without even trying. Dying here would be so easy!" Luffy said happily.

"How can you say something like that!?" Tiff asked angrily, "Arent you at the least upset after what Dedede did to get us here!?"

"Huh? Dedede?… OH! I REMEMBER NOW!!" Luffy yelled angrily, just remembering what happened to him at the last chapter. "OI, DEDEDE!!! COME DOWN HERE SO I CAN KICK YOUR ASS!!!"

"It's no use yelling." Tiff said, "The only way we can get out of here is by going up."

"Right! Now you're talking!" Luffy said confidently. He then ran towards a wall, and tried to climb up on it like if he was Spiderman, but he failed miserably. He did this several more times, but it ended up in the same result. "This is hard! It will take me forever to get out of here."

Tiff just stared at him while a sweatdrop formed at the back of her head. "Um… we could just find a staircase or an elevator around here. We don't have to climb our way up."

"Really?" Luffy asked in confusion, "Oh… well, okay then. Lead the way."

"Sure…" Tiff said. Tiff turned around and walked towards a really dark hallway, with Luffy happily following her. "I will never understand how he ever got to be a captain."

Meanwhile…

Parm and Memu were sitting on the couch, starting to feel a bit worried. "They are sure taking their time." Like said, "Honey, do you think has happened to them?"

"I sure hope not. It would be really bad if they got lost along the way." Parm said, "Also, Lololo and Lalala have come back yet, and it's starting to get a bit dark.

"Oh, I hope everyone is okay." Memu said worryingly.

"Now don't worry. Hey, let's relax by watching the TV." Parm said.

"I guess that will be alright." Memu replied. Parm grabbed the television remote from the small table in front of him and turned on the TV. It showing some ads about Dedede and some shampoo for a couple of seconds until it immediately changed into a news broadcast.

"This is Channel DDD!" Said a voice from the TV. The TV then showed Escargoon holding a microphone close to his mouth. "Today, we have a very important announcement to make this evening. This is rather old news, but we must inform you that we have been invaded by pirates!" The TV then showed the scenario of the Thousand Sunny anchored near the beach shore. "Of course, it has been confirmed yesterday that these pirates are 'nice'. But is that really true? OF COURSE NOT!"

Parm and Memu were shocked to hear that. "These pirates were faking all along. They pretended to be nice in order to get on our good side! And it worked!" Escargoon said. The TV then depicted images of the Strawhat crew during their first visit in the village. "Just look at these scoundrels pretending to be innocent! Just look what they did Curio's old artifact!"

The TV then showed a recorded clip of how Luffy accidentally dropping the artifact he was holding during that day. "It may look like an accident, but we knew they intended to do that this whole time! Just look at that captain's face!" The TV then showed Luffy's plain look. "Who could ever believe a pirate with a face like that!?"

Parm and Memu weren't the only ones watching the news; the whole village was watching it as well. Some of the Cappys were watching it in Kawasaki's restaurant, while some others were watching from their homes. They did not know that in their TVs were hidden cameras, watching the cappys as they were watching the news. All the cameras' views were being shown in numerous of monitors in the broadcast room in the castle.

Inside the broadcast room, Escargoon was still doing the news while some Waddle Dees were filming him. "These pirates came here to cause chaos and disorder this whole time. And we were sadly about to face their wrath, until… we were able to stop those fiends in their own game!"

The Cappys were surprised to here that as Escargoon smirked upon seeing their faces on the monitors. "But, we couldn't have caught them without the great ruler this land has. Please allow me to introduce to you, the savior of Dreamland, His Majesty, King Dedede!"

The lights in the broadcast room turned off as a spotlight pointed to a wall. Flashy lights and big smoke screens covered the wall as a trapdoor opened up and out came Dedede, with a proud look on his face. A Waddle Dee pushed a button on a control panel that activated a soundtrack of people clapping. "Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! Thank you! Thank you!" Dedede said proudly.

Escargoon then approached Dedede. "Here he is folks! Our king that saved us from those dreaded pirates!" Escargoon said as he then placed the microphone in front of Dedede. "Tell me, Your Majesty; how were you able to defeat those pirates?"

"It was so simple, Escargoon." Dedede said, "As we all know, pirates are stupid. They do nothing but drink their rum, stealing other peoples property, and saying 'Arrrghh!' all the time. They have forgotten how smart people, such as myself, could outsmart them in their own game."

"How wonderful!" Escargoon praised, "But did you have difficulties facing them?"

"Surprisingly, no. I thought that they would give me some sort of a challenge, but they are the worst pirates I have ever met." Dedede said, "The captain is a big disgrace, if you ask me. He has a short amount of crewmembers, and he is also the stupid one. If I would give him a bomb that says 'cake' on it, he would eat it. Dyeh heh heh heh heh!"

"I see. So the only threat you had to deal with were his crew?" Escargoon asked.

"Ha! Don't even mention those losers!" Dedede laughed, "As disgraceful the captain is, his crew were no better. They are like the most random people I have seen in a pirate crew. Not that is a bad thing, but the way they are takes the cake. I mean, take a look at the green hair swordsman; for example, he goes around, acting all cool and strong like some real warrior or something. But I know from the start that he is just some pancy swordsman who uses his swords as his 'tools'."

Dedede then took out a drawing and faced it at one of the cameras. "If you want to know what I am talking about, then this example should clear things up!"

Every Cappy was devastated and disgusted. Some cappys in their homes block their childrens' eyes to prevent them seeing such a thing. Parm and Memu were also very shocked as well.

"H-He puts his sheathes in there!?" Parm asked in shock.

"Oh my…" Memu said before she fainted on the couch. Parm tried to wake her up as Dedede puts his drawing away.

"But do not worry, you commoners! I have destroyed this pest problem. Those pirates will not disturb anybody anymore!" Dedede said with open arms, "I do not mind if you praise or worship me, as long as I am able to keep you people safe, then I am okay with it!"

"Such great words coming from a such great king!" Escargoon said with tears of joy pouring out of his eyes, "This has been your local news. Until next time!"

The Waddle Dees behind the control panel pushed some buttons that showed the cappies some commercials, and that kind of stuff. Escargoon wiped those fake tears out of his eyes as Dedede laughed in success.

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! I got those commoners' trust now!" Dedede with a mischievous grin, "Now I can finally get all the worshipping I should have gotten from a long time ago!"

"Shall we see how those commoners are reacting right now?" Escargoon asked with a grin.

"Of course!" Dedede replied. They walked up to the monitors, seeing their reactions.

At Kawasaki's restaurant, people their just seemed a little confused. "Is he right?" Chief Bookem asked, "Those pirates were nice from the start."

"I bet it's all lies." Gengu said, "That Usopp guy from other day seems like a person who wouldn't hurt a fly."

"And Franky was all cool. He didn't seem like the guy who would take things." Gus said.

"That nice lady, Robin, had an interest in historic beliefs and artifacts." Curio said, "And as far as I know, pirates don't like historic things if it is nothing treasure related."

"Yeah! And Sanji gave me some cooking tips." Kawasaki said, "Thanks to him, I am actually having customers now and then."

"I guess it's just Dedede trying to fool us again." Gengu shrugged. Everyone else agreed to this.

Back at the broadcast room, Dedede was not pleased. "WHAT!? How can they not believe me!?"

"Correct me if I wrong, but they didn't believe you because… well, because they don't like you." Escargoon said. Dedede whacked Escargoon behind his head, causing him to fall in front of one of the monitors.

"Curse those commoners! If they think they heard the last of this, they're dead wrong!" Dedede said angrily, "Escargoon, get up and come with me. We need to make another broadcast! Escargoon!"

Escargoon was not paying attention. Dedede noticed that he had a frightened expression while looking at one of the monitors. Dedede blinked in confusion as he then looked at the monitor Escargoon was looking at. "WHAT THE!? THIS CAN'T BE!!!" Dedede said in shock. What the monitor was showing was Zoro, who continued to look at the TV with great anger.

"P… Pancy… SWORDSMAAAAAAAAANNNN!?!? AND THAT DRAWING!!!!!!" Zoro was so furious, he literally ripped off part of the counter he was holding on to. "I AM LEAVING!!!" Zoro said very angrily as he got up.

Samo shivered in fear when he heard that. "Oh… well.. have a nice-" Zoro then quickly left the bar, "-day…"

Dedede and Escargoon backed away from the monitors in fear. "Your Majesty, we forgot about him!!" Escargoon panicked.

"Dyaah!! I-I-I-I thought he got lost somewhere! I didn't know he was in the village!!" Dedede said fearfully.

"What do we do!? He is going to be here any minute!" Escargoon yelled.

"D-D-D-D-Don't worry! Like I said before; he is very clueless. There is a big chance he might get lost on the way here. Dyeh heh… heh.. heh…" Dedede laughed weakly, being scared out of his wits. Waddle Doo then approached Dedede.

"Your Majesty, you must come outside! It's an emergency!" Waddle Doo said alarmingly. Dedede and Escargoon nervously looked at eachother before following Waddle Doo outside on the castle walls. "Take a look!" Waddle Doo gave Dedede a pair of binoculars as Dedede quickly looked through them. Down at the hill, he could see a humongous trail of dust forming by somebody.

He zoomed the binoculars view so he can see that it was Zoro, who was charging at the castle as fast as he can. Zoro already had all of his swords out, and his eyes were ghastly red with anger. His face looked so furious, it's hard to describe it in words. "GYYYYYYYY YYYYEEE EEEEEEE EEEEEEEE EEEEEEE EEEEEEEE EEEEEAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHH HHHHHHH!!!!!!!!!!"

"DYAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA HHHHHHH HHHHHH!!!!!!" Dedede shouted in fear as his eyes popped out of his head and through the binoculars. "HE'S COMING THIS WAY!!!!"

"NOOOOOOOO!!!! I AM TOO YOUNG TO DIE!!!" Escargoon shouted as he cowered in fear. Dedede's heart was pumping really quickly, showing how scared he is.

"Waddle Doo! Get all the Waddle Dees outside the castle! Don't let him get in!!!" Dedede ordered fearfully.

"Yes, Your Majesty!" Waddle Doo said as he then quickly left.

"Metaknight! METAKNIGHT!! WHERE ARE YOU, METAKNIGHT!?!?"

Metaknight then appeared out of nowhere with his men, Sword and Blade. "Did you call, Your Maje-"

"YOU SEE HIM!? STOP HIM!! DON'T LET HIM GET ME!!!" Dedede yelled while pointing at Zoro, who was getting closer to the castle by the second. Metaknight saw Zoro approaching at a fast rate before facing Dedede.

"Yes sir. Leave him to us. Let's go!" Metaknight said. Sword and Blade nodded as they, including Metaknight, left in a hurry. Dedede grabbed Escargoon by the neck and hurried to the throne room, and locked the repaired doors. Dedede then quickly grabbed all the stuff he has, and blockaded the door with them. Dedede then grabbed Escargoon again, and hid behind his chair.

"I knew this was a bad idea! This is all your fault!" Escargoon yelled.

"S-Shut up!" Dedede whimpered. "We are in enough trouble as it is! Nothing could possibly get worse!"

Meanwhile…

Usopp, Lololo, and Lalala were out of the border river after Fololo explained to Usopp about Dedede's usual pranks. Usopp then looked through his goggles and saw Zoro was charging at the castle. "Whoa! I never seen Zoro that angry before!"

"He looks very upset." Lalala said, "Should we do something?"

"No, let him go there." Usopp said while putting his goggles over his head, "Dedede might have done something to anger Zoro. Their is no stopping him now."

"What do we do now?" Lololo asked concernedly.

"Hmm…" Usopp then stood bravely, "As a great Captain, I need to help my men! But first, we need reinforcements! Back to the village!"

Usopp then dashed his way to the village, with Lololo and Lalala following him.

Back at the Thousand Sunny, you could hear a lot of ruckus going on. The ruckus suddenly stopped as the hatch of the soldier dock opened, with Kirby happily coming out. "Poyo!" Kirby said happily as Franky raised himself outside, with an angry look.

"THAT PENGUIN IS SO DEAD!!!!" Franky yelled angrily.

At the rocky cliffs, Tuff was still looking for the Strawhat crew. "Hey, you guys! Where are you!? Usopp! Nami!" Tuff yelled loud enough for anyone to here. "Huh?" He then noticed a crate next to a couple of rocks. As soon as he approached it, a fist from the inside destroyed the lid of the crate. "WHA!?" Tuff got startled as he fell on his rear. He got nervous until he saw who came out of the crate, who was none other than Nami.

"N-Nami?" Tuff said in confusion.

"I AM GOING TO HAVE SOME PENGUIN FOR DINNER!!!!" Nami yelled with one of her usual pissed off looks. "YOU!!! TAKE ME TO THE CASTLE!!!"

"Ahh!! O-Okay!" Tuff nodded nervously. Nami got out of the crate as she and Tuff ran to the castle. "I think you should know that Dedede got Chopper too! But don't worry; I think he is okay!" Tuff didn't get a response, which caused him to stop, and look at Nami behind him. "Nami? What's wrong?"

Nami was shocked; not about Chopper, but for something else. "What's going on? There is a drastic change in the weather. That shouldn't be normal… !" Nami thought as she then looked up, and saw that it was starting to get really cloudy and dark. Above those clouds was a UFO, twice as big as Dedede's castle.

"Ho ho ho ho ho! It's now time attack." Customer service said from inside the UFO.

Preview: This place sure is dark! I wonder how we are going to die in here? I don't know why Tiff was so angry when I mentioned that. Next time one One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 78: Invaded by Demon beasts!, Kirby's powers. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Now I just like to remind you guys that the Mystery People are not all from Nintendo. I know that it seems random, but I planned this story for a while, so I don't plan to change anything. Anyway, the next chapter will finally have some fighting scenes, and (looks at Greymonkey) some Kirby hats. Ciao for now!

P.S.: Just incase you didnt get the part with Zoro, it had to do something with his sheathes and his rear. You do the math.

Kirby Pt 11

300 reviews! I like to thank all you guys for supporting this fic. It couldn't be alive without you. Now then, it's time to start the next chapter. Enjoy!

Revenge time! Dedede thought that he would get on the villagers good side if he broadcast about how he defeated the pirates. That didn't work however, and it also turned out to be one of his biggest mistakes in his life, since Zoro saw the whole thing, and now is out to get Dedede. At the same time, dark clouds mysteriously appear out of nowhere, meaning nothing but trouble is out to destroy Dreamland. Will the Strawhat crew get Dedede, and stop whatever is coming to Dreamland?

Chapter 78: Invaded by Demon beasts!, Kirby's powers

The dark clouds in the sky caused Dreamland to look eerie and dark instead of it's usual happy and peaceful atmosphere. Nami and Tuff's eyes widened in shock upon seeing this. "What's going on?" Tuff asked, "Why has it gotten dark so suddenly?"

"Those clouds…" Nami said in awe, "Those clouds there are abnormal. I have never seen something like this before."

They could then here the sound of lightning coming from the clouds, which frightened Tuff a bit. "Something tells me that there is going to be a nasty storm here." Tuff said.

"That… or something else…" Nami said, "Those are definitely not thunder clouds."

Nami's eyes then widened as she saw something falling down from the clouds, and it wasn't rain. Nami squinted her eyes to see what was coming down, and couldn't believe what it was. "That's not possible!"

"What? What is it?" Tuff asked.

Meanwhile…

Franky and Kirby have just gotten off the Thousand Sunny, and were now on their way to Dedede's castle. "Oh, I am so angry this time! That penguin got on my bad side, and he is going to regret it!" Franky said while running across the fields with Kirby.

"Poyo!" Kirby responded while running as well.

"I have so many ways to get him, I don't know what to start with!" Franky yelled while running, "First, I'll beat him to a pulp! Second, I'll kill him with a Coup de vent! Then I'll make a machine that will revive him so I can kill him again! Do you know any good ways to torture him!?"

"Poyo…" Kirby replied.

"Nah, I didn't think you had any!" Franky said. As they were still running, Franky just noticed how cloudy and dark it has gotten just now. "What is up with this weather? Is it going to rain or what?" Franky did not get answer as he stopped and looked at Kirby as he was plainly staring up at the dark sky. "Yo, Puffball bro! What's the matter?"

"Poyo?" Kirby said in confusion. Franky blinked as also looked up at the sky.

"What the!? Are you serious!?" Franky asked in shock.

Meanwhile…

Usopp was running his way back to the village, with Lololo and Lalala flying next to him. "Hey, what's wrong with the clouds? They got really dark." Lololo said while looking at the sky.

"It's probably going to rain." Lalala said.

"It doesn't matter right now! We have to go find the others, and tell them what Dedede has been up to!" Usopp panted. Usopp then stopped himself as Lololo and Lalala flew ahead. They too stopped to look back at Usopp.

"Hey, Usopp. What's wrong?" Lololo asked.

"This feeling… there is something bad going to happen here." Usopp said nervously, "I know it because every time I have this feeling, something bad always happen later."

"It must have something to do with those clouds." Lalala said. The trio looked up at the clouds. Their eyes then widened in fear as soon as they saw something falling down from them.

"Oh no!!! That can't be real!!!" Usopp said fearfully.

What Nami, Franky, and Usopp were seeing was very unusual rain. The unusual thing about it is that it's raining Demon beasts! The villagers looked up at the sky, and couldn't believe their eyes.

"Demon beasts!?" Curio said in shock.

"It's happening again!" Kawasaki panicked.

"Quick, everyone! Get in your houses, and locked the doors!" Chief Bookem yelled. All the Cappys in the village were running in fear as multiple Demon beasts landed on several rooftops, while some others landed on the streets. They all looked scary in their own way. They started to chase Cappys in the streets, and destroy everything that comes into their vision. You could see most Cappys getting their scared inside their houses, and locking their doors and windows.

"Stay back, you! I may be old, but I can still fight!" Chief Bookem said angrily to a happy Demon beast with a blue attire. He happily took out a bomb out of his pockets, which startled the old policeman. "On second thought, I'd rather run! Ohh!!" Chief Bookem quickly ran as that happy Demon beast started to throw small explosive bombs everywhere.

"No! Get off from there!" Kawasaki said nervously as some Demon beasts were messing up his restaurant, not that it matters to everyone else. To put it simple, Demon beasts were everywhere, messing everything up for their enjoyment.

Franky and Kirby just stared as this was happening. "What in blazes is this!?" Franky asked, "First that penguin, and now this!"

"Poyo!" Kirby yelled as he saw some Demon beasts heading towards him and Franky.

"Bah! Were going to have to get that penguin later!" Franky yelled as the demon beasts leaped towards him. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a blast at the demon beasts in front of him, knocking them back. Kirby was amazed at Franky strength as more Demon beasts showed up. "Let's go, Puffball bro!"

"Poyo!" Kirby nodded as he and Franky charged at the demon beasts.

Meanwhile…

Waddle Doo was facing in front of the castle with a big army of Waddle Dees behind him. "Is it suppose to rain today?" Waddle Doo asked himself. He shrugged it off, and looked behind him. "Raise the drawbridge!" The Waddle Dees inside the castle nodded, and raised the drawbridge to prevent anyone coming in or out.

Waddle Doo then faced forward, and saw Zoro coming towards his way. He unsheathe his sword and raised it in the air. "Men! We cannot let that man inside the castle! Protect our lord at all costs! Charge!"

With all the Waddle Dees armed with spears, they and Waddle Doo charged at Zoro. "EEEEEEEEEEEHHHHHHHHH!?!?" Zoro yelled angrily as he stopped in front of Waddle Doo's army, stomping on the ground so hard, it nearly formed a small crater. Still having that extremely furious look from before, and with his eyes still ghastly red, he glared at Dedede's army mercilessly. Waddle Doo and all the Waddle Dees stopped in fear as soon as they saw how furious Zoro was.

"Retreat!" Waddle Doo said fearfully as he and Waddle Dees started to run away from Zoro, dropping their spears in the process.

"USHI BARI!" Without a second thought, Zoro charged at Waddle Doo and the army of Waddle Dees from behind, and repeatedly swung his swords while going past them, knocking them all away as if they were baseballs.

"Ahh…" Waddle Doo groaned before he and his army passed out before falling back on the floor. Zoro continued to go towards Dedede's castle, even if the drawbridge was still raised.

"GYAH!!" Zoro slashed right through it as the pieces of the drawbridge fell on the river border. "DEDEDE!!!! WHERE ARE YOU!?!? I AM GOING TO CUT YOU UP!!!" Zoro took a couple of steps forward, angrily looking at his surroundings to see nobody in his sight. As he was looking towards his right, he heard a sound of footsteps coming from in front of him. He looked ahead of him, and saw none other then Metaknight, accompanied by Sword and Blade.

"We meet again, Zoro." Metaknight said. Zoro was able to calm down after seeing Metaknight.

"Hey." Zoro replied calmly. They both stared at each other from afar. "I guess you intended to see me this time?"

"I am afraid so." Metaknight said, "His Majesty wants me to dispose of you."

"Heh! I expected that." Zoro said with a smirk, "But I don't mind. Getting your king without any challenge would be very disappointing for me."

"I see…" Metaknight said, "Sword. Blade. Attack!"

"Yes sir!" Sword and Blade replied simultaneously. They both unsheathe their swords, and charged at Zoro. Zoro across his swords across his chest as Sword and Blade were about to strike him.

"ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed right through Sword and Blade while they were in midair.

"Guah!" Sword and Blade fell to the ground unconsciously as Zoro stood in front of Metaknight. Metaknight didn't seem that shocked at what happen to his men.

"You are very skilled. To take down Sword and Blade with one hit is admirable." Metaknight said.

"That was nothing compared to what I can really do." Zoro said, "And to tell the truth, I could sense that you are really strong too."

"How flattering." Metaknight said. Metaknight spreads his cape around him, showing his frontal view, and his sheathe on his side. He then grabbed the hilt of his blade and unsheathed it. There was no blade at first, but an electrical current came out of the hilt, creating a blade with spikes that resemble flames.

"Nice sword." Zoro said.

"I am sorry, my friend; but I must obey His Majesty's orders." Metaknight said, "It is my duty as his servant."

"Actually, I am not upset about this at all. In fact…" Zoro grabbed the bandana around his left arm and wrapped it around his head, "I was pretty bored up until now."

Metaknight smirked behind his mask. "May the best man stand victorious, then."

"I plan to." Zoro said with a smirk. They both got into their fighting stances, staring at eachother without making a peep as the sound of wind flew by them. The wind blew a bit harder as a spear on a wall started to fall. Zoro and Metaknight continued to stare at eachother as the spear was falling to the ground.

As soon as it did, Zoro and Metaknight charged at eachother, clashing their swords with great strength, creating an invisible force that spreads around them in a great distance.

Meanwhile…

"Take my hand, honey!" Luffy sang happily while walking through some dark halls with Tiff. "So I can feel your warmth!"

"How can he be so happy in a time like this?" Tiff asked herself.

"Huh? Hey, look at that." Luffy said while pointing in front of him. Tiff looked where Luffy was pointing to, and saw a pool of lava in front of them.

"I don't remember that being here." Tiff said, "Looks like Dedede did some remodeling."

"Oh! Look at this!" Luffy said excitedly as he ran in front of the lava. Their was a cannon pointing towards the other side of the pool of lava. "CoooOOOLLL! A cannon! We can get to the other side with this!"

"What!? We can't do that! We could hurt ourselves!" Tiff while walking to Luffy. She then stepped on a panel on a floor, which surprised her. "Oh, I think I activated a trap!" A sound could then be heard from the dark hallways Luffy and Tiff just came out of.

"Hmm? What's that coming from over there?" Luffy asked while pointing behind Tiff. Tiff turned around, and gasped as she saw a big boulder rolling towards them.

"Oh no! Were going to get flattened!" Tiff said nervously while taking some steps back until she bumped into Luffy.

"Gyeh! I guess we have no choice!" Luffy exclaimed as he then grabbed Tiff by wrapping his arms around her. Tiff blushed immediately due to this.

"Hey, what are you doing!?" Tiff asked.

"Were going to fly!" Luffy said confidently as held on to Tiff while going inside the cannon. The boulder was getting closer as Luffy quickly pulled the string from the back of the cannon, which caused the cannon to fire Luffy and Tiff to the other side.

"Waaaaaaaaaahhhh!!!" Tiff cried while holding on to Luffy tightly. They were halfway across the pool of lava, seemingly that they would safely get to the other side. Too bad that the boulder behind them went up a ramp next to the cannon, and was now flying towards Luffy and Tiff while going through some waterfalls of lava.

"GAAAAAHHH!!" Luffy screamed with his eyes popping out of his head as he then faced forward to see nothing but a wall. "Hold on tight!" Tiff nodded in fear as she held on to Luffy while he faced his back towards the wall.

CRASH!!

Luffy went right through the wall as the boulder then crashed into it, but got stuck in the wall afterwards. Luffy and Tiff panted in relief. "Phew… that was close."

"I'll say." Tiff nodded. She then opened her eyes, and noticed that she was on top of Luffy. "Oh!" Tiff blushed as she quickly got off of him, "I'm sorry!"

"Man…" Luffy said while getting up, "This boulder could have killed us both! Stupid boulder!" Luffy did a soft punch at the boulder, which was stupid since it was really hot. "AAAAHHH!! MY HAND IS BURNING!"

"It's common sense not to touch something after it went through lava!" Tiff said angrily. Tiff then noticed her surroundings, "Where are we this time? It's really dark in here…"

Tiff looked around to find an exit while Luffy was blowing his hand so it can cool off. "Ah.. this place is so confusing. What could be next." Luffy looked around and heard some noises in the dark part of the room he was in. "Huh?" It was bouncy noise, and it was coming closer to Luffy. Once it came out of the shadows, it turned out to be some kind of cute brown creatures with no body, nor arms and legs.

"Aww… how cute." Luffy said happily as he approached the cute brown heads. "What are you guys doing in a place like this? Your so cute, I could just eat you. As a matter of fact, I do wonder what you guys taste like."

Luffy pat the brown creatures on their soft heads as Tiff was approaching him. "I can't find a way out of here. Could you… !?" Tiff backed away nervously, "What are you doing!?"

"Huh? Oh, hey Tiff. These little guys came out of nowhere. Don't they look cute?" Luffy asked while continue to pet the cute brown creatures.

"No, Luffy! Those are Scarfys! Get away from them; they are dangerous!" Tiff warned.

"Wha? Dangerous? These guys? I don't see ho-OW!" one of the brown creatures, or Scarfys, bit Luffy's finger. Luffy pulled his finger out of the Scarfy's mouth and backed away. "One of those things bit me!"

Then suddenly, all the Scarfys started to transform. They changed from the cute looks into one-eyed monsters with big teeth.

"Daaaaaaaahhh!! They transformed into monsters!" Luffy yelled fearfully.

"Run away!" Tiff cried as she and Luffy were running from the monstrous Scarfys. While they ran for their lives, they also found a way out of the room they were in. They ran through the hallways the monstrous right on their tail. They went up and down, left and right through numerous of passages. It was all so confusing, that Luffy and Tiff ended up chasing the Scarfys themselves, only for a short time. "There is no getting away from them!"

"That's it! I had enough!" Luffy yelled angrily. He stopped running and turned towards the charging Scarfys. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches all the Scarfys, knocking them all back. They were beaten so hard, they all went crying back to the room they were in.

"Wow… you beat them all." Tiff said amazed.

"Ha… that takes care of them." Luffy said. "We need a break around here." Luffy rested his hand on a brick wall next to him, but he accidentally touched a secret panel that activated another trap.

"Please don't tell me you activated another trap?" Tiff asked nervously.

"Uh… no?" Luffy lied. Suddenly, a wall with spikes appeared at the other side of the hallway, and started to charge towards Luffy and Tiff.

"AAAAAAHHHH!!!" Luffy and Tiff screamed as they tried to outrun the spike wall coming towards them. Luffy grabbed Tiff by her arm, and jumped towards another hallway as the spiked wall crashed into the brick wall. "Okay, could this get any worse?"

Luffy then accidentally stepped on a panel that caused a boulder to appear behind him and Tiff. "Did you had to ask!?" Tiff asked as she and Luffy started to run again. Seems like they will be bumping from trap to trap. Let's leave them for now.

Meanwhile…

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, knocking out most of the Demon beasts in front of him. Despite that, more demon beasts still came towards them. "Dang! There is no end to these things! Oi, Puffball bro! How are you holding up!?"

"Poyo!" Kirby shouted while running around in circles from a fire demon beast.

"Eh, not that good, huh? Geez!" Franky said irritatingly as he continued to fight off some more Demon beasts. As soon as he punched one of the Demon beasts, he saw Usopp frantically running into his direction. "Longnose?"

"Help! Get it away from us!" Usopp cried as he, Lololo, and Lalala were being chased by a golem Demon beast.

"Tsk!" Franky removed the skin off his right hand as Usopp, Lololo, and Lalala ran past him, "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched the golem so hard, he went flying away. Franky then looked back at Usopp, who was cowering in fear. "You alright, Longnose?"

"Dreamland scary, Dreamland scary, Dreamland scary…" Usopp whimpered.

"Thanks for saving us." Lololo said.

"Yeah. We thought we were goners." Lalala said.

"Ow! No sweat!" Franky said while posing. "Good thing Longnose over here brought that rock head to me, or else you guys would have been dead. Right, Longnose?"

"Uh?" Usopp said while getting up, "Why, yeah! I pretended to be scared so I can lure that monster to my right-hand man so he can take care of him."

"Oh, so you were pretending? You were really convincing back there." Lololo said as Usopp laughed.

"Watch out!" Franky yelled as he punched a demon beast that was right behind Usopp. Usopp was paralyzed after that happened. "You will stop praising yourself, and keep your eyes opened!?"

"Yeah… I can do that…" Usopp said nervously. Usopp then came back to his senses. "Franky, what is going on around here!? Why are their monsters falling from the sky!?"

"How should I know!?" Franky asked, "I was on my way to King Dorkdorkdork's castle, when suddenly this happened!"

"Where is everyone else!?" Usopp asked.

"I don't know! There probably out here somewhere!" Franky said as he then punched demon beast. Usopp looked at his surroundings in fear.

"And I thought this world was very peaceful! Why does this always happen to us!?" Usopp asked in agony. With all the commotion going on, they forgot about Kirby, who was still running away from the fire demon beast. Lololo and Lalala were the only ones who noticed that.

"Hey, Kirby! What are you doing!?" Lololo asked.

"Poyo!" Kirby said while running.

"Have you forgotten that you can inhale it!?" Lalala asked. Kirby stopped himself as he just remembered that. He faced towards the fire demon beast while moving his feet back and forth. He then jumped forward, and started to inhale with great force. Usopp and Franky stopped complaining and saw what Kirby was doing.

"He is going to inhale it!?" Usopp asked.

The fire demon beast couldn't save himself as he went right inside Kirby mouth as Kirby then swallowed him. Kirby then jumped in the air, doing multiple front flips in the process. He then stopped as his head started to shine. A crest with green emerald formed on his forehead as head was also on fire. Kirby then got back on the ground as Usopp and Franky were stunned at his new look.

"What just happened?" Usopp asked.

"Alright! He turned into Fire Kirby." Lololo said happily.

"Fire Kirby?" Franky asked, "Is that one of his copy powers we heard from yesterday?"

"Yes! While being Fire Kirby, Kirby has lots of fire abilities. Just watch!" Lalala said.

Kirby noticed a couple of demon beasts in front of him, and started to breath out a stream of fire that burned them all.

"Whoa! He breathed out fire!" Usopp said in amazement.

"That's right, Puffball bro! Show them what you're made of!" Franky exclaimed excitedly.

Kirby continued to breath out fire at his enemies, until a fighting type demon beast went right through Kirby's fire, and punched Kirby in the face. "Poyaa!" Kirby cried as he spat out a star when he fell to the ground.

"Kirby!" Usopp said worryingly. He noticed that Kirby was no longer Fire Kirby anymore. "Hey, what happened?"

"Oh no, he got hit too hard, and lost the ability he had!" Lololo said.

"Kirby, inhale that one!" Lalala said.

"Poyo!" Kirby immediately got up and inhaled the demon beast that punched him earlier. Once Kirby swallowed him, he jumped in the air, and a small bandana came to his head, but it slipped off a bit until Kirby caught it, and wrapped it around his head.

"Fighter Kirby!" Lololo exclaimed happily.

"Whoa! I am interested what that one does!" Franky said.

Kirby dashed forward to some big demon beasts in front of him. "VULCAN JAB!" Kirby repeatedly punches all the demon beasts in front of him with great strength, that they disappeared in an instant.

"He got them all!? He is really strong!" Usopp exclaimed in amazement.

Kirby continued to pummel all the demon beasts in his way as Franky then helped him, while Usopp just hid in some bushes to be safe.

Meanwhile…

"YYYYYYYYAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHH!!!"

Nami and Tuff were running away from some demon beasts that started chasing a while ago. "Why are we being attacked by a bunch of monsters!?" Nami asked while running.

"I don't know. This never happened before!" Tuff said, "Wait! Unless then…"

"What!? Unless then what!?" Nami asked as the demon were gaining up on them.

"The last time this happened, Nightmare was leading all these demon beasts! Maybe he came back!" Tuff said.

"I thought he was gone!" Nami yelled even louder.

"I thought so too! But I think he came back somehow!" Tuff yelled. Nami was scared and angry at the same time.

"First that penguin gets on my nerves, and now this!" Nami yelled furiously. "Me and my comrades didn't come here to fight any demons! We came here to find the 6th heart so we can leave! But why is it that every time we go to the next world, we also get into situations like this!?! And what is with these stupid kiddy-looking monsters still chasing us!?!?"

Nami stopped herself, and turned around to do a horizontal kick at the demon beasts that were chasing her and Tuff. The kick was devastating for the demon beasts as they were sent flying off of Dreamland.

"Wh-Whoa…" Tuff said in awe as Nami was angrily panting heavily.

"Now look what they did! They made me lash out some of my anger for that penguin to those weaklings!" Nami said angrily.

"Some!?" Tuff asked in shock. While Tuff was in a state of surprise, Nami looked towards the darkish clouds.

"Hey, you stupid Nightmare! If you are so tough, why don't you come down here, and show me what you got!" Nami yelled furiously.

"I think she lost her mind…" Tuff thought while a sweatdrop went down his forehead.

"Aren't you listening!?" Nami asked, "If you are not deaf, and can hear what I am saying, then show me a sign!"

Suddenly, a lightning bolt came out of the dark clouds, and almost struck right at Nami as she fell on her rear afterwards.

"Nami, are you okay!?" Tuff asked while approaching Nami.

"What the!? How could that happen?" Nami asked as she looked up at the sky, "Those are not thunder clouds!"

Another lightning bolt then struck down at Nami and Tiff, almost electrocuting them. "Yehh! I think we better get out of here!" Tuff said. He then noticed that Nami was already running away. "Hey, wait for me!"

"YAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHH!!!" Nami cried as lightning bolts were repeatedly coming down coming down a few inches behind her. Nami then saw a bridge, and then got under it to be save. Tuff frantically ran under the bridge, tripping over in the process.

"Ugh… what a day." Tuff said dazedly. Nami looked at the clouds from under the bridge, narrowing her eyes at it.

"The lightning stopped as soon as we got under this bridge." Nami said noticeably, "Anyway, we're safe here. Those bolts cant hit us under this bridge."

A lightning bolt then shot down towards the ground again, only the tip of the bolt smoothly changed directions, and went towards Nami and Tuff.

"LIGHTNING BOLTS DON'T DO THAT!" Nami said enragedly while slightly backslapping the air.

ZAAAPPPPP!!!

"Dablblblbbll!!!!" Nami and Tuff cried simultaneously while being electrocuted. Once that was over, they almost looked like they were burn to crisp. Tuff let out a puff of black smoke afterwards.

"This is too much for me…" Tuff said dazedly. He then looked at Nami, who was emitting a furious aura around. "Whah!!"

"I… CAN'T TAKE THIS ANYMORE!" Nami got up and got out of hiding from under the bridge while getting out her PCT. "What's up!? All out of ammo!?"

A lightning bolt struck down at the ground, and smoothly changed it's direction to go at Nami, who was perpared this time. "THUNDER BALL!" Nami created a thunderball in front of her. Once the lightning bolt touched the thunder ball, it was redirected back up to the dark clouds. "Yes! Take that!"

Strangely, nothing was happening afterwards. Nothing blinked in confusion until she noticed some white and puffy clouds coming from above, and floated a few inches close to the ground. "Clouds? Wait a minute, what is that one?" Nami notice an odd kind of cloud coming down in front of her.

Once it was close to the ground, Nami could tell it wasnt just any kind of cloud she has ever seen. It had yellow spikes around, and big eye in the center.

"It's Kracko!" Tuff yelled.

"Kracko?" Nami asked, "It's that some kind of demon beast, or just some odd cloud?"

"It's both! Kirby defeated Kracko a long time ago once it was creating a devastating storm! I didn't expect to see it again!" Tuff said.

"I guess this thing is the reason for the odd clouds up there." Nami said while getting into her fighting stance, "It is my job to inform and avoid these kinds of weather conditions, but this will be the first time I have to face one. If you think that you can defeat a great navigator such as myself, then show me, you stupid cloud!"

The cloud known as Kracko emitted electricity from it's spikes, and shot a lightning bolt at Nami, who rolled out of the way to avoid it. Kracko continued repeating this until Nami got her back against a wall. Kracko took this advantage to shoot another lightning bolt at her. "THUNDER BALL!" Nami created thunder ball with her PCT as it redirected Kracko's lightning bolt to a wall far from her. "THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami charged up her PCT with electricity as she loosened the end of it so she can swing it as a flail. "SWING ARM!"

Nami charged at Kracko, and swung her electrified PCT at it, but Kracko flew back to avoid it.

"Eh! You coward!" Nami yelled. Kracko then slowly flew towards Nami while emitting some electrical sparks around it's body. Nami's eyes widened as she then started to run away from Kracko. She quickly got under the bridge as Kracko flew over it. "Tuff, hide somewhere while I deal with this annoying cloud!"

"Right!" Tuff nodded as he then quickly ran out of the bridge. Kracko saw him and was about to shoot a thunder bolt at him until he got hit by a thunder ball from behind, which didn't hurt it that much. Kracko turned around as he saw Nami bending one end of her PCT, and connected that piece adjacent to the other. "I dont say this that much, but your my opponent!" Kracko then charged at Nami. "CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami threw her connected PCT to Kracko as it span with great force, that it created a small cyclone. It hits Kracko in the eye, causing it to stagger back in pain. Nami quickly grabs the parts of the PCT she threw, and puts it back like it was.

"HEAT BALL!" Nami then throws a Fire ball at Kracko, who barely avoided it by flying side ways. Kracko then gathered some electricity, slowly tried to get over Nami while shooting out multiple lightning bolts under itself. Nami runs in fear, getting away from Kracko's attack until she saw a wall in front of her. "Dammit!" Nami quickly turned as Kracko was getting closer. "COOL CHARGE!" Nami lets out a cold wave out of her PCT as Kracko then got under her, and zapped her.

"Ah!" Nami cried in pain at first, until she stook out her tongue as she mysteriously vanished. Kracko stopped and looked around it's surroundings. "CLOUDY TEMPO!" Kracko turned around and saw Nami on the bridge as she was producing thin clouds from her PCT. "You wont be able to get away from this! RAIN TEMPO!" Nami threw a Cool ball in the thin clouds, causing it to rain over her and Kracko. Kracko didn't seem to bother as it was about to emit some electricity, but doing that just electrocuted his eye.

"I got you this time!" Nami said confidently, "You should know that water conducts electricity. And since your eye is vulnerable to anything, then you can't possible hurt me!"

Tuff was watching from behind some walls, amazed at what Nami can do. "I never knew that pirates can be this powerful. She really is great!" Tuff said.

Kracko then started to emit electricity around him, despite that he is hurting himself. "What are you doing now? I told you that you cant.. huh?" Nami saw that Kracko was actually creating a lightning barrier around itself. The barrier was big and strong to dry up the water it has on itself, and to prevent any rain from falling on it. "Oh… I didn't think it would do that…" Kracko charged at Nami with it's barrier. "Ah!" Nami jumped off the bridge before Kracko destroyed it with his barrier. Nami fell to the ground hard as she and Kracko were already out of the rain's range, allowing Kracko to drop his barrier.

Nami panted as she was getting up on her feet. "Your full of surprises. Luckily, so am I!" She bends her PCT to make it look like a triangle. "HURRICANE TEMPO!" Nami throws her PCT a few feet from her, and then runs for cover. The PCT then started to spin by itself, creating a wide ranged hurricane that pulled in Kracko towards it's center. Once it did, Kracko went flying right into a far distance as the PCT stopped spinning and fell to the ground afterwards. Nami quickly retrieved her PCT, and puts it back like it was. "That will give me some time to think of a plan." Nami looks at surroundings, and notices the clouds that were floating a few inches from the ground.

"I wonder if I can use those for something." Nami began to think until she heard something from behind. She decided to jump out of the way as it Kracko who nearly crashed into her with it's spikes, but crashed into a wall instead. Nami quickly got up as Kracko then shot out a lightning bolt beneath her feet, causing her to fall down again. Kracko then flew over her as it charged up a lightning bolt under him. Nami quickly rolled out of the way, barely avoiding Kracko's thunderbolt in time. At the same time, Nami separated her PCT apart, and puts one of them behind her waist while facing both of them in front of her.

"DARK CLOUD TEMPO!" Nami formed a small, condensed, electrical charged cloud in front of her. She then threw it as it slowly went past Kracko. Kracko then lowered itself and tackled Nami before she could get up. "Ah!" Nami slid back into a wall as Kracko went towards her while emitting big sparks from it's body.

"Nami, look out!" Tuff yelled from behind a wall as Nami lifted her head, showing a smirk.

"Heh heh! For having such a big eye, you sure are blind." Nami got one knee and placed her PCT vertically in front of her. "In today's forecast, humongous lightning bolts will pierce through clouds without warning!" Nami noticed that the dark cloud she threw behind Kracko got mixed with the big cloud that was a few inches from the ground, making it one bit dark thunder cloud. Nami impaled her PCT to the ground, and jumped to her left as Kracko turned to see her jump. "THUNDER LANCE TEMPO!"

The big dark cloud then fired a humongous lightning bolt towards the PCT, going right through Kracko's eye in the process. As Kracko was getting fried, Nami continued to run away until…

BOOM!!

Kracko exploded into stars as they faded soon afterwards. Nami got up and panted heavily as Tuff quickly approached. "You did it! You defeated Kracko! You are amazing!"

"I know, kid. I know." Nami said while getting up. She went back to get her PCT, but had to wait until the electricity it received wears off. "If this Nightmare can make monsters out of this, I don't even want to know how powerful he is."

"Look! The clouds are clearing up!" Tuff said. Nami looked up to see that the clouds are getting thinner, but their were still dark and eerie to look at.

"… Wh-What!?" Nami said as she and Tuff were shocked upon seeing what was behind those thin clouds.

Meanwhile…

In the Kabu mountains, their was some things going on. "You will not succeed! You will be stopped!" Kabu said. He was talking to his visitors, which were none other then Juni, Juli, and Bison.

"Nyeh heh heh… so you can talk, huh?" Bison asked with a grin, "Things have gotten so much interesting."

Chapter 79: The duel between the greatest swordsman, Zoro vs Metaknight

A few minutes before Nami defeated Kracko, at Dynablade's mountains, Dynablade's baby, Dynababy, is happily eating some fruit that some Sanji brought a little while ago. Sanji smiled as he was sitting on a chair, drinking some tea next to table.

"Ha… it sure does feel good to do the right thing." Sanji said, "Who knows what would have happen if I didn't come along to save the day."

Sanji takes a sip from his tea, and smiles once more at Dynababy, as it was now cuddling with it's mother, Dynablade. "This sure is relaxing.. I can be here all day." Sanji then takes another sip of his tea, but his eyes then widened in surprise as he just remembered something. "WAIT JUST A SECOND! I DON'T TIME TO BE DRINKING SOME TEA!!"

Sanji flipped over the table enraged, which caught Dynablade's and it's baby's attention.

"I gotta go back to the castle, and give that penguin a big piece of my mind!" Sanji said while panting angrily. He then stopped, and faced towards Dynablade. "Thank you once again for saving me from that volcano." He said while bowing politely, "I have to go now. I hope you and your baby have a healthy life together.

Dynablade nodded gratefully as Dynababy chirped happily. Sanji stood straight, and waved goodbye to them as he then started to walk out of their cave. Sanji then does multiple jumps until he was back on the edges of the mountain. From there, he could see Dedede's castle from afar.

"-sigh-… It's going to be a long walk from here to the castle." Sanji said, "But, why is it so dark at this hour?" Sanji looks up, and his eyes widened in shock. "Are those… monsters!? How come they are falling from the sk-YYYY!?" Sanji wasnt paying attention to where he was walking, and accidentally fell over the edge of the mountain.

"Whoooaaaaa!!" Sanji shouted in shock as he was falling all the way down to the ground. "Damn it!" Sanji recovered his balance in midair, and was ready to land on the ground with his feet. "Atleast I recovered…"

In addition to Sanji's accident, a bomb Demon beast was happily walking on the ground beneath him. "Wha? What is that?" Sanji asked. The bomb Demon beast looked up at Sanji, and smiled as it then took out a big bomb from it's small pockets.

"YOU'RE KIDDING ME!" Sanji asked in shock. The demon beast then threw the bomb at Sanji, and…

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMM!!

"YAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!"

Sanji went flying upwards after that explosion as the Bomb demon beast laughed at his misery before it left to do it's own business.

Meanwhile…

Bison simply smirked at Kabu, who was not happy to see him. "It is truly a surprise to see something like this here." Bison said, "And to think that I thought that this world is nothing but a waste of space. I should stop judging things by it's cover."

"I know who you are." Kabu said, "You are nothing but a black-hearted fiend that seeks nothing but power. And I also know that you are one of those people that intend to gather more of your wretched to rule that cursed world of yours."

"Oh? Seems like somebody has been paying attention someone else's plots." Bison said with a cruel smirk, "Even though you know of my schemes, you, nor anyone else, will stop me from achieving my goals."

"You're wrong." Kabu said, which made Bison frown a bit, "You will not achieve what you desire. Instead, you will suffer a great demise that has yet to come."

Bison then placed his palm on his chest, pretending to be sad, "I will suffer my great demise? That sounds so disturbing…" Bison said as he then smiled wickedly, "Nyeh heh heh heh heh heh! How foolish of you to say such things." Bison said with a smirk, "Look around you, statue! This world has already been engulfed by the darkness you hate so much. It's obvious that you are afraid; that's why you say such nonsense."

"Believe what you like. You will not escape from your destiny." Kabu said. Bison scoffed at Kabu, and looked at the dark sky.

"It doesn't seem that things will be much brighter after this." Bison said, "For once, I intend to be merciful. Let us get the warp star, and we promise to leave you with less damage."

"I will not submit to your threats." Kabu said, "Do what you want with me; I won't let you take my dignity."

"Very well…" Bison said with a frown. "Juni! Juli! Let's get rid of this statue!"

"Yes sir!" Juni and Juli said simultaneously and emotionlessly as they followed Bison as he walked closer to Kabu.

"WWWWWHHHH HHHHHHHO OOOOOOOOO OOOAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA!!"

CRASH!!

"Hmm?" Bison looked behind his shoulder, and saw a big dust screen. As the dust screen cleared, he saw none other than Sanji, who was groggily getting back up on his feet.

"Ohh… this just isn't my day.." Sanji said dazedly. He then looks in front of him, and sees Bison. "Who is that?" Sanji's eyes then widened once he saw Juni and Juli. "HOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOHHHH!?" Sanji noticed how beautiful they were, even if they are emotionless. "WOW!! YOU TWO LOOK SO AMAZING!! MELLORINE, MELLORINE, MELLORINE!!"

Sanji was happily dancing, with a big heart over his visible eye as Bison was getting annoyed.

"Who is this fool?" Bison asked bitterly while facing towards Sanji.

"He appears to be one of the pirates in one of Dimentio's descriptions, sir." Juni said emotionless.

"He is? What a surprise. I didn't expect to see another one so quickly." Bison said as he smirked at Sanji, who was still dancing.

"After all the horrible things that happened to me today, seeing such beauties in front of me was all worth it!" Sanji said while dancing happily.

"Hey, you. Do you mind stopping your dance for a second?" Bison asked.

"Huh?" Sanji stopped dancing, and noticed Bison again. "Oh… what do you want?"

"I was just wondering that, you wouldn't happen to be one of those primitive pirates that have been going to other worlds, are you?" Bison asked.

"How does he know that?" Sanji thought while narrowing his eyes. "Yeah, I am. So what about it?"

"I knew it." Bison said with a big smirk, "You have been causing a lot of problems to us lately. It's awfully rude of you to interfere in our goals."

"Goals? Wait… are you..!?" Sanji asked in shock.

"That's right." Bison said, "My name is M. Bison; one of the rulers of the new world, Obscurum. Ever since you stopped Giovanni in Indigo Plateau, recruiting rulers has gotten more difficult. At first, we didn't bother dealing with you, but ever since you and your comrades have taken down the likes of Ganondorf, Deathborn, and Ridley, I believe that disposing you would be the right thing to do."

Sanji lowered his head with a frown, taking out a cigarette from his pocket.

"And after we finish off you and your comrades, our goal will be much easier to accomplish." Bison said with a clenched fist, "So I suggest that you surrender now, and I will assure you that your death will be painless."

"Are you done?" Sanji asked while lighting up his cigarette. He then placed it on his lips as he then glared at Bison. "It's hard to believe that some shitty ruler as yourself wants to get rid of me without knowing what I can do. Just because you have power, doesn't mean that you will win."

"Ha! What do you know?" Bison asked, "Power is what gives people strength. Those who don't have power are useless! That is why you will never stand a chance against me!"

"You talk too much…" Sanji replied bitterly as he pointed himself, "If you think that you can beat with power alone, then be my guest! I have something more powerful than power itself; and that is my passion! That's what real strength comes from!"

Bison simply got silent as he smirked afterwards. "Either you are acting very confident and brave, or you are just simply that cocky and ignorant. If you think you that your passion could overcome my power, then show me!" Bison yelled, "But first, why don't you test your passion against my elite warriors? Juni! Juli! Give this fool the punishment he deserves!"

"Yes, sir!" Juni and Juli said simultaneously as he they stood in front of Bison, and towards Sanji.

"Punishment?… They are really going to punish me!? Oh, how joyful!" Sanji said happily while delightfully clasping his hands together. Sanji obviously got the wrong idea what Bison meant by 'punishment', as Juni and Juli leaped towards him.

Meanwhile…

Zoro and Metaknight clashed their swords against eachother, creating a invisible force around them. They then jumped back as Zoro raised his sword. "SANJU-ROKU POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung his blade, creating a cutting wave that went towards Metaknight. Metaknight simply sidestepped the wave as it crashed into a castle wall behind him, leaving a crack on it. Metaknight then charged at Zoro, swinging his sword at him. "Grr!" Zoro attempted to parry Metaknight's slashes, but his speed was very fast compared to his other opponents he faced so far. Zoro then manage to parry Metaknight's last slash, and push him back in a distance. Zoro panted as Metaknight didn't seem to be breaking a sweat.

"I was right about you." Zoro panted while smirking, "You really are strong."

"You are not too bad yourself." Metaknight replied, "I never knew that anybody would wield three swords at the same time, yet do it so perfectly. But that won't be enough to protect yourself."

Zoro noticed that Metaknight gave him some small cuts around his legs, but he didn't care that much. "You really are going to relieve my boredom. Coming to this world wasn't so bad after all."

"Then let us continue." Metaknight said as Zoro then charged at him. He swung his left sword downward at Metaknight, who jumped out of the way and countered with a double horizontal swing, which Zoro quickly parried. Zoro then did a lower 360 degree spin with his swords, which Metaknight avoided by jumping up in the air.

"Gotcha!" Zoro then swung his sword upward, which Metaknight parried. Zoro then swung his other sword to knock Metaknight's sword out of the way, leaving him wide open for an attack. "Hiya!" Zoro then swung the sword in his mouth at Metaknight, thinking that he would slash him. But suddenly, Metaknight's cape turned into bat wings as he flew over the Zoro's slash. "What!?" Zoro was shocked to see Metaknight have wings as Metaknight quickly flew back to the ground, with his wings turning back into his cape. "I did not expected that."

Metaknight then charged at Zoro with a running kick, which Zoro parried with one sword, and then countered with his other sword, but Metaknight was quick as he used his sword to knock Zoro's attacking sword out of his hand. Metaknight jumped, and grabbed Zoro by the arm as his cape turned into wings again. He thrusted the tip of his wings to Zoro, who quickly moved his head out of the way, and parried Metaknight's attack with the sword in his mouth. Zoro then knocked Metaknight off of him as he then quickly rolled sideways while retrieving his other sword back. Zoro then turned around, and instantly parried Metaknight's slash with all his swords.

Metaknight backed off a bit, and flapped his wings as he flew at Zoro, repeatedly slashing at him while in midair. Zoro tried to be defensive, but he was a bit slow for Metaknight as he was getting small cuts on his chest. "Gah!" Zoro retaliated by slashing back at Metaknight, who was dodging, and slashing back while in midair. Metaknight then got back on the ground, and charged at Zoro with a triple upper slash, which Zoro blocked, but got knocked upward due to the force of the slash. Metaknight jumped above Zoro, who tried protecting himself with his swords, but Metaknight quickly knocked them away with his sword, leaving Zoro wide open.

"TAKANAMI!" Zoro quickly retaliated by letting out a strong gust with his swords, blowing Metaknight back a bit. This gave the time for Zoro to land on the ground with his feet, and raises two of his swords, "NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU! Zoro lets out a stronger cutting wave than his previous one as it headed towards Metaknight, who flew up in the air with his wings.

"GALAXIA SWORD BEAM!" Metaknight swung his sword downward, creating a big crescent-shaped cutting wave that went right through Zoro's cutting wave, and straight towards Zoro.

"Whoa!" Zoro quickly rolled out of the wave as the cutting wave cuts right through the ground, and a castle wall behind him. Zoro looked at his surroundings to see how destructive it was. "Heh! That was good!" Zoro said with a smirk as he then ran across a castle wall next to him, and then jumped towards Metaknight. "KARASUMA GARI!" Zoro performed multiple slashes at Metaknight in midair. Surprisingly, Metaknight was fast enough to parry all of Zoro's slashes. As they both were falling to the ground, they continued to slash at eachother. Zoro then quickly dodges one of Metaknight's slashes, and ended up being him.

"SAIKURU!" Zoro puts his swords around his forehead, and spins quickly while falling down towards Metaknight. Metaknight quickly gets back on the ground, and jumps out of the way as Zoro did multiple slashes on the garden floor. As Zoro was getting up, Metaknight got behind him, and attempted to slash him, but Zoro quickly ducked as Metaknight went over him. As Metaknight was about to land on the ground, Zoro crossed his swords. "ONI GIRI!" Zoro dashed at Metaknight, who quickly turned around and swung his sword at Zoro, who swung his swords while going right through Metaknight. There was a little pause as Metaknight received a small cut on both of his gloves.

"Excellent attack! But this duel has yet to be over." Metaknight said while looking at Zoro while facing towards him.

"Ha!" Zoro laughed as he then turned around, and charged at Metaknight again. He repeatedly swung his swords at Metaknight, who parried them all before countering with his own slashes. Zoro blocked some of them, and countered with a horizontal slash, which Metaknight jumped over, and countered with a horizontal slash while in midair. Zoro parried it, and swung his other sword downward at Metaknight, who parried it as he got back on the ground with his feet. After avoiding a couple of slashes, Metaknight leaped sideways around Zoro, trying to slash his upper body, but Zoro managed to parry his attacks as he got back on the ground.

Metaknight leaped sideways around Zoro once more, only he did 720 degree slash that knocked Zoro back a bit. Metaknight quickly got back on the ground, and used his wings to fly straight at Zoro. Zoro quickly did a side-step, avoiding Metaknight's thrust with his sword, as he then countered by lowering two of his swords down at Metaknight's back, but while in midair, Metaknight was able to face his body upward, and parry Zoro's attack. Metaknight, however, fell on his back hard after parrying such a strong attack as Zoro then pointed his swords down at him, and was about to thrust them down, until rolled forward to dodge, and ended up back on his feet.

Zoro then stood straight, placing his swords horizontally in front of him, "SANTORYU: KUJAKU DANSU!" Zoro leaped towards Metaknight, spreading his out swords. Metaknight quickly dodged a horizontal slash from Zoro, but barely noticed Zoro doing an upper vertical slash afterwards.

"Ah!" Metaknight had to parry Zoro's second attack, but he lost his balance after parrying as Zoro continued to swing his swords around in a unpredictable way. "Hm? What is that?" As Metaknight was barely dodging Zoro's slashes, he saw blue afterimages of Zoro being left behind after each swing Zoro does with his swords. The images were confusing Metaknight as Zoro manage to surround him with them. "For some reason, I cannot tell which one is real!" Metaknight said in frustration as he then looked forward, and saw the real Zoro charging at him, but it was too late for Metaknight to dodge or parry.

"KUJAKU PI-KU!" Zoro's afterimages all came rushing back from behind Zoro, and formed a spiritual peacock that coated with Zoro's blades afterwards. Zoro then used this new power to do a double thrust at Metaknight.

"GAAHHH!!" Metaknight cried as he instantly flew back into a castle wall, leaving a big hole in it upon impact. The spiritual peacock disappeared as Zoro panted afterwards.

"DRILL RUSH!" To Zoro's surprise, Metaknight came flying out of the castle wall, spinning himself while facing his sword in front of him, making him look like a big drill. Zoro tried to get away, but Metaknight followed him wherever he ran to. Zoro couldn't outrun his attack as he then faced towards Metaknight, and faced all his swords in front of him. Metaknight thrusted at Zoro's sword, drilling him upward until he no longer can parry. Metaknight stopped as he drove Zoro up in the air as he then flew in front of Zoro, and did a strong double slash across Zoro's chest.

"Guah!!" Zoro cried in pain as Metaknight finished his combo with a lower horizontal slash across Zoro's chest, causing Zoro to crash down to a castle wall, creating a dust screen. Metaknight got back on the ground as his wings turned back into his cape. He waited until the dust screen cleared off, but before it did, Metaknight noticed something glowing in it. "ENBIMA YONEZU!" The dust screen cleared as it revealed Zoro with his swords across his chest, with a spirit floating behind him.

"Uh!? He is still willing to fight?" Metaknight asked.

"ONI GIRI!" Zoro dashed at Metaknight, who quickly grabbed his cape.

"DIMENSIONAL CAPE!" Metaknight wrapped his cape around himself as Zoro then slashed right through him, creating a trail of blue fire behind the tips of his swords. Zoro realized that he felt no contact with Metaknight as he looked behind his shoulder to see Metaknight was no longer in sights.

"Where did-"

SLASH!

"Guah!" Zoro got slashed across the chest by Metaknight, who somehow got behind him. Zoro fell on his back in pain as Metaknight looked down on him.

"I can use my cape to disappear, and reappear in short distance. It is my last resort for dodging the impossible." Metaknight said. Metaknight then turned around, and noticed that Zoro was bleeding from his chest. "Listen, I do not wish to harm you any further. Just leave now."

"Tsk! Yeah, right!" Zoro said while groggily getting up. "You think this is enough to take me down? You'd wish." Zoro stood straight, as Metaknight took a step back, "Now, let's keep going."

Metaknight's eyes glowed green for a couple of seconds as he then went to his fighting pose. "Fine, then." Metaknight said. Without warning, Metaknight leaped at Zoro while his cape turned into wings again. He repeatedly slashed at Zoro, who started parrying most of Metaknight's slashes as he was forced up against a wall. Metaknight then thrusted his sword at Zoro, but Zoro used all his three swords to knock Metaknight's sword out of his hand, and far up in the air. As Metaknight flew up to retrieve it, Zoro quickly faced towards the wall, and crossed all his swords.

"SANTORYU: YASHA KARASU!" Zoro spins up along the wall, leaving numerous of cuts shaped like crows' feet on the way up to Metaknight. Once Metaknight retrieved his sword, he looked down, and his eyes widened to see Zoro spinning towards him. Metaknight flew upward to avoid Zoro's spinning attack as Zoro. Metaknight quickly got on the castle wall as his bat wings turned back into a cape as Zoro then showed up in front of him, with his blades still crossed with eachother. "KARASU GIRI!" Zoro ends his continuous attack by lowering all his swords down at the ground, leaving several cuts all over the castle wall structure.

"What the!?" Luckily for Metaknight, he was able to avoid that immense attack by standing on part of the ground that wasn't going to be cut.

"MACH TORNADO!" Metaknight span himself with his sword held up high, creating a tornado cutting waves around himself as he went towards Zoro.

"TATSU MAKI!" Zoro did a 360 degree spin, creating a tornado of cutting waves of his own. Both of their attacks collided with eachother, trying to overpower the other. This lasted for about ten seconds until neither of them could continue the their attacks as their tornadoes then vanished. As Zoro tried to regain his composure, Metaknight already regained his, and charged at Zoro.

"SHUTTLE LOOP!" Metaknight does a frontal back flip with his wings, knocking Zoro up in the air with his sword.

"Gyeh!" Zoro limplessly went up in the air as the castle wall he and Metaknight were on, crumbled into big pieces after going through a lot of damage. Zoro eyes widened, and angrily faced towards Metaknight with his arms spread out. "ICHI GORILLA!" Zoro flexed his left bicep, making it look bigger, "NI GORILLA!" Zoro did the same with right biceps, making him look stronger.

"DRILL RUSH!" Metaknight once again faced his sword at Zoro, and span like drill towards him again.

"NIGORI ZAKE!" Zoro strongly swung both of his swords, colliding the tips of his blade at Metaknight's sword. They both tried to overpower themselves while in midair, however, both of their attacks were so strong that they cancelled eachother in a matter of seconds. Zoro started to fall down faster as he readied all his three swords while Metaknight raised his blade. "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!"

"GALAXIA SWORD BEAM!"

Both of them let out their moves powerful cutting waves at eachother. They both then collided, creating a great explosion that sends both Zoro and Metaknight falling back into different directions. Once that explosion was over, the once beautiful front garden now looked like some deserted ruins, but Zoro and Metaknight did not care as they somehow got right back on their feet. They panted heavily as they were both heavily injured.

"Giving up yet?" Metaknight asked while panting.

"No way. This.. is just a warm up." Zoro replied. They both then charged at eachother once more.

Meanwhile…

Kirby started to inhale a rock demon beast, which he eventually succeeded on doing so. After inhaling the demon beast, Kirby jumped in the air and his skin turned a dark green, and now has blue hat with a star on it. "STONE KIRBY!" Kirby turned into a big rock of himself, and fell on a couple of demon beasts, flattening them to their demise.

"Ow! Nice one, puffball bro!" Franky said while beating up another demon beast.

Usopp, Lololo, and Lalala were still hiding behind a tree to prevent any confrontations. "Usopp, shouldn't you be helping them?" Falala asked.

"As a powerful captain, I cannot let myself get all the action, so I am letting Franky take care of minor ones for now." Usopp said while nervously hiding behind the tree.

"Oh, I see." Lalala replied.

"There are still too many of them. This will probably go on for a while." Lololo said.

"As long as we have the upper hand, then their is nothing to worry about." Usopp said, "I wonder how everyone else is doing?"

"H-Hey! Look at that!" Lololo and Lalala yelled simultaneously.

"What? What is-WHAT IN THE WORLD!?" Usopp cried.

Kirby and Franky stopped fighting and looked at the sky, and saw that the dark clouds were thinning up, but that wasn't the reason why they are surprised.

"A UFO!!" Usopp yelled while pointing at the sky.

It was indeed a humongous UFO in the skies, which was bigger than Dedede's castle. From the bottom of the UFO, you could see demon beasts coming out of it.

"We are being invaded!?" Franky asked.

"AAAAAAAHHHH!! WE'RE BEING INVADED!! WE ARE ALL GOING TO DIE!!" Usopp panicked while running around in circles.

"What!? We're going to die!?" Lololo asked nervously.

"Calm down!" Franky barked angrily. He then looked at the UFO as he rubbed his chin, "Atleast we now know where the kiddy monsters are coming from. The question is, how do we get rid of that thing?"

"I am not going to stay here and find out! I am running for my life!" Usopp yelled as he started to run away with his hands in the air.

"Usopp, wait!" Lalala yelled as she and Lololo went to go after Usopp.

"Poyo?" Kirby asked.

"We cannot attack it from here; it's too far." Franky said. "If we had a weapon that could shoot all the way over there, then we can do something. But we don't have the kind of material to destroy something like that." Franky then noticed that there were no more demon beasts attacking them. "That's funny; where all the kiddy monsters?"

"Ho ho ho ho ho! I dismissed them for the time being."

Franky and Kirby looked to their right, and saw none other than Customer Service behind the bushes. "Kirby. It's so nice to see you again."

"Poyo!" Kirby said angrily.

"Who is that guy?" Franky asked.

"Oh, I see you have a new comrade with you, Kirby." Customer Service replied kindly, "It is nice to meet you. I am Customer Service; I used to sell demon beasts to my loyal customers, such as His Majesty, King Dedede."

"So you are the fruitcake that is behind all this?" Franky asked while tilting his head sideways, "Bro, you made a bad move when you came here by yourself."

"It is so kind of you to worry about me." Customer service replied, "However, I did not come here by myself; nor I am the one responsible for all this."

"Eh? What do you mean?" Franky asked.

"Po-Poyo!?" Kirby said.

"Nightmare? You mean that guy that attacked here some time ago?" Franky asked, "But I thought he was gone."

"Ho ho ho ho ho ho! Nightmare will not die so easily." Customer Service said, "He will arrive here in just a few minutes. While we wait, why don't I please him by taking care of Kirby?"

"You want piece of puffball bro, huh?" Franky asked while cracking his knuckles, "Well, if you want him, you have to go through me, bro!"

"Suit yourself. I don't mind if you tag along at all." Customer Service said as he then grinned, "Now then…"

Customer Service then seemed to hid under the bushes. "Eh?" Franky was confused as he heard some sounds from the bushes behind Customer Service. Customer Service then came out of the bushes, which shocked Franky. The thing that surprised Franky was that Customer Service has no legs, but only feet; making him look really short. In fact, he is almost as short as Kirby.

"AHAHAHAHAHA! You are freakishly short, bro! Were you stepping on a step ladder behind those bushes? Ahahahaha!" Franky laughed, but Customer Service didn't seem to mind.

"Laugh at all you want, sir. But I wont be fighting like this." Customer Service, "Allow me to show you one of the strongest demon beasts I have yet to show anyone."

Customer Service snapped his fingers, causing the UFO to shoot out a beam of light up in the air above him. The beam formed into a big, and golden suit of armor, which was twice as bigger than Franky. It also a spike on it's helmet, feet with no legs, and holding a spiky flail. The armor landed on the ground behind Customer Service as it's chest opened up.

"Ho ho ho ho!" Customer Service laughed as he got inside the armor as it's chest closed up. The armor was now moving as Franky and Kirby got ready to fight. "Prepare to face ultimate wrath of Masher Ver. 1.5! It may be not be as strong as Ver. 2, but it will suffice for you two."

"You intend to rip us apart with that?" Franky asked, "It may look tough, but it ain't enought to stop us! Let's go, Puffball bro!"

"Poyo!" Kirby nodded. They both charged at Masher, who readied it's flail.

Meanwhile…

Let's see how Luffy and Tiff are doing.

"Waaaaaaaaahhhh!!"

Luffy and Tiff were still running away from that boulder from that last chapter. They quickly ran to left part of the hallway as the boulder crashed into the wall.

"Phew! Another close one." Luffy said.

"I want this to end already." Tiff said.

"It will end once we get out." Luffy said with a smile, "And I am sure that we go that way, we'll find our way out!"

Luffy took one step forward, and stepped on a trap panel. Luffy gasped as Tiff slapped her forehead. "Can you be more careful where you step on!?"

Suddenly, boxing gloves with springs at the end started to pop out of the walls, with one of them hitting Luffy in the face.

"Whoa!" Luffy rubbed his face in pain until another boxing glove hits him in the stomach.

"Let's get out of here!" Tiff yelled. Tiff and Luffy were running as fast as they could to get out of the hallway. Tiff was able to avoid the attacking boxing gloves, but Luffy wasnt so lucky as within every step he took, he gets hit in the face.

"Hoh, gah, hee, heh, oof!"

They eventually got out of the hallway as Tiff panted while Luffy almost was unconscious. "Gah… this place is getting on my nerves." Luffy said while trying to stay conscious.

"Luffy…" Tiff said, "If this is happening to us, then something like this could be happening to your friends. Will they be okay?"

Luffy just stared at Tiff until he kindly patted her head. "You worry too much. My crew can get out of anything. You'll see once we get out of here."

Tiff smiled upon hearing that. "Right! Let's go!"

Luffy and Tiff continued to find a way out, with more traps awaiting them.

Meanwhile…

"Run, Usopp! Run!" Lololo yelled as he and Lalala were ahead of Usopp, who was fearfully running away from some demon beasts.

"Get away from me!! AAAAHH!!" Usopp screamed as he then dived into some bushes, along with Lololo and Lalala. The demon beasts got in front of the bushes, and opened them up to see a scared Usopp with his hammer.

"USOPP HAMMER!"

BAM!

"USOPP HAMMER!"

BAM!

"USOPP WAGUUUUMO!"

SNAP!

"USOPP HAMMER!"

BAM!

Usopp knocked all the demon beasts out with his hammer, and rubberband, leaving big bumps on their heads. Usopp panted heavily as he closed the bushes.

"That was cool, Usopp! You took care of them all!" Falala said.

"Ha… I only attack at the right moment. You thought I was scared, didn't ya? Ha ha!" Usopp laughed weakly.

"Yeah, we thought you were." Lololo said, "But it's funny how those demon beasts were all the way over here. They shouldn't be that fast."

They then heard sounds coming from the other side of the bushes.

"Eek! What's that!?" Usopp asked.

"Let's find out." Lololo whispered. The trio looked through the other side of the bushes, and saw an odd demon beast. It looked like Lololo and Lalala, only his hands are floating around his head, and has feet, and it's skin color was orange. He is also wearing a baseball cap, and roller skates. He seemed to be painting something on a canvas.

"Hey, that's Paint Roller!" Lalala said. "He must have something to do with the demon beasts around here."

"Wh-What do you mean?" Usopp asked nervously. The creature known as Paint Roller finished painting on the canvas, and showed that he painted a demon beast. The demon beast he painted then came to life as it popped out of the canvas, and started to run off. "It came to life!? How!?"

"What ever Paint Roller paints, it comes to life. That's his ability." Lololo said, "And if he keeps doing that, Dreamland is going to be filled with Demon beasts in a matter of hours."

"Hey, I know! Usopp could face him!" Falala said happily as Usopp flinched.

"Yeah! This is the perfect time for Usopp to face a strong demon beast like that! Right, Usopp?" Lololo asked.

"Ah, well, you see, I.. I don't know.. it really doesn't look all that powerful to me." Usopp lied nervously.

"Come on! We can't let it run loose! You are our only hope now!" Lalala said. Usopp just stared at Lololo and Lalala, who were eager to see Usopp in action. Not wanting to disappoint them, Usopp stood out of the bushes.

"I will handle it." Usopp said bravely as he then slowly approached Paint Roller from a distance. "H-Hey you! Stop what are you doing at once! I, Captain Usopp, is here to stop your evil ways!"

Paint Roller didn't even notice Usopp as he was still painting. "I-I-I am not kidding! Stop at once, or face severe consequences!"

Paint Roller continued to paint.. and paint… and paint…

"STOP PAINTING ALREADY!!" Usopp barked angrily. This time, he got Paint Roller's attention as he turned around to face Usopp. Usopp gulped as his legs were shaking in fear. "How dare you come here, and bring chaos to this land!? Now you will have to face the wrath of my sheer power. I must warn you, though, that I have the power to bring nothing but utter destruction to my opponents. You will be trembling in fear and regret once I am through with you!"

Lololo and Lalala stared at Usopp's greatness as they didn't realize that Usopp was scared as a mouse. "Calm down, Usopp. Just say some more things, and he might run away." He thought. Paint Roller just stood there, looking at Usopp. Usopp blinked, and saw how innocent Paint Roller looked. He started to feel guilty for the things he said.

"Oh, I cant stay mad at you. You don't seem to be the kind that would hurt a fly." Usopp said, "In fact, you look so cute, that you could be a plushie or something."

Paint Roller seemed to be happy hearing that as he then started to paint something on the canvas. "Hey, what are you painting now, little guy?" Usopp asked happily. Paint Roller then got out of the way for Usopp to see his painting. "Hey, that looks like a cann-ON!! AAAAAAAAHHH!!"

BOOOOM!!

"WHOOOOAAAA!!" Usopp fearfully jumped back as the cannon Paint Roller painted shot out cannon ball at the ground that Usopp was on. Usopp was on his hands and knees as he panted heavily. "Hey! That wasn't very-NICE!?" Usopp saw that the cannon was still shooting more cannon balls as he then started to run around in circles to avoid them.

"Uh… is that part of his battle plan?" Lalala asked curiously.

"Let's just see what happens." Lololo said as he and Lalala continued to watch Usopp running away in fear.

Meanwhile…

A little creature came out of Whispy Woods, panting heavily as he fell on his little knees and hooves. It was none other than Chopper, who we finally get to see again after all this time.

"Yes! I am finally out of the forest!" Chopper exclaimed happily, "Now I can finally go to the castle, and stop Dedede!"

Chopper then opened his eyes, and saw the chaos happening in Dreamland. "What's going on?"

Chapter 80: Fighting the strong demon beasts, To Dedede's castle!

Chopper looked at his surroundings, wondering what in the world is going on. "What has been going on around here? Why is..!?" Chopper looked up at the sky, and saw the big UFO hovering above the village, which caused his eyeballs to pop out of his head in fear.

"What is that!?" He asked. He then noticed the demon beasts that were running all over the place. "W-Wah!" Chopper turned into his walking point, and galloped his way to safety. "I have no idea what is going on; but I have to protect my friends first!"

Chopper narrowed his eyes as he galloped his way to Dedede's castle.

Meanwhile…

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm at Masher, who knocked it away with it's big arm. Franky quickly reeled in his arm back, and opened his left wrist. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired big blasts at Masher, but it didn't even faze the creature.

"Ho ho ho ho ho! You are really are unique, aren't you, sir?" Customer Service said from inside Masher, "Unfortunately, that is not sufficient enough to stop Masher!"

"We'll see about that, bro!" Franky said as he then charged at Masher. Masher lifted his humongous spiked flail, and span it over itself before throwing it at Franky, who sidestepped to dodge it. Before Masher could pull back it's flail, Franky got close to him while taking the skin off his right hand. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Masher in it's chest, but that only made it stagger a foot back.

"Ha!" Customer Service laughed as Masher used his left hand to knock Franky towards a beach shore.

"Guah!" Franky almost slid into the water as Masher retrieved it's flail, and started to spin it over itself again. But suddenly, Masher started to feel a big cold breeze from behind. Masher turned around, and saw that Kirby was now Ice Kirby, and was breathing a cold air at Masher.

"A little breeze won't be enough to defeat Masher either!" Customer Service said as Masher then threw it's mace as Kirby, who managed to dodge it. As Kirby got back on it's feet, Kirby breathed out an ice cube as big as himself, and then kicked it towards Masher, who shattered it with his foot. Kirby made three more ice cubes, and kicked them towards Masher, who raised it's foot to shatter them again.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, and hits Masher at the back of it's head as it fell forward, tripping on an ice cube that caused it fell forwardly on it's back. Kirby quickly jumped over Masher, breathing out a big cold wave that froze Masher to the ground. Once Kirby landed on the ground himself, Franky took a deep breath. "FRESH FIRE!" Franky breaths out a stream of fire into Masher, melting the ice around him. "Ha! That should do it!"

Once the fired died down, Masher's armor was now completely red with heat, alarming Franky and Kirby.

"Nice try, but Masher wont melt no matter how hot it gets!" Customer Service said.

Masher then jumped in the air, and landed hard on the ground, creating a fiery shockwave that knocked Franky and Kirby.

"Poyo!" Kirby got hit so hard, that he spat out his ice ability by accident. Kirby dazedly got back on his feet as Franky was pissed.

"A piece of junk like that won't ruin my week!" Franky said while twisting his left arm. "BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple bullets at Masher, who didn't faze at all since the bullets bounced off his armor. "Tsk!" Franky charged at Masher, until it jumped up in the air again. Franky then saw Masher's feet igniting like some boosters, and flew up even further. "That cant be good…"

"MASHER DIVE!" Masher used it's booster to go head first towards Franky. Franky rolled forwardly as Masher hits the ground with his head, creating a force that knocked Franky off his feet.

"Whoa!" Franky shouted as he limplessly crashed into a rocky cliff. Before Franky could get up, Masher instantly threw it's flail at him, and it was direct hit.

"Ho ho ho! I got you!… Huh?" Customer Service adjusted his sunglasses as Masher could not pull it's flail. "What could be wrong?"

It turns out that Franky was holding on to the flail, with a little blood going down his forehead after getting hit by it. "Grrrr!!" Franky was using his strength to prevent Masher to use it's flail again.

"Why you! Let go!" Customer Service demanded.

"Fine then!" Franky said as he then lets go of the flail, which instantly right into Masher's face afterwards.

"Ooohh!!" Masher fell on it's back as Franky panted.

"This is tougher than I thought." He said. He then noticed a sword demon beast running around, and grinned. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, and caught the sword demon beast. He then reeled his arm back as he faced towards Kirby beyond Masher. "Puffball bro, inhale this!"

"Poyo?" Kirby saw Franky throwing the sword demon beast over Masher, and towards him. Kirby opened his mouth, and inhaled the beast. Once he was done, he jumped in the air, and a green elf-like hat formed on his head, with a sword appearing on his round hand. Franky blinked in confusion upon this.

"So… he turns into the elf kid upon inhaling sword monsters? Weird.." Franky said, as he was referring to Link. Kirby then charged at Masher as it was getting up.

"SWORD BEAM!" Kirby jumps, and swings his sword downward, creating a cutting wave that struck Masher from behind, causing it to fall forward. Franky then charged at Masher, and got in front of him.

"STRONG UPPERCUT!" Franky does an uppercut with his steel fist on the Masher's face, knocking Masher up in the air. "Come on, puffball bro!" Franky shouted as he then jumped, with Kirby jumping on his shoulders, and then jumping above Masher. Kirby then delivered a strong slash across Masher's armor plated chest as it then started to fall down, with Franky clasping his hands together as Masher was a bit below him. "SUPA HAMMER!" Franky lowered his clasped arms, hitting Masher in the face as it then went down to the sandy beach shore like a rocket, creating a big sand screen upon impact. "Ow! Now that is how you hit someone!"

"Poyo!" Kirby said cheerfuly. Franky and Kirby then landed on their feet, and waited to see if Masher was still active or not. Once the sand screen cleared, Masher could be seen getting right back on it's feet.

"It seems that you two make quite a duo." Customer Service said, "I guess it's time to turn things up a notch."

Masher then grabs the chain of the flail, raising it and it's flail a few feet from the ground. "MASHER DISASTER!" Masher charged at Franky and Kirby, swinging it's flail and hilt all around itself. Franky managed to dodge the hilt, but Kirby got hit by it as he got knocked into the ocean.

"Puffball bro!" Franky shouted until he then noticed that the flail was coming towards his back.

BANG!

"Guah!" Franky cried as he got knocked into the ocean as well. Franky then emerged from the ocean, gasping for air. "Puffball bro! Where are ya!?"

"Ohh…"

Franky looked to his right, and saw Kirby with X marks over his eyes, meaning that he is almost knocked out. "Geh! Hold on to me!" Franky grabbed Kirby, and placed him on his back. "FRANKY BUTTERFLY!" Franky then did a butterfly stroke as he was quickly swimming back on land. Once he did, he saw Masher was about to swing it's hilt at him. "HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky faced towards the incoming, and raised his left arm in front of his body as it turned into a shield. Sadly, it was not strong enough to knock back the hilt as Franky, along with Kirby, went flying back after they got hit by it. While in midair, Franky quickly recovered his balance in midair, and looked towards Masher.

"FRANKY TRIANGLE JACKER!" Franky threw his sideburns as they were headed towards Masher. Masher simply jumped over them as Franky landed on the ground while taking a deep breath. "MASTER NAIL!" Franky spat out multiple needles that hits his sideburns, causing them to fly upward, and left a cross scratch on Masher's armor plate. Masher landed back on his feet as Franky was groggily getting up with Kirby still on his back.

"It seems you left a scratch on Masher's armor." Customer Service said, "I am going have to raise your charges for this."

"Go ahead; I wont be paying you a cent." Franky said with a smirk.

Meanwhile…

"Stop it! Stop it! Stop it!" Usopp cried in fear as it was running away by some demon beasts Paint roller painted earlier. When Usopp was far enough, he turned around while getting something out of his bag. "It's time for me to strike!" Usopp then charged at the demon beasts. "USOPP RUN-AWAY!" Usopp stopped, and started to run away again, dropping some spiked balls on the ground behind him. The demon beasts got hit by these, and vanished instantly. "Ha ha ha! Nothing can stop Captain Usopp!"

"Wow! He is amazing!" Lalala said from inside the bush as she and Lololo were watching Usopp's battle.

"Yeah, but I don't think Paint Roller is done yet." Lololo said.

Paint Roller simply started to pain something else on his canvas as Usopp took the chance to aim at him. "HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet at Paint Roller as it only had the time to turn around, and see it coming right at his face.

BOOOOOOMM!!

A big explosion hits where Paint Roller was as Usopp got happy. "Yes! Right on target!" He said as the smoke of the explosion dies down. "Huh?" After it did, Paint Roller was nowhere in sight. "Where did he go?"

"Usopp, he is right there!" Lololo exclaimed. Usopp looked towards his left, and saw Paint Roller painting on another canvas. "How did he get there so fast!?" Paint Roller then finished painting a dark cloud as it emerged from the canvas, and flew above Usopp. "Oh dear.."

ZAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAPP!!

"Daaaaaaabblblbllbllblbl!!" Usopp got fried as the thunder cloud faded soon afterwards. Usopp shakes his body to remove the burned rubble off him, and aimed at Paint Roller again. "NAMIRI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a lead pellet at Paint Roller, who quickly skates away to avoid. "If I keep him away from that canvas, he wont be able to do anything."

"Usopp, hurry! He is going to that other canvas!" Lalala exclaimed.

"Other canvas?" Usopp asked confusedly as Paint Roller did arrive at one of his canvases. "Since when was that there!?" Usopp then looked at his surroundings, and saw more canvas almost all around the meadow. "Where did all of those come from!?"

"He painted those while your were pretending to run away from those demon beasts from earlier!" Lololo exclaimed, "Don't give up, though! We know you can do it!"

"Eh… sure." Usopp said. Usopp looked at Paint Roller as he was finished painting a small demon beast that looks like a blimp with a painted skull on it. "HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a flaming pellet at the blimp.

BOOOM!!

The blimp exploded upon getting hit, knocking Usopp off his feet, and falling on to the ground on his back. "Nyehhh.. ah?" Usopp saw Paint Roller, skating to canvas after canvas every time he finishes painting something. One of his paintings turned out to be a small car that instantly came out of the canvas, and went straight towards Usopp. Usopp swiftly jumped with his legs spread as the little drove under him. Another painting then came out of the second canvas, which was a toy tank that shot out a big explosive blast at Usopp, who managed to dodge, but couldn't land on his feet. The third painting was a toy jet, which flew over Usopp while dropping some missiles down at him.

"Enough with the explosions already!" Usopp cried out as he avoided the missiles as they exploded upon the hitting the ground. Usopp then quickly aimed at Paint Roller. "USOPP KATAKI HOSHI BOSHI!" Usopp repeatedly fired explosive pellets at Paint Roller while jumping dramatically in the air. Paint Roller skated around the meadow to avoid Usopp's explosives, until one of them exploded in front of it, causing it to stop itself. Usopp then took this advantage to get out his hammer while landing on the ground, and then charging at Paint Roller. "USOPP HAMMER!" Usopp swung his hammer, but Paint Roller skated backwards to avoid it.

Paint Roller then skates close to a canvas behind him, and quickly painted some spears, which then came to life, and went straight towards Usopp. "Yikes!" Usopp dodged them all by moving his hips and legs. "HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a flaming pellet towards the canvas, which burned it into a crisp, preventing Paint Roller to paint on it. Paint Roller then skated towards another canvas, but Usopp used his legs to outrun Paint Roller, and get in front of it. "USOPP HAMMER!" Usopp horizontal swings his hammer at Paint Roller, who quickly ducked under Usopp's swing, and then skates towards it's canvas. Paint Roller painted some bats, which came to life as they flew around Usopp.

"Get away! Get away!" Usopp panicked while trying to whack away the bats in fear. "KEMURI BOSHI!" Usopp drops a smoke pellet at the ground, creating a smoke screen that scared off the bats. Usopp got out of the smoke screen, wiping his forehead in relief. "Now where did that painting maniac go?" He asked while looking at his surroundings.

He then noticed a shadow beneath him getting bigger and bigger. He gulped as he looked up to see a piano falling down at him. "YAAAAHH!" Usopp leaped out of the way as the piano crashed into the ground, shattering it to pieces. As Usopp got up, he looked behind his shoulder to see Paint Roller painting another object.

"I wont let you do that!" Usopp yelled while aiming at Paint Roller, "SANREN KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired three explosive pellets simultaneously at Paint Roller just as he finished painting something.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

Big explosions covered the area where Paint Roller was as Usopp thought he got him. "What!?" Usopp was wrong as the explosion was seem to be getting sucked up. Once the explosions were gone, it revealed that a vacuum cleaner sucked up the explosions. The vacuum cleaner then disappeared as Usopp slapped himself in disbelief. "What is with this guy!? Everything I do to him, he counters with something else!"

Before Usopp could complain a bit more, Paint Roller was painting on a canvas that was far away from him. Usopp aimed at Paint Roller as it finished painting a pink roundish creature, with bug-like wings, and a cute face. It came to life, and flew towards Usopp, but in a very slow way.

"What is that suppose to do? Hurt me?" Usopp asked. The creature heard this, and then flew at Usopp with tremendous speed, headbutting Usopp in the face before disappearing. "Guoh!" Usopp got knocked right into a tree behind him.

"Usopp!" Lalala cried as Usopp groggily got back on his feet.

"Okay.. this is getting out of control!" Usopp panted, "I wont let you make a fool out of me any longer!" Usopp then noticed Paint Roller painting something else. "Now what!?" Paint Roller painted a two story house, that came to life, and flew directly to Usopp, who was too dumbfounded to move.

"THAT IS NOT NATURAL!!" Usopp cried as he turned around, and tried to get away; but the house crashes into him from behind, and knocked him into the forest.

"Oh no! Usopp is in danger!" Lalala cried.

"Wait! That probably won't stop Usopp!" Lololo assured, "He is too strong to let some big house hurt him!

Usopp, however, was not strong enough as the house that crashed into him significantly injured him as he was twitching nervously. "I never thought a house could be a weapon." Usopp then got up confidently, "I wont let him beat me like this! Afterall, nobody can defeat Captain Usopp!" He then took a step forward, which injured his back a bit.

Meanwhile…

Back at Kabu mountains, Bison had his arms crossed as he was very displeased. "This is not what I expected at all." He said with a frown. In front of him, Juni and Juli looked down at the beaten Sanji, who was on the ground with several injuries on his body.

"This is it!? This is the strength of your passion you keep talking about!?" Bison asked angrily, "I have never seen such pathetic resistance in my life! And to think that I actually thought you were some sort of a challenge to me! But you didn't even raise a finger against my elite! You are not a warrior; you are a weakling!"

Sanji groggily got on his hands and knees, panting heavily as some of his blood went down his forehead. "You can't make me do this… even if it means dying."

"Huh?" Bison said curiously.

"I have been taught to never kick a woman." Sanji said while glaring at Bison, "I already have done that treacherous act before. I will not go through that again. You hear me!? I won't kick another woman as long as I live!"

"Heh! How foolish of you to act that way." Bison said while smirking, "You wouldn't survive my way of things with that attitude of yours. Although, I am surprised that someone like you have made it this far. Controlling you would be a waste of my energy."

"Controlling me?" Sanji asked.

"Hmm… I might as well tell you before you die." Bison said, "I am able to control people using my psycho powers. With this power, I am able to control even the strongest of warriors and creatures. Just like that irritating bird that tried to attack me today."

"Bird… !?" Sanji asked. He immediately thought of Dynablade. "You mean, you were the reason why that big bird from the mountains was acting berserk!?"

"It seems you confronted it, and lived." Bison said, "How awkward that you can defeat a creature like that if you cannot even fight properly against my elite. To tell you the truth, they are under my command as well."

"You fiend!" Sanji said angrily while getting on his knees, "How dare you brainwash these two beautiful women for you own needs!?"

"I don't have to answer to a weakling as yourself!" Bison replied, "It is time that we end your pathetic life! Juni! Juli! Finish him off!"

"Yes sir!" Juni and Juli replied as they went towards Sanji, who just stood there, waiting for the worst.

"DOS FLEUR!"

Juni and Juli saw two arms sprout from the ground in front of Sanji, and immediately jumped away before the hands could catch them. Bison raised an eyebrow in confusion as Sanji looked behind his shoulder to see none other than Robin.

" That's the girl from the castle. " Bison thought, " What an interesting ability she has… "

"Robin-chwan!" Sanji exclaimed happily as Robin walked to him.

"Are you feeling alright, Cook-san? You seem rather injured." Robin said concernedly.

"Oh, don't mind this! It just a scratch!" Sanji said happily as he tried to get up, but fell back on his rear. "Don't worry; I feel fine. You should get away while I deal with them."

"It's fine, Cook-san." Robin said kindly, "I can handle these people by myself if you don't mind."

"Ah… well.. I.." Sanji said as Robin got walked in front of Sanji, and faced towards Juni and Juli. Bison simply smirked at her presence.

"It seems we crossed paths yet again, Miss…?" Bison said.

"Robin. That is all you need to know from me." Robin said sternly while crossing her limbs.

"You seem to be quite talented, Miss Robin." Bison said, "However, if you intend to save that weakling behind you, then I suggest you give up now. Nobody has ever defeated my elite brigade, and they do not intend to lose to you."

"It does not matter." Robin replied, "I will still save Cook-san; even if it means beating your elite brigade."

"Nyeh heh heh heh heh! Well, then… if you insist on wasting your life for that weakling, then so be it!" Bison exclaimed as Juni and Juli then leaped at Robin, who was ready to fight.

Meanwhile…

"FRANKY BOXING!" Franky repeatedly punched Masher, but none of his fists were making Masher faze. Masher then raised it's right arm, and was about to lower it on Franky until Kirby, who was still Sword Kirby, jumped above Franky, and blocked Masher's arm with his sword. Masher then used it's other arm to knock both Franky and Kirby to the ground. "Grr!" Franky angrily got up, and aimed at Masher with his steel fist. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm at Masher, who dropped it's flail to try and catch it. Franky smirked as he quickly reeled his arm back, preventing Masher to catch it as it accidentally stumbled forward due to it's size.

"Poyo!" Kirby instantly ran at Masher, and did an upper slash at Masher's head, causing it to stagger back a bit. Franky then ran past Kirby, and aimed at Masher at close range with his left wrist open.

"CLOSE RANGE CANNON!" Franky fired at Masher at point blank range, creating a big explosion that sends Masher flying back into a cliff behind him. Franky panted until he then saw Masher got up, and used his boosters to fly towards Franky.

"MASHER TACKLE!" Masher tackled at Franky with great force.

"Guah!" Franky was knocked pretty far as he then crashed back on the sandy shore afterwards. Masher then picked up it's flail, and started to swing above itself as it then threw it at Franky.

"SWORD BEAM!" Kirby jumped in the air, and performed a cutting wave that struck the flail, knocking it aside as it failed to hit Franky. Masher then quickly grabbed the chain of the flail, and swung the hilt of the flail downward at Kirby, knocking him down to sand. "Oaah!" Masher then swung the hilt of it's flail at Kirby horizontally, knocking him right next to Franky. Masher then jumps high in the air, and was about to crush Franky and Kirby under it's own weight, until Franky raised his feet in the air.

"HEN TAI!" Franky's legs splits vertically, with the front half sliding to the front of Franky. "FRANKY KENTAUROS!" Franky grabbed Kirby, and did a back roll as they just barely avoided Masher's press. Before Masher could do anything else, Franky dropped Kirby, and then jumped at Masher, wrapping his legs around it's frontal body. "STRONG BARRAGE!" Franky started to punch Masher in the face with such great speed, that his arms were nothing but blurs. The more Masher was getting hit, the more it's face started to disfigure. Kirby helped out by getting behind Masher, and slashed at the back of it's feet, causing it to fall backwards.

"Ho ho ho ho ho ho!" Customer Service laughed as Masher instantly did a handstand with one hand to prevent itself from falling down. Franky and Kirby gasped as Masher then jumped off it's hands, and rolled in midair several times before grabbing Franky off it's face, and throwing him hardly into the sand.

"Poyo!" Kirby worryingly went to Franky, but Masher landed in front of him, and whacked him away with it's flail. Kirby got knocked into the cliff as Masher started to approach Kirby slowly afterwards.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm at Masher, and grabbed the spike on it's helmet. "You are dealing with me, bro!" Franky yelled angrily as he pulled back, trying to knock Masher on it's back. Sadly, Masher was a bit too strong for Franky as it swiftly moved it's head forward, whipping Franky over itself, and knocking him next to Kirby. Just as Masher was about to use it's flail, Franky had no choice but to open his left wrist again. "CLOSE RANGE CANNON!" Franky once again fired a big blast at Masher at close range, knocking Masher right into the ocean. Franky then got on his hands and knees, panting exhaustively.

"That thing really is pain!" Franky said angrily, "Hey, Puffball bro; why are you being the least helpful!?"

"Poyo?" Kirby asked.

"Yeah, you! I am trying to fight that piece of junk, while you are just resting your butt off over here!" Franky yelled angrily.

"Pooooyoooo!" Kirby responded angrily.

"What do you mean that is my fault!?" Franky asked.

"Poyo, poyo!" Kirby replied.

"Don't you 'Poyo, poyo!' me!" Franky yelled angrily while getting up, "You are the savior of this world! Why can't you stop fooling around, and fight this guy seriously already!?"

"Poyo! Poyo! Poyo!" Kirby replied angrily while getting up. Franky gasped in shock upon what he just heard.

"You take that back!" Franky yelled as he and Kirby glared at eachother.

Masher then emerged from the ocean waters, watching Franky and Kirby arguing. "Ho ho ho ho ho! You two don't have much of a team spirit, do you?" Customer Service asked. Franky and Kirby looked at Masher as it got out of the waters. "I do wish to see this argument, but I want to please Nightmare by disposing you both before he arrives." Masher then grabbed the chain of it's flail as Masher activated it's boosters, allowing him to hover up in the air. Masher then started to spin around in circles with it's flail and hilt spread out.

"This move will lead you to your defeat! MASHER SPINNER!" Masher spinned towards Franky and Kirby.

"Dammit!" Franky cursed as Kirby quickly got out of the way, but Franky wasn't so lucky as he got hit hard by Masher's flail. "GYAAAH!!" Franky went flying after getting hit so hard.

"POYO!" Kirby cried worryingly.

"I have you now, Kirby!" Customer Service said as Masher span towards Kirby from behind.

Back in the village, Kawasaki was whacking away some demon beasts out of his restaurant with a broomstick. "Get out of my restaurant!" He yelled angrily. One of the demon beasts grabbed his broomstick from his hands, and snapped it in two before throwing it away. Kawasaki gulped as the demon beasts approached him.

CRASH!!

"Huh?" Kawasaki blinked as the demon beasts got flattened by Franky, who was unconscious. "Franky! What happened to you!?"

Kawasaki asked worryingly. He didn't get a reply, which worried Kawasaki even more. "Oh… why did all this have to happen again?"

Kawasaki paced back and forth, thinking what to do, until he noticed that Franky's stomach was a bit opened. Kawasaki opened Franky's stomach to see the three bottles he has inside. "Oh, that's right; he gets power by using soda bottles! I wonder if… it's worth a shot!"

Kawasaki hurried back into his restaurant, and went into the kitchen. He took out something from the storage room. They were three red bottles, with a label of a spicy curry on it. Kawasaki hurried outside the restaruant with the bottles, and quickly took out the bottles Franky had inside him, and replaced them with the red bottles. He then closed Franky's stomach, and took a step back to see the results.

"My new spicy soda should do the trick! It is made from the juices of my best dish, the spicy curry! If this doesn't work, then nothing will!" Kawasaki said.

At first, nothing seemed to be happening; but after a few seconds, Franky opened his eyes as they glowed red. Franky's background theme could also be heard as he magically got back on his feet without using his hands. His body was also emitting a flaming aura as placed his hands on his knees, gathering enough energy to scream.

"SSSSSSUUU UUUUUUUU UUUUUUUU UUUUUUU UUUUUUUU UUUUUUUU UUUUUUUU UUUUUUUU UUUUUUUUU UUUUUUUUP AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAA!!"

And just like that, Franky jumped super high in the air, going all the way back to where Kirby and Masher are fighting.

"Ha ha! Go get them, Franky!" Kawasaki cheered on.

Back in the sandy shore, Kirby just got hit by Masher's spinning attack, causing him to spit out his sword ability. Kirby dazedly tried to stay conscious as Masher was turning around to spin at him again.

"Ho ho ho! Time to conclude this battle, Kirby!" Customer Service yelled as Masher was getting closer to Kirby.

"OH NO YOU DON'T!!"

Franky came out of the sky, and tackled Masher into the ground effortlessly. "Poyo?" Kirby said curiously as Franky landed on the sandy shore, still the emitting the flaming aura around himself. Masher groggily got on it's feet, and faced towards Franky.

"Hmm… I didn't expect that you would come back so soon." Customer Service said with a worried look, "But it doesn't seem to matter. It won't change a thing."

"SHUT YOUR MOUTH! I AM GOING TO KNOCK YOU OUT OF THIS ISLAND!" Franky said energetically.

"We'll see about that!" Customer Service replied as Masher charged at Franky. Franky charged at Masher.

"STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Masher, severely damaging it's armor instead of staggering it.

"Wh-What!? How is this possible!?" Customer service gasped. Franky kept charging towards Masher, not giving it a moment to strike back. Franky was stronger and faster now, and has surpassed Masher in every way.

"TAKE THIS!" Franky delivered a strong punch to Masher, knocking him into a cliff wall behind it. After it crashed, it started to let out some sparks as it could no longer move.

"This cannot be happening! Masher is suppose to be unstoppable!" Customer Service said as he tried to get out of Masher, but he couldn't due to the exit being jammed. Kirby then happily approached Franky.

"GOOD TO SEE YOU ALIVE, PUFFBALL BRO!" Franky said at the top of his voice. "NOW LET'S FINISH THIS SUCKER OFF!"

"Poyo!" Kirby agreed as he went in front of Franky. Franky got out his pipe, and connected his arms to it. The pipe then inhales a massive amount of air, making his arms big. Franky then puts the pipe right into Kirby, stuffing him inside using the ground. "Po-Poyo!?"

"OW! WITH OUR POWER COMBINED, WE WILL TURN THAT HUNK OF JUNK INTO MINCEMEAT!" Franky yelled as he pointed at Masher as Customer Service could only watch in fear. "FRANKIRB COUP DE POYO!" Franky fired Kirby, with Kirby being completely on fire as he flew like a meteor towards Masher.

"POYOOOOOOOOO!!"

"WHOAAAAAA!!"

BOOOOOOM!!

Masher exploded into little pieces, with Customer Service landing on the ground in front of it, completely knocked out with sunglasses shattered. Kirby landed back next to Franky, barely conscious as Franky did his victory pose.

"SUUUUPAAAAAAAA!!"

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily while copying Franky's pose.

Meanwhile…

Usopp dazedly made his way out of the forest after getting hit by a house as he was now back at the meadows. "Oh, my head. What will happen next?" He asked himself.

"Usopp, you're alive!" Lalala said happily.

"Usopp! Paint Roller has been doing something while you were in the forest!" Lololo warned.

"Wha?" Usopp looked ahead, and saw a canvas that was twice as bigger than the other canvases Usopp has seen throughout this battle. "Oh, great… something that big could only mean more pain for me!"

Paint Roller then appeared from behind the big canvas, and happily started to paint on it. "Here we go…" Usopp said in dismay as Paint Roller finished something familiar to Usopp's eyes. Paint Roller painted Kirby, but it wasnt coming to life. Usopp raised an eyebrow in confusion as Paint Roller then skated towards another canvas, and finished painting something that shocked Usopp.

"Zoro!?" Usopp gasped as Paint Roller painted Zoro. Suddenly, the painting turned into sparkling dust, and flew right into the Kirby painting. Then the canvas glowed brightly as a the Kirby replica was brought to life, only with a green bandana wrapped around his head, and carrying three swords, with one of them in his mouth. Usopp got dumbfounded by this.

"Zoro Kirby…? That looks very odd." Usopp said. Zoro Kirby then crossed his swords.

"SANTORYU: ONI…"

"ARE YOU SERIOUS!?" Usopp asked.

"GIRI!"

Usopp screamed as he jumped out of the way as Zoro Kirby almost slashed right through him. Usopp quickly crawled away to get some distance, and got up as soon as he was far away from Zoro Kirby. "This cant be real! How can that guy make a replica of Kirby with Zoro's abilities!?

"Be careful, Usopp! He is doing more!" Lololo shouted. Usopp saw Paint Roller painting the entire roster of the Strawhat pirates, except for Luffy for some reason. All the paintings turned to dust, and went into the bright canvas. Usopp gulped as a few seconds later, more replicas of Kirby came out, grouping with Zoro Kirby.

One of the replicas had orange hair just like Nami's; another one with blonde hair covering his left eye, and a curly eyebrow just like Sanji's; another one with a pink hat, and antlers, with a cute reindeer face just like Chopper's; another one with long black hair just like Robin's; and the last one with long blue hair pointing up, with a metallic nose just like Franky's. Basically, it's the entire Strawhat crew, only Kirbyfied.

"Wow… so that's what would Kirby look like if he would have inhaled my comrades." Usopp said in awe, "But where is mine?"

Usopp then saw another Kirby replica coming out of the big canvas. It had a long nose, big lips, long curly hair, and was wearing goggles on his head

"Is that suppose to be me!?" Usopp asked angrily while backslapping in front of himself. The Kirby replicas then charged at Usopp, who got startled, and nervously held his hammer tightly.

"QUASI!" Sanji Kirby did a handstand, and span around in circles with his feet spread out. Usopp ran away while dropping some explosives behind him, creating a small explosion once Sanji Kirby kicked them. Chopper Kirby then transformed into a cuter version of Walk point, and galloped towards Usopp as he then leaped while turning into a cute version of the Heavy point.

"HEAVY GONG!" Chopper Kirby strongly punched the ground behind Usopp, causing him to fall down. As Usopp was getting up, he noticed a small thunder cloud as Nami Kirby was holding his own version of the PCT.

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" A thunderbolt strucked down at Usopp, who rolled out of the way to save himself. Usopp then got up as he noticed Robin Kirby with his eyes closed.

"DIEZ FLEUR!" Round little arms appeared out of Usopp's body, freaking out Usopp. "CLUTCH!" The arms tried to grab Usopp, but they were too round and small to do anything else. As the arms disappeared, Franky Kirby opened his left arm.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky Kirby fired a blast at Usopp, who ducked to avoid as Usopp backed away, panting as Paint Roller was enjoying the show.

"This is too freaky! They all have my comrades' abilities; there is no way I can win this!" Usopp thought, "But wait; I haven't seen Usopp Kirby do anything yet." Usopp looked at Usopp Kirby, who was doing nothing. "Perhaps he is waiting to do a strong attack like the firebird star, or my other useful skills. Whatever he does wont surprise me."

Usopp Kirby then looked at Usopp, and smiled. "I'm cute!" Usopp Kirby said happily. Usopp had his jaw dropped in sheer anger upon hearing this.

"Kaaahhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh… WHAT!? DON'T TELL ME HE HAS THE ABILITY TO LIE!?" Usopp asked enraged. All the Kirby replicas then charged at Usopp as he started to run away. "I cant attack them one at the time! I have to take them all down with one hit!" Usopp then did a long jump as his eyes were then filled with confidence. "USOPP MARATHON!" Usopp was running faster than before, creating a trail of dust behind him. The Kirby replicas stopped as Usopp was running around them in circles. Unknown to them, Usopp was leaving several small bombs around them as he then jumped away, and then aimed at them.

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet that struck the bombs, causing them to explode, which was powerful enough to turn all the replica Kirby's within the blast into dust. "Yes!

Take that!" Usopp cheered. He then noticed that Usopp Kirby was standing next to him.

"I am super cute, aren't I?" Usopp Kirby asked happily.

"USOPP HAMMER!"

"Do'h!" Usopp Kirby got hit by Usopp he then turned to dust too.

"Now it's just you and me, you dumb excuse of an artist!" Usopp yelled while angrily pointing at Paint Roller. Paint Roller got a little nervous as it was about to draw something else on the big canvas, but Usopp instantly destroyed it with one of his explosive pellets. Usopp then repeatedly fired his explosive pellets at all at the canvases around the meadow, leaving Paint Roller with nothing to paint on.

"You first attacked me with explosives, then with some killer toys, some throwable weapons, including a house, and to top it all off, you made a replica Kirby with the abilities of my comrades and I. I am soooooooooooooo pissed off right now, I am going to unleash my fury upon you!" Usopp said angrily as he was holding a humongous hammer that was bigger than he is.

"WOOOAHH!! That is a big hammer!" Lololo and Lalala said simultaneously.

Paint Roller was got frightened as it fell on it's back as Usopp charged with his big hammer. "GOLDEN…" Usopp jumped in the air as Paint Roller started to cry. "… POUND!!" Usopp lowered the hammer on Paint Roller's head. The hammer instantly popped like a balloon as Paint Roller faded into dust out of fear.

"He won! He won!" Lololo and Lalala shouted happily. Usopp panted as he then triumphantly raised his arms in the air.

"NOBODY CAN DEFEAT CAPTAIN USOPP!!"

Meanwhile…

Chopper was galloping through the fields, screaming in fear while passing through several demon beasts along the way. "Please don't hurt me!" He cried as he was now galloping up the horizons towards Dedede's castle. Chopper got serious as he jumped across the river border, and throw the destroyed drawbridge. "I finally made it! Huh?" Chopper then noticed the destruction of the front garden as Zoro and Metaknight were still fighting. "Zoro!"

"Eh?" Zoro knocked Metaknight back to look at Chopper behind his shoulder. "Chopper! Where have you been!?"

"Zoro, where is Dedede!?" Chopper asked.

"Hold on a sec!" Zoro parried a couple of Metaknight's slashes before knocking him back again. "He is probably in his room scared to death!"

"Great! Um.. do you need any help?" Chopper asked as Zoro and Metaknight were pushing each other back with their swords.

"No, I'm fine!" Zoro replied, "Listen, Chopper; if you are here to get that penguin, then I suggest you do it now!"

"But what about…?"

"Listen to me!" Zoro interrupted, "I know you're strong enough to fight that penguin by yourself! I will be fine, just go!"

Chopper gulped as he then nodded before leaving Zoro and Metaknight as he went into the castle. Zoro and Metaknight jumped away from eachother, panting heavily.

"I thought you were suppose to protect your king." Zoro said.

"He only said to stop you. He never said that I should stop your friends." Metaknight said.

"Ha…" Zoro stood straight as he faced his swords forward, "I hate to admit it, but there won't be any winner if this keeps up. So, I intend to win with just one move." Zoro then started to spin his swords clockwise as Metaknight's eyes widened.

"A move like that could finish me off…" Metaknight said.

"SANTORYU OUGI…"

"I have no choice… in order to beat him, I need to use my strongest attack!"

"SANSEN SEKAI!" Zoro dashed at Metaknight, who grabbed his cape.

"GALAXIA DARKNESS!" Metaknight flipped his cape over Zoro, who was nearly inches away from striking Metaknight as he suddenly froze while his surroundings got dark.

" What is this? I can't move my body! " Zoro thought, " I can't see anything either! What kind of move is this!? " Zoro then saw the light as Metaknight struck him across his chest. "GUAAAHHH!!" Zoro limplessly went flying up in the air before landing on the ground roughly. After that, Zoro wasn't moving at all. Most of his body was covered in blood and bruises, and he also appeared to be unconscious. It was clear that Metaknight won.

"I am so sorry it had to end this way, my friend…" Metaknight said as he sadly sheathed his sword.

Meanwhile…

Dedede and Escargoon were still inside the throne room as they were still trembling with fear. "E-E-Escargoon, do you think he is gone?" Dedede asked while looking over his chair.

"I-I-I-I think he is." Escargoon replied, "There is not a sound outside."

Dedede sighed in relief as he got out of hiding. "I knew Metaknight would get the job done. Dyeh heh heh heh heh heh! Now I can finally relax!"

Suddenly, they could hear ramming noises from outside. "What was that!?" Dedede asked.

"I think somebody is trying to get in!" Escargoon shouted as the furniture blocking the door was getting moved back.

"DYAAHH!! We're going to die!" Dedede cried while hiding behind his chair again, "Escargoon, shield me with your body!"

"What!? No way!" Escargoon yelled. The doors then bursted open as the furniture blocking went flying in several directions. Dedede and Escargoon closed their eyes in fear as the intruder came in.

"Dedede!"

"Gyeh… huh?" Dedede nervously looked over his chair to see Chopper in his regular form.

"I am here to get back for what you did to me and my friends!" Chopper said angrily, "I will make you pay, Dedede!"

Chapter 81: Payback time!, Chopper vs King Dedede

Chopper stood angrily in front of Dedede, who slowly got out of hiding behind his chair with eyes closed. "Escargoon, I hear somebody, but I am afraid to see who it is! Tell me who is it!" Dedede said nervously.

"It's that raccoon you knocked into the ocean this morning." Escargoon said with a surprised look, "I didn't think he would come here by himself."

"Wha?" Dedede opened his eyes, and saw Chopper in front of him. "Ohh… so it's you." He said with a smuggish smirk, "Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! What a relief; I thought it was somebody that I had to be worried about, but it just turned out to be you instead."

"Shut up!" Chopper yelled. Dedede frowned as Chopper glared at him. "I almost cannot believe that somebody like you would do something so horrible just to get rid of me! Why did you that!?"

"What do you mean 'why'!? Dedede asked, "Because of you and your stupid friends, I was utterly humiliated during my friendly feast! I tried to do something nice for a change, and all I got was a cake in my face! Worst of all, you and your friends did nothing but cause disorder in my land! It was my duty as King to get rid of you outsiders!"

"We didn't do anything bad!" Chopper replied, "You shouldn't even be a king! You only used that pitiful excuse just so you can get rid of us!"

"What did you say!?" Dedede asked angrily, "How dare you disrespect the king!? And furthermore, I wanted to get rid of you outsiders not just because you humiliated me, but for impersonating pirates!"

"What are you talking about!?" Chopper asked.

"Don't play dumb with me!" Dedede said, "You call yourself pirates, yet I knew from the very beginning that you guys were lying through your teeth! You guys lied about being pirates so you can scare off the pathetic commoners and myself so you can steal all the goods effortlessly, but it's a good thing that I struck first, didn't I!?"

Chopper got confused upon hearing that, "What do you mean?"

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha! You weren't the only one who fell into my trap! I did the same thing to your friends!" Dedede said with a cruel smirk. Chopper's eyes widened with anger as Dedede smirked even more, "Don't get so upset; I was even nice enough to take away some of their cargo off their ship."

Dedede showed Chopper the box filled with the Mystery Hearts that were on his chair. "Wh-Why do you have those!?" Chopper asked.

"Because I have the right to take the things from the people that are inferior to me, which is everyone." Dedede said as he got in front of his chair to block Chopper's view from seeing the box. "It's one of the greatest things of being king these days; people work really hard to get the things they most desire, and then I take it away from them. Dyah ha ha ha ha ha!"

"You have no right to call yourself a king!" Chopper said angrily, "You are nothing but a fat jerk!"

"What!? Escargoon, did he just say I was fat!?" Dedede asked to Escargoon.

"Y-Yes, Your Majesty. He just did." Escargoon said nervously.

"I will not forgive for what you have done!" Chopper said while getting into a fighting position, "Even though I am not brave enough as my friends, I will defend them by beating you!"

"Huh? Beating me?" Dedede asked confusedly. He and Escargoon looked at eachother with a confused look before they bursted into laughter. "Dyah ha ha ha ha ha ha! Escargoon, did you just hear what that pipsqueak just said? He thinks he can beat me."

"Ha ha ha ha ha! I sure did! That was way too funny not to laugh at!" Escargoon laughed. Dedede then got out his mallet, and walked towards Chopper with smuggish look.

"Dyeh heh heh heh heh heh! This will only hurt for a second." Dedede said while raising his mallet in front of Chopper, "Unlike last time, I am going to flatten you like a pancake, you little raccoon!"

"I am a… REINDEER!!" Chopper yelled furiously as he turned into his Heavy point, as he angrily looked down at Dedede.

"Dyah?" Dedede froze as he dropped his hammer as this was his first time seeing Chopper transform. Escargoon was also shivering in fear as Dedede began to sweat nervously. "DYAAAHHH!! A MONSTER!!" Dedede began to run away from Chopper.

"Come back here!" Chopper yelled angrily as he chased Dedede. Escargoon panicked as he quickly hid behind a pillar as Chopper was chasing Dedede all over the place. He then was chasing Dedede while going around his chair in circles.

"Dyah! Gyeh… DAH!" Dedede stopped and turned around to punch Chopper in the face, knocking him on his back. "I was not kidding when I said I was one of the elite of the smash participants!"

"Oh… huh?" As Chopper was getting up, he saw Dedede running at him. "Whoa!" Chopper got out of the way as Dedede did a running kick. Dedede then swung his fists left and right at Chopper, preventing him from getting up as Chopper were evading his fists.

"Take this!" Dedede winded up his right fist, and punched Chopper at his jaw.

"Gaaeehh!!" Chopper was knocked halfway across the throne room as Dedede took the advantage to retrieve his mallet from the ground.

"Good job, Your Majesty! Show him who's boss!" Escargoon cheered from behind a pillar.

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha! I am not even warming up!" Dedede said arrogantly, "You have to do better than just growing big in order to leave a scratch on me, Raccoon!"

Chopper got on his hands and knees as he then turned into his walk point, which shocked Dedede for a bit as Chopper went towards him. "Pfft!" Dedede raised his mallet as Chopper leaped towards him. Just before Dedede could lower his mallet, Chopper turned into his original self, and jumped right on Dedede, holding on to his face. "Dyah! Get him off me!" Dedede panicked as Chopper held on as strong as he could, while Dedede was running all over the place, losing oxygen. Dedede then found himself right in front of a wall, and was about to smash Chopper into the wall using his face, but Chopper got off him, and Dedede smashed his own face into the wall by accident.

As Dedede rubbed his face in pain, Chopper jumped back, and turned into his walk point as he charged at Dedede, with his antlers facing Dedede's rear.

POKE!

"DYAAAAAAAAHHHH!!" Dedede jumped in the air as he rubbed his rear in pain. As he was coming back down to the ground, Chopper turned into his Heavy point, and slightly jumped up in the air.

"HEAVY PRESS!" Chopper landed on the ground with his rear, creating a pink shockwave that knocked Dedede all the way to the other side of the throne room, crashing into the wall before landing hard on the ground. Chopper turned back to his original self as he watched Dedede angrily getting back up on his feet.

"That's it! You want to mess with me, then bring it on!" Dedede yelled angrily before he lowered his stance, "SUPER DEDEDE JUMP!" Dedede jumped really high in the air, which shocked Chopper.

"He jumped really high… that is so cool!" Chopper said excitedly with his eyes filled with joy. He then got worried as Dedede was about to land on him. "WAHHH!!" Chopper jumped out of the way as Dedede landed on his feet, creating a fierce tremor, and two stars formed next to his sides. The stars disappeared as Dedede leaped at Chopper with his arms spread out. "Yikes!" Chopper rolled out of the way as Dedede fell on the ground. Chopper then turned into his Heavy point, and was about to punch Dedede, but Dedede did a 180 degree swing that hits Chopper's fist back. Dedede then holds his mallet with one hand and thrusts it at Chopper's belly, with the mallet spinning upon hitting him.

Chopper grunted in pain as he then grabbed hold of Dedede's mallet, and tried to take it, but Dedede wouldn't let him as Dedede used his strength to raise his mallet, knocking Chopper up in the air. Dedede smirked as he held his mallet vertically as Chopper was falling back down to him. Chopper realized the situation he was in, and quickly turned to his originally self as Dedede swung his mallet upwardly, but missed as Chopper fell on Dedede's face with his head. "Duah!" Dedede dazedly fell on the ground as Chopper dazedly tried to stay on his feet after accidentally using his head as a weapon. He was then able to refocus as he faced at Dedede, who was already back on his feet.

"How about some of this!? WADDLE DEE TOSS!" Dedede got out a Waddle Dee from out of nowhere, and threw it at Chopper, who barely dodged it.

"You are using your soldiers as throwable objects!? You're cruel!" Chopper yelled angrily as the Waddle dee that got thrown simply walked away. Dedede ignored Chopper, and continued to throw more Waddle dees at Chopper, who dodged while running around Dedede. Once Chopper got behind Dedede, he charged at him while turning into his Heavy point. "HEAVY GONG!" Chopper was about to deliver a strong left fist at Dedede, but Dedede sidestepped as he dropped a Waddle Dee behind, which Chopper accidentally hits as it crashed straight into a wall, getting knocked out afterwards. "Oh, I am so sorry! I didn't mean to hit you!" As Chopper apologized, Dedede hits Chopper in the face with the back of his hand.

Chopper staggered a bit as Dedede jumps in the air, and starts to repeatedly lower his mallet down at Chopper, who got hit the first three times until he rolled out of the way in pain. As Chopper got up, he saw Dedede leaping towards him again. "DOUBLE HEAVY GONG!" Chopper thrusted both of his fists with his head lowered, hitting Dedede's stomach with great force.

"Dyah!" Dedede went flying back into a pillar, groggily getting up afterwards. He saw Chopper was about to swing another fist at him, so he jumped high in the air to avoid it, and counter by going back down at Chopper, ready to swing his mallet at him. Chopper jumped back as Dedede hits the floor with his mallet, creating a star in front of him.

Chopper then grabbed the star, and raised it above his head to attack Dedede with it, but Dedede shoulder barged him in the gut before he had the chance to. Chopper fell on the ground as Dedede then raised his mallet over his shoulder, and lowered it down at Chopper's stomach. "GAH!!" Chopper coughed up some blood as Dedede raised his mallet to hit Chopper again. Luckily, Chopper was able to roll out of the way in time to counter with an attack of his own by punching Dedede's mallet back, causing Dedede to lose it's grip as he was now vulnerable. Chopper then grabbed Dedede around his neck with both hands, and did a 180 degree spin as he lets go of Dedede, who roughly tumbled across the ground.

"Grr!" Dedede took out another Waddle Dee, and threw it at Chopper, who turned into his original self to avoid, and counter by throwing a testube that contained some kind of liquid as it landed right at Dedede.

BOOM!"

"Guah!" Dedede spiraled his way into the pillar behind him, falling back down at the ground as Chopper got in front of his face, and repeatedly hits Dedede with his little hooves. "Ow! Ow! Ow! Ow! Ow! Ow! Ow! Ow! Ow!" Dedede pushed Chopper back a few inches in order to get up, but Chopper quickly charged at him, delivering a flying headbutt in Dedede's face. "Dyah!" Dedede got angry, and grabbed Chopper by the neck before facing Chopper's back into the pillar behind him. Dedede smirked as he dropped his mallet, and pulled back his free hand to punch Chopper, who quickly turned into his Heavy point, and squeezed Dedede's wrist.

"Owie!" Dedede lets go of Chopper in pain as Chopper then raised Dedede off his feet using both arms. Chopper then threw Dedede into the carpet floor as he then panted heavily after throwing someone so heavy. Chopper then noticed Dedede's mallet on the floor, and tried to pick it up, but it was heavy even for him. "Don't you touch my mallet!" Dedede yelled angrily as charged at Chopper with a running kick, knocking Chopper back into a wall as Dedede then retrieved his mallet. "Yah!!" Dedede then swung his mallet horizontally at Chopper, who turned into his original self as he then ducked as Dedede hits the pillar, destroying it.

"Your Majesty, be careful what you hit! This place is not cheap, you know!?" Escargoon yelled behind the pillar that was in good condition.

"SHADDUP!" Dedede replied by throwing a Waddle Dee at Escargoon, knocking him out. Chopper then took a chance by jumping on the back of Dedede's shoulders, and starts to bite Dedede's head. "OOWWWW!!" Dedede ran in circles as Chopper was biting harder by the second. Dedede stopped and readied his mallet as he tried to hit Chopper with it, but he jumped off as Dedede hits himself again. "Gah!"

As Dedede was dazedly losing conscious after hitting himself, Chopper turned into his Heavy point again, and grabbed Dedede as he turned him upside down. "HEAVY SLAM!" Chopper slightly jumped up, and crushed Dedede by slamming him down on his back. Dedede cried as Chopper got up while lifting him up again, but Dedede got free of Chopper's grip, and ended up behind Chopper. Chopper turned around, only to get clotheslined by Dedede as he ran past him. "Ah!" Chopper fell on the ground as Dedede turned around while raising his mallet over Chopper. Chopper screamed in fear as he rolled out of the way as Dedede almost smashed his face like a watermelon.

"You can't escape from me!" Dedede yelled as he was slowly approaching Chopper swinging his mallet at him left and right. Chopper avoided the swings until his back was up against the wall as Dedede then thrusted his mallet at him, but Chopper quickly got out of the way as Dedede hits the wall, and countered by swinging his fist at Dedede, who jumped back to avoid, and countered by swinging his mallet at the back of Chopper's head, which he managed to hit.

"Ah!" Chopper fell on his knees as Dedede leaped, and crushed Chopper under his own weight. "Aaaaahhhh!!"

"Dyah ha ha! What are you going to do-NOW!?" Dedede got elbowed in the face, causing him to get off of Chopper, who quickly got back on his feet as he charged at Dedede while he staggered.

"HEAVY TACKLE!" Chopper charged at Dedede with his arms spread out as he then tackled Dedede up against a pillar. The pillar made some cracks as Chopper then wrapped his right arm over Dedede's head, and placed Dedede's left arm over his head as he then gave Dedede a suplex that caused a slight tremor once Dedede hits the ground.

"Geh… heh… okay!" Dedede yelled out angrily as he then got up quicker than Chopper did, and punched Chopper back to the ground. Dedede then grabbed Chopper by his chest fur and pants, and lifted him above himself before spinning around in circles, causing Chopper to get slightly dizzy before Dedede then threw him into a pillar. Chopper groggily got on his hands and knees as Dedede retrieved his mallet off the ground.

"Get up!" Dedede yelled angrily, "I ain't done with you yet! It's go time from here on out!"

Meanwhile…

Robin was doing her best evading Juni's and Juli's attacks as she tried to get some distance away from them, but they just keep charging at her with swift punches and kicks. Sanji could only watch in horror as he wanted to help Robin so badly, but was brutally injured to even move a muscle. Bison was watching the battle go on with his arms crossed, and with a frown look on his face.

"DOS FLEUR!" Two arms appeared from Juni's shoulders, and pulled up her neck to forcefully look upward. Robin then tried to sprout some more hands, but Juli came out of nowhere, and kicked Robin down at the ground. "Eh!"

"Robin-chwan!" Sanji cried worryingly as Juli then jumped above Robin, and went down at her with her feet.

"CUATRO FLEUR!" Four hands sprouted from Juli's back, and grabbed her arms and legs from behind, causing her to fall roughly on the ground in pain. Robin then had her eyes set on Juni, who finally broke free of the arms around her, and charged at Robin, who charged at her as well. "CUATRO FLEUR, SPIN!" two hands appeared from each of Robin's shoulder's as she did a 720 degree spin, hitting Juni down to the floor. The hands around Robin disappeared as she quickly ducked, avoiding Juli's flying kick from behind. Once Juli landed on her feet, she turned around, and was about to deliver a sweeping kick at Robin, but arms sprouted from her other leg that grabbed her attacking leg.

"TRES FLEUR, FLIP!" The hands pushed Juli's attacking leg back so far, she got flipped off her feet. "DOS FLEUR, SMASH!" Two more arms appeared from Juli's back, and pushed down her head, causing her to land on the solid floor with her face.

"Ah!" Juli cried as Juni came to her aid kicking Robin's back, staggering Robin on her hands and knees. Juni then leaped at Robin, who turned around with her palm facing at Juni. "CINCO FLEUR, LANCE!" a hand sprouted from her palm as four more hands did the same with the hands as the last one punched Juni in the gut, knocking into the mountain wall. "NUEVE FLEUR, SPIKE!" Nine fists sprouted out of the wall behind Juni, and knocked her into her hands and knees in front of Juli, who was trying to get back up. "DOS FLEUR, PUNCH!" Two arms sprouted from the ground, and punched Juni and Juli in the face, knocking them on their backs.

Robin panted heavily as Bison seemed to be more curious. " This woman has an odd ability, but what is so good about her is that she is very good at it." Bison thought, "Why would somebody as strong as her would help that weakling?"

Bison referred to Sanji, who continued to watch Robin's handicapped fight in fear.

Meanwhile…

Chopper was back into his walk point as he was running away from Dedede, who once again was throwing Waddle dees at him. "Seeing him do that again makes me want to hit him even more!" Chopper thought as he started to run to his right. Dedede saw this, and threw a Waddle dee in front of Chopper's path, which stopped him as Dedede jumped above him, thrusting his mallet down at him. Chopper dodged it, but he fell on his back as Dedede landed on the ground, and picked up one of the Waddle Dees he threw earlier, and threw it at Chopper's face. "Wah!" Chopper staggered back as Dedede continued to throw more Waddle dees at him, staggering him back even further.

"Take that! And that! And that! And that!!" Dedede yelled as Chopper angrily turned into his Heavy point, and punched a Waddle dee back into Dedede's face, knocking him on his rear.

"I am so sorry again!" Chopper cried sadly as he then charged at Dedede with a fierce look. "HEAVY GONG!" Chopper thrusted his fist at Dedede, who frantically rolled out of the way as Chopper punched the ground. Before Chopper could pull back his arm, Dedede puts his mallet in front of Chopper's vision, and swung it upwardly, knocking Chopper up in the air. "Guah!" Chopper cried as Dedede jumped really high as he was now above him.

"SUPER DEDEDE JUMP!" Dedede falls right on Chopper, and went crashing down to the floor with him, crushing Chopper with sheer force.

"Ahh! Grr!!" Chopper angrily sat up, and grabbed Dedede's neck with one arm. Dedede was getting choked as Chopper got back up on his feet, and lifted Dedede by his neck before slamming him into the ground. Somehow, Dedede got right back up on his feet, and swung his mallet at Chopper's back while he was next to him, but Chopper turned around, and stopped Dedede's mallet with his own hands. Dedede gasped as Chopper hits him with the back of his hand, but despite that, Dedede did not stagger as he still held on to his mallet.

Chopper continued to backhand Dedede in the face, but no matter how many times he does that, Dedede continued to hold on his hammer. Dedede then swung his mallet fiercely, whipping Chopper into the wall as Dedede rubbed his face in pain. Dedede then glared at Chopper as he raised his mallet with one hand. "MALLET THROW!" Dedede threw his mallet at Chopper, who fell off the wall just in time as the mallet hits the wall instead, creating a big crack. "Tsk!" Dedede approached Chopper, and lifted him up on his feet by pulling his ears. Chopper opened his eyes, and knocked Dedede's hands off of him as he then clapped his arms between Dedede's head, almost flattening him like a pancake.

Dedede dazedly staggered back as Chopper tried to hit him with a fist, but Dedede sidestepped as he pushed Chopper back to get him off balance. Dedede then took the chance to do a forward flip without using his hands, landing on Chopper as he rolled by. He then went to retrieve his mallet as Chopper got right back up. "I have you now!" Dedede swung his mallet horizontally, but Chopper turned into his original self to avoid the swing as Dedede almost lost his footing. As Dedede tried to regain balance, Chopper threw a testube with an explosive liquid inside at Dedede, which exploded on Dedede as he spiraled into the wall past the pillars.

"Gah…" Dedede groggily sat up as Escargoon, who was next to him, started to regain his conscious.

"Oh… what happened?" Escargoon asked as Dedede then grabbed him by his shell.

"You are going to help me win!" Dedede yelled as he got up, and placed Escargoon in front of him.

"What!?" Dedede ran forward, trying to crash into Chopper using Escargoon as a colliding weapon. "Your Majesty, please stop! I am allergic to pain!"

"Shaddap, and hit him!" Dedede replied as he Chopper jumped out of the way as Dedede stopped himself, and faced Escargoon towards Chopper again. Chopper turned into his walk point, and ran away from Dedede. Escargoon tried to stop himself from going any further, but since he is a snail, he doesn't have any feet to do so as he could only watch in fear as Dedede almost rammed him into a wall. This kept going on for a while until Chopper did a far jump to get away, but that wasn't going to save him. "I got you now! ESCARGOON TOSS!" Dedede lifts Escargoon up in the air, and throws him as he screamed while heading towards Chopper while he was in midair.

CRASH!

"Gah!" Chopper got hit by Escargoon's body as he crashed down to the ground as the same thing happened to Escargoon, but was knocked out unconscious afterwards.

"SUPER DEDEDE JUMP!" With a smuggish smirk on his face, Dedede jumped really high in the air again, and was about to crush Chopper, but he managed to turn back into his original self, and rolled out of the way in time as Dedede landed on his feet, with two stars appearing from his sides. Chopper groggily tried to get some distance as Dedede faced him while holding his mallet with two hands. "SHOOTING STAR!" Dedede swung his mallet at the star next to him, which flew right next to Chopper, which startled him as Dedede hits the other star, which hits Chopper from behind as he rolled forward in pain. "Dyah ha ha ha ha! Are we done yet, raccoon!?"

Chopper got back on his feet, as he looked behind his shoulder to glare at Dedede. "No! This has yet to be over!" Chopper then turned into his walk point, and galloped his way towards Dedede, who smirked as he readied his mallet again.

Meanwhile…

The invasion was still going on outside as Nami and Tuff were running past some of the demon beasts as they tried to find the others. "Have you any idea how to get rid of these pests!?" Nami asked while running.

"How should I know!?" Tuff asked while running alongside her, "There are too many of these demon beasts to get rid of all at once!"

"Tsk! Dammit!" Nami yelled as they continued to run. She then saw Usopp, who was running up on a hill with Lololo and Lalala.

"Oh? Nami, is that you!?" Usopp asked as Nami approached him while panting.

"Of course it's me, you moron! Who else would it be!?" Nami asked irritatingly, "Hey, where are the others!?"

"I don't know! I lost Franky just a while ago! I am trying to find him!" Usopp replied.

"And Kirby is also with him! But we can't seem to find them anywhere!" Lololo said. They all then looked at the UFO who continued to drop down demon beasts as Tuff gritted his teeth in anger.

"This is really bad; if this keeps up, Dreamland is going to be filled with demon beasts in a matter of minutes! We must do something!" Tuff said.

"We can't do anything in our current situation!" Usopp replied, "My firepower cannot take down something that humongous!"

"Will figure out how to deal with that thing later!" Nami said, "What we really need is something to get rid of all these monsters in one hit!"

"But what could do that!?" Lalala asked. Suddenly, some demon beasts surrounded the group, who were completely frightened.

"Oh no! We're doomed!" Usopp whimpered.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" several blasts struck the demon beasts, getting rid of them all as the group blinked in confusion.

"It's Franky! And Kirby is with him!" Tuff exclaimed happily as Kirby and Franky quickly approached the group.

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily upon regrouping with his friends.

"OW! HOW ARE YOU ALL DOING!? ARE YOU GUYS DOING OKAY!?" Franky asked energetically as the effects of the spicy cola were still in affect.

"Why are you yelling so loudly!?" Usopp asked.

"I AM FEELING SUPAAA, THAT'S WHY!" Franky responded, "WE JUST FINISHED OFF SOME PANCY BACK IN THE SHORE! SORRY IF WE GOT YOU GUYS WORRIED!!"

"Whatever; just stop yelling so loud! Your voice is louder than all the ruckus that is going on right now!" Usopp barked.

"Will you two shut up! We dont have the time for this!" Nami yelled angrily. She then blinked curiously as she saw a demon beast that looked like a walking microphone. "What is that thing?"

Everyone faced towards the walking microphone as Usopp just stared at dumbfounded.

"Oh, dont worry about that; it's harmless." Tuff said, "The only thing that could go wrong is that if Kirby inhaled it."

"Poyo!" Kirby replied as he thought that Tuff wanted to inhale the walking microphone. Kirby opened his mouth, and started to inhale the creature in, who tried to run away, but failed miserably as he sucked inside Kirby's mouth. Kirby then jumped in the air as a pair of headphones flew around him. Kirby grabbed the headphones, and placed on his head as he started to hear music, which made him happy as he got out a microphone of his size before getting back on the ground.

Tuff, Lololo, and Lalala gasped nervously at this as Nami, Usopp, and Franky just blinked in confusion. "HEY, WHAT POWER DOES HE HAVE NOW!?" Franky asked energetically.

"Oh no… he turned into Mike Kirby…" Tuff whimpered as Lololo and Lalala hugged eachother in fear.

"Mike Kirby?" Nami asked curiously. "What can he do?" Kirby then placed the microphone in front of his mouth and…

"POOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOYO OOYOOOYO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO!! POOOOOOOOO OOOOOOYOO OOOOOOOOO OOYOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOO!! POOOOOOY OOOOYOO OYOOOYO OOYOOOOO OOOOOOO OOOO!! POOOOOOOOO YOOYOOPO OOOOOOOY OOYOOOY OOOOOOO OOOOOOO OOOOOOO OOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO!!"

Kirby was singing very, very, very, VERY loudly into the mic, which sounded really horrible as everyone covered their ears, even for the ones that don't have any.

"AAAAAAHHHHH!! HE'S SO LOUD!!" Nami cried while covering her ears as Usopp then fainted due to the loudness. Franky, on the other hand, was actually dancing to the Kirby's beat.

"OWWWWW!! NOW THAT IS SOME GOOD SINGING!! OW! OW! OW!" Franky yelled energetically while he danced. Kirby's dreadful singing could be heard all over Dreamland as all the demon beasts covered their ears in pain. Suddenly, one of them blew up into small stars in front of Nami's eyes. Soon afterwards, the same thing happened to the rest of the demon beasts.

"Hey, they are all blowing up!" Nami yelled.

"Mike Kirby singing is so bad, that it could almost kill anything!" Tuff yelled loud enough for Nami to here.

"POOOOOOOOO OOOOOOYOO OOOPOOYO OPOYOOO! POOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOO!! POOOOOOOO OOOPOOYOO POOYOOPOO OOYOOYOOY OOYOOYOO, POOOOOYOOY OOYOOOPOYO OOOYOOOPO OYOOYOOOP OOOYOOPOOY OOYO! POOYOYOY OYOOOOO! POYOYOYOOO OOOPOYOYO YOOOOO, POYOYOYO.. YOO.. YOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO!!"

Thanks to all this singing, it managed to destroy all the demon beasts on dreamland as the UFO seemed to have run out of them.

"It got them all!" Nami yelled happily as Kirby continued to sing with everyone still covering their ears, except for Franky, who was still dancing.

Meanwhile…

"Dyah ha ha ha ha ha!" Dedede laughed as he was swinging his mallet left and right at Chopper, who was running away from his swings. Chopper then turned around and threw another explosive testube at Dedede, but this time, Dedede sidestepped to avoid as the testube exploded on the floor. Dedede then swung his mallet horizontally at Chopper, who jumped to avoid as he then saw Dedede raising his mallet above his head, and was about to lower it at Chopper, but he rolled behind Dedede's back once he was back on the ground as Dedede hits the carpet floor with his mallet. Chopper then tried to jump on Dedede's head from behind, but Dedede turned around while opening his mouth widely.

"INHALE!" To Chopper's surprise, Dedede inhaled Chopper into his mouth, something Kirby would do as Dedede spatted him out as Chopper went flying into a wall. "You taste worse than Kawasaki's food, and you know that was insulting!" Dedede laughed as he charged at Chopper, who quickly turned into his walk point, and galloped away from Dedede.

"I can barely stand up against him!" Chopper thought, "But I need to keep on going if I want to survive!"

Chopper was outrunning Dedede, who started to get a little tired chasing Chopper all over the place. "DEDEDE BOUNCE!" Dedede started to do some small, but powerful consecutive jumps as within every time he jumped, the ground shook, causing Chopper to lose some of his balance as Dedede was gaining on him.

Dedede then did a really high jump as he started to midair rolls with his arms spread out. "SUPER DEDEDE SPLASH!" Dedede directly lands on the floor with his belly, causing an enormous shockwave that knocked Chopper off his hooves, and the unconscious Escargoon as well. Chopper turned into his original self as he fell right on top of Escargoon's head, leaving a bump on his head as Chopper then got up while panting.

"Huh?" Chopper then noticed that Dedede had 6 stars around himself after hitting the ground. Dedede smirked as he faced toward Chopper while he readied his mallet.

"SHOOTING STAR FRENZY!" Dedede started to whack the stars with his mallet as they headed towards Chopper, who managed to dodge 5 of them as Dedede readied to whack the last star around him. "DEDEDE SPIN!" Dedede hits the star hard enough to smash into stardust, coating the mallet with them. Dedede then span in circles with his mallet as he went towards Chopper like a tornado. Chopper turned into his walk point, and started to run away as Dedede was destroying every single thing that was in his path, except for his chair, and the box filled with the Mystery hearts. Chopper ran out of ideas as he turned into his original self, and took out his last explosive testube, and threw it at Dedede.

BOOOOOOOOOOM!

The explosion was strong enough to knock back both Chopper and Dedede up against separate walls. Dedede panted heavily as he dazedly tried to regain his balance.

"Guah.. this is getting so annoying!" Dedede said irritatingly, "Seriously; just stop it! You never had a chance against me so lose to me already!"

The dust screen from the explosion earlier started to wear off as Dedede could see Chopper standing on his feet, panting while looking down at the ground. "Look at you; you're barely alive. Give up now, and submit to how great I am! I am starting to get tired just trying to hit you." Dedede said.

"I said… that I was going to beat you!" Chopper said angrily as he glared at Dedede while taking out a rumble ball. "And I will keep my promise! RUMBLE BALL!" Chopper eats the rumble ball as Dedede raised an eyebrow in confusion. "Now you will see how powerful I am!"

"What did… bah, forget it! Taking some pill wont make any difference!" Dedede yelled as he charged at Chopper while raising his mallet over his shoulder. "This time; I will flatten you!"

"GUARD POINT!" Chopper turned into a big furball as Dedede's mallet bounced off of Chopper's fur.

"Eh!?" Dedede was surprised as his mallet almost slipped through his hands after hitting Chopper's fur.

"ARM POINT!" Chopper turned into his arm point, which surprised Dedede again when he saw how big Chopper's muscles were. "KOKUTEI ROSEO!" Chopper thrusted his hoove at Dedede's stomach, almost plunging right through Dedede's skin. Dedede cried in pain as he flew right into a wall behind him. "JUMPING POINT!" Chopper turned into his jumping point, and started to jump from wall to wall as he then jumped towards Dedede, placing his feet on his face before jumping off him. Dedede got angry and charged at Chopper before he could land, but Chopper quickly landed on Dedede's chair, and jumped off of it as he went towards Dedede again while changing into his guard point.

"GUARD CRUSH!" Chopper delivered a headbutt at Dedede's face as Chopper bounced off him afterwards he landed back on the ground. "HORN POINT!" Chopper turned into his Horn point, and lowered his stance. "ROSEO SLASH!" Chopper raised his head, creating a pink cutting wave with his antlers as it got bigger and bigger upon heading towards Dedede, who got hit as the wall behind him shattered into pieces.

"GrrrrrrrrRRRRRR… SUPER DEDEDE JUMP!" Out of anger, Dedede jumped really high in the air, and tried to get above Chopper, who turned into his jumping point, and jumped all the way towards Dedede's level. "Dyah?" Chopper then turned into his Heavy point, and grabbed Dedede's attire, and threw him up towards the ceiling, crashing into the ceiling head-first. Dedede dazedly started to fall back down with his head facing downward as Chopper wrapped his arms and legs around his body.

"HEAVY PILEDRIVER!!" Chopper got right back to the ground, with Dedede's head hitting it hard. Chopper panted as he lets go of Dedede, who limplessly fell on his back. "Phew… I think I beat him." Chopper panted happily as he was about to walk away, until he felt a slight raise in the temperature in the room. He looked behind his shoulder to see Dedede furiously getting back on his feet as he was so angry, that fumes came out of his body. Chopper gulped as he realized how red and angry Dedede's eyes looked as Dedede was then covered in a fiery aura.

"UNFOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO RGIVVVVVVV VVVVVVVEA AAAAAAAAB BBBBLLLLL LLLLLEEEE EEEEEEEEE EEEEEEEE!!"

"Ah!" Chopper fell on his rear in fear.

"I AM REALLY PISSED OFF!!" Dedede yelled furiously. Chopper never saw anybody so angry before in his life. He nervously got back on his feet, and turned into his arm point as he tried to attack Dedede with his hoove, but Dedede effortlessly stopped it with his palm.

"Huh!?" Chopper was surprised as Dedede then punched Chopper in the face. "GUAH!" Chopper went flying into an intact wall like a rocket, as Dedede picked up his mallet, and shouted with anger.

"NOW I AM REALLY GOING TO GIVE YOU THE DEATH PENALTY!!"

Meanwhile…

Metaknight was still in the front garden, feeling rather sad for what he had done to Zoro. Zoro was simply out of it; two of his swords were impaled into the ground, while the other one was still in his mouth. Most of his body was covered in blood; and it seemed that Zoro wont be waking up anytime soon.

"You have fought well." Metaknight said while facing the other way, "You were the very first to give me such a tough duel. I will never forget your efforts. You truly are one of the greatest swordsman I have ever faced."

Metaknight then looked up at the sky, curious about the weather. "Those clouds… can it really be him?" Metaknight asked as he was about to leave. "Ugh!?" Metaknight froze as he felt a presence behind him. He could here somebody groaning from behind himself. Metaknight slowly looked behind himself to see Zoro getting up. "It cannot be… Galaxia Darkness should have finished him off..!"

Zoro panted heavily as he pulled out his swords from the ground, and groggily got into his fighting stance.

"Enough! You cannot take anymore damage!" Metaknight said, "If you do, you will surely die!"

"Geh… I rather die than to lose…" Zoro said as he glared at Metaknight, "I told you already; I will become the strongest swordsman… I will not accept defeat again!"

Metaknight just stared in disbelief as Zoro continued. "I am going to fulfill my promise I made a long time ago… I don't intend to drop it now! Don't you even dare walk away from me now! Give me everything you got; I will fight you even it means dying! Draw your sword, and fight me!!"

Metaknight was simply amazed at Zoro's ambition to win. "I see… I truly apologize if I dishonored you." Metaknight said sadly, "I will grant you your wish! This duel will end right now!"

Metaknight leaped towards Zoro, who barely had any energy to move. " I can't do much… in order to win… I need to end this with all I got! " Zoro focused as he took a some deep breaths. A dark aura then surrounded him as he placed his swords in front of himself. Suddenly, Zoro gained two new arms from his shoulders, and two identical heads from next to each side of his original one. Zoro now had six arms and three heads, and was now holding nine swords. "KYUTORYU… ASURA!!"

" What is that? It's emitting a strong ki… " Metaknight thought as he got right in front of Zoro, who stood still. "GALAXIA DARKNESS!" Metaknight flipped his cape over Zoro as it got Zoro's surroundings turned pitch black. Unlike last time, Zoro was moving as he crossed his swords against his chest, and slashed right through darkness as it dispersed into small particles. Zoro could then see Metaknight, completely losing his balance. "What!? He overpowered my strongest attack!?"

Zoro then jumped towards the defenseless Metaknight while he was in midair. With a blink of an eye, Zoro slashed right through Metaknight with all nine swords. "ASURA: ICHIBUGIN!"

"GUAAHHH!!" Metaknight limplessly fell on the ground, with some cracks on his helmet as he was down. Despite what happened in the last chapter, Zoro was the real winner. Zoro's extra arms and heads disappeared as he looked up at the dark sky.

"I will never forget this battle…"

Meanwhile…

"DYAAAAAAAAHHH!!" Dedede lowered his mallet to the ground, creating a midsized shockwave that Chopper managed to avoid. Dedede continued to do this, creating even more shockwaves as the whole room shook tremendously, causing some parts of the ceiling to fall down to the floor. Chopper avoided the incoming rubble as he turned into his jumping point, and jumped towards Dedede while instantly changing into his arm point.

"KOKUTEI ROSEO!" Chopper thrusted his hoove at Dedede's cheek, staggering Dedede a couple of steps back as he seemed to have felt nothing. "Uh oh…"

"AAAAHHHHH!!" Dedede leaped towards Chopper, who placed his hooves together.

"KOKUTEI CROSS!" Chopper thrusted both of his hooves at Dedede's stomach, leaving a crossed slash mark on it as Dedede went flying back into a wall. "BRAIN POINT; SCOPE!" Chopper turned into his original self, and faced his hooves in front of his face as he looked for Dedede's weak point. Dedede furiously got up as Chopper gasped. "He has no weak point!? How can that be!?" Chopper asked as Dedede then charged at him. "Whoa!" Chopper jumped back as Dedede lowered his hammer on the ground, creating another shockwave that knocked Chopper back a couple of feet. Chopper then turned into his guard point as Dedede repeatedly hits him with his mallet.

"Ouch! That is starting to hurt me now!" Chopper cried as he tried to endure the pain while Dedede continued to hit him. Chopper then rolled out of the way as he turned into his horn point, and galloped towards the furious Dedede. "ROSEO COLLONADE!" Chopper lowered his antlers in front of Dedede, and was about to raise his head up, but Dedede grabbed Chopper's antlers, and lifted Chopper off his feet, and slammed him back on the ground. "Gah!" Chopper cried as Dedede intended to repeat his previous attack, until Chopper turned into his Heavy point, and pushed Dedede back as Chopper then charged at him. "HEAVY GONG!" Chopper punched Dedede in the face as Dedede staggered a few steps back.

"GRR!! YOU IDIOT!" Dedede jumped in front of Chopper, and swung his mallet upwardly at him, but Chopper sidestepped, and tried to counter with a punch, but Dedede let's go of his mallet, and grabs onto Chopper as he landed back on his feet. Dedede then started to give several headbutts right in Chopper's face, causing Chopper to bleed from his mouth as Dedede then shoved him down on his back, and grabbed his legs as Dedede then swung him into the pillar next to him. "HIYAAA!" Dedede then threw Chopper in the opposite way of the pillar as Chopper rolled along the ground in pain. Chopper panted heavily as Dedede raised his hammer above his shoulder.

"MALLET THROW!" Dedede threw his mallet at Chopper, but unlike last time, the mallet was engulfed with red flames, but the mallet did not burn as it flew right towards Chopper. Chopper turned into his jumping point, and jumped out of the way as he held on to a pillar. Dedede quickly retrieved his mallet, and threw it at Chopper again, who jumped to avoid it once more as he headed straight towards Dedede while turning into his arm point.

"KOKUTEI ROSEO CANNON!" Dedede jumped out of the way as Chopper thrusted both his hooves down at the floor, creating an invisible force that hits the ground beneath him, leaving a perfect round hole through it as he then landed on his feet.

"SUPER DEDEDE JUMP!" Dedede jumped in the air furiously as Chopper then got as far away as he could before Dedede landed back on his feet, creating a shockwave along the ground that stunned Chopper for a bit. Dedede also created a big red star upon landing as he readied his hammer while facing at the stunned

Chopper. "METEOR STAR!" Dedede hits the red star as it flew right towards Chopper.

BOOM!

A fiery explosion occurred once the star crashed into Chopper. Dedede panted heavily as he didn't notice the blur coming out of the dust screen from the explosion. Dedede blinked as he saw Chopper, who was in walking point as he galloped towards Dedede. Dedede took some steps back until he bumped into the unconscious Escargoon behind him. He repeatedly looked back at Chopper and Escargoon as he came up with an idea as Chopper turned into his arm point when he was close to him. "KOKUTEI ROSEO!" Chopper thrusted his hoove right up at Dedede's chin, spiraling him up towards the air. Chopper then turned into his jumping point, and jumped above Dedede as he then turned back into his arm point.

"KOKUTEI DIAMOND!" Chopper thrusted both of his hooves at Dedede, who smirked smuggishly as it turned out that he and Chopper weren't the only ones in the air as Dedede held Escargoon in front of him, which surprised Chopper.

"ESCARGOON SHIELD!" Dedede blocked Chopper's strong attack as Escargoon got hit hard in the stomach as Chopper left a diamond shaped slash on his stomach. Escargoon crashed right into the ground, obviously not going to wake up for a while longer as Chopper regretted for what he did to him. He then looked towards Dedede as he was taking something out. "GORDO TOSS!" Dedede threw a spiked ball with eyeballs as it struck Chopper in the chest.

"AAAAHHH!!" The spiked ball bounced off of Chopper as Chopper crashed right towards the other side of the throne room as Dedede landed on back on his feet, staring at Chopper as he tried to get back up again.

"STOP GETTING UP!! JUST ACCEPT YOUR DEFEAT LIKE THE LOSER YOU ARE!!" Dedede yelled furiously, but Chopper ignored him as he turned into his walk point, and galloped towards Dedede. Chopper then leaped at Dedede while changing into his guard point.

"GUARD POINT, SPIKED BALL!" Chopper's round soft fur then turned into a big spikey furball as Chopper went flying towards Dedede, who some reason was not going to dodge. Instead, he raised his mallet as the back of it opened up, revealing a booster that started to ignite.

"JET HAMMER!" The booster ignited as Dedede quickly swung at Chopper, going right through his spiked fur.

"GAAAAAAAHHHH!!" Chopper crashed right back into a wall. Chopper tried to get up once more, but he was way too injured to go on. Chopper panted heavily as Dedede just watched, giving Chopper a grumpy look.

"It's over! I already won!" Dedede exclaimed, "Now you understand why I am the king of Dreamland. There is nobody here that can defeat me! I truly am the greatest king of all times! And what are you, you ask? A pathetic loser, that's what! You come here, and try to take me on, and for what; so you can show me how pathetic you are!? What are you trying to prove here!? You are completely useless, and you'll always will be! You are nothing to your so called friends! You are just a waste of space to them! That's why they don't count on you to do anything important! You should have just drowned in the dark depths of the ocean where I left you!"

Dedede then blinked in confusion as Chopper was back to his original self as he once again was up on his feet as he glared at Dedede. "Everything you just said was exactly the reason why you shouldn't be king!" Chopper said.

"What!?" Dedede asked.

"You remind of another selfish king back in my world." Chopper began to say, "He was just like you, but in the end, Luffy defeated him. Ever since that day, I felt I needed to repay him back somehow.

And now, I can prove to him and everyone else that I can be as strong as they are! I will show that I can be brave! No matter how things look now, I will beat you!"

Dedede just stood there angrily as he glared at Chopper. "You just don't give up! It's time to call in reinforcements!" Dedede yelled. He then placed his fingers in his mouth, and whistled very loudly, causing Chopper to cover his ears. This somehow called in a big group of Waddle dees into the throne room, and faced in front of Chopper as Dedede winded up his mallet. "Death penalty time! WADDLE DEE BOMBARDMENT!" The mallet then opened up it's booster again as the booster lits up as Dedede started to hit every single Waddle dee with blinding speed. All the Waddle dees that got hit got covered in fire as all of them went right towards Chopper.

BOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOMMMMM!!

"How's that, huh!? Are you still alive!?" Dedede asked angrily. He then gasped as he saw Chopper coming out of the dust screen from the big explosion, and headed towards Dedede while in his arm point. "Dyah!? This guy's a freak!" Dedede gasped nervously, "No matter! This one will take care of him for sure!" Dedede was holding a gordo behind his back as he was slowly getting some distance from Chopper. "It might kill him, but I have-WHOA!?" Dedede didn't notice that the unconscious Escargoon was behind him, and accidentally tripped over him, and landed on the gordo's spikes with his rear. "DYAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHH!!" Dedede lets go of his mallet as he slightly flew upward while holding his rear in pain.

"KOKUTEI…" Chopper got in front of Dedede as soon and charged up his arms as Dedede was falling back down. "ROSEO MICHIERI!" Chopper repeatedly slammed both of his hooves at Dedede at such an incredible rate, that he left many hoove prints on Dedede's body.

"DYAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAHH HHHH!!" After the attack, Dedede went flying right into his chair, and crashed right back into a wall. The box with the mystery hearts flew upwards afterwards as Chopper turned into his original self, and caught them.

Dedede was on his destroyed chair, and up against a wall as he was completely unconscious. The winner of this fight was Chopper. Chopper let out a tear as he lifted the box in glory.

"I did it! I won! I have recovered the hearts, and avenged my friends!" Chopper yelled happily.

Meanwhile…

Back in the meadows, Kirby was still singing as it was now getting on Nami's nerves. "GIVE ME THAT!" Nami yelled as she then took off the headphones and microphone, and stomped them with her foot repeatedly. Everyone, except Franky and Kirby, sighed in relief as Nami panted angrily while Franky just stared at her.

"YOU ARE SUCH A PARTY POOPER!" Franky said energetically.

"Don't care!" Nami replied. She then froze in fear upon something.

"What's wrong, Nami?" Tuff asked.

"The weather is changing drastically again… something is about to happen." Nami said in fear as she looked up at the UFO.

Kirby Pt 15

Yay, I updated before Friday! Now, my head was a little foggy again, so this chapter may not be that good. Oh well. Enjoy!

Avenged! Chopper confronted Dedede by himself, and despite Dedede using various tricks, and using Escargoon as a weapon, Chopper stood victorious in the end. However, the threat of Dreamland is still at large. Can the Strawhat crew stop this?

Chapter 82: Dreamlands' last hope?, Nightmare finally appears!

Nami nervously looked the dark clouds above the UFO as they started to twirl slowly. Everyone noticed this as Usopp was starting to regain consciousness. "Ohh.. is he done singing?" Usopp asked dazedly. He then came back to his senses as he noticed what everyone else was looking at. "Hey, what's going on now?"

"Those clouds above that thing are acting really strange…" Nami replied, "Something is about to happen, and I don't even know what it is."

"HA! WHATEVER IT IS, WE CAN TAKE IT DOWN!" Franky said energetically. The clouds above the UFO then started to open up, creating a big, thunderous dark hole. A gust of wind then started to blow everywhere, almost knocking Nami, and the others off their feet.

"This isnt right! The wind is heading towards that hole!" Nami yelled, "Something is definetly going to happen!"

"Geh!? I can't imagine what would come out of there!" Usopp whimpered, "Let's hope it's just a lightning bolt that will destroy that UFO, or something like that!"

"Poyo!" Kirby said.

"OI, SOMETHING ELSE IS GOING ON UP THERE!" Franky yelled while pointing above the UFO. A humongous gust of wind started to spin around above the surface of the UFO. The wind then started to turn black as the thunder from the hole struck at it, creating a explosion of dark lightning that almost covered the entire purple clouds.

"It… It must be him! It can't be anyone else!" Tuff yelled.

"Wh-What!? Who are you talking about!?" Usopp panicked.

"It's true! It has to be him!" Lololo said.

"Nobody else can make an entrance as scary as that!" Lololo said.

"Poyo?" Kirby asked.

Everyone continued to look above the UFO as the gust of dark wind started to disperse.

"Yah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! I have returned at last!!"

The gust of wind dispersed as it revealed somebody on the UFO, or something for this matter. It appeared to be a giant demon, with a blue cape with grey stars on it that covered his body. He is wearing a double-plated shoulder pads on both of his shoulders, and a pair of shades concealed his eyes. He had a nasty face with a sickly color with a long pointed nose, and a jutting, deeply cleft chin. He also wears a horned helmet, a red medallion around his neck, and his spindly arms were coming out of the darkness of his cape. This man is nothing but pure evil, and intends to conquer all-- Nightmare.

"Greetings, citizens of Dreamland!" Nightmare said loud enough for everyone in Dreamland to hear. "I have come back once more to finish what I have started! For years, I have waited to take over this pathetic world, and all living creatures with it! You will now face the wrath of your true ruler, Nightmare! Yah ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

Nami and everyone else were completely shocked over seeing Nightmare. "Wh-What in the world!? That is… the guy who is responsible for all this!?" Nami asked as she fell on her knees in fear.

"Nightmare! I know it was him!" Tuff said angrily.

"Poyo!" Kirby said angrily while glaring at Nightmare.

"WAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHH!! It's the mother of all monsters!! And he is going to kill us all!!" Usopp panicked as he ran around in circles.

"THAT GUY IS FREAKISHLY HUGE!!" Franky said while lifting his sunglasses above his eyes. "HOW ARE WE SUPPOSED TO TAKE DOWN SOMETHING LIKE THAT!?"

They watched as Nightmare looked at his surroundings with a cruel grin across his face. "Be afraid, Dreamland! Your hopes and dreams will soon be crushed under my rule! But first… Kirby! Where are you!? I have a score to settle with you!"

"EEEEKK!! We have to get out of here!" Usopp yelled fearfully, "There is no telling what that guy will do once he finds Kirby with us!"

"Where do you expect us to go!?" Nami asked, "That monster will eventually get to us even if we were hiding!" Nami then looked towards Kirby. "You beat him before, haven't you!? Do something about this!"

"Po-Poyo!" Kirby said nervously.

"Kirby can't fight Nightmare without the Warpstar, and the only one who can summon it is my sister, Tiff, but she is not here!" Tuff said to Nami.

"Tsk! Dammit!" Nami said angrily as she looked back at Nightmare, "Isn't there any other way to take down that monster!?"

"IF THERE ISNT, THEN WE'LL TAKE IT ON!" Franky said while flexing, "NOT LIKE WE HAVE ANY OTHER CHOICE TO BEGIN WITH!"

Nami and everyone else continued to stare at Nightmare, who continued to laugh upon the dark stormy clouds.

Meanwhile…

Chopper puts down the box filled with the Mystery hearts on the ground in front of him. He felt really proud of himself for standing up against Dedede, and beating him as well.

"I proved to myself that I can be as strong as my friends." Chopper said happily, "They will be so proud of me once they found out what I did for them."

The throne room was a mess. Cracks were everywhere, some pillars were destroyed, the floor looked like it was about to break, and there were unconcious Waddle dees everywhere. Above all that, Escargoon looked like if he got stepped on by a giant ten times or so as he was covered with injuries. And lastly, Dedede was truly the one who suffered. He was unconscious, with his back on the destroyed throne chair he crashed into before crashing into the wall behind him. Chopper sighed as he fell on his rear in exhaustion.

"I can barely move. I might as well take a rest for a while." Chopper said, "I need all the strength possible to get the hearts back to the ship."

"I… don't… THINK SO… !!"

Chopper's eyes widened as he looked behind his shoulder, and saw Dedede conscious again. Dedede sat up while panting heavily as he glared at Chopper, who was really shocked. "That's impossible! You can't be up after all that!"

At the same time, Escargoon was also regaining conscious, and noticed the destruction in the throne room. "What happened here!? Ow, my body!" Escargoon cried as held his chest in pain.

"Dyeh… I won't let you make a fool out of me again!" Dedede said as he groggily got up on his feet while panting. "I still have… enough juice… to smash you!"

"GOMU GOMU NO…"

"Zoi?" Dedede heard a muffled voice beneath him, and as soon as he looked down to see what it was…

"… KAZAN!" A stretched leg kicked right through the floor beneath Dedede, and kicked him between his feet.

"DWUUUUUU UUUUOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOHHHHHH HHHHHHHHHHHH!?"

Dedede went flying across the room, going over Chopper, and landing right in front of the exit. "Your Majesty! Are you alright!?" Escargoon asked as he groggily rushed towards Dedede's aid. Chopper blinked confusedly as he looked back where Dedede was kicked, and saw somebody coming out of the hole. Chopper then smiled as he saw Luffy pulling himself up from the hole, with Tiff holding on to his back.

"Ugh, we are finally out!" Luffy exclaimed happily. "It felt like we were down there for weeks, but it's so good to be out at last! You see, Tiff; I told you kicking through ceilings would work, but you wanted to walk the way out."

"Hasn't it occurred to you that if you kicked through ceilings, their might have been a chance that we could have gotten ourselves caved in!?" Tiff asked while getting off of Luffy's back.

"Hmm… nope, that hasn't occurred to me at all." Luffy said as Tiff just stared at him, "Atleast we got out, right?"

"Ugh… just barely…" Tiff sighed. Tiff then noticed the destruction in the room. "What happened here?"

"Luffy!" Chopper exclaimed happily as he approached Luffy.

"Huh? Hey, Chopper!" Luffy said as Chopper then hugged him happily. "I thought you drowned! I was about to kick that fat penguin's ass for you."

"I got saved by Kine, and I was able to kick Dedede's ass all by myself!" Chopper said as he pointed at Dedede, who was in sheer pain from getting kicked earlier.

"Woah! You did that by yourself!? That's amazing, Chopper! You really outdid yourself!" Luffy said happily. Chopper got off of Luffy, and started to do his happy dance.

"S-Stupid! Don't think that you would make me happy for saying that! You big dummy!" Chopper said happily. Luffy then noticed the box filled with the Mystery hearts.

"And you also got the Mystery hearts back! Man, I wish I was here to see when this all happened." Luffy said.

"SHUT UP!" Chopper said even more happily. Tiff smiled knowing that Chopper was okay, but soon frowned as she looked at Dedede.

"Dedede! Dont think this is over yet!" Tiff said angrily, "You still have to pay for what you did to us!"

"Dyeh!?" Dedede looked behind his shoulder, and saw Luffy, who started to walk towards him.

"I am going to kick your ass twice as harder than I intended to do so before you put me in that stupid maze!" Luffy said angrily.

"Dyah! I gotta get out of here!" Dedede panicked as he pulled the doors open, and ran out. Escargoon followed him until they ended up on a balcony. They tried get back on the hallways, but Luffy was already blocking their way. "N-Now listen up! It's not my fault you fell through my trap door, I swear!"

"Yeah… huh?" Luffy saw how dark and cloudy the sky was. Tiff and Chopper got next to him, and also saw the sky. "Hey, what's wrong with the clouds? They are all purplish."

"It cant be a storm… !?" Tiff covered her mouth in shock as she just noticed the UFO, and Nightmare above it. "I-It's not possible!"

"Whoa! Look at the size of that guy!" Luffy exclaimed in shock. Chopper noticed Nightmare, and screamed in fear.

"Waahh!! That's a big monster!" Chopper cried in fear.

"Monster!?" Dedede and Escargoon looked behind themselves, and saw Nightmare as well. "Dyah!? That fiend is back again!"

"Oh, great! And at a moment like this too!" Escargoon whimpered.

"Dedede, are you responsible for this!?" Tiff asked.

"Don't point fingers at me! I had nothing to do with this, and I mean it this time!" Dedede said. Tiff then stared back at Nightmare in disbelief.

"This cant be happening again…" Tiff said while shivering in fear, "Kirby! Where is Kirby!? We have to find him!"

"The last I saw Kirby where somewhere near the meadows!" Chopper said.

"Yosh! We're going over there now!" Luffy said while punching his fist.

"It's too far from here to run, you idiot!" Dedede said while looking at Nightmare.

"The only way to get there quickly is that if we get launched by a giant slingshot." Escargoon said. Dedede and Escargoon then looked at Luffy behind him, and saw Luffy stretching his arms towards pillars between themselves. Chopper and Tiff got on Luffy's back as Luffy walked back while stretching his arms more.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprunged himself off the balcony, hitting Dedede and Escargoon with his shoulders, taking them along for the ride as they flew towards the meadows.

"Hmm?" In the front garden, Zoro saw Luffy flying over him. "Was that Luffy? I guess it is…" Zoro said. He was sitting down on the grass floor, regaining his energy from that fierce battle. "Just what was that noise from earlier. It's like somebody was talking… Oh well, it's not like I can do much right now to find out."

"… Nightmare…"

Zoro perked his head up as behind him, Metaknight sat up, panting heavily. His mask was filled with cracks, but he didn't notice. "That voice is none other than Nightmare's. I should have known he would have returned someday. I need to stop him… but I can't even get up to do something about it!"

Metaknight's mask then shattered into pieces, revealing his face. After that, Zoro began to look back at Metaknight. "Hm? HUH!? THAT'S WHAT YOU LOOK LIKE!?"

Metaknight looked exactly like Kirby, only with blue skin, and yellow eyes. "Ugh!?" Metaknight quickly covered his face with a cape, and turned the other way in shame. "I am sorry you had to see that."

"Gah…" Zoro was bummed out for seeing Metaknight's face. He never thought that Metaknight would look so… cute. "Geez, I didn't think you would have that kind of face! No offense, but I like you better with the mask on!"

"Sorry…" Metaknight said under his cape, "But seriously speaking, this is not the time to talk about this."

Zoro then got serious, and looked back at the dark sky again.

Meanwhile…

"Kirby! Come out of hiding!" Nightmare yelled across Dreamland, "If you don't, I will start destroying this world little by little until you do!"

Everyone was hiding in some bushes. Franky wanted to go fight Nightmare, but Lololo and Lalala tried to hold him back. Everyone else was shivering in fear, except for Kirby, who wanted to fight Nightmare too.

"Poyo!" Kirby said angrily.

"We can't do anything now, Kirby, so just wait for now!" Tuff said.

"THIS IS RIDICULOUS! WE CAN'T HIDE FOREVER!" Franky said.

"Yes, we can!" Usopp said, "They don't call me the king of hide and seek for nothing! He won't find us in here."

"Yeah, he'll just destroy everything instead." Nami said bluntly, "We can't keep this up for long. I hate to admit this, but we have to fight that monster sooner or later."

"Ohh… I'm feeling sick." Usopp said in pain.

"Yeah, yeah; but we are still fighting him." Nami said while waving her hand. Lololo and Lalala were peeking out of the bush, and saw something heading their way.

"Hey, guys. There is something coming here!" Fololo said.

"EH?" Franky got out of the bush to see what they were talking about. Nami and Kirby came out of the bush too, with Nami pulling Usopp out of the bush as well.

"No! I don't want see more evil things! I had enough for today!" Usopp whimpered. Nami squinted her eyes, and gasped upon seeing who was coming.

"Get out of the way! Luffy is coming!" Nami said. Luffy, with Chopper and Tiff on his back and Dedede with Escargoon on his shoulders, flew directly towards where Nami and the others are, and crashed right into Franky.

"Dyah!" Dedede and Escargoon flew right into the bushes. Luckily for them, Nami did not notice them as Chopper and Tiff got off of Luffy, who was on Franky's chest.

"Tiff! Chopper! Where were you guys!?" Tuff asked while approaching them.

"I don't want to talk about it…" Tiff and Chopper said simultaneously. Nami then walked up to Luffy, and grabbed him by his vest.

"Luffy, where the hell have you been!?" She asked while shaking Luffy back and forth, "Don't you see we are in a middle of a crisis!?"

"I do now!" Luffy said while taking Nami's hands off of him. He looked up at Nightmare, and glared at him. "That big chin guy is doing all this, right!?"

"Luffy, don't call him that! He could hurt us even more if he heard that!" Usopp whimpered. Franky then got up, and faced towards Luffy.

"OI, STRAWHAT! DIDN'T I SEE KING DORKDORKDORK FLYING WITH YOU JUST NOW!?" Franky asked angrily.

"Ugh? I think so, but I don't know where he went." Luffy said while looking at his surroundings. Dedede and Escargoon were still hiding in the bush.

"What do we do, Your Majesty?" Escargoon asked nervously.

"We'll hide here till they go away." Dedede said. They continue to hid in the bushes as Nami got irritated.

"We can deal with him later! Right now, we have to worry about that monster there! And since Tiff is here, we can finally act!" Nami said.

"Huh? Me?" Tiff asked.

"Your brother said you are the only one who can call this Warpstar for Kirby, right?" Nami asked, "Hurry up and call it so Kirby can go over there, and show that guy who's boss!"

Tiff wanted to reconsider since she is worried about Kirby getting hurt, but once she looked at Kirby, he had a confident look in his face. "Kirby, are you sure?"

"Poyo!" Kirby said confidently. Tiff then closed her eyes, and nodded as she faced toward the Kabu mountains, which were really far from where she is at.

"Come, Warpstar!"

Meanwhile… 5 minutes ago…

Robin was still fighting Juni and Juli in the Kabu mountains. Despite fighting alone, she appeared to be winning as Juni and Juli were having trouble staying on their feet after the severe beating Robin was giving them. Sanji was still worried about Robin's safety, but Bison did not feel the same way towards his warriors as he just watched how Juni and Juli were trying to attack Robin again.

"CUATRO FLEUR, FLIP!" four arms sprouted beneath Juni's and Juli's feet, and grabbed their legs, causing them to fall on their hands and knees. "DOS FLEUR, SLAM!" One arm appeared behind Juni's and Juli's back, and slammed their faces into the floor.

"Ah!" They both cried in pain. Bison frowned at this as Juni quickly got back on her feet, and swung her fist at Robin, who lowered her stance to avoid the punch as she then countered by sprouting two arms behind Juni's back, which grabbed Juni by the neck as they started to strangle her. After Robin did this, Juli came right in front of her, and kicked Robin in the gut.

"Eh!" Robin fell on her back in pain. This also caused the hands that were strangling Juni to disappear as Juni then gasped for air.

"Robin-chwan!" Sanji cried worringly as Robin groggily sat up, until she saw Juni and Juli looking down at her with an emotionless gaze.

"In order to complete our mission, all enemies must be eliminated." Juli said emotionlessly.

"Affirmative. We must dispose of these two at once." Juni said as she clenched her fist. Bison smirked as Juni and Juli pulled back their fists, and were about to strike Robin at the same time, until…

"VIENTE FLEUR, LITTLE TREE!" As soon as Juni and Juli thrusted their fists, Robin sprouted a column of arms from the ground in front of her, creating a small tree of hands that wrapped around Juni and Juli's attacking arms, stopping them from going any further.

Juni and Juli were shocked as they tried to pull their arms off the small tree of hands, but it was no use as Robin then got back up to her feet.

"Great fighters such as yourselves shouldn't be giving their enemies any openings." Robin said bluntly, "You could have finished me off if you hadn't given me the time to recover, but since you did, it's already to fix the errors you made." Robin slowly crossed her limbs, closing her eyes as well. "DOCE FLEUR…" Six set of arms appeared around Juni and Juli's body, which made them feel a bit nervous. "… CLUTCH!"

CRACK!

"AAAAAHHHH!!" The hands broked Juni and Juli's back, giving them sheer amount of pain all over their body. The arms around them, and the small tree of arms around their arms disappeared as they fell limplessly on the floor. Robin opened her eyes, and saw the limpless warriors. She has won the battle as she then walked towards Sanji, who was still on the ground.

"Robin, are you okay!? You're not hurt, are you?" Sanji asked worryingly.

"Why, I was about to ask you that, Cook-san." Robin said kindly, "You don't need to worry about me, I'm fine. Now, we should be getting out of here; everyone else must be worried about us."

"Huh? Ugh.. yeah, I guess…" Sanji said with a soft tone, "But I don't think we'll be going anywhere with him around."

Sanji referred to Bison, who looked rather neutral upon seeing his best warriors lose. He noticed that Juni was barely conscious, and saw how regretful she looked for failing her leader. Juni then crawled towards Bison, and looked up at him, feeling very bad for losing.

"I am sorry… Sir Bison… we failed you…" Juni said, with a sad look on her face. Bison did not say anything, nor did he reply with any signs of anger of some sort. Instead, he kneed down to Juni's level, and looked at her.

"You did wonderful…" Bison said, "You showed me what you truly were capable of… however…" Bison then frowned at Juni, "It was not enough.. I choose you and Juli as my top warriors because you never lost to anyone.. but after seeing what happened today.." Bison then grabbed Juni by the back of her head "It turned out that you were nothing but a useless puppet!!"

SLAM!!

Bison slammed Juni's face right into the floor, leaving a big crack on it. Sanji eyes widened with surprise as Bison then lifted Juni by pulling on her hair, and lifting her up a few inches from the ground. "You know that I do not tolerate failure, Juni! Have you forgotten that!?"

"N-No sir… I didn't…" Juni said as her blood flowed down from her forehead. Bowser snarled at Juni as he then punched her in the face, knocking her back down to the ground.

"I have given you power, and this is what I get in return!?" Bison asked angrily as he then kicked Juni's stomach, causing her to cough up her blood. Bison then looked at Juli, who remained on the floor, "And you! What makes you any different from her!?"

"Nothing… I have failed you… I should not be forgiven…" Juli said while looking down at the ground. Bison did not say anything, but pull on Juli's hair, and gave her a rough knee to the face, causing her to bleed. Bison then grabbed her by the neck, and started choking her.

"You two will not be forgiven for this!" Bison said angrily, "I will not accept weaklings to be a part of my brigade! You two will learn your place by receiving the rightful punishment that-"

"OI!"

Bison looked towards his right, and saw Sanji slowly getting back up on his feet. "What the hell do you think you are doing to her, you shitty piece of crap!?" Sanji asked furiously as he glared at Bison with sheer anger. Bison lets go of Juli as she limplessly fell on her back as Bison faced towards Sanji.

"I don't think that it is any of your concern, you weakling." Bison replied, "What I do to my warriors is my business only."

"I could care less about your buisness!!" Sanji said furiously, "How dare you lay a hand on a woman like that!? After all they did for you, you treated them like garbage! I can understand a monster attacking innocent people, but for someone to hurt their own soldiers mercilessly after doing their best deserves to rot in a sack where they belong!"

"Heh… you are not in the position to give me any lectures." Bison said with a smirk, "Besides, isn't it natural to discipline the weak in order to make them strong? No matter if they are women or children, all weaklings must become strong in order to live under my rules. If they don't, then they are not any use for me… so killing them was not a hard task at all."

Sanji was more pissed off than ever as he then spun around in circles with one foot, causing his foot to be covered with fire. "DIABLE JAMBE!" Sanji then leaped towards Bison, and thrusted his blazing foot at him, but Bison suddenly disappeared. "Ugh!?" In a split second, Bison was behind Sanji. Before Sanji could turn around, Bison backhanded Sanji at the side of his head, knocking him right into the cliff wall. "Gah!"

"Cook-san!" Robin cried worryingly as Bison then walked towards Sanji. "DIEZ FLEUR!" armss sprouted from Sanji, and prevented Bison from getting any closer. Bison simply smirked at this.

"Once again, you made a fool out of yourself." Bison said, "It comes to show you that true strength does not come from some feeling, but from the abilities you obtain. You are weak, and you will always be weak if you continue to show compassion to others. Let this be a lesson to you that the strong will always surpass the weak in everything."

"Warp star!"

Suddenly, Kabu opened his mouth, and a star came flying out of it as it left the Kabu mountains. Bison saw the star leave as this displeased him.

"It looks like we didn't get the warpstar in time…" Bison said, "Hmph! Come to think of it, Dedede is not even worth my time anymore. Let him die along with all these weak creatures in this world. Juni! Juli! Get up, we're leaving!"

Juni and Juli groggily got up on their feet, following Bison's orders despite the harsh beating they got from him. "I'll let you two live for a while longer. But if you don't get stronger by the next time we meet, you will surely regret it!"

A dark portal then formed next to Bison, which startled Robin as Juni and Juli groggily went through it. Bison took one last look at Sanji before he also left as the dark portal then closed.

"Damn… you…" Sanji said as he then lost consciousness as fire around his leg died out. Robin helped him up, and looked up at the UFO above the village.

"What could be happening to the others this time?

Meanwhile…

The Warpstar made it's way right in front of Kirby and the others as it then hovered slightly above the ground. "Woooo! Cooool!" Luffy said excitedly.

"Is that an actual star?" Usopp asked, "I never seen one this close before."

"Is Kirby going to use that?" Chopper asked.

"Yeah. With this, Kirby could get over to Nightmare without any trouble." Tiff explained, "But.. fighting him is going to be a problem."

"What do you mean?" Nami asked.

"Nightmare is almost invincible." Tiff said, "There are only a few ways to harm him, and they are not easy to pull off."

"Hmm… that doesn't bother me at all." Luffy said with his arms crossed. "Kirby wont be having trouble fighting him because I will help him win!"

The crew, and everyone else were shocked about this. "Luffy, I know you want to help save this place, but you cant do anything to that monster!" Usopp said, "You already heard what Tiff said about him almost being invincible, didn't you!? Just let Kirby fight him off while we stay here where it's safe!"

"No! I am too angry to just sit here and do nothing!" Luffy replied, "If that big chin guy wants to mess with this world, then he has to go through me too!"

"Poyo?" Kirby asked.

"OW! WAY TO GO, STRAWHAT!" Franky said energetically. Luffy then looked at Kirby, and gave him a confident grin.

"What do you say, Kirby? Want me to help you out?" Luffy asked.

"Poyo! Poyo!" Kirby agreed happily.

"Awesome! You're really cool, Luffy!" Tuff said.

"-sigh-… Just don't die up there, alright?" Nami said. Luffy nodded as Kirby got on the warpstar. Luffy grabs on to the edge of the Warpstar as it started to fly up above the UFO where Nightmare is.

"Be careful…" Tiff said worryingly.

Above the UFO, Nightmare was getting a bit impatient. "Kirby, if you do not show yourself this instant, I will destroy a part of your beloved village!" He said impatiently.

"Poyo!"

"Eh?" Nightmare looked towards his left, and saw Kirby and Luffy flying right ontop of the UFO. The warpstar crash landed on the UFO, knocking Luffy and Kirby on it.

"Ow… that hurt, but it was so fun getting up here!" Luffy said while rubbing the back of his head, "I wish I could ride stars to go to different worlds all the time."

"Poyo…" Kirby replied. While those two got up, Nightmare faced towards them, having a big smirk on his face.

"Kirby… and who is this we have here?" Nightmare asked. Luffy looked up, and frowned upon seeing Nightmare.

"Are you the big chin guy that is doing all this?" Luffy asked.

"Hmm? Why yes, of course. And who is asking?" Nightmare asked.

"I am Luffy, and I am here to get your ass out of this world for good!" Luffy replied while hitting his fist.

"Yah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Nightmare laughed, "Fool! A human as yourself cannot harm me. I am Nightmare; the emperor of darkness! I bring fear to those who have none, and replace people's hopes with despair and agony! I will destroy all your dreams, and turn your life into a living nightmare!"

"That won't happen to us!" Luffy replied, "I heard that Kirby has beaten you up the last time, and the same thing is going to happen to you right now, only with me helping him."

"Grr… you little fool." Nightmare frowned, "Your threats don't scare me! Since you are here, I will take care of you and Kirby at the same time, so that you both can know the true meaning of fear!"

"Bring it on!" Luffy yelled angrily as he charged at the giant monster. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusted his arm at Nightmare, and punched his cape, but Nightmare didn't felt a thing. "Huh!?"

"Yah ha ha ha ha! Was that all!?" Nightmare asked as Luffy backed away from him, "You seem to possess a strange ability, but that is not enough to harm me!"

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punched Nightmare, but nothing was happening to him at all. Nightmare just stood still as Luffy continued to punch him with rage. Nightmare then lifted his arm out of his cape, and pointed his finger at Luffy.

"HOLLOW STAR!" Nightmare fired a hollowed star at Luffy, which exploded on him, causing him to fall on his back. "Yah ha ha! You are really pathetic, human!" Luffy got up and charged at Nightmare again.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusted his leg at Nightmare, but somehow, it went right through him and his cape. "What the!? I didn't even felt him!" Luffy then saw Nightmare lifting up his other arm from his cape, and intended to cut Luffy's leg off with his huge and sharp nails. "Whoa!" Luffy quickly pulled his leg back in order to avoid the slash. Luffy then charged at Nightmare while stretching his arms behind himself. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted both of his arms at Nightmare, blowing of his cape around his body. What Luffy saw afterwards completely shocked him.

"What is that!?" Luffy was seeing that Nightmare had no body, but a void filled with stars under his cloak.

"HOLLOW STAR!" Nightmare fired off another hollow star at Luffy, who jumped out of the way as it exploded on the UFO. "Do you see it now? You cannot harm me no matter what!"

"Eh…" Luffy grunted. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy swung his stretched leg horizontally at Nightmare, and kicked him at the side of his face, but Nightmare still did not felt a thing. Nightmare smirked as he thrusted his fingertip at Luffy, who rolled out of the way as it pierced through the floor. Luffy pulled back his stretched leg the way it was, and ran around Nightmare, who fired multiple hollow stars at him. Luffy stretched his arms, and grabbed Nightmare's shoulder plates. He then pulled himself up on Nightmare's shoulders, and charged at Nightmare's head while stretching and twisting his arm back. "GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!"

Luffy punched Nightmare in the cheek, which didn't hurt him, but it certainly knocked his head sideways by a bit. Nightmare simply backslapped Luffy off of his shoulder as Luffy started to fall back down to the ground, until he stretched his arms to grab Nightmare's shoulder plates again, and swung across his chest to land on his other shoulder. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punched Nightmare at his cheek, but like last time, nothing was happening as Nightmare once again backslapped Luffy off his shoulder. Luffy tried to grab Nightmare's shoulder plates again, but Nightmare flew out of the way as Luffy started to fall back down to the ground.

"Poyo!" Kirby was on his warpstar, and saved Luffy from falling to the ground by letting him fall on his warpstar as Kirby then flew around Nightmare. Nightmare fired a hollow star at Kirby, who defended himself by inhaling it, and spitting it back to Nightmare, who blocked the incoming hollow star with the back of his right hand. Nightmare then swung his left finger, creating a small cutting wave as Kirby stopped his Warpstar to prevent getting hit by it, but by doing that, Nightmare took the chance to knock both Luffy and Kirby off the warpstar with his palm, and hit the ground hard. "Poyo…" Kirby dazedly got up as Nightmare intended to smash him with his palm again.

"Oh no, you don't!" Luffy yelled as he quickly got in front of Kirby, and held his hands up, preventing Nightmare's hand from going down any further. Somehow, Luffy was able to push the hand back with all his strength, which made Nightmare a bit angry as he swunged his other hand horizontally at Luffy, knocking him out of the way. "Ah!" Luffy cried in pain as Nightmare was about to fire a hollow star at him, until Kirby puts his mouth around Nightmare's finger, getting his attention.

"Let go!" Nightmare swung his finger back and forth to get Kirby off his finger, but Kirby held on as Luffy was getting back on his feet.

"Hold him like that, Kirby!" Luffy yelled as he charged at Nightmare, "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted both of his palms at Nightmare's arm, which didn't hurt him, but almost knocked him off balance.

"Grr!" Nightmare teleported, breaking his finger free from Kirby's mouth as he appeared on the edge of the UFO. "NIGHTMARE GLIDE!" Nightmare spreads out his cape as he got covered with the power of darkness. He then flew right past Luffy and Kirby with great speed, which created a strong gust that knocked Luffy and Kirby off their feet, and off the UFO.

"Poyo!" Kirby yelled as the warpstar then came to their aid, and caught them as it then helped them back on the UFO. Suddenly, Nightmare appeared right above them as he opened his cape, showing the big void he has.

"HOLLOW STARSTORM!" A shower of hollow stars came showering down at the duo. Kirby maneuvered the warpstar to avoid the some of the stars, but the last five of them were about to hit them head on.

"GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated himself as the stars hits his body. "GyeeeAAHHH!!" Luffy managed to bounce the stars off of him, and into Nightmare as they exploded upon impact. Luffy landed back on the warpstar as Nightmare reappeared behind them, and was about to lower his hand on them. "Right! Go right!" Luffy yelled as the warpstar went to it's right, avoiding Nightmare's hand as Luffy readied his leg. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy swung his stretched horizontally towards Nightmare's face, but he teleported away to dodge it. Nightmare reappeared in the center of the UFO below Luffy and Kirby as he clapped his hands on them, making them jump off the warpstar to avoid his attack.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punched Nightmare in the face as he was falling down, but Nightmare didn't even flinch upon getting hit.

"Yah ha ha ha ha ha!" Nightmare laughed as he hit backhanded Luffy into the ground hardly. Nightmare then faced towards Kirby, and tried to slash him with his sharp nails, but Kirby inflated himself to stay afloat in the air, avoiding Nightmare's slash just in time. Kirby then lets out the air in him, and lands back on the warpstar as he started flying around Nightmare again. "Heh!" Nightmare points his finger at Kirby, but then points his finger at Luffy while he was getting up.

"Poyo!" Kirby flies the warpstar into Luffy, knocking him out of the way as Nightmare then fired a hollow star from his fingertip, hitting Kirby without fail.

"Kirby!" Luffy yelled, "Why you!" Luffy charged at Nightmare, who simply laughed as he came near. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!"

"Imbecile!" Nightmare lowered his stance, and effortlessly blocked Luffy's punch with his palm. Nightmare then countered by thrusting his palm Luffy, knocking him on his back in pain. Nightmare then raised his arm as, and attempted to give Luffy a karate chop, but Luffy was able to roll out of the way to avoid Nightmare's big hand. Luffy rolled back to his feet, and quickly jumped on Nightmare's thumb. Just as Nightmare raised his hand a little higher from the ground, Luffy stretched his arms by pulling back with his legs.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself right into Nightmare's chin. Even though this didn't hurt Nightmare, he literally lost his balance from the knockback of that move, which made him angry.

"This is disturbing…" Nightmare muttered as he teleported behind Luffy, who was still in midair. "HOLLOW STAR!" Nightmare fired another hollow star from his fingertip, which exploded upon hitting Luffy as he crashed into the ground. After dust screen from the explosion faded away, Nightmare could see Luffy on his back, groggily trying to get back on his feet.

"How long are you going to keep this up? This is hardly enjoyable." Nightmare said. Suddenly, a light then shined behind Nightmare, who looked behind his shoulder to see what it was. "Hmm?… What!?" Kirby was holding some sort of rod, with a star on it's tip.

"Wha? What is that?" Luffy blinked in confusion

"The star rod!?" Nightmare gasped. "He must have inhaled the warpstar while this human was distracting me!"

"Poyo!" Kirby charged at Nightmare as he swung the star rod at him, creating a star that hits Nightmare in his core.

"GYAH!!" Nightmare cried in pain as he backed away. "Curses! That rod is the only thing that is standing in my way towards victory!"

"Poooyooo!!" Kirby swung his star rod again, creating another star as it went towards Nightmare. To save himself, Nightmare teleported out of the way, and reappeared behind Kirby. Nightmare yelled angrily as he flew towards Kirby from behind, but Kirby was faster than him as he did a 180 degree turn with his star rod, and hits Nightmare's core again as Nightmare flew across the UFO floor in pain.

"Ahh… this is too dangerous!" Nightmare said, "I cannot lose like this!" He then saw Kirby swinging his Star rod in circles before he swung at Nightmare, which created multiple stars that surrounded him. "Gyeh… I wont let history repeat itself!" Nightmare spreads his arms out, knocking all the stars back as one of them almost hits Kirby, making him lose some of his balance. Nightmare then fired a hollow star at Kirby, which exploded upon impact as the explosion was strong enough to knock the star rod off of Kirby's hands, and flew next to the edge of the UFO floor.

"Poyo!" Kirby went to retrieve the star rod, but Nightmare stopped him by slamming his palm on him.

"Yah ha ha ha ha ha! It's over, Kirby! Victory is mine!" Nightmare said with a smirk.

"You're wrong!" Luffy yelled from afar as he charged at Nightmare, who simply smirked.

"Fool… havent you understand that-"

POW!!

"GAHH!?" Nightmare got punched in the core, which actually damaged him as Luffy then gave another punch to it. "Gyeh!"

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punched Nightmare's core, inflicting pain to Nightmare even more. Luffy ended his combo with a nasty right punch, which sends the huge monster to fly across the UFO floor in pain. Nightmare regained his flight balance in midair, and gave Luffy a shocked look.

"How can this be!? How can someone like you harm me!?" Nightmare asked angrily. He then noticed a yellow spark from his core. He looked at it, and noticed that his core was covered with yellow sparks. "Kirby's last attack with the star rod must have been to much for me to handle. This is bad; now I'm vulnerable to all kinds of attacks!"

"YYYYaaaaaahhhh!!" Luffy charged at Nightmare, who got defensive. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusted his stretched leg at Nightmare's core, but Nightmare quickly covered it with his cape as Luffy's leg bounced off of it.

"If I can keep my core from getting hit, then winning shouldn't be a problem, but…" Nightmare gave Luffy an angry, "That boy is very strong for being just a human. Just what is he!?"

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy swung his stretched leg horizontally at Nightmare, who flew back to avoid, and countered by trying to slash Luffy's leg off, but Luffy quickly pulled his leg back, and leaped towards Nightmare. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusted his both of his legs at Nightmare, who teleported out of the way as he reappeared behind Luffy. Nightmare then slashed Luffy's back, also slashing part of his vest off. "Ahh!!" Luffy fell on his hands and knees in pain as Nightmare was about to slash him again, until Kirby rammed his head on Nightmare's hand, knocking it away sideways. Nightmare angrily used the same hand to knock Kirby away from him as Luffy quickly got on his feet.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusted his stretched leg right through an opening of Nightmare's cape, and kicked Nightmare's core.

"AAAAAAAHHHH!!" Nightmare cried as he tried to slash Luffy with his nails, but Kirby inhaled Luffy away from Nightmare as he slashed through the ground. Kirby stopped inhaling as he seemed to have inhaled a part of Luffy's vest. Luffy sat up and saw Kirby jumping up in the air, and a light appeared under Kirby's left eye, which formed into a scar. A straw hat then flew around Kirby as he somehow stretched his round hands to catch, and place it on his head.

"Whoaaaaa!? COOOOOOLLL!!" Luffy said excitedly as Kirby was now Luffy Kirby. Nightmare angrily faced towards the duo, and flew towards them as Kirby then got in front of him.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Kirby stretched his round arm, and punched Nightmare's arm out of the way.

"THAT'S SO COOL!" Luffy exclaimed as he then noticed that Nightmare was wide opened for an attack. He then charged at Nightmare, who could only watch as he approached him. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted both of his palms at Nightmare's core, giving sheer amounts of pain to Nightmare himself. Kirby then jumped off of Luffy's shoulder, and went right towards Nightmare's face.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Kirby stretched his foot, and kicked Nightmare in the face horizontally, knocking him sideways. Luffy then stretched his arms, and grabbed Nightmare by his cape.

"GOMU GOMU NO SWING!" Using all his strength, Luffy swung Nightmare over his shoulder, and into the floor. Nightmare then teleported, and reappeared above Luffy and Kirby.

"NIGHTMARE CRASH!" Nightmare flew towards the UFO facing downward, hitting the top of the UFO, knocking Luffy and Kirby away from eachother. Nightmare then reappeared in front of Luffy, and tried to slash him, but Luffy used his right leg and foot to stop it, and then wrap them around Nightmare's attacking hand. Luffy then stretched his left arm, and wrapped it around Nightmare's neck as Luffy sprung himself towards Nightmare's core.

"GOMU GOMU NO ARROW!" Luffy hits Nightmare's core with his knee, causing Nightmare to cry in agony as he teleported away from Luffy, and reappeared from a distance.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Nightmare looked behind his shoulder, and saw Kirby behind him, "GATLING GUN!" Kirby repeatedly punched Nightmare, but he wasn't hitting his core, meaning that he was not harming Nightmare at all. Nightmare points his finger over his shoulder, and fired a hollow star at Kirby, who jumped out of the way to avoid. Nightmare then looked forward, and saw that Luffy leaped at him with his legs facing him.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusted his legs at Nightmare, who teleported away to avoid. Kirby then came up with an idea, and wrapped his arms around Luffy's stretched legs. "Huh?" Kirby then swung Luffy like a whip as Nightmare reappeared in front of him. "I get it now!" Luffy said as Kirby swung him horizontally at Nightmare, with Luffy giving a hard elbow to Nightmare's core.

"Gah… I had enough of you two!" Nightmare knocked away Luffy with a backhand, and fired a hollow star at Kirby. They both fell hard on the ground as they glared at Nightmare.

"Grr.. give it up!" Luffy yelled angrily "I won't let you get away with this!"

"That's what you think! Yah!" Nightmare raised his hands in the air, causing the UFO to slowly fly above the dark clouds. The UFO was now above the clouds as Luffy and Kirby could see the stars and worlds in the sky.

"Take a good look at this view!" Nightmare said, "It will be the last thing you will see before I'm through with you both!"

Luffy simply got up and cracked his knuckles as he glared at Nightmare. "This wont change a thing! I will still beat you!"

Kirby Pt 16

The final chapter to the Kirby arc has arrived! Enjoy!

The emperor of darkness finally arrives. Nightmare appeared on Dreamland, hoping to destroy Kirby and take over the universe as he planned for a such a long time. Too bad for him that Luffy intends to stop him as he and Kirby confronted Nightmare, and began their battle against him. Will they win, and save Dreamland?

Chapter 83: Nightmare's defeat, 6th Mystery heart obtained

Above the dark clouds of Dreamland, Luffy cracked his knuckles while Kirby got into his fighting stance as they were ready to fight Nightmare again. Nightmare wasn't pleased; things weren't going as he have planned.

"I am a little curious," Nightmare began to say, "What is somebody like you doing in Dreamland anyway?"

"Hmm? Just passing by." Luffy replied with a plain look, "And since you are pissing me off, I must beat you up."

Nightmare frowned at Luffy's response. "You shouldn't meddle with other peoples' business, human. Especially with someone that could destroy everything you ever dreamed of having."

"I don't care." Luffy said, "I will still beat you up, and force you to never come back here again."

"You little…" Nightmare pointed his finger at Luffy, "Your overconfidence will lead you to your demise. I will turn your dreams into nightmares before I destroy you!"

"Idiot! My dreams will never die! I will become the Pirate King!" Luffy yelled angrily as his voice echoed throughout the dark sky. Kirby admired Luffy's confidence as Nightmare laughed at him.

"You ignorant fool! Dreams never come true! And I will prove it! HOLLOW STAR!" Nightmare fired a hollow star at Luffy and Kirby, who dodged out of the way in separate directions. Luffy and Kirby then charged at Nightmare at the same time.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Both Luffy and Kirby repeatedly thrusted their fists at Nightmare, who laughed as he did multiple teleportations to avoid their attacks. Nightmare then reappeared at the edge of the UFO, and fired multiple hollow stars at Luffy and Kirby from his fingertip. Luffy and Kirby ran at Nightmare, dodging his hollow stars as they got closer by the second. Once they were close enough, Kirby jumped at Nightmare, but Nightmare struck him down with a backhand, following straight down to Luffy, who inflated his body. "GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Kirby bounced off of Luffy's inflated stomach, and went flying towards Nightmare again.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Kirby stretched his foot towards Nightmare's face, but Nightmare dodged it by tilting his head sideways, with Kirby's foot going past him. Nightmare was about slash Kirby with his nails, but Luffy got underneath Nightmare's chin.

"GOMU GOMU NO KAAZAN!" Luffy stretched his foot all the way up, kicking Nightmare's chin as it staggered him. "GOMU GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy quickly pulled back his leg, and inflated his body again as Kirby fell on his stomach, and bounced off of it as he went towards Nightmare's core.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Kirby stretched his arm, and punched Nightmare's core. Nightmare grunted as he teleported away from Luffy and Kirby, and reappeared in the center of the UFO.

"HOLLOW STARSTORM!" Nightmare opened his cape, and let's out a shower of hollow stars from his core as they headed towards Luffy and Kirby. Unlike last time, Luffy and Kirby were having a little trouble avoiding all the stars as some of them were able to leave cuts on them.

"Ah!" Luffy cried as he then angrily charged at Nightmare. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusted his stretched leg at Nightmare, who caught it with two fingers. "Whoa!" Nightmare pulled back on Luffy's leg, springing Luffy towards himself.

"Yah ha ha ha ha!" Nightmare knocked Luffy down with his palm, knocking him down hard on the floor. Nightmare still held Luffy's stretched leg as he pulled on it again, springing Luffy back up from the floor, and was about to hit Luffy with his palm again, until Luffy suddenly wrapped his arms around Nightmare's hand, and then wrapping his legs around the other hand. Nightmare tried to get Luffy off of his hands as he pulled spreads his arms apart, stretching Luffy until he reached his limit. Suddenly, Luffy lets go of Nightmare, startling him as Luffy started to twist his body. "GOMU GOMU NO HANABI!" Luffy untwisted himself, punching in every direction, hitting Nightmare in the face, and his cape, showing his core again.

Kirby then took the chance to leap towards Nightmare with his feet facing towards him. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Kirby stretched his feet, and kicked Nightmare's core, staggering Nightmare a few feet back.

"Gah!" Nightmare teleported behind Kirby, and slashed across his back, knocking him down to the floor. "Yah!" Nightmare then appeared right in front of Luffy, who was about to land on his feet until Nightmare fired a hollow star at him, which exploded as Luffy got knocked up in the air as Nightmare was about to slash at him, but Luffy instantly kicked Nightmare's hand away from him.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusted his stretched arm, and punched Nightmare's hand away, which staggered Nightmare for just a bit. Luffy then stretched his arms, and grabbed Nightmare's neck "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung towards Nightmare, and crashed into his neck, staggering Nightmare even further as his cape revealed his core again. Luffy bounced off of Nightmare's neck, and went straight to Nightmare's core while stretching his leg upwards. "GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy brought down his leg, and smashed Nightmare's core with his foot, causing Nightmare to scream in agony as Nightmare then teleports to the edge of the UFO in order to get some distance.

"NIGHTMARE SLASH!" Nightmare flew towards Luffy as he intended to slash Luffy as he went by, but Luffy quickly ducked under Nightmare's swift attack. Nightmare angrily looked behind his shoulder to see Luffy as he then faced forward, and saw Kirby in front of him.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Kirby thrusted both of his round arms at Nightmare's face, knocking him back towards Luffy.

"GOMU GOMU NO SENSUIKAN!" Luffy stretched his arm as it went under Nightmare, and uppercutted him across his chin, knocking him up in the sky. Nightmare quickly retaliated, and faced his head and shoulders to the ground.

"NIGHTMARE CRASH!" Nightmare crashed down to the floor, causing the UFO to shake from the force. Due to being upside down, Nightmare's cape gently landed on the ground, revealing Nightmare's core to be wide open for any kind of attack.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Both Luffy and Kirby stretched their legs (Feet for Kirby), and horizontally kicked Nightmare's core from opposite directions, squishing the core like a sandwich. Nightmare cried in pain, until he showed a smirk across his face.

"HOLLOW STARSTORM!" Nightmare once again lets out a shower of hollow stars, only this time, they flew upwards before crashing back on the UFO, hitting everywhere.

"Poyo!?" From this attack, Kirby noticed that one of the hollow stars exploded onto the star rod, knocking it off the UFO. "Poyo!" Kirby dashed towards the edge of the UFO, and stretched his arms to catch the star rod, but before he could catch it, Nightmare, who was still upside down, fired a hollow star from his fingertip, and hits Kirby from behind, knocking him off the UFO. Kirby began to fall down to the thunderous clouds, until a stretched hand came from above and grabbed Kirby from falling even further.

"Hold on, Kirby!" Luffy shouted as he was the one who saved Kirby from falling. Luffy pulled Kirby back on the UFO, and panted happily. "You okay?"

"Poyo!" Kirby nodded happily.

"Hey, where is that star rod thingy? Didn't you catch it?" Luffy asked as he noticed that Kirby wasn't holding the star rod.

Suddenly, they heard Nightmare laughing as he got floated upward again. "All your attempts of defeating me have just went down the drain. The star rod was the only thing that could really defeat me! Without it, you two are hopeless!"

"Yeah, right!" Luffy scoffed, "We don't need a magic rod to defeat you!"

"Believe in what you want, but it's now over!" Nightmare yelled as he faced his palms against eachother, creating a really big hollow star. "NIGHTMARE WORLD!" Nightmare threw the giant hollow star in the air as it then stay afloat. Luffy and Kirby blinked in confusion as the star spin, creating a dark hole that started to suck in Luffy and Kirby off their feet.

"Hey, what's going on!?" Luffy yelled in panic.

"You will now witness the true of meaning of what nightmares are all about! Yah ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Nightmare laughed as he also got sucked into the hole. Luffy and Kirby screamed as they finally got into the hole, seeing nothing but darkness inside.

Moments later, they opened their eyes, and couldn't believe what they were seeing. "Whoa! This is… !" For some reason, their was candy, turkey legs, and different kinds of food floating in the air. Their also appeared to be on a giant chess board, which was floating on an ocean. "I don't what this place is, but I like it so far!"

"You've entered your dreams."

Luffy and Kirby turned around, and saw Nightmare behind them. "What you see here is what you most desire. All the things you ever wanted is all here."

"Really!?" Luffy asked. He looked at his surroundings, "All the food, and on the sea; that sure is the good life!"

"Maybe now…" Nightmare said with a smirk, "But let's see what happens when it's all gone!" Nightmare spreads his arms, which caused the blue sky turn purple, the water vanishing into thin air, and the food being beyond Luffy's and Kirby's reach. The chess board they were on remained afloat in the air as Nightmare laughed at this horrific sight.

"Huh!? What are you doing!?" Luffy asked angrily.

"What you see here is what will happen to you in the future!" Nightmare exclaimed, "All your dreams will lead you to an unhappy life! Surrender to your nightmares, and let your fear take over your reality!"

Luffy only stared at Nightmare; he didn't believe anything he was saying. "Why should I? You're the one who is doing all this. Why should I do what you say?"

"Don't you see it, yet!?" Nightmare asked, "Your fate is to die here. Upon entering your dreams, I am ten times more stronger than I was before. There is nothing you can do stop me! Yah ha ha ha ha ha!" Nightmare then looked a bit blurry as multiple clones of himself came out of himself, and surrounded Luffy and Kirby.

"Poyo…" Kirby got a little nervous, unlike Luffy, who was amazed by this.

"Whoa! That's so cool! Is that some kind of Kage bunshin no jutsu (Clone jutsu)? Luffy asked.

"Yah ha ha ha ha! You're life ends here!" All the Nightmare clones shouted as they fired hollow stars from their fingertips at the same time.

The hollow stars exploded on the entire chess board, creating a big dust screen. "Yah ha ha ha! I told you there was no way of defeating me!" All the Nightmare clones shouted. Suddenly, a bright light shined from the dust screen, temporarily blinding the clones. "Ergh! What is this!?" The light faded as Kirby and Luffy was now standing on some kind of flying machine. "The dragoon!? Did he took advantage of this place to summon it!?"

"What the!? Where did this come from!?" Luffy asked in shock. "Well, whatever it is, let's use it to get the big chin guy!"

"Poyo!" Kirby nodded as he flew the dragoon high above the chess board, and into all the Nightmare's clones height level.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punched all the clones, but his fists went right through as they laughed at Luffy. "HIIIYAAAAAAAA!" Despite this, Luffy continued to punch all the clones around him and Kirby, but it was no use.

"You're making a fool of yourself!" All the Nightmare clones said, "There is no use fighting any longer! I have won!" Luffy stopped punching, and panted heavily as he rubbed his head in confusion.

"Man… I can't seem to hit him." Luffy said. He then noticed that Kirby looked a bit ill. "What's wrong? Are you going to puke?" Kirby then coughs up none other than the star rod, which shocked Nightmare and his clones.

"It was inside him all along!?" Nightmare asked. Kirby held the star rod, and faced it up in the air, which angered Nightmare and his clones as they all pointed their fingertips at him.

"Poyo!" Kirby yelled.

"Right!" Luffy nodded as he grabbed Kirby, and started to spin him around. "GOMU GOMU NO…"

"IT'S OVER!" All the Nightmare's fired hollow stars at Luffy and Kirby.

"SUPER STARSTORM!" While being spun in circles, Kirby let's out a barrage of stars from the star rod, going through the hollow stars, and hitting every single clone of Nightmare.

"GAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAHHHHHH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHH!!"

The power of the star rod was too much for Nightmare as the dreams he, Luffy, and Kirby were in turned pitch black again. Moments later, Luffy and Kirby opened their eyes, and saw that they were once again back on the UFO above the clouds. And the dragoon was also with them as well.

"We're back!" Luffy said happily.

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily.

"But where is…?" Luffy looked in front of him, and saw Nightmare, only that he was paralyzed by the power of the star rod as yellow electricity surrounded his whole core, and body. "Hee hee! Looks like he's stuck."

"Grr… can't.. move… !" Nightmare grunted.

"Ha! Finishing him off will be so much easier now!" Luffy said while hitting his fist. "Let's go, Kirby!"

"Poyo!" Kirby nodded confidently as they both got on the Dragoon and flew high up in the air. They then went flying straight towards Nightmare, who could do nothing but watch in fear.

"This isn't how it's suppose to end!" Nightmare thought, "I was suppose to rule Dreamland! I was suppose to destroy Kirby! I was suppose to be invincible!! This cannot be happening to me!!"

While heading towards Nightmare with great speed, Luffy stretched his arm all the way back to it's limit as Kirby shot out a humongous star from the star rod as it was going towards Nightmare at the same velocity as the dragoon. "GOMU GOMU NO…" As soon as the star was about to hit Nightmare, Luffy pulled back his arm, and punched the star with great force as the star crashed right into Nightmare's core "STAR BULLET!".

"GAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHH!!"

The dragoon went right through Nightmare's core as Nightmare cried in agony as he started to disappear, with his eyes and mouth letting out a bright blue light.

"NOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOO OOOOOO!!"

Meanwhile…

Back on Dreamland, Nami and the others watched as how the purple clouds were starting to disperse. "What's happening up there!?" Nami asked. Suddenly, an explosion happened above the clouds, shocking everyone.

"Luffy! Kirby!" Tiff yelled worryingly.

"Do you think they are alright!?" Lololo asked.

"THEY HAVE TO BE! THEY CANT DIE AGAINST THAT GUY!" Franky shouted energetically.

"I have a really bad feeling about this!" Usopp whimpered.

"Luffy…" Chopper said as he looked up at the sky.

"Hey, you guys!"

Everyone looked to their left, and saw Zoro and Metaknight, who was wearing a new mask that looks exactly like the old one, approaching slowly due to their injuries.

"Sir Metaknight!" Tuff exclaimed.

"Zoro! What happened to you!?" Nami asked.

"Long story… what's going on!?" Zoro asked.

"Luffy and Kirby went up there to fight Nightmare, and we don't know what the heck is happening up there!" Usopp exclaimed.

"Nightmare!? I should've known…" Metaknight muttered. Zoro panted as he looked towards the bushes, where Dedede and Escargoon were hiding behind.

"Eh!? Did he notice us!?" Escargoon whispered.

"Shh!! Quiet!" Dedede hissed as he hits Escargoon on his head to shut him up. Zoro narrowed his eyes, and then looked at the sky.

"How long have they been up there!?" Zoro asked.

"About a while now!" Tuff replied, "Waiting here is making me sick! We have to do something!"

"The only thing we can do is watch what will happen next…" Nami replied bluntly. They all just stared at the sky, waiting for something else to happen. Suddenly, something was coming down from the clouds, something really big.

"OI, WHAT'S THAT!?" Franky asked. Usopp adjusted his goggles, and saw what was coming down.

"Gyah! It's the UFO! It's coming down!" Usopp yelled.

"WHAT!?" Everyone asked in shock. They all now saw it; the UFO was coming down. The top of the UFO was covered in flames, and was falling down at a fast rate.

"Everyone, take cover!" Usopp yelled. Everyone ducked as the UFO went over them in a close distance, and crashed into the ocean. By the time it did, exterior parts of the UFO started to blow up.

"SHE'S GONNA BLOW!" Franky shouted.

"Ruuunnn!!" Chopper yelled in panic as Franky grabbed Zoro and Metaknight and rested them on his shoulders as everyone started to run away from the UFO.

"Your Majesty, we have to get out of here too!" Escargoon panicked.

"No! We cant let them see us!" Dedede said.

"YOUR MAJESTY!!"

BOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOMMMM MMMMMMMMM MMMMMMMMM MMMMMMMM!!

The UFO exploded, creating a big force that knocked Dedede and Escargoon off their feet. "DYAAAAAHHH!!" Dedede and Escargoon went flying away.

"WHOOOOOOAAAAA!!" Everyone else were also blown off their feet, but they crashed back on the ground a couple of feet from where they were blown off of. They all panted heavily as Chopper got up, and looked where the UFO exploded.

"LUUUUFFFFYYYYYYYYYYYYYYYYY!! KIIIIIIIIRRRRRBBYYYYYYYYY!!" Chopper yelled loud enough, but got no reply. Tiff got next to him, and couldn't believe her eyes.

"Could it be that… huh?" Tiff looked up and saw that the clouds and the sky were turning back to normal. The thing that surprised her though was that she saw something flying up in the sky.

"OOOOOOOIIIIIIIIIIIIIIII!!"

Everyone looked up, and saw Luffy and Kirby up in the sky, flying on the dragoon.

"Luffy!" Everyone shouted happily. Chopper was really happy to see Luffy and Kirby were okay.

"He's alive! He's alive! I knew he would be okay!" Usopp said in tears.

"ABOUT TIME, STRAWHAT!" Franky said energetically.

"You guys!! The big chin guy is gone!! You don't have to worry anymore!!" Luffy yelled loud enough for his crew to hear.

"Pooyoo!" Kirby said happily. Tiff let out a tear of happiness, now knowing that everything is back the way it was.

"Luffy… thank you.." Tiff thought with a smile.

Suddenly, a puff of smoke came out of the back of the Dragoon.

"Wha? Is that suppose to do that?" Luffy asked.

"Poyo?" Kirby asked. Suddenly, the dragoon lost control, and headed towards to the Kabu mountains, with both Luffy and Kirby screaming in fear.

"Eh?… What happened?" Tiff asked while blinking in confusion.

"Hey, Luffy! Where are you going!?" Usopp asked.

"They're headed towards the Kabu mountains! Come on!" Tuff said. They all ran towards the Kabu mountains as the dragoon crashed into it.

In the Kabu mountains, Robin, who had Sanji's arm over her shoulders, blinked in confusion as she saw Luffy and Kirby unconscious on the dragoon, which was destroyed upon crashing to the floor. "Captain, are you okay?" Robin asked.

"Look at the nice stars…" Luffy said dazedly as he imagined some stars going in circles over his head. Sanji then regained his conscious, and looked at his surroundings.

"Eh?" Sanji then noticed that he had his arm over Robin's shoulders. "Oh! Robin-chwan, you are so beautiful in this angle-ow!" Sanji grunted.

"You alright?" Robin asked.

"Yeah… nothing to worry about." Sanji said. He then noticed Luffy and Kirby. "What happened here?"

"I was about to ask that myself." Robin said as Luffy and Kirby were regaining conscious.

"Oh… that was… SO FUN!!" Luffy exclaimed happily as he got up. "We have to do that again! Kirby, can you get another of these things!?"

"Poyo…" Kirby said exhausted. Luffy then noticed Robin and Sanji, who just got up on his feet.

"Hey, guys! Where have you two been?" Luffy asked with a plain face.

"Nevermind that, Luffy. What happened to you?" Sanji asked.

"Oh, we fought this evil chin guy, but we beat him so hard, he disappeared" Luffy said.

"Poyo." Kirby nodded. Sanji and Robin were confused as they didn't notice that Dedede and Escargoon crashed into another bush just outside the near the entrance where Luffy, and the others are.

"Dyah… wha-ah!?" Dedede quickly hid inside the bush with Escargoon as Nami, and everyone else finally arrived at the Kabu mountains, with Zoro and Metaknight having enough energy to stand up by themselves.

"Luffy, are you ok?" Chopper asked worringly.

"Never better. That big chin guy is gone." Luffy said happily.

"What a relief…" Nami sighed.

"You guys are heroes!" Tuff exclaimed, "If it wasn't for you guys, this place would have turned into a disaster!"

"Tuff is right." Tiff said happily, "Thank you so much for everything you guys have done for saving Dreamland. We will never forget your bravery."

"Hurray for the heroes!" Lololo and Lalala exclaimed simultaneously. They cheered as everyone felt grateful, including Chopper, who did his happy dance.

"I am not happy because of that! I am not happy!" Chopper said happily. Everyone laughed happily, feeling great about saving the day yet again.

"Strawhat pirates! Come forth!"

Everyone stopped, and looked towards Kabu. "Oh hey, Bronze statue guy!" Luffy said while waving to Kabu.

"He is not a… nevermind…" Zoro muttered.

"Strawhat pirates, I like to thank you for all you have done to save this world from Nightmare." Kabu said, "All of you have done exactly what I foresaw a long time ago."

Everyone was shocked upon hearing that. "Wh-What!? What do you mean!? You mean actually knew that all of this was going to happen!?" Nami asked.

"Yes." Kabu replied.

"Wait a minute, you told us that you couldn't see the future when we came here to ask questions!" Usopp yelled.

"I know… I deeply apologize for lying to you all." Kabu said.

"YOU LIED! WHAT FOR!?" Franky asked.

"If I would have told you about the events that would occur in the future, would you have still stayed?" Kabu asked. Everyone, except for Sanji, gave a Nami a glare.

"What? Just because I wanted to find the 6th heart quickly, doesn't mean I was trying to avoid anything. Heh heh…" Nami laughed weakly, "But hey, if you knew that Nightmare was going to attack, then you must know where the heart is."

"… Yes, I do." Kabu said, "I'm sorry, but I wanted to keep you people here long enough to protect this land. If you didn't, then their would have been casualties… but thanks to you all, there weren't any."

"Alright!" Luffy said happily.

"Now, I believe it's time to give you what you have been searching for. Kirby, if you please." Kabu said.

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily. He took out the star rod, and hits the tip on the ground, causing a bright pink light to shine from it. The light faded as everyone saw the 6th Mystery heart. It was a pink-shaped heart, with pointy edges.

"The 6th Mystery heart!" Luffy said happily as he grabbed the pink heart.

"Wait, so Kirby knew where the heart was too?" Chopper asked.

"Yes. I told him about the location of the heart, and kept it a secret with him." Kabu said, "He almost told you guys about the heart by bringing you here though."

"SO THAT'S WHAT YOU MEANT BY COMING HERE LAST TIME." Franky said energetically to Kirby.

"Poyo!" Kirby replied happily.

"Hee hee hee… yosh! We have found our 6th Mystery heart!!" Luffy shouted happily while lifting it in the air.

"Great! Now we can leave." Zoro said bluntly. Tiff and the others felt a little upset hearing that.

"Oi, Marimo! You got them all upset!" Sanji yelled at Zoro's face.

"Marimo." Kirby said, which shocked Zoro again, which also made Metaknight laugh a bit.

"Nah, we dont have to go now." Luffy said, "Let's celebrate by having an eating contest!"

"Poyo! Poyo!" Kirby said happily while jumping up and down. Tiff and the others felt really happy upon hearing that.

"Yay! Let's party!" Tuff said as he, Lololo, and Lalala danced happily, while Tiff let out a relaxed sigh. Back in the bushes where Dedede and Escargoon are hiding at, Dedede and Escargoon came out of hiding, and heard the whole conversation.

"It looks like they will be leaving soon." Escargoon said, "We'll be home free once they leave."

"Dwoh… this isn't fair!" Dedede cried, "I wanted to get rid of them, but I couldn't even do that! Bo ho ho ho!!"

"Your majesty, let's get out of here while we have the chance." Escargoon said.

"Right." Dedede sniffed, they slowly got out of the bushes as they started to tiptoe away until…

"You know…" Luffy began to say with a smirk as he puts the 6th Mystery heart on the floor, "Even though that the big chin guy is gone, something doesn't seem right."

"Dyeh?" Dedede frozed in place.

"Oh yeah… before he showed up, some other being treated us in a special way…" Zoro said while unsheathing his swords.

"And I think it's time we thank him." Sanji said while tapping his foot on the ground.

Dedede gulped as he nervously turned around, and saw the Strawhat pirates were glaring at him. "DYAAAAAHHH!?"

"Dedede… you knew this was coming." Tiff said. Dedede was panting heavily as he tried to grab Escargoon to use him as a shield again, but Escargoon was already hiding behind a tree far away from him.

"Sorry, Your Majesty!" Escargoon cried. Dedede looked back at the Strawhat pirates, sweating in fear.

"You are a bad king!" Chopper yelled.

"You almost scared me to death!" Usopp yelled.

"You put me in a crate, and pushed me down a rocky cliff!" Nami yelled.

"YOU VANDILIZED OUR SHIP!" Franky yelled.

"You made me jump into a volcano!" Sanji yelled.

"You called me a pancy swordsman!" Zoro yelled.

"You made me go through a mystery maze!" Luffy yelled.

"Your books were very mistreated!" Robin said.

"How is that last one offensive to anyone!?" Dedede asked. The Strawhat pirates walked towards Dedede, who fell on his rear in fear. "W-W-W-W-Wait a minute, you guys! All those things I did were just jokes! I would never do anything like that to you guys!" The Strawhat pirates got closer to him. "Okay, I'm sorry! Tell you what, I was planning to give you guys the death penalty, but not anymore! How is that?" They got even closer. "No, wait! How about you guys beat Escargoon instead!? He can take a hit or two!" They were now in front of him, "PLEASE, DON'T DO ANYTHING TO ME!!"

"CYCLONE…"

"USOPP…"

"STRONG…"

"HEAVY…"

"TATSU…"

"COLLIER…"

"DIEZ…"

"GOMU GOMU NO…"

"NOOOOO!! I BEG OF YOU!! PLEASE DON'T HURT ME!!" Dedede cried in immense fear.

"TEMPO!"

"HAMMER!"

"HAMMER!"

"GONG!"

"MAKI!"

"SHOOT!"

"FLEUR!"

"PISTOL!"

BANG! BONK! POW! POW! SLASH! BANG! KAPOW!!

"DYAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHHH!!"

Dedede got hit by Nami's PCT, Usopp's hammer, Franky's steel fist, Chopper's left fist, Zoro's tornado of cutting waves, Sanji's thrust kick, and Luffy's fist as he was sent flying off in the air like a shooting star, with ten arms sprouting around his body.

"CLUTCH!"

CRACK!

"DAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHH!!"

CRASH!!

The arms broke Dedede's back as he crashed right through the ceiling of his castle, and into the throne room in enormous amount of pain.

"Your Majesty! Wait for me!" Escargoon cried as he went to the castle. Tiff, Tuff, Kirby, Lololo, and Lalala were amazed at how strong Luffy and the others were with their strength combined. Luffy then looked behind his shoulder, and smiled at them.

"Now that we are done with him, let's start celebrating!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Yeah!" Tiff and the others said happily as Luffy picked the 6th mystery heart, and headed towards the village with everyone else. Kabu watched them leave as the sun was starting to set.

"Be careful, Strawhat pirates. For you have yet to face the true obstacle of your journey…"

Meanwhile…

Back at the unknown world, Yojimbo was resting up against a wall as MPNo. 1, Dimentio, Sigma, and Bison were sitting around the round table, discussing about Bison's visit to Dreamland.

"So that's how it all ended…" MPNo. 1 said, unimpressed by the sound of his tone.

"Just like Sigma said; those pirates are weak!" Bison said, "They are no threat to us at all. The only reason that they have gotten this far is because they got lucky. However, they did show me that my elite warriors, Juni and Juli, are not strong enough to follow me, so I locked them up into the cellars so they can rot."

"I told you," Sigma began to say, "They are just some primative pirates that don't know what they are doing, nor have any idea what they are up against!"

"Ah ha ha ha ha!" Dimentio laughed, "You take them so lightly, Sigma. But you have yet to see what they are truly capable of. What you and Bison have done to them only fueled up their reason to fight on, thus foreshadowing your defeat. Or am I wrong?"

"You are wrong." Bison replied with a frown, "The point is, even though they are weak, they manage to overcome every obstacle in their path. And… before I left Dreamland, I left a microscopic camera in the Kabu mountains so I can view the events after I left. And I saw that Nightmare… lost! And I also saw those pirates already having the 6th heart in their possession."

"What!? How could they have defeated Nightmare!?" Sigma asked as Dimentio laughed.

"Hmm… this is now getting irritating." MPNo. 1 said while placing his elbows on the table, and his hands in front of his face. "We should-"

Before MPNo. 1 could finish that sentence, the doors of the room they were in bursted open. Everyone looked towards the entrance, and saw none other than Kefka, who was really angry as he charred from head to toe.

"You people are despicable…" Kefka said with an angry tone while letting out a puff of smoke from his mouth.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha! Why Kefka, you looked so burned up, like a yoshi getting a sunburn." Dimentio said happily.

"YOU!" Kefka yelled angrily while pointing at Dimentio as he walked towards him, "Why didn't you say anything about their powers, you stupid happy clown!?"

"Why, I thought it wouldn't be a problem to you." Dimentio said, "Afterall, you are the almighty Kefka, aren't you not?"

"Will you be quiet? Nobody cares." Sigma said while looking the other way.

"What!? You want a piece of me, tinhead!?" Kefka asked angrily while getting up from his seat.

"Enough!" MPNo. 1 shouted. Kefka angrily glared at Sigma as he sat back down.

"Anyway, I think those pirates deserve to die." Kefka said calmly, "They are so annoying, and they made my mouth to burn. We should kill them right now!"

"That won't be necessary." MPNo. 1 said, "I may be wrong, but the next world they are going might be the one where ?? (MPNo. 5) and ?? (MPNo. 6) are at right now."

"What makes you think that?" Bison asked.

"Because earlier, I just received a message that they were able to get another ruler for Obscurum. And what they are telling me is that this new ruler has one of the hearts. Well, atleast not in his hands."

"What do you mean?" Sigma asked.

"One of the hearts resides in an island, where our comrades are right now." MPNo. 1 said, "They said that this new ruler is trying to get this heart, but he can't with the resources he has right. Our comrades our now helping him to obtain it."

"Bah! Who cares about that now!?" Kefka asked angrily, "I say that we are powerful enough as it is, and commence the final operation to our plan!" Everyone in the room was silent, even Dimentio didn't find that funny.

"Kefka, you know exactly why we can't do that just yet." MPNo. 1 said while looking down at the table, "As long as those 'hands' are in the way, we cannot make another move. Well… one of them anyway…"

In a dark cage in another part of this unknown world, something big rested in it.

Meanwhile…

We are now in a different world, which looked like one big swamp due to the big vines, trees, and all that other swamp stuff. A portal appeared up in the sky as Bowser came flying out of it before it closed.

"Guaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaahhhhh!!"

CRASH!!

Bowser crashed into the into pool of mud, which splattered all over his body. "Bleh! Gah!" Bowser got up while spitting out some of the mud that happened to go in his mouth as he also wiped the mud off his face. "I get ran over, and I fall into this… I am not enjoying my life right now."

Bowser walked out of the pool of mud, and started to walk around the place. "Where am I this time? It looks like an oversized swamp or something." Bowser said while looking at his surroundings, "Well, there are no cars around here, so it's fine. Now let's look for Strawhat!" Bowser walked along the swampy area, but despite walking far, he seemed to be going nowhere.

"What is with this place? Where is the exit!?" Bowser asked. He then noticed that it was really quiet. He hadn't heard a peep from anyone, not even from anything. This made Bowser gulp in worry.

"This place is starting to give me the creeps… man, where is that remote!?" Bowser asked as he took out his broken remote. "Now, do something good for once, and help me get out of here!" Bowser pushed several buttons on the remote, but nothing was working. "C'mon, c'mon, C'MON!"

Suddenly, he heard a branch snapping in two from behind him. "Ugh!? Who goes there!?" Bowser asked while turning around, but saw nobody. "… Just my imagination…" Suddenly, he heard another branch snap in two. "Okay, Mr. Wise guy! You think you can scare me with all this suspense!? Well you got another thing coming, because I am Bowser, King of the Koopas!"

Bowser could then hear the sound of wind whistling through the trees for a couple a seconds before it stopped, making Bowser a little nervous. "Seriously, this isn't funny! I am a big guy, and I can crush you like a grape!" Bowser yelled, but no response. He then saw a couple of yellow blasts going past him, and then heard a sound of a dying animal over the bushes in front of him. But of course, this wouldn't scare Bowser.

"I GOTTA GET OUT OF HEEEEERREEEEE!!" Bowser cried as he started to run away in fear. He panted as he was going through multiple vines, and bushes as something was chasing it. "Go away!" Bowser cried. He then accidently tripped over a rock, and landed on the floor. He turned around, and crawled on his back until he was up against a tree. He slowly got up on his feet, and trembled in fear as the thing that was chasing him got closer and closer until some sort of cannon came out of the bushes in front of him. "AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAHHH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH!!"

Bowser covered his eyes as the thing that was chasing him came out of the bushes. "Hmm?" Bowser opened his eyes, and saw none other than Samus, pointing her arm cannon at him. "Ohhhhhhhh…"

"Oh, it's you." Samus said plainly as she puts down her arm cannon.

"'Oh, it's you.' she says…" Bowser mocked while panting, "You scared-I mean, you almost made me kill you! What are you doing here!?"

"I was about to ask you that." Samus said bluntly, "I am investigating this area for any space pirate hideouts. Now you tell me what you are doing here."

"Heh… if you must know, I am hunting a group of pirates myself." Bowser said, "But they just won't let me hunt them down! They keep jumping from world to world every time I take a step forward."

"World to world? Are you talking about Luffy and his crew?" Samus asked.

"You know them!?" Bowser asked. "Where are they!? I'll squash them!"

"They're not here. I met them on Aether, which is lightcycles away from here. And how should I know where they went? They left Aether a long time ago." Samus explained.

"What!? You mean I am on some kind of random world that they didn't even step foot on!?" Bowser asked as he then looked at his remote, "You stupid piece of junk! Your supposed to lead me to the Strawhat, not to other weird places!"

"Why do even want to fight them for?" Samus asked, "They're good pirates. You wouldn't last a second against them."

"Eh!?" Bowser glared at Samus, "How dare you insult me! I'll smash your face for saying that!"

"Try it then…" Samus replied bluntly. They both glared at eachother angrily, which lasted a few seconds as Bowser felt a little uncomfortable.

"Y-You're lucky that you are a girl, or I would have beaten you up so hard, it wouldn't be funny!" Bowser said with a hint of fear in his tone.

"Whatever." Samus replied, "Now could you step aside? I have work to do."

"You don't have to tell me that. I am already leaving!" Bowser said as he angrily stomped off. "Grr… who does that woman think she is!? I can beat her in a fi-GHT!?" Bowser fell right into a hole in the ground, which he would have saw if he hasn't been talking to himself.

"I saw that hole before." Samus said to herself, "I could have told him to be careful from that, but I decided not to… oh well, back to work." Samus then walked away.

"Gwaaaaaaaaahhh!!" Bowser crashed right into the ground, and ended up in a small area. "How can I be so clumsy!?" He asked as he then noticed some baby creatures, with big eyeballs. "What are you staring at!?" Bowser asked angrily. The baby creatures got upset, and gritted their sharp teeth at Bowser, who stared in awe. "Uh… sorry?"

The baby creatures attacked Bowser, biting him almost every single part of his body. "Ow! Oh! Eek! Ow! Owie! Ow! Ow! Stop that! Ow! Ow!" Bowser shook off the babies, and ran forward until he bumped into a bigger creature, who turned out to be the mother of the babies. The mother roared as it was about to bite Bowser. "AAAHHHH!!" Suddenly, his remote created a portal underneath Bowser, and took him in before it closed, and before the mother closed it's mouth at him.

Meanwhile…

It was night time at Dreamland, and everyone in the village was celebrating with great joy over the defeat of Nightmare. Nami and Robin were chatting happily with each other while holding their drinks, Franky and Chopper were dancing with some of the cappys, Usopp was standing on a pile of chairs, singing a song about himself, and Zoro was just enjoying the view while sitting next to Metaknight.

Sanji and Kawasaki then brought in multiple meals, and placed them on a big table. They both panted as they gave eachother a thumbs up for a job well done. Tiff, Tuff, Lololo, and Lalala were having fun with the younger cappys as most of the adult cappys sat around the big table filled with food. Mayor Len then raised his drink, which got everyone's attention. "Everyone, we are here to thank the visitors of Dreamland for saving us all from Nightmare's hands. Let us applaud to show them our gratitude."

Every Cappy, including Tiff and Tuff, happily clapped to the Strawhat pirates, as they all felt grateful as Chopper did his happy dance. "Now then, let us begin our feast!" Mayor len said happily as they were about to eat until…

"Whoa! Food!"

"Poyo!"

Luffy and Kirby appeared out of nowhere, and saw the mountain of food in front of them. They then looked at eachother happily as they then charged at the food, and started to eat the whole thing. Everyone blinked in confusion as Luffy was stretching his arms to grab and eat the food that was out of his reach, while Kirby just inhaled the food instead. Eventually, they ate the whole feast in just a matter of seconds, with both of them now looking fat. They both ate the same amount of food, so their eating contest ended up in a draw.

"It's okay; we made extras just incase this happened." Sanji said as everyone felt relieved. The celebration continued all night long, with everyone having fun until morning.

A couple of hours later…

It was sunrise, and we see the Strawhat crew back on the seashore where the Thousand Sunny. It took like an hour, but Franky cleaned up all the mess Dedede's men caused the other day as it looked good as new again. Everyone from the village and the castle were there too, feeling sad that the Strawhat crew were about to leave.

"We'll you guys come back?" Tuff asked sadly.

"Sure we will!" Luffy said happily, "Right after I become the Pirate King, I'll come back and visit you guys."

"Great!" Tuff said excitedly.

"I wish you good luck on your journey." Tiff said, "After all the events that happened yesterday, I know that you can get back home alive."

"Hee hee! Thanks alot!" Luffy replied.

"It was nice meeting you, Kirby." Chopper said.

"Poyo!" Kirby replied happily.

"Gyeh… idiot. Don't weep for us because we're leaving… I'M GONNA MISS YOU SO MUCH!" Franky cried as he hugged Kirby while tears poured out of his eyes.

"It was nice meeting with you, Zoro." Metaknight said, "After confronting you in battle, there is no doubt in my mind that you will become the strongest swordsman in your world."

"Thanks. You take care of yourself too." Zoro said as he shook Metaknight's hand with respect.

"Once again, thank you for helping Dreamland. We wont forget you all." Parm said gratefully.

"Take care, now. Dont get into too much trouble, okay?" Memu said.

"Sure. We'll try not to… if that's possible." Sanji said.

"Luffy, ready to go?" Nami asked.

"Hold on a sec." Luffy said as he then walked up to somebody. "Thanks for giving us such a great time here. Without meeting you, things would have gotten boring, but you entertained us till the end. Thanks for everything, Dedede."

Luffy smiled at Dedede, who was on a wheelchair, and has a thick body cast that covered his whole body, except for the eyes. "Mmmmm! Mmm! Mmm! Mmmmmmmmmm! Mmmmmm!!" Dedede mumbled furiously with red eyes.

"Aww, we're going to miss you too, buddy." Luffy said happily as he then pats rather hard on Dedede's cast.

"MMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMM!! MM!! MMM!! MMMMMMMMM!!" Dedede cried in pain as Escargoon tended to his wounds. Luffy then walked back to the ship where his crew was waiting for him as Usopp was holding the 6th heart for him.

"Well… let's go now, Luffy." Usopp said as he gave the 6th mystery heart to Luffy.

"Right!" Luffy replied as the Franky raised anchor the Thousand Sunny. The Thousand Sunny then faced towards the ocean as Luffy got in front of the ship and raised the 6th Mystery heart in the air. "MYSTERY DOOR, OPEN!"

The heart then let out a pink beam in front of Luffy. The beam then spreaded out in five direction as a portal was formed in between the rays. The portal then was replaced by the humongous double door with 3 empty slots shaped as hearts, while one of them was filled with red energy, the other one filled with green energy, the other one filled with orange energy, the other one filled with brown energy, and the last one filled with yellow energy. The heart then shot another pink beam at the slot under the yellow energy and next to the green energy, filling it up with pink energy, which made the door open and an image of another planet was shown inside.

The Thousand Sunny then set sail towards the door as Luffy and his crew went to the back of the ship, and waved goodbye. "Bye guys! Take care!!"

"Bye! Good luck!" Tiff shouted back happily.

"Pooyoo!!" Kirby shouted happily as well.

"See ya, guys! Hope you come back sometime!" Tuff shouted. To put it simple, all the Cappys waved goodbye as the Thousand Sunny went through the door before it closed, and disappearing into thin air. Tiff sighed as it Tuff smiled at her.

"You had a crush on Luffy, didn't ya?" Tuff mocked.

"Sh-Shut up!" Tiff replied as she and Tuff then walked off, leaving Kirby to happily stare at the sunrise.

"Poyo! Bye, Luffy!"

Lousy ending, I know, but give me a break, I couldn't think of anything else at the moment. Now then, I am going to start planning out my next arc, only this time, I will TRY not to make it too long, but I am not making any promises.

Anyway, it is now time to play our favorite game, "GUESS THAT ARC!". Now, this next world is a little tricky to guess, since I didn't include a preview of it. But all I can say is that in order to figure this one out, you need to think outside the box . Good luck to you all! Ciao!

Metal Gear Pt 1

I knew this one was a bit tricky to guess, but some of you got it right. Now, let us begin our 7th arc! Enjoy!

Six down, two to go. The Strawhat crew obtained the 6th Mystery heart after saving all the residents in Dreamland. After saying goodbye to Kirby, and his friends, the Strawhat crew are on their way to the next world. What kind of world will they be going to this time?

Chapter 84: A weird island, An expected visit?

It has been atleast six hours since the Strawhat crew had left Dreamland as they were once again sailing across the stream of lights. In the sick bay, Chopper was tending to Zoro's and Sanji's wounds they got from their battles in Dreamland. "Okay, you guys are good as new." Chopper said happily.

"Great… now I can catch up with some training." Zoro said as he got up from the bed in the room.

"Hey, you can't do that! Those wounds you got from fighting that knight are very severe! You need to rest in order to recover completely!" Chopper pointed out.

"Yeah, yeah…" Zoro said as he then walked out of the sick bay.

"Let him go, Chopper." Sanji began to say, "He is used to this sort of thing."

"I know, but he might kill himself someday if he keeps this up." Chopper said.

"I would probably like to see that…" Sanji said as he got up from the bed, "Anyway, you're pretty worn out yourself; taking on that stupid penguin was pretty brave of you."

"I-I am not happy you said that!" Chopper said happily while doing his dance.

"I am just saying; you helped us out big time getting the hearts back from him." Sanji said as he walked up to the exit, "You should rest too. You deserve it."

Chopper happily continued to insult Sanji for saying nice things as Sanji got out of the infirmary. "-sigh-… I couldn't do anything back there…" Sanji said. He squinted his eyes in anger as he remembered Bison hitting his own elite warriors for losing. "I will make sure that guy will pay…"

Meanwhile, Franky came out of the aquarium bar, having an ice pack over his head. "Beh.. I got a nasty headache…" He muttered.

"Oi, Franky; what's wrong with you?" Usopp asked as he approached Franky.

"I got a terrible headache from that spicy cola that lousy chef gave me during my fight with that fruitcake in the armor." Franky said, "Even though it gives you a great amount of energy, you will feel like trash after it loses their affects."

"Sounds painful." Usopp said.

"Yep… but, since that spicy cola packs quite a punch, I brought several barrels of them with us." Franky said with a smirk, "I have something in mind for them, but I'll have to try that when we get back home."

"Hey, guys." Luffy said while riding on a swing, "Do we really have to go back? Going to other worlds has been so fun this far."

"Are you nuts!?" Usopp asked while facing at Luffy, "How many times do I have to tell you!? Every world we have been on so far, we get to encounter these people that want to kill us just for the heck of it!"

"But we also meet people that are kind enough to help us out." Luffy said while swinging back and forth on his swing.

"Right; they are helping us out to get back home! That was the point this whole time!" Usopp said. "There are only two more worlds to go to, and then when we can finally go back to the Grand Line where we left off!"

"Aww…" Luffy groaned as he jumped off the swing and landed on his butt on purpose. "This world better be more fun…"

"Ugh, that idiot never understands." Usopp said while smacking his forehead.

"Two more worlds, Longnose; just keep telling yourself that." Franky said as he walked off.

"Yeah, two more worlds… two more dangerous worlds to go… oh boy…" Usopp said as he walked away in worry. Robin then walked out of the women's quarters, and closed the door just before Sanji approached her.

"Hello, Robin-chwan!" Sanji said happily, "How is Nami-san? Can I go inside to check on things?"

"She is resuming her end of the deal she made with Luffy some time ago, so she won't let anyone in for the moment." Robin said kindly as she then walked past him.

"Oh… I'll go prepare dinner or something.." Sanji said sadly as he walked back to the kitchen. Zoro yawned as he was about to take another nap, until he noticed something ahead of the ship.

"Oi, guys! I think we're already in the next world." Zoro said.

"Oh! Really!?" Luffy asked excitedly as he got on the figurehead of the Thousand sunny, and saw the image of the next world in front of him. Nami got out of the women's quarters, with her clothes on, as she heard the news.

"We're here already? That was fast." Nami said as Sanji pointed at her sadly for having clothes on.

"I wonder what this world will have for us?" Robin asked.

"Something harmless, I hope." Usopp said in fear.

"Yosh! World number 7 here we come!" Luffy yelled excitedly as the ship went through the image.

A bright light blinded the crew for a couple of seconds after getting inside. The light then dimmed down as the crew could see that they were once again on an ocean.

"Huh? Are we back in Dreamland?" Luffy asked.

"I don't think so; it's a little chilly here." Sanji said while looking at his surroundings.

Chopper noticed the sky through a window from inside the sick bay, and walked into the kitchen, then outside to regroup with the others. "Are we in a new world?" he asked.

"Yeah, but we can't see anything in this part of the sea." Nami said, "We're going to have to sail around until we find land."

"Hey, look; a sunset!" Luffy said happily as the sun was already setting.

"Oh no; it's going to be dark already? We just got here." Usopp whined.

"No choice; we might as well sail through the night until we bump into something." Franky said as he then walked towards the steering wheel.

"So we have to stay up?" Chopper asked concernedly.

"We don't know what this world contains, so we better be save until we can find somewhere safe to rest." Zoro explained as he walked up to the mast, and laid his back against it as he started to take a nap. The sun finally sets, and it was now night time.

"Tsk, it's going to be hard going through this place when it's this dark." Franky said.

"Just keep sailing straight; I'll let you know if there is a change in the weather." Nami said as she then headed back into the women's quarters. "And you all you guys better keep a lookout; a night like this is sure to have something bad."

"Don't worry, Nami-san!" Sanji said happily while dancing, "Your knight and shining armor will make sure that no stupid thing will come and attack us."

"Hee hee hee! It's fun sailing in the dark." Luffy said to himself.

They sailed along the ocean, seeing nothing in their way so far. They also hoped that they wouldn't see a clown on a ship that will try to kill them with furniture, but there wouldn't be a chance of that happening again. It already has been like several minutes, and Luffy was bored out of his mind.

"Are we there yet?" Luffy asked.

"No, we're not." Franky said while maneuvering the steering wheel.

"Hmm… oi, Usopp! Can you see anything from up there!?" Luffy asked as Usopp was on top of the foremast, looking at the surroundings with a telescope in hand.

"Nothing so far… which is good for me." Usopp said.

"Man, I want to see some land already!" Luffy said as he then stretched his arms all the way up to the sails, and sprung himself high above the ship to see any islands of some sort. "Hey, island! Where are you!? Come on out!"

"I highly doubt that an island will show up out of nowhere, Luffy." Usopp said.

"Yah! It's cold!" Luffy said while shivering in midair. He then noticed something ahead. "Hey, an island! I see an island ahead!"

"What?" Usopp looked through his telescope, and also saw the island. "You're right! Hey, guys; there is an island ahead of us!"

Everyone stopped what they were doing, and looked in front of the ship to see the island. "I wonder what's there." Chopper said.

"Nothing good…" Sanji said while smoking a cigarette, "Something about that island rubs me the wrong way."

"What do you mean?" Chopper asked.

"Just look at it. It looks kinda… suspicious."

The island looked a bit weird for the Strawhat crew. They could see some buildings that were connected with eachother, and they also noticed some people were the same thing from afar.

"It looks like a base." Franky said. "Should we go there?"

"I think we should!" Luffy said as he landed back on the ship with his feet. "It may look weird, but I bet the people are nice!"

"I don't know, you guys." Usopp said as he got back down on the lawn deck from the foremast. "I am getting a bad vibe from that place. We should just go to the other way right now."

"To where?" Zoro asked. "Finding another island could take longer."

"Yeah, we have no choice but to go there." Nami said while looking ahead, "But even I think that is a bad idea."

"So, are we going there or what?" Franky asked.

"Yeah, just sail over there!" Luffy said excitedly. Franky nodded, and sailed the ship towards the island. They got close to the island, but as they did, they felt a little uncomfortable.

"I am starting to get a bad feeling about this." Zoro said. Before anyone could ask, tremendous waves started to come around the island.

"Ugh, guys!? What's going on!?" Chopper asked in fear. The ship then started to lose control, as everyone was getting knocked back and forth.

"Where did these waves come from!?" Sanji asked.

"Hold on tight!" Franky shouted as he maneuvered the ship so it wouldn't lose it's balance.

"Ahh!! I knew something was bad about this place! We're going to die this time!" Usopp panicked.

Robin held on to the side of the ship, and noticed that the waves were starting to die down. "Hmm?" the waves then stopped completely as the ocean was relaxed again.

"What just happened?" Luffy asked.

"I don't know. I didn't tell that those waves were coming." Nami said while looking at the ocean in worry.

"Well, it stopped now. So, we're okay now, right?" Chopper asked.

Suddenly, a giant spotlight shined upon the ship, taking everyone by surprise. "What the!?" Luffy and everyone else looked at the giant spotlight just near a tower on a big cliff of the island as a loud siren went off.

"What is it now!?" Nami asked while covering her ears due to the loud siren.

"Wait! Something is coming!" Zoro said as he could hear another sound. A helicopter then came into their view, and propelled to the ship's sides while also shining a spotlight at the crew.

"WhoooooaaaAAAA!! That looks so coooool!!" Luffy said excitedly while looking at the helicopter.

"You have trespassed into FOXHOUND territories!" The pilot said from the speaker of helicopter, "State your business, or will have to sink your ship!"

"Sink our ship! Waaahh!!" Chopper cried as he jumped on Zoro's head in fear.

"We're not here to cause any trouble! We're here to look for something very important!" Nami shouted to the pilot, "If you could just give us some information, we'll leave at once!"

"That is a negative!" The pilot said, "I cannot allow anybody to come here! And since you have seen too much of this place, I have to sink your ship now!"

"What!? We didn't even step foot on it!" Usopp shouted. The helicopter then fired a missile at the ship, which scared the heck out of Nami, Usopp, and Chopper.

"Why you!" Sanji jumped up, and kicked the missile from it's right side as it went right into the ocean.

BOOOOM!

The missile exploded in the water as the pilot got frustrated. "Try this one for size." The pilot aimed at the crew, and was about to fire another missile. "What!?" Suddenly, a pair of arms sprouted out of his body, and grabbed hold of him. "Gah!"

Robin had her limbs crossed as the helicopter was going out of control. The pilot did his best to regain flight, but he headed straight into the giant spotlight. "WAAAAAAAAAAAAHHH!!"

!!"

The helicopter crashed into the giant spotlight, causing a big explosion that destroyed both of them, which also turned off the loud siren. The crew took a deep breath after getting rid of the helicopter.

"That was scary…" Chopper whimpered as he was still clinching on to Zoro's head.

"Good work, Robin." Luffy said as Robin nodded.

"You see that!? I told you that we should have just went somewhere else! Now look what just happened!" Usopp yelled while looking at the fire from the explosion.

"It couldn't be helped, I suppose." Zoro said as Chopper got off of his head, "And there are sure to be more of those flying things around here. We better find somewhere safe to anchor."

"Are you kidding me!? We are actually going to anchor near this place!?" Usopp asked.

"We can't run now." Sanji said while looking at the island, "Since we just destroyed a part of their territory, they're sure to get reinforcements. Hiding around here is our only option.

Usopp couldn't believe what was happening as he pretended to feel ill. "My-"

"Yeah, we know; your fake disease is acting up again. No need to keep saying that." Franky said while steering the ship close to the island. As they were trying to find a place to anchor, a hidden camera on a hidden spot of the island watched there every move.

Meanwhile…

In a big office, there was somebody looking out a window. From his point of view, he could see every single part of the island, meaning that he is probably somewhere up high. The door then opened as a man with a ski mask came bursting in the room.

"Sir! I have just received a report that a ship just entered the island southwest from here!"

"Eh?" The man turned around, and walked up to his table, with a television on it. He pushed a button, and showed recorded video footage of the Strawhat crew taking down the helicopter. "Ah… right on schedule."

"Sir?"

"Lure them into the Central A area. Let's give these kids a pleasant welcome." The man said.

"Uh.. yes sir."

The guy with the ski mask left in a hurry, as the man grabbed his gun and left as well.

Meanwhile…

The Thousand Sunny sailed under a big and dark cliff, which was a perfect place to hide the ship. "Even though I am against this; we have no choice but to look around this island." Nami said with a scared look.

"Don't worry, Nami-san; I will protect you and Robin-chwan from all danger!" Sanji said confidently.

"That man in that flying machine said something about FOXHOUND." Robin said curiously, "I wonder what that is."

"Maybe it's an organization where they have foxes, and they don't want to share them with anybody." Luffy said with a plain look.

"Is there even such an organization like that?" Usopp asked.

"We'll find out once we look around. But we're going to have to be very careful. In other words, we wo'nt fight with anyone until it is necessary." Nami said. They all then looked at Luffy with a frown, who blinked in confusion.

"What?" Luffy asked.

"We want to make sure that you wont do anything stupid here." Sanji said, "If you do, I'll serve garbage to you from now on."

"Eh!? Hmm…" Luffy crossed his arms with a frown.

"We're here." Franky said. He sailed the ship next to a rocky path. The paws of the Thousand Sunny anchored into the ocean floor as the Strawhat pirates got off the ship, and looked at their surroundings. "This was the only place I can find that it is good enough to hide the ship. Let's hope nobody else finds this place."

"This place will do." Nami said, "Now their should be a path where we can get on the island without confronting anybody."

"I don't think there is one. We could just force our way through." Zoro suggested.

"And get caught!? No thanks, you idiot!" Nami barked.

"Nami's right; we should find a path that is easy and safe to walk through." Usopp said as walked around the cave. "Huh?" He then noticed something unusual. He saw a cardboard box right next to a boulder. "What is that doing around here?"

"Hey, I think we can walk along this path here." Chopper said as he pointed to path that leaded upwards towards the island.

"Good eye." Nami said, "Now let's walk go up here, but very quietly, got it, Luffy?"

"Why are you only asking me? Shouldn't you be telling that to everyone else?" Luffy asked.

"Because you screw things up most of the time. Now be quiet." Nami said. Luffy frowned again as everyone walked up the path, while Usopp took one last look at the box before he shrugged, and joined the others. Once they were about to reach to the top, Zoro got in front of them.

"Wait here." Zoro whispered. He slowly approached a small cliff wall, and peeked over it. "Whoa!"

"What!? What do you-" Luffy was yelling until Nami covered his mouth.

"I am telling you to shut up!" Nami hissed. Sanji looked over the small cliff, and was also surprised at what he saw. He and Zoro could see a big base, with tons of people wearing ski masks, and holding machine guns. Before they could see some more, a steel gate closed, which had a sign that reads 'FOXHOUND' on it, and with a fox holding a knife with it's teeth. There were also two people guarding the gate as Zoro and Sanji lowered their heads, and faced the others.

"It's a big place here." Zoro said, "And it's heavily guarded."

"We won't be going through the entrance, that's for sure." Sanji said, "We'll need to find another way inside."

"But how?" Franky asked. Nami looked around, and saw another path on the west side of the gate that goes over the gate, and over the base.

"Let's get up there. But we need to distract those two." Nami said.

"I'll handle it." Robin said as she crossed her limbs. "DOS FLEUR." Two arms sprouted from the east side of the gate as they grabbed some rocks, and threw them to a big boulder, making a noise that caught the guards' attention.

"What was that?"

"Let's take a look."

They both left their posts as the Strawhat crew hurried to the path of the west side of the gate, and went up it before the guards returned.

"That was close." Usopp panted in fear. The crew then crawled towards the edge of the path, and looked down at the big base in front of them. They could see that the whole island was a base filled with buildings that were connected to eachother, and saw several small mountains with some buildings on there too. Their were also some helicopters flying around, but they didn't notice the crew. They also saw some roads with people loading stuff up, and transporting to some other destination. To put it simple, it was a BIG base.

"Maaaaan, this place is huuuuuuge!" Luffy said happily.

"Keep it down!" Nami hissed before she looked back at the base, "What could they be up to?"

"Something bad, I think. They all look scary…" Chopper whimpered.

"I don't like the look of things here." Usopp said, "We can still leave. Can't we just go now when everything is quiet?"

"By the looks of things, they seem to be working on something." Robin said from her point of view, "Question is; what is it?"

"Hey! Who goes there!?"

The Strawhat crew looked behind their shoulders, and saw the two guards, aiming their machine guns at them. "Oh no, we're dead!" Usopp panicked.

"Get your hands up where I can see them, and we may not have to shoot you!"

Luffy then got up, and faced them. "What's your problem!? We only wanted to see what was going on-"

BANG!

One of the guards shot Luffy, who was caught by surprise. But since Luffy was made of rubber, the bullet simply bounced off of him, and nearly shot the guards. "Who the!? How did-!?"

Zoro and Sanji then got up, and knocked the guards back, knocking them down the upper path, and off the island as they landed into the ocean.

"Hey, what was that sound!?" A couple of guards from inside the base area got alarmed as Nami eyes widened.

"Guys, come on!" She said as Zoro and Sanji grabbed Luffy, and jumped into the base along with the rest of their comrades. They quickly hid behind some metal crates as some guards patrolled the area.

"Did it came from outside the gate?" One of the guards asked.

"Check everywhere!"

The guards left the area as Chopper peeked over some crates to see them leave. "Phew… they're gone." Chopper said.

"That was way too close." Franky said while sitting on the ground, "Getting inside was tougher than I thought."

"And leaving will be even harder." Zoro said as by looking at they way they just came in. "The only way out is through that gate, and it's closed. We're stuck here."

"Now we're doomed for sure this time!" Usopp whimpered.

"Damn… they'll eventually come over here, so we can't hide in this spot forever." Nami said as she looked over a crate, and saw a big heliport in the middle of the area, with nobody around. "Weird thing is that they all stopped what they were doing, and left this area clean. Something is definitely not right here…"

"It's a trap! They're going to pop out of nowhere and kill us all!" Usopp panicked.

"REALLY!?" Chopper asked in fear.

"Heh.. like if they could." Zoro said as he got up. "Let's get going; they'll probably be come back to this place."

"Yosh! Come on!" Luffy said as he got out of hiding, and lead the way. They all walked out of the pile of crates, and walked towards the heliport area. Chopper then stopped as he looked behind his shoulder in confusion.

"What's up, Gorilla?" Franky asked while noticing Chopper.

"Was that cardboard box just there before?" Chopper asked as he noticed a cardboard box next to some of the crates.

"Hmm.. don't know. Who cares? Just come on." Franky said. Chopper shrugged, and walked along with Franky as they regrouped with the others. They were now on a big heliport area, with three other gates to the north, east, and west side. The Strawhat pirates walked into the center of the heliport area, and noticed that it was really quiet.

"Well, we're here. Where is the trap?" Sanji asked.

"There probably isn't one." Robin said.

"No… I can sense it… there is alot of them." Zoro said as he slowly unsheathed his swords. Suddenly, a couple of spotlights shined over the crew from the towers around them.

"Yah! We've been caught!" Chopper cried. The siren could be heard again as all the gates opened up, and a group of guards bursted into the area, and surrounded the crew while aiming their guns at them.

"They want to fight, huh!?" Luffy asked while punching his palm. "Let's kick their asses!" Everyone got into their fighting pose, except for Nami, Usopp, and Chopper, who hugged eachother in fear. The guards then fired their machine guns at them as Luffy, and his crew got out of the way as they charged them.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm, and punched a guard in the face, which shocked the other guards as they fired at Luffy, but all the bullets were bouncing off of him. "Ngh! GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy jumped in the air, and stretched leg to kick a guard in the gut. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretched his other leg, and horizontally kicked a group of guards in front of him, knocking them all down to the ground. Luffy pulled back his legs as he landed on the ground with his hands. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusted both of his legs, and kicked a guard behind him, knocking him back into one of his companions as they both fell on the ground in pain.

Zoro was surrounded by a couple of guards as they aimed their guns at him, but suddenly, Zoro cuts their guns in half in a split second, taking them all by surprise. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro did a 360 degree spin, creating a tornado of cutting waves that knocked all the guards around him, and into the floor. Zoro then noticed some guards holding swords of their own as they charged at him. Zoro sidestepped a slash, and hits a guard in the face with the back of his hilt of his blade, then he left a diagonal slash across another guards' chest before kicking him away, and then got rid of the other one with a 180 degree slash, slashing the guy behind him as he fell on his back.

A couple of guards aimed at Robin, but a pair of hands sprouted from their bodies, and forced them to aim up at the sky. "QUASI!" Sanji did a handstand, and kicked all the guards off their feet and into the ground. Sanji then did multiple back flips and, kicked the some other guards that were about to slash Robin with their swords.

"DIEZ FLEUR; CLUTCH!" Robin sprouted ten hands from all the guards Sanji kicked, and broke their backs, causing them to cry in sheer pain. Robin then saw some other guards with swords heading her way. "DOCE FLEUR, FLIP!" Hands sprouted beneath the guards, and grabbed their feet, causing them to trip, and fall on their faces.

"MASTER NAIL!" Franky spat out multiple nails, hitting every single guard in front of him, knocking them unconscious. Some more guards then charged from his left side, but Franky punched them back. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky jumped in the air, and fired three consecutive blasts at the guards, knocking them out. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky landed on his feet, and launched his right arm, hitting multiple guards in a row.

Nami, Usopp, and Chopper continued to hug eachother in fear as their comrades were taking care of the guards. One of them noticed the trio, and snuck up from behind them. Chopper picked up that scent, and turned into his Heavy point as he turned around punched the guard in the face. "Whoa!" Nami and Usopp got startled by that as Chopper also started to fight off some guards.

This continued on until Luffy knocked out the last guard in sight. "That's the last of them." Luffy said. The area was now filled with unconscious guards, having severe wounds as the Strawhat crew regrouped.

"Phew… good work, guys. My battle strategy sure did well." Usopp lied.

"That was a bit too easy…" Zoro said disappointed. Everyone then a heard a sound of someone clapping their hands.

"Oh!?" Nami, Usopp, and Chopper got nervous as they looked at their surroundings, but saw nobody but the unconscious guards.

Luffy, and the others got into their fighting positions again as the clapping was getting louder.

"Excellent work, my friends."

"Wha!?" Luffy and his crew looked towards the tower next to the west gate, and saw somebody walking out from behind it. It was the man from the office as he clapped his way in front of the center of the west gate.

"The strength of a proud warrior, which can only be received by going through multiple obstacles and the sort, is truly admirable." The man said as he then looked the Strawhats, "Sadly, that strength is determined by the one who uses it. Pirates like yourselves think that they can do so much, they can confront anything, but in the end, they just die in vain."

"Hey! Who are you!?" Luffy asked as Zoro, Sanji, Robin, and Franky got ready to fight again, while Nami, Usopp, and Chopper backed away.

This man looked old as he has a white mustache and white long hair. He wore a brown coat, dark red gloves, cowboy boots, and tannish clothing underneath his coat, with a gun belt around his waist and left shoulder.

"I am Shalashaska." The man said, "Also called… Revolver Ocelot."

Preview: Revolver Ocelot? This old man looks really weird. But what is weirder is that I keep seeing the same kind of box all over the place. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 85: The terrorist island, the man under the cardboard box. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

What? You thought that I was only going to put only Nintendo worlds? If you read the summary, it reads 'One PieceXSSB' in it. So it's referring to Super Smash Bros., and since Snake is in it, so is this arc. Didn't expected this now, did you?

Now, I believe that 7 out of 20 reviewers guessed it right, so congratulations to those who got it right. Here is an imaginary cookie in shape of Snake's head, and an extra cookie in shape of a cardboard box. To those who didn't get it right, you get the cardboard box cookie for the effort.

Okay, I have been seeing some guesses about a Sonic arc… people, have you forgotten that I said that there wont be one? I told you before, since I didnt expect Sonic to be in Brawl, and since that I already planned this story for a long time, he wont be showing up here. I am sorry, and I am not trying to sound rude here, but he just wont show up. I hope you guys understand and forgive me for that. Ciao for now!

Metal Gear Pt 2

My internet sucks! It keeps turning on and off. I cant stand it!! (Takes a deep breath and counts to ten) Okay, sorry for that outburst, but my internet has been acting weird lately, and I have no idea what to do about it. Oh well, here is a rather short chapter for you all. Enjoy!

Finding another island was a good idea afterall. As night fell, the Strawhat crew have arrived to their next world. As soon as they found an island, they were immediately attacked by helicopter, but Robin destroyed it with ease. The crew then entered the island, going through a gate and a cardboard box, but was ambushed by a group of guards. After the crew took care of them, a man named Revolver Ocelot appeared to them. What does he want with the crew?

Chapter 85: The terrorist island, The man under the cardboard box

The Strawhat crew glared at Revolver Ocelot, who simply smiled back with no worries in mind. "Ocelot? Who exactly are you? Why are you here?" Sanji asked.

"Why am I here? No, no, I think I am suppose be asking that to you." Ocelot said.

"Um…" Usopp said from peeking over Zoro's shoulder, "We were just wandering around, and happened to bump into this place. We didn't know that it would cause any trouble, so will just leave, and never talk about it again."

"Oh? You're leaving already? But you just arrived." Ocelot while taking some steps forward to the crew, "Besides, I can't let you leave just yet. It would be rude of me not to show you around."

"Sorry… but we really need to be going. Right, Luffy?" Nami asked with a weak smile.

"Who the hell are you, old man!? Why are you acting so nice after all these guys attacked us!? Are you stupid!?" Luffy asked. Nami and Usopp then backslapped him for saying such things.

"Ha ha! You have guts, kid; I admire that." Ocelot praised, "But to answer all your questions; I was the one who ordered the attack on you."

The Strawhat crew squinted their eyes in anger upon hearing that. "Yeah, I knew you would react like that, but could you atleast give me the time to explain?" Ocelot asked as he then looked at his unconscious guards. "You see, in order to run things smoothly around here, we need to make sure that things don't get in the way. Normally, we could have killed any intruder upon arriving, but you all seem to be too strong to get rid of so easily. Let me be the first to welcome you all to one of the greatest lands in this world; Shadow moses."

"Shadow moses?" Robin asked curiously.

"That's right, missy." Ocelot replied, "Shadow moses is a Nuclear disposal facility, where one of the greatest weapons are built, and are used for the greater good of mankind." Ocelot then looked down at the ground, "Actually, this place here is a memory of Shadow Moses."

"A memory?" Zoro asked.

"This place is a remake of the original Shadow moses, only in my vision." Ocelot said while smirking, "In fact, this place is much more powerful than the original island itself. With more resources and power that you can ever imagine. You are standing on the most powerful land this world has to offer."

"So this is an island for making weapons?" Chopper asked.

"The old man doesn't seem to be bluffing." Franky said, "It's no wonder their security is tight around here."

"That's still no reason to kill anybody in their sight!" Sanji said, "Look, old man; I don't know what kind of weapons you're making here, but it's not right to shoot down anything that happens to come in close sight!"

"You may think that, but I have my reasons for the things I do." Ocelot said, "Just like the reasons you have for jumping from world to world all the time."

The crew was shocked to hear that. "Ho-How did you know we've been doing that!?" Nami asked.

"How would I not know that?" Ocelot asked, "Rumors have been spreading around that a bunch of pirates have been going from world to world, just so they can go back to their home. I simply assumed that you kids were those pirates, and it seems I assumed right. Dont tell me you kids haven't heard that news before?"

"No, we haven't." Robin said.

"Hmph! You kids don't look all that surprised." Ocelot noticed, "Don't get too comfortable with this; someday, you will regret going through with this sort of thing. Trust me; many people out there in this vast universe tend to get upset over such minor things people do these days." Ocelot then glanced at Luffy. "So anyway, what brings you all here to my island?"

"Well…" Luffy was about to reply, but Usopp covered his mouth.

"We were looking for something important, but we think that it's not here. So, if you don't mind, we'll just be leaving, if that's alright?" Usopp asked with a weak smile, hiding how scared he is right now.

"Ah, you're looking for one of those hearts, aren't ya?" Ocelot asked.

Nami's eyes widened in surprise. "Wait, how do you know about that?" She asked, "Do you know where we can find one of them?"

"Certainly, I have one of them in my possession." Ocelot said with a smirk, "I could give it to you, if you want."

"Well, that's nice of you, old man." Luffy said happily, "For a second there, I thought you were some mean old geezer, but I guess I was wrong. Can we have the heart?"

"No." Ocelot replied. Luffy blinked in confusion as Franky got walked ahead of him.

"Oi! I thought you said you could give it to us!?" Franky asked.

"I did. I said I could give it to you, but I won't." Ocelot stated. "That heart is a little valuable to me at the moment, and I won't let you kids just take it away."

"Is that so?" Zoro asked, "And why exactly can't you give it to us?"

Ocelot sighed, and looked at the crew with a stern look, "Like I said before, this place is the most powerful island in the world. Anything I lose from this place will show weakness, and I cannot afford to lose the slightest thing from this island whatsoever. And furthermore, if you kids would have taken the heart out of my grasp, I cannot fulfill one of mankind's greatest wishes."

"Which is…?" Robin asked.

Ocelot smirked as he looked at the dark sky. "To rule a world with no flaws. A world where you can rule with no hassle at all. I am talking about a brand new world, where everything… is under your command."

"Wait a minute…" Chopper began to say in fear, "You don't mean…!?"

"Yes, little boy… I am one of the new rulers for that new world, Obscurum." Ocelot replied. The crew was shocked. They immediately got into their fighting positions, while Nami, Usopp, and Chopper continued to hug eachother in fear as Ocelot simply laughed. "Ha ha! Come on now, don't you think it's a little harsh to fight someone you just met?"

"You're one of those guys that have been helping out the bad people so they can help you rule this new world thing!" Luffy yelled angrily, "I knew you were nothing but trouble ever since you confronted us!"

"No need to be so upset." Ocelot replied calmly, "And I said that I am one of the new rulers, so I haven't been helping anybody out yet. If you kids want to unleash your anger on someone, you should do so on the two fellas that gave me that position, because they are here in this island."

"Two of those guys are here!?" Sanji asked. Sanji then immediately thought of Bison. "Is one of them wearing a red uniform!?"

"Eh? No, they aren't. Although, they are the weirdest bunch I've seen." Ocelot said while scratching his head, "They told me that you kids have been causing them alot of grief lately, interfering with their plans and all. It sounded so sad, that I decided to help resolve this problem of theirs. Saying that, it's clear to you all that leaving this island won't be an option."

"I see where this is getting…" Zoro said as he got his swords ready.

"Yo-You have made the wrong decision to face us, pal!" Usopp yelled from behind Zoro's shoulder, "As you can see, it's 8 against 1, and it will soon be 8008 against 1 once I call in my 8000 men to back us up!"

"Well, aren't you the funny one?" Ocelot joked, "I can see that I am outnumbered, but that doesn't mean that I don't have the upper hand."

It was now quiet, with the Strawhat crew and Ocelot waiting on eachother to strike. Oddly, that moment never came.

"Yah!"

"Nami-san!?" Sanji, and his comrades turned around to see a man holding Nami around her neck with his arm. "Hey, who the-!?" Before Sanji could attack the man, he took out a combat knife, and placed it close towards Nami's face. Sanji took a step back as he glared at the man holding Nami.

The man has long, black hair; a mustache and beard, and also has fangs. He was bare chested, which had a couple of cuts on it, and wore brown pants and shoes, with a belt holding several more combat knifes around his waist-- Vamp.

Suddenly, soldiers appeared above the gates of the area, and aimed at the Strawhat pirates with their machine guns. The Strawhat pirates were surrounded as Ocelot took two steps forward while swing his arm horizontally.

"Nobody move! Understood!?" Ocelot asked, "For you see, I have already won this battle. The moment you arrived at my island, you already lost! Take a good look around you; you cannot escape from what I have created! It's over!"

"Dammit!" Luffy yelled angrily while looking at the situation. "Let's get them!"

"No, Luffy!" Zoro yelled, "If we make a move, that guy right there is going to cut Nami's head off!"

"What!? Nooo! What do we do!?" Chopper asked in fear.

"I suggest you all just stay where you are." Vamp said with a vampirish accent as he lowered his head next to Nami's height level. "You wouldn't like to see this lovely young lady to suffer because of your actions, would you?"

"You bastard!" Sanji growled while clenching his fist. "Nami-san, hang in there!"

"I-I am trying.." Nami said nervously as Vamp could smell her fear, which made him feel pleasant.

"Alright, now let's see who dies first." Ocelot said as he raised his hand, signaling his men to aim at Luffy and the others. The crew had no idea what to do; if they attack, Vamp might kill Nami, and if they don't attack, the guards will shoot them with ease. The way things are now, Ocelot really seemed to be the winner of this confrontation.

"Ready…" Ocelot said as the guards took aim at the crew. "Fi… ergh?" Ocelot just a noticed a cardboard box flying up in the air from behind some crates as it slowly started to fall back down. "What in the-"

BOOOOOOOM!!

A big explosion occurred right above the west gate Ocelot was in front of as the explosion killed several guards on it, while it knocked the rest of them off the gate, and into the ground. Ocelot angrily looked behind his shoulder to see the the damage the explosion caused.

"Huh!? What happened!?" Luffy asked. Suddenly, several more explosion occurred at the south and east gate, killing and knocking all the guards off there as well. Ocelot glared back at the cardboard box as it just landed on the ground, which caused it to open, letting out various types of grenades.

"No!" Ocelot yelled.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

All the grenades exploded at the same time, with some of them creating small explosions, some others creating sparks to fly around the area, and the last ones creating a big smoke screen that covered the entire area.

"Grr.. what is this!?" Vamp asked while looking at his surroundings. This gave Nami the chance to raise her heel back, kicking Vamp between his legs. "Guaaaaaahh!!" Vamp lets go of Nami as he fell on his knees in pain. Nami quickly got away from Vamp as Sanji dashed right at him.

"COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji thrusted his foot sideways right into Vamp's forehead, sending him flying into the east gate, landing hard on the back of his head.

"Ugh…" Vamp fell unconscious as Sanji went to Nami.

"Are you alright, Nami-san!?" Sanji asked.

"Yeah, I'm fine." Nami said worryingly, "Now's our chance, guys; let's get out of here!"

"Where do we go!? Where do we go!?" Usopp asked while repeatedly looked at his surroundings. Robin then heard the sound of something opening, and looked towards her right to see the north gate opened.

"Over there! We can escape through there!" Robin said while pointing at the gate.

"Yosh! Gang way!" Usopp cried as he and his comrades quickly ran through the north gate. Franky then turned around, and saw a lever next to the gate.

"Franky, we must hurry!" Chopper cried.

"Hold on, I think this will close this thing!" Franky said as he then lowered the lever, causing the north gate to close.

Back on the helipad area, the smoke cleared as Ocelot was not pleased on what just happened. He walked over to the cardboard box, and picks it up. "Damn… this boy is here. I can't be this careless the next time this happens." A soldier then approached Ocelot from behind.

"Sir, the intruders have escaped through the north gate!"

"North gate?" Ocelot said curiously, "So they're already going there now, huh?"

"Sir, shall we stop them?"

"No, that place is heavily guarded. They'll die once they meet 'him'." Ocelot said while looking at the soldier behind his shoulder. "Just get things back in order around here. We still have work to be done here."

"Yes sir!"

The soldier runs off as Ocelot looks back at the cardboard box in anger. "Damn boy!" Ocelot said as he kicked the box away.

Meanwhile…

The Strawhat crew panted heavily upon being able to escape from Ocelot and his men. "Phew… man, that was a close one." Luffy said as he sat on a crate, which was next to a cardboard box.

"I don't like this place…" Chopper said sadly.

"No use in complaining now; we're trapped here." Zoro said.

"This could all have been avoided if you guys would have paid attention to me!" Usopp barked.

"But we now know that the heart is here." Sanji began to say, "The only problem is, we don't know exactly where. And the worst part is, everyone in this entire island is searching for us."

"They seemed to be quite professional on what they are doing." Robin said, "They won't rest until they completely dispose of our existence."

"Oi, Robin; don't say such nasty things!" Nami yelled, "But even though that does sound scary, that might happen to us if we get caught. This place is probably the worst one we have ever been on."

"And staying here wont change anything." Franky said, "They are bound to show up here any second. We need to keep on going."

"I say we just kick all their butts, and steal the Mystery heart away from that old man!" Luffy suggested.

"Easier said than done. We barely got away from there!" Nami said, "Franky is right; we need to keep on moving."

"Question is; where do we go?" Sanji asked. They finally noticed their surroundings. They were still outside, and they were in a big corridor, with a couple of crates along the way to a closed garage-like gate. Beyond that gate, they could see a small pointed mountain, with something that looks like a giant steel safe.

"What could that be for?" Chopper asked.

"For a safe that big, it must have something important." Usopp said. "What do you think, Na-eh!?" Usopp gasped as he saw how bright her eyes were upon seeing the safe.

"This place may be dangerous, but places like this always have the greatest treasures! Hee hee hee hee!" Nami grinned mischievously as Usopp just sighed. "Let's investigate!"

"Oi, a safe like that could be guarded! We don't have time to look at that." Zoro said as Nami walked along the corridor.

"Yes, but you guys can take care of the monsters while I take the treasure!" Nami said as she continued to walk. She didn't know that she walked right on a red sensor that was close to the ground. Once she stepped on it, the sensor disappeared as the red lights around the gate that was in front of the crew started to open. "Wh-Wha?"

"You see what you did!? Now we are going to get it!" Usopp cried before Sanji kicked him.

"Don't yell at Nami-san!" Sanji yelled. The garage-like gate slowly opened to it's fullest as something really big came out. It was a tank, and a really big one at that. It drove a few feet in the corridor before it stopped, and faced the crew. Usopp and Chopper hugged eachother in fear while Nami backed away until she was next to Sanji, as upper hatch of the tank opened, with someone coming halfway out.

It was a big guy. A black bald man with several tattoos around his body, and a really noticeable tattoo of a raven on his skull. He looked really buff, and was bare chested. He wore green pants, and brown boots. A raven flew onto his shoulder as the buff man stared at the Strawhat crew-- Vulcan Raven.

"This is Raven's territory," Raven began to say, "You don't belong here. I will not let you pass."

"Who is that guy?" Luffy asked while getting up from the crate he was sitting on. The tank's cannon then pointed right towards the crew, which alerted them.

"He is gonna shoot us!" Usopp cried as he, Nami, and Chopper hid behind some crates, while everyone else confronted Raven. Raven aimed his turret at the crew, and fired multiple bullets at them. Zoro quickly readied his swords, and parried all the bullets with great speed.

"Interesting…" Raven commented as he readied the tank's cannon.

"I'll handle that! GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated his stomach as Raven fired a missile at him. Luffy was able to catch the missile with his inflated stomach, but the force of it was so strong, that Luffy couldn't bounce it back as the missile forced him back into the gate wall, exploding afterwards. "Gyah!!"

"Luffy!" Chopper cried worryingly as he Luffy slowly got on his hands and knees in pain.

"That thing over there is really strong!" Luffy panted.

"Ho ho ha ha ha ha!" Raven laughed at Luffy's pain, "That's right; you belong on the ground! Crawl all over the floor like the little insect you are!"

"Whatever he is riding, it has great firepower!" Franky said upon observation. "It's too risky to get to him with this distance!"

"Usopp, can't you shoot it down?" Zoro asked while glaring at Raven.

"I don't think any of my attacks will work against that monstrous thing! Besides, did you see what it did to Luffy!? If he couldn't stop it, there is no way we can!" Usopp exclaimed.

Luffy got back on his feet, and clenched his fists in anger. "Okay… I'll get him this time!"

"No, Luffy!" Usopp yelled as he held Luffy back, "That thing is too powerful, we can't handle it!"

"You cannot defeat me, insect!" Raven said, "I will show why they call me Vulcan Raven!" Raven aimed the tank's cannon at the crew once more, ready to fire another round.

BOOM!

"Wha!?" Something exploded as yellow dots floated around the area. "A chaff grenade? Damn…" For some reason, the dots prevented the tank from firing another round as Raven was hitting on the tank in anger.

"What is going on around here!? How come there are so many explosions!?" Nami asked.

Suddenly, somebody tossed a pebble at Franky from behind. "Eh?" Franky turned around, and saw nothing but a cardboard box, and a ladder that lead all the way up above the north gate. "Hey, we can get away by going up that ladder!"

"What!? How come we haven't noticed that earlier!?" Sanji asked.

"Who cares about that now!? Let's go up before that guy fires at us again!" Usopp exclaimed as he hurried to the ladder, and starts to climb it.

"I won't let any of you escape!" Raven yelled as he aimed his turret at Usopp while he was still climbing the ladder.

"Huaaaaaaaaahhh!!" Luffy then charged at Raven, who noticed him coming.

"You want more!? Fine then!" Raven aimed the turret at Luffy, and repeatedly fired at him. Luffy stopped, and begun to run around the tank to prevent getting shot by Raven as he then jumped towards a small light tower. He quickly climbed his way up to the tower, but Raven quickly aimed towards the tower, and shot it down, knocking Luffy back down on the ground. "Ho ha ha!… huh?" Suddenly, the tank was starting to move by itself as Franky was trying to flip the tank over with his arms.

"Gyeeeeehhh!!" Using all his strength, Franky lifted the tank from it's front, but couldn't flip it over.

"Hold it like that, Franky!" Luffy shouted as he got back on his feet, and charged at the tank while stretching both of his arms back. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted both of his palms underneath the tank, hitting it with great force as it helped Franky to flip the tank over, with Raven still on it.

"Whoa!"

CRASH!

The tank landed upside down, unknown that if it crushed Raven or not. Luffy and Franky panted as everyone else were able to climb up the ladder.

"Luffy! Franky! Hurry up, we need to go!" Chopper shouted. Luffy and Franky nodded panting as they went to join the others. They climbed up the ladder, and regrouped with there comrades as they then started to run along the path up on the gate, leaving the long corridor and the tank alone.

A few minutes later, Raven came out from underneath his tank, and laid his back on the ground, panting heavily after his getting flipped over.

"They are strong…" Raven said, "But the question is; how long will they last?" A raven then got close to him. "Tell the boss what happened. I have failed to capture our prey. But they only delayed their fate… for the raven on my head has a thirst for their blood."

The raven then flew away to the dark and cold skies.

Meanwhile…

Ocelot was back in his office, looking out the window as he saw a raven flying by. "Hmm… looks like they got away from Raven too…" Ocelot sighed, "These guys have mother luck on their side. Too bad that won't be the case for long."

The door opened as Vamp entered Ocelot's office, with a frown on his face. Ocelot looked behind his shoulder to see how upset Vamp was. "Yo… any sign of them?"

"I haven't seen them ever since they escaped." Vamp replied while stood next to Ocelot, "But what troubled me the most was that they were able to trick me."

"I hate to admit this, but we all got fooled thanks to that boy." Ocelot said, "But it wont be a dilemma for long; once we take care of the kids and that boy, things can go back exactly as planned."

"That also troubles me…" Vamp said as he looked at Ocelot, "Don't you think that those two… 'rulers' are a little suspicious? They came out of nowhere, offering you a position for this Obscurum, and you accepted that position without a second thought. What were you thinking?"

"My boy, I know my actions were a little confusing, but it will all be worth it." Ocelot replied with a smirk, "Besides, thanks to them, we were able to get back Raven from the dead. Not to mention that their support has helped us greatly."

"Hmm… but Raven wasn't the only one who revived, and those people aren't any help at us at all." Vamp said, "Instead, they have been trying to take us down ever since their revival into this world."

"That is unfortunate… but they are simply a minor problem; they won't stop us in time." Ocelot said, "Are you upset because of them back, or because one of them didn't turn out to be that person you wanted to see again…"

"…" Vamp looked the other way as Ocelot chuckled.

"Not to worry, once we have things under control here, we can revive your dead girlfriend afterwards. She'd be happy to see you again." Ocelot said.

"That wont be the same for you, though; you did kill her before." Vamp said.

"Ha ha ha! Ah yes… but that's all in the past." Ocelot said with a grin, "But we must focus on the present and our goal; to make this world follow our law!" Ocelot then looked at his right arm, "And since those two nice rulers gave me a vaccine for this wretched curse I have, I will be happy to rule Obscurum alongside them after this is all over!"

Meanwhile…

Helicopters flew across the island, searching for the Strawhat as their were no signs of them. One helicopter flew by a staircase by the southeast corner of the island. Chopper peeked his head over behind some crates as they saw the helicopter leave his sights.

"They're gone." Chopper as he looked back at Luffy and the others.

"This night is just as bad as that night back in Aether." Nami panted while sitting on the floor, "I can't stand doing this over again!"

"And the night has just begun." Zoro said, "Those guys won't stop until they capture us."

"It looks like this place is where we will perish." Robin said while looking at the ocean.

"No! I don't want think about that! It won't happen!" Usopp yelled by covering his ears.

"I guess we don't really have any other choice but to fight back, just like Luffy suggested." Sanji said.

"Yeah, we should have done that from the start." Luffy said.

"Nooooo!" Usopp yelled at Luffy's face, "No! No! No! No! No! No! No! No! No! No! NoooooOOOOoooo!!"

"What's your problem?" Franky asked with his arms crossed.

"My problem!?" Usopp asked, "I'll tell you what my problem is! My problem is that I am tired of doing this! I am tired of fighting crazy people like those guys we fought back there!"

"You're not really helping the cause here." Nami said while staring at Usopp.

"This place is by far the very, very, very worst one yet! Unlike the previous times, these guys already have the 7th heart, and taking it away from them is impossible! We don't know nothing about this place, but that it has the most dangerous people ever! I say we just go back to the ship, or… die trying!!"

"Die trying!?" Chopper gasped.

"We wont die, Usopp." Luffy said with a plain look, "This is like Enies Lobby, only it's dark and they have weapons that can actually hurt me."

"Don't you see anything wrong with what you just said!?" Usopp asked while backslapping the air in front of him. "This place is too dangerous for us! You hear me!? TOO DANGEROUS!"

Usopp then placed his hands on the stair rail, panting heavily with great fear. The crew sighed as Usopp perked his head up, fearing what will come to him and the others in the future. He sighed as he calmly turned around, but blinked with confusion as he saw a cardboard box between two crates next to Chopper. For some reason, Usopp was getting very angry upon seeing the box again.

"And what is with that cardboard box!? I keep seeing that all over the place! It's driving me crazy!" Usopp yelled as he walked towards the box.

"Hey, leave the box alone; it didn't do anything to you." Luffy said.

"Since when did you care about boxes?" Nami asked while sweatdropping.

"All I know is that I am feeling really angry right now, and I need to let it out on something. This box right here will do the trick!" Usopp said while pointing at the box, "Hooooooo! USOPP KICK!" Usopp kicked the cardboard box, but the moment he struck the box, his whole body shook. "OOWWWWWW!!" Usopp grabbed his leg in pain, and hopped around in one foot.

"Longnose, you're such a wimp." Franky said.

"It's not that!" Usopp barked back before looking back at the cardboard box, "There is something in that box!"

"Come to think of it, that box wasn't even there before." Sanji just noticed.

"Whatever is inside, I am going to find out right now!" Usopp exclaimed as he stomped his way towards the box, and knelt down to grab it, until… "Huh?" The cardboard box moved by itself. "EEEEEHHHH!?" Usopp landed on his rear as the cardboard box suddenly got lifted up from the inside. The crew gasped as the cardboard box was thrown away by a man that was hiding in it the whole time.

"Wh-Who is that!?"

The weird guy in the cardboard box. Luffy and his crew confronted Ocelot, but Ocelot tricked them as his right-handed man, Vamp, caught Nami, taking the crew off guard, not to mention be surrounded by a group of soldiers again. Before anything else could happen, the area they were on exploded, giving the Strawhat pirates the chance to escape. The crew then confront Vulcan Raven, but were able to escape from him as well. It looks like things couldn't go worse for the Strawhat crew, but it seemed it did as they now came up against this guy hiding under a cardboard box. Who is he?

Chapter 86: Kept you waiting, huh?, The legendary Solid Snake

The man that was hiding in the cardboard box earlier looked at the crew, who were simply stunned and surprised to see him, especially Usopp.

"Who in the world is this guy!?" Usopp asked while crawling away from the man.

He has brown hair, a little facial hair, and he looked almost as buff as Captain Falcon. His attire consists of a gray sneaking suit, a gray headband around his head, and several bullet magazine holders around his chest and waist. Basically, he has nothing but gray and dark gray on.

"H-H-He looks scary!" Chopper said as he backed away.

"Oi, who the hell are you!?" Franky asked while shaking his fist.

"Luffy, beat him up before he does something to us!" Nami demanded, but Luffy just blinked in astonishment upon looking at the man.

"He appeared out of nowhere!" Luffy said while sparks of joy came out of his eyes, "He is like some superspy or something!"

"Yeah… probably a spy from that Ocelot guy!" Sanji said getting into his fighting pose, "Well, he is not going to report back alive to his boss, that's for sure."

"Y-Yeah! That's right!" Usopp exclaimed as he got behind Zoro, and glared at the man, "Zoro! As your captain, I order you to get rid of that guy!"

"You didn't need to yell at my ear." Zoro replied while staring at the man. "But I sense something odd about this guy. He is no pushover from what I can tell."

"Who cares!? You, Luffy, Sanji, and Franky can turn this guy into mincemeat! Just go beat him up now!" Usopp shouted.

"Shh!" The man hissed at the crew, which got their attention.

"Ah! He's already begun the attack!" Usopp cried.

"No, he's not; he's telling you to keep it down." Franky said, "You're yelling so loud that the whole island must have heard you."

The man looked at his surroundings and saw no guards in the area. He then looked back at the crew, and points to the stairs.

"Huh? What are you saying?" Luffy asked.

"I think he wants us to go downstairs." Robin analyzed, "He does make sense; if we talk around here any longer, we might get spotted."

"Oh no.. he just wants us to go down their so he can kill us without any witnesses!" Usopp stated.

The man slapped his forehead, and irritatingly pointed at the stairs again.

"He's getting a little impatient. Shall we go?" Robin asked.

"I don't think we can trust this guy. What if he makes a move on us?" Franky said.

"Let's do it." Luffy said with a smile.

"Luffy?" Nami said curiously.

"We'll keep an eye on him while we go down the stairs. I mean, we can just throw him off this island if he does something funny, right?" Luffy asked.

"I guess you have a point." Zoro said.

"Alright; we'll go with your plan." Nami said as she then looked at the man, "You go down the stairs first. Is that okay?"

The man nodded, and walked past the Strawhat pirates as he then proceeded to go towards the stairs that was on his right side. As soon as he was taking a couple of steps down, the Strawhat pirates followed him down slowly and carefully. They kept their distance away from the man, just in case if the was luring them into a trap. They walked down the stairs until they have reached the lowest part of the southeast part of the island.

The man looked beyond the stair rail, and saw nothing but the calm ocean. He sighed in relief as the Starwhat pirates stared at him from behind.

"It looks like we'll be safe here…" The man said. He turned around to face Luffy and the others. "You guys have no idea what have you gotten yourselves into, do you?"

"Whoa… his voice sounds funny…" Luffy said in awe.

"Don't talk to us like if we are your friends! Who are you!? Are you working for Ocelot!?" Usopp asked while giving the man a threatening look.

"Calm down, kid; I am not your enemy here." The man said. "And the chances of me working for Ocelot will be zero, trust me."

"How do we know that you are not lying to us? For all we know, you could be the enemy." Nami said.

"I could be your enemy, but then I would be lying." The man said, "It's your choice whether you believe me or not, I am the only guy around here that was actually kind enough not to attack you guys when I had the chance to. Now you tell me if I am the bad guy or not."

"Well…" Nami rubbed her chin in confusion, unable to think of a decent answer.

"Yeah, that's what I thought." The man said as he sat on a stair step.

"This guy is good…" Franky commented.

"So… if your not a bad guy, then why were you spying on us?" Chopper asked.

"I needed to make sure you guys weren't working with Ocelot, and by the looks of your expressions during your visit on this island, then I suppose your not working for him." The man said, "But I could be wrong, so I am just as suspicious towards you just as you guys are suspicious towards me."

"Were you the guy who has been under those cardboard boxes on our way here?" Zoro asked. "Because every time I saw a cardboard box, I felt a faint presence in the area."

"The ability to sense a presence in a distance, huh?" The man chuckled, "You have a nice gift…"

"Wait, Zoro; so you're telling that us that you knew somebody was following us this whole time, and you didn't say anything!?" Usopp asked.

"I said I felt a faint presence, so I wasn't really sure if this guy was spying on us or not." Zoro said, "And now that I think about it, this guy must have been helping along the way here."

"What do you mean, Marimo?" Sanji asked.

"The explosions back where we confronted that old man. I don't think that was a coincidence. And I did see a cardboard box flying in the air during that time."

"Oh yeah, I did see a box when that happened." Franky said, "And now that you mentioned it, someone throw a pebble at me to get my attention, and that was when I saw the ladder that helped us escape that big guy from earlier."

"You guys are catching on rather quickly." The man said.

"So you were the one who did all that to help us? Why?" Nami asked.

"Well… for one, if it wasn't for me, one of you would have been dead by now. And two, anybody who is an enemy of Ocelot is an ally of mine… I guess…" The man said.

"Oh, so you are a good guy afterall." Luffy said happily, "Thanks alot, Mister…"

"Call me Snake. Solid Snake." The man said-- Snake.

"Okay, Snake. Hee hee hee!" Luffy giggled, thinking that name is rather funny, "My name is-"

"You don't need to say your name; I pretty much know who you guys are by now." Snake said as Luffy blinked in confusion, "Monkey D. Luffy; Captain of the Strawhat pirates. Loves to eat meat, and wishes to become the Pirate King."

"Ugh.. hey, yeah! That's right!" Luffy blinked in astonishment.

"Roronoa Zoro; First mate of the Strawhat pirates. Gets lost all the time, and wishes to become the greatest swordsman in his world." Snake said.

"Pfft… some of that is right." Zoro said while crossing his arms.

"Nami; the navigator of the crew. She loves money and oranges." Snake said

"That's all true." Nami said.

"Usopp; the marksmen of the crew. He thinks he is brave, but he knows he isn't." Snake said.

"Oi!" Usopp yelled angrily.

"Sanji; the cook of the crew. Will do anything for a beautiful woman, especially for Nami and Robin."

"He's right." Sanji said.

"Tony Tony Chopper; the doctor of the crew. He is really bad when it comes to hiding his feelings every time somebody compliments him." Snake said as Chopper then did his happy dance.

"Sh-Shut up! I am not happy you said that, dumbass!" Chopper said happily.

"Nico Robin; the archaeologist of the crew. She is in search for the Rio Poneglyph, and she is also smart." Snake said.

"That is right." Robin said.

"And Franky; The shipwright of the crew. He is able to build almost anything in a matter of seconds." Snake said.

"Ahahaha! That's right, man!" Franky said with a smirk, "But hey, that's an awful alot of information you have about us, bro. That sounds pretty freaky, if you ask me."

"That doesn't matter right now." Nami said as she walked up to Snake, "Since you seem to know about this place, why don't you start telling us what is going on around here?"

Snake looked up to her, and got up. "This place isnt too secure to talk about things. Come on, I'll take you guys to my hideout."

Snake then walked towards the corridor that was behind the Strawhat pirates. They looked at eachother before they followed Snake. They were walking right under the surface of the island, with no security at all. Snake faced his back towards a wall towards his right, and peeked over it to see nobody around. He walked ahead as the crew followed him again. They then faced towards a wall that a had a different color among the other walls around it. Snake examined it, and took out a card, which made the wall opened sideways, surprising the crew.

"Whoa! What did you do!?" Luffy asked.

"This is not an actual wall; this is a door disguised as one." Snake said as he then walked through the door. The crew then walked through the door before it closed, and they were now in a very small corridor, which lead towards a dead end. Snake then knelt down on one knee, and touched his right ear. "Otacon, this is Snake. Let us in."

"Hee hee! He's talking to himself." Luffy said while pointing at Snake as he got up.

Suddenly, the walls in front of the crew and Snake opened up like a double door.

"Whoa! So cooooOOOOLL!!" Luffy said happily. They walked inside to see some kind of a small computer lab, with some computers and desks around it. There were also posters with animated characters on them, such as Bleach, Naruto, Death note, and all that kind of anime.

There was nobody else in the room but just one man, who was working on a computer while sitting on a rotating chair. He has long black hair, and wore glasses. He also wore a labcoat with brown pants, and black shoes-- Otacon.

"Hmm?" Otacon turn around with his chair, and saw Snake. "Hey, Snake. Seems you decided to bring them along with you."

"Yeah… I guess that was the right thing to do." Snake shrugged as he then looked at Luffy and the others. "This is Otacon. He helps me with my missions. He is the brains around here."

"Hello, everyone. It's nice to meet you." Otacon said while getting up from his chair. "I have been told that you guys came here without what was going on."

"How did you know that?" Sanji asked.

"Otacon, how have things been ever since these guys showed up?" Snake asked.

"Well, it looks like security has gotten a little more strict. Especially in central C, where that object is stored." Otacon said while adjusting his glasses.

"Hmm… that's typical. Couldn't be helped, I suppose." Snake said, "It's not like it changes anything." Snake then looked at the others, "Make yourselves at home. There is a fridge over there if your hungry."

"FOOD!" Luffy shouted as he then saw the fridge and stretched his arms to open the fridge, and take all the food out He happily got the food on a small round table, and started to eat the whole thing. Otacon was shocked, but Snake just sighed.

"A-Amazing!" Otacon said in awe, "It's like your body is made out of rubber! Something like that could only happen in an anime!" Luffy just smiled as he continued eating.

"It's no big deal, Otacon; I have seen more weird things in my life than that." Snake said, unimpressed with Luffy's ability as he sat down on a chair. "But that isn't the issue here now, is it?"

"That's right. You're were going to explain to us what is going on around here." Nami said as she also sat down on a rotating chair. Everyone else did the same, while Luffy continued to eat. They sat around eachother as Snake looked at the crew.

"Okay, you better pay attention to what I am going to say. I will not repeat myself." Snake said bluntly, "Two years ago, there was an attack on a big oil facility known as the Big Shell. The rebel group were known as Sons of Liberty, lead by a leader named Solidus Snake."

"Solidus Snake? Is he related to you?" Nami asked.

"No, he isn't." Snake said bitterly, "Ocelot was working with Solidus at the time, along with Vamp, the guy who tried to kill Nami earlier."

"Oh, that guy…" Sanji said bitterly.

"They were working on a project, something you guys would not understand, but they almost succeeded if it wasn't for us." Snake said, "Solidus died the day after, but Ocelot and Vamp managed to get away. I placed a tracking signal on Ocelot so I can find him again, but that took a long time."

"Ocelot was never truly on his side to begin with, except for the patriots." Otacon added.

"The patriots?" Franky asked.

"A group of twelve people." Snake replied, "They are the elite men of America. They are very powerful and secretive; their ideal was to protect mankind and push evolution forward. Not much else is known about this group, the only thing we know is that they died 100 years ago…"

"Wha!? How can Ocelot be working for them if they are already dead!?" Usopp asked.

"That's the point… they are dead and alive at the same time…" Snake said.

"Ah… I have no idea what that means, but that really creeped me out…" Usopp whimpered.

"Anyway, after the Big shell incident, Otacon and I were trying to find Ocelot's location… until we bumped into someone that we'd never thought we would encounter."

"Who was it?" Chopper asked.

"Master hand." Otacon replied.

"WHA!?" The crew was surprised to hear that.

"Mwha? Fthat Fmafster handth guyth ith thef pernon whoth rwun thef fmasher tournafment!?" Luffy asked with his mouth full of food.

"Yeah, that same guy." Snake replied. "We were in the middle of the desert, looking for Ocelot's location until this Master hand comes out of nowhere. He made Otacon pee his pants, while I was about to fight him off until he offered me some lousy position."

"Did you have to tell them about the peeing part?" Otacon asked, embarrassed.

"So are you a smash participant?" Robin asked.

"I prefer to call them Smashers rather than that, but yeah." Snake said, "I didn't believe him at first, but then he showed me around his world, where other smashers were there at the time. There was a plumber, an elf, some yellow thing, a pink marshmallow, a guy who has a real imaginative name, and other bunch of weirdos. And since it was a once in a lifetime offer, I had no choice but to join."

"How come?" Sanji asked.

"I don't want to talk about that." Snake said, "Once I joined, all those other weirdos called me the third party guy, whatever the hell that meant."

"So it wasn't worth it?" Chopper asked.

"It actually was." Snake said, "I got some information about the other smashers, and their way of things."

"Like Peach, Zelda, and Samus!?" Sanji asked.

"Uh.. yeah.." Snake replied while staring at Sanji, "Although I don't like to talk about Samus that much. She did something to me that I will never forgive." The crew got quiet, eager to hear what Samus did to Snake. "She wouldn't let me catch up to her after I took off all my heavy gear off."

"YOU ARE NO HERO, YOU ARE JUST SOME PERVERT!!" Usopp yelled while backslapping the air.

"Never said I was a hero, kid…" Snake replied, "So anyway, during my stay at Master hand's place, Master hand was going from world to world after hours and hours complaining about some bill for his master door or something. He then hid the keys to the door in different worlds afterwards."

"The Mystery hearts!?" Nami asked.

"If that's what they are called, yeah. I never knew what he called them in the first place." Snake said, "He went to eight different worlds, placing the hearts into locations where nobody could get or find. One of those hearts are in this island."

"Where is it!? We really need it!" Nami asked.

"Thought you knew. Didn't you see that big safe back where you fought Raven? It's in there." Snake said.

"It was right in front of us, and we didn't even try to get close to it! I knew their was something important there!" Nami said while clenching her fist.

"You thought it was just treasure. You would have gone to that safe if the heart was their or not." Zoro said.

"Actually, you wouldnt have gotten even 10 meters close to it." Snake said, "That safe has the tightest security in this whole island. Here, let me show you."

Snake reaches for a big blue print on the computer desk next to him, and spreads it out on the ground, showing all the details of the island. "This is the center of the island. This is where the heart is located." Snake said while pointing at the middle part of the island. "Around it, you see multiple traps, and infrared sensors. If you trip on one of them, the area around the safe will shut down, and will let out a poisonous gas in a matter of seconds. If you get past the sensors, you still need to worry about the electromagnetic barrier, which can only be deactivated from Ocelot's office using a special cardkey. And this is just a sample of the traps this area has in store."

"Getting the dang heart sounds impossible now." Franky said while scratching his head.

"Why is Ocelot so protective of that heart anyway if there is enough security in this place that can keep an army of ships out?" Nami asked.

"Remember when I said that Master placed the hearts where nobody could get or find. Well, Ocelot couldn't open that safe." Snake said.

"Some time ago, Ocelot saw Master hand hide the heart here." Otacon began to say, "He then made a facility big enough in order to get the heart, but no matter what he did or use, that safe would not open no matter how hard he tried. That safe is invincible."

"We had no idea how, but he was able to make all this look like a big island. And the government cant do anything about it because Ocelot was using an old group name known as FOXHOUND. He faxed some documents about the reincarnation of FOXHOUND, and tricked the government by allowing Ocelot and his men to get the heart out of the safe. Bunch of idiots." Snake said.

"So Ocelot's goal here is to get the heart from the safe. But why is that? It's just a key, isn't it?" Zoro asked. Luffy finished eating his food as Snake sighed.

"He is looking for an energy source for his project that he has been working on." Snake said, "Remember the project that I was talking to you about concerning Big Shell? It's related to that." Snake then got out a cigarette from his pocket, and placed it on his lips before lighting it up. "This project concerns creating one of destructible weapons in this world. It's called Metal Gear."

"Metal.. Gear?" Luffy asked.

Snake then breathes out a puff of smoke as he remembers all the Metal Gears he faced so far. "They are big and powerful weapons, having the power to destroy it's target without fail. Their nuclear weapons are capable of destroying like 10 islands in one, probably even more."

"What!? That powerful!?" Chopper asked.

"That sounds more dangerous then the Pluton back in our world!" Franky gasped, "This world has so many advanced technology. I didn't know it could go this far…"

"I have fought with Metal Gears all my life, and they're not easy to destroy. A normal human couldn't withstand it's power." Snake said, "But this Metal Gear we're talking about is the biggest and baddest one of them all… Arsenal Gear."

"I-Is that one really powerful?" Usopp asked nervously.

"More than you can imagine." Snake said, "This Metal Gear is as big as an island. It carries 2000 missiles, 50 nukes, and 25 AI controlled Metal Gear RAYs inside it, which are the fastest Metal Gears as of yet. There are atleast two Arsenal Gears in this world. One crashed into Manhattan Island during the Big Shell incident, while the other one was in storage… and Ocelot has this Arsenal Gear in his possesion."

"If it's big as you say it is, then where is it?" Zoro asked.

"… Right here…" Snake said, "It's right under our noses. In fact, this whole island is Arsenal Gear."

The whole crew couldn't believe their ears. "H-How could that be!? This is a regular island, isn't it!?" Usopp asked.

"That mountain tip where the safe is located is part of mother nature. Where we are on right now, is a humongous facility created by Ocelot. He built this entire place around that mountain tip. Remember those waves you felt before landed here? That was part of Arsenal Gear's preparation for it's launch."

"That can't be possible at all. How long as he been doing this?" Nami asked.

"Right after Master Hand left this world." Otacon said while rubbing his temples, "After he tricked the government, Ocelot built this whole island. It took him only a year to do all this. It's unbelievable…"

"And those two guys that gave Ocelot a ruling position for Obscurum are helping him big time." Snake said, "Vulcan Raven was dead a long time ago, and he got revived by Obscurum's power. I also heard rumors that other people got revived as well, but I am not entirely sure who. These two are a big pain to us right now; they are using Ocelot's laboratories to study how Obscurum works, and intends to use it's power to revive anybody whenever they want to."

"Reviving?… Do you know who they are?" Sanji asked.

"I don't know their names, but I was able to dish out some of their personal information." Snake said, "One of them was a big researcher that used to study some samples of a meteorite that was close to his world. The other one used to live in this world. He was probably the best murderer that existed here; he showed no mercy to anybody he sees. He used to participate in this crazy contest of some sort. Atleast, that's what I remember. There is no information about it anymore."

"Aw geez… so much danger in this place, I can't take it all in." Usopp whimpered.

"There is more…" Snake sighed, "Ocelot intends to launch Arsenal Gear, and initiate his assault by attacking Manhattan island that is very far away from here. And the deadline will be in 10 hours."

"There isn't much time then!" Luffy yelled as he got up, "If we don't do something, that place will be destroyed, along with everyone in it!"

"Calm down, kid." Snake said while throwing his cigarette away, "Ocelot won't prevail over this. He will be stopped."

"But for one man doing this alone is rather too risky this time, Snake." Otacon said, "I suggest we should let these guys help out."

"Wh-What!?" Usopp asked in surprise.

"Yeah, we can help out!" Luffy said, "Will stop that old man, and kicked this Arsenal Gear's a#-!"

"Ergh… I prefer to do this alone, but I guess I don't have much of a choice." Snake said.

"Yosh! We'll help Snake out, and make that old man cry!" Luffy said happily.

"I am not going to like this…" Usopp whimpered in defeat.

"The heart is here, and to get it, we need to beat Ocelot. -sigh-… I hate this place." Nami sighed sadly.

"As long as we get the heart and move on, doesnt matter to me." Zoro said.

"Ow! We are going to show them who's boss!" Franky said as he did his pose.

"Yeah, let's get going!" Luffy said happily as he was about to walk out the door, but Nami pulled him back in.

"We can't just go without a strategy, you imbecile." Nami said as she then looked at Otacon, "I am sure you have something in mind, don't you?"

"Ugh, yeah! I have been coming with several strategies before you arrived. Let me print them out for you." Otacon walked to his computer, and started to print out some strategy plans as Snake got up from his seat.

"Before we do anything, I need to know something else about you guys." Snake said as he looked at Luffy, "For what reason do you guys need the heart?"

"Huh… well, we need it so we can go back home. So we can continue our journey and fulfill our dreams." Luffy replied happily.

"Is that really it? You are willing to sacrifice your lives just for your dreams?" Snake asked.

"Um… yeah? Why are you asking me this?" Luffy asked.

"Kid… you seem to have no clue what life really is all about around here." Snake said, "For me, it's not to fulfill any dream, it's to survive until the end. In this world, dreams are starting to become a thing of the past. The only thing this world has is it's wars."

Snake then sat on another chair, looking down while the crew looked at him. "These wars are not about nations, or ideologies. It's not even about profit, resources, or ethnicity. It's an endless series of proxy battles, fought by mercenaries and machines. Soon, war will change. War, and it's vast consumption of human life, has become a rational, well-oiled business transaction over the years. Soon, ID-tagged soldiers will carry ID-tagged weapons and ID-tagged gear as well. They'll have nanomachines inside their bodies that will enhance and regulate their actions."

Otacon listened to Snake in silence while the printer was making some copies. "Genetic control… Information control… Emotion control… battlefield control, everything is monitored and will be kept under control. And the age of deterrence will soon be the age of control, averting catastrophe from weapons and mass destruction. And he who controls the battlefield… controls history. War will change for sure… and when the battlefield is under total control, war becomes routine."

Snake then got up from his chair and looked at the crew. "This is not something you should be confident about. We are dealing with real life here. It's not like you can correct your actions like if this was some sort of game. You can't redo the things you mess up. Once you failed at something, it will stick to you for the rest of your life. And if we don't stop this thing, all the world will suffer even more because we failed. You think of this deeply in your head, kid; it doesn't matter how confident you are in something; if you mess up, it's all over for you. Remember that…"

Snake walked past Luffy, who lowered his head while everyone was completely silent. Luffy then looked behind his shoulder. "Maybe your right… but all those things can be fixed somehow. Maybe you shouldn't lose your hope for this world so quickly."

Snake kept silent, and sat down on another chair while Luffy clenched his fist. "No matter what you say to me, we will stop that old man no matter what!"

TO BE CONTINUED…

10 hours until deadline. The Strawhat crew were spied by a person known as Solid Snake, but it turns out that he was not working for Ocelot. Snake lead the crew into a hidden room where they can talk without any worries about getting ambushed by the enemy. They met up with Snake's partner, Otacon, and talked about the current situation, and what they must do to stop Ocelot before it's too late. Will the addition of Snake and Otacon help the Strawhats cause, or will it just make their situation even worse?

Chapter 87: Begin the objectives!, Sneaking in Arsenal Gear

Otacon grabbed the stack of strategy papers he printed out earlier, and gave them to the Strawhat crew. "This base is filled with top notch security." Otacon said, "Brute force won't be enough to survive here. All of you need to do is to follow these strategies I made for you, and I assure that you guys will come out alive on this one."

"I don't really agree with you that much…" Usopp said while shivering.

"Those strategies also contain the map of this island. Sneaking around this area should be much more easier with those around." Otacon said.

"It's not like it makes any difference for Marimo here; he'll get lost anyway." Sanji said.

"Oi! Shut up!" Zoro replied angrily. Luffy looked at his strategy paper with a confused look.

"I don't understand any of this." Luffy said, "Where is the part where you beat up a soldier for no reason?"

"You idiot, we can't go fighting around here! That's too risky!" Nami said.

"Huh… I don't really get it. We fight people in big places all the time. This place really isn't that different." Luffy said while raising an eyebrow in confusion.

"This place is much more different than the ones you are used to." Snake said while sitting on his rotating chair, "You attack one guy, and the entire population will come right at you until you're dead."

"As if we didn't knew that by now…" Usopp said irritatingly.

"My strategy papers are different from Robin's papers." Franky said while looking at Robin's strategy papers, and then back at his. "Aren't we going to do the same thing?"

"Going around this island in one big group will increase the risk of getting caught, and that is the last thing we want to happen." Snake said while getting up from his chair, "And no offense, but the way you guys got around this place was unprofessional, and by the time you step outside of this place, you will get killed for sure."

"And we are not suppose to take that offensively?" Nami asked while sweatdropping.

"If you guys want to stay alive, we are going to have to split up into groups. That way, we can get around this island with much more ease."

"I don't like the sound of that idea." Usopp said, "Can't we just not split up, and say we did? I feel safer knowing that my men are with me."

"No, and I think Luffy is the captain, not you." Snake replied as Usopp glared at him, "Anyway, to stop this launch from happening, we need to go by the strategies that Otacon gave us, and we need to do them during the right time, and in the right order. We can't afford to rush this."

"We only have 10 hours until the launch, right? I don't think going slow will be good either." Zoro said.

"True, but doing things fast without thinking is bad as well. We need to keep things in a smooth and steady pace." Snake said as he got out a map of the island, and placed it on a table for everyone to see. "Okay, we're in the southeast part of the island. In order to get the heart from that safe, we need to do the following." Snake then looked at Luffy, "Luffy, you go with Nami to the northwest part of the island. You will find a big warehouse where they keep most of the weapons. I want you two to destroy that place; that way, the soldiers around here with have a limited amount of firepower."

"Now hold on!" Sanji said, "If Nami-san is going to do something like that, then I should be going along too! I can't allow Nami-san to do such big tasks with only Luffy on her side."

"Ugh.. fine then. Do what you want." Snake shrugged. "Before you guys go to the facility, on the way there, you will see two lighthouses. If you can, try to destroy the spotlights from those towers quietly. That way, there is less surveillance around the area."

"Unlike these two, I'll make sure we are quiet enough to do our task. You can count on me to handle this objective perfectly!" Nami said.

"Oh, Nami-san is so beautiful when she looks so determined to do stuff!" Sanji said happily while a big heart formed into his visible eye.

"Mmm… that doesn't sound much fun." Luffy said while tilting his head sideways.

"Next up, we need to take care of an elite squadron stationed at the east side of the island in the first floor. That's where Zoro and Franky comes in." Snake said as he looked at the duo he mentioned, "You guys are tough enough to take down that squadron. Attack them once I disable their communication devices. That way, they wont be able to call for backup."

"Sure, if you say so." Zoro said.

"Hey, that's not fair!" Luffy said unhappingly, "How come they can beat up the bad guys while we have to destroy some stupid weapon place?"

"Don't question it, and just deal with it, alright?" Snake asked as Luffy crossed his arms displeasing, "And lastly, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin will come with me for the very important part of this objective."

"We have to go too?" Chopper asked nervously.

"He is an expert in this; we'll probably be alright." Robin said.

"Ooh… I hope you're right." Usopp said sadly.

"And one more thing; in order to communicate in long distances, you guys are going to need these." Snake said as he took eight small objects from his pocket.

"Raisins?" Luffy asked.

"No, they're not raisins." Snake said, "This is what we will use to contact eachother in long distances. It's much more useful then that snail phone thing you have in your ship."

"How did you know about that!?" Usopp asked, but Snake ignored him.

"Each of you take on one of these, and place them in your ear." Snake said. The crew got the small gadgets from Snake's palm, and placed them inside their ear. "This form of communication is called the codec. In order to use this, you need to push the SELECT button…"

"The SELECT button?" Chopper asked curiously.

"When any of us try to contact with eachother, the codec will beep." Snake continued to explain, "When you hear that noise, press the SELECT button. The noise will come from that small gadget in your ear. Nobody but you guys will be able to hear it. These aren't as advanced as the ones Otacon and I have, but they will have to do."

"So that's what you were using before we came into this room. Very interesting…" Robin said.

"I got a question." Luffy said while raising his hand, "What's the SELECT button?"

"Just push the ear where you have the gadget, and you will hear just fine." Snake said, "Now that we know what to do, I expect you guys not to mess up at all. This is our secret mission, and failure is not an option."

"SECRET MISSION!?" Luffy asked happily as his eyes sparked with joy.

"Aw, bro! You just had to go and say that…" Franky said while slapping his forehead. Snake blinked in confusion about that, but shrugged it off.

"Alright, let's get going." Snake said, "Otacon, you let us know when something comes up by codec."

"I'll keep you informed. Good luck out there, guys." Otacon said while adjusting his glasses. Snake and the Strawhat crew left, leaving Otacon to wonder about something. "I could have sworn that I have seen those guys in an anime somewhere. I'll have to look it up after this is over."

Snake and the Strawhat crew walked their way back outside of the interior of the island as Snake faced the crew. "Here, you guys are going to need these as well." Snake said as he gave Nami, and Zoro a cardkey. "These cards are like keys around here. They are security cards level 9. They are capable of opening any door with the security level 9 or below. You just walk up to do the door with the cardkey, and it will open up automatically. Try not to lose them, I had a hard time getting those."

"Okay." Nami said as she and Zoro puts their cardkeys away.

"Now then, you three go on ahead to those towers. We'll do our part shortly after." Snake said.

"Yosh! Time to beat someone up!" Luffy said excitedly.

"We're not going to attack anybody, you idiot. How many times do we have to tell you that?" Sanji said. Luffy frowned as he, Nami, and Sanji went up the stairs to the first floor, and headed towards their destination.

"Now, you two can go on ahead towards your place. Stay there until I give you the signal to attack." Snake explained.

"Yosh! Let's go, bro!" Franky said as he and Zoro left as well, leaving Snake, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin alone.

"So… we just wait here?" Chopper asked.

"Once your captain and the others take down those towers, will make our move." Snake said, "For now, we'll have to wait for a short while."

"Oh…" Chopper said, "Oh, yeah! I almost forgot!"

"Hmm?" Snake looked at Chopper as he took out his autograph book, and showed it to Snake.

"Can I have your autograph, please?" Chopper asked kindly. Snake rubbed his chin curiously, and grabbed Chopper's autograph book to write something underneath Kirby's lousy signature. He then gave it back to Chopper, but as Chopper looked at the signature, he was a little upset. "Um… this is just a dotted line."

"Sorry, kid; but I cant give you my signature." Snake said while looking back up the stairs, "There is a chance that your book my get stolen by someone, and he might use those names to their advantage in life. In other words, he will practice writing those signatures to do illegal things like forgery, which is a big crime around here. So, sorry."

Chopper blinked in confusion before he sadly puts his autograph book away. I don't even know why Snake was worried about forgery, it's not like he was going to write his real name anyway.

"Now… we wait." Snake said.

Meanwhile…

Nami and Sanji quietly walked up the stairs to the second floor of the island, with Luffy following them, completely bored out of his mind. "I still say we should beat somebody up along the way." Luffy said while pouting.

"Just shut up, will you?" Nami asked, "With your attitude, we are going to get caught."

"Mmm…" Luffy mumbled while putting his hands behind his head. They walked along above the south gate, which were no security due to the explosions in the last two chapters.

"-sigh-… Still, I don't even know why we have to walk this far. Cant they make this place smaller?" Nami asked.

"It cant be helped, Nami-san." Sanji began to say, "But dont worry; your brave and handsome knight will be on your side to protect you no matter what."

"I don't care about that…" Nami said, which made Sanji feel a bit depressed as Nami looked towards the direction where the safe to the heart is. "It's right in front of us, and yet it's so hard to get in our grasp. It's irritating me!"

"Why dont we beat up some bad guys then?" Luffy asked.

"Shut up!" Nami and Sanji yelled simultaneously at Luffy.

They then resumed their way to the towards their destination, which took a little long until they reached the southwest part of the island.

"I wonder if we can see our ship from here." Luffy said while peeking over the guard rail.

"I doubt that. We anchored it under a cliff." Sanji said, "But that doesn't matter right now. Take a look over there."

Sanji pointed straight towards two big towers, with big spotlights lighting up the area in front of a closed gate.

"That's what we are suppose to destroy? Ergh…" Nami muttered.

"We can't just walk up there, those spotlights will spot us easily. Shut up, Luffy." Sanji said as Luffy giggled after hearing what Sanji said, "There appears to be no way to climb up there, nor there is away to get around those lights. This is going to be tricky…"

"And I think thetr are a couple of guards up there too." Nami said as she noticed a couple of guards walking around on the gate. "What was Snake thinking when he made us go here? That idiot."

"Let's take a look at the map, we might find something useful." Sanji said. He took out the strategy papers, and looked at the map with Nami. "We're right here, and… in order to get to those towers, we need to get around here."

"We have to crawl through a cramped air vent, then climb up the ladder to get to the towers? Oh come on!" Nami whined.

"It makes sense. On the wall where the air vent is the only blind spot we can go through. We have to go to that way." Sanji said as he puts the papers away.

"Hmm… I dont know. What do you think, Luffy?" Nami asked as she looked behind her shoulder. "Luffy!?"

Luffy held on to the guard rail in front of one of the towers, and stretched his arms by walking back. "Bad idea, Luffy! Don't even think about what you are going to do!" Nami yelled angrily.

"GOMU GOMU NO.."

"Luffy, don't!" Sanji yelled.

"ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself all the way towards one of the spotlight towers.

CRASH!!

Nami and Sanji had their mouths gaping wide open in shock and anger as Luffy just crashed right into one of the spotlight towers, destroying the spotlight completely. The two guards that were on the gate got alarmed by this as red exclamation points appeared above their heads.

"What happened!? What just hit the tower!?"

"I don't know! Keep your guard up!"

The guards slowly walked towards the destroyed tower while aiming their rifles at it as the dust cloud surrounding it started to clear.

"Hiyaaaaa!!" Luffy came out of the dust cloud while holding the destroyed spotlight with both of his arms, and horizontally whacked one guard off the gate with it.

"Ahh!" The guard went flying off the gate, and into the floor. Luffy then swung the spotlight again at the other guard, knocking him off too. Nami and Sanji just stared as Luffy then lifted the spotlight above his head, and threw it to the other tower.

CRASH!

Both spotlight towers were now destroyed as smoke came out of them, and went into the air. Luffy whipped his forehead in exhaustion. "That takes care of that!" Luffy said happily. "Oiiii, guys!! I took down the towers! We can go through, and destroy the weapon place now!!"

"DONT JUST YELL THAT OUT LOUD, YOU IMBECIL!!" Nami and Sanji yelled furiously.

"Huh?… Hey! There are some guys behind you!" Luffy shouted.

"Wha!?" Nami and Sanji turned around, and were already ambushed by a couple of soldiers that heard the noise Luffy caused from destroying the towers. "This is no surprise at all…"

"Stay right there! Don't make a move!" A guard shouted as they all aimed at Nami and Sanji with their rifles. Sanji got in front of Nami, glaring at the guards in a defensive position. Sanji then noticed that the guard in front of him was taking out a radio.

"Dont even think about it!" Sanji yelled as he loosened his right shoe from his foot, and threw it right into the guard's face, staggering him back into his comrades. Sanji then quickly jumped in the air, and did a handstand on a guard that was in between his comrades. "PARTY TABLE KICK COURSE!" Sanji span around on the guy's head, kicking every single guard around him in the face, knocking them out cold. Sanji then got off the guard, and landed on his feet.

"Why you!" The guard aimed his rifle at Sanji from behind. "I'll kill-"

BAM!

"Oh!" The guard got hit at the back of the head by Nami as he fell unconsciously on the ground. Nami sighed in relief as Sanji got back his shoe, and puts it back on.

"That was very close…" Nami said.

"That's not fair; you guys get all the fun while I did all the hard work!" Luffy yelled from on top of the gate.

"THIS WAS YOUR FAULT TO BEGIN WITH!! NEXT TIME, DON'T DO ANYTHING THIS CARELESS, OR YOU ARE REALLY GOING TO REGRET IT!!" Nami yelled back furiously. Luffy blinked in confusion as Sanji got up on his feet, and looked at the destroyed towers.

"Well… no matter what happened.. we still did our duty." Sanji said, "Now we need to get to that warehouse."

BEEP! BEEP!

"Huh? My ear is beeping." Luffy said while rubbing his hear.

"That must be those gadgets Snake gave us." Nami said while looking at Luffy on the gate. "Luffy, answer it."

Luffy nodded, and pushed his ear to commence the codec communication.

BEGIN CODEC TRANSMISSION

We now see a dark background with a green square that has some five numbers in it, including some bars below the words 'PTT' as well. Two screens appeared on it's side, showing Snake's face on the right screen, and Luffy's face on the left.

"This is Snake. Can you read me, Luffy?" Snake asked.

"Whoa!? How did we get in here!?" Luffy asked while looking at the screen he is in.

"Nevermind that." Snake said, "What is your status?"

"Status? Um… I feel a bit hungry right now. I could go for some meat." Luffy said.

"Not that! I am asking you how are things in your position? You know what, just let me talk to someone else…" Snake said a bit irritatedly. The left screen then replaced Luffy's face with Nami's face.

"Well, we were able to destroy those towers like you requested, but Luffy did it the wrong way!" Nami said.

"I figured; I heard the ruckus all the way to this side of the island." Snake said, "You guys aren't being that quiet at all!"

The left screen then showed Sanji's face. "It's not our fault. This place is just a bit hard to get by." Sanji said.

"Ergh… so, did you get spotted?" Snake asked.

"Some guards showed up, and they were about to call for backup, but I was able to stop them from doing so." Sanji replied.

"Good, but that doesnt mean that you are in the clear." Snake said, "Thanks to that ruckus, the guards are in yellow alert, meaning that they're more cautious in the area. I suggest you guys to hide in that area until I call you back."

The left screen then showed Luffy's face. "Hey, Snake! I just thought of something funny. I imagined you as a five-year old with that funny voice you have. You looked so funny! Ha ha!"

"… Just hide there, and don't make a sound, will you?" Snake said, ignoring what Luffy just told him, "And do me a favor, and stop acting so stupid."

The left screen then showed Nami's face, which looked annoyed. "Sorry to say, but he isn't acting." Nami said.

"… Whatever. I'll contact you back in a while. Till then." Snake said.

END TRANSMISSION

Luffy puts his hand off his ear, and looked at his crew, who were climbing up the stairs to get on the gate. "That was actually fun talking to Snake like that. I can't wait to do that again."

"He might not call us back after what you just said to him." Sanji said while he and Nami were walking up to him. "And I don't think we will be moving on anytime soon…"

"Oh well. Will just have to relax here until we get called, right? No biggie." Luffy said happily.

"Yeah, about that…" Nami said as she then punched Luffy hard on the head, "That was for doing that stupid solo act, and the next time you do something like that, I am going to hit you harder!"

"Oww… geez…" Luffy mumbled in pain.

Meanwhile…

Back where Snake and the others are, Snake just finished talking to Luffy by the codec as he sighed. "You guys have an annoying captain." He said.

"Tell us something we don't know." Usopp said.

"Okay. Zoro and Franky must have gotten to their destination, and are waiting for my call. Let's get moving." Snake said. Snake lead Usopp, Chopper, and Robin up the stairs, and into the first floor behind some crates. Snake peeked over the crates, and swiftly got behind some other crates that were towards his upper right. The crew followed him, with Usopp and Chopper feeling a bit nervous, but Robin felt calm. Snake got his back behind a wall, and peeked over it's side to see no guards.

"Nobody seems to be here. Do we really need to be so sneaky?" Chopper asked.

"You're right." Usopp said while getting up. "We can just walk around, their is nobody-HERE!?" Snake grabbed him by his suspenders, and pulled him back on the ground, with Usopp accidentally hitting the floor with his face. Usopp then raised his head, and glared at Snake. "What's the big idea!?"

"You see that right there on that wall?" Snake asked while pointing to a certain wall. Usopp looked where he was pointing, and saw a surveillance camera, but he didn't know what it was. "If that camera would have spotted you, the alarm will go off, and there will be guards around here in a matter of seconds."

"Security here is quite advanced…" Robin commented.

"From now on, you follow my league." Snake said as he looked back at the camera, "We need to get on the second floor, and we need to get through that camera's point of view to get up those stairs."

"How are we going to do that?" Chopper asked.

"With this." Snake said as he took out a chaff grenade from one of his pockets. He pulled the pin, and threw it to the camera's view. Before the camera could look at it, the grenade exploded into yellow dots, which caused the camera to malfunction. "Go!"

They quickly ran out from behind the crates, past the camera, and up the stairs that lead to the second floor. The yellow dots soon faded as the camera functioned properly again. Snake and the others hid behind a wall on the second floor to avoid being seen.

"What was that back there?" Usopp asked.

"The Chaff grenade temporarily disrupts and disables electronic equipment, such as that camera back there." Snake explained. Snake then looked at an automatic door, and opened it with a cardkey. He took out his .45 handgun, and slowly walked through the door first, with the others walking slowly behind him.

"By the way, you never explained what we have to do. But knowing you, it'd be something pretty easy since you are the expert in this sort of thing." Usopp said with a friendly smirk.

"After we help out Zoro and Franky, we are going to infiltrate Arsenal Gear." Snake explained as he faced his back on a wall.

"Oh, is that all? Well, that seems pretty darn easy for you. I guess we… WAIT, WHAT!? We are going inside that thing which is not an island!?" Usopp gasped.

"The same one." Snake replied.

"No way! I thought we were going to do that sometime later! This is too soon for me!" Usopp panicked.

"We're not going to destroy it, we are just going in there because it contains some valuable information that we need to download into Otacon's server. With that information, we can have a better look around this place, and have less trouble to begin phase two of this mission."

Usopp just sighed depressingly as Snake peeked over the wall to see an outside, rectangular corridor, with some guards on the right side, and some others on the left side. At the end of the corridor, there were two guards guarding an entrance to an automatic door that lead to the east side of the island.

"Okay, I am going to clear the right path. You guys stay here until I give you the signal to pass." Snake said as he then hid under his cardboard box.

"Right…" Usopp said while raising an eyebrow, "Listen, I can't take you seriously if you are going to use that box all the time. It's not going to fool anyone."

Snake walked along the path under his cardboard box, despite hearing what Usopp said. Usopp, Chopper, and Robin peeked over the wall they were hiding behind, and watched Snake took the right path.

"He is crazy! He is not going to get there undetected!" Usopp hissed.

"Let's just wait and see how he does it." Robin said calmly. Snake stopped, and threw a book on the left path, getting some guards' attention.

"Huh? Oooooh!" The guards noticed that it was 'naughty' book, and crouched around it to look at the naughty pictures. While they were distracted, Snake walked along the right path, and running over a guard that was in front of him, knocking him out.

"What the!?" Another guard along the path turned around, only for Snake to put his box around the guard's upper body, and throw him over the guard rail, and into the ocean. Snake then threw the box up in the air, and took out a tranquilizer gun to shoot down two guards that were guarding the entrance, putting them into sleep. Snake then rolled forwardly to the entrance as the cardboard box he threw into the air landed back on him. Usopp, Chopper, and even Robin was amazed how quick and careful he got to the other side of the corridor in less than 6 seconds.

"I am a bit slow today…" Snake said to himself as he then got out of the box, and signaled the crew to come to where he is.

"Snake is so cool!!" Chopper said excitedly as sparks of joy surrounded his eyes. Usopp felt a little jealous, and took a deep breath as he was ready to pass.

"Yosh! The only people in my way are those guys looking at that book, and since they don't call Mr. Sneaky for nothing, I'll show Snake my advanced stealth techniques." Usopp lied, which Chopper believed as Usopp began to take one step forward, but as soon as he took another step, he tripped by stepping on his shoelaces. "Whoa!"

BUMP!

Usopp fell on the ground. He rubbed his head in pain, but despite that, the guards reading the book did not notice him. "Wow, that book must have some good pictures." Usopp whispered.

"WHO'S THERE!?" The guards looked away from the book upon hearing that, and turned towards Usopp, who gasped upon speaking. "What are you doing here!?"

"Eeep!" Usopp yelled in fear as the guards were about to approach him, but…

KABOOM!

"GAAHH!!" The guards stepped on a landmine they did not see, and were blown off the corridor, and into the first floor dead. Usopp blinked in confusion as Chopper and Robin helped him up.

"Usopp, are you okay?" Chopper asked worringly.

"I think so… what just happened?" Usopp asked. Snake then ran up to them to check what happened.

"Huh… so they fell for it." Snake said, "I placed a landmine right here just in case they try to get you guys."

"Ah, I see…" Usopp said, until he realized something, "Wait a minute, that landmine was right in front of me! What if I accidentally stepped on it!?"

"I knew you wouldn't get past undetected. That's why I untied your shoes when you werent looking." Snake explained.

"Still, I would have gotten killed!" Usopp yelled angrily.

"Well… if it didn't work, then that would have been a big bummer." Snake said, "Anyway, let's keep on moving." Snake ran back to where he was as Chopper and Robin followed him, along with Usopp, who was mumbling about what happened. They walked through the door, and were now in the east side of the island. Snake saw an electricity box on the wall, which pleased him as he got close to it. He then knelt down on one knee, and began a codec transmission.

"Zoro, you there?" Snake asked, "Good, do you guys see the elite?… Well, get ready to take down them down, I am about to cut the power for their backup support… got it. Good luck!" Snake ended his transmission with Zoro, and placed a C4 on the electricity box. "Come on, are destination is very close from here."

"I thought we were going to help Zoro and Franky." Chopper said.

"We are, we just need to get out of this room first." Snake said. They made their way out of the room, and were now back outside. In front of them, they could see a big area filled with soldiers that were guarding a big gate behind them in the first floor. "Hide over here." Snake said as he and the crew hid behind some crates. Snake then got out some sort of a trigger, and pushed the button on it.

KABOOM!

The room they were in exploded, getting the guards' attention. "What happened!? Did something exploded in there!?"

"Let's take a look! You two, guard the gate!"

"Yes, sir!" Said two guards in front of the gate as the rest of the soldiers got inside the room, not noticing our heroes behind the crates.

"Alright, we have a limited amount of time before they get back. To get inside, I need you guys to do following." Snake said, "Oh, and you need to wear these." Snake took out some clothing, which caused the crew to raise an eyebrow.

Several moments later, the two guards in front of the gate noticed two other guards walking up to them. They did not know that they were Usopp and Robin in disguise as the soldiers in the island. You can tell it was them by one of the soldier's nose going through the ski mask he has on, and the other one being female, showing how hot she actually looked while wearing that uniform.

"State your business." One of the guards said.

"Good evening, sir number one and two." Usopp spoke in an exaggerated Russian accent. "My name is… is… Poyo! Yes, My name is Vector Van Poyo! And this is my wife, Nancy."

"Nancy Poyo. Nice to meet you." Robin said kindly.

"Uh.. yeah. Can you state your business?"

"What!?" Usopp exclaimed, "You do not know who I am, boy!? I am the boss's cousin's uncle's sister's grandson's aunt's brother! You should learn how to treat your superiors with respect!"

"… Can you just tell me why you are here? And what's with that reindeer?"

The guards noticed that Usopp and Robin had Chopper, who was in his walk point as he was pretending to be dead on a plain cart with wheels. "Theez is the feast that our boss wants to consume at this precise moment! I insist that you let us pass so we can give it to him already!"

"That's not even cooked, and it's wearing pants. Come to think of it, it looks alive."

"Ho… why wouldn't it be alive?" Robin asked calmly, yet a bit scary at the same time. "Do you not know how boring guarding this whole island is? It can get really frustrating; that's why, this reindeer will serve well to relieve the boredom. This creature… will be tortured to death."

Chopper opened his eyes in shock as the guards looked at Robin oddly. "And I am not talking about any kind of torture, I am talking about every kind of torture possible. Such as cutting part of it's skin off, raping it until it could no longer breath, eat it's body alive, or burning it alive; whichever sounds pleasing to our boss. Such poor thing must suffer for humanity, it just brings a tear to my eye to see the sorrow that will scar this creature during it's foul treatment."

"What is wrong with Robin? She is acting much more creepier than usual…" Usopp thought while shivering. Chopper started to sweat nervously as Robin continued.

"I could already hear the cries of this poor thing." Robin said sadly while wrapping her arms around her chest. "It brings me such sorrow, yet I feel so comfortable doing this. It… pleasures me as well." Robin then walked in front of Chopper, and knelt down to him, seeing how frightened he is. Robin smiled kindly as he placed her hand on his cheek, causing Chopper to widen his eyes even more. "Relax, little thing. In order to save you, I will consume your entire body, which will be less painful then what my boss intends to do to you."

Chopper was really dazed as Usopp, including the guards, were completely frightened of Robin. "Dude, your wife is crazy!" Said one of the scared guards.

"Say no more! I'll open the gate!" The guard quickly went to an eye scanner next to the gate. The scanner scanned his eye as it allowed the gate to open sideways. "Now get in there! Don't creep us out anymore!"

Suddenly, Snake popped out from behind the crates, and shot those two guards down with a tranquilizer gun, putting them to sleep. Snake then jumped over the guard rail of the second floor, and landed on the first floor. He walked up to the trio as he looked at Robin with an impressed look.

"First of all, that was some nice acting. I couldn't have done it better." Snake said while giving the thumbs up to Robin. Robin smiled kindly as Chopper turned into his original self, and hugged Usopp in fear.

"Robin wanted to eat me!" Chopper cried as Usopp hugged back.

"It's okay… she was just acting… I hope…" Usopp whimpered. They took a moment to calm down as Snake looked past the gate, seeing a bunch of stairs that went down.

"Arsenal Gear is just down there. Let's move!" Snake said as he and Robin ran down the stairs, along with Usopp and Chopper, who were still hugging eachother in fear.

Preview: Man, first I do what I am told to do, but I still get yelled at for no reason. It's not fair, I mean, so many things could happen here, and I am just standing here like a log. Next time one One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 88: Ocelot's goal, the return of a ninja. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Imagine if Robin was actually that crazy like the last part of this chapter. It would be really weird… and now, it's time for something completely different!

Snake's codec calls

Episode 1: Luffy

Snake: Colonel, this kid here looks like he is made of rubber.

Colonel: That's Monkey D. Luffy, Snake. He is the captain of the Strawhat pirates. When he was a kid, he ate a devil fruit known as the Gum Gum fruit, which allows him to stretch his body parts at will."

Snake: A rubber kid, huh?

Colonel: More than that, he is a great leader. He was able to surpass all kinds of obstacles that were in his way. Like the time he defeated Crocodile, or Enel, or even Rob Lucci from CP9. He is that determined to reach the island of Raftel, and obtain the title of the Pirate King.

Snake: Even so, Colonel, dont you think that this kid is a little… I dont know… stupid?"

Colonel: He may be mentally challenged at times, but he acts like a leader when he needs to be. Don't underestimate him, Snake. He can be one of the most powerful warriors out there, not to mention that he has quite of an appetite as he can probably eat an entire whale or two.

Snake: A leader who loves to eat tons of food, huh?… Sounds like some stupid main character out of some cheesy anime if you ask me.

Ha ha! Yep, these are a little interpertations of the Strawhat crew. I would like to thank Greymonkey for giving me the idea in the first place. These will occur during the rest of this arc. Well, ciao for now!

Metal Gear Pt 5

Hello, everyone! Now, since the Metal Gear series is a bit gruesome at times, this arc will be the same as well. In fact, it's going to be more gruesome than the Metroid arc, but not that much. Also, this chapter contains some perverted, and one little gore-ish scene. You have been warned… Enjoy!

---

9 hours until deadline. The Strawhat pirates and Snake made their move to stop Arsenal Gear from launching. Snake was doing a pretty good job in the mission, while the others… let's not get into that now. Snake, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin managed to get through some obstacles, and our now on their way into Arsenal Gear. What will find inside?

Chapter 88: Ocelot's goal, The return of a ninja

Snake, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin were now inside Arsenal Gear, and were sneakingly walking along a narrow, and dark pathway. "Just walking inside this place is giving me the creeps…" Usopp whimpered while cautiously walking around, "What are we suppose to do here again?"

"We're looking for a hard drive that contains some secret information about this island, and it's little project." Snake said as he then got ahead of the crew, and faced his back towards a wall. He peeked over the wall's side, and saw nobody. "Knowing Ocelot, he would either have right here in Arsenal, or in his little office on the north side of this fake island."

"Why couldn't we have went to Ocelot's office instead?" Chopper asked, trying to copy Snake's moves by facing his back against a wall too.

"That place is a little more strict than in here." Snake replied, "Besides, we have already made it this far; we might as well take advantage of the situation."

"I'll take advantage to wet myself while we're in here then." Usopp replied nervously. They slowly walked towards the path, until Snake could hear something ahead of him. He signaled the crew to hide behind a wall as he quickly hid in his cardboard box as a two soldiers were walking along the hall, talking to eachother.

"I heard that a group of pirates came to this island a while ago." Said one of the guards.

"Wha? Who would be stupid enough to come here?"

"Probably a bunch of idiots. Hey, let's go to hanger A. I heard that our boss is going to give a speech."

"About our mission?"

"Yeah. Since we have nothing else to do, we might as well listen what we have to say."

"-sigh-… Sure, why not?"

The guards walked past the cardboard box Snake was hiding under as they continued to walk along the path, going by a wall that Usopp, Chopper, and Robin were hiding behind. Once they were no longer in sight, Snake popped out from his cardboard box as Usopp and the others approached him.

"I'll tell you one thing; that guy was right when he said that we were stupid enough to come here." Usopp said, "I'll blame Luffy for that."

"That doesn't matter; you heard what those guys said?" Snake asked, "Seems like Ocelot is going to present some corny speech to his men. This is the perfect chance to find that hard drive while he is busy."

"Those guards mentioned that they are going to hanger A." Robin said, "Maybe if we go there, we might get a little more information about this place, and how to destroy it."

"I like the way you think, but Chopper and I can't go in there with that many guards around." Snake said while rubbing his chin, "But you two can. You can easily blend in with them, while Chopper and I can go look for that hard drive."

"No way! What if we get caught!?" Usopp hissed.

"We have no better options at the moment, so this is our only shot we have around here." Snake explained, "You two try to distract some of the guards around that chamber while Chopper and I find a way in without getting caught. Once we are in, you two come back here and hide. I'll call you by codec once we're done, then we can get out of here."

"Ohh… fine." Usopp said bravely, "They don't call me Mr. Decoyman for nothing. They wont figure out that we are their enemies while we are in these uniforms. Let's go, Robin!"

"Of course, Longnose-san." Robin replied kindly as she and Usopp then left the area, leaving Snake and Chopper alone.

"Umm… how is it that we are going to get in the chamber?" Chopper asked.

"With this." Snake said while grabbing his cardboard box.

"That? I don't think it's big enough for the two of us." Chopper said while observing the box.

"No problem. That's why I keep a bigger spare." Snake said as he took out a bigger cardboard box out of nowhere. A sweatdrop went down Chopper's forehead as Snake placed the big cardboard box over Chopper and himself. They then walked away while under the cardboard box, with Chopper slipping from time to time.

Meanwhile…

"Hmm… I am disappointed."

In the east side of the island, we could see Zoro and Franky, in the center of several unconscious armed soldiers. "And they called these guys the elite unit? I guess it was just a name…"

"Ow! Atleast we did our part." Franky said as he stopped doing his victory pose, "Question is, what do we do now?"

"Get a engineer over here! This thing is badly damaged!"

Zoro and Franky looked up at the second floor, and saw some soldiers lurking around the area after Snake blew up the electric box. "We can't stay here. Let's find a place to hide."

"Okay!" Franky nodded as he and Zoro ran to safe location. They ran up to an eastern building, with no crates, nor anything else that they could hide behind. "Damn, I think we took the wrong turn."

Zoro walked up to the door of the building as it automatically opened as soon as he was close to it. He then looked behind his shoulder to see more soldiers on the second floor.

"Come on! Our only option is to go inside!" Zoro said. They ran through the door as it automatically closed. Franky then smashed the card scanner with his fist, causing the door to stay closed.

"They won't follow us this way." Franky said.

"Yeah, but we're stuck in here too." Zoro said. "Where are we?"

They looked at their surroundings, and saw what appears to a laboratory. Their were several computer aisles that faced horizontally from eachother, and their was some stairs that led up to the second floor. Their was also a ladder on the second floor that leads into the roof.

"Up there seems to be the only way out." Zoro said, "What troubles me is that this place is a bit quiet."

"Oi, bro! Check this out." Franky said as he was looking at some papers that was on an empty desk. Their were big words on the first page that read 'Obscurum research' on it. "This looks like some information about that new world garbage."

"What does it say?" Zoro asked as he walked next to Franky, and looked at the papers.

"Nothing that we dont know yet. This is just some report about some people that were revived here." Franky said while flipping through the pages. "Hey, here's that guy who attacked us with that huge thing a while ago."

"'Vulcan Raven'…" Zoro read from the papers, "There is something else written under his profile."

" 'The return of Vulcan Raven not only helped us regain some strength, but it also concluded that we are able to somewhat revive people from the dead using Obscurum's power.' " Franky read.

"What!? What is it talking about!?" Zoro asked.

"Wait, there's more." Franky said, " 'In our process of using Obscurum's power, we used a unique device which I like to call, the soul intracter, which we made thanks to Ocelot's resources. It contains a rare material back in my world, which I used to study that specimen from that meteor a long time ago. By using this device on a satellite, I can send powerful magnetic waves into Obscurum, taking some of it's unlimited power, and bring it here into this world.' "

Franky then turned the page as he continued reading. " 'My hypothesis turned out to be correct afterall; using one of these worlds' strongest satellites, we were able to bring back a small portion of Obscurum's power I like to call, Obscurum's tears. With this tear, we were able to revive any dark hearted person at our command by putting in it what belonged to the deceased, or bringing the tear into where the person died. Normally, an Obscurum tear would randomly revive any of those with the darkest of heart, but with this method, we could revive anyone we want. Ocelot than placed a frozen blood sample from one of his deceased warriors into the tear, causing it to revive one of his strongest allies, Vulcan Raven. All my hard work seemed to have finally paid off, but not entirely.' "

"What does he mean by that?" Zoro asked.

"Let's find out…" Franky said as he turned to another page, " 'It seems that the tear was not finished releasing all of it's power. I was a little confused since one tear can only be powerful enough to revive one person. It appeared that my device might have taken a little more power from Obscurum than I have thought as the tear suddenly exploded into three smaller tears, and flew off into different directions. We tried to find there location, but it was too late. Those tears already revived three other people, and we have no idea who they are as of yet. Ocelot thinks that it might be one of his enemies since the island has been getting attacked at random locations at times. Perhaps I need to do a little more research before I can go back to the other rulers, and begin our final phase of our plan.' "

"Plan? Who wrote this?" Zoro asked.

"I don't know… but the way he was saying things, he might be one of those clowns that are a part of this Obscurum thing." Franky said.

"Maybe so… is there a name on that report? The least we can do is find out who wrote this." Zoro said.

"Hold on…" Franky flipped back to the first page, and saw one name under the research title. "H-"

"Wait a minute, someone is coming!" Zoro said as he quickly unsheathed his swords.

KABOOM!

The door Zoro and Franky entered through earlier exploded into pieces as several guards entered inside. "You're surrounded! Put your hands in the way where we can see them."

"See this! BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple rounds off his left wrist, shooting at the guards as they took cover behind some computer aisles. One of the guards then took out a grenade, and pulled it's pin as he threw it over the aisle's, and towards Zoro and Franky.

"Look out!" Zoro shouted as he and Franky jumped back as soon as the grenade landed on the ground.

BOOOM!

The grenade exploded, destroying some computers, and the report Zoro and Franky were reading earlier. A wall of fire were now in between the duo and the guards as Zoro and Franky got up after the explosion.

"What are they trying to do, blow up this place!?" Franky asked.

"They can't get to us from here, and we don't have the time to deal with them! I hate to say it, but let's get out of here!" Zoro said as he and Franky then went up the stairs.

"There they are! Shoot them!"

The guards fired at the crew, preventing them from getting near the ladder that lead to the roof. "Get lost! WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a blast from his open wrist, knocking all the guards off their feet as the blast also exploded some computers that was in it's way, creating a bigger trail of fire.

"Good work! Now come on!" Zoro shouted as he and Franky then climbed their way up the ladder, and pushed the hatch that was on the ceiling. They pulled themselves up on the roof, and closed the hatch. They panted a bit before they looked at eachother. "Were not in the clear yet. We got to get out of here before more of them show up."

"Right… we can jump down to those second floor corridors over there to the south." Franky said while getting up.

"By the way, were you able to remember the name from that report?" Zoro asked while getting up.

"Ugh… I forgot it during those explosions back there." Franky said while scratching his head, "Whoever it was, we'll have to know till later."

"Fine… let's get out of here." Zoro said as he and Franky made their way off the roof.

Meanwhile…

Back in Arsenal Gear, a couple of soldiers were talking amongst themselves as Usopp and Robin spied on them while peeking over a wall. "There they are…" Usopp said, "Okay, we need to give Snake and Chopper some time. As great as we are, especially me, we need to distract their attention as long as possible."

"Shall we start now, Longnose-kun?" Robin asked.

"Wait, give me some time to breath." Usopp said. He took a very deep breath, and slowly exhaled, trying to calm his nerves, which we really didn't help him much. "Okay… let's go."

Usopp and Robin put their ski masks on, and approached their way to the soldiers. They were blending in quite nicely, nobody has eyed on them ever since they came into their view.

"Ready, Robin?" Usopp asked while whispering.

"Yes, of course." Robin replied kindly.

"Yosh…" Usopp then stood straight, and coughed loudly to get all the soldier's attention. "Excuse me, but I have something to announce." He said while doing his exaggerated russian accent again. The soldier's stopped talking, and looked at Usopp and Robin. "My wife, Nancy, is… PREGNANT! Yes, I am going to be a dad!"

Robin looked at Usopp confusedly as the soldiers were also confused, but very impressed at the same time.

"Wha!? Someone like you actually banged someone like her!? You're lucky!" Said one of the soldiers as everyone got around them.

"Ah, yes! I truly banged my wife good to get a kid of my own! And we only needed to do it only once, isn't that right, Nancy?" Usopp asked while Robin continued to stare at Usopp.

"This is truly awkward even for me, but I have no choice but to play along." Robin thought as she then wrapped her arms around Usopp's body, "Yes, of course; you truly are a magnificent specimen to give me such a ride. I don't even mind if you take me in once more after this launch, if you know what I mean?"

"Ah!?" Usopp said in confusion and nervously as he blushed under his mask, while the guards were even more interested in the couple. "I, uh, yeah! We'll do it again! We'll do it all night long if we have to! Ha ha!" Usopp laughed exaggeratedly while in his mind, he was really nervous on what he was saying.

He then noticed something coming from a wall next to the open entrance of the chamber. It turned out to be Snake and Chopper, who were still in the big cardboard box as they tried to get inside, but Chopper get tripping every time he tried to keep up with Snake's pace. Usopp had a smuggish frown when he saw them.

" Was that their best way of getting inside? Somehow, I knew this was going to happen. I better distract these soldiers some more. " Usopp thought as he then looked at the soldiers. "Say, you guys are all welcome to come and join us for the fun! My wife can even do more than one, you know?"

"YOU SERIOUS!?"

The soldiers were extremely delighted at this, while Robin wasn't. "This is getting a little out of hand… I hope that this little act ends soon…"

Snake and Chopper were than able to get inside the chamber area as they disappeared from Usopp's sight. Usopp sighed in relief as the guards continued to feel grateful for what Usopp offered them, too bad for them that Usopp was lying the whole time.

"What's going on here?"

The soldiers stopped celebrating as they saw Vamp walking to them, and getting behind Usopp and Robin. "Oh, Vamp! Sorry, we were just having a little chat. No big deal."

Vamp looked at Usopp and Robin as Usopp was doing his best not to say anything, while Robin just stood still. Vamp smiled as he then walked past them. "The speech is about to begin. It's best that you all get inside." Vamp said.

"Yes sir!" The soldiers said at the same time while saluting. "Hey, come on guys."

"Uh.. I don't think we need to…" Usopp began to say until several soldiers happily brought him and Robin towards the chamber.

"It's alright, man, your cool with us. It'll just be a little speech, and then we can go back to that thing you offered us."

"Oh, great… this wasn't part of the plan!" Usopp thought nervously, "But what do we do?"

"Vector, I think we can wait. We have plenty of time to do what we want." Robin said kindly.

"Cut the act, Robin, there is no need to act like that anymore!" Usopp hissed very quietly for only Robin to hear, "And it's making me feel even more nervous, by the way…"

Robin simply shrugged as she and Usopp entered the hanger A area. It was a big room, with the lights only lighting up the first half of the room. There were three floors on the sides of the hanger, and there was a small stage in front of the soldiers, and Vamp, who stood in front of it with his arms crossed.

At the same time, Snake and Chopper were already at the third floor of the chamber as they quietly popped up from underneath the big cardboard box, and sneakingly crawled to a computer up on a wall.

"I don't even know how we got up here with that box over us." Chopper said as he was a bit dazed.

"Next time, try not to keep slipping for no reason. You were slowing me down." Snake said while looking at the computer.

"It wasn't my fault. You were walking too fast, and I couldn't keep up." Chopper said.

"Whatever, we already found the hard drive to this place." Snake said as he then took out a memory card from his pocket, and placed it into one of the computer's slots. "I can't delete this hard drive, so all we can do is copy the data into this memory card, which will transfer into Otacon's computer. Once that's done, we are out of here."

"Um… I think we have to do more than that." Chopper said a bit nervously.

"Why?" Snake asked while looking at Chopper. Chopper pointed down below at the main floor of the hanger, which the soldiers started to align themselves horizontally in front of the stage. Snake sighed in grief as soon as he noticed a shivering soldier, and hot soldier in the first row, which were obviously Usopp and Robin.

"Can't your comrades do anything right?" Snake asked bitterly.

The soldiers straight and firm as Revolver Ocelot was slowly making his way inside the hanger. Usopp quickly stood straight, and saluted as Ocelot walked past him. He walked up the small stair steps to get on the stage as he looked at his men.

"Thank you all for coming…" Ocelot said, "Let us begin."

Meanwhile…

Luffy, Nami, and Sanji were still on the western gate, awaiting to get call from Snake. "This is sooooooooo boring!" Luffy whined, "When are we going to do something fun?"

"Will you shut your mouth?" Nami asked while sitting down, "I don't like staying up here either, but atleast it's safer then going anywhere else right now."

"And besides, we don't really know how to destroy that weapon warehouse, so we can't do much right now but to wait." Sanji said while smoking a cigarette. Luffy frowned as he was bored out of his mind. He looked towards his right, and saw the weapon warehouse from afar.

"It's right there… and there is nobody in sight. I don't see why we can't just go now." Luffy said.

"There is obviously some traps down there. I am not going to risk my life by going down there." Nami said.

"Fine… I'll just go instead." Luffy said while getting up.

"Stay here… we don't want to cause unnecessary action." Sanji said strictly.

"Aww… !" Luffy sat on the gate floor again, grumpier than ever. Suddenly, the gate beneath them started to open. "Huh? What's happening?"

"The gate is opening. Somebody must be coming by." Nami said. They looked over the gate floor to see some soldiers walking along a transportation truck, having something big underneath some sheets.

"What's under there?" Sanji asked.

"I don't really want to know." Nami said, "The important thing is that we don't get seen. So, Luffy, I want you to…" Nami looked at her left, and saw nobody. She gulped in fear as Luffy jumped onto the transportation vehicle, landing on the sheets, and surprisingly, the soldiers didn't even notice this.

"You got to be kidding me!" Sanji hissed.

"Luffffyyyyyy!! Get up here right now!" Nami hissed, but so quietly that Luffy didn't hear. Nami had an extremely pissed look on her face as the transportation vehicle drove away. "I can't express my anger in words right now…"

"Dammit! What was he thinking! Nothing, I bet!" Sanji hissed as the vehicle made it's way in front of the warehouse. After that, a couple of guards were seen roaming around the area. "Tsk! There is nothing we can do now!"

"Curse you, Luffy…" Nami said while clenching her fist in anger.

Meanwhile…

Snake was rubbing his temples in grief as Chopper looked back at him, and to Usopp and Robin, who were down at the main floor of the chamber. "What do we do, Snake!? They are going to get caught!" Chopper cried.

"We'll look on the bright side;" Snake began to say, "If they manage to overcome all odds, they can probably escape without getting detected, but knowing how you and your comrades are bad at being stealthy, then that will never happen."

"So what are we going to do!?" Chopper asked.

"Meh… I am not finished transferring the data, so we have to stay here anyway. I'll think of something during the time." Snake said. They stay hidden on the third floor as Ocelot was about to begin his speech.

"Now then, where shall I begin?" Ocelot asked himself, "Oh, yes. I gathered all of you here today to talk about our primary goals. We should atleast review the things we have done so far."

" This is bad; if he sees us, we are dead! " Usopp thought while trying his best not to shiver.

"As you all know, there are life in other worlds besides this one." Ocelot said, "And what makes them stay alive is the kind of organization they have. Such as us with the patriots. They helped us understand what life truly is all about, and that is to take control of others. Their sole purpose was to control the United States of America, making sure who becomes their leader, and censoring any unwanted information on the Internet that could loosen their grip on that country using this mech that we are inside now."

"What a load of garbage…" Snake muttered as he and Chopper continued to listen.

"They made sure that everything will go as smoothly as planned, so that we can help them become rulers of that country by showing how powerful we are. You see, in this world, in order to get what you want, you need to fight for it. That's why, a war is soon to break."

Robin's eyes squinted a bit as Ocelot continued with his speech. "By launching an attack on Manhattan, will simply mark a beginning of an endless war soon to come. There will be no flaws in this! Everything will be under our control, and the United States will soon realize that having such great power is useless unless you know how to control it."

"That man is crazy…" Chopper said nervously.

"Yeah…" Snake replied, "I have been hearing that speech similar to for a long time, and yet, I still fight against it."

Vamp then blinked as he looked at the third floor from where he is at as Snake and Chopper quickly hid from his view. "Hmm…" Vamp shrugged, and continued looking back at the soldiers as Snake and Chopper peeked over at the speech again.

"Have you thought of anything yet?" Chopper asked.

"Nothing good at the moment." Snake replied, "I was thinking of throwing a grenade down there, but that could hurt our comrades."

"How can you say that with such a strict look?" Chopper asked while sweating.

"My friends, war is everything when it comes on getting power. Back at my younger days during the cold war, I saw how people killed eachother just for the sake of protecting their country and family, and yet I understood that this is a natural thing in life, not by protecting by what belongs to you, but fighting others until the day you die. Wars just don't happen by accident, it all happens thanks to fate. Even though there is no war going on, you still see people wanting to beat the living hell out of eachother, just for the sake of protecting, or gaining their respect. There is no such thing as peace, that word only exists in fairy tales. What our ancestors lead us here today is truly grateful, and we should thank them by destroying their lands they worked so hard on to protect!"

"This man is insane. How dare he speaks of the past as if it was some sort of an tool for his schemes!?" Robin thought as she angrily clenched her fists.

"Just look back at your lives, and see how you lived through it. You see people giving money to other people that work in local markets, and those kinds of places, which would soon go to their governments in order to create weapons of mass destruction. It's the same thing with all countries of this world, to gain more power, or die trying. For years, I have shed so much blood, and yet, I still feel the need to do what is right for this world… and that is to fight until there is no man left standing. First, we will show America how easy it is get controlled by their superiors, and after that, the whole world will soon feel the same way!"

The soldiers cheered at Ocelot, while Usopp and Robin did not. "I have never seen such confidence! Is that what this world truly is about!? To fight until their is no person standing!?" Usopp asked himself in disbelief.

"And thanks to those two good fellows that gave me a ruling position for that new world Obscurum, our power will soon grow to a level that nobody in this planet has ever gotten to! And we will show them how powerful and fearless we are once we strike with the power of Arsenal Gear!"

Ocelot snapped his fingers, causing all the lights in the hanger to turn on.

"Uah!? What the!?" Usopp yelled as he fell on his rear.

"Ugh… are those… !?" Robin gasped.

Snake and Chopper peeked over the wall beside them, and saw what shocked Usopp and Robin.

"Tsk… still in good condition, I see." Snake muttered angrily as Chopper was too shocked to say anything.

Metal Gears. A whole row of Metal Gears stood in the hanger up against the walls. They all looked the same, having no broad legs, and pointy feet. They were atleast 20 meters tall, and they had no arms, but big wings instead. Their face kinda resembles of an amphibious creature. All these Metal Gears are known as Metal Gear RAY.

"With this power, the patriots will successfully take control of everything, and once the world knows our power, nothing will stop us from controlling everything! Nothing!" Ocelot yelled as the soldiers cheered on even more.

Back in the third floor, Snake looked behind his shoulder to see that his memory card successfully copied it's hardrive, and was transferred into Otacon's computer. "Good, we got what we came for!" Snake said as he pulled out the memory card from the computer's slot.

"But Usopp and Robin are still down there." Chopper said worryingly.

"Not to worry; I know what to do." Snake said as he pulled out a sniper rifle out of nowhere, and aimed for Ocelot's head.

"Wha-What are you going to do!?" Chopper asked.

"I have a clear shot from up here." Snake said while aiming, "If we kill Ocelot, than this whole project will be a bust. You comrades should be able to fend off by themselves afterwards, so get ready to get out of here once I give the order.

"You are going to kill him!?" Chopper asked while covering his eyes with his hooves, "Oh, I can't look…" But he couldn't help but open his hooves to see anyway.

Ocelot than sighed as he faced towards the Metal Gears with smile. "All these long years are finally going to pay off. Nothing like destroying some enemy territory to fill this world's fate."

"I can't stand him anymore…" Robin thought angrily as she slowly started to cross her limbs.

"Ro-Robin?" Usopp thought nervously as he knew what Robin was going to do. Ocelot sighed once more as he placed his hands into his pockets.

"Now there is only one thing left to do around here… and that is to get rid of the insects behind me." Ocelot said. He then quickly turned around, startling Robin and Snake as he pulled out his revolver from his belt, and…

BANG!

Meanwhile…

Back in the research lab Zoro and Franky left a while ago, some guards were cleaning up the place after the small brawlfest that occurred during that time.

"Sheesh, this place is a mess." One of the guards said, "Our boss ain't going to be happy about this."

"It wont matter; It's not like there was anything important here anyway."

"I don't know… those two guys that came to this world were in here several times. I am sure they wont like what they see here when they come back."

"Oh, relax, will ya? It's not like they-"

Before the guard could finish that sentence, two people came walking in through where it used to had a door. These weren't ordinary people, though, they are none other than MPNo. 5 and 6.

"Oh my, what happened here?" MPNo. 5 asked.

"Uh, hey." The guard said as he faced the duo, "There was an attack that happened here a little while ago. We tried to stop them, but they got away while causing all this destruction. We really are sorry for the trou-"

Suddenly, MPNo. 6 grabbed the talking guard's neck, and started to choke the guy. The other guard nervously watched as his partner was losing air.

"You call yourselves professional soldiers, and you couldn't even capture two little rats!?" MPNo. 6 asked angrily, "You don't even deserve to look at me. I should break your little neck for being so worthless!"

"I-I… I'm so…" The guard choked out.

"What did you say!?" MPNo. 6 asked while bringing the guard closer to his creepy face while MPNo. 5 was walking around the lab, looking at it's destruction.

"I'm sorry…" The guard said while trying to breath, "We really did our best… please forgive me… I didn't meant for this to happen… guah!"

"You should have thought of that sooner before you have let your victims escape from your grasp!" MPNo. 6 yelled, "I am going to break your little neck right now!"

"Now, now; let's not be too harsh to one of our comrade's men. Put him down." MPNo. 5 said while kneeling down on knee, picking some burned up papers. MPNo. 6 didn't say anything, but instead, he dropped the guard he was choking as he and his comrade quickly ran away.

"You giving mercy to others sickens me." MPNo. 6 angrily.

"There is no point on killing such weak people if we knew from the start that they could not do anything right." MPNo. 5 said while standing up while holding a burnt research paper, "Besides, there wouldn't be any ordinary man to come here and destroy all this, and then leave."

"You don't seem upset about this at all." MPNo. 6 said.

"Ker ha ha ha! One must always be prepared for anything." MPNo. 5 said, "Nothing of value was in here anyway. I keep all my valuable research inside Arsenal Gear. And speaking of arsenals, that brings me to a conclusion that those meddling pirates are here already."

"No surprise… It's about time they showed up, I am so eager to kill them already." MPNo. 6 said while clenching his fist.

"I am interested in meeting them as well." MPNo. 5 said while adjusting his glasses, "It should be a very interesting confrontation indeed. Ker ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

Meanwhile…

The hanger got quiet. Chopper watched in horror as Snake glared at what just happened. Usopp was paralyzed in fear after what happened as well. Ocelot simply smiled as Robin stood there like statue, to afraid to even move a muscle. Earlier, Ocelot did fire his revolver, but he didn't shoot Robin.

"H… How?" Robin gasped in fear as a soldier next to her was the one that got shot by Ocelot. The poor man got shot right through the head as blood poured out of his skull like a water fountain. He fell on his side dead, landing in front of Robin as she watched as the man's blood spread around her feet.

"He… he shot one of his own men!" Chopper cried in fear.

"Dammit!" Snake muttered.

"Wh-Wh-Why!? Why did he do that for!?" Usopp asked while trembling in fear as the rest of soldiers were confused and frightened as well. Robin continued to remain silent as she too was starting to tremble in fear, but only by a little as Ocelot raised his revolver up, blinking curiously while he looked at it.

"Alas, my finger must have slipped." Ocelot said, "I was trying to aim for a bug on that guy's head, but I guess I missed. I think I am losing my touch…" Ocelot than eyed on Robin, "Hmm, I don't ever recall having a female soldier in one of my units. Is she new here, Vamp?"

"No, there was never a woman besides the ones that were with the pirates." Vamp replied as he then walked up to Robin. Vamp then gives the soldiers a gesture, signaling them to aim at Robin with their rifles.

"He-He was with her too!" A guard said nervously as he and some other guards grabbed Usopp around his arms.

"Ah, hey!" Usopp shrieked as the guards pulled him next towards Robin, who still hasn't moved yet. Ocelot slowly stepped down of the stage, spinning his revolver with his finger still around the trigger. He soon stopped as he got in front of Robin and Usopp.

"Identify yourselves, if you may?" Ocelot asked kindly as the guards pulled of Usopp and Robin's ski masks off their heads. Ocelot laughed as Usopp gulped in fear. "Well, if it isn't our friendly pirates again. Let me guess, you lost your way once more, and ended up in here?"

Usopp tried to reply with a good lie, but was too nervous to do so as Robin said nothing while looking at the corpse.

"You two were either very brave, or rather foolish to have come here by yourselves." Ocelot said, "You should have stayed with your friends, I wanted to kill them all in one spot, but since you are already here, I guess I have no choice but to accept this."

Ocelot aimed for Robin's face, but Robin didn't even seem to notice as she was still experiencing the aftershock. Chopper felt chills under his fur as he looked at Snake, who still had his sniper rifle out.

"Do something, Snake!" Chopper yelled nervously, "Shoot him before he kills Robin!"

"I can't!" Snake replied angrily, "The odds are now against your friends. If I shoot just once, they will die for sure! We can't do anything now!"

Chopper looked back at Robin as Ocelot still aimed at her.

"Huh? What's the matter? Never seen blood before? I bet you have…" Ocelot said, "You seem to be such a fine young woman to be hanging around with this guy, Missy. Would you really risk your life to help your so called friends?"

Robin did not reply, but Ocelot didn't seem to mind. "Maybe you could be of some use to me." Ocelot said as he lowered his aim to Robin's chest, "I could spare your life if you are willing to do everything I say…" Ocelot moved the tip of his revolver through the top of Robin's uniform, and raised it up, plucking the buttons off her uniform, and opening it, showing the top part of Robin's breasts.

Robin finally came back to her senses, and slapped Ocelot across his face. Ocelot staggered a bit as the soldiers aimed at Robin, who panted heavily while glaring at Ocelot as he looked back at her with a smirk.

"I understand… what belongs to you will stay with you. So…" Ocelot then aimed at Robin again, "You shall die with it." Ocelot then stopped as something occurred to him. "This reminds me of something that I haven't done in a long time." Ocelot then opened his revolver, and took out all the bullets except for one. He closed it, span the bullet cartridge, and took three extra revolvers from his gun belt. "Let's see just how lucky you are."

The guards grabbed Robin's arms as Ocelot started to juggle his revolvers, aiming at Robin for a split second every time he grabs hold of one of them.

CLICK!

"Ugh!" Robin gasped as Ocelot just pulled the trigger, but no bullet came out.

"Robin!" Usopp cried as the guards held him. Ocelot continued to juggle, and pulled the trigger of another gun again.

CLICK!

CLICK!

CLICK!

The suspense was killing Robin from the inside. She started to fear that if she was really going to get shot or not. Within every pull of the trigger, Robin was starting to feel faint as Snake had enough.

"That's it!" Snake aimed for Ocelot's head, "I don't care what happens; if I kill Ocelot now, all of this will end!" Snake took aim at Ocelot's head as Chopper shivered nervously. As he took aim, Ocelot was about to catch one particular gun, and aimed at Robin while she glared at him until…

BANG!

"Huh!?" Usopp, Chopper, and Ocelot yelled at the same time as the bullet Ocelot fired didn't hit Robin. Robin was surprised as their appeared to be someone in front of her.

Snake watched in awe as he couldn't believe who it was. "It cant be…"

What stood in front of Robin, and faced towards the surprised Ocelot was some sort of a ninja. He had an exoskeleton body, and was holding a high-frequency blade with his right hand. His face looked like something that a cyborg would have, with a white head, and with one red eye in the center. This cyborg ninja got in his fighting stance as Ocelot backed while away, while Vamp and the rest of the soldiers aimed towards this deadly cyborg ninja, also known as the prisoner of death- Gray Fox.

Preview: I am finally going to this stupid weapon place. I hope somebody is there so I can beat them up. Huh? Their is nobody here? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 89:

Begin Phase two, Get the moron out of that warehouse. I will be the Pirate King.

Snake's codec calls

Episode 2: Zoro

Snake: I have seen people use two swords before, but three?

Otacon: That's Roronoa Zoro, Snake.

Snake: Zoro? That name sounds awfully familiar…

Otacon: He is the first mate of the Strawhat Pirates. He created a sword style known as Santoryu, or in other words, three sword style. He is considered one of the strongest swordsman that ever existed. He can literally pick up a building with his own hands.

Snake: A building? This guy must be on steroids…

Otacon: Actually, he trains himself every day, lifting up objects that are impossible for a normal person to lift up. He made a promise to his friend, Kuina, that he would become the strongest swordsman that ever existed. And in order to do that, he needs to defeat Hawkeye Mihawk, the current strongest swordsman in his world.

Snake: These people sure have stupid names…

Otacon: The only downside he has is his sense of direction. It's so bad, that even if their were signs leading him towards the right direction, he would go the other way instead.

Snake: So this guy is as retarded as his captain?

Otacon: Whoa, let's not be that offensive, Snake. I know you just seen the guy, but there is no need for such insults.

Snake: Ugh… whatever…

If any of those previous scenes frightened or offended anybody, I apologize, but it wouldn't be a Metal Gear arc without some of those here. Let me remind that I did warn you. So, I hoped you like this chapter anyway. Ciao for now!

Metal Gear Pt 6

Hi! I am here with another chapter. I could updated sooner, but my dang internet kept failing on me for TWO DAYS STRAIGHT, and it wasnt fun. Now, I must say that this one may not be one of my best chapters yet, but it will have to do for now. Enjoy!

---

8 hours left until deadline. Due to being so impatient, Luffy went on ahead, and boarded on a transportation vehicle that led to the weapon warehouse, leaving Nami and Sanji alone. Meanwhile, Snake, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin got inside Arsenal Gear, and managed to obtain some information, but for a price. Ocelot killed his own men to frighten Robin as he then was about to kill her, but a mysterious ninja came into the scene. Just what the heck is going to happen now?

Chapter 89: Phase 2 begins, Get the moron out of that warehouse

Snake just could not believe what he was seeing, not even Ocelot himself. Robin just stared at the cyborg ninja, Gray Fox, as he looked at his surroundings. "Nothing has changed… has it?" Gray fox asked.

"Oh great, who is this guy!?" Usopp asked nervously. Vamp then got out his combat knife, and charged at Gray Fox, but the moment he was about to slash him, Gray Fox disappeared in an instant.

"Huh!? Where did he go!?" A guard asked as he nervously looked at his surroundings.

SLASH!

"Gah!" The same guard got slashed from something invisible across his back as he then fell dead on the floor. This shocked everyone as Vamp got started to get frustrated.

"He has a stealth camouflage on! Shoot everywhere!" Vamp ordered. The guards then started to shoot almost every single part of the hanger, and making sure they don't shoot the Metal Gear RAYS. The only thing they could see out of Gray Fox was the glow of his red eye, moving all over the place. Every time there were some bullets in his way, he deflected all of them with some quick swings of his sword. Gray Fox then turned visible, and dashed through the group of soldiers, slashing his way past them as they all fell dead on the floor.

"He's very fast!" Chopper said in awe.

"Ergh… dammit, Frank…" Snake muttered. While the guards were distracted, Usopp took the chance to take out his slingshot 'Kabuto', and aim at the guards who were holding Robin.

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired two explosive pellets at the guards, knocking them down as Robin was now free. "Robin, we need to get out of here! Robin!"

"No…" Robin muttered as she crossed her limbs. "Not until I kill him!" Robin glared at the distracted Ocelot, and was about to sprout arms around him, until Vamp quickly appeared in front of her, startling her in the process.

"I don't think that is an option here…" Vamp said as he pulled back his combat knife, and was about to stab Robin.

BANG!

"Guah!?" Vamp got shot in the right side of head. "AAAHHH!!" Vamp fell dead on the floor as Robin looked up to the third floor to see that Snake was the one that shot him.

"Phew, that was a close one!" Chopper said while wiping his forehead. Snake then dropped his sniper rifle, and dashed along the guard rail until he has a good view of the active soldiers beneath him.

"Chopper, get on me! We're going down!" Snake said.

"Ugh, okay!" Chopper said as he quickly jumped on Snake's back and held on tight. Snake then took out a cypher (The small helicopter with the camera) out of nowhere, and placed it over his head as it hovered him and Chopper off the third floor and over the main floor. Snake then let's go of the cypher, and drops a C4 on the way down. The C4 landed in between some guards as Snake quickly did a forward flip to get away from the guards as soon as he landed.

"Now!" Snake took out a switch, and pressed the button, causing the C4 to explode, knocking out all the guards that were around it, killing most of them. Chopper got off of Snake's back, and quickly approached Robin.

"Robin, are you okay!?" Chopper asked. Robin did not reply as their were still some guards around the hanger, trying to kill Gray Fox, but only to get killed by him instead. After killing another guard, Gray Fox finally noticed Snake as he stood straight, and shared glances with eachother.

"Snake…" Gray Fox said, "It's good to see you again…"

"Gray Fox…" Snake said. Before anything else could happen between the two, Gray Fox quickly turned around, and deflected a bullet that almost went through his head. It turned out to be Ocelot, and he was one angry old man.

"You! But you died!" Ocelot snarled, "Can it be that the Obscurum tear has revived you as well!?" Some guards behind Ocelot then started fire at Gray Fox, who deflected all the bullets with his sword.

"Now's our chance! Let's move!" Snake yelled as he, Usopp, and Chopper ran out of the hanger, until Snake noticed that Robin wasn't following them. "Robin! Come on!"

Robin took one last look in the hanger before she quickly regrouped with the others as they all left the hanger in a hurry.

"They're getting away!" Ocelot yelled angrily as he tried to shoot the team past Gray Fox, but Gray Fox wouldn't allow that. While the battle continued in the hanger, Snake and the others quickly ran along the hallways until Snake noticed a closed air vent. Snake then knelt down on one knee, and smashed the air vent open.

"In here, quickly!" Snake shouted.

Usopp, Chopper, and Robin went inside the air duct as Snake soon followed. They left just in time before some soldiers arrived at the scene. "Wasn't there somebody here!?"

"That's not important; our boss is in trouble!"

The soldiers quickly went towards the hanger, not knowing that Snake and his team were able to escape safely.

Back in the hanger, Gray Fox was getting a little bored fighting with Ocelot and his men as he then turned invisible again, and jumped from floor to floor until the soldiers could no longer hear him.

"Damn that ninja!" Ocelot yelled, "Get the elite squadron over here! We need them to get him!"

"We cant! We just received word that they have been taken down!" A soldier said.

"What!? How come I wasn't notified earlier!?" Ocelot asked angrily as he then looked at Vamp's dead body. "Vamp, get up, and track them down!"

Surprisingly, Vamp was not dead at all as he simply sat up, looking quite angry as well. "As you wish…" Vamp then got on his feet, and ran out of the hanger to find his prey. Ocelot then looked back at the Metal Gears, trying to calm himself down.

"Relax… only 8 more hours, and all of this will be a thing of the past…"

Meanwhile…

Back outside, their was a bridge leading towards a big rock pillar, with a tower that has a satellite on it. Under the entrance of the bridge, their was a rocky shore with a closed air vent on an open rocky wall. The air was then pushed open as Usopp and Chopper quickly crawled out of their, and fell on the rocky shore. They panted after the events that just occurred as Robin and Snake soon came out afterwards.

"Aw, man… I thought we were done for…" Usopp said while sweating like pig.

"Yeah… I don't want go back there again." Chopper panted. Snake walked towards the end of the rocky shore while getting out a cigarette, and looked up at full moon.

"-sigh-… Don't get too comfortable; we're not done yet." Snake said as he started to smoke the cigarette.

"Was it necessary to mention that?" Usopp asked while on the ground, "I am already stressed enough as it is."

"Time is running short, so we don't have the time to relax." Snake said as he faced the exhausted duo, "It will all be worth once this is all over."

Usopp and Chopper sighed, and took some time to relax. Snake then sighed again as he looked back in the air vent. "What happened just now was a coincidence or fate? Gray Fox… I didn't expect things would turn out like this." He thought.

Snake then looked at Robin, who was sitting down on the rocky shore, with her arms around her knees, looking down at the water depressingly. Snake then walked up to her, and looked at her from behind. "You okay?" Snake asked.

"Back in that hanger… he killed one of his own men to startle me…" Robin said, "I never realized up until now that people like him are willing to destroy everything that this world's ancestors worked so hard to build and protect. It's frightening just to think about it. That man has no compassion for anything other than his wars… It's sickening."

"There is no point on hating it if you aren't going to do anything about it; that's how life works." Snake said, "Within every puzzle, there is always something you could do that could solve it. Words won't save you all the time, but your actions will. Step up to the things you enjoy the most about life, and forget out about everything else. In order to save in what you believe in, then put your fears aside, and take action. I assure you that it will help you in the future."

"But something like that is a little too big for this." Robin said as she then looked at Snake behind her shoulder, "How can we change the future if it's already too late?"

"It's never too late to change the future." Snake replied, "I don't know what to say to make you feel better, but what I do know is that some actions can be reversed. If we do our part right… then everything else will be just fine for the time being. And if that happens, then it's possible that everyone in this world will do the same thing as well."

Robin just stared at Snake as she then looked back into the ocean. Snake sighed, and looked back to the others. "Okay, I think we've finished Phase 1. I am going to contact Otacon."

Snake knelt down on one knee, and puts his hand around his ear.

BEGIN CODEC TRANSMISSION

We see the same green box as two monitors appeared on it's side, with Snake on the right screen, and Otacon on the left screen. "Otacon, did you get the data I transmitted to you?"

"Yeah, but I must say, it's alot of info." Otacon said, "I am skimming through the whole thing to find something that might be useful."

"I am going to call everyone else, and see how they are. You let me know when you found something." Snake said.

"Sure thing." Otacon replied as the monitor then stopped showing his face. Snake then changed frequencies, and called Sanji.

"Sanji, you there?" Snake asked.

"Hey, it's about time. I was starting to get worried." Sanji said as he appeared in the left monitor.

"Is everything okay over there? I hear some yelling in the background." Snake said.

"Oh, that's just Nami-san." Sanji replied, "Alot of things happened after the last time we talked, but we can put that aside. How's Robin-chan and the other two guys? Are they still okay?"

"They're fine; they are here with me. Nothing much happened here." Snake lied, "Anyway, I have Otacon in the other line, and I can only contact two at a time in order to avoid lagging. Can you call Zoro and Franky for me?"

"Sure." Sanji said. A few seconds later, The left monitor then showed Zoro's face.

"Oi, Snake. We took down that elite guys just like you wanted. Although, they weren't that strong." Zoro said.

"Good. With them gone, sneaking around this place will be a little easier." Snake replied.

"We also got some information about Obscurum, but the papers have been destroyed just a while ago." Zoro said.

"That doesnt matter right now." Snake replied, "Right now, we need to begin phase two of this mission."

The left monitor then showed Franky's face. "Oi, bro! This place is a little hard to walk around without getting caught! We're hiding around some crates between the eastern, and the south eastern area of the island. We don't know where to go next."

"Calm down. Once Otacon finishes looking through that information, I'll let you know what to do next." Snake replied. The left monitor then showed Otacon's face.

"Okay, Snake; I have finished looking through the data you sent me." Otacon said.

"And? What did you find?" Snake asked.

"Well, this may seem a little complicated, but I have a video footage of the center of the island where the heart is." Otacon said. The green box between the monitors then showed some footage of the center area of the island. Snake was not pleased at what he was seeing.

"This is going to be harder than expected…" Snake muttered.

"What is it?" Sanji asked as the left monitor showed his face.

"Looks like that place has much more security than I thought." Snake said from viewing the footage. "Not only there are infrared sensors along the ground, and a impenetrable barrier around the lock, but their also appears to be a security system that activates after the lock is opened."

Franky's face then appeared in the left monitor "They really dont wan't anybody touching that thing, huh?" Franky asked.

"That area is surrounded by a big wall. If the lock opens with the security still on, then on top of the wall will activate an electrical round ceiling, that will prevent anything from flying in or out. All the entries to that place will be sealed off, and poisonous gas will cover the area, and if that's not enough, in case that the gas does not kill their targets, there will be two creatures that will take care of that job instead."

The footage then showed some weird machines that looked like Metal Gears, only that they were a bit smaller, and their heads looked like some kind of dinosaur creature instead of an amphibous one. "What the heck are those!?" Franky asked.

"Those are new Metal Gear units called the Gekko." Otacon said as he appeared in the left monitor, "They are only prototypes, and haven't been tested as of yet, but according to this information, they are more trouble then just a couple of ordinary guards."

"Which is why this a problem…" Snake said, "You have any ideas what to do now, Otacon?"

"Well, I have came up with some more strategies, but they are a little harder to do than the previous ones." Otacon said as the left monitor then showed Zoro's face.

"That actually sounds like good news. I could use a challenge this time." Zoro said as Otacon then appeared in the left monitor again.

"Okay, here is what I have in mind." Otacon began to say, "In order to get rid of the security inside the central area, we need to get rid of some things outside the area. Like those helicopters patrolling the island, for example, those things will get in the way in the future, so Snake, I want you and your team to head towards the transmission tower. That place controls the air flight of the helicopters. It's on one of the rock pillars in the northeastern side of the island."

"What a coincidence; I am looking at it right now." Snake said, "Let me guess, you want us to go up there, and trash the place up. That way, the helicopters wont receive any transmissions or orders of any kind, so they have no choice but to land, taking them out of the picture."

"Exactly. We will not have to worry about any air attacks along the way." Otacon said, "Zoro, can you hear me?"

"Yeah, what is it?" Zoro asked.

"I need you and Franky to head to the vehicle storage warehouse. It should be close to you." Otacon said, "Once there, you need to find a good vehicle that could get us through any kind of path. Once you found one, I want you to take the keys of that vehicle, and escape that place through the roof, and jump to the rectangular corridor on the second floor that's next to it. And make sure nobody sees you. I'll explain what you have to do with the keys later on."

"Ow! You can count on us, bro!" Franky said as he quickly appeared in the left monitor before it showed Otacon again.

"And lastly, I need Luffy, Nami, and Sanji to skip the weapon warehouse for now, and go to the northern part of the island, and snatch a special cardkey and a disc. The cardkey is for to pass into the central area, and the disc contains information on how to remove the security around it."

"Umm… we have one little problem with that…" Sanji said.

"And what's that?" Snake asked. The left monitor then showed Nami's face, which looked so angry, that it startled Snake by a tiny bit.

"You'd just had to make me tag along with the idiot, didn't you!?" Nami asked furiously.

"Eh? What's wrong with you?" Snake asked.

"Thanks to you, my idiotic captain took a ride towards the weapon warehouse, and we can't get to him because the place has gotten hard to get through!" Nami replied.

"Your captain did what!?" Snake asked, "How could he-"

The left monitor then showed Sanji's face, "It's a long story. Let's just say he got away when we weren't looking, and now we are paying the price for it." Sanji said.

"… Aren't you guys already used to his behavior? You should know what he has in mind before he acts!" Snake said as the left monitor showed Nami's face.

"He is not like an ordinary kind of idiot. The things he can do can happen unexpectedly most of the time." Nami said. Snake then sighed at this.

"Well, I guess you guys have to do it alone." Snake said, "In fact, your mission could go alot easier without him. If the place is secure as you say it is, then I recommend going through some air vents, or behind some shadows casted some cabins, and I know you guys could be a little quieter with Luffy not around. Once you are done with your new objective, I want you guys to get that moron out of that warehouse."

The left monitor then showed Otacon's face. "Ocelot's office is located on the top floor of a big building in the north section, it's hard to miss it."

"Speaking of Ocelot, he is down in Arsenal Gear, along with most of his men. Security in that place shouldn't be that strict, but hurry anyway."

"Okay, will head to the north part of the island, and get those items." Nami said. "Then we will get the idiot."

"Good, so everyone knows what they are doing?" Snake asked as the left monitor showed Zoro's face.

"Yeah, me and Franky could see the transportation place from here. We'll contact you once we get the keys." Zoro said as the monitor then showed Sanji's face.

"Don't worry about us; we'll handle things over here. You just keep Robin-chwan, and those other guys safe, but mostly Robin-chwan, okay?" Sanji asked.

"Yeah, sure. Dont worry about your captain; after I am done with my part, I'll get in contact with by codec." Snake replied, "Okay, then it's time to begin Phase two. Good luck."

END TRANSMISSION

Snake got up, and looked at Usopp and Chopper, who were still resting. "Get up you two, we need to keep moving." Snake said as he softly kicked Usopp up. They yawned tiredly as Snake walked up to Robin. "Hey… we're ready to go."

"Yes… I'm coming." Robin said as she slowly got up. Snake felt a little disturbed how Robin is depressed as he then took out something.

"Hey, take this." Snake said as Robin then faced him, and looked at the object.

"A combat knife?" Robin asked while grabbing it.

"I got it from Vamp. Think of it as a good luck charm since it didn't stab you. I don't need it since I am not that big of a fan of blades." Snake said. Robin looked at the knife as she then looked at Snake with a smile.

"Thank you… I will take good care of it." Robin said as she puts the knife away.

"You're finally smiling… it took you long enough." Snake said as Usopp and Chopper approached them.

"So, now what are we going to do that may kill us this time?" Usopp asked.

"We're going right up there, and trash the place up." Snake said as they all looked at the tower.

"How are we going to get up there? There doesn't seem to be a way from down here." Chopper said. Snake then walked up to the shore, and looked at the support beams under the bridge.

"Robin, can you sprout arms from up there so we can use them as vines to get across?" Snake asked.

"Sure, it won't be a problem." Robin said kindly as she then crossed her limbs. A line of hands were then sprouted from underneath the bridge.

"You and Usopp can go through the ocean using the arms. Chopper and I will use the cypher to get through." Snake said as he was already holding the cypher above his head, and Chopper was sitting on the back of his shoulders.

"Where do you get all that stuff from anyway?" Usopp asked, just realizing the amount of things Snake has. To make a long story short, Snake and Chopper flew across the ocean floor with the cypher, while Usopp and Robin swung along the vines of sprouted armss from under the bridge until they reached the rocky shore of that pillar with the tower. They saw another air vent on the wall as Snake kicked it open.

"Ladies first." Snake said as Robin went inside first. "You too, Usopp."

"Are you calling me a lady!?" Usopp asked as he then angrily went inside the air vent. Snake and Chopper then followed them as they inside the tower.

Meanwhile…

Zoro and Franky peeked over some crates, and saw the transportation warehouse Otacon mentioned to them earlier. "There it is; that big place is where we need to go." Franky said.

"Question is, how are we going to get in?" Zoro asked. The gates to the warehouse then opened as several vehicles started to drive inside. "We'll get behind that vehicle there and run along with it. Once we are in, we find a place to hide."

"Gotcha." Franky replied. Their were lots of vehicles that were coming in as Zoro and Franky finally saw the last vehicle approaching.

"Okay, go!" Zoro said as he and Franky quickly, but stealthily, ran from behind the last vehicle as they made their way inside. Once they were in, they quickly jumped behind some big cargoes, almost getting seen by some guards that were guarding the gate from the inside.

"That was close…" Franky said, "So far, so good."

"Let's keep it that way." Zoro said. They peeked over the cargo wall, and saw other cargoes in the warehouse. At the other side of the warehouse, they saw a row of military vehicles. You know, those jeeps that have the turrets on the back instead of a trunk.

"Are those the vehicles the Otacon bro wanted?" Franky asked.

"Those seem useful… but we need to find the keys." Zoro said. They then hid back on the cargo wall again as two guards were passing by.

"Hey, where are the keys to our assigned vehicle?" The guard asked.

"Oh, I left them in the ignition. Dont worry; it's not like somebody is going to take them."

The guards were then out of Zoro and Franky's sight as they smirked at eachother. "Let's find that vehicle." Zoro said. They quietly walked from cargo to cargo until they were close to the vehicle area.

"Which one do you think it is?" Franky asked.

"How am I suppose to know? We'll have to look in each one." Zoro said. When nobody was looking, they quickly hid behind a vehicle. They then looked into it, but saw no key. "It's not this one. Let's look somewhere else."

"This is going to take a while…" Franky muttered. They then proceeded to look at almost every vehicle, making sure that they don't get spotted as well. Zoro then faced his back against a vehicle that had a number 24 on it. Zoro looked in, and saw the keys in the ignition.

"Heh, found ya." Zoro said, "Franky, I found them."

Franky heard him, and quickly, but quietly approached him. "It's this one?" He asked.

"Yeah." Zoro said as he then reached for the keys, and pulled them off the ignition. "Now let's get out of here."

"To the roof then." Franky said. They quietly made they were out of the vehicle area, and saw some stairs that led up to the top floor of the warehouse. Somehow, they got up their undetected, and saw some other stairs that lead up to the roof. "I can't believe this was so easy. What are these people doing here?"

"Don't know; but it's not important. Let's just get out of here before somebody sees us." Zoro said as they quietly went up the stairs to the roof. The reason why their were such a lousy security in the warehouse was because most of the soldiers were in the main office, playing Super Smash Bros Brawl on a big screen TV.

"Ha ha! I won!" Yelled a guard excitedly as he won the match using Olimar.

"No way! I though Ike was suppose to be a top tier!" Yelled another guard as he started to act like a sore loser.

Meanwhile…

In the western side of the island, Nami and Sanji looked at the ground from the gate they are on to see that their are still some soldiers around the area. "How are we going to get down without them seeing us?" Nami asked.

"We can't just go down the ladder. We'll have to find an alternate method." Sanji said. He then felt an air current coming from underneath him. He looked down, and saw that he was on a closed air vent, which gave him an idea. "Nami-san, I think that the safest way to get down is through here."

"There? It looks a bit small…" Nami said as Sanji carefully took off the closing of the air vent.

"There is no other choice. You first, Nami-san." Sanji said kindly.

"Yeah, right. You go first." Nami said. Sanji didn't wanted to argue with Nami as he then went down the air vent. He slided down until he went through an opening, and behind a wall of a cabin, which was a perfect spot to hide from the guards.

"Nami-san, can you hear me?" Sanji whispered to Nami from the ground. "It's okay to go down; nobody can see you from over here."

"Okay… if you say so. Damn…" Nami slowly crouched, and puts her legs inside the air vent. As soon as she dropped down, something caused her to get stuck. "Oh no…"

"What's wrong, Nami-san?" Sanji asked.

"I'm stuck…" Nami replied bitterly. Sanji was little confused at this.

"It's impossible to get stuck there. I was sure you can go through." Sanji replied.

"I mean that I am stuck in a way that any person such as myself finds completely inappropriate like the time back in Mute City!" Nami said a bit angrier as her upper body does was a bit too big to fit through the air vent, mostly her chest.

"Stu-Stuck like that?" Sanji asked with a little hint of happiness in his tone. "Um… can you just squeeze yourself through?"

"I'll try…" Nami pushed in her chest, which immediately caused her to go down the air vent, and went through the other end as she crashed in front of Sanji. "Oww…"

"Are you alright, Nami-san!?" Sanji asked as he helped her up, but Nami pushed his hand out of the way.

"Couldnt be better!" Nami said sarcastically, "I never imagined that I would ever get stuck like that again…"

"And I didn't see it…" Sanji said sadly.

"What?" Nami asked.

"Uh, nothing. Heh heh…" Sanji laughed weakly, "But I think it's time that we should keep on moving."

Nami nodded as they then slowly walked along the wall of the cabin. Sanji peeked over it to see some guards that were patrolling the area. When the guards weren't looking, Nami and Sanji quickly ran behind another cabin. They continued to do this until they were in the northwestern side of the island, where the weapon warehouse is.

"I know we shouldn't go there now, but I have an urge to kick some sense into Luffy's head!" Nami said while glaring at the warehouse with a clenched fist.

"I understand, but we'll have to do that later." Sanji said. Nami sighed as they then continued their way to the north part of the island. They slowly got behind an empty military vehicle, and peeked over it's sides to see the big and narrow building Otacon was talking about, where Ocelot's office is. "There it is…"

Meanwhile…

In the weapon warehouse, some guards were looking at the supplies they brought in with the truck. "Man… this is so boring." Said a guard, "I dont see why we have to wait for a couple of hours to launch Arsenal Gear. We can just do that now."

"You know how are boss is." Replied the other guard while grabbing a heavy cardboard box, and placing it next to some crates. "It wouldnt be his style to rush things."

"Yeah, I can tell by the looks of him… I just want this thing to get over with so I can go Super Smash Bros Brawl with the other guys in the vehicle storage warehouse."

"I know what you mean. That game is pretty fun, but our boss hates it for some reason."

"I think he hates it because Snake is in it."

"Oh yeah…"

The guards started to walk while they chat as they left the area. The lid of the cardboard box then opened as Luffy popped out of it with a happy face.

"No wonder Snake likes to be in here. It's so fun. Hee hee!" Luffy giggled. He then looked at his surroundings to see nobody in sight. "Mmmm… nobody here. Well, I guess I should kick this place's butt, or something." Luffy got out of the cardboard box, and started to walk around, not stealthily, but carelessly where anybody could see him.

"This place looks so empty for a weapon place. Let's see, where all the weapons that I have to beat up?" Luffy asked himself as he then saw some crates, and forced them open. He started to take out every single thing out of the crate, and toss them in the ground, creating some loud noise, but luckily for him, nobody was there… or atleast that is what he thinks.

Unknown to him, there was somebody spying on him from the second floor.

Preview: I have no idea what to do around here. It's so big, and it smells like powder. And now I am starting to hear some beeping sounds, but it's not coming from my ear. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 90: Phase 2 completed, A price to pay. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Snake's codec calls

Episode 3: Nami

Mei Ling: I see you met Nami, Snake.

Snake: Nami?

Mei Ling: She is the Navigator of the Strawhat pirates. When she was a little girl, her stepmother was killed by a terrible merman known as Arlong, and took over her village for a long time. In order to try and save her village, Nami worked alongside Arlong in order to buy the village off from him, even though that their was a chance that it may not work in the end.

Snake: The girl has some determination.

Mei Ling: But then Luffy showed up, and defeated Arlong, rescueing everyone in Nami's village. Dont you find that a little romantic that he did something so dangerous just for Nami?

Snake: Not really. If a plumber can rescue a princess all the time, then I think just about anybody can do anything.

Mei Ling: Well, anyway… she loves oranges and money. Her goal in life is to draw a map of her world… but in the meantime, she would go with her crew, and get as much treasure as she can, with her putting the least of effort, and forcing her comrades to do most of the work for her instead.

Snake: Ugh… not my kind of woman at all.

Mei Ling: Snake, you certaintly are no ladies man.

Snake: I act like that when I want to. Say, I heard that her breasts got bigger within a couple of last seasons. I also heard that they were huge in a movie once. Is this true?

Mei Ling: Um… I suppose so. I normally wouldnt pay attention to that.

Snake: An annoying attitude with a great body… somehow, I think it will be worth it.

Metal Gear Pt 7

I sure made a huge chapter this time, heh heh. I think this chapter will turn out alright for you all. Enjoy!

---

7 hours until deadline. Snake, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin were able to escape from Arsenal Gear thanks to Gray Fox, and ended up in a rocky shore, where it was safe to relax for a while. After communicating with everyone, Phase 2 commenced as Snake's team went into the transmission tower to destroy it; Zoro and Franky to get some vehicle keys, and escape the vehicle storage warehouse; and Sanji with Nami to get a cardkey and a disc from Ocelot's office. While they are work with that, what is Luffy going to do?

Chapter 90: Phase 2 complete, A price to pay

Ocelot was in a bitter mode as was walking in another hanger, with some guards running past him, searching for Gray Fox. Then one of the soldiers walked alongside Ocelot. "Sir, we have gathered all the units in Arsenal Gear, and we're now searching the entire mech for him." Said the guard.

"It doesn't matter if you find him or not, you all will end up dead anyway." Ocelot said bitterly, "And besides, that ninja will be hard to track down. Just tell all the units to get back to their stations, and inform me whenever that ninja shows up again."

"Yes sir!" said the guard as he ran off. Ocelot gritted his teeth in anger as he continued to walk along the big hanger.

"Beh… with Gray Fox back to life, the situation has gotten more worse than it was before, and he is the least of my problems so far." Ocelot said, "Those bratty pirates, and those two other men that have a been a thorn to my side ever since Raven returned. I can't allow any more disturbances. And speaking of them…"

Ocelot then walked towards a corner of the hanger, and walked through an automatic door, leading him into a very small room with nothing in it. He then walked through another automatic door, and entered in what a looked like a torture area, with a table that seemed to be used for torturing, and some computers and cameras in the room as well. There, you see MPNo. 5, who was sitting down on a rotating chair while working on something, and MPNo. 6, who rested his back on a wall while crossing his arms.

"You two seem rather calm after what just happened…" Ocelot said bitterly while walking up to them.

"I did hear a fuss a while ago, but it was nothing worth checking." MPNo. 5 said while looking at his research, "Don't tell me that we were suppose to attend there? I am a very busy man, you know."

"This is all your fault!" Ocelot said angrily, "If you hadn't messed up with-" MPNo. 6 then got in front of Ocelot, giving him a menacing look. Ocelot, however, was not intimidated in the least. "You two promised to help out, but all you have done so far is to cause more trouble than helping!"

"Excuse me!?" MPNo. 5 asked as he rotated his chair to look at Ocelot, "If it wasn't for me, you wouldn't have gotten back your macho man in the first place! Furthermore, I did not know that the tear incident would cause all this to happen. That's why I am seeing what went wrong with my experiment!"

"I couldn't care less about how you failed with your experiments." Ocelot replied as he walked past MPNo. 6 to get close to MPNo. 5. "What I want to know is that if there is some way to reverse this. You used Obscurum's power to revive the black hearted from the dead, right? Cant you find a way to kill them without so much effort?"

"That is out of the question." MPNo. 5 said as he went back to his work, "Obscurum has no flaws, remember? Everything it revives or the sort, it will stay that way for a very long time, unless you can simply kill it using your usual methods. That is why that world is like no other; it's perfect. We rulers need to stay together in order to keep it that way. It is our role afterall."

"Right…" Ocelot muttered.

"Besides, doing research on how to reverse Obscurum's reviving process would be completely unnecessary." MPNo. 5 continued, "If I would have to achieve this, what good use would it be? What if someone else found out about this? It would be our downfall if somebody would have known. There are some things that must be left unknown. Even I know that."

"If you say so…" Ocelot said. He was then about to walk out the door until he stopped, "By the way, if these pirates were in your way for quite some time, why didn't you kill them when you had the chance?"

"That's what I asked." MPNo. 6 said, "At first, they weren't that important. But ever since that they have been interfering with our plans, they decided to finally take some action. And we, well they, think that they will die here."

"Heh! It's funny that you don't think that." Ocelot said with a smirk.

"I would think that if it was me taking the care of those pirates, then this whole problem would be a thing of the past." MPNo. 6 said, "But this guy keeps saying to stay put for some reason."

"I know what you are capable of, and as much as they deserve to get killed, we should just let things run their own course. There is no need to rush." MPNo. 5 said, which made MPNo. 6 angry.

"That is the same attitude that is messing with us right now! If we don't kill them, things are going to get worse!!" MPNo. 6 yelled so furiously, that for some reason, the room got warmer. Ocelot sighed at this argument.

"Well, I am not going to stand here, and watch some boring fight to take place. I am going out to get some air." Ocelot said, "Whether those pirates die or not; things wont change for what will happen in this world. In just a matter of hours, things will turn out for the better."

Ocelot than walked out of the room, leaving MPNo. 5 and 6 alone. "Tsk! I am telling you; let me go out there, and kill those pirates right now!"

"And I said to stay here!" MPNo. 5 said, "Besides, those fools have no idea what they are up against… neither they know about what they have in their possession…"

Meanwhile…

Snake and his team crawled along the air vent of the transmission tower, with Robin leading the way. Usopp seemed to be the only one who wasn't enjoying it. "This place is so cramped… I can't take such pressure!" Usopp said.

"Calm down. Besides, you have a nice view from where you are." Snake said as he was referring how Usopp is crawling behind Robin, but Usopp didn't know what he meant.

"How much further?" Chopper asked while crawling.

"We should be getting closer by now. I just felt a little breeze." Snake said.

"Oh, sorry. I think that was me." Usopp said as he farted a while ago.

"Ugh…"

They then crawled up a slope of the air vent as Robin could then see a light ahead. "I think we found our way out." Robin said.

"Make sure the coast is clear." Snake said, "Once we get out, we need to move around as quietly as possible."

They crawled out of the open air vent, and saw that they were in the second floor of the tower. They get to see how big the tower was as they couldn't even see the top. There was a spiral staircase along the walls that leads all the way up to the top, but Snake and the others ignored that for now. They crawled towards the edge of the floor to see the center of the first floor below, where their were some guards talking and patrolling the area.

"They're sure alot of them…" Chopper said worryingly.

"We don't need to confront these guys, right? We just need to go up, and make sure that nobody sees us." Usopp said.

"Wrong…" Snake replied, which made Usopp feel nervous. Snake then looked up at the walls, and noticed several cameras, with turrets underneath their lenses. "If we get seen by those, they will not only activate the alarm, but they will shoot at us as well. And if we get caught, this whole will be filled with soldiers in no time."

"So what do are we going to do?" Robin asked.

"I remember Otacon saying that this place has a very sensitive frequency, meaning that these guards cant contact others so easily inside here. So, we need to lower this tower's security. In other words, we have to make sure that this tower does not send or receive any contact from the outside, and by messing up the electricity in this place, the guards wont be able to contact others at all. That way, we'll only have to deal with guards in here." Snake said while rubbing his chin, "But this is not going to be easy."

"You don't seem to sure about this. How are we going to pull this off?" Usopp asked. Snake then saw the power supply right in the other end of the first floor, guarded by two guards.

"You see that right there? If we destroy that, the lights will go off, and it will force this place to use the emergency light supply, and this place will be sealed off, preventing anything to come in or out. Once that happens, will fight our way up the stairs, and trash the place up." Snake said.

"Wait, if that happens, how are we going to get out?" Usopp asked.

"We'll find a way once we're done here. Now, let's get going. First, we need to distract the guards down there so I can destroy that power supply with this sniper rifle." Snake said while taking out his sniper rifle from out of nowhere.

"Seriously, where do you keep all that stuff!?" Usopp asked silently.

"I can restrain them using my ability." Robin suggested.

"I still need a volunteer. You know, to make things more interesting." Snake said as he then looked at Chopper.

"Um… why are you looking at me?" Chopper asked worringly.

"You are going down there." Snake said.

"What!? I don't want to! I could die!" Chopper cried.

"Huh, yeah…" Snake began to think for a while, until he came up with something. "Say, have you heard of Captain Falcon?"

"Huh? Oh, yeah! I know Captain Falcon! He saved me once!" Chopper said happily.

"Then would you mind showing me his Falcon Punch move? I can't recall how it went." Snake said as he then crawled back, and got on his feet.

"Okay!" Chopper said happily as he also got up. "Ahem… Falcon-"

KICK!

"WAAAAAAAAAH!?" Chopper got kicked like a soccer ball by Snake as he went flying towards the center of the first floor, with Usopp jaw's dropping, while Robin simply watched.

"What are you doing!? Are you crazy!?" Usopp asked while looking at Snake dumbfounded.

"Shut up and watch." Snake replied calmly as Chopper landed on the first floor with his butt.

"Oww… that hurt…" Chopper cried while rubbing his butt in pain. He then looked up at the same time all the guards looked at him. "HUH!?" A red exclamation mark appeared above Chopper's head, including the rest of the guards on the first floor.

"Who are you!?"

"Ah! Save me!" Chopper said as he cowered in fear. Hands then sprouted from all guards, holding them in place.

"What the!?"

As they tried to break free, Snake aimed at the power supply, and shot it directly in it's center.

KABOOOOOOOOOM!

The power supply exploded upon getting shot, causing the whole tower to get dark. Then the emergency lights turned on as Snake jumped over the guard rail, and landed on the first floor.

"GO!"

Meanwhile…

Zoro opened the door as he and Franky were now on the roof. Just like inside, their were also some cargo on the roof. And there were also some guards patrolling on it as well. Zoro and Franky hid behind a cargo that was close to the door they went through earlier, and peeked over it to see some guards.

"Who puts this stuff up here?" Franky asked.

"I can't see much with all this cargo up here. We need to walk around to get out of here. Follow me." Zoro said.

"Yeah, right. You follow me instead." Franky said as he got ahead of Zoro. They slowly ran behind another cargo, making sure that they don't get seen by the guards. Franky then peeked over the cargo, and still saw no exit. "This place is like a maze. How in the world are we going to get out of here?"

Franky expected a reply from Zoro, but he didnt get any. "Bro?" Franky turned around, and noticed that Zoro was not with him. "Don't tell me he…"

In another part of the cargo maze, Zoro was walking around, having no idea where he is (Surprising, isn't it?).

"Franky? Where did you go?" Zoro whispered while cautiously walking around.

"Bro, where did you go!?" Franky hissed silently, "Honestly, he always gets lost during situations like this." Franky looked for Zoro around the eastern part of the maze, while Zoro looked for Franky in the western part. "Bro!"

"Franky!" Zoro yelled silently. They continued to yell out their own names as they didn't know that a soldier in between them was hearing some sounds. He walked towards where Zoro was talking.

"Bro!" Franky hissed, which caught the guard's attention as he then walked where Franky was.

"Franky!" Zoro said again, catching the irritated guard's attention again. To put a long story short, this continued on for a couple of minutes until the guard could no longer take it. The guard screamed in agony as he went running around the cargos to go where Zoro was. Zoro blinked as he looked towards his right to see the guard coming. Once the guard finally noticed him, he got it in the face by Zoro's hilt, knocking him out.

Zoro then decided to climb up the cargoes, to get a better look of the roof. "Franky!"

"Huh!?" Franky looked up, and saw Zoro on a cargo. "Where were you!? You got lost again, you idiot!"

"I got lost!? You were the one who was lost!" Zoro replied. They forgot that they were enemy territory as their argument was attracting alot of attention of guards on the roof. "Come on! We gotta go!"

Zoro the proceeded to jump from cargo to cargo, while Franky was following him, going around some cargoes in the process. The guards were running around the roof, but all they found was the unconscious guard Zoro knocked out earlier. The guards then split, trying to look for Zoro and Franky, who were already close to find the edge of the roof, which is close to the southeastern corrider of the island.

Zoro jumped off from the cargo, and regrouped with Franky. "There is the corridor Otacon spoke of."

"It's a long way down from here…" Franky said while looking over the edge of the roof. "One wrong step, and it's all over."

"Okay, ready?" Zoro asked as he and Franky then took some steps back. "1.. 2.. 3!" They ran with all their might, and leaped off the roof. They successfully landed on the corridor as they rolled forward upon landing. They then got up, and quickly hid behind a wall close to a door just before the guards on the roof could see them. The guards then left as Zoro and Franky got out of hiding, and sighed in relief as Zoro rested his hands on the guard rail.

"There was more security up there then inside the place." Franky said, "Strange place here, isn't it?"

"That doesn't matter to us; we got what we came for." Zoro said, showing Franky the keys. "Now we need to contact Otacon, and ask what to do with them."

"Right. Let's contact him from behind here." Franky said. They sat in the corner of the corridor as Zoro placed his hand on his ear while the wind whistled by.

Two monitors appeared around the green square, showing Zoro's face on the right monitor, and Otacon's face on the left one. "Otacon, we got the keys you wanted us to get." Zoro said.

"Good work." Otacon said, "It must have been hard for you guys to get out."

"Not really… anyway, what do we do with the keys?" Zoro asked.

"Well, that's the tricky part of your assignment." Otacon said while adjusting his glasses, "You have to take the keys, and put them into a trash can."

"A trash can? Why in there? I thought we were going to use them for something." Zoro said.

"We are, but that would be for later." Otacon replied, "Do you remember the number of the vehicle you took those keys from?"

"Yeah. It was the one that read '24' on it." Zoro said.

"Okay, that vehicle will be a great use for us later on." Otacon said, "Anyway, you need to hide the keys in a trash can near the vehicle warehouse. After that, you tell me where you left it, so I can take note where to find it later. Once your done, you need to-"

"Wait…" Zoro said as he blunt look. "Otacon, I am going to have to call you back."

"Hmm? Is something going on?" Otacon asked.

"I'm not sure… I'll call you back." Zoro said.

Zoro removed his hand from around his ear as he slowly got on his feet. "Hey, what's wrong?" Franky asked while also getting up.

"I don't know… but someone is close by. Someone strong." Zoro said as he looked towards the other side of the corridor. "I know you are over there! Show yourself!"

It took a few seconds, but somebody came out of hiding from the shadows as he laid his back on a wall. "A rather odd confrontation, isn't it?" Asked the man, "You two don't seem to be working with Ocelot… and yet, I don't find your presence that welcoming."

"Who is this guy?" Franky asked. Zoro and Franky looked at the man. They saw that he was wearing a dark cape around his body, but couldn't see his face.

"Don't you find this place rather despicable?" Asked the man, "All these soldiers have no idea what they are doing, and the reason for that is that they lack a true leader. They think that Ocelot is worthy of becoming a great leader, but in the end, it's not even worth their time. I could have been the perfect leader to lead them, better yet, I am the boss that could lead anybody to obtain victory against their enemies!"

"A boss, huh?" Zoro asked, "You sound like you are a part of a rebellion."

"Not exactly." Replied the man, "I do not intend to destroy everything here, but I am here to reclaim what should have been mine in the first place! For I am the boss that surpasses Big Boss himself!"

The man stepped out of the shadows, revealing his face, which somehow shocked both Zoro and Franky. "Who the!?" Franky gasped.

"That look…" Zoro said in shock.

The man had the exact same facial features as Snake, only he has short white hair, and has an eyepatch over his left eye. "Let me introduce myself. My name is George Sears, the former president of the United States of America! But I am better known as Solidus Snake!"

Meanwhile…

Sanji and Nami looked at the big narrow building, which wasn't really guarded that much to tell the truth. "Just like Otacon said; there barely isn't anyone here." Sanji said.

"But there is still too many if you ask me." Nami said, "What we really need to know is how to get inside."

Sanji looked at his surroundings, and saw an open window in the second floor. He then saw a cargo truck that was about to go by the building. "Okay, Nami-san; we are going to get on that, and we'll enter the place through that open window."

"That seems a bit risky." Nami said.

"Don't worry, Nami-san. I will do most of the work." Sanji said. He helped Nami up on a big crate as he before he got on it too. They quietly walked along several other crates until they got on the that was close to the window. They waited until they saw the cargo truck was going to drive by. "Ready… go!"

Nami and Sanji jumped off the crate, and onto the truck. They then did a quick leap as Sanji managed to grab the ledge of the open window, while Nami held on with his arms around Sanji's waist. "Ohh, that feels good." Sanji said to himself happily.

"Eh! Do you see anyone there?" Nami asked while holding on. Sanji slowly pulled himself up to peek inside the room, which had several desks and computers, but there was no sign of any guards.

"It's okay; we can go inside." Sanji said. Nami then climbed up Sanji's back, and stepped on his face as she got in. "Ow.." Sanji muttered, but he didn't mind as he also pulled himself inside.

"So far, so good…" Nami said, "But where do we go from here?"

"Otacon said that the old man's office is on the top floor." Sanji said, "So, we better find a quick way up there."

"-sigh-… Why must this be so difficult?" Nami asked sadly, "Come on, let's find some stairs or an elevator."

"Yes, Nami-san." Sanji said happily as they were about to leave the room. They slowly opened the door, and peeked out of it to see that the coast was clear. Sanji lead Nami out of the door, and slowly walked along the silent hallways. They then stopped as they heard someone coming. "Quick, in here!"

Nami and Sanji entered through an automatic door, and were now in an empty locker room, a men's locker room at that. "Ugh, of all places we had to be in." Nami said disgustedly.

"I can still hear someone coming." Sanji said, "Let's hide in one of the lockers."

"Huh!?" Sanji took Nami into an empty locker, and closed it just before some guards entered the room. The guards were chatting as Nami and Sanji were a bit cramped up in the locker. "I don't like it in here."

"I do…" Sanji said happily as she was cramped behind Nami. Nami peeked through the locker vents, and saw that the guards were taking off their uniforms. Nami sticked out her tongue in disgust as the guards wrapped some towels around their waist and headed towards the showers. After the guards left, Nami kicked the locker door opened, and panted heavily.

"Aww, it's already over…" Sanji said sadly, wanting to be with Nami in the locker some more.

"Geez! What did I ever do to go through this?" Nami asked before she calmed down, "Well, let's get going."

"Wait, Nami-san." Sanji said as he picked up some uniforms the guards were wearing earlier, "We might be able to get through this place easier if we had these on."

"No way! I am not going to wear that after what I just seen." Nami argued.

"Forgive me, Nami-san, but I there is no other choice. Either wear this, or will never get to top floor on time." Sanji replied.

"Ergh… but it's not like it's going to fit me." Nami said.

A few moments later…

"I cant believe it actually fits…" Nami said to her dismay as she had on the guards' uniform, which fit perfectly for her figure. Sanji was also wearing a uniform as he was staring at Nami's beauty.

"Nami-san looks so beautiful with that on! Mellorine! Mellorine! Mellorine!" Sanji said happily while dancing in joy.

"Whatever. Let's just get out of here already. Put your mask on." Nami said. They both then placed their ski masks over their heads, with Sanji's hair still blocking the view of his left eye. They got out of the locker room, and walked through the hallways calmly.

They walked past several guards, who didn't even notice Nami or Sanji as they walked by. "You see? We'll be up in the top floor in no time."

"I hope so. I don't want to keep wearing this all day." Nami said. Then some naked guards from the locker room came out, with the towels covering their waists.

"Hey, someone took our clothes!"

Nami and Sanji flinched at this as they then started walk faster, leaving the naked guards in the hallway getting laughed at by their comrades.

Meanwhile…

The guards looked at Snake as they tried to fire their weapons, but the hands around prevented them from doing so. "Chopper, get up!" Snake yelled.

"Save me!!" Chopper said as he was frightened to move. Snake sighed and charged at one of the guards. He elbowed the guard in the gut before flipping him over on his back. He then backhanded another guard, and tripped him on his back before stepping on his face really hard. Snake then took out a grenade, and pulled it's pin as he threw right between some guards.

BOOM!

"AAAAHH!!" The guards were knocked off their feet, and into the ground. Chopper perked his head up, and saw that some of the guards were defeated.

"Come on! We have to move up!" Snake said.

"Why did you kicked me!?" Chopper asked angrily.

"Shut up, and go!" Snake yelled loudly. Before Chopper could say anything, A hatch from the basement opened up, and out came some more guards. "Damn! Let's go!"

"Waaahh!!" Chopper ran up the stairs, and regrouped with his friends in the second floor. As Snake ran up the stairs, he took out an AK74-U assault rifle, and fired at the guards that were chasing him.

"Run for it! Ruuuunnnn!!" Usopp cried as he, Chopper, Robin, and Snake started to run all the way up the spiral staircase along the wall. Some cameras with turrets on the wall faced at the group, and started to fire on them. "Whoa! Whoa! WHOA!!" Usopp stopped, and was moving his legs to prevent from getting hit. Snake then shot at that camera, destroying it as Usopp ran up the stairs again.

Robin then noticed some guards that were running down the stairs as she quickly crossed her limbs. "DOCE FLEUR, FLIP!" Hands sprouted from the stair steps underneath the group of soldiers, and grabbed their legs, causing them to trip, and fell on the stair steps. Snake, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin then ran over them, stepping on them hard as they ran by.

Suddenly, they were getting fired by some other guards at the other end of the tower. Snake quickly aimed for that group, and fired at them continuously with his assault rifle, killing all of them as some of them fell over the guard rail, and all the way down to the first floor. More cameras with turrets then faced towards them as they approached and started firing at them while Usopp got out his slingshot.

"HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired several flaming pellets at the cameras, destroying them as he and the others ran by. They now reached the end of the staircase as they were now on the 7th floor, with a corridor that leads to another set of stairs along the wall. More guards then appeared from the other end of the corridor, and started to shoot at Snake and the others.

"Keep your head down!" Snake shouted as everyone ducked in order to avoid getting shot, Snake crawled up against a corridor wall. Once the guards were about to reload, Snake got out of hiding, and fired at the guards, killing them in an instant. While Snake was taking care of them, guards from the lower floors were about to approach Usopp, Chopper, and Robin from behind.

"Huh?" When Chopper turned around, Chopper screamed in fear as he turned into his Heavy point, and pushed the guard down the stairs, knocking down some other guards with them as they started roll down the stairs in pain.

"You guys, hurry up! I'll catch up!" Snake shouted as Usopp, Chopper, and Robin quickly ran past him, and ran up the second staircase. Snake then placed a landmine in front of the stairs, and caught up with Usopp and the others. The guards in the lower floors then fired at Snake and his team from below, as Snake countered by aiming his assault rifle over the guard rail, and shot every single guard in his view. He then threw a grenade down, which landed on the corridor.

BOOM!

Some guards were killed by that explosion while the ones who survived tried to chase Snake and his team by going up the stairs, but didn't know that there was a landmine in place as one of them stepped on it.

KABOOM!!

The explosion was so big, that it destroyed some of the corridor, and part of the first step of the stairs. More guards from below showed up, but couldn't use the stairs since it was now out of their reach.

"That should keep them busy for a while." Snake said while running.

"Ahh!! There is more of them up here!" Usopp cried as some guards were charging down the stairs towards Usopp.

"DIEZ FLEUR, SPIKE!" Hands quickly sprouted from the wall next to the guards as they punched the guards over the guard rail, and fell down to their doom. Usopp sighed in relief for a couple of miniseconds before he and his comrades started to run up the stairs again. From the 7th floor, the guards on the corridor got out an missile launcher, and fired at Snake and his team. Chopper heard the sound of the missile coming as his eyes widened in fear.

"Look out!" Chopper yelled as he pushed Robin and Usopp up the stairs, while Snake jumped back.

KABOOOOOOM!

The missile exploded, destroying some of the staircase. The explosion separated Usopp, Chopper, and Robin from Snake as they were on the higher steps than him. "Snake! What are we going to do!?" Usopp asked.

"Just keep going! I'll catch up with you guys later!" Snake yelled.

"Let's go!" Robin said as she, Usopp, and Chopper continued to run up the stairs, while Snake took out his RPG missile launcher.

"You want to blow me up!? Let's see how you like this!" Snake shouted as he aimed his missile launcher over the guard rail, and fired a missile down at the 7th floor.

KABOOOOOOOOOM!

The missile completely destroyed the corridor, and killed all the guards as Snake puts his missile launcher away, and took out his cypher, and flew to the higher levels of the tower with it.

Usopp, Chopper, and Robin managed to reach towards the 15th floor as they reached to another corridor, with some guards already started to aim at them.

"Not again! SANREN KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired three consecutive explosive pellets at the guards, knocking them off the floor. Luckily, the explosives didn't destroy the corridor as Usopp, Chopper, and Robin quickly ran towards the third set of the staircase.

"Stop!"

The trio turned around to see some guards that were hiding behind some corridor wall, and they were aiming their rifles at the trio. "You're dead!"

But before they could fire, Snake appeared on the floor with his cypher as he flew above the guards before letting go of his cypher. As he fell down, he took out his assault rifle, and continuously shot down at the guards, killing them before he landed on his feet. Chopper felt sick seeing them die as Snake then approached them.

"Just a couple of more floors, and will be able to make it to the top! Keep going!" Snake shouted. They continued to run up the stairs, getting closer to their target. Snake was shooting at the turret cameras, while Usopp was running faster and faster.

"Come on! Come on! COME ON!" Usopp yelled while running with his eyes closed.

CRASH!

Usopp crashed into the automatic door, which then opened as he fell through it, and landed on the floor. He was now in the transmission room, where two people working in it gasped upon seeing Usopp.

"What's going on here!?"

Snake, Chopper, and Robin then entered the room, and locked the automatic door as Snake quickly got in front of the two people, and knocked them out with just a fist in the face. "Okay, now trash the place up." Snake said. Chopper was in his Heavy point, hitting every single thing he saw, whether was a computer, or a control panel. He mostly did all the hard work as Snake sat on the rotating chair with a smirk.

"We did it." Snake said.

"Oh, what a relief…" Usopp said while dazedly getting up. "Wait a sec, how are we going to get out of here?"

"We'll think of that later." Snake replied, "Right now, I need to contact your captain, and see if he's alive."

"Don't say that kind of thing! Of course he's alive!" Chopper said angrily, but Robin relaxed him by patting his shoulder. Snake then held his ear, and tried to contact Luffy by codec.

"Come on… pick up.."

Meanwhile…

Zoro and Franky stood in shock as they saw how Solidus almost looks like Snake. "It's like I am seeing a twin here, only a bit different." Franky said while rubbing his head.

"Didn't he just say his name was Solidus?" Zoro asked, "Wasn't he the guy Snake and Otacon were talking about?"

"Come to think of it, yeah. But they said he was dead." Franky replied, "It looks like he was revived by that stupid new world too."

"Hmm?" Solidus looked at Zoro and Franky curiously as he took some steps forward to them, "I am curious; what are you two doing here in a place like this? You two don't seem to be from around here."

"Sorry, but that's none of your business." Zoro replied.

"Is that so? Hmph!" Solidus looked away, "No matter what attentions you have here, the result will end up the same. For I will take over this project, and change it the way I want it to turn out, and that is to find the location of the patriots, and destroy them!"

"Destroy them? Aren't they dead?" Franky asked.

"They may be dead physically, but their existence still remains in this world." Solidus said while looking back at Zoro and Franky, "I will show not them to not make a fool out of me!"

"Hey, Bro; what do we do about this guy? He doesn't seem to be against us, but he isn't with us either." Franky whispered to Zoro.

"I am not really sure what to do, but we don't have the time for this." Zoro replied, "Let's just ask Snake if-"

"Snake?" Solidus asked, "You know Snake?" Zoro looked back at Solidus with a blunt look.

"What if we did?" Zoro asked. Solidus then smirked as he looked at the ground.

"Now I understand; you two must be with Snake." Solidus said as he looked at the duo, "What has my brother been doing around here?"

Zoro and Franky were shocked upon hearing that. "Brother!? You mean are related to him!?"

"He didn't tell you?" Solidus asked, "How rude of him not mentioning me. Although, he must have really forgotten me. Such a shame…" Solidus then glared at Zoro and Franky, "Since you two seem to be his partners, I will give him a nice little present, which will be two corpses of his friends."

"Whoa, buddy! You have no idea who you are messing with!" Franky said as he and Zoro got in their fighting stances.

"Don't I?" Solidus asked with a smirk. Suddenly, a spotlight shined above them, which alarmed Zoro and Franky, but not Solidus as he looked at the source where the light was coming from. It was a helicopter, and it faced it sides towards Solidus as some guards inside the helicopter aimed at him with a rocket launcher.

"You have trespassed through illegal territory!" Said the guard from the helicopter, "Surrender yourselves now, or we'll use force!"

"I thought Snake was going to take care of those things!" Franky yelled as Zoro just glared at the helicopter.

"Hmph! What rubbish." Solidus said, "You are not in the position to give threats, soldier. I will soon be your leader, and you will show me some respect!"

"Your reply will lead you to your demise!" Replied the guard as he then fired the rocket at Solidus. Solidus frowned as the rocket exploded upon impacting the corridor. As soon as the guard thought he killed him, he gasped as he saw Solidus dash out of the fire from the explosion, creating a trail of fire in the process.

The fire burned his cape, revealing that he was wearing an exoskeleton suit like Gray Fox, only the difference is that it was brown, and it has two tentacle-like arms on it's back, not to mention that it looked a bit beefier. Zoro and Franky stood back as the guard was about to fire another rocket at Solidus.

"You are not worthy of following me with that strength of yours!" Solidus said as he then took out an FN P90 sub-machine gun, and fired repeatedly at the helicopter, killing the pilot and the guard as the helicopter spiraled towards the ocean.

KABOOOOOOOOOOM!!

The helicopter exploded into the ocean as Solidus seemed satisfied. "That takes care of the pest."

"BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired several bullets at Solidus from his left wrist, but Solidus saw it coming as he blocked the bullets with his arm. "What!?"

"Your little toys won't harm me!" Solidus said as he dashed at Franky with great speed, and was about to attack him, until Zoro came in between them, and blocked Solidus' arms with his swords. "You dare strike me!?"

"Back off!" Zoro pushed Solidus back with his blades, making him lose some of his balance as Zoro dashed at him. "USHI BARI!" Zoro repeatedly swung his swords at Solidus in a fast rate, but despite the bulky appearance, Solidus was dodging all of Zoro's slashes with ease.

"Ha ha ha!" Solidus then countered with a backhand across Zoro's chin, knocking him on his back. "Is that the best that Snake's comrades have to offer?"

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a blast at Solidus, who jumped really high to avoid it, and landed on a building connected to the corridor.

"Hmm?" Solidus then saw Franky grabbing Zoro as he jumped off the second floor and into the main floor.

"Put me down! I can take him!" Zoro shouted.

"We don't have time! That explosion earlier might have alarmed the guards around here, so we better get moving!" Frank shouted while running away as fast as he could. Suddenly, Franky almost got shot from behind. He looked behind his shoulder to see Solidus chasing them from building to building.

"I am not through with you yet!" Solidus yelled as he fired his submachine gun at Franky, who did his best to avoid.

"Damn! I don't think we can lose this psycho!" Franky yelled. They ran towards the eastern gate entrance as Franky had no choice but to inflate his rear. "1.0 COLA HOU COUP DE BOO!" Franky lets out some air from his rear as he and Zoro flew towards the second floor of the gate. Solidus then jumped down from the building he was on, and headed straight towards them.

"I got you now!" Solidus shouted. Zoro then got out of Franky's grip, and positioned his swords diagonally in front of him.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro created a strong cutting wave with all his three swords, hitting Solidus so hard that he went flying back a couple of meters.

CRASH!

Solidus crashed onto a gate wall as he got, and glared at the two. "Grr… there is only one person that can be named Big Boss! I will get my revenge no matter what!" Solidus yelled, "If I see you two again, I will make sure you pay for crossing paths with me!" Solidus then jumped away from the gate, leaving Zoro and Franky's sight.

"He's gone." Franky said.

"He'll be back… I'm sure of it." Zoro replied with a glare.

Meanwhile…

Nami and Sanji got out of an elevator, and saw lots of doors, with cameras on next to them. "Good thing we are in disguise." Nami said, "Let's see, where is Ocelot's office?"

"It should look different from all these places." Sanji said, "Will have to look in each room."

Nami and Sanji then proceeded to open every door until they can find what looked like an office. So far, they found a bathroom, another locker room, a pantry, a closet, and plenty of other rooms, but no office.

"Where is that dang office?" Nami asked as she then opened another door. "Uh? Hey, Sanji. I think I found it?"

"Really?" Sanji asked while approaching Nami. They entered walked into the room, and were indeed Ocelot's office. "This does look like the place. As they walked around the room, they didnt realize that they stepped on a sensor, which didnt seem to trigger anything as Nami and Sanji looked around the room for the cardkey and the disc.

"It should be around here." Nami said as she then looked around Ocleot's desk. She opened on of the drawers, and found what she was looking for. "Here it is!" Nami took out the disc Otacon requested.

"Is that it?" Sanji asked.

"It has to be; it's the only one here." Nami said.

"But where is the cardkey?" Sanji asked.

Nami looked into the drawers again, but saw no cardkey. "It's not in here."

"What? Are you sure?" Sanji asked.

"I'm sure." Nami said as she looked very displeased, "What's going on? If the cardkey isn't here, then where could it be?"

Meanwhile…

We are back in the weapon warehouse, where Luffy still is. The place was no longer organized as the place had tons of weapons scattered all over the floor. Luffy was pulling out all the weapons that were in a crate. "Hey, an apple!" Luffy said happily as he took out what he thought was an apple, but was actually a round grenade. Luffy opened his mouth, and bit it, which almost broke his teeth.

"Ow… what kind of an apple is this?" Luffy asked as he threw the grenade away. "Hmmm.. How do I destroy these weapons again?" Luffy asked while looking at the scattered weapons. "I know! I'll just find a kitchen. I bet their is alot of food there!"

Luffy happily left the mess he made, and walked up the stairs to the second floor. "Man, when was the last time I ate? Three hours? Hmm…" Luffy then tripped over a thin wire, causing him to fall on his face. "Uh!? Huh?" Luffy sat up, and looked at the wire. "What's this for?" Luffy pulled on the wire, which broke it as it caused a beeping noise to be heard all over the warehouse. "Huh? What is wrong with this place? So weird…"

Luffy shrugged and got up as he continued to find a kitchen. Unaware to him, the same man from the last chapter continued to spy on him. The man laughed silently as for some reason, he left in a hurry.

"Ohh… so hungry." Luffy said as he walked through an automatic door, and ended up in an empty room. "Nothing here? Funny, rooms are suppose to have stuff." When Luffy tried to leave the room, the automatic door would not open for him. "Huh? Hey! What's the big idea!?"

BEEP! BEEP!

"Oh? Someone is calling me." Luffy said as he knelt down and held his ear.

BEGIN CODEC TRANSMISSION

Two monitors appeared around the green box as Luffy's face appeared on the right screen, and Snake's face appeared on the right one. "Luffy, where the hell have you been!?" Snake asked.

"Snake? Is that you? Haven't talked to you in a while." Luffy said happily.

"What the hell have you been doing, sneaking in the warehouse without your team!? And I was trying to contact you for some time now. What took you so long to answer!?" Snake asked.

"You were trying to contact me? I didn't hear the beeping sound until now." Luffy replied.

"You didnt? Hmm… well, are you okay?" Snake asked.

"Yeah, I am. But this place is very weird." Luffy said, "There is nobody here, and I dont even know what to do around here."

"Nobody there? That doesn't sound right…" Snake said, "Well anyway, you couldn't do much to that place without some help. Don't worry, Nami and Sanji are sure to help you out once they're done getting the cardkey and disc."

"What do you mean?" Luffy asked.

"We continued our mission without you, since you decided to take unnecessary action." Snake said, "So, until Nami and Sanji get to you, you should hide in a safe place."

"I think I am already hiding in good place. I'm stuck in this room, and I can't find an exit." Luffy said. Snake raised an eyebrow at this.

"You're stuck?" Snake asked, "Hmm… is there anything else you found odd in that warehouse?"

"Yeah, there was this beeping sound when I pulled on a wire, and this beeping noise can be heard all over the place."

"Beeping noise…" Snake said, "And this was after I contacted you?"

"Yeah, that's right." Luffy replied. Snake was silent, he was thinking until his eyes shot wide open as he looked completely angry.

"Luffy, it's a trap!" Snake yelled.

"Huh!?" Luffy asked.

"You have to find a way out there now!" Snake said.

"Wait! What's going on!?" Luffy asked.

"I can't believe I forgot all about him! He is the only who is capable of this!" Snake muttered angrily, "Listen, Luffy! The warehouse you are in is going to blow up any second!"

"What!?" Luffy asked in shock.

"You have to get out of there as fast as you can!" Snake yelled.

"Um! Well, I! Ugh… hey, what!? AHH-" Luffy screamed before the left monitor turned fuzzy.

"Luffy! What the hell happened!? Luffy!!" Snake asked.

END TRANSMISSION

Back in the tower, Snake slammed his fist on the ground in anger. "Son of a bi--!" Snake got up on his feet, and ran outside to the tower's balcony. Usopp, Chopper, and Robin had no idea why he was so angry as they quickly approached Snake.

"Snake, what's wrong!?" Usopp asked.

"Get out of there, dammit! Get out!" Snake muttered while gritting his teeth. "Something happened to Luffy!"

"What! What happened!?" Chopper asked. Before anyone else could happen, they just stared at weapon warehouse from where they are, until…

KABOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOMMMMM MMMMMMMMM!!

The warehouse exploded immensely, and scorched everything nearby. Snake and his team watched in horror upon seeing this.

In the eastern gate, Zoro and Franky were on top of the gate, watching the flames of the explosion from where the warehouse use to be.

And lastly, Nami and Sanji saw the explosion from inside the office, and they know where it came from. "Wasn't the warehouse just there…?" Sanji asked in fear. Nami fell on her knees as she never felt so afraid in her life.

"LUUUUUUU UUUUUUU UUUUUUUU UUUUUUUU UUUUUUUU UUUUUUUU UUFFFFFFF FYYYYYYY YYYYYYYYY YYYYYYYY YYYYYYYYY YYYYYYYYY YYYYYYYYY YYYYYYYYY YYYYYYYYY YYYYYYYYY!!"

Episode 4: Usopp

Snake: What the hell… that nose..!?

Colonel: That's Usopp, Snake. He is the marksman of the Strawhat pirates.

Snake: Such a long nose…

Colonel: He has a tendency to lie about almost everything. Sometimes, most of lies turn out to be real in the end. His dream is to become the bravest warrior of the sea, and I am sure he will be one soon enough.

Snake: Colonel, don't you find anything disturbing about that nose?

Colonel: I know what you are getting at, so please don't make a fuss about it.

Snake: It's just that… it looks like something, but-

Colonel: Snake, just don't say anything about it, ok?

Snake:… dick nose…

Metal Gear Pt 8

Sorry this took so long, I was little bummed out what to do with this one. Hope this one turned out ok for you all. Enjoy!

6 hours until deadline. Snake and the rest of the Strawhat crew were able to complete their objectives, going through every obstacle that was in our way. However, it all seem to came for a price as the warehouse Luffy was in exploded without warning. Was our favorite captain able to escape in time, or did has he become deceased?

Chapter 91: A sudden loss?, I wont accept that!

The explosion of the warehouse created an enormous fire on the northwestern part of the island as a huge amount of soldiers gathered, and tried to extinguish the fire before it could spread.

"What happened here! Why did the warehouse explode!?" Asked a guard.

"I don't know! This explosion just came out of nowhere!"

"You two! Stop talking, and help us put down this fire!"

The guards tried to extinguish the fire using some of their own fire trucks, but even with that, it would still take a while to put the fire out.

Back at the transmission tower, Snake and the others continued to look at the fire, completely horrified at what just occurred.

"L-… Luffy escaped, right?" Usopp asked nervously, "He must have escaped. I mean… It just has to be possible! There was no way that Luffy was caught in that explosion! It makes no sense for him to die like that!!"

"Luffy…" Robin said with a surprised look, "I can't believe…"

"Luffy!!" Chopper cried as he then tried to jump off the tower to go where the explosion took place, but Snake stopped him by grabbing him from behind.

"Stop it, there is nothing you can do." Snake said calmly.

"No! Let me go! Luffy!!" Chopper cried.

"Will you stop? I said there is nothing you can do about this." Snake said.

"You don't know that! I am a doctor! Luffy needs me out there! He won't survive if I don't do something to help him!" Chopper said while trying to break free of Snake's grip.

"You can't do anything! No one could have survived that explosion!" Snake yelled, which infuriated Chopper.

"GET OFF OF ME!!" Chopper yelled furiously as he then turned into his Heavy point, and was about to punch Snake, but despite the size difference, Snake dodged Chopper's fist, and placed his leg behind Chopper's legs, and pushed him down on his back. Snake then grabbed Chopper's arms, preventing him from getting up. "Let me go! I am telling you that Luffy is out there, and he needs-"

"WILL YOU BE QUIET!?" Snake asked as he then punched Chopper across his jaw. Chopper slowly looked back at Snake, who glared at Chopper as he continued to hold him down. "Have you forgotten what I said a couple of hours ago!?" Usopp and Robin stared at Snake as Chopper didn't fight back, "I told you that this was not a game! In these kind of situations, people die, and there is no way you can ever bring them back from the dead! You can never change the past, so there is no point in crying about it! What's done is done!"

Chopper couldn't hold back his tears as Snake got off of him. "Things like this happen for a reason. Sacrifices are made in order to make a better future. By tagging along with me, you knew that your lives were at stake. The only thing we can do is to not mess up our mission. If we do that, all those sacrifices will be all for nothing."

"You say that as if you didn't care…"

Snake looks behind his shoulder, and sees Usopp who was really angry as he was clenching his fists. "All you care about is this damn mission! Did you not see what just happened!?"

"I did… and I didn't know there was a trap in the warehouse until now. So, don't go unleashing your temper on someone else." Snake replied.

"What is wrong with you!? It's like you don't even care if we get killed out here! It's like your using us for you personal gain!" Usopp replied angrily.

"Longose-kun…" Robin said.

"No, I am serious this time!" Usopp yelled as he walked right in front of Snake, "Who do the hell do you think you are, telling us that we should forget about our friends, and think only about finishing YOUR mission!? Come to think of it, you have been putting us all in danger since this mission began! You have been no real help to us all! We only came here to get the 7th heart, and we were suppose to get out of this island, but for all I know, we might have been doing something else this whole time!"

"Now your acting rather pathetic." Snake said. Hearing this caused Usopp to grab Snake by his sneaking suit as he also glared at Snake in the eyes.

"You think I am pathetic!? There is nothing pathetic for caring for your friend's life! You think that I would just stand still and say nothing about this!? From what I am hearing from you, you are saying that Luffy might be dead… don't you dare say that he is! I wont accept that! You hear me!? Luffy is not dead!! And if you dare say that he is… I swear, I will kill from you where you stand!!"

Usopp did not really meant that. He only said it to frighten Snake as he panted heavily afterwards. It didn't work, however, as Snake only looked at him with a blunt look. He then gently removed Usopp's hands off of him.

"I never said that he's dead." Snake said, "There is a slight chance that he may be alive."

Usopp looked back at Snake as Chopper turned back to his original self while getting up from the floor. "And I am not just doing all this for nothing. This whole world is probably going to experience the most drastic war yet, and it's up to us to stop it. All the innocent people in this world are going to go through a lot of crap of the things these people are about to do, and I will not let that happen. I live for one reason, and that is stop all this before it's too late. Once that's over, I will die with no regrets; knowing that I was able to do my job protecting what is left of the pureness in this world."

"Snake…" Chopper said while looking at Snake. Snake placed his hands on the guard rail, sighing as Usopp felt rather guilty for what he said to him.

"I am sorry… I didn't mean to burst out like that." Usopp said sadly, "It's just that… I can't believe what is happening right now. You'd think that everything would turn out okay just like all the previous times… but I guess this isn't the case here."

"It still might be." Snake replied, "If you think your captain is okay, then he is. Who am I to say that he isn't? Besides, if he is, we can't afford to waste any more time just talking about it."

"You're right." Robin said, "We should be on our way looking for him."

"Right. But first, we need to get down from here." Snake said while looking over the guard rail to see the ocean as he then smoked another cigarette.

"And I bet you already came up with a good idea to do that, right?" Usopp asked happily.

"No, I have no clue. We're stuck up here." Snake replied, which surprised Usopp as he fell on his back. "On another note… where are the helicopters?"

Suddenly, a spotlight shined over them as three helicopters surrounded the tower they were on.

"Ahh!! How did they know we were here!?" Chopper asked.

"We got you now, Snake!" Said one of the pilots riding one of the helicopters, "Thanks to the smoke detector going off in that transmission room, we came here as soon as we could just before our transmission with this tower went off."

"Ugh?" Snake took out the cigarette from his lips, and looked at it before looking back at the helicopters. "Whoops…"

"WHOOPS!?" Usopp asked as he got up, and backslapped Snake at the back of his head, "Thanks a lot, genius!"

Meanwhile…

Zoro and Franky watched the fire of the explosion from earlier as it slowly started to die out. "That was one big explosion there…" Franky said, "But wasn't that place where-"

"Yeah… it came from where Luffy was." Zoro said with a calm tone.

"You don't think he was there at the time, right!?" Franky asked.

"Who knows?" Zoro replied, "But it's best not to think too much about it. I am sure Luffy wouldn't be stupid enough to be around there before that explosion happened."

"Tsk! This place is pissing me off!" Franky said angrily, "Once we get the heart, we'll teach that old man not to screw with us!"

"Whatever." Zoro said as he looked at Franky, "More importantly, we have to find a place to put this key in."

"Otacon bro said to put it some trashcan somewhere." Franky said while rubbing his head.

"I remember. Question is, which trashcan?" Zoro asked. They cautiously walked to the edge of the gate they were on, and saw several guards running all over the place.

"Hurry! We have to help put the fire out!" Yelled one of the guards.

"Where are the helicopters!? How come they aren't patrolling the island!?"

"I dont know! Let's just keep going!"

The guards continued to run all over the place, making it difficult for Zoro and Franky to get down. "How are we suppose to get down from here with all this going on?" Franky asked.

"If we jump down, their is no doubt that they'll see us." Zoro said rubbing his chin. "We are going to need a diversion."

"Like what?" Franky asked. Zoro looked at his surroundings, and noticed there wasn't many guards on the northern or western gates.

"We could try getting on the north gate again, and follow the route that will lead us back to Snake's hidden base." Zoro said.

"But we need to hide the key first." Franky said.

"I remember seeing a trashcan along that route before, so will put it there along the way to the base." Zoro replied.

The peeked over the edge of the gate again in order to see that the guards were still running around, but they weren't looking up. "Yosh… let's go." Franky said. They cautiously walked towards the side of the gate, and faced their backs up against an empty tower that was close to the north gate.

They slowly walked sideways along the tower until they were on the north gate. They then took a route that lead them down the gate, and made their way to the southwestern part of the island. Before they reach the base, they saw a trashcan, which was a couple of meters away from the transportation warehouse.

"This will do fine." Zoro said as he then placed the keys in the trashcan. "Now since we are here, we should get back to Otacon, and tell him what happen."

"Hey, wait! What's that!?" Franky asked. He was point to his north, and saw several helicopters flying around the transmission tower. "What's going on up there?"

"Isn't that where Snake, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin are?" Zoro asked.

Meanwhile…

Nami and Sanji continued to stare at the fires from the explosion as they just couldn't what what happening. "Dammit! Luffy was in that warehouse!" Sanji said angrily while kicking the wall.

"Luffy…" Nami whispered in sadness, "This can't be happening…" Nami continued to stare at the fire created by the explosion through the window as Sanji was just as upset as she was.

"Nami-san, I know this can be hard, but we can't stay here." Sanji said, "Will figure out if Luffy made it out or not later. Right now, we need to get out of here."

Nami came back to her senses as she then stood on her feet. "Let's go."

Suddenly, the alarm went off in the building. "What's going on this time!?" Sanji asked.

"All personal; we have intruders on the top floor!" Said a voice from an intercom, "Do not let the intruders escape!"

"They know we are here!? But how!?" Nami asked.

"Come on, Nami-san! We have to get out of here!" Sanji yelled. Nami nodded as they were about to leave, only to see many soldiers coming into the hallways.

"There they are! Shoot them!" A guard yelled as they started to open fire at Nami and Sanji, who quickly closed the door, and locked themselves inside Ocelot's office.

"We're trapped!" Nami yelled. Sanji took off his disguise, and got back to his original clothing as he looked at his surroundings. The only thing that caught his attention were the windows.

"We have to go through the windows!" Sanji said as he quickly approached the windows.

"What are you planning!? We can't jump down from here! We'll get killed!" Nami said while taking of her disguise. Sanji lifted his foot, and delivered a strong side kick at the window, shattering it into pieces.

"Nami-san, get on my back!" Sanji yelled as the guards behind the door tried to force their way in.

"Ugh!? I have no idea what you have planned, but it better not kill us!" Nami said. She then held on to Sanji's back as he then got on the edge of the window. Before he could do something else, the door was bursted open, and they aimed their weapons at Nami and Sanji. "Hurry!"

"Haaaa!!" Sanji jumped off the ledge as the guards hurried towards it, and looked over it to see nothing.

"Where did they go!? Find them!" Yelled a guard as they started to run out of the office to find Nami and Sanji. What they didnt know is that Sanji did not jumped down, but jumped up to the edge of the rooftop of the building as Sanji pulled himself up on the roof. Nami got off of him, and panted heavily as she sat down.

"Tell me next time when you are going to pull off a crazy stunt like that! That scared the heck out of me!" Nami said while Sanji was getting up.

"I'm sorry. Atleast we're safe." Sanji said.

"For now. How are we going to get down?" Nami asked while getting up. Before Sanji could answer, he saw a door that led inside the building.

"We can't have those guys coming here from there. Let's block that way first." Sanji said as he walked towards the door. He tried to find something the block the door, their was nothing on the roof he could use. "Hmm… we don't have much time."

"Sanji-kun, we better find a way down fast." Nami said.

"Yes, I know." Sanji said as he looked at Nami from behind his shoulder, "There must be a ladder, or separate route we could… !?" Sanji's eyes widened as he saw something fly up from behind the edge of the building as it headed down towards Nami. "Nami-san, watch out!!"

"Huh!?" Nami quickly looked behind her shoulder, and saw none other than Vamp, heading down towards her with his combat knife ready to stab her.

"Nami-san!" Sanji quickly ran to Nami, and pushed her out of the way as Vamp managed to give a cut across Sanji's shoulder.

"Gyergh!!"

"Sanji-kun!" Nami shouted worryingly as they both fell on the floor. Vamp landed on his feet as then he slowly stood straight, looking at the blood that was on his combat knife. He licked the blood off his knife clean as he looked towards the duo.

"We meet again…" Vamp said as Sanji got on his feet, and faced towards Vamp. "How foolish of you to come into this place without thinking of the consequences."

"You…" Sanji said bitterly, "How the hell did you get up here?"

"I ran." Vamp replied with a smirk, "Running up the wall was so much faster than taking the elevator."

"He ran up the wall!? That's impossible! This building is completely vertical, there was no way he could have just ran all the way up here. He is not human…" Nami thought nervously. Vamp could smell how Nami was feeling, which was pleasing for him.

"Ahh, the smell of fear is such a great aroma. I never get tired of it." Vamp said, "It's almost the same smell I picked up right before I had my arms around such a delicate figure."

"You shut your mouth!!" Sanji yelled furiously as he charged at Vamp, "I won't let you frighten Nami-san!"

"Such determination…" Vamp said as Sanji swung his leg at him. The kick did not connect, however, as Vamp ducked under it. Sanji then tried to slam his foot down at Vamp's skull, but Vamp was just to flexible as he moved his upper body back as Sanji kicked the ground hard. Vamp then did a somersault, kicking Sanji under his chin as he got knocked up high into the air.

"Sanji-kun!" Nami yelled worryingly as Vamp took out some combat knifes, and threw them at Sanji while he was in midair. Sanji quickly recovered, and kicked the knifes away as he headed down towards Vamp.

"BROCHETTE!" Sanji faced one leg down as he span like a drill towards Vamp. Vamp quickly dodged as Sanji kicked the floor while Vamp moved along the ground while spinning in circles on one foot. As he was spinning, he was throwing more combat knives at Sanji, who kicked them into the air to defend himself. Before the knifes could fall to the floor, Sanji kicked them back to Vamp, who was able to dodge all of them without even moving from the spot he was on.

After avoiding the last knife, Vamp slowly faced towards Sanji, and bowed down to him. Sanji glared at him as he their appeared to be no scratch on Vamp, but he was proven wrong as there was a small cut on Vamp's cheek he got from one of the knives he dodged.

Vamp was a little surprised as he stood back up, and looked at Sanji with a smirk. "You really want to protect that girl, dont you?" He asked, "It's been awhile since I have seen such a man with great strength. This should be very interesting."

"Get out of my sight!" Sanji yelled as he charged at Vamp again.

Meanwhile…

The helicopters flew around the transmission tower as Snake took out his assault rifle, while Usopp nervously took out his slingshot. "How are we going to deal with these guys!?" Usopp asked.

"Taking them down isn't the problem!" Snake said as he then looked at Robin, "Robin, make sure you don't knock the helicopters into any buildings, we don't want to cause any more attention."

"Understood!" Robin said.

"Oh, and we are going to need atleast one helicopter intact, so after we get rid of two of them, we're taking the last one for a ride!" Snake said.

"What!? We are going to steal one!?" Chopper asked.

"It's our only way out of this place!" Snake said as one of the helicopters faced towards the group.

"Die!" Yelled the pilot as he fired a missile at the group.

"Get down!" Snake yelled as everyone ducked as the missile went into the transmission room, and…

BOOOOOM!

The transmission room exploded, killing the two people inside. Luckily for Snake and his team, they were still okay as they got back on their feet.

"What are they doing!? Don't they care about this place!?" Usopp asked.

"Bunch of rookies…" Snake said as he then fired at the helicopter with his assault rifle. The helicopter backed away as it got fired at, while another helicopter flew above the tower as a guard aimed at the group over the ledge.

"Usopp, there is one up there!" Chopper yelled.

"Huh!?" Usopp looked up, and saw the guard in the helicopter. "HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a flaming pellet at the guard, hitting him in the face as he then screamed in agony. The pilot that was with the guard switched the helicopter into automatic pilot as he got out of his seat, and tried to help his comrade out.

"DOS FLEUR!" Two hands appeared below the guard and the pilot's feet, and flipped them off the helicopter, and all the way down to the ocean floor. Snake them aimed for the empty helicopter, and fired at it with his assault rifle until it exploded, and crashed into the ocean.

"One down." Snake said as he faced towards the other helicopters. The helicopter that fired the missile earlier flew towards the group while firing multiple bullets from it's turret. Snake and his team ducked for cover as the helicopter flew over them, and over the tower. They got back on their feet as the same helicopter was going back at them from behind. "Tsk!" Snake got out his socom, and fired a single bullet at the helicopter without even looking.

The bullet he shot went right through the windshield of the helicopter, and right into the pilot's forehead, killing him as the helicopter crashed right into the tower's midsection, giving severe damage to the tower as it was about to collapse.

"Have you gone insane!? You have led us to our doom!!" Usopp yelled.

"Not yet!" Snake said as he saw the last helicopter coming to them. "That's our ticket out of here! Robin!"

"I understand! DOS FLEUR!" Robin sprouted two arms out of the pilot as he forced him to fly closer to the tower. Once it was really close enough, Snake leaped off the balcony edge, and reached towards the ledge of the helicopter. He successfully grabbed on to the ledge of the helicopter as he was about to pull himself up, until a guard inside aimed at him with his rifle.

"HISSATSU KETCHUP BOSHI!" Usopp fired a pellet at the guard's face, which splattered into ketchup upon impact. Before the guard could wipe the ketchup off his face, Snake got in the helicopter, and kicked the guard out as he fell into the ocean floor. The arms on the pilot disappeared as he was about to grab his gun, but Snake aimed for his head.

"Don't even think about it." Snake said as he then looked back to his team, "Hurry, get on!"

"Oh, yeah right! It's too far to jump from here!" Usopp yelled. The tower was starting to lose it's balance by the second as Robin jumped from the balcony as Snake reached for her hand, and pulled her in. She then sprouted some hands from beneath the ledge of the helicopter.

"I'll catch you if you fall." Robin said. This didn't make Usopp and Chopper feel any better as they looked at eachother.

"Well, Chopper… you go first!" Usopp said.

"Huh!?" Chopper asked in shock, "Um… okay!" Chopper turned into his walk point, and galloped before leaping off the balcony, and right into the helicopter. He then changed back into his original self as he panted heavily.

"Usopp, get over here now!" Snake yelled furiously.

"Okay, you don't need to tell me twice!" Usopp said as he then took a deep breath, but as soon as the tower was now going to fall, he instantly jumped forward with his eyes closed. "I am going to make it!" Usopp said to himself as he opened, only to see that he was inches away from grabbing the ledge. Sadly, he didn't grab it. "WHOOOOOOOOAAAAAAAA!!"

As Usopp was falling down, the rope of arms beneath the helicopter grabbed him by the front of his brown overalls. Snake forced the pilot to fly away from the tower as it finally collapsed into rubble, creating a big dust cloud in the process. Usopp sighed in relief as Snake looked down at him from the helicopter.

"There is not enough room for you in here! You have to stay there for a while. And whatever you do, don't look down!" Snake said.

"Stay here!? Are you kidding me!?" Usopp said angrily until he stopped shaking. "Wait… down?" He looked down to see how far he was from the ground. "WHOOOOOOAAAAAAAAAA!! PULL ME UP!! PULL ME UP!! PULL ME UP!!"

Snake ignored Usopp's cries as he faced towards Chopper and Robin. "Okay, we have a helicopter, but only for a short time. We need to dispose of this thing, and get back to the base."

"We're not going to take this with us?" Chopper asked.

"This thing is too big, and is already causing alot of attention. If we bring it along with us now, they will find us with ease." Snake said. He then looked at the open ledge, and took out his binoculars. "There doesn't seem to be much going on right now, but that wont be for long."

"How do we dispose of this?" Robin asked.

"We'll sink this thing, along with the helicopters we took down earlier." Snake said, "But we need to do it right, or we're dead."

"Oh, that sounds scary…" Chopper said nervously. He then picked up a familiar scent. "Hey, Nami and Sanji are around here!"

Snake looked through his binoculars, and saw Nami and Sanji on the rooftop, with Sanji fighting with Vamp. "Damn, things have gotten more complicated!" Snake said as he then looked at the pilot. "Take us over there, or else. Trust me, you don't want to find out what the 'else' is."

The pilot nodded nervously as he flew the helicopter towards the north part of the island, with Usopp still screaming his lungs out from being held in midair.

Back on the rooftop, Sanji was trying to land a kick on Vamp, but it was very difficult since Vamp was so quick on his feet. "Aren't you tired of this yet?" Vamp asked while avoiding another kick, "All this kicking is starting to bore me."

"Don't worry; I'll knock the boredom out of your ugly face!" Sanji said as he swung his leg horizontally at Vamp, who backflipped to dodge, and countered by throwing another combat knife at Sanji, who kicked it away, and was about to counter, until he saw Vamp dashing at him with great speed while holding another combat knife.

"Hiya!" Vamp lunged at Sanji, who quickly did a reverse handstand, and blocked Vamp's arms with his feet, preventing Vamp from stabbing him. They tried to push eachother off as none seemed to be making any progress. "Don't fight back! It's your fate to get killed by me!"

"The hell with that!" Sanji muttered while pushing Vamp back.

Nami could only watch the battle go on, wondering if Sanji could really win. "I don't know what to do…" Nami said. She then saw the door of the rooftop bursting open as a couple of guards arrived at the scene. "Ah, come on!" Nami got on her feet, and took out her PCT.

Suddenly, the guards got shot by a grenade launcher from above as they were blown away dead. Nami looked behind her, and saw the helicopter Snake and his team were on as it was approaching the rooftop. "Snake!" Nami yelled in relief.

"Sanji! Kick him away!" Snake shouted as he readed his assualt rifle. Sanji nodded, and mustered all his strength to push Vamp away, and back on his feet. Vamp looked at the helicopter as Snake aimed at him.

"RAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAGGHHHHHH!!" Snake fired repeatedly at Vamp, shooting almost every single part of Vamp's body. Vamp staggered all the way back to edge behind the building as Snake fired one last shot at Vamp's forehead.

"!!" Vamp fell off the building, with numerous of bullet holes all over his body. Sanji got up on his feet, and panted while looking at the direction Vamp fell.

"Nami! Sanji! Hurry and grab on to Robin's sprouted hands!" Chopper yelled as the helicopter flew above the rooftop, and lowered it enough for Nami and Sanji to hold on. Nami saw the unconscious Usopp, but ignored him as he looked at Sanji.

"Sanji, come on!" Nami yelled. Sanji came back to his senses, and looked back at Nami.

"Yeah… sorry." Sanji said as he and Nami climbed up Usopp, and held on to the rope of sprouted arms. The helicopter then flew away from the building before more guards could arrive. Nami and Sanji avoided looking down as the helicopter was heading towards the southwestern part of the island.

"You guys okay down there!?" Snake asked from above the ledge.

"How are we suppose to be okay!? You never told us how to get out building, you idiot!" Nami snapped.

"Yeah, they're fine." Snake said.

"Thank goodness…" Chopper said, "Now, how do we go back to the base without getting caught?"

Suddenly, they saw somebody falling from their height level as he fell down past Nami, Usopp, and Sanji before activating his parachute. Snake and Chopper blinked in confusion as they looked back inside the helicopter to see no pilot.

"The pilot jumped off." Robin said.

"Yeah, we just saw that. Thanks for watching him, Robin!" Snake said sarcastically as he head for the controls, while Chopper was feeling scared.

In the southwestern part of the island, Zoro and Franky watched how the helicopter was heading towards their direction. "Oi, isn't that the guys in there!?" Franky asked.

"This is bad!" Zoro said with an shocked look.

Snake moved the controls towards which the helicopter would aim towards the ocean, and quickly got on the ledge of the helicopter. "We're getting off!" Snake said as he was climbing down the rope of hands. Chopper and Robin soon followed him, as Usopp was regaining consciousness.

"Oh… is it over?" Usopp asked dazedly. He then looked down to see that he was getting closer to the ground. "YIKES!!" Usopp quickly climbed up the rope of arms, and joined the others. "What's going on around here!?"

"When I say go, we jump!" Snake said. This shocked everyone, but decided not to question as they got ready to do what Snake said. "Ready!? Go!!"

Everyone jumped off the rope of hands before they disappeared as Nami, Usopp, and Chopper crashed into Zoro, while everyone else rolled on to their feet. The helicopter then made a crash landing on the ground as it skidded right through the guard rail, and into the rocky shores of the ocean.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOMM!!

The helicopter exploded as everyone sighed in relief, while Zoro and Franky had no idea what just happened. "Get off of me!" Zoro yelled while shoving Nami, Usopp, and Chopper off of him, "What were you guys doing!?"

"It wasn't us! It's all this guy's crazy ideas that got us into this!" Usopp said skeptically angry about what happened.

"Come on! We need to get back in the base before someone shows up!" Snake yelled. They all ran to the southwest corner, and went down the stairs as Snake held his ear. "Otacon, open the door! We're coming in!"

They ran through the hall, and through the hidden doors until they were finally back into the hidden base, where Otacon approached them.

"You made it!" Otacon said, "I'm glad to see you all okay." Nobody said a thing as the door closed. Otacon was confused for the silence. "Did something happen? Where's Luffy?"

"I rather not talk about that…" Snake panted while sitting on a rotating chair.

"What do you mean!?" Nami asked as she was about to confront Snake, but Sanji stopped her by grabbing her shoulder. She looked at him as he shook his head. They all remained quiet, trying to sink in everything that just happened. They were all thinking about Luffy, trying to avoid thinking what might have happened to him.

"Snake…" Zoro began to say, "There is something we need to know."

"Hmm?"

Episode 5: Sanji

Snake: This guy looks tough…

Otacon: That's Sanji. He is the cook of the Strawhat pirates. He is a pretty tough guy. He mastered an martial art called the Red Leg, which consists of only using your legs in combat. There is not a thing that can slow him down… except for one thing.

Snake: Which is what?

Otacon: He is a ladies man, and when I mean a ladies man, I definitely mean a ladies man. Every time he sees he a beautiful woman, his personality changes into some goofy lover boy. He would never lay a finger on a woman, no matter what.

Snake: If this guy would have faced Sniper Wolf, he would be dead by now.

Otacon: It's like he has two personalities. If he hadn't had that big thing with the ladies, he would be invincible.

Snake: Good thing he isn't gay, or he would probably come after me.

Otacon: Why would he go after you?

Snake: Why wouldn't he? Just look at me; who doesn't want to be with a guy like me?

Otacon: Probably everyone.

Snake:…

Metal Gear Pt 9

Finally here with the next chapter. This one has a lot of talking in it, but the very important part is the last part of the chapter. Enjoy!

5 hours until deadline. The explosion of the warehouse caught everyone by surprise. The Strawhat crew wanted to believe that Luffy survived the explosion, but they had no proof to back that up. After going through some havoc, everyone was able to regroup, and hide back in the base until the island calms down. Meanwhile, Zoro has some things to ask Snake. What he is going to ask?

Chapter 92: The sorrowful truth, the 3rd and final phase

There was a slight pause when Zoro said that he wanted to ask Snake something. "You need to ask me something, huh?" Snake asked while looking at Zoro. "Well, that's going to have to wait. We need to get some things out of the way first."

"That's right." Otacon said while sitting on a rotating chair, "We need to know every single that has happen to you guys during the 2nd phase."

"I don't want to talk about what happened to us…" Usopp said, trying to forget what has happened to him during the mission.

"Nami-san and I were able to get the disc that you wanted, but we couldn't find the cardkey." Sanji said.

"Here is the disc." Nami said as she handed the disc to Otacon.

"Perfect. I'll get to work on this right away." Otacon said. He then moved with the rotating chair to a computer, and inserted the disc.

"What about the cardkey?" Sanji asked.

"Ocelot must have planned ahead, so he must have gave it to someone who wouldn't lose it. Someone trustworthy." Snake said, "We'll figure who has it later.

"Anyway, we put the keys in a trashcan just a couple of feet from that warehouse." Franky said, "But if we were going to come back here in the first, why put it there?"

"The keys that belong to a certain vehicle has a transmitter, which will go off if it's atleast 100 feet from it's assigned vehicle. Therefore, leaving the keys close to the vehicle where we can get later on was the only option." Otacon said while typing, "I will explain what to do with that vehicle later on."

"Otacon, we found some Metal Gear RAYS inside Arsenal." Snake said, "They still look to be in top condition."

"As suspected." Otacon said, "If we stop the launch in time, we won't have to deal with those."

"They were really big and scary." Chopper explained, "I have never seen something like that in my life."

"It's like they were some giant monsters…" Usopp said while shivering, "If something like those things could cause so much destruction, I don't even want to imagine what this Arsenal thing is like from the outside."

"Is that all you guys saw?" Sanji asked.

"Yeah… pretty much it." Snake said. He briefly looked at Robin, who looked at the ground sadly. Snake sighed as he took out a cigarette. "The guards outside must be in full alert after that crash landing, so will stay put in here for a little while until things cool down."

"Right… if it's okay with you, can I ask you my question now?" Zoro asked a bit impatiently. Snake looked at him as they stared at eachother.

"Sure, whatever. What do you need to know?" Snake asked as he looked at the ground. Zoro was a little quiet, but he then was able to start talking.

"A couple of minutes ago, we met Solidus, the guy you said he was not your brother." Zoro said. Most of the crew was a little shocked to hear that. Snake didn't say anything upon hearing this, though. "What we heard from him is that he says that he IS your brother. Normally, I wouldn't believe him, but he looks exactly like you. He has the same facial features, and he seemed to know you pretty well."

"…" Snake kept quiet.

"And when we asked before that if he was related to you, you replied rather quickly and bitterly. It's like you were hiding something at the time. I could care less about you, but after all the things that happened here so far, it seems that you are not telling us everything about yourself or this place. I know it's none of my business, but if you really want us to help you in your mission, you should tell what really is going on around here."

The room was a bit silent again for a couple of moments. "What are you saying, Zoro?" Chopper asked curiously, "Snake is just trying to stop this thing in order to save many people from getting killed, and he is also trying to help us get the heart. Snake helped us alot during this night, their is no way he is not helping, right Snake?"

Snake kept silent before he looked up to Zoro, "Did I really sounded all that bitter?" Snake asked. Chopper blinked in confusion as Usopp was surprised to hear Snake say that.

"Wait, so there is more to this!?" Usopp asked, "If there is, then why hide it!?"

"It's hard to explain, really." Snake said.

"Explain it to us anyway. We have time to spare." Sanji said. Snake looked at the crew, who looked back at him, waiting for an answer. Snake then looked at Otacon, who looked to behind his shoulder to nod before looking back at the computer. Snake then sighed as he then smoked his cigarette.

"Okay… I guess there is no point in hiding it now." Snake said, "This whole operation is a little bigger than you think." Snake then looked up at the ceiling, "Solidus is somewhat related to me… you can even say that were twins, or in this case… copies of the real thing."

"Wha? What do you mean by copies?" Franky asked.

"I mean that we're clones of the original Snake." Snake said. The crew was really confused upon hearing this. "You might not understand this, but in a long time ago, there was a project known as 'Les Enfants Terribles' project. It's main aim was to create genetically enhanced clones of a great soldier known as Big boss."

"Big boss?" Nami asked, "So you're saying that you are copy of this guy? I dont really understand…"

"From what I heard, when Big Boss was in a coma, the government took advantage to take a DNA sample from him in order to begin the project. In the project, one of the clones have to carry Big Boss' dominant genes, the other one with recessive genes, and the last one with a perfect balance between the two genes." Snake said, "… I have the recessive genes, and Solidus has the perfect balance between the two."

"Who has the dominant genes?" Robin asked.

"-sigh-… A man by the name of Liquid Snake." Snake said, "I confronted with him during the Shadow Moses incident. He is physically dead, but he is still alive in there…"

"Wh-What do you mean?" Usopp asked.

"Nevermind… it'll just bring more confusion to you guys." Snake said.

"So let me get this straight." Franky began to say, "You are a copy of the Big Boss guy, right? What happened to him?"

"I killed him." Snake replied, "Lot of things happened… don't ask." There was some silence in the room afterwards. All this info was a little too complicated for the Strawhat crew to understand.

"It must be really hard on you then." Robin said, breaking the silence, "Created by the government, yet having no real family at all."

"I was raised by many people." Snake said, "I really didn't care much of who I am and where I belong. Before I knew all this, I just thought I was a typical soldier, doing my duty to protect this country. Now, I became more than just a soldier. I have stopped many terrorists acts in the past, destroying many enemies, and Metal Gears along the way."

"That's a good thing, Snake." Chopper said, "You helped so many people from dying before, I don't see why you are not happy being a hero."

"I'm no hero… never was… I am just a soldier hired to do some wet work." Snake said depressingly. "Anyway, do to being some genetic clone, I age faster than any other human being. For all I know, I could die in the next few weeks, or in a couple of hours, probably even in a couple of minutes even. I have many things to do, and I don't have enough time left."

"Don't talk like that, Snake." Nami said, "I know this isn't any of my business, but you should wake up, and take this like a man. You sound like some whiny two-year old, and it's making me feel sick!"

"If you are trying to make me feel better, don't." Snake replied, "Besides, you might not want to after what you are about to hear from me."

"I don't like the sound of that…" Usopp said nervously.

"This whole mission… I haven't been really honest with you all, but theie is a little more to it than you think." Snake said, "Remember the part when I said that Arsenal will strike Manhattan island? That was not entirely true."

"It's not?" Sanji asked, "Then what is it all about? It couldn't be more than just an attack, could it?"

"It is." Snake said, "What Ocelot has in mind is not to kill, but to get the attention of the american people."

"That's it?" Zoro asked, "What would they get on grabbing people's attention?"

"The ability to give people motivation to fight for their country." Snake said, "If Manhattan island was really destroyed, the patriots would lose some of it's greatest powers. Their aim is not to destroy anything, but to make the people think that somebody else is… and they will do this by launching some low-class cluster bombs into one of Manhattan's downtown areas, since they have no use for those places. People would think it would be some sort of terrorist attack, forcing the president to take some action about it."

"But you are not sure of that. I mean, they could have other options to do rather to fight back." Usopp said. "It's not all about fighting, you know?"

"I know, but this isnt the case." Snake said, "The patriots know every single thing this country has and doesn't have. You know why? Because, the patriots are the people who decide what will happen to this country. They get to decide who will be president, they get to decide to stop terrorism, they get to decide on how every single person's lifestyle will be."

"Is that really possible to have that much power!?" Usopp asked. "But wait, if what you say is true, then what about the things Ocelot-"

"He lied." Snake said, "The reason for that is because the soldiers that are working for him are nothing more than a bunch of mercenaries. Those guys have no idea that they are nothing but pawns to the Patriots' game. The Patriots are simply testing their abilities, seeing who is capable of war, and who isn't. They get to decide who does what, and who dies in the end."

"That's terrible…" Chopper said in shock.

"These patriot guys are getting on my nerves…" Franky said irritably.

"They are capable of doing almost everything. They even knew I was going to come here, so they must have planned out something to get rid of me." Snake said, "They know all my moves, and I was afraid that I might get caught in one of their tricks. Otacon and I were a little stumped on what to do… that is, until you guys showed up."

"Us?" Nami asked curiously.

"Other than getting some information from those two rulers, the Patriots had no idea of your existence." Snake said, "I know that because everything has been going so smoothly so far, and the fact that Ocelot doesn't seem to approve much of this, which is a bit funny. The Patriots no very little of you, and cannot tell what kind of tactics you will do that might stop them."

"And that's why we have been alive this far? Because of a bunch of dead people doesn't know us?" Usopp asked.

"Exactly." Snake said, "Thanks to you all, moving around this island has been much more easier. I could tell what was out of place, what to expect from the enemy…" Snake then looked away from the crew, "… what kind of traps that I should avoid…"

This brought the Strawhat crew's attention even more, but not in a good way. "What are trying to say?" Franky asked. Snake then looked back at the crew.

"I'm saying that… I… sorta knew that the weapon warehouse would blow up." Snake said. This immediately caused everyone to back away from Snake. They could not believe what they just heard.

"You knew that place was going to explode!?" Usopp asked angrily, "And you put Luffy in there while knowing what was going to happen!?"

"Calm down!" Snake replied, "I said that I sorta knew. I didn't know for sure that place was going to explode. I told you all that back on that tower."

"That's right! All those things you said in the tower! When you said that you will die protecting this world from war, I bet that was load of garbage! You have been using us this whole time!" Usopp yelled.

"We trusted you! I thought you really meant all the things you said back there!" Chopper cried.

"I did!" Snake replied loudly, "What I didn't know is that this was going to happen. I was really sure-"

"Luffy trusted you!" Nami interrupted, "He believed every single word you said about the launch! And now…" Nami felt like she was about to cry as she quickly looked away from Snake.

"We cant really blame you for what you did." Zoro said. Everyone looked at him in confusion.

"Zoro, he used us! How can you say that!?" Usopp asked.

"I can understand what he did, and we didn't have much of a choice but to accept, whether we liked it or not." Zoro said, "The reason he didn't tell us all this before was because he only wanted us to know the basics of this mission. If he would have told us everything from the start, there could have been a chance that one of us might lose their focus just thinking about this whole thing. He was only trying to make us feel less uncomfortable with this whole Patriot thing going on."

"That about sums it up." Snake said. "I hope you understand that I really didn't wanted anybody to sacrifice themselves. I really do want to help you get the heart, because I rather see it on your hands than on Ocelot's.

"I don't know whether to believe you or not this time…" Sanji said. Snake then got up from his chair.

"Listen, if the launch succeeds, the Patriots will have the president to assign military notices to almost all the people in the country, enlisting them to join the army. It will give the U.S. a powerful military force that nobody has ever seen before. This will spread news all over the world, thinking that the U.S. might be ready for some of kind of war. After that is announced, Arsenal will do the same procedure to other countries, only this time, their will be tons of casualties. The blame would go to the U.S., and the rest of the countries will issue a counter attack against America." Snake said with a serious look.

Robin eyes widened in fear as Snake continued. "The Patriots will get their fun seeing many people fight eachother, and they will do everything they can to lead America to victory against the other countries. And once they do that, they will control everything this world has."

The crew got very silent after hearing all this as Snake sighed. "Well… I told you everything there is to know. Now you might understand why I don't have much hope for this world. Protecting it or not, it will all end up in the same result."

"All that after tonight? I can't believe something like this would happen…" Usopp said nervously.

"And we are your last shot to stop all this?" Franky asked, "Hmm… well, I'm in. I hate to see how this world will turn out if we leave it like this."

"I don't want to see people getting hurt. I am going to help out too." Chopper said confidently.

"Well, I don't care about clones or whatever, we need that heart to get out of here, so count us in again." Nami said. Everyone else nodded, which made Snake smirk a bit.

"Good. Now that this whole thing is out of the picture, let's get back to the mission." Snake said as he then looked at Otacon, "Otacon, are you done looking at the info in that disc."

"Yep, and with this information, we'll be able to finish the mission in no time." Otacon said. He then printed out something, and walked towards the crew. "Okay, it's time for the final phase of this mission. It's time to get that heart, and stop Arsenal Gear from attacking Manhattan."

"Great! What's the plan?" Franky asked.

"Okay, first, I need some volunteers to head towards the safe area, and get the heart using these instructions I have right here." Otacon said while showing the paper he printed out earlier.

"Ow! I'll be going there, bro!" Franky said energetically.

"Hold on! It's my job to get the treasure of this place, so I'll be going too." Nami said.

"Nami-san is going!? Then I have to go along too!" Sanji demanded.

"I'm sorry, Sanji, but we need atleast two people to go. Besides, we have alot more to do than getting the heart." Otacon said. Sanji didn't approve, but decided to drop it as Otacon walked towards Franky. "While you guys were out there, I was researching on how to open the safe. If my calculations are correct, then these instructions will help you open that safe for sure."

Otacon handed the instructions to Franky. As soon as he read the instructions, he was a little confused and surprised. "This is it!? This is how you open that safe!?"

"It may not be much, but I'm sure that's how you open it." Otacon replied.

"Let me see that." Nami said as she looked at the instructions Franky was holding. "You're kidding me. This the most stupidest thing I have ever read."

"If Otacon says that is the way to open the safe, then it is. Quit whining about it." Snake said.

"Anyway, while they head for the safe, all of you need to head towards the northwest part of the island, and head towards the bridge that is connected to a big mountain pillar. On the top, there is a strong helicopter we could use." Otacon explained.

"More helicopters?" Chopper asked.

"I believe there were only seven helicopters in this place." Snake said, "Five of them are destroyed…"

"Make that six." Zoro said, "Solidus destroyed one before we got away from him."

"That only leaves one helicopter, and it should be Ocelot's ride." Snake said, "It won't take off without him, and the pilot is always there with it, so it should still be there, but it will be heavily guarded, not to mention the how time consuming it will be to get all the way up there by foot."

"Not all of you will be going." Otacon said, "Within every 30 minutes, there will be a cargo truck taking some food supplies to that heliport area. If somebody could hitch a ride on one of the trucks, and take the long way ride there, he could finish off the guards, and secure the heliport area with the helicopter. But the person needs to be really strong to pull this off."

"In that case, I'll do it." Zoro said, "If it's a heavily guarded place as you say it is, then it should be a challenge for me."

"Okay, then." Otacon said, "Make sure you contact me when you get there. Don't attack anybody until I call you back."

"Fine." Zoro said bluntly.

"Don't forget, Otacon, that we need to know if Luffy survived that explosion or not." Snake said.

"Yes, of course." Otacon said, "If Luffy were to survive that warehouse explosion, he would have been taken to Ocelot's torture room."

"Torture room!? I can't imagine how he would survive there!" Usopp gasped.

"Poor Luffy…" Chopper cried.

"The torture room is located inside Arsenal Gear. If Luffy did survive that explosion, I need someone to go through a hatch around the northwest part of the island to go, and rescue him."

"I'll do that." Sanji said, "I'll get him out of that room, and get rid of anyone who stands in my way."

"Fine. Once you go in Arsenal, head southwest until you get into one of Arsenal's Metal Gear hangers. There should be a door to the corner next to you. That is where the torture room is, and Luffy as well."

"I have a little suggestion." Snake said, "I volunteer Usopp and Chopper to go the cargo building on the west part of the area."

"WHAT!?" Usopp and Chopper asked simultaneously. Usopp then gave a skeptical glare as he pushed his nose against Snake's cheek. "Why would you put us there by ourselves!? It was dangerous enough to go out there, but without you, will die for sure!"

Snake then took out what appeared to be some spray with a trigger. "This is a cooler. When you see a thing that is beeping, and flashing, that is bomb waiting to explode. If you see one of those, I want you to freeze them with this."

Usopp blinked in confusion as he took the spray. "Is our job suppose to stop bombs or what?" Usopp asked.

"Not exactly. The person responsible for that explosion should still be around that area. If I'm right, then he should be on that building, trying to blow that one up too." Snake said

"And you want us to take care of him!? Are you mad!?" Usopp asked.

"This guy has already been a thorn to our side, so taking care of him is essential here. I know what you can do, and I am sure that your abilities can stop a guy like him." Snake replied. Usopp and Chopper gulped in fear as Usopp hugged the cooling spray tightly. "But wait, Otacon, if Nami and Franky are going to the safe, shouldn't there be a way to deactivate the security system there?"

"Yes and no. You see, we can turn off the sensors and barrier, but their is no way to stop the Gekko from activating, or the electrical ceiling from closing." Otacon said while adjusting his glasses.

"How do you expect us to get away with the heart then!?" Nami asked.

"I'll get to that. Right now, I need to explain how to deactivate a part of the security system." Otacon said, "There is a generator in Arsenal, which links to the security system in the safe area. If we destroy the links supporting the generator, it will create an electromagnetic shockwave, which will deactivate the sensors, and the barrier around the safe. It will also disable the electric roof for a couple of minutes."

"Why couldn't we just destroy the generator?" Franky asked.

"If the generator were to be destroyed, it will cause the safe area to explode, taking out an enormous center portion of the island. The explosion might destroy the safe, and the heart with it, not only that, but it might kill you two if you were there."

"Eek! I didn't expected that…" Nami shivered.

"So, we are going to need one more person to enter Arsenal through another hatch, and destroy the links supporting the generator." Otacon said. Only one person raised her hand, and it was Robin.

"Robin-chwan!?" Sanji gasped

"I will go… I want this to end as soon as possible. I want to prevent this launch at all costs." Robin said. Snake smirked as Sanji disapproved.

"Robin-chwan, you can't go there by yourself! You'll get-"

"Cook-san, please. I want to stop this. There is nothing you could say that would change my mind." Robin said with a serious look. Sanji just looked at Robin, but didn't say anything as he just looked away.

"Robin, once you destroy the links, escape through the hatch in the northwestern part of the island, and wait there." Otacon said, "Snake and I will take the number 24 vehicle using the keys Zoro and Franky placed in the trashcan just outside of here. Will pick you, and the others up while we head towards the heliport area on the mountain pillar."

"So lets review." Snake began to say, "Nami and Franky will go to the safe area. There is a chance that Raven is there, so you two must defeat him. I'm very sure that he has the cardkey that was suppose to be in Ocelot's office, so take it from him, and enter the safe area with it."

"Ow! You can count on us!" Franky said while doing his victory pose, while Nami just sighed.

"Once you're there, wait until Robin destroy the links of security system. After that, then you could get to the safe, but don't open until I give you the call." Snake then looked at the others, "While this is happening, I will take you to the northwest part of the island, and leave you guys do what you are suppose. Zoro, you hitch a ride in a cargo truck to get to the heliport area; Usopp and Chopper, you two head to the cargo building to deal with the bomber; Sanji, get inside the hatch to get Luffy, And Robin, I will tell you which hatch to go in when we get back outside."

"Once we are all in position, Snake will come back for me, and will take the vehicle in the warehouse. Will drive around the center of the island to the northwestern part of the island. Most of you guys should be done with your duties there, so will pick you up along the way to the heliport area on the mountain top.

"Once there, we'll take the helicopter, and fly above the safe area. Will pick up anyone who we haven't picked up earlier using a rope ladder, and then will pick up Nami and Franky, who should have the heart by then, and help them escape before the electrical roof closes." Snake explained, "After all that… you guys get back to your ship, and use the heart to get to the next world."

This brought confusion to the others. "Wait a minute. What about you two?" Chopper asked. Snake looked down at the ground, avoiding eye contact.

"The rest should be easy for us. We'll find a way to stop Arsenal like last time, so don't worry about us." Snake said.

"I thought we were in this together!" Chopper said, "We can't just leave you guys here alone! You'll-"

"Chopper!" Zoro yelled loud enough to get Chopper's attention, "This isn't our business… If Snake and Otacon have done sort of thing before, then this wont be much different. With all the things we have done for them, they have had enough help already. They can take things from here if they want. Whether to live or die; this is their wish."

Chopper just didn't understand as Snake looked at him. "Helping you guys made me realize that I am not only helping you, but helping a man that helped me gain an experience not just anybody could have. Master Hand showed me, and the rest of the smashers that there is more than just fighting for what is right, he showed us that there can be hope for everything you believe in. He made us into something I rarely have… a family. Whether we like or hate eachother, will always be there for one and another… and I will not let Ocelot take one of Master Hand's creations for his own purposes! I will stop him, and the launch even if it means dying! If I don't stop the launch, then I'll just be happy knowing that I was able to help out some strangers only wanting to get back home."

"Waaaaaaaaaaaaahhh!! You have such a pure soul, bro! Putting your life for others is so great, I cant stand it! Ahh! Idiots! I am not crying!!" Franky cried helplessly from hearing Snake's words. The crew felt a little happy hearing that from Snake as they seemed to regain their trust for him.

"Now… I think it has gotten quiet up there." Snake said as he took out his assault rifle. "Let's get this show on the road." Everyone nodded as they then started to leave the base. "Otacon, you wait here until I get back."

"Good luck out there, Snake." Otacon said as Snake faced to the door.

"It's show time!" Snake said as he then left with the Strawhat crew.

They were back outside as they went up the stairs, and back on the island. "Robin, if you head straight from here, there will be a hatch between two walls. It will lead you to the generator. Be careful, though, because it will take a long time to get there, and take care of some of guards if you see them."

"Understood." Robin said as she was about to go, until Snake grabbed her by the back of left shoulder.

"Oh, and um… good luck out there, even if you don't need it. With the way you sounded back there, I know you can do this." Snake said with smile.

Robin smiled kindly back at him as Snake lets go of her, allowing her to leave as she headed towards her destination. Sanji blinked in confusion before he looked at Snake angrily. "What were you trying to say to Robin!? You better not do that again!"

"Heh! Whatever." Snake replied with a smirk. He and the crew quickly ran west, and headed towards the eastern gate. "Get ready!" Snake readied his assault rifle as Franky flipped the switch on the wall to open the gate. The guards behind it saw it open as they Snake getting and the crew getting in.

"What the!? Fire!" Yelled a guard as they were about to fire on the crew, but Snake, Usopp, and Franky shot them all down before they could.

"You two know where to go! So get going!" Snake said to Nami and Franky.

"Come on, Girlie! Let's get that heart!" Franky said.

"Yeah, but don't call me Girlie!" Nami said. They both ran to the North gate, and flipped the switch on the wall next to it, causing it to open as they went through.

"Good luck, Nami-san!" Sanji yelled.

"Come on, you guys!" Snake said as he and the rest went past the west gate, and went running all the way to the western gate. They were able to get through without getting caught due to most of the soldiers being around the northwestern area, and the fact that the light towers around the west gate were destroyed in the previous chapters. They went through the open west gate, and quickly hid behind some cabins. Snake peeked over the wall of the cabin to his right, and saw the cargo building. "There is the place. You two ready?"

"Ugh, yeah! They don't call me 'Usopp, the bomber exterminator' for nothing." Usopp lied, "Let's go, Chopper!"

"Yes sir!" Chopper said happily as he and Usopp ran off to the building. Snake peeked over the wall to his left, and took out his directional microphone, which allows him to eavesdrop into conversation from far distances. He puts some headphones on, and listened into the conversation between the guards around the already extinguished fire from the explosion.

"Who could have done this?" Asked a guard.

"Don't know. Did anyone die in the explosion?"

"There wasn't any bodies. Atleast nobody was in here. Somebody could have died."

"There might have been someone here, but according to the boss, it was all a diversion to get the intruder."

"So this was planned from the start? I sure hate to be the guy under the boss' hands."

After hearing that, Snake puts his microphone away as he looked at Zoro and Sanji, "So it was a trick from the start."

"What did you hear?" Zoro asked.

"They said that nobody died in the explosion." Snake replied. "If that's true, then that must mean…"

Meanwhile…

In the torture room in Arsenal Gear, there was somebody was starting to regain consciousness. "Ooooooohhh… huh? Wha?" The person noticed that his arms and legs were cuffed onto a mechanical table. This person was none other than Monkey D. Luffy, who is, without a doubt, alive. For some reason, he was having a hard time staying awake as he could barely.

"Well, look who's awake."

The table Luffy was on suddenly moved into a vertical position, allowing Luffy to look at the person talking to him. It was none other than Revolver Ocelot, who seemed rather please seeing Luffy. "You must be one lucky kid." Ocelot said, "Too bad you were stupid enough to fall in one of my traps."

"Ooooh… you! I am gonna kick your… booty.. ugh…" Luffy said drowsily as some of his drool hanged from under his bottom lip.

"I knew somebody was bound to go into that warehouse to look for something important, that's why I came up with this little idea to get this person inside an empty room that was once there. The room actually had a trapdoor, which led you out of the warehouse, and into the ocean, where my men were waiting for your arrival. They told me that they had to get you out of the water because you lost consciousness the instant you fell in. They then took you right where you are." Ocelot explained.

"Blugh… I feel so sleepy… I can't even move my body that much…" Luffy said drowsily.

"That is because I injected with some anti-depression cells, which relaxes your body to the extent that you cant even move a muscle."

Luffy saw somebody walking to him in a hunched, shuffling manner. Luffy has never seen the man before, and the reason for that is because it was none other than MPNo. 5. "Hmm… so this is the captain of the pirates I have been hearing so much about." MPNo. 5 said, "I must say, I am rather disappointed. I expected much more of a tough looking man, but all I see here is some… retarded boy."

"Whath…?" Luffy asked drowsily. MPNo. 5 then pulled on Luffy's nose, which stretched. This amused MPNo. 5 as he lets go of Luffy's nose, which slapped Luffy in the face before going back to it's original form. "Oww!"

"Although, the body this boy has is very interesting. For being able to stretch his body parts like no other human being is simply astonishing. If only I could find the source of this power… ohh, I couldn't even imagine what this boy looks on the inside."

"Inside!? Who are you, crazy guy?" Luffy asked. MPNo. 5 looked back at him with a smuggish smirk.

"I guess it's suitable for me to introduce myself to the specimen." MPNo. 5 said. He is a slender middle-aged man with long black hair pulled back in a ponytail. He wore a white lab coat, with a white suit tucked inside his dark brown pants. He also wore black shoes, a black tie, and was also wearing round glasses. To put it simple, he looks like some sort of a mad scientist.

"My name shouldn't be hard for someone like you to remember, so listen well." MPNo. 5 said, "I am Professor Hojo. You will be my little test specimen for the evening. Ker ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!!

Episode 6: Tony Tony Chopper

Mei Ling: Awwww, how adorable!

Snake: What? This little raccoon thing?

Mei Ling: That's Tony Tony Chopper. He is the doctor of the Strawhat pirates. He had a pretty hard life when he was born. His own herd did not wanted to be around him just because he has a blue nose. Not even his own parents accepted him.

Snake: Lousy parenting…

Mei Ling: After he ate the Human Human fruit, he was kicked out of the herd, and was treated like a monster afterwards. The only person that helped him was Doctor Hiriluk, who only wanted to help cure a sickness the people from his country had thanks to selfish king known as Wapol. After Hiriluk's death, Chopper vowed that he would become a great doctor that would cure any disease possible.

Snake: The kid has some determination. He sounds okay with me.

Mei Ling: Originally, he has three forms, but he can have more forms by eating a Rumble Ball. It's a drug that allows to access other forms of varying human and reindeer proportions. Like he is able to jump into high distances, or grow his fur until he looks like a cute furball, or even make his muscles or horns grow.

Snake: So you're saying that this kid invented steroids?

Mei Ling: I guess you can put it that way.

Snake: Ugh… I can't imagine how he will be like if he would have used a Rumble Ball during his mating season.

Mei Ling: Oh, Snake…

Snake: What? It could happen.

4 hours until deadline. Snake explained the whole truth about himself, and The Patriot's true intentions. At first, the Strawhat crew were not pleased from what Snake said, but after a while, they understood he had no choice. After that, they began with the third and final phase of their mission to stop Arsenal. Meanwhile, Luffy appeared to be alive, but for how long after meeting with a certain nutjob?

Chapter 93: Luffy's alive!, The sadistic murderer

Luffy blinked in confusion as he once again tried to move his body, but the drug Hojo injected him earlier prevented him from doing so, not to mention that he was still strapped into the table.

"Don't even bother; you won't be able to get away after what I intend to do to you." Hojo said while adjusting his glasses.

"You're crazy, old… blah.." Luffy said dazedly.

"What do you have planned for him?" Ocelot asked.

"Well, if you must know…" Hojo began to say with a smirk, "I will start off by making an incision from the neck to the lower stomach. After that, I will open his stomach, and take a look at his organs. I will see if they are really elastic just like the outside of this retard's body."

"Heh! That will be quite a show to see." Ocelot said, "But I regret to inform you that we don't have any anesthesia to knock him out cold for this procedure."

Hojo looked at Ocelot with a confused look. "Why do I need anesthesia?" He asked, "I wont mind the screaming. I am a professional scientist here. I can handle anything whether the specimen is alive, dead, conscious, unconscious, or any other kind of status he or she is in. It's part of being a genius, you nimrod. Quit being so merciful."

"Ha! I only asked because some unfortunate people who torture usually end up suffering in the end. It is unlikely for that to happen to me, but I can see that it could happen to you in the future." Ocelot said with a smirk.

"Ker ha ha ha ha ha!" Hojo laughed as he looked at Ocelot, "Fool, I have been doing this for years. I don't see myself getting killed twice for that. Ker ha ha ha!" Hojo then looked back at the dazed Luffy. "And since this specimen has been quite troublesome lately, perhaps it's a better idea to cut his head open, and see if he really has a brain. If he does, I want to see how small it is!"

"Um… wouldn't you be killing him if you do that?"

Ocelot and Hojo looked behind their shoulders to see an ordinary guard, but didn't look all threatening despite wearing the same thing his comrades wore.

"Would that be a problem if I did?" Hojo asked a bit irritatedly while facing the guard.

"Well no, but…"

"What's your name?" Hojo asked while walking up to the guard.

"Oh! My name is Johnny. Johnny Sasaki." The guard known as Johnny said as he stood straight.

"Well, Johnny, if you have a problem with the way I do things, you don't have to be so formal about it. You could tell me straight in my face if you have a problem." Hojo said kindly.

"Um, okay." Johnny said, "You see, I think that-"

"I DON'T CARE WHAT YOU THINK, YOU RETARDED CHIMPANZEE!!" Hojo yelled furiously as he slapped Johnny at the back of his head, "Just stand here, shut up, and watch the genius do his work!! Understand!?"

"Ah! Yes sir!" Johnny said nervously while saluting. Hojo frowned at Johnny as he then looked away, and smiled as he looked at Luffy again.

"Now, then…" Hojo said while taking out a scalpel as the table Luffy was on positioned itself horizontally, "Let us begin our little operation, shall we?"

Before Hojo could do whatever he was about to do, a guard rushed into the room while panting heavily. "Sir! We have trouble on the surface!"

"Can't it wait? We're in the middle of something." Ocelot said.

"The transmission tower has been destroyed, the patrol helicopters are nowhere in sight, and their were two of those guys in your office earlier! It's pure mayhem outside! What are your orders, sir!?"

Ocelot didn't seem all that worried from what he just heard, but Hojo was rather upset that somebody interrupted his work as he looked at the guard.

"Why is it, Ocelot, that your men are so noisy during my work!?" Hojo asked as he walked up to the guard, "Anything else you would like to yell out that has nothing to do with this!?"

"Um… if we dont do something, this island could be destroyed?" the guard asked nervously.

"Grr… oh!?" Hojo's eyes widened as he just remembered something, "I forgot that I have to send my research data to the others. Ergh…" Hojo looked back at the dazed Luffy as he angrily walked towards him. "It seems that I must attend to my other duties… I will return, and deal with you later!"

Hojo then walked to the computers next to the table Luffy was on, and grabbed some of his research materials, and placed them inside a suitcase. "I will take everything with me just in case somebody tries to steal it while I'm gone. Ocelot, I expect that you keep this retard alive until I come back."

"I am not sure if I can promise that…" Ocelot said, which made Hojo feel more irritant. Hojo looked away as Luffy tried to get a good look at him before he leaves.

"Hey…" Luffy said dazedly, until all of a sudden, the table positioned itself vertically again as Luffy saw MPNo. 6 right in front of him.

"Good night, kid." MPNo. 6 said while pulling back his arm.

"Huh!? Your head is on fi-"

PUNCH!

"Guah!" MPNo. 6 punched Luffy in the stomach so hard, that it made him feel even more dazed than he was before.

"Was that really necessary?" Hojo asked.

"Haven't caused pain to others in a while, so give me a break." MPNo. 6 said.

"Whatever. We'll be right back, Ocelot. Make sure he doesn't escape." Hojo said. Hojo pushed the guard that was in his way as he and MPNo. 6 then left the room as they walked along a hanger, with Hojo carrying his suitcase with his research inside.

"Ergh…" MPNo. 6 stopped as he placed his hand up against a cargo, and panted heavily.

"Hmm?" Hojo looked at MPNo. 6 from behind his shoulder, and saw how tired MPNo. 6 looked, but he didnt care. "What's wrong with you now?"

"Ever since I have been revived… I havent killed one person. Not one!" MPNo. 6 yelled, "I dont know how long I can bare with this!"

"You sound as if killing was an addiction for you." Hojo said, "It's so pathetic to see you like this. You might as well drop dead for all I care."

"No… I wont die like that again…" MPNo. 6 said panting, "The only reason I haven't killed you, nor the others yet is that you are the only one who can help me get rid of this curse. It's pissing me off within every second you are wasting your time with other concerns, and not me!"

"I am not stupid. If I want to end my life in a cruel way, I'll help you with your curse. But now, we have more important matters to attend. So quit whining, and follow me, you big baby." Hojo said uncaring as he then walked away. MPNo. 6 glared at him as he then followed him out of the hanger.

Back in the torture room, Ocelot walked in front of Luffy, who panted heavily after getting hit in the gut. "You know.. you have been getting the attention of The Patriots lately." Ocelot said, "With you and your crew coming here, and ruining almost everything, The Patriots almost had enough of this little rebellion."

"Ugh?" Luffy looked up at Ocelot while drooling.

"If you continue on fighting like this, The Patriots will have their eyes set on you, and trust me, you don't want that to happen." Ocelot said, "Speaking of which, I heard that the warehouse you were in exploded. To tell the truth, I did not plan that at all, but it must have made your crew believe that you are dead, and yet, they continue to fight. You really have a strong-willed crew, Strawhat."

"They… won't give up… they are my crew! They won't… ugh.." Luffy said dazedly until he was out of breath.

"Right… they even got into my office." Ocelot said, "There is only one reason why they would go there, and I know what it is." Ocelot then looked at the guard and Johnny. "You, tell the others to go on red alert. If you see the pirates, or that carrier boy, kill them!"

"Yes sir!" The guard said before he left. Ocelot then pushed a button on the table, which caused the straps on the table to open, dropping Luffy on the ground.

"And you… put him in the cell." Ocelot said. Johnny nodded nervously as he grabbed Luffy by under his armpits, and dragged him to the other room, where there was a jail cell. He tossed Luffy inside, and closed the door. Ocelot looked at the limpless Luffy through the windows. "This structure is made out of a material harder than steel. You wont be able to get out even if you wanted to. Have a nice nap while I go kill your crew."

Luffy didn't respond as Ocelot looked at Johnny. "Keep him in there, and this time… don't screw this up like the last time."

"Y-Yes sir! You can count on me!" Johnny said while saluting. Ocelot sighed as he walked out of the cell room, and out of the torture room, leaving Johnny with Luffy alone. Johnny looked at Luffy as he aimed his gun at him. "Y-You heard the man; you do one thing in there, and you will be sorry!"

"Blah…" Luffy said droopingly while laying on his back.

"Yeah, you better feel scared!" Johnny said strictly. He then started to patrol around the cell, making sure nobody comes in or out.

Meanwhile…

Snake, Zoro, and Sanji sneaked up behind some of the rubble of the warehouse as they saw some open cargo trucks driving up to the bridge to the mountain area. "Okay, Zoro; hitch a ride on that truck there." Snake said as he then took out a cardboard box, and gave it to Zoro, "Use this. It's the perfect camouflage for this kind of situation."

"Why a cardboard box?" Zoro asked.

"Because it's a great tool for staying out of sight. Remember, treat the cardboard box with respect. If you do that, it will take care of you, trust me."

"Okay?" Zoro said unsure as he took the box.

"Hurry up, Marimo, there is no time to lose!" Sanji hissed.

"Don't rush me, Cook!" Zoro hissed back. He then stealthy ran behind a cargo truck, and jumped inside without getting seen by the guards. He then sighed as he placed his cardboard box over him as the truck he was then drove over the bridge, and was now going up the spiraled road.

"Now since that is taken care of, we learned that Luffy could be alive inside Arsenal." Snake said, "Sanji, you know where to go."

"Right. To go inside a hatch around that area." Sanji said while pointing to the edge of the northwest part of the island, a bit distant from where the bridge is.

"Yeah. Remember, Arsenal is heavily guarded to. I am not saying you should be stealthy, I am saying you should get rid of anything in your way."

"Don't worry; I can handle that kind of stuff easily." Sanji said with a smirk.

"Good luck, then." Snake said. Sanji then sneaked along the ledge of the island, and walked up to the hatch. He opened it up, and quickly got inside before anybody could see him. Snake then sneaked past the road, and behind a cabin as he placed his hand around his ear.

BEGIN CODEC TRANSMISSION

Two monitors appeared around the green frequency box as Snake appeared on the left monitor, while Otacon appeared on the right monitor. "Otacon, everyone have already begun their tasks." Snake said.

"Good to hear. Now all we can do in the meantime is expect some good results." Otacon said while adjusting his glasses.

"I'm coming back to the base. Are you ready to get in the field?" Snake asked.

"You know that I am… just get back here already so.. wait a second, I hear something." Otacon said as their were noises coming from the background.

"What's going on over there, Otacon?" Snake asked.

"I am not sure, but.." Otacon said until a loud noise could be heard. "What the!? It's you!"

"Otacon, what's going on!?" Snake asked.

"Snake, hurry ba-" Was all that Otacon could say before his monitor got all static.

"Otacon! What happened!?" Snake asked angrily.

END TRANSMISSION

"Damn it, what now!?" Snake asked as he then got up, and started to run all the way back to the base, passing through some guards without getting seen.

Meanwhile…

Nami and Franky walked along the big corridor, seeing no sign of any enemies. "The last time we were here, that big thick headed guy tried to kill us. He must know we are here by now."

"I don't want to see that guy again. I just want to get to the safe, and avoid confronting him again." Nami said.

"I really doubt that will happen, Orange head sis." Franky said. As he and Nami walked along the path, they noticed some ravens on the path's walls, watching Nami and Franky walk along the path as they crowed them. "Is it just me, or are we being watched here?"

"Let's get out of here. I can't stand being stared at by those birds." Nami said a bit nervously.

"But my friends are simply here to watch the show."

Nami and Franky stopped at their feet, and looked above some stacked containers, seeing multiple ravens flying around something. The ravens then spreads their wings as they flew past Nami and Franky, startling them as they went by. "What the!?" Nami and Franky then looked back at the top of stacked containers, and saw none other than Vulcan Raven. He was on one knee as he looked at the duo.

"Welcome back…" Vulcan Raven said. He then got up on his feet, and turned towards the duo, revealing that he was holding a M61 Vulcan gatling gun, connected with a huge cylinder container filled with ammo on his back. Something like that could only be lifted by a superhuman, which proved that Raven was quite a strong man. "This is the end of the road for you two. Right, my friends?"

Raven referred to the ravens on the walls, which crowed repeatedly. "They're becoming excited." Raven said. Nami felt a little nervous, while Franky got ready to fight. Raven saw this as he then smirked. "Ravens aren't scavengers like most people think, they're simply returning to the natural world that which is no longer needed. Sometimes, they even attack wounded foxes."

"Look at the size of that thing!" Nami gasped, "This is worse than the last time we confronted this guy!"

"Well, if it isn't you again." Franky said while looking at Raven, "Must have been rough for a big boy like you getting out of thing after I flipped it over."

"Ho ho ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Raven laughed at Franky's remark, "But that was no true battle… RAGH!" Raven jumped from the stacked containers, and landed on the ground with his feet as he aimed his gatling gun at Nami and Franky. Nami instantly got behind Franky out of fear, while Franky just stared at Raven some more. "The ravens and I were testing to see what kind of warriors you pirates were. The judgement has been decided. They say that you were all true warriors."

Suddenly, The raven tattoo on Raven's skull came to life as it flew around the duo. "What's this!?" Franky asked as he and Nami saw the raven flying around them. The raven then stood on Franky's right shoulder, which somehow prevented Franky and Nami from moving at all.

"I… can't move…" Nami said as if she was paralyzed. Raven then stood straight, looking at the scene.

"The raven has put the mark of death upon the both of you." Raven said. The raven on Franky's shoulder then hopped onto Franky's head. "I see that you two have went through some troubling losses… ah, and I see that you continued to fight on despite this. This should be the most interesting battle to the death."

"Grr… why you…" Franky muttered.

"I have nothing personal against the both of you, but you are my enemies nonetheless, so I have no complaints." Raven said as he aimed his gatling gun at the duo again. "There will be no holding back." Upon saying those words, the raven on Franky's head disappeared into thin air, allowing Franky and Nami to move again. They panted a bit before they were able to regain their composure, and face Raven. "Rejoice! Our battle will be glorious to remember!"

"There is nothing glorious about this!" Nami yelled while taking a step ahead from Franky, "This is just plain killing! You treat violence as if it was some sport, and it's not!"

"Well, we will see if there is iron in your words!" Raven said. He then clenched his left fist, and then grabbed a container that was just as big as he was. Surprisingly, he was able to throw the container with just one hand as it flew towards Nami and Franky.

"Look out, Girlie!" Franky yelled as he shoved Nami behind a different container. He then opened his left wrist, and aimed towards the container flying at him. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a blast at the container, destroying it into little pieces. Raven then started to fire his gatling gun as Franky quickly rolled behind the container where Nami was to avoid the bullets. The bullets were strong enough to even disfigure the container as they were nearly penetrating Nami and Franky's hiding place. "Get behind me, Orange sis!" Franky said as he got up, and pushed the container with great force, that it skidded towards Raven.

"Ha!" By raising his left foot, Raven stopped the container dead on it's tracks, and shoved it back with the same foot as the container skidded back to Nami and Franky. Franky caught the container with both of his arms, and used it as a shield to protect him and Nami from Raven's barrage of bullets. Raven stopped firing bullets as he quickly ran to Franky and Nami's left side, and aimed his gatling gun at them, where they were defenseless.

"STRONG RIGHT!" While Nami got out of Raven's sight, Franky let's go of the container, and launched his right arm to his left, punching Raven in the face. The punch, however, only made Raven flinch for a few miliseconds as he aimed at Franky, and started to fire at him. "HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky's left arm turned into a shield as he blocked the bullets with it. Despite blocking, the force of the bullets were injuring Franky by the second as he was also staggering back until he was up against a wall. "Ahhh!!"

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami swung her PCT as two oblong pieces of it flew towards Raven, and struck him in the head. This only made him flinch a bit as he stopped firing his gatling gun.

"It will take a lot more than that to make me get on my knees!" Raven said as he then aimed at Nami, and started firing on her.

"WAAAAHHH!!" Out of fear, Nami was running all over the place, doing her best to avoid Raven's bullets. She quickly rolled behind another container, but Raven continued to fire as his bullets were disfiguring the container. As soon as the container could no longer hold, Nami got out of hiding as she jumped out from behind the container, and stared fearfully as Raven then aimed at her.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Raven got hit three times in the back by some blasts, causing him to stagger one foot forward. Raven turned around, and saw Franky in midair, flying down at Raven as he took a deep breath. "MASTER NAIL!" Franky spat out multiple needles at Raven, who strikes back by firing his gatling gun. All the bullets Raven fired hit all of Franky's nails, taking them down as the bullets continued to head towards Franky. "Whoa!" Franky covered his face with his arms as he got multiple times by the bullets, sending him flying back to the wall he crashed into previously. Raven laughed at this as he didn't know that there was a thunder cloud forming above his head.

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunderball at the thundercloud, causing it to unleash a powerful lightning strike down at Raven, electrocuting his entire body.

"GRRR!" Raven grunted in pain as he was still standing after getting shocked. He then smirked as he faced towards Nami, who gasped as she started to run away again. "Ho ho ha ha ha ha ha!" Raven tried to shoot Nami down, but she quickly hid behind another container again. She panted heavily as she could no longer hear any bullets being fired, but some loud steps instead.

"Oh no!" Nami quickly ran out of the way as Raven did a shoulder barge at the container she was behind earlier, hitting the container so hard, that it flew all the way towards the entrance of the safe area. Nami gasped at this. "How can someone like him be so inhumanely strong!?"

"Ho ho ha ha! It's time for you to die." Raven said as he aimed his gatling gun at Nami once more.

"Oh no, you don't!" Franky yelled from behind Raven as he charged at Raven from behind as he took off the skin from his right hand. Raven turned around to face Franky, but as soon as he did, Franky was already right in front of him.

"STRONG UPPERCUT!" Franky did an uppercut with his steel fist, hitting Raven's gatling gun as Raven almost lost his balance just by holding it. Franky then opened his left wrist again as he aimed for Raven's face. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a blast right at Raven's face, causing him to stagger some steps back.

Nami then took the chance to trip Raven by swinging her PCT at the back of Raven's legs, causing Raven to fall on his rear as Franky took in a deep breath. "FRESH FIRE!" Franky breathed out a stream of fire, engulfing Raven with flames.

"Uaaaghh!" The fire also caused the bullets on Raven's back to explode consecutively. Raven had no choice but to throw his weapon, and the bullet carrier on his back away as it then exploded. He then jumped out of the fire, and rolled along the ground to die out the fire on him.

"Phew… that takes care of that pain…" Nami said as she referred to the gatling gun.

"Ahahahaha! You have no weapon now! How do you plan to beat us this time!?" Franky asked as Raven got up on his feet.

"Ho ho ha ha ha! Don't think that just because I have no weapon, doesn't mean that your fate will change!" Raven said as he faced towards the duo clenching his fists. "Let's see how you endure my fists!"

"Grr…" Nami and Franky got into their battle pose as their battle with Raven continued.

Meanwhile…

Sanji ran along the hallways of Arsenal Gear, already taking of care of some guards that were in his way. "Come on, how much further is it!?" Sanji asked as he then saw a door ahead of him. "Maybe it's through here!"

Sanji went through the automatic door, and was now in a weird room. The door behind Sanji closed as Sanji eyes widened in fear for what he saw inside. It was a square room, with a square corridor on a pool of water. Their was a second floor, but their seemed to be no way up there by foot. The only thing that caught Sanji's attention was something that was sitting with his legs crossed on the water surface. "You're still alive, huh?"

It was Vamp. He was still alive despite getting shot multiple times by Snake earlier. He still had the holes from the bullets he got hit with all over his front body, which no ordinary human could have alive. Vamp slowly raised his head to look at Sanji.

"Unfortunately, Hell had no vacancies…" Vamp said. He then got on his feet without using his arms as he was somehow standing on the water surface like if it was solid ground. "Are you disappointed? Did you expected me to die so easily? How foolish…"

"Actually… I'm rather glad that your not dead." Sanji said with a glare, "That way, I can finish you off myself."

"Mmm hm hm…" Vamp licked his upper lip with his long tongue in delight as he then smirked at Sanji. "I expected you to be here a little sooner. With the power you have, you could have gotten here much quicker. Was it that you knew I was here, and decided to take your time in order to delay your death, or was it that you were saving your stamina in order to fight me off a little longer? Ha ha ha… this shall be fun… well worth the wait!"

"You knew I was coming?" Sanji asked.

"You have been quite a nuisance. I ca'nt let you interfere with Arsenal Gear any longer." Vamp said. He then pointed to the door behind him. "Your friend is just ahead. If you hurry, you might able to save what is left of him."

"So Luffy is still alive!?" Sanji asked.

"Probably… I am not so sure myself." Vamp said, "It's a shame that you wont be able to find out…" Vamp then pointed to the water beneath his feet. "This isn't seawater, you know? It's a by-product of the microbes contained in the pool. Buoyancy is practically non-existent thanks to the high oxygen content. In simple words, once you fall in, you won't come up. Take a good look at your grave!" Vamp then slowly grabbed of one of combat knives around his waist, and slowly unsheathed it. "Show me what you got!"

Just by hearing that, Sanji leaped towards Vamp, and tried to kick him, but Vamp dodged by sidestepping out of the way as Sanji landed on the other side of the corridor. Vamp backflipped out of the water surface, and landed on the corridor as he charged at Sanji, swinging his knife at him repeatedly. Sanji avoided the first couple of swipes as he then raised his foot to block Vamp's hand holding the knife. Sanji then kicked Vamp back, and did a horizontal kick at him, but Vamp arched his back backwards, avoiding the kick as he then got back up, and attempted to stab Sanji, but Sanji saw it coming as he sidestepped to avoid the knife.

"TENDRON!" Sanji thrusted his foot, and kicked Vamp in the neck. Vamp gagged a bit as he staggered a couple of steps back while Sanji charged at him. "JOUE!" Sanji kicked Vamp's left cheek as Vamp went flying over the pool. Vamp recovered by grabbing onto the guard rail on the corridor as he then pushed himself up, and was able to get on the second floor. He balanced on the guard rail there as he started to throw combat knives at Sanji. Sanji kicked some of them away as he started to run to the other corner of the corridor as Vamp span around in one foot while reaching to the other corner of the second floor while throwing his knives at Sanji at the same time.

Vamp then jumped back down at the corridor, and jumped over the pool between it as he was now above Sanji, and faced his knife down while going down at him. Sanji rolled out of the way as the knife struck the ground. Before Vamp could stand up, Sanji jumped into the air, and faces his right foot down at him. "BROCHETTE!" Sanji span like a drill as he headed towards Vamp. Vamp instantly did a backflip, avoiding Sanji's drill attack as then countered with a kick of his own, but Sanji was quick enough to block with his leg. Vamp pulled back his leg, and performed a roundhouse kick with the same leg as he kicked Sanji across his jaw.

"Ahh!!" Sanji was about to fall into the pool, but by using his hands, he grabbed onto the guard rail, and pushed himself back on the corridor as he then jumped back to get some distance from Vamp. Vamp threw two knifes at Sanji before charging at him with another knife. Sanji kicked away the two knifes, and ducked to avoid a horizontal slash from Vamp. "QUASI!" Sanji did a handstand, and span around with his legs extended, but Vamp quickly jumped to the over the pool next to him, and to the other side of the corridor. He then ran around to get behind Sanji, who quickly got on his feet, and faced towards Vamp. "EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji repeatedly thrusted his feet at Vamp, who was able to avoid all the kicks thanks to his flexibility.

"This is reminding me of something…" Vamp said as he avoided the kicks. He then avoided Sanji's last kick, and swung his knife horizontally at Sanji, able to leave a small cut across his stomach.

"Gah!" Sanji grabbed his stomach in pain as he jumped back while glaring at Vamp.

"This feeling I am having… it's the same one from on that building, when you were trying to stop me from killing that girl." Vamp said while closing his eyes, "It feels so good…"

"Shut up!" Sanji yelled as he charged at Vamp more angrily. Vamp opened his eyes, and instantly jumped back to avoid a sudden kick from Sanji. While in midair, Vamp threw knives simultaneously at Sanji, who jumped, and dodged the knives while in midair as he flew towards Vamp. "EPAULE!" Sanji raised his foot, intending to kick Vamp's shoulder with his heel, but once Vamp got his legs on the ground, he jumped up to the second floor as Sanji kicked the corridor path hard. Sanji looked up to see Vamp standing on the guard rail of the second floor again.

"I am starting to wonder if you can really kill me…" Vamp said with a smirk. Sanji crouched, and jumped higher than normal as he joined Vamp on the second floor. As soon as he balanced himself up on the guard rail, Vamp started to attack with his knifes. Sanji had to keep his balance, and dodge Vamp's attacks at the same time, proving to be a little difficult for Sanji as he nearly falls off at some points. Sanji then was able to move forward, and kick Vamp's attacking arm away, and perform a roundhouse kick across Vamp's jaw. "Uuuaahh!!" Vamp got knocked out of the second floor, and right into the buoyant-less pool of water.

Sanji jumped back down to the corridor, and looked at the water, seeing Vamp swimming around in circles. "I got him… if this doesn't kill him, I don't know what will." Sanji said. Sanji's eyes then widened as he then saw Vamp swimming back up to the surface with great speed, and was able to get back on the corridor, and next to Sanji. Sanji's eyes widened as he tried to look at Vamp, only to get kicked in the gut hard enough to crash into the guard rail that was next to him. Vamp then span around a bit before bowing down to Sanji, who coughed up some blood after getting kicked.

"Like I said… can you really finish me off?" Vamp asked with a smile.

Meanwhile…

The truck Zoro is in was already at the top of the mountain, and now parked into the heliport area, where Ocelot's helicopter is located. Their were some guards guarding the helicopter, and the pilot was already inside. Zoro peeked out from the box he was in to see the situation.

"I'm already here. It took a bit longer than expected…" Zoro said, "Now all I have to do is wait until I get the signal to clear this place up."

Zoro hid back in the box, and waited to receive a call from Snake or Otacon.

Meanwhile…

Usopp and Chopper went through a door from inside the cargo building, and ended up back outside on the top floor. "Okay… so far… nothing bad has happened…" Usopp said while shivering in fear, "Let's hope it stays that way…"

"We haven't seen any bombs so far. The only place left to look is on the very top of this building." Chopper said.

"Yosh… let's get up there, and find that attacker!" Usopp said while he really didnt want to go to the top floor. They sneaked around the side path of the building until they saw a staircase. Usopp and Chopper gulped as they then went up the long staircase. Once they reached to the top. They saw a big area, with only three rectangular cargos on the right side, and other three cargos on the left side. "Well, there is nobody up here. Let's go!"

"Wait a minute. I smell something funny up here." Chopper said while sniffing the area, "It smells like some sort of powder."

"Eh?" Usopp blinked in confusion as he then heard something. "I can hear something from up here."

"I can hear it too!" Chopper said, "It coming from over there!" They ran up to the center of the area, and what they found was a C4 bomb. "Ahh! It's one of those bombs Snake talked about!"

"That's it! We gotta get out of here!" Usopp panicked.

"We can't leave! We need to take care of this! If we don't, this whole place is going to blow up!" Chopper yelled.

"H-How are we suppose to stop this again!?" Usopp asked.

"The coolant spray! We were suppose to use that if we see a bomb around here!" Chopper said.

"Oh yeah!" Usopp said. He then took out the coolant spray, and aimed at the bomb. "Stay behind me, Chopper. I don't know if this is going to work!"

Chopper nervously got behind Usopp as he sprayed the bomb with very cold air. It was so cold, that the bomb was starting to freeze as the beeping noise stopped. Usopp and Chopper blinked at this at first, but then sighed in relief as they knew that the bomb was no longer a threat.

"You did it, Usopp!" Chopper said happily.

"Oh boy… that was easier than I thought it would be." Usopp said as he then smiled, "Good thing I am an expert in bomb disabling, or we would have been goners by now. Ha ha ha!"

"Yeah, Usopp! You are amazing!" Chopper said happily. They both laughed in relief, enjoying their little of moment of triumph while they could. "Good thing the guy who placed this bomb here is gone, huh?"

"Yeah, I know." Usopp said happily, "If we happened to meet with the guy who blew up that warehouse, we would be in for a lot of trouble! Ha ha ha ha!"

"So you're the pirates…"

"Eh!?" Usopp and Chopper stopped laughing as they heard someone else talking. They looked at their surroundings, but saw nobody in their sights. The only thing they could hear was unidentifiable sound.

"You're right on time, I see. I like punctual men."

Chopper then jumped onto Usopp's arms as they hugged eachother in fear. "Wh-Who goes there!?" Usopp asked fearfully.

"I am Fatman." the voice said a different sound could be heard for a split second, "I am the greatest that humanity has to offer, and the lowest. Do you not hear this rhythm?"

Tick, tock, tick, tock!

"It's the rythm of time… and life as well!" yelled the voice.

A blur then went from behind a cargo to another cargo as Usopp and Chopper tried to see who it was, but it was already gone. "Don't you just love that sound?" Said the voice again, "I used to hang around in the department store clock counter just so I can hear that sound all day long. Whether to enjoy it, or runaway from it, the best part of that sound is when it stops!"

The blur was now behind Usopp and Chopper as it stopped moving, creating sparks from his roller skates upon stopping, and stood there as Usopp and Chopper faced towards a man with a scared look.

Just like his name applies, he is a fat man. He is also really tall, has pale skin, yellow eyes, and was also bald. He wore a big green overcoat with several pockets, with a big and removable coat collar that cover's the man's lower head and face. He also wore brown pants, and a pair of roller skates for footwear. He held a glass of wine with a straw as stood straight, and looked at the scared duo. "Life is short!" Said the man with such crazy ambitions-- Fatman.

"Bombs tell the time with every moment of their existence, and nothing else announces its own end with such a fanfare." Fatman said while lifting his glass, "Glad you two could make it; the party is just about to start." Usopp and Chopper watched nervously as Fatman drank his glass wine through a straw. "Ahh… good year. Let's drink for my return to this world, shall we?"

"Y-You were the guy who blew that warehouse there, didn't you!?" Usopp asked angrily, yet keeping his distance away from Fatman.

"Guy!? I am more than just a regular guy; I am THE man who is well known for the great things he has accomplished!" Fatman said, "And yes; I am the one responsible for blowing up that useless warehouse. Did you not see the beauty of how I blew that place up into smithereens? It was the work of art that only I can achieve. Nobody is able to live up to my standards, and do the things that I do. Not even the late Albert Einstein is capable of being as smart as I am."

"So it was you!" Chopper yelled while still hugging Usopp, "It's because of you Luffy was caught in that explosion!"

"Luffy? Ah, you must mean that boy I saw there." Fatman said, "He was such a simple minded fellow, and for that, I gave him the time of his life by blowing him up along with that warehouse. To be a part of my work is such an honorable thing for him to have. Nobody else could die in such a great way. You two would feel the same."

"No, we wouldn't!" Usopp and Chopper said simultaneously.

"Hmm… you can say what you believe, there is no denying how great my work is." Fatman said, "Just enjoy the moment of time you have left my party officially begins."

Fatman started to drink his wine again as Usopp was starting to feel irritated. "Listen, I don't care what you have planned here! We came here to stop your ways, and Ocelot as well! There is no way we will let him and those rulers of the new world stop us from what we came here to get!"

Fatman stopped drinking his wine as he curiously looked at Usopp. "New world? What're you talking about?" Fatman asked.

"Obscurum! That new world that revived you, and the other people that deserved to stay dead!" Usopp yelled, "It's because of that world you are here!"

"Huh huh hwa hwa hwa hwa hwaaaa!!" Fatman laughed upon hearing that, which puzzled Usopp and Chopper. "Huh huh hwa hwa hwa hwa hwaaaa! So that's what's going on, huh?"

"Wh-What are you talking about!?" Chopper asked.

"Hwa hwa hwa! Oh, you'll know soon enough." Fatman said, "And I could care less what they plan to do. My ambitions are much more simple, and that is to continue the legacy as the greatest bomber of them all."

"You're crazy! Nobody cares about your legacy!" Usopp yelled.

"Oh, but they do! I have already went down in history." Fatman explained, "As the man who defeated Peter Stillman. Not to mention the man who defeated that simple minded friend of yours."

"You didn't kill Luffy! He is still alive!" Chopper yelled.

"What did you say!?" Fatman asked so angrily, that it frightened Chopper. "Huh huh hwa hwa hwa! Your denial amuses me. Even if that boy survived, he would be talking about that great explosion until the day he dies. It's the way of life, really, since I am the emperor among detonation devotees."

"You are nothing but a murderer, and that is the only thing people is going to remember about you!" Usopp yelled. This infuriated Fatman as he shattered his glass of wine by throwing it on the ground.

"HOW DARE YOU!? I'M AN ARTIST!!" Fatman yelled while raising his hands in the air. Usopp and Chopper then felt nervous again as Fatman hid behind a cargo next to him. "You're pirates, yet you act like one of those despicable military types!" Fatman then smiled as he peeked over the cargo wall to look at the scared duo again. "It's time to start the partyyyyy. This is how it works, I plant a bomb… and it will explode soon after that."

Usopp and Chopper gasped as they can already hear several beeping sounds in the area. "If you prefer to stay in one piece, you have to disable my bombs." Fatman said. "Laugh and grow fat!… Let's move! RRRRAAGGHH!!"

Fatman charged at Usopp and Chopper, who screamed in fear as they hugged eachother tightly.

Meanwhile…

Snake was now at the southeast part of the island as he ran down the staircase, and ran through the hallways underneath the surface. "Almost there!" Snake said as he went through the hidden doors, and got inside the base. He saw Otacon on the ground, and up against the wall, peeing his pants in fear as Gray Fox walked up to him. He grabbed Otacon by the neck, and raised him a few inches from the ground.

"Where is my friend?" Gray Fox asked.

"I am telling you; he is not here!" Otacon said while being choked.

"You're lying!" Gray Fox yelled.

"Put him down, Frank!" Snake yelled as he got out his socom, and aimed at Gray Fox from behind. Gray Fox lets go of Otacon, who instantly hid in a locker to save himself. Gray Fox turned around, and saw Snake.

"Snake… I knew you would be here." Gray Fox said.

"Frank, I know we have things to settle, but now is not the time!" Snake yelled.

"That is where you are wrong, Snake." Gray Fox said, "I have been revived for a reason, and that is to fight you to the death like it should have been years ago. I have long awaited for this chance to come, and now that I have come back, it is time that we end this."

"Grr…" while aiming at Gray Fox, Snake contacted Zoro by codec, "Zoro, you are going to have to wait a little longer up there. Something just came up. Try to hold up until I arrive."

Meanwhile…

"That's fine! I have a little company up here as well!" Zoro yelled angrily as he was already outside the truck, seeing all the guards killed by none other than Solidus. After killing the last guard, Solidus faced towards Zoro.

"You again." Solidus said unamusedly, "Didn't I say that I would kill you if I saw you again? I guess I should prove to you that I was not bluffing."

" This is bad… " Zoro thought, " If he lays a finger on this helicopter, this whole mission is over! "

Meanwhile…

In the northwest part of the island, Hojo and MPNo. 6 got out of the gateway that leads into Arsenal as the guards guarding the gate saluted upon their presence. "Hello, sirs! Our boss said that we should help you with your needs!"

"Figures… are the preparations for the data transfer ready?" Hojo asked.

"Yes sir. It's in the science lab, ready for your command."

"Very good. At ease.. or whatever…" Hojo said as he walked off. The guards watched him leave as MPNo. 6 walked up to the guards behind him.

"Oh?" The guards looked behind their shoulders to see MPNo. 6, "Is there something we can help you with?"

"As a matter of fact… yeah." MPNo. 6 said with a glare, "I want your blood!"

"Huh!?" Before the guards knew it, MPNo. 6 got out his dagger and stabbed the guard in stomach. His partner cried in fear as blood poured out of the guards' gut. MPNo. 6 then pulled the dagger out of guard, and stabbed the guard again. He repeated this procedure with every single part of the guard's body until he then decided to grab the guards' neck, and slice his head off, killing the guard as a flow of blood poured out of his corpse.

"Ahhhh!!" The guard's partner cried as MPNo. 6 then looked at him.

"Hmm?" Hojo turned around to see what his MPNo. 6 was doing.

"Please! Don't kill me!!" yelled the guard's partner. MPNo. 6 ignored his request as he grabbed the guards' partner by the neck, and started to squeeze the life out of him. "Guaahh! Geh… !?"

CRACK!

MPNo. 6 snapped the guy's neck, killing him for good, but he didn't stop there as then slammed the body into the guard hard enough to make it bleed. MPNo. 6 felt good inside. He was very proud of himself for what he has done. The blood spreads across the guard as it almost touched Hojo's shoes.

"Ugh! Watch what you are doing! You almost ruined my shoes!" Hojo yelled, "… Are you satisfied now?"

"Yes… very much so…" MPNo. 6 said as he got up. He is a large, somewhat overweight bare chested man. He wore brown suspenders supporting his white, pink polka dotted pants from falling down; red clown shoes; and a mask resembling a demented clown with a maniacal smile. The most noticeable feature about this man was that his bald head was on fire.

"Well, I'm glad that you had your fun. Now can we please get to the lab? I want to get back to that specimen so I can start working on him." Hojo said.

"Whatever… he's as good as dead anyway." MPNo. 6 said as he then walked along with Hojo. This man is probably known as one of the greatest killers of all time. This man is known as Sweet Tooth.

Episode 7: Nico Robin

Snake: Holy… now that is a woman.

Colonel: That is Nico Robin, Snake. She is the archeologist of the Strawhat pirates. Her dream in life is to find the Rio Poneglyph, which is suppose to contain true history of her world.

Snake: She looks like the woman of all woman. I can see why Luffy made her a part of the crew.

Colonel: She also ate the Flower Flower Fruit. It allows her to sprout any part of her body out of anywhere or anything that is in her sights.

Snake:… What?

Colonel: And she probably has one of the most difficult pasts. Her island was destroyed by the government after some residents were trying to decipher the poneglyphs, which is illegal in her world. And she-

Snake: Yeah, yeah, yeah. Terrible past, blah, blah, blah. Tell me more about this ability she has.

Colonel: Ugh… well, it's just like I said, she is able to sprout any part of her body just about anywhere. Mostly with her hands, anyway.

Snake: Now this is very interesting. If she can sprout her hands anywhere, can she do the same with her breasts?

Colonel: I haven't seen that, but I think she can.

Snake: This is too good to be true… if she can do the same with her breasts, then their is no doubt she can do the same with her-

Colonel: Snake, I think you should stop right there! Their is no need to go on any further with that!

Snake:… very interesting ability indeed…

Sweet tooth is from the Twisted Metal Series. The one I am using is from Twisted Metal: Black version. Now, I know what your thinking; that he may be a bit… to goresome for this fic. I'll try not to get too extreme with him. Oh, and technically, he is from earth, and Snake is from earth too. Not the same one, I know, but I figure I'd do that since it's no big deal. Anyway, I swear that I will update quicker than a week this time. Ciao for now!

Metal Gear Pt 11

3 hours left until deadline. Snake and the Strawhat crew have already made their move to stop the launch, but in order for them to progress, they need to defeat some powerful enemies. Will they be able to defeat them?

Chapter 94: Pirates against Terrorists, Who will win?

Snake continued to aim his socom at Gray Fox, who didn't feel the least intimated as he looked at Snake. "How long has it been?" Gray Fox asked, "The day during the Shadow Moses incident, where I sacrificed myself to help you destroy Metal Gear REX and Liquid; was it really that long ago? Because I can sense that you have become much more stronger than ever."

"Many things happened when were you were gone…" Snake said, "But I don't have the time to tell you that story. Frank, I can't let you go on like this any longer."

"Ha… I agree." Gray Fox as he looked the other way, "We have a score to settle. My revival into this world was no coincidence. I was meant to come back so we can finish our long-awaited duel. Oh, how it brings me such joy to finally end this!"

"Sorry, but I cant really say the same thing…" Snake said as he then puts his socom away. "I'm in a hurry… so let's get this over with."

Gray Fox looked back at Snake as he got into his fighting stance. This brought joy to Gray Fox as he also got into his fighting stance, swinging his sword a few times to warm up for the battle. "Yes… make me feel it! Make me feel alive again!"

Gray Fox dashed at Snake while swinging his sword in various directions. Snake jumped back to avoid the slashes while taking out a grenade, and pulling it's pin before slightly tossing it at Gray Fox. Snake and Gray Fox instantly jumped away in opposite directions as the grenade exploded, creating a small dust cloud. Gray Fox ran through the dust cloud, and swung his sword horizontally at Snake, who ducked under it, and grabbed Gray Fox's arm. He pulled Gray Fox toward himself, and elbowed him in the gut. "Oh!" Gray Fox grunted as Snake then flipped him on his back. Gray Fox raised his leg, and kicked Snake away as Gray Fox then got back on his feet, and faced the tip of his sword at Snake.

"Hiya!" Gray Fox thrusted his sword, but Snake saw it coming as he quickly moved his upper body to the right in order to avoid the thrust. Snake then countered by ducking, and swinging his leg horizontally at Gray Fox to trip him, but Gray Fox jumped to avoid the trip, and landed across a table. Snake then jumped on the table, and jumped above Gray Fox, kicking down as he went down at him. Gray Fox avoided the kicks, and countered with a slash across Snake's back as soon as he got on the ground.

"Ahh!" Snake cried as he then rolled out of the before Gray Fox could slash him again. Snake grabbed a rotating chair, and threw it at Gray Fox, who sliced it in half as it came towards him.

"Hmm!?" Gray Fox then saw Snake already in front of him in midair as he had his right leg up.

"AXE KICK!" Snake lowered his leg, and kicked Gray Fox's left shoulder with great force.

"Ahh!!" The force of the kick was so strong, Gray Fox lost his balance, and crashed into the floor hard. Snake then dropped something on Gray Fox's back as he then jumped away before Gray Fox could get up, and charge at Snake again. "Hiya!!" Gray Fox was swinging his sword in various directions again, only Snake quickly did a side roll while pulling out a button switch.

"Now!" Snake pushed the button, causing the thing he dropped on Gray Fox's back, which turned out to be a C4, explode.

"Gyah!" Gray Fox yelled in sheer pain as he then glared at Snake, "That's not enough, Snake!" Gray Fox yelled as he then jumped over Snake, and then dived down at him. Snake quickly rolled out of the way as Gray Fox dived hard into the ground, creating a small shockwave in the process.

Snake then ran at Gray Fox, and thrusted his knee at his gut, causing Gray Fox to lose his balance. Snake then continued his attack with a downward fist, hitting Gray Fox at the back of the head as this caused Gray Fox to lose his balance even more. Snake then got behind him, and wrapped his arms under Gray Fox's shoulders, and then arched his back, bringing Gray Fox with him as Snake slammed his head on the ground behind him. Gray Fox got back on his feet, and jumped towards a wall.

"Try avoiding this!" Gray Fox jumped off the wall, spinning like a drill with facing the bottom of his hilt forward as he crashed into Snake with great force.

"Guah!" Snake went crashing back into a wall as Gray Fox slid across the ground, and got back up afterwards. He saw how Snake was getting up while holding his stomach in pain.

"What's wrong, Snake? Surely you can do better than that!" Gray Fox said.

Snake didn't reply as he charged at Gray Fox with his arms covering his face. Gray Fox laughed as he attempted to slash at Snake, but to his surprise, Snake dodged with great speed, and ended up towards his right side. Gray Fox tried to slash him again, but Snake quickly caught his attacking arm, and placed his left arm over Gray Fox's neck. He arched Gray Fox's back until Gray Fox landed on Snake's knee. Snake then flipped him forwardly, and slammed him face first into the ground. Gray Fox frustratedly span himself up on his feet, and thrusted his sword at Snake, only to deliver a slight cut across his cheek, with a little of his blood coming out.

Snake countered by turning him on his back, and wrapping his arms around his neck. He choked Gray Fox, who was struggling to break lose as he hits Snake in the forehead with the hilt of his blade. Surprisingly, Snake still had that choke locked as he did 180 degree spin, letting go of Gray Fox in the process as he flew straight into some monitors, destroying them as well.

"Ah! Errgh…" Gray Fox got up on his feet as he and Snake shared glances with eachother, "That's good, Snake." He said as he then puts his sword away, "Now… hand to hand! It's the basis of all combat. Only a fool would trust his life to a weapon!"

Gray Fox then dashed at Snake with clenched fists as Snake got to the defensive. "Huah!" Gray Fox swung his right arm at Snake, who dodged with ease. Gray Fox then swung the both of his fists repeatedly at Snake, but none of them were making contact, which irritated Gray Fox. Thanks to this, Snake was able to block one of his fists, and flip him over his shoulder, and right through a wooden table. "Ah!" Gray Fox placed his hands on the ground, and lifted himself up as he delivered a horizontal kick on Snake's right rib.

"Gyeh!" Snake grunted as he then countered by grabbing Gray Fox's attacking leg, and spun him in a circle before throwing him into the wall in front of him. Gray Fox saved himself by placing his hands on the wall upon getting close to it, and pushing himself off as he got above Snake, and dived down at him. Snake jumped upwards to Gray Fox, who quickly kicked him in the face upon jumping. "Ah!" Snake got hit hard as he was about to face upside down. Gray Fox then gasped as he then saw that Snake thrusted both of his feet at him.

KICK!

"Gyeerrghh!!" Gray Fox got kicked really hard in the jaw as he crashed head-first into the ceiling as Snake landed roughly on the ground. Gray Fox then fell on the ground too, but not as hard as Snake as he managed to land on one knee, panting heavily as Snake was getting right back on his feet. "Perfect… I expected no less from you, Snake."

"I have plenty more where that came from…" Snake replied while wiping the blood off his cheek. Gray Fox laughed at this as he and Snake charged at eachother again.

Meanwhile…

"Nyah!" Franky and Nami jumped in opposite directions as Raven punched the ground, leaving a big crack on it. Raven then ran towards Franky, who quickly ran to him as they then grabbed eachother's hands, trying to push eachother back. Raven was winning as he was slowly pushing Franky on his back.

"Grr.. can't move this guy…" Franky grunted.

"Hold on!" Nami said as she charged at Raven from behind with her PCT. "Hiya!" Nami swung her PCT, and hits Raven in the back.

"Ah…" Raven grunted a bit, but didn't let go of his hold. Nami then continued to hit Raven's back with her PCT as Raven was slowly losing his grip, allowing Franky to slowly push him back. "Yah!" While holding on to Franky's hands, Raven quickly started to spin around in circles, spinning Franky along with him as Nami crouched as low as she can to avoid getting hit.

"Whoaaaa!!" Franky yelled as Raven was starting to spin him faster. Raven then lets go of Franky as he crashed into a stack of containers, and into a wall.

"Franky!" Nami cried as she got up. She nervously looked behind her shoulder to see Raven cracking his knuckles. "Ugh… you wouldn't hit a girl, would you?"

"Ho ho ha ha ha!" Raven clamped his hands together, and raised them as he was about to lower them at the frightened Nami.

"BEANS LEFT!" Franky quickly got out of the containers, and fired multiple bullets at Raven, who was too big to dodge as he got hit all over the left side of his body. Despite getting shot, Raven was still standing as if nothing touched him.

"Heh heh heh, I rarely felt that." Raven said as he looked at Franky.

"THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami charged the tip of her PCT with electricity as Raven was looking away. The end of her PCT got loose as Nami swung it like a flail. "SWING ARM!" Nami swung her PCT at Raven, with the electrical tip going across his face. This made Raven stagger a bit as he rubbed his cheek with his hand. As he was distracted, Franky shoulder barged him, causing Raven to stagger even further as Franky then aimed at him.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a blast right into Raven's face. This only made him angry as Raven retaliated by throwing a fist at Franky, who barely dodged as he grabbed Raven's attacking arm with both arms, trying to flip him over his shoulder, but Raven overpowered him as he lifted Franky up in the air with the arm Franky was holding. Before Raven could do anything else, Nami bends part of her PCT to an oblong shape.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami threw part of her PCT to Raven, who saw it coming as he knocked it into the ground with a backhand of his free hand. Nami gasped as Raven laughed at her attempt to attack him, but he lost his focus due to this as Franky elbowed him in the head, allowing him to let go of Raven's arm, and wrap both of his arms around Raven's head.

"FRANKY DDT!" Franky fell back to the ground, bringing Raven with him as he slammed Raven's head on the ground hard enough to leave a big crack on it. Franky let's go of Raven as he got away from him to get some distance. Raven simply stood off, and shook his head a bit before smirking at Franky.

"Come on! Give me your best shot right here!" Raven said while touching his own cheek.

"Feeling cocky, huh? I'll take care of that!" Franky dashed at Raven, who simply waited for Franky to attack, "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Raven in the cheek with his steel fist. "Uh!?" Franky was shocked to see Raven not even flinching from getting hit so hard.

"Heh heh! Is that all!?" Raven asked. He then punched Franky across the jaw, who did his best not to stagger from it, but couldn't as he staggered a few steps back. Franky spat out some blood he had in his mouth before smirking at Raven.

"What kind of a sissy punch was that!?" Franky asked as he then punched Raven again, only this time, he staggered a step back. Raven laughed as he and Franky were punching eachother in the face nonstop.

"Now's my chance!" Nami said as she went to retrieve the part of her PCT Raven knocked down a while ago. She connected it back together with the part she had as she then faced upwards. "CLOUDY TEMPO!" Nami created a thick dark cloud as it formed around the area. "RAIN TEMPO!" The dark clouds then started to rain water in the area, making everything and everybody in it wet.

"Guah!" Franky got hit hard from an unexpected punch in the gut from Raven, who then grabbed Franky's shoulders, and delivered a strong headbutt on Franky's head. While Franky felt dazed, Raven lifted him above himself with both hands, and faced towards Nami.

"Hey, wait a minute!" Nami pleaded, but Raven threw Franky at her, knocking her down as Franky fell on her. "Ahh!! Get off of me, you idiot!" Nami shoved Franky off of her as Franky rubbed his head.

"This guy is a powerhouse!" Franky said irritatedly, "We need more than your silly rain to stop him."

"Don't worry; I have an idea that might defeat him!" Nami said as she and Franky glared at Raven.

"Ho ho ha ha ha ha! This rain adds the perfect mood into the atmosphere. The moment of death draws near for the both of you! It's time for the raven to devour you!" Raven said as he charged at Nami and Franky.

"Now! HEAT BALL!" Nami threw numerous of heat balls at Raven, who continued with his charge despite getting hit as he now felt really hot. Franky quickly grabbed Nami as he jumped out of the way, avoiding Raven's fist as hit the ground.

"What are you doing!?" Franky asked.

"Just watch! COOL BALL!" Nami then threw multiple cool balls on the ground, and thanks to the rain, the water on the ground froze, causing it to lose Raven's balance as he slipped on his back.

"Achoo!" Raven sneezed as it due to the sudden climate changes his body received, he was now shivering a bit. "You intend to give me the flu? That wont work! I have endured much more pain before!"

"Trust me; not even you will survive this… Franky, use coup de whatever on him!" Nami said as she threw more cool balls in front of Raven. Franky smirked as he realized what Nami had in mind.

"I see where you are going with this." Franky said as he connected his arms to a tube, and aimed at Raven, who was able to get on his feet, despite the slippery floor. "Time for you and your birdy friends to get on flyin' out of here! "70mm Koukei 1.5 MAX Cola Power!" Franky's arms inflated themselves with air, and with Nami's cool balls through his tube as Raven couldn't do nothing but to guard his face. "COUP DE CHILL!!"

Franky fired a humongous current of freezing air from his tube as it struck Raven head on. Raven continued to guard as the as the pressure of the attack caused him to slide him through the slippery floor, and towards the entrance to the safe area. Raven was losing energy to the blast as he was getting frozen on the gateway entrance as his whole body was now a big icicle.

"There we go! We defeated him!" Nami said excitedly as she then panted. Franky then got into his victory pose.

"MmmmmmmmmMMMMM.. SUUUUUUPAAAAAAAAAA!!

Meanwhile…

Zoro and Solidus glared at each other as the wind whistled by them. "Hmph… I dont know if it was a coincidence to see you here." Solidus said, "Snake told you to come here, didnt he? What is your purpose in this area?"

"Do you have to ask about my life?" Zoro asked bluntly, "It's none of your business. You shouldn't ask questions like that so often."

"I can ask whatever I need to know." Solidus replied with a frown, "Your cooperation with that man is a waste of time. In a few hours, Arsenal will be launched, and will cause pandemonium onto Manhattan, therefore creating the everlasting war that The Patriots wished for so long."

"By the looks of you, you dont seem to have much of a problem with that." Zoro said while crossing his arms.

"I do have a problem with that…" Solidus said, "The Patriots have used me, and I will get my revenge! I will not allow them to make a fool out of me again!" Solidus then revealed two sheathes around his waist. "Once I get a hold of Arsenal, I will use it against The Patriots, and I will create my own kind of war, where I will take control, and not them! And in order to do that, I need to kill Ocelot, and since this is his personal transport, I will wait for him here, and I will him in the instant he arrives."

"So your not planning to destroy this?" Zoro asked.

"Not exactly." Solidus replied, "If I destroy his transport, he will know, and hide in one of his top-notch security areas, but even if he did, I will still hunt him down before the Arsenal is active. Whether this transport is destroyed or not, I will be victorious nonetheless."

"I see…" Zoro said as he grabbed the bandanna from his left arm, "However… I can't really let you destroy this thing even if you wanted to." Zoro wrapped the bandanna around his head, "You see, there is something I need, and in order to get it, I need this thing to be fully functional, so…" Zoro unsheathed his swords as he held the third one with his teeth. "Either you walk away, and hunt down the old guy someplace else, or stay here, and try to lay finger on this thing."

"So you resort to violence over this matter?" Solidus asked while frowning, "Pathetic.. even if you have three swords, it doesn't make a difference." Solidus then unsheathed his swords, with the Democrat blade on his left hand, and the Republican blade on his right, "I suppose I have the time to deal with you. This will be the perfect moment to deliver your corpse to Snake anyhow."

"Like that would happen…" Zoro said. The both of them slowly got into their fighting stances, once they did, a flock of seagulls flew over them.

"Brace yourself…" Solidus said as his exoskeleton suit covered the bottom half of his head and face. Solidus charged at Zoro, and lowered both of his swords at him. Zoro parried the attack, and pushed Solidus back as he countered with some horizontal slashes, which Solidus parried with the Republican blade. "Hiya!" Solidus swung his Democrat blade, which almost slashed Zoro's head off if hadn't jumped back. Zoro then slashed downward at Solidus, who parried it with both swords, and countered with a kick to Zoro's gut.

"Oh!" Zoro staggered a bit as Solidus thrusted his snake-like arm on his back to Zoro's neck. Solidus lifted Zoro up in the air as he choked with his snake arm. "Damn… !" Zoro slashed at the snake arm, but he didn't leave a scratch on it.

"Ha ha ha!" Solidus then slammed Zoro on the ground hard. Zoro coughed as Solidus walked up to him from behind. "I knew you were weak from when we first met, but I didn't expect that you would go down this quickly. I don't know why Snake would have you as a comrade."

Zoro quickly did a reverse upper slash while getting up, knocking Solidus off guard as he staggered backwards. "NIGIRI!" Zoro slashed at Solidus with two swords, leaving a two parallel slashes across Solidus' exoskeleton suit.

"Grr!" Solidus countered by swinging his Republican blade, which Zoro parried with one sword, and countered with the other, but Solidus parried his counter with his Democrat blade. They pushed eachother off as Solidus thrusted his snake arm at Zoro, who quickly dodged, and placed his swords on it as he pushed them along the arm, creating several sparks that ignited his swords as he charged at Solidus with them.

"YARI NIGIRI!" Zoro slashed with both of his sword at Solidus, only this time, he left a blazing slash on Solidus' suit as Solidus staggered back in pain.

"This is nothing!" Solidus said as he quickly died out the flames on him. He then wrapped his arms around his snake arms as they started to fire missiles at Zoro. Zoro destroyed those missiles by slashing through them as he charged at Zoro with both swords held high, with his Democrat blade glowing light green. "DEMOCRAT SIGNING!" With his Democrat blade, Solidus swung his sword at various directions with great speed, which Zoro was able to parry, but did receive some cuts from that attack.

Zoro then noticed Solidus' Republican blade glowing dark red. "REPUBLICAN SIGNING!" Solidus lowered his Republican blade down at the ground, creating a cutting wave of fire as Zoro rolled out of the way as the wave created a trail of fire along the ground.

"Damn, I can't underestimate this guy's strength…" Zoro thought as he focused his gaze at Solidus. "USHI BARI!" Zoro charged at Solidus while swinging his swords repeatedly at him. Solidus did not needed to use his swords to parry; instead, he was avoiding all of Zoro's slashes with just by moving his upper body. Solidus then stopped Zoro by using the hilts of his blades to knock Zoro back.

"Take this!" Solidus thrusted his left snake arm at Zoro, who dodged as he charged at Solidus, who then used thrusted his right snake arm at Zoro, who was able to dodge that one as well. Solidus then thrusted both of his swords at Zoro, who had his swords in a lower position.

"TOUROU!" Zoro swung his swords up, knocking Solidus' blades upwards. "OUTOUROU!" Zoro lowered his blades down, which Solidus avoided by jumping back. "HIRAMEKI!" Zoro then thrusted both of his swords at Solidus, who used his blades to parry. "SAMON!" Zoro did a vertical slash, which knocked Solidus off balance for a second. "MAGUMA!" Zoro raised his swords, and lowered them down as Solidus was able to parry the attack with his swords, creating a shockforce that spreaded around the heliport area. Solidus then pushed Zoro up in the air as he also jumped up, leaving a small fire on the ground as Solidus flew above Zoro.

"LIGHTNING KEY!" Solidus dived down to Zoro as almost as fast as lightning as he they landed hard on the ground, creating a small dust cloud.

"TATSU MAKI!" Zoro created a tornado of cutting waves as this knocked Solidus up in the air. "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro created a big cutting wave using all his swords as the wave flew towards Solidus. Solidus got hit by this attack as he flew even higher into the air, and out of the boundaries of the heliport area. "No way!" Zoro saw Solidus extending his snake arms to the edge of the heliport area as he quickly pulled himself back on with great force while flying straight to Zoro.

"You won't get rid of me that easily!" Solidus shouted as he swung his Republican blade at Zoro before landing on the ground. Zoro parried it, and quickly got behind Solidus as he slashed two swords to the back of Solidus' shoulders, but Solidus raised his swords behind him, and parried the attack. Solidus' snake arm then grabbed Zoro by the shirt, and tossed him into the air as Solidus faced towards him while wrapping his arms around his snake arms. "Die!" Solidus fired multiple missiles at Zoro while he was still in midair as Zoro quickly got into a defensive stance.

"TAKANAMI!" Zoro unleashed a powerful gust of wind that knocked the missiles' trajectory as they flew in separate directions, exploding a bit afterwards as Zoro landed back on the ground.

"Yaaahh!!" Solidus leaped towards Zoro, with both of his swords and snake arms ready to attack his frontal body.

"SAIKURU!" Zoro did a quick spin with his swords, knocking back Solidus' swords and snake arms as he staggered back. "HYOU KIN DAMA!" Zoro leaped towards Solidus, spinning like with his swords as he left some cuts on Solidus.

"Gah… hiya!" Before Solidus could fall on the ground, he used his snake arm to grab Zoro's foot while Zoro was still in midair, and threw him towards the edge of the heliport area. Zoro almost fell off as Solidus landed on his back. Zoro and Solidus got up, and panted as they waited until someone made a move.

Solidus then smirked as he thrusts his snake arm towards the helicopter. "No!" Zoro quickly leaped in front of the snake arm, and slashed it, knocking it back from harming the transport. Now that Zoro was defenseless in midair, Solidus took the opportunity to deliver an upward vertical slash on Zoro's body, leaving a big cut on it. "Guah!" Zoro fell on the ground in pain as Solidus then grabbed him by the leg using his snake arm, and lifted him up from the ground upside as he then choked Zoro with his other snake arm.

"Now do you that this was a waste of time!? You will now die for your ignorance!" Solidus said as he tightened his grip on Zoro's neck.

"TOU ROU…" With quick reflexes, Zoro slashed at the tips of Solidus' snake arms as he was now free from Solidus grip, "NAGASHI!" Zoro slashed at Solidus' stomach with his third sword, causing Solidus to double over in pain.

"Guah… hah… ugh…" Solidus groggily gets back on his feet, and dashed away from Zoro, leaving a trail of fire behind him. "I believed I have underestimated you… I won't hold back this time." Solidus said. He then crossed his arms, and spreads them as his pair of snake arms on his back went flying off into the ocean. In exchange for losing those arms, his muscles grew twice as bigger than they were before. "Hiya!" Solidus dashed around Zoro and the helicopter, creating a big triangle of fire around them. Solidus then dashed at Zoro, and elbowed him in the gut.

"Gah…" Zoro coughed up some blood upon receiving the attack.

"Blow away!" Solidus said before pushing Zoro back with his attacking elbow, making him fly right through the helicopter doors, and right on the ground, near the tip of the blazing triangle.

Meanwhile…

"Waaaaaaaaaaaahhhh!!" Usopp and Chopper screamed as they ran away from Fatman, who was chasing them with his roller skates. "Is he still chasing us!?" Usopp asked.

"Yes! Ahhh!!" Chopper cried while running in his walk point.

"Huh huh hwa hwa hwa! You cannot runaway from my greatness!" Fatman laughed, "And I don't think this is the time to be doing that! Time is running out for the both of you!"

"Oh, that's right! The bombs! We need to deactivate them!" Chopper said.

"Right! I'll let you handle him while I find the bombs! Later!" Usopp said as he ran towards another direction.

"Wait, don't just leave me with him!" Chopper cried in fear. But Chopper then grew confident as he turned around while transforming into his Heavy point. "Take this! HEAVY GONG!" Chopper swung his left fist at Fatman, who ducked as he skated past him. "Huh!?"

"Whoops, you missed! Ho ho ho ho!" Fatman laughed while skating around the area. While Chopper tried to attack him, Usopp was running all over the place, looking for the bombs.

"Found one!" Usopp yelled as he saw a C4 bomb on a cargo wall. He got out his coolant spray, and sprayed the bomb until it was completely frozen. "That's one down!"

"Usopp, look out!" Chopper yelled.

"Huh!?" Usopp turned to his left to see Fatman skating towards him.

BOING!

"Whoa!" Fatman crashed into Usopp as Usopp flew back a couple of feet from getting hit by Fatman's stomach. "There is no time for you to be laying around! There are still more bombs around here for you to find! Huh huh hwa hwa hwa!" Fatman laughed as he skated away while Chopper chased after him. Usopp got back on his feet, and hurried around the area to find more bombs.

"Geez, this guy is so annoying! I wonder how the others are doing?" Usopp thought as he ran.

Meanwhile…

Johnny walked around the cell, sighing in boredom. "Man… I wish they could stop letting me do guard patrol for once." Johnny said sadly, "I mean, I want to see some action for crying out loud! Oh… I hope I get a better role in the future." Johnny then noticed that it was a little too quiet in the area he is in. "Hey, wait a sec. Why is it so damn quiet in here? Could it be that…?"

Johnny looked through the prison cell window to his right, and saw nobody in there. "Guh! What the hell!? Where did he go!?" Johnny took a closer look, but when he did that, Luffy appeared in the cell, and flattened his face up against the window Johnny was looking through. "HOLY!?" This scared the heck out of Johnny as he fell on his rear. He nervously watched as Luffy still felt dazed as he drooled on the window while flattening his face against it.

"I'm hungry… I'm bored… I'm hungry…" Luffy whined. Johnny angrily got on his feet, and glared at Luffy.

"You scared the hell out of me, man! What were you thinking!?" Johnny asked.

"Blaaaahhhhh…" Luffy sticked out his tongue, licking the window, which disgusted Johnny.

"Dude, stop making that face! It's creeping me out!" Johnny said.

"I'm hunnnngryyyyyy…" Luffy whined as he then fell on his back dazedly. Johnny blinked as he looked at Luffy through the window. He saw how Luffy was now licking the dirty floor out of hunger, which made Johnny feel a bit sorry for him.

"Gee, you're making me feel bad…" Johnny said. He then looked at his surroundings to see nobody else in the room. "Doh, what the heck?" Johnny took out a chocolate pudding pack out of his vest pockets, and also took out a spoon as he walked towards the cell door, and dropped them through the cell bars. "Here, eat that. Just stop whining already."

"Food?" Luffy crawled towards the pudding, and opened it. Due to the lack of energy, he grabbed the spoon, and slowly started to eat the pudding. Johnny watched him eat as he started to feel even more bad about Luffy.

"Say, you don't even look like a bad guy afterall…" Johnny said as Luffy then looked at him dazedly, "I don't know even why they put you in here. You don't seem like you would hurt a fly."

"Oh..?" Luffy dazedly got on his feet, and looked at Johnny through the window, "Now that you say that, I'm thinking that you don't look all that tough either."

"Huh!? What're you trying to say!?" Johnny asked as he aimed his rifle at Luffy, "You better take back what you said! I may not look like it, but I am one of the toughest soldiers out here! I have lived longer than any other soldier to prove it!"

"So? That doesn't mean that you're strong." Luffy said as he kindly smiled at Johnny, "You could have been hiding behind people that were stronger than you, and letting them do all the work for you."

"Sh-Shut up!" Johnny said furiously, "I am a veteran at this! There is nobody that can reach my level of-oh, who am I kidding?" Johnny said depressingly as he laid his back on the window, "You're right, I am nothing but the coward of the group. I do nothing but hold people back, that's why I was assigned as a prison guard just like my father was. You can say that he and I have the same traits that our ancestors had or something."

"If you don't like your job, then just leave." Luffy said, which startled Johnny.

"Are you kidding me!? Once I join, there is no turning back! I will get killed if I do something like that!" Johnny said as he faced Luffy, "But even if I did had that option, I don't know where to turn to. It's like the only the thing for me in life is this. -sigh-… I don't know how long I can put up with this."

"Come on, don't feel so upset." Luffy said, "Anybody, including you, can do what they want when they feel like it. It's like my dream to become the Pirate King someday. Even if I die, I will still feel happy for trying."

Johnny felt inspired by Luffy's words. "Whoa… that is something to admire." Johnny said, "Hey, my name is Johnny, by the way."

"I'm Luffy! I am going to be the Pirate King someday." Luffy said happily.

"Heh heh. Yeah, you just told me that." Johnny replied, "Anyway, I just might follow your example. Who knows; maybe I can become as great as you someday."

"Yeah, keep dreaming. Hya hya!" Luffy laughed, "Oi, you wouldn't know how to get out of here, would you?"

"Sorry, but I can't let you go. If I did, there is chance that we'd both die." Johnny said, "Besides, I don't think you can get out of this island so easily either, with so many things going on and all…"

"Don't worry; once I recover, I'll help you get out of here too." Luffy said.

"Thanks, but no. I am not going to take that risk." Johnny said. "If I could, I'd rather trade places with you."

"Huh? Why?" Luffy asked curiously.

"Well, you see… oh!?" Johnny held his stomach in pain he got on his knees, "Oh no! Not again…"

"Hey, what's wrong!?" Luffy asked.

"I have been having a diarrhea problem for a couple of years now! Ohhh, it feels so terrible!!" Johnny groaned in pain.

Luffy wanted to help him out, so he grabs his chocolate pudding, and showed it to Johnny over the cell bars. "Do you want some chocolate?"

"GOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOHHH HHHHHHHHH!!" Johnny ran out of the prison room while holding his butt, and ran into the bathroom located in the torture room. Luffy watched as Johnny closed the door, and there was nothing but silence thereafter.

POOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOT!!

"OOOOOOOOHHHH!! Not the wet kind! That one hurts the most!!" Johnny yelled from inside the bathroom.

POOOOOOOT!! POOOOOOOOT!! POOOOOOOOOOOOT!! POOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOT!!

"OHHH!! I FEEL LIKE MY ORGANS OUR COMING OUT OF MY BODY!!"

POOT! POOT! POOT! POOT! POOT! POOT! POOT! POOOOOOT! POOOOOOOOo ooooOOOO OOOT!!

"Oh god; please let this end!!"

POOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOT!!

Luffy didn't wanted to know what was going on in there. He looked at his chocolate pudding, which he then dropped as he didn't felt like looking at it anymore.

"Oh phew… I'm done… whoa, that's a big sack there… must be a new record… oh my god, there is no toilet paper in here!"

Luffy heard a flush from a toilet as he then saw Johnny coming out of the bathroom, exhausted from his… moment. Johnny sighed as he came back into the prison room, laying his back on the prison window as Luffy heard a squishy sound when Johnny leaned his rear on it. "I'm back…"

"… You stink…" Luffy said while covering his nose.

"Oh, be quiet, please?"

Meanwhile…

Sanji threw a kick at Vamp, who dodged and countered with a horizontal slash of his combat knife, which Sanji avoided by jumping back. Vamp then thrusted his foot sideways at Sanji, who nearly got kicked in the face as he dodged it. "TENDRON!" Sanji thrusted his foot sideways, and kicked Vamp in the neck, causing him to gag a bit as he staggered back. Sanji then leaped towards Vamp while thrusting his foot forward. "VEAU SHOT!"

Vamp saw it coming as he quickly arched his back low enough to avoid the kick. Vamp then delivered an upper kick across Sanji's chin, knocking him up high in the air.

"Ragh!" Vamp emitted a red aura around his body as he jumped high to get above Sanji, and thrust both of his feet down at him.

"Goh!" Sanji got kicked in the gut hard, but quickly countered by wrapping his legs around Vamp's legs, causing Vamp to crash down on the corridor with Sanji. As soon as they crashed, Vamp quickly jumped back on the second floor, and threw six knives at Sanji. Sanji swiftly avoided the knives, and that he was safe, but for some reason, he could not move his body. "Ugh!? Can't… move… !?" While petrified, Vamp jumped on the corridor, and got behind Sanji as he placed his knife horizontally close to Sanji's neck.

"What a troubling moment this has become for you." Vamp whispered into Sanji's ear, "After I am done with you, I will go after your little girlfriend too. She can join you in the afterlife."

This made Sanji furious as he was then able to move again, and raise his leg straight up, kicking Vamp in the face behind him. "Ohh!" Vamp staggered back as Sanji faced towards him, and gave him a front kick to the gut. "JARRET!" Sanji then kicked Vamp's shin, "CUISSEAU!" Sanji then kicked Vamp's thigh. This dazed Vamp a bit as Sanji did a handstand right underneath Vamp's chin. "BOUQUETIERE SHOT!" Sanji sprung himself upwards, kicking Vamp's chin with both feet as Vamp was sent flying high up in the air. "Now you're mine!" Sanji yelled as he jumped towards Vamp.

"Not yet!" Vamp threw a knife, which didn't went towards Sanji, but to his shadow instead. Once the knife impaled the corridor where Sanji's shadow was, Sanji was paralyzed again.

"What the!?" Sanji fell back down on the paralyzed, looking at the knife that stabbed his shadow. "Is that why I wasn't able to move!?"

"Ha ha ha!" Vamp landed in front of him, and thought that Sanji looked pretty pathetic. "It's time to end this." Vamp said. He then delivered a strong kick at Sanji, who couldn't defend himself as he was kicked inside the buoyantless pool.

"Dammit!" Sanji thought as he was then able to move again, but every time he tried to swim up, he was pushed back down by the water pressure. " I can't get out!… No! I cant think like that! Come on, legs! " Sanji mustered all his strength into his legs, and used them to try, and swim out of the pool, but to no avail. Vamp laughed at his attempts to get out as Sanji then thought of Nami. "I WON'T DIE HERE!" Sanji then stared to spin around in circles with great speed.

"What is he doing now?" Vamp asked carelessly. His eyes then widened as he saw that Sanji was spinning so fast, he was creating a whirl pool. "That's impossible! How could he… ugh!?" Vamp then noticed that the whirlpool was so big, that their was a hole in the center of the pool, where Sanji stood as he glared at Vamp from below.

"ANTI-MANNER…" Sanji quickly ran up the water before it could swallow him up again. He managed to do just that as he got out of the water level, and headed straight towards Vamp. "KICK COURSE!" Sanji thrusted his foot upward with great force, kicking Vamp's chin.

"GUAAAAAHHH!!" Vamp went flying up into the air as a result as Sanji instantly jumped above him. "Ugh!?"

"Now I'll show you what happens to those who anger the prince!" Sanji yelled as pulled up his right foot, "ANTI-MANNER FLANCHET HACHE!" Sanji thrusted down his right foot, and kicked Vamp's stomach with tremendous force.

"GYAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHH!!" Vamp cried in pain as Sanji kicked all the way down to the pool, with Sanji jumping off of him, and landing on the corridor before Vamp went inside the pool as it swallowed. Vamp span around in circles thanks to the small aftereffects of the whirlpool as he tried to swim out, but the pain on his gut was preventing him to do so. He could get his upper body out of the pool as he glared at Sanji before sinking back in. "GUAAAAAAAHHHHHH!! GOOOOOOAAHHHH!!"

Once Vamp sinked back into the pool, blood poured out of his mouth as he drowned all the way towards the bottom, changing the water into red for a couple of seconds before turning back into it's original color.

"Hope you stay dead this time… for your sake." Sanji said bluntly. He then sighed as he then exited out of the room.

Meanwhile…

Snake punched Gray Fox hard across the face as he then flipped him off his feet, but Gray Fox was able used his athleticism to land back on his feet as he then tried to punch Snake, who dodged and countered with a knee to Gray Fox's gut. "Oh!" Snake then tried to punch Gray Fox, who dodged by going under his fist, and ending up behind Snake, who then tried to hit Gray Fox with a backhand, but missed as Gray Fox backflipped to avoid. Snake then turned to Gray Fox, and thrusted his foot at him, which Gray Fox parried with his arm as Snake then faked another kick, catching Gray Fox off guard as he then kicked Gray Fox during that moment.

"Gah!" Gray Fox got kicked in the rib as Snake then did a roundhouse kick, which Gray Fox avoided by jumping over Snake, and landing a few feet behind him. Gray Fox then charged at Snake, and attempted to give him a clothesline from behind, but Snake saw it coming as he jumped back while facing towards Gray Fox. Snake then did his standard combo with delivering a left fist to Gray Fox's face, then a right fist, and then finishing his combo with a flying roundhouse kick, knocking Gray Fox right onto the ground. "Gyeh…" Gray Fox got back on his feet, and performed a double charging roundhouse kick, which Snake barely avoided as he got kicked in the arm as Gray Fox jumped to the corner of the room.

"This is great…" Gray Fox said as he then activated his stealth camoflauge, turning him nearly invisible, "Hurry up, and catch me!"

Gray Fox then jumped into another part of the room, which Snake had no idea where since Gray Fox was invisible to start. Meanwhile, Otacon was shivering in fear inside the locker he was in. "Ohh… why must this happen to us again?" Otacon thought in fear, "And why do I feel that there is somebody close to me?"

Gray Fox was actually standing next to the locker room, which Otacon somehow noticed due to the Gray Fox's red eye illuminating through the locker holes. "SNAKE, HE'S OVER HERE!"

Snake heard Otacon scream as he headed towards where Otacon was, and saw a faint shadow next to him. "There you are!" Snake as he then did a forward roll, knocking Gray Fox off his feet as he fell on the ground. This caused Gray Fox to deactivate his camouflage as he and Snake faced at eachother, and delivered a strong punch to eachother's faces. Snake went crashing into the wall behind him, while Gray Fox crashed into some more computer monitors. While Snake got up, their were sparks coming out of Gray Fox's body

"This is it… I have been waiting for this pain!" Gray Fox said with a clenched fist as he slowly got up, and walked towards Snake calmly. Snake charged at Gray Fox, and threw a fist at him, but once he did, Gray Fox disappeared, and reappeared behind Snake.

"What the!?" Snake turned around, only to get punched really hard in the cheek by Gray Fox. "Guah!" Snake flew across the room until he was up against a big computer hard drive. He placed his hands on the ground as he pushed himself back on his feet. "You want to play it like that, huh? Fine!"

Snake charged at Gray Fox, and threw a fist at him, which only made Gray Fox to disappear and reappear behind Snake. Snake knew this would happen as he moved his head to the right to avoid Gray Fox's nasty punch, and countered by ducking, and doing a 360 degree spin with his legs while on the floor. Gray Fox dodged this, however, and started to disappear and reappear around Snake in order to make him feel dizzy, which didn't work at all as Snake was able to punch Gray Fox on his back, causing him to stop moving around so much. "Oohh.." While Gray Fox felt groggy, Snake grabbed his arm, and threw him towards the computer Gray Fox punched him to earlier.

"This is it…" Snake said as he then took out a grenade. He pulled it's pin, and threw at Gray Fox, who still hasnt fallen on the ground. While in midair, Gray Fox felt something on his back. Once he touched his back, he realized it was a C4 bomb.

"How did he… !?" Gray Fox then noticed a land mine that he was about land on. Gray Fox then looked in front of him to see the grenade. He then saw Snake jumping back as he took out his Nikita launcher. "Even I didn't expected this to happen!"

"Sorry, Frank, but this has to be done!" Snake said. He then fired a missile at Gray Fox as it sped directly towards him before he can fall on the landmine, and the C4, and before the grenade could explode.

KABOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOMMMM!!

All the explosives and the Nikita missile exploded simultaneously, creating a pillar of fire as Snake was blown back to the wall close to the locker Otacon was hiding in. "Hah… ugh… I overdid it…" Snake panted as he sat up. He then tapped on the locker, signaling Otacon to get out of hiding. Otacon nervously got out, and gasped upon the destruction the battle caused.

"Snake, what did you just do here!?" Otacon asked, "You do know that we're underground, right!?"

"Yeah, yeah. We're alive, aren't we?" Snake asked carelessly as he got up.

"Well…" Otacon then looked at where the explosion was held. "Did you think he survived?"

"To tell the truth… I think he did." Snake said. They walked towards where Gray Fox was, and saw that he was actually alive, despite going through that explosion.

"Aaaahhh… that was… incredible…" Gray Fox said as he could no longer move, "This was all I have ever wanted from you, Snake. Now I can rest…"

"Otacon, wait for me outside." Snake said. Otacon nodded, and left Snake and Gray Fox alone. Snake sighed as he saw how badly injured Gray Fox, "Now you'll probably leave me alone for once."

"Heh heh… you never changed." Gray Fox said, "You may look older, but you're still the same… I am glad that you were able to do this for me."

"It's not over…" Snake said as he took out a grenade, "Not yet…"

"I see…" Gray Fox said, "I guess this is goodbye…" Snake then started to walk towards the exit, but stopped as he was in front of it.

"I can't say that this was enjoyable, but… if this is what you wanted, then I have no regrets." Snake said.

"Snake… don't forget what I said to you years ago." Gray Fox began to say, "Do the things that you believe in, not by the government, or anyone else."

Snake looked at Gray Fox a bit before looking away. "I'll tell Naomi you said hi…"

"Ah ha ha ha… goodbye, Snake… and thank you." Gray Fox said. And with that, Snake pulled the pin of the grenade, and threw it behind his shoulder as it fell on Gray Fox. Snake walked out of the room, not looking back as he then stood still.

BOOM!

Snake opened his eyes as he looked at Otacon. "Otacon, we have a mission to finish. Let's get going!"

"R-Right!" Otacon said. They both then ran through the empty hallways, continuing their mission as nothing else has happened.

Meanwhile…

Robin was now in Arsenal as she kicked open the closed air, and were now in the dark hallways inside. "Nothing here…" Robin said as she ran through the empty hallways. She then stopped as she entered into the generator room, which had three floors around it's sides. In the middle of the room, there was the generator, with big wires on the top of it's corners, including some joints of them on the upper floors.

"This is rather too easy… something is not right here." Robin slowly walked towards the generator, looking at her surroundings to see if their was any traps. She then heard it; a sound of a gun reloading. "Ugh!?"

BANG!

Robin moved her head to the side, nearly getting shot by a bullet as it hits a support beam behind her.

"Uh-uh-uh. I don't think we are suppose to touch the things that don't belong to you. I thought you knew better than that, Missy."

Robin looked ahead of her, and saw none other than Ocelot coming out of hiding from behind the generator. "It's you…" Robin said with a hint of anger in her tone.

"Good to see you still alive, Missy." Ocelot said while holding his gun, "I was getting a little bored just waiting for you."

Episode 8: Franky

Snake:… I have no commentary for this guy…

Otacon: That's Franky, Snake. He is the shipwright of the Strawhat crew. His real name was Cutty Flam, but changed it to Franky in order to hide from the government in his world.

Snake: He looks like a scary combination of Popeye and Ace ventura. And has a rather identical personality to Johnny Bravo.

Otacon: He's also a cyborg. After a train incident, he rebuild himself using parts of an abandoned ship. With that and his shipwright skills, he is one tough guy to mess with.

Snake: If this guy is so great, then how come he doesnt wear any pants?

Otacon: I don't know. He said that they are itchy to wear.

Snake: Crybaby.

Otacon: Hey, you should yell his victory quote, to see how it sounds like on you Snake: What? Oh… I think I did here him say it once… okay… SUUUUUUUUUPAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!!

Otacon: That was not bad.

Snake: Bleh… I hope you enjoyed it. That will be the last time I say that.

Otacon: You're no fun.

I wanted to put more stuff into the Fatman battle, but this chapter was already too big. Dont worry, I'll put that in the next chapter. Anyway, the main battle for Robin is also in the next one. I'll try not to keep you waiting. Ciao for now!

Metal Gear Pt 12

After seeing all the cutscenes of MGS4, I think you and I both know that I made a mistake in this arc. But, I am not going to fix anything. I already have planned what to do to progress this. On another note, I noticed that a Robin and Ocelot battle was a little odd, even for me, but I did what I could. So… have fun!

2 hours left until deadline. The launch draws near as everyone continues to fight against their enemies. Meanwhile, Robin meets with Ocelot again, only this time, their wont be any escape for the both of them. How will this confrontation end?

Chapter 95: The cowboy duel, Robin vs Revolver Ocelot

Robin glared at Ocelot, who was making his way in front of the generator, spinning his gun around in the process. "How did you know I was coming here?" Robin asked with a glare.

Ocelot stopped spinning his gun as he curiously looked at Robin, "Please… I may be old, but that doesn't mean that I don't have what it takes to figure out my opponent's movements." He said, "What else would your comrades be doing in my office in the first place? Certainly not for sight-seeing of course. The only thing that was there was the disc that contained information about this very area… and since you'd risk your life just to deactivate this, it means you know how to open that wretched safe."

Robin didn't respond, which answered Ocelot's theory. "As I expected." Ocelot chuckled, "You saved me the time to find out how to open that safe. You don't know how troublesome it was for me to use such machinery against it. I should be grateful to you, Missy."

"Back in the hanger… why did you kill that man?" Robin asked.

"You're still thinking about that?" Ocelot asked curiously, "I told you before; I was simply trying to shoot the bug off his head. I believed I got it… although, I did more than I bargained for."

"You killed him so you could throw me off guard!" Robin said, "I have seen many people killing their own men because of their own selfish reasons… but to do that in order to scare their enemy… that is something I just cannot put aside!"

"It's a cruel world, Missy. You have to expect the unexpected. You can't just ignore reality; it's something that we all have to endure for the rest of our lives." Ocelot explained, "Mother nature gives… and then takes it away. It's nothing to be so upset about."

"Silence…" Robin muttered, "I knew from the instant I met you that you were nothing but a cold-blooded man. You can destroy everything this world's ancestors did so hard to create, and feel no guilt of it. I, for one, will not stand for this! I can't let you create such disorder into this world just to please your superiors!"

"Missy… you seem to not have learned anything from me." Ocelot began to say, "The Patriots' desire to have full control of this world is only for the good of humanity; that's all. All way of life will be controlled, and their will be nothing else to worry about. The world would finally then be in peace."

"That's not peace, that's enslavement!" Robin said, "People are not objects you can just control! They have their own lives, and they have the right to live the way want to. I dont care how powerful your Patriots are; they can never control humanity!"

Ocelot then sighed in depression. "I guess there is no point trying to talk to you." He said sadly, "I was only trying to show you the light, but if you insist on denying it, then I guess I have to let things go on it's own course. You'll see what I have in mind in due time… but for now, I think it's best that you tell me how to open the safe."

"Even if I did know, I wouldn't tell you a thing." Robin replied angrily.

"You don't understand what's inside that safe, Missy. It's not just a mumbo jumbo heart, It's a creation created non other than Master Hand himself. He has powers beyond our imagination, and created those hearts for one purpose, and that is to travel to any kind of world, using a mystical door he also created. Don't you think it's rather curious why he made that?"

"… He made it so he can he bring true warriors from other worlds and dimensions in order to fight for honor and peace in his tournament." Robin said simply.

"Aye… but it's curious that it is used for that purpose only, don't you think?" Ocelot asked, "I mean, gathering a bunch of strangers, and make them fight eachother to bring honor and peace between their kind? That sounds rather simple, yet redundant. You think that a man with such power could only have that purpose in life? I believe there is more to it…"

"I don't see that has something to do with you trying to destroy humanity." Robin said.

"Ah, there you go again." Ocelot sighed, "Like I said, the things Master Hand creates are unique and powerful. If I use them, I will get an unlimited supply power, and use that to my advantage in life."

"I'm very sorry… but I do not want to hear you speak such nonsense." Robin said as she got into her fighting stance.

"Hmm… very well then. We'll now see that if you can live up to your beliefs." Ocelot said as he then stroked his gun, "This is the greatest handgun ever made, the Colt Single Action Army." Ocelot then opened the gun's chamber, and started to put in some bullets. "Six bullets… more than enough to kill anything that moves." Once he finished reloading his gun, he closed it's chamber as he spanned the gun in circles for a bit. "Now you'll see why they call me… Revolver."

Ocelot puts the gun back on his gun, and stood straight while staring at Robin. Their was a pause, you couldn't hear anything else in the area but a faint heartbeat. The sounds of the heartbeat started to get more frequent by the second as Robin was ready to fight.

"DRAW!"

Meanwhile…

"Gah… hah… hah.." Usopp panted on his knees as he finally froze the last bomb in the area. While Usopp rested a bit, Chopper was still having a hard time trying to keep up with Fatman.

"Huh huh hwa hwa hwa! This is the best party I have ever been on!" Fatman said excitedly while skating away from Chopper in his walking point, "Tell me, what other excitements do you have in store for me!?"

"The excitement of punching your face out!" Chopper yelled as he leaped towards the air while changing into his Heavy point, and went down towards Fatman. "HEAVY GONG!" Chopper was about to punch Fatman from above, but Fatman accelerated his pace, skating faster as he skated away from Chopper's incoming fist.

"Ho ho ho! You missed!" Fatman laughed while looking at Chopper behind his shoulders. He was careless to see where he was going as he accidentally tripped over Usopp. "Goh!?"

"Ah!" Usopp yelled as Fatman fell hard on his front body. Usopp crawled backwards in fear as Fatman was slowly getting on his hands and knees, feeling rather dazed from tripping. "Uh? Th-This is my chance!" Usopp yelled in confidence as he then got his hammer, and charged at Fatman. "USOPP HAMMER!"

CLONK!

"Oh!" Fatman got hit in the back of the head by Usopp's hammer attack as this caused him to sprung him back on his feet, "Why you little party pooper!"

"Ahh!!" Usopp then ran away as Fatman started to chase him. "Chopper, help me!" Usopp ran to his left behind a cargo as Fatman chased him there. Once he turned, he saw Usopp running behind another cargo, and went to get after him, but as soon as he was about to get to Usopp, Chopper appeared over the side of the wall, and punched Fatman in the gut.

"Ah!" The punch was strong enough to cause Fatman to skate backwards, and then skate his back into a cargo wall. "Gih! So you want to play it like that, eh!? Here, have some party snacks!" Fatman took out what appeared to be firecrackers, and threw a various amount of them towards Usopp and Chopper, causing them to explode in small sparks upon landing on the ground.

"Ow! Ow! Whoa!" Usopp and Chopper were tapdancing to avoid the sparks. Once their were no more of them, they panted in exhaustion. "Oi, where did he go!?" Usopp asked as Fatman was no longer in sight.

"Here I am!" Fatman yelled from behind Usopp and Chopper. "HA!!" Fatman skated towards the duo with great speed. Right at the moment that Usopp and Chopper turned to face Fatman, he clotheslined them both with both arms as he skated by, knocking them down on their backs. "Huh huh hwa hwa hwa hwaaaa!" Fatman laughed as he skated away behind some other cargos. Usopp and Chopper dazedly got back on their feet, and nervously looked at their surroundings.

"Which way did he go!?" Chopper asked.

"I don't know, but we cant keep fighting him like this!" Usopp said, "We have to outmaneuver him if we want to stay alive!"

"Do you have any ideas, Usopp?" Chopper asked.

"I have one, but it's going to be risky. Just follow my lead!" Usopp shouted. Usopp and Chopper then ran towards the center of the area as Fatman was stalked them from behind a cargo behind them.

"Peek-a-boo! I see you!" Fatman went skating towards the duo as Usopp heard him coming.

"Now, Chopper, jump out of the way!" Usopp shouted. He and Chopper then jumped in opposite directions as Fatman went past them.

"Huh! They moved out of the way!" Fatman said while skating. Suddenly, he was starting to loose his balance. "What is this!?" Fatman looked down, and saw a stream of cooking oil. Thanks to the oil, Fatman was having a hard time trying to stop himself. "Whoa, whoa, whoa! Ahh!!" Fatman then fell on his back, and backrolled onto his front body as he slipped towards the ledge of the area. "Ohh…"

"Now is our chance! HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a flaming pellet at the cooking oil, which caused to lit itself on fire, spreading along it's stream while also heading towards Fatman, who only sat up on the scene.

"Oh!?"

KABOOOOOOOOM!

An explosion erupted as Usopp and Chopper were sent flying back due to it's force. "Yikes!" They both landed on the other side of the area, panting a bit as they got back on their feet. "Phew… that got him."

"That was an amazing idea, Usopp!" Chopper said happily.

"Heh! One it comes to defeating an enemy, their is nothing that Captain Usopp can not do when he leads his crew to victory!" Usopp said praising himself as he then laughed confidently.

"GRAAGHH!!"

"Eh?" Usopp and Chopper froze as they shifted their sights towards where the explosion occurred. They then saw Fatman sideways on the ground as he was engulfed in flames. The more he rolled around, the quicker the flames on his died off. Once the fire died out, Fatman sighed in relief as he angrily got up in front of duo, who were still paralyzed.

"I think it's now time to skyrocket this party even further!!" Fatman said while taking out his Tommy gun. Usopp and Chopper's jaws dropped to the floor as they ran for their lives. Fatman chased them, shooting at them repeatedly with his gun, which Usopp and Chopper avoided by jumping up and down, and moving left to right in a scared way.

"What do we do now, Usopp!?" Chopper asked nervously while running.

"Just keep running! Whoaaaa!!" Usopp cried as they continued to run away from Fatman.

Meanwhile…

"DRAW!" Ocelot pulled out his gun, and shot his first bullet at Robin. Robin was barely to avoid it as the bullet went past her cheek, leaving a small cut on it.

"Ugh!" Robin fell on her knees as she then crossed her limbs. "DOS FLEUR!" Robin intended to sprout arms out of Ocelot's body, but instead, they appeared next to him. "What!?"

"Hmm.. what kind of mumbo jumbo is this?" Ocelot asked curiously as he looked at the sprouted arms. He then looked at Robin, and noticed how she shock she was. "Oh, I see; you can grow your arms out of anywhere you see. That's a really neat trick you got here, but you look rather disturbed. I wonder why."

" Why did they sprouted there!? There is something else this man is hiding… " Robin thought, " But for now, the only thing I can do is hit from sprouting arms from floors and walls ."

"This ain't the time to be daydreaming, Missy!" Ocelot said as he fired another bullet at Robin, who saw it coming as she leaped towards her left to avoid, and siderolled back on her feet as she continued to run sideways.

"SEIS FLEUR, JAB!" Two arms appeared around the ground as they grew two more arms, and tried to punch Ocelot, who jumped back to avoid, and ran behind the generator. Ocelot peeked over the other side of the wall, and fired another bullet at Robin, who quickly hid behind a support beam to avoid it.

Robin then peeked over the wall she hid behind, and saw Ocelot already running out behind the generator, and tried to run behind a support beam close to him. "DOS FLEUR, FLIP!" Robin sprouted two arms underneath Ocelot as they grabbed his legs, causing him to fall down. "UNO FLEUR, GRAB!" One hand appeared in front of Ocelot as it tried to grab his face, but Ocelot managed to land on his hands, and push himself on his knees as he fired another bullet towards Robin, who quickly hid behind back to the support beam to avoid it. She lost her focus as the hands grabbing Ocelot disappeared, allowing him to move as he ran behind the support beam close to him.

"Yah!" Ocelot aimed his gun over the support beam's wall, and fired two consecutive shots at different directions as one of them rebounded from a wall, and hits the wall in front of Robin, startling her as she got out of hiding. She then saw the other bullet rebound from the ceiling, and shot beneath the ground she stood on as this caused to fall on her rear. "Got you now!" Ocelot shouted as he came out of hiding while pulling out another gun from underneath his coat, but as soon as he was about to use, a line of arms emerged in front of him, and grabbed his arm as they forced him to fire upwards. While the arms held his arm, Robin got on her feet, and focused her gaze on Ocelot.

"DIEZ FLEUR… !?" Robin then gasped as the bullet Ocelot fired earlier nearly went through her head as it shot the ground beside her. Due to this distraction, the arms holding Ocelot disappeared as Ocelot aimed his gun properly at Robin.

BANG!

Ocelot fired a bullet at Robin, who quickly sprouted a row of arms in front of her as they were ready to catch the bullet. The bullet went right through the hands' palms as it slowed down until the last hand was able to catch it. "AAAHHH!!" Since Robin can feel what her sprouted body parts feel, she fell on her knees in pain as the arms she sprouted disappeared. She panted heavily as Ocelot just chuckled a bit.

"You're an open book, Missy." Ocelot said, "By seeing what I just saw, I say that your extra arms have a weakness. Shooting them means that I would also be shooting you, am I right?"

Robin replied by sprouting a line of arms as they punched Ocelot underneath his chin as he got knocked off his feet. Ocelot retaliated by backflipping back on his feet. "Fine, let us skip the chatter!" Ocelot aimed his gun at Robin, who quickly sprouted hands on a wall behind Ocelot as they grabbed the back of his head. "Grr!" Ocelot aimed at the arms behind, and fired at them, causing them to disappear as Robin cried in pain.

"Ahh!! DOCE FLEUR, WALL!" Robin sprouted a horizontal row of arms in front of Ocelot, blocking his view as Robin took the chance to hid behind a corner of the generator. Ocelot got on his feet, and ran around the wall of hands as they ran around the generator, and aimed his gun forward, but Robin was nowhere in sight.

POW!

"Ohh!" An arm sprouted from the corner of the generator Ocelot was standing next to as it punched Ocelot across the jaw. Ocelot staggered sideways as he then noticed a particular shadow close to a support beam. "REFLECT SHOT!" Ocelot fired to his left as the bullet rebounded against a wall on the second floor, and all the way towards a wall on the first floor as it then rebounded to where the shadow was as Ocelot heard a cry of pain. "Found ya!" Ocelot ran towards the support beam, but saw nobody behind it anymore. "Where did she go!"

"WRENCH!" Five arms sprouted straightly from the ground in front of Ocelot, hitting him hard enough to send him crashing into the wall behind him.

"Gah!" As Ocelot crashed into the wall, he saw Robin in front of him as she bled a bit from the rebounding bullet from earlier. Ocelot smirked as he then fired another bullet at Robin, who rolled sideways as Ocelot tried to shoot at her again, but Robin sprouted hands from the ceiling of the second floor as they pushed Ocelot's gun downward right before he fired. Because of that, Ocelot shot the ground underneath as Ocelot whacked the hands in front of him aside, and ran out from underneath the second floor ceiling, and out into the open area again as Robin waited for him to approach.

"DOS FLEUR, LOCK!" Two arms appeared from underneath Ocelot, and were about to hold him place, but Ocelot jumped in the air to avoid them, as he fired his gun at Robin, who quickly rolled forwardly to avoided as Ocelot landed behind her.

They both then turned around to face eachother as Robin quickly sprouted some hands underneath Ocelot to deliver a blow in the gut at the same time Ocelot fired at Robin's shoulder. "Ahh!" They both screamed in pain as they then ran into different directions, with Robin hiding behind another support beam, and with Ocelot hiding behind the generator. Ocelot panted as he puts away his second gun, and took out his third and the last gun he had as he then peeked over the generator wall to see any sign of movement from his enemy. Robin did the same, but rather differently as she stalked on Ocelot by sprouting an eye on the wall Ocelot had his back on.

"DOS FLEUR, LOCK!" Two hands appeared from the generator wall, and wrapped themselves around Ocelot's neck, trying to squeeze the air out of him.

"Guah!" Ocelot was able to squeeze his head underneath the hands' grip as he fell on the floor. He then rolled sideways as Robin sprouted arms underneath the floor he was on. Ocelot quickly rolled back on his feet as he quickly jumped behind a support beam close to him, shooting at the sprouting hands that were coming towards him, but Robin saved herself from the pain as she caused her sprouted arms to disappear before they would get shot.

Ocelot then ran from column to column as he got closer to where Robin was. Robin was doing the other opposite as she was getting away in order to get some distance from him. She then remembered what she had to do as she looked at the support links of the generator. "CINCO FLEUR!" Five arms appeared on the top corner of the generator as they were starting to pull some of the links attached to it off. Before she could do that, Ocelot caught up to her, and fired a bullet at her. Robin ducked, and moved out of Ocelot's vision to continue pulling out the links from the generator. "Almost there… !" Just when Robin thought she pulled them out, one of the hands got shot by a bullet, causing Robin to lose her focus as the hands she sprouted from the top corner of the generator disappeared in an instant.

"Gaaah!" Robin cried in pain as she then panted heavily afterwards. Ocelot then walked up behind her, and aimed at the back of Robin's head in close range. Just as soon as Robin noticed Ocelot's shadow in front of her, she sprouted hands beneath herself, and pushed out of the way before Ocelot could fire.

"Tsk!" Ocelot tried to shoot at Robin, who kept sprouting her hands to help move along the ground as hands from the ledge of the second floor pulled her off the first floor. Ocelot then attempted to shoot her down while she was in the air, but he ran out of bullets for his third gun. "Damn!"

Ocelot ran to the staircase that led to the second floor as Robin hid herself behind a support beam in the corner of the second floor. While Ocelot got to the second floor, he was reloading his gun.

"I love to reload during a battle." Ocelot said, "There is nothing like putting a silver bullet into a gun's chamber."

Once Ocelot finished reloading his gun, he fired at a wall, which rebounded, and hits the support beam wall Robin was hiding up against. "Eh!?" Robin got startled by this, and decided to crawl away behind the guard rails to avoid getting seen by Ocelot.

"Hiding won't help you." Ocelot as he started to reload his second gun, "As you can already see, I can control where the bullets will go, so there is no point in trying to get away! Ha ha ha!"

Robin leaned her back against on the guard, and sprouted an eyeball towards a higher wall closer to Ocelot. She saw that he was reloading, which Robin decided to take the chance to attack. "CINCO FLEUR!" Robin sprouted five hands from underneath Ocelot as two of them grabbed his arm which were holding the bullets, and grabbed his coat as he slammed Ocelot's face against the wall. Ocelot retaliated by shooting repeatedly with his second gun as the bullets bounced off of everywhere, with none of them hitting Robin. Once the gun ran out of ammo, Ocelot pushed himself off the wall, and hits the hands with his gun, causing them to disappear as Robin slightly grunted in pain due to this.

Ocelot than ran towards the other side of the second floor while reloading his second gun again. Once he finished doing that, he pulled his last gun as he begun reloading that while still holding on to the gun he just reloaded. Robin took a deep breath as she then got out of hiding from behind the guard rail as she sprouted hands from the wall next to Ocelot. They tried to grab him, but Ocelot swiftly moved out their reach, and was about to fire at them, but they quickly disappeared as Robin sprouted hands from the guard rail Ocelot was next too as they grabbed his ankle. Ocelot tried to shake it off as Robin then sprouted 15 more hands from the wall close to him.

"DIECISEIS FLEUR, PUSH!" The hands pushed Ocelot over the guard rail, and off the second floor as Ocelot was about to fall down, but he saved himself by dropping his second gun, and grabbing onto the rail as he held on. The hands then sprouted from around Ocelot's hand as they tried to force him to let go, but Ocelot quickly fired some rounds towards Robin, who had to drop her focus, and duck to avoid the shot as the hands on the rail disappeared, allowing Ocelot to pull himself back on the second floor with one hand.

Before Robin could get up, Ocelot fired more bullets at Robin's direction as they rebounded from the walls, and hits towards centimeters away from Robin's face. Robin was once again startled by this as Ocelot took this chance to reload his gun to the fullest.

"All right. I'm alive again. Let's go!"

Meanwhile…

Half of the path that Nami and Franky were in was now looked like it has got into the ice age. There were ice on the walls and the floor, and the containers were covered in ice as well. The end of the path showed Raven completely frozen into the gateway to the safe area, and the ravens on the long walls just watched as Nami and Franky walked up to the entrance.

"Great, how are we suppose to get through now?" Nami asked while rubbing her head.

"Why don't you use one of your fireballs to melt this?" Franky asked.

"-sigh-… that will take some time." Nami said, "And besides, if I do that, I'll also revive this macho idiot here."

"Just heat the ice fast enough, and that could finish him off for good." Franky said.

"I don't want to do that! I am not a murderer!" Nami said, "Dammit, It's getting really cold here now! I want to get through already!"

At the moment she said that, they heard a crack in front of them. They looked towards where Raven was frozen as the ice around him was starting to crack. "That can't be possible…" Nami gasped in fear as the cracks were starting to let out some vapor. Before they knew it, the whole ice on the gateway shattered into pieces as Raven fell on his hands and knees, coughing repeatedly after breaking free.

"No way that's possible!" Franky gasped as he stepped back.

"His lungs should have been frozen stiff… this guy really is a superhuman…" Nami said in fear. Even though Raven was able to get free, he was coughing rather loud as his body was still covered with thin ice. He then spat out some blood as he got on his feet, and dazedly rested his body next to a frozen container.

"I knew this would happen… bringing me back into a world that I no longer belong to was a bad idea to begin with." Raven panted as he coughed some more. A raven then flew onto his shoulder. "But atleast my spirit and flesh can now go back to where they really belong, and that is with the ravens. In that way, I will return to mother earth who bore me." The raven then flew off his shoulders as Raven then looked at the ground.

"Do you think it's safe to approach?" Nami asked.

"By the looks of him, even he knows that he is done for." Franky said with a frown. They slowly approached Raven, who looked at them as they came.

"Mmm… here, take this cardkey. It will let you inside the safe area." Raven said as he took out a cardkey, and gave it to Nami.

"So you had it…" Nami said as she took the card, "Why are you giving this to us?"

"You two have a will that no ordinary human can have. You belong into another world just like me. Who am I to take your key from reaching your goal?" Raven asked. "Listen to me, up ahead contains the tightest security this land has to offer. Once you step in, it might be the last place you'll ever visit."

"Don't worry about that, bro. We already have people taking care of that." Franky replied.

"Ho ho ha… ack!" Raven coughed as he looked up into the dark sky, "I must leave now; to join my friends into the skies. I will be watching you from above."

From saying that, the ravens on the wall flew in towards Raven, and began devouring his flesh. Seeing this made Nami feel sick as she looked away.

"In the natural world, there is no such thing as boundless slaughter. There is always an end to it. But things are different now." Raven said calmly, despite the ravens eating him.

"Come on, let's go." Franky said bluntly. He and Nami walked away from Raven as he continued talking.

"In this generation, there is no such thing that has an end. There will always be someone or something to let the path continue. There is nothing that we can do to stop that… just like you two. You can't stop for what is yet to come, and when it does, there will be no turning back. My spirit will see that until the very… end…"

Raven didn't talk anymore. Nami and Franky turned around, and saw the ravens flying away, leaving no trace of Raven behind.

"He's… gone." Nami said. She felt a little sad as Franky patted her shoulder.

"Let's keep moving; there is a weird looking heart we still need to get." Franky said. Nami nodded as she and Franky walked up to the gateway as the cardkey automatically opened the entrance for them. They stepped inside to find themselves in a big elevator. The elevator then went up diagonally as it took Nami and Franky to a higher level. Once they reached to the top, the gateway opened sideways, letting them outside.

"There it is." Franky said. The safe area was an immense area to begin with. There was nothing at the top, and there seemed to be nothing on the floor either. In the center of the area, they saw the big safe in the small mountain pillar ahead of them.

"It so close from here. Ugh… even I know there are traps here from the looks of this place." Nami said.

"Yep, it's all up to Robin now." Franky said.

"I hope she is okay." Nami said worryingly.

Meanwhile…

Ocelot fired some rounds beneath the third floor path as the rounds rebounded from it, and rained down at Robin, who could only curl herself up in fear as the bullets showered around her. Ocelot then ran towards the right side of the second floor, attempting to ambush Robin, but stopped as he saw more hands sprouting in front of him. "Get lost!" Ocelot yelled as he fired some shots at the hands, but they disappeared before they could get hit. Unknown to Ocelot, their was some hands behind him as they grabbed Ocelot by the back of his ankles. "Why you!" Ocelot was about to fire at the hands, until he then saw Robin running right towards him.

"CUATRO FLEUR, SPIN!" Robin sprouted four arms from her shoulders as she then span in 720 degrees, hitting Ocelot as the hands that were holding his ankles lets him go in order for him to fall on his back.

"Gah!" As Ocelot landed on his back, he aimed at Robin, and fired some shots at her, Robin avoided the first shot, but could barely avoid the second one as it flew right across her right shoulder, leaving a cut on it.

"DOS FLEUR!" Two arms appeared around Ocelot's head as they started to strangle Ocelot while also holding him in place. Robin took the chance to run for cover as Ocelot broke free, and aimed his gun forwardly, but saw no sign of Robin anywhere.

"You cant run from me, Missy!" Ocelot said as he then got up, and started to the south side of the second floor, hoping to catch up with Robin. Once he made his turn, though, several arms sprouted from the support beam next to him, and tried to get him, but Ocelot was quick on his feet as he jumped sideways to avoid them. Ocelot then did a front roll, avoiding some sprouted arms coming from the wall as they nearly grabbed him. Ocelot then ran forward, shooting his gun as the bullets rebounded from the wall in front of him, and flew towards the left, which Robin manage to avoid as she was hiding behind the guard rail on the left side of the second floor.

"SEIS FLEUR!" As Ocelot ran forward, three arms from the support beam and the wall sprouted out, and held hands as Ocelot quickly rolled forward to avoid getting knocked down.

As he rolled onto his feet, Ocelot saw Robin to his left. He was about to shoot at her, until an arm sprouted from the wall close to him, punching him across the jaw as Ocelot accidentally shot upwards. As Ocelot felt a little dazed, Robin sprouted arms from the ground around him, holding him in place as Robin then created of arms in front of her, and to the other side of the second floor. She swung herself with them, and landed safely towards the other side as Ocelot broke free of the arms around him as he got up, and shot another bullet at Robin, who ducked just in time to avoid. Ocelot then opened the gun's chamber to see that their were no longer any bullets left inside, so he got out six more bullets, and started reloading.

Robin peeked over the guard rail to see Ocelot reloading his gun, and was about to attack him, but she then remembered her mission.

"I'll do this instead." Robin said as she sprouted arms from the top corner of the generator like before, and started to pull out the support links on it.

Ocelot finished reloading, and saw what Robin was doing. "That again…" Ocelot didn't have a clear shot from where he was, so he quickly ran to the left side of the second floor, and was about to fire at the arms, until they pulled the support links as they spewed out some electric sparks, blinding Ocelot for a split second as the arms on the corner disappeared.

"One down…" Robin thought. She then sneaked her way close to the support beam on the south-left corner of the second floor and peeked over it's wall to take a quick look at Ocelot. To her surprise, the man was nowhere in sight. "Whoa!" Robin then jumped back, avoiding a bullet from above. Robin looked up to see that Ocelot was on the third floor, aiming his gun over the guard rail there.

"I see you!" Ocelot yelled as he started to fire at Robin, who was running across the path while avoiding getting shot down. Robin then hid herself behind the support beam as she then saw a staircase that leads up to the third floor. She then sprouted an arm to the support beam past the staircase, which caught Ocelot's attention as aimed towards it. Once he did, this gave Robin the chance to dash towards the staircase, and take herself up to the third floor. Ocelot noticed this as soon as the arm on the support beam disappeared. He quickly aimed his gun towards the support beam on the third floor, and fired at it as it bounced off the support beam, and shot her right arm.

"Ahh!!" Robin fell down as she held her arm in pain as it bled. She pulled the bullet out of her arm as she then puts pressure on her wound to make it stop bleeding. While she was doing this, she could hear the sound of footsteps getting louder and louder by the second as Ocelot was walking to where she is.

"Let's see how much longer you can last with that wound…"

Meanwhile…

Snake and Otacon ran out hallways, and made their way up the staircase. "We are way behind schedule!" Snake shouted, "Pick up the pace, Otacon! We need to move quick!"

"Easy for you to say! I am not used to this!" Otacon panted while running up the stairs slower than Snake. Once they finally reached the top, they ran upwards, and saw the trashcan they were looking for. "Now according to Zoro, the keys should be right here."

"Hurry up, and get it! I'll cover you." Snake said.

"Tsk, I have to do all the work around here…" Otacon muttered. He then open the trashcan lid, and lucky for him, there wasn't any garbage inside, but the keys Zoro left in earlier. Otacon took out the keys, and placed them in his pocket. "Okay, we got the keys. Now we need to get into warehouse, and get our transport."

"The vehicle is number 24, right?" Snake asked.

"Yeah. Once we get a hold of it, we'll be in for a ride of our lives." Otacon said.

"Don't worry about that. It will be the least of our problems." Snake said, "Come on, let's get in that warehouse."

Snake and Otacon then started to sneak towards the warehouse, which was still open as some guards were guarding it. As this was happening, Hojo and Sweet Tooth were at the northeast part of the island as they walked in towards a three floor building, where some scientists were waiting outside.

"Oh, Prof. Hojo, we have been waiting for you." Said a scientist.

"How are things with the research? Have there been any progress?" Hojo asked strictly.

"Nothing as of yet, but we did pick up something different during the process. We'd figure that you might know what it might be."

"Ugh… you just had to tell me that right at the time I need to inform back to my comrades about my progress." Hojo complained, "Just put that on hold, and take me to the third floor."

"Yes sir!"

"Come along, Sweet Tooth." Hojo said while walking ahead, but got no respond, "Sweet Tooth?" Hojo turned around to see Sweet Tooth standing still, with his hands shaking a bit. "What's wrong with you now?"

"I haven't had enough… I need to kill more!" Sweet Tooth said desperately.

"Oh no, don't even think about killing my workers. I need them at the moment!" Hojo said, "Must you act like this within every single second?"

"I just need… what was that!?" Sweet Tooth asked while looking at his left, which was south from where he is at. Hojo raised an eyebrow as he looked where Sweet Tooth was looking at.

"What was what? I didn't hear anything." Hojo said.

"No… I heard a cry. Some people were knocked out just now." Sweet Tooth said.

"How can you possibly know that from all the way over here!?" Hojo asked, "You are just having one of your silly dreams again."

"I'm serious!" Sweet Tooth replied, "Can it be that… yes, it must be those pirates!"

"What!?" Hojo asked. Before he could ask any further, Sweet Tooth went running south, leaving Hojo alone. "Wait, where the hell do you think you're going!?… Tsk, I can never understand that demented creature."

Back in the warehouse, Snake hid the two guards he just knocked out earlier as he and Otacon hid behind some cargoes, watching over the wall some guards walking around. "The vehicles are over there, but I don't see how we are going to get past those guards."

"Just stay behind me. I'll take care most of the dirty work." Snake replied. They sneaked along the cargos close to the wall, avoiding the guards in the center area. Once they were closed to the aligned vehicles, Snake took out a stun grenade. "From hear on out, their will be no sneaking around. Once I throw this grenade, hijack our assigned vehicle, and will get the hell out of here."

"Okay…" Otacon gulped nervously, "I'll find our transport while you take care of the guards."

"As planned." Snake said, "Okay, ready? 1… 2… 3… GO!" Snake threw the stun grenade in the center of the room as it exploded into a bright light, blinding and knocking away some guards that were around it.

"We're under attack! Sound the alarm!" A guard yelled. The siren could then be heard as Snake got out of hiding, and started to shoot any soldier within eye contact with his assault rifle.

"Otacon, get moving!" Snake shouted. Otacon went running to the aligned vehicles, finding the one that reads '24' on it. As Snake was taking care of the guards, Sweet Tooth slid sideways on his feet as he was now in front of the warehouse. He looked inside to see all the havoc that was going on.

"Pirates! Where are they!?" Sweet Tooth asked, but only saw Snake shooting off the guards, "I don't see any pirates, but I do see someone that is not on our side! That means I can do good by killing him off!"

Sweet Tooth ran at full speed towards Snake, who shot off a guard before noticing Sweet Tooth coming. "What the he-GAH!" Sweet Tooth tackled Snake as he crashed his back to a cargo wall. "Grr!!" The surprise caused Snake to drop his gun as Sweet Tooth turned him over, and wrapped his arms around his neck as he began choking him.

"Snake!" Otacon shouted worryingly as he saw Snake trying to break free.

"Otacon… get our damn transport ready!" Snake gagged angrily. Otacon nodded nervously as he continued to look for the vehicle. Snake then saved himself by rearing his head back multiple times against Sweet Tooth's face, causing him to lose some of his grip as Snake took that chance to break free of his grip, and flip him off his feet. Sweet Tooth was surprisingly athletic as he cartwheeled back on his feet, and took out his combat knife as he faced Snake, who was already in his fighting stance. "What the hell are you!?"

"Considered yourself honored to get killed by Sweet Tooth! DIE!" Sweet Tooth yelled as he charged at Snake.

Meanwhile…

Robin groggily crawled sideways with her uninjured arm. She was moving slowly due to the wound on her arm, and on her shoulder she got from a while ago. She then laid her back on the guard rail as she crossed her limbs, doing something as Ocelot appeared around the corner of the room.

Robin saw him, and got up while getting into her defensive stance. For some reason, Ocelot didn't attack. He mysteriously looked at Robin's arm he shot, which was no longer bleeding. "Funny… I thought I shot you there." Ocelot said as Robin backed away. Robin then sprouted a line of arms from the ground, and pushed Ocelot's arm upwards, leaving him open as Robin was then about to sprout hands underneath him, but Ocelot backflipped, and took out his other gun with his free, and shot Robin at her knee.

"Ahh!! Ergh…" Robin crossed her limbs as something covered up her wound. After she was done, she was on her hands and knees, taking deep breaths as Ocelot raised an eyebrow.

"I think I know what you just did." Ocelot said, "It seems you can sprout more than just arms, you can sprout just about any replica of your body." Ocelot then looked at Robin's closed wounds, "You must have sprouted some replicas of your cells around your wounds, so it could heal up faster than usual, but once you cast those replicas away, you must have felt some internal recoil damage. It's a fine healing maneuver, I admit, but your just killing your stamina. You'll die if you keep this up."

"I will do whatever it takes to stop you!" Robin replied. "DIEZ FLEUR!" Robins sprouted a circle of arms from the ground around Ocelot as they swirly rose upwards. "CAGE!" The arms were then about to hold eachother, but Ocelot quickly jumped out before they could. Ocelot landed behind the arms as they pulled themselves back at the ground, which would have made mincemeant out of Ocelot if he remained there.

"Die!" Ocelot fired a bullet at Robin, who siderolled to avoid as she then sprouted some more arms towards Ocelot. Ocelot quickly escaped by jumping over the corner of the guard rail, and landing towards the other side of the corner of the floor.

Robin kept her head low as she ran away from Ocelot, who started to fire at her with two guns as the bullets bounced off all over the place. Robin hid behind a support beam, and sprouted arms from the wall behind Ocelot as they them pushed over the guard rail. Ocelot once again drops his gun, and tries to grab onto the rail, but some arms sprouted from there, and grabbed his arm as they flings him right to the second floor, and straight towards a wall. Ocelot saved himself by pushing himself off the wall with his arms and legs as he was about to land on his feet, until some arms, that sprouted below the third floor, grabbed his ankles, and swung him right back into the wall, landing hard on his back.

"CINCUENTA FLEUR!" Before Ocelot could even fall on the ground, over fifty arms sprouted from the wall he was on, and grabbed hold of his entire body, preventing him from moving. "STRAP!" Ocelot was now stuck on the wall, unable to move as Robin hurried herself downstairs, and rushed towards Ocelot.

"This.. wont… HOLD ME!!" Ocelot mustered up all his strength as he tried to break free from the arms around him. Surprisingly, the arms holding him are losing their grip second by second. Robin felt a little dazed due to this as she had no choice but to lose her focus on the arms, causing them to disappear as Ocelot was now free. "Playtime is over!"

Ocelot jumped over the guard rail while aiming at Robin. She quickly ducked as Ocelot fired a bullet at her, which missed as Ocelot landed on the generator. He then fired the rest of his bullets towards where Robin was as the bullets bounced off around the second floor, frightening Robin as she waited until it was over. Once it did, Robin got up, and jumped over the guard rail, and landed back on the first floor as Ocelot then jumped down towards her while spinning his gun in circles. "REVOLVER SPIN!" Ocelot's gun was fast enough to turn into a blur as he swung it towards Robin, who barely avoided as the revolver hits her knee.

"Ahh!!" Despite the pain, Robin rolled onto her feet as Ocelot retrieved all his guns he dropped during the battle. He somehow then got out some ammo, and reloaded all his guns in only 3 seconds.

"Let's see how well you dodge this one!" Ocelot said as he then juggled his guns while spinning them. "RUSSIAN ROULETTE!" As Ocelot juggled, he then started to move around, and fired his gun at a random direction while catching his gun during his juggling process. He moved very fast as he fired every single bullet from all of his three guns into every single place. Robin simply froze as the bullets started to bounce off in every direction. "No matter how small they are, nobody can avoid this attack! Consider yourself finished, Missy!"

"I can't loose like this!" Robin then got on her knees as she crossed her limbs, "CIEN FLEUR, MEGASHIELD!" An enormous quantity of hands sprouted over Robin as they enveloped a round shield around her. The shield of arms were then surrounded by more arms, increasing it's durability as all the bullets then flew towards it. Despite how big it looks, the bullets went right through the arms like paper, and lands hard inside it.

Ocelot wandered if she got her or not as the arms slowly disappeared, answering his question. "Well, what do you know?" Ocelot said as Robin survived the attack, but was heavily wounded as she had blood on her. She panted as she groggily got on her feet glaring at Ocelot.

"I won't… lose…"

Meanwhile…

"SANREN KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired three consecutive explosive pellets at Fatman, which he avoided by skating away as the pellets exploded on the ground.

"You cannot harm me with your second-rate explosives!" Fatman yelled. He continued to skate forward, but gasped as he saw Chopper charging at him while in his walk point.

"HEAVY PRESS!" Chopper jumped in the air while turning into his Heavy Point, and landed on his rear hard enough to create a shockwave, which staggered Fatman enough as the force caused him to skate backwards. Usopp then got behind Fatman, and aimed at him.

"HISSATSU TAMAGOBOSHI!" Usopp fired rotten eggs behind Fatman, which splattered into rotten yolk upon impact. Usopp then crouched as Fatman tripped over him, causing him to land on his back. The yolk on his back cause him to slid along the ground as Usopp then aimed at him while on his knees. "HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet at Fatman while he was still on his back as it exploded upon making contact.

"Ohh…" Fatman got up on his skates, and took out a trigger, "Time to get back on the bombs!" Fatman said as he pushed the trigger button, creating several beeping noises in the area.

"Oh no! Don't tell me he activated more bombs!?" Usopp gasped.

"Usopp! Go find the bombs! I'll take care of him!" Chopper said while getting ahead of Usopp.

"Chopper… okay, good luck!" Usopp said. He then ran off as Fatman laughed at Chopper's confidence.

"How pleasant of you to stay during the finest moments of my party!" Fatman said, "Now I will show how the little ones always fly the farthest after getting blasted away!"

"I'll show you who is small!" Chopper said while taking out a rumble ball. "RUMBLE BALL!" Chopper ate the rumble ball, and faced his hooves in front of Fatman. "SCOPE!" Chopper scanned for Fatman's weakness, but Fatman didn't give him the time as he charged at him. "JUMPING POINT!" Chopper turned into his jumping point, and jumped over Fatman to avoid his assault.

"Hmm? He transformed into something new this time." Fatman observed as Chopper landed on a cargo, and transformed back into his original self as he resumed scanning for his Fatman's weakness.

"I found it!" Chopper said as he then jumped off the cargo, and ran towards Fatman. Fatman fired his Tommy gun at Chopper, who was able to dodge as he turned into Arm point. "KOKUTEI CROSS!" Chopper thrusted his hooves through Fatman's stomach, leaving an X mark on his jacket.

"Oooh!" The force of the attack caused him to skate backwards. Fatman turned around to stop himself as he nearly fell of the ledge of the building.

"Now you can't escape! HORN POINT!" Chopper transformed into his Horn point, and galloped towards Fatman from behind. "ROSEO COLLONADE!"

"Ha… fooled you!" Fatman instantly fell on his side on purpose as Chopper accidentally tripped over him.

"Wah!" Chopper fell over the ledge, but quickly transformed into his Heavy point, and managed to grab the ledge. Fatman rolled away from Chopper as he was pulling himself back up on the roof. "Huh!?" Chopper then saw a bomb in front of him as Fatman pulled out a trigger, much to Chopper's horror.

"Blast off!" Fatman pulled the trigger, causing the bomb to explode.

"WAAAAAAAAAAAHHHH!!" Chopper went flying high up in the sky until he could no longer be seen. After Usopp deactivated the last bomb, he saw what just happened to Chopper.

"CHOPPER!!" Usopp cried as Fatman got back on his feet.

"Well, it looks like that little guy had a blast! Huh huh hwa hwa hwa!" Fatman laughed.

"Damn you, bastard!" Usopp said angrily while clenching his fist. Fatman turned around to see how a angry Usopp was. "I won't let you hurt anyone else again!"

Meanwhile…

Robin looked like if she was about to collapse, but she remained focus on Ocelot. "You're willing to do all this just to save some terrain from getting blown up?" Ocelot asked, "I don't know whether to admire your courage, or to laugh at your foolishness. No matter what you do, the Patriots will have their last laugh."

"I don't care about what you do or say to me…" Robin said, "I cannot just stand here, and watch you destroy humanity. You treat war as it if some kind of important factor in life. I pity you for that…"

"Hmph! Such strong words you have there, but it wont matter a thing since you are about to drop dead." Ocelot said as he then puts one bullet in the gun's chamber before spinning it, and aims at Robin with it, "Tell you what, I'll give you a little chance to survive. Let's see what the odds say in the matter. If you get shot, you're wrong, but if you don't, you're right. So, you want to play?"

"… I trust in what I believe…" Robin said as she stood tall.

"Good…" Ocelot slowly began to pull the trigger. He let some seconds pass by until…

CLICK!

"Ergh!?" Ocelot pulled the trigger, but no bullet came out, making Robin the victor of his little game. "I guess I lost… but you still wont live to tell about it!"

"Ugh!?" Robin tried to cross her limbs, but she could only do it so slowly due to the pain as Ocelot kept pulling the trigger several times, but no bullet came out. Nonetheless, Robin managed to cross her limbs as she then had a confident look on her face, "LOCK!" Two hands grabbed Ocelot by his feet, "STRIKE!" three pair of arms thrusted into Ocelot's gut, "FLY!" A pair of arms struck Ocelot from behind as the arms grabbing his feet lets go of him as Ocelot went flying upward. "WRENCH!" Five arms diagonally sprouted from the ground, hitting Ocelot as he fell down as he was knocked to the other side of the area. Ocelot panted as he got up on his hands and knees, and aimed his gun at Robin.

"THIS WILL KILL YOU!" Ocelot yelled as he fired his gun, only this time, a sound of bullet firing could be heard. Robin covered her arms, but felt nothing hit her. She blinked in confusion as Ocelot glared at his gun. "Was that a dud!? Why did I use that!? I was sure I used a real one!" While Ocelot was distracted, Robin took the chances to sprout arms on the top corners of the generator, and started to pull the support links off. "No!" Ocelot reloaded his gun as fast as he could, and fired at Robin, who quickly hid behind the corner of the generator to avoid. Ocelot regained his focus as he behind the opposite of the generator, regaining his composure while Robin took in some deep breaths.

" I'm really close… I just need to finish off this man. " Robin thought. She then took out something, " The knife Snake gave me… I must put this to good use. "

Ocelot opened the gun's chamber to see some bullets inside. He then began reloading as he regained his confidence. "You're pretty good… I expected nothing less from a pirate. It's been a long time since I have been in a good fight." Ocelot finished reloading as he lowered his stance, "But I'm just getting warmed up…"

At the same time, Robin and Ocelot came out of hiding as Ocelot fired his gun at Robin, who threw her knife at Ocelot. The bullet hits the knife as it flew upwards. Robin sprouted an arm above the generator as it caught the knife, and threw it down as Robin went charging at Ocelot. Ocelot fired his gun again, which Robin avoided by lowering her stance as she caught the knife from above, and slashed through the side of Ocelot's waist with it.

"Guah!" Sparks flew out of Ocelot's coat as Robin fell on her hands and knees. She then looked up at Ocelot, and noticed a mechanism around his waist. Before she could question it, Ocelot aimed his gun at her forehead. This time, Robin didn't know what to do. She could only close her eyes expected the worse to come… but it never happened. Robin opened her eyes to see that Ocelot was shaking, as if he was trying to stop himself. "Come on… why can't I shoot!?"

Robin was confused by this, but decided to ignore that as she took the support links on the generator were starting to let out some sparks. Robin instantly got out of the way as the arms completely pulled out the support links, which released a huge amount of sparks as the exterior part of the generator exploded.

"WAAOOHH!!" Ocelot got knocked back by the explosion as he crashed into the wall behind him. "Ohh…" Ocelot got back on his feet, and glared at Robin, who glared back. "This doesn't change a thing! Nobody can stop the Patriots! They are the true rulers of this world! A nature-lovin' woman like yourself wont be able to change that!"

"You're right… I may not be capable… but I will die trying." Robin replied, "And if I don't succeed, then the rest of the people of this world will continue where I left off… and they will achieve! And there is nothing that your Patriots can do to stop them!"

"Grr… I just about had enough of you!" As Ocelot was getting up, Robin crossed her limbs.

"INFINITO FLEUR!" Flower petals flew around Robin's body as Ocelot aimed at her. Before he could fire, a pink breeze went past him, causing him to freeze. Then suddenly, a pair of arms struck him from below, sending flying back as there were suddenly arms sprouting from his body. "That device you had on must have been reason why I couldn't sprout arms from your body." Robin stated, "Now that it's destroyed, there is nothing in my way to stop you!"

"Curse you… !?" Ocelot muttered before the arms on his grabbed him by his neck and legs.

"CLUTCH!"

CRACK!!

"GAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHH!!" The arms arched Ocelot's back, almost snapping his spine in two as Ocelot crashed into the wall again. Ocelot could barely get back up as limped his way towards the exit in the corner of the room. "Damn you! This is not over! You've got lucky! We'll meet again!"

Ocelot ran through the exit as Robin intended to chase him, but stopped as she remembered about the mission. "Getting back to my crew is more important right now…" Robin said as she left the area by going through another exit.

Snake's codec calls

Episode 9: Brook

Snake: Okay, now this has just gotten ridiculous. I mean, a skeleton!? Are you serious!?

Mei Ling: I see you already met Brook. Brook is the musician of the Strawhat crew. He is really nice even though he is talking skeleton.

Snake: He has an afro too. Just what is the deal with this guy?

Mei Ling: He has eaten the soul soul fruit when he was a human. It gave him the ability to have a second life. After his crew died, he was alone for fifty years. But the Strawhat crew recruited him, so he was pretty happy of that.

Snake: He seems a bit too happy. I mean, he has to live like a skeleton, and he's too happy.

Mei Ling: He is a little strange. He has a habit of telling skull jokes.

Snake: Skull jokes, huh? I got one, what does a skeleton have when he looks at someone he likes.

Mei Ling: What?

Snake: A boner!

Mei Ling:… I'm leaving now.

Snake: What? Don't tell me it wasn't funny.

I know Brook isn't this story, but since I'm doing this, might as well mention him. Anyways, I hope you enjoyed the Robin battle. The Solidus battle will continue and end in the next chapter, including the Fatman one. I'll try to update quicker next time, and I'll make sure it wont be as long as this one. Ciao for now!

Metal Gear Pt 13

Okay, I think I overdid it in this chapter. I placed so much content, I forgot how long it turned out to be. But this should make up for the wait. Enjoy!

---

1 hour left until deadline! In order to destroy security system, Robin had to confront with Revolver Ocelot. She stood victorious against the foul man as she did her duty to destroy the support links of the generator. Their is not much time left. Will the crew be able to get the heart and stop the launch in time?

Chapter 96: Time is running out!, Get the heart!

Ocelot slowly walked along the hallway, placing his arm on his back in pain after almost getting it snapped by Robin. "Ergh… curse that missy, breaking my back…" Ocelot muttered, "This feels worse than getting my hand cut off! Ah!" Ocelot rested himself on the wall, panting in exhaustion. He then looked at his right arm, and furrowed his eyes a bit. "What the hell was I doing back there… why didn't-ERGH!!"

Ocelot got on his knees as he felt like he had an extreme headache. This lasted for several seconds until he was able to recover from it. "I don't have time to ponder about this. There is not much time until the launch starts! I better get ready!"

Ocelot gets back on his feet, and continued his way through the dim hallway.

Meanwhile…

"YAARGH!" Sweet Tooth lunged at Snake, constantly swinging his dagger at him, which Snake avoided by jumping backwards. Snake then pulled a pin out of his grenade, and slighty threw it upwards as Snake siderolled out of the way before it would fall on Sweet Tooth. Instead of getting away, Sweet Tooth simply backhanded the grenade away, making it fly and explode on the top part of the entrance of the warehouse. Flaming rubble of it then covered the entrance as Sweet Tooth faced towards Snake. "Come on! Play with me a little longer!"

"Otacon, did you find it yet!?" Snake asked impatiently while fighting with Sweet Tooth again.

"Ah, I'm looking as fast as I can!" Otacon replied nervously, looking at each vehicle at a time. Otacon then saw the vehicle with the number '24' on it. "Snake, I found it!"

"Good!" Snake replied, avoiding a fist from Sweet Tooth. Before Sweet Tooth could continue his attack, Snake took out an RPG missile launcher, and aimed it down at Sweet Tooth's feet. "Take this!" Snake fired the missile launcher as the missile exploded between Sweet Tooth's feet.

"YEOW!" Sweet Tooth went crashing back into a pile of cargos as Snake placed his missile launcher away.

"Who the hell was that guy?" Snake asked.

"Snake! We've got more company!" Otacon yelled. Snake turned around to see some guards coming down the staircase to the roof as they began firing at the duo. Otacon crouched down behind the vehicle to protect himself while Snake returned fire at the guards.

"Otacon, get in that thing! I'll cover you!" Snake said while firing his gun at the guards. Otacon took a deep breath, and instantly jumped in the drivers' seat, and inserted the keys in the ignition.

"Come on, start!" Otacon was having a little trouble starting the engine as some athletic guards with gas masks jumped down to the first floor, and headed their way towards Snake. Snake fired at the guards, who cartwheeled to avoid, and counter by firing their machine guns. Snake had to hide behind the cargo close to him to prevent getting shot. He didn't had enough time to hide there as some other guards were trying to get him from behind. Snake quickly turned around to fire at them as he then quickly ran around the cargos, avoiding the guards as long as he could.

"OTACON! Is it ready!?" Snake asked frustratedly.

"Grr…" Otacon turned the keys once more, which finally started the engine. "I'm ready, Snake! Where are you!?"

"I'll get back to you, just avoid getting shot!" Snake replied while running behind some cargos farther away from Otacon. After shooting some guards down, Snake stopped as he was at the left side of the entrance, where two cargo trucks bursted through the flaming rubble, and drove their way towards the other end of the warehouse. "That's not good…"

"Ahh!!" Otacon drove the jeep out the way as the first truck crashed into the other vehicles, causing some of them to fly towards the wall, and blow up, knocking most of the soldiers on the second floor down to the first floor. Otacon drove the jeep close to the left wall of the warehouse between some cargos as the second truck crashed into them, causing the cargos to almost flatten Otacon as he drove by.

"Woah!" Otacon continued to drive forward, but the first truck quickly came from behind a cargo in front of Otacon as it blocked his way. "Yikes!" Ocelot steered the jeep towards the left, skidding across the ground until he finally drove left, nearly crashing onto the truck as he managed to get away. Snake shot down some more guards as he saw Otacon driving up to the center of the warehouse.

"Otacon, over here!" Snake shouted. Before Otacon could pick him up, Sweet Tooth emerged from the pile of cargos he crashed into earlier, and went charging at Snake from behind.

"Snake, watch out!" Otacon yelled. Snake turned around, only to get tackled by Sweet Tooth as he drove Snake into a cargo wall.

"Gah!" Snake cried as Sweet Tooth then lifted him up above his head, and threw him behind the first truck, which was backing up as it was about to run over Snake. Snake quickly went under the truck to prevent getting ran over as Sweet Tooth waited for it to get out of the way. Once the truck did, Snake already had his machine gun out as he fired it constantly at Sweet Tooth.

"Gyah!" Sweet Tooth got shot several times before he evaded by jumping behind some cargos. Snake then took out three grenades, and pulled their pins as he threw them over the cargos, and landed right in front of Sweet Tooth. "Damn-"

BOOM!!

The grenades exploded between the cargos, causing them to fall on one another, falling on Sweet Tooth as they crushed him. It was unsure if Sweet Tooth survived that explosion, but Snake didn't wanted to stay and find out as he quickly tried to find Otacon.

"Otacon! Where are you!?" Snake asked. His eyes then widened as he turned around to see the truck that almost ran over him went driving towards him again. Snake quickly crouched, and jumped sideways as the truck nearly ran him over. What the driver didn't know was that Snake planted a landmine before he jumped out of the way. The landmine exploded once the truck drove over it as the truck went flying towards the warehouse entrance, blocking the way once again as the truck exploded into flames.

"Snake!" Otacon drove passed Snake as he was being chased by the other truck through the center area. Before Snake could act, more soldiers from the second floor appeared as they fired on him.

"Dammit!" Snake quickly ran for cover as Otacon went around some cargos on the right side of the building before ending up back in the center. Snake saw Otacon as he quickly climbed up on the pile of cargos. Snake ran across them as the guards continued to fire at him. Snake evaded the shots, and quickly jumped and held onto a hanging lightpost from the ceiling. Snake swung himself towards the jeep Otacon was riding, but couldn't jump off since it was out of his reach as the lightpost swung him backwards towards the incoming truck.

"Dah!" Snake crashed through the windshield of the truck as this startled the guard driving it. "Damn, I thought that was closer." Snake muttered while adjusting himself. The driver tried to elbow him, but Snake avoided the shot, and kicked him out of the driver's seat. Snake then stepped on the gas petal as he peered his head out the car window. "Otacon, slow down!"

Otacon turned around to see Snake driving towards him. He slowed down as Snake planted a C4 underneath the driving wheel. Once Snake drove to the jeep's side, he jumped off the truck, and landed on the back of the jeep as took out a trigger. "Now!"

BOOOOOOOM!!

The C4 in the truck exploded, bursting it into flames as it flew up in the air, and towards the duo. Otacon sped up the jeep as Snake took out a missile launcher, and fired it towards the destroyed truck in the way, causing it to explode as it was knocked back further. Otacon then successfully managed to drive the jeep out of the warehouse as the destroyed truck behind them crashed onto the exit, only this time, the front part of the warehouse crumbled down, blocking any entry or exit permanently.

Snake and Otacon watched this as Otacon rested his head on the steering wheel. "We barely made it…"

"We're not done yet. We need to get to the heliport area." Snake said while getting up, and getting behind the turret. "Otacon, there is no time to slack off. Get moving!"

"Okay, okay…" Otacon panted. Before he could drive away, he and Snake could hear some faint music. "What's that?" Snake looked at the warehouse to see that the music was coming from inside there.

"It's getting louder…" Snake said. Suddenly, something came driving through the rubble, catching Snake and Otacon by surprise as it then stopped. It appeared to be an ice-cream truck, only there were turrets on the bottom front sides, and a huge head of a demented clown on the top of truck. The windshields were slightly cracks, there were no side doors, and it playing a music that regular ice cream trucks.

The person driving it was none other than Sweet Tooth as he then looked at the duo while holding on to the side of the doorless truck. "Where are you going!? You don't intend to leave without your treats, do you!?"

"Otacon, step on it!" Snake yelled. Otacon quickly drove the jeep towards the north as Sweet Tooth got back inside his truck, and started chasing them.

Meanwhile…

"Take this!" Fatman skated towards Usopp, and bumped into him with his stomach as Usopp was rolled backwards across the ground. Usopp stopped himself as he aimed at Fatman while sitting down.

"HISSATSU HIMAWARI BOSHI!" Usopp fired five explosive pellets simultaneously in a pentagon pattern, which Fatman barely avoided by skating towards his right, but lost his balance due to the quick evade. "KAMAKIRI RYUSEI!" Usopp fired another explosive pellet that wheezes in a pattern of a sickle as it exploded onto the side of Fatman's head.

"Ohh!" The force of the exploded caused Fatman to skate backwards, but he quickly regained his composure as he hid behind another cargo wall. "I think this party is a little too good for you. You don't want me to kick you out!"

"I don't care about your fake party! I am going to get back on you after you did to Chopper!" Usopp yelled. He ran towards where Fatman was hiding behind, and tried to fire at him, but Fatman shoulder barged him out of the way as Fatman skated behind another cargo.

"I can see why are you so upset! That little fella didn't had the time of his life just like that other boy in the warehouse!" Fatman yelled. Usopp got up as he looked at the ground, with shadows shading over his eyes. "It was so easy catching him off guard. I have dealt with many other people before, but he turned out to be one of my favorite victims! It's thanks to him, I was brought back to this world with a blast! Now the whole world will see once again that I am the greatest bomber of all time!"

"Don't you dare you talk about Luffy like that!" Usopp said while getting up, "I am tired of running away from you… COME ON OUT, AND FIGHT ME LIKE A MAN!!"

"You asked for it! It's time to end this party with a blast as well! HAAA!!" Fatman came out of hiding as he skated towards Usopp from behind.

"HISSATSU CHOU KEMURIBOSHI!" Usopp turned around, and fired a smoke pellet at Fatman, creating a humongous smokescreen that covered the entire rooftop.

"Gah! I can't see a thing!" Fatman coughed as he then stopped skating. He heard some noises behind him as he turned around, and fired his tommy gun at that direction.

BOOM!

"Gwah!" Fatman went flying backwards as he landed on his back. "Oh.." As Fatman got back on his feet, the smoke cleared as he saw Usopp aiming at him, with a visible gust swirling around his body.

"You're finished! NAMARI RYUSEI!" Usopp fired a lead pellet that went through the air as fast sniper rifle bullet as it hits Fatman in the stomach.

"GWUAAHH!!" Despite the pellet being small, Fatman was knocked off his feet, and went flying back towards a container. Usopp then aimed at him before he could fall down.

"YOTSU SUNE-KU BAKUHA!" Usopp fired four explosive pellets, with three pellets behind them as they moved like snakes, and went flying above Fatman.

"What is that!?" Fatman asked as the snake-like pellets went slithering down at him. "Aaahh!!"

KABOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!!

The pellets exploded upon impact, driving Fatman into the ground. The smoke cleared to reveal that Fatman was alive, but not for long as the bottom of his skates started to disintegrate. Fatman saw this, and was very sad, "My legs… oh no. I cannot attend the party like this…"

Usopp cautiously approached Fatman while aiming at him. "The party is over for you!" Usopp yelled. Fatman looked at him, and smiled a bit.

"Eh heh… that's what you think…" Fatman said, "Atleast I did what I could to bring my greatness around here… not that it would matter anymore since I am about to leave."

"Good riddance! It's what happens when you try to kill a friend of mine!" Usopp said.

"I didn't mean to blow him up, he just happened to be there at the time." Fatman replied as his legs disintegrated, "But, you know, I think it would have been best that he's dead."

"You dont let up, do you!? Luffy is not dead!" Usopp replied angrily.

"… if that's true, then I feel sorry for him." Fatman said. He the removed the front collar of his coat, allowing Usopp to see his entire face, "He has no idea what he got himself into."

"What do you mean?" Usopp asked curiously.

"From what I know so far, him, you, and the other pirates, have been going from world to world using this magical door that can only be used by the hearts created by Master Hand." Fatman said, "What you guys are doing is a big no-no for them."

"Them?" Usopp asked, lowering his slingshot.

"Yes… them." Fatman said, "That world… Obscurum… I wonder why they haven't done anything about it."

"What are you talking about? Who is them?" Usopp asked while aiming at Fatman, "You better not be playing tricks, or I'll…"

"Go ahead, shoot me, I'm already dead." Fatman said as his upper body was starting disintegrate. Usopp cursed as Fatman continued, "This is the highlight of the party. I assure you, the deaths of your comrades will surely make them happy too." Fatman then felt dazed as he was about to completely disintegrated, "I die here, and bring more to my legacy. Too bad you wont be around to see the movies… laugh… and grow… fat…"

With his final words, he desintergrated, leaving no trace behind of the once called the greatest bomber of all.

Usopp puts his slingshot away as he sighed in depression. "Oh! I need to get back with the others! I just hope Chopper is okay!" Usopp ran towards the staircase, and went down as he left from the rooftop.

Meanwhile…

In the research lab, their were several scientists typing on computers in front of what appeared to be a generator, connected to the satellite above the building they were in. Hojo stood in the center of the room, tapping his foot as he seemed impatient.

"How long does it take to send research data to that world!?" Hojo asked angrily.

"We're doing the best we can, sir." replied a scientist, "It's just that sending a huge amount of data to a planet in another dimension is rather difficult for us…"

"Tsk! First, that idiot of a clown runs off from me, and now we have bunch of idiots here who can't even send some important research data back to my comrades! It shows that the young age of today is bigger than the I.Q. they have!" Hojo yelled.

The scientists shivered a bit from hearing that as they continued working. Hojo walked in front of monitor that shows a percentage bar, which was 80 percent full. "Atleast we are almost done with this. The sooner, the better so I can go back, and work on that specimen back in the torture room."

Suddenly, another scientist ran inside the research lab. "Mr. Hojo! I just saw something flying up to the sky."

"… Huh?" Hojo asked while turning to the scientist, "What makes you think that I care? This is not the space shuttle, just so you know."

"No, you don't understand! It looked like some kind of reindeer!"

"A reindeer? It makes more sense to see pigs fly! Where did you see this!?" Hojo asked.

"Just outside! I saw it flying upward after some explosion from the other side of the island, and then I saw it again, only it's falling right down here as we speak!"

A moment silence came afterwards as Hojo rubbed his chin, "Either you have been drinking lately, or you are just seeing things. You are a scientist. You and I both know that there is no such thing as flying-"

Suddenly, something crashed right through the roof, and crashed onto the floor, startling the scientists as they backed away. Hojo blinked in confusion as he turned around, and saw none other Chopper, who had circles over his eyes as he a bit unconscious.

"… Reindeers…" Hojo said, finishing his previous sentence. The scientists gathered up around Chopper, wandering what he really is. "Get out of the way! Let me take a good look at it!" Hojo yelled while shoving scientists aside as he got in front of Chopper. "Now what is this we have here? It certainly does not look like any ordinary reindeer."

Hojo got on one knee, and studied Chopper's body features. "A blue nose… wearing pants and a pink hat… I have never seen anything like this before." Hojo said while rubbing his chin. He then put his hand in Chopper's pants, feeling his you-know-what. "It's also a male… what kind of creature is this?"

"Ohh…" Chopper moaned as he then regained consciousness, "Uh? Am I still alive?" Chopper then felt something odd as he looked up, and saw that Hojo still had his hand inside Chopper's pants. "AAAAAHHH!?" Chopper blushed as he then backed away in a hurry, putting his hooves around his pants he placed his back on a wall. "What are you doing!? Why were you touching me!?"

The scientists gasped from hearing Chopper talk. "Did it just spoke?" Asked a scientist.

"Yeah! I have never thought he could talk!"

"This creature is so amazing!"

Chopper blushed at those comments as he then did his happy dance. "St-Stupid heads! I am not happy you said to me! Stupid!" Chopper yelled happily.

"Now it's insulting us! This is so amazing!"

"Well, now…" Hojo said while getting up, "This is truly a breakthrough by all logical means. To think that the rubber boy was surprising enough, this little creature just popped right in, and got my attention. My, my, this night truly turned out magnificent."

"SHUT UP, YOU CRACKHEAD!" Chopper laughed happily while still doing his happy dance. "Oh?" Chopper stopped dancing after hearing what Hojo said, "Rubber boy? You mean Luffy?"

"Hmm? You know him?" Hojo asked, "Does that mean you are one of his pirate crewmembers?"

"Y-Yeah. How do you know Luffy? And who are you?" Chopper asked.

"Ker ha ha! That's right, how rude of me. I am Professor Hojo, a scientist that only seeks nothing but knowledge from all kinds of species out there in the universe." Hojo said with a creepy smirk.

"A scientist?" Chopper asked while getting up, "Oh… so you are like a doctor?"

"Doctor? Such nonsense, doctors are people that help others. Do you expect me to be that low of a person?" Hojo asked. Chopper blinked in confusion as Hojo continued, "I am a scientist, which are REAL people, handling the real problems in life, which is the lack of knowledge everyone has these days." Hojo then adjusted his glasses, "Scientists help solve this problem by trying know, and create anything that will help, or satisfy humanity. That is why I became one, because of the great knowledge that I possess. We wouldn't be living in a great society without my great intellect. I wouldn't be caught dead being a doctor."

"Oh…" Chopper said sadly.

"But you seem to be quite the smart young man." Hojo said as he adjusted his glasses again, "Perhaps you would be interested to be a part of this little breeding experiment I have in mind. I have plenty of human female specimens in storage. I assure you, you will gain knowledge and satisfaction upon agreeing. What do you say?"

"B-Breeding?" Chopper asked. He blushed immensely just thinking about until he then shook his head repeatedly, "No! I want you to answer my question! How is it that you know Luffy!? Where is he!?"

"Hmph! How dare you raise your tone at me…" Hojo said, "I don't see any reason why I should respond to a lowly specimen such as yourself. It would ruin my title as a man if I did."

"I don't care about your title! I want you tell me where Luffy is right now!" Chopper yelled, taking some steps forward. The scientists backed away, while Hojo didn't move from the spot he was on.

"You're rather violent for someone who looks so harmless." Hojo said while taking out two capsules from underneath his lab coat, "I suggest you apologize, and maybe I could forget about your cruelty your showing towards me."

"Never!" Chopper yelled, "I know I have just met you, but you seem to be an awful person! You treated me like I am some sort of guinea pig, and you treat doctors as if they didn't have a purpose in life! They help people with their diseases, they are not unnecessary as you think they are! They will always be heroes!"

Hojo was not started to get irritated by Chopper, "Such arrogance… I should have expected this. You and your comrades have a been a nuisance to me, and my comrades for long enough! We try to bring Obscurum to the top, yet you people keep getting in the way!"

"What!?" Chopper asked, "You are one of the ruler people!?"

"I certainly am!" Hojo replied angrily, "I can now see what Sigma and Bison saw in your crew, and that was disappointment. The beliefs you pirates have are completely out of the question! But what those two did wrong is that they let you live on while they had the chance to end your lives! I cannot stand being in the same room with someone that thinks that inferior specimens should help their kind just because it feels right! There is no knowledge in that!"

Chopper glared at Hojo, who then smirked. "Oh, and by the way, you asked me about your captain. Well, I found his corpse." Hojo lied, which caused Chopper to widen his eyes, "As soon as I am done here, I will go back to the body, and start dissecting it. I will take out the brain, and put it inside a glass container, where it will stay for eternity, wondering how he failed miserably to protect his so-called BELOVED CREW!!"

"AAAAAHHHH!!" Chopper turned into his Heavy point, which startled Hojo as he got punch in the face by him. Hojo went flying across the lab, and crashed into the wall behind him, almost making a hole in the wall as Hojo fell limplessly on the ground. The scientists were shocked as Chopper had a fierce look on his face. "Dont make threats you cant keep…"

"The creature turned into a monster!" yelled a scientist. He and the rest of the scientists then ran out of the lab in panic, leaving Chopper and Hojo alone.

"Hm?" Despite getting hit so hard, Hojo got right back on his feet, adjusting his glasses as he seemed a bit unharmed. "Huh!? He shouldnt be getting up so quickly after that hit!" Chopper thought in surprise

"Heh heh heh… KER HA HA HA HA! HOW MARVELOUS!!" Hojo yelled as he looked at Chopper, "I didn't know you can also transform. To think that I planned on killing you, but you seem to have some use. I'll just take you to my laboratory, and study your features some more."

"I don't plan to go anywhere with you!" Chopper yelled as he charged at Hojo. Suddenly, tentacles grabbed him from behind, and threw Chopper backwards, and to the ground. Chopper sat up, and saw two creatures in front of him. One of them was green octopus that was floating in the air, while the other one appeared to be a snail with a brown seashell, only it has tentacles as well."

"I'd like you to meet one of my finest creations." Hojo said while adjusting his glasses, "They are my personal bodyguards. They came from the small capsules I took out earlier. I released them just right before you punched me into the wall. They are no pushovers, you see, if you do anything to harm, they will kill you."

"I won't lose to them!" Chopper yelled as he charged at the creatures. The green octopus flew above him, and wrapped his tentacles around Chopper's neck, choking him as he pulled him down to the ground. While holding him, the brown snail used it's tentacles to jump up, and ram it's seashell into Chopper's stomach. "Gah!"

"You see? You cannot defeat them." Hojo said while walking up to Chopper while he's down, "Only I can make them stop. If you want that to happen, then you will come with me, and be a part of one of my experiments."

"I will never do that!!" Chopper yelled as he then got up, and punched the green octopus in the face, causing it to lose it's grip on Chopper's neck as Chopper then punched it again. Chopper then grabbed the brown snail, and threw it at Hojo, who jumped and landed on the ground as the snail missed him. Chopper then saw a briefcase on a table next to him as he then grabbed it, and intended to hit Hojo with it.

"Huh? NO!" Hojo yelled while glancing at Chopper over his shoulder, "Put that down! All my research about Obscurum is inside that briefcase!"

Chopper stopped as he heard that as he looked at the briefcase. "You want it… THEN GO GET IT!!" Chopper yelled. He then turned around, and threw it to the generator.

"NOOOOOOOOOO!!"

The briefcase crashed into the generator, causing a loud explosion as it nearly destroyed the whole lab. The explosion killed Hojo's creatures as it also knocked back Chopper and Hojo close to the exit. Flames spread from the ground as Hojo got up, and saw that his briefcase was engulfed with flames.

"NOOOOOOOOOO!! MY RESEARCH!!" Hojo cried as he ran towards the flaming briefcase, trying to put out the fire with his own hands. "No! No! Don't burn! DON'T! MY RESEARCH! NO! NO! NOOOOOOOOOOO!!" Hojo wasn't able to put out the fire as the briefcase turned into rubble. Hojo felt really, really upset about this. He clenched his fist angrily as he glanced over his shoulder to see Chopper back in his original form.

"Oh… I didn't know it was going to explode…" Chopper said dazedly as he tried to get back on his feet.

KICK!

"AHH!" Chopper got kicked hard by Hojo as he rolled across the floor.

"You disgusting creature! How dare you destroy my precious research!?" Hojo asked as he then kicked Chopper again as he rolled up against a wall. "I wont forgive this! You hear me!? NEVER!!" Hojo placed his hands on the wall as he kicked Chopper nonstop with no remorse. Chopper was now bleeding from the mouth as Hojo then kicked him out the lab, and ended up outside. Hojo knelt down, and punched Chopper in the face about seven times in a row, causing Chopper to bleed more. "HOW DO YOU LIKE THAT, HUH!? DON'T YOU ENJOY THE PAIN!?" Hojo asked furiously before giving Chopper another punch in the face.

"Ahh.. ah… eh.." Chopper cried as Hojo then grabbed his neck, and took out an injection needle.

"I will inject you with one of my poisons! You'll feel numb throughout your whole body as you will suffer a very slow, and painful death! Nobody will save you from this! Not even a stupid doctor! DIE-GAH!!" Hojo got shot in the arm as he dropped the injection needle as blood came out of his wound. "MY ARM!! AAAAHH!!" Hojo cried while holding his wound as he fell on his back in pain.

Otacon then drove to the scene as it appeared that Snake saved Chopper by shooting at Hojo. "Oh, damn…" Snake muttered as he picked up the barely conscious Chopper, and placed him in the front seat while putting the seat belt on him. "Otacon, get us out here!"

"Roger!" Otacon replied as Snake got back on the jeep before Otacon droved off. Hojo continued to scream as Sweet Tooth droved past him, not caring for his comrade as he continued to chase the jeep. Snake faced the turret at the truck, and started firing at constantly as it got closer.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha! This is fun!!" Sweet Tooth yelled excitedly as he bumped into the jeep from behind, pushing it forward.

"HUUAAAAAAHH!!" Snake continued firing at the truck, but no matter how much he shot, the truck wouldnt slow down.

"Snake! Dead ahead!" Otacon yelled as their was a tank in the road. The tank fired a missile, which Otacon quickly drove out of it trajectory as the missile hits the ice cream truck, creating an explosion in front of it. Otacon drove past the tank, and made quick left turn as some guards along the way tried to shoot them down, with the tank aiming at them. Before the tank could fire, Sweet Tooth's ice cream truck remained intact as it drove right towards the tank.

CRASH!!

The truck crashed into the tank, which actually flipped it over as the ice cream truck drove past it. "AH HA HA HA!" Sweet Tooth laughed as he started firing the turrets from his the side of his truck, shooting the jeep in front of it. Snake returns fire by shooting back at the truck until he then saw a crane behind him. He fired at the crane's ropes as the crane fell down, and crashed in front of Sweet Tooth after the jeep escaped from it. "WHAT!?" Sweet Tooth steered to his right, only to crash into the wall as the force caused Sweet Tooth to slam his head on the steering wheel. "Damn… oh…"

Snake sighed as Otacon was now driving up to the northwest part of the island. "Snake, isn't that Robin!?" Otacon asked. Snake turned around to see Robin getting out of Arsenal from a hatch.

"That is her! Pull over!" Snake yelled. The jeep stopped in front of Robin, who was a bit startled by the sudden appearance.

"Oh!? Snake!" Robin gasped in surprise.

"Robin, get on! Hurry!" Snake said. While this was all happening, Usopp was running out of the building, and was now heading towards the northwest part of the island.

"I gotta find the others quick! There is no telling what would happen to me if I don't!" Usopp panicked. He then saw Snake and the others ahead of him. "There they are! Oi, over here!!"

As soon as Robin got on, she saw how terrible Chopper looked. "Doctor-kun! Are you alright!?" Robin asked worryingly as she unbuckled Chopper's seat belt, and placed Chopper on her lap.

"Mmm… oh, Robin… it's good to see you okay… ow!" Chopper cried. Robin was kept silent as she sat on the passenger seat.

"Otacon, go passed the bridge! I need to destroy it so that clown would stop chasing us!" Snake said.

"The bridge is guarded well, Snake! So hold on tight, you guys!" Otacon said. He then stepped on the gas pedal as he drove towards the bridge.

"OI, WHERE ARE YOU GOING!? DONT LEAVE ME HERE!!" Usopp yelled angrily as he chased them by foot.

The guards saw the jeep coming as they jumped out of the way as it went passed them. The guards got back on their feet, and fired at them as Snake returned fire by firing the jeep's turret, knocking the guards as Usopp also ran past them. Snake and the guards continued to fire at eachother as there bullets were passing by Usopp.

"Stop firing! Are you trying to kill me!?" Usopp asked. The jeep then made it over the bridge as Otacon stopped the jeep as Snake got off. Usopp made it over as well as he fell on the ground, panting heavily from running so fast as Snake saw the ice cream truck again.

"Get out of my way!!" Sweet Tooth yelled as he ran over the guards in front of him, and drove on the bridge. Snake took out his missile launcher, and fired a missile at the bridge's support beam.

BOOM!!

The missile destroyed the support beam, causing the bridge to collapse as Sweet Tooth fell with it. Usopp stared in awe as Snake puts his missile launcher. "That takes care of him this time!" Snake said.

"Oh… what was that thing?" Usopp asked. He then got up confidently, striking a cocky pose. "Ahem, that appeared to be a monster, but no matter. It's gone now, it wont be able to chase us again because it's weak and stupid! Ah ha ha!"

As Sweet Tooth fell with his truck, he pulled a switch, which activated his thrusters as he drove up against the inclined bridge, and flew upwards as it made it back on the road, where Snake and the others are. Usopp gasped in disbelief as he fell on his rear while tears came out of his eyes.

"I'm sorry I called you stupid! Dont hurt me!" Usopp cried.

"Otacon, get moving!" Snake yelled while getting back on the jeep. Otacon then drove up the spiraled road, leaving Usopp behind again.

"OI, YOU FORGOT ABOUT ME AGAIN!! WAIT UP!!" Usopp yelled while chasing after the jeep. Sweet Tooth laughed again as he then chased Usopp and the jeep up the spiraled road.

Meanwhile…

Solidus watched as the trail of flames he created died out as he stood in front of the helicopter, which was in front of the injured Zoro. "You are a tough opponent, but your death draws near." Solidus said as Zoro got up, facing his back at him. "You know, if you were a part of my army back then, you would have stood a chance against me. Seeing that you're about to die, I will tell you one of the greatest things about me."

Zoro didn't reply as Solidus remembered his days as a teenager. "I remembered where I first fought in the Liberian civil war during the 80's. I killed a family, and raised their child, Jack. I raised him as one of my own, making him the most ruthless killer out of my small boy army unit. But then, the Patriots recruited him, used him as one of their secret projects. I cannot forgive the Patriots for what they have done to me. They took away my presidency over the United States, and they also intended to kill me! But alas, I have come back for revenge! They will regret the day they have used me for their personal enjoyment!"

"Are you done?" Zoro asked while facing towards him. "All your whining is giving me a headache."

Solidus laughed at that remark, "Is that so? What makes you think that you stand up to me after what you just observed? You saw how much stronger I have become in exchange for my extra arms. What point is there to fight on?"

"For one, to stop you from destroying this helicopter… and two, to become the greatest swordsman!" Zoro replied with a glare.

"Ha ha! This is rather unfortunate for you! None of those wishes will come true for you!" Solidus yelled as he then charged at the helicopter. Zoro quickly leaped through the helicopter's open doors, and slashed Solidus back. Zoro swung his swords at Solidus, who kept parrying with blades. Solidus then jumped back, setting the spot he was on ablaze as Zoro nearly got himself burned. Solidus then dashed at Zoro, creating a trail of fire behind him as he clashed swords with him. Solidus pushed Zoro up close to the helicopter as the flames were nearly touching it. Zoro quickly kicked Solidus back, giving some distance to the two.

Zoro then sheathed two of his swords away, which made Solidus curious. "Are you giving up? Have you finally realized that you cannot defeat me?"

"No…" Zoro replied as he grabbed the sword that he held with his teeth, "I am just going to finish you off with one sword."

"Hmm… rather foolish… it seems that you are ready to die." Solidus said as he lowered his stance, causing his feet to turn red. "Farewell! THE THREE BRANCH FORMATION!"

Solidus dashed around Zoro, creating a flaming triangle as he then charged at Zoro, who sheathed the sword he was holding. "ITTORYU LAI…" Zoro waited until Solidus got closer. Once he did, a bright light blinded Solidus as Zoro goes right through him, slowly sheathing his sword again, "HEBI HITONOMI!"

Two deep cuts then appeared on Solidus' shoulders as the force of Zoro's attack actually puts out the fire Solidus created.

"GAAAAAAAAAAAAEEEEHHHH!!" Blood poured out of Solidus' shoulders as Solidus screamed in pain. He was losing his balance as he walked towards the edge of the heliport area. His breathing slowed down once he got there as he could no longer feel his legs. He lets himself fall off the area, falling all the way down the rocky shores. He landed on them with a thump as Zoro opened his eyes and stood tall.

Solidus was still alive as he crawled towards the water. He started to disintegrate as he held his arm high up in the air, smiling. Zoro then swung down his sword, which caused Solidus to disintegrate completely as Zoro stood victorious over him as the wind whistled by.

"Thanks… for the fight…"

Meanwhile…

Back in the jail cell, Johnny was telling Luffy about his family. "And that's why my name is Johnny." Johnny said.

"Wow, all the boys in your family are called Johnny." Luffy said in awe, "So that's where the Johnny comes from."

"I'm pretty happy for what my family has done for me over my childhood years." Johnny said, "Too bad that I can't be as great as they were."

"Sure you can." Luffy said, "Hey, I have a good idea! Why don't you join my crew?"

"Huh? Your crew?" Johnny asked curiously.

"Yeah, you can be a pirate instead of soldier." Luffy said.

"Well, I don't know how that would help me be great, but… OHH!!" Johnny was holding his stomach again. "Oh no, here it comes again?"

"Are you going to poop again?" Luffy asked.

"Ooooohhh…" Johnny moaned as he then farted, "Yeah, I'm very sure I will."

"Try thinking of food. It makes me feel better! Think about how good chocolate is!" Luffy said happily, which only made Johnny feel worse.

"OOOOOOOOHHHH!!" Johnny went running back into the torture, and went inside the bathroom.

POOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOO OOOOT! POOT! POOT! POOT!

"Aw, man! I forgot to take off my pants!!"

While their were some squishy and poopy noises coming from the bathroom, Luffy decides to sit on the bed, waiting for it to be over. "It's going to get really stinky when he comes back… tsk, I want to get out of here already!"

BEEP! BEEP!

"Huh?" Luffy heard a beeping noise from his ear, "Oh, I still have this on? I wonder who is calling me?" Luffy then placed his hand on his ear.

BEGIN CODEC TRANSMISSION

Two screens appeared around the green frequency box as Luffy's face appeared on the left screen, while the right screen was completely fuzzy.

"Luffy, you can't afford to stay there any longer!" Said an odd voice from the fuzzy screen, "If you do, you will get killed!"

"Hmm? Who are you? I can't see your face." Luffy said.

"There is no time for introductions!" Said the voice, "Listen, I am going to let you out of that cell. Once I free you, head out to the hanger, and find a way out of Arsenal as quickly as possible."

"Wait a minute, tell me who you are!" Luffy said.

"You must hurry! There is not much time before Arsenal is launched! You must stop it at all costs!" Said the voice.

"Wait, please! Who are you!?" Luffy asked.

"… For now, let's just say that I am your biggest fan…" Replied the voice.

END TRANSMISSION

Luffy blinked in confusion from that weird codec transmission. "Who was talking to me? He didn't sound like anybody I know." Luffy said. Suddenly, sparks came out of the cell door as it then opened. "Ugh!? It opened!?" Luffy walked out of the cell, and scratched his head in confusion. He then smiled as he raised his hands in the air. "Yosh! I am free at last!"

"Hey, what's going on out there!?" Johnny asked from inside the bathroom, "It better not-"

POOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOO OOOOOOT!!

"OOOOOHHHH! Nevermind! I am going to be in here for a while… oh…"

Luffy then stormed out of the jail room, then out of the torture room as he ended up in the hanger. He stopped as soon as he saw the Metal Gear RAYS. "Ooooooh!? Coool!! What are these things!? They're so big, and weird!" Luffy said excitedly. Suddenly, the hanger then started to tremble. "Whoa! Whoa!! What's happening!?"

Meanwhile…

The island shook a bit as some parts of the building fell off. It stopped a few moments afterwards as Nami and Franky wondered what happened. "What was that? An earthquake?" Franky asked.

"It felt like it, but something is not right…" Nami said as she then looked at the safe ahead of her, "Ugh, the sensors went off a long time ago."

"Snake bro told us to stay put until we get a call from him." Franky explained, "So… we wait."

"Ergh… what is taking that guy is so long?"

Meanwhile…

Otacon drove the jeep up the spiraled road, with Usopp somehow keeping up with them in the same speed the Jeep was going. "Stop! Let me on, please! I am getting tired!!" Usopp cried. As this was happening, Snake waited for Sweet Tooth to show up again in his ice cream truck.

"He will show up any minute…" Snake said, "Otacon, when he shows up, just focus getting us to our location. Don't get distracted."

"Dont worry about me; just take care of that guy." Otacon replied. Robin continued to pet the barely concious Chopper as Snake saw Sweet Tooth coming.

"Here it comes! Don't get in my way, Usopp!" Snake yelled as he aimed at the truck behind Usopp.

"I wouldn't be in your way if you have already let me on!!" Usopp barked.

"Ha ha ha! Let's continue our fun!" Sweet Tooth yelled from inside his truck. He started firing the truck's turrets past Usopp, and towards the jeep, but since the truck was wider, it couldn't really hit the jeep well. Snake returns fire by firing the jeep's turret at the truck, shooting at the windshield, which didn't break since it was bulletproof. Sweet Tooth then pushed a button, causing a slot to open from the truck's sides, revealing a missile as it fired towards Snake. Snake fired at it, causing it to explode as this threw Usopp off guard as he slowed down.

"Watch what you are doing!" Usopp cried while continuing to run. He then glanced over his shoulder to see the ice cream truck almost inches away from his back. "YAAAAAHHHH!!" Usopp accelerated his pace, running faster than the truck as Usopp was now away from it. Sweet Tooth activated his boosters, accelerating as well as Usopp had to move out of the way as the truck went past him. "Guys, watch out!"

Sweet Tooth bumped into the jeep from behind, causing Otacon to lose control of the jeep. Snake fired at the ice cream truck as it was getting a bit disfigured from getting shot constantly. "It's falling apart! We just need to keep this up a little longer!" Snake said.

"Grr!!" Sweet Tooth drove his truck past the jeep, and got in front of it. Several compartments of it opened, revealing some missiles as they fired at the jeep.

"Yipes!" Otacon steered the jeep in several directions while heading up, avoiding the missiles as Snake faced the turret at the truck again, firing at it from behind.

"Robin, use your devil fruit power to hold that guy!" Snake yelled, but got no response as Robin was still looking at Chopper on her lap, "Robin!… Damn! I guess I am on my own!"

Snake continued to fire until the Sweet Tooth hits the brakes, stopping the truck as Otacon right towards it. "Oh god!" Otacon made a quick turn, nearly crashing into the truck as he drove the jeep past it. Sweet Tooth drives after them, and drove towards the jeep sides. He slammed his truck onto the jeep, nearly knocking it out of the road as it got slammed into the rails. Sweet Tooth then drove the truck closer to the jeep, pushing it along the rails, creating multiple sparks between the jeep and the rails. They drove on like this for a couple of more seconds as Sweet Tooth then took out a machine gun, and aimed at Otacon, who gasped upon getting aimed.

"No you don't!" Snake jumped right off the jeep, and got inside the truck to knock the gun off Sweet Tooth's hands.

"You little!" Sweet Tooth tried to grab Snake while driving, but Snake avoided his hand, and wrapped his arms around Sweet Tooth's neck, causing him to lose control of his truck as it zigzagged along the road. While this was happening, Usopp finally caught up with the jeep, and jumped on to the back of it, pulling himself on as he took deep breaths.

"Oh man… don't make me run like that again…" Usopp panted. He then got on his hands and knees, and saw the fight going on in the truck. "Way to go, Snake! Don't let him get the best of you!"

"Grr!" Sweet Tooth elbowed Snake in the face, but Snake held on to Sweet Tooth's neck as the truck was slowly started to slow down. "You can't kill me! I am invincible!"

"That's what they all say!" Snake said as he then gave Sweet Tooth a quick squeeze to the neck, making him feel dazed as Snake quickly jumped off the truck before it ended up behind the jeep. Sweet Tooth quickly recovered, and glared at Snake.

"No more games!" Sweet Tooth pushed a button, causing his truck to transform into a robotic body, with the head clown figure as the head.

"OOOOOOOOHHHH!! IT TRANSFORMED INTO SOMETHING SCARIER!!" Usopp yelled as his eyes popped out of his head. The arms of the robot revealed several missiles as Sweet Tooth was just one button away from firing at them.

"It's been fun, but now it's time to see you sink with the fishies!" Sweet Tooth yelled excitedly. He was then about to push the button, but suddenly, arms sprouted from his body, and pulled him away from the button and steering wheel. "What the hell!?"

Snake saw that Robin had her limbs crossed while sitting down as she had gazed lowered. "Doctor-kun got hurt because of people like you…" Robin said referring to Sweet Tooth, "Now it's time to get punished! CLUTCH!"

CRACK!

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!" Sweet Tooth got his back cracked by the arms as he drove over the guard rail, and down to the spiky rocks below. The ice cream truck exploded into pieces upon landing as Sweet Tooth pulled himself halfway out while holding his back. "My prey… escaped?" He asked as he then looked up the mountain "NOBODY ESCAPES FROM ME!" Sweet Tooth pushed a button on his truck, which was still in it's robotic form as it fired ten missiles in the air before it fell apart.

The jeep was now on top of the mountain as they drove towards the heliport, where Zoro saw them arriving. "It's them." Zoro said. He then gasped as he saw some missiles flying up to the sky, and went down towards the jeep. "Look out!"

"Huh!?" Snake and the others saw the missiles coming, but couldn't do anything as they were approached rather quickly. "Hold on!" Otacon yelled. The missiles the ground close to the jeep, knocking it in the air as it crashed onto it's sides as skid across the ground destroyed. Zoro gasped as the jeep stopped in front of him.

"Oi! Are you guys alright!?" Zoro asked as he got around the jeep, and saw Otacon and the others alive. They slowly got on their feet as Chopper was now fully conscious.

"Oh… what? What happened?" Chopper asked while rubbing his eye. Robin was glad Chopper was okay as she then hugged him.

"Doctor-kun… I am glad you're safe…" Robin said with a smile. Chopper blushed as he quickly pulled Robin away, doing his little happy dance afterwards.

"Be quiet! Don't you hug me like that!" Chopper said happily. Usopp then walked to them, almost tripping from the lack of breath.

"Eh… is everyone okay?" Usopp asked.

"We're fine, Longnose-kun." Robin replied. "But… I don't see Snake anywhere…"

Everyone else noticed this as Snake was nowhere to be seen. "No… don't tell me he…" Otacon said worryingly. Usopp didn't wanted to think what happened to him as he then started to shout.

"Snake! Where are you!? Snake!?" Usopp didnt get a reply as he then fell on his knees in sadness. "SNAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAKE!!"

POW!

"Shut up! I'm right here!" Snake yelled after hitting Usopp behind the head angrily. As Usopp cried in pain, everyone else was happy to see Snake.

"Snake! You're okay!" Chopper said happily.

"Of course, I am! I was just looking for the keys to the helicopter from the body of the pilot there!" Snake said, pointing at the pilot's corpse. He then tossed the keys to Otacon, who almost dropped them. "Otacon, get the helicopter going!"

"R-Right!" Otacon said as he hurried into the helicopter.

"And for the rest of you; quit standing like a bunch of retards, and get in the helicopter! That goes the same for you two idiots!" Snake yelled, referring to Usopp and Chopper.

"H-He's angry!" Chopper cried nervously.

"Let's get in before he hurts us!" Usopp cried, grabbing Chopper as they went inside helicopter.

"Yelling my name like that… annoying…" Snake muttered as he got in the helicopter with Zoro and Robin. The propellers then started to spin as he got above the ground. Snake then contacted Franky by codec. "Franky, we have the helicopter! Get the heart out of the safe; we're heading your way!"

The helicopter then flew out of the heliport area, and headed towards the safe area.

Meanwhile…

"Got it, bro!" Franky said as he ended his codec conversation with Snake, "Okay, now we can go get what came for!"

"Can you go there alone, instead? I'm feeling a little nervous stepping inside." Nami said. Franky grabbed Nami, and took her inside the safe area. "Ow! Okay! You could just say no!"

They ran in front of the immense safe, which looked big enough to fit a Metal Gear inside. "And he we are… time to open it."

"I still believe this is the most idiotic way to open this thing. I mean, who could have thought about this?" Nami asked.

"No time to think about that. Let's just get it over with." Franky said. He faced in front of the safe, taking a long and slow deep breath. "OPEN SESAME!"

They heard a clicking sound as the lock slowly opened from the side. Once it was fully open, A bright, purple light shined from the inside. Once the light has dimmed, Nami and Franky could see a purple heart, with a decal of a fox (Metal Gear symbol) on it.

"The 7th heart! Franky, go get it!" Nami ordered. Franky quickly got into the safe, and grabbed the Mystery heart, but once he did, he heard an odd sound. He and Nami looked around to see where that noise was coming from. "Is that a cow?"

Suddenly, two odd looking machines came out from the sides of the safe area. These were known as the Gekko as they charged at the duo. "Let's get out of here!" Franky yelled.

Nami and Franky went running away from the Gekko as they quickly caught up to them. Before the Gekko could strike them, one of them got hit by a missile from above. Nami and Franky looked up to Snake and the others on the helicopter. "Snake!"

Snake pulled down a rope ladder as the electrical started to activate. "Get on!" Snake yelled. Nami and Franky both managed to grab the rope ladder as Otacon pulled the helicopter up as the Gekko tried to leap at them. Otacon managed to get Nami and Franky out of the safe area before the electrical roof closed as the Gekko electrified themselves by crashing into it before exploding into pieces.

Nami and Franky sighed in relief as Franky held the 7th Mystery around his arm. "Nami! Franky! Are you guys okay!?" Usopp asked from the helicopter.

"We're fine, bro! We got the heart!" Franky said happily.

"Yes! Now we can leave!" Usopp said.

"Hold on, we need to find Sanji first. I am sure he must have found Luffy by now." Zoro said.

"Zoro's right." Snake said, "We'll go find those two, and then you can guys leave without any trouble. Don't worry about things here; we'll stop Arsenal after you leave."

The crew got silent from hearing that. Robin didnt like what Snake said. "Snake, I dont believe that we should-"

Suddenly, Robin was interrupted by loud sounds coming from the island. They looked at it as it appeared to be shaking. "Oi, what's going on with that place!?" Franky asked. Everyone watched as the buildings on the island were starting to fall apart. The guards outside were running around the place in fear as some of them got crushed by one of the falling buildings.

Then everyone saw something coming up from beneath the island, something enormous. As it coming up, everything from the island fell apart. From the hidden base, to the Ocelot's main building; everything was getting destroyed. The Thousand Sunny anchored close to the island was washed back due to the incoming gear, or in this case… a Metal Gear.

The crew was completely shocked and dumbfounded by what came up from the ocean. Usopp and Chopper were hugging eachother in fear, Zoro and Robin couldn't believe what they were seeing, and Nami and Franky were simply petrified by it. Snake cursed as Otacon took a good look what came out of the ocean.

"Arsenal Gear… it's already active!"

Snake's codec calls

Episode 10: Thousand Sunny

Snake: What kind of ship is that?

Colonel: That's the Thousand Sunny, Snake. It's the ship the Strawhat pirates use to venture through the seas.

Snake: It doesn't even look like a pirate ship. It's more like an oversized kiddy ship if you ask me.

Colonel: Do not judge it by it's appearance; you won't find any ship like this one, I'll tell you that. This ship has several features, like the soldier dock system, which has several vehicles or the sort in each compartment. The ship can also blast it's way into the air using the power of cola.

Snake: Cola? Give me a break.

Colonel: As funny as that sounded, Franky made this ship by scratch. It will be the ship that will lead them to Raftel, where the treasure of One Piece resides.

Snake: I don't know, Colonel, this ship just looks so stupid to even be sailing on. Maybe if I went through a timewarp to get to the past, I could tell Franky to make a better design of it.

Colonel: No, Snake! You cant go changing the past like that! You'll create a TIME PARADOX!!

Snake:… You really like saying that, don't you, Colonel?

If you have seen Metal Gear Raiden on Youtube, you would know how often Colonel kept saying 'Time Paradox!'. Well, I believe that this chapter was pretty Metal Gearish. Only two more chapters before this arc ends. Ciao for now!

Metal Gear Pt 14

Alright! Here I am with probably the highlight moment of this arc. I did all I could with this chapter, so let's get things started! Have fun!

Not enough time left… After escaping a demented clown, Snake and the Strawhat crew finally obtained the heart from the oh so-called unopenable safe. Before they could get Luffy and Sanji, Arsenal Gear rose from the dark depths of the ocean, destroying the island that was over it. Could they be able to stop this enormous threat to society?

Chapter 97: The true mastermind, We will stop this!

Arsenal Gear. The most deadliest Metal Gear of it's kind. It's massive size makes is three times as big as an ordinary giant sea turtle. The head of it is the same as the Metal Gear RAY's head design, only alot bigger, and the gear was also four times taller than the island it just destroyed. To put it really simple, people are ants compared to the size of Arsenal.

The helicopter flew above Arsenal, with the crew completely overwhelmed by Arsenal's appearance. "That's… Arsenal Gear?" Nami asked in awe.

"It's Arsenal alright." Snake replied while rubbing his chin, "Identical as the last one…"

"W-We… have been inside that thing!?" Usopp asked while hugging Chopper in fear, "It's humongous! I didn't expect it to be so big!"

"It destroyed the whole island in a matter of seconds." Zoro said in awe, "This is getting out of our hands here."

"It appears to be already active as well." Robin said.

"No, it's only getting ready for the launch." Snake said while standing on the ledge of the helicopter. "We still have 30 minutes until Arsenal is fully operational. Until that time comes, it's a sitting duck out here."

"Yo! How are we suppose to stop that thing now!?" Franky asked while holding on to the rope ladder with Nami.

"Actually, this what we were waiting for." Snake said. "Otacon, do you still have it?"

"Sure, here." Otacon said while taking out a small box from under his lab coat. Snake took the box as he then opened it, and took out what appeared to be a bomb.

"This is a C3. It's what we are going to use to stop Arsenal." Snake said. Snake then gave it to Chopper as he then took a look at it.

"This will stop it? It's a little small…" Chopper said.

"Oh, it may be small, but that is one of the finest C3 bombs out there. It's capable of creating an explosion as big as Arsenal's head there." Snake said.

"Wah!" Chopper then got nervous holding the bomb as he almost dropped it, but Snake quickly caught it from him. He then activated the timer of the C3 to 30 minutes as it then began it's countdown.

"Okay, we don't have much time, so I am going to be brief." Snake said, "Since Luffy and Sanji are still inside there, I need you guys to go in there, and find them as quick as possible. I will go place the C3 on Arsenal's head. Arsenal's weakpoint is the moment it's AI activates. The moment Arsenal is fully activated, the bomb will go off, and will cause Arsenal's AI progam to crash, forcing it to shutdown in the process."

"And therefore stopping the launch from happening." Robin said, "It sounds like it could work."

"It won't be easy." Snake said, "This is the crucial part of the mission. One little mistake could cost us our lives." Snake then pointed towards the other side of Arsenal, "Your ship should still be over there. Once you get Luffy and Sanji out of Arsenal, use the heart to get to the next world."

"No way; we can't just let you do this by yourself!" Franky yelled.

"Don't argue with me! I used you guys from the start, remember? So just go to the next world, and we'll call it even!" Snake yelled.

"This is more important than getting even!" Nami yelled, "We cant just leave things the way they are, even I know that! We are in this together whether you like it or not!"

Suddenly, a roar could be heard from a short distance. Everyone got silent upon hearing it.

"Um… what was that?" Usopp asked nervously. The area was now quiet again, but a little too quiet for that matter. Snake looked down on top area of Arsenal, seeing nobody on it.

"Snake, you don't think that…?" Otacon asked a bit nervously.

"Yeah, I think it is. Otacon, get moving!" Snake yelled.

"What's happening!? What's going on!?" Chopper asked.

Something then fired into the sky as it flew in a higher altitude than the helicopter Otacon was piloting. Snake eyes widened in horror upon seeing this. "A Cluster bomb! Otacon, fly us over Arsenal!"

Otacon quickly flew above Arsenal as the cluster bomb exploded into several missiles, which rained down above Arsenal, and most of them missing the helicopter. Unfortunately, the helicopter got hit by one of the missiles as it then flew out of control. Everyone inside did their best to stay in the helicopter, but Usopp and Chopper fell off, and went falling down at Arsenal.

"Longnose!" While having his left arm around the heart and rope ladder, Franky shot out his right arm, and grabbed onto Usopp and Chopper from falling any further.

"Ahh! We're going to die!!" Usopp cried while Franky was pulling him and Chopper back up.

"NO! I DON'T WANT TO DIE!" Chopper cried. He quickly climbed Usopp, then went up the rope ladder past Nami and Franky, and then right back in the helicopter as he whimpered his way to the corner of the helicopter.

"Snake, we took in some damage. I'm going to need to pull back for a while!" Otacon said, referring to the helicopter.

"Fine. We'll wait for you down at Arsenal. It's too risky to fly towards the head right now anyway." Snake said as he then faced at Zoro and Robin, "We're going to jump down. You'll then know what to do."

Zoro and Robin nodded as Otacon lowered the helicopter close to Arsenal so the crew and Snake could get on it. Snake, Zoro, and Robin jumped down on top of Arsenal, while Nami and Franky lowered themselves down with the rope ladder, bringing Usopp along as well.

"Chopper! Don't make me get up there, and force you down here!" Snake yelled. Chopper eyes widened in fear as he hurried off the helicopter to join his comrades. Otacon then flew the helicopter out of sight as the crew could barely see their surroundings.

"It's too dark around here. How are we suppose to find a way inside this thing?" Franky asked.

"We shouldn't worry about that right now…" Snake said. Before they could look around, a bright light blinded the crew as the lights on the floor turned on, revealing that they were on an enormous platform, in the middle of a big pool of water. The floor appeared like it was made of impenetrable glass, with sprite-like hexagons beneath the crew's feet. "What is all this!?" Nami asked.

The ground then shook as everyone turned around to see that something was big coming at them. A Metal Gear RAY came out of the darkness of the night as it jumped into the pool of water which reached up to it's leg joints. "What is that thing!?" Franky asked.

"Metal Gear RAY!" Snake yelled. The crew got startled again as more Metal Gear RAYs appeared on the pool. More of them showed up behind the ones on the pool as there were a total of 24 Metal Gear RAYs on Arsenal, looking at Snake and the others.

"AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAHH HHHHHH HHHHHH!!" Usopp cried with great fear as he and Chopper hugged each other tightly.

"So many of them…" Nami gasped as she fell on her knees, "There is no way we can survive this."

"These are Metal Gears, huh?" Zoro asked while unsheathing his blades, "The bigger they are, the harder they'll fall."

The Metal Gears roared as they all aimed their winged arms at the crew. Nobody moved, but even if they did, the RAYs wouldnt fire at all. Suddenly, the sound of clapping could be heard. Everyone turned around to see Ocelot, clapping his hands upon the scenery.

"Ocelot…" Robin said angrily.

"Bravo! You managed to keep yourselves alive up to this point." Ocelot praised, "Now you can see the great work of art the Patriots are willing to express to their fellow audience."

"It's over, Ocelot! The Patriots won't succeed this time!" Snake yelled.

"That's funny hearing you say that. I mean, you're surrounded by all this, and you still think you can win?" Ocelot asked. Snake glared at Ocelot as he started to walk around the platform, "This little show is about to come to a close. And it will end in the way the Patriots have planned it from the start."

"I won't let you do this! DIEZ FLEUR!" Robin sprouted ten arms, which were suppose to sprout from Ocelot, but they sprouted on the ground close to him instead. "What!? I thought…"

"I always keep a spare, Missy." Ocelot said, showing the gadget around his waist from under his coat. "I brought it just incase this happened. There is no such thing as being over-prepared."

"Damn…" Robin muttered.

"Anyway, I think this little chat is over. There is no need for you people to stay alive any longer." Ocelot said as he pointed his index finger forward. "Bang!"A Metal Gear RAY fired a quick bullet from his arm as Zoro quickly deflected it, but lost his footing due to the force of it. "Bang, Bang, Bang!" Another RAY fired three consecutive shots at Usopp and Chopper, who instantly crawled back to avoid. Ocelot then faced his other index finger forward as he took a deep breath.

"Brtebrtebrtebrtebrtebrte!" Ocelot made noise of a machine gun firing as all RAY's in the pool fired at the crew nonstop. Zoro and Franky did there best to deflect and block them, while everyone else simply ducked down. Ocelot then closed his fists, causing the RAYs to stop firing. The crew was left unharmed as it turns out the RAY's only fired close to them. They all slowly got on their feet as Zoro and Franky fell on their knees.

"Too much…" Zoro panted, "… power…"

"They are too strong, bro…" Franky panted.

"Ha! It's amusing to see you people fighting for their lives, even though it pointless now as the launch draws very near." Ocelot chuckled as he then pointed at the crew again, "Now that I had my little laugh, it's time to do the real thing."

"HAAAAAAAAAA!!"

"Hmm!?" Ocelot turned around, and was nearly kicked in the face if he hadn't jumped back.

"Sanji!" Chopper said happily. Sanji was back outside, glaring angrily at Ocelot as he then charged at him.

"How dare you try to kill Nami-san and Robin-chwan, you shitty old man! VEAU SHOT!" Sanji leaped towards Ocelot, and thrusted his foot at him. Ocelot sidestepped to avoid the kick as Sanji got back on the ground. "Why you!" Sanji turns around, only to get punched straight between the eyes by Ocelot. "Gah!" Sanji went flying back, and crashed onto the ground in front of his comrades.

"Sanji!" Everyone went to help Sanji up as Ocelot brushed the dust off his hand.

"Attacking people from behind has gotten so old these days." Ocelot said.

"Eh… dammit!" Sanji got himself up on his feet while glaring at Ocelot.

"You took long enough to show up, Cook. Where's Luffy?" Zoro asked. Sanji glanced over his shoulder to look at his comrades before looking down angrily.

"I couldn't find him." Sanji said, "I went to the place Snake told me to look, but I didn't seem him there. The only thing that was there was a guy doing his 'business' in the bathroom. Then I looked all over the places I could go to, but he was nowhere in sight."

"If he wasn't down there, then where could he be!?" Nami asked.

"I don't know." Sanji said. He then took note of his surroundings, "What is going on around here? What are these things?"

"They are in the way of the mission." Snake told him, "The only we can get out of this alive is to fight them off."

"Fight them off!? Do you not see how many of these monsters are out here!? We can't take them on!" Usopp yelled.

"No…" Snake said while taking out a Stinger missile launcher, "This won't stop me. You go ahead and run, I'll fight them off myself if I have to."

"You won't get rid of us that easily." Zoro said, "It's not like we have anywhere to run anyway."

The rest of the crew felt the same way. Snake shrugged it off as Ocelot laughed at this scene. "You kids are so determined. It's going to be so sad when you lose it all." Ocelot said as he raised his hand, causing the RAY's to aim at Snake and the crew. "It's time to-"

CRASH!!

There was a crash as one of the Metal Gear RAYs outside the pool was destroyed by something. Ocelot and everyone else looked, and saw a 25th Metal Gear RAY that seemed to be losing control of itself. "What's going on!?" Ocelot asked as the RAY ran past several other RAYs, knocking some of them down as it headed towards the platform.

"Watch out! It's heading towards us!" Sanji yelled as everyone backed away as the RAY fell into the pool, crashing it's upper body onto the big platform. Everyone kept their guard up as a hatch opened from the RAY's head as black smoke came out of it.

"Yaaah…" Somebody slowly came out of the RAY, dazedly falling off the head, and landing on the floor with his butt. "That was sooooo scary…"

Snake and the crew were shocked to see who it was. "LUFFY!!" The crew exclaimed happily. Luffy looked up, and saw his crew coming towards him.

"Oh, hey guys!" Luffy said happily while getting up.

"Luffy, you're okay! Oh, it's so good to see you again!" Usopp cried with tears of joy pouring out of his eyes, as well as Chopper's.

"Dang it, Strawhat! Don't go scaring us like that again! Uwaaaaaaaah!!" Franky cried in joy.

"Luffy, where did you come from?" Nami asked.

"Oh, well somebody helped me out of the cell thing, and then I saw this big thingy here. It looked so cool, I rode it here." Luffy exclaimed with a happy face, "But maaaan, it was hard to move this thingy. It was so big, and I couldn't control it right. I think it's broken." Luffy then saw the other Metal Gear RAYs. "Whoooaaa!! Cool! There are so many of them up here!"

"This isn't the time to admire this! We are in a situation here!" Nami yelled angrily.

"Well, well, well; I see you managed to escape." Ocelot said, getting Luffy's attention. Luffy frowned upon seeing him as he cracked his knuckles, "Now that you're free, kid, what do you plan on doing next?"

Luffy didn't reply to him as he then looked at the others. "Oi, Snake… what happened when I was gone?"

"… He shot one of his own men to scare Robin. He also tried to kill her a couple of hours ago." Snake said. Sanji and the others were shocked hearing that as Luffy clenched his fist in anger. Robin simply looked down in shame.

"Robin… are you okay?" Luffy asked.

"I am." Robin replied, "I fought with him, but he escaped from me before I could finish him off. I'm sorry."

"Is that right?" Luffy asked. He then smirked as he punched his palm. "Well, don't feel sorry. Because I am going to kick this guy's ass for you!"

Robin lifted her head up, and smiled at Luffy's words. The crew then grew confident as they faced towards the Metal Gears. "Luffy, we'll handle these mechs. You deal with Ocelot."

"Hee hee!" Luffy chuckled as he then pointed at Ocelot, "You'd hear that, old man!? I'm coming for you!!"

"Hmph! A little more exercise shall do me good!" Ocelot yelled as he took off his coat and shirt as he was now bare-chested. He puts his fists in front of his face, and glared at Luffy. "Come at me, Strawhat!"

"Hiya!!" Luffy charged at Ocelot as everyone else faced towards the Metal Gears.

"We don't have much time, so we need to get these RAYs out of the way first! Aim for their heads!" Snake yelled. A RAY then took aim at the crew as Snake fired a homing missile towards it's face. The missile exploded as the RAY staggered back a bit. Another RAY was about to shoot Snake from behind until Robin sprouted arms around it's eye, which blocked it's view as the RAY accidentally fired at one of it's own. Usopp and Chopper grew confident as Usopp took out his slingshot, and started firing explosive pellets at the RAY's in front of him, which damaged them somewhat, but weren't staggering at all. They returned fire as Usopp ran away as Franky aimed at the attacking with his arm.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a blast at the attacking RAY in the face, staggering it back as the other RAYs continued the attack. "There are too many of them!"

"Just keep fighting!" Snake yelled while firing another missile at a RAY.

Meanwhile, Luffy went charging at Ocelot. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING!" Luffy repeatedly brought his fists forward at Ocelot, who despite his age, dodged them all by strifing left and right. Ocelot then threw a fist at Luffy, who dodged and countered with a fist of his own. Ocelot caught Luffy's attacking arm, and flipped Luffy on his back as he then tried his slam his fist on Luffy's face. Luffy rolled out of the way as Ocelot punched the ground as Luffy then got up, and pulled his arm back. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm at Ocelot, who moved his head out to the right to avoid the incoming fist.

"Ha!" Ocelot grabbed Luffy's stretched arm, and flipped him over his shoulder, slamming Luffy onto the ground.

While that was going on, Nami created a thunder cloud above the RAYs in front of her that were on the pool. "THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunder ball at the cloud, creating a thunderstorm that electrocuted the RAY's in front of her, and the pool, which electrocuted the rest of the RAYs on it. They all remained standing however as one of them then jumped onto the platform. "Whoa!"

"Look out, Nami-san!" Sanji yelled as he pushed Nami out of the way before the RAY could land on her. "Don't attack Nami-san! EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji jumped up, and repeatedly kicks at RAY's knee, causing it to open it's mouth in pain.

"I got it from here!" Snake yelled as he fired a missile into the RAY's mouth, exploding inside of him as the RAY fell off the platform before exploding into bits.

"Yay! We got one!" Chopper said excitedly.

"Yeah, that's great!" Usopp said happily until he got angry, "But there are still billions of them to go!!"

While Luffy was on the ground, Ocelot charged at him. Luffy quickly raised his feet, and kicked Ocelot back, giving him space to get back up again. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretched his leg, and swung it horizontally, which Ocelot avoided by ducking as he then charged at Luffy. "Yah!" Ocelot grabbed Luffy, and turned him around as he started pounding at the back of Luffy's shoulders with his arm. "Gyah!" Luffy countered by elbowing Ocelot in the face, causing Ocelot to stagger back as Luffy faced him. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretched his arm far back as Ocelot then charged at him. "BULLET!" Luffy pulled back his arm, and punched Ocelot across the jaw at the same time Ocelot did to him.

"Guah!" They both cried as they both fell on the ground.

At the same time, another RAY jumped onto the platform as Chopper charged at it while in his Heavy Point. "HEAVY TACKLE!" Chopper tackled the RAYs leg, making it lose it's balance as Zoro then leaped towards it.

"DAIBUTSU GIRI!" Zoro made a zigzagged slash on his way down, cutting the RAY into pieces as they fell on the platform.

"CIEN FLEUR, BIG TREE!" Robin sprouted an enormous tree of arms, which knocked the pieces of the destroyed RAY into the air as they fell back down, falling ontop of the other RAYs outside the pool. The RAY on the pool then began to fire at Robin, who quickly runs sideways to avoid their bullets while the tree of arms she created disappeared.

"Take this!" Ocelot pulled back his right arm, and brought it forward as he punched Luffy straight between the eyes.

"Ahh!" Luffy fell on the ground in pain as Ocelot clenched puts his arm in front of him.

"YYYYYYYEEEESSSSSSS!!" Ocelot yelled as Luffy then got up charged at him.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg at Ocelot, who jumped over it as he headed towards Luffy. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy pulled back his stretched leg, and stretched both of his legs at Ocelot while doing a handstand. Ocelot got kicked in the face, but landed on his feet as he then tripped Luffy onto the ground. Ocelot then did a midair front roll, landing ontop of Luffy's stomach with his back. "Gah… ha!" Luffy pushed Ocelot off of him as he got up, and kicked Ocelot across the face just as soon as he got up.

"Grr!!" Ocelot cried in pain as he fell on his back.

Usopp aimed at RAY as it got on the platform. "HISSATSU SHURIKEN RYUU SEIGUN!" Usopp fired a swarm of shurikens as they slashed across the knee joints of the RAY before it got on the platform. Before Usopp could fire some more, the other RAYs fired at him, causing him to run away.

"I got it!" Snake yelled as he charged at the RAY while holding a grenade as he jumped onto the RAY's upper knee, and threw the grenade inside it's mouth before jumping off. The grenade then exploded as the RAY fell off the platform before exploding into little pieces.

"GOMU GOMU NO SHOTGUN!" Luffy stretched his arm, and twanged it as it headed towards Ocelot, who defended himself by punching straight at the twanging fist, causing the stretched arm to bounce all the way back into Luffy's face. "Oww!" Luffy rubbed his face as Ocelot then came underneath him, and gave Luffy a devastating uppercut across his chin. "Yeow!" Luffy staggered back as he then countered with a right fist, which Ocelot avoided as he grabbed Luffy's head with his left arm, and pulled his head towards him as he gave Luffy a nasty headbutt. "Ah!" Luffy cried as Ocelot gave him three more headbutts in the face before letting him fall on the ground.

Franky saw that, but was too busy as he some more RAYs diving onto the pool. "FRANKY TRIANGLE JACKER!" Franky threw his sideburns at the RAY in the pool, which struck into it's robotic eye as it's upper body fell onto the platform. Franky then took off the skin of his right arm, and charged at the RAY before it could get up. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched the RAY in the face, causing sparks to fly out of it's head as it was knocked backwards, falling completely inside the pool as it exploded afterwards. Snake then fired at another RAY with his stinger missile launcher, staggering it backwards as Snake was panting a bit.

"Keep going! This is only the start of it!" Snake yelled.

"Get up, Strawhat!" Ocelot yelled as he picked up Luffy by the neck. Luffy then opened his eyes, and grabbed onto Ocelot's right arm, squeezing it as it forced Ocelot to get on one knee.

"Haa!!" Luffy then kicked Ocelot back as he then stretched his arm up in the air. "GOMU GOMU NO POUND!" Luffy pounded his fist down at Ocelot's face, causing his head to bounce back from the strong glass. Ocelot held his head in pain as he got up while Luffy then wrapped his arms and legs around Ocelot's front body. "GOMU GOMU NO KANE!" Luffy stretched his neck, and brought his head forward, giving one nasty headbutt to Ocelot as he staggered backwards. Ocelot then countered by breaking free of Luffy's grip, and giving Luffy a headbutt of his own as Luffy staggered back as well.

A RAY then jumped onto the platform, and opened it's mouth as it fired out a stream of water. Chopper and Usopp got out of the way as the stream went past them, leaving a cut on the glass floor. "What the!? Since when could water do that!?" Usopp asked.

"Don't get hit by that, or you'll be cut into pieces!" Snake said as he fired a missile at the RAY's mouth while it was still open. The missile exploded inside it as Zoro held up his swords in front of him.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro created a powerful cutting wave as it struck the RAY, causing it to crash into some other RAYs behind it. The RAYs behind Zoro then aimed it until they saw Sanji running at them.

"ANTI-MANNER…" Sanji leaped up to a RAY in front of him, "KICK COURSE!" Sanji delivered a strong upper kick at the RAY as it was slightly knocked off it's feet, and out of the pool as it nearly crashed some other RAYs.

Luffy threw a punch at Ocelot's gut, causing him to slightly double over as some blood came out of his mouth. Ocelot then countered by grabbing Luffy around his waist, and throwing him on his back. Ocelot then kicked Luffy's head as Luffy went rolling sideways along the ground. "Ehh… ah!?" Luffy saw Ocelot coming as he was about to kick Luffy again, only Luffy quickly got up and jumped in front of Ocelot while twisting his body. "GOMU GOMU NO HANABI!" Luffy untwisted himself, punching in every direction as Ocelot got hit in the face. Ocelot fell, but quickly rolled back on his feet as he then charged at Luffy once he got on the ground, and did a roundhouse kick, which Luffy caught with both of his arms as they glared at eachother.

"OCHENTA FLEUR, CUATRO MANOS!" Robin sprouted eighty arms, and combined them into four big arms as they grabbed onto a RAY that was on the pool. They arms shoved the RAYs upper body hard onto the platform. Franky and Chopper then jumped on it's head, and started pounding on it until it broke. Two RAYs around the sides of the destroyed RAY then tried to fire at Chopper and Franky, but Robin quickly moved her big arms, and grabbed the wings of the RAYs, facing them towards each other as they accidentally fired each other. The arms then moved the RAYs together, slamming into one another as they fell in opposite directions before they exploded.

Luffy flipped Ocelot off his feet, which Ocelot did a midair backflip in order to land on his feet. Luffy then threw a fist at Ocelot, who moved it aside with his arm, and countered with a kick, which Luffy avoided by siderolling out of the way, and countered with another fist, which Ocelot blocked with his arms.

"Ha!" Ocelot swung his fists left and right as Luffy avoided them while taking some steps back. Ocelot then did a uppercut, which Luffy avoided by moving out the way. Luffy then countered with an uppercut of his own, knocking Ocelot down to the ground. He then got up while wiping the blood off his lower lip. "Splendid…"

A RAY then jumped onto the platform as it then tried to stomp on Snake. Snake evaded it's attacks as he then placed a landmine on the ground. He then jumped out of the way as the RAY tried to stomp on him again, only it stomped on the landmine, causing it to lose it's footing as it staggered backwards.

While trying to regain it's balance, Nami charged the tip of her PCT with fire, creating a blazing tip on it as she charged at the RAY's feet. "FIRE LANCE TEMPO!" Nami swung her PCT as the flaming tip cuts part of RAY's left foot, causing it to lose control of itself as it fell on it's back, but didn't explode.

"Hiya!" Ocelot swung his legs at Luffy, bringing him back against the RAY that was down. Ocelot then thrusted his fist, which Luffy avoided, and countered by grabbing Ocelot's head, and slamming his face on the RAY's wing. "Grr!" Ocelot elbowed Luffy in the face, causing Luffy to stagger back as Ocelot then did a flying drop kick to Luffy's chest. Luffy fell on his back as Ocelot quickly got on him, and started pounding his face with his fist. "Ha! Ha! Ha!" Ocelot yelled within every pound he gave Luffy. Luffy then brought up his foot, and shoved Ocelot off of him. Luffy then got up, and wiped the blood off his lips as Ocelot got up as well.

"You're really strong, old man!" Luffy said with a smirk.

"Ha… you have seen nothing yet!" Ocelot yelled as he then charged at Luffy.

The RAYs in the pool then fired three blue missiles from their back as they then fell down at the crew. "Look out!" Sanji yelled as he everyone took cover while the missiles exploded on the fallen RAY on the platform, causing it to explode into pieces, nearly knocking the crew out of the platform. "Damn, these things won't give up!" Sanji yelled as he then headed to one of the big pieces of RAY on the platform. "JENGA HOU!" Sanji kicked the pieces hard enough to send them flying towards a RAY on the pool as it crashed onto it's face, causing it to explode as it fell down. Sanji then faced towards another RAY which jumped onto the platform.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretched his arms, and grabbed Ocelot by his shoulders, "MARUNOKO!" Luffy does several front flips, making himself look like a buzzsaw as he pulled himself towards Ocelot. Ocelot quickly did a backflip, springing Luffy over himself as Luffy went flying to the edge of the platform, nearly falling into the water.

"Haaaaa!" Ocelot charged at Luffy, who quickly got up, and brought his fist forward at same time Ocelot did with his. Their fists punched each other, creating a slight tremor as they then started to punch each other in the face. They both screamed as this went on until they both a delivered a nasty right punch in one another's face, causing them to lose their footing as Luffy rested his head on Ocelot's in order to stay standing. They glared at eachother as they then brought back their heads, and gave eachother a headbutt, slightly knocking them both back.

The RAY on the platform then fired it's water cannon as the crew got out of it's way. Snake tried to fire a missile in it's mouth, but the RAYs behind them tried to shoot him, giving Snake no choice but to evade. Robin helped Snake out by sprouting arms around the attacking RAY's eyes, blocking their view as they accidentally fired at the RAY on the platform. While the RAY was staggering back, Snake took out his stinger missile launcher again, and fired three consecutive missiles at the blind RAYs, knocking them back as they stopped firing. Zoro then faced towards the RAY on the platform as he puts his swords across his chest.

"ENBIMA YONEZU: ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed through the RAY, leaving a trail of blue fire behind him as the RAY went flying out of the platform, and into the RAYs outside the pool, knocking most of them down. Some of them got back on their feet as they approached the crew, who were started to feel exhausted.

"The more we fight, the more they keep coming! There is no end to this!" Nami yelled. Snake rubbed his chin as he then came up with an idea.

"I know how to deal most of them at the same time. But we are going to put all effort into this move." Snake said as everyone wondered what he had in mind.

Luffy and Ocelot were both a little worn out from hitting each other Luffy was just near the ledge of the platform. "Is that all!?" Ocelot asked as some blood came out of his mouth, "Come here, and fight like a man!"

"UWAAAAAAAAHHH!!" Luffy charged at Ocelot while pulling his fist back, "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm at Ocelot, who moved out the way as Ocelot went dashing towards Luffy before he could pull his arm back.

"Take this! And this!" Ocelot yelled as he started punching and kicking Luffy repeatedly, causing him to stagger back to the ledge of the platform. "AND TAKE THIS!" Ocelot pulled back his arm, and brought it forward, punching Luffy in the face hard enough to cause him to fall back as he was about to fall into the pool.

"YRRRAAAAAGGHHH!!" To Ocelot's surprise, Luffy pushed his upper body up hard enough to regain his footing. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punches Ocelot at all over his body as Ocelot was somehow standing in the same spot while getting hit. By the time Luffy was done, Ocelot was still standing as he wiped the blood off his wounds. Luffy then stretched both of his arms back as he charged at Ocelot again. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms at Ocelot's gut, staggering Ocelot two steps back as he fell on one knee. Ocelot slowly got back up as he spat out some of his blood on the ground.

"YYYYYYYEEEEAARGHH!!" Ocelot yelled as Luffy was amazed at how Ocelot was able to stay standing.

"Okay, guys! Ready!?" Snake asked. He was on one knee, aiming his Stinger missile launcher to the RAYs in front of him, while Usopp next to him did the same, only standing with his slingshot. Nami had her PCT separated as Zoro held his swords adjacent to one another, and Franky behind them with his arms connected to a tube.

"Bro, this might be the most craziest idea you have come up with so far! And boy, do I love it!" Franky yelled excitedly.

"When I give the signal, we both attack at the same time. You three just stay back for now." Snake said, referring to Sanji, Chopper, and Robin.

"Right, just dont mess up!" Sanji said. The RAYs in front of them aimed their wings at the crew as Snake started to count down.

Meanwhile, Luffy stretched and twisted his arm back as Ocelot was too injured to even move quick. "GOMU GOMU NO…"

"Okay, now!" Snake yelled as everyone was ready to unleash their attacks. "TEAM ATTACK: MEGA FLARE!" Snake fired his missiles, Usopp fired his explosive pellets, Nami threw multiple thunder balls, Zoro unleashed a strong cutting wave, and Franky lets out a Coup de vent onto the RAYs in front of them at the same time, causing their attacks to mix, creating one super big beam, destroying every single RAY that was in it's range. After the beam disappeared, their was nothing left of the RAYs that got hit.

"RIFLE!!" Luffy punched Ocelot straight in the face.

"AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAHHHHH HHHHHHHHH!!" Ocelot cried as Luffy's arm untwisted itself, causing Ocelot to spiral all the way to the center of the platform. Franky's hair then fell a bit as he and the crew turned around to see Ocelot on his back as Snake took out his socom, and aimed for Ocelot's head.

"NOW it's over…" Snake said bluntly. Ocelot panted as he then started to chuckle. He then bursted into laughter as he pushed himself back on his feet.

"It's not for you to decide when it's over… Carrier boy." Ocelot said as he then snapped his fingers. By doing that, another RAY jumped over the pool, and landed on the platform, startling the everyone as they took some steps away. The RAY lowered it's head as Ocelot jumped on it, and looked down at Luffy. "You may have won our little fist fight, but consider that the last thing you will ever do alive!"

Ocelot then got inside RAY, and got into the controls as he started to manuevering it. The RAY raised it's head as it roared up in the air. "It's just another machine! This won't be to difficult to destroy!" Zoro yelled as he then leaped towards the RAY. Suddenly, RAY jumped above Zoro, who was got startled as RAY was about to flatten him.

"Zoro!" Luffy yelled as he then stretched his arms, and pulled Zoro out of the way as RAY landed on the platform. Zoro landed next to Luffy as RAY then aimed both of it's wings down, and started to fire multiple bullets at the crew, who were avoiding them as they regrouped with Luffy and Zoro.

"That one is stronger than the others!" Nami gasped.

"Die!" Ocelot yelled as RAY span 360 degrees, hitting Snake and the Strawhat pirates with it's tail.

"OOOAAAAAAGGHHHH!!" All of the crew got knocked over the pool, and all the way towards the ledge of Arsenal. RAY quickly jumped over the pool, and charged at the crew, who were just about to get up.

"Don't let it come closer!" Snake yelled as he started firing missiles at RAY. RAY jumped over the missile to avoid it, but was left defenseless in the air as Zoro, Nami, Usopp, and Robin prepared to attack.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!"

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!"

"FIREBIRD STAR!"

"CIEN FLEUR, POUND!"

Zoro created another cutting wave, while Usopp fired a flaming eagle as they both strucked RAY head on. The thunder cloud above RAY's head quickly lets out a thunderstorm, electrocuting him as one hundred arms sprouted from the ground, making on humongous hand as it grabbed RAY, and slammed it down on the back of Arsenal, creating a dust cloud. They panted as the dust cloud disappeared, revealing RAY on it's back.

"Did that do it?" Luffy asked. A few moments passed as nothing happened. That soon changed as the RAY started moving again, slowly getting back up on it's feet as the remaining RAYs got behind him, not allowing Snake, nor the crew to escape.

"After all that… we are still going to lose!?" Franky asked while still holding the heart.

From inside the RAY, Ocelot seemed to be losing consciousness until he then pushed some buttons on his control panel, "Damn you all!! Try this instead!" The RAY opened it's mouth as it charged up for a water cannon attack.

"No!" Snake yelled.

… Then suddenly, Ocelot's right arm started to shiver. "Hmm!?" Ocelot noticed as he then felt great pain coming from his right arm. "AAAAHH!! NOOOO!! HOW!?"

The RAY closed it's mouth as it also appeared to be shaking. It continued to shake until it suddenly stood straight.

"AAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAA AAAAAAHHHH HHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHHHH HHHHHHH HHHHHHHH!!"

Everything was silent once more. "Wha… What happened?" Chopper asked. RAYs head then opened up as a dark aura flowed out of it.

"BROTHER!!"

Snake gasped upon hearing a new voice; a voice only he knew who it belonged to. "LIQUID!!" Snake yelled angrily.

Out came Ocelot, or so it seemed to be. A dark aura was emitting throughout his entire body, including the exterior of his eyes. His voice sounded different; it sounded more younger than he looked. Revolver Ocelot was no more, the man that stood before Snake and the crew is now Liquid Ocelot.

"Brother!! I have finally come back to finish off what I started so long ago!" Liquid yelled excitedly while clenching his fist. The crew were shocked, and severely confused for what is going on.

"What's happening to him!? Why does he sound so different!?" Usopp asked nervously.

"He's not Ocelot anymore." Snake said angrily, "It's Liquid! He woke up again!"

"Liquid!?" Nami said in shock, "Didn't you say he was dead!?"

"I said physically; I didn't say he was completely dead!" Snake replied as he then remembered the Shadow moses incident, "A couple of years ago, Ocelot lost his right hand thanks to an old friend of mine. After Liquid died, Ocelot needed a transplant, so they got Liquid's arm, and transplanted it to Ocelot to make it his own. In 2007, during a tanker incident, It was known that Liquid's spirit remained in his arm as it took control over Ocelot's body and mind."

"So this man was simply possessed?" Robin asked.

"No, Ocelot made some vaccines in order to prevent Liquid from taking over again, but it wasn't until 2009 where he gained control over him once more. And that was the last time I've seen of him up until now."

"So this old guy was your brother this whole time!?" Luffy asked shockingly.

"You're not listening! It's not Ocelot, it's the spirit that's inside him that's calling me that!" Snake yelled, "But what I am wondering is what is that dark substance around him?"

"Hmph! It's rude of you to ignore your own brother, Snake." Liquid said, getting Snake's attention.

"Liquid, where have you been this entire time!? Why were you hiding from me until now!?" Snake asked. Liquid looked rather confused, until he then knew what Snake was talking about as he then laughed.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha! Silly, brother! You still don't know it yet, don't you!?" Liquid asked, confusing Snake, "You see, during this whole evening, you have been fighting with me, not Ocelot!"

"What do you mean!? Didnt Ocelot blocked your presence with his vaccine he got from the rulers of Obscurum!?" Snake asked.

"Who? You mean those two men? Hmph! Dont make me laugh, Snake!" Liquid said. He then looked up at the stars, "Some time ago, I was awakened inside Ocelot's mind. I viewed what he was looking at during the time, and it appeared to be a black star."

"A black star?" Sanji asked.

"It somehow made me feel stronger, but I didn't know why. All I knew it was making Ocelot to lose some of his mind." Liquid said, "He felt rather sick, and weak, having alot on his mind. Heh heh, I couldn't imagine why." He said sarcastically, "I tried to gain control over him, but I wasn't strong enough to do that. I was afraid I would be stuck inside Ocelot's head forever, until he bumped into two men."

"The Obscurum rulers…" Snake muttered.

"Yes, they handed Ocelot a vaccine in exchange for a position to be some ruler for this new world." Liquid explained, "One of the men, Hojo, said that what Ocelot was having a curse from the planet Obscurum, or put it simply, the black star he saw a couple of days ago."

"Huh!? The black star is that new world!?" Luffy asked.

"It appeared to be so. After Ocelot took the vaccine, I was worried that I would be gone for good, but that never happened. In fact, it made me stronger, and I was strong enough to insert my personal traits into Ocelot's head, and he didn't even noticed. It seemed that those rulers knew that I was inside Ocelot's mind, and wanted ME to be the next ruler, not Ocelot. I took control of all his actions and thoughts. It was so easy, I did that in my sleep."

"So we were fighting with you this whole time?" Zoro asked.

"Yes! I was the one to be feared from the very start!" Liquid said proudly, "But there were times were I couldn't control Ocelot's actions. Like for one, the battle Ocelot had with that woman there didn't go as expected. Ocelot used a dud bullet during the battle, which weren't my actions at all. If I would have had complete control, she would have been dead by now!"

"You mean…" Robin thought of the part where Ocelot fired a dud at her, "He didnt try to kill me? And it was you that tried to kill me in the hanger?"

"Ah yes, I enjoyed that part." Liquid said, "What better way to torture your enemy without killing off some of your men first?"

"Why you bastard!" Sanji growled.

"Ah ha ha ha! No need to be so angry, I am only doing this for one cause only… and that is to obtain Arsenal!" Liquid yelled with his arms spread out, "This will be the key to my victory over the Patriots! I will use Arsenal to destroy the most powerful cities of America, destroying the Patriots defenses. My true goal… is to obtain the power of the Patriots themselves!"

"You're nuts!" Snake yelled.

"Am I!? With their power, I can rule this world with an iron fist!" Liquid said with a clenched fist, "It's a part of my destiny, Snake! You can't stop it!" Liquid then looked at Luffy and his crew, "As for the pirates… I would like to thank you for truly releasing me from my imprisonment."

"Huh!?" Luffy asked.

"It's because of your effort to fight on for your lives, you drove Ocelot's patience thin, allowing me to fully take over his mind and body." Liquid explained, "There is little time for the launch to start, so I will play with you all just a little longer!" Liquid then got back inside RAY, and started controlling, "You served your purposes! You may all die now!"

"Here he comes, guys! Get ready!" Luffy yelled. They all got into their fighting poses, all except for Snake. Snake sighed as he then looked at Luffy over his shoulder.

"Luffy… you guys are no longer needed anymore." Snake said.

"What?" Luffy asked. Snake then pulled out a switch, and pressed the button on it.

KABOOM!

A couple of C4s exploded in front of the crew, knocking them all off Arsenal. "Whoaa!!" They all screamed as Luffy looked up to see Snake turn around and smile.

"Snake!" Luffy shouted as he and his crew fell on the deck of the Thousand Sunny. They groggily got on their feet.

"What the hell was that all about!? Why did he do that for!?" Franky asked angrily.

"That guy nearly killed us! What was he thinking!?" Usopp asked.

"He protected us." Robin said with her head lowered. Everyone looked at her as Luffy was confused. "He said he wanted to do this alone… so he is going to sacrifice so we could escape safely."

"That idiot! After all we did for him!" Nami yelled angrily.

"Wait, so we're leaving?" Luffy asked.

"This seems to be our only chance to get away." Sanji said, "I don't know if we should go or not."

"We cant leave! I dont want to leave like this!" Chopper yelled.

"Luffy… what do you want to do?" Zoro asked. Luffy looked up at Arsenal, thinking of what to do.

Back on Arsenal, Snake was taking out an RGB6 grenade launcher as the RAYs approached him closely. "What do you intend to do now, Snake? You are alone. No one can save you now!" Liquid said.

"It's better like this." Snake said. He then sighed as he then loaded up his grenade launcher. "You won't be getting away this time!"

"Snake!"

Snake turned around to see Otacon flying to him with his helicopter. "Perfect timing!" Snake said as he then jumped high enough to grab onto the rope ladder of the helicopter. He aims at the RAYs with his grenade launcher, and fired some rounds at their faces, knocking the RAYs back.

"Is that all you can do, Snake!? I expected more!" Liquid yelled as the RAY he was in fired multiple bullets at him. Snake fired a grenade at Liquid's RAY, knocking it's wing back as it stopped firing. Snake quickly reloaded his grenade launcher, and fired more rounds as he was now destroying some of the RAYs behind Liquid. "That's enough out of you!" Liquid got irritated, and fired a water cannon at Snake directly.

"GAH!" Snake got hit directly as he falls down onto Arsenal.

"Snake!" Otacon cried as Liquid maneuvered his RAY above Snake.

"Well, doesn't this bring back some old memories?" Liquid asked with a smirk, "This reminds of the time where I took the life out of that foolish man, Gray Fox? Don't you remember that?"

"Yeah, I remember." Snake replied while on the ground, "It was also the time when you died as well."

"Hmph! Memories are indeed priceless." Liquid said, "But this one that I am about to make will be remembered forever!" The RAY raised it's foot as it was about to stomp on Snake.

"Heh…" Snake closed his eyes waiting for the worst to happen… and it never came. "Hmm?" Snake opened his eyes, and saw somebody pushing back RAY's foot from underneath.

"What the!? You returned!?" Liquid asked as it was Luffy, who was using all his strength to push RAYs leg back.

"Ergh!! Hurry… get out of the way!" Luffy yelled while pushing back.

"What the hell are you doing back here!? You were suppose to leave to the next world!" Snake yelled angrily while sitting up, "This is my fight! Don't get involved!"

"You listen to me!" Luffy yelled furiously, "I rarely did a thing ever since I got here! I nearly get blown to pieces, I met weird people, a guy that poops alot, and some weirdo that calls me out of nowhere! I came here to fight for a friend, and I won't leave until I have done something to help him!!"

Snake then looked at Luffy in shock, while Liquid didn't find this amusing. "Ha! You little maggot! I'll send you to the afterlife first!" Liquid yelled as the RAY pushed down at Luffy harder.

"Gwah! Gyehhh… I… won't… LOOOOOOOSE!!" Suddenly, Luffy's legs were started to pump the blood inside him faster, and faster until Luffy's body was now red. Snake eyes widened as steam came out of Luffy's body as well. "GEAR SECOND!!" Luffy then easily lifted up the RAYs foot, and pushed it back, causing it stagger backwards.

"What!? How is that possible!?" Liquid asked in shock. He then looked at Luffy as the RAYs approached him while his wings at him. Luffy looked up at the RAY as he hits his palm.

"WE WONT LET YOU SUCCEED!! WE WILL STOP THIS!!"

TO BE CONTINUED…

Metal Gear Pt 15

Finally I am done with this. I could have updated sooner, but something came up. I'll tell you about it at the end of this chapter. This is the TRUE highlight moment of the arc. Enjoy!

10 minutes… Snake and the Strawhat pirates learned that Ocelot was not the person they should be cautious of, but the man known as Liquid that resides in him. With such little time left, will the crew be able to stop the launch for good?

Chapter 98: Mission complete!, For a better tomorrow

Luffy clenched his fists as his red body continued to let out steam. " He's using Gear second… " Snake thought, somehow knowing of Luffy's form. " This could give us an advantage, but would it be enough to stop this? "

"What is this!? Are you trying to make a fool out of me!?" Liquid asked angrily from inside RAY, "How is it that you can push back a powerful mech with your fists only!? I wasn't told of this!"

"Just like I said… we are going to stop you no matter what it takes!" Luffy yelled, "And what I am going to do now is to destroy all these weird robot things in my way."

"Ha ha ha ha ha! You cannot be serious!" Liquid laughed, "I know that your abilities are inhumane, but to destroy all these RAYs within the limited amount of time you have left is impossible! Besides, you made a foolish decision to come back here! Now I will destroy you along with Snake!"

"BRING IT ON!!" Luffy yelled as the RAYs then charged at him.

"Kill him!" Liquid yelled as one RAY lifted it's foot, and slammed it down at Luffy. "Yes!" The RAY then lifted it's foot to see nothing there, which shocked Liquid. "What!? Where did he go!?"

"JET PISTOL!" A quick fist hits the RAY in the face, staggering it two steps back as some sparks flew out of it's eye. It was Luffy who punched the RAY as it then jumped really high in the air, "JET MUCHI!" Luffy stretched his leg, and delivered a very quick horizontal kick across the RAYs face, knocking it airborne as it fell right into the pool. "JET STAMP!" Luffy thrusted his foot, which made contact to another RAY in it's face as it fell on it's back, nearly destroyed. Luffy then landed on the ground as another RAY aimed it's wing at him. Before it could fire, Luffy disappeared in an instant. Luffy then appeared above the RAY while stretching his leg upwards.

"JET ONO!" Luffy lowered his foot with great force on top of RAY, kicking it so hard that the head exploded as it's body then collapsed. The damaged RAY Luffy kicked earlier was then about to get up, but it then saw Luffy grabbing it's wings from afar. "JET MISSILE!" Luffy sprung himself towards the RAY, going right through it's body as the RAY exploded, leaving some of the ground ablazed.

Liquid was very shocked upon what he was seeing as Luffy walked out from the fire the explosion caused. "Is it possible for one to be this powerful!?" Liquid asked, "Heh, no matter!" Liquid faced it's RAY towards Luffy, "Just so you know, those RAYs were merely prototypes of the real thing. The one I am controlling is the original! It's power and speed is unimaginable compared to the garbage you just took out!"

"That's just fine!" Luffy replied with a smirk, "It wouldn't feel right beating you up if you couldnt put up a fight!"

"You can act cocky all you want; there is no stopping me from achieving my goals!" Liquid said as his RAY got into it's battle stance.

"Prove it, then! Show me what you got, old man!!" Luffy yelled.

"Huah!!" Liquid charged it's RAY towards Luffy, who did the same with it. "Take this!" Liquid's RAY jumped high in the air as it fired three blue missiles upward. They went down towards Luffy as he went jumping towards the missiles, and jumping off of them from their sides, going upward as he then jumped towards the RAY.

"JET PISTOL!" Luffy thrust his palm, which Liquid avoided by making it's RAY to dodge it in midair. The RAY then countered with a tail whip, which Luffy quickly held onto as soon as it hits him. "Gah!" Luffy held on as the RAY got back on the ground. It tried to move, but Luffy kept pulling back on it's tail with great strength.

"Get off!" Liquid yelled as the RAY swung it's tail upwards, flinging Luffy up in the air. RAY then aimed at Luffy with it's wing as Luffy seemed prepared for it.

"JET FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated his stomach, catching the incoming bullets with it as he bounced them back at RAY, which hardly left any scratches on it. The force of the bullets did however knocked Luffy even higher up as RAY quickly leaped after him. "JET YARI!" Luffy thrusted both of his legs, kicking RAY in the face as the force knocked him down on Arsenal.

"Ha!" Liquid managed to land his RAY on it's feet as it then opened it's mouth. "How about this!?" Liquid asked as he then fired the RAY's water cannon at Luffy.

"Whoa!" Luffy arched his back in midair as the stream of water nearly hits him. Luffy then got back on the ground as he dashed, and got right in front of RAY right before it could close it's mouth. "JET KAZAN!" Luffy stretched his leg upwards, intending to kick RAY's mouth, but RAY quickly jumped really far back to avoid getting hit. "Come back here!"

"Make me!" Liquid yelled as he aimed and fired more bullets out of the RAYs wing.

Snake watched the battle continue as he was thinking why Luffy came back. "I sacrificed myself for him, and he comes back!? I told him not to butt in!"

"Oi, Snake! That's was a dirty move you did on us!"

Snake turned around to see Zoro and Sanji behind him. "Zoro! Sanji! You guys are here too!?" Snake asked.

"We did say we'd help you stop this launch." Sanji said, "You didn't expect us to get rid of so easily, did you?"

"But you guys could have gotten away the moment you had the chance!" Snake said.

"Yeah, but it wouldn't feel right to leave a comrade behind." Zoro said while scratching his head, "Besides, it was Luffy who wanted us to help you out after what you tried to do to us."

"As Nami-san said before, we're in this together whether you like it or not." Sanji said confidently. Snake blinked, astonished for what he was hearing.

"Hmm… well, if you guys die, don't come crying to me." Snake sighed. Otacon could then be seen flying the helicopter with Nami, Chopper, and Robin aboard.

"Thanks for picking us up, Otacon." Chopper said happily.

"Don't mention it." Otacon replied, "Even though Snake might not be comfortable with this, we are going to need all the help we could get to stop this launch from happening."

As Otacon flew the helicopter around Arsenal, Snake took out the C3, looking at it's timer. "We have 5 minutes…" Snake said.

"What do you suggest we do?" Zoro said.

"It's too dangerous to give this to Otacon; he might get shot down by Liquid, or some of the other RAYs." Snake explained, "We need to find another way to plant this bomb on Arsenal's head."

"Running all the way there won't be enough either…" Sanji sighed. Snake rubbed his chin until he came up with an idea.

"Hey, Robin!" Snake shouted, getting Robin's attention while in the helicopter. "I got one more job for you to do!"

"Stand still, you little maggot!" Liquid yelled as his RAY fired multiple bullets at Luffy, who was running around RAY to avoid. Luffy then got behind the RAY as he then charge at it.

"JET STAMP!" Luffy thrusted his leg, but RAY instantly ducked to avoid as he turned around while crouching, countering by firing more bullets at Luffy. "Yikes!" Luffy got away quick enough as he dashed towards RAY. "JET PISTOL!" Luffy quickly punched RAYs chest, causing RAY to stagger a bit as Luffy then jumped high in the air. "JET-" Luffy was about to stretch his leg, but RAY hits him with his wing, knocking Luffy back. "Ah!"

"Die!" Liquid yelled as RAY jumped over him, intending to smash Luffy with it's foot.

"JET YARI!" Luffy thrusted both of his feet upward, kicking RAY as it got slightly knocked upwards, facing it's back towards the ground as it fell. "HAA!!" Luffy stretched his arm, and grabbed the back of RAYs huge neck as Luffy sprung himself above RAY. "JET BA-" As Luffy stretched his arms back, RAY opened it's mouth, and fired it's water cannon at Luffy, who got hit directly as he was knocked higher in the air. "Whoa!!"

"GRAAH!!" RAY fired cluster bombs into the air above Luffy, exploding into several missiles as they went downwards. Luffy quickly twisted his body parts as some of the missiles were heading right for him.

"JET HANABI!" By untwisting in a matter of milliseconds, Luffy punched every missile close to him, causing them to fly towards the other missiles as they all exploded in midair like fireworks. As this occurred, Luffy quickly stretched his arms, and grabbed onto RAY's wings. "JET KANE!" Luffy sprung himself towards RAY, and gave it one devastating headbutt, which made a powerful shockwave that instantly sends the RAY skidding backwards, and into the pool behind it. RAY emerged from the waters as Liquid was now infuriated.

"URRRAAGGHH!!" Liquid fired nine consecutive missiles in the air as they went down towards Luffy. Luffy was able to get away from them, but then saw RAY jumping out of the pool as it then charged at him. "UAGH!!" RAY swung it's tail at Luffy, who got hit as he nearly fell off Arsenal. RAY then fired bullets out of it's wing as Luffy was able to dodge. The attack didn't stop there as RAY span around in circles, shooting down at the ground in the process.

"RAAGHH!!" Luffy evaded the bullets as he then charged at RAY while it was still spinning, but the moment Luffy got closer, RAY jumped up high in the air as it stopped firing bullets, but continued to spin around as it began to fall back down. "WHOA!!" Luffy instantly got out of the way as RAY swung it's tail downwards, hitting the ground as it created a massive shockwave that knocked Luffy off his feet, and off of Arsenal. "JET ROCKET!" Luffy grabbed the ledge of Arsenal, and springs himself back above it as he went flying towards RAY as a fast as an actual rocket. As it seemed that Luffy would crash into it, RAY performed a backflip as Luffy missed it.

"Take this!" RAY thrusted his foot upwards, kicking Luffy high up in the air as RAY landed back on it's feet. It then fired three more missiles from it's back as they flew towards Luffy.

"JET YARI!" Luffy thrusted his feet downward, kicking right through the missiles as they then exploded upon impact, unfortunately knocking Luffy up even higher. RAY quickly leaped towards Luffy as it then did a front flip in midair, smacking down Luffy with it's tail in the process. "WAAGGHHH!!"

CRASH!

Luffy crashed down onto the ground hard enough to leave a dent on Arsenal's back. RAY landed on it's feet as Luffy was barely able to get on one knee as he started to pant heavily.

"What's wrong!? Are you feeling tired!?" Liquid asked with a manatical smirk, "Don't tell me you are ready to give up now! I am just getting warmed up!!"

"HAAAAA!!" Despite feeling exhausted, Luffy continued to fight as he charged at RAY again.

"Now that's more like it!" Liquid yelled as RAY aimed both of it's wings at Luffy, firing multiple at him. Luffy went zigzagging towards RAY with great speed to avoid the bullets as Luffy was able to get beneath it.

"JET KAZAN!" Luffy thrusted up his leg, kicking RAY between it's leg as it got knocked off it's feet. Before getting higher up in the air, RAY wrapped it's tail around Luffy, bringing him along for the ride as it then began to spin it's body again. "Yaaaahh!!" Luffy cried as he was also getting spun around. RAY then lets go of Luffy as he went crashing down towards the ground. RAY stopped spinning as it pulled back it's feet, waiting as it fell closer to the ground. "YIKES!!" Luffy siderolled out of the way as RAY thrusted his feet down at the ground, creating another shockwave that knocked Luffy off the ground as span sideways in midair.

Luffy stopped himself by landing on his hands and feet as he skidded towards the Arsenal's ledge again. Luffy then went right towards Arsenal while stretching and twisting his arm back. "JET RIFLE!" Luffy jumped in front of RAY, and thrusted his twisted arm. RAY blocked the attack with it's right wing as Luffy's arm untwisted upon impact.

The force of Luffy's attack left a dent on RAY's wing as it was getting more hollow by the second. "Dammit!" Liquid cursed as he had to move RAY aside to prevent further damages. RAY almost lost it's footing from getting away as Luffy got back on the ground, and stretched his arm to grab RAY's right wing.

"JET KAMA!" Luffy springed himself forward as he gave RAY a devestating clothesline across the neck. Luffy brought RAY down on it's back as it went skidding towards the ledge. Luffy then jumped off RAY as it quickly backrolled onto it's feet while it was nearly going to fall off Arsenal.

"I'll smash you!!" Liquid yelled as RAY aimed the broadside of its right wing at Luffy before charging at him. Luffy jumped really high as RAY shoulder barged the ground, creating a dust cloud as Luffy went up in the air. RAY peered over it's shoulder as it then used it's tail to try to knock Luffy with it. Luffy saw it coming as he then got it by RAY's tail, but quickly wrapped his arms around as Luffy started to spin around, twisting his arms around themselves as Luffy got back on the ground.

"JET HAMMER!" Luffy pulled RAY off it's feet as Luffy threw the giant mech over his shoulder. During this process, his arms untwisting themselves, spinning RAY a few times before Luffy slammed it on the ground in front of him.

"Oof!" Liquid cried from crashing hard. Luffy lets go of RAY's tail as RAY got back up, and fired three consecutive missiles in the air without facing at Luffy. The missiles flew down at Luffy as he quickly moved out of the way, but right after he dodged them, RAY turned towards him, and thrusted it's tail at Luffy.

"Gah!" Luffy cried as he got knocked all the way back to Arsenal's rear section, crashing near the ledge of it. Luffy slowly got back on his feet as RAY opened it's mouth, and fired multiple water blasts at him. Luffy quickly avoided the blasts as he went charging towards RAY. RAY then closed it's mouth as it charged at Luffy, with a blue aura surrounding it.

"RAY DISCHARGE!" RAY went in for a devestating tackle as Luffy jumped towards while stretching his arms back.

"JET BAZOOKA!!" Luffy brought himself towards RAY, thrusting his palms at RAY at the same time RAY tackled him. This created a powerful shockwave that knocked both Luffy and RAY as RAY nearly lost it's footing. "Ergh!" As Luffy got back on his feet, he leaped towards RAY while stretching back his arms again. "BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms at RAY's chest, staggering it backwards. "BAZOOKA!" Luffy did this again as RAY staggered back even further. "BAZOOKA!" RAY was now about to fall back into the pool behind him as Luffy was about to hit him one more time. "BAZOOOOOOOKAAAAAAA!!"

By unleashing that last attack, RAY got knocked off it's feet, and flew over the pool as it was about to fall on the platform. Luffy held on to it's chest as RAY skidded across the platform, heading towards the other side of the pool. Luffy let's go of him as he rolled along the ground limplessly while RAY fell into the water.

Snake and the crew saw this as Snake then looked at the C3's timer. "We now only have 2 minutes! This is our chance to make a run for it! Robin, you remembered what I told you to do!?" Snake asked.

"Do not worry; I will do my part upon getting your signal." Robin replied.

"Then what are we doing wasting time here for!? Let's go!" Sanji yelled. He, Zoro, and Snake went running towards where Arsenal's head is located, which was far from where they are at. Otacon flew the helicopter around Arsenal The prototype RAYs that were still active saw them as they began firing at them.

"Oi, Nami! Hurry up!" Zoro yelled as Nami was making a thundercloud above the RAYs' heads.

"You trying doing this while moving around!" Nami yelled from in the flying helicopter as she made a could big enough for the RAYs.

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunderball at the cloud, causing it to let out some powerful lightning as they electrocuted the RAYs as they then exploded.

After that happened, Liquid's RAY emerged from the pool as it turned around to see the trio running to get ontop of Arsenal's head. "No! I won't let you ruin my plans, Snake!" Liquid yelled furiously as his RAY opened it's mouth, and fired a water cannon at the trio from behind. Snake, Zoro, and Sanji saw this coming as they jumped in opposite directions to avoid the stream of water.

"Robin, now!!" Snake yelled while throwing the C3 in front of him.

"CIEN FLEUR, DELPHINIUM!" Robin sprouted a row of paired arms as the last one sprouted close to Arsenal's head. The first pair of arms grabbed the C3 as they then passed it along the other arms in front of them.

"I WON'T LET YOU GO IN THE WAY AGAIN!" Liquid yelled at Robin as his RAY fired three missiles towards the helicopter she was on. Unfortunately for him, Snake shot one down with his missile launcher, while Zoro slashed the other into pieces, and Sanji kicking the last one hard enough to knock it off course. "What!?"

"You can't stop us, Liquid! You'll lose just like the last time in Shadow Moses!" Snake yelled. This infuriated Liquid even more.

"I refuse to accept that! I will kill you all!!" Liquid yelled as he fired all the missiles he had left in front of him, trying to eliminate every single thing in front of him. Snake, Zoro, and Sanji did their best to destroy the incoming missiles as Otacon flew the helicopter's side in front of Arsenal's head. Two of the missiles went past the trio as they headed for the row of arms.

"Robin, watch out!" Snake yelled. The arms quickly threw the C3 in front of themselves before disappearing as the missiles exploded on the ground. Chopper's eyes widened as he saw the C3 bomb falling down.

"I got it!" Chopper cried as he jumped off the helicopter, and turned into his Heavy point as he reached out for the bomb in midair. He was able to catch the bomb as he planted on the center of Arsenal's head upon landing. He then cried as he quickly jumped, and grabbed the helicopter's rope ladder as Otacon flew away from Arsenal a bit.

"NOOO!! THIS CAN'T BE HAPPENING!!" Liquid cried in sheer anger. His RAY was about to get out of the pool, until…

"JET PISTOL!" Luffy thrusted his palm, hitting RAY at the back of it's head, causing it stop to stop itself. "Don't you dare get away from me!! I won't let you run away until I have completely kicked your ass!"

RAY turned towards Luffy as Liquid was giving him a fierce glare. "I have had enough of your interference! It is time you see RAY's true power!!" RAY then fired multiple cluster bombs, but instead of flying up in the air, they hovered around RAY's sides as they faced towards Luffy. "These are newly advanced cluster bombs. They are just as powerful as the original ones, only they have homing capabilities! By the time I press this little button next to me, their will be no chance for you to escape my wrath!! It's time for you to rot in hell, Strawhat!!"

Liquid slammed his fist on the button next to him, literally destroying out of anger as the cluster bombs fired a storm of mini missiles at Luffy, who simply stood at the center of the platform while clenching both of his fists.

"JET…" Luffy stomped on the ground, cracking some of the glass on the platform as he pulled back his arms. "GATLING!"

Luffy repeatedly punches forward with such great speed, you couldn't even see the blurs of his fist going back and forth. Luffy went punching at every single missile that went toward him as the hovering cluster bombs continued to let out some more missiles. "UWWAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHH!!"

Every time Luffy punched a missile, a small explosion erupted, and now that this attack lasted more than a couple of seconds, a wall of explosions came in between Luffy and RAY. More seconds have passed as the hovering cluster bombs were starting to fall apart. "Huh!?" Liquid noticed this as all his of hovering cluster bombs exploded soon afterwards, and when Luffy destroyed all the missiles in front of him, he continued his attack on RAY. "GAAAAAAAAGGHHHHH!!"

"YAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!" Luffy yelled as he punched RAY rapidly. Sparks then flew out of the RAY's body joints as Luffy finished his attack with a quick double fist to RAYs chest before falling on his knees. "Huh… huh… ergh…" Luffy panted as he then looked up to see RAY still standing after all it went through.

From inside RAY's head, Liquid was bleeding from head to toe, panting heavily as he tried to sit straight. "I… -cough-… am FOXHOUND's finest!" Liquid panted, "I possess the dominant genes of Big boss himself! I am the soldier that cannot be killed! I AM THE MAN WHO WILL ELIMINATE ANYONE WHO STANDS IN MY WAY!! WHY CAN'T YOU UNDERSTAND THAT!?"

"So what!?" Luffy yelled, "I am the man who is going to stop you!!"

"AH HA HA HA HA!! You fool; there is only one minute left until launch!!" Liquid yelled, "I will be the ruler of this world! I will be the one to destroy everything that humanity lives for! And I will definitely kill you where you stand!!"

"Shut up!! I will win!!" Luffy said as he grabbed his right arm, and held it tightly. RAY then opened it's mouth as it looked up. The water in the pool began to dry out as it all formed into one giant sphere of water above RAY. Luffy began to stroke his right arm, putting all the power of his form into it. Luffy's body color returned as the way it was, while his right arm was completely dark red as an enormous amount of steam came out of it.

"I WILL DESTROY YOU HERE, EVEN IF IT MEANS DESTROYING PART OF ARSENAL!! DIE!!" Liquid yelled infuriatingly as RAY lowered it's head, bring the sphere of water down at Luffy.

"GOMU GOMU NOOOO…" Luffy raised his left foot while pulling back his right arm. "RAIL GUN!!" Luffy slammed down his leg as he stretched his blazing arm to the sphere. Luffy's arm was moving faster than the speed of light as Luffy punched the sphere, instantly evaporating as the fist all the way towards Liquid, who was exposed since RAY still had it's mouth open.

"WAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!

KAPOOOOOWWWWW!!

Luffy punched Liquid straight in the face.

The punch was so powerful, words couldn't even describe it as the force of the blow instantly knocked RAY off it's feet. RAY went flying over Snake, Zoro, and Sanji as it then skidded all the way towards Arsenal's head, nearly skidding over the C3 bomb. Luffy's arm then went back to it's original color as Luffy fell on his knees, while everyone who saw this happen were amazed to a point where Otacon almost lost control of his helicopter.

"Yikes…" Otacon gasped. He then noticed something odd. He got a pair of binoculars, and looked over Arsenal's head, which he then gasped again upon seeing something he didn't expect.

"Snake!" Otacon cried by communicating with Snake by codec, "The timer! The C3's timer was destroyed! The bomb has been deactivated!"

"What!?" Nami and Chopper cried at the same time, while Robin was also shocked as well.

"What the hell!?" Snake took out his binoculars, and looked towards Arsenal's head. He zoomed to see a tiny part of RAYs back slightly going through the C3's timer, somehow stopping it's countdown. "You got to be kidding me!"

"What do we do now!?" Zoro asked.

"We can blow it up manually, but I can't get a clear shot from here, and most of RAY's body is in the way!" Snake yelled. Everyone was losing their focus. There was barely any time to do anything. That is, until Nami came up with an idea. She quickly got over the ledge of the helicopter, and looked down towards the Thousand Sunny.

"Usopp! Franky!" Nami yelled, getting Usopp and Franky's attention from afar.

"It's Orange head sis!" Franky pointed out.

"Nami, what happening!? Were you guys able to stop the launch!?" Usopp asked.

"No, and we need you guys to get over here now!" Nami yelled, "Usopp, we're going to go with Plan 7!"

Usopp gasped upon hearing that. "Plan 7!?" Usopp asked while his legs were shaking.

"Plan 7?" Franky asked.

"Franky, we need to bring the ship up there!" Usopp said. Franky was a little confused until he then grinned in agreement.

"All right then!" Franky said excitedly. While Usopp and Franky were preparing something, Robin sprouted arms from eachother until they were really high enough in order to grab Luffy from the other side of the empty pool. Luffy was confused as Otacon flew the helicopter over him.

"Luffy! We're going to go with Plan 7!" Nami yelled. Luffy smirked upon hearing that.

"Yosh! Okay, I know what to do from here!" Luffy said happily. Luffy then grabbed hold of the sprouted arms, while Franky got the Thousand Sunny ready for flight.

"COUP DE BURST!" The Thousand Sunny's booster ignited, causing the ship to fly all the way up until it was higher than Arsenal. The arms then flings Luffy forwardly as he flew towards Sanji.

"Plan 7, huh?" Sanji asked, "Get ready, Marimo!"

"Yeah, yeah…" Zoro replied. While in midair, Usopp fired one of the Thousand Sunny's cannons as the cannon ball headed towards Zoro. "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro unleashed a cutting wave, knocking the cannon really high up in the air. Meanwhile, Luffy went flying towards Sanji.

"ARMY DE LAIR, GOMU SHOT!" Luffy got on Sanji's leg as Sanji swung his leg upwards, knocking Luffy high up where the cannon ball is. Luffy grabbed onto the ball as it lead Luffy even higher up in the air. At the same time, Liquid was barely conscious as he can see Luffy above him.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy lets go of the cannonball as he began to fall down. He then spins around vertically while stretching his leg. "KAITEN ONO!" The more Luffy spins, the longer his leg was getting as he now looked like one giant buzzsaw, as there were only 5 seconds left until the launch.

"We have to get out of here!" Snake yelled as he, Zoro, and Sanji started to run away.

4 seconds

"Come on, Luffy!" Chopper cried nervously.

3 seconds

"Go, Strawhat!!" Franky yelled as the Thousand Sunny fell back on the ocean floor.

2 seconds

"Hurry!" Otacon cried.

1 second

Liquid looked up at Luffy, only to feel more angrier. "YOU CAN NEVER GET RID OF ME!! I AM-"

KAPOOOOOOOOOOOOOOWWW!!

Luffy slammed his stretched leg onto RAY's body, kicking it so hard that not only it was pushing up against the C3 bomb, but it was leaving a dent on Arsenal's head. By the time this happened, Arsenal's AI turned on as it's eyes slowly turned themselves on.

Unfortunately, It wouldn't do anything else afterwards as the RAY's back was fully smashing the C3, which should have…

KABOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOMMM!!

The C3 finally exploded as it created a humongous shockforce, sending Snake, Zoro, and Sanji flying off Arsenal. "Hold on!" Otacon yelled as he tried to maintain flight, while Chopper and Nami were screaming in fear. Snake, Zoro, and Sanji fell on the Thousand Sunny's lawn deck as Franky tried to keep the ship steady.

Luffy was blown upwards from the explosion as he could see RAY also getting knocked up higher than it. The aura around Liquid started to disappear as he seemed very upset. "I… was so… close… I WAS SO CLOOOOOOSEEE!!" Liquid yelled. By the time he said that, the dark aura around him disappeared. Liquid then blinked in confusion as he began to fall towards the ocean floor, where he saw Snake on the Thousand Sunny. "Snake! This is only the beginning! We will meet again!"

RAY dived into the ocean, and swimmed away, never to be seen again. "Damn! Liquid got away!" Snake yelled angrily. Usopp looked up, and saw Luffy falling down limplessly to the waters.

"Luffy!" Usopp cried. Suddenly, a rope of arms sprouted from underneath Otacon's helicopter, and grabbed Luffy by the leg, and was hanging just a few feet from the ocean. Everyone sighed in relief as the helicopter flew above the Thousand Sunny, and dropped Luffy on deck. The helicopter then flew close to the ship's side as Nami, Chopper, and Robin got off to see if Luffy was okay.

"Oi, Luffy! Are you ok!?" Nami asked. Luffy groaned as he was a little unconscious.

"I'll handle it." Snake said as he got on one knee in front of Luffy. He then punched Luffy in the face, causing him to wake up.

"Huh? What happened?" Luffy asked dazedly.

"We did it, Luffy! We stopped the launch!" Chopper exclaimed excitedly. Zoro and Franky helped Luffy on his feet as he then looked at Arsenal.

"Whoa!? Was that the thing we were on!? CoooOOOL!!" Luffy said happily. While Luffy was looking at Arsenal, Robin looked at her surroundings.

"What happened to Liquid?" Robin asked.

"He got away…" Snake said. Then it got a little quiet, until Arsenal then started to sink. "Let's get this ship out of here!"

Franky got to the steering paddle, and sailed the ship away from Arsenal as it slowly sank. Once the ship was far enough, the crew looked at Arsenal as it completely sunk into the dark depths of the ocean, never to be seen again.

"It's gone… YES!" Nami cried in relief.

"You see!? I told you we would win! Even if that thing was humongous, there was no stopping us!" Usopp said happily, even though he was lying. The Strawhat crew was happy as Luffy turned around to see the 7th Mystery heart on the center of the deck.

"Hey, we got the heart!" Luffy said happily as he grabbed the Mystery heart. While everyone was enjoying this moment, Robin wasn't so satisfied as she looked down a bit upset. Snake noticed this as Luffy held up the 7th Mystery heart in the air. "Yosh! We now have the 7th Mystery heart!"

And as he and his crew celebrated, the sun was finally rising up, beginning a whole new day.

Meanwhile..

In the Unknown world, things were not very pleasant. Yojimbo rested his back on the wall as everyone else sat around the round table. Hojo and Sweet Tooth were already there, but they were both unsatisfied for what has happened to them as they finished explaining everything to their comrades. MPNo. 1 had absolutely nothing to say about it, while everyone else shared their opinions.

"This is just great!" Kefka said sarcastically, "What did I say about killing those pirates from the start? Oh yeah! I said that we should have killed them from the start, but noooooo, some people here decided to put it off in the last second! Now look what happened!"

"They have gone too far this time." Bison said with a frown, "But there is no use crying about it."

"Nooo… there is something we can do instead of crying…" Hojo said angrily as the wound he got from Snake was no longer there, "They must be punished for what they have done! I say we should rip them open, and take all their organs out! Especially out of that stupid reindeer!! He destroyed my research!"

As Hojo panted in anger, Sweet Tooth was looking at his hands with great sadness. "Because of her… they escaped from me… it's the first time that any of my victims escape from my hands…" Sweet Tooth said.

"Even though they are no real threat to us, they did, however, ruined Hojo's research of Obscurum." Sigma said displeasing, "Thanks to this, we have to go back to square one, and it will take time to gather all of Obscurum's data again."

"This time, we'll all go to those pirates, and kill them!" Kefka yelled while slamming his hands on the table, trying to get everyones' attention.

"While they are weak, we cannot all leave from here." Bison said, "We need to keep things here in order, just incase if 'he' is able to escape. If he does escape, our chances for victory will be slim."

"We'll go again! Me and Sweet Tooth will kill those pirates!" Hojo yelled.

"Yeah, right! It's my time to shine!" Kefka yelled, standing up angrily while placing his foot on the table. "I'll go and kill those pirates!"

"You think you can handle that!?" Sigma asked, "The last time you confronted them, they made a fool out of you."

"That was just luck! It won't happen again!" Kefka barked at Sigma.

"I know. That's why I will be the one to finish them off!" Sigma said.

"Ha! Yeah, right! What are you going to do!? Walk up to them, and beat them up just so you can runaway like last time!?" Kefka asked,

"Sorry, but this bozo over here did the same thing, and you knew what happened afterwards."

Bison angrily got on his feet as he glared at Kefka. "I dont waste my time with weaklings!" Bison said, "And besides, I think you should go face them since you are the weakest one here!"

"What!?" Kefka walked up to Bison, and glared at his face, "Why don't you try telling me that when I get all my powers back!? Then will see who's the weakest!"

They all then argued for a while, until Yojimbo stomped his foot on the ground, causing a slight tremor that caused them to stop fighting. They all got quiet as MPNo. 1 didnt even faze.

"Ahem… well, wow! Would you look at the time?" Dimentio asked happily while getting up from his chair, "Time sure flies when people argue for such minimal reasons. Ah ha ha! If you excuse me, I have another client to attend to. Ta-ta!"

"Wait, Dimentio." MPNo. 1 said, finally speaking, "I will come with you."

"Oh?" Dimentio blinked in confusion while glancing at MPNo. 1 over his shoulder, "This is rather rare; you hardly step a foot out of this place unless there is a good reason."

"I'll make an exception for now." MPNo. 1 said while getting up, "The last heart remains close to where your client is. If the heart is there, surely those pirates will be there as well."

The rulers looked at MPNo. 1 as he placed his hands on the table.

"Monkey D. Luffy, and his crew have been in our business for far too long, and it's been our fault from the start. We were careless to see what they were capable of, therefore causing these displeasing events to occur. It is now time that we'd deal with them once and for all, even if it means that I have to take care of them myself."

MPNo. 1 raised his head, showing his yellow eyes glaring in the darkness.

Meanwhile…

We are now back in the peaceful land of Dreamland, where everything was pretty much the same as the Strawhat crew left it. "Open wide. Here comes the chu-chu train."

Inside Dedede's room, we saw none other than Dedede, who was still on a wheelchair and the thick cast all over his body as he was still recovering from what the Strawhat pirates did to him. Escargoon was also in the room as he tried to feed Dedede with some chicken soup, but since the cast was also covering his mouth, there was no way for Dedede eat it.

"Mmm! MmmmMmm!" Dedede muttered.

"I know, I know. That's why I brought this." Escargoon said. He then brought in a moving pole, with a glass container filled with chicken soup. The container also a tube with a needle in the end as Dedede looked at it in fear. "Mmmmm! MmmMmmMmm!"

"Don't be such a chicken." Escargoon said as he then laughed, "Get it? Chicken? Because your a penguin, and you're kinda related to a-" Escargoon then saw how angry Dedede was getting, "N-Nevermind. Just let me put this here."

Escargoon puts the needle into Dedede's right arm as the soup went into his veins. At first, Dedede felt scared at first, but he then felt relaxed. "Mmmmmmmm…"

"There you go. Now that wasn't so hard, was it?" Escargoon asked happily. Suddenly, Waddle Doo came into the room without knocking.

"Your Majesty, I came here to report that-"

"Be quiet! Don't you see that His Majesty is trying to relax?" Escargoon hissed.

"My apologies! But I think he should know that something just came falling from the sky!" Waddle Doo cried.

"Huh? Something fell from the sky? What do you mean?" Escargoon asked while walking up to Waddle Doo.

"Well, I don't know how, but it looked like some kind of turtle." Waddle Doo said. Dedede opened his eyes in confusion upon hearing that. "It was a big turtle with spikes on the back of his shell, and has red hair. He looked pretty dangerous."

"I see… so where did he landed?" Escargoon asked.

"It was around the sandy shores, close to where Kirby lives." Waddle Doo explained. As they talked, Dedede moved his wheelchair and the container pole to the balcony, where lies a telescope. He looked through it's lens to find the 'creature' Waddle Doo was talking about.

"And you sure you werent just imagining things?" Escargoon asked suspiciously.

"No sir! I saw it with my very eye." Waddle Doo responded. Escargoon then sighed.

"Seriously, the things that been happening around here lately is starting to get old." Escargoon shrugged, "What do you think, Your Majesty?" Escargoon turned around, and saw Dedede on the balcony. He walked to Dedede from behind as he was not making a peep. "Your Majesty? Didn't you hear what I asked you?"

"Mmmmmmmmmmmmmmm…" Dedede was starting to get really angry. Escargoon noticed this as Dedede's body was turning red, warming up everything around him.

"Your Majesty! What's wrong!?" Escargoon asked nervously.

"MMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMM!!" Within every second, Dedede was getting hotter and hotter. The cast on him was starting to melt, and the soup in the container was boiling up. His body cast then melted as Dedede had a very pissed off look. "THIS IS UNFORGIVABLE!!"

Dedede takes the needle off his vain, and ran out of his room in a hurry, leaving Escargoon and Waddle Doo to wonder what was going on. Dedede ran with great speed as he was already out of the castle. "I'LL TEACH HIM NOT TO STEP FOOT ON MY PROPERTY!!"

Meanwhile, Bowser walked up the hill to the meadows, rubbing his head after going through a rough landing. "Urgh… this is getting so cliche." Bowser said, "Where am I at this time?" Bowser then walked past a house, which turned out to be Kirby's house as Kirby was sleeping on the hollow tree. Kirby yawned as he then woke up, and saw Bowser.

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily.

"Eh?" Bowser turned around to see Kirby. "Oh, it's you." Kirby jumped off from the tree, and happily walked towards Bowser.

"Poyo! Poyo!" Kirby said happily again.

"Wait a minute… if you're here, then that must mean…" Bowser took a good look at his surroundings as he then felt upset. "Oh no! I'm on HIS turf! Of all the places in the universe, why here!?"

"BOWSER!!"

Bowser turned around to see Dedede running at him at full speed. "DEDEDE!!" Bowser then ran at Dedede as they both furiously ran at eachother. Once they got close, they stopped as they glared at eachother.

"What do you think you are doing here!?" Dedede asked furiously, "Have you come to apologize!?"

"Apologize for what!? For you losing our match against Mario and Kirby!?" Bowser asked angrily, "I have nothing to apologize for. You're were the one who tripped in the first place!"

"I didn't trip! You were the one who tripped! You're the blame!" Dedede yelled.

"Oh sure, you think that! You just can't handle the truth, can you!?" Bowser asked. The both continued to glare at eachother as Kirby simply stares at them in confusion.

"Well, if you're not here to apologize, then what are you doing here? Not that I care since I am about to kick you off my land!" Dedede yelled.

"It's none of your business, and you couldn't kick me out even if you wanted to!" Bowser yelled.

"You wanna bet, fatty!?" Dedede asked.

"Who are you calling fatty, you fathead!?" Bowser said.

"You are! And I am not fat! You're fat!" Dedede yelled.

"Oh yeah!? If I am fat, then that makes you REALLY fat!!" Bowser replied. Dedede gasped upon this.

"You better take that back!" Dedede threatened.

"No! I have always been an honest person, and If I say you're fat, then YOU'RE FAT!!" Bowser yelled straight into Dedede's face.

"THAT'S IT!!" Dedede yelled with bloodshot eyes, "IT'S GO TIME! I AM GOING TO MAKE YOU WISH YOU HAVE NEVER BEEN BORN!"

"BRING IT ON!"

A couple of minutes later…

In the castle, Tiff and Tuff were walking towards the front garden, chatting until they then cappys heading into the castle. "Hey, what's going on?" Tuff asked. Tiff then noticed a squared fighting platform on the northwest part of the castle as all the cappys were sitting on the benches around it.

"Let's go check it out." Tiff said. They walked to the place, seeing Kirby sitting in the front row. "Kirby?"

"Oh? Poyo!" Kirby said happily as Tiff and Tuff walked up to him.

"Kirby, what's going on around here?" Tiff asked.

"A battle is about to take place here."

Tiff and Tuff turned around to see Metaknight walking up to them. "A battle? What battle?" Tuff asked.

"His Majesty, King Dedede, will face off against Bowser from the Mushroom Kingdom." Metaknight explained, "Bowser is also a Smasher just like Kirby, His Majesty, and I. He and His Majesty will face off in a battle for everyone to see."

"That's what going on? What a waste of time…" Tiff said.

"Not really. There hasn't been any action here since Luffy and his crew left." Tuff said while placing his hands behind his head, "It should be fun to watch."

"Oh please…" Tiff sighed.

"Here they come now!" Tuff said. Everyone paid there attention to Bowser and Dedede, who walked alongside eachother as they went towards the platform. They cursed at eachother as they got on the platform, and stood on their assigned corners.

"So that's Bowser. He looks pretty tough." Tuff said, "But I bet Luffy could beat him hands down."

Escargoon then walked towards the center of the platform, holding a microphone as he began to speak to audience. "Ladies and Gentlemen; welcome to our main event of the evening. Where His Majesty will show his greatness by defeating his monstrous opponent!"

"Oh brother…" Tiff sighed.

"In this corner, we have the big, smelly, and ugly koopa from the Mushroom Kingdom! He is Bowser… or whatever." Escargoon said.

"I'll get you after I am done with the penguin!" Bowser yelled angrily as the crowd didn't even boo nor cheer since they hardly know him.

"And in this corner; we have the greatest, the strongest, the most handsome creature of all Dreamland. He is our beloved king! King Dedede!"

"Dyeh heh heh heh heh heh! I am great!" Dedede laughed, while everyone just booed at him, "You see, Bowser, I will defeat you in battle, because I am a real king, while you are just posing as one!"

"Atleast I'm worthy of being a king! You, on the other hand, are worthy of being nothing!" Bowser yelled. He and Dedede continued to trash talk, while everyone else was getting bored.

"Is there a point to this?" Tiff asked.

"Hardly." Metaknight replied, "They have been fighting eachother ever since they lost against a battle with Mario and Kirby during the Smash tournament. They blame one another for their loss."

"That's all? How ridiculous to fight over something so stupid." Tiff said.

"Okay, are the competitors ready!?" Escargoon asked from outside the platform. Bowser and Dedede got into their fighting stances. "3, 2, 1, GO!"

"GRRAAAAGH!!" Bowser yelled as he charged at Dedede.

"DYEEEEEHH!!" Dedede yelled as he charged at Bowser.

They both ran at eachother with great speed, until they both tripped over a small crack along there way. "HUH!?" They both fell forward as they crashed into eachother's head.

"Oof!!" They both got knocked backwards as Bowser's remote suddenly turned on, opening a portal behind Bowser as he went through it before closed.

"Dyah!" Dedede fell of the platform as stars flew over his head, meaning that he was knocked out cold. Everyone was a little confused as Escargoon got on the mic.

"Ugh… it's a draw!" Escargoon shouted excitedly. Some people clapped unenthusiastically as Tiff and Tuff were a little dumbfounded.

"That's it? That was so lame." Tuff said.

"Honestly, it's better not to fight at all for something so pointless." Tiff said.

"Actually, this was pretty ironic." Metaknight said as Tiff and Tuff then looked at him, "This was nearly the exact same thing how there battle ended with Mario and Kirby. They tried to jump on them from both sides, but accidentally tripped, and ended up crashing into eachother. They then accidentally fell of the battle stage, ending the battle there."

"You don't say." Tiff said while sweatdropping. She then looked at Kirby, "I guess you can win battles without doing anything, huh, Kirby?"

"Poyo!" Kirby said happily.

Meanwhile…

The sun reflected against the ocean floor as the Strawhat pirates, including Snake and Otacon, were standing on some of the rubble of the island Arsenal destroyed two chapters ago. The Thousand Sunny was anchored near it as Luffy walked up to Snake.

"I guess this is goodbye." Luffy said.

"Yeah, I suppose so." Snake said, "You did good, Luffy. I never usually say this, but I couldn't have done it without you. Thanks for what you have done for us."

"Hee hee! No problem! I said we would help out, didn't I?" Luffy said with a happy face.

"I must say, you guys are way better than the characters in my favorite animes." Otacon said, "Unlike them, you guys are the real deal."

"Ha! It goes to show ya that nobody can stop us!" Franky said while doing his victory pose.

"Hey, Luffy. Do you remember back then where I said that your confidence would lead you nowhere?" Snake asked as he looked down, "Well… I wasn't being completely honest. Most things can be achieved if you put your heart into it. I was only seeing if you guys were able to take the pressure, and you all passed."

"Somehow, I knew you didn't mean it." Luffy said happily, "We would have helped even if we were scared."

"Yeah, scared…" Usopp muttered.

"You guys only need one more heart. I wish you all the best of luck." Snake said. Luffy smiled as Snake noticed Robin feeling a bit upset. Snake then walked up to her. "You feelin' alright? We stopped the launch. You should be happy."

"But Liquid escaped…" Robin said sadly, "We may have stopped the threat for now, but as long as he still around, I cant be sure as for how long-"

"Listen," Snake interrupted, "Don't think you have done nothing, because you have. It's because of all of you, you saved millions of peoples lives from going through this proxy war."

"But Liquid-"

"Let me finish." Snake interrupted again, "My job is to eliminate Liquid, but also, I have to protect the people around me. There wouldn't be a future without them. Soon, there will be a new generation, and whether they turn out good or not, they still need to be raised in order for this world to live on. The common traits of humanity is what brings people closer together. I will also pass on these traits. That's what I live for."

Otacon smiled as Snake continued, "Even if this proxy war may happen someday, I will stop it. I am doing this for a better tomorrow. Where nations don't have to go through pointless wars, and that the people… don't have to suffer because of it. That's my true purpose in life; to fight for what's good for everyone else. And so what if Liquid escaped? I'll just stop him again and again until he is no longer a threat anymore. That is my role, not because someone gave it to me, not because I have to, but because I am willing to put my life on the line for a better future."

Robin smiled as Usopp, Chopper, and Franky were crying from such touchful words, as well as the rest of the crew. Luffy smiled as he then patted Snake on the shoulder. "Thanks for all the help. I wish luck on finding Liquid again. You go kick his ass for me, alright?"

"Sure." Snake replied with a nod. The Strawhat then got aboard there ship, with Robin looking back at Snake with a smile. "You take care now."

"Yes… I will. Thank you." Robin replied kindly. The Thousand Sunny anchored as Luffy then got in front of the ship, and raised the 7th Mystery heart in the air.

"MYSTERY DOOR, OPEN!" The heart then let out a purple beam in front of Luffy. The beam then spreads out in five direction as a portal was formed in between the rays. The portal then was replaced by the humongous double door with 2 empty slots shaped as hearts, while one of them was filled with red energy, the other one filled with green energy, the other one filled with orange energy, the other one filled with brown energy, the other one filled with yellow energy, and the last one filled with pink energy. The heart then shot another purple beam at the slot under the pink energy and next to the orange energy, filling it up with purple energy which made the door open and an image of another planet was shown inside.

"Amazing!" Otacon said astounded. The Thousand Sunny then sailed towards the door as Luffy and his crew waved goodbye to Snake and Otacon.

"Bye, Snake!" Chopper waved.

"Good luck out there, man! Waaaahh!!" Franky cried.

"See ya!" Luffy waved happily.

"Good bye!" Otacon waved back. Snake then stood firm, and saluted to the crew. Luffy smiled as he then faced towards the door.

"Here we go! To the last world!" Luffy yelled excitedly as the Thousand Sunny went through the door before it closed, and disappearing into thin air.

"They're gone." Otacon said. Suddenly, a soldier came out of ocean, breathing heavily as he held himself onto the ledge of the rubble Snake and Otacon were on.

"Phew, I thought I was going to drown for a second there." The soldier said, which turned out to be Johnny. "Huh?" Johnny then looked up to see Snake and Otacon. As soon as he saw them, a red exclamation mark appeared over his head. "YIKES!" Johnny went swimming away as Otacon was a little baffled for what just happened. Snake, on the other hand, was still looking at where the Strawhat crew went through.

"Luffy… I hope you and your crew get back to your world safely." Snake thought as he then looked at the sky, "And I hope they don't get in your way."

Snake's codec calls

Final episode: Snake's opinion

Otacon: Well, Snake, you now know everything about the Strawhat pirates.

Snake: I guess so.

Otacon: So tell me; what do you think of them.

Snake: I have only one word that describes all of them. They are all crazy.

Otacon: That's four words.

Snake: You know what I mean.

Otacon: Heh heh! I guess we dont have much time to talk about Pandaman, since this is our last codec call for now.

Snake: Pandawhat?

Otacon: Just some easter egg character that appears around in several occasions. I dont think Luffy and his crew are aware of his existence yet.

Snake: Whatever… This is Snake. I'm done here.

END

I believe this arc turned out pretty well. But what it matters is that you enjoyed, and I am sure you all did.

Okay, here's the deal. My neighbors were getting their cable the other day, and the guy accidently messed up my cable connection, thinking nobody was using it. He fixed it later, but he didnt do it right. He seemed to have also messed up my internet connection, and I couldnt connect to the internet anymore. Right now, I am typing on a library computer, and when I called the cable company, they say they wont fix it until July 14th. I know this sucks so much, but I am going to put this story on hiatus again until I get my internet back. Dont worry, I'll still work on my chapters while that day comes, and once I get it back, I'll fix some of the things of this chapter, because I think I messed up on some of them.

So anyway, now that I got that out of the way, it's time to play our favorite game, "GUESS THAT ARC!". Now if you have been reading along, you might know which arc is next, but can that really be it? I mean, it could be anything. After all, some things dont really turn out as they suppose to be… did you understand any of that? I didnt get it myself. Good luck to you all! I'll be back on the 14th! Ciao for now!

Starfox Pt 1

Okay, I had a busy week, so this chapter took longer to finish then expected. And I have more bad news about my connection, so I am updating from a library computer again. I'll tell you the news in the end of the chapter. Putting that aside, it's time to begin our 8th arc! Enjoy!

Seven down, one to go. The Strawhat pirates defeated Liquid, and stopped the launch with hardly any time left to spare. After they said their goodbyes to Snake and Otacon, they left for the next world. With only one more heart left to go, have the Strawhat pirates finally get their break, or will more obstacles get in their way again?

Chapter 99: Welcome to the Lylat System, the arrival at Corneria

It has been a full day since the Strawhat pirates have left for the next world as the Thousand Sunny continued to sail across the stream of lights. After all the trouble they went through in the previous world, the Strawhat pirates are taking a nice, and relaxing break in order to prepare themselves for the next world.

Chopper was inside the sick bay, making more rumble balls on his desk, with the light crystal he got from Aether on the corner of it.

"-sigh-… After stopping the launch, there is nothing like making some more rumble balls for a job well done." Chopper said happily while working, "I sure hope the next world isn't as scary as the last one. We nearly made it out okay. I sure hope Snake and Otacon will be okay. I just know they can capture Liquid."

Chopper then stopped working as he then looked at the bandages he around his body. He recalled the time where Hojo attacked him as he frowned at that moment. "He is a big liar! I hope that guy is gone!" Chopper said angrily as he then worked faster. He then stopped again as he then blushed, "I am curious about the breeding experiment he had in mind. What did he…" Chopper then shook his head as he tried to forget about it, "No! I am not like that! I wasn't going to be his guinea pig! Even for that kind of experiment! Never!"

Chopper was so distracted on his work, he accidentally knocked a vile into the rumble balls he was working on. Chopper gasped as the chemicals poured over the rumble balls. "Ah! No! Stop it!" Chopper tried to do something, but as he did, something came falling from underneath his hat. It turned out to be the dark crystal he got from Aether as it fell rumble balls. "Oh no!" Chopper tried to do something else, but he accidentally knocked over the light crystal as it also fell into the rumble balls.

The crystals then turned into a liquid substance, mixing with the chemicals as they were being sucked by one of the rumble balls. Chopper watched in awe as he accidentally created a new kind of rumble ball with the crystals from Aether. He picked it up to see that one side of it was white, and the other side of it was black. "What did I do?"

Meanwhile, Usopp and Luffy were sitting on the lawn deck as they sitting in front of eachother. Usopp cleared his throat as Luffy was looking straight down. "Ahem! Snake! You have a mission to accomplish! I expect that you fulfill it!" Usopp said with a general like tone.

Luffy then raised his head up, trying to copy Snake's face gestures. "Sure! Don't worry; I have everything under control! Deh…" Luffy said while imitating Snake's voice.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! That's exactly like Snake! Ha ha ha ha!" Usopp laughed as Luffy also laughed with him. While those two were having their fun, Nami came out of the women's quarters, yawning as she then happily looked at her comrades.

"Well, Luffy! I'm done with doing my part of the bet!" Nami said with a smirk, "I can happily relax now that this nightmare is finally over."

Luffy didn't even notice her as he continued to play as Snake as he tried to look for a cardboard box. The only who heard her was Sanji, who felt really depressed again. "I didn't even get to enjoy a second of it. Oh.." Sanji lowered his head while Zoro just gave him a pathetic look while resting his back on the mast.

Robin was reading a book like always, but then looked at the streams of light, remembering what Snake told her. She sighed happily as she continued reading. Franky then walked out of the kitchen, having already place three cola bottles in his stomach as his hair was back in it's look.

"One world left…" Franky sighed. Everyone agreed, while Luffy felt a bit upset.

"Does it really have to end like this? It's been so fun." Luffy said sadly.

"Quit complaining." Nami said while getting on the lawn deck, "It's just this world, and that's it. No more getting into unnecessary fights. We just have one more heart to go, and we're done! Deal with it."

"Aww!" Luffy whined as he crossed his arms grumpily. Zoro then got up, and walked to his comrades.

"Even though we do get back to our world, shouldn't we worry about those rulers? It would feel awkward to head back with those guys still roaming around the place." Zoro said.

The crew then turned serious. "It wont be a problem now that we are so close to getting back home. Once we do, we'll be out of their hair. We will all go back to our original lives, and everyone will be happy."

"I don't know, after what we did yesterday, they'll probably hunt us, and kill us all!" Usopp whimpered.

"Marimo is right. I have a score to settle with one of them." Sanji said as he remembered Bison, which made him frown.

"Yeah, I sorta have the same problem." Franky said, remembering Sigma, which caused him to feel irritated, "But it's not like we can do anything about it. We don't even know where they are."

"They must be at that Obscurum world." Robin said while putting her book away, "Or in this case, that black star."

"I had a feeling that was the new world that stupid clown was talking about back in Indigo Plateau." Sanji said, "He and those other idiots are determined to recruit more idiots as possible."

"Back on the island yesterday, Franky and I found a document that says that new world is the one reviving people with black hearts." Zoro said, "I suppose it refers to the people who have been doing bad things through their lives. It's possible that Ganondorf was revived because of that world."

"That world gives life to those who were bad!?" Usopp asked, "So that world is evil afterall!"

"I think there is more to it." Robin said, "Back in Dreamland, I read a book that referred to this world. It not only mentions when the wicked gets revived, but also mentions that it turns people into berserked creatures as well."

"What kind of freaky world is this?" Franky asked, "First, it revives bad people, and now this."

"Hmm… oi, I think I saw that new world some time ago." Luffy said.

"Yeah, we all saw it too, remember?" Nami asked.

"No, I mean I saw it back where the ten foot bug-eye people live." Luffy added, catching his crew's attention, "It was during the night, I looked up at the black star, and then I felt I was loosing my head."

"That must've been Obscurum." Sanji gasped.

"And you haven't told us about this!? Why didn't you say anything earlier!?" Nami asked.

"I didn't think it was that. I thought I was just hungry." Luffy explained, causing Nami to sigh. Her eyes then widened as she remembered something else.

"Those two monsters back in Aether… Usopp, didn't they look awfully familiar to you back then?" Nami asked a bit nervously. Usopp tried to remember, but once he did, he felt nervous as well.

"You wouldnt think that… !?" Usopp gasped, "Oh no! That world turns people into monsters!"

"It all makes sense…" Nami whimpered, "All of our problems we've had from going to different worlds… has been that new world this whole time! And those rulers are also the blame!"

"So what do we do about it?" Franky asked. Everyone was quiet, even Luffy as the front of his straw hat shaded his eyes.

"Nothing." Zoro replied, "We know what it is now, but since we don't know what to do about it, and since we don't know how to get there, the only thing we can do is just to let things run it's course, and hope that everything turns for the best."

The ship was now quiet, with the Strawhat pirates feeling rather upset or angry about this situation. It was hard to tell whether Luffy was upset or not as his hat shaded his view.

"Hmm?" Luffy then perked his head as he then walked over to the ledge of the ship, seeing the image of the next world in front of them. "Hey, we're about to get to the next world!"

Luffy happily runs to the front of the ship as everyone else got ready to arrive at the new world. "We'll think about the new world later. Right now, we need to focus on what this world have in store for us." Sanji said.

"This is the last world we need to go." Nami said, "I need you all to focus, and make sure that I don't die!"

"Uh-huh." Everyone else said unenthusiastically, except for Sanji and Robin.

"Yosh! World number 8 here we come!" Luffy yelled excitedly as the ship went through the image.

A bright light blinded the crew after getting through the image. The light then dimmed as they could see that they were, once again, on an ocean.

"Nothing different here from the last one." Franky commented.

"Atleast the sun is still up here." Usopp said, noticing that it was also daytime. "There shouldn't be any problems looking for islands in a calm day like this."

Chopper then got out of the sick bay, then out of the kitchen as he made his way outside. "Is this a new world?" Chopper asked while going down the stairs.

"Yep, and everything looks calm so far." Sanji said. He then noticed Chopper holding the black and white rumble ball he accidentally made earlier. "What's that?"

"This? Oh, something that I just made." Chopper said while holding the rumble ball up, "I don't know what it does, but I will do research on it later."

Chopper puts the rumble ball into his hat as Usopp used his goggles to get a better view at his surroundings. "I don't see anything from here. Let me get up on the mast to get a better view." Usopp said. Usopp made his way up the mast, and onto the crow's nest as he got a better view of his surroundings. "Okay, let's see…" Usopp looked through his goggles to take a better look around the area until he then noticed land ahead of the ship. "I see land! It's right ahead of us!"

"Okay! Set sail! Go straight forward!" Luffy said excitedly.

The ship sailed forward as it took atleast ten minutes as Nami was getting a little impatient. "Oi, Usopp, can you see anything on that island?" Nami asked.

"I am starting to get a good view of it." Usopp replied. As the ship got closer, he could see there was a very modern town with big buildings. "Hey, that place is big! And it pretty neat! Kinda like something Mute city would have!"

"So we're in another futuristic world again, huh?" Franky asked, "I guess that isn't a big deal for us."

"What about the people!? Do you see any of them!?" Luffy asked impatiently.

"Hold on! I'm getting to that!" Usopp replied. "Let's see… where are the people…?" Usopp looked at the town through his goggles as he adjusted them to get a good view of the town's residents. "Wait a minute! I think see people!" Usopp squinted his eyes to make sure. "Yep, I see lots of… ERGH!?"

"What's wrong?" Sanji asked.

Usopp went from happy face, to a worried face, then finally, to a face where it lost all hope as Usopp had his mouth gaping open, with a booger hanging from his nostril. "OH NOOOOOOOOOOOO!!"

"What is it!?" Zoro asked.

"Oh no! Oh no! OH NO!!" Usopp panicked as he quickly went down the mast, only to accidentally land on his rear. "We're doomed this time! There is no mistaking it!"

"Calm down, Longnose! What did you see!?" Franky asked. Usopp wiped the boogers of his nose with his arm as he looked at his comrades with a nervous look.

"Okay, you remember that there are anthropomorphic people in Mute City, right?" Usopp asked while shivering.

"Anthrowhat?" Luffy asked while scratching his head.

"He's talking about animals in a human figure." Nami explained.

"Ooohhh. Yeah, I knew that. So?" Luffy asked.

"Well… a lot of them are here, and when I mean a lot of them, I mean only them!!" Usopp cried. The Strawhats were a little baffled by this.

"So, we're like in an animal planet?" Luffy asked happily.

"That's exactly what I am saying!" Usopp cried.

"Oh man… this isn't good." Nami said worryingly.

"What? What's the big deal?" Luffy asked.

"What's the big deal!? Most of us are humans! We'll capture too much unwanted attention!" Usopp explained.

"Why is that? Are they afraid of pirates?" Luffy asked.

"That's not the point I am trying to make!!" Usopp yelled furiously while backslapping the air.

"Luffy, I know that we went to other worlds, and met with species that we didn't even knew existed. But since we are talking about animals in human form, this may be a little dangerous." Nami explained, "What I am trying to say is that the last times we met different species, we got lucky all of them weren't against us, but we may not be so lucky this time."

"So what do we do? If the heart is there, then we must take a look around." Franky stated.

"Yeah, but most of the people I saw there are a carnivorous type of species!" Usopp said nervously, "They see us, we'll get eaten alive!"

"Ahh!! I dont want to get eaten alive!!" Chopper cried as he ran around in circles.

"What are you so nervous about? You're an animal too." Zoro said, causing Chopper to stop running.

"Oh yeah…" Chopper said as he then felt calm, "Maybe it wouldnt be bad to just talk to them."

"No way! I am not going to get near that place filled with carnivorous types of animals! I'd rather go through the whole Arsenal thing again!" Usopp yelled.

"Calm down, Usopp." Luffy said with a happy face, while Usopp just gave him a smuggish glare, "We won't know what would happen if we just stay around here."

"Y-Yeah. I know that… but-"

"Besides, I bet those animal people can be reasonable if we just explain to them what we have been through." Luffy said, "I mean, what could possibly go wrong?"

20 seconds later…

The Strawhat pirates were up against their backs as they were surrounded by soldiers, who were wearing high tech armor from head to toe as they were aiming at Luffy and his crew with their blasters. There were also two tanks aiming at the ship from the ledge of the island, and two hovering crafts were also aiming at the ship from the other side while hovering over the water. Luffy blinked in confusion while Usopp just glared at him while standing next to him.

"'I bet those animal people can be reasonable if we just explain to them what we have been through.'," Usopp said, mocking what Luffy just said seconds ago, "'I mean, what could possibly go wrong?' What could possibly go… WRONG!? Are you happy now!? We are all going to die in vain thanks to you!!"

"Will you be quiet? The more you yell, the more eager these guys will fire at us." Zoro said calmly. Usopp quickly got quiet as some other soldiers were roaming through their belongings inside the ship.

"Why are we even doing this? They're messing up the ship, and we are just standing here like a couple of morons." Franky complained, "We should just fight back!"

"That's not going to help us." Sanji said, "Even if we did do that, what are we suppose to do next? We need to prevent ourselves from getting into trouble so we can find the heart."

"Maybe if we could just speak with their leader, we might be able to get out of this predicament without causing any trouble." Robin suggested calmly.

"As easy that sounds, I don't think they are willing to cooperate." Nami said. A black furred fox, wearing a white uniform then walked out of the men's quarters, who seemed rather upset as he walked to the crew.

"That guy looks like the leader." Chopper said.

"Okay, everyone, just keep calm. Let me do all the talking." Nami said. The captain placed his hands on his back as he slowly walked around the crew.

"Let's see; what do we have here?" The captain asked suspiciously, "We have an odd group, who not only don't appear to be from this part of the galaxy, but entered in this world without a passport, making them illegal immigrants." The black fox then took note of the Thousand Sunny, "Not to mention that this transport seems highly suspicious of illegal activities."

"Hey, buddy, don't go insulting my ship!" Franky yelled, which caught the fox's attention.

"Ha! That remark showed how ruthless, and bloodthirsty you all are!" The captain replied. Nami glared at Franky, who tried to look the other way. A guard then walked to the captain, giving him the wanted posters he got from inside the men's quarters. "Hmm… and to top it all off, all of you are wanted men!"

"I don't think we can talk are way out of this." Usopp whispered nervously.

"Now since that we have the full obligation to arrest you all, what must be done first is to find out the purpose for your arrival here." The captain as he then stood in front of Luffy, "I suggest you tell me the whole truth. I don't like it when people lie to me."

"Um, okay." Luffy said happily, "We come from another world, and we are here to look for the My-" Nami then covered Luffy's mouth as the captain raised an eyebrow.

"Eh heh heh heh… dont listen to him, he's crazy." Nami said with a weak smile, while Luffy tried to breath, "We are merely poor travelers who only seek dry land after travelling on the sea for so long." Nami then gave the captain a puppy eye look, "Please, don't judge us because we are wanted criminals; we only came here for food and shelter, nothing else. I beg of you; please don't harm us… we suffered enough!"

Nami then cried while Zoro gave a pathetic look. "Must she overdo it?" Zoro asked.

"Nami-san is so beautiful when she gives that guy that look." Sanji-san said happily with a heart over his visible eye. The captain then backed away from Nami.

"I find that story very unlikely." The captain said, "We were aware of your presence as soon as our detectors detected you nearby. You cannot fool us, criminals!"

Nami lowered her head in defeat as Robin walked over to the captain, with most of the soldiers aiming at her. "We did came from another world, but we are really here to find a heart created Master hand. We got here using the hearts, and I believe that the last is here."

The captain didn't know whether to believe Robin or not. "Hmm… that story… is less probable than the one I heard from this orange haired lady!" The captain said angrily.

"Oi, you calling Robin-chwan a liar!?" Sanji asked furiously as he was about to attack the captain, but Franky and Usopp held him back.

"There is no more need of your lies." The captain said as all the soldiers aimed for the crew. "You will come with us, and your judgment will be decided under the hands of the-"

"Sir!" A soldier interrupted as he walked up to the captain, with a round gadget. "You have a call."

"Cant it wait? I'm busy." The captain said.

"It's the general, sir."

The captain's eyes widened in shock. "The General!? Why didn't you say so sooner!? Give me that!" The captain snatched the gadget off the guard's hands as he walked away from the crew. He pushed a button on the center of the gadget, activating a hologram as it showed someone. The crew couldn't see him as the captain's back was in the way.

"Looks like talking to the guy didnt work." Franky said.

"What do we do now, guys? I don't want to go to jail." Chopper said sadly.

"I'll think of something." Nami said, "This time, I will force that guy to believe us."

"Like that would do anything…" Zoro muttered.

"Yes, sir. I have them under custody." The captain said to the person he was talking to. The captain then nodded with every thing the person was telling him. "Uh-huh.. uh-huh… huh!? But sir! We cant do that! We don't know that for sure!… Yes, I know that, but… yes, sir… all right, I'll follow orders."

The captain pushed the gadget, ending his communication with the person as the hologram disappeared. The captain then turned around, and sighed as he walked up to the Strawhats. "It has been decided that… ahem, we should let you all off the hook for the time being."

"Really?" Luffy asked, "What for?"

"You're arrival into this world was rather unexpected." The captain explained, "We have never seen humans here in the Lylat System before."

"The Lylat System?" Chopper asked.

"A group of planets who consists mostly of our kind of species." The captain said, "Anyway, the general ordered me not to arrest you, but to keep you on a high surveillance upon your stay."

"That's sounds a bit suspicious." Zoro said.

"-sigh-… Even I agree with you, but orders are orders." The captain said, "In any case, I suppose I should welcome you here, so… welcome to the planet, Corneria."

"Cornyera?" Luffy asked curiously, "That's a weird name for a world to have."

"While you're here, you are free to roam around the city limits. But I must warn you; all of your actions there will be reviewed. We'll determine if you people are really here to find what you are looking for, or that you are all nothing but trespassing criminals."

"Right… give us a second." Nami said. The Strawhats then huddled up with eachother to prevent anyone else hearing their conversation.

"Should we trust that guy? It might be a trap." Franky said.

"I don't see the point of that. If he really wanted to arrest us, he would have done so already." Zoro said.

"It's thanks to his leader we are still in the clear." Sanji said.

"I don't know… this sounds really fishy, you guys." Usopp said.

"Let's just do what he says; I wanna take a look around this place already." Luffy said happily.

"Okay, we'll play along for now. If something happens, we get back here, and escape." Nami said. The Strawhats then looked at the captain, who wanted to know their answer, "We decided to go by your rules."

"Fine." The captain said. He then snapped his fingers causing the tanks and hover crafts to leave. Eight guards then stood horizontally in front of the crew as the captain got in front of them. "Each of you will have guards following your every move. Any violent acts you intend to do here in Corneria, they will arrest you. Dont even dare try to fight back; I assure you, that the Cornerian fleet is not to be underestimated."

"Dont worry; we wont even make a peep." Franky said with a smirk.

"Hmph! All right, get going already." The captain said. The ship was anchored close to the island, next to a big staircase that leads up towards the town. Each guard got next to a Strawhat crewmember as Luffy happily get's off the ship, and runs up the stairs to the town while a guard followed him. Zoro was also about to leave until two guards stopped him. "Hold it, you." The captain said while walking up to Zoro.

"Is there a problem?" Zoro asked uncaringly.

"Your weapons; there is no need for you to bring them into our town." The captain said, "I will confiscate them as long as you are here."

"Eh!?" Zoro glared at the captain until Nami took Zoro's swords from around his waist. "Hey, what are you-!?"

"Here ya go." Nami said, handing Zoro's swords to the captain. The captain then gave the swords to one of his guards as they left the area with them. Zoro was really angry for what Nami did.

"What are you doing!? You just gave them my swords! Are you mad!?" Zoro asked furiously.

"Calm down; they're just going to hold them for you. Quit being such a baby." Nami said, waving her hand as she then walked to the center of the ship. "Anyway, you guys go on ahead. I am going to wait here."

"Huh? Nami-san, you're not coming with us?" Sanji asked a bit shocked.

"Honestly, I am tired of doing this. I mean, going into this place, fighting bad guys, and then leaving; it's been getting tiresome for me, so I am going to wait right here while you guys do all the hard work, okay?" Nami asked with a smile.

"Yeah, sure…" Franky said with a frown.

"Oooh… if Nami-san is going to be here all alone, then I should stay with her too." Sanji said. He then gasped as he glanced over his shoulder to look at Robin, "But if I leave, something might happen to Robin-chwan. I cant just leave her with those idiots."

"Sanji-kun, just go." Nami said irritatedly, "I'll be fine, really. Just tell me the details when you get back."

"Uhh… okay, Nami-san." Sanji said. He sadly went walking close to Nami's assigned guard before glaring at him, "If something happens to Nami-san, I am going to hunt you down, and destroy everything that has meaning to you, got it!?" Sanji asked. The guard nodded nervously as Robin went walking up the stairs.

"Cook-san, we should get going now." Robin said kindly.

"Yes, Robin-chwan!" Sanji said happily as he catched with Robin, "Bye, Nami-san!"

"Ergh… damn you, Nami." Zoro cursed as he, and everyone got off the ship, except for Nami, of course. They walked all the way up the stairs as they could see Luffy standing ahead of them, amazed of what he was seeing.

"WOW!! Look at all the animal people!!" Luffy exclaimed excitedly with both of his arms up.

He could see many buildings, with many of them being in different shapes and sizes. There were roads leading to different directions, including to higher levels. Holograms were almost all over the place, showing off advertisements and local news of the sort. And just like in Mute city, there were some hovering cars that drove around the town, stopping whenever they get in front of a hovering stop light. What brought joy to Luffy was all the anthropomorphic people he was seeing. From dogs, to cats, to birds; almost every kind of anthropomorphic animal was in sight.

They noticed Luffy and the others as they shared baffled looks. "L-Luffy. I dont think you should be yelling. We don't want to cause a scene." Usopp said nervously.

"But this place is just sooo coooOOOLL!!" Luffy said happily.

"Luffy, please! Stop yelling!" Usopp cried. The rest of the crew looked at their surroundings, impressed by the scenery, except for Zoro.

"This place really is big." Chopper said in awe, "And for some reason, I feel rather comfortable here."

"I don't see the big deal… this is just another stupid town." Zoro said grumpily.

"You're upset about your swords, aren't you?" Franky asked.

"Why shouldn't I be? Things don't feel right without them." Zoro replied a bit tense.

"In any case, we might as well take a look around." Robin said.

"Ohh, I cant wait to see the beautiful women here!" Sanji said while rubbing his hands happily.

"Guys, can we please be serious!?" Usopp asked, "We are in a critical situation here! We are being watched, and we cannot afford to do anything stupid!"

"Too late. There goes Luffy." Zoro said as he saw Luffy walking ahead. Luffy went walking between a crowd, who backed away as he walked by.

"Hya ha ha ha! This place is so awesome!" Luffy said happily, "I wonder if they have any mea-"

CRASH!!

Usopp tackled Luffy from behind as he fell into the ground, with Usopp falling on his back. Luffy raised his head as Usopp panting heavily on him. "Um… Usopp? Are you going to stay on me? This feels weird."

"Now listen to me, Luffyyyyy…" Usopp hissed, with his nose up against Luffy's cheek as Usopp also glared at him. "We are probably in the most biggest situation yet. There a things we just can't do like we usually do. For instance, you cannot say or eat anything related to meat, because WE ARE THE MEAT HERE!!" Usopp whimpered with tears coming out of his eyes, "Now, in order to get through this alive, we must act in a calm manner. Don't ask about meat, don't horse around, don't ask about meat, don't grab attention, and ESPECIALLY don't ask anything about meat!! Do I make myself perfectly clear!?"

Luffy nodded his head slowly, which allowed Usopp to sigh in relief. "Ha… okay, then." Usopp sighed happily as he got on his knees while sitting up on Luffy's back. Usopp then blinked as he noticed the attention he and Luffy are getting from the crowd. The crowd was mostly females since they were enjoying the view. It took for Usopp to realize what was going on as he frantically got off of Luffy.

"Uhh!? It's not what you think! Seriously!" Usopp panicked as the crowd simply laughed before they walked away.

"Well, if you're done talking, I will go look around for some meat." Luffy said as he then ran off as his guard followed him.

"Oi! I said no talking about meat!! Luffy, wait!!" Usopp yelled as he chased after Luffy, with his guard following him as well.

"So much for not causing a scene." Franky sighed while scratching his head.

"All those girls… so beautiful!! Wait, you two, I coming with you!!" Sanji said happily as he skipped merrily to the duo, saying 'mellorine' within each step he took as his guard followed him.

"I guess it's just us now." Robin said, "Let's go look around this town as well."

"Pfft! Whatever…" Zoro said grumpily. He, Chopper, Robin, and Franky walked into town the other direction, while Luffy, Usopp and Sanji entered the other way. The captain and the guard next to him watched them leave.

"Hmm… what was the general thinking letting these people into town?" The captain asked with a frown.

"Sir, we shouldn't doubt the general. He must know what he's doing." The guard said.

"Yes…" The captain said as he then smirked, "But it's a shame that won't help much with this matter."

"Excuse me?"

"N-Nothing. Just get back to your post." The captain ordered. The guard nodded as he then left. The captain also left the scene as he walked off to where Franky and the others went to.

At the same, unknown to the Strawhats and the guards, there was somebody standing on top of the tallest building in Corneria. It was none other than MPNo. 1 as the rays from the sun shined over his back, shading the front part of his body.

"Monkey D. Luffy… This world will be your grave."

Now, about the bad news… my internet company sucks so much! The reason I am saying this is that they have the nerve to change my assigned date from the 14th to the 30th! I was really pissed off, but I couldn't do anything to change their mind. So, I am going to be updating from library computers until the 30th; not that it's a problem, but it just wont feel the same. Oh well… Ciao for now!

Starfox Pt 2

I never thought I'd make it this far, but here it is, the 100th chapter of my story has finally arrived! First off, I would like to apologize for my attitude in my last chapter; I was just really angry, and I didn't mean for it to bother any of you viewers. So I would like to apologize for my reckless attitude to the people who found my nagging disturbing.

Anyway, this arc takes place after Star Fox: Command. Which ending? I am going for the second one; The one where Fox and Krystal gets the kid in the future. That one seems more likely to happen than the other ridiculous endings.

Well, I don't want to keep you guys waiting. Enjoy the 100th chapter!

An awkward welcome. The Strawhat pirates have arrived into a world named Corneria, which is inhabited by anthropomorphic creatures. Before they could set foot onto the town, however, the Cornerian fleet questioned their intentions. Strangely, they were allowed on to the town, thanks to a certain general. Will their arrival onto Corneria bring peace to it's residents, or chaos?

Chapter 100: The sudden attack!, The long wait

Zoro, Chopper, Robin, and Franky were walking along the streets of Corneria, with four guards following them while observing their every move. As they walked along, some of the residents only noticed Chopper walking by, with the females saying how cute he looks.

"Eh heh heh…" Chopper was blushing while rubbing the back of his head, not insulting the people who were calling him cute for once. "I like it here; everyone is so nice and friendly." Chopper said happily.

"Speak for yourself." Zoro replied grumpily while walking next to him.

"I for one, agree with the reindeer-gorilla," Franky began to say, "This place has some neat stuff. Why don't we look around at some shops while we're here?"

"I believe we have more important business to do here." Robin reminded Franky.

"Pfft! Yeah, I know that! But it wouldn't hurt to just take a peep in some places, right?" Franky asked with a smug smirk, "What about you, swordsman bro? Want to go check out the stores here?"

"I feel naked without my swords…" Zoro muttered with his hands in his pockets. Franky sighed as he then shrugged.

"Well, I am not just going to walk around here, and do nothing else; I am going to that shop right there to take a look around." Franky said, pointing to a store across the street.

"I guess it wouldn't hurt to just take a look." Robin said.

"Yeah, let's see what's there." Chopper said happily.

"Whatever…" Zoro replied grumpily. They walked across to the other side of the road as they to the other side of the road, and right in front of the store.

"Wow! Look at all this stuff!" Chopper said excitedly. Him and his friends turned out to be in a hardware store of some kind, with many kinds of tools on the shelves, and parts for some machinery up against the wall. The store counter was just in the end of the store as the owner, which was an old, white anthropomorphic cat, walked out of his office to get behind the counter.

"Hmm? A customer?" the owner asked curiously as Franky walked up to him.

"Yo." Franky said while waving to the owner, "Don't be alarmed, bro; we're just here to look around."

"Oh my; I have never seen the likes of you before. Are you from another world?" The owner asked.

"Yeah, you can say that." Franky said while scratching his head.

"Well, no matter." The owner shrugged, "A customer is a customer. Look around as much as you like."

"Thanks." Franky replied. He then went to check around the merchandise along with his comrades. The only one who didnt look around was Zoro, who still felt angry for not having his swords.

"Franky, doesnt this merchandise look rather familiar?" Robin asked.

"Hmm?" Franky looked at the stuff on the shelves, reminding him of something. "Oh yeah. We saw some of this stuff back in that garage in Mute City. What's are these doing here?"

"You all have been to Mute City?" The owner asked, "Mute City is located very far out of the Lylat system. Some people here would go there just to see the races."

"No kidding?" Franky asked while glancing at the owner over his shoulder. "That sorta explains the familiar high tech stuff here." Franky then took note of a poster, showing some kind of vehicle flying around space. "Hey, bro, what's this thing?"

"That? Eh heh, that is an Arwing." The owner chuckled.

"An arwing?" Chopper asked.

"Never heard of those? My, you are really are new here." The owner said a bit surprised, "Arwings are flying vessels, flown by Corneria's top pilots, such as the Starfox team."

"Starfox?" Franky asked while raising an eyebrow.

"A group of mercenaries, who have done so much to protect the Lylat System from many villains." The owner explained, "They can take down anyone that comes in there way, and they are such good people. It was probably thanks to Corneria's general, Peppy Hare, who once was a member of Starfox, that made the Starfox great as they are today."

"You don't say?" Franky asked with smirk. He then looked back at the Arwing poster on the wall, raising his sunglasses over his eyes. "A flying machine… now that is something I wouldnt mind riding."

"By the way…" The owner began to say as he noticed guards that were with the crew, "Are you in some kind of trouble?"

"No, it's fine. We're are just being watched for the time being." Robin replied kindly. She then rubbed her chin as she then looked at the others, "Now that I think about it, wasn't it the general who allowed us to enter this town?"

"Yeah, what about it?" Franky asked.

"Don't you think it's suspicious that he allowed us into town like this?" Robin asked, "He could have put us into questioning, but instead, we are just walking around this town while being watched."

"As it if really mattered. All I want are my swords back." Zoro said.

"It does seem rather weird." Chopper said, "Maybe Usopp was right about this place."

"Nah, I doubt that." Franky said, "This guys said that the general used to be a part of that Skyfox thing."

"Starfox." The owner corrected.

"Yeah, that." Franky said while nodding, "If that team is good as he said they are, then there is no doubt that this general guy is a good guy."

"But he doesn't know that we are good guys too." Chopper said, which caused Franky to sigh irritatedly.

"Look, we'll think about this later. Right now, I want to explore more of this cool town." Franky said as he then headed out the door. "Come on!"

Franky went leaving out the store in a hurry as Chopper and Robin sweatdropped. "Franky is a little too happy today." Chopper said with a weak smile.

"It's natural to feel good on a nice day like this." Robin replied kindly. "Let us go, Mr. Swordsman."

"Uh-huh." Zoro replied grumpily as he, and the others left the store, with the owner waving goodbye to them.

Meanwhile…

"Hya ha ha ha! This is so fun!" Luffy said happily while running around town, with his guard barely keeping up with him. Sanji was saying 'Mellorine!' with every beautiful anthropomorphic woman he skips by. Usopp was the only taking it slow as he was taking long, but slow steps forward, trying his best not to grab any attention.

"Must… stop… those… two… !" Usopp whimpered. He then lost sight of both Luffy and Sanji, which caused him to slightly panic. "Where did they go!?" Usopp yelled loud enough to capture the attention of the people around him. Usopp covered his mouth as he quickly dashed out of the crowd's sight, and ran underneath an underpass in one of the buildings. Usopp panted as he managed to get away from the crowd. "Okay… I think I lost them… now I need to… huh?"

Usopp looks to his right to see Luffy and Sanji's guards, sitting on the ground while panting heavily after running so much. "If they are here, then Luffy and Sanji must be nearby." Usopp stated. Usopp quickly went through a door of the building he was under, and gasped at what he saw. "You got to be kidding me!"

Usopp was in a restaurant, which inspite of being nearly full of people, was really quiet as there appeared to be a disturbance of some kind. Usopp saw what was going on as Luffy was behind counter, ordering tons of food he hasn't even heard of; while Sanji was talking to several females around a table close to a wall. " How can they be so careless!? We are definitely going to go to jail if they keep this up! " Usopp thought with a panicked look. He then looked at his assigned guard, "You're a guard! Do something!"

His guard didn't reply nor do anything as Usopp just sighed in distress, "I'll guess I have to do something about this. Figures…" Usopp said. He then slowly sneaked towards where Luffy, which seemed rather pointless as some people were staring at him.

"I want fifteen of those things, and I want thirty of those too! Ooo! I don't know what that is, but I want fifty of those!" Luffy said happily, pointing at everything in the menu, which was nearly freaking out the employee at the other side of the counter. Usopp felt nervous whenever he was getting closer to Luffy, so he stopped, and decided to get Luffy's attention.

"Luffyyyyyyyyy!" Usopp hissed not too quietly, but not too loud as Luffy curiously glanced over his shoulder. "Geet overrr heeeeeree…!"

"Oh, hi, Usopp." Luffy said happily, "Check this out! There are tons of food here I haven't even heard of! I've already ordered like a thousand meals to try them out." Luffy then looks back at the employee behind the cash register. "Hey, how much is it going to be?"

"Um…" The employee nervously looks onto the total price, "That'll be 100,000 credits."

"Credits?" Luffy asked curiously, "What are those? Can you eat them?" Usopp then grabbed Luffy, and dragged him away from the counter. "Wait! I didn't get to eat yet!"

"What did I just say about that!?" Usopp asked while dragging Luffy. He then stopped to see Sanji flirting with the ladies.

"So… did you all know that I am the special course of this evening? Because, I am free of charge for you girls, so you can have me as much as you like." Sanji said with a romantic look while the girls he was talking too laughed weakly. Usopp then grabbed him by the back of his suit collar, and started dragging him away from the ladies. "Oi! Let go!"

Usopp managed to drag Luffy and Sanji out of the restaurant as Usopp then sighed in relief. "Oh boy… that was really-" Sanji then kicked Usopp down at the ground, angry at what he did.

"What is your problem!? I was having a nice talk with those beautiful women until you messed things up!" Sanji exclaimed.

"Yeah! And I was going to eat a bunch of food too!" Luffy said angrily. Usopp then got up on his feet while facing towards the duo.

"You guys have no idea how to keep a low profile, do you!?" Usopp asked angrily, "In case you forgot, we are being watched, and everything we do here is going to decide our horrific fate!"

"But we're not even doing anything bad." Luffy stated.

"You were ordering tons of food we obviously cant pay for!" Usopp barked at Luffy while backslapping the air as he then looked at Sanji, "And you were flirting with women that are from a different kind of species!"

"I don't care what kind of species they are! As long as they are beautiful, then I don't care!" Sanji said.

"You guys just don't understand!" Usopp yelled while nearly pulling off his hair. While Usopp continued to chatter, he and his comrades had no idea that somebody was stalking them from outside of the building's tunnel.

"Hmm?" Luffy glanced over his shoulder, only to see the stalker to get behind a wall to prevent getting spotted. "Strange…"

"Luffy, are you listening to me!?" Usopp asked.

"Huh!? Oh, yeah." Luffy said, looking back at Usopp. As Usopp continued his pointless nagging, the stalker laid his back up against the wall. It turned out to be MPNo. 1 as he crossed his arms with a serious look on his face.

"Only three of them here…" MPNo. 1 said, "But it doesn't matter; taking out their leader will weaken the group, and will be much easier to destroy." MPNo. 1 then looked at his palm, "They will now know why they shouldn't mess with the rulers of the greatest world in existence. For those who fight off the darkness… will only end up losing." MPNo. 1 then snapped his fingers.

"And that's why it's important not to get so much attention!" Usopp said, finishing off his huge explanation.

"You really have a big and sick imagination." Sanji commented.

"It's all true! And first of all-"

BOOM!!

The trio was startled by what sounded like an explosion. "What was that!?" Luffy asked as he and his crew got out of the underpass to look at the center part of town, where there was a building that it's roof was connected to the roads. On top of the building lies the crest of the Cornerian fleet as something big was forming above it.

"What is that? Some sort of attraction?" Sanji asked.

"No, look! Everyone is as shocked as we are!" Usopp said, noticing the people that they were a little frightened. At the other side of the center part of town, Franky and the others just arrived to see what was going on.

"What in the world is that!?" Franky asked. Zoro's eyes then widened in shock.

"There is something inside that thing!" Zoro said with a glare.

"What!? What is it!?" Chopper asked nervously. The big thing above the center building turned out to be some kind of portal, with black and white thorns forming around it. The portal had a dark purplish color as a big white leg appeared out of it as it took a step on the building. Then came out the entire body as a semi-giant appeared on the building before the portal behind it disappeared.

It's whole body has a light-greyish color, and had somewhat of a humanoid figure. It has long and pointy shoulders, with long arms that nearly reaches it's big, and pointy feet. It was also wearing a long blue scarf around it's neck, and lastly, it had some kind of a white crest for a face. The creature looked at it's surroundings as it could see the people being absolutely terrified of it's presence.

"What the!? Just what is that monster!?" Sanji asked in shock.

"It's so huge, and funny looking!" Luffy said in awe. The guards that were with the trio then got out their communicators.

"Captain! We have a situation here!" Said one of the guards, "There is a big creature that just appeared out of nowhere! We need back up!"

"Understood! Don't let it attack the citizens!" Replied the captain from the communicator. The guards then left Luffy and his crew as they got closer to the big creature, who remained standing on top of the center building.

"Open fire!" Yelled a guard as they fired their blasters at the creature. The laser blasts went flying towards the creature, who somehow dodged by jumping over them. "Ugh!?" The guards were shocked as the creature then stretched it's arm, and slammed it's fist in front of the guards, knocking them back as they fell on the floor wounded.

"Whoa, it's fast! And it can stretch it's body like Luffy can!" Usopp said in shock as the creature landed in front of the guards. The citizens started to run for their lives as the creature lifted it's arm to smash the guards for good, but suddenly, several tanks appeared all over the central part of town, ready to take down the big creature. The captain appeared from one of the tanks as it glared at the creature.

"What are you… !?" The captain asked as he then pointed at the creature, "All units; prepare to fire!" All the tanks aimed their cannons at the creature, who for some reason, was looking at Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji.

"O-O-O-Oi, Luffy! Why is it looking at us!?" Usopp asked nervously. The tanks then fired at the creature, who somehow jumped really high to avoid the cannon fire as it landed in front of the tank where the captain was.

"What the!?" The captain gasped as the creature grabbed the tank with both hands, and effortlessly lifted it off the ground as the captain had to jump off the tank to save himself. He landed roughly on the ground as he then glanced over his shoulder to see the creature lifting the tank above his head as it appears that it was going to crush the captain with the tank. "Ah!"

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his arm, and punched the creature on the side of it's head. Every guard, and citizen were shocked seeing Luffy stretching his body like that as Luffy pulled back his arm, with the captain not appearing to be surprised at all.

"Ergh!" The captain fled from the scene as he creature didn't flinch upon getting hit, but Luffy did caught it's attention as it looked towards him.

"Eeek! Luffy, what are you doing!?" Usopp asked.

"That Blue scarf guy is going to mess up the whole town! We have to stop it!" Luffy exclaimed.

"But the military fleet here can take care of that thing themselves! There was no need for us to interfere!" Usopp yelled. The creature, or the Blue scarf guy as Luffy called it, faced towards the trio as it moved back the tank he was holding above his head.

"I think it's a little too late for that now! Move out of the way!!" Sanji exclaimed as the Blue scarf guy threw the tank towards the Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji, but they were able to get out of the underpass just in time as the tank crashed, and exploded onto the front entrance of the underpass. Luffy then ran towards the Blue scarf guy, who simply faced towards him.

"GOMU GOMU NO-ahh!!" A bright light came out of nowhere as the light blinded everyone who saw it. As the light dimmed, Luffy opened his eyes to see that he was above the center building, somehow hovering in the air as his hands and feet were binded separately by blue electricity. "Huh!? How did… !?"

"Look! There's Strawhat!" Franky yelled while pointing at Luffy.

"How is he up in the air like that!?" Chopper asked.

"That big creature must have something to do with it…" Robin said.

"Come on! We gotta help!" Franky yelled. He, Chopper, Robin, and Zoro then ran towards the center part of town while Usopp and Sanji were just opening their eyes after that bright light from earlier blinded them.

"Huh? What… OOHH!!" Usopp gasped upon seeing Luffy in the air, "How did he get over there!?"

Suddenly, the Blue scarf guy appeared right in front of Luffy from out of nowhere as it then pulled back it's right arm.

"Dammit!" Sanji muttered as he charged at the creature from behind, but was too far to reach the Blue scarf guy as it was about to punch Luffy.

"STRONG RIGHT!" A flying fist went past Luffy, and punched the Blue scarf guy in the face, knocking it back as Franky quickly on top of the building.

"Franky!" Luffy said in surprise.

"Strawhat, don't just hand around there! Break free!" Franky yelled.

"I can't move my arms and legs! Help me get out of here!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Guys! Look!" Sanji yelled. Luffy and Franky faced forward as the Blue scarf guy was somehow standing in midair.

"What!?" Franky asked as the Blue scarf guy quickly got in front of Luffy again, and grabbed him with both hands. The Blue scarf guy then tossed Luffy high in the air as the electricity around Luffy's hands and feet disappeared.

"I'm free!" Luffy said as he then faced down towards the Blue scarf guy, who pulled his arm back. "GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy stretched his leg up, and slammed it down on the Blue scarf guy's head, knocking him off the building, and onto it's back. Luffy landed on his feet as Zoro, Chopper, and Robin regrouped with Usopp and Sanji.

"What is going on around here!?" Zoro asked.

"How should we know!? That thing came out of nowhere, and started attacking us for no reason!" Usopp cried. Robin looked at the Blue scarf guy as it's body started to move.

"Look out! It's getting up!" Robin said. As it seemed that the Blue scarf guy was going to get up, it actually slithered it's way around the ground like some snake as it then slithered up a building wall.

"You've got to be kidding me!!" Usopp cried while his eyes popped out of his head as the Blue scarf guy flew towards Luffy and Franky.

"Franky, give me a hand!" Luffy yelled. Franky puts out his palms as Luffy got on them. Franky then lifted Luffy, and threw him towards the Blue scarf guy. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly stretched his arms forward, punching the Blue scarf guy repeatedly. His attack, however, didn't make it flinch as it tackled Luffy on top of the center building. "Ugh!"

"Strawhat!" Franky yelled as he then took off the skin of his right hand while charging at the Blue scarf guy. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky thrusted his steel fist, intending to hit the Blue scarf guy's leg, but he missed as it did a cartwheel to avoid. While upside down in the air, the Blue scarf guy swung it's long arm, backhanding Luffy and Franky off the center building as they crashed in front of the other crewmembers.

"Ooh…" Luffy and Franky groaned as Chopper and Zoro helped them up on their feet.

"Are you guys okay!?" Chopper asked.

"Yeah… but that Blue scarf guy is tough!" Luffy said while rubbing the back of his head. The Blue scarf guy then gently landed on it's feet as it stared down at the crew.

"We'll have to take it down together!" Sanji said.

"Can we really beat it?" Chopper asked.

"Of course we can!" Zoro said while clenching his fists, "I may not have my swords, but I am not going to show weakness to that thing!"

"Yosh! Let's get him!" Luffy shouted.

The Blue scarf guy lunged it's way in front of the crew as they quickly jumped out of the way before it could crush them with it's feet. Usopp nervously got out his slingshot as he took aim for the Blue scarf guy's head. "HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet as it exploded onto the Blue scarf guy's head. It didn't flinch as it looked towards Usopp. "Wah!" Usopp gasped as black and white thornes came flying towards him from out of the Blue scarf guy's face.

"Usopp!" Zoro yelled as he tackled Usopp as the thornes made a small cut on Zoro's back. "Nnngh!" Zoro grunted as he and Usopp fell onto the floor. The thorns disappeared as Zoro and Usopp got back on their feet. "Ugh… careful! Those things were sharp!"

"I got him! GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" LUffy stretched his arm forward as he was about to hit the Blue scarf guy from behind, but it was able to avoid by moving it's hips the other way. It then countered by stretching his waist as it's body was moving towards Luffy. "Whoa!?"

"JOUE SHOOT!" Sanji came out of nowhere, and did a flying upside down kick to the Blue scarf guy's cheek, causing it's neck to stretch sideways, shocking Luffy and Sanji a bit. The Blue scarf guy then pulled it's body back to it's original form as it then fired more black and white thorns from it's face.

"TATSU MAKI!" Zoro span in a circle, creating a tornado of cutting waves with his hands as the waves changed the trajectory of the thornes, leading them to crash into the floor around Zoro. As that happened, Chopper was in his walk point as he galloped towards the Blue scarf guy.

"HIYAA!!" Chopper leaped towards it's face as Chopper then turned into his Heavy point. "I got you!" Chopper tried to grab the Blue scarf guy's head, but it moved it's body to avoid as it then raised it's arm, intending to crush Chopper with it.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired some blasts at Blue scarf guy's face, startling it as it lost it's focus.

"HEAVY…" Chopper clamped his fists together as he raised them above his head while falling down to the Blue scarf guy, "SMASH!" Chopper slammed his clamped arms as it nearly crushed the Blue scarf guy's face. The force of that attack caused it to land on it's back, where it then rolled onto it's front as it then slithered it's way towards the crew while spreading it's arms.

"CIEN FLEUR, ROAD!" Robin sprouted multiple arms from the ground as more hands sprouted from the palms of other arms behind the smaller arms as they moved the Blue scarf guy upward to prevent it slithering through the crew. The hands then disappeared as it allowed the Blue scarf guy to fall down to the ground, where Luffy was waiting for him.

"GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy stretched his arm as long as he could as the Blue scarf guy was falling towards him. Once it was close, Luffy thrusted his arm, and punched the Blue scarf guy in the face, hitting hard enough to cause it's neck to stretch until it's head crashed into the center building's wall, creating a dust cloud as Luffy jumped out of the way as it's body fell limplessly on the floor.

The guards and people that were watching the battle were astonished at how strong the Strawhat pirates were. One of the guards then came into realization of something. "Hey, why are we just standing here!? We need to back them up!"

"No wait!" The captain yelled as he appeared next to the guard, "Let them take care of it!"

"But sir-"

"Their lives don't matter to us!" The captain yelled furiously, "As long as they can kill it, or it can kill them; either way, we wouldn't lose anything! If that monster manages to survive, we will take care of things from here! But until that happens, we wait until further instruction! Do you understand!?"

The guards hesistated a bit until they finally nodded their heads in agreement. They and the captain then looked back at the center part of town, where the Blue scarf guy was getting back up on it's feet without using it's hands.

"It's getting up again!" Chopper cried. While standing on the same spot it crashed into, the Blue scarf guy stretched it's body upward as it then stretched towards the crew.

"Yah!?" Usopp and the others quickly jumped out of the way as the Blue scarf guy crashed it's head onto the floor. It then placed it's arms on the ground as it started to let out multiple white and black thornes out of it's face, hitting and nearly destroying everything that it was looking at.

"Stop!" Luffy yelled furiously as he charged towards the Blue scarf guy, but the thornes were slowing him down as it was nearly impossible to approach the Blue scarf guy without getting cut.

"HISSATSU SHURIKEN REENSEIGAN!" Usopp fired a string of shurikens, which separated as they went flying through the thorns, slashing them as they flew by as the thorns disappeared in an instant.

"I'll take it from here!" Sanji yelled as he charged straight towards the Blue scarf guy's face. "COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji thrusted his foot, and kicked the Blue scarf guy straight in the face. It didn't flinch, but it did somehow weakened it as nearly lost it's focus. "What the!?" Sanji then backed away as he saw little grey creatures appear from the ground as they were about to attack Sanji.

"BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple bullets at the creatures, causing them to vanish once they got shot. "Gorilla! Get over here, and help me!"

"R-Right!" Chopper said as he then quickly helped Franky fight off the little creatures.

"LONGE! NEZ! JOUE! BOUCHE!" Sanji kicked several parts of the Blue scarf guy's face, but the creature countered by letting out some thorns, which Sanji nearly avoided as they left a cut on his suit. "That's it! EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji repeatedly kicked the Blue scarf guy's face mercilessly as Sanji then gave one final upper kick, causing it to remove it's head from the ground.

"Cook! A little air support here!" Zoro yelled while running towards Sanji.

"Whatever! ARMY DE LAIR, POWER SHOOT!" Zoro got on Sanji's foot as Sanji raised his leg as Zoro jumped off it, and grabbed onto the Blue scarf guy's head. Zoro continued to go up in the air as he held on to the Blue scarf guy's head, causing it to bend it's back backwards as they were heading straight towards Luffy, who stretched his arm back while twisting.

"It's all yours, Luffy!" Zoro yelled as he lets go of the Blue scarf guy's head as he jumped the other way.

"Yosh! GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy thrusted his arm, and untwisted it as he punched the Blue scarf guy at the back of it's head. The Blue scarf guy then went flying with it's entire body following it as it headed straight towards an upper of a building. As it seemed it was going to crash, the Blue scarf guy managed to stop itself by standing in midair.

"No way! It's standing as if nothing happened!" Usopp cried while pointing at the Blue scarf guy. The Blue scarf guy then flew above the center part of town as it then raised it's arms, creating a big white sphere of energy with white and black thorns swirling around it.

"That's going to take more than just us! We have to stop it now!" Robin yelled.

"Chopper! Franky! Grab my arms!" Luffy yelled while stretching his arms. Chopper and Franky grabbed his arms as Luffy pulled himself back. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Chopper and Franky pulled Luffy forward, springing him above the Blue scarf guy. The Blue scarf guy then the big white sphere at Luffy, who was stretched back his arms as sphere was heading closer to him. "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!"

Luffy thrusted his palms at the sphere, causing it to explode as the explosion engulfed both Luffy and the Blue scarf guy. Luffy limplessly fell towards the ground as Robin quickly sprouted some arms under him to catch him. "Luffy!" The Strawhat crew went to check if their captain was alright, while the Blue scarf guy fell on top of the center building.

"Ergh…" Luffy dazedly sat up as he seemed to be okay. "What happened!? Did we beat it!?"

Everyone turned to look at the blue scarf guy, who was slowly getting up on it's hands and knees, but it couldn't get up as it limplessly fell down again as a dark dome surrounded him. The dome disappeared, taking the Blue scarf guy with it.

"It's gone!" Usopp exclaimed.

"We did it! We saved the town!" Chopper yelled excitedly.

"Thank goodness…" Sanji sighed.

"But, hey, where did that thing come from?" Franky asked.

Before anyone else could say anything, the Strawhat pirates could hear the sound of applause. They looked around to see the people of Corneria applauding the Strawhat pirates for their courageous acts against the creature they fought off just now.

"It looks like we've earned the trust of the people here." Robin said by observation.

"Oh joy! I get to be worshipped by tons of beautiful woman!" Sanji said happily while tapdancing.

"Maybe they can give me back my swords for this." Zoro said with a neutral look.

The crowd then happily approached the crew, feeling really grateful for what they have done as the crew were happy that they were happy.

"Oww! You are all welcome!" Franky said while doing his pose.

"I-It was no problem… Eh heh…" Chopper said while blushing

"Ah ha ha ha! I, Captain Usopp, is grateful for your kindness! Thank you!" Usopp said with a cocky look.

"Hya ha ha! It was no problem! Do you guys have any meat?" Luffy asked.

"I told you not to say that word here!" Usopp snapped, but the crowd didn't care. Everyone, including the guards, were happy for what the crew has done, all but one person.

MPNo. 1 stood behind the crowd, clenching his fists angrily upon seeing the crew victorious against the Blue scarf guy. "Stop! Stop your applause!" MPNo. 1 yelled. Everyone stopped cheering as they all turned towards MPNo. 1. The Strawhat crew noticed him as well as he was getting through the crowd, and in front of the crew. "You have all been tricked! These people are not heroes! They are the ones who summoned that creature here in the first place!"

"What!?" Luffy asked angrily while the crowd was a little surprised. He took a good look at MPNo. 1. He wore black gloves, black boots, black pants, and a black coat with a black hood over his head, which was concealing his face, making it hard for anyone to tell how he looked like.

"I overheard their intentions! They are pirates from another world, and they intended to take over this town by gaining the trust of you all!" MPNo. 1 yelled, "They have summoned that creature here while nobody was looking, and they pretended to act nice until they could make their move!"

"That's not true!!" Luffy yelled while walking up to MPNo. 1, "Who are you, and why are you lying!?"

"You see!?" MPNo. 1 asked while taking some steps back, "They have revealed their true nature! This child here wanted to strike me just now!"

"What!? No, I didn't! I just wanted to know why you are lying!" Luffy yelled furiously. The crowd then felt confused; they didn't even know what to believe.

"I knew it!"

Everyone turned towards the captain, who forced his way through the crowd as he then pointed at the Strawhats. "I knew from the start that you all were nothing but trouble! You all will pay for trying to make a fool out of us! Guards, arrest them!"

"But sir, what if-"

"Don't you dare deny my orders!" The captain yelled furiously, "I am telling you to arrest these people here right now!"

The guards nodded as they approached the crew with their blasters aiming at them. "Wait a minute, we didn't do anything wrong!" Sanji yelled.

"Yes, please! Don't harm us!" Usopp pleaded.

"The black coat guy is lying!" Luffy yelled as he then looked towards MPNo. 1, who was already leaving the crowd, and went behind a building. "Oi! That guy is getting away! After him!" Luffy forced his way through the guards, and through the crowd as he went to chase MPNo. 1, inspite of not knowing who he really is.

"Luffy, wait!" Sanji yelled while also getting through the crowd, and went to catch up with Luffy.

"Don't leave me behind!" Usopp cowardly went through the crowd, and ran away as fast as he could, trying to catch up with Luffy and Sanji. The others tried to do the same, but the guards had them fully surrounded this time.

"Hold it right there! Dont make a move, or we'll shoot!" Yelled a guard as they were able to surround Zoro, Chopper, Robin, and Franky.

"Tsk! We'll have to force our way through!" Zoro said while getting into a fighting pose.

"Wait, Mr. Swordsman, we can't harm these people!" Robin said.

"But if we don't, then Luffy-"

"If we do, then they will have a real reason why to arrest us!" Robin interrupted, "We may get arrested, but they wont have the evidence to support for what that man lied about. If we just relax, and do what they say for now, we may be able to get out of this okay."

"But Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji got away. What's going to happen to them?" Chopper asked worryingly.

"I dont know… but just give in for now." Robin said while looking back at the guards, "We'll think about what to do then later on."

"Hrrgh… fine!" Zoro replied angrily as he got into a regular stance. "We give up. Just take us in already."

The guards slowly approached the crew as they handcuffed their arms. Chopper was crying at the moment as his hands got cuffed as Franky was really angry.

"I'm telling you, bro, we didn't do anything wrong!" Franky said to the captain as he, Zoro, Chopper, and Robin were being taken to jail transportation vehicle. The captain simply smirked as they were pushed inside the vehicle before closing the doors. Chopper's cries could be heard as the vehicle drove away.

"Set a patrol group all over town. I want you to find those three criminals as soon as possible." The captain said to a guard.

"What about the girl on the ship?" The guard asked.

"She won't be going anywhere. Just leave her there for now. Take her in once you find those three friends of hers." The captain said, "Also, report to the general about this little incident. I'll be taking a stroll around town for a while."

"Yes sir!"

The guard left as the captain walked into an alley as he rested his back on a wall. "Such fools, they wont last for long." The captain said with a smirk, "They will go down… like a bowling ball striking down pins! Ah ha ha ha ha ha!"

A red curtain then surrounded the captain as a quick flash came from within it. The curtains then magically disappeared as it turned out that Dimentio was disguised as the Cornerian captain this whole time. "Ah ha ha ha! My, I am such a wonderful actor! I should be in a movie someday!"

Dimentio then looked towards the streets from inside the alley. "Now then, I should be taking my leave, like a flock of birds heading south for the winter! Ah ha ha!" A blurry square then enveloped around him as he then disappeared into thin air, leaving Corneria with a smile.

Meanwhile…

In space, there were multiple stars and planets that can be seen. It was such a wonderful sight to behold as a space ship was flying by. It was a big white ship, with two cannons underneath it's figurehead, where the control room is at. The ship also had a symbol of a fox with two tails on the top wing. Inside the control room, there were four anthropomorphic people, doing nothing but looking at the stars.

A robot was also in the room, doing some typing on the control panels to the side of the room. "There are no signs of any unusual activity. Everything is in fine order here." The robot said-- ROB 64.

"Just like yesterday, and the last couple of months." One of the anthropomorphic people said. He was an anthropomorphic fox, with light brown fur and green eyes. He wore a white jacket over his green vest-like shirt, including a red handkerchief around his neck. He also wore green pants, a small headset, red and black boots, and a gun holster around his belt. "Not that this is a bad thing, but I am kinda feeling bored here." Said the fox-- Fox McCloud.

"Yeah, right! This whole thing is messed up!" Said another person in the room. He was an anthropomorphic falcon, with blue feathers, and red ones around his eyes. He wore the same clothing as Fox, only he was taller than him-- Falco Lombardi. "How in the world are we suppose to kick some butt, and get paid if there hasn't been any action lately!?"

"Cheer up, Falco! There is bound to be a bad guy out there somewhere." Said another person. He was a small anthropomorphic frog, with green skin, and has a funny look. He wore the same clothing as his partners, only for someone his size- Slippy Toad.

"You have been saying that for a while now. It's getting annoying, toady." Falco said irritatedly.

"Hey, I am just trying to cheer you up since you are always in a bad mood." Slippy replied.

"Since when!?" Falco asked.

"Since the day the we stopped the Anglars, which was a bit long ago might I add." Replied a female. She was a beautiful anthropomorphic vixen, with blue fur and green eyes. She wore blue and black suit, which matched perfectly with her look-- Krystal.

Falco just shrugged as Fox patted his shoulder, "We still have money from our last job. Don't feel so upset." Fox said.

"I don't care about that; I just want to do something! It's been a while since we've had any action." Falco complained, "I can even go for beating up some rookie; I don't care! As long as I can do something, then it would be fine for me!"

"No use in complaining about it." Krystal said, "You could fly around with your arwing to relieve your boredom."

"Yeah, Falco. You can shoot down some asteroids around here." Slippy said happily.

"There is no point shooting at targets that wont put up much of a fight." Falco sighed.

"Oh, come on, Falco. Who knows? We might get lucky today." Fox said with a smile.

"Incoming transmission from Corneria." ROB said from the control panel.

"See?" Fox asked while Falco just smirked. A holographic monitor then appeared in front of the group as it showed an old anthropomorphic rabbit, wearing a red and yellow general suit.

"Well, if it aint our good 'ol buddy, Peppy." Falco said with a cocky smirk, "I hope you're here to give us job, because I am dying out here."

"Ho ho! It's good to see you too, Falco." Said the rabbit-- Peppy Hare. "However, I came to inform you about the recent events Corneria just went through."

The group got serious as they were a bit curious for what Peppy had to say. "What? What happened? Is everything okay?" Fox asked a bit worryingly.

"Everything is fine now, Fox, don't worry." Peppy replied, "Just to let you know that a couple of minutes ago, there was some sort of monster attacking the Cornerian capital."

"A monster!?" Slippy asked in shock.

"All right! We'll be there in a jiffy!" Falco said enthusiastically.

"Fortunately, the monster was defeated before it could cause any major destruction." Peppy said. The group felt relieved, except for Falco.

"What!? Peppy, how could you have taken care of it what calling us!?" Falco asked a bit disappointed.

"I was going to call you for assistance, but something else happened that was also out of the ordinary." Peppy said as he then cleared his throat, "Earlier today, there was a group of humans, and a little reindeer who just arrived at Corneria by an odd sea ship. They were wanted people, but I just couldn't arrest them since I had no records of them. I allowed them into town to study there habitats, and so far, they seemed to be nice people, in a very strange way. To get to the main point here, It was they who defeated the monster in town."

The group was simply baffled for what they just heard, including Falco. "Wait… what?" Falco asked.

"I know it sounds silly, but they were able to defeat it." Peppy said while sweating a bit, "They have such odd abilities that I have never seen before, and their teamwork was just as same as outstanding."

"Wow, are there actually people like that out there?" Slippy asked.

"There must be some mistake." Falco said, "There is no way that a couple of-"

"Wait a minute, Falco." Fox interrupted as he looked back at Peppy, "Peppy, who exactly were these people?"

"Well, I dont know much, but according to the information I recieved from the Cornerian fleet, I'd say they are sea pirates." Peppy explained.

"Sea pirates?" Krystal asked.

"Hmm…" Fox then looked back at Falco, "Falco, don't you remember when Samus contacted us the other day?"

"Huh? Yeah, so what?" Falco asked. Falco eyes then widened, "Wait, you dont mean that-"

"Yeah, I think it's them." Fox said, "Peppy, where are they now?"

"I have been told they have been taken to jail, in order of an arrogant captain of mine." Peppy said. Falco laughed when he heard that.

"That sucks for them! Ha ha!" Falco laughed.

"I see…" Fox said, "Peppy, would you allow me to see them in person?"

"Wha!?" Falco asked in shock.

"Of course, Fox, you're welcome to do so." Peppy said, "Oh, well if excuse me, I have to attend a little meeting. I'll see you on Corneria."

The holographic monitor then disappeared as Fox walked over to ROB.

"What are you going to do, Fox?" Krystal asked.

"I am going to make sure that these guys are the ones Samus talked about that day." Fox said, "If they are, maybe we can help them out."

"Are you kidding!? Why and how can we help them out!? It's none of our business!" Falco said.

"It wouldn't hurt to try; besides, you were just complaining how bored you were." Fox said.

"Well, yeah…"

"What about you two; are you okay with this?" Fox asked Slippy and Krystal.

"If it's okay with you, then I am fine with it as well, Fox." Krystal replied kindly.

"Yeah, me too. I wanna see how these guys are like." Slippy said.

"Then it's settled." Fox said happily as he then looked at ROB, "ROB, change our course. We're going to Corneria."

"Understood." Replied ROB. This group have a name. They are the mercenary team known as Starfox as the ship they were on, the Great fox, activated it's boosters as it headed towards Corneria.

Meanwhile…

In the dark depths of space, lies a flying secret base known as the Sargasso Space hideout. It's a hideout that belongs to a notorious gang well known in the Lylat System. Inside the base, there were several anthropomorphic monkeys, wearing high tech armor while also carrying blasters as they patrolled around the area.

At the very top floor, lies the control room, with many small monitors around a big monitor on the center of a wall. There were also some furniture in the room, like sofas or coffee tables.

What lied inside the room were individuals that haven't been mentioned in a very long time.

"Ah! There is never anything good on tv!" yelled a voice. It was Leon Powalski, flipping through the channels with a remote control. On the other side of the room was none other than Panther Caruso, who was looking at a magazine that showed pictures of beautiful women.

"All of these woman… are worthy of having a relationship with me." Panther said with a romantic, yet cocky look.

And last, but definitely not least; the leader of the ruffian gang previously. The notorious Star Wolf leader, Wolf O' Donnel was resting on a sofa, looking up at the ceiling with his hands behind his head. He was in a deep in thought state, thinking of something as Leon then got up on his feet.

"I have had enough of this!" Leon yelled, "Ever since the Anglar incident, there has been nothing else to do around here! I for one am sick of it."

"Yes, I agree." Panther said while staring at the pictures in the magazine.

"Wolf, surely you must have something in mind about this." Leon said. Wolf did not reply as he continued to stare at the ceiling. "Wolf, are you listening to me?" Leon asked, but got no response. He was confused at first, but then knew what was going on as he was now angrier than before. "Don't tell me you are still thinking about that kid from the bar!?"

"Ergh…" Wolf muttered.

"Listen, you know he escaped from us back in Port town. There is was no telling where he went off too, so just drop it already! You won't see that kid again!" Leon said angrily. Wolf didn't reply, which nearly made Leon lose his temper. "Fine, believe in what you want! You're killing us!"

Leon sat back down on the ground as he flipped through some channels faster than before. He then stopped at a local news channel, showing the incident that happened in Corneria.

"Just a few moments ago, there was a unknown creature that attacked the Cornerian capital." The reporter said.

"Huh?" Leon blinked in confusion as the monitor then showed recorded footage of the Blue scarf guy attacking the town as the reporter continued to talk.

"As it seemed that the Cornerian fleet couldn't handle that monstrous creature, a human boy wearing a straw hat, along with his friends, were able to defeat this creature using their odd abilities."

This immediately captured Wolf's attention as Leon wanted to change the channel. "Hold it!" Wolf yelled.

"What is it!?" Leon asked.

"Don't change it! Turn it up!" Wolf said furiously. Leon turned up the volume as Wolf got off the couch, and walked towards the screen as it showed Luffy and his crew fighting the blue scarf guy. Panther perked his head up just in time to see the footage where Sanji was kicking the Blue scarf guy in the face.

"Why… I remember that child!" Panther yelled while dropping his magazine. "What is he doing there!?"

"Inspite of taking care of that creature, they appeared to be the ones who caused the disturbance." The reporter continued, "It's unknown whether that this may be true or not, but the Cornerian fleet did arrest some of the suspects, while the boy in the straw hat, and two other of his comrades had managed to fled. At this very moment, the Cornerian fleet are searching for these men all over town. Here is what they look like."

The screen then showed perfect drawings of Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji's faces. Wolf's eyes widened in surprise when he looked at Luffy's face. "It's him…"

"The brat from the bar! He's in Corneria!?" Leon asked in shock.

"We will report any further info upon these three later on." The reporter continued, "In the meantime, I advise all citizens to-"

BANG!

Wolf just shot the monitor as it's glass shattered into pieces. Leon and Panther looked at Wolf, who had a smirk on his face as he puts his blaster away.

"Finally… I have been waiting for him to show up for so long now." Wolf said while smirking, "Leon, Panther; get ready to leave! We're going to Corneria!"

Preview: Where did that black coat guy go!? I've been running around town for hours. Hey, where Franky and the others went off to? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 101: Starfox's help, Starwolf's act of 'kindness'. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Okay, If you knew what that 'Blue scarf guy' was, then you might already know who MPNo. 1 is. Not to mention that I also revealed his attire. But even though it's kinda obvious, I kindly ask of you to please not mention his name just yet. And keep in mind that the ROB mentioned here is not the ROB from Super Smash Bros, it's the ROB from the Starfox series. I hope this chapter was alright, and that all of you people enjoyed it. Ciao for now!

Starfox Pt 3

Sorry for keeping you waiting for another week, I am just having a little writer's block problem, so this chapter might not be that good, but a chapter is a chapter. Enjoy!

Framed. What appeared to be a nice day in Corneria nearly turned into a nightmare as a semi-giant creature wearing a blue scarf attacked the town. It was thanks to the Strawhats who were able to defeat it, but their victory fanfare was cut short thanks to MPNo. 1 who lied saying that the Strawhats were the ones who summoned onto town. The situation worsened as Dimentio, who was disguised as a Cornerian fleet captain, commanded the guards to arrest the Strawhats, but Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji were able to escape. What will happen to the Strawhats now that they have been separated?

Chapter 101: Starfox's help, Starwolf's act of 'kindness'

It was now dawn as there were some repairmen fixing the damages the 'Blue scarf guy' caused to the town before the Strawhat crew defeated it. While that was happening, there was also many guards around the streets, searching for Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji as they are nowhere in sight. Around the northeast part of town, several soldiers were searching for the trio in a dark alley.

"No sign of them here. Keep moving!" A soldier said as he and the rest of the guards left the alley. It was then Usopp, who nervously peeked over a several trashcans to see that the coast was clear.

"We should have never stepped foot on this place." Usopp whimpered, "I knew that something like this would happen to us, but nooo, we just had to do this anyway for no particular reason. You guys should listen to me more often!"

"Relax." Sanji said while sitting down on the floor behind Usopp while also laying his back up against a wall. "As long as they don't find us, then there is nothing to worry about."

"That's the problem!" Usopp said while glancing at Sanji over his shoulder, "I don't know how long we will be able to keep hiding like this. Not to mention that our friends were captured as well."

"You think I didn't know that? Well, I do." Sanji said a bit irritatedly, "Right now, Robin-chan, and those other guys, are being held captive, and we don't know how to rescue them. What's worse is that Nami-san is all alone on the ship, and if any of these soldiers lock her up, then I am going to take everything that has meaning to them!"

"Shh! Keep it down! We don't want those soldiers to come back." Usopp hissed, "And it's not like we can do anything about it since we have no idea how to get back to the ship without getting seen."

"I know… do you have any ideas, Luffy?" Sanji asked. He looked at Luffy, who was sitting down with his arms and legs crossed, feeling rather grumpy. "What's wrong with you?"

"That black coat guy lied." Luffy said, "Why did he lie back there?"

"Don't know." Sanji said as he took out a cigarette, "All I know is that he was responsible for what is happening now, and when I get my hands on him…"

"Still…" Usopp said while facing towards his comrades, "He didn't seem like he was from around here."

"How do you know?" Luffy asked.

"I mean, he didn't look like an anthropomorphic animal to me, but I couldn't really tell since he had a hood on." Usopp said, "And the way he approached us; it's like he wanted us to get in trouble for something we didn't do."

"The way he acted towards Luffy when he walked up to him was a bit strange too." Sanji said while lighting up his cigarette, "I could tell he was really angry, up to a point where I thought he would strike, but he was able to stay calm at the same time. It's a little scary if you think about it."

Sanji was then about to put the cigarette on his lips, until Usopp knocked it away. "You can't smoke here! It might reveal our location!" Usopp hissed. Sanji then got up while adjusting his tie.

"You know what? Sitting here is making me feel sick." Sanji said while looking at Luffy and Usopp, "I can sense that Nami hasnt gotten out of the ship. If we could just get over there, we can help her escape."

"How can you possible know if she is still there or not?" Usopp asked with a smuggish frown.

"I just know, okay!?" Sanji asked angrily. He then walked out of the hiding spot as Luffy and Usopp got up on their feet. "Come on, let's get going! It's about to get dark soon!"

Sanji walks on ahead as Luffy could hear something faint from afar. "What is that noise?" Luffy asked.

"Oi, Luffy, let's get going. I don't want stay here, and get caught." Usopp said before walking away. Luffy shrugged at the noise as then followed his crew, sneaking there way out the alley.

The noise Luffy heard was the sound of a ship entering into Corneria's orbit. It was then that the Great Fox appeared as it lowered itself down through the clouds, while some guards on town awaited their arrival.

"The Starfox team have arrived. Open the hanger gates." A guard said through a communicator.

Something then slowly came out of the ocean floor below the Great Fox. It turned out to be a big gate with the Cornerian fleet symbol on the entrance as it then open up for the Great Fox to enter. The ship slowly made it's way down inside as it appeared to be inside a humongous hanger, with many different kinds of mother ships on the docks. There were also many people there, doing their jobs on making sure that the hanger was under control.

The Great Fox then moved forward as it then stopped upon reaching a vacant dock. A barrier then formed from around the back and sides of the ship, preventing it from falling down as the front part of the ship's bottom opened up, allowing the Starfox leader, Fox, to walk out of the ship.

His team also walked out as Fox looked back at them. Falco was a bit disturbed about he and his comrades came to Corneria for as he puts his hands in his pockets. "So, what are you going to do?" Falco asked.

"I am going to go meet with these pirates." Fox explained, "I'll go talk to them, and see what is their side of the story."

"You'll be going alone?" Slippy asked a bit worryingly, "If these guys are as strong as Peppy said they are, then we should all go just incase."

"It's okay; I can defend myself. Besides, they are all inside a barrier cell, so they cant escape either way." Fox said.

"I think I sense them being up on the upper floors, but they seemed rather disturbed. Perhaps this isn't the time to talk with them." Krystal said.

"We shouldn't even be talking to them, because they have nothing to do with us to begin with." Falco said with a frown, "Let's face it, Fox, even if it's the guys that Samus was talking about, what are we suppose to do for them?"

"Falco, dont you remember what we promised Samus during that day?" Fox asked. Falco then felt even angrier.

"Ugh, do you even have to remind me?"

FLASHBACK

The Great Fox was flying around the Lylat System as the Starfox team hasn't encountered any threats since the Anglar incident. Fox, and Falco were in the briefing room, which looked more like a hangout space as there was a jukebox playing some rock and roll music, and there was also some clothing, and potato chip bags all over the floor.

Fox was sitting on his chair, listening the loud music that jukebox was playing, and Falco was practicing his gun poses. And Krystal was sitting on another chair next to Fox, enjoying the sight of space inspite of the ruckous going on in the room. Krystal then looked at Fox, who then looked at her as they then both smiled at eachother. Falco saw them as he then felt a little sick.

"You guys should atleast tell me when you are going to do that look, so that I can leave without having the need to puke." Falco said a bit disgustedly. Before Fox or Krystal could respond, Slippy entered the room as he walked up to Fox.

"Hey, Fox, you have a transmission from a guy with red armor." Slippy said.

"Red armor?" Fox asked confusedly. He then smirked as he realized who Slippy was talking about. "It must be Samus. She is the only 'guy' in red armor I know."

"What could she want?" Falco asked while putting his blaster away.

"I dont know; she rarely communicates with anyone." Fox said while getting up from his chair, "But, what the heck? Put her on screen, Slippy."

"Roger." Slippy said. He then pushed a button on a round control panel in the center of the room as a holographic screen appeared in the center of the room, showing none other than Samus, who was in her ship with her armor on.

"It's about time you picked up." Samus said.

"Well, well; if it aint the 'guy' in the red armor." Falco teased, "You haven't changed one bit."

"Nice to see you too, bird." Samus replied, which made Falco frown a bit.

"It's been a while, Samus." Fox said while being a bit happy to see Samus, "We never expected to get a call from you. Is something wrong?"

"No, everything is just fine here." Samus said as she then removed her helmet, showing her face to the others. Slippy was shocked to see that Samus was actually a woman as she then sighed, "Listen, I didn't call just to see you guys again. I need you all to do me a favor."

"A favor? What kind of favor?" Krystal asked.

"I don't know how to explain this, but here goes." Samus said as the Starfox team paid attention, "You see, there are these Sea pirates that are trying to get back to their homeworld, and I need you guys to help them out."

"Pirates? That doesn't sound like you. You hate pirates." Fox said.

"These guys are different. I don't have time to explain the whole thing, but let me tell you the important things they have done." Samus said. She then went explaining the important parts of what happened to her and the Strawhat crew in Aether. As she finished explaining, the Starfox team were a little dumbfounded.

"So they were able to defeat Ridley, and his crew!? They must be really powerful!" Slippy said in awe.

"That sounds a bit weird to me." Falco said while rubbing his head, "And you're saying that they are using the first Master door to travel to other worlds?"

"Yes. They have been using the keys Master hand created for that door." Samus said, "It's the only way they could get to other worlds. So, about the favor; I know that Master hand has a heart somewhere where you guys are in right now. I need you to help them find it."

The Starfox didnt know how to reply, until Fox answered for them. "Dont worry; we'll help them out."

"We will!?" Falco asked.

"We do owe her for that 'thing' that happened back in the mansion, remember?" Fox asked. Falco's eye twitched as he remembered what happened during a particular day during one of Master hand's tournaments.

"Hrrgh… yeah. But that was the Third party guy's fault to begin with." Falco muttered.

"What do you mean?" Krystal asked, which alarmed Fox.

"Eh, nothing! Nothing happened, Krystal, don't worry about it." Fox said with a weak smile. Krystal knew Fox was lying, but decided not to question him as Fox looked back at Samus, "Anyway, we'll help them out once they get here."

"Thanks." Samus said, "Oh, and I must warn you that their captain is one certified idiot. Don't take anything personally from him; I tried straightening him out before, but he is just hopeless. So… good luck when you meet them. Later."

Samus then broke communication as the holographic screen disappeared. The Starfox were about to do what they were doing before, until Falco asked them something.

"What did she mean by 'straightening him out'?" Falco asked a bit nervously.

"Knowing her; I'd rather not know…" Fox replied while a sweatdrop appeared on his forehead.

END OF FLASHBACK

"You know, you should have told me she was a woman." Slippy said a little embarrassed, "I mean, who could've known it was a was a female with that armor on?"

"She still acts like a man, that's for sure." Falco muttered, "But seriously, Fox, what can we do to help these 'pirate' guys?"

"First I have to make sure if it's them. If they are, then I'll see what I can do." Fox said, "But in the meantime, you guys just wait here for me. I'll be back before you know it."

"Be careful, Fox." Krystal said a bit worryingly.

"Dont worry; I'll be fine." Fox replied with a smile. He then walked away as his team walked back into the ship. Fox walked up to a glass door elevator as it opened up for Fox to enter. Once Fox was inside, the elevator automatically closed as it took Fox out of the hanger area.

Meanwhile…

In a big room with several empty cell rooms, there was one cell that was vacant as Zoro, Chopper, Robin, and Franky were inside. Zoro was taking a nap on a wall, Robin was calmly sitting on the bed, and Chopper and Franky are trying to figure out a way to escape.

"So did you come up with something, Franky?" Chopper asked.

"How can I? I have no idea how stuff works around here. I mean, look at this." Franky said as he placed his palm on an invisible barrier that prevented anyone from entering or escaping the cell, "Even though it looks like we can just walk out, this barrier is in the way. And not to mention that it's completely crowded in here."

"We are not even suppose to escape in the first place." Zoro said grumpily, "Not until I have my swords back, that is."

"That does not explain why we all have to be in the same cell. There is hardly any room in here." Franky said a bit angrily, "And also, I don't think it's natural to share a jail cell with a woman, if you know what I mean."

"Not really." Chopper said a bit confused.

"Well, one thing is certain; we didn't do anything wrong here… yet. We were wrongfully accused! I demand to talk to somebody!" Franky yelled while looking at some guards that were guarding the exit. "Do you hear me!? We were framed! Get it through your heads!"

"They are just guards; they wont listen to us." Robin said, "We'll have to wait until their leader comes to us, or maybe they just plan to have us rot here."

"No, I don't want to die like that!" Chopper said worryingly.

"If that's what they plan to do, then I am busting us out of here." Zoro said while getting up, "I don't plan on dying without my swords. How am I suppose to prove people that I am swordsman without them?"

"Nobody cares about your dang swords right now, bro." Franky said, "And what's more, we need to know what happened to Strawhat, and the others."

"I'm sure they're fine." Robin said kindly, "The guards would have brought them here if they were captured, unless they killed them by accident, and didn't wanted to tell us."

"Noo!!" Chopper cried.

"Dang it, Robin; stop saying that kind of stuff!" Franky said annoyed. He then scratched his head out of frustration as he faced towards a wall, "Orange-head sis is also out there, including the ship. What are they going to do with our ship!?"

"Just relax; everything is going to be fine." Zoro said.

"I am serious, bro!" Franky said, "That ship is our only way out of here, and I made a promise that it was going to make it to Raftel! If it gets destroyed, then it's all over for us!"

"You think we dont know that!?" Zoro asked while angrily looking at Franky, "I know what is at stake here, and unless we can do something about it, we have to stay here and wait!"

"Funny, you were complaining about not having your swords, and now you want to wait!?" Franky asked, "Make up your mind, Marimo!"

"Who are you calling Marimo!?" Zoro asked furiously.

"Stop it! Please, don't fight!" Chopper cried. The cell got then got quiet for a few moments.

"Doctor-san is right." Robin said, "There is no point in fighting at a time like this."

"Maybe…" Franky muttered, "… but the ship is more important. This guy here can just get some new swords like he always does."

"THAT'S IT!" Zoro have had it with Franky as he tackled him onto the floor. They both started wrestling with eachother as Chopper tried to break them up, while Robin didn't seem to care as she was still sitting on the bed.

An automatic door then opened as Fox entered the room, where the guards faced towards him. "Welcome, Mr. McCloud, we have been expecting you." Said one of the guards, "General Peppy has requested us to let you visit the prisoners."

"Yeah, where are they?" Fox asked. He looked around the room to see only one cell full as he then saw all the commotion that was going on inside.

"Stop it! Stop!" Chopper cried as Zoro and Franky continued to wrestle as Zoro wrapped his arms around Franky's neck, only for Franky to flip him over his shoulder. They haven't even realized that Fox was in the room as he, and the guards just stared at them while sweatdropping.

"Is that them?" Fox asked while blinking in confusion.

"Yeah…" A guard replied.

"How long have they been doing that?" Fox asked.

"Just before you arrived… but they were also yelling about some things like there ship, or their comrades that haven't been captured yet."

"This isn't all of them?" Fox asked a bit disappointed, "Well… I'll go talk to them." Fox calmly walked in front of the cell as Zoro was pushing Franky up against the barrier. "Um… excuse me."

"Oh no, you dont!" Franky pushed Zoro back, and tried wrapping his arms around his neck, but Zoro quickly moved under Franky's arms, and tackled him onto the ground as a dust cloud formed around them as soon as they started exchanging blows.

"Wah!" Chopper tried to get away, but he got mixed up in the battle as Zoro and Franky rolled over him. They didn't even realize that Fox was talking to them.

"Hello? Excuse me?" Fox said as he tried to get their attention, but it didn't work. "HEY!!" Fox yelled angrily, which he was able to capture the crew's attention as Zoro and Franky stopped fighting, causing the dust cloud around them to vanish as it showed Zoro pulling on Franky's lips while Franky nearly tried to squish Zoro's head with his big hands. They were both ontop of Chopper, who was nearly unconscious as their were swirly lines over his eyes.

Robin looked at Fox before the rest of her comrades did. Fox could see how angry Zoro and Franky were at him for yelling as he sweatdropped a bit. "Ugh… hi."

"Who the heck are you?" Franky asked while getting up, "Are you here to give us our death sentence!? How many times do we have to tell you that we didn't call out that scarf dude!"

"Huh? No, I am not here for that." Fox said while waving his hands in front of his chest, "I just came here to ask a couple of questions."

"Questions?" Franky asked.

"Are you the pirates that helped Samus defeat Ridley in Aether?" Fox asked. The crew was surprised to hear him ask that.

"How do you know about that?" Zoro asked.

"So you are them…" Fox said a bit relieved, "She contacted me, and told me all about you guys. She said that you were able to save Aether from the brink of destruction."

"You know Samus?" Chopper asked while dazedly getting up.

"I see… then I assume that you are one of the smashers." Robin said. Chopper looked at Robin with a surprised look.

"He is? How do you know that, Robin?" Chopper asked.

"Don't you remember what Samus said to us before leaving Aether?" Robin asked, "She said that she contacted other smashers about us arriving in there world."

"So this is the guy she was referring to?" Franky asked while looking back at Fox.

"That's right." Fox said, "I came here as soon as I heard the news about you beating a monster of some sort."

"Yeah, we beaten up some weird thing, but then some guy showed up, and accused us of calling it into town in the first place, which is not true, by the way." Franky explained.

"I'm sure you're telling the truth." Fox said as he then glanced back at the guards, "But I don't think they will listen to you."

"Can you please let us out?" Chopper asked.

"Leave it to me; they know me pretty well here, so I am sure I can make a deal with them." Fox said as he left the crew for a moment.

"Should we trust him?" Zoro asked.

"He is one of the smasher guys, and it's not like we have any other choice in order to clear our name." Franky said.

Fox then came back to the crew with the guards as one of them slides a cardkey through a small machine on a next to the cell as it made the barrier in front of it to slowly disappear. "I was able to convince them to let you guys out, but you must stay with me and my team for a while. The town is not yet comfortable with you guys here."

"That's okay; we have been getting that for a while now." Franky said with a smirk. Once the barrier was gone, he and his comrades walked out of the cell, and walked up to Fox. "Thanks alot, Foxy bro."

"It was no problem." Fox said, "Oh, and my name is Fox McCloud, the leader of the Starfox team."

"I'm Franky, and this is Reindeer-Gorilla, Swordsman bro, and Robin." Franky said, introducing his comrades, "There are more of us, but they're somewhere in town."

"So I've heard…" Fox said, "But don't worry; I already gave the clearance to the general to allow his men not to arrest your friends, but to find them in order to clear things up. That way, they can wait here until we get back."

"Get back? Arent we going to wait for them?" Chopper asked.

"Sorry, but the Cornerian fleet wants you to do more things other than to come with me." Fox said, "They still don't trust you for what happened earlier, and they also want you out of here as soon as possible."

"Pfft! They're rough." Franky commented.

"They are just trying to protect the town, don't take it personally." Fox said as he then faced at the exit, "Well, let's get going. My team would probably like to meet you as well."

"Wait a minute…" Zoro said, stopping Fox from walking any further, "Since you have gotten us out, can you also get my swords too?"

"Your swords?" Fox asked while glancing at Fox over his shoulder.

"They took away my swords as soon as we got here on this world. I would like them back, if it's not too much trouble." Zoro said a bit grumpily.

"Hmm… I dont think they'll let me take them for you." Fox replied, which didnt make Zoro any happier, "But not here, atleast. I'll see what I can do after we leave."

"Huh?" Zoro said with a confused look.

"I'll explain later. Come on, let's get to my ship." Fox said as he faced back at the door. He lead the crew out of the prison room, and walked along a big hallway until they reached an elevator. The elevator doors opened up as they entered inside, with Fox pushing a button that caused the elevator to go to the lower floors. While going down, Fox took a short glance at the crew. "You know… I thought you guys would have trouble cooperating with me, even though the rest of your comrades arent here."

"They can take care of themselves, bro." Franky explained, "Especially since our Captain is with them."

"Oh, so none of you is the captain?" Fox asked, "Arent you guys worried that something might happen to him?"

"Like Franky said; he and the others could take care of themselves." Zoro shrugged, "Besides, I could use some peace and quiet for once."

Robin giggled a bit as Fox was a little confused until he saw Chopper walking up to him with his autograph book already out.

"Can I have your autograph, please?" Chopper asked kindly.

"Sure thing." Fox replied. While Fox took out a pen, and signed his name under Snake's 'signature', Franky felt a little curious and irritated.

"Okay, this has been bugging me for a long time now, and I just need to ask you this." Franky said as he then looked at Chopper, "What is with you and that autograph book? I didn't even know you had one. Where in the world did you get it?"

"I don't really know…" Chopper said with a confused look. After Fox finished writing his name, he kindly gave the book back to Chopper, who then showed his collection of autographs to his friends. "Just look; I have so many autographs now. I have Mario, Link, Pikachu, Captain Falcon, Samus, Kirby, Snake, and now I have Fox's autograph!"

"That's nice, Doctor-san." Robin replied kindly.

"Yeah… real nice…" Zoro said uncaring.

Fox then noticed a little light coming from around the elevator as he then smiled. "We're almost to the hanger." He said.

The elevator then came out of a hole as it was now back in the hanger, where the crew watched in awe for how big it was. "No way! What are those!?" Franky asked in awe while pointing at the motherships.

"Those are ships." Fox replied.

"Seriously! Those are ships!? They are really big!!" Chopper said in awe. The elevator then finally made it to the floor as it's glass doors opened, allowing Fox, and the Strawhat crew to exit as they walked around the hanger.

"Very impressive." Robin commented.

"Pfft…" Zoro muttered, who didn't care about the hanger. They walked in front of the Great Fox, which Franky and the others stared at in amazement.

"Here we are; the Great Fox. We will be leaving with this." Fox said while facing towards the crew.

"This is yours!?" Franky asked, "It's amazing! And can this thing fly!?"

"Of course it can." Fox replied with a smile, "It's what it was build for. My team and I use it to venture around the Lylat System. We don't know what we'll do without it."

"Lylat system? As in, out there in space!?" Franky asked in surprise. The excitement was nearly making Franky to lose his balance as Robin just noticed something.

"You said you are the leader of Starfox," Robin said, "We've heard that you also ride something called Arwings."

Franky then gasped upon hearing that. "Oh, yeah! I forgot about that!" Franky said as he then faced towards Fox, "I saw a poster of those Arwing things a while ago, so can we take a look at those too? I want to see how they are like."

"They are in the Great Fox." Fox said pointing at his ship, "I'll be glad to show them to you, but first, let's get inside, and introduce you to my crew. I'm sure they'd be happy to meet you."

Fox lead the Strawhat crew inside the ship as it's entrance closed. Just right after they left, MPNo. 1 appeared from behind some containers at the corner of the hanger. He looked at the ship, the Great Fox, and was about to find a way inside, until he then stopped himself.

"…" MPNo. 1 slowly got back behind the containers, and laid his back up against one of them as he crossed his arms, waiting in the darkness where nobody would find him.

Meanwhile… 30 minutes later…

It was now dark in Corneria as there were less guards roaming around the streets. They still haven't found Luffy, Usopp, or Sanji as they were getting a little tired, but nonetheless, they continued their search. What they didnt know was that the Cornerian was so distracted finding the trio, they haven't realized that other three individuals have arrived in Corneria, and that they were also looking for the trio as well.

"I cant believe we're doing this." Leon said while hiding behind a building wall. Next to him was Panther, who was making sure that there was nobody behind him; and Wolf, who peeked over the walls sides as he saw some guards walking around. "Wolf, do you have any idea how ridiculous this is!? We won't gain anything out of this."

"I have waited a long time for that boy to show up, and he won't escape from me the third time." Wolf said as he then looked back at his team. "Okay, the coast is clear. Move out!"

Starwolf quickly ran behind some other buildings, getting around town without getting detected. "For once, Wolf, I believe Leon is right." Panther said, "As much as I despise that boy after what happened in Mute City, we won't be able to do anything about it here."

"I know…" Wolf said, "Did you actually think we'd hunt them here? I know what is at stake, so I know what I am doing."

"Then why drag us here?" Leon asked.

"If that boy and his crew are here, then so is there ship." Wolf explained, "There must be something of value in that ship, so what we are going to do is take away what means most to them, and force them to come looking for us."

"How are they going to find us? It's not like they have any good transports." Panther said.

"Falcon helped them the other day, remember?" Wolf asked, "If he helped them out, it's possible that 'pup' will also do the same somehow." Wolf then looked into the ocean, "I have heard him and his team have just came here a while ago, so it could be they that already met the boy's crew. If they have, I can send them a little message that they can give to the boy's crew, saying that I have something of theirs, and if they want it back, they must bring their captain into my quarters. It will be then that I will have what I want."

"Krystal meeting with such lowlifes!? Unacceptable!" Panther growled.

"-sigh-… and you're doing all this just so you can confront that brat again?" Leon asked, "Why would you waste your time?"

"It's something I just need to do…" Wolf replied while looking at his surroundings, "Now, where is that ship?"

"What do you mean I cant leave!?"

Starwolf heard someone yelling from a distance. They sneaked away from the walls to walk towards the edge of town as they then saw the Thousand Sunny to their left. There they could see Nami, arguing with a Cornerian soldier.

"I am sorry, miss, but you have to stay here. I am under orders that you must stay here at all cost." The guard said.

"What for!? I have already been here long enough! I want to know what is going on!" Nami yelled. As the argument continued, Leon blinked confusedly at what was going on, while Panther was staring in awe as he imagined a garden-like background behind Nami, who continued to yell angrily.

"What is that marvelous creature? She looks so… amazing." Panther said in awe while holding a red rose out of nowhere.

"What's all the commotion about?" Leon asked. Wolf squinted his eyes, taking a very good look at Nami. His eyes then widened as he smirked mischievously.

"Leon… don't you recognize her?" Wolf asked while still smirking as he then pointed at Nami. "That's the girl that was with that boy back in the bar."

Leon looked at Nami as he then finally recognized her, "Wha!? It is her!" Leon gasped.

"Heh… things have just gotten easier for a change." Wolf said while crossing his arms, "That boy will certainly be looking for us for sure."

Panther stopped his gaze at Nami as he then glared at Wolf after what he heard him say, "Wolf… what are you planning to do!?"

"Relax, I am not going to do anything wrong." Wolf replied, "She just looks so alone there. I should be kind and go over to her, and say 'hi', heh heh. Wait for me back in the Wolfens; I'll be right back."

Wolf puts his hands in his pockets, and calmly walks towards the ship. "You heard him, let's get going." Leon said as he walked away. Panther looked on, worried about what was going to happen to Nami as he then walked away with Leon.

"Can't you just tell me what is going on here!? My crew hasnt come back, and I want know what happened to them!" Nami said.

"I am sorry, but you are just going to have to stay here until further noticed." The guard said. Nami glared at the guard, who started to sweat nervously as Nami was about to say something else, but instead, she sighed.

"Fine, I'll wait. But if something happened to my crew, you wont hear the end of this!" Nami said as she then walked away grumpily. She walked up in front of a cabin wall, looking up at the stars as she was feeling worried. "Where are you guys? I hope nothing happened."

"UGH!"

SPLASH!

"Huh?" Nami heard someone cry in pain before a sudden splash. It turned out that the guard was thrown into the ocean by Wolf, who was already on the ship as he walked his way towards Nami. Nami could hear the sound of footsteps behind her as they were getting louder by the second. She narrowed her gaze as she quickly got out her PCT, and turned around to swing it. "Who's there!?"

Wolf caught Nami's PCT with one hand, and pushed Nami up against the cabin wall. "Ah!" Nami cried as she hits the wall behind her, she looked up, and saw Wolf, who was slightly pushing his body up to hers while smirking at her.

"Why, hello there." Wolf said with a slight happy tone, "It's been a long time since we've seen each other. I was wondering when you were going to visit."

"Eh!?" Nami gasped as she then remembered Wolf while looking at him in horror, "Y-You're…

Starfox Pt 4

I have been feeling lazy lately, but I have no excuse for taking so long to update, it was my fault, and that's that. Oh, and I got my internet back, so I am happy again. Here's the next chapter. Enjoy!

The good and bad. Zoro, Chopper, Robin, and Franky were sent to jail, but met with Starfox leader named Fox McCloud, who got them out of jail to bring them to his ship, The Great Fox. Meanwhile, Wolf O' Donnell, the leader of Starwolf, was in Corneria as well, and got on the Thousand Sunny to confront Nami. What is going happen next to the Strawhat crew?

Chapter 102: For my swords, Nami's fate?

30 minutes ago…

Falco, Slippy, Krystal, and ROB just stared oddly at the Strawhat crew, who were already at the control room as they looked back at the Starfox team. Chopper was a little nervous as he leaned his hooves on Robin's legs, while Franky felt a little uncomfortable from being stared.

"These guys… are sea pirates?" Slippy asked confusedly. Krystal didn't seem to have anything to say while Falco was glaring at Fox.

"I thought you were just going to talk to them! You didn't had to bring them here!" Falco said angrily.

"It's not like I had any choice…" Fox replied ashamedly while rubbing his head, "But it's alright; these guys are cooperative, they won't be any trouble…" Fox then glanced at the Strawhat crew over his shoulder, "… I hope."

"Aw, this is just great." Falco said sarcastically, "Now we have to babysit these weirdos."

"Oi, who are you calling weird, parrot!?" Franky asked while walking up to Falco.

"Back off, man!" Falco replied, "The last thing you'd want to do is to pick a fight with me!"

"Guys, relax! There is no need to fight here!" Slippy cried as he tried to push Falco and Franky away from eachother, "Falco, you need to calm down. We hardly know them."

"This guy here is not even wearing any pants, and you expect me to think they are not trouble!?" Falco asked, referring to Franky.

"I am going to be trouble if you don't keep your beak shut!" Franky replied while getting in front of Falco, not realizing that he and Falco were squishing Slippy between them.

"Okay, that's enough!" Fox yelled. Falco eventually backed off as Slippy gasped for air. Franky backed off too as Fox got in front of him and his comrades. "Anyway… this is my team I was talking about." Fox then pointed to Falco, "That's Falco; he's the team's Ace pilot. Nobody can maneuver an Arwing like him."

"Hmph!" Falco murmured as he looked the other way.

"And that's Slippy; he's the team's engineer. He is also a pilot, but he does a better job driving Landmasters." Fox said while pointing to Slippy.

"Hi! It's nice to meet you guys!" Slippy said while waving at the crew.

"And this is Krystal; a formidable pilot, and she means everything in the world to me." Fox said with a smile.

Krystal giggled as she then looked at the crew, "It's a pleasure to meet you all. I am sure we could get along just fine." Krystal said kindly. Chopper blinked in confusion as for some reason, he could see beautiful flowers around Krystal's face. He blushed as he quickly looked away before she could notice him.

"And lastly, this is ROB. He is the observation and analysis robot assigned to this ship. He helps out by sending out information during one of our missions." Fox said.

"A robot, huh?" Franky asked as he then poked at ROB's forehead.

"Please don't do that." ROB replied.

"It's nice to meet you all as well." Robin replied kindly, "My name is Robin, and I am fond of archeology."

Chopper then nervously looked back at the Starfox team, trying not to look so scared, "I-I am Ch-Chopper. I am a d-doctor." Chopper stuttered. He then realized that Krystal was looking at him. "Wah!" Chopper blushed again as he looked away, causing Krystal to blink in confusion before smiling.

"I'm Zoro." Zoro said grumpily, "Now, leave me alone; I dont want to be bothered unless it has something to do with getting my swords back." Zoro then walked up to the corner of the control room, and sat down as he rested his back on the wall before taking a nap. The Starfox team just stared at him as he already fell asleep.

"The nerve of that guy!" Falco said as he then looked at Fox, "I hope this doesn't ruin our reputation, Fox! Because if it does, it would all be your fault!" Fox sighed as Slippy then looked at Franky, who was still observing ROB's external features.

"Hey, um, you're the only left that hasnt introduced yourself." Slippy said. Franky then stopped as he looked at the Starfox team while a gleam appeared over his sunglasses. "Whoa!?" Slippy gasped as Franky leaped on top of the controls, and faced towards the team while doing his favorite pose.

"OW!!" Franky yelled out, catching everyone's attention, except for Zoro, who was still sleeping. "I am my world's number one superstar! I! AM! FRRRRRRRRRAAANKY!!"

Slippy and Chopper were amazed by Franky as stars formed around their eyes, while everyone else werent exactly that astounded.

"G-Get off the controls, you moron! That's not a dance floor!" Falco yelled.

"Uh… Falco is right; we dont want you to ruin the controls." Fox said while sweatdropping. Franky just shrugged as he then got off the controls.

"So, you said we are going to leave this place, right? When are we leaving?" Franky asked Fox.

"We'll leave in a minute. We just need a clearance to launch first." Fox said as he then looked at ROB, "ROB?"

"I'll take care of it." ROB replied as he went to keyboard on a control panel to do some typing. As he was typing, Franky faced towards Fox.

"So, where are we going? Some other part of this world?" Franky asked.

"Not exactly." Fox replied, "Just somewhere in the Lylat System."

"Huh?" Franky raised his sunglasses in confusion as ROB then finished typing on the keyboard.

"We have received clearance for take off. We will be leaving Corneria shortly." ROB replied. The barriers around the Great Fox disappeared as some floating machinery floated around the ship, and let out a green round barrier around it, helping it to fly backwards to hangar entrance. Once the Great Fox was below the entrance, the green barrier disappeared as the machines, while the ship ascended upwards, going through the hangar entrance as it was now back outside, which was starting to get dark.

"We're… flying!?" Chopper gasped as he looked out the window. He and Franky were amazed as they could see that they were in the air.

"Whoa… we really are flying!" Franky said happily. The Starfox team, except for Falco, were happy to see Chopper and Franky enjoying the view.

"ROB, get us out of here." Fox said happily.

"Understood." ROB replied as he typed on the keyboard again. Robin was also amazed at the sight of town, but then, she just realized something.

"Wait, you said we were leaving Corneria," Robin said, "You don't mean that-"

"All systems are ready to go." ROB said.

"Roger." Fox replied as he then looked at the crew, "You might want to hold on to something. It's going to be a little bump out of here."

Franky gasped as he glanced back at Fox. "So we really are-!?"

The Great Fox ignited it's engines as it flew diagonally upward to the sky. "Wah!!" Chopper was startled by this as he grabbed onto to Franky's head to prevent from falling back. Everyone else grabbed on to part of the wall to prevent from losing their balance as the Great Fox flew higher and higher to the sky. Inspite of all this going on, Zoro was still asleep as he continued to snore.

"Ahhh!! This is scary!!" Chopper cried while holding onto Franky's head tightly.

"Gyeh… this rocks!!" Franky shouted. As the Great Fox continued to fly, the crew could see that they were heading into space. Once the Great Fox has finally exited Corneria's gravity force, the boosters slowly lowered it's potency as the ship was flying normally away from Corneria.

"We have just left Corneria's orbit." ROB said, "The launch was a success."

Chopper and Franky had their jaws nearly hitting the floor as they couldn't believe where they were. "Sp-Space! We're in space!!" Franky exclaimed excitedly as he rushed to a window, with Chopper still on his head.

"Oooooohh!! So coooool!!" Chopper said happily with big eyes as he was amazed at the sight of space as well.

"Very fascinating…" Robin said in awe.

"Zoro! You got a take a look at this! Space looks so wonderful!" Chopper exclaimed excitedly while looking at the stars. Zoro continued to sleep, despite being called. The Starfox just observed how amazed the Strawhat crew.

"These guys don't get out much, do they?" Falco asked.

"Give them a break already." Fox said as he then walked up to the crew, which caught Franky's attention as he faced towards him.

"Hey, bro, this ship is awesome! You have to explain to me how this was built." Franky said happily.

"Sure, I can give you the details about it. But right now, we need to discuss what you need to do out here." Fox said. The Strawhat crew, except for Zoro, looked at Fox, wondering what he has to say. "Besides leaving Corneria for now, the Cornerian fleet demands that you'd fix the damages by doing community service."

"Community service? You want us to help people in their daily needs?" Robin asked.

"Basically, they just want you out of Corneria until they can prove that you didn't have anything to do with the monster appearing in town. They just want to see if you guys really are willing to do this for them so they can let you off the hook." Fox explained.

"Hmm… if that's the only way we can prove our innocence, then I guess we'll do it." Franky said.

"Okay. Now, just take a look at the screen." Fox said as a holographic screen appeared in the middle of the control room, showing a planet on it. "This is the planet Sauria; a prehistoric and mystical planet inhabited by dinosaurs."

"Dinosaurs?" Chopper asked.

"Dinosaur planet, huh? It has a nice ring to it." Franky commented.

"A friend of mine is a leader there, and he has been having a little trouble around his kingdom lately." Fox said, "We don't know if this is something big or not, but the cornerian fleet wants you to help the planet out whatever means necessary."

The crew were a little silent as Zoro suddenly got up, and walked in front of Fox. "Yosh, I'll take care of the whole thing." Zoro said, which shocked Chopper.

"Huh? You are going there by yourself?" Chopper asked.

"Yeah, but for one condition." Zoro said as he looked, "And that is to get my swords back."

"Swords?" Slippy asked.

"Not only will I do this to prove that we are innocent, but also to get my swords back." Zoro said sternly, "I will do anything to have them back again. I don't care if I have to lose my dignity, or break every bone in my body; I will get through this ordeal…" Zoro then smirked, "And when I do, I will prove that not only I am strong enough to become the greatest swordsman, I will also be the only one who was capable to sacrifice everything for his weapons and comrades!"

Zoro was getting odd looks by everyone, except for Slippy, who thought Zoro's speech was cool.

"Bro, it's just community service, not some ordeal. Sheesh…" Franky sighed.

"Well… if you really want to do this, then I guess it's okay." Fox shrugged, "Which reminds me, I need to pick up your swords. It should already be in the transport room back in Corneria."

"I'll take care of that, Fox." Slippy said. Slippy took out a gadget, and looked into it's monitor. "Yep, I think that's them. Transferring it right now…"

"Transferring?" Zoro asked. Suddenly, holographic wireframes appeared out of nowhere as they formed into three separate swords. They then glowed brightly as they formed into Zoro's swords. They fell onto the ground in front of Slippy as the Strawhat crew were a little confused.

"Oh… I guess you didn't know about the transferring system." Slippy said, noticing the crew's confused look, "It allows us to transport any gadgets or vehicles to a certain location. That way, getting stuff is alot more easier."

"Hoo.. I really do like this place." Franky said.

"Well, I won't complain. Since my swords are already here, I might as well take them with me." Zoro said as he reached towards his swords.

"No, wait!" Slippy yelled as Zoro then touched the sheathe of one of his blades.

ZAAAAP!!

"Guah!!" Zoro got electrocuted by touching his sword as he got knocked away. His comrades gasped as they went to help Zoro up.

"Zoro, are you okay!?" Chopper asked. Zoro simply got up, infuriated on what just happened.

"What was that!?" Zoro asked, "Did you do something to my swords!?"

"It was just a security procedure." Krystal said as she then picked up one of Zoro's swords without getting shocked, " Your swords are currently being surrounded by an electrical barrier produced by one of Corneria's satellite systems. It prevents anybody from stealing, or even holding the objects the system is protecting, except for people like the Cornerian fleet, or other people like us. It could only be deactivated by voice command."

"Okay, I want that thing to turn off then." Zoro commanded.

"That's not how it works, man." Falco said, "The voice command could only work on one person using a special device."

"And I have that here." Fox said, showing a red collar of sorts, "But I am going to give this to my friend in Sauria. He will be the one to deactivate the security around your swords when necessary. Does that sound fair?"

Zoro hesitated a little until he then nodded. "Okay, fine, but he better be fair too. When are we leaving?" Zoro said.

"Sauria could be seen in view." ROB said as the Great Fox was already in front of the planet, Sauria.

"We'll leave right now. Come on, I will take you to the Arwing hanger." Fox said.

"Oi, can we take a look at that hanger place too?" Franky asked.

"Sure, you can watch us leave. Follow me." Fox said. Fox picked up Zoro's swords off the ground as Krystal gave him the last sword she was holding. Zoro, Chopper, Robin, and Franky then followed Fox out of the control room, leaving Falco, Slippy, Krystal, and Rob alone.

"I dont know… what's your take on those guys?" Falco asked Krystal.

"They weren't pretending to be amused." Krystal said, "They are actually good people. It's just like Samus said; they were good pirates afterall."

"It's hard to believe they defeated the monster in town." Slippy said while crossing his arms, "I was expecting them to look more like honorable, and strong looking knights or something."

"Since when do pirates look like knights?" Falco asked, "Anyway, let's catch up to them. We'll be right back, ROB."

Falco, Slippy, and Krystal left the room, with ROB continuing to do whatever he normally does.

Fox lead the group into a big hangar, with four arwings facing towards the hangar exit as they were stationed horizontally at each dock. "So those are arwings." Franky said amazed.

"Yep. They have great maneuverability thanks to the G-diffuser system it has equipped. And these aircrafts have the strongest firepower in the Lylat System. There hasn't been anyone who could defeat us with these." Fox said.

"There is only one seat." Zoro said while looking into one of them, "Dont tell me we have to share seats?"

"That, or unless you want to ride inside the container area with your swords." Fox said pointing at the bottom of his Arwing. Zoro then sighed.

"Fine…" Zoro said displeasingly. As Fox then got on his Arwing, he saw his team walking into the hanger.

"Until I come back, take Franky and his friends to the briefing room. You guys can relax there until I get back." Fox said as he then got inside his Arwing.

"Good luck, Zoro." Chopper said. Zoro didn't respond as he too sat in same seat with Fox, almost pushing him off to the side.

"Just please get us over there quickly." Zoro said uncomfortably.

"Dont worry; I will." Fox replied uncomfortably too as the hangar doors opened, with a barrier forming in the entrance that prevents the air from the ship getting sucked out. Fox turned on his Arwing as he then flew out of the hangar with great speed as it also got out of the Great Fox, and headed towards Sauria.

"That was so cool!" Chopper said.

"Okay, show's over." Falco said, "Let me show you guys the briefing room. Don't get lost along the way."

Chopper, and Robin then followed Falco, Slippy, and Krystal out of the hanger while Franky was taking one last look at the other Arwings. He then followed everyone else as they were walking along the hallways, and went through an automatic door to their right.

"Here we are. This is the briefing room." Slippy said.

"Briefing room? It looks more like a hangout joint." Franky said by observation.

"Since we hardly get any jobs these days, we have been making some customizations to make this place look more like the original one." Falco said while walking up to a window.

"The original one?" Robin asked.

"About two years ago, their was a mission that we had to sacrifice the Great Fox in order to save the Lylat System. We got another ship afterwards, but it was nowhere near as good as our previous ship. After another mission, we got enough money to buy this, which we are still trying to make it look like the original Great Fox since their are still some work to be done." Slippy explained sadly.

"That must have been hard for you guys." Chopper said a bit sad, "We once lost our ship too, but Franky made us another one."

"You make ships?" Slippy asked.

"Used to." Franky replied, "I also helped make one heck of a sea train back in my world. But what I am most proud of was when I builded a great ship for me and my comrades to sail around the seas with."

"The Thousand Sunny?" Krystal asked. Franky then looked at her with a surprised and confused look.

"Y-Yeah. How did-"

"Oh, I'm sorry." Krystal said, "I am a telepath, meaning that I can read other people's minds."

"A mind reader?" Chopper asked as his eyes then widened with excitement, "That's so cool! You're really cool to have something like that!"

"Thank you. That's a nice thing to say." Krystal said kindly. Chopper then blushed so much, that his face turned red as he then did his happy dance.

"Sh-Shut up!! I am not happy!! No, I am not happy!! Woaah!!" Chopper said happily as he then did a break dance. Krystal blinked in confusion as Robin just smiled at her.

"That's his way of saying 'You're welcome'." Robin said.

"Oh, I see." Krystal said as she watched Chopper dance some more. Falco was getting a little irritated as he faced at the trio.

"Okay, let me make this perfectly clear for you all." Falco said with a small glare, "Just because Fox got you out of prison, and allowed you to come aboard our ship, doesn't mean that we have to be friends. Keep in mind that you all are still under custody, and if you do just one thing that would upset me, or any of my friends, then you are going to go through me. Do we understand eachother?"

Chopper and Robin didnt reply while Franky just smirked. "Sure, we have no problem with that. As long as you play it cool, then we wont cause you any more distress."

"Just watch yourself, buddy." Falco threatened.

"Falco, why do you have be like that?" Slippy asked angrily.

"He's upset that he didn't fight the creature in town earlier." Krystal said, which startled Falco.

"I-I'm not!" Falco retorted, "It's just that it's hard to believe that these guys were able to do that, and they don't even look all that tough."

"Ho ho, you sure are blind as a bat, parrot." Franky replied with a smirk, "We are not just your ordinary pirate crew. Take a look at me, for example," Franky then opened his stomach, showing the three cola bottles inside as Falco and Slippy gasped, "I am a cyborg, animal bros."

"Wow!" Slippy said in awe while staring into Franky's stomach.

"This explains your looks…" Falco said, a little startled for what Franky did.

"And that's not all. These two here have eaten a devil fruit." Franky explained.

"A devil fruit?" Krystal asked. Robin smiled as she crossed her limbs, sprouting an arm between Falco and Slippy.

"Yikes!" Both Falco and Slippy were startled as they both fell on their rears in shock. "Where the heck did that come from!?" Falco asked.

"I have the ability to sprout copies of my body on anything in my sight." Robin explained.

Slippy just blinked in astonishment as the arm disappeared. Falco then looked at Chopper. "And what does the raccoon do?"

"What did you say!?" Chopper asked angrily as he then turned into his Heavy point, startling the Starfox team yet again. Chopper then saw Krystal startled too as he then turned back into his original self. "I'm sorry; I didn't mean to scare you."

"That's alright." Krystal said while regaining her composure. She then closed her eyes for a moment to read the Strawhat crew's thoughts. She then opened her eyes with an understanding look. "I see, so devil fruits give the user a unique ability in exchange for losing the ability to swim."

"Uh-huh." Franky said, "So like I said; we aren't your ordinary pirate crew. And this isnt all of us, you know. The rest of our comrades are still back in town, and our captain is the strongest of us all."

"Really? Wow, you guys are the coolest!" Slippy exclaimed happily.

"More like circus freaks…" Falco muttured.

Meanwhile… present time…

Fox adjusted the G-diffusers on his Arwing as they then entered Sauria's orbit. Getting through was a little rough, but it wasn't something that Fox couldn't handle as Zoro could see land. Everything looked prehistoric, and there was no advanced technology like Corneria have. Zoro then squinted his eyes to see that there were some dinosaurs around in some places.

"So there are just dinosaurs here?" Zoro asked.

"Just them." Fox said as he then found a landing spot. He slowly descended the Arwing onto a small plain next to a small river where there were some thorntails just slacking off. The Arwing's cockpit opened as Zoro got off first before taking a look at his surroundings. He saw a ruin just ahead of a river, and to it's left there was another ruin, with weird creatures flying around it.

"This place isn't really populated." Zoro said, "Is your friend here?"

"Not yet." Fox said while getting off his Arwing, "He comes around here during this time of day, and he must've noticed us arriving, so he should be here any minute." Fox then took out some of advanced gadget, "Here, put this around your wrist."

"What is it for?" Zoro asked while taking the gadget.

"It's a translator. Everyone here speaks in a different language, but with that, you can talk and understand what they are saying." Fox explained.

Zoro looked at the gadget before putting it around his wrist. Once he did, he could here talking among some thorntails in the area. "Hmm… so how is your friend like?" Zoro asked.

"You'll know once you get to know him." Fox said, "Tricky can be a little annoying at first, but he's a nice guy."

Zoro then gave Fox an odd look. "Tricky?… Nice name…" Zoro commented. Suddenly, the ground then shook a bit, catching Zoro and Fox off guard. "What's going on!?"

Fox somehow found the shaking a bit familiar as he then turned around, and looked up to see something falling.

"FOX!!"

"Look out!" Fox and Zoro jumped out of the way as something landed hard on the ground, creating a small dust cloud. Once the cloud vanished, it showed that there was a semi-big triceratops, with a horn on it's nose. It was also wearing some jewelry around it's legs, and a red jewel on it's forehead. Zoro blinked in confusion as the triceratops, or earthwalker, happily faced towards Fox.

"Fox, hey! It's been a long time since I've seen you around here!" The Earthwalker said- Tricky.

"It sure has been awhile, Tricky." Fox said happily, "You havent changed one bit since the last time I saw you."

"As long as my people are happy, then I wouldn't care less! Ha ha ha!" Tricky laughed, "So, what brings you here?" Tricky then turned around to look at Zoro, "And who is that weirdo friend of yours?"

"Weirdo?" Zoro asked.

"Actually, Tricky, I need you to do me a favor." Fox said as he then took out the control collar, and Zoro's swords. He then explained everything to Tricky, who smirked afterwards.

"Oh, so you brought a puppet to help things around here." Tricky said as he looked back at Zoro, "He doesnt look much, but he'll do just fine."

"Great, now put this on." Fox said as he then placed the voice command collar around Tricky's neck. He then placed Zoro's swords on Tricky's back, "You are responsible for this guy's swords. You can deactivate the barrier simply saying 'off'. I'll be back in a day to see how things are doing."

"Don't worry, Fox, I'll make good use of this guy." Tricky said happily.

"What am I, a tool?" Zoro thought as Fox then looked at him.

"Okay, I wish you luck out here. Remember, if you do a good job, Tricky will give you your swords back." Fox said, "I'm leaving now. Take care."

Fox then got back in his Arwing, and slowly ascended off the ground before flying away. As he left, Zoro and Tricky then looked at eachother. "So… you're a dinosaur, huh?" Zoro asked.

"Yeah… and you're a weirdo… right?" Tricky asked with a happy face. Zoro's eye twitched a bit as he then rubbed his temples with his right arm.

"This is going to be a long day…"

Meanwhile…

Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji finally made it out of the town as they could see their ship still in the same spot as they left it. "Oh, thank goodness they didn't take the ship." Usopp sighed in relief.

"Hurry, we need to see if Nami-san is still there!" Sanji said as he rushed off ahead.

"Check the kitchen first! We need to make sure that they didn't take any of our meat!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Like they'd want it!" Usopp barked.

The trio hurried down the stairs, and got on the ship, which everything seemed to be as they left it. "Hmm… I can still smell the meat in the refrigerator, so that means they didn't take it away." Luffy said happily.

"Something's not right here…" Sanji said by observation, "Nami-san, are you here?"

Sanji went up the stairs of the ship, and entered the women's quarters without knocking. "Nami-san?" Nami wasn't inside her room, which worried Sanji as he left. "Oi, Nami-san isn't in her room."

"Oh no, they must have got her already!" Usopp said.

"Hmm…" Luffy rubbed his chin as he just thought of something, "Maybe she is hiding."

"Y-Yeah! That must be it!" Sanji exclaimed, "Nami-san!? You can come out now! It's us, you're beloved prince, and the two morons! Nami-san!?"

Sanji heard no response, which made him worry deeply as he started to look everywhere. "Nami-san!? Where are you!? Nami-san!?" Sanji went running all over the ship, causing Usopp to feel dizzy as Sanji slammed a door open from men's quarters. "NAMI-SAN ISN'T HERE!! SHE'S GONE!"

"Shh!! Keep it down! You want to blow our cover!?" Usopp hissed.

"Hey, who goes there!?"

Luffy and Usopp turned around to see some Cornerian soldiers coming aboard the ship. "Oh, it's the sea pirates. Didn't we receive orders to just let them accompany us to ship hangar?" a guard asked his partner.

"Yeah, we did. We'll try to explain into them calmly." His partner replied as he looked at the trio, "It's a good thing we found you guys here. We need you to-"

"Where is she…?" Sanji asked as a red aura could be seen around his body.

"Huh?"

"WHERE DID YOU TAKE NAMI-SAAAAAAANN!?" Sanji turned around, and instantly kicked the guards off the ship, and into water. Sanji then faced towards his comrades with a demonic look, which frightened Usopp. "WE'RE GOING BACK IN TOWN TO FIND OUR CREW, ESPECIALLY NAMI-SAN!! COME ON!!"

"Uwaaahh!!" Usopp cried as he ran away, while Luffy blinked confusedly before following Usopp. Sanji lead the way as the trio headed back to town.

Meanwhile…

In the top floor of a building around the center part of town, the general, Peppy Hare, was doing some paperwork. "-sigh-.. This will take hours to finish." Peppy said out of boredom.

A automatic door then opened as a Lieutenant, which was an anthropomorphic panda, entered the room. "Sir, I am sorry to barge in like this, but just recently, we have received information that the sea pirates that haven't been captive yet have attacked one of our own men."

Peppy sighed once more as he looked at the Lieutenant. "Didn't I tell you all not to attack them?" Peppy asked.

"We didn't. They are the ones who attacked us." The Lieutanant said, "If we continue to allow to roam these streets, they-"

"Lieutenant, Fox told me that they are not our enemies." Peppy interrupted, "They must have attacked our men because they still believe that we are after them. Just let them hide for now, and we'll figure out how to get them out of hiding later."

"If you say so, sir…" The lieutenant said as he was about to leave, until he then remembered something, "Oh, and sir; before this happened, our detectors have detected an unidentified aircraft that went flying past Fortuna. Here are some photos of it."

The Lieutenant put some photos on Peppy's desk as Peppy took a look at them. Peppy's eyes widened as he took off his glasses in disbelief. "When was this taken!?"

"An hour ago. The aircraft is no longer there." The Lieutenant explained, "But don't worry, General Peppy, we have the situation under control. He won't come to Corneria without us knowing it."

Peppy stayed quiet as he placed the photos back on the table. The photos showed a humongous red aircraft, which Peppy seemed to be familiar with.

"Andrew Oikonny… just what are you up to this time?"

Starfox Pt 5

My internet is down… again. I don't know when this is going to end, but I hope it better be soon. Here's the next chapter. Enjoy!

All for my swords. Fox introduced the Strawhat crew to his team, who they didnt find the crew as exactly as they imagined. They all left Corneria as Fox assigned them to do community service for the planet, Sauria. Zoro decided to do this all alone just so he can get his swords back as Fox took him to Sauria. Meanwhile, Nami is nowhere to be found. Where could she have gone to?

Chapter 103: The sudden recruitment, A plan for revenge!

"NAMI-SWAAAAAAAAAN!!"

Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji were running all around town as a enormous group of Cornerian soldiers were chasing them all over the place. "Run! Run! Run!" Usopp cried while Luffy was just laughing as they continued to run. Sanji was running ahead, with his body already covered in flames of fury.

"NAMI-SWAN!! WHERE HAVE THEY TAKEN YOU!?" Sanji asked very loudly. The trio were running so fast, that the guards couldn't catch up as they all stopped running out of exhaustion. The trio then ran into a dark alley as Usopp sprinted towards Sanji.

"Sanji, wait!" Usopp yelled as he then tackled Sanji from behind as they both fell over several garbage cans.

"That looks fun!" Luffy yelled as he also jumped on Usopp and Sanji that were over the garbage cans. Usopp shoved Luffy off of him as he then saw Sanji getting back up.

"Listen, you cant just run into town since you are fully aware how much trouble we are in!" Usopp said, "And you must've known that they would have also taken Nami just like the others, but their is nothing we can do about it!"

"I don't care!" Sanji barked, "They took away Nami-san, and I am going to rescue her!"

"We don't know where she or the others were taken!" Usopp said, "The only thing we can do is wait until everything is resolved, and then we can reunite with the others in a nonviolent, and safe way."

"That's sounds boring." Luffy said with a simple minded look.

"Who cares!?" Usopp asked while smuggishly glaring at Luffy, "And by the way, why are you so okay with this!? Don't you know what we are going through here!?"

"Relax, I am sure Nami is fine." Luffy said with his usual happy look, "She must have taken a walk around town, or some guys must've jumped on her, and took her hostage or something like that."

After hearing that, Sanji was about to run off again, until Usopp held him by wrapping his arms around Sanji's chest. As Sanji struggled to break free, Luffy then came up with a thought.

"I have been wondering," Luffy said, "If Nami was captured by the guys here, what kind of things would they do to her and the others?" Sanji thought several things that might happen to Nami and Robin as he then started to run again, with Usopp still holding on to him as he was taken along for the ride. "Oi, wait for me!"

Luffy went to catch up with his crew as Sanji had a demon-like look on his face again. "NAMI-SAAAAAAAAAAAAAN!! WHERE ARE YOOOOOUUUUUU!?"

Meanwhile…

Back in Sargasso, there were something going on in the Starwolf's hideout. "No!! Please don't put that in my mouth!! MMM!!" It seems that somebody with a feminine voice was crying out something out of horror. "Agh! Stop! Don't put it there! It hurts!!" Cried the unidentified person as you could hear the sound of something thumping repeatedly inside the base. We now take a look inside to see what is going on.

"Ah.. ah.. AAAAAAAGHHH!!"

It turns out to be a male anthropomorphic monkey, who was screaming in pain as Nami was beating the heck out of him. "You idiot! Does this look like well done to you!?" Nami asked angrily while showing the monkey some meat, which appeared to be raw. She then shook the monkey guy back and forth by his shirt collar.

"I-I'm sorry! It was my fault entirely! Forgive me, please!" Cried the monkey like a little girl.

"Fat chance! Take this!!" Nami yelled as she then punched the monkey hard in the face. As she continued her assault, let's take a look at her surroundings. She was in a big area of the base, where it contained three floors that had several crates up against the walls. Their was a glass reactor in the middle of the place, behind a platform that elevates up to the third floor. On the third floor, there was an elevator that leads all the way to the top floor, which looked more organized than the lower floors.

Back in the first floor where Nami is at, there were several anthropomorphic monkeys just watching in horror how his comrade was getting beaten up by Nami. Next to Nami was a chair, and in front of the chair was a long rectangular table as the other end of it lied Wolf, and his team sitting down on their chairs. Wolf brought Nami into his base quite some time ago as he looked at how Nami was now stomping at the monkey's tail out of anger.

Panther was not looking at her for some reason, but Leon was getting rather annoyed with her attitude. "Why did you bring her here, Wolf?" Leon asked irritatedly, "You should've just killed her back in her ship. It would give her comrades the better reason to come, and attempt to get their revenge on us."

"There is no fun in that." Wolf replied with a bored look, "Besides, I don't kill people I hardly know. I just want to get to know her first, then I'll decide what to do with her later."

"Ergh… what makes you think that brat would come save her? She is just one of his lackies." Leon said.

"I know he'll show up…" Wolf replied as looked at Leon, "But for now, lets have our fun with this one. Look at her, she's already trying to fight her way out of here by trying to kill that guy."

Nami gave one more punch to the monkey's face, causing some of his teeth to fall off as imaginary stars were swirling around his head. "I… can't feel my face…"

"Good! I'll make sure it stays that way!" Nami yelled as she continued to punch the monkey. This was irritating Panther as he then slammed his hands onto the table.

"That's it! I cannot bear to watch this any longer!" Panther said angrily as he then got off his chair, and rushed towards Nami. He then got in between Nami and the monkey she was punching as Panther stood in front of Nami, who was starting to feel a little scared, while the monkey was feeling relieved.

"Oh, Panther, thank you for-GAH!" All of a sudden, Panther grabbed the monkey by his throat as Panther smiled at Nami.

"Please, do not let these beautiful hands of yours to get covered in blood." Panther said with a romantic look, "Allow me to do this for you."

"WHAT!?" The monkey gasped as Panther turned around, and gave him a glare before slamming his face down at the ground with great force, knocking him unconscious. Nami blinked in confusion as Panther looked back at her, showing off his romantic look again.

"Uh… thanks?" Nami said in confusion.

"Ah, it was no trouble at all, my dear." Panther said as he then puts his hands on Nami's chair, "Now please, sit back down and relax; I will make sure nothing will happen to you as long as I am here."

Nami felt a little unsure about this, but she slowly sat back down on her chair, pleasing Panther as he then walked back to his chair. Wolf then smirked at her as he placed his elbow on the table.

"Hey, princess, you should feel grateful that I haven't locked you up in a cage." Wolf said, "But the way you are treating my men is making me reconsider."

"A cage? Is that the best you got!?" Nami asked a furious look as she then laughed at Wolf, "Ah ha ha! Listen, I have went through much worse situations than being locked up in some cage! I have been locked up in three cages over a pool of lava; I nearly survived against a bloodthirsty knight; I was pissed off after this guy lied about some prize; I nearly had a heart attack after this moron raced through impossible odds, and left me and my friend stuck in a hole; I had to be in my underwear after losing a bet against my captain; I was pushed down a cliff while inside a crate; and I almost got killed several times on an island that turned out to be a stupid machine!! Now, I have even more things that I regret going through if you want to hear them!!"

Nami then panted angrily as Leon looked at with a irritated look, while Panther looked at her even more romantically. "Your underwear, you say? That truly must have been a sight to behold." Panther said.

Wolf sighed as he then looked at Nami with a disappointed look. "All of that, and you failed to mention us." Wolf said. Nami controlled as she then frowned at Wolf.

"Look, I have nothing to do with you." Nami said sternly, "Back in the bar; It was Luffy who wanted to fight you, not me. Why did you drag me all the way out here for!? For your information, I tried to stop him from doing anything stupid, but you must understand that he has no self-control. I apologize if he did say something to offend you, so let me go already! This is so pointless!"

"Are you done?" Wolf asked with a bored look, "I didn't kidnap you just for what your captain said or did; it's just that he seems so… interesting. He's a kind of man I have never seen before. An ability to stretch his body at will. You are his lacky, so tell me… how does he do it?"

"I don't see any reason why I should tell you about him." Nami replied with a stern look.

"Ha ha ha ha! Is that so?" Wolf asked, "That's fine with me, I can take a hint for what he is." Wolf then placed his feet on the table while smirking again at Nami, "So anyway, we've been talking like this for so long, we haven't even introduced ourselves. I am Wolf… and this is Leon, and Panther. We're a group called Starwolf; we are very well-known along the Lylat system, and we are a force to be dealt with."

Nami rubbed her arm as she was getting a little cold, "I'm Nami." Nami said while looking away.

"Nami… mmm, such a wonderful name for such a beautiful woman." Panther said with a pleased look.

"Oh, brother…" Leon murmured.

"So tell me, Nami, do you know why I brought you here?" Wolf asked curiously.

"Hard to say actually…" Nami replied, "You either brought me here as bait, or you just want something out of me."

"Well, you can say that." Wolf said, "But I also want to know how you got involved with the first Master door."

Nami then looked at Wolf with a surprised look, "You know of the door?" Nami asked.

"Why wouldn't I? I am a Smasher, after all." Wolf said, surprising Nami again, "By the look of your face, I can see you didn't expected that. You see, after you and your captain left the bar, I overheard you talking about the so called Mystery hearts for the Master door. At first, I didn't know what you were talking about since the hearts were never given a name, but after I saw you guys escaped from us using that door, I knew that someday that you, and the rest of your friends would come around my territory someday."

"So you knew we were coming?" Nami said as her eyes then widened, "Does that mean that you also know where the last Mystery heart is!?"

"What if I do? Would you beat it out of me?" Wolf asked, causing Nami to clench her fists out of anger, "You can't do much where you are now. Even if I did tell you where it is, how would you get back to your friends? Going out into the coldest and darkest parts of space? I doubt you would even last a second."

"Tsk! For all I know, you could be toying with me." Nami said while crossing her arms, "But… if you are telling the truth, then why are you even telling me about it? What good would come out for you for doing this?"

"Details…" Wolf sighed, "You wouldn't understand even if I did explained it to you. It's something only your captain needs to give me."

"You mean a fight?" Nami asked in disgust, "It's that all you been thinking about? I'm getting sick of this! Luffy has done nothing to you, so just leave him and the rest of us alone."

"Hmph! Don't treat us like some kids; we can do whatever we want here." Leon said, "So you better know your place before I make you regret it."

"I am not even talking to you, lizard." Nami replied rudely, which angered Leon since he was Chameleon to begin with.

"Why you… I'll break that neck of yours!" Leon yelled angrily as he was about to get up, until Panther stopped him.

"Don't you dare lay a finger on her! She is our guest, and deserves to be treated with respect!" Panther growled. Leon sat back down as he angrily looked away while Wolf nodded.

"Both Leon and Panther are right; you can't tell us what we can or cannot do." Wolf said, "And you are also a guest here, so just relax for a while; I'm sure your boyfriend will come and save you soon enough."

"Huh? Boyfriend?" Nami asked while blinking in confusion. Some moments passed as her face then started to grow red with anger as she then stood up from her chair, with flames of fury surrounding her body.

"BOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOYYYY YYYYYYYYYFR RRRRRRRRRRR RRIIIIIIIIEEE EEEEEEEEEN NNNNNNNNNN NNNNDDDDD!?"

Nami then picked up her chair, and tossed across the rectangular table as it crashed onto Wolf, who fell off his chair, and on his back as his men gasped upon seeing this. Leon was also surprised, as well as Panther, but in a good way as he somehow favored Nami's strength.

"Now listen here, you dirty mutt!" Nami yelled furiously, "Don't you ever insult me like that again! You hear me!? Don't you ever refer to me as Luffy's girlfriend, because I swear, if you do, I am going to do something so bad, it will make even the most cold blooded people like you to cry in regret! Do we understand eachother!?"

As the flames around Nami died out, Wolf's men had their jaws nearly dropping off out of shock.

"She just insulted the boss!"

"Does she have a death wish!?"

"C-Crazy woman!" Leon gasped while looking at Nami.

"Such beauty with great strength… a gem such as that should always be treasured within man's heart." Panther said romantically. As Nami was cooling herself off, she gasped as she just realized what she has done.

"Oh no! I got too carried away, and accidently let out my fury!" Nami gasped while putting her hands on her head, "This is bad!"

Wolf then opened his eyes as he angrily sat up from the floor, and glared at Nami while using the edge of the table to help himself stand up. Nami then began to run away as Wolf jumped onto the table, and chased after her. Nami then tripped, and was about to get up until Wolf jumped on her. "Ah!"

"Wolf!" Panther yelled angrily as Wolf looked down at Nami, seeing how frightened she looked while she closed her eyes in fear.

"Hmph… ha ha ha ha!" Wolf laughed as Nami then looked at him, "You know… I like you. You don't hesitate to show your true feelings while being a hostage. You don't pretend to be someone you're not in order to get back at somebody. And when you have something to prove…" Wolf then rubbed the bottom of his muzzle, "You certainly know how to show it."

Wolf then got off of Nami, and helped on her feet as Nami was curious where Wolf was getting at. "I have made my decision." Wolf said as he smirked at Nami, "How would you like to be a part of my team?"

"What!?" Nami asked in shock.

"Wolf!?" Leon yelled furiously.

"Wolf!!" Panther said happily with a rose in hand.

"Well? What's your answer?" Wolf asked Nami.

"I… uh…" Nami stuttered upon thinking what to say. Before she could say anything, though, a holographic monitor appeared behind Wolf, showing an image of one of his men.

"Sir, we have an aircraft heading this way. It's Oikonny."

Wolf frowned upon hearing that name. "Hold that thought, princess." Wolf said as he turned towards the monitor. "What does he want?"

"He didn't say. He just wants to talk with you."

"How about we just shoot him down when we have the chance?" Leon asked.

"Let's find out what he wants first." Wolf said as he then looked at the monitor, "Let him through."

The monitor then disappeared as Starwolf faced towards their entrance bay. They saw a small ship through a window as it heading towards the entrance as holographic lights helped led the ship inside. It went past a barrier, which only allowed aircrafts to enter or leave, as the ship landed in the small empty dock in front of it. A door on the left side of the ship then opened as staircase appeared from beneath.

Starwolf watched as two soldiers, who were anthropomorphic monkeys wearing black and red armor, and red visors over their eyes, came out of the ship as they looked at their surroundings.

They then faced back at the ship as someone else took a step out of the ship. He was an anthropomorphic snow monkey, a skinny one at that, with white fur, and a long face. He wore a red suit, yellow shorts, and brown boots. Nami looked at him as he got off the ship, and faced towards the Starwolf team.

"Wolf, my friend! It's been so long since we've last seen eachother." The gorilla said with a smirk-- Andrew Oikonny.

Wolf, and his team just glared at him as Nami was wondering what would happen next.

Meanwhile…

Back in the Great Fox, the Strawhat crew were getting along with the Starfox team, except for Falco, who was just looking out of the window, completely bored out of his mind.

"And after he did that, I flipped over his stupid elephant, and smashed it on top of him." Franky said, telling the story about Enies Lobby to Slippy, who was really liking it.

"That is so incredible! To be able to escape from a place like that without any of your friends dying must have been so crazy." Slippy commented.

"Ha ha, and that place is probably the least of our worries." Franky added, "I can't imagine what those guys have in store for us when we get back home."

While Franky continued to talk on, Chopper and Robin were talking to Krystal while sitting around a small round table. "I see… so you are the only left of your kind." Robin said after hearing some of Krystal's life story.

"For years, I wanted to know what really happened to my homeworld, Cerinia," Krystal said, "But I then found someone I can be with for the rest of my life, someone I can truly be happy with."

"That's Fox, right?" Chopper asked a bit sadly.

"Yes…" Krystal replied as she then smiled at Chopper, "But my friends are also important to me, even if they are people I just met." Chopper blushed at that remark as he tried to hide it by covering his face with his hat.

"-sigh-… You guys sure have a bunch of adventures. I somehow envy you." Falco said while still looking through the window. "But you guys will never have the kind of action that I have had over the years." Falco then had a cocky smirk on his face, "Perhaps I have failed to mention this before, but I also am one of the smashers in Master hand's tournaments. Now how do you think of that?"

Falco turned around, only to see that nobody was paying attention to him as they were still talking to eachother. This made Falco feel a little angry and embarrassed as he looked back at the window without saying a word. The automatic door then opened as Fox entered the brief room, coming back from dropping off Zoro into Sauria.

"I'm back." Fox said, getting everyone's attention.

"Geez, it's about time." Falco said while facing towards him, "You don't know the kind of stuff these guys were talking about ever since you left, and most of it sounds pretty weird to me."

"No way, Falco!" Slippy said while standing up as he faced towards Fox, "Fox, these guys are awesome! They had so many adventures back in their world, and they went to these places I never imagined existed before!"

"Well, I guess you guys are getting along just fine. That's good to hear." Fox said pleasingly as he then looked at the Strawhat crew, "I already left your friend in Sauria. He should be fine with Tricky by his side."

"Tricky?" Chopper asked.

"He's the ruler of the Earthwalkers; one of the two ruling tribes of Sauria." Krystal explained, "He's also a friend of ours that helped us save his world a couple of years ago."

"Oh." Chopper said.

"By the way, Fox, how is he?" Krystal asked.

"He's the same as usual, which bothers me at the moment." Fox said as he looked at Franky, "Are you sure it was okay to allow your friend to do all the work alone?"

"Swordsman bro is one tough guy, I am sure he can handle things by himself." Franky stated, "And besides, he'd probably rather die than to not get his swords back. That's just the kind of guy he is."

"If you say so…" Fox said a bit worryingly as he then looked at the planet, Sauria, through the window, "I just hope Tricky doesn't overdo things."

Meanwhile…

Tricky went walking around part of Sauria known as Thorntail hollow with Zoro's swords on his back as Zoro went walking beside him. "So… what am I suppose to do?" Zoro asked.

"Don't worry about your tasks." Tricky replied happily, "Right now, just enjoy the sights around here. This will probably be the last time you get to look at a place like this."

Zoro looked around Thorntail hollow, which didn't seem all that great to him. "I've seen better." Zoro replied. He then noticed Tricky looking at him oddly. "What?"

"You look so weird." Tricky said by observation, "I have never seen your kind of species before. Do they all look as weird as you?"

"No." Zoro replied bluntly.

"Oh… well anyway, it's time that you made yourself useful." Tricky stated as he made a gestured towards a boulder, "I want you to pick up that boulder over there."

Zoro glanced over his shoulder to look at the boulder. "Fine." Zoro shrugged as he walked towards it, surprising Tricky a bit.

"Whoa, really?" Tricky asked, "I mean, yeah, you better lift it up good." Zoro walked got in front of the boulder as he then squats to put his fingers underneath. Zoro took a deep breath as he then lifted the boulder with ease, shocking Tricky. "Wow! You actually did it!" Tricky said in awe, "Fox usually uses a staff to lift those up, but you only needed to use your hands. I'm impressed."

"What's the point of lifting this?" Zoro asked while still holding the boulder.

"Nothing. That's just a little warm up for you." Tricky said. Zoro dropped the boulder as Tricky made a gesture towards a big red looking mushroom leading out of Thorntail hollow. "You see those mushrooms? I need you to pluck them out, some of the Thorntails here are having problems getting through with those in way."

"Hmm…" Zoro eyed the mushrooms, getting an odd feeling, "I'll take care of it." Zoro approached the mushroom as he spreads his arms in order to grab it. He stopped as he then heard Tricky snickering from behind him. Zoro glanced over his shoulder to see Tricky now looking away. "What's so funny?"

"Was I laughing? I don't remember…" Tricky lied. Zoro turned his gaze back at the mushroom as he slowly approached it again. Tricky looked at him as he tried to prevent himself from laughing as Zoro was now really close to the mushroom.

"Got it!" Zoro said as he wrapped his arms around the mushroom. "Huh?" Zoro noticed that the mushroom was moving it's body as it let out a red spore, "Guah!" Zoro couldnt breathe with the spores around him as he quickly got out of the spore's range before falling on the ground.

"Pfft… PFFT HA HA HA HA!" Tricky laughed as Zoro then glared at him, "You should have seen the look on your face! 'Guah!' Ha ha ha ha ha ha! Oh man… whoa…"

"You didn't tell me they were poisonous!" Zoro barked at Tricky.

"Hello? I said they were in the way. What could you possibly have thought what I meant by that?" Tricky asked with a happy face. Zoro's eye twitched as Tricky then looked away. "Anyway, I changed my mind. Those things don't even do harm to dinosaurs."

"Then why did you wanted me to pluck them out!?" Zoro asked.

"Just so you could see that not everything here is safe for you. Consider that a lesson." Tricky replied with a cocky face. "Now then, I have another thing for you to do. Follow me." Zoro got on his feet as he followed Tricky to a big ruin, with several bird like creatures laughing while flying around it. "Those guys are nothing but trouble. I need you to kick them out of here."

"Now that I can do." Zoro said while cracking his knuckles.

"But I want you to use a weapon." Tricky said as he then looked at a tree with no leaves, "I want you to grab one of those branches, and use them as a weapon."

One of the branches then fell off the tree as they bursted into flames, causing Zoro to raise an eyebrow. Zoro then sighed as he then looked at Tricky.

"Listen… I know what you are trying to do here." Zoro said, "You are trying to wore me down so you can enjoy it. You are planning to keep on doing this so I could never get my swords back, but it won't work." Zoro then showed a confident look, "My spirit is unbreakable, you can try all the dirty tricks you want, but I will get my swords back from you. You may make a fool out of me, but you wont break me!"

Tricky then smirked at Zoro, "Well… if you know that… then what are you waiting for to grab that branch already?"

Zoro glared at Tricky with great hatred as he then looked at the flaming branch. He walked in front of it, and slowly moved his hand close to it, until…

"OWWWWWWWWWW!!"

Meanwhile…

Nami looked at Andrew with an odd look. "Who is he?" She thought as Wolf's men were glaring at Andrew, who simply smirked upon noticing them. He then approached Wolf, who was frowning while crossing his arms.

"Wolf, it sure has been a long time. How are you?" Andrew asked.

"What do you want, Oikonny?" Wolf asked rudely.

"Ha ha! Now, is that any way to talk to an old friend?" Andrew asked with a smirk.

"You were never my friend." Wolf replied, "You were just somebody that couldn't live up to my standards."

Wolf's men laughed as Oikonny frowned, "Well, friendship has nothing to do with this matter anyhow." Andrew said, "I came here to offer you a deal."

"What kind of deal?" Leon asked.

"Something you all will obviously be most interested in." Andrew said. Before he could say anything else, he noticed Nami standing next to Wolf. "Well, hello. Who do we have here?" Nami backed away as Andrew approached her, until Panther got right in front of Andrew, preventing him from walking any further.

"She is none of your business, Oikonny." Wolf said, "Just tell us what you came here for so we can kick you out already."

Andrew frowned as he backed away from Panther. He then calmed down, and smiled towards Wolf. "I assure you, you won't be doing such a thing after what I have to offer." Andrew said, "You see, for years now, we have been hiding in the shadows of space thanks to that wretched team of Starfox, the one who always manage to stand in our way."

"Starfox…?" Nami said.

"It's because of them that my uncle is not the rightful ruler of the Lylat system." Andrew stated with his hands clenched into fists, "Even when that day, two years ago, where we nearly had the chance to rule it all, they had to ruin everything once again!"

"Get to the point." Wolf said irritatedly.

"Ahem… the point is, we can finally get back at them, and this time, we will win." Andrew said with a cocky smirk, "We will leave no trace of the Cornerian Fleet, and Corneria, along with the rest of the Lylat system, will finally be ours to control!"

"Why do you keep saying 'we'?" Panther asked.

"Oh? Ho ho, I'm sorry, I am getting a little ahead of myself." Andrew chuckled, "I am here to offer you all to be a part of my fleet. And I must say this now that my new fleet is capable of turning an ordinary world into space dust."

"What makes you so sure that you can even win?" Leon asked, "No matter how big your army is, you always happen to lose."

"Heh heh heh… that will soon change." Andrew said with a smirk, "Some time ago, I have met someone that told me an interesting and convincing story. It's about how people like us are revived to have second chance in life."

Nami's eyes widened as what Oikonny said reminded her of something familiar. "Soon… very soon… he will come back, and finish what he has started so long ago!" Andrew said with a maniacal smile, "He will return… my uncle Andross! Eyah ha ha ha ha ha!"

Everyone in the base gasped, except for Wolf, who has been silent for a while as Andrew took out something from his pocket. "I can see that you are all very confused, but all will be explained in due time. Here, this a personal invitation card from me to you. It is a symbol that will represent our new rule for the Lylat System."

Andrew gave Wolf a card, with a picture of Andrew holding a world with both hands. Wolf didn't show any reaction upon seeing the card as Nami also looked at it. She sweatdropped upon looking at the picture.

"Very nice…" Nami said sarcastically.

"It is, isn't it?" Andrew asked, "So, what do you say, Wolf? Although, it's obvious that you are going to say 'yes'. Afterall, you can't achieve a single thing by yourself. All you can do is attempt to win against Fox, but you always fail. It's destiny that you'd become one of my men in order to finally destroy Starfox after having atleast a decade of losses against them."

As Andrew continued to talk, he failed to realized that he was making Wolf angrier and angrier as Leon finally had something to say. "You know, it's funny that you always talk about how you will win, yet you are too weak to prove it to yourself. Hmph… as a matter of fact, you're were always the loser of our team. That's why we kicked you out the in the first place."

Andrew frowned at that remark as he was about to say something until Wolf did something that caught his attention. "Augh!?" Andrew saw Wolf tearing up the invitation cup into little pieces as this completely flabbergasted Andrew. "W-Wait a minute! Did you just-!?"

"You have a lot of nerve coming into my turf, and telling me what I should to do to make things better for my life. You were lucky that you haven't completely ruined my good mood, or else, I would've torn you apart!" Wolf said as he threw the pieces of the invitation to Andrew's face, causing him to fall on his rear.

Andrew's guards were about to defend him, until Wolf's men aimed at them with their blasters, causing them to stop as Andrew picked up some of the pieces of the torn card. "Hey, hold on a second! This was a unique invitation card I made just for you!" Andrew said as he then angrily looked towards Wolf, "Have you lost your mind!? Do you have any idea what my uncle would do to you if he finds out about this!?"

"You're uncle is dead." Wolf replied rudely, "And even if he does come back, there is nothing he can do to resolve this. Do you want to know why?" Wolf asked while lowering his head down to Andrew's level, "Because your uncle is a failure. No matter what he does, he will always fall under the pup's hands. In fact, I bet anyone other than Starfox could defeat Andross; a moron would even suffice."

"How could you say that about him!?" Andrew asked angrily while crawling backwards, "Oh, wait a minute, I think I know what's going on here." Andrew then smirked, "You're just jealous because I have everything you always wanted. The power, the wealth, the fame of being the most dangerous person of the entire Lylat System. I have the power to conquer this entire system with an iron fist, while you have nothing but your issues that you will never resolve."

Andrew then got up as he backed away further, "That's why you kicked me out of your team in the first place, because you couldn't stand the fact that I was better than you. I have done so much for myself that you have to hide it just like you are doing right now! Face it, Wolf… I have surpassed you in every way."

"No… Oikonny. You have surpassed nothing." Wolf said as he then walked towards Andrew, "The reason I kicked you out wasn't because you were getting better than me. It was because that you were the weakest of my team. You were always complaining, and you never did anything right. Even Pigma could do a much better job in our work than you would have done in a decade. And all that power and wealth you mentioned, you simply got it from your dead uncle. You were always a kiss up, Oikonny, you could have never done anything good other than to selling yourself out, like the Anglar incident, for example, I wasn't surprised when you joined up with them. Too bad you didn't gain anything out of it."

"Ergh!" Andrew backed up against the bow of his transport as Wolf continued to walk closer to him.

"You've always been a disgrace… and to think that you believe that we are alike… we're not!" Wolf said as he was now inches away in front of Oikonny, who was getting a very nervous, "I have a better chance of taking down Starfox than you will ever have. No matter how many ships, no matter how many men, no matter how much enthusiasm you think you have; it means nothing to all of us. So go back to your little group, and go on with your so called 'victory plan', because failure is waiting for you again."

Andrew Oikonny had enough hearing from Wolf as angrily gets away from him. "You have not heard the last of this! Once my uncle comes back, I will tell him everything you just said! He will destroy you all!" Andrew said angrily.

"I'll be waiting…" Wolf replied. With one last glare, Andrew angrily stormed back into his ship, followed by his guards as the doors of the ship then closed before taking off. Once Andrew's ship was no longer in sight, Nami was a little relieved, and a little nervous after seeing how Wolf handles things.

"Hmph! You sure know how to deal with people." Nami said.

"If I didn't, I would be dead by now." Wolf said. "Now then, where were we?" Wolf asked as he turned around to face Nami, "You were about to give me your answer whether you wanted to join my team."

"Er.. you do know I am already part of a crew! Why would you want me to join you!?" Nami asked.

"It's only for a matter of time." Wolf said, "After I deal with your captain, you can continue to stay with us if you like."

"What if I don't?" Nami asked.

"Then I'll throw you off into space. I have no use for people who wont cooperate with me." Wolf replied, startling Nami.

"Ah! I-I wouldnt mind tagging along with you for a while." Nami laughed weakly, "So… okay. I'll join you… for now."

"Yes!" Panther exclaimed happily, while Leon didn't like the idea very much. Wolf smirked upon hearing her answer as he then faced towards his Wolfen.

"Very good." Wolf said, "And you couldn't have joined in a better day than this. We have a little objective we need to do in a planet around here. This will be your test to see if you are truly capable part of my team. Can you handle what I have in store for you?"

At first, Nami didn't felt too sure, but she then grew confident as she then gave the thumbs up to Wolf. "You bet I am! I'm ready to take down anything you throw at me! Bring it on!"

Wolf glanced over his shoulder to look at Nami as he then smirked at her.

Starfox Pt 6

Okay, I got my internet back now, and I hope it stays with me this time. Anyway, here is a decent chapter for you all. Enjoy!

Turned down. Nami was kidnapped by Wolf, and was taken into his base in Sargasso. Wolf then offered Nami to be a part of his team, which Nami had no choice but to accept in order to stay alive. Before that happened, Andrew wanted Starwolf to be a part of his army, which Wolf declined simply because he believed that Andrew couldnt live up to become a real leader. What will Andrew do to prove Wolf wrong?

Chapter 104: Incoming assault!, Starfox team takes flight!

Andrew's ship flew across space, with two of Andrew's guards piloting it with Andrew himself sitting on a chair at the center part of the control room, or bridge for short. The trip was quiet and uncomfortable as Andrew had his arms crossed, angrily thinking what happened to him with Wolf in the last chapter.

"How dare he mocks me!?" Andrew thought, "I'll show him… I'll show them all!"

One of the pilots then looked at him. "Sir Oikonny, we have-"

"Emperor! Call me Emperor Oikonny!" Andrew demanded, "I will soon become ruler of the Lylat system, so I suggest you start calling me emperor from now on."

"Yes, Emperor Oikonny. I just want to inform you that we have arrived back to the base." The pilot said.

"Ah, excellent. Proceed towards my ship at once." Andrew ordered. The pilot nodded as he and his co-pilot flew the ship around some huge asteroids. Once they got through them, Andrew could see a humongous fleet of red-colored motherships, which turned out to be his fleet as Andrew's ship flew towards the biggest mothership in the center of the fleet.

Andrew's mothership opened up it's hatch to the hanger as the Andrew's ship flew inside, and docked on a vacant space insid the hanger. The ship's doors then opened as Oikonny stomped his way out, and walked along in a center of his soldiers, who saluted him as he walked by.

"Telling me I am pathetic… he's pathetic!" Andrew muttered, "Has he forgotten that my great uncle Andross was the one who gave him a purpose to live!? I'll make him suffer for his actions, and he will beg for mercy!" Andrew took a long walk towards the bridge of the mother ship, which was really big as he then approached to the control panels, where several of his men where typing something on the keyboards. "What is our current status?"

"All ships and pilots are ready to take flight, sir." One of Andrew's men said, "We will proceed according to your plan when you are ready."

"Yes… finally, I have been waiting for this day to come." Andrew said while clenching his fists in excitement, "I'll show the Lylat system who really is the boss around here! Eyah ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Ah ha ha ha! You certaintly are rushing things, my friend."

"Huh!?" Andrew turned around to see somebody lurking in the shadows in the back corner of the bridge. The person then walked out of the corner as it turned out to be Dimentio, who happily approached Andrew as he then calmed down. "Oh, it's just you…"

"You are rather confident for someone who just recently rosed up in power." Dimentio commented, "I suggest you let things take it's own course; that's probably the only way you can get satisfaction without any hesitation."

"Hmph! I know what I am doing! You just stay there, and watch as I take over everything here!" Andrew said rudely.

"Of course, of course; relax, my friend, I am simply here to observe your qualities as a future ruler of the Lylat system, that's all." Dimentio said happily.

"Yes, I know." Andrew said with a grim look as he then faced the other way, "I do admit that your arrival has allowed me to gain such power that could only be obtained once in a lifetime, but that is the least of my concern in the moment." Andrew then looked back at Dimentio, "You promised to revive my uncle, and make him one of the rulers of the new world if I promised to help you out take care of some… people you talked about! Why haven't you yet taken care of your side of the bargain!?"

"Oh, sadly, you have misunderstood in our agreement." Dimentio said sadly, yet happily somehow, "You see, the new world, Obscurum, is the only world capable of reviving such great, and powerful people such as your uncle. Unfortunately, I cannot foretell when or where your uncle will be revived, but don't worry; things like this always happen at the right time and place. I will guarantee that you will get a good laugh out of this, like seeing a little boy and his friend go crazy after drinking some sea water. Ah ha ha ha ha!"

"Tsk! You better not play any tricks on me." Andrew warned, "As soon as uncle Andross comes back from the dead, there would be no stopping us from destroying Starfox, and anyone else who dares oppose us!"

"I see… by the way, how was your trip earlier?" Dimentio asked, which made Andrew feel angry.

"I don't want to talk about that!" Andrew yelled, "All I can say is that I gained a new enemy, which will also be in my path of destruction soon enough."

"Ah yes, now you see that recruiting men could be quite a task. Especially when it comes in finding the right people." Dimentio said.

"Don't worry; I know exactly who to choose to be a part of my army. I already sent out a messenger to recruit one of the most deadliest people I know in the Lylat system." Andrew said as he then looked out the big window in front of the bridge, "But it's been a while since he was gone. Just what could be taking him so long!?"

Meanwhile…

In a big ice mountain on Sauria, there were something going on in a small fort of snow. "Ahh!!" A soldier, which was Andrew's messenger, got knocked down on his back as he was bleeding from head to toe. Around him were a bunch of anthropomorphic dinosaurs, or Sharpclaws, who laughed at the soldier's pain. "You're making a mistake… Emperor Oikonny will destroy you all for this treacherous act…"

"As if we fear that pitiful excuse of a living being." Said one of the Sharpclaws as he got in front of the wounded soldier. He was really, really tall amongst the other Sharpclaws. He has green scales, and has two big hooks for a left hand. He wore a red silk armor with a black symbol on it. He also wore black and golden, spiky shoulder pads, some red armor on his kneecaps, a big belt around his waist, and a helmet with horns on his head. "No one like him should even be a leader! Only the strong ones should be worthy to rule all! Just like the great General Scales!" yelled the tall Sharpclaw-- General Scales.

"You won't hear the last of this! You are throwing away the biggest opportunity of your life!" The soldier cried in pain. This caused General Scales to pick up the soldier by the neck, and lift up him several feet from the ground.

"Why should I work for someone related to the man who ruined my life!?" General Scales asked, "The only people that are truly worthy of ruling anything is that they can give fear to their hosts, and I am not intimidated by your leader!" Scales then started choking the soldier, "I deserve better, and I won't let you come here, and make a mockery out of me! All those who dare insult General Scales shall be punished by death!!"

General Scales then threw the wounded soldier right through the snow fort wall, and right over a cliff, never to be heard from again. The Sharpclaws celebrated as General Scales then raised his hands, catching all the Sharpclaws' attention.

"It is time for us to come out of hiding, and take rule over this planet! I, General Scales, will lead you all to victory over the tribes that have rejected us!! Victory will be ours at last!" General Scales said as his men yelled in agreement. General Scales turned away as he then looked as his hooks. "This time… that Fox McCloud isn't here to ruin my plans! There is nobody in this planet strong enough to defeat General Scales! Nobody!!"

Meanwhile…

"ACHOO!!" Zoro sneezed. He was finished doing Tricky's task of taking care of the flying creatures that were causing a disturbance as they were all gone now. Zoro's hands were a bit burned from doing holding those flaming branches Tricky wanted him to use as Tricky walked up to him from behind.

"Good work! I didn't think you would do it so quickly while screaming like a girl." Tricky commented.

"I have went through harder things before; this was hardly anything." Zoro replied while facing towards Tricky. "And I don't consider my screaming to sound to like a girl compared to your voice."

"Heh! You better watch what you say, or I'll smash these swords of yours." Tricky threatened with a smirk.

"You do, and I'll smash you." Zoro replied with a smirk as well. They both glared at eachother for a couple of seconds, until a female pterodactyl, or Cloudrunner, flew around Thorntail hollow before landing on the ground. Tricky noticed her, which startled him as he hid behind Zoro. "Huh?"

"King Tricky, we have serious matters to discuss." The Cloudrunner said.

"W-We have nothing to talk about!" Tricky said a bit nervously, "Anything you want to say, say it to the puppet in front of me!"

"Oi!" Zoro said angrily as the Cloudrunner sighed.

"We have been having trouble with some minor reconstruction back in the Cloudrunner fortress." The Cloudrunner explained, "If we do not resolve this problem in time, just about anybody or anything could infiltrate our defenses easily. As Queen of the Cloudrunner tribe, I suggest that you Earthwalkers lend us your assistance."

"I already told you last week that I'd handle it!" Tricky replied without even looking at the Cloudrunner, "And you are worrying too much. Nothing bad has happened to Sauria ever since those bugs attacked us two years ago. So just give me a break already; I have other things to do, you know?"

Zoro looked at Tricky as the Cloudrunner queen sighed again. "Sometimes… I question your leadership. I don't know what your parents saw in you, but you better start showing some responsibility around here as the leader of the Earthwalkers, or else we may suffer some hardships because of you."

The queen then flapped her wings as she then flew away, leaving Tricky to look at the ground angrily. "What was that all about?" Zoro asked while facing towards Tricky.

"What? It's just my way of doing things around here…" Tricky said with a frown.

"Then why did you try to hide when she came here?" Zoro asked.

"Ergh…" Tricky then looked at Zoro, "She is a Cloudrunner, and I am an Earthwalker. Our kinds are the ruling tribes of Sauria, and we don't get along that well. My parents taught me to never trust any of them."

"That doesn't sound right. How do you intend to keep peace in this world if you don't get along with your other tribes?" Zoro asked.

"It's not that I dont, it's just that I dont trust the Cloudrunners that much." Tricky said as he then gave Zoro an odd look, "You have been asking a lot of questions. Are you actually that worried about me?"

"No. I could care less about you actually." Zoro said.

"Heh! Well, that's okay; I don't like you that much either." Tricky replied with a smile as he then walked past Zoro, "Come on, let me take you towards another place that is in dire need of your assistance this time."

"I hope it's something that you really need help with." Zoro said as he followed Tricky. He then stopped as he felt an odd wind whistling by. "Hmm… that's strange… something doesn't feel right about this… oh well." Zoro shrugged as he then followed Tricky out of the west part of Thorntail hollow.

Meanwhile…

Back in the Great Fox, Fox was finished telling the story about the Anglar incident as Franky was crying like crazy after hearing it. "UWAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!! OH MY GOD! THAT'S SO SAD!! UWAAAAHHHUHHUH!!" Franky cried as tears poured out of his eyes like waterfalls.

"Geez, man, why are you crying? Get a grip." Falco nagged.

"Idiot! I am not crying, you idiot!!" Franky cried while wiping the tears off his eyes, "It's just that… going against someone you love in order to get them back sounds so dramatic! Uwaahh, I need to sing a song about this!" Franky then took out his guitar out of nowhere as a spotlight lighted above him before playing his guitar, "Once you fall in looovee… you cant let it go, or else you will regrrreeet iiiitt."

"Will you shut up!?" Falco asked angrily.

Chopper was also crying, but just a bit as Robin felt a little sad too. "I can understand why you had to break up with Krystal, but it wasn't worth breaking her heart for it." Robin said to Fox.

"Yeah, man!" Franky yelled angrily, "She trusted you, and you break up with her!? You're a bum!!"

"I know what I did was wrong, and I could never forgive myself for it." Fox said regretfully, "But I was able to make up for my mistake, and I'm very glad I did, or else I…"

"It's okay, Fox, that's all in the past now. We don't have to remember that anymore." Krystal said kindly to Fox. Fox felt better as Krystal looked at the Strawhat crew, "I didn't know what I was doing back then. I didn't know whether I wanted to get revenge or just wanting Fox to fall in love with me again. I'm happy that I didn't do the wrong thing."

Fox put his arm around Krystal's shoulder as Krystal cuddled into his chest. Seeing this was touching, except for Chopper, who felt a little jealous. It was then that ROB entered the room.

"We picked up a video distress signal." ROB said, catching everyone's attention, "I'll display the message into the monitor."

Everyone looked towards the center of the room as holgraphic monitor appeared, showing a statical image. "The image isn't picking up." Slippy said.

"Let's just listen in. I'm sure the audio is working fine." Fox said while he and Krystal got up. ROB turned up the volume as everyone could hear the sound of woman crying, including sounds of explosions in the background.

"Help… us.." Said the voice, "W… can't.. sto… !"

The transmission then ended as Fox then looked at ROB. "Where was this transmission sended from!?" Fox asked.

"From the planet, Katina." ROB said, "It seems that they might be under attack."

"It's true, Fox, I'm sensing various distressful thought patterns coming from Katina." Krystal said before she opened her eyes worryingly.

"Yes! Now that's what I've been waiting for!" Falco said enthusiastically.

"ROB, set a course to Katina! We have to find out what's going on over there!" Fox said. ROB nodded, and left the room as Franky, and his comrades were a little concerned.

"Is everything alright?" Robin asked.

"We're not sure yet." Slippy said while typing on a keyboard in the center of the briefing room, "I'm trying to contact Katina headquarters, but I cant get through to them for some reason."

"Our only option is to get there, and see what is going on." Fox said while crossing his arms, "We may have to fight something, so all you have to get ready."

"Yo, bro, we want to help out too!" Franky said as he walked in front of Fox. Fox looked at his team to see what they thought of idea, and they all seemed to have different opinions upon Franky's offer. Fox then looked back at Franky with a concerned look.

"You guys don't have to help us; we can handle it." Fox said.

"Bro, we didn't come here so you can babysit us." Franky said while pointing to himself, "I know you guys well enough to trust you all, and you know that you can count us! So we're going to help you out no matter if you like it or not."

"Well… okay." Fox said with a smile, "Once we get to Katina, you three will handle the ground while the rest us of take care of the air."

"Ow! You wont regret this, furry bro!" Franky said as he did his victory pose.

"Great… let's hope they don't get in my way." Falco said with a smuggish frown.

"I'm actually interested to see those guys in action." Slippy said happily.

"I hope they don't get into too much trouble there." Krystal said a bit worryingly. The Great Fox then made it's course to Katina.

Meanwhile…

Titania; a world known for it's hot climates, and desert wastelands. It's one of the few worlds that has no population whatsoever due to very hot weather during the day, and very cold weather during the night. There were three Wolfens on the rocky surface as you could see Starwolf, and Nami walking along the desert, which Nami didnt like.

"Ohh… what is with this heat!?" Nami asked, "The moment I stepped foot on here, I was already sweating!"

"Titania is known for it's hot weather," Wolf said while walking, "It's one of the reasons why nobody lives here… and I don't blame them. Who would want to live here anyway?"

"Heh! This world is more suitable to ditch unwanted company." Leon said as he then smirked at Nami, "I wouldnt mind leaving you here to rot."

"And I wouldn't mind roasting you into an edible lizard with the heat here, but I rather avoid junk food." Nami replied rudely. This angered Leon, but he was able to keep his calm as Nami wiped the sweat off her forehead. "This place is so hot… there isn't even a single place to look for some shades."

Panther then faced towards the sun, casting a shadow over Nami behind him as she blinked in confusion. "Do not worry, my dear, I will be your shade for the rest of this trip. Feel the coolness that I offer you from the bottom of my heart."

"Eh… whatever." Nami shrugged. She then looked at Wolf, and glared at him from behind, " What am I going to do? I cant escape; I'll have nowhere else to go. My only option is to play along with these guys, but…" Nami then looked away, "Was he serious when he invited me to his team? So far, I think he's using me as a tool, and that lizard will probably kill me when he has the chance. The only one I can trust is this cat here. "

Nami then looked at Panther, who was now sweating as he continued to cast his shadow over Nami. "I may suffer from 2nd degree burns, but as long as you are not under this blazing heat, then I dont care!" Panther said proudly.

" Yup, he is the only one I can count on. " Nami thought while sweatdropping. She then stared back at Wolf, " That guy is too dangerous to be around with… I doubt that he really wants to be a part of his team. Just what is he planning? "

"Even though it's hot out there, I can still feel the icy stare you're giving me, Princess." Wolf said, catching Nami off guard, "If you have something to say to me, say it already."

"Okay, I want to know the real reason why you invited me to be a part of your team." Nami said. Wolf laughed a bit before responding.

"Must there be a reason? I invited you because I just wanted to, that's all." Wolf explained.

"Are you sure it isn't because you wanted to make Luffy angry?" Nami asked. Wolf then stopped walking as he glanced over his shoulder to look at Nami.

"Luffy… that's your captain's name right?" Wolf asked, "I'll be sure to remember that name later on."

Wolf then continued walking ahead as Nami was getting a little impatient. "What are we even doing here anyway? I don't see any reason to be here."

"There are several reasons why we're here, Princess." Wolf explained while walking, "One of them is that you must show me how good you are in battle. Your looks and attitude wont be enough to satisfy my needs; so you better not wimp out on me out here."

"Wait, I thought you said nobody lives here." Nami said.

"I could be wrong." Wolf replied, "You better keep your guard up, or you might end up dead."

"Over my dead body!" Panther yelled while still casting his shadow over Nami.

"And what is the other reason?" Nami asked.

"Well, some say, there might be hidden treasure around here." Wolf said. This caused Nami to instantly bright up her mood as berri signs appeared over her eyes.

"Treasure!? Really!? Here!? Are you serious!?" Nami asked excitedly, startling Leon.

"Whoa, take it easy!" Leon said.

"Nami sounds so amazing when she cries out of pure joy." Panther said with a romantic look.

"Anyway… I'm not sure if there is a treasure here." Wolf said, "If there is, we can get much profit out of it. If not… well, this little trip wont be a complete waste. As long as you learn something from me, then it's fine."

Nami's eyes turned back to normal as she, and the Starwolf continued to walk along the desert. As she walked, she stared at the sand, having something else on her mind. "Hey… I got one more question, if it's okay to ask."

"Go ahead. Ask away." Wolf replied without looking at her.

"That guy from earlier… the one you kicked out?" Nami said, "He talked about his uncle Andross… who is he?"

Wolf and the others stopped walking the instant Nami asked that question. Nami felt as if she had asked something she shouldn't have asked as Wolf placed his hands on his hips while looking down at the sand.

"He was just some mad scientist who wanted to rule the Lylat System, just like his nephew." Wolf explained, "Only the difference is that, unlike his nephew, he knew what he was doing." Wolf then lowered his gaze as he imagined a space-like background with a shady figure of a head, and two hands in it. "Nobody knows where he came from. Was he always that crazy for power? No one knows for sure… but he was a threat to the Lylat System."

Nami listened to Wolf as he continued to explain, "He showed up from the planet, Venom; a despicable world with no value at all. Andross killed a well-known and respectable pilot, which turned out to be his downfall. Years later, Starfox came, and defeated Andross' army, and then the pup defeated Andross himself."

"The pup?" Nami asked.

"It's his rival, Fox McCloud." Panther explained, "He and Wolf have crossed paths countless of times before. I have joined Starwolf a few years ago, so I wouldn't know that much about it."

"Starfox have been in our way for a long time." Leon said, "They even blamed us for something we haven't even done to them. Hmph, and they say we are the troublesome ones…"

"Starfox… Starwolf… really imaginative names there." Nami commented as she then looked at Wolf, "But if you don't like this Starfox, then why didnt you join with Oikonny, or whatever his name is, to help beat them?"

"I'd rather do that with what I have. I don't intend to lower myself to Oikonny's level just so I could win." Wolf replied as he then faced towards Nami, "To tell the truth, I once worked with Andross before he was defeated. It wasn't pleasant, but it did taught me not to work with his kind again."

"And aren't you worried that Oikonny said was true, and that Andross will come back?" Nami asked sternly.

"I doubt that he knows how to revive the dead. If we don't know how, how could he?" Wolf joked.

"This isn't funny!" Nami yelled while approaching Wolf, "I actually believe that Oikonny was telling the truth. Trust me, I have heard and seen this kind of thing happen before, and if Andross is as bad as you say he is, then you guys have to do something before he comes back from the dead, or something really bad might happen to all of you."

Leon and Panther were both surprised to hear Nami say that as Wolf smirked, "Why, I didnt know you cared. Has my leadership obtained your respect so quickly?" Wolf asked.

"Noooo, it's just that if you die, than I will die, and I don't want that to happen." Nami said.

"Ha ha ha ha! You're quite hilarious, Princess." Wolf said, "But like I said before; you have to show more than attitude in order to be a true member of Starwolf."

"Yeah, yeah; let's get going already." Nami sighed. Wolf smirked again as he and everyone else walked on for a couple of more minutes until they then started walking up a cliff. Once they reached towards the top, they see a vast desert with some kind of base in the center.

"And there's our target…"

Meanwhile…

In the planet, Katina, lies an outpost with several satellites on the corners of it's borders walls, and a big tower on the center. The outpost was under attack by Oikonny's troops as his infantrymen already infiltrated passed the border walls, and charged towards the tower where Cornerian fleet soldiers were shooting them away. Despite the effort, the Cornerian fleet were slowly loosing their ground as they were also being attacked by Oikonny's aircrafts.

"We can't hold on much longer! We need help!" Yelled a conerian soldier as more of Oikonny's men were charging through the outpost's walls.

The Great Fox then appeared from the clouds as the Strawhat crew, and the Starfox team could see the war going on through the windows. "This must be Andrew's work…" Fox muttered.

"That chimp just doesn't know when to give up." Falco said. Fox then looked towards the Strawhat crew.

"We'll be leaving with the Arwings." Fox explained, "You guys have no choice but to jump off once the Great Fox is close enough to the floor."

"Jump off?" Chopper asked nervously.

"Don't worry about us, bro. You handle the flying bugs while we take of the roaches on the ground!" Franky said confidently.

"Right! Starfox team, move out!" Fox said. He and his team quickly left the briefing room, and ran through the hallways to get inside the hangar. The hangar's doors opened as the Starfox team got into their Arwings, and took flight out of the Great Fox as they then flew towards the enemy aircrafts. "Don't let them destroy the outpost! Protect this place as much as you can!"

"On it!" Falco yelled as he then flew his Arwing towards several aircrafts. "Take that!" Falco fired some beams at the aircrafts, shooting several of them as they then exploded into pieces. After Falco finished them off, some enemy aircrafts tried to attack him from behind. Falco smirked as he did a loop, getting behind the aircrafts chasing him as he then shot them from behind, destroying their boosters as they spiralled their way downward before crashing into the floor. "Woohoo! Now this is what I'm talking about!"

"Here I go!" Slippy shouted as he went ahead of his team while firing at several enemy aircrafts.

"Slippy, don't get cocky!" Krystal warned.

"Hey, Slippy, you already have boogies on your tail!" Falco said as Slippy was already being chased by an enemy aircraft.

"Whoa, leave me alone!" Slippy cried while trying to avoid the aircraft. Fox quickly came to the rescue as he shot down the aircraft with several beams before flying past Slippy. "Oh, man… I thought I was a goner. Thanks, Fox!"

"You have to work on your flight skills, Slippy! We can't keep helping you out all the time!" Falco said while flying around the outpost.

"This is not the time to argue! We are not done yet, so we have to deal with these guys first!" Fox yelled as he then did a U-turn, and fired at the enemy aircrafts in front of him.

Chopper, Robin, and Franky were watching the Starfox team deal with the aircrafts as Chopper saw Krystal shooting down one of them. "Krystal is so cool!" Chopper said happily. ROB then came into the room, and faced the crew.

"We have lowered ourselves into the best distance possible! You are clear to jump off!" ROB said.

"Yosh! Come on, you two, let's show them what we are made of!" Franky yelled.

"Yeah!" Chopper said excitedly. Robin nodded happily as she and her comrades ran out of the room. They hurried down into the Great Fox's exit as they looked over the floor to see the ground below. "Um… it's a little far, don't you think?"

"Jump!" Franky grabbed Chopper, and jumped off the Great Fox, with Chopper screaming in fear upon going down. Robin jumped as well as she then sprouted arms from the ground, catching Chopper and Franky as they could have gotten if the arms weren't there to catch them. Robin also landed on the arms before they disappeared as Franky then pointed enemy troops running towards the outpost. "Our enemy is right there! Go!"

Franky ran ahead of Chopper and Robin as some of the enemy guards turned around after hearing Franky yell earlier. "What the!?"

"FRANKY BOXING!" Franky punched the guards repeatedly, knocking them all out as he ran through them. Chopper and Robin ran past the injured guards as Franky ran into the outpost, seeing an enemy guard aiming a rocket launcher at the center tower. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, and punched the guard hard, causing him to accidently fire his rocket launcher upwards, and shoot down one of his aircraft companions. The aircraft then skidded across the ground as it headed towards Franky, who was able to stop it with his own hands. "Grr!!" Franky then lifted the destroyed aircraft, and spun around a couple of times before throwing it at some enemy guards far away from him.

"Guah!" Several guards got hit by the aircraft from behind as this caused the enemy soldiers to face towards Franky, and his companions, who just regrouped with him.

"Oh no, they've seen us!" Chopper cried. The guards then took aim at the trio with their blasters, until arms sprouted from their bodies, and held them in place.

"CLUTCH!" The arms broke all the enemy soldiers' backs as they limplessly fell on the floor unconscious. The Cornerian fleet saw the Strawhat trio fighting off the Oikonny's men, which they then decided to help them out by shooting off some enemy troops as well.

Fox flew the Arwing around the tower as he was being chased by some enemy aircrafts. Fox then quickly hit the brakes, causing his Arwing to momentarily stop as the enemy ships went flying past him, giving Fox the chance to shoot them from behind. The enemy ships went down easily as Fox looked through windshield to see Franky and the others doing a fine job taking care of the enemy troops. "They sure know what they are doing." Fox said before he focused back on his flying.

"Roar!" Chopper turned into his Heavy point, and punched several of Oikonny's men in the face, knocking them all out instantly as they fell flat on their backs. The battle continued for several minutes until Krystal shot down the last enemy aircraft flying around the central tower.

"I think that's it." Krystal said.

"Seriously? This was too easy…" Falco said a bit disappointed.

"Wait a minute! There is something big coming here from the radar!" Slippy yelled. The Starfox team turned towards the south part of the Outpost to see a giant mechanical crab heading towards their way.

"What is that!? The Death Crab!?" Falco asked in shock. The Death Crab moved it's spiky legs towards the Outpost's walls, and tried to demolish them with it's humongous pincers.

"It's trying to get into the Outpost!" Fox yelled, "Hurry, we must stop it!" The Starfox team quickly flew towards the crab, firing multiple laser beams at it, but the crab's armor deflected the beams as the Starfox flew past it. "Huh!? It didn't do anything to it!" Fox gasped.

"Analysis complete! I'm bringing it up on the monitor!" Slippy said. Holographic screens appeared in front of the team's windshield, showing a health gauge, and the Death crab's weakpoint. "This one is different than the one from two years ago. Instead of it's pincers, it's weakness is located under it's belly."

"We can't hit it unless it jumps, and I dont think it's going to be doing that anytime soon! Look!" Falco yelled as he saw the Death Crab slamming it's pincers onto the wall in front of it, bringing it down as it then walked through.

"Hmm!?" Franky and his comrades turned around to see the crab coming towards them.

"Wah! What is that thing!?" Chopper asked while backing away.

"Whatever it is, if we don't stop it, it will destroy the tower behind us!" Robin yelled. As the Death Crab slowly made it's way towards the tower, Franky got in front of it, and connected his arms to his tube.

"Wh-What's Franky doing!?" Slippy asked worryingly.

"That moron! If he doesnt get out of the way, he is going to get creamed!" Falco yelled.

Franky smirked as the crab was getting closer to him. "Like they said before; the bigger they are, the harder they fall! 1.5 MAX COLA HOU!" Franky's arm's were inflated with air as the Death Crab was just several feet close to Franky. "COUP DE VENT!" Franky fired out a massive current of air, which was strong enough to stop the crab from going any further as it then got knocked off it's spiky legs, and was sent flying over the wall until it then crashed on it's back hard.

The Starfox team couldnt believe what just happened, especially Slippy, who had his jaw wide open in shock. "Oh… whoa!! That was amazing!!" Slippy yelled out excitedly.

"The heck… how did he… !?" Falco asked in shock. Fox and Krystal were also surpised as they then saw the Death Crab's weakpoint.

"Hey, the Death Crab's weakpoint! Now is our chance!" Krystal said. The Starfox team quickly flew towards the crab while firing at it repeatedly. Fox could see the Death Crab's health gauge on his screen was slowly depleting as Fox came up with an idea.

"Everyone, fire your bombs at it!" Fox ordered. His team nodded as they lined up horizontally while flying towards the Death crab. "Now!" They all fired a single smart bomb at the same time as they then did a quick U-turn as the bombs made impact on the Death Crab's belly.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOMMMMMMM!!

A humongous explosion engulfed the Death crab, completely destroying it as Franky and his friends were amazed by the looks of the explosion. "Wow…" Chopper said in awe.

The Katina Outpost was secure as the Starfox team landed their Arwings on the ground. They got out of their Arwings as they approached the Strawhat trio. "Are you guys okay?" Fox asked.

"We're fine." Franky said, "This turned out to be quite fun after all."

"You guys were amazing out here! You destroyed that giant crab so easily!" Chopper said happily.

"We were amazing? It was thanks to you guys we were able to destroy it!" Slippy said happily, "I mean, the way Franky knocked it over… I would have never saw it coming! It was awesome!"

"I'll admit, it was a bit cool." Falco said as he then looked at Robin, "And what you can do with those arms of yours… remind me not to piss you off."

Robin giggled as Krystal looked at Chopper. "You were pretty brave yourself out here too. I thank you for helping us save this place." Krystal said kindly, causing Chopper to blush.

"I… no problem. Eh heh…" Chopper replied kindly while rubbing the back of his head. The Cornerian troop leader of the Katina outpost then approached Fox, and the others.

"Thank you so much for helping us out. We couldn't have done it without you." the leader said.

"It was no problem at all. We are only doing our duty." Fox said.

"Yes… it's good thing you were around here at the right time." The leader said, "We somehow couldn't call out for reinforcements when the attacks started." Hearing this confused Fox.

"Wait, so you didnt send out a distress signal?" Fox asked.

"Distress signal? No, we couldn't have possibly send out one. Our transmissions were cut off during the entire assault." The leader explained.

"Come to think of it.." Fox then looked at the indicator on his wrist, seeing something that confused him even more, "That's funny, the distress signal suddenly stopped responding."

"Huh? Wasn't it a girl who called us out here?" Franky asked.

"Impossible. There are no female troops here." The leader said. The Starfox team felt worried about this as Falco was having a feeling.

"Why do I feel like this happened before?" Falco asked.

Suddenly, everyone could hear a sound of cheap engine running as an old yellow aircraft, with black smoke coming out of it's rocket boosters, flew from behind an Outpost wall, and went flying above the group.

"Bueh heh heh heh! I can't believe you fell for that again!" Yelled the pilot inside the aircraft. It was a fat anthropomorphic pig, with pupiless eyes, and was wearing a pink and white jumpsuit.

The Strawhat crew had no idea who he is, but everyone seemed to have know. "Pi-Pigma!?" Fox gasped upon seeing the pig.

"Long time no see, aye, Foxy?" The pig asked-- Pigma Dengar.

"No way! How is he alive!?" Falco asked.

"No… how is he back in his original form!?" Krystal asked in shock. Pigma adjusted himself on his seat as he looked down on the group.

"You bunch of idiots! You come all the way over here without even having a clue that this might have been a trap!? I've overestimated you guys. Heh heh!" Pigma laughed.

"Wait… you made that distress signal!?" Fox asked.

"'Oh, someone please help us,'" Pigma said with a girly voice, "'We cant stop them by ourselves! They're are too powerful!' Bueh heh heh heh! Those voice acting lessons have finally paid off! And now, it's time for the real show to begin! Only you have to go to Corneria to see it live!"

"What are you talking about, you fat pig!?" Falco asked.

"Right now, Oikonny is sending his troops to the Cornerian square, and they are going to invite an old friend to their party!" Pigma said.

"Friend?… You dont mean-!?" Slippy asked.

"That's right!" Pigma replied, "My old buddy, Peppy, will be our guest of honor! He will have a swell time with Oikonny, believe me! And after Oikonny takes over your planet, he will make me the richest man ever! Bueh heh heh!"

"This pig is bugging me!" Franky said as he aimed at Pigma with his left wrist, "I'll shoot him down!"

"Ohh, I'd think you'd rather high tail it out of here, and get to Corneria before the show starts! You don't want to miss it! Bueh heh heh heh!" Pigma then flew his ship out of the outpost, leaving the group as Franky took aim.

"I'll can still shoot him down from here!" Franky said.

"Wait, Franky; he's right!" Fox said, "If what Pigma said was true, then we need to head back to Corneria. We can take care of Pigma later!"

Franky watched as Pigma completely left Katina. He then looked back at his comrades. "Well, what are we standing around here for!? Let's get out of here!"

The group agreed as they quickly left the Katina Outpost.

Meanwhile…

The sun could be seen rising over the horizon in the planet Corneria as Peppy was finally finished doing his paperwork. "Phew…" Peppy said exhausted as he puts away the paper in his cabinet. "Finally done with this. Now I should get working on putting these in their proper files." Peppy then looked at the stack of papers before sighing, "Being a General isn't all that great as it sounds… I wish there was something more exciting I can do."

Suddenly, a guard when rushing into his office. "Sir, we have a big problem in our hands!"

Before Peppy could ask, Peppy noticed a gleam coming all the way from out of the Cornerian capitol. He took out his binoculars from his desk cabinet, and looked through them to see a fleet of Oikonny's ships heading towards town. Peppy lowered his binoculars as he then rubbed his head in worry.

"This was not what I had in mind."

Lured into a trap! Starfox have received a distress signal from the planet, Katina. Will the Starfox team get to Corneria in time before something bad happens?

Chapter 105: A big loss, An unlikely confrontation

The sun continued to rise over the horizon in the planet, Corneria, as a new day emerged for the Capitol's residents. Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji were sleeping around some trashcans in an alley near the edge of the capitol as they were starting to wake up.

"Ah…" Luffy yawned while rubbing his eye as Usopp and Sanji were also waking up after a unpleasant rest. Luffy got on his feet, and looked at the bright, which caused him to smile. "What a nice morning. Cant wait to run around town again. Heh heh!"

"Ohh, please, don't talk about running," Usopp groaned while getting up tiredly, "I had enough of that yesterday."

Sanji sat up with his head lowered, still thinking what may have happened to Nami. "We must find her today…" Sanji said while getting up, "We have to find where they are keeping Nami-san, and the others right now. We cant keep slacking off like this."

"Slacking off? We're running away from those guards all night! You call that slacking off?" Usopp asked.

"Mmm, I guess Sanji's right; it's not fun running all over town without the others." Luffy said while walking out of the alley, "Hey, let's go break them out, and show them how much fun we're having."

"We cant do that! We need to prove our innocence first! We cant just… oi!" Usopp yelled as he watched Luffy walking away. Usopp then lowered his head in depression, "There is no reasoning with that guy."

"The sooner we find Nami, the better." Sanji said while walking past Usopp, "Come on, let's move."

Luffy walked towards the edge of the capitol, first looking down at the ocean before staring at the sunrise. "Hee hee! Yosh, let's start our day!" Luffy said with his arms raised up in the air. He then a noticed a small gleam ahead of him, which got bigger by the second. "Huh?" Luffy squinted his eyes to see what was coming as his crew walked up to him.

"What's wrong, Luffy?" Sanji asked.

"I don't know; there is something over there." Luffy said while putting his hands on his knees. Usopp was a little curious what Luffy was looking at as he brought down his goggles over his eyes, and zoomed in towards where Luffy was looking at.

"It's a little bright to see anything. I can't tell what you are looking at, Luffy." Usopp said while searching.

"There is no time for this." Sanji said impatiently, "We have to-"

"Oh, wait a minute, I see it now!" Usopp interrupted. He didn't know what it was, but it was coming towards the capitol with great speed. "Uh… It's coming towards us!"

Suddenly, it went flying over the trio, and past the town as it flew higher in the air. The Strawhat trio turned around as Luffy admired it. "WWWWWHOOOOOAAA!! THAT'S SOOOOO COOOOOOL!!" Luffy said with his eyes sparkling with joy.

"What is that thing!?" Sanji asked. What they didnt know was the flying vessel was one of Oikonny's aircrafts as it then did a U-turn, and flew back towards town.

"It's coming back!" Usopp cried.

"Oiiii!! Over here! Can we ride on you!?" Luffy asked the aircraft while waving it's arms to get it's attention. The aircraft then fired laser beams at Luffy and his crew.

"YAHH!!" Usopp cried as he, and his comrades quickly got out of the way as the aircraft flew past them. The trio then got out of hiding as Luffy was now angry.

"Hey! What's the big idea!?" Luffy asked furiously.

"Luffy!!" Sanji yelled as he saw more of Oikonny's aircrafts coming towards town. The trio saw all of the aircrafts fly over them as the residents of Corneria started to panic. The Cornerian soldiers were also alarmed as one of them took out a communicator.

"We're under attack! Send the air fleet out here now!" Cried the enemy aircrafts were then starting to shoot at some buildings, and vehicles as the civilians were running away in panic. The soldier then faced towards his comrades. "Take the civilians into shelter! We must protect this town!"

"AAAAAAAHHHHH!! We're being invaded again!!" Usopp cried while running around in circles.

Some bigger aircrafts then stayed hovering in place as their doors opened, revealing several of Oikonny's soldiers inside as they attached their suits with a security line attached to the aircraft in order to lower themselves to the ground safely. They jumped off their ships, and lowered themselves on the ground as they detached the security lines from their suits, and started shooting at some Cornerian soldiers.

Luffy saw the battles going on in town as this angered him. "They're attacking the animal people! We have to help them!"

"No way! They're going to blame it on us again if we do that!" Usopp yelled until Sanji grabbed him from the back of his suspenders.

"Nami-san might be inside in one of these buildings! We cant let them destroy the town!" Sanji yelled.

"Let's go! Charge!" Luffy yelled as some explosions could be heard in the background. Luffy and Sanji went running into town, with Sanji bringing along Usopp by yanking him off his feet as Luffy pulled back his arm as one of Oikonny's men saw him coming.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!!"

Meanwhile…

Outside of Corneria's atmosphere, there was a huge mothership flying around as it was letting several aircrafts into Corneria. Inside the bridge, there were several pilots typing on their control panels as Dimentio was also there, looking at the scenery.

"Ah, such a lovely world." Dimentio commented, "It's a shame that 'Emperor' Oikonny wants to ruin it's peaceful nature, but I suppose it's for the best. Ah ha ha ha!"

"We're bringing up footage of the attack up on the screen." Said one of Oikonny's men as their were several holographic screens appearing in front of the bridge's window, completely blocking Dimentio's view of Corneria. Dimentio didn't mind, though, as he saw several footage of the ambush currently going on in the capitol.

"Oh ho, how pleasant. I am almost glad that 'Emperor' Oikonny demanded me to come all the way here to see things going as scheduled, not that it made me angry when he demanded me in the first place. Ah ha ha ha ha!"

As he looked at each monitor, one of them caught his attention. He stared at it for a bit to make sure, and once he did, he was happier than before (If that was possible). "Well, what do you know? Now I am absolutely glad that I came here." Dimentio said happily as he then looked towards a muscular soldier next to him, "Excuse me, I request a favor from you, since you are in control here."

The soldier looked down at him with a frown, "I dont need to do anything for you." The soldier replied rudely, "I only respond to the great Emperor Oikonny. You are of no importance to me, even if you are the Emperor's companion, so I suggest you stay there, and keep quiet, you freak."

"Ah ha ha ha! I understand your loyalty, I really do." Dimentio said as he then slowly faced towards the soldier, "But, you know… I also helped out around here. I made sure your 'Emperor' could have all this power, and keep control of it. I made sure that his uncle will be here soon, and I made sure that none of his soldiers were likely to betray him, including you."

"Hmph! Emperor Oikonny could have done all that by himself." The soldier replied, "You just happened to speed up the process. You are no use to our Emperor now, so do all of us a favor, and drop dead. That way, we don't have to listen to you anymore."

The soldier then stood firm again as Dimentio was simply smiling after hearing what the soldier said to him, "Wow, you certainly are loyal. But sometimes, it's good to do things for others, especially when it comes on taking care of your well-being.

The soldier eyed Dimentio as he walked in front of him, "Now, I am not the one who likes to make threats, because that results giving sorrow to the ones threatened. I don't like sorrow; it saddens me, and makes me think of such… bad things." Dimentio said with a smile, inspite what he said, "I don't like that, and in order for me to stay happy, I want everybody to be happy! But in order to do that… you have to make me happy by fulfilling my little request…"

The soldier then started to sweat nervously as Dimentio then lowered his head, "Or… maybe you don't want me to be happy." Dimentio said with a sad tone, "Maybe you dont want anyone to be happy at all. You want to disappoint your 'Emperor' by forcing me to destroy everything that has meaning to him, or you want to me kill all your family and friends in order for everyone to stay sad for the rest of their lives, or maybe… everybodys' family at that. And do you know who will be the blame for all that sadness? It will not be your Emperor's fault… but it will be yours."

By the time he said that, everyone in the bridge were quietly listening in towards Dimentio's sad speech, making them grow nervous by the second. The scared one of all was the soldier Dimentio as he tried not to show his fear, but was failing miserably as he was sweating like a pig, and was breathing at a quick pace as Dimentio then placed his hand on the soldier's shoulder, causing him to nearly loose his balance as Dimentio then raised his head, showing a smile on his face.

"So, why don't we avoid those kind of dreadful events, and let's be friends?" Dimentio asked happily. The soldier nervously nodded slowly as this made Dimentio even happier, "Splendid! Now, people tend to do favors for their friends, so pay close attention for what I need from you."

Meanwhile…

Nami squinted her eyes to take a good look at the base past the cliff she was on. It wasn't that big, but there were some machinery around the walls, and it looked abandoned as well. "So that's where the treasure is?" Nami asked as Wolf walked past her.

"That's the only place we haven't checked around here." Wolf said, "There should be something there."

"And it was so close from where we landed." Nami said with a frown.

"It's better to be safe than sorry, Princess." Wolf said as he then looked at his team, "Ready?"

His team nodded as they then jumped off the cliff, and slid down the sandy slope before coming close to the edge. They jumped off, and went down until they landed their feet on a rocky surface. The only one who didn't go along was Nami, who was still looking at the slope, feeling nervous to even go down.

Wolf then looked up, and looked at Nami. "Hey! Get down here!" Wolf said.

"Are you kidding!? I can't do the same thing as you did! This is too far for me!" Nami yelled.

"Princess, I am not asking you to come down here; I am telling you!" Wolf yelled.

"Leave her up there." Leon said, "She is too scared to even move. Just let her rot."

"If I was down there, I would have knocked your teeth out by now!" Nami barked at Leon. Wolf then sighed as he took out his blaster, which had a big claw attached to it, as he then aimed it at Nami.

"Okay, here's what you are going to do," Wolf started to explain, "Either you jump off right now, or I'll shoot your legs so that you have to crawl your way down here!"

"Eek! Okay, fine! I'm coming down!" Nami cried nervously. She nervously got on her knees, slowly putting her legs on the slope, but then stopped as she was getting more nervous by the second.

"Don't worry, my dear; I will catch you! Your life rests upon my arms!" Panther said while raising his arms.

"That makes things worse…" Nami muttered, "Okay… here I go! Ah!!" Nami pushed herself down the slope as she slid down at a decent pace. She then went slid down faster as her eyes popped out of her head as soon as she saw the edge of the slope. "WAH!! TOO FAST! TOO FAST!! WAAAAAAAAAAHHH!!" Nami fell off the slope as she then fell all the way down. As she frantically moved her arms, Panther quickly got under her to catch her.

CRASH!!

Nami landed right on top of Panther's chest as Panther fell on his back. Nami rubbed her head as she sat up in relief. "Oh… I'm okay. Thanks, Pa-… !?" She noticed that she was on Panther's upper chest as Panther opened his eyes to see that his head was in between Nami's legs.

"Such… an amazing view!!" Panther said romantically happy.

Nami punched Panther in the face five times before getting up on her feet. She then stomped away, leaving Panther with a bloody snout and muzzle as he then pushed Leon out of the way to get in front of Wolf.

"The next time you want to shoot me, go ahead, and shoot! I will probably die, but it's going to be your loss!" Nami yelled at Wolf's face. She then walked past him, heading towards the base as Wolf smirked at what she said to him.

"Ergh… I for once agree with her. Shoot her the next time she doesn't follow your orders!" Leon said angrily as he then walked ahead of Wolf. Wolf chuckled a bit before walking to the base too as Panther got up, and dazedly caught up with his team.

"Even though you have harmed me, my love for you will always remain alive!" Panther yelled loudly and romantically.

"Shut up!" Nami yelled from a distance.

Meanwhile…

Zoro and Tricky went walking past an open gate, and walked along a narrow path that had several strange plants that emitted lights. Zoro then sighed as he looked at his surroundings. "So where is this cape thing again?" Zoro asked.

"Cape Claw, and it's just along this path." Tricky said. They then got out of the narrow path, and saw two paths leading to different directions. "Okay, we go right from here."

"Okay." Zoro said. Tricky went ahead, but then realized that Zoro wasn't following. He turned around to see Zoro going the wrong path.

"Hey, where are you going?" Tricky asked, stopping Zoro from going any further.

"You said to go right, so I'm going right." Zoro said.

"You're going left! This is right, man!" Tricky said. Zoro slightly shrugged as he then took the right path, and regrouped with Tricky. "You must be the smart one of your kind, right?"

"Shut it." Zoro replied. They then walked up a small cliff, and over it was a small pool of water. Zoro jumped off first, and dived into the water a bit before bringing his head out of it. "Hmm?" Zoro then looked up to see Tricky jumping off the cliff, and went falling above Zoro. "GUAAAAHH!?"

SPLASH!

Tricky dived into the pool hard, causing a wave that knocked Zoro back ashore. Zoro shook his head as Tricky laughed while getting out of the water. "Watch what you're doing! You nearly flattened me!" Zoro yelled.

"Excuse me for being big!" Tricky replied, "It's not my fault you dont know the difference between left and right!"

"That has nothing to do with this!" Zoro replied angrily before calming down, "You know what, forget it. Let's just keep going already."

Zoro walked off as Tricky hurried to his side, "Hey, wait up! You'll get lost without me!" Tricky said. They both then walked into a rather dark cave with some odd plants lighting up the way. It was long cave as Zoro and Tricky were quiet along the way. "So how long do you know Fox?"

"Not much at all." Zoro replied, "He just got me and my friends out of prison, and took us to his ship. That's pretty much it."

"Huh… I see." Tricky said.

"How long do you know him?" Zoro asked.

"Ho, for a couple of years." Tricky replied with a smile, "I'll never forget when we met eachother. He fell into a cold lake just so he can meet, and protect me. Ha ha, I can never forget the silly look he showed after that."

"Protect you? From what?" Zoro asked.

"Well, you know how there are different tribes in this world? Their was one in particular that was a big threat to us all, and they had to be stopped." Tricky said as he then remembered the incident that happened a couple of years ago, "They were known as the Sharpclaw tribe, and they are the most ruthless kind of all. They wanted to take over Sauria after they have been rejected to be a ruling tribe, and stole the spellstones to tear this planet apart."

"The spellstones?" Zoro asked.

"They're magic stones that keep this planet together." Tricky explained, "Their leader, General Scales, also took away the Krazoa spirits from the Krazoa temple, making this world completely vulnerable to his attacks. He didn't rule for long, though; Fox came, and together we defeated Scales, and returned the spellstones and the Krazoa spirits back to their place!"

"You must have been alot of help." Zoro said uncaringly.

"Most of the time, yeah, but except when Fox went to the temple to face off with Scales. I didn't know what happened to Scales, but I bet Fox kicked his butt hard!" Tricky said confidently.

"And everything turned back the way it was. Nice story…" Zoro said.

"Not really." Tricky said while looking at Zoro, "There was this little bug thing that happened a while back, but that's another story." Tricky then faced forward, "I'm just happy that everything is back the way it was. Sauria has been so peaceful as of late."

"Hmm…" Zoro replied as they then walked out of the cave, and was now in small and narrow forest, with the trees having brown leaves. They walked on as they got in front of a gate, with a small maze beyond it.

"Cape Claw is just a little further." Tricky said while walking ahead, "I have been through this maze lots of times before. Just follow me, and we can get to Cape Claw in no time."

As Tricky walked ahead, Zoro felt an odd wind whistling by again. He stood silent for a couple of seconds until he then followed Tricky to the maze.

Unknown to them, was that there was black smoke coming from a long distance from where they are at. The black smoke was coming from the Cloudrunner fortress as the front entrance was nearly covered in flames. There were several Cloudrunners that were badly injured, and their Queen was also injured as she was in the center of a walled area, where there were several Sharpclaws gathering around her.

"Ugh…" The Cloudrunner queen groaned as she was too hurt to get up. General Scales then walked into the area as his fellow Sharpclaw moved out of the way so he can get in front of the queen.

"Well, well, well… why am I not surprised that we were able to conquer your species for the second time?" General Scales asked with a smirk, "Nothing here has changed during my absence! You're disgrace for being so weak!"

"I… you wont win!" The queen yelled angrily. Scales then picked up the queen by her neck, and lifted her from the ground with ease.

"Deja Vu, your Highness." General Scales said, "The last time you doubted my control over this world, that Fox came, and ruined everything! But the good thing about this second attempt is that he is not here to stop General Scales! I have control over this fortress now, your Highness, and this time, nothing will stand in my way!"

"Not for long, you won't!" The queen cried, "You will be destroyed! And your entire tribe will hide back in the shadows for the rest of their lives!"

General Scales glared at the queen, but then smiled as he then lets go of her, allowing her to limplessly fall on the floor. Scales then turned away as his men started beating the queen while she was down. As the queen cried in pain, Scales felt great as he spread his arms while looking up at the sky.

"Ahh… fear is good!" Scales declared proudly. Scales then puts his arms down, and faced towards a group of Sharpclaws. "The Cloudrunner fortress is ours! There is only one more tribe that stands in our way!" Scales then pointed to the exit, "Find King Tricky, and bring him here alive! Once he's out of the way, this world will once again be ours to rule!" His men cheered as they then left the area.

Scales then looked at his hooks. "This time, that runt will have nowhere to run!"

Meanwhile…

The war on the Cornerian capitol continued as the civilians were able to take shelter from the unexpected assault, while the Cornerian fleet did their best to fight off Oikonny's troops. They were getting extra help from the Strawhat trio as Luffy, and Sanji were taking of any man that stood in his way, while Usopp was hiding behind an upside-down landmaster.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm, and punched an enemy guard, knocking him out as he crashed into several of his companions afterwards. Some of the guards finally noticed Luffy attacking him.

"Who is this kid!?" An enemy guard asked. Before he could do anything else, Sanji kicked him at the back of the head, knocking him out in the process as Sanji then looked around to see the war between the Cornerian fleet, and Oikonny's soldiers getting more intense by the minute.

"Luffy! We have to finish them off as quickly as possible! I dont know how long this battle will last!" Sanji yelled.

"Yooooosshhh!! I'm gonna kick everyone's asses!" Luffy roared as he then charged at another group of Oikonny's troops. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly stretched out his arms, punching every single troop in front of him as they all got knocked out instantly. This grabbed the attention of some of the other troops as they then aimed their blasters at Luffy. "GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretched his leg, and swung it horizontally as he kicked all the guards that were aiming at him, knocking them off their feet as they crashed into some buildings next to them.

Sanji quickly jumped right in the middle of Oikonny's troops, who noticed Sanji as they saw him do a handstand. "QUASI!" Sanji span around with his legs spread out, kicking every troop around him as they all got knocked off their feet, and crashed into several of their companions. Sanji then noticed two more troops that tried shooting him from behind as Sanji did several backflips to confront them. "COLLIER FLIP!" Sanji kicked the troops under their chins, sending them flying high enough that they crashed into one of their allies' aircrafts, which startled the pilot as he accidentally crashed his ship into the ocean.

"Go! Beat 'em up!" Usopp cheered while hiding. By shouting, he accidentally caught the attention of several enemy troops. "Whoa!" Usopp quickly hid behind the upside down landmaster as the guards hurried where he was. Once they got behind the landmaster, several thumps could be heard as several seconds later, the same guards fell on their backs unconscious, with bumps on their heads as Usopp came out of hiding while holding his hammer as he panted heavily afterwards. "Eh.. ha! Dont mess with Captain Usopp!"

Inspite of the Strawhat trio helping out the Cornerian fleet, the war didn't seem like it would end pretty soon as their seemed to be more enemy ships than Cornerian ships. As it seemed that Cornerian air fleet could no longer fight on, a huge laser beam shot most of them down.

"Wha!?" A Cornerian pilot looked up, and saw the Great fox descending through the clouds as it flew straight towards town. Everyone inside the ship saw the war going on, which didn't make anyone happy.

"They're so many of them!" Chopper said in awe.

"I never thought Oikonny would go this far!" Fox yelled in shock as he then faced his team, "We have to get out there now!"

"Right!" His team responded as they quickly left the bridge. Chopper, Robin, and Franky could only watch how the war continued until they saw the entrance to the Cornerian hangar was also getting attacked.

"Oi! They're attacking that place too!" Franky yelled as he then looked at ROB, "Do something, robot!"

"I'm initiating the Great Fox's attack procedures." ROB replied. The Great Fox took aim at the enemy ships flying around the hangar as it charged it's cannon until they have reached it's maximum capacity. The mothership then fired a huge beam at the enemy ships, creating a loud explosion that destroyed all of them, including part of the hangar's entrance.

The explosion was loud enough for the people inside the hangar to hear, especially the person that has been hiding there the whole time. MPNo. 1 looked to his right, and saw the shadow of the Great fox passing by the entrance. His eyes widened as he quickly got out of hiding, and jumped onto a wall before running alongside it. He then did multiple wall jumps until he was underneath the entrance. He wall jumped his way out, and saw the Great Fox above him. He squatted a bit, and then did very high jump, and managed to grab onto the guard rail on the back of the ship close to the emergency exit.

MPNo. 1 pulled himself over the guard rail, and simply walked through the door without anyone noticing him as the Great Fox then opened it's hangar doors, allowing the Starfox team to fly out while piloting their arwings.

"Fox, you leave the bigger groups to me! You guys go, and protect the old man!" Falco said, referring to Peppy.

"Roger!" Fox said, "Slippy, Krystal; move out!" Fox yelled.

Fox, Slippy, and Krystal then flew into town, while Falco was shooting off some enemy ships that were flying outside the Cornerian capitol. The Great Fox also made it's way to town, which was in the opposite of where Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji are as they were still fighting off some troops.

"Guys, this is pointless! We'll never survive this way!" Usopp cried while trying to avoid enemy fire.

"There is nothing else we can do!" Sanji yelled while kicking an enemy troop away. After Luffy took care of some enemy soldiers, he looked up, and saw higher driveway that was above some buildings in town.

"If we can get higher, we can beat up some of those flying things!" Luffy yelled as he then stretched his arms all the way up to light post. Usopp and Sanji knew what Luffy had in mind as they then held onto him tightly. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself upwards, along with Usopp and Sanji, as they flew all the way up until they were above the higher driveways. Usopp and Sanji landed roughly on it, while Luffy managed to land on his feet, and observed the whole town from where he was. "The town is so huge from here! It makes those flying thingies look so small!"

"Now is not the time to admire that!" Sanji yelled as he then picked up Usopp, "You're the Marksmen! Fire at them!"

"Eh!" Usopp nervously got out his Kabuto, and aimed at some enemy ships. "ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp fired four explosive pellets as they exploded upon hitting four enemy ships, destroying them as they spiraled past the trio, and into the ocean floor. "Yes! I got them!"

"Great! Now keep firing!" Sanji said.

"Wait, fire at that thing!" Luffy yelled while pointing forward. Usopp and Sanji turned around to see that Luffy was pointing at the Great Fox, which was descending a bit as Usopp shrieked upon seeing it.

"I can't destroy something that big! Are you nuts!?" Usopp asked.

"I heard a very loud explosion earlier, and I think that big thing is responsible for it!" Luffy yelled angrily, "We have to stop that thing somehow!"

Back at the Great Fox, the hangar doors were still opened as Chopper, Robin, and Franky quickly jumped off the ship, and landed safely on an empty street that hasn't been attacked yet. The Great Fox then ascended from the town as Franky could see some of Oikonny's men heading his way.

"Dang, monkeys!" Franky muttered as he then aimed at the soldiers, "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired a blast at the group as it knocked most of them down. Franky continued to fire as Chopper then turned into his walk point, and charged at the enemy soldiers.

"HEAVY GONG!" Chopper turned into his Heavy point, and swung his fist horizontally as he punched several of the enemy soldiers in front of him.

The remaining guards then tried to shoot at Chopper, until some arms sprouted from their bodies as they binded them in place. "TWIST!" Robin clenched her hands into fists as the arms she sprouted on the guards twisted their bodies until they snapped their backs in two. The guards limplessly fell on the floor as Franky, and Robin quickly regrouped with Chopper as he looked at some enemy soldiers attacking some Cornerian guards at the other side of the street.

"Come on! We gotta help them!" Franky yelled as he ran forward with his arms in the air while Chopper, and Robin followed him.

Fox, Slippy, and Krystal flew around some buildings, trying to get where Peppy is while shooting down some enemy ships along the way. "Get out of our way!" Fox yelled while shooting down another ship. He, and his team could then see Peppy's office on the top floor.

"There he is, Fox!" Krystal said, "We must hurry, and get to him to quick! I sense many more of Oikonny's men heading this way!"

"Alright! Let's go!" Fox said. The trio steered towards the building as fast as they could, until a big laser beam came out of nowhere as it headed towards Fox. "Huh!?" Fox, and his team quickly did a loop, avoiding the beam as it exploded onto a building, destroying it as it collapsed on the floor.

"Where did that come from!?" Slippy asked. Suddenly, more enemy ships appeared from the clouds as the mothership that was orbiting around Corneria also descended from the clouds as it headed towards the town. Just about everyone in town saw it coming towards them as it then fired a very small object out of one of it's cannons.

Peppy, and one of his men watched as the object crashed into the room they were in. Peppy looked at the object, which turned out to be a bomb as it red light from within was flashing more frequently by the second. "Ugh!?"

BOOOOOOOOM!!

The whole office exploded, shattering the windows Fox, Luffy, Franky, nor anyone else could believe what just happened.

"Pe-PEPPY!!" Fox cried in worry. "What the!?" He then saw an enemy ship flying out of the explosion as it headed towards one of it's motherships. Krystal's eyes widened as she stared at the escaping in shock.

"They've kidnapped Peppy!" Krystal yelled, "They have him in that ship!"

"What!?" Both Fox and Slippy yelled. The Starfox team quickly made steered towards the escaping enemy ship, and chased after it. Franky, and the others saw them leaving in a hurry as they then saw all the enemy troops trying to escape also.

"They're leaving?" Robin asked.

"Where are they going!?" Franky asked while looking at his surroundings. "They can't just leave without losing first!"

"Fox, and the others were chasing after that ship." Chopper said with a worried look, "I wonder what's going on."

Just as they thought things couldn't get worse, the enemy mothership then fired two enormous, and odd-looking hooks as hooked on into something. Chopper, Robin, and Franky turned around, and gasped as they saw that a tractor beam to the Thousand Sunny, which shocked Franky the most.

"Wh-Wha?" Franky gasped as the beam made the ship glow, bringing the Thousand Sunny towards the mothership. Chopper, and Robin couldn't believe what has happening as seeing this made Franky very, very angry. "MY SHIP!!" Franky then sprinted his way towards his ship.

"FRANKY!!" Chopper cried as Franky was already out of town as the Thousand Sunny was now being lifted out of the water.

"Oh, they've lost their minds! They picked the wrong guy to mess with!! Nobody takes my ship, and gets away it!" Franky yelled angrily as his butt then inflated immensely. "COUP DE BOO!!" Franky let out a continuous fart, causing him to fly all the way towards his ship. Once he nearly ran out of cola power, he quickly grabbed onto the edge of the ship, and pulled himself onboard as he then ran and faced towards the ship, and fired repeatedly at the enemy mothership. "Let go of my ship, dammit! Let go!"

No matter how much Franky tried to save his ship, the beam's force was too strong as the ship was then starting to go through the hangar entrance. "Dammit! Dammit! DAAAAAMMMMMMIIIIIT!" Franky cried as the Thousand Sunny was then pulled into the mother ship. The hangar doors were still opened as the enemy ship that Peppy was in flew inside as the hangar doors were about to close.

"Hurry, we have to get in there!" Fox yelled as his team quickly went towards the mothership. The mothership then fired some explosives at the team, knocking them off course for a bit as this gave the mothership enough time to activate it's stealth mechanism.

"Ah! It disappeared!" Slippy gasped. The mother ship then steered the other way, and flew out of Corneria's atmosphere with great speed, leaving the Starfox team in a hurry. Fox looked at his radar, and couldn't see the mothership's signal, causing him to slam his fist on the windshield out of anger.

"Damn! They got away!" Fox yelled angrily.

"Calm down, Fox! We can still catch up to it using the Great Fox!" Krystal said as ROB appeared in front of the Starfox team's windshields.

"I have tracked down the enemy ship." ROB said, "We can still catch up to it before we lose it's signal, but you all need to return to the Great Fox in order to lower risk of being destroyed during this chase."

"ROB's right, Fox!" Slippy said, "If we want to rescue Peppy, we need to do this in the safest way possible." Fox took some slow deep breaths in order to calm down as he then looked up at the sky.

"Okay, we'll do this the safe way!" Fox said, "But first, we need to pick up our friends down there. Hey, Falco."

"Yeah, what's up?" Falco replied far away from his team.

"Pick up Franky, and the others quickly! We need to get to that mothership as quick as possible!" Fox said as he, Slippy, and Krystal made their way back to the Great Fox.

"-sigh-… They always leave the boring work to me." Falco said as he then flew into town.

Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji witnessed the entire escape as Luffy was very angry for what just happened. "They took our ship! Those bad guys took our ship!"

"How dare they do that!?" Usopp asked furiously, "They have no right to take it!"

"Wasn't Franky aboard the ship!?" Sanji asked worryingly, "They took him captive as well!"

"Damn them… !!" Luffy then noticed Falco flying over them as this made Luffy even more angry as he believed that Falco was one of the bad guys. "There are still some of those guys here! We need to kick their asses!"

"We can't get to them; they're flying!" Usopp exclaimed. Luffy then stretched his arms up, and grabbed onto the ledge of a tall building's rooftop. "Wa-Wa-Wait a second! That's not a good idea!"

"GOMU GOMU NO… !" Luffy began to yell.

"Hold on!" Sanji yelled as he and Usopp nervously held onto Luffy.

"ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself up in the air, bringing Usopp and Sanji along as they headed straight towards Falco's arwing.

CRASH!!

"What the!?" Falco gasped as he lost control of his Arwing. "What just hit me!?" Falco looked up, and saw Luffy pushing his face up against Falco's windshield, completely startling Falco as he flew past his team.

"Huh!? Falco!?" Slippy asked while blinking in confusion as Falco flew straight inside the Great Fox, and crashed inside the it's hangar.

"Falco, what happened!?" Fox asked. He, Slippy, and Krystal quickly flew their way back into the Great Fox, and saw that Falco's Arwing was on the hangar's walking grounds. They quickly landed their Arwings on their respective docks as they got of their Arwings, and saw Falco barely conscious on the ground.

"Falco!" Krystal cried as she, and her teammates came to Falco's aid by helping up on his feet.

"Falco, what happened to you!?" Slippy asked as Falco rubbed his head dazedly.

"I don't know… something crashed into me." Falco said before being able to stand up by himself. He then looked at his Arwing to see that one of it's wings were broken. "Aww, man! Not my ride!"

Some of the Arwing's torn parts then moved as Luffy came out from underneath, coughing a bit from the crash. "Oh… whoa! That was close." Luffy said while sighing in relief. The Starfox team were confused as Usopp and Sanji also came out of from the rubble as Usopp collapsed on the floor out of fear.

"Damn, Luffy! What were you thinking!? We could've died!" Sanji yelled while kicking Luffy at the side of his head.

"Oww! Well, I didn't know we were going to crash!" Luffy replied.

"Who are you guys!?"

Luffy, and Sanji faced towards the Starfox team as Falco was really pissed off. Usopp noticed the Starfox team as he quickly got up in order hide behind his comrades.

"Oh no!! More bad people!!" Usopp cried. Luffy then got angry as he took a step forward.

"Oi! You guys better give back our ship, or you're going to regret it!" Luffy yelled. This confused the Starfox team even more.

"Ship? What is he talking about?" Slippy asked as Falco then took a step forward himself.

"You dirtbags ruined my ship, didn't you!?" Falco asked furiously, "I am going to make you pay for messing with me!"

"Oh yeah?" Sanji asked while getting into his battle position, "You're dead wrong if you think you can get away with this!"

"Yeah! You guys better be ready, because here I come!!" Luffy yelled as he got into his fighting position, while Fox, Slippy, and Krystal where still confused for what is happening as Falco got ready to battle too.

Meanwhile…

Back in Oikonny's mothership, Andrew stared at space through the bridge's windshield as a guard approached to him from behind. "Sir, we have successfully captured the general."

This caused Andrew to smirk as he then laughed mischievously. "Eyah ha ha ha ha! Excellent! EXCELLENT!! Victory will truly be mine at last!"

Starfox Pt 8

Yes, I updated before a week this time! Now, this chapter probably isnt much Zoro like I said it would, but I'm sure that this chappy should be interesting to read. Enjoy!

Shipnapped! The Cornerian capitol was ambushed by Oikonny's fleet. Despite Cornerian's high defense systems, and the backup support they got from Starfox, and the Strawhat crew, Peppy got kidnapped, and was taken away as Starfox tried to go rescue him, but Luffy got in their way, thinking they were the bad guys. Meanwhile, the Thousand Sunny was also taken away by Oikonny's fleet as Franky was also taken along with the ride. Will he be okay?

Chapter 106: An extra captive, The Sharpclaw's faceoff!

Luffy cracked his knuckles as the staredown between his crew, and the Starfox team continued. Falco waited for anyone of the Strawhat crew to make a move, while Fox, Slippy, and Krystal were not sure what is going on.

"Krystal, what can you get from these guys?" Fox whispered.

Krystal closed her eyes as she probed into the Strawhat trio's minds, without them even noticing it. She then opened her eyes in surprise as she then looked at Fox.

"They're not our enemies." Krystal said, "That boy right there is the captain of the Strawhat pirates."

"Wha!" Slippy asked in shock. Falco overheard Krystal as he then looked back at his team with a baffled look.

"Are you kidding me! He's just a stupid kid! How can he be the captain!" Falco asked.

"It's not impossible." Fox said while putting his hand around his muzzle, "Afterall, they are humans. It's possible that they are in link with Franky, and the others. Why else would they be here?"

While the Starfox continued to talk amongst themselves, the Strawhat trio did not let their gazes off them. "What could they be saying over there?" Sanji asked while in his fighting pose.

"They must be coming up with some sort of scheme to kill us all!" Usopp whimpered while behind Sanji, "After that, they are going to eat our guts out, and drink all of our blood! Ugh… It hurts just thinking about it!"

"I hardly believe that's the case, but just keep a sharp eye out for any suspicious movement they make." Sanji said while gazing at the Starfox team, "These guys don't look like easy kind to deal with."

Luffy didn't say anything at all as he waited for the Starfox team to do some kind of move while cracking his knuckles. Fox then looked at Luffy for a brief moment, noticing that he was getting glared at.

"Look, we should tell them that we are not their enemies, and that we have their friends with us." Fox explained, "I'm sure they'll believe us."

"I don't know, Fox." Falco said as he glanced over his shoulder to look at the Strawhat trio, "They don't look like they are willing to talk with us."

"Let's find out right now." Slippy said, "Go ahead, Fox, ask them."

"Me? Well, okay." Fox said. The Starfox team then faced towards the Strawhat trio, alerting them a bit as they took a step back.

"St-Stay back! You don't want a piece of us! Especially these two!" Usopp yelled, referring to Luffy and Sanji.

"Hold on. I think we have a little misunderstanding here." Fox said while slowly approaching the crew, "My name is Fox McCloud, and we are the Starfox team. Now, if you could just hear me out for just a-"

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm forward, and punched Fox in the face, interrupting on what he was going to say as he flew past his team, and crashed into the wall behind him. Falco, Slippy, and Krystal were shocked as they quickly went to Fox's aid.

"Fox, are you alright!" Krystal asked as Fox fell on his hands and knees while panting. Slippy and Falco looked back at Luffy in surprise.

"Did you see that! He stretched his arm!" Slippy gasped. Luffy then took one step forward with his right clenched into a fist.

"Oi, you are going to pay for attacking the animal people, you stupid dog!" Luffy yelled. Fox stopped panting as he had a shocked look on his face.

"A dog…?" Fox asked as he sounded a bit offended. Krystal was a little worried for Fox, until Fox got up in one knee, and then got on his feet as clenched his fist in anger. "That does it!" Fox dashed towards Luffy with great speed, and did a running kick at him. Luffy blocked Fox's kick with his arms, but the force of it caused Luffy to get knocked off his feet, and crash into the destroyed arwing behind him.

"Luffy!" Usopp cried as he, and Sanji then looked at Fox as he jumped back to get some space. Fox then got into his fighting pose as Luffy got back in feet, and glared at Fox as he moves his arm in front of him.

"Come on!" Fox taunted with doing a hand gesture. This immediately caused Luffy to charge right towards Fox without warning.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretched his leg, and horizontally swung it towards Fox, who quickly jumped over it, and headed towards Luffy while doing a lower drill kick. Luffy quickly jumped back to avoid, and countered with a right fist, which Fox dodged, and countered by swinging his tail at Luffy. Luffy quickly caught Fox's tail, and whipped Fox towards a wall, who stopped himself by landing on his arms, and countered with a back elbow to Luffy's face, causing him to let go of Fox's tail as he staggered back. Fox then ran at Luffy, and did vertical roundhouse kick, but before it could connect, Luffy caught him in midair, and slammed him on the ground.

"Ergh!" Fox grunted as he then saw Luffy pulling back his fist. "HAA!" Fox quickly did the same as he got on his knees, and punched Luffy's incoming fist, creating a small shockforce that knocked both of them slightly away from eachother.

"Gah!" Luffy fell on his back as Fox skidded back away a bit as well. The Starfox team were amazed how strong Luffy was as much Usopp, and Sanji were to Fox's strength. Falco then noticed that Luffy was having a little trouble getting up.

"He's still down! This is the perfect chance to strike!" Falco said as he then left Slippy, and Krystal while charging at Luffy. As Luffy got on one knee, he saw that Falco was going to kick him, until Sanji stopped him by blocking Falco's kick with his leg. "Huh!"

"Two on one isn't something I'd like to see." Sanji said with a glare, "If you need someone to fight with, then I'm your guy."

Falco smirked as he then did a somersault to catch Sanji off guard. Once Falco landed back on his feet, Sanji delivered a side kick to his gut, causing Falco to stagger a bit as Sanji then leaped towards him while raising his leg. Falco did a dodge roll as Sanji lowered his leg to kick the steel ground, nearly leaving a dent on it as Falco then countered with horizontal roundhouse kick, kicking Sanji in the face as he then staggered back. Sanji glared at Falco as Sanji then did a handstand with his legs spread out, and span around in circles while Falco attempted to counter by spinning around as well, only with his arms spreaded.

Their attacks hits eachother with great force as they jumped back while panting a bit. "Not bad… but it takes more than kicks to stop me!" Falco yelled while leaping towards Sanji. Sanji did the same as he, and Falco flew towards eachother with great speed.

"Trust me; my kicks are going to knock your-huh!" While in midair, Sanji noticed Krystal for the first time as this caused him to lose his focus as he then had a huge heart over his visible. "OH MY GOD! WHAT A BEAUTIFUL LA-"

BAM!

"Guah!" Sanji got kicked in the face by Falco as he flew across the floor, and nearly crashed into the destroyed Arwing behind him. Krystal wondered why Sanji lost his focus as Luffy, and Fox were back on their feet, and charged at eachother once more.

Sanji got back up, and charged at Falco as well, as Slippy, and Krystal had to move closed towards the back wall in order to prevent themselves getting mixed within their battles. They saw how their battles went on, with each opponent delivering their all as this was making Slippy excited, yet nervous at the same time.

"We have to do something to help our friends!" Slippy said. Krystal watched the battle between Luffy and Fox go on as this caused her to worry more.

"Okay… but let's be careful." Krystal as she was about to take out something.

"Not so fast, you two!"

"Huh?" Slippy and Krystal turned towards Usopp, who called on them earlier as he cautiously approached the duo.

"I won't let you attack my men, for I am the bravest warrior of the seas, and will not let you harm my crew!" Usopp said in a courageous manner.

"Br-Brave warrior of the seas!" Slippy asked in shock, believing what Usopp told him while Krystal didn't faze.

"That's right! And now that you know who I am, it is time for you to suffer the wrath of my 8000 enforcers!" Usopp yelled with open arms. Slippy was so shocked at the fact that Usopp said he had 8000 men, he fell on his rear in complete fear. "Yes, it's true! Surrender now, and your deaths will be painless under the hands of Captain Usopp!"

"You lie." Krystal said bluntly.

"E-Excuse me?" Usopp said while blinking in confusion.

"First of all, it's impossible to have 8000 people in this ship, and secondly, you came here with only two men, making it only two out of the 8000 enforcers you previously mentioned being with you." Krystal said simply. This completely surprised Usopp as by his expression proved Krystal's point.

"What! He was lying!" Slippy asked in shock. Usopp then got back to his pose as he dramatically glared at Krystal.

"Curse you, you crafty tactician!" Usopp yelled. He then smuggishly smirked while placing his thumb on his chin, "It's true that I don't have my 8000 enforcers with me, but I do have the strength of that quantity, so prepare to see my awesome power!" Usopp then spread his arms apart, and closed his eyes, making some humming sounds as Slippy was curious for what Usopp was planning. "USOPP SPELL!"

The sounds of drumrolls could be heard, only to Usopp of course, as Usopp gulped before speaking. "You have swallowed five gallons of vomit! Guaaaaaaahhhgeeehhhh!" Usopp cried while making odd sounds.

"Ewwww! I can actually feel like I am going to puke!" Slippy said while shivering in disgust, "He must have some kind of mind powers!"

"Ahhh ha ha ha ha! Feel my power!" Usopp yelled proudly.

"It's no power." Krystal said bluntly again, "You're just saying gross things so we can feel sick. That's hardly any way to fight."

"How can you possibly know that!" Usopp asked while whimpering.

Back on the Cornerian capitol, Robin stared at Great Fox as she could hear the loud cries coming from inside. "What's wrong, Robin?" Chopper asked.

"Something is wrong…" Robin said, "Why haven't they picked us up yet, and why is the ship just floating there?" Robin then sprouted multiple arms from underneath the Great Fox's entrance, creating a very long ladder of arms as Robin grabbed it once it was close to her. "Come along, Doctor-san."

"Okay, Robin." Chopper said. After Chopper grabbed onto the ladder, the arms automatically pulled him, and Robin all the way to the Great Fox. Once they finally got up there, they pulled themselves inside the hangar bay entrance, and looked up to the higher floors where the battles were going on. Chopper and Robin briefly looked at eachother concernedly before running up the stairs against the walls to see what was going on.

Once they reached to the top floor, they saw the the mayhem between their comrades, and the Starfox team. "Hey, what's going on here!" Chopper gasped.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly stretched his arms back in forth as Fox did his best to avoid most of the incoming blows. Fox then jumped back as he then started to do something while Luffy charged at him.

"FIRE…" Suddenly, Fox had fire all around him as this startled Luffy, "FOX!" Fox leaped towards Luffy like a rocket while covered in flames.

"YAH!" Luffy didn't see that attack coming as he tried to avoid it, but the end of his vest was caught on fire as Fox went passed him. "Fire! Fire!" Luffy started to roll around the ground, causing the fire to deplete as Luffy panted heavily afterwards. "Oh… damn you!" Luffy got back up, and charged at Fox again.

Sanji and Falco were exchanging multiple kicks as Sanji did a butterfly kick, which Falco avoided by ducking as he then countered with a low leg sweep, which Sanji avoided by backflipping. Sanji then did a roundhouse kick, which Falco managed to avoid as he then took something from around his waist. "REFLECTOR KICK!" Falco kicked his reflector towards Sanji as he got hit by it's reflecting barrier.

"Ugh!" Sanji got knocked off his feet, but recovered in midair as he then landed on his feet, and countered by leaping towards Falco. "BROCHETTE!" Sanji did a one leg drill kick as Falco barely dodged by jumping out of the way. After the attack, Sanji, and Falco then kicked eachother's attacking legs. They both took the moment to glare to smirk at eachother before continuing their onslaught.

"Your toenails have been ripped off out of your toes! AAAAAuuughhhh!" Usopp cried, as this made Slippy shiver in fear, while this didnt faze Krystal at all.

"That's another lie." Krystal said.

"Well, how about that your fur has been peeled off by a spoon!"

"Also a lie."

"Um… a turnip came out of nowhere, and ate your head?"

"That sounds ridiculous…"

"WHY WON'T YOU BELIEVE ANYTHING I SAY! WHY!"

As Usopp dramatically cried in pain, Chopper, and Robin tried to figure out how to stop these meaningless battles from going any further. "I'll end this." Robin said while crossing her limbs. Before Sanji, and Falco could strike eachother again, several arms sprouted from their bodies as they held them in place.

"Huh!" Falco gasped as Sanji recognized the arms on him. He turned towards his right, and saw Robin, which made him super happy.

"Robin-chwan!" Sanji yelled happily. Usopp heard Sanji yelling as he then too noticed Chopper and Robin.

"Chopper? Robin? What are you two doing here?" Usopp asked. Slippy, Krystal, and Falco noticed how Usopp, and Sanji seem to know Chopper, and Robin, causing them to realize that they are not their enemies.

"So it's really true…" Krystal said, "These people aren't our enemies afterall."

"HAAA!" Luffy swung his leg at Fox, who dodged as he then countered with a right fist. Luffy blocked it as he, and Fox then jumped away from eachother in order to pant a bit.

"Robin, Luffy and Fox are still fighting!" Chopper said.

"No problem." Robin said as Luffy charged at Fox, who quickly took out his gun.

"Take this!" Both Luffy, and Fox said at the same time as they were about to strike eachother, until Robin sprouted a pair of hands beneath Luffy as they caught his legs while he was in midair.

"Whoa!" Luffy tripped as he accidentally fell over Fox, who accidentally activated his reflector as it's shields knocked Luffy up in the air.

"Ugh!" Fox watched as Luffy was limplessly falling towards him while screaming.

SMOOCH!

Everyone in the hangar were so shocked, they were completely silent as they saw Luffy accidentally kissing Fox upon landing on him.

"BUUUUUUAAAAGGHHH!" Luffy and Fox got away from eachother instantly as they felt like they were going to puke while spitting out the saliva in their mouths. While they were doing that, everyone else looked Robin, who was the blame for that kiss to happen in the first place.

"I apologize…" Robin said shamefully.

Meanwhile…

Back in Oikonny's humongous mothership, the smaller mothership that attacked Corneria flew next to his ship as they connected it's entrypoint to theirs. The soldiers inside walked out into Oikonny's ship, with Peppy in handcuffs as they walked along the big hallways. Once they made it to the bridge, they pushed Peppy down to his knees as somebody than walked in front of him.

"Ergh… Oikonny." Peppy muttered as Andrew looked down at Peppy while smirking.

"Well, if it isn't my old friend, Peppy." Andrew said, "It's funny how things turn out in my favor for a change, don't you agree?"

"What do you want with me, Oikonny?" Peppy asked with a glare.

"Dont act as if you dont know, old man." Andrew replied, "You're here just for the simple fact that you are now my hostage. With you here, there is no way that Starfox could lay a finger on me."

"You think that having me here will guarantee your victory! That will never happen!" Peppy replied. Andrew grew annoyed with Peppy's words as he then kicked Peppy in the face, causing Peppy to fall on his back in pain.

"I will be the new Emperor of the Lylat system, so I demand that you show me your respect!" Andrew said angrily, but Peppy didn't reply, "-sigh-… Don't you get it yet, old man? I was destined to conquer your peaceful kind from the beginning! It's time that you see how things are suppose to run around here, and you will be my slave for the rest of your days!"

Suddenly, the hangar doors of Oikonny's ship then opened, which caught Oikonny's attention. "What's going on!" Andrew asked.

"Our allies are bringing something else into the ship." Replied one of his pilots. This annoyed Andrew a bit as he then faced back at Peppy.

"I will explain to you my intentions later on. Right now, you can rot in one my cellars." Oikonny said as he then looked at his guards, "Take him away."

The guards picked Peppy from the floor as they then took him out of the bridge. Andrew sighed as he then made his way into the hangar area. After taking the long way there, he entered the hangar, and saw something being brought into an empty dock.

"What the!" Andrew asked as he saw the Thousand Sunny, which was being moved by several hooks from the ceiling as they placed it over an empty dock. Andrew was furious as he then walked up to one of his men next to the dock. "What is this piece of garbage doing here!"

"We don't know, Emperor Oikonny." Replied his guard, "All I know is that one of our motherships wanted us to put this ship here."

"What! I did not authorize this! I want this thing outta here right now!" Andrew replied furiously.

"We cant. The men in the mothership that brought it here refuse to take it back. They also sounded pretty scared for some reason."

"Those idiots! How dare they do this without my permission!" Andrew yelled as he then glared at the Thousand Sunny, "You know what, forget it! You can do whatever you want with this ship, but if it gets in my way, then dispose of it immediately!"

"Really! Thank you, Emperor Oikonny!" The soldier said with delight. He then got onboard, and looked around the ship, "Wow, this ship looks completely fantastic! Let's see what's inside." The soldier headed to men's quarters as he then opened the door.

BAM!

"Gah!" The soldier got punched hard in the face as he flew off the ship, and landed hard on his back.

This caught Andrew's attention as he then faced towards the ship angrily. "What the heck was that!"

Franky then came barging out of the men's quarters, and looked at his surroundings with a furious look on his face. "YOU ARE ALL GOING TO PAY!"

"What the!" Andrew gasped. He then pointed towards Franky, "Get him! Don't let him escape!"

Oikonny's guards then started firing laser beams at Franky, who charged at them while getting off his ship. "FRANKY BOXING!" Franky punched every single guard in front of them, knocking them all out. Andrew gasped at the sight of this as he quickly ran towards a communicator behind him.

"I need all infantrymen in the hangar on the double! There is an intruder in here!" Oikonny yelled at the top of his lungs in the communicator. In an instant, more of Oikonny's men came into the hangar, and charged at Franky, who fought back with everything he had.

"You are not going to stop me! You will pay for taking my ship!" Franky yelled while punching some soldiers away. He then faced towards a huge of guards headed towards him. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm through the group of soldiers, knocking them all out of the way as Andrew fell on his rear in shock.

"What is that thing!" Andrew asked as Franky then noticed him. Franky glared at Andrew as he then faced towards him while aiming his left arm at him. "Ah! Someone help me!"

"BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired bullets out of his wrist as Andrew cowered up against the wall. Andrew would have been dead by now if the bullets wouldn't have dropped out of Franky's wrist instead of flying off. Franky's hair then lost it's regular shape as this meant that Franky ran out of cola power. "Tsk! Why now!"

Andrew noticed Franky struggling as this gave him a chance to strike back. "Get him! Get him! GET HIM!" Andrew yelled as multiple surrounded Franky, and charged right at him.

"Grr! Why you… take that!" Franky was delivering punches, and headbutts to every guard that came close to him, but the numbers proved to be too much for him as he got dogpiled by the remaining soldiers. The soldiers then placed some kind of laser handcuffs around Franky's arms, including big cuff around his body, and legs. "Let me go, dammit!"

The soldiers then got off of Franky as he couldn't much due to the cuffs on him. Andrew sighed in relief as then got up, and approached Franky. "Now then…" Andrew said with a glare, "Who are you, and what are you doing here!" The only answer Andrew got from Franky was a headbutt to the face. "AAAHHH!" Andrew fell on his back as his men then started beating on Franky for attacking their Emperor.

"Oof! Guah!" Franky cried as he then fell on his chest. Andrew got up, and glared at him while holding his face in pain.

"GET HIM OUT OF HERE! PUT HIM IN THE CELLAR!" Andrew yelled. Multiple guards then picked Franky up, and took him away, leaving their Emperor alone with a bloody nose.

Meanwhile…

Zoro climbed up a ladder from a big well as he was now outside again. "How does anybody walk through these places like this?" Zoro asked himself.

"Hi." Tricky said while facing Zoro.

"WHA!" Zoro was startled upon seeing Tricky in front of him. He looked back at the well, and then back at Tricky as he wondered how he got in front of him so quickly. "Ho-How did you…?"

"I pop up when nobody wants me around." Tricky said with a smile, "It's one of my natural abilities."

Zoro looked at Tricky oddly. "That still doesn't explain how you got here." Zoro said.

"Look, I'm here, so just deal with it." Tricky said as he turned the other way, "Cape Claw is just ahead. Come on."

Tricky led Zoro along a path as Zoro could then hear the sound of the ocean. At the end of the path lied Cape Claw, a beautiful scenery with a clean river, and some palm trees on the beaches. There was also a ruin that had a figure of an odd looking face up against the back side of Cape Claw as the water was seemed to be flowing from out of there. Zoro, and Tricky walked towards the edge of a cliff.

"Here we are. Ain't it sweet?" Tricky asked.

"Hmm…" Zoro replied as he didn't care much of the scenery.

"Okay, there are some stuff here that needs to be done, so follow me." Tricky said as he walked ahead. Zoro was about to follow until he once again felt an odd wind flow by, only this time, Zoro was very alarmed. He felt multiple kinds of presences, all having cruel intentions as Zoro's eyes widened in anger.

"We're surrounded…" Zoro muttered. Zoro then looked up, and saw three figures jumping off the mountain, and were about to strike down at Tricky. "Damn!" Zoro quickly grabbed Tricky's tail, and pulled him back.

"Yah!" Tricky gasped as he was pulled away in the nick of time before the figures could have killed him as they landed on their feet. Tricky didn't notice them yet as he then glared at Zoro. "What's your problem! I haven't even given your task yet!"

"We finally found you, Tricky!"

"Huh?" Tricky looked in front of them to see three figures, who turned out to be Sharpclaws, as they all had smuggish smirks on their faces. Zoro stared at them as Tricky couldn't believe who he was looking at. "Sharpclaws! That can't be! What are you guys doing around here!"

"General Scales have ordered us to bring you to him!" One of the Sharpclaws said as he pointed his axe at Tricky, "You'll be coming with us, and surrender your leadership of this world to him!"

Tricky was terrified just by hearing General Scales' name. "Ge-General Scales! That's impossible! He's back!" Tricky asked in shock.

"That's right; and he will take over this world under his new rule!" The Sharpclaws then slowly started approaching Tricky, "You cannot hide from us this time! Give up!"

"Eh! Oh no!" Tricky cried while taking some steps back. Zoro was not intimated by the Sharpclaw as he continued looking at them.

"Oi… are they enemies?" Zoro asked Tricky.

"Wha!" Tricky asked nervously.

"I asked if they are your enemies?" Zoro asked. Tricky was having troubling replying as Zoro then looked at him, "Look, if you want me to help you, then you better tell me if they are your enemies or not. Because if they are, I can take care of them for you."

"Ha ha ha ha ha! Did you hear that! This creature thinks he can beat us!" A Sharpclaw said as he and his comrades laughed at Zoro. While they laughed, Tricky could see the confidence in Zoro's eyes, allowing Tricky to speak up.

"Y-Yeah, they are!" Tricky shouted out, "Do something to make them go away!"

"That's all I needed to hear…" Zoro said. With a quick glare to the Sharpclaw, he dashed towards one of them, and delivered a backhand across one of them in the face in a matter of milliseconds.

"Oaagh!" The Sharpclaw fell down the hill, and rolled backwards until crashing into the mountain behind him before falling unconscious. His comrades were shocked to see his pal getting defeated so easily as they then looked at Zoro, only for the both of them to get punched really hard in the gut by him.

"Aaagh…" Both of the Sharpclaws doubled over as Zoro then grabbed one of them, and threw them over the fence as he fell to the other side of the hillside hard. He then faced towards the other Sharpclaw, and rammed his face into the mountain to his left.

The Sharpclaws were dealt with as Zoro brushed the dust off his hands. Tricky was completely amazed at how Zoro was able to take care of the Sharpclaw so quickly, and easily, he was staring at Zoro in awe. "Whoa… not only you are strong, but you have skills, man!" Tricky said excitedly.

"Careful… there are still more of them here." Zoro said while looking at his surroundings with a blunt look. Tricky looked at his surroundings, and saw no Sharpclaw in sight.

"What are you talking about? There is no one-" Suddenly, Zoro and Tricky heard something being fired, "… What was that?"

Zoro looked at his left, and gasped as he saw a cannonball heading towards him, and Tricky. "Look out!" Zoro, and Tricky jumped forwardly as they avoided the cannonball then exploded on the mountain wall behind them. Tricky was frightened as Zoro looked where the cannonball came from, which was a cannon on top of a rectangular platform being controlled by a Sharpclaw on the other side of the river. "Run for it!"

The Sharpclaw fired another cannonball as Zoro, and Tricky quickly made their way along the hillside. While avoiding the second cannonball, Zoro noticed several Sharpclaws running up some wooden stairs next to the hillside he, and Tricky were on. He quickly grabbed one of the Sharpclaw he knocked out earlier, and threw him down the stairs, knocking down all the Sharpclaw on it as some of them fell into the river behind them.

Zoro, and Tricky then made turned around the corner hill, and went along a pathway that lead towards a small waterfall next to a small bridge. Tricky ran ahead of Zoro, until he then stopped as he soon as he saw two Sharpclaw with swords jumping out of some shrubs.

"Ah!" Tricky cried as Zoro then jumped on Tricky, and then kneed one of the Sharpclaws in their forehead, getting knocked back into the ruin wall behind him before losing conscious. The other Sharpclaw then raised his sword as Zoro landed his feet, and waited until the sword came closer.

"SHINKEN SHIRAHATORI!" Zoro was about to clasp his hands on the edge's of the incoming blade, until Tricky poked Zoro in the but with his horn. "Geheck!" Zoro fell forward with his head facing up, causing him to get hit in the face by the hilt of the Sharpclaw's sword. Zoro clasped his hands together afterwards as a huge bump formed on his forehead as he then glared at Tricky. "What the hell was that for, you idiot!"

Tricky glared at Zoro, "Damn… you think you can just jump on me like some kind of boulder, and get away with it! I don't think so!" Tricky yelled.

Zoro then faced towards Tricky while glaring right up in his face. "I'm trying to protect you! You have a problem with that!"

"I wouldn't if you atleast do it right!" Tricky replied angrily, "Fox would've never jump on me!"

"FOX ISN'T HERE!" Zoro yelled. The Sharpclaw that was still there then tried to slash at Zoro again. Zoro saw it coming as Tricky got out of the way. "SHINKEN SHIRAHOTO-Wah!" Tricky interrupted Zoro's defensive maneuver again, only he poked Sharpclaw's rear, causing him to move forward as Zoro clasped his hands around the Sharpclaw's head. "Will you knock it off!" Zoro asked while looking at Tricky.

"I'm trying to help you! I am not going to let you have all the fun!" Tricky replied from behind the Sharpclaw.

"Do me a favor, and don't! I can do this by myself!" Zoro yelled. He then looked at the Sharpclaw he was still holding as the Sharpclaw blinked in confusion in front of Zoro. "Get out of here!" Zoro delivered an uppercut, sending the Sharpclaw flying out of Cape Claw. "Now let's go!" Zoro, and Tricky then made their way in front of the ruin, but stopped as they saw three Sharpclaw carrying swords, and shields. Tricky hid behind Zoro, while he was happy to see them. "Perfect."

"Attack!" Yelled the sharpclaw as they charged at the duo. In a split second, Zoro ran right past them, taking their swords off their hands in the process. It took two seconds for the Sharpclaw to realize that their swords were gone as they turned around to see Zoro holding one of them with his teeth.

"Now this feels more comfortable." Zoro said as the Sharpclaws then charged towards him. "TAKANAMI!" Zoro unleashed a gust of wind, knocking the Sharpclaws off their feet as they then fell into the river. Tricky stared in awe, until he saw the Sharpclaw controlling the cannon firing another cannonball at them. Zoro heard it coming as he then turned the blades around horizontally, and hits the cannonball with the back of the blades.

The cannonball then flew all the way back to the Sharpclaw cannoneer as he was about to escape, but the cannonball exploded into the cannon, blowing it up to bits as the explosion knocked the Sharpclaw out of the platform, and into the river.

"Zoro!" Tricky yelled as he saw many more Sharpclaws coming from the hillside he, and Zoro were on earlier. Zoro noticed as he then jumped down off the ruin floor, and into the beach on the left side of the river. Once he did, he saw a very buff, and yellow Sharpclaw with a big axe coming out of a small cave as he chuckled while walking towards Zoro.

Zoro quickly started parrying the Sharpclaw's attacks as he then rolled behind him. "Tricky, jump!" Zoro yelled. The Sharpclaw was about to turn around, until he saw Tricky jumping off the ruin floor, and was about to fall on him. The big Sharpclaw was then crushed under Tricky's immense weight as Tricky got off him, and looked back at the right side of Cape Claw, seeing that it's nearly filled with Sharpclaw.

"Oh man…" Tricky gulped. The Sharpclaws over the right side of the river then took out what appeared to be crossbows as they aimed towards the duo.

"Heh! That's nothing I cant hand-LE!" Tricky grabbed Zoro's shirt with his mouth, and ran as he dragged Zoro to the other corner of the beach. "Oi, let me go!"

"No, we have to get out of here!" Tricky yelled. The Sharpclaws then fired their crossbows as the arrows headed towards the duo. Zoro then raised his swords while Tricky was still running.

"NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro created a cutting wave that destroyed the incoming arrows as the wave also crashed into crossbowers, knocking them all off their feet as they got knocked in different directions. "Got them!"

"Yeah, that'll show them who's boss!" Tricky laughed while looking at the unconscious Sharpclaws while running. Due to that, Tricky wasn't paying attention to where he was going as he headed towards some big rocks at the lower left corner of Cape Claw. When Zoro noticed this, his eyes popped out of his head in shock.

"YOU MORON! WATCH WHERE YOU'RE GOING!" Zoro snapped.

"Huh?" Tricky looked where he was going, and was already a few feet away from the rocks as it was too late to for Tricky to stop himself. "Oh, shoot!"

CRASH!

Tricky, and Zoro crashed right through the rocks as they then fell off Cape Claw, and fell down it's big waterfall. They screamed as they fell into the darkness below.

Meanwhile…

In space, Pigma was taking a nap inside his ship as he was snoring loudly, and disturbingly. A beeping sound could then be heard as this woke up Pigma instantly. "Wha! Whuh! Huh!" Pigma noticed the blinking red button on his control panel as he then sighed irritatedly. "Just when I was having a nice dream…"

Pigma pushed button as made a holographic monitor appear in front of him as it showed Andrew on the screen. "Pigma! Where are you! Why haven't you come back to base!" Andrew asked.

"I was taking my daily snooze." Pigma said, "A good-looking guy like me must be fully rested, you know? Hmm?" Pigma then noticed that Andrew was covering his nose with a napkin, which had some blood on it. "What happened to you? Did you look at another girl again?"

"Shut up! I don't want to talk about it!" Andrew replied angrily, "Listen, I have another mission for you."

"Oh? That's going to cost you extra." Pigma said.

"I'll pay you when I conquer the Lylat System." Andrew said, "Anyway, what I need you to do is to go find Starwolf, and kill them in sight." Pigma almost choked on his saliva from hearing that.

"Whoa, whoa! That's something way out of my league there!" Pigma said while waving his arms in front of him, "If you think that I am going to do that, then you're crazy!"

"I'll assure you that I will make you the most richest man in the Lylat System." Andrew said, "Better yet, I'll make you the richest man in the universe! All I want from you is that you get rid of the people that made a fool out of me! I will have my revenge on them, and you will kill them for me whether you like it or not!"

"Hegh…" Pigma wasn't too sure about this until he then had a smirk on his face, "Well, I do want to be rich, so what the heck! It's all or nothing now! You can count me on, Oikonny!"

"Excellent! I would also like for you to send Wolf, and his measly gang, my regards before you kill them." Andrew said while facing the other way, "I'm counting on you, Pigma!"

The screen then disappeared as Pigma happily started his ship's engines. "Bweh heh heh! The richest man in the universe… now that is something I'd want to be! Get ready, my old Starwolf pals, your days are numbered! Bweh heh heh heh heh!"

Pigma then flew his rusty old ship away as he then went to find Starwolf.

Back on Sauria…

General Scales was relaxing on some debris that were shaped into a chair. He was watching a live show he made up called 'Bringing fear to weaklings' as it was based upon a Sharpclaw beating up a defenseless Cloudrunner while some other Sharpclaw laugh. As this 'show' continued on, something about it made Scales get up from his chair unpleasantly.

"You're doing it all wrong!" General Scales said angrily as he walked in front of main actor, and behind the beaten Cloudrunner. "Your kicks are too soft! The way you're suppose to kick them is like this!"

General Scales turned towards the Cloudrunner, and kicked him so hard, that the poor creature crashed into the wall behind him. As he laid unconscious upon impacting the ground, the Sharpclaw applaud to Scales' strength.

"From now on, I want everybody to kick as hard as I have demonstrated!" General Scales said, "Anyone who fails to do so will have their legs broken!"

The Sharpclaw agreed to that as as another Sharpclaw came into the area, "Sir, the soldiers you sent out have returned."

"Heh heh heh! It's about time!" General Scales said. He then turned around to see his men were covered in bruises, and bumps all over their bodies. Scales smile faded away instantly as he was now furious. "What happened! Where's Tricky!"

"Ge-General… ow!" Cried one of the injured Sharpclaw, "We couldn't capture Tricky! We lost against this friend of his, and he got away from us."

"Heeeeeeeeeeeeeeerrr rrrrrrrgggggggggghh hhhhhhhh!" General Scales was so angry hearing that, he grabbed one of his men next to him, "YOU LOST!" Scales then threw his soldier right into the injured, and were knocked down like bowling pins, injuring the guards even more. "How was it possible that you lost sight of Tricky!" Scales eyes widened as he realized what he was told, "Wait, you said friend. Was it Fox? Grrr! I know he would try to ruin my plans again!"

The injured soldiers, including the one that was thrown, got up groggily as one of them took a step forward, "General, it wasnt Fox this time!" He said, "It was someone else, and he was a terrifying man!"

"What!" General Scales asked in confusion, "Another man dares to oppose General Scales!" General Scales then seemed very frustrated as he couldn't stand still from hearing that kind of news. "Ah! I have had enough of people opposing my laws! That's enough, I will take care of this matter now! That man protecting Tricky will soon pay for his interference in my way of world domination!"

Preview: Ooh, so they weren't bad guys at all, and they were just trying to help my crew. So, where is Nami? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 107: Titania's treasure, A tarnished soul. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Scales seemed to be a bit OOC in that last part, but I couldn't have come up with a better ending to this chapter, so cut me some slack. I'm getting my motivation back, so I'll probably be updating even sooner than before, I hope. Ciao for now!

Starfox Pt 9

Ah, I am so proud with this chapter. Lots of neat things happen here! Enjoy!

Not yet ruler. General Scales expected to see his men return with Tricky, but things didnt go that way as General Scales was told that their somebody protecting him, which we all know is Zoro. Infuriated by this, General Scales takes it upon himself to find Tricky, and take care of Zoro's meddling actions. Meanwhile, Pigma has been ordered to eliminate Starwolf. Will this make Nami's situation better or worse?

Chapter 107: Titania's treasure, A tarnished soul

Nami, and Starwolf finally arrived right in front of the odd structured base, which looked abandoned, but something about it would make anyone to stay away.

"We're here." Nami said while putting her hands around her hips, "So now what?"

"We look for an elevator." Wolf said while walking past Nami, "Resources tell me that there is a hidden underground base that could only be accessed by going down an elevator here. The treasure should be down there."

"Okay, but where could it be?" Nami asked.

"I don't know." Wolf said with a light shrug, "Use your imagination, Princess. Where do you think it would be?"

Nami puts her hand around her chin as she wondered where the elevator could be. She then looked at a big spire at the highest part of the base. "I think it's up around there." Nami said while pointing at the spire, "If nobody wanted anybody to find their underground base, they should have it's access point to where no one could get to if this place was heavily guarded. And I could also tell that by just looking at this place, there is not single thing to go around here other than going up those hills, so I think the elevator is up there somewhere."

"Marvelous! Your intellect reflects your beauty in every way." Panther said romantically. Leon rolled his eyes in annoyance as Wolf looked at Nami with a smirk.

"Well done. I did the right thing when I made you a part of my team." Wolf said.

"For now, that is." Nami said with a stern look, "Once Luffy comes to get me, I will not have anything to do with any of you anymore."

"Heh… we'll see." Wolf said as he then faced towards the base. "Let's go."

They walked in the base's area, looking around to see where they could get up to the spire. As they were doing that, a wind flew by, blowing in some sand through the base for a moment. Nami covered her face until the wind stopped blowing, and then noticed some grains of grey sand around her. She got on one knee, and observed it with a curious look. "Grey sand? That's strange."

Wolf turned around to see Nami having grey sand on her hand. "… That's not sand." Wolf said. Nami looked at Wolf confusion, until she then realized what Wolf was talking about. Nami gasped as she quickly brushed the 'sand' off her hands in panic.

"The hell!" Nami gasped, "Did something happen here?"

"Don't look at me; I had nothing to do with this." Wolf said as he then raised his gaze while looking the other way, "Although…"

"Hey, we can go up from here!" Leon said while facing in front of rocky slope, leading up to the cliffs. Wolf then stopped what he was thinking before.

"Meh… nevermind. Come on." Wolf said while walking ahead. Nami wondered what Wolf thought about as she then followed him, and the others up the slope connected to the cliff walls. As they went on, Wolf was having a very bad feeling as he took out his claw blaster. "Something is not right here…"

"Huh?" Nami said curiously. Suddenly, in the center of the base, their was some odd-looking machines coming from under the sand. They were small, and round looking machines that stretched out their pointy legs, and pincer like arms. Yellow eyes glowed from the center of their faceless look as they faced towards the group. "Wh-What are those!"

Some of the round machines then leaped towards the group with incredible speed, but were instantly slashed into by Wolf using his claw blaster. "Get to the top!" Wolf yelled as everyone started running up the slope. The machines then morphed into a ball, and rolled up the slope with great speed, and in complete balance. While running, Wolf glanced over his shoulder to see the machines are gaining on him, and his team. "Leon, Panther; go!"

Leon and Panther nodded as Leon turned towards the machines as some of them rolled past him, while some others turned back into their original form, and aimed their pincers at Leon. "Ha! You think you can scare me with those!" Leon asked with a cocky smirk as he took out two blasters, "Bring it!"

The machines fired multiple lasers at Leon, who fired back with his blasters in a quick rapid succession, which was outstanding since he was using regular blasters to begin with as he was shooting down every laser that came towards him, creating some very small explosions that blocked his, and the machines' view. The machines stopped firing as they thought they got rid of Leon, but one of them was then shot from behind as it fell destroyed. The other machines turned around, only to see nothing as they all then got shot by something invisible.

By the time they we're destroyed, Leon turned visible, revealing that he was using chameleon-like abilities as he then smirked while placing his blaster on his shoulder. "Such worms… ha ha ha!"

Panther ran along the cliff edges of the base as the machines that passed through Leon earlier were chasing him. "What a nuisance…" Panther muttered as he then took out a red rose, and jumped forward while facing towards the machines. "IMPERDONABLE!" The petals from Panther's rose flew off as Panther then got on his feet, and leaped through the machines with petals flying around him. Panther then jumped onto a higher cliff as the machines suddenly stopped moving. Sparks then spewed out of their circuits as they then exploded into tiny pieces.

Panther sighed as he then noticed the spire above him. "I'll take the short way." He said as he started jumping his way to the top.

Wolf, and Nami were running along the cliff path, with Wolf running faster as Nami couldn't keep up with him. "Slow down!" Nami yelled. She then stopped as she saw several of the round machines jumping from a higher cliff next to her, and landed right in front of her as Wolf turned around to see what was happening.

"Dont just stand there! Get rid of them; I'll find the elevator in the meantime!" Wolf said as he then left Nami.

"You are just going to leave me here!" Nami yelled as the machines then approached her. "Tsk!" Nami took out her PCT, and confronted the machines, "THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami charged the end of her PCT as she started swinging it like a flail, "SWING ARM!" Nami swung her PCT horizontally, electrifying all the machines in front of her as they then exploded from short circuiting.

Nami then ran up the cliff, and finally managed to get to the top where the spire was as Wolf was standing right in front of it. Wolf noticed her coming as he could see she was angry. "That was quick. Shame I didn't see what you're made of." Wolf said.

"Oh, I'll show you what I made of!" Nami barked while clenching her fist. Panther then regrouped with them after jumping on the top part of the base, while Leon climbed up the wall while shooting at the round machines, which seems to be more of them coming from under the sand around the base.

"There is too many of them! We have to get of here!" Leon said while shooting. Wolf looked in front of the spire, seeing that there was an electrical barrier in front of the elevator shaft.

"Unless we can get this out of the way now, or we have to fight all of these things until sunset." Wolf said with a frown. Nami wondered what to do, until she then came up with an idea as she then wiped the sweat off her forehead.

"Ohh… it's so hot out here." Nami said while looking at the blazing sun. Wolf, and Leon wondered what Nami was saying at the situation they are in, while Panther was feeling worried for her. "I just don't see any other way to cool off." Nami said as she then grabbed the bottom of her shirt. "If only I could get into the elevator. I could take off all my clothes if we were just inside.

Panther suddenly had a very determined look on his face as he then shoulderbarged the electric barrier with great force. Despite getting electrocuted, Panther pushed with all his might until he then shattered the barrier with his own strength as he then fell on the ground nearly paralyzed.

"Nice…" Wolf said as he then hurried to the elevator, and opened the doors. Nami, and Leon hurried in as well, with Leon still shooting at the machines as Nami then pulled in Panther into the elevator.

"Thank you, Panther-kun." Nami said kindly as Panther dazedly gave the thumbs up in response. Wolf then planted some sensor bombs on the ground before getting in the elevator with his team. They all saw how the machines were charging at them befor e the elevator doors closed.

KABOOM!

A loud explosion could be heard outside the elevator as it then started to descend. "Ugh… that was very close." Nami sighed.

"You did good out there, Princess." Wolf said next to her, "You can have the bigger cut of the treasure once we get it."

"Yes!" Nami said excitedly, while this made Leon angry.

"We could've done it without you, you know? Don't be so damn excited about this." Leon said rudely.

"Say what you want; you know what would have happened if I wasn't here. Tee hee!" Nami said while winking at Leon, which pissed him off even more.

"Nami…" Panther groggily said, "We are inside the elevator. You may take off your clothes now."

"No, thanks; I'm too happy now." Nami said cheerfully, causing Panther to moan in pain.

Meanwhile…

Peppy was sitting up against the wall of his big prison cell, as he looked very sad. "Fox… oh, I hope you don't give in just because of me." Peppy said to himself, "-sigh-… if there was only way to get out of here."

"Get your freakin' furry hands off me!"

"Hmm?" Peppy saw the barriers of his prison cell disappear as he then saw multiple guards struggling to put Franky in it.

"Put me down! You can't get away with this! Whoa!" The guards tossed Franky inside the cell, and activated it's barriers again. Franky, who still had laser cuffs on him, hopped on his feet, and tried to go through the barrier. "You think this can hold me! You just wait, and see what will happen to you later!"

The guards ignored him as they walked away, leaving Franky to shoulderbarge the barrier repeatedly. "Dammit! Break!" As much as Franky tried to escape, he couldn't do anything to the barrier as he backed off while panting heavily. "Crud! If only I had some cola with me!"

"Umm… hello?" Peppy said in confusion.

"Eh?" Franky glanced over his shoulder to notice Peppy for the first time.

After a brief explanation, Peppy, and Franky were both sitting up against the wall, now talking about their situation. "I see… so you are one of the pirates that came into Corneria yesterday." Peppy said, "I never thought I meet you here."

"And I didn't think I'd meet the guy who tried to give me, and my pals the warm welcome after that stupid ambush." Franky said as he then looked at Peppy, "But, you know, you are nothing like I imagined. I thought you would be some tough looking macho man, but it turns out you're just an old rabbit. No offense."

"None taken." Peppy replied, "As for me, I'd imagined the pirates being tough-looking as well, and it appears that I was right, only you look more stronger than I thought."

"Ahahahaha! I like ya, Old rabbit bro!" Franky laughed, "My name's Franky."

"I'm Peppy Hare. Nice to meet you." Peppy said kindly, "So, Franky, how is that you got on this ship?"

Franky then looked up the ceiling with a frown, "These jerks came attacking the town, and for some reason, they took my ship. I tried to stop them, but… well, you know." He said while making a gesture to his laser cuffs.

"I'm sorry to hear that." Peppy said sadly, "I wouldn't know what Oikonny wants with your ship."

"Oikonny?" Franky asked, "Old man, can you tell me who are these guys, and why they kidnapped you?" Peppy then had a sad look on his face as he then explained the whole thing about Andrew, his army, and his uncle, Andross. After he finished explaining, Franky was shocked. "No kidding! A gorilla head trying to take over the Lylat System!"

"He was very powerful, and his nephew, Andrew Oikonny, intends to take his place." Peppy said as he then looked at the ground, "I don't know how he got so powerful in such a short notice, but he has to be stopped."

"I think I've seen the guy before. Is he the baboon with the horse face?" Franky asked. Peppy nodded as Franky then smirked, "That guy doesn't even look like he can rule a stick. Don't worry, rabbit bro, we're going to get out of here in one way or another."

"I hope so." Peppy said, "But with the tight security here, that may be impossible. Our only hope is Fox, and the others, but I doubt that they will come here with my life in stake."

"Fox is a smart guy, he'll know what to do… even though he is a heartbreaking bum." Franky said as he then looked at Peppy, "But just incase he doesn't, I'll be the guy who will be taking back his ship, and will be saving your ass today. You can count on that!"

Peppy was shocked to hear those words as he looked at Franky, seeing that he has very confident grin on his face. Before Peppy could say anything, the cell's barriers disappeared as several guards got inside. "Emperor Oikonny wishes to see you both right now." One of them said.

"Tsk!" Franky muttered as several guards then picked up him since he cuffed, while two other guards pulled Peppy off the wall, and pushed him out of the cell as they took Peppy out of the prison area. Franky was also taken away, but in a slower pace since the guards were once again having a hard time trying to move him. "Get off me! Eh… I hope the others are okay."

Meanwhile…

The Great Fox was already flying through space, trying to find where to find the enemy mothership that Peppy was in. In the bridge, you see the Starfox team waiting for ROB to get some results, while the Strawhat crew were just standing around there. It was really quiet in the room after the little 'incident' that happened to Luffy, and Fox as they were just trying to forget about it.

"I can't believe our ship is gone." Usopp said in a sad tone, "Why would someone take our ship?"

"Who knows?" Sanji asked while laying up against the wall, "Our only option is to find it, and try to find a way to get back on Corneria."

"They captured Franky too! What's going to happen to him?" Chopper asked worryingly.

"He'll be fine." Sanji said as he then too had a worried look, "What I am worried about is where Nami-san could be. If she wasn't with you guys, then where is she?"

"She might have been captured along with the ship… or maybe something else might have happen while we were gone?" Robin presumed, making Sanji a bit nervous.

"Well… wherever she is, I will save her no matter what it takes!" Sanji said confidently. The only one quiet in the group was Luffy, who had his arms crossed while laying up against the wall as he looked at space through the bridge's windows. It was then ROB who then faced towards the Starfox team.

"It's no use. I cannot find the mothership on the radar. We lost it for good." ROB said.

"Damn! We could've caught up to them if it wasn't for the three musketidiots here." Falco said, referring to Luffy, Usopp, and Sanji.

"Who are you calling an idiot, you idiot?" Sanji asked with a frown.

"Guys, this isn't the time to fight again!" Slippy said, breaking Sanji, and Falco apart, "We have to work together to find Peppy, and Franky! We cant afford to waste anymore time arguing."

"Slippy's right. We have to find those two, and our ship!" Usopp said, "Otherwise, we wont be able to get back home, and our lives will be over as we know it!"

"There is no need to exaggerate, Usopp." Krystal said to him calmly, "Besides, that ship shouldn't have gone far, so it shouldn't be much trouble finding it. The only question is, how do we rescue our friends from Oikonny's grasp?"

Fox then turned towards the group, "This is something we can do ourselves." Fox said as he then looked at the Strawhat crew, "Sorry, guys, but we have put you through so much lately, and you lost your companions for it. Don't worry; we will rescue Peppy, and Franky from Oikonny, I promise."

"Ha! That's funny." Luffy said sarcastically. Everyone looked at Luffy as Fox looked at him oddly, "First, you kidnapped my crew, and now you want to pretend to save them?"

"What!" Fox asked in shock.

"Luffy! Fox, and his team aren't the bad guys! We told you that already!" Chopper said.

"Then why did he force you to come aboard his ship! It's obvious he's the bad guy here!" Luffy said angrily while pointing at Fox.

"Now, wait a minute, I didn't kidnap anybody!" Fox stated, "I actually saved your crew from a possible execution! You should thank me for protecting them!"

"You left Zoro on another world I haven't been before, and you want me to believe that was good!" Luffy asked.

"Is Luffy angry about us going with Fox, or is he just jealous that Zoro went to another world, and he didn't?" Chopper asked while sweatdropping.

"I think it's both." Robin said. Falco then walked in front of the angry duo.

"Come on, guys. Let's not start a ruckus." Falco said with a light, and cocky shrug, "Tell you what, how about you guys kiss, and make up again, so we can put this matter behind us?"

POW!

Falco punched in the face by Luffy, and Fox in the same time as Falco fell on his back nearly unconscious. Chopper, and Slippy were shocked at this as Sanji had enough.

"I think it's time you two to stop acting so childish, and get back into what is important right now." Sanji said.

"I agree, Fox. Stop being so impolite." Krystal said in a rather unpleasant tone. Fox looked at Krystal before sighing.

"Okay, fine." Fox said as he then faced in front of the bridge's keyboard, "Like Krystal said before, we could still find the ship. All we need to do is to figure out a way to get our friends out of there."

"We could use the jamming smartbomb I have been working on." Slippy suggested.

"Jamming smartbomb?" Usopp asked curiously.

"It's a new bomb I recently designed." Slippy said, "It's designed to jam the signals of all airships except for our Arwings you saw in the hangar. If we use that, we can mess with Oikonny's airship fleet, and mess up their controls long enough to just fly in Oikonny's mothership, and get our friends out of there in an instant."

"That's great, Slippy! Where is it?" Fox asked.

"It just need some few modifications, and the only problem is that I haven't tested it yet, but I am very sure it should work!" Slippy said.

"Okay, then here is what we are going to do." Fox started to explain, "Slippy will fire his special smartbomb onto Oikonny's fleet, that is when we go through Oikonny's defenses, and infiltrate his ship." He then looked at the Strawhat crew, "Since you guys have some battle experience, we're counting on you to ambush Oikonny's mothership, and rescue our friends. We don't know how long Slippy's bomb will last, so dont waste any time there."

"But what about our ship?" Usopp asked, "We can't just leave it there!"

"We'll figure out how to get your ship back later. What's more important right now is to save Peppy, and Franky." Fox said, "After all that is done, Andrew wont be escaping from us this time."

"Yosh! Let's go kick their asses now!" Luffy yelled determinedly.

"We have to find their base first! Weren't you listening!" Usopp asked.

"Alright, I'll start finishing up on the bomb." Slippy said as he then looked around the ground, "All I need is my wrench first. I can't seem to find it."

"I think you left it in the briefing room." Krystal said, "Don't worry; I'll go get it for you."

Krystal then left the bridge as Sanji watched her leave. "Oh… I've never seen such beauty before…" Sanji said happily as he then took out the rose he still has from Mute City, "If I can just express my true feelings to her, then she'll probably accept me!"

"Ahem…" Sanji glanced over his shoulder to see Fox a little angry at Sanji for what he said. Sanji was confused as Robin then explained everything to him by whispering in his ear.

"Oh! So sorry!" Sanji apologized as he then lowered his head in depression. "You are a very lucky man. Don't ever let go of her."

Fox accepted Sanji's apology as Sanji sadly lets go of the rose he was holding. "Hm?" Chopper looked at the rose as he then blushed a bit before looking where Krystal left off.

Meanwhile…

Krystal was walking along the grey hallways of the Great Fox until she then entered the briefing room, which was a little messier than before. "-sigh-… I sure wish that everyone can clean up this place by themselves. I don't want to be the only one who cares around here. Now, where is that wrench?"

Krystal then started to search for the wrench behind Fox's chair, until she then felt a cool breeze coming into the room. "Huh?" Krystal looked up to see the automatic door just closing. "That's odd…" She shrugged it off as she then continued searching. She looked around the jukebox, but then could hear the sound of faint footsteps. She turned around, but saw no one in the room as the sound.

"Is someone there?" Krystal asked, since she couldn't feel a presence. "I must be hearing things." Krystal then looked underneath the cushions next to a window, and found the wrench under one of them. "Here it is." Krystal picked it up, and smiled while looking at it. "I swear, Slippy shouldn't leave his stuff laying around here. I must straighten him out before he takes this as a bad habit."

Krystal then got up, and turned around. "Huh!" Krystal gasped as their was somebody in front of her. "W-Who are you! How did you get in here!"

MPNo. 1 looked at Krystal as he then took out an Obscurum tear from his pocket, and moved it in front of Krystal's face. "You will submit!" MPNo. 1 said. Krystal was paralyzed in fear as the Obscurum tear was getting brighter.

A minute later, Chopper could be seen walking through the hallways, holding the rose Sanji dropped earlier with both hooves as he seemed nervous. "Okay… what should I say to her?" Chopper asked himself, "Um, Krystal? I… like you, so I would like for you to have this. No… that didn't sound good." Chopper then acted tough, "Yo, Krystal! I want you to be my girlfriend, so you better take this before you regret it! N-No, that sounds mean."

Chopper pondered for a while until he then grew some self-esteem, "I'll just be myself. If she says no, then I'll be proud that I'd atleast tried." Chopper then continued to walk forward until he was in front of the briefing room. He was about to go in, but was getting nervous again. "Hmm… what am I doing? Krystal belongs to Fox. It wouldn't be right to say that I like her. But I just cant…"

Suddenly, the door to the briefing room opened, startling Chopper as he saw Krystal getting out. "Oh, Krystal! You scared me." Chopper sighed in relief as he then blushed while avoiding eye contact, "Krystal… their has been something I wanted to say to you, but I was too nervous to say it." He then held up his rose with both of his hooves, "You see, I… huh?"

Chopper looked up at Krystal, and saw her laying her hand against the side door as she seemed different somehow. She looked rather grim instead of happy, and her eyes were showing little to no emotion. It was like she turned into a new kind of person, a person you would want to stay away from. The eerie look in her eyes was making Chopper worry about her.

"K-Krystal?" Chopper said worryingly. Krystal shifted her eyes down to look at Chopper.

"Oh… it's you." Krystal said with her creepy grim look, "What do you want?"

"Um…" Chopper looked past Krystal to see that there were no one in the briefing room behind. He then looked at Krystal, which made him worry even more. "… I just wanted to ask you if… um… Krystal, are you okay?"

"Hmph! That's what you wanted ask me? What a waste of my time." Krystal grumbled as she then walked past Chopper. Chopper then faced towards her, more worried about her than ever.

"Krystal, is something the matter? You don't look well." Chopper said with a sad look. Krystal stopped walking as she then looked at the ground.

"I don't look well?" Krystal asked a little angry, "What is about you men about how women look? Aren't you satisfied enough the way you want us to be? Why should you care about how I look!"

"I-I didn't mean it like that!" Chopper replied nervously, "I'm just-"

"Just what!" Krystal asked furiously, "Are you trying to say that you like me!" Chopper was shocked hearing that as Krystal then smirked, "Yeah, I knew. I knew it since we first met. You've always tried to hide it, but you can't hide anything from me! I'm a telepath, remember! I know every single thing you have in mind, and right now, you're wondering why I am acting so strange… haven't it occurred to you that this may be my true self! I can't stand the way people look at me without acting the way they want me to be!"

"Krystal… I don't know what's going on, but do you want to talk about it?" Chopper asked.

"Ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! Is that your way of saying it!" Krystal asked as she then faced towards Chopper with a smirk, "I know what you want me to do for you, but you are going to have say something better than that to get me in the mood!" Krystal then started walking towards Chopper, who was backing away as he was scared of Krystal, "Do you want to have sex with me! I know you do! The first thing that came to your mind about me was how beautiful I looked, so I knew you would eventually find a way to make me yours to fulfill your disgusting needs!"

"Krystal, stop! I would never do anything to hurt you!" Chopper cried. Krystal then grabbed Chopper by the neck, shocking him as he drops the rose he was holding before Krystal pushed him against the wall. She then started to choke Chopper as she then tilted her head in confusion.

"What will you do to make me happy?" Krystal asked calmly as she then raised Slippy's wrench, "Will you bleed for me? I will be happy if you did!"

"PLEASE, KRYSTAL, NOOOO!" Chopper cried loudly. Krystal's eyes then widened in shock as she dropped the wrench, and let's go of Chopper. Chopper gasped for air as Krystal held her head in pain. While panting, Chopper looked at Krystal as she seemed to be calming down.

"I'm sorry, Chopper. I didn't mean to do that." Krystal said as she was now dazed, "My head hurts… I am going to lie down for a while. Could you give the wrench back to Slippy, please? Thank you…"

Without saying anything else, Krystal got up, and walked away, stepping on the rose Chopper brought for her. As Chopper watched her leave, he knew for certain that something happened to her.

"Krystal… what's wrong?"

Meanwhile…

In a lake next to a waterfall, Zoro could be seen nearly unconcious on the shore. He rubbed his head as he got up on his knees. "Ugh… where am I?" He asked as he looked at his surroundings. He then gasped as he remembered what happened earlier. "Oh no! Tricky!" Zoro got on his feet, and looked for Tricky, "Tricky, where are you!"

"Yah…"

Zoro looked to his right to see Tricky laying on his back, with swirls over his eyes as he was dizzy after falling. "Tricky, get up!" Zoro said.

"Who, wha?" Tricky muttered as he then regained his focus upon seeing Zoro, "Oh, Zoro. You're okay!" He said while rolling back on his feet.

"Are you okay?" Zoro asked.

"Y-Yeah." Tricky replied, "Man, I thought we were dead back there! Who knew that the Sharpclaw would suddenly attack us!"

"Your the king of this world! You should've known what was going on around here!" Zoro said.

"Hey, even I can't predict when they would attack again!" Tricky replied angrily, "I'm just surprised that General Scales is back. I'd never thought that he would come back so suddenly."

"That is the least of our worries right now." Zoro said while looking up the waterfall, "They are going to come looking for us, and I lost the swords I was carrying with me before we fell here. If we want to get out of this alive, I am going to need my swords back, if that's okay with you?"

Tricky looked at Zoro, and knew that he didn't get along with him that well, but he decided to put that thought aside. "Alright, man, I'll give you your swords back. But you must promise that you won't kill me for the things I did to you."

"Heh heh! Trust me, I have been through alot worse situations before. What you try to do to me was hardly anything." Zoro said with a smile.

"Ha ha, I guess you're right! Lucky I didn't go extreme with you. Hee hee!" Tricky replied happily as he then tried to look at his back. "Don't worry; I'll give you your… swords?" Tricky noticed that Zoro's swords were no longer on his back. It was quiet for a few moments until Tricky looked back at Zoro with a weak smile. "Eh heh… um, here's a funny story. I think, um…"

Zoro noticed Tricky didn't have his swords on his back, and just by seeing how Tricky was acting, he knew he lost them. "Are you kidding me!" Zoro asked as he then started choking Tricky mercilessly while moving his neck back, and forth. "Of all the stupid things, this is by far the stupidest thing you have done to me!"

Tricky broke free of Zoro's grip as he gasped for air, "Why are you blaming me! It was an accident!" Tricky yelled back. He then noticed some sparks under his neck as the gadget he had around his neck fell off in pieces. "You see what you did! Now anybody can take your swords thanks to you!"

"Geh!" Zoro gasped as he then rubbed his temples in anger, "Why is it so hard to have my swords back here!" Zoro asked. He then calmed down as he looked back at Tricky, "Okay, we're not going to get anywhere by yelling. We need to stay calm, and find somewhere that is safe from those guys that attacked us up there. You have any ideas?"

"Hmm…" Tricky began to think until he thought of an idea, "We can go to the Walled City. That place is heavily guarded by my fellow Earthwalkers! Their is no way that Scales could get to us there!"

"Alright. We'll come back around here to look for my swords once this Sharpclaw threat is over." Zoro said, "Where is this Walled City?"

"It's just ahead of this path." Tricky said, making a gesture to open path between some trees, and shrubs, "It's a long way there, so you better keep up."

"Just the lead the way." Zoro said.

As they went along the path that leads to the Walled City, back on Cape Claw, General Scales was observing the whole area, seeing the damages, and the rest of his men he sent out nearly dead. "I don't understand!" He said angrily, "How is it that you all lost if you outnumbered them!"

"It was Tricky's friend that did all this!" One of the injured Sharpclaw replied, "He was too powerful."

General Scales then kicked the Sharpclaw that replied to him for being so loud, injuring him more as Sharpclaw walked towards the end of the waterfall.

"And they escaped from here? I doubt they'd even survive." Scales said as he then looked at the uninjured Sharpclaws with him, "Search down there! Report to me if you find their bodies!"

The Sharpclaw nodded as they quickly left his General alone. Scales then had a bright shining into his eye, "Hergh?" Scales looked to his right, and saw Zoro's swords near the destroyed rocks as one of Zoro's swords, the Ichimonji, was slighty out of it's sheathe as it reflected the sun's ray into Scales face. Scales walked up to the blades, and slowly grabbed them, showing that the electrical barrier around was gone as Scales wondered who the swords belonged to.

"Now, just what do we have here?"

Meanwhile…

Nami, and Starwolf continued to descend down with the elevator as Nami yawned out of boredom. "How much further till we get there?" Nami asked Wolf.

"Don't worry about it. As they say, the longer the wait, the better the prize will be." Wolf said. Nami giggled at that thought, but stopped as she realized something.

" What the…? Am I actually enjoying being with these people? " Nami thought before she shook her head, " No, pull it together! I can't let him take control over me. "

The elevator then finally reached it's destination as it opened up it's doors, letting Nami, and Starwolf out of the elevator. They were now in a huge underground base, with several open floor, and another elevator at the other side of the bottom floor. They walked ahead until Nami saw something she liked.

"Look! A safe!" Nami said excitedly while pointing at a huge safe to her left. "That must be where the treasure is!"

"How do we open it?" Leon asked, "And if we do open it, how do we know there isn't another trap waiting for us?"

"We'll have to find out." Wolf said while taking out some bombs, "Princess, blow up the door with these. Then go inside to see if there is a trap." Wolf then tossed the bombs to Nami, who barely caught them all as she glared at Wolf.

"You want to risk my life to see if there is a trap! Are you out of your mi-!" Before Nami could finish, she saw Wolf taking out his claw blaster, "I was just kidding again! Geez, get a grip, will you!"

Wolf smirked as Nami slowly approached the safe's door. When she did, she felt a slight breeze coming from it's side. When she went to take a look, she noticed that the safe wasn't locked at all. "Hey, it's not even locked up! It's still open."

"Open?" Wolf asked curiously. He, and his team checked themselves, and saw that the door wasn't fully closed.

"Strange… why is it left open?" Panther asked.

Wolf then placed his hands into the lock's opening, and started pulling it, "Give me a hand!" Wolf said. Leon, and Panther helped Wolf opened the door as Nami then got to see what was inside.

Nothing.

Inside the safe was absolutely nothing, but spiderwebs, and dust. Nami dropped the bombs as she couldn't believe what she had risked for, only to get nothing in return. "What is this! What are you trying to pull here!"

Once Starwolf looked into the safe, they were as shocked as Nami was. "There is nothing in here! Where is the treasure!" Leon asked angrily.

Wolf walked inside as Nami was throwing tantrum. "This is just great! We came here for nothing! Where did the treasure go!"

"P-Please, Nami, I am just as angry as you are, but let's face the facts. Those rumors of treasure being here was a little too good to be true, don't you think?" Panther asked, trying to calm down Nami, but it didn't work.

"I don't care! I wanted my treasure after having such a hard time getting here!" Nami yelled while stomping her foot down, "Ergh! I am so angry, I just want to leave this planet already!" Nami then noticed Wolf leaning on one knee as he seemed to be looking at something, "What are doing?"

"Nothing. Just trying to see if there was any trace of who took it. There doesn't seem to be anything here, though." Wolf said while getting up before putting his hand into his pocket. He then walked out of the safe with his head lowered as Nami followed him.

"Are we leaving now? If we are, then are we going to get through those things out there?" Nami asked.

"You don't need to worry about that, yet." Wolf replied without looking at her.

"What do you mean?" Nami asked. Wolf then snapped his fingers, signaling Leon to grab Nami from behind, shocking her as this also shocked Panther. "Gah! Wh-What are you doing!"

"The treasure that was here wasn't really my aim." Wolf said while facing towards Nami, and looking at her face to face, "There will be something of worth here, and that will be the great historical moment of how your captain died!"

Nami's eyes widened in fear as Wolf turned while activating his communicator.

Meanwhile…

Back in the Great Fox's bridge, Slippy was working on a blue smartbomb, which was his jamming bomb as Usopp taking a good look at his work. "That looks a bit small? Are you sure that thing will do the trick."

"Oh, yeah! Trust me, my inventions never fail." Slippy said confidently.

"Really?" Usopp asked, "Hey, maybe we can share some ideas. I am sorta of a great inventor myself, you know? We can make something great together."

"Yeah, that would be great!" Slippy agreed, "But first, I need to finish this. Where is Krystal with my wrench?"

It was then that Chopper entered the room, holding the wrench with head lowered. "Here you go…" Chopper said while giving the wrench to Chopper.

"Thanks! Where is Krystal?" Slippy asked. Chopper looked up, trying to come up with something.

"Well, she said that she was feeling sick, so she went to her room to lay down for a while." Chopper said. Fox heard this as he looked at Chopper.

"Her head hurts? She looked fine just moments ago." Fox said.

"Um… well, it's no big deal. All she needs to do is sleep it off." Chopper said with a weak smile. Sanji knew that Chopper was hiding something, but before he could ask, ROB got infront of Fox.

"We have an incoming transmission from Titania." ROB said. The Starfox team looked confused.

"Titania?" Falco asked curiously, "Since when do we get transmissions from Tita-"

Suddenly, a holographic monitor appeared, showing Wolf in the screen. The Starfox team were shocked seeing him as the Strawhat crew didn't know who he was. "Hey there, pup. It's been awhile."

"Wolf!" Fox gasped, "What do you want!"

"Calm down, pup, I am not here to do business with you." Wolf said while cocking his head to his left, "Besides, there is always a chance to take care of you in some other time."

Wolf then saw him; he saw Luffy right next to Fox. Luffy looked at Wolf, and instantly remembered who he was. Wolf gave a sinister glare at Luffy just as he did the same with him. Their glares were giving such an eerie aura between the two. "… Just the person I wanted to see…" Wolf said with a sinister smirk.

Luffy clenched his fists in anger upon seeing Wolf again since their last encounter in Mute City. "You're the cyclops…"

Starfox Pt 10

Sorry for the wait; college work has slowed me down a bit, but it wont be a big deal. This chapter looks a bit rushed, but it still might be good. Enjoy!

All for nothing. Nami, and Starwolf finally found the safe to Titania's valuable treasure. Unfortunately, they were too late as the treasure was already gone. This, however, did not disappointed Wolf at all as he then went to settle with unfinished business with Nami's captain, Luffy. What is Luffy going to do?"

Chapter 108: Change of plans!, The long awaited confrontation

Luffy and Wolf continued to glare at eachother, rising the tension in the bridge. Everyone else in the Bridge didn't know what was going on as Fox then looked at Luffy in confusion. "You know Wolf?" Fox asked.

"You can say that we have crossed paths once," Wolf said with a smirk, "But we have yet to settle our score."

"L-Luffy? Who is this guy?" Usopp asked nervously.

"Don't you remember?" Luffy asked while glaring at Wolf, "They attacked us back in Port town before we left there." The crew were shocked to hear this.

"Wha! You mean that's the same guy!" Chopper gasped. Sanji also remembered that as he then remembered who was with Wolf during the time.

"So it's you guys again!" Sanji said angrily while looking at Wolf, "What do you want from us!"

"I have no business with the boy's lackies, nor do I have business with Starfox. I only wish to speak to the young captain himself." Wolf replied. He then looked back at Luffy, and smirked, "It seems that you've managed to make it this far, boy. I'm impressed; I honestly didn't expect you to be in the pup's ship, but this makes things so much interesting for the both of us."

"What're you talking about?" Falco asked with a clenched fist.

"I have something to share with you all. Something that you all might be interested in." Wolf said. He then stepped aside as the screen showed Leon holding Nami from behind while Panther was scolding at him for doing that. The Strawhat crew were shocked to see this.

"N-Nami!" Luffy gasped.

"Nami-swan!" Sanji gasped as well. Nami struggled to break free as she could see her friends in the screen of Wolf's communicator.

"Luffy! Help!" Nami cried before Leon covered her mouth. Wolf then appeared in the monitor again as Sanji was really angry.

"You bastard! You were the one that kidnapped Nami-san!" Sanji asked furiously.

"Hey, that wouldn't have happened if somebody worthy was there to protect her during that time." Wolf replied, "It was your captain's fault for leaving her alone in the ship in the first place."

"Damn you…" Sanji growled with a clenched fist.

"Wolf, why are you doing this!" Fox asked angrily, "What can you possibly get out of this!"

"This is none of your business, pup." Wolf replied sternly, "Just this once, I want to have a rival that is willing to put everything on the line just so he can try to beat the crap out of me! Unlike you, who always tried to avoid me during our confrontations. I am sick of that, so stay out of my way, puppy!"

"Grr…" Fox growled in response.

"What do you plan to do with Miss Navigator?" Robin asked sternly.

"Nothing, if your captain does something for me first." Wolf replied before looking back at Luffy, "Now listen carefully, if you want to see your beloved princess alive, meet me at the underground base of Titania in one hour. You are only allowed to bring two of your crewmembers with you. Bring any more, or if I see pup, or any of his team with you, I will personally kill your princess, and everything will be your fault!"

"I'll be there!" Luffy replied angrily as he then pointed at Wolf, "I swear… once I get there, I will kick your ass!"

"Ha ha! We'll see…" Wolf replied with a cocky smirk, "See you then, boy."

Wolf then broke communication as the holographic screen disappeared. Luffy lowered his gaze onto to the floor as Usopp felt very nervous about this situation.

"What do we do!" Usopp asked, "If we don't do what he says, Nami will…"

"We're going over there right now!" Sanji yelled as he then looked at the Starfox team, "Take us over there!"

"Hey, you can't tell us what to do!" Falco replied, "Besides, Peppy is in more danger right now. We can rescue your friend after-"

"We don't have that kind of time!" Sanji replied furiously, "We need to rescue Nami-swan before it's too late!"

"But what about our mission?" Slippy asked curiously, "We won't be able to succeed if you guys aren't with us! We need your help too!"

"Franky is with the general guy." Luffy said, catching everyone's attention. He then looked at Fox with a determined look, "Listen… we won't be long. I promise, I'll finish this as quickly as possible! I will help you rescue your general once I rescue Nami! Please, that's all I ask."

Fox had a stern look on his face as he, and Luffy were exchanging stares. Fox then sighed as he then looked at ROB. "Take us to Titania, ROB."

"Roger." ROB said. ROB then did some typing on the control panel as Fox looked back at Luffy.

"I trust you…" Fox said, "I understand what you must do, and I won't hold you back." Fox then gave off a glare, "But if you take too long, I will leave you there until I rescue Peppy. Do we have ourselves a deal?"

Luffy then smirked as he reached his hand out forwardly, "Don't worry; I'll be back before you know it!"

Fox smirked too as he then shook Luffy's hand out of trust. "Ugh, you better finish this quick." Falco said with his arms crossed.

"This should give me more time to work on my bomb." Slippy said, "Maybe I should also work on fixing Falco's arwing while I am at it."

"Yosh! Let's go save Nami!" Luffy said confidently, with Sanji having a fierce look of determination with flames engulfing his body. The Great Fox then changed course, and made it's way towards Titania.

Meanwhile…

As Wolf turned off his communicator, Nami stomped on Leon's foot hardly, causing Leon to let go of her as he hopped one foot in pain. Nami then walked towards Wolf angrily, "If you think I'll let you hurt Luffy, you have another thing coming!"

"You don't have a say in this, so back off." Wolf replied as he then faced at her, "Instead of trying to get on my nerves, you should be thanking me for not killing you yet."

"You are going to kill me anyway! Why should I thank you!" Nami asked.

"That was just a way to get your captain motivated on getting here. I have no plans on killing a part of my team." Wolf said.

"I won't be a part of your team anymore once Luffy gets here!" Nami said as she then pointed at Wolf, "You will be sorry you ever messed with me! To think that I tried stopping Luffy from attacking you when we first met, but now, I won't interfere! You will just see how tough Luffy can be, and you will never hear the end of it!"

Wolf closed his eyes, and smirked as he walked past Nami with his hands in his pocket, "I know exactly how tough your captain is… and I plan to take complete advantage of it." Wolf then glanced over his shoulder to look at Nami, "Trust me; after this little confrontation, things will change for the better." Wolf then looked the other way, and walked in front of his team. "That boy will be here soon. I want you two to take care of whoever he decides to bring along with."

"Heh heh heh! Now this is getting interesting for me." Leon said while licking his lips, "I'll torture them a bit before I cook them!"

"… Will that poser of a man be here as well?" Panther asked, referring to Sanji, as he then took out a rose, "If so… I will not hesitate to finish him off!"

"Perfect!" Wolf said with a smirk as he then looked at his palm, "That boy won't escape from me for the third time! I will finally get what I wanted for so long! Ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

As Wolf laughed, Nami looked the other way, worried about Luffy. "Luffy… please, hurry…"

Meanwhile…

Franky, and Peppy were taken to the bridge of Oikonny's mothership as the guards that brought them there forced them on their knees. "Hey, back off!" Franky yelled. The guards then backed away as Franky, and Peppy could see Andrew in front of them. Andrew was looking through the bridge's windshield as he then tilted his head upwards.

"I had such good dreams over the years." Andrew said, "For some reason, I can't seem to achieve them." Andrew then faced towards Franky, and Peppy, "But now, my dreams will finally be made into a reality, and none of you will be a threat to me anymore!"

"Oikonny, you must stop! There is no point to go on fighting like this!" Peppy yelled.

"Shut up, old man! I'm in charge here, and I'll do what I want!" Andrew yelled back. Andrew then looked at Franky, who was avoiding eye contact as Andrew then walked up to him. "Now then… you have some explaining to do. I want to know who you are, and why you have attacked my men!"

Franky did not reply as he continued to avoid eye contact, frustrating Andrew. "You insolent fool! I am the new emperor of the Lylat System. You will show your respect by looking at me while I am talking to you!"

"… I can't stand the sight of garbage…" Franky replied. Andrew was then furious as he then backslapped Franky, knocking his sunglasses out of his eyes. Franky frowned as he still ignored Andrew.

"You think you can just waltz in here, and make a fool out of me!" Andrew asked while walking up to Franky's sunglasses, "I am the future of the Lylat System, so your life rests on my hands now!" Andrew then stepped on Franky's sunglasses, shattering the lenses as this angered Franky, but didn't show his anger.

Andrew then calmed down as the soldiers from the mothership that invaded Corneria entered the Bridge. He looked at them, noticing that they slightly shivering. "You all have some explaining to do! Why did you bring that piece of junk into my ship!"

"Um… well…" One of the guards were starting to talk until he heard someone coming. Franky heard it too as he then looked to his left, and saw who entered.

"Huh!" Franky gasped as he saw Dimentio, who happily approaches Andrew.

"We have returned from our little voyage, Andrew-san." Dimentio said happily, "I hope you are very pleased by the results."

"I was until I saw that junk these idiots brought in! What happened back there!" Andrew asked. The guards were about to reply until they saw Dimentio looking at them, with his usual smile on his face.

"W-W-We just thought it might be a good present! We didnt think it would be trouble!" The guards replied as they then whimpered.

"What! Why would I want some stupid old ship!" Andrew asked.

"Calm down, Andrew. It was me who requested to bring the ship here." Dimentio said happily. Andrew then glared at him.

"You! Why!" Andrew asked.

"You don't know? Well… oh?" Dimentio looked to his right to see Franky. This brought joy to Dimentio as he approached Franky, "Ah ha ha ha ha! Well, hello, Franky! It's been a while! How are you?"

"I'M GONNA BITE YOUR HEAD OFF!" Franky yelled as he tried to attack Dimentio, but Oikonny's guards were holding him back as Dimentio just laughed.

"Ah ha ha! Don't tell me you didn't enjoy the little ride back in Indigo Plateau? I thought it was most enjoyable to fall along with a building." Dimentio said.

"Damn you! So your the bastard that took my ship! Once I get out of here, I'm gonna wipe that stupid smile of your face with my fists!" Franky yelled while struggling to get loose from his cuffs.

"I am sure that would be most pleasing, but perhaps another time." Dimentio replied politely.

"You know this hooligan!" Andrew asked.

"That's what I was going to explain." Dimentio said while looking at Andrew, "You see, that ship in the hangar belongs to the group of pirates who have been meddling with Obscurum's purpose, so in order to weaken their moral, I requested to take their ship away from them. The pirates can't leave Corneria without it, and it would be easier for the most organized of the Obscurum rulers to finish them off."

Dimentio then looked at Franky, "Surprisingly, I didn't expect that one of them would be in the ship. It's like hitting two birds with one stone. Ah ha ha ha ha!"

"I see… so this man is one of the pirates!" Andrew then looked down at Franky, "It makes more sense to kill him now!"

"Oh, but that would be a waste." Dimentio said, getting Andrew's attention, "Why not wait until your victory ceremony? It would be a blast to see this man getting tortured along with his crewmates. It would also show that you are a primate that shouldn't be messed with."

"Yeah… I like that. Alright, I'll do it your way." Andrew said. "But now, I would like to make a preview of my glorious triumph over this system." Andrew then looked at Peppy, "Better pay attention, old man. This will be the way you will live from now on."

Peppy frowned as Andrew imagined an enormous fleet of ships heading towards Corneria. "We will first strike Corneria, and destroy all of it's good qualities. Will turn that planet into a waste dump!" He then imagined his soldiers roaming around Corneria's streets, while it's citizens were trembling in fear, "All of those Cornerians will live under my rule, and anyone who opposes shall be punished by death! As I hold such great power, my uncle, Andross, will be revived, and will rule the greatest world that ever existed!"

"Only a part of it, though." Dimentio reminded.

"I know!" Andrew replied, "But that doesn't matter; as long my uncle returns, I will have an unlimited amount of power!" Andrew then took out a some sort of remote, "This will start my era! This mechanism allows to reverse the signals of any kind of any transmission. It was this that we were able to capture Peppy successfully! I will use this device again once we attack Corneria for the second time! Starfox will be shot down like the insects they are, and best of all," Andrew then got in front of Peppy, "Corneria's own general will see the whole thing happen! I'm the winner this time, Peppy, and you will bow down before me!"

Oikonny's men then cheered upon his Emperor's speech. Peppy glared at Andrew before looking down at the ground in shame. Andrew smirked upon seeing this as he was about to say something else, until…

"That's retarded, man!"

Everyone stopped cheering as they all got silent. Andrew looked shock as he then looked towards the one who said that, which was Franky. "If you are going to destroy a planet, how are you going to rule if you basically destroyed everything? You also rely on that thing of yours. If I were to shove that down your throat, would it still work?"

"What!" Andrew replied angrily.

"Basically, you are just a stupid guy that's desperate for some attention. I mean, who wants someone like you to rule a whole system? These 'soldiers' of yours? If they want to follow your rule, I guess that means they are retarded as you." Franky said, "But, hey, don't feel bad. I knew a guy that was just as a bad as you, only he did some things that actually pissed me off! He got what he deserved, and it will be the same with you, only the difference is, you are going to feel twice the punishment for being the biggest loser ever!"

"GAHHH!" Andrew kicked Franky in the face, causing him to fall on his back.

"Tsk!" Franky grunted as Andrew approached him while looking down at him.

"YOU DON'T KNOW ANYTHING!" Andrew then started pounding Franky's head with his foot repeatedly. "I am the Emperor around here! I will make things the way they are supposed to be! And you will respect that!" Andrew then gave one final kick to Franky's face as he angrily left his remote on top of a control panel.

"There is no need of such violent response." Dimentio said happily, "You have no reason to believe this man at all."

"He has disrespected me long enough! It's time that he knows his place!" Andrew yelled as he then walked past Dimentio, and walked in front of his soldiers, "We are going to the hangar! Bring those two along with you!"

The soldiers nodded as they picked up Franky, and Peppy, and brought them out of the bridge as Andrew led the way to the hangar. Dimentio stayed in the bridge as he then looked through the windows.

"Hmm… perhaps it's time to see how everything else is moving along." Dimentio said, "I just hope nothing bad happens here while I'm gone. Ah ha ha ha!" He then left the bridge through his mystic portal.

As Andrew led the way to the hangar, Franky shook his head from getting kicked so much. "Are you alright, Franky?" Peppy asked concernedly.

"Pfft! I have went through worse." Franky replied with a smirk, "But I just can't stand it around here. We need to get back to your planet, bro."

"I know, but how? We're prisoners, and we don't have anything in our disposal." Peppy said.

"If only I had some cola, we'd be out of here by now." Franky muttered.

"No talking!" A guard yelled behind them. It was a long walk until they finally brought Franky, and Peppy to the hangar. Andrew walked ahead, and approached the Thousand Sunny that was still there.

"You will regret for your actions!" Andrew said as he glanced over at Franky with a smirk, "I hope you take a good look at your ship, because it wont look the same after I burn it to a crisp!"

Meanwhile…

Back in Sauria, a group of Sharpclaw were exploring around a plain area close to Cape Claw as General Scales was also there, getting more impatient by the second. "They're not here!" General Scales said angrily. He then walked in front of a pond, and looked at it to see his reflection.

One of his men then walked up to him, "Sir, they didn't leave a trace. They could've gone anywhere."

"I am losing my patience!" Scales said furiously, "Just go find those fools, and bring them to me as fast as possible!"

"Yes sir!"

All of Scales' men quickly left to find Tricky, while Scales glared at his own reflection. "Has Tricky gotten smarter over the years, or has this bodyguard of his is leading him out of my sights? He must be a smart man to know where he is going!"

Meanwhile…

Zoro, and Tricky ended up lost in the middle of a big forest, which lied somewhere in a high mountain terrain. "You have no idea where you're going, do you!" Tricky asked. Earlier, Zoro suggested to lead the way for protection purposes while Tricky would give him directions to the Walled City. As you can imagine, it didn't work out. "I cant believe I trusted you! You are such a moron!"

"It's not my fault we're here!" Zoro yelled back, "You must've given me the wrong directions!"

"I told you where to go! You just somehow messed me up! Now we're lost!" Tricky yelled. Zoro decided not to argue as he then looked around.

"Let's get to a higher terrain. We might find a good view at where we are." Zoro said while walking ahead. Tricky quickly ran past him to lead the way.

"I'll go see! You'll just get us lost again!" Tricky said. Zoro shook his head out of annoyance as he followed Tricky up a hill. Tricky got to the top first as he then saw what lied ahead of him. "Oh no…"

Zoro walked up to him, and noticed that Tricky was shivering. He looked at what Tricky was seeing, and saw a fortress. "What's that?" Zoro asked.

"Cloudrunner Fortress… it's where the Cloudrunners live…" Tricky said with a nervous tone. Zoro smiled in relief.

"That's great! We can get some help getting you to the city." Zoro said, "Let's get over there."

"N-No! I don't…" Tricky whimpered while backing away. Zoro sighed as he then looked at Tricky.

"What's wrong with you this time?" Zoro asked.

"I can't go there! I'm an Earthwalker! I can't just step foot on Cloudrunner territory! That's just not right!" Tricky yelled.

"This is not the time to back away!" Zoro replied while facing towards Tricky, "I need you to stay put in a safe place while I deal with your Sharpclaw problem, and I can't do that unless you are with your other ruling tribe!"

"B-B-But… I don't..!" Tricky then swallowed hard as he then grew some confidence, "O-Okay! But just this once! I won't do this again!"

"That's fine…" Zoro replied as he looked back at the fortress, "Let's go."

Zoro, and Tricky then slowly walked down the hill heading towards Cloudrunner Fortress. As they went down; a small, hovering camera hiding deep in a shrub watched them approach the fortress.

Meanwhile…

In the outer surface of Titania, Pigma landed his ship just on the big sandy hill far away from Titania's base. "Eah… okay!" Pigma said while adjusting himself properly on his seat, "Let's see… how do I kill them? I can't just fight them hand to hand; they are formidable as fighters just as they are as pilots, and I hate doing hard work! Although, I could just blast them away… but they might shoot me down before I do. Ergh… !"

Pigma then slammed his hand on the controls, "Bah! Why does this have to be so hard! I have the right to be rich, so doing this shouldn't be so difficult! Come on! Someone help me on this!"

Before he knew it, Pigma saw the Great Fox entering into the planet's atmosphere. "Huh? Starfox?" Pigma asked slightly surprised, "What are they doing here?"

In the Great Fox, Fox, and his team lead the Luffy, and his crew into the hangar bay as it's doors opened up. Fox then faced towards Luffy.

"This is the place." Fox said, "Wolf must be underground. You are going to have to find a way down there."

"I already know a way." Luffy said while cracking his knuckles. Luffy looked ready to fight, especially with Wolf. It has been a long time since they've seen eachother, and Luffy was more determined to beat Wolf in order to rescue Nami.

"This sounds dangerous. Are you sure you want to do this, Luffy?" Chopper asked concernedly.

"I have to. It's the only way to get Nami back." Luffy said sternly, "I won't forgive that guy for kidnapping her."

"Me neither! That bastard will pay! All of them!" Sanji yelled furiously.

"Well, who's going to go with you?" Falco asked.

"Sanji will come with me." Luffy replied.

"Yosh! I WON'T FAIL YOU, NAMI-SAN!" Sanji yelled as he was engulfed with flames out of pure determination he was feeling.

"There is still one more you can bring along. I am willing to help out." Robin said.

"Hey, good idea!" Usopp immediately exclaimed, "With Robin along, you can easily defeat those guys. Good luck, out there. I hope you bring Nami back to the safety. Ha ha ha!"

"No thanks, Robin. I want Usopp to come with me instead." Luffy said. This caused Usopp to fall on his back anime style.

"Huh! Why me! Why do I have to go!" Usopp asked once he got up again.

"You are a really strong guy. I know you can be of great help to us." Luffy replied calmly.

"Are you kidding! I'm not strong! Don't make me go out there!" Usopp begged. Usopp then pretended to have a seizure, but it didn't convince anybody as Luffy then looked at Fox.

"We'll be back as soon as we can! Just give us some time to finish this." Luffy said.

"Don't worry about us; just do what you have to do." Fox said as he approached Luffy, "By the way, don't underestimate Wolf. He used to be a Smasher just like me, and Falco. I've known him for a long time, and he is not the kind of guy who would give up so easily. I don't know how you got mixed up with him, but be careful down there. I'm more worried that you guys might not even come back alive."

"I have faced a lot of tough guys before, so I'm not afraid." Luffy said confidently.

"I am…" Usopp whimpered. Sanji then placed his arm around Usopp's head, and dragged Usopp while approaching to Luffy.

"Luffy, we need to get down there now!" Sanji said impatiently. Slippy looked at the base from the hangar, and it looked pretty far down.

"We still have some time left." Slippy said, "I can you drop you guys down there with my Ar-"

"HERE WE GO!" Luffy ran down to the lower level of the hangar as Sanji followed him while dragging Usopp along with him.

"Hey, wait! You can't just jump!" Falco yelled.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy jumped up, and stretched his arms down to grab the edge of the exit. While dragging Usopp along, Sanji jumped, and held on to Luffy's back, "ROCKET!"

Luffy sprung downward along with his crewmates as they left the Starfox team a little baffled. "How did that kid become captain again?" Falco asked.

Meanwhile…

Wolf had his arms crossed as he calmly waited for Luffy to arrive. Nami was waiting too, but she was feeling nervous instead of being calm like Wolf.

"Come on… what's taking them so long!" Leon asked impatiently. Panther was calmly smelling his rose as Nami then looked at Wolf.

"This is a waste of time! You don't have anything to gain from this encounter!" Nami said, trying to convince what Wolf is trying to do is pointless.

"You just don't know when to shut up, do you?" Wolf asked while facing towards Nami.

"Look, I am going to say this for the last time! Please, stop this before you end up regretting it for the rest of your live!" Nami yelled.

"Hmph!" Wolf can't help but to just smirk at Nami, "Everything you have to said to me so far has not made me think any different of your captain, and it will stay that way for a long time to come. It's best that you start acting differently from now on, Princess, it might help you live longer."

"What do you mean?" Nami asked.

CRASH!

Wolf, and Nami looked up to hear something coming from above. The noise grew louder as they could see the walls from above getting dented as the walls below it started to end up the same.

"What's happening!" Panther asked.

Once the walls on the bottom floor got dented, there was a big crash that destroyed the elevator that brought Nami, and Starwolf to the underground base as it created a huge dust cloud. Wolf raised an eyebrow as Nami seemed shocked, but somehow, relieved at the same time.

"Is it…?" Nami's eyes widened as she could see the dust clear, revealing Luffy, and Sanji standing on the ground distant from her, while Usopp was on the barely conscious from the crash. Luffy raised his head, and saw Nami right in front of him as he then took a deep breath.

"NAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAMMM MMMMMMMMMMMMMMIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIII!"

Wolf smirked as Nami was happy to see her captain again. "You're here! Lu-MMF!" Nami gasped as Wolf covered her mouth from behind.

"Let that boy follow me! Kill his crew!" Wolf said to Leon, and Panther. Wolf then dragged Nami into the second elevator, and went up some floors as Leon, and Panther faced towards the Strawhat trio.

"Nami-san!" Sanji yelled. Sanji then noticed Panther. They both exchanged glares as Sanji then took out a cigarette, and lit it up before putting it on his lips. "… Luffy, go save Nami-san. We'll handle these guys."

"Right!" Luffy exclaimed. He then started running as he ran past Leon, and Panther, and stretched his arms upwards to grab the ledge of the higher floors. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!"

Luffy sprung himself upward, leaving his crew behind as they confronted Leon, and Panther.

"Haaaaa!" Luffy went right through the elevator floor, and reached into a big area of the underground base. It was very wide, and had several containers, and crates against the walls. Their was also an open second floor, and some hooks hanging from the ceiling. "Nami! Where are you!"

"Luffy!"

Luffy ran out of the elevator, and there, in the center of the area, was Wolf, with Nami standing on her knees next to him. Luffy then glared at Wolf, who smirked mischievously with his arms crossed. There gazes were rising up the tension in the quiet area they were in as Wolf was to the first to break the silence.

"You made it." Wolf said, "You finally came to rescue your beloved princess."

Luffy then got into a fighting stance, "I dont know how, but I knew we were going to meet eachother again!" Luffy said.

"Did you now?" Wolf asked curiously, "Did you also knew that I was going to kidnap your princess?"

"No… but that's okay." Luffy said, "It will give me the reason to kick your ass twice as hard then I planned to do before."

"Ha ha ha!" Wolf laughed, "You haven't changed one bit, boy." Wolf raised his head up to give Luffy a sinister stare, "But are you sure you can back up those words of yours?"

"I know I can! I'm going to kick your ass, and rescue Nami right now!" Luffy yelled as his voice echoed throughout the area. The place was then quiet as Wolf then cracked his knuckles.

"… I have been waiting for this for a long time, boy." Wolf said with a stern look, "I hope you don't disappoint."

Nami quickly backed away from Wolf as she could tell something was about to happen. Luffy got ready for any kind of attack, but Wolf wasn't even in his battle position.

"Yeah… I really needed this…" Wolf said as he then glared at Luffy, "You still owe me that thing back in the bar, boy. Do you remember what it was?"

Luffy didn't reply as Wolf continued, "Let me remind you what it was. What you owe me back in that bar was something that I must have! I want… an apology!"

"Huh!" Luffy gasped.

"Wha!" Nami asked in shock.

Luffy, and Nami couldn't believe what they just heard, but by the looks of Wolf, he wasn't kidding around.

TO BE CONTINUED…

Preview: An apology? For what? What did I do? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 109: The apology, A supaa comeback! I am gonna be the Pirate King!

I bet you didnt expect an ending like that. I'll try to update quicker next time. Ciao for now!

Starfox Pt 11

Phew… this turned out longer than expected. This is a Luffy/Zoro/Franky chapter, but mostly Luffy. I hope you guys like this chappy. Enjoy!

An… what? Wolf told Luffy to meet him in Titania if he wanted to rescue Nami. Luffy, accompanied by Usopp, and Sanji, went to Titania, and confronted Starwolf. As his friends went to take care of Leon, and Panther, Luffy was about to face Wolf alone, but instead of a battle, Wolf wanted an apology. What does Luffy have to apologize for?

Chapter 109: The apology, A supaa comeback!

Luffy had no idea what was going on. At first, he thought he had to fight Wolf to rescue Nami. But after hearing what Wolf needed from him, he didn't know how to respond.

"An… apology?" Luffy asked while blinking in confusion.

"You heard me…" Wolf snarled. Wolf looked very stern, and serious about this. Nami was confused, and angry after hearing what Wolf wanted.

"Hold on! That's what you were after! An apology!" Nami asked while looking up at Wolf, "I don't believe you! You kidnapped me just for that! What does Luffy have to apologize for-!" Before she knew it, Wolf was aiming his claw blaster inches away from Nami's face.

"I don't want to hear a peep out of you until this is over, so I suggest you stay quiet if you know what's good for you." Wolf replied while giving Nami a furious stare. Nami was nearly petrified of fear as she slowly crawled backwards to get away from Wolf.

"Oi! What are you talking about! I didn't do anything to you!" Luffy yelled, catching Wolf's attention.

"Don't play dumb…" Wolf replied, "You have every right to apologize to me for what you have done! And I won't forgive you until you do."

"I don't get it!" Luffy said, "I don't even know you that well, and I have to apologize to you! You made fun of me back in that bar, so you should be apologizing to me!"

"I have nothing to apologize for." Wolf replied sternly, "And this is an entirely different matter than that, so stop changing the subject!"

Luffy was getting frustrated by this, "Can you atleast tell me what I did to you! I have no idea what is going on! You're just making this up!"

"Luffy's right!" Nami yelled, "Ever since we've met in the bar, you have been nothing but trouble for us! You tried to provoke Luffy to fighting you, and you attacked us before leaving Port town. Then, you kidnapped me, and brought me to this planet just so you can face Luffy! Everything that has happened between you, and Luffy so far, was all your fault!"

There was a momentary silence before Nami continued, "And now, you're saying that Luffy has to apologize to you! Stop lying! I've had enough of you! You are the most annoying, and abusive person I've ever met, not to mention you're also completely crazy! If it's an apology you're looking for, then you should explain why Luffy has to apologize in the first place. Otherwise, it would only prove that you're a maniac who was trying to play mind games with us! So spit it out! Tell us what Luffy has to apologize for!"

The area was quiet again as Wolf was looking at the ground with a frown. He then looked up towards Luffy, "… So you really don't know? Hmph!" He scoffed, "I'm disappointed… but this wasn't surprising at all." Wolf then puts his blaster away, "In fact, this was exactly how I thought you would respond. I expected no better from someone like you."

"I don't understand." Luffy replied with a confused look.

"It doesn't take a genius to figure out what kind of a man you are, boy." Wolf explained, "You're simple minded, confident, and you don't have a care in the world. You're just some kid who wants to live out his life as great as possible. I have no problem with that, but there is something about you that offended me. Something that took me a while to figure out, but it then became clear when I realized what you were."

"And what's that?" Luffy asked with a frown.

"… A shell of a captain…"

Meanwhile…

Sanji lit up his cigarette on his lips as Usopp was regaining conscious. "Oh… I hate intensive entrances…" Usopp mumbled while getting up on his hands, and knees. "Huh?" He then looked up to see Leon, and Panther in front of him. "Whoa! It's those guys again!"

"What's this? Is this the best that brat has to offer?" Leon asked, disappointed how Usopp, and Sanji looked weak to him, "They better put up a good struggle! I don't want to waste my skills on them if they don't!"

"You can do what you want with that one there, but that disgusting child is mine to kill." Panther said, referring to Sanji who furrowed his eyebrow in response.

"Heh heh! That's okay with me." Leon said while taking out his blasters, "I can settle with the long nose guy there. He looks perfect to tear up piece by piece."

Leon then licked his lips as Usopp flinched, "S-Sanji! Let's get out of here! Coming here was a bad idea from the start!"

"No… I'm not going anywhere." Sanji said sternly while breathing out a puff of smoke, "Luffy went to get Nami-san on the top floors of this place. If by any chance he messes up, I'll be the one to rescue her. But to do that, I need to take care of this… beast in front of me." Sanji glowered at Panther before glancing at Leon, "Take that guy out of here. I don't want to be disturbed."

"Noohohoo!" Usopp whimpered, "I'm the only one here who doesn't have a grudge against these guys! Why do I have to fight too!" Before Usopp could get his answer, he noticed that Leon was already aiming his blaster at him, "EEEK!" Usopp ran away as fast as he could, running up the stairs to the second floor in order to hide.

"Get back here!" Leon yelled before he chased after Usopp while turning invisible. The only ones left on the main floor were Sanji, and Panther, who glared at eachother for a couple of seconds before Panther spoke.

"It seems our paths have crossed once again, only this time, it won't happen again." Panther said sternly.

"I agree." Sanji said while taking his cigarette off his lips, "You will pay for taking Nami-san hostage."

"She was no hostage; she was a great asset to Starwolf." Panther replied as he then looked at his rose, "I envy you; you get to be with such a beautiful woman during your journeys. If I would've known of this sooner, I would've eliminated you in an instant!"

"Oh?" Sanji said with a grin, "Why's that?"

"She is too good for you. You would never feel the way how I feel for her." Panther explained, "To be surrounded by bunch of lowlifes… it's despicable just to think about it. But fortunately, she is in better hands now. She will be treated as a queen, and I will be her knight for a very long time."

"That's funny… I didn't think you'd be this stupid." Sanji replied, "And just to make things clear; I am more than a knight for a Nami-san, I am her prince! And as a prince, it's my sworn duty to rescue her from the dreaded beast that you are! She will come back with us, and we will return to our world just like we intended to do!"

The floor was quiet again. Panther then slowly extended his arm to his side with his rose in hand, "We are both men that have the same tastes, but nonetheless, their could only be one of us that will have what he desires."

"I couldn't agree more…" Sanji said while extending his arm to his with his cigarette in hand. Suddenly, he dropped it. Sanji dropped his cigarette at the same time Panther dropped his rose. Both objects fell down with the same velocity as the two men waited for some sort of signal to commence their attack. It was then both cigarette, and the rose, made contact to the floor.

"HUUUUUUUUUUUUAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHH!"

With a loud cry, Sanji, and Panther charged at eachother, and kicked eachother's feet with great force, commencing the battle between the two.

Meanwhile…

"A shell of a captain?" Luffy asked, "What's that supposed to mean?"

"It resembles everything that you are." Wolf replied, "It's when a person becomes a leader, but doesn't even know his own qualities to make himself a great one."

"Are you saying that Luffy isn't a great captain!" Nami asked.

"Not exactly." Wolf replied before looking back at Luffy, "I'm saying that this boy doesn't deserve to be remembered. He goes on saying stuff like that he would do anything for his precious crew, yet he overlooked one important fact that makes him pathetic."

"What is it?" Luffy asked.

"In every crew, the captain is the boss. No exceptions." Wolf said, "No one should question the captain's authority. Everything that the crew does for a living must be followed by under the captain's rule. That's how things work in a group; you follow your captain, or you lead your men the way to victory! That regulation relates to all kinds of people, whether you are a pirate, a thug, or some government pawn; that rule must always be in effect. Otherwise, such people wouldn't exist. They would all die under the hands of their enemies without fail, and have no integrity at the time." Wolf then puts his hand on his head irritated, "That is the most disgusting way to die! You can't imagine how many of those people died like that here on Titania after the Lylat wars!"

"What?" Nami gasped.

"It's true." Wolf replied while putting his hand down, "After Andross was seemingly killed, his followers here in Titania went into a frenzy. There were many that wanted to take Andross' place, but none of them could control their men in less than a week, and ended up being slaughtered for posing as their leader. In the end, it was rumored that they all killed themselves, and Titania was left abandoned afterwards. The Cornerian Government covered up this event to prevent the public knowing anything about it, but I think I knew what really happened." Wolf then looked up at the ceiling, "It's the reason why there is so much ashes around here. It's a planet that could never be fixed."

"… What does this have to do with me?" Luffy asked. Wolf then pointed at Luffy.

"You are exactly like one of those pathetic posers I mentioned." Wolf said, "You will lose control of your crew, and that will result to your downfall. Your leadership role will not only hurt your crew, but it will hurt people that you don't even know. The cards are already in place; it's only a matter of time before the control of your crew is completely lost."

"Hold on!" Nami yelled, "You're saying that it has already started! I don't believe that!"

"This is not something that you should know; it's a matter of how your subconscious acts." Wolf explained, "The moment he became your captain, you start to develop emotions, and you don't even realize it. You then say things without thought, and later on, you will think that he is not worth your time."

"You know what? I did used to have those feelings, but now, I trust Luffy with my life! I have been with Luffy for a long time, and there is no way that he is a shell of a captain!" Nami exclaimed.

"Is that so?" Wolf explained while looking down at Nami, "Then perhaps you can explain to me why you are also part of the blame for your captain's lack of control!"

"What!"

Meanwhile…

Zoro, and Tricky were walking along a path that lead towards the front gates of the Cloudrunner fortress. Tricky was scared as he approached the open gates, but felt safe with Zoro alongside him.

"Hmm…" Zoro noticed that the fortress was a little quiet. He couldn't sense anything out of the ordinary, which made him worry even more. "Why is it so quiet here?"

"M-Maybe it's because all the people are up flying around the sky." Tricky said, "You know how they are; with their heads always in the clouds, and all. Get it? Heh heh…"

"Still, I don't like this…" Zoro said as he observed the gate, "Why is this open? They can't be careless enough to leave this open knowing the Sharpclaw are around here, right?"

"They might not know of the Sharpclaw, yet." Tricky stated, "I got an idea, you go tell them that the Sharpclaw are up to no good again, while I stay here, and guard the entrance."

"Nice try, but you are going to need protection." Zoro said while walking ahead, "Follow me, king."

"Geh… it's bad enough just to be around here, now the idiot is mocking my title." Tricky said while sweatdropping. He then felt even more nervous by the time Zoro was getting ahead. "Oh… wait for me!"

Zoro went up a structure past the gates. He either went walking around the stairway along the walls, or going up a ladder to the reach to top of the fortress. Once he found an entry, he went through, and saw Tricky somehow in front of him again. Zoro was about to ask, but he decided to forget about as he saw some rubble of the fortress to his right.

"Something happened here." Zoro said with a blunt look.

"The Cloudrunners must have been attacked by the Sharpclaw!" Tricky exclaimed, "Th-There is no point being here anymore! If the Sharpclaw find out we're here, they are going to kill us!"

"It doesn't matter if we leave or not, the result would end up the same." Zoro said. He then looked at his surroundings, starting to feel a presence. "… Looks like we fell into another trap!"

On the walls between the duo, several Sharpclaw appeared with crossbows as they noticed Tricky. "Look! It's King Tricky, and his bodyguard! Shoot them!"

"WAAAHH!" Tricky started to run away as the Sharpclaw tried shooting him down. Zoro followed Tricky who rammed himself through the rubble, clearing up the passage as he ended up in the center of the squared area where the Cloudrunner Queen was nearly beaten to death.

The Sharpclaw on the walls jumped down to the floor, and started firing their crossbows at Zoro from behind. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro span around in a circle with his arms extended, creating a tornado of cutting waves as this knocked the arrows spiraling backwards. Zoro then ran forward, and catched some of the arrows that were about to fall on the ground as he then threw them at Sharpclaws' crossbows, startling the Sharpclaw as their weapons were destroyed.

"Ha!" Zoro then clotheslined through several of the crossbowers while they were distracted as Zoro managed to knock them all out.

"Zoro! Help!" Tricky cried as their were several Sharpclaw with swords, and axes coming into the squared area from above the walls. Zoro turned around, and ran back to the area to protect Tricky. He took down one Sharpclaw that was about to slash Tricky, and took his sword after knocking him out. Two other Sharpclaw tried to attack Zoro, but Tricky gored them, knocking them into a small pool. "Dont worry; I got your back!"

"Yeah!" Zoro replied while picking up the swords the Sharpclaw dropped off. He then jumped on Tricky's back as more Sharpclaw appeared in front of them. "Are you ready!"

"Oh yeah! Let's go!" Tricky yelled as he then charged at the Sharpclaw.

"ZORTRI EARTHWALKER HOU!" Tricky gored through several Sharpclaw while Zoro slashed them away afterwards. The Sharpclaw were getting knocked away like baseballs as Tricky was around the walls of the area, goring, and running over every Sharpclaw in his path.

"Hey, we're beating them!" Tricky exclaimed excitedly. As Tricky continued to run, Zoro noticed a very big Sharpclaw jumping from on top of a wall.

"Tricky, look out!" Zoro yelled.

"Wha!" Tricky tried to stop himself, but the big Sharpclaw punched the ground hard enough to cause Tricky to tip over backwards, with Zoro still being on his back. The Sharpclaw then punched Tricky in the gut with his right fist. "Gah!" Tricky cried as he went flying back up against wall, accidentally slamming Zoro up against it as well.

"Geh!" Zoro softened Tricky's hard landing with his body as Tricky then limplessly fell on the floor, with Zoro then landing on his hands, and knees next to him. "Ugh.. gah.." Zoro looked over to Tricky, seeing that he was bleeding from the mouth. "O-Oi! Are you okay!"

"Eh… y-yeah…" Tricky muttered while trying to get up, but only to fall down again, "Ah… it hurts.."

"Damn, who the hell…?" Zoro looked over to the Sharpclaw that attacked Tricky. The injured Sharpclaw looked at him too, and they were all relieved to see him.

"General Scales!" One of them yelled happily.

General Scales stood there, panting after hitting Tricky so hard. The floating camera that was stalking Zoro, and Tricky in the last chapter floated beside as more Sharpclaw entered the area, assuring that nobody would come in or out.

"Ha.. ha.. ha.. I got here as fast I could as soon as I heard the news." General Scales panted. He then looked at Tricky, "And it was all worth it." Scales then took some steps forward as Tricky then looked at him approaching. His eyes widened in fear as he approached.

"G-General Scales… ! I.. ergh!" Tricky tried to run away, but was too weak to even move as he collapsed again.

"I have been looking all over for you, Your Majesty." General Scales teased, "You were very foolish to come here for help. You should know by now that we Sharpclaw can conquer any tribe in less of a day! An Earthwalker like you shouldn't even be here! Were you so scared of us that you'd tried to hide where nobody expects to find you! You have not changed one bit!"

"I.. w-won't.." Tricky stuttered. Scales knelt down to Tricky.

"Huh? Are you trying to tell me something?" Scales asked.

"I.. w-won't… let you harm… my people!" Tricky yelled loudly. General Scales got back up, and laughed at Tricky.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! Even though you say that, you don't have the guts to do anything to me! You know why!" Scales asked loudly, "Because I am General Scales; the most feared man of Sauria, and the rightful ruler of this world!" Tricky lowered his head to avoid eye contact with Scales, who smirked upon seeing this. He then looked over to Zoro, and was curious who he was. "Who is this?"

"Th-That's him!" Yelled one of the injured Sharpclaw, "That's the guy who was with Tricky in Cape Claw! He was the guy who defeated all of us without even breaking a sweat!"

"WHAAAAAT!" General Scales gasped angrily. Zoro then looked up at Scales, who gasped again as he was now angrier. "A human! In Sauria!" He then faced towards his men, "You lost against a human! How could you all be so pathetic! Don't you know that humans are the weakest of all species! You will all suffer after this is over!"

As the Sharpclaw shivered in fear, Zoro took a good look at Scales while he was talking to his men. " So this guy is the boss… he's pretty big. " Zoro thought. " To be able to knock over an Earthwalker must show he has some strength. If I can beat him, maybe… ! "

Zoro noticed something familiar around Scales' waist. It was his swords. Zoro thought he lost them back in Cape Claw, but to see them with Scales did not relieved him, but angered him. "Oi! You!"

"Hergh?" Scales glanced over his shoulder to look at Zoro, "Are you talking to me?"

"What are you doing with my swords?" Zoro asked bluntly. Scales looked at the swords at the side of his waist. He then smirked as he then looked back at Zoro.

"Oh… so these belong to you." Scales said. He took out Zoro's swords with his right hand, "I was wondering where these came from. I have never seen swords like these around here before. It makes sense that it was made in some other planet."

"I want you to give me my swords." Zoro said bluntly.

"Do you know who you are talking to?" Scales asked, kneeling down on one foot to look closer at Zoro, "You will greet me as the great General Scales; the most feared man of Sauria. So why should I give back your swords seeing that you are inferior to me in every way?"

"… I'll fight you for them…" Zoro replied more blunt than before, "If I win, I'll take my swords, and we will leave in peace. If you win, you can do whatever you had planned for us."

"Hooh? You want to fight me?" Scales asked as this caused his fellow Sharpclaw to laugh, "You have no idea what you're getting into, human, but seeing that there is no way that I could lose to you, I accept your challenge!"

The Sharpclaw cheered as Scales gave Zoro's swords to one of his men. Tricky was worried about this, "Zoro, you don't have to do this! We can find some other way to escape, but you can't fight Scales! He'll kill you."

"Tricky…" Zoro said while grasping the swords he still has from the Sharpclaw, "Sometimes, you have to be strong, and face your fears.

There is no point in escaping from it."

Tricky was confused as Zoro then got up with all three swords in their place. General Scales got some distance from Zoro as he smirked.

"Three swords, eh?" Scales asked, "It doesn't matter how many swords you use, my bare strength will crush you like an insect!"

"Never underestimate your opponent." Zoro said while getting into his stance, "You just might end up dying."

"The only one who will die here is you!" Scales yelled. He then charged at Zoro, and swung his fist at him, but Zoro ducked to avoid it. " He dodged! " Scales thought as Zoro lowered his swords.

"TOUROU!" Zoro slashed upward with two swords, nearly cutting Scales' arms off as Scales sidestepped to dodge.

"Why you!" Scales countered with a swing of his left hook, but Zoro countered by swinging down his swords on Scales' hook, causing Scales to hit the ground instead. Zoro then jumped, and hits Scales at the side of his head with the hilt of his blades. "Ugh!" Scales staggered back as Zoro charged at him again, "HOOK BREAK!" Scales lowered his hook at Zoro, who had to parry with all his swords to prevent getting hit. To Zoro's surprise, Scales was pushing down his hook hard enough to make his blades crack.

"A sword-breaking technique!" Zoro thought. Scales then broke shattered Zoro's sharpclaw blades into pieces.

"Ha! How are you going to attack me now without a weapon!" Scales asked. He then got his answer as Zoro hits Scales in the face with the hilts of the broken blades. "Aegh!"

As Scales staggered back as Zoro dropped the hilts, and crossed his arms in front of his face. "USHI BARI!" Zoro charged at Scales, punching rapidly at Scales stomach as Scales staggered back from each hit. Tricky was amazed how easily he is handling Scales, just like the rest of Sharpclaw who were watching the fight.

"I don't believe it! General Scales is losing!" Cried one of the Sharpclaw.

"Can't… get away… !" Scales grunted as Zoro continued punching him. Zoro then jumped up, and grabbed on to Scales' head while placing his legs on his chest.

"Ha!" Zoro delivered a headbutt to Scales' nose, causing Scales to bleed immediately afterwards.

"UAGH!" Scales fell on his back as Zoro jumped off of him. Scales was down, and nearly out as he tried to get back up. "Impossible! A human shouldn't be this strong to hurt someone like me! Huah!" Scales head was then yanked forward by Zoro, who was pulling back his closed fist, ready to finish off Scales.

"Hold it!"

Zoro stopped as he glanced over his shoulder to see several Sharpclaw next to Tricky, ready to strike him with their weapons. "Stop where you are! If you hurt our General again, we will kill Tricky!" A Sharpclaw threatened. Tricky was scared as Zoro frowned at this.

"Damn… huh!" As Zoro went to look back at Scales, he got hit hard in the cheek by him. "Guah!" Scales pushed his fist hard into Zoro's cheek as Zoro went head-first through a pile of rubble in the process.

"Zoro!" Tricky cried. Scales got up as his men went to see if he was alright.

"Damn you…" Scales groaned as he pushed his men out of the way, and picked up Zoro from the pile of rubble. Zoro was already bleeding from the mouth as Scales then punched his body down against the floor.

"Guaaah!" Zoro cried in pain as Scales started stomping on his face.

"You like that! Huh!" Scales then picked up Zoro, and placed up against the wall. Tricky was horrified as he saw Scales beating the daylights out of Zoro, hitting nearly every single part of his body nonstop with his fist.

"Stop it! You're going to kill him!" Tricky yelled. Scales ignored as he continued his assault. Tears then came out of Tricky's eyes as he couldn't take it anymore. "I'll do anything you ask! Just please, stop hurting him! He can't fight back anymore!"

That's when Scales stopped attacking as Zoro fell limplessly on his chest. He had multiple bruises on his body, and several wounds that had blood coming out of him. Zoro looked unconscious as Scales was proud for what he has done. "So…" Scales then looked at Tricky with a sinister smirk, "I think you have something to say to me… don't you?"

Tricky hesitated for a bit, but seeing Zoro injured forced him to say it, "I am not the king of Sauria anymore… you are the king now… General Scales…" Tricky said regretfully.

"Ha ha ha ha ha ha! Yes! It's now official!" Scales yelled proudly, "It's now time to spread the word! We will head to the Walled City, and claim my throne." The Sharpclaw then forced Tricky to get up, which he had to strength to do as Scales faced towards the exit, "My moment of triumph will soon be realized! Come; let us go now, and show those weakling tribes who now rules this planet!"

The Sharpclaw yelled excitedly as Scales took a step forward, but stopped as something grabbed his foot. Scales looked back, and saw Zoro holding his leg with one arm while on the ground. Tricky was completely shocked by this as Zoro then used both arms to hold Scales' leg.

"Zoro! Stop!" Tricky cried. Scales was furious; he thought he'd finished Zoro off, but to see him still conscious infuriated him even more.

"You little worm!" Scales turned around, and grabbed Zoro by the neck. He then lifted Zoro above his head level, and glared at him. His eyes widened as he could see Zoro glaring back at him as well, showing nothing but anger. "After all that… you still want to fight! Why aren't you afraid of me!"

Zoro did not reply. He continued to glare at Scales, who have had it as he raised his hook to his side. "You don't fear me…? Well… I am going to keep you alive until you do! Even if I have to disfigure your entire body!" Scales then brought up his hook even higher, and brought it down.

"SCALES, DON'T! ZOOOORRRRROOOO!" Tricky yelled.

SLASH!

"GYYYYYYAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAGGGG GGGGGGGHHHHHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHHHH!"

Scales slashed across Zoro's chest, going right through his shirt as blood gushed out of Zoro's chest. Zoro's body was now covered in blood as Scales dropped him on the floor. Zoro didn't seem to be alive as Tricky was trying his best not to cry at the sight of this.

"Zoro…" Tricky cried as Scales turned the other way.

"Bring this human along with us as well." Scales said with a smirk, "I have something planned for this one."

Scales then lead his army out of Cloudrunner fortress, with some of his men pushing Tricky along with them, and some others carrying the seemingly dead Zoro by his shoulders. Tricky sadly looked at Zoro before looking away as they were taken out of the fortress after going through a horrible defeat.

Meanwhile…

Franky's eyes widened in anger after hearing what Andrew wanted to do to his ship. "You bastard! You think you can piss me off by destroying my ship!" Franky asked.

"How foolish; I've already achieved that just by saying it to you." Andrew replied with a smirk, "What is going to make this even more interesting is that the way you will react upon seeing the actual thing happen!"

"Oikonny, he has nothing to do with you! Leave his ship alone!" Peppy yelled.

"Shut up!" Andrew replied before kicking Peppy on his back. Peppy groaned in pain as Andrew looked down at him, "I do what I want whenever I want, and this hooligan here will pay for his disrespect!"

"Even if you do mess up my ship, you're not going to escape my wrath when I get out of here!" Franky yelled angrily.

"You idiot; there is no way you can lay a hand on me, much less a finger!" Andrew replied. He then made a hand gesture, signaling some men of his to approach the Thousand Sunny with their blasters, "Now then, I'm going to destroy your ship piece by piece, and you're going to watch the whole thing take place right now! Shoot it!"

The men fired at the exterior parts of the Thousand Sunny with their blasters. Franky, and Peppy gasped as this happened as Andrew then gestured his men to stop firing. After many shots, the left side of the Thousand had many burned marks all over it's design. Even the side of it's figure head was burned. Franky gritted his teeth in anger as Andrew laughed.

"Eyah ha ha ha ha ha! Did you see that!" Andrew asked while looking at the ship, "Your stupid ship stood no chance against my artillery! I'm surprised it didn't even get disfigured; it must've been made well. Too bad it wasn't made well enough to last long, of course! Eyah ha ha ha ha ha!"

"DAAAAAMMNNNN YYYOOOOOOOOUUUU, BAASSTAARRRDD!" Franky yelled furiously as he got on his feet, and tried to attack Andrew from behind, but his men stopped from going any further.

"Hmm! You dare attempt to strike me from behind!" Andrew asked while glancing over at Franky. He then punched Franky in the face out of anger. "You forced me to do this!" Andrew then looked at his men holding Franky, "Bring him, and Peppy to this ship. I want them to see how I personally destroy this ship's interior!"

Oikonny's men picked up Franky, and Peppy as Andrew walked along the crosswalk to get onboard the Thousand Sunny. His men brought the two along as Andrew was disgusted from how the deck looked. "What is this! Some garden! This ship is completely idiotic!" Andrew yelled.

He then walked into the men's quarters to his left, and looked at the stuff around them. "Heh heh… hiya!" Andrew started tearing up the quarters by knocking down the lockers, destroying the bunk beds, and tearing up some pillows with his teeth. Peppy gasped at this while Franky lowered his head with a frown. "What else is here to destroy?"

They went up to the women's quarters as Andrew picked up a chair there, and threw it at a mirror, shattering into pieces. "Flip it over!" Andrew ordered as some of his men flipped over Nami, and Robin's beds. They all then got outside as Andrew kicked rapidly at the rail in front of him until it broke as it fell on the lawn deck. The more Andrew damaged the ship, the angrier Franky was getting, but he didn't show it as his eyes were shaded from looking downward.

"Franky…" Peppy said sadly as Andrew then faced towards him, and Franky.

"Eyah ha ha ha! How do you like that!" Andrew asked Franky, "Do you hate me! Do you want to let out your fury on me! Well, too bad! This ship is no longer yours! It is mine to destroy, and for you to die with it! Eyah ha ha ha ha!"

As Andrew laughed, Franky gritted his teeth angrily, but frowned as he calmly looked at the ground. "… The kitchen…" Franky muttered.

"Huh?" Andrew said.

"Don't you dare mess with the kitchen!" Franky yelled as he looked at Andrew furiously, "I swear, if anything happens to the kitchen, I will beat the living hell out of you!"

"Oohh, so it's the kitchen you desire most!" Andrew said with a smirk, "Fine! You'll see me destroy the whole thing before I destroy this ship!"

" Perfect! " Franky thought with a smirk as he, and Peppy were taken with Andrew, until they found the kitchen on the second floor. Andrew looked at it for a while until he then flipped over the table in the dining room.

"Yes! Take that, garbage!" Andrew yelled while destroying some furniture. While he, and his men were distracted from destroying the place, Franky nudged at Peppy to get his attention.

"Listen, I want you to tell Horse face not to mess up the fridge." Franky whispered, "Once you do, he will do the opposite, and I want you to grab the cola bottles he happens to take out."

"Huh? But why… okay." Peppy whispered back, "Oikonny, I demand you seize this at once! Their is no point in eating here if you mess this place up!"

"I don't care! And since it's food you care about, I'm going to destroy that too!" Andrew yelled maniacally. As his men worked on destroying the furniture, Andrew walked to the fridge, and destroyed the lock with a blaster to open it. He started tossing out everything thing inside. "How much food do you have in here! It's not like an army lives in this ship!"

He then threw out some cola bottles, which Peppy caught with his legs. He then stuffed three of them under his shirt as Franky smirked before looking at Andrew, who continued to throw food out the fridge.

"Oi! No matter how much you mess up the ship, you can never destroy it's worth, Horse-face!" Franky yelled. Andrew stopped what he was doing as Franky continued, "I've been on your ship for a while, and everything about it sucks! My ship is more valuable than everything you possess by a long shot, and that's not saying much! You're wasting your time here, so instead of messing up the place, why don't you destroy this ship already! Oh, I know why! It's because you don't have the balls to do it!"

"WWWWWWHHHHHHHHHHAAAAA AAAAAAAAAATTTTT!"

Meanwhile…

"You're blaming Nami now!" Luffy asked angrily.

"I'm blaming the both of you!" Wolf replied while looking at Luffy, "You two showed me the kind of people you are, and you expect for me to forget about it!"

"I-I don't remember doing anything what you are referring to! Why am I suddenly the blame for all this!" Nami asked. Wolf looked down at the ground with a closed fist.

"It all started when we first met." Wolf said.

/FB\

"What makes you think that I'll get my ass kicked?" Luffy asked sternly.

"Kinda obvious if you ask me. A puny boy as yourself doesn't really stand a chance against a real man." Wolf said.

"And what the hell makes you think that I am not a real man?" Luffy asked a little angrily.

"Don't make me repeat myself, boy." Wolf replied.

/EFB\

"When I first met you, I thought you were just some kid pretending to be a man." Wolf explained, "I see many of those lately, and they usually end up dead. I tried to be the nice guy for a change, and try to get you out of that kind of life. Although, you turned out to be an ungrateful little brat, and wanted to beat me up for it."

/FB\

"You insult me again and I am going to rip your skull out of your head, you stupid cyclops!" Luffy yelled angrily. Wolf got angry as well, and got up

"We'll see who rips the skull out of who." Wolf said as he and Luffy were about to battle.

/EFB\

"But Luffy was only defending himself! You would've done the same thing if someone said that to you!" Nami yelled.

"Don't interrupt me." Wolf said sternly before looking back at Luffy, "So anyway, before we could've settled our differences, that washed up man from the Bloody Chain Clan had to ruin our fun. Do you remember that?"

"Yeah… I do." Luffy replied sternly.

/FB\

Luffy cracked his fists as Michael awaited for him to attack while he had his eyes closed. "What are you waiting for, you piece of…"

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretched his arm back, which shocked everybody "… PISTOL!" Luffy delivered a strong punch across Micheal's face. Wolf jumped out of the way as Michael went flying to the wall behind him.

/EFB\

"He shouldnt have touched my hat." Luffy said.

"I was surprised when you did that." Wolf said, "You took him down in an instant. You showed him, and his clan who was boss during that day. I don't know how you are able to stretch your body like that, but I have to admit, you proved me wrong. You showed me that you were a man who wont take crap from others." Wolf then smirked, "That's what leaders like you, and me, are supposed to have. I even had to lower myself in respecting you, because I knew that you were able to accomplish anything with that kind of determination of yours."

"Then why do I have to apologize to you?" Luffy asked. This made Wolf frown again, and clenched his fists in pure rage.

/FB\

"Hmm… looks like the boy has some skills afterall." Wolf said. Luffy then looked at him again, and got angry all of a sudden.

/EFB\

"… I can not forget that moment… that moment that completely took me by surprise!"

/FB\

"You! Don't think that I forgot about you! I am going to kick your- Ahh!" Luffy got hit by Nami so hard, a huge bump formed on his head.

"LET'S GO NOW!" yelled Nami as she pulls on Luffy's ear, forcing him to get out of the bar. As she pulled Luffy out, and into the fray outside, Wolf was completely devestated. Seeing Luffy forced out of the bar by Nami made him furious than he has ever felt before.

/EFB\

Wolf pointed at Nami beside him with great anger, "THIS WOMAN HERE FORCED YOU TO LEAVE THAT DAY!" Wolf yelled very loudly as his statement echoed throughout the entire area. Nami was shocked hearing this as she didnt know what to say, "It's thanks to her that she showed me the real you! Inspite of having such determination, you easily went to do something she wanted to do! You are her captain! You were suppose to give this woman orders, and not the other way around! You weren't suppose to submit against this woman's pathetic will to live! You were suppose to do whatever you wanted to do you, but instead, you made a complete fool of yourself that day!"

"I-I-" Nami said.

"SHUT UP!" Wolf yelled right at Nami's face, scaring her to a point when she wanted to back away from Wolf, but was too scared to do it. Wolf then looked back at Luffy, who also was shocked to hear what Wolf was saying, "Not only you humiliated yourself, but worst of all, you humiliated me as well! I was embarressed by the fact that I respected you! I couldn't live with myself knowing that I respected someone who doesnt even respect their leadership! It's an embarressment to me, and to everything I stand for! Now you tell me, can you really call yourself a captain after knowing all this?"

"I-" Luffy said.

"CAN YOU REALLY CALL YOURSELF A CAPTAIN!" Wolf interrupted. Luffy didnt reply, "Of course not! Why would you if your crew doesn't even respect you?" The area got quiet again for a couple of moments until Wolf once again broked the silence. "I couldn't let this go, so I tried following you. I heard that your crew were collecting the hearts to go to other worlds, so I knew you would end up around here eventually. Before you decided to run away from me again, I noticed that your crew were able to manage on their own, and doing things that you didn't had to order them to do. I'm not saying that's a bad thing, but I bet they do that all the time, and this woman gives out most of the orders. Doesn't it bother you that your crew can do so much without you?"

"…" Luffy was silent.

"… I, however, have done better for a living." Wolf stated as he then pointed at Nami, "I have made this woman a part of my team while you weren't protecting her. She is very useful, and unlike you, she respects me as a true leader. She knows what's good for me, and for her. If she wants, I'll let her leave, but only if you apologize."

Luffy continued to remain silent as Nami looked at him worringly. Luffy then looked at Wolf, "I'm…"

"No! Words won't show your forgiveness!" Wolf interrupted, "You are a disgrace for calling yourself a captain, and even if you do find what you're looking for, you'd be disgracing our entire kind for pretending to be one! You're existence itself is a disgrace to all of us, and as long as you live, I wouldn't be able to live with myself any longer!… There is only one way to solve this."

Wolf took out a regular blaster, and tossed it in front of Luffy's feet. "Pick that up. I want you to apologize to me by killing yourself right now."

Nami gasped as Luffy looked at the blaster with an emotionless look.

Meanwhile…

Andrew walked out of the ship by the crosswalk angrily as his men brought Franky, and Peppy with him. "I don't have it, huh!" Andrew asked angrily, referring to what Franky said to him, "I'll show you! I'm going to blow up this right now, and we'll see who is right!"

Franky didnt reply, but instead, he whispered to Peppy, "Once we get off the crosswalk, I want you to push away the guards, and put those colas in my stomach."

"H-How do I do that?" Peppy asked. Before he could reply, he saw Andrew getting off the crosswalk. If Peppy wanted to be saved, now is the time to strike.

"-sigh-… It's time to get rid of this thing once, and for all." Andrew said as he then raised his hand, "Men, go-AGH!"

Peppy tackled Andrew from behind, knocking him on the floor as Peppy fell on his back, with the cola bottles coming out of his shirt. Franky instantly shoulder barged the guards next to him, knocking them off the crosswalk as Franky jumped forward, and landed on his back next to Peppy. Franky's stomach then opened up automatically upon landing as the empty bottles inside automatically popped off.

"Hurry, put them in!" Franky yelled. Peppy was surprised to see Franky's stomach open, but shrugged it off as he had to get the cola bottles on the floor. Since he was handcuffed on his back, he had trouble grabbing the bottles, but he managed to do so as Andrew got up angrily.

"Why you!" Andrew yelled. Peppy was startled as he then got in front of Franky, and jumped on him with the cola bottles behind him, putting them inside Franky's stomach. "Hergh!" After Peppy did that, he got kicked in the face by Andrew.

"Oh!" Peppy cried as he rolled along the ground as Andrew then yanked his body up from his uniform.

"I've had it with you! I'm going to make you suffer!" Andrew yelled furiously. As he glared at Peppy, Franky's hair went back to normal as Franky was acting energetic.

"SUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUUU UUUUUUUUUUUUUUPAAAA AAAAAAAAAA!"

Franky jumped up, and broke of the laser cuffs around his body with ease. Oikonny's men were shocked as Franky faced towards Andrew, and charged right at him, "I'm going to hit you!"

"What!" Andrew turned around, but he'd wished he didnt.

KAPOOOOOOOOOOOOW!

Franky delivered a strong right fist right into Andrew's face. "Agh!" Andrew cried as he went flying into a pile of containers.

"Emperor Oikonny!" His soldiers cried as Peppy got up on his feet. Franky helped Peppy remove his handcuffs before he faced towards Oikonny's men, who backed away as soon as Franky did his victory pose.

"I'm feeling supaaa pissed off right now! I'm going to make mincemeat out of all of you!"

Meanwhile…

Nami was horrified. She didn't know what Luffy was going to do. "Luffy… huh!" Nami saw Luffy pick the blaster up from the ground. Luffy stared at the blaster for a while, which made Wolf impatient.

"There is no other way!" Wolf stated, "Shoot yourself, and let the rest of us live out our lives."

"Luffy, dont listen to him!" Nami yelled worringly, "You know better then to listen to this guy! He doesn't know how we live our lives! Whatever you do, don't do it!"

Luffy didnt reply. He continued to stare at the blaster some more.

"Do it!" Wolf yelled.

"No, Luffy!" Nami cried.

Luffy had to decide now. He lifted the blaster up to his face, and held it tightly. He knew what he had to do.

CRUSH!

"Hmm!" Wolf saw that Luffy destroyed the blaster with his own fist. Luffy then threw the destroyed blaster on the floor beside him, "… What are you doing?"

"I have been told many things in my life, but for some reason, what you said about me not being a real captain was actually believable." Luffy said emotionlessly.

"Luffy?" Nami said curiously.

"Maybe I am not like other captains. Perhaps I am a shell of one." Luffy said while scratching his head, "And it's true that my crew can do things without my help. They are very smart, and I'd be helpless without them. I couldn't have made it this far if it wasn't for them…"

Luffy then looked at Wolf with an angry stare, "But nonetheless, I am still a captain, and I am gonna be the Pirate King! And if my crew needs my help, then I will help them even if it means dying!" Luffy said as he then pointed at Wolf, "You kidnapped Nami, and forced her to be a part of your team. You expect me to kill myself after what you did! I won't forgive you! You, and me, are going to settle this right now, and I will take Nami back with me!

Wolf was speechless as Nami happily cried at this. Luffy then took of his Straw hat, and tossed it to Nami. "Nami, I trust you with that." Luffy said, "Dont worry; I'm going to get you out here!"

"Yes… get him, Luffy!" Nami cried happily. Wolf couldnt believe it; after all he said, Luffy still insists on fighting him.

"Hmph… heh heh… ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Wolf laughed as he then smirked at Luffy, "Don't you remember what I said to you back at Mute City? Talking is cheap, and regardless of your decision, you will still die here!" Wolf then lowered himself into his fighting stance, "Remember this, boy; I'll be the one who will take you down!

The awaited duel. Wolf told Luffy of being a real captain, and explained him that Luffy is a disgrace of one. Despite being told this, Luffy will do anything to rescue Nami from Wolf's claws. The rivalry between Luffy, and Wolf has started long ago, but their battle will finally begin. Who will be the victor?

Chapter 110: The moment of truth, Luffy vs Wolf

Nami held Luffy's straw hat up against her chest as she nervously thinking what may happen. She glanced at Luffy, who was warming up by flexing his muscles in a calmly fashion. She then looked at Wolf, who remained in his fighting stance, patiently waiting for Luffy to attempt a move.

"I have a bad feeling about this." Nami thought worryingly, "Luffy has defeated many people before, but…" She then looked down at Luffy's hat, "After what Wolf said to him, I don't know what may happen. He just cant afford to lose this fight, or else it's all over for us."

Luffy then did some quick squats as Wolf smirked at him, "How much longer are you going to stall your death? I'm getting bored over here." Wolf said.

"Uh-huh… give me a minute." Luffy replied with a stern, yet calm look. As Luffy continued to flex, Nami slowly crawled back up against a crate in order to prevent getting mixed up in the fight.

"This is it… please win, Luffy. I dont want to be a part of that guy's team anymore." Nami thought while tightly holding on to Luffy's hat.

Luffy then sighed as he then clenched his hands into fists, and got into his battle stance. "Yosh! I'm ready!" Luffy yelled.

"Hmph! Then come at me!" Wolf replied.

Luffy and Wolf then glared at eachother in silence, rising the tension in the area as Nami glanced at them back and forth, anxiously wanting to see who will strike first. Every second that passed by, Nami kept hearing the sound of her heartbeat beating faster, and faster. Her fate lies in the victor, and she prayed that Luffy must win.

It was then that the battle has finally started.

"Here I come! GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy ran towards Wolf while pulling his arm back. Wolf only smirked as Luffy then stretched his arm forward. "PISTOL!" Luffy's arm stretched all the way towards Wolf, who for some reason wasnt trying to dodge it. By the time Luffy's fist was about to connect to Wolf's face, Wolf disappeared in a flash. "Huh! Where did he-!"

"You're pathetically predictable."

Luffy gasped as Wolf was standing right beside him with his back facing towards him. Luffy staggered away in shock as Nami couldn't believe it as well.

"What! How did he get there so quickly!" Nami gasped.

Wolf glanced at Luffy over his shoulder, and smirked, "That's the same move you carelessly used back in the bar." Wolf said, "When it comes to fighting a pitiful weakling, you should never reveal your true skills in a middle of a crowd, but since you did, I already knew what I was going to be up against. Even though you pack quite a punch, your not fast enough to hit me!"

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretched his leg, and tried to kick Wolf from behind, but missed as Wolf ducked to avoid, and swiftly turned towards Luffy before leaping at him. "Ah!" Wolf then punched Luffy across the head, knocking him off his feet, but recovered by rolling back on them. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy charged at Wolf while throwing multiple punches at him, but Wolf was swift enough to avoid getting hit while approaching towards Luffy at the same time.

"Still not fast enough!" Wolf yelled before doing a somersault, kicking Luffy up across his chin as he got knocked into the air. Wolf then jumped above Luffy, and did a downward roundhouse kick, kicking Luffy with his heel as Luffy got knocked into the ground diagonally. Before Luffy could get up, Wolf did an air jump, heading towards Luffy with a flying kick.

"Whoa!" Luffy rolled back to his feet to dodge as Wolf kicked the ground instead. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy countered with by stretching his leg at Wolf, who turned, and sidestepped to avoid before pulling out his Claw blaster. "Yikes!" Luffy moved his stretched leg to the side before Wolf could've cut it off with his blaster. Wolf then swiftly got in front of Luffy, and did a flying roundhouse kick, kicking Luffy before he was able to pull his leg back. "Ahh!" As Luffy was about land on his side, Wolf got in his way, and kicked Luffy upward. As Luffy limplessly got knocked upwards, Wolf jumped above him, and slammed his fists down on Luffy's stomach, instantly knocking him on the ground with great impact.

"Luffy!" Nami cried.

Wolf landed on his feet as he saw Luffy getting up on his knees. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm towards Wolf, only for him to dodge, and get behind Luffy in an instant.

"Hm?" Wolf noticed that Luffy was pulling his arm, only towards Wolf. "That won't work!" Wolf tried to dodge, but Luffy placed his leg between Wolf's feet, which Wolf didn't notice as he nearly lost his footing. "What the!"

"POUND!" Luffy slammed his fist down at Wolf's head, slamming Wolf down on the ground head first.

"Uwagh!" Wolf cried as he then rolled sideways to get some distance from Luffy before getting up. He growled at Luffy as he saw him smirking while getting up as well.

"'Your not fast enough to hit me' my ass!" Luffy mocked, "I got you, you dumb cyclops!"

"Heh!" Wolf smirked before charging towards Luffy with a right fist, which Luffy dodged, and countered with an uppercut. Wolf dodged it, and tried kicking Luffy, but Luffy caught his leg, and wrapped his arm around Wolf's right arm.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy thrusted his leg, and kicked Wolf in the gut hard. Wolf grunted as he reached for something around his waist.

"REFLECTOR!" Wolf activated his pink, crescent shaped reflector, making Luffy to let go of him as he was knocked back by it. As Luffy staggered back, Wolf took out his Claw buster, and thrusted it's claw towards Luffy. Luffy caught Wolf's blaster from getting any closer, but Wolf lets go of it as he then did a somersault, knocking Luffy up in the air while dropping the blaster. Luffy fell back down as Wolf charged at him while catching his blaster in the process, and started shooting at Luffy while he was still in the air.

"Eh!" Luffy barely dodged some laser blasts as he landed on the ground, and ran around the area to avoid getting shot. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretched his arms at a crate, and grabbed it, "CATAPULT!" Luffy stopped running, and threw the crate over his head, and towards Wolf. Wolf jumped, and then jumped off the incoming crate as he then headed towards Luffy. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy tried to hit Wolf in the air with a barrage of fists, but Wolf dodged, and grabbed Luffy's arm. "Oh!" Luffy pulled back his arms, bringing Wolf towards him as Wolf tackled right into him afterwards. "Agh!" Both Luffy and Wolf skidded across the ground, going through some crates as they left a trail of dust behind them.

"Gragh!" Wolf then got punched in the face by Luffy, knocking him out of the trail of dust. Wolf managed to land on his feet as he then saw Luffy jumping above him.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy stretched his leg down to Wolf, who siderolled to avoid as Luffy kicked the ground. While in midair, Luffy grabbed on to one of the hooks hanging from the ceiling, and swung himself towards Wolf while stretching his arm back. "GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy pulled back his arm, and tried to punch Wolf, but punched the floor instead as Wolf did several backflips to avoid. After doing one last backflip, Wolf took out some grenades, and tossed them at Luffy before landing on the ground. "Yah!"

KABOOM!

The grenades exploded, but Luffy managed to get away from it in time as he skidded sideways across the floor. He then looked up, and saw Wolf heading towards him with a flying kick. "GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated his stomach as Wolf kicked him, but only to get bounced off as he fell backwards.

"Tsk!" Wolf got out his claw blaster, and fired some shots at Luffy. Luffy let's out the air in his from his mouth, blowing himself far enough to prevent getting shot down. Once he ran out of air, Luffy placed his feet on the wall behind him, and stretched his arms to grab the columns between him.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself towards Wolf, who jumped as Luffy went under him. Wolf then kicked Luffy upside the head with his heel, "Ergh!" Inspite getting hit, Luffy wrapped his arms around Wolf's body, and took him along for the ride as they headed towards a wall.

CRASH!

"Grr!" Wolf crashed hard on his back, with Luffy pushing him up against the wall even harder. "Yeargh!" Wolf lifted his feet, and kicked Luffy off of him as he then jumped off the wall, and jumped off the ceiling of the second floor, heading down towards Luffy with his Claw blaster.

"YAA!" Luffy rolled sideways as Wolf nearly thrusted the claw of his blaster right through Luffy's gut. Wolf then slashed the ground with his claw blaster while bringing it up, creating a small shockwave that headed towards Luffy, who rolled back to his feet as the shockwave went past him. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy then stretched his arm at Wolf, who sidestepped to dodge, and countered by trying to cut Luffy's arm off with his blaster. Luffy instantly moved his arm out of the way, but saw Wolf charging towards him before he could pull his arm back. "Not again!" Luffy yelled as he then ducked under a horizontal swipe from Wolf's Claw blaster.

"Hm!" Wolf suddenly saw Luffy's stretched arm heading towards him. "Goh!" Luffy punched Wolf in the stomach, but Wolf kept his balance as he skidded backwards while on his feet. "Not bad… ha!" Wolf leaped towards Luffy while spinning his body with tail extended. Luffy rolled out of the way as Wolf hits a crate with his tail strong enough to tear up to pieces.

"Whoa!" Luffy gasped as Wolf then charged at him with multiple roundhouse kicks. Luffy blocked the kicks with his arms as he was being forced back to some more crates. Luffy then countered with a backhand, which Wolf dodged by doing a handstand, and then countered by spreading his legs diagonally, kicking Luffy in the process. "Ugh!" Luffy was slightly knocked upward as Wolf then pushed himself off the ground, and kicked Luffy again with both feet, knocking him up even higher. Wolf then got on his feet, and jumped to grab Luffy's head, and tried to ram it down through some crates in front of him, but he only stretched Luffy's neck as Luffy was holding on to one of the hooks hanging from the ceiling.

"Let go!" Luffy brought his head upward, springing Wolf into the air as Luffy then jumped above him while stretched, and twisted his arm back. "GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy thrusted his arm, and untwisted it towards Wolf, but to Luffy's surprise, Wolf did an air jump, avoiding Luffy's punch as he was now above him.

"CYCLONE WOLF!" Wolf flew diagonally downward towards Luffy while being covered with wind. As Wolf flew into Luffy, the wind around him was hitting Luffy multiple times. Luffy cried in pain as Wolf finished his attack with a strong kick.

"Gah!" Luffy crashed to the floor, but instantly bounced off as he stretched his arms to grab Wolf's body. "GOMU GOMU NO SUPLEX!" Luffy pulled Wolf down over himself, and slammed Wolf's head on the floor, creating a mild shockforce that knocked several crates away.

"Yah!" Nami cried while trying to remain in her spot.

Luffy let's go of Wolf as they both fell on their hands and knees, panting lightly before glaring at eachother again. "HA!" Luffy and Wolf then charged at one another, trying to hit eachother with a barrage of fists. They continued to do this until Wolf broke this up by doing a somersault, catching Luffy off guard as he was knocked back. Luffy backflipped back to his feet as Wolf then thrusted his Claw blaster repeatedly at him, which Luffy dodged while taking several steps back. Wolf then fired at Luffy, who avoided by arching his back backwards, and countered by kicking Wolf's blaster off his hands.

"YARI!" Luffy thrusted both of his legs at Wolf, who siderolled to dodge, and retrieved his blaster from the ground. Before he could do anything with it, though, Luffy kicked the blaster away from him again, and then did a roundhouse kick with his other foot, kicking Wolf across the face.

"Ugh!" Wolf was knocked off his feet, and fell on his back as Luffy charged at him again while stretching both of his arms back.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his arms forward, but leaped over him to avoid. Wolf then was about to counter, but Luffy accidentally hit an explosive crate.

KABOOM!

"Uagh!" Both of them were sent flying back by the explosion as they fell apart from eachother. Luffy and Wolf then stood up while looking down at the floor, panting as Nami was astounded by their battle.

"These guys… they're both equally matched." Nami said in awe.

"HUGH!" Luffy and Wolf charged at eachother again, with their fists colliding with one another.

Meanwhile…

Way far down beneath the area Luffy and Wolf are fighting in, Sanji and Panther were dueling it out like any other determined soul for the love of their life. "Nami-san will come back with me!" Sanji yelled while swinging his leg at Panther, who blocked with his forearm.

"Nonsense!" Panther replied as he then tried punching Sanji, but missed as Sanji jumped back, "She belongs with Star Wolf, and I will not let you take her away!"

With such intense fury, they unleashed several kicks upon eachother, creating such force that is disfiguring the floor around them.

Usopp was still around the 2nd floor, running around screaming while several lasers tried shooting him down from out of nowhere. "Why are you attacking me! I don't want to fight!" Usopp cried. Leon then turned visible in front of Usopp, shocking him as he fell on his rear.

"You don't know!" Leon asked while a vain popped on his forehead, "It's because of you people that witch is now a part of my team! You were so careless to leave her alone, now I have to suffer for it! And if I have to suffer, then her former comrades must suffer as well!"

"But she wanted to stay on our ship alone during that time! WAAHH!" Usopp got back up, and started running away again. Leon turned invisible, and started chasing him while locking on to him from behind.

"Die!" Leon fired some shots, which Usopp avoided with a side jump, ending up behind a rectangular column. Leon got to where Usopp was, only to see that he was no longer there. "Where did-!"

"HISSATSU KAENBOSHI!" Usopp fired a flaming pellet in front of Leon's way, startling Leon as he evaded it by hiding.

"Ha! You missed!" Leon said, "You almost got me there, but it won't happen again!" Leon got out of hiding, and fired several lasers around the floor, startling Usopp as he lowered his head while running behind another column. Leon got around the floor to catch Usopp by surprise, but his foot suddenly got stuck on something, "Huh!" Leon noticed glue on the floor, and was standing on it as he was unable to pull himself out.

"Ha ha ha!" Usopp came out of hiding with a confident look, "I've tricked you! Now you cant do anything to me!" Usopp then aimed at Leon with his Kabuto, "HISSATSU KATAKIBOSHI!" Usopp repeatedly fired several explosive pellets at Leon, who was unable to move out of the way, but didn't seem worried.

"Heh heh…" Inspite of being stuck, Leon dodged the explosive by flexing his body around, moving it in a manner only chameleon could move. Usopp gasped as Leon then fired at him, with Usopp frantically dodging by moving his hips in a desperate fashion.

"Uwah!" Usopp ran away again as Leon fired around his feet, melting off the glue as he then chased after Usopp again. Leon fired at Usopp from behind, who did front flip as he aimed at Leon in midway of his flip, "HISSATSU SHURIKEN SUISEI!" Usopp fired a string of shurikens at Leon, who quickly shot them away with great precision as he leaped towards Usopp, who took out something while turning towards him.

"SMOKE BOMB!" Usopp threw a smoke bomb at Leon, which exploded into a smoke screen as Leon landed on knees, coughing upon getting hit.

"Ergh! What a dirty trick… where are you!" Leon asked angrily.

Usopp was hiding behind one of the columns, scared to death as he tried to calm down. "How do I beat him?" He asked, "I can't see him well if he stays invisible, and even if he is visible, I won't be able to hurt him if he keeps shooting down my ammo. Their must be someway to beat him…" Usopp thought for a minute until he smiled, "That's it!"

Usopp then came out of hiding while resting his slingshot on his shoulder, "Oi, you fiend! You may be invisible, but you will never defeat me! You know why! Because I am-"

"Shut up!" Leon yelled as Usopp heard him behind him. Leon then fired at Usopp, who quickly ran away while avoiding the shots. Usopp then dropped some caltrops behind, but Leon saw them as he then started jumped from column to column to avoid stepping over the caltrops. He then did one last leap as he headed straight towards Usopp, "Die!"

Usopp nervously, but quickly avoided the close-range shot while turning towards Leon while taking out something, "FLASH DIAL!" Usopp used his Flash Dial to create a bright flash, blinding Leon in a close distance.

"My eyes!" Leon landed in front of Usopp while trying to regain his sight. As he did, he accidentally turned visible, allowing Usopp to see him.

"Gotcha! USOPP HAMMER!" Usopp hits Leon with his hammer, knocking him back into the pile of caltrops Usopp left behind earlier.

"AHH! Agh! Ahh!" Leon cried as some caltrops spiked onto his body. As he cried in pain, Usopp aimed his slingshot at him.

"There is no escape for you now! I got you right where I want you!" Usopp yelled.

"So… have… I!" Leon took out switch, and activated something. Usopp heard a frequent beeping noise under his feet, so he looked down, and saw some sensor bombs that Leon placed there when he wasn't looking.

"Ah!"

BOOOOM!

Sanji stopped attacking Panther to see an explosion engulfing part of the second floor. "Usopp!" Sanji cried worryingly, "Guh!" Panther took the opportunity to kick Sanji when he wasn't looking as Sanji fell on the floor.

"So pitiful of you for losing your focus!" Panther mocked, "We are fighting for a woman's love, so if you plan to fight me for it, then I suggest you get up!"

"You don't have to tell me twice!" Sanji yelled as he then charged at Panther with several kicks. "QUASI!" Sanji did a handstand, and span around with his legs spread out as he tried to kick Panther, but he got out of the way as he took out three roses.

"ROSA SANGRIENTE!" Panther threw the roses at Sanji, who pushed himself up in the air to avoid, but as soon as the roses hit the ground, it's petals flew up in the air, going past Sanji as some of them left small cuts on his clothing. Sanji grunted as spinned around the air, causing the petals to fly away from him as Sanji landed on the ground with minor injuries. "You have already seen my rose. You're destiny is to die under my hands, child."

"The hell with that!" Sanji yelled as he ran towards Panther. "POITRINE!" Sanji thrusts his foot into Panther's chest, but Panther blocked Sanji's kick with his forearms. "GIGOT!" Sanji spins around, and tried to kick Panther's kneecaps, but Panther jumped over to dodge the attack. Sanji then jumped higher than Panther while raising his leg up, "EPAULE!" Sanji brought his leg down, kicking Panther hard on his shoulder.

"Ah!" Panther cried as the kick he received drove him to the floor, but managed to land on his hands as he countered by thrusting himself up while spinning like a drill, kicking Sanji in the gut while he was still in midair.

"Oh!" Sanji grunted as he recovered in midair while facing his leg downwards, "BROCHETTE!" Sanji span downward like a drill as Panther swiftly dodged it in midair. Sanji landed on the ground before Panther did as Panther brushed the dust off his shoulder.

"Ole"' Panther taunted. Sanji ran to him with a flying kick, which Panther avoided, and countered by kneeing Sanji's back. Sanji staggered forward upon landing as Panther grabbed his hands, and spun him 360 degrees before letting him go. Sanji was somehow spinning around uncontrollably as Panther charged at him while he was open. "TIJERA DE LA MUERTE!" Panther leaped towards Sanji leg-first as he opened his legs, and closed them like scissors on Sanji's head. He then did a handstand, and threw Sanji with his legs as Sanji spiralled towards the other side of the room.

"Gegh!" Sanji crashed onto a column hard, dazedly trying to get up afterwards as Panther looked down.

"Pity…" Panther said unimpressed, "I expected more from you."

"Eh.. heh… I'm not through yet!" Sanji said while getting back on his feet.

Meanwhile…

"GOMU GOMU NO SHOTGUN!" Luffy stretched his arm, and twanged it, causing it to move several trajectories while heading towards Wolf. Wolf had no problem running through the attack as Luffy quickly pulled back his arm, and stretched his leg upwards, "GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy lowered his leg down as quickly as he could, but Wolf was quicker as he jumped over Luffy before Luffy could've kicked him. Wolf tried elbowing Luffy, but Luffy blocked with his right elbow, and countered by wrapping his arm around Wolf's left arm, and tried punching him with his right, but Wolf moved his head out of the way, countered by throwing Luffy behind him, and delivering a back kick to Luffy's back.

Luffy grunted by getting kicked, but didnt let go of Wolf's arm as he springed back towards him, and shoulder barged him right in the torso.

"Ergh!" Wolf cried while staggering back as Luffy let's go of his arm, and held onto Wolf's shoulders while jumping back.

"GOMU GOMU NO KAMA!" Luffy sprunged himself towards Wolf, attempting to clothesline him, but Wolf backflipped to avoid, and ended up kicking Luffy from upside the head. "Agh!" Luffy rolled across the floor in pain as Wolf landed on his feet, and went to retrieve his blaster from the floor.

"Hargh!" Wolf aimed at Luffy, but to his surprise, he was already inches in front of him.

"Grr!" Luffy pushed Wolf's arm's up, causing him to accidently fire upward, but Wolf then kicked Luffy away, and then started firing at him. Luffy jumped several times back to avoid the shots, and then stretched towards the ledge of the second floor, and sprung himself on there. Wolf fired at Luffy while going after him, jumping from crates, and from columns to get where Luffy was. Once Wolf got on the second floor, Luffy ran in front of him, and backhanded his blaster off his hands as it fell on the first floor. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy was finally able to land some fists on Wolf with this attack due to being close to him, but not for long as Wolf retreated by jumping off the second floor, and grabbing one of the hooks from the ceiling.

"Take this!" Wolf swung himself back to the second floor, kicking Luffy up against the wall before getting off the hook. Wolf then threw a fist at Luffy, but hits the wall after Luffy dodged him as Luffy countered with a kick to his gut. Wolf staggered back a bit as Luffy swung his fist at him again, but Wolf ducked under the attack, and countered with an upper kick, which Luffy dodged, and countered with a clothesline, knocking him on his back.

Wolf siderolled onto his feet, and knocked down some crates in front of Luffy to distract him, which worked as Wolf kicked Luffy in the face. "Agh!" Luffy staggered back as Wolf swunged his fists at him, punching Luffy repeatedly until Luffy dodged his last fist, and punched Wolf hard across the face.

"Ah!" Wolf was knocked back, but kept his footing as he leaped towards Luffy, curled into a ball while spinning vertically as he crashed into Luffy, knocking him on his back. Wolf then grabbed Luffy by his vest, and slammed him right through some wooden crates, and into a wall.

"Hiya!" Luffy countered by grabbing Wolf's head, and slamming his face into the wall behind. Wolf staggered as he let's go of Luffy, allowing Luffy to punch Wolf in the gut hard, and then kicking him at the side of his head, knocking Wolf into the wall beside him. Luffy ran towards Wolf, only to get tackled to the ground by him. Luffy punched Wolf in the face three times to make him get off, but Wolf countered with some fists of his own as he then picked Luffy up, and slammed the side of his head against the wall before tossing him down to the lower floor.

"Luffy!" Nami cried as she saw Luffy limplessly landing hard on the floor. Luffy pulled himself on his hands and knees as Wolf jumped down towards him.

"GOMU GOMU NO KAZAN!" Luffy turned around, and stretched his leg upwards with great force, kicking Wolf right up against ceiling hard enough to leave a small crack on it.

"GUAH!" Wolf coughed up some blood as Luffy pulled back his leg, allowing Wolf to fall down. As Luffy tried to get up, he saw Wolf stopping his fall by holding onto one of the hanging hooks. "Eh…" Wolf dropped some grenades, signaling Luffy to get out of the way as they exploded.

"Whoa!" Luffy ran around the area with his head down as Wolf was swinging from hook to hook, dropping some grenades in the process as Luffy was running out of breath from trying to run away. He stopped in front of column, which turned out to be a bad idea as Wolf swunged himself towards the column, and jumped off of it to kick Luffy in the face. "Oh!"

While Luffy was knocked down, Wolf once again went to retrieve his blaster, and charged it up to it's maximum potency, with the tip of the blaster glowing red as Wolf aimed it towards Luffy. "FULL CHARGED BLAST!" Wolf fired a big, and red laser blast as it homed towards Luffy, who could only stand up as he saw the beam coming.

BOOM!

"Wha!" The beam engulfed Luffy, which exploded afterwards as it destroyed most of the crates around him, and part of the second floor above him.

"Luffy!" Nami cried again as Wolf smirked upon what he did.

"… Huh?" Wolf's smirk faded as he saw Luffy getting out of the rubble the explosion, having several burned marks all over his body. Wolf smirked again upon seeing this, "It seems like you really are strong. Atleast you have one of the qualities a captain should have."

"GRAAAAAGHHH!" Luffy yelled as he charged at Wolf again.

Meanwhile…

Oikonny's men were completely shocked, and dumbfounded for what had happened to their emperor. Andrew layed emotionless against a container, having a swollen cheek after Franky knocked the daylights out of him.

"E-Emperor… EMPEROR OIKONNY!" Cried the soldiers. As some of them went to see if Andrew was okay, Peppy looked at his surroundings, feeling nervous.

"Um… how are we going to escape again?" Peppy asked nervously.

"Simple." Franky said while cracking his knuckles, "We're just going to use this ship to get back to your world, and we'll escape with my ship."

"How are we going to do that with all these guards here!" Peppy asked.

"Don't worry about that; I'll take care of all them!" Franky replied with a smirk. Peppy wasnt to sure to trust Franky with this, but then he saw Oikonny's men aiming at them.

"You bastard! How dare you harm our Emperor!" Asked one of the guards, "We'll kill-!"

"STRONG…" Franky launched out his right arm, catching the guards by surprise as Franky then swunged it around like a flail, "HITTER!" Franky slapped every single guard surrounding him and Peppy as Peppy was ducking in order to avoid getting hit. After all the guards around them were knocked down, Franky opened up his left wrist, "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple blasts at every guard that was in sight, with some of them falling over guard rails, and Franky especially shot down the guards that messed with his ship earlier.

After Franky dealt with them, one of the wounded went to activate the alarm on the wall, alarming all the troops in the ship to be on alert. "Ow! Let's get going! Come on, rabbit bro!" Franky yelled.

"O-Oh, alright!" Peppy said nervously. They both ran out of the hangar as fast as they could as Andrew was starting to regain conciousness.

"E-Emperor Oikonny!" Cried one of the wounded soldiers as he saw Andrew getting up, "Are you-?"

"GYYETT THEMFF!" Andrew yelled with a swollen look, which was the reason why he spoked funny, "I VANT THEMFF DESFROYED, BUT ALITHE! GYET THEMFF NOWWTHH!"

Franky, and Peppy ran across the long hallways, until they saw some guards blocking their way. "Hide!" Franky yelled as Peppy then hid behind a wall. "HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky's left arm turned into a shield as the guards started firing at him. Franky is able to put up with the beams due to him being a cyborg, but he can still feel the burns from getting hit. "Damn you… you think your stupid lasers are going to take me down! STRONG RIGHT!" Franky then launched his right arm, hitting the guards in front of them as most of them were knocked down.

Franky then aimed at the remaining guards with his left wrist, "BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple bullets at the guards, shooting them down as the path was now clear.

"Franky, behind you!" Peppy cried. Franky turned around to see some guards trying to attack him from the rear.

"Bunch of cowards! FRANKY BOXING!" Franky repeatedly punched all the guards behind him, knocking them all out as Franky turned the other way. "Coast is clear! Let's go!"

Franky, and Peppy continued to run through the hallways as Franky saw more guards at the end of the hall. "Get outta my way! BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple bullets again, shooting down some guards as the remaining retreated. Franky didnt want any of them to escape, so he chased after them while running at full speed. Once he got around the corner of the hall, he saw a fleet of soldiers in the other hallway, "Damn!" Franky ran away as the guards nearly shot him. The guards chased after Franky, who suddenly turned around, "FRANKY TRIANGLE JACKER!" Franky threw his sideburns as they slashed through the guards, knocking them down. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky finished them off with a blast off his wrist, clearing the way again.

"Hergh?" Franky then spotted three robots with wheels for feet, and blasters for arms as they appeared from behind him. Franky got into his stance as Peppy went to hide again. "Great, more trash…"

"Franky, do a barrel roll!" Peppy advised from behind a wall.

"Do a what?" Franky asked curiously.

Peppy just blinked in confusion until he hid himself again. "S-Sorry! Force of habit!"

Franky rolled his eyes, and focused back on the robots. They started firing on him, which Franky blocked with his left arm while running towards them. "STRONG UPPERCUT!" Franky uppercutted the center robot, ripping it's upper body from it's lower half. While the upper half was knocked upwards, Franky grabbed the lower half with both arms, and slammed it right into the robot on his left. The remaining robot tried firing at him, but the upper half Franky knocked up earlier fell on it, damaging it's circuits as this gave Franky enough to take the skin of his right hand, "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched the robot hard, sending it flying right into a wall before exploding into pieces.

Franky wiped the dust off his hands as was now done with the robots. He then went back to Peppy, "Oi, I'm done here! Let's get movin', old man!"

"R-Right!" Peppy nodded. They hurried through the hallways, with nothing slowing them down along the way.

Meanwhile…

Wolf jumped back, avoiding a fist from Luffy, who picked his leg up. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg towards Wolf, but missed as Wolf jumped on his leg, and ran on it to get towards Luffy.

"Ha!" Wolf swung his fist at Luffy, who instantly moved his head back to avoid as he then brought his leg stretched leg upwards, making Wolf to get off of him.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly stretched his arms up towards Wolf, who countered by swinging creating several cutting waves with his Claw blaster. They did this for several moments until they struck eachother simultaneously. They both got knocked back as wolf fell next to a rectangular crate with a label. Wolf smirked as he opened, and grabbed what was inside.

"I'll show you what a real gatling gun looks like!" Wolf yelled as he took out a gatling gun from the crate, and started firing multiple lasers at Luffy.

"Yah! Whoa, whoa!" Luffy ran away as he tried to avoid getting shot as much as possible. He stretched his arms, and pulled himself up on the second floor, and hid behind a column. Wolf teased Luffy by shooting around the column he was hiding behind.

"Ergh!" Luffy then jumped off the second floor while stretching and twisting his arm back. "GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy thrusted his twisted arm towards Wolf, punching right through the beams Wolf was firing at him as Luffy punched the ground inches away from Wolf was standing on, creating a shockwave that knocked Wolf off his feet.

"Ah!" Wolf recovered by landing his feet on the wall behind him. He then jumped off of it as he spinned his body towards Luffy, gathering a current of wind around his body in the process. Luffy covered his face with his forearms as Wolf then kicked him hard when he got close. Luffy was send flying back, but landed on his feet as he skidded backwards before nearly crashing into the wall behind him.

"Ugh!" Luffy looked forward to see Wolf running towards him with great speed. Luffy twisted his body around multiple times as Wolf squated down when he was in front of him.

"FLASH!" In a blink of eye, Wolf leaped towards Luffy, but Luffy somehow managed to dodge it in a nick of time. Luffy then grabbed Wolf by his tail while he was still in midair. "Hm!"

"GOMU GOMU NO KAZAGURUMA!" Luffy untwisted his body, spinning Wolf around in circles as Wolf went crashing through some crates, and columns.

"GRRAGH!" Wolf cried as Luffy let's him go, making him fly, and crash into the ledge of the second floor. Before Wolf could fall off, though, Luffy stretched his left arm, and grabbed Wolf by the neck.

"GOMU GOMU NO MACHINE GUN!" Luffy pulled in Wolf as he repeatedly punched his gut with his right arm only. After the repeated blows, Luffy winded up his arm, and punched Wolf straight in the face before letting him go. Wolf nearly crashed into a wall, but he stopped himself by landing on his hands, and feet. He panted a bit before smirking as he then moved so quick, he disappeared. Luffy gasped as he then kicked from behind by Wolf. "Agh!"

Luffy staggered forward as Wolf suddenly appeared in front of him, "TRICYCLONE WOLF!" Wolf leaped at Luffy while covered in wind, hitting Luffy multiple times before kicking him hard. Luffy fell back, but didnt land on the ground as Wolf did the same attack on him again, and kicked Luffy upward. Luffy limplessly flew up as Wolf repeated his move on him one more time, only he double kicked Luffy in the back to send him flying even higher. Luffy coughed up some blood as Wolf did an air jump to get above him, and clasped his fists together to knock Luffy down. "Gergh!" Suddenly, Luffy wrapped his legs around Wolf's stomach, and twisted his legs afterwards while stretching himself down to the floor.

"GOMU GOMU NO OZUCHI!" Luffy untwisted his legs, rapidly spinning Wolf in midair before slamming him down hard on the floor. Wolf cried in pain as Luffy fell on the ground also. Luffy now had several small cuts all over his body, while Wolf was bleeding from his head. Inspite of that, they both got up again, with Luffy then charging towards Wolf

"Back off!" Wolf yelled as he did forward side flip, and kicked Luffy in the chest, knocking him on his back again, "You will not beat me!"

Meanwhile…

In Sauria, General Scales led his army through the fields, taking Tricky as their hostage. Two Sharpclaw were also bringing a seemingly dead Zoro over their shoulders.

"I can't believe this guy dared to fight our General." Said one of the Sharpclaw carrying Zoro.

"But didn't you see how strong this guy was? He took down an army of our allies without breaking a sweat, and he had the guts to face General Scales even after he was nearly beaten to death."

"Even so, what he did was foolish. Going up against our general is the same thing as having a death wish. Nobody can defeat General Scales, and live to tell about it, that's for sure."

"Heh heh! You're right, and this guy here may look dead, but General Scales will make sure to wipe out his existance after this world is ours! Ha ha ha ha!

Tricky walked along with the Sharpclaws with a sad look as he then looked over to Zoro, who hasnt said or done everything after Scales did to him. "Zoro…" Tricky said sadly.

"Hey! Keep moving!" A Sharpclaw yelled as he kicked Tricky to make him walk again.

Scales led his army towards over some cliffs, were beyond them lied the Walled city. It wasnt much of city, but more like ruins. There were some Earthwalkers walking around the place, and most of them were around a pyramid-like ruin, with some walls around it's corners, and a squared lake around the both of them.

One of the Earthwalkers noticed Scales, and his army. "It… It's Scales!" Cried the Earthwalker. The others heard his cry, and saw Scales ontop of the cliff. Some of them were scared, while the rest were ready to defend their land. Scales only smirked as he signaled his men to bring Tricky forth.

"K-King Tricky!" Gasped the Earthwalkers.

"Stand down, Earthwalker tribe!" Scales yelled, "If you want to keep your precious king alive, I suggest you do what I say!"

The Earthwalkers didn't know what to do. Tricky could only lower his head in shame, but by doing so, it showed that his fellow Earthwalkers that there was no hope. The Earthwalkers had no choice but to kneel down before Scales.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! At last, my moment of triumph has come!" Scales said with a devilish smirk.

And so, Scales started to turn the Walled City into his own vision. He imprisoned most of the defenesless Earthwalkers inside a jail cell next to corner of the city, while several others were chained to the floor next to the pyramid.

Several hours later, Scales sat on a throne his army made for him on the steps of the pyramid. He enjoyed his new role as 'king' as Tricky was next to him, not saying a word. "Ahh… so this is how it's like, huh?" Scales asked optimisticaly, "I've only been king for a few hours now, but it's been really good so far! Ha ha ha ha ha!"

Tricky growled a bit, until he saw some of Scales men bringing Zoro up to the pyramid. Scales smirked as he signaled his men to lay him next to Tricky. They dropped Zoro intentionally as Zoro limplessly fell hard on his back. They laughed before they left him and Tricky alone.

"Zoro!" Tricky cried. Zoro wasnt replying to him, nor did he looked alive for that matter, "Come on, Zoro, wake up! This isn't funny!" Zoro remained motionless, "You can't be dead! Your the guy who fought an army of Sharpclaw just to get your swords back! You can't die like this! Zoro!"

Zoro remained motionless, which caused Tricky to cry a bit before looking away, "This is my fault…" He said sadly, "If it wasn't for me, none of this would've happened! If only if I was strong as you, then… oh, Zoro, please wake up!"

"Ha ha ha! He can't hear you! He's already dead!" General Scales laughed.

"Shut up! You don't know anything!" Tricky yelled at Scales without looking at him. Scales scoffed as he got up from his throne.

"It doesnt matter what you think; this world is now mine to rule! And everyone in it will live in fear under the name of General Scales!" Scales said proudly with open arms as his army applauded to him, "Yet… I feel a little empty. It's like there is something I need to do in order to be completely satisified." Scales' eyes then widened upon realization, "Oooh, I know!"

Scales glanced at Zoro with a devilish smirk. He then walked up to Zoro, and lifted him up from the ground. "In order to satisfy my needs, a sacrifice must be made! And the only proper way to do it, is to feed this scum to the deadliest of all tribes in existance."

"Wait, you dont mean-!" Tricky gasped.

"That's right! Ha ha ha!" Scales laughed, "It's time to feed the Redeye! Men, take him to the nest!"

Scales happily brought Zoro to his men, who then took Zoro towards a secret passage. "Zoro, you must wake up! They're going to kill you! Zoro, please!" Tricky cried, but it was no use. Scales continued to laugh as his men took Zoro down the secret passage, and in front of an entrance. They threw Zoro inside before closing the room shut as he limplessly rolled down the hill, and ended up being in a very big room.

It was then loud steps could be heard. Out of the darkness, appeared a gigantic T-rex, or Redeye as the other tribes call it, as it picked up Zoro's scent, and approached Zoro slowly. It lowered his head to smell Zoro as it then lifted to let out a tremoundous screech. The Redeye then lowered it's head with it's mouth, ready to devour Zoro, but as it did, Zoro's eyes shot open.

Back outside, Scales continued to laugh as Tricky was shaking nervously, but was also angry, "He had nothing to do with you, Scales!" Tricky cried, "You have gone too far this time!"

"As if I'd care." Scales replied, "What you should worry about is the way you're speaking to me." Scales then faced towards Tricky with a glare, "As king, I won't allow you to speak to me with that tone."

"I don't care what you think of my tone! I'll talk to you the way I want!" Tricky replied angrily.

"Oh, really?" Scales asked he faced his hook inches away from Tricky's face, "Tell me I'm your king!"

"No!" Tricky replied.

"I am not asking you; I'm ordering you to tell me that I'm your king!" Scales yelled back. Tricky only glared at Scales, who was getting impatient, "Damn you… if you don't say it, then I'll cut you into pieces!" But before Scales could harm Tricky, the Walled City started to shake. "An earthquake!"

As Scales, and his men thought their was an earthquake, they saw the land over the river starting to bulge up as if something was coming out. Everyone looked towards it as the ground was getting bulgier until…

BOOM!

Something came flying out from underneath the ground, something enormous. It turned out to be the Redeye, which had swirls over it's eyes as it fell high up in the sky. The Earthwalkers, the Sharpclaw, Tricky, and even General Scales had their eyes popping out of their heads, and their jaws nearly hitting the floor in shock as the Redeye fell hard on land with a loud thud. Everyone remained in shock as the Redeye was unconcious.

"Wh-What is this!" Scales asked. While everyone tried to figure out what happened, Tricky could see a sillouhette coming from the dust cloud the Redeye caused upon landing. It took a few seconds for Tricky to realize who it was he cried in joy.

"ZORO!" Tricky cried happily. Everyone saw Zoro coming out of the dust cloud, with his hands in his pockets, and his head lowered.

Scales couldnt believe it; he thought he killed Zoro, but seeing him alive made him feel… nervous. "That's… impossible.. grr… THAT'S IMPOSSIBLE!"

Zoro raised his head as he then yawned, "… I just can't seem to get any sleep these days."

Meanwhile…

Wolf kicked Luffy while he was down, making him roll across the floor. Luffy got one knee, and tried to punch Wolf, only to get kicked in the face instead as he fell on his back again. Wolf just sighed irritatedly while intentionally dropping his Claw blaster.

"All weaklings! The bunch of you!" Wolf yelled, "Is this the best you can do, boy!"

As Wolf continued to mock Luffy, Nami was very worried. "Luffy, don't just let him do that!" She thought, "Get up! I know you can win!"

Luffy then pulled himself up by grabbing Wolf's foot. Wolf raised an eyebrow until a tight squeeze from Luffy's grip. "Damn you!" Wolf then started kicking Luffy upside the head, but after kicking him a couple of times, Luffy caught his attacking leg, and swept Wolf off his feet, and on his back. "Eh!"

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretched his leg up in the air while holding onto Wolf's legs with his arms, "ONO-Whoa!" Before Luffy could bring it down, though, Wolf spinned around with his feet, knocking Luffy off of his as Wolf spinned him around, and around until Luffy had to let go due to the momentum. "Eh.. ah!" Luffy was about to crash into a wall, until Wolf grabbed his stretched leg, and sprunged him back with both arms before letting go of him. Luffy limplessly flew towards Wolf, who dashed, and thrusted his arm forward, hitting Luffy hard in the gut. "AH!" Luffy was knocked back into the wall, and fell on his knees in pain.

Luffy panted a bit before Wolf tossed a grenade at him. "Eh!" Luffy quickly ran out of the way as the grenade exploded behind him, causing him to roll forward from the force of it, but recover right back on his feet as he dashed towards Wolf. "GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy thrusted his arm at Wolf, who moved his head sideways to dodge.

Wolf then grabbed Luffy, and pummeled his stomach with his right knee repeatedly. After that, Wolf uppercuts Luffy across the chin, knocking him up in the air as Wolf leaped after him. "Y… YARI!" Luffy was exhausted as he thrusted his legs at Wolf, who air jumped upwards to avoid, and countered with a double clamped fist, knocking him down hard on the ground. "Uagh!" Luffy dazedly got on his feet, and clenched his fists angrily, "GOMU GOMU NO GATL-!"

Right when Luffy thrusted his fists, Wolf caught them with his palms, and pushed Luffy back before clenching his fists tightly as well.

"CYCLONE FANG!" Wolf repeatedly punched Luffy mercilessly, only a tad faster than Luffy would have done to him. Every fist came in contact with Luffy's body, slighty staggering him back by the second as Wolf finished off his combo with an air fist, knocking Luffy off his feet as he crashed back into the wall again.

Luffy looked worn out as he could barely get up. Wolf panted a little before frowning, "It takes… more than stretching to beat me!" He yelled, "You are going to have to do better than that!"

Luffy remained quiet as he looked down at the ground, "… Okay." He muttered. He then stood, and inflated his stomach, and deflated his arms, and legs. He then started moving, and twisting his body around until he was in form of a ball, shocking Nami in the process. "BALL LUFFY!" Luffy bounced up and down upon turning into the form that helped defeat Ridley many chapters ago.

"I never seen this before." Nami said in awe.

"While I'm in this form, you cannot harm me!" Luffy stated, "Everything you do to me will bounce right back at you! You stand no chance against me now!"

Wolf was highly unimpressed with Luffy's form. He simply grabbed his Claw blaster from the floor, and shot Luffy. "OOOOWW!" Luffy cried as he instantly went back to his original form while crying in pain. Nami dumbfounded by this as Luffy rubbed his face in pain, "Ow, ow, ow… I guess it doesn't work against laser beams."

"WHAT THE HELL WAS THAT!" Nami asked furiously while waving her arms frantically, "You're suppose to be rescueing me, not to mess around like this! Hurry up, and finish him off, you stupid 'you cannot harm me!' idiot!

Wolf was not amused as he aimed his blaster at Luffy, "I think it's time we wrap this up, boy." He said, "I know it's hard for you to understand, but you must die in order to be forgiven." Luffy stopped rubbing his face as Wolf continued, "A faker such as yourself can no longer stay alive. Only your death can bring peace in the name of a captain. It's for the best… now stay right there while I-"

"GEAR…" Luffy interrupted while standing up, "SECOND!" Luffy slammed his fist on the ground as he pumped his blood flow in faster rate with his legs, causing his body to let out steam, and turn red.

"Oh! He's going to use that!" Nami gasped.

Wolf was actually curious with Luffy's current form as Luffy got into his battle pose. "What is this?" Wolf asked.

"JET PISTOL!" Before Wolf could get an answer, Luffy stretched his arm with such speed, Wolf didn't see it coming as he got hit in the face.

"Urgh!" Wolf fell on his back as he skidded backwards. He sat up in shock as he then couldnt see Luffy anywhere. "He's gotten stronger! How did-"

POW!

"AGH!" Wolf got punched in the side of the head by Luffy as he flew to the other side of the area. Wolf stopped himself by landing on his feet, but then saw Luffy dashing right towards him in a flash.

"JET BULLET!" Luffy punched Wolf again less than a split second, knocking him back up against a column, "JET WHIP!" Luffy stretched his leg, and swunged horizontally as he kicked Wolf while also kicking through the column he was standing in front of. Wolf went flying to his sides as Luffy got in front of him, "JET RIFLE!" Luffy punched Wolf with a twisted, sending far off in a distance as Wolf was about to crash into a wall, until Luffy suddenly appeared under him, "JET KAZAN!" Luffy stretched his leg upward, kicking Wolf right through the ceiling of the second floor, and way up to the top of the area. Wolf limplessly fell down as Luffy jumped far up, and got above Wolf while stretching his arms back, "JET BAZOOKA!"

With a strong double palm thrust, Wolf went down like a missile, and made a tremondous impact on the ground, creating a big dust cloud as the floor recieved a crack upon Wolf's landing. Luffy landed on the second floor, and looked where Wolf landed, while Nami was awestrucked by Luffy's strength.

"Did he win!" Nami asked impatiently. Nami tried to look through the dust, but she couldnt see anything. Luffy's body continued to let out a steam as his eyes slowly widened with anger while seeing the dust getting cleared.

Once it did, What Nami saw shocked her. "No way…"

Wolf was still up, with his fur having several blood stains on it. Wolf didnt care, though, as he had a demonic grin on his face as he looked up towards Luffy, with such an intense stare as his pupil was completely dilated.

"Ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! Now this is really getting amusing!" Wolf laughed, "I had never had such a battle before in my life! Not even my days during the smash tournament was there a battle I had being this rough, and exciting!" He then squinted his eyes with glee, "I have to thank you, boy! You truly shown me you are willing to put your entire life on the line just to beat me, and I could never be so proud of it! Sadly, this must end now! HERGH!"

Wolf started to pull down his gloves as his claws suddenly pierced right through them. "He's going to use his claws!" Nami gasped. Wolf then licked his claws in a bloodthirsty manner as he laughed maniacally.

"It's time to fight seriously this time!" Wolf said while getting into his battle pose, "No more games! The next several minutes will determine our fates! Will you win, and rescue your princess! I seriously doubt that! Now come at me, boy! Give me your best shot!"

"HUAAAAAAAAGGHHHH!" Luffy jumped down towards Wolf, ready to brawl with him one more time!

Chapter 111: The epic climax!, Obscurum's subordinate

Oikonny's soldiers were quickly searching in the ship for Franky and Peppy. As they did that, Andrew, accompanied by one of his guards, furiously walked around the crowded hallways while holding an ice bag up against his swollen cheek to reduce the swelling.

"I can't believe that hooligan did this to me!" Andrew yelled while walking, "When he get my hands on him, I will make him suffer!"

"Don't worry, Emperor Oikonny. We'll capture them in no time." Said a guard next to Andrew, "We have all the soldiers onboard finding these scoundrels from top to bottom of this ship as we speak. They won't get far."

"Even so… I want the security defense systems up and running!" Andrew replied, "I also want all units of my fleet to come right here, and find those two at all costs! I don't care if my men have to die for this! I just want them to bring Peppy, and that hooligan to me so I can kill them myself!"

"Yes, Emperor Oikonny! I'll see to it that every soldier gets that command!"

The soldier ran off, leaving Andrew who clenched his fist in anger. "I'll get him for this! Nobody makes a fool out of the Emperor! Nobody!"

The soldier then turned on the intercom to all stations, "Attention all units! Two hostages are on the loose in the Emperor's mothership! We order all units to come to the mothership, and help capture these men before more damage could be ensued! I repeat-"

As the soldier repeated the message on the intercom, Oikonny's ships started to let out some transportation aircrafts to his mothership, sending nearly everyone to it.

Franky and Peppy were running along the hallways until Franky stopped around the corner. Peppy stopped as well as he panted while placing his hands on his knees. "Ha… ha… I'm too old for this…" Peppy sighed. Franky looked out the windows, and saw the ships boarding on the mothership they were on.

"So they're sending the whole cavalry after us, eh?" Franky asked with a smirk, "This should be a little interesting."

"I don't see how we will escape with them onboard though." Peppy replied.

"No need to worry about that, Rabbit bro. We'll be getting outta here no matter what they throw at us." Franky said while looking over the corner, and saw a door at the end of the hallway, "There is the control room. We just need to get in there, and turn this ship around."

"There they are!"

Franky and Peppy turned around to see several guards behind him. "Let's go!" Franky yelled. The guards started firing at Franky and Peppy as they went around the corner, and headed towards the control room. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, and busted the door open, startling the men inside.

"Who's there!" A guard yelled. Once he, and his partners saw Franky and Peppy coming, they aimed at them. "Stay back!"

"BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple bullets at all the guards, knocking all of them down afterwards. The only enemy remaining was the pilot behind the controls as Franky approached him while cracking his knuckles.

"N-No matter what you do to me, I won't do as you say!" Yelled the pilot.

POW!

Franky knocked the pilot off his seat as the pilot fell on his back unconscious. "Rabbit bro, turn this ship around! Take it back to Corneria!" Franky yelled.

"Oh! Well, I am not familiar with the controlling systems here… but I'll see what I can do!" Peppy said. He went to the control panel, and started typing on the keyboard. Laser beams then could be seen being shot into the room as Franky heard some guards in the hallways.

"Tsk! You work on that while I take care of these guys!" Franky yelled. The guards were about to storm into the control room, until Franky blocked the road while opening his left wrist, "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired several blasts at the guards, knocking them all back. Franky nearly took care off all the guards as he then took a deep breath, "FRESH FIRE!" Franky breathed out a stream of fire, engulfing the entrance with flames, preventing anyone from coming in or out.

Peppy wiped the sweat off his forehead as he saw a window panel on the screen, showing the controls. "I got it now!" Peppy yelled.

"Good! Turn the ship as hard as you can towards Corneria!" Franky said while approaching him, shocking Peppy.

"But if I do that, we might hit something!" Peppy warned.

"Who cares! This isn't our ship! And none of those ships around here are friendly neither!" Franky yelled. Peppy gulped nervously as he looked back at the controls.

"I hope you know what you are doing! Here goes nothing!" Peppy said as he then did several typing on the keyboard, making the big mothership to turn.

Once it did, everyone else on the ship lost their footing from the ship's sudden movements. Andrew himself fell on his rear in shock. "What's going on!" He asked.

"The ship is turning around!" Cried one of the guards. As the ship turned, there were many ships that were in it's way. It destroyed several of them when they came in contact, including hundreds of transportation ships that were suppose to aboard it. This ship also several damage two of Oikonny's mothership, knocking some of them away as the ship finally stopped turning, and started moving forward.

"What the… !" Andrew's eyes then widened in shock, "I don't believe it! They are in the control room! STOP THEM!"

Back in the control room, Peppy finished typing as he then sighed in relief. "Phew, I didn't think this ship would hold after this." Peppy said, "Now, I managed to put the ship into autopilot. We should be able to get back on Corneria in less than an hour. Even if they try to stop us, I locked the autopilot mode with a password. They won't have time to deactivate it!"

"Supaa good job, bro!" Franky said as he then pointed to an open exit, other than the one that is engulfed with flames, "Now let's get back to my ship!" Peppy nodded, and ran with Franky to the exit. Franky then stopped, and glanced over his shoulder as he noticed something. "Hold up…"

"What is it, Franky?" Peppy asked.

Franky walked over to the control panel, and saw the jamming device Andrew left there several chapters ago. He picked up, and looked at it for a while before smiling. "Say, bro, how much do you know about this jamming stuff?"

"Hmm? Well, I have had experience with that kind of technology before." Peppy said, "Why do you ask?" Franky then looked over to Peppy while holding the device, making Peppy realize what he has in mind, "Oh, I see now!"

"Ahahahaha!" Franky laughed while staring at the device, "That horseface… the biggest moron ever!"

Meanwhile…

Nami ran for cover as Luffy and Wolf were fighting with eachother so brutally, that they were destroying, and disfiguring everything in their path. "Ah! If this keeps up, they are going to end up killing me!" Nami cried as she hid around the corner. She then looked back at the battle, seeing Luffy and Wolf continuously attacking at one another with multiple fist, and claw strike with incredible speed.

"JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm forward in a split second, which Wolf swiftly avoided by dodging to the side.

"HEERGH!" Wolf countered with triple combo slash with his claws, but Luffy dodged them, and jumped backwards.

"JET STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg towards Wolf, but missed as Wolf got out of the way, "JET WHIP!" Luffy stretched his other leg, and swung it horizontally at Wolf, who jumped over his attack as he then covered himself with wind.

"CYCLONE WOLF!" Wolf flew towards Luffy while being covered with wind.

"JET RIFLE!" Luffy stretched his twisted arm, and hits Wolf, stopping him in midair as both of their attacks created a tremendous that knocked them away from eachother. They both landed on their feet as Luffy dashed towards Wolf again, "JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm at Wolf again, but Wolf jumped over it, and got on the second floor as he then fired his Claw blaster at Luffy with the same rapid succession as Fox's blaster. Luffy went after Wolf while zigzagging around the laser beams as he then got into a handstand, "JET YARI!" Luffy stretched his legs at Wolf, but Wolf jumped as Luffy's legs went right through the wall behind him.

"Ha ha ha!" Wolf landed his feet on the second floor column, and started jumping around the floor with great speed, shooting at Luffy in the process.

Luffy instantly jumped up to the second floor, and twisted his body around several times, "JET HANABI!" Luffy instantly untwisted himself, unleashing a furry of kicks and punches in a split second, hitting at almost every single thing in the area, including Wolf.

"ERGH!" Wolf got hurt, but remained smirking as he nearly crashed down to the floor, but landed on his feet while lowering his stance. "FLASH!" In less than a split second, Wolf tackled Luffy in the air with his spiky shoulder pad.

"Ugh!" The attack was dreadful enough to crash right onto the ceiling, and momentarily falling down to the ground limplessly. "Grr!" But Luffy quickly recovered, and stretched his arms past Wolf, and onto the ledge of the second floor behind him. "JET ROCKET!" Luffy instantly sprung towards Wolf, and gave him a nasty tackle of his own.

"Oagh!" Luffy tackled Wolf all the way through the ledge of the second floor, and into the wall, cutting through the west part of the second floor like a piece of paper. "REFLECTOR!" Wolf activated his reflector, knocking Luffy away in midair as Wolf then jumped after him, "CYCLONE FANG!"

Wolf repeatedly swung his arms towards Luffy, but unlike last time, he attacked with his sharp claws, leaving several cuts on Luffy's frontal body. "Ah!… JET FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated his stomach, knocking Wolf back a bit. It didnt stop Wolf for long, though, as he then did air jump above Luffy, and kicked him hard on the head with a forward flip heel. "Agh!" Luffy deflated his stomach as he fell to the ground like a missile, creating a dust cloud upon landing. Wolf smirked, but then gasped as he Luffy's leg stretching all the way above his altitude level. "JET ONO!" Luffy brought down his stretched leg, slamming down Wolf down to the ground.

"Egh.. ah!" Wolf cried in pain as Luffy came out of the dust cloud he made earlier, "JET SENSUIKAN!" Luffy stretched his arm as it traveled along the ground towards Wolf, but Wolf instantly got out of the way as Luffy's attack created a trail of dust afterwards.

"Yagh!" Wolf suddenly appeared out of that dust, and impaled Luffy's chest with his claws. Luffy cried in pain until he then grabbed Wolf's arms, preventing him from getting away as Luffy then twisted his body vertically around his waist.

"JET BOWGUN!" Luffy untwisted himself, sending Wolf flying up towards the ceiling, but Wolf turned towards it, and landed hard on with his legs and feet.

"RAAAH!" Both Luffy and Wolf disappeared in an instant as sudden tremors could be felt in some parts of the area. It was actually Luffy and Wolf hitting, and jumping from eachother afterwards, but they were doing it so fast, you couldn't even see them. It looked like sudden bursts that came out of nowhere as this was making the area to nearly fall apart.

"Ah!" Nami cried as she held onto Luffy's hat out of fear. The quick attacks suddenly stopped as Luffy and Wolf could now be seen charging at eachother.

"Haaaa!" They both went through eachother, with Wolf leaving more cuts on Luffy's body, and Luffy leaving more wounds on Wolf's body as well. They then stood firm with their heads lowered as Wolf then chuckled.

"You know… if we keep this up, none of us may survive." Wolf said, noticing that the area was nearly destroyed, "But as long as you die, then none of that matters…" Wolf then turned towards Luffy, who did the same to Wolf, "It will all end in just of matter of minutes… GIVE ME WHAT'S LEFT OF YOU, BOY!"

Meanwhile…

The Sharpclaw army just stood back in shock upon seeing Zoro still alive. Tricky was so happy to see him that way, but Scales wasn't.

" What is going on here! " Scales thought with a shocked look, " I was sure that I killed him back in Cloudrunner Fortress. Even the scars I left on him were fatal, and yet… " Scales observed Zoro, noticing the two cuts he gave him on his chest, as well as the wounds around his body. Noticing this made him even angrier, " I don't understand how that measly human can still be alive after all that! There is something more in him than it meets the eye… "

Zoro stood firm in front of the Redeye he knocked out earlier. Inspite being heavily wounded, he acted as if nothing happened to him as he looked at his surroundings before sighing.

"Since when did I get here?" Zoro asked, "Oh well, I guess that doesn't matter right now." Zoro then looked straight towards Scales with a blunt look, "Oi… get over here so we can continue fighting."

"Is he insane!" Asked one of the sharpclaw.

"This guy must be delusional!"

"Grrr…" Scales clenched his fist in anger, "You already lost to me! Why should I bother fighting someone as weak as you!"

"The only way I could lose is that if I were to die right here and now." Zoro replied, "Since I'm still alive, I assume you wanted more out of me." Zoro then smirked, "… Or did you believed that you actually killed me? It would be pathetic if you did."

Scales was angrier now as Tricky admired Zoro's toughness. "Incredible… He defeated a Redeye, and he's still willing to fight Scales after getting beat so hard… HE'S SO COOL!" Tricky thought as sparks of joy sparkled around his eyes. He then got worried, "But how will he stand up to Scales now? I doubt Scales will fight fair. There must be a way out of this." Tricky then noticed a Sharpclaw next to Scales while holding Zoro's swords. "Maybe I can…"

"You are a foolish human!" Scales yelled, "You should have let that Redeye kill you! I don't know how you managed to defeat it, but it no longer concerns me!" Scales then smirked, "I am the strongest warrior in Sauria. The only one who brings fear to all who oppose him! You will bow down in pieces after I take care of you!"

"Hoh? If you are the strongest here, then I am very disappointed." Zoro replied with a smirk before frowning, "Now give me back my swords, and I promise that I'll finish you off quick."

Scales then took out his sabre, "You don't scare me, human! I am General Scales; the ruler of Sauria!" Scales' army then got in front of their leader, and faced Zoro, "This is the end for you! You're heavily wounded, and I doubt that you can take down all of us! If you want your swords so badly, come and get them!"

"Hmm… not that challenging, but it's an improvement." Zoro said as he then removed the bandanna around his left arm, and wrapped around his head before getting into a stance. Scales had enough of Zoro's egotistic attitude as he raised his sword.

"Sharpclaws! Destroy him!" Scales yelled.

"Look out, Zoro!" Tricky yelled worryingly. Scales' army yelled as they charged towards Zoro, who got into a familiar stance.

"ONI GIRI!" Zoro dashed right through some Sharpclaws with his fists spread out, knocking all the Sharpclaw up in the air. Zoro then proceeded to attack the rest of Sharpclaw with several fists and kicks. Several of them tried to attack Zoro from behind, but Zoro evaded their attacks, and countered with a punch to the face, or a kick to the gut. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro spinned around with his arms spread out, creating a tornado of cutting waves as he sended the Sharpclaw around him flying. Some of them fell on their own companions as Zoro then continued hitting every single Sharpclaw in sight.

This went on for a while as it was now raining Sharpclaws, over and over again. Scales gritted his teeth in anger upon seeing this. " Where is he getting all this energy from! He shouldn't even have enough to stand up! " Scales thought. He then picked up one of his men by the garments with his hook, "You useless trash! Must I do everything to keep you all alive!"

Scales threw his own soldier towards Zoro, who faced towards the incoming soldier, and backhanded him in the back, sending flying into the river. This gave the other Sharpclaw the chance to pounce on Zoro, punching him down on the ground mercilessly.

"Hey, you cheated!" Tricky yelled at Scales.

"Ha ha ha ha! That's right, show him no mercy!" Scales laughed, ignoring Tricky. But suddenly, Zoro got right back up, knocking all the Sharpclaw around him down on their backs. "What!" Scales was shocked to see this as Zoro then got on one knee.

"HYOU KINDAMA!" Zoro raised his arms, and lowered them down fast as if he slashed something, when he really punched right through some Sharpclaw, knocking them away as the path in front of him was clear. Scales gasped as Zoro was about to get to him, until the Sharpclaw from behind tried to stop him. Zoro turned around, and knocked them out first until more showed up from their posts. "Tsk!" Zoro had no choice but to deal with them, delaying his chance to get to Scales.

"I cannot believe this! I cannot lose like this!" Scales yelled, but then glanced at Tricky, "Unless…"

"What the?" Tricky looked to Scales, only to get kicked in the stomach by him, "Agh!" Tricky fell on his side in pain as his fellow Earthwalkers chained to the floor, and the rest of them in the cage were shocked to see that happened. Tricky groggily got back on his feet as Scales got down on one knee, and placed his sabre around Tricky's neck. "Ugh!"

"Human! Take a good look here!" Scales yelled. The Sharpclaw stopped attacking Zoro, allowing him to turn around, and see what was happening. Zoro only frowned at this as Scales smirked, "What are you going to do now! Are your swords so important that you are willing to sacrifice this pathetic Earthwalker's life for them! If so, then I dare you to keep fighting! I can't guarantee if this pathetic Earthwalker would remain alive, though!"

The Sharpclaw were relieved to get some help from their leader. They now felt assured that they can take down Zoro. They waited for Zoro to turn around so they can kill him, but Zoro never did. He just looked at Tricky with a blunt look, not even showing a hint of worry about him.

Tricky noticed Zoro's stare, and it made him nervous. Tricky looked away from Zoro, not wanting to feel ashamed for being a burden to him again. He quickly glanced back, and saw that Zoro was still looking at him. Tricky then felt weird as he remembered what Zoro told him.

"Sometimes, you have to be strong, and face your fears. There is no point in escaping from it."

Tricky lowered his head upon remembering this as he then looked at his fellow Earthwalkers. He knew that he was responsible for their safety, and he let them down. He looked at one the Earthwalkers near the pyramid he was on. Tricky saw how sad he looked, and couldn't bear to see his people look like that. That's when it hit him; he realized that there really is no point in running from it. He had to be strong; not for himself, but for his people as well. It was then that Tricky grew confident, and no longer felt afraid. He had a determined look as he raised his head.

"Everyone!" Tricky yelled loud enough for everyone in the Walled city to hear. The Earthwalkers looked at Tricky in confusion as Tricky closed his eyes, "Don't worry about me! You have to fight back no matter what happens! We cannot live in fear by under the Sharpclaw's rule! We have to make a stand, and show them who we really are! We are the Earthwalker tribe; one of the rightful ruling tribes of Sauria! Are we just going to let them take us over! As long as we exist, we will never let that happen!"

The Earthwalkers were surprised to see Tricky acting like a leader as they continued to pay attention to him. This made Scales look at all of them in a frustrated manner. "What! What is this! Stay down, you lower class tribe, or I'll kill your former king!" Scales yelled.

"This is our world!" Tricky continued, "We'll fight for our peace even if it means dying! Let's show them what we do to the people who try to ruin our way of life! All Earthwalkers; stop running, and CHAAAAAARGGGEE!"

"URRAAAAAAAAAGGGGHHHHHH!" All the Earthwalkers' morale skyrocketed as the ones inside the cage tried to force their way out of the cage by going through the steel bars. The Sharpclaws were about to stop them, but the Earthwalkers managed to bust their way out as they ran through the Sharpclaw as if they were ants. The ones chained to the floor pulled their legs up with all their might, and broke free of the chains as they joined their fellow brethren, and went towards the Sharpclaws.

The Sharpclaws behind Zoro fought back, but most of them were being run over by the Earthwalkers. Before you know it, the entire Walled city was at war. Every Earthwalker, and Sharpclaw were taking down each other mercilessly. With Sharpclaw either slashing at the Earthwalkers, or the Earthwalkers goring through the Sharpclaw, it was battle of lifetime, and the Earthwalkers were slowly winning.

Zoro simply stood in the middle war as he smirked at Tricky, proud that he gained such confidence in himself, and his people. Tricky smirked back at him as Scales was shocked, and upset upon he was seeing.

"This cant be happening… THIS CAN'T BE HAPPENING!" Scales yelled. He then looked towards Tricky, ready to slit his throat off, "You will-!"

"GET OFF OF ME!" Tricky side tackled Scales, staggering him back as he fell on one knee.

"Oof! Huh!" Scales looked up, and saw Tricky facing towards him while lowering his stance.

"This has gone far enough, Scales!" Tricky yelled, "We are no longer at your mercy! We will teach you not to step on us! And the best thing of all; WE ARE NO LONGER AFRAID OF YOU ANYMORE!"

Tricky then charged towards Scales, who could only get up on his feet as Tricky then gored him in the stomach hard. "GUAH!" Scales cried as he was knocked right out of his feet, and fell back.

"Uwah!" The Sharpclaw holding Zoro's swords tried to get out of the way, but crashed right on him, causing him to let go of Zoro's swords as they fell off the pyramid, and into the fields.

"Zoro, your swords!" Tricky yelled.

"I see them!" Zoro ran after his swords, going past some Sharpclaws, and Earthwalkers that were fighting eachother along the way. Scales turned over to his front side, and looked ahead of himself to see Zoro running to get his swords. Scales was now angrier than ever.

"You…" Scales snarled with his pupils now dilated, "This is all your fault… if it wasn't for you… none of this would have happened! I will kill you… I WILL KILL YOU!"

Scales quickly got up, and jumped off the pyramid to chase after Zoro. Zoro ran towards his swords, anxiously wanting to have them back after every second that passed by. He didn't know that Scales was after him, but he wouldn't have cared; the only thing he cared about right now was getting his swords back as quickly as possible. Zoro was now close as he jumped to his swords, and picked them up from the ground.

"I got them!" Zoro yelled with a smirk as he finally got his swords back. It was then that Scales caught up to him, and raised his sabre to strike him down.

"Zoro, watch out!" Tricky cried.

"RRRRRAAAAAAAAGGHHH!" Scales lowered his sabre down at Zoro, who puts his swords around his waist again before turning around.

BAM!

Scales hits Zoro on the head hard with the back of his sabre's hilt. "ZZZOOORROOOO!" Tricky cried upon seeing this. Everyone stopped fighting to see this dreadful thing happen. Zoro's head then bled as his blood flowed down from out of his bandanna, and down his face. Scales was proud for what he has done as he still hadn't removed the hilt from ontop of Zoro's head as he enjoyed watching Zoro bleed.

"… Is this good enough?" Zoro asked. Scales smile faded away as Zoro was still conscious, "… I think it is. This is good enough of a handicap for you. Now we can fight evenly."

"What did you say!" Scales asked. Zoro then raised his head, showing off a demonic smirk he had on his face. This actually intimidated Scales a bit as he backed off from Zoro. Everyone just stared at Zoro stood firm, still having that creepy look as Scales was nearly shivering, "I don't understand any of this! Why… WHY!"

"Zoro…" Tricky said in awe. Zoro smiled at his swords before looking back at Scales.

"Now then…" Zoro said, unsheathing one of his swords, "Where were we?"

Meanwhile…

Sanji continued to thrust his feet towards Panther, who was swift enough to dodge his attacks with ease. "EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji sped his kicking momentum, giving Panther a harder time to counterattack while trying to evade at the same time.

"Tsk!" Panther backflipped away from Sanji as far as possible, and raised his open palms, "CORTADA INOLVIDABLE!" Panther repeatedly swung his open palms towards, letting out some small, red waves towards him. Sanji ran to the side to avoid, and jumped off the wall beside him, and went down towards Panther while spinning forwardly.

"CONCASSE!" Sanji lowered his heel down at Panther, who quickly got out of the way as Sanji left a huge crack on the floor upon hitting it.

"You're wasting your time!" Panther yelled, "Don't you know that Nami wants to be with me!"

The only reply Panther was a kick from Sanji, which Panther blocked with his forearm, "Don't you lie to me! I cant let Nami-san be with a stupid cat like you with the rest of her life!" Sanji then brought back his foot, and swung it at Panther again, but missed as Panther backflipped. Panther threw several punches at Sanji, who avoided by moving his head to the sides, and countered with some upper kicks, which Panther knocked with his arms. Panther then did a spin kick, which Sanji had to backflip to avoid.

"I rather be a stupid cat than a filthy poser of a real man like yourself!" Panther replied. He then leaped towards Sanji, and tried hitting him with his fist, but Sanji got into a handstand, and pushed Panther away with his right heel. Panther landed away from Sanji, who got on his feet, and charged at Panther.

"I am a real man! I deeply care about every single woman that I come across with, and Nami-san happens to be very important to me!" Sanji leaped, and did a thrust kick at Panther, who jumped above Sanji to avoid, and counter with a lower kick, but Sanji arched his back backwards, and kicked Panther from behind, knocking him forward as he managed to landed on his knees before getting back up.

"If you really care about her, then leave her with me!" Panther yelled as he charged at Sanji, who jumped off the wall, and flew towards Panther. Panther attempted to punch Sanji in midair, but Sanji dodged, and balanced on Panther's attacking arm with his hands. Panther glared at him, "You and I know both know that I am the only one worthy of her needs, so why don't you leave now with some dignity!" Panther then tried to get Sanji off him, but Sanji kicked him in the face before getting back on the ground. "Agh!"

"That's because I can already predict how Nami would feel if I would have failed her." Sanji said with his head lowered, "She will be sad, and miserable; thinking that she has to be with you guys for the rest of her life. And worst of all…" Sanji then glared at Panther, "She has to smell your perfume you have on every day."

Panther's eyes widened in anger upon hearing this, "IT'S COLOGNE!" Panther yelled furiously as he charged at Sanji.

"WHATEVER!" Sanji yelled as he went towards Panther as well, continuing their onslaught without slowing down.

Back in the second floor, Usopp fell on his knees while resting his arm up against a column as he was exhausted from running all over the place. "I can't do it! This is all too much! He's just too strong!" Usopp cried. He then heard Leon coming, and decided to run away again.

"You can't run away forever!" Leon yelled while being invisible, "I will get you, and make you suffer!"

"Geh…" Usopp then collapsed on his limbs, heaving as if he was having a heart attack. He didn't have the energy to run anymore. He then got picked up by an invisible force, which turned out to be Leon as he turned visible again.

"Ha! Is that all! You're pathetic!" Leon said as he pointed his blaster to Usopp's face, "I'll present your corpse to that annoying girl! Once I do, she'll think twice before trying to piss me off!"

"KOUSHOU BOSHI!" Usopp threw a pellet at Leon's face as it exploded into a cloud of pepper. This caught Leon off guard as he then sneezed uncontrollably while letting go of Usopp.

"Ugh! Damn it! Don't think you can get away with this! Achoo!" Leon sneezed.

"I already have!" Usopp said confidently, yet scared in the inside. He stood straight as their appeared to be a weird fog around the second floor. Once Leon stopped sneezing, he noticed the fog too.

"What is this?" Leon asked. He then picked up a familiar scent, "Is this… gas!"

"That's right!" Usopp said confidently. "You didn't think I was just running around the place for nothing, did you!" Around some hidden areas in the second floor, there were breath dials letting out a stream of gas into the entire floor. "Thanks to a dark place like this, you failed to notice that I let out a stream of gas that will engulf this entire floor into flames once I fire at you!"

"You did what! You must be crazy!" Leon gasped.

"I-I'm not crazy!" Usopp yelled, sounding a bit nervous as he aimed at Leon with his slingshot. "I am Captain Usopp; the bravest warrior of the seas! An-An-And I will even go this far to rescue Nami! HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!"

Usopp fired an explosive pellet at Leon, and then started to run for his life. "I have to escape!" Leon tried to get away, but he couldn't move his legs. He looked down, and saw that he was stepping on glue again. "No!" Leon looked back at the incoming pellet while he also saw Usopp running away, "DAMN YOU!"

KABOOOOOM!

"WAAAAAAHHH!" Usopp jumped out of the second floor just before the second floor exploded behind him. Usopp fell on his rear in pain as the explosion was powerful enough to send Leon flying out of it, and fall unconsciously on the ground, with his body nearly covered with burn marks. Usopp looked up to the burning floor as he couldn't believe what he did "Oh… oh man, what was I thinking! I could've died! Although…" He looked back towards Leon, who was still unconscious, "Atleast I finally got that guy off my back… phew…"

Panther avoided another kick from Sanji as he then backed away from him. He then noticed his partner unconscious on the ground, "… Even though your friend managed to defeat Leon, that won't mean you can beat me!" Panther said to Sanji.

"I don't plan on losing to you!" Sanji replied with a glare. Panther then took out a rose, and threw it's petals in front of Sanji, who remained standing on the same spot.

"I'll show you… what it takes for a man to put everything on the line for the woman he is willing to sacrifice for." Panther said bluntly. The petals around Sanji then started to spin as Panther lowered his stance, "IMPERDONABLE!" Panther lunged forward, with the petals of the rose now spiraling around him as he headed towards Sanji, who was still standing on the same spot.

"Sanji, watch out!" Usopp cried. Panther flew through Sanji as the petals around left various cuts all over Sanji's body.

"Gergh!" Sanji fell on his knees in pain after getting receiving so many cuts. Panther then landed on his feet, and smirked.

"Imperdonable is a move where I can cut not only through my enemies bodies, but their pride and ambition. The weaker their pride, the easier I cut them to pieces." Panther explained, "Seeing how you easily went down, it proved that you were nothing but a measly child that just pretends to be a man."

"Why don't you shut up?" Sanji asked. Panther glanced at Sanji, and saw him getting up. Sanji panted before he suddenly vanished, startling Panther.

"Huh! He can still move!" Panther gasped.

"You underestimated me!" Sanji yelled from behind Panther. He hooked his leg over Panther's face, and slammed his head down on the floor. "That was for insulting me!" Sanji yelled as he then kicked Panther multiple times while he was on the ground, "This is for pissing me off so much!" Panther rolled back to his feet, but then saw Sanji in the air before getting kicked across the face. Panther cried in pain as he flew across the ground. "That was for calling me a kid all the time!"

Sanji went into a complete frenzy. He kept attacking Panther again and again, and Panther couldn't do anything to defend himself. The only thing he could do is to endure all the kicks as Sanji kicked him hard, staggering him back as Panther was now bleeding.

" Oh! Ergh… even after he got hit with my strongest attack, he still has the same amount of pride in him! " Panther thought in shock, " He actually is willing to take Nami back with him! "

Sanji then did several front flips, and jumped in the air while spinning sideways, creating an strong, and blazing around him. "AND THIS IS FOR KIDNAPPING NAMI-SAN! ENTREMETS KICK COURSE!" Sanji stopped spinning, allowing the aura to form into a ball as Sanji kicked it towards Panther, and hits him with great force.

"UWAH!" Panther cried as the ball exploded afterwards. As the explosion died down, Sanji could see that Panther was no longer conscious as he then landed back on the floor while panting heavily.

"Sanji, are you okay!" Usopp asked while coming to Sanji's aid.

"I'll be fine." Sanji replied as he looked up to the highest floor. "We did what we could here. It's all up to Luffy now."

Meanwhile…

Luffy and Wolf remained standing in the same spot as the whole area they were seemed like it would collapse any second now. Nami just stared at the duo, and noticed that they were really injured. "This is getting ridiculous!" She thought, "They plan to keep on fighting even though this place is about to collapse! Luffy, you better not lose!"

Luffy and Wolf then disappeared, and reappeared in the center of the area trying to run around eachother so fast, they turned into a red, and grey blur. The sound of punches, and claw slashes could then be heard as well as this lasted several seconds before Wolf jumped up, and spinned his body vertically with his tail extended.

"JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm, and punched Wolf in the shoulder at the same time Wolf slammed his tail onto Luffy's shoulder. "Gyergh!" Luffy then did some backflips as Wolf chased after him with his arms spread out.

"CYCLONE WOLF!" Wolf leaped towards Luffy while covered in air, as Luffy then jumped in the air backwards, and stretched his arms back.

"JET BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms towards the ground in front of Wolf, knocking him back, but managed to recover in midair.

"LIGHT FOOT!" Wolf suddenly disappeared as he did several air jumps to get right behind Luffy in an instant. Luffy turned around, and tried punching Wolf, only to miss him as Wolf then countered by slamming his fists down on Luffy's face.

"Uagh!" Luffy crashed into the ground hard, but quickly got up, and stretched his arm past Wolf, and towards the ledge of the north part of the second floor, "JET SICKLE!" Luffy sprung forward, trying to give Wolf a clothesline, but Wolf barely dodged by air jumping to the floor. Luffy instead clotheslined right through a second floor column, destroying it to bits as that corner of the area was slowly starting to collapse. "JET DOUBLE WHIP!" Luffy jumped off the second floor, and spinned his body with legs stretched diagonally. Wolf did backflip to avoid to avoid the first kick, and jumped over the other as Wolf charged towards Luffy while driving his claws across the floor.

"CROSS FANG!" Wolf raised his claws diagonally from the ground, creating a big, cutting cross wave as Luffy barely avoided by flipping himself upside-down. The wave destroyed most of the east part of the area as Luffy stretched his arm back, and grabbed Wolf by the neck before landing on his feet. "Guagh!"

"DAAAA!" Luffy slammed Wolf's head hard on the ground, and droved his body across it towards a column, which Luffy then slammed Wolf right through it before letting go of him.

"GRAAGH!" Wolf fired his Claw blaster at Luffy repeatedly, causing Luffy to jump back several times as Wolf got back on his feet while gritting his teeth in anger. After Wolf finished shooting, Luffy dashed right at him again as Wolf did the same as he faced his open palm towards Luffy's face. "CYCLONE BULLET!"

Wolf thrusted his palm, creating a gust of air as Wolf then thrusted his Claw blaster forward, making the gust of air surround it before Wolf fired the air at Luffy like an actual bullet. Luffy tried to dodge the air bullet, but got hit at the side of his ribs before it went flying past him. "Agh!" Luffy cried as Wolf's air bullet left a hold through the rubble behind him.

Wolf then attacked Luffy with several swings from his Claw blaster. Luffy had a little rough time dodging Wolf's slashes as he was holding on to the side of his stomach after getting hit with the air bullet. "Hagh!" Wolf raised his Claw blaster, and managed to slash at the side of Luffy's right arm, leaving a cut that bled soon afterwards.

"Ah!" Luffy countered with a left fist, but Wolf ducked to avoid, and tried to stab Luffy in the gut with his Claw blaster, but Luffy quickly lowered his head, and stopped Wolf's blaster with his teeth around the claw.

"Grr!" Wolf tried to pull his blaster back, but couldnt budge it out of Luffy's teeth as Luffy tilted his head up, raising the blaster as well as lifting Wolf from the ground, and let's go of it, throwing Wolf over himself, and into the rubble behind him.

"JET STAMP!" Luffy turned around, and stretched his leg towards Wolf, who got kicked hard as he flew right into the rubble before Luffy pulled his leg back.

"REFLECTOR!" The rubble that Wolf crashed into were suddenly knocked up in the air as they began to fall down towards Luffy. Luffy instantly breaked the rubble into pieces, but wasn't fast enough to see appearing right in front of him. "FLASH!" Wolf leaped, and tackled Luffy hard in the gut.

"Aghargh!" Luffy was sent flying right into the wall behind him, creating a huge dust cloud upon impact. Wolf landed on his feet, and looked at the cloud as he saw Luffy slowly making his way out of it. "GUAH!" Luffy then coughed up some blood as he then fell on his knees in pain. He then got up, and despite feeling such pain, he charged towards Wolf again, "HAAA!" Luffy were throwing some multiple fists at Wolf, who was having no trouble dodging.

"Ha ha! What's wrong, boy! You're getting slower!" Wolf laughed while dodging. Luffy certaintly wasnt moving as fast as he was before as this made Nami worried.

"Luffy is reaching his limit with that form!" Nami thought, "If he doesnt win soon, he'll be doomed!"

"JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm at Wolf in close range, but Wolf dodged, and countered with some kicks. Luffy blocked with his forearms, and countered with a left uppercut, which Wolf dodged by moving his body back, and then trying to backhand Luffy, who blocked with his right arm, and countered with an upper kick, which Wolf avoided by doing a backflip. Luffy ran towards Wolf, and rapidly swunged his fists at him, but Wolf sidestepped several times to avoid as he then tried to slash Luffy in the face, but Luffy ducked to avoid as he stretched his arm back, "JET BULLET!" Luffy pulled his arm back, and punched Wolf hard in the gut.

"Ergh!" Wolf cried as some of his blood came out of his mouth. Luffy then grabbed him by the neck, and winded up his other arm, but before Luffy could strike, Wolf did an upper kick, kicking Luffy up across the chin as this staggered him back. "Hiya!" Wolf then tried to claw Luffy, but Luffy instantly countered with a strong right fist across Wolf's face. "Gouh!" Wolf fell on his back in pain as he then sat up, only to get kicked in the face by Luffy again.

Wolf tumbled back even further as Luffy went after him while stretching his arms back. "JET BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms forward, hitting Wolf in the gut as soon as he got back up.

"GAAGHH!" Wolf crashed into the wall behind him with great force, creating a humongous dust cloud upon impact. Luffy then felt fatigue as he fell on one knee while coughing.

"Luffy!" Nami cried worringly. Wolf then emerged from the dust cloud, panting heavily as he looked nearly beat. He glared at Luffy, who was still feeling weak.

"For some reason… you keep fighting, even though you have nothing to gain." Wolf panted, "No matter what you do, you can never be a true captain! Why don't you just accept that already!" Luffy remained silent, "I can't let you beat me, boy. I can't let you keep making a fool of yourself. You need to cast off your delusions, and accept for what you really are. A faker must never accomplish their goals; that is why you must die!"

Luffy then got up on his feet, clenching his fists with his head lowered. "I will beat you… so I can take Nami back with me!" Luffy then glared furiously at Wolf, "I won't do as you want! I will beat you even if I have to die!"

Luffy then pulled back his arms as Wolf was completely pissed off, "IF THAT'S WHAT YOU WANT TO DO, THEN I'LL GLADLY FINISH YOU OFF!"

"JET GATLING!" Luffy sends a barrage of fists that were moving so fast, they were invisible as Wolf got into his stance.

"MECH REFLECTOR!" Wolf activated his reflector at maximum power. His reflector helped him to evade several of the incoming fists as he repeatedly activated it several times while zigzagging towards Luffy.

"OOOWAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!" Luffy continued to throw his quick and invisible punches, but was unware that Wolf was dodging them while heading towards him. Wolf then finally got right in front of Luffy while squatting down to him while giving off an intense glare.

"FLASH!" Wolf leaped, and tackled Luffy for the third time, stopping his Jet gatling move in an instant.

"Uwaaaaaaggghhh!" Luffy was knocked up into the air, bleeding from the mouth as he fell hard to the center of the floor afterwards. Nami couldnt believe what was happening as she saw Luffy being motionless, "I… can't… urgh… can't… move…"

Nami's eyes widened in shock. Luffy was already at his limit; he didnt had the energy to fight on. Even after using his form's strongest move as of yet, Wolf somehow was able to take him down. "Luffy…" Nami said worringly.

Wolf fell on his knees in fatigue. His body hurts after moving around so much. "Ergh… it's over… it's over…" Wolf panted. He then got up, and placed some sensor bombs on the big cracks in the center of the floor, where Luffy was. Wolf then walked away silently as he got next to Nami. He looked down at her, and saw that she was scared. Wolf blinked, and bluntly looked at Luffy over his shoulder. He sighed as he looked away while taking out the bomb trigger. "Goodbye, boy."

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Wolf activated the bombs as they exploded around Luffy, destroying the center part of the floor as he fell limblessly all the way down to the bottom floors.

Usopp and Sanji looked up, and couldnt believe what they were seeing. "L-Luffy!" Sanji gasped.

"AAAHHHH! LUFFY!" Usopp cried while placing his hands on his head in shock. Luffy continued to fall as Nami quickly looked over the edge of the destroyed floor to see him. She just couldnt believe it. She was so shocked that she dropped Luffy's hat down from where he fell. Tears could be seen coming out of her eyes as she then closed them shut in fear.

"LUUUUUUUUUFFFFFFFFFFF FFFFFFFYYYYYYYY!"

Luffy heard Nami crying his name, which immediately got him going again as he glared up towards the top floor.

"NAAAAAAAAAMMMMMMIIIIIIIIII!" Luffy yelled at the top of his lungs. Nami gasped upon hearing Luffy yell her name, "I AM GOING TO SAVE YOU!"

Wolf turned around in sheer anger upon hearing Luffy's voice as he peered over the destroyed floor, and saw Luffy was about to crash down to the bottom floor, or so he thought.

Luffy took a very deep breath, inflating his stomach into a big balloon before twisting his body several times. Just as anybody would think that he was about to crash, he let out all the air he inhaled, stopping himself in midair as he blew so hard, that he knocked his crew, and Wolf's team off the floor."WHOAHAHA!" As they got sent flying up a bit, Luffy blew away from the ground so hard that he actually went flying up like comet as he untwisted body while heading all the way back up to the fighting area.

Wolf was now frusterated; he wanted to defeat Luffy once and for all. "I'll destroy you with my strongest move; the one that they didn't even allow me to use in the tournament!" Wolf growled. He jumped above the center of the hole, and started to spin his body multiple directions, gathering a huge amount of air around his body like never before. "CYCLONE DEATHBRINGER!"

Wolf airjumped downward, creating a powerful gust of wind around him that formed into a giant head of a wolf with it's mouth open.

"JET STOOOOOORRRRRMMMM!" Luffy repeatedly send a storm of fists towards Wolf. It was like his Jet gatling attack, only it was faster, bigger, and so much deadlier that his fists were also invisible, destroying every single part of the walls around him.

Luffy and Wolf's strongest attacks collided, creating a tremondous shockforce that shook the entire base. It was such an amazing sight to behold as their attacks were making strong air currents that were sending everyone down below flying upwards. They both yelled furiously as they both were trying to push eachother away as hard as they could. "YOU'LL NEVER BEAT ME, BOY! YOU WILL DIE!" Wolf yelled.

"NOOOOOOOOOO!" Luffy was now punching faster, starting to push back Wolf. Luffy's punches were also destroying the wind around Wolf as it's face slowly disappeared while howling in agony.

"NO! COME ON! KEEP GOING!" Wolf yelled, but it was no use; Luffy overpowered his strongest attack, and started recieving thousands and thousands of hits per second. "AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAHHHHHHHHH!"

"HAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAHHH!" Luffy was rapidly punching Wolf all the way up to top floor, and into the ceiling. Nami gasped as she tried getting away as the area she was finally collapsing. "DAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!

Back outside, the Titanian base was starting to shake. The little round mechs that attacked Starwolf several chapters ago wondered what was going on as the center of the base was getting bulgier by the second. Not only that, but the entire desert area between the cliffs were starting to lose it's shape for every second that passed by.

"Look, something's happening!" Chopper cried from onboard the Great Fox. He, and everyone else were still in the hangar bay, waiting for Luffy and the others to come back. They could see that the Titanian base was looking strange.

"What's going on down there!" Slippy asked.

Fox's eyes then widened with shock, "Everyone, take cover!"

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOM!

The center of the base was blown open from underground, knocking most of the sand into the air. Everyone in the Great Fox were shocked to see this. "Was that an earthquake!" Falco gasped.

"There is something in the air!" Robin yelled. Along with the sand in the air, Wolf was limplessly spiraling upward from getting hit so much as he looked unconcious. The Starfox team couldnt believe they've seen that.

"Wolf!" Fox gasped. Wolf fell back down hard on the desert floor, with his arms and spreaded out. He couldnt get up, he couldn't say anything, he was too hurt to even get his head together. He lost.

Luffy, and the others fell down on the desert floor as well, but not as hard Wolf did earlier. Luffy's body turned back to normal as Nami dazedly went up to him. "Luffy! Luffy, are you alright!" Nami asked worringly.

Luffy panted a bit, but he seemed okay. "Y-Yeah… I'm okay… are you okay?" He asked. Nami couldnt help but cry as she hugged Luffy.

"Yes, I am!" Nami cried. Luffy smiled, until Nami hits him upside the head, "Dont ever make me worry like that again! You hear me!"

Luffy rubbed his head, but smiled in response. Everyone in the Great Fox were relieved to see that their friends were alright.

"He did it! He defeated Wolf!" Slippy cried in joy.

"That kid was actually strong enough to do all that to him! I have to say, that's very impressive!" Falco said with a shocked tone.

"And there's Nami! NAMI!" Chopper yelled.

"Huh?" Nami heard Chopper, and saw him inside the Great Fox, "What is that thing?" Before she could get an answer, Usopp and Sanji emerged from the sand, and dazedly got up on their feet.

"NAMI-SWAN!" Sanji yelled happily while running over to her, "Oh, I am so happy that you're alright! I am so sorry for leaving you alone in the ship!"

"O-Oi, is everything okay, Nami? You're not hurt, or anything, are you?" Usopp asked while approaching her. Nami just smiled seeing that she is back with her friends again.

"I'm okay you guys, and it's all thanks to our captain here." Nami said while winking. Luffy just did his usual smile until he then looked at his surroundings. He saw Leon and Panther unconcious around the sandhills, and that the titanian base no longer remains, but a massive hole in it's place.

"Phew, I cant believe we did it." Usopp said while wiping the sweat of his brow, "But I know we would come out on top since we are powerful! Ha ha ha ha!"

"Let's get outta here, Nami-san." Sanji said, "We need to get back with the others."

"Okay." Nami replied. She was about to leave with Usopp and Sanji, until she noticed that Luffy wasnt around. "Luffy?" Nami turned around, and saw that Luffy was right in front of Wolf. "Oh, now what?"

Luffy stared down at Wolf with plain, but blunt look. Wolf opened his eyes, and looked at Luffy before frowning. "… Well? Are you just going to stand there all day?" Wolf said in a weak tone, "This is your chance to get rid of me. You hate me, right? The only way to relieve that anger is to wipe me out of existance. So, come on, boy… finish me." Luffy did not say anything, which made Wolf impatient, "FINISH ME OFF, DAMMIT!"

"Haaa!" Luffy stretched his arm down to Wolf.

POW!

"Luffy!" Nami yelled as she quickly went to Luffy. She then saw that Luffy didnt hit Wolf, but the sand inches away from Wolf's face. Wolf remained motionless, but sighed in pain.

"Pathetic… truly pathetic." Wolf commented, "What's the point in having so much strength if you can't even finish off your opponent. It sickens me to see that this is the way you treat your enemies after a battle." Wolf then glared at Luffy, "Don't think you've heard the end of this. Every time you spare a life, it will come back to haunt you. And when it does, it will destroy everything you cherish most, and you will forever regret not being able to do anything to stop that from happening."

Titania's sun was about to set as Luffy remained silent while Wolf continued talking, "Listen to me, boy. You may have beaten me, but that doesn't change the fact that you are still a fake captain. You will never achieve anything in the end; all your efforts will be all for nothing. You may have rescued your princess from me, but nevertheless; she, and the rest of your crew, will never respect you!"

Luffy looked emotionless upon being told this as Nami was now worried about him. Back in the Great Fox, ROB spoke in the intercom.

"I have detected a large vessel heading towards Corneria." ROB said, "It may be one of Oikonny's ships."

"Oikonny! What's he doing now!" Fox asked. He then looked out at the desert, "Hey, you all have to come back in the ship. We must leave right now!" Nami heard him, but looked back at Luffy, and saw that he didnt react to his words.

"Pup's calling you, boy." Wolf said, "Do me a big favor, and let me rot here since you can't finish me off by yourself. I don't want to see the likes of you in my sights ever again; You, and neither your manipulative princess!" Nami looked back at Wolf sternly, "GET THE HELL OUT OF MY SIGHT!"

"… Let's go, Nami." Luffy said bluntly. He walked away as Nami took a good stern look at Wolf before leaving as well.

From all the way to the cliffsides, Pigma witnessed the entire thing happen. "Whoa… what was that just now?" He asked while scratching his head, "Well… whoever were those brats, I oughta to thank them for helping me." Pigma then smirked wickedly, "Now I can kill Wolf, and be the richest man alive! Bweh heh heh heh heh heh!

Meanwhile… Several minutes later…

The Great Fox was already in space, heading back towards Corneria as fast as they could. Everyone were in the bridge, thinking of their previous plan to attack Oikonny. "So now that Wolf is out of the picture, we can focus on rescueing Franky and Peppy from Oikonny." Fox said.

"Yeah, but why is he going back to Corneria?" Slippy asked.

"Who knows? As long we can kick his ass, then there should be no problem for us." Falco said confidently.

As the Starfox team talked, the Strawhat crew were with Nami, except for Luffy, who was staring out the window. Nami looked over at Starfox with a curious look.

"So that's Starfox." Nami said.

"Yeah, they helped us getting out of jail, and Zoro is in a world called Sauria to help us clear our name." Chopper explained.

"Hmph… of all the things that happened; you guys are nothing without me." Nami said.

"We are still not out of this yet. We still need to rescue Franky, and get our ship back, or else we'll be stuck in this system forever." Robin said.

"It's not that I don't like it here, but I really want to get back to our world already!" Usopp said.

"Yeah…" Nami said. She looked over at Luffy, worried about him after what Wolf told him.

"Is something wrong, Nami-san?" Sanji asked.

"No, nothing." Nami said. ROB then faced towards everyone.

"We will be getting to Corneria in just of matter of minutes. I suggest you all get ready for what my come to us." ROB said.

"Right!" Fox said as he then faced the Strawhat crew, "Follow us to the hangar; we got something that will help you fight alongside us out there."

"What do you mean?" Chopper asked.

"You'll see! Come on!" Falco said. The Starfox team ran out of the bridge, with the Strawhat following them. Nami stopped as she realized that Luffy wasn't following.

"Hey, Luffy…" Nami trailed off as Luffy turned towards her.

"Yeah, I know. Let's go." Luffy said with a plain look. He ran past Nami, who sighed sadly as she then followed him.

"Hey, Slippy; did you finish fixing my arwing?" Falco asked while running.

"All taken care of!" Slippy replied, "I also finished my special bomb! We are sure to win now!"

They've gotten to the hangar, which they could Falco's arwing still on the bay, but was all fixed up and ready to go. Fox then turned towards everyone, "Okay, are we all ready? We can afford to mess up!"

"Yeah, we're ready!" Chopper said confidently.

"Captain Usopp is ready to go!" Usopp said confidently, but his legs shivered anyway.

"Okay, good. Now here is… huh?" Fox trailed off upon seeing someone enter the hangar. Everyone turned around to see Krystal, nearly dazed as she slowly walked over to the group, "Krystal?"

"Fox…" Krystal said in a weak tone as she then fell on her knees.

"Krystal!" Chopper gasped as he, and everyone else, except for Luffy, went to check up on her.

"Krystal-san, what's wrong?" Sanji asked, "Are you hurt?" Krystal didn't reply, which made everyone worry even more.

"She looks pale. What could have happened?" Slippy asked.

"That was weird; she looked fine the last time we've seen her." Usopp said.

"There is no need to worry about her. She will recover momentarily."

"I hope so. I hate to see anything happen to…?" Usopp then realized something, "Who said that?"

"Over here."

Everyone looked towards Falco's arwing, and saw MPNo. 1 standing on top of it with his folded on his back. Luffy's eyes widened in shock upon recognizing him, "Oi! It's the black coat guy from town!"

"Hey, buddy, what are you doing on my ship!" Falco asked angrily. MPNo. 1 looked down towards Luffy, and saw that he was angry.

"Monkey D. Luffy… we meet at last." MPNo. 1 said with a calm tone, "I see that your friends managed to get out of prison. It was hardly unexpected though."

"Who are you!" Luffy asked while getting into his battle stance.

MPNo. 1 removed his hood, revealing his face for the first time. He appeared to be a tanned skin man, with yellow eyes, and long gray hair reaching down to his upper back. He tilted his head up while looking at Luffy.

"I am one of the rulers… no… I am one of the true subordinates of the new world, Obscurum. You may call me Xemnas. It is a pleasure to meet you all at last.

Starfox Pt 14

I have been making long chapters lately. But the longer, the better, I suppose. Lot's of neat stuff in this chapter. Enjoy!

An unexpected guest. Luffy and Wolf fought hard, and determinedly, but in the end, Luffy was the victor, and rescued Nami from Wolf's claws. Yet despite his victory, Wolf seemed to have disheartened him by saying he will never get the respect he deserves. After Luffy, and his crew left Titania, they discover that Oikonny's mothership is headed back to Corneria, but before they could get to it, Xemnas, one of the rulers of Obscurum, confronted them for the first time. What does he plan to do to the Strawhat pirates?

Chapter 112: An old threat revived!, The smashing escape

Xemnas looked down at Luffy, and his companions with a calm look on his face as the Strawhat were baffled after he said to them. "R-Ruler!" Usopp gasped, "You are one of the Obscurum rulers!"

"S-Scary…" Chopper whimpered.

"Dammit, you guys just never back off!" Sanji yelled angrily while getting his battle stance.

"Don't worry; I am not here to fight you." Xemnas said calmly, "I just wanted to meet the pirates who have been meddling with our affairs as of late."

Luffy frowned at this as he glared at Xemnas, while the Starfox team didn't know what was going on.

"Hey, who is this guy? Do you guys know him?" Slippy asked a bit nervously.

"No… but we know of his kind." Robin replied while staring at Xemnas, "He is one of the rulers of the new world his comrades have constantly talked about. They all tried to kill us ever since we have been interfering with their plans. They are all cruel men that only seem to want everything that they would even have to kill someone to get it. But this man here…" Robin then gulped, "He seems more mature than the ones we've met so far. He must be really strong."

"I don't care if he's strong or not; that jerk is standing on my Arwing!" Falco yelled as he then glared at Xemnas, "Hey, how the hell did you get aboard this ship anyhow!"

"The backdoor was open…" Xemnas replied.

"That doesn't answer my question!" Falco yelled back, "There was no way you could have just waltzed in here without us knowing!"

"Apparently, I already did." Xemnas replied, making Falco angrier, "But that is besides the point for the reason I am here." Xemnas then looked at Luffy again, "Congratulations on making it this far, Monkey D. Luffy. I praise at your determination for fighting your way back to your home planet."

"Why did you frame us back at the town?" Luffy asked sternly.

"So I could get you out of Obscurum's way." Xemnas replied, "You have been interfering in our plans for far too long now, and it's about time that I took matters into my own hands. Unfortunately, mother luck has been with you ever since you arrived in the Mushroom Kingdom."

The crew were shocked to hear that, "How did you know we were there?" Sanji asked.

"I knew that you were there ever since you left your homeworld." Xemnas said as he unfolded his arms from his back, "That's right; I have observed you from the very start. I witnessed how Monkey D.

Luffy was able to defeat Bowser before his castle was destroyed. It was impressive, but hardly a threat to my standards. I needed to make sure of your intentions, though, so I followed you when you went to Hyrule."

"You were spying on us before we met you guys! Why! We didn't do anything to you guys during that time!" Nami yelled.

"I don't see why I should answer that." Xemnas replied rudely, "Anyway, once Ganondorf was defeated by you all, I got on your ship, and took a look at your wanted posters. That was how I knew your names before we officially met."

"You got on our ship!" Usopp asked, a little angry upon hearing that.

"Relax; I didn't do anything else onboard it." Xemnas replied, "However, I wished that I did, so you could have ended your journey there in Hyrule." Xemnas then folded his arms behind his back again, "I didn't know what to do with you pirates, so I returned to my fellow rulers, and explained to them the situation. That was around the time when you met Dimentio at Indigo Plateau."

"That annoying clown… !" Nami muttered.

"After he explained what you did there to ruin our business, it was then I realized that you must be eliminated at once… but my comrades took you lightly, and made situations even worse for us." Xemnas said calmly, "Sigma could've destroyed you back in Aether, but left due to his arrogance towards you all. Bison did the same mistake as well during Nightmare's invasion at Dreamland. Kefka, Hojo, and Sweet tooth actually attempted to kill you, but nonetheless, their failure to do so have cost us much more than we thought." Xemnas then raised his hand forward, "It was up to me to put an end to this, so I summoned that 'monster' into the Cornerian capitol to destroy you."

"You called out that blue scarf guy!" Luffy asked angrily.

"So you called out that monster into town!" Sanji said as he then smirked, "Too bad it didn't work! You think something like that could destroy us! The only thing that pissed me off that day is when you lied about us calling that thing into town in the first place! It was pathetic, and a cowardly way to try to get rid of us after your big loss!"

"The Twilight Thorn… a creature with no heart that only exists to do it's master's bidding." Xemnas explained moving his arm up, "It's true that I summoned it, but I knew it couldn't get the job done." Xemnas then lowered his arm, and looked towards Luffy, "Why should it? Afterall, you have defeated far more powerful beings than that pitiful creature before. I don't see why it should have been an exception to you pirates."

"Then why did you summon it?" Chopper asked. Xemnas was silent as he unfolded his arms, and spread them while looking down at the crew.

"To see what fate has in store for you." Xemnas replied, "I can tell one's fate by observing their will and actions. It came clear to me what your fates were after you defeated the Twilight thorn… and it was just as I predicted." Xemnas then lowered his arms, "Your fate… is to die in vain before you reach your goal. In other words, no matter how hard you try; no matter how strong you may be; no matter what you do, you will all suffer in the end. It cannot be changed…"

Usopp and Chopper felt nervous about this, while the others were just angry, "You can't expect us to believe that!" Sanji yelled.

"I didn't… but it will happen nonetheless. You'll just have to wait and see…" Xemnas replied calmly. Robin then took a step forward.

"You, and your comrades… kept talking about the new world, Obscurum, saying how great and perfect it is." Robin said as she then glared at Xemnas, "But I don't see anything perfect about it. Reviving the wicked, and corrupting the good; what kind of perfect world is that!"

"It's perfect for all of us." Xemnas replied, "It's a world that we were destined to be in. A world that could never be imagined to exist is the perfect place to coexist with one another. That is why I, and my fellow rulers, have tried our best in gathering the most powerful creatures from every universe and dimension, and help us rule it to make it's perfection last forever!"

"So you were behind all this!" Nami yelled, "You somehow had to do with the new world thing, and try to make us pay for interfering!"

Xemnas was silent from hearing this, "You're half correct. It is not only in my best interests to wipe you pirates out of existence, but Obscurum's wishes this as well. For we could not have existed again without it's birth, and it could not have remained alive without our guidance." Xemnas then smiled, "I have conducted Obscurum's interests for a long time, and pirates will not stop me from conducting it any further."

Luffy then cracked his knuckles, and got into his fighting stance while glaring at Xemnas, "We'll see about that! If we kick your ass now, then we would be also stopping the new world as well!"

"I'm sorry, but like I said… I am not here to fight…" Xemnas said.

Suddenly, the Great Fox alarm went off, alarming everyone in the hangar, except for Xemnas. ROB's voice then could be heard from the intercom, "Fox, I detect a huge mass of energy coming from the asteroid field near Corneria!"

"What!" Fox gasped.

The Great Fox was already close to Corneria, but next to it lied an asteroid field a little distant from the planet. In the far center, something was glowing, something really big. Everyone, except for Krystal who was still feeling strange, looked through the hangar doors from the bay, and gasped upon seeing it. Xemnas looked at it too, but was not surprised.

"He's finally here…"

Meanwhile…

Zoro unsheathed his swords as the Earthwalkers and Sharpclaws were surrounding the squared river around the pyramid, wanting to see him battle with General Scales. Scales looked furious as he saw Zoro hold one of his swords with his teeth.

"You can't possibly be serious!" Scales yelled, "I destroyed you back at Cloudrunner fortress! What makes you think we can fight evenly when you have all those cuts and wounds, while I am in perfect shape!"

"Last time, you fought like a coward, and I was already too strong for you." Zoro replied, "This time, I've have weakened myself to your level, and I made sure you won't do any cowardly tricks this time."

Scales looked back at Tricky, who was still on the side of the pyramid as he glared down at Scales. Scales gritted his teeth as he glared back at Zoro, "Bah! You think this is a game!" He asked while spreading his arms, "It doesn't matter if you motivated that bratty king to face me; the only thing I have to do is kill you for good this time, so I can turn him, and the rest of these worthless Earthwalkers back to their pathetic selves, and respect my rule over Sauria!"

"These guys already proved that they can beat the hell out of your army any day, so I doubt they'll follow you even if you were able to kill me." Zoro said as he then smirked, "Also, I cant afford to die here. I have to become the world's greatest swordsman back in my world, and after I beat you in these conditions, it will show that I have passed every test necessary in order to reach the next level to my destiny!"

Everyone, including the Sharpclaw, admired Zoro's determination. "Oohh… YOU'RE SO COOL, ZORO!" Tricky exclaimed while sparks of joy sparked around his eyes. Scales only felt even angrier upon seeing Zoro so confident.

"Every test, you say?" Scales asked as he got into his fighting stance, "Ha! You are nothing to me, and everyone else here! I am the only one worthy enough to be great! You are nothing but a fool who only wishes to die under my greatness! I will show you the test that no warrior other than myself can pass, and that is The Test of Scales! RAAAH!"

Scales charged at Zoro with downward swing of his sabre, which Zoro parried with his swords. Zoro then pushed Scales back, and did some horizontal slashes, which Scales parried with his sabre and hook. "HOOK BREAK!" Scales raised his hook, and swung it downwards at Zoro, but missed as Zoro sidestepped while facing towards Scales' right side.

"SANJU-ROKU POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro held his sword horizontally, and swung it to create a cutting wave, hitting Scales' right shoulder as Scales staggered to his side.

"Take this!" Scales countered with a horizontal swing of his sabre, which Zoro ducked to avoid, and countered with a thrust, but Scales dodged with a side to his right.

"Gergh!" Zoro then fell on his knees as some of his wounds were starting to hurt again.

"Zoro!" Tricky yelling worryingly.

"Heh heh! Die!" Scales took this advantage to bring down his sabre at Zoro, but missed as Zoro quickly rolled sideways, and leaped towards Scales afterwards.

"HYOU KINDAMA!" Zoro span himself around in the air with his swords, leaving small cuts around Scales' torso. Scales grunted as he staggered back, while Zoro landed on his feet, and went towards him. "USHI BARI!" Zoro repeatedly swung his swords at every direction as Scales did his best to parry, but received some small cuts around his body as he was being taken back up against the pyramid wall.

"Stay back!" Scales swung his sword upwards, stopping Zoro's continuous attack as he was now open for an attack. "TAIL BAT!" Scales turned around, and whacked Zoro hard with his scaley tail. Zoro was knocked into the air, but recovered as he flipped right back on his feet, but held his chest in pain soon afterwards.

"Tsk!" Zoro regained his focus as he saw Scales charging at him with thrust kick, but Zoro dodged by moving his head to the side, "TOUROU!" Zoro slashed upwards with two swords, creating small slash projectiles that flew upward, which Scales barely avoided as he fell on his back. Scales sat up, only to see Zoro flying straight down at him with his swords facing towards him. Scales brought up his feet, and kicked Zoro back up in the air. "Guoh!" Zoro grunted as he managed to land his feet on a wall in front of the river. Zoro then saw Scales jump up high in the air with his sword raised above his head.

"DAAAAHHH!" Zoro jumped off the wall right before Scales slashed it in half, causing it to crumble afterwards.

"NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" While in the air, Zoro swung two of his swords, creating a cutting wave that made impact on Scales. Scales cried in pain as the force of the wave disfigured the ground beneath him, but he remained standing as he saw Zoro landing a few feet behind him.

"HOOK DRIVER!" Scales turned around, and drove his hook across the floor upwards, creating two green shockwaves that went across the ground, and towards Zoro.

"TATSU MAKI!" Zoro span around with his swords, creating a tornado of cutting waves that destroyed Scales shockwaves when they came close. Zoro then dash at Scales before leaping towards him with his facing downward, "MAGUMA!" Scales raised his sabre and hook to defend himself as he parried Zoro's leaping attack, but Zoro drove Scales inches away from the river behind him. Scales pushed Zoro away, and did some diagonal slashes, which Zoro parried with his swords. Scales then swung his hook horizontally, which Zoro dodged by jumping over it, but Scales then swung his tail at Zoro again, which Zoro tried to parry, but was futile as he got hit hard, and crashed in front of the pyramid. "Ugh! Eh…"

"Come on!" Scales yelled as he jumped above Zoro while facing his sabre down at him. Zoro quickly rolled out of the way to avoid as he went up the stairs of pyramid before facing back at Scales. "Uragh!" Scales swung down his sabre and hook repeatedly at Zoro, who was jumping back to avoid as they were getting higher up on the pyramid. Tricky, and everyone else watched them go up as Zoro then did an upper cross slash, which knocked back Scales as Zoro then raised his swords.

"TORA GARI!" Zoro brought down both of his swords with great force, which Scales avoided by jumping back to the lower floor of the pyramid as Zoro jumped down after him.

"Yah!" Scales swung his sabre horizontally at Zoro when he approached, but Zoro arched his back backwards, avoiding the slash as he forward backflipped in front of Scales.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung all his swords, creating a massive shockwave that hits Scales in point-blank range. Scales cried in pain as he was blown off the pyramid, but managed to flip himself on his hand and knees. Zoro then jumped off the pyramid, and above Scales, who was ready as he swung his sabre and hook upward at the same time when Zoro got close. "TOU ROU NAGASHI!" Zoro knocked away Scales' sabre and hook, and slashed Scales across the abdomen with his third sword before landing on his feet.

"Ugh!" Scales cried in pain as Zoro then crossed his swords across his chest.

"ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed through Scales with great speed, leaving a crossed cut, including a horizontal cut on Scales' chest. Scales collapsed on his knees as his men couldn't believe there eyes.

"General Scales lost!" Cried one of the sharpclaw. It seemed that was the case, until…

"GUAH!" Zoro fell on his hands and knees as his wounds, and the cuts on his chest were causing him pain again. He held his chest to ease the pain, but he noticed his blood was flowing from his chest, and around his arms. Tricky was worried about him, until Scales started to laugh.

"Eh ha ha ha ha ha!" Scales laughed while getting up again, and facing towards Zoro, "It seems you have reached your limit! You've fought well, but it's now time for you to die!"

Meanwhile…

Oikonny's mothership was moving forwardly, with the battle fleet trying to catch up to it. In the bridge, some soldiers extinguished the fire blocking the entrance with a fire extinguisher as Andrew barged in, and saw his men inside completely knocked out.

"What happened in here!" Andrew asked angrily, "Ergh… you! Stop this ship at once!" He yelled at one of his men.

"Yes, Emperor Oikonny!" replied the guard. He hurried to the control panel, and tried to stop the ship. He gasped as he looked back at Andrew, "Emperor, I can't turn off the automatic pilot! It's not responding!"

"What do you mean it's not responding!" Andrew asked, "Get out of the way!" Andrew pushed the guard away, and tried to giving the ship commands to stop, but as he did, the monitor froze on him. Andrew slammed his fist repeatedly at the panel, but it didt help the cause, "Eh! How come it's not working!"

"They must've done something to the controls before they left! We cant do anything in this position!"

"Idiot! This is my ship! It's impossible for them to mess up the controls if they haven't… !" Andrew's eyes then widened in shock as he then looked into his pockets, but found nothing, "The Jammer! Where is it!" He then remembered placing it near the controls earlier, which made him furious, "They used my jammer on my own ship! We cannot allow them to get away with this!" Andrew then pointed towards the other exit. "Get them at once! Get them! Get them! GET THEM!"

Oikonny's men quickly ran out the entrance, with Andrew soon following them with an angry look on his face.

Around the big hallways, Franky and Peppy ran as fast as they could, with Franky shooting down some cameras along the way. "This is nearly suicide!" Peppy said nervously, "I can't believe something like this is happening to me!"

"AHAHAHA! That's just your supaa adrenaline doing it's magic again, rabbit bro!" Franky laughed, "All that time in your office doing lame paperwork must've soften you up! Be grateful that you met me today, bro!"

"I am grateful, but your methods are just too extreme for me!" Peppy replied.

"You have seen nothing out of me yet! Just wait 'till we get back to my ship!" Franky said. They continued to run until a barrier appeared in front of them, stopping them from going any further. "Dammit! Looks like some of the stuff on the ship still works! We'll have to bust our way through!"

"Franky, look!" Peppy yelled while pointing behind Franky. Franky turned around to see a small army of soldiers and robots coming towards them. Franky smirked at the sight of this as he then looked Peppy.

"Try to turn off that thing; I'm going to take care of these clowns!" Franky said before charging towards the small army. The soldiers aimed their blasters at Franky, and started firing at him. Franky jumped in the air before taking a deep breath, "MASTER NAIL!" Franky spat out multiple needles, catching the soldiers off guard as Franky readied his right fist, "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched the ground hard in front of the soldiers, creating a shockforce that knocked most of them in front of Franky back. Franky then grabbed one soldier by his legs, and swung him around like a flail as he whacked away some soldiers that were still standing.

"Let's see…" Peppy observed the barrier, trying to find it's weakpoint while there were soldiers falling up and down behind him.

"FRANKY BOOMERANG!" Franky spun around with the soldier he was holding onto, and let's go of him as he spiraled right through some of his comrades before limplessly crashing right into the wall. Franky then ran as the robots started shooting at him. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, and grabbed a robot by his head. Franky then crushed it's head into pieces, but the body was still firing uncontrollably. Franky ran to the body, and turned it towards the other robots as they then got shot down before blowing up. Once the robot's body was out of ammo, Franky teared it's arm off, and threw it to a group of soldiers that were about to shoot him from behind.

More soldiers then appeared as Andrew was running behind him. "THERE THEY ARE!" Andrew yelled furiously. Franky looked towards Andrew, and smirked as he aimed at the soldiers with his left arm.

"BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple bullets at the soldiers, shooting most of them down as Andrew scurried behind a wall to prevent getting shot. Franky then charged at the remaining guards, and knocked them all down with left and right punches. Some of them fell unconscious next to Andrew, who gasped as he got out of hiding, only to see Franky right in front of him.

"Ah!" Andrew gasped as he fell on his back. Franky aimed his left arm at him, and saw Andrew covering his face with his arms. Franky chuckled as he then walked away with a smirk.

"You, rabbit! Are you done yet!" Franky asked.

"It's weakpoint is in it's center!" Peppy replied, "We just need to hit it with something hard!"

"I can handle that! WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple blasts at the center of the barrier, which was slowly fading as Franky then leaped towards it, "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched the barrier with great force, causing it to shatter like glass as the path was now open again, "Yosh! We're almost out of here!"

Franky and Peppy then ran away as Andrew nervously, but angrily grabbed a blaster from the ground while getting up. "You… don't you dare make fun of me!" Andrew cried. He was about to go after them, until he looked out the window, seeing that Corneria was already in view, "No! I have to stop them from… huh?" Andrew then noticed something in the asteroid field near Corneria. He faced towards the window, and fell on his knees as he seemed to be crying in joy, "Is that…?"

Meanwhile…

Luffy blinked in confusion upon seeing it, while the rest of his crew were shocked instead. Fox and Falco were also stunned as Slippy squinted his eyes to get a better look.

"What is that? I've never seen it before." Slippy said curiously.

It was a big black orb, and a very familiar one at that. Only this was so big, it was bigger than some asteroids that were floating around it. Luffy placed his hands over his eyes, and squinted them to take a better look at it. "That looks so weird…" Luffy said.

"That's an Obscurum tear." Xemnas explained, "I'm sure you've heard of it before."

Robin gasped, "The part of the new world that revives the wicked!"

"Correct." Xemnas replied.

"But it's so big!" Usopp said, "What is it trying to revive!"

"Revive… !" Fox eyes widened in fear upon hearing all this, "Wait… what is going on!"

"Allow me to explain." Xemnas said, getting everyone's attention, "We have made an agreement with Andrew Oikonny in allowing his uncle to become one of the rulers of Obscurum." He then looked at the Starfox team, "I'm sure you know who I'm talking about."

"No way… but how is that possible!" Falco asked.

"Like I said; Obscurum is perfect for one of these very reasons." Xemnas said.

"You mean… Andross?" Nami asked.

"Who's that?" Luffy asked while looking at Nami.

"Wolf told me about him; he said that Andross was a big threat to the Lylat System, but died several years ago." Nami explained.

"What! If that's true, then is that suppose to be him!" Usopp asked while pointing at the gigantic Obscurum tear.

"The tear is still in the process of reviving him." Xemnas explained, "By the time the tear disappears, Andross will be alive once again, and help us control Obscurum, and possibly destroy the Lylat system."

"That's insane! Andross is too powerful; we weren't prepared for this!" Slippy gasped. Luffy then angrily faced towards Xemnas.

"Oi, black coat guy! You better stop this!" Luffy threatened.

"It's too late." Xemnas replied, "Once an Obscurum tear is formed, it cannot be destroyed unless it revives someone from the darkness. It's a process that will become natural to all life, and everyone will soon worship that as much as I do."

"I'm getting sick of hearing you speak, you heartless bastard!" Sanji yelled while facing towards Xemnas. Xemnas actually felt a little upset hearing that.

"You're right; I am heartless. For I don't have a heart. I am just a shell of my former self. I'm nobody…" Xemnas said in a sad, yet relaxing tone, "It must be wonderful to gather all those hearts for that door you always use. I could kill to just have one of them, but alas, I need my real heart to be whole again." Xemnas then looked sad before looking back at the tear.

ROB's voice could then be heard from the intercom again, "Fox, Oikonny's battle fleet have just arrived."

"They're already here!" Slippy gasped. Everyone looked out through the hangar doors, and saw Oikonny's mothership heading towards Corneria from the other side of the asteroid field. Behind it were Oikonny's fleet, which were trying to catch up with the ship.

"Of all the time in the universe, this must happen now!" Falco asked angrily. Fox had no idea what to do. His girlfriend was feeling strange, Andross is going to revive any second now, and Oikonny's air fleet are about to invade Corneria again.

"Dammit…" Fox grunted.

Xemnas remained looking at the tear, "If you hurry, you might be able to stop the fleet before Andross is revived. Although, I really doubt that you can."

"Shut up!" Luffy yelled angrily, "I am going to kick your ass right now, and stop all this!"

"Oh, I know you will try that. That's why I will make things more interesting." Xemnas said as he then raised his arm, and snapped his fingers. By hearing them snap, Krystal's eyes widened in fear as she felt tremendous coming from her head.

"AAAAAHHHH!" Krystal cried while holding her head in pain. Everyone gasped as they looked towards her.

"Krystal! What's wrong!" Fox asked. He tried approaching her, but something knocked him on his back.

"Fox, are you okay!" Slippy asked as he, and everyone else went to see if Fox was alright. Fox just sat up, and looked at Krystal again, horrified for what's happening to her.

"… Such a poor girl." Xemnas said, "She is the only one left of her species in this vast universe. She has no one else other than her team, and lover alongside her. Without them… she would have fallen quickly into the darkness, and would never be the same again."

Fox got up, and glared at Xemnas from over his shoulder. "… What did you do to her!"

"I merely gave her the push she needed to become complete." Xemnas replied, "You see, she already has so much hate in her, but her feelings towards you, and your team have prevented her from being who she truly is. I showed her an Obscurum tear, and gave her such strength to push aside those feelings towards you, and finally become complete." Xemnas then looked at the agonizing Krystal, "However, I am surprised that she resisted this long. She really must love you in order to try, and stop for what is good for her. I don't know why, but her resistance is futile; she will turn to her true self."

Fox was silent upon hearing this as the light of the hangar shadowed his eyes.

"You… did this to Krystal?" Chopper gasped with a horrified look. He then got furious, "HOW COULD YOU DO THAT TO HER!"

Sanji straightened his tie before getting into a battle stance, "I had enough of this guy…" He muttered.

Xemnas remained silent. He saw how angry everyone was at him, except for Fox, who was speechless while looking at Krystal still yelling in pain. "Hmm!" Fox then noticed a purple aura emitting from Krystal's body for a brief moment, and saw that Krystal wasn't crying in pain anymore. "Krystal…?" Fox knelt down to Krystal, who had her head lowered as Fox then touched her shoulder.

"Don't… TOUCH ME!" Krystal yelled as he then punched Fox in the face, knocking him on his back. Everyone else noticed this as Krystal got up, and was giving off a furious glare. Chopper saw this, and was terrified; he knew that just by looking at her that she wasn't the same anymore. "I… hate… you…" Krystal snarled. "I want you all out of my life! I hate all of you! I can no longer live my life like this… I hate it!" Krystal then got out some sort of staff that extended once she held it forward. "I am no longer Krystal… that name was part of my cursed life with you people!" Krystal then smirked wickedly, "You may call me Kursed."

The crew, and the Starfox team couldn't believe what they hearing from Krystal, especially Fox. As Fox was sitting emotionless on the ground, Xemnas cleared his throat.

"So it has come to this," Xemnas said, smiling as he held his arm forward, "The act has finally commenced. What will you do, Monkey D. Luffy?" Luffy then glared at Xemnas, "Will you go, and save Corneria from a certain demise, or will you stay here, and try to save that accursed woman from eternal darkness? The choice you'll make will bring harmony, and despair to all your loved ones. Just what do you have in store for my amusement this time, I wonder."

Before Xemnas knew it, Sanji and Falco got on Falco's arwing, and charged at Xemnas from both sides.

"VEAU SHOT!"

"FLASH!"

Sanji leaped towards Xemnas with a running kick, while Falco did the same by dashing towards him in a speed of light. As they thought they would Xemnas, he calmly backstepped to avoid their attacks as they went passed eachother. Xemnas then formed a red blade beam from out of his palm, and turned around to slash Falco with it. "Ugh!" Falco crashed down to the suffering the aftershock of Xemnas' blade.

"Falco!" Sanji turned around, only to see Xemnas placing his palm in front of his face.

"SPARK BOMB!" Xemnas shot out a bright orb, which exploded into a bigger orb, engulfing Sanji upon impact.

"Ogh!" Sanji cried as the explosion knocked back into the wall, and fell to the bay limplessly with a thud.

"Sanji!" Usopp cried in fear. Sanji could barely move as Xemnas walked to the back ledge of the arwing, and was about to fire another spark bomb at him.

"Stop it!" Nami yelled.

"Hmm?" Before Xemnas could strike, he noticed Fox jumping off the wall in front of him, and was heading towards him.

"FIRE FOX!" Fox was covered with flames as he leaped towards Xemnas, and tackled him hard off Falco's arwing.

"Geh!" Xemnas grunted as he and Fox fell off the hangar bay, and into the bottom floor of the hangar. The Strawhat crew looked over the bay to see them about to crash, but Xemnas recovered by landing on one hand, and then backflipping onto his feet. He saw Fox landing on one knee, and his hand to ground as Fox panted heavily while a having a slight ember circling around him. Xemnas was actually surprised by this.

"Well, well, this is truly a turn of events." Xemnas commented, "Instead of trying to save the ones you love, you decided to come after me. It was truly brave of your part, but is it worth losing everything?"

"Bring her back…" Fox snarled as he gave an intense glare to Xemnas, revealing how dilated his pupils were, "Bring Krystal back the way she was!"

"I showed her the light; I have no reason to turn her back into the Krystal you know." Xemnas replied calmly. Hearing this made Fox even angrier.

"I have went through so much in my life…" Fox snarled as the embers around him grew stronger, "If you think you can just come here, and destroy everything I worked so hard to protect, then I will stop you!" Fox then stood up with his hands clenched into fists, "When I was young, my father was killed by Andross. I was so desperate for revenge, that I killed him for a better cause. But even though I hated him so much, killing him wasn't going to bring my father back. I learned from that day that killing people will never revive the ones you love…" Fox's ember then reached up to his waist level, "I don't like to kill people… but If I have to kill you in order to protect the ones I love, then so be it!"

Xemnas was bewildered; he was happy to see Fox completely enraged, "Yes… that's right. Your hatred is making you stronger by the second. Let your rage be your weapon; it is the only way for you to defeat me!"

"GRAAAAAAGHH!" Fox charged at Xemnas as his ember covered his body. Once he tackled Xemnas, the bottom hangar exploded into a humongous dust cloud.

"Fox!" Luffy yelled. Slippy hurried to look over the bay, but couldn't see Fox anywhere.

"This is bad!" Slippy cried, "What are we going to do now!"

Chopper looked back at Krystal, or Kursed as she is now called, and was shivering in fear just by looking at her. But his eyes then widened as he faced towards Kursed with a determined look. "Luffy, go on ahead! I will take care of things here!"

"Chopper?" Nami said.

"There is a lot of things happening right now, and you guys don't have time to get distracted!" Chopper said, "Don't worry about me; I can help Krystal get back to normal again!"

"Doctor-kun, allow me to help." Robin said as she walked beside Chopper, "She has to power to read minds. It's best that we both act quickly before she does anything drastic."

"Hmph! As if a couple of freaks can actually beat me." Kursed mocked, "But go ahead; I won't mind killing the both of you!"

"Krystal… I don't care what you might do to us! We will save you!" Chopper said determingly. He and Robin then got ready to face Kursed, while Falco was getting up on his feet after Xemnas knocked him down earlier.

"Oh…" Falco groaned as he then looked down over the ledge, and saw the dust cloud clearing as he could see Fox and Xemnas fighting. "What the! Fox!"

"FIRE FOX!" Fox leaped towards Xemnas while covered in flames, but Xemnas sidestepped to avoid as Fox went past him. As soon as Fox landed on his feet, he quickly charged towards Xemnas from his sides, swinging his fists and feet at him, but Xemnas was easily dodging his attacks without even moving from the spot he was standing on. "GRAAHH!" Fox then took out his blaster, and fired rapidly at Xemnas, who was spinning around Fox to avoid getting shot down. Xemnas then flipped towards a wall, and jumped off it as he then formed his beam blade from his palm while heading towards Fox. "REFLECTOR!" Fox activated his reflector, knocking Xemnas back when he came close.

"Ah!" Xemnas backflipped back on his feet, and smirked as he felt Fox's rage growing even stronger. "Just a little more… cast those useless emotions aside, and let your hatred control you!"

As Fox charged at Xemnas again, Falco was a little dumbfounded by Fox's uncontrollable rage, "I have never seen Fox act like that before! This is really getting out of control!" Falco said. He then looked at Slippy, and the others, "Hey, it's only us now! We have to get out there, and stop Oikonny's fleet from attacking Corneria again!"

"How do you expect us to help! It's not like we can do much out there!" Nami yelled.

"Ergh, Slippy! Give it to them already! I'm going to go prepare my arwing!" Falco yelled as he then ran to his arwing.

Slippy then nervously took something out of his pocket, which looked like small pins. "Here, put these on!" Slippy said.

"What are they?" Usopp asked while curiously looking at the pins.

"These are what Fox and Falco used during the Smash tournament in order to fight in space." Slippy explained, "They are called 'Smash airspace.'; you pin them on your clothes you have on, and they allow you to breath in space, and you can also walk normally on surfaces with low gravitational fields like those asteroids out there!"

"Really! That sounds very helpful!" Usopp said in awe.

"This is all I have right now." Slippy said, "If you guys are going to get out there, you better not lose them!"

Luffy then took one pin from Slippy's palm, and pinned it on his vest while walking towards the ledge of the bay. "Yosh… I'm going to go beat up that Andross guy." He said while cracking his knuckles. His crew, including Falco and Slippy, were shocked to hear that.

"Wait a minute, Luffy, you cant go out there in the state you're in!" Nami yelled.

"Nami is right! You barely survived against that Wolf guy! You don't stand a chance against that humongous thing!" Usopp cried while pointing at the Obscurum tear.

"So what? I have to do this." Luffy said while flexing a bit, "I can get there by springing myself on those asteroid things, right? I can kick that guy's ass when I get there."

"Dont be stupid, kid! You can't fight Andross with brute strength alone! It's impossible!" Falco yelled from on top of his Arwing.

"And you can't go out there by yourself!" Slippy said, "Look, we can take you to Andrew's ship, and you can help us rescue Franky and Peppy. In the meantime, Falco and I can take care of Andross. It may be dangerous, but it would be better this way!"

"Luffy, just listen to them, and back away just this once! You dont have to do this!" Nami said worringly.

"… I dont have to… but I'm going to do it anyway." Luffy said as he then looked at Nami from over his shoulder, having his usual smile on his face, "Afterall, I am the captain. I can't just stand around here while everyone is doing all the saving around here. That would be pretty dumb. Heh heh!"

Nami was surprised hearing this as Falco was irritated by Luffy's recklessness. "Kid, you have to understand that-!" Falco was saying until Nami interrupted.

"Don't you dare die out there!" Nami said sternly, "You made me worry to death back when you were fighting Wolf. I wan't you to promise me that you wont die so I wont feel pathetic for you again!"

Luffy nodded while smiling, "Dont worry; I'll come back alive!" Luffy said with the thumbs up. Usopp and Slippy were shocked, but amazed at Luffy's determination, while Falco just shook his head out of annoyance.

"You're really are troublesome, kid." Falco muttered while turning away.

"I-If you really are going to do this, then I must advise you to stay away from Corneria." Slippy warned, "If you get caught by it's gravitational field, not even someone like you could survive the fall."

"Stay away from Cornyera… okay." Luffy nodded while facing towards the hangar exit. "Alright! Here I come!" Luffy jumped off the bay, and ran towards the exit with his head lowered. Fox and Xemnas jumped back as Luffy ran past Fox, and was headed towards Xemnas. Xemnas was about to defend himself, until Luffy intentionally ran past him without even looking at him. Xemnas turned around to see Luffy continue to head towards the exit.

"Even the pirate is willing to sacrifice his life for your kind." Xemnas chuckled before looking back at Fox, "He has such a strong heart… unlike yours."

Fox ignored that statement, and attacked Xemnas again. While they were going at it, Luffy then stretched his arms towards the ledge of the hangar exit, "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprunged himself through the oxygen barrier as he flew off the Great Fox while heading towards the asteroid field, which wasnt that far, by the way.

Slippy gave the rest of the pins to Nami, and Usopp. "You guys better keep those just incase." Slippy then looked outside, and saw the fleet getting closer to Corneria, "I'm finished making my special Smartbomb. We have to get out there now if we want to stop that fleet in time."

"Then what are we waiting for! Let's get moving!" Falco said while entering the cockpit of his arwing, "Hey, orange girl; you coming!"

"I'll be right there!" Nami replied. She quickly got on the arwing, until she looked back at Chopper and Robin, "You guys be careful too!"

Chopper and Robin nodded without dropping their sights off her Kursed as Nami then got into the cockpit, scooching Falco to the side of bit in order to fit inside.

"Comfortable enough?" Falco asked sarcastically, "Hold on tight!" Falco then turned on his Arwing as he flew out of the Great Fox, and into space.

"Come on, Usopp! Let's get going too!" Slippy said. After Usopp puts on the pin, he was pretending to feel sick.

"Oooh, I cant go out there! My I-cant-go-out-into-space disease is acting up again! Ooh.." Usopp lied while faking pain, "You better go on without me! I'll be fine here!"

"Well… okay. It's probably best if you helped out your crew anyway." Slippy said. He then rushed into his arwing's cockpit, and started to fly off as Usopp was starting to have second thoughts.

"Wait… If I stay here, I have to…" Usopp turned around, and saw Kursed glaring at him. Usopp's jaw dropped in shock as he then changed his mind, "Wait, Slippy! I want to go with you! Dont leave me here!" Usopp yelled, but Slippy was about to leave, and didnt hear what Usopp was saying. Desperately wanting to leave, Usopp took out a belt with a hole in the center, and puts it on around his waist. "USOPP AAAAaaaaAAAAaaaaAAAAHHHH!" A hook attached to a rope shot out from the hole of Usopp's belt, and hooked onto an opening in the back of Slippy's arwing. Usopp smirked upon achieving this, but soon realized what he did.

"Um, this wasn't really a good id-EA!" Usopp was yanked off the floor as Slippy's flew his arwing right out of the Great Fox in full speed. "UWWWWWAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAHHHHH!" As you can imagine, Usopp was being pulled by the arwing into space, which Usopp did not like at all as he was screaming to death.

"Oh!" Slippy heard the screaming, and glanced over his shoulder to see Usopp right behind him, which completely surprised him, "Usopp! What are you doing back there!"

"STOP THIS THING! LET ME ON YOUR SHIP!" Usopp cried while tears poured out of his eyes.

"I cant do that now!" Slippy replied, "Besides, we have to stop the fleet!" Slippy then looked towards the fleet, "Hold on, Usopp! This is going to be a bumpy ride!"

"NOOOOOOOOOOO!" Usopp cried as Slippy flew his Arwing around the asteroid field, and towards the fleet, while Usopp did his best not to lose consciousness while being pulled along for the ride.

At the same time, Falco was already getting closer to Oikonny's battle fleet. "Heh! This is going to be good! Consider yourself lucky for seeing what I can do up close!" Falco said cockingly. Nami didnt reply; she was thinking deeply about something else. She looked over at the asteroid field, and couldn't help but to worry about Luffy again. She then grew stern as she knew what she had to do.

"Turn around!" Nami yelled as she grabbed the control stick while Falco was still holding it, and moved it to the side as Falco's arwing nearly lost control.

"Hey!" Falco stopped her, and regained control of his arwing again, "What's the matter with you! Do you want to get us killed!"

"Take me back to Titania right now!" Nami demanded. Falco blinked in confusion.

"What're you talking about! We don't have time for that!" Falco yelled back. Nami then glared at Falco.

"Listen, there is something I need to get off my chest, and I can't do it unless we get back to Titania!" Nami yelled, "Now, turn this ship around, or I'll knock you out cold! Trust me; I won't hesistate to hurt you!"

Falco's eye twitched as he didnt wanted to follow Nami's demands, but he also didnt wanted to be knocked by her either. "Tsk! I don't know what're you up to, but it better not take too long!" Falco then did a U-turn, and flew away from Oikonny's fleet as he flew back towards Titania. Nami looked on ahead while clenching her fists on her lap.

" I hope you are still there, Wolf… " Nami thought with a frown.

As everyone was going in their own path, back in the Great Fox, Chopper and Robin watched how Kursed was twirling around her staff with a smirk on her face.

"So… who wants to die first?" Kursed asked before firmly holding her staff with both hands, and getting into her battle stance. Robin perpared herself by crossing her limbs, while Chopper still felt sad seeing Krystal act so differently.

"Krystal…" Chopper said sadly before wiping the tears from his eyes, and showing off a determined look, "I will save you!"

Meanwhile…

Oikonny's mothership was already entering Corneria's atmosphere, but the ship's boosters have overheated from using it's full potential for a long time, thus they turned off, making the ship move slower now.

Franky and Peppy were still running through the hallways until they finally reached the hangar. "We made it!" Franky exclaimed. The hangar was empty, and there were still some unconcious soldiers that Franky knocked out several chapters ago. Franky and Peppy ran deeper into the hangar until they found the Thousand Sunny.

"We should be in Corneria's atmosphere by now!" Peppy said, "The Cornerian army should have noticed this ship by now, so they should be here any second."

"I ain't going to wait!" Franky said while looking at his surroundings, "We're getting outta here with my ship."

"But that's dangerous! We aren't entirely sure that we are still in outer space yet!" Peppy exclaimed.

"I don't care! I'd rather die than to stay on this lousy ship any longer!" Franky replied. Peppy only sighed as Franky irritated by the burn marks on the Thousand Sunny, "It can't leave like this. Oi, bro, go open the hangar doors; I'm going to polish up my ship!"

"Do we even have time for that!" Peppy asked.

"It will only take a second!" Franky replied as he got on the ship, and began fixing it up. Peppy looked around the hangar, and noticed a lever on a wall.

"That must be it." Peppy said. He went over to the lever, and was about to pull it, until something hits him upside the head. "Uh!"

Several seconds later, the Thousand Sunny looked as good as new. The burn marks were gone, even the damages on the ship were fully repaired. Franky got on the ledge of the ship with a smirk, "Phew… took me longer than expected." Franky said, "Oi, bro, did you… !"

Franky saw Andrew having his arm around Peppy's neck as placed his blaster up against Peppy's head. Andrew looked back at Franky with a maniacal face, "It's over! Come down from there right now, or I'll kill him!" Franky frowned as he slowly went through the crosswalk, and stared at Andrew, "Eyah ha ha ha ha! You thought you could've escaped from my grasp! You underestimated me, you hooligan! Now you will come back with me peacefully, or I will kill this old geezer! I swear it!"

"Hmph! You do that, and you would only be screwing yourself!" Franky replied while crossing his arms, "You do realize we're in Corneria again, don't you? If you kill the rabbit bro, then his men is going to make you cry for the rest of your pathetic life."

"Eyah ha ha! I already won, you imbecil!" Andrew yelled, "You know why! Because my uncle is about to be revived, and will destroy you all!"

"What! Andross!" Peppy gasped. Franky was silent as Andrew then quickly grabbed the jammer from Peppy's pockets.

"This is mine! I will make you pay for using my creations against me! I will regain control of my ship with a touch of a button!" Andrew yelled.

"I wouldn't do that." Franky warned. Andrew ignored him, and pressed the button on his jammer. He laughed maniacally, until his jammer short-circuited, and fell into pieces. Andrew was shocked by this.

"Wh-What happened!" Andrew asked.

"I… rewired it." Peppy said. Andrew glared at him, "I did some modifications on your jammer, and after acquiring the transmission your ships use from the bridge, I designed the jammer to jam all your motherships' frequencies, preventing them to even move in the slightest once the jammer has been turned off! You lose again, Oikonny!"

"Wha… WHAT DID YOU SAY!" Andrew asked furiously.

Outside in space, the mothership fleet suddenly stopped moving. From inside one of them, you can see the pilots panicking over their frozen monitors, and their unresponsive communications. Andrew could only imagine what was going on, "You ruined… no, you lie! YOU LIE!"

"OUCH FINGER!" Franky opened his finger, and fired a bullet at Andrew. It missed, but Andrew was startled as he let's go of the blaster and Peppy while falling on his back. Peppy quickly ran away from Andrew as Franky walked over to him. "Even death is too good for you, Horseface. You really need to cool off."

"Shut up, you!" Andrew said while shivering, "Even if I lost my army, my uncle will still take care of the job for me! He will then crown me as Emperor of the Lylat system, and everything will still go as planned, you piece of trash!"

"Yeah, right!" Franky chuckled, "Let me tell you something, bro; I'm not even the captain of my ship. My comrades are probably out there right now, and doing their best to stop your stupid uncle from doing anything! Trust me; I know them long enough to know they will do something to stop whatever it is that is pissing them off! And my captain…" Franky then smirked down at Andrew, "He can beat anyone!"

Andrew could only grit his teeth in anger as Franky reached over the lever behind him, and pulled it down. The hangar doors then opened as it showed the clear, blue sky of Corneria as the ship were still above the clouds. The air was blowing in and out of the hangar.

"Rabbit bro, get on the ship!" Franky exclaimed.

"O-Okay!" Peppy stuttered as he then walked over the crosswalk, and onto the Thousand Sunny. Franky then looked at Andrew one last time.

"Well, it was fun, horseface. You did your best, but you still lost." Franky chuckled, "But think of it this way; You'll always be remembered as the guy who TRIED to be the leader, and not the sidekick for once. That sounds pretty good when you think about it."

Suddenly, several of Oikonny's men came into the hangar. "There they are! Shoot them!" Yelled a guard as they fired at Franky.

"See ya!" Franky said to Andrew. He avoided the beams as he ran to his ship while shooting the clamps that were holding it to the dock. The ship began to slide off the dock as Franky jumped right onboard. The guards kept firing as Franky took Peppy inside one of the rooms, and hid there as the ship was about to fall. Andrew did nothing but to see the ship fall right out of the hangar, and all the way down to Corneria's surface.

"Damn, they got away!" Cried a guard. He, and the rest then hurried to Andrew's aid, and helped him get up, "Emperor, are you alright! Did they do anything to you!"

Andrew only stared at the exit of the hangar as his face grew red in anger, "Get my personal ship ready! We're going to settle this once and for all!"

The Thousand Sunny was flying straight downwards through the clouds, and right into the ocean below. Inside the ship, Peppy was doing his best to hold on, while Franky was preparing the ship's booster. "Is this a part of your plan!" Peppy asked.

"You bet it is!" Franky laughed, "Now we're going to fly back to your town!"

"Fly!" Peppy asked.

The Thousand Sunny was about to make impact on the ocean floor, until it's booster was lighting up. "COUP DE BURST!" The Thousand Sunny's booster ignited with power, bringing the ship flying across the ocean right before it could crash into it. The Thousand Sunny soared through the air for a while until it landed back down on the ocean floor, landing several meters in front of the Cornerian capitol.

Peppy got out, and saw that he was back home. "We made it… we survived." Peppy said in awe. Franky followed Peppy out, and smirked upon their accomplishment.

"What I tell ya? I got you outta that ship in one piece, and brought you back home!" Franky said happily.

"Franky… I don't know how to thank you…" Peppy said with a grateful tone.

"How about you treat me with one of your best cola drinks you have in this place?" Franky suggested. They both laughed as some cornerian ships stopped next to the Thousand Sunny. Several soldiers came out of it, and were happy to see Peppy.

"General! You're back!" One of the guards said happily.

"Are you okay, General Peppy!"

"It's alright, soldiers." Peppy said as he then looked at Franky, "It's all thanks to him that he helped me get away."

"Bah, it was no big deal." Franky said gratefully.

"Now that your back, General, we can stop Oikonny's fleet without hesitation." Said a guard.

"We'll send our best fleet right up there, and teach Oikonny not to mess with Corneria!"

"Yeah, just give us the order, General! We'll take care of Oikonny in no time."

"Whoa, wait a second there, bros." Franky interrupted the guards, "If anyone is going to take care of that horseface, it's going to be me."

"Franky?" Peppy said curiously.

"You saw he disrespected me, and my ship. I can't forget what he did." Franky said as he then turned around while looking up at the sky, "He's probably on his way here now. I'll show him that nobody messes with me, or my ship!"

Peppy looked at Franky, and smiled as he then faced towards him, "You have done more for Corneria more than I could ever imagine. I would be happy to assist you any way possible." Peppy's soldiers looked confused as Franky turned towards Peppy with a smirk.

"Yosh! Let's not waste any more time then!" Franky exclaimed, "I'm going to need some strong-hearted men, some enthusiasm, and cola… lots and lots of cola!"

Several minutes have passed as a new ship descended through the clouds of Corneria. It was a bit smaller, but it looked deadly as Andrew was in there, with several pilots controlling the ship.

"Where are you… I'll find you, and destroy you all! Nobody makes fun of the Oikonny name! NOBODY!" Andrew yelled.

"Emperor, there is something on the ocean!" A pilot said. The main screen zoomed on the subject, and it turned out to be the Thousand Sunny, which was all alone in the center of the ocean.

"It's that ship! Huh!" Andrew saw several Cornerian soldiers on the ship, ready for further instructions. What caught Andrew's attention the most was Franky, standing on the ledge of the ship's side while having his arms crossed. Andrew stared as he saw Franky taking out a pair of sunglasses, and puts them on. "You still mock me…"

Franky frowned at the site of Andrew's new ship as he then uncrossed his arms, "Ow! My ship is going to beat the crap out of yours! BRING IT ON!" He yelled while doing his victory pose.

Meanwhile…

Luffy landed right on top of one of the asteroids. He looked at his surroundings, and smiled, "Wow! This feels so cool!" He exclaimed. He started jumping up and down from excitement, but when he jumped really high, a gravitational force from an asteroid close by pulled him. "Whoa!" Luffy manage to land on his feet as he rubbed his head out of relief, "That was amazing, but I should be careful; I could've died."

Luffy then looked towards the Obscurum tear, and noticed that the tear was fading. "What's going on?" A silouhette could then be seen inside the tear. It remained shadowed until the tear finally disappeared, shocking Luffy the instant it was gone. "Whoooaa… so big!"

What stood in the middle of the asteroid field was a humongous head of a very old gorilla, with two humongous yellow hands floating beside it. The creature opened his big eyes, and looked at it's surroundings.

"… I've come back…" The creature said as he then smirked, "I HAVE FINALLY COME BACK TO DESTROY THE ONES WHO OPPOSED ME! HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!"

The creature's thunderous laugh shook the asteroids around himself. This creature is known to be the most dangerous of all the Lylat system, and has returned once again to wreak havoc to those who casted him into the darkness- Andross.

Chapter 113: The second Lylat War!, Franky vs Andrew

Luffy watched in awe; gawking at the sight of Andross. "Whoa… really big head…" Luffy said with his jaw nearly dropping. Andross looked down towards the planet of Corneria. He frowned at the sight of the healthy-looking planet.

"Corneria… the loathsome planet of the Lylat System." Andross snarled, "The planet that I wanted to destroy for so long; I cannot bare the sight of it! I will finally get the rightful opportunity to personally wipe this planet from the face of existence once and for all!"

Luffy could hear what Andross was saying from a distance as he then frowned upon hearing what Andross said. "Destroy the planet…"

Andross then looked at his hands, "One thing troubles me… how did I come back? The last thing I remembered was being shot down by that irritable, Fox McCloud!" Andross frowned as he then noticed his nephew's fleet to his right. "Ha! It seems that Corneria is in the middle of an invasion." He said as he looked towards the planet, "I'll find out how I got here later. Right now, it is time that I destroy this world with an iron fist! All those who have trampled with my role as Emperor will now pay for their insolence!" Andross then smirked, "After I'm done here, there will be nothing else in this universe that could stop me from accomplishing my destiny! Ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Huh… that monkey is loud." Luffy said while picking his ears. "Oh?" He then noticed Andross heading towards Corneria, "Whoa! I have to stop him!"

Luffy makes a run for it as he jumped from asteroid to asteroid as fast as he could. While he did that, Andross clenched his fists as his smirked grew wider. "So close to victory… finally, this world will die!"

Luffy then makes one final leap to an asteroid way behind an Andross, and took a deep breath.

"OI, YOU BIG, STUPID MONKEY HEEEEEEEEEEAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAADDDD!"

Andross stopped, with the smirk on his face slowly fading away into a frown. Luffy panted from yelling too loud as Andross turned around, with a glare. "Hergh?" Andross turned around, and saw Luffy on an asteroid. He had no idea who Luffy was, but seeing him made him curious. "A human…? Here in Lylat?"

"Are you Andross!" Luffy asked.

Andross raised an eyebrow as he was confused at the sudden confrontation, "What if I am?" He asked.

"I was here to kick your ass, but since you don't have one, I'm going to beat your face in instead!" Luffy replied confidently. Andross blinked for a second until he then laughed.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! What trickery is this?" Andross chuckled, "Who are you, human? And for what reason do you want to fight me?"

Luffy then pointed at Andross, "I am Monkey D. Luffy! And I am going to beat you up, because you piss me off!"

"Is that all?" Andross asked with a smirk, "Look, I don't know who you think you are, but I don't have the time to deal with insects such as yourself." Andross then turned the other way, "I'll tell you this, though, since you managed to humor me upon my return, I will spare your life, and allow you to see the destruction of this despicable planet! I doubt that you'll remain alive after I blow this planet up into smithereens, but if you do, I'll consider having you as my pet. Farewell for now, human." Andross then began to leave.

"Oi, don't you turn your back on me! Come back here, and fight me like a man!" Luffy yelled. Andross ignored him, making Luffy angry as he grabbed a pebble on the asteroid he was on, and threw it at Andross. Since it was in space, the pebble slowly made it's way towards Andross until it gently hits him at the back of the head. Even though it didn't hurt him, Andross turned around, and looked down at Luffy.

"You're not kidding, are you?" Andross asked with a frown, "Do you know who I am? I could easily kill you without a second thought."

"I don't care who you are!" Luffy replied, "Just fight me already!"

Andross' frown grew deeper, "I'm losing my patience!" He said, "I don't have the time to deal with a human! Now, go back to your planet before I crush you!"

"No way! I'm going to be crushing you!" Luffy replied, "Everyone is counting on me! I won't let you destroy Fox's world!"

Andross was shocked upon hearing that name, "Fox? You know Fox McCloud?" He asked. He then gave Luffy a threatening glare, "So that's why you're here… hmph! The nerve of that child! How dare he sends me a distraction to stall for time!" Andross then smirked, "Well, no matter; this will end in just a second! Consider yourself fortunate to be the first to die under my hands, human!"

Andross pulled back his fist, and swung it forward towards Luffy. Luffy jumped in the nick of time as Andross' gigantic fist destroyed the asteroid Luffy was standing on moments ago. He then landed on the back of Andross' hand as he then stretched his arms forward to grab Andross' hair. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung forward, and kicked Andross in the eye.

"AH!" Andross was surprised as he rubbed his eye in pain, while Luffy got on his head.

"GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy stretched his leg upwards, and brought it down to kick Andross on the head. Andross felt a little pain from that as Luffy jumped off, and stood on an asteroid that was close by. Andross turned towards him with an angry, but surprised look.

"What was that just now!" Andross asked, "Did your body just stretch!"

"I already told you that I will be stopping you!" Luffy said while getting into his battle pose, "Quit running off, and fight me with everything you got, old monkey head!"

"Grr… if you insist on dying so badly, then I'll be more than happy to send you towards your doom!" Andross yelled furiously as Andross swung his arm towards Luffy again.

Meanwhile…

Franky remained standing on the side ledge of the ship as he took a good look at Andrew's ship, "You came to me with that thing, huh? I hope it's good enough for my ship to finish off." Franky said with a frown.

Andrew turned on the speakers from his chair as he seemed very angry, "What do you think you're doing now! You are already escaped, and made a fool out of me! What more do you want!"

"I ain't finished with you!" Franky replied loudly, "You messed with a real man's ship, and laughed at his pride! I'm going to show you not to judge a book by it's cover!"

"Eyah ha ha ha! You plan to stop me with that piece of trash!" Andrew asked, "You and I both know who will win! My ship is the most advanced aircraft in existence! And yours is just a wooden ship! You have no chance in beating me, you hooligan!"

"You see, that's what I'm talking about!" Franky said while shaking his finger, "You think that just because you have an army, you could do anything! Well, guess what?" Franky then did a pose, "My ship IS an army! It could take down all those idiots that are following you! I know this because I made this ship from scratch! It's designed to make it towards the last island in the most dangerous sea in existence! And your ship that YOUR men build for you is not going to destroy a ship that has real value!"

"Real value! For your information, I design my ships!" Andrew yelled.

"But you don't make them!" Franky replied, "Your ships are more than just transports! They are a part of your crew! You treat them well, and they will do the same back!"

"You idiot; you expect me to believe such nonsense!" Andrew asked, "Ships are ships; nothing more!"

"And that's why you are going down, horseface!" Franky stated, "So, let's skip the chatter, and end this!"

"Fine! I'll demonstrate the true form of my ship! Prepare to see the genius of my designs!" Andrew yelled. His ship then started to transform. It first turned into two robotic arms as the center turned into something familiar. Franky gasped as the ship was now a floating robot that looked like Andrew's head, only with yellow eyes, and two big arms floating next to it. "Eyah ha ha ha ha! Behold my power! Are you intimidated by me now!"

"It's… It's…. HIDEOUS!" Franky yelled while backslapping the air in front of him.

"WHAT!" Andrew gasped as his mech was also in a state of shock. The robot then looked furious, "How dare you! I'll teach not to make fun of my work!"

"Heh! Let's get on with this already!" Franky said cockily, "The new look on your ship has given me a better reason to destroy it!"

"Wh-Watch your mouth!" Andrew yelled, "I'll show you! Take this!" The Andrew mech then pulled back it's arm, and swung it horizontally, hitting the water beside the Thousand Sunny as it nearly knocked the ship off balance.

"Tch! Alright, then!" Franky said. He then jumped off the ledge, and ran towards the helm while passing some Cornerian soldiers onboard, "You guys get into your positions! Do exactly what I say!"

"Yes, sir!" Replied the soldiers as they ran to their posts.

"Why are we doing this again?"

"General Peppy ordered us to do this! Besides, I feel very confident with that guy in charge!"

Franky to got behind the helms, and started turning it around as the Thousand Sunny sailed around the Andrew mech. "Fire the cannons!" Franky exclaimed. The soldiers inside the ship fired the cannons at the Andrew mech, with the cannonballs exploding upon impacting the side of it's head.

"You think that will stop me!" Andrew yelled as the Andrew mech raised it's right arm above the Thousand Sunny, and brought it down upon it.

"Soldier Dock System: Channel Zero!" Franky activated one of the special compartments of the Thousand Sunny by turning a switch in the center of the helm, causing two wheel paddles to appear from the sides of the ship. "PADDLE-WHEEL SUNNY!" The paddle wheels quickly moved the ship forward, allowing it to escape from the mech's palm as it slammed the water hard enough to create a wave behind the ship. The paddles then moved in reverse as the ship quickly, but steadily moved up the wave, and got over it as the ship was now in midair. "Fire!" Franky yelled as the ship fired multiple cannon balls at the Andrew mech, which guarded with it's enormous arms.

"Why you little!" Andrew yelled as his mech was about to counter with a fist, but Franky quickly aimed at the mech's face with his left arm.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple blasts at the mech's eyes, stopping it from attacking as it rubbed it's eyes afterwards.

"Ergh! Stop that!" Andrew yelled. The Thousand Sunny then landed back on the ocean, and sailed to the far left of the mech before firing some more cannonballs at it. The mech looked annoyed as he then faced towards the ship, and thrusted it's arm towards it.

"PADDLE-WHEEL SUNNY!" The paddles quickly moved the ship out of harms way, and countered with even more cannonballs to the mech. The mech flew towards the ship while wacking away the cannonballs, and placed it's right palm in front of the ship's way while trying to smash the ship with his other palm. "Smart, but not smart enough!" Franky said as he did something to make the the Thousand Sunny's mane to propel like a propeller. "CHICKEN VOYAGE!" The ship propelled itself backwards in great speed, successfully avoiding the mech's palm the second time. Franky then jumped ontop of the bow, and connected his arms to a tube. "1.5 MAX POWER COLA HOU, COUP DE VENT!"

Franky fired a massive current of air at the mech's arms, hitting them hard enough to leave a small dent on massive structure. "Ah! You'll pay for that!" Andrew yelled as the mech countered with a backhand of it's left fist, hitting the Thousand Sunny as it was knocked out of the ocean floor. "Eyah ha ha ha ha!" The mech then opened his right palm, and swung his arm horizontally at the ship while it was still in midair.

"COUP DE BURST!" The ship activated it's booster, flying over the mech's attacking arm as the ship flew over it's head. The mech turned around to try to attack the ship from behind, while Franky quickly got back behind the helm. "One more time! COUP DE BURST!" The ship ignited it's booster again, with the force of it hitting the mech in the face. The mech instantly rubbed it's face in pain as the Thousand Sunny landed back on the ocean floor. The ship sailed forwardly while the Andrew mech looked furious as it then pounded it's arms at the water behind the ship, creating big waves that were making the ship lose it's course.

"Shoot it down!" Andrew commanded.

His mech fired several small missiles from the bottom of it's wrists as they headed towards the ship. Franky heard them coming, and instantly ran at the back at the ship to try and stop them, "BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple bullets at the missiles, causing them explode upon getting hit. As soon as he destroyed the missiles, he saw the mech coming right at him. "Dammit!" Franky ran back to the helm as fast as he could, but the mech struck first with a right fist to water beside the ship, slightly knocking it towards left. "Whoa!" Franky almost lost his balance, but recovered as he quickly back to the helm. "CHICKEN VOYAGE!"

The ship's mane propelled the ship backwards as the ship was nearly crushed from the mech's left fist if it hadn't moved underneath the mech's head. "Go! Shoot it!" Franky commanded as the soldiers onboard started firing the mech from underneath with their blasters. As they fired at the mech repeatedly, the mech quickly placed it's arms into the water beside it's head, and started to spin around with great speed. "What's it doing!"

"Try escaping from this!" Andrew yelled as the mech was actually making a whirlpool underneath itself. The Thousand Sunny couldn't escape as it got caught by the whirlpool's flow.

"Gergh!" Franky, and everyone else onboard did their best to hang on as the ship was flowing towards the center, "No way we're giving up! CHICKEN VOYAGE!" The mane propelled the backwards, making it move against the whirlpool's flow, "Go! COUP DE BURST!" The ship's booster ignited, bringing the ship flying off the ocean floor, and out of the whirlpool.

"Got you!" Andrew yelled as his mech was about to slam it's palm down at the ship while it was still in midair.

Franky instantly faced towards it while connecting his arms to his tube again, "COUP DE VENT!" Franky fired another massive air current towards the mech's incoming palm, managing to slow it down, but the ship was still hit as it was slammed down to the ocean floor. "Gyah!"

"Eyah ha ha! How do you like that!" Andrew asked with a smirk. Suddenly, the ship paddled away from where it crash landed, and seemed that it was trying to escape. "Oh no, you don't!" The mech went after it, and trid to slam it again, until…

BOOM!

"Ah!" The arm was suddenly shot as the mech brought it away to see that it was slightly damaged. "What just happened!" Andrew asked. He then saw Franky, who already refueled himself with cola, standing at the back of the ship with a bandana of demon shells attached to his left arm.

"These babies are powerful enough to take down a seaking!" Franky explained while aiming at the mech, "I hope you're ready for this!"

"Grr… fire the beam!" Andrew commanded. The mech aimed it's arms forward as small laser cannons popped up from the back of it's wrists. It charged up as a blue sphere energy as Andrew then pointed forward, "Aim and-"

"DEMON WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired some demon shells at the laser cannons, and destroyed them in an instant as they exploded afterwards. Andrew gasped as his mech was shaking off the flames off his arms from the explosion. "Now! Turn the ship around!" The ship sailed, and turned towards the mech, and then used it's paddle wheels to charge towards it. Franky jumped on the bow, and started firing more demon shells at the mech, damaging it's structure as it could only protect itself by covering his face with his arms.

"You're such a nuisance!" Andrew yelled. As the ship got closer to the mech, the mech quickly flew to right side of the ship, "Your ship may move back and forth, but I doubt it could move side to side! I'm going to flatten you!"

The mech spread it's arms, and were about to close them onto the Thousand Sunny. Franky only smirked at this, "It's true; my ship can't move side to side… but it can clear the path! Oi, soldier, get inside the prow!"

"Yes, sir!" replied the Cornerian soldier as he ran into an entrance that leads inside a room within the prow. "Okay, according to him, this is how it works…" He pulled a lever that caused the Thousand Sunny's figurehead to open up it's mouth as a big cannon sticked out of it. "I've locked onto the target!"

"Yosh!" Franky exclaimed as the mech's arms were about to crush the ship from the front and back of it, "Here we go! GAON CANNON!" The Thousand Sunny fired an incredible air current from it's cannon at the same time the ship's booster's ignited in order to keep the ship stabilized from it's own blast. Both of the currents instantly knocked away the mech's arms, severely damaging it's palms as sparks flew out of their circuits.

"Emperor, he nearly destroyed the arms with that blast!" Cried one of the Oikonny's pilots.

"Is that guy a demon! How can a ship like that do so much harm!" Andrew asked angrily. As the mech shook it's hands in pain, Franky jumped onto the side ledge of his ship, and connected his arms to a tube again.

"COUP DE VENT!" Franky fired a massive current of air that hits the mech's face with great force.

"OOOHH!" The mech flew back a bit as it's face was damaged to that attack. It lowered it's head as Franky laughed at this.

"AHAHAHA! Like I said before; Don't mess with a real man's ship!"

Meanwhile…

Kursed held her staff tightly as she eyed on Chopper and Robin, who still haven't made their move. "What's wrong? Are you scared of me? If so, then you should be running." Kursed with a smirk.

"Krystal, please! We don't want to fight you! We're your friends!" Chopper said sadly while carefully approaching Kursed. As Chopper took one more step forward, Kursed hits him with her staff. "Ah!" Chopper fell on his side in pain.

"I don't need friends…" Kursed snarled, "I only want to destroy those who mock my existence."

"Chopper!" Robin said worryingly. She then stared at Kursed as she crossed her limbs.

"Hmph! I know all your moves." Kursed chuckled, "It's pointless to even try to hurt me. The moment you sprout your arms out of me, I would've killed you instantly afterwards. You are at a disadvantage here, you lonely creature."

Robin frowned as Kursed was about to strike, until she saw a testube flying at her.

BOOM!

Kursed jumped away from the exploding testube as she saw Chopper standing in front of her. "Krystal… I don't want to hurt you… but…" Chopper then had an angry look on his face while tears could be seen flowing down his face, "If I have to in order to bring you back… then I will! HEAVY POINT!" Chopper turned into his Heavy point, and charged at Kursed.

"Hmph! Fool!" Kursed mocked as she jumped back to avoid Chopper's tackle. While Kursed was in midair, Robin sprouted arms from her body. Kursed immediately placed her staff between some of the arms on her, preventing the arms from binding her in place. "This won't work on me!" Kursed yelled as her staff glowed before slamming it down on the floor, creating a blue shockwave that knocked Chopper and Robin off their feet.

"Ah!" They both cried as they landed on the ground. The arms on Kursed disappeared as she charged towards Robin, and thrusted it downward at her. Robin rolled out of the way to avoid before getting up as she tried to sprout arms out of Kursed again, but Kursed didn't give her the chance as she kept swinging her staff at her. "Ooh!" As Kursed was attacking Robin, Chopper took the chance to attack her from the side, but Kursed jumped back in order to avoid as she then leaped up in the air.

"DIE!" Kursed aimed her staff, and fired fireballs from it's tip as they flew towards the duo. They jumped away in opposite directions as Kursed landed back on the ground, and ran towards Chopper.

"HEAVY GONG!" Chopper swung his fist, but Kursed saw it coming as she ducked under Chopper's attack, and countered with a somersault, kicking Chopper across the chin. "Eh!"

Kursed smirked as she was about to stab Chopper, but she quickly sensed Robin's presence. "DIEZ FLEUR…" Arms sprouted from Kursed's body, but as they did, Kursed cartwheeled towards Robin, and balanced on her staff before giving Robin a flying kick to the face. "Ah!" Robin fell on her back while Kursed landed back on her feet as she sensed Chopper charging at her from behind. Chopper tried to wrap his arms around her, but Kursed backflipped over him to escape. Chopper turned towards Kursed, only to get hit by a fireball by Kursed before she landed back on the floor.

"Ah!" Chopper cried as he nearly fell on Robin, but didn't as Robin sprouted arms from the ground around her, and prevented Chopper from losing his balance.

"Ha ha ha! This is too easy!" Kursed laughed. She then charged up her staff as the bottom end released a stream of energy, allowing Kursed to fly towards her opponents like a rocket. Chopper turned back to his original form as he and Robin got out of the way as Kursed flew past them. Kursed then did several frontflips in midair before jumping off the wall in front of her, and got above the duo while letting out a freezing breeze from her staff towards them.

"It's gotten cold!" Robin cried as she, and Chopper couldn't see a thing through the cold mist. Suddenly, Kursed slammed her staff on the floor again, creating another shockwave that knocked them right up against a wall near the entrance to the hallway. "Ahh!"

Chopper and Robin fell on their knees as the mist faded, allowing them to see Kursed teased them by slowing approaching them. "I have already had my fun. Now let's tear you to pieces!" Kursed said as she then thrusted her staff towards Chopper.

"RUMBLE BALL!" Chopper ate a rumble ball while getting up, "GUARD POINT!" Chopper turned into his guard point as his puffy fur blocked Kursed's staff. Kursed looked down at Chopper as she attempted to stab Chopper again, only this time the front end of her staff was engulfed in flames.

"WRENCH!" Three arms sprouted from the ground in front of Kursed, trying to hit her in the gut, but failed as Kursed managed to get away in time. She frowned as she saw Robin getting back up on her feet, while Chopper turned into his Arm point form.

"Hmph! You're boring me now…" Kursed commented.

After she said that, several explosions could be heard from the bottom floor of the hangar behind her.

"AAAAHHH!" Fox fired rapidly at Xemnas, who simply spinned around to avoid the shots. He then front flipped towards Fox with a downward beam slash, which Fox avoided with a sidestepped as Xemnas continued his assualt with 720 degree spin with his beam blade. Fox avoided the first slash, and rolled under the other as he countered with a back kick, which Xemnas dodged by lowering his head, and countered with a downward slash of his beam blade, which Fox blocked with his blaster.

"How long will this go on? Your exerting too much of your hatred; your mind won't stand for this much longer." Xemnas said with a smile.

"SHUT UP!" Fox retorted as he knocked Xemnas back, and did forward side flip with his feet extended. Xemnas spun, and avoided Fox's frontal attack while going past him. Fox turned around to see Xemnas facing his arms towards him.

"SPARK BOMB!" Xemnas fired two spark bombs at Fox, who immediately squatted down as he was suddenly engulfed with flames.

"FIRE FLASH!" Fox zipped right through the spark bombs before they exploded. Fox was then zipping around Xemnas from multiple directions across the ground, leaving trails of fire in the process. Fox then leaped high above Xemnas, who was now in the middle of an insignia of a blazing star Fox created moments ago. Fox then charged up his body with flames like he has never done before as Xemnas simply watched without trying to get away. "FIRE STARFOX!"

Xemnas smirked as Fox flew down towards him while being engulfed in a humongous flame.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!

Meanwhile…

The Andrew mech slowly, but furiously regained it's composure as it slammed it's arm repeatedly on the water beside him. "Ah! This is not over yet!" Andrew yelled as the mech winded up his fist. "Andrew punch!" The mech thrusted it's arm towards the Thousand Sunny.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired his demon shells at the incoming fist as the soldiers onboard steered out of harms way. The Thousand Sunny activated it's paddle wheels again as it quickly steered towards the mech's side. "Fire the cannons!" Franky ordered as the ship fired cannonballs at the mech's side.

"Annoying bugs!" Andrew yelled as the mech swung his arm hard, creating a strong gust that knocked cannonballs back towards the ship. Most of them exploded around it, while some of them exploded on the side. "Take that, you hooligan!" Andrew yelled as the mech faced towards the ship, and charged after it while pulling it's right arm back.

"Sheesh! You hurting my ship again!" Franky yelled as he ran towards the helm, and steered the ship hard to the right while it was still using it's paddle wheels to move forward. The ship avoided the fist in time as Franky then steered the ship around it before jumping onto side ledge of the ship, "FRESH FIRE!" Franky breathed out a stream of fire, engulfing part of the left side of the fist. The mech quickly pulled back it's arm, and shook his hand repeatedly to die off the flames on it. Franky then ran to the back of the ship with several planks of wood on his right shoulder, and holding some nails with his teeth. "I'm going to get you! FRANKY SKYWALK!"

Franky then started making a set of stairs in such an incredible pace. He escalated right towards the mech's face as Andrew was baffled by this. "What a moron! Destroy the stairs!" He commanded. The mech swung his arm, and destroyed the steps Franky made seconds ago, causing the whole staircase to fall apart.

"No problem; I'm already close enough!" Franky yelled as he jumped off the staircase, and flew towards the mech's face while removing the skin off his right hand, "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched the mech's forehead with great force, causing it to faze back several feet. Andrew nearly fell off his chair due to that force as he saw Franky beginning to fall, "1.0 COLA HOU COUP DE BOO!" Franky inflated his butt, and let's out a big fart that sended him flying diagonally upwards towards the mech's right side of it's face, "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, and grabbed the end of the mech's left side of it's face, allowing Franky to swing right ontop of the mech's head.

"FRANKY BOXING!" Franky punched the top of the mech's head repeatedly, but no matter how strong his attack was, it didn't leave a dent on it. From inside, Andrew and his pilots covered their ears from the loud banging Franky is causing with his punches.

"It doesn't matter how strong he is; the head is the strongest part of this mech! He won't leave a dent on it with his fists alone!" Andrew said proudly. Franky then stopped pounding on the head as he came up with an idea. He took in a deep breath before yelling out something.

"BALL-LESS HHHHOOOORRRRRSSEEEE FAAAAACEEEEE!"

Everyone inside the mech gawked hearing what Franky just yelled. This also caused several vains to pop out of Andrew's forehead as he looked very pissed off. "WHY THAT STUPID LITTLE… GRRRRR, HIT HIM HARD!" The mech raised it's arm, and was about to punch Franky off it's head. Franky laughed as he jumped off, while the mech accidentally hits himself hard on the head, leaving a big dent as some sparks flew out of it. Inside, everyone panicked as Andrew fell off his seat after what just happened. "Oh… he tricked me! He'll pay!"

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, and grabbed onto the ledge of the mech's left arm. He swung himself under it, and landed above the arm before reeling his arm back in place. "I need to destroy this thing!" Franky said while running towards the hand. Before he could get to it, the mech swung his right arm, and grabbed Franky. "Guah!" The mech raised it's arm in front of it's face as Andrew laughed triumphantly.

"Eyah ha ha ha! I'll squish you like a bug!" Andrew yelled as the mech's arm closed in on Franky, squishing him in the process.

"Sir!" Everyone on the Thousand Sunny were worried as the mech was about to close it's hand, but Franky mustered what left of his cola power to push back the fingers. Andrew frowned as Franky opened up his left wrist.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired some blasts at the fists, causing it to momentarily open up it's palm. Franky then fired at the mech's eyes, blinding it's view as everyone inside couldn't see what was happening. "HEN TAI! FRANKY KENTAROUS!" Franky jumped up as the front side of his legs split open as it moved forwardly into position. Franky then landed on the mech's palm as his legs held on it tightly to prevent himself from falling off. He then charged up his steel fist with remaining cola power he had left as his hair fell out of form. "ULTIMATE HAMMER!" Franky punched the center of the mech's palm hard. In fact, he punched it so hard, that the mech's arm exploded from the inside.

"Emperor Oikonny, we just lost function of the right arm! It will take several minutes to reboot it!" Cried one of Andrew's pilot. Andrew placed his hands on his head in shock.

"How is it possible that we are losing!" Andrew asked furiously.

Franky legs then turned back to normal as Franky whistled loudly for his team to pick him up before diving into the ocean. The Thousand Sunny paddled towards Franky as the soldiers sent down a rope ladder for Franky to pull himself back onboard. Franky fell on deck as the soldiers checked to see if he was alright.

"Cola, now!" Franky ordered. The soldiers quickly gave him some cola to refuel himself as his hair went back to it's original form, "Ahh… that's good." Franky said while getting up, he turned around to see the arm he just destroyed. "Heh heh! One down!"

Meanwhile…

"Bweh heh heh heh heh heh! Bweh heh heh heh heh!"

Back in Titania, things weren't looking so bright for the Starwolf team. Pigma was flying around them in his ship, while Leon and Panther tried shooting him down with their blasters but to no avail. Wolf was still laying on the same spot where he landed right after he lost against Luffy as he, and his team were not in full conditions to fight.

"Dammit, Pigma… Oikonny put you up to this, didn't he?" Wolf asked.

"Bweh heh heh! That's right, my old friend!" Pigma replied, "Don't think I'm enjoying this, though, it's hard for me to kill off some old buddies of my mine just for a couple of bucks." He then smirked, "But since we're big loads of cash here, I could give a damn about you guys! Bweh heh heh heh heh!"

Pigma continued flying around the trio, while Leon and Panther continued to have a hard time trying to shoot him down. "Tsk! If only I wasn't in pain right now!" Leon muttered while holding some of his wounds, "How the hell are you still alive, Pigma! I thought you died years ago!"

"No point in telling that story since your about to die! Bweh heh!" Pigma laughed, "I should thank those guys you got handed down earlier for doing the dirty work for me! I'd knew I would be so rich without even working hard for it! I just can't believe you lost against that brat, Wolf! You must've gone soft over the years! Bweh heh heh heh!"

Wolf remained silent, and frowned upon that remark. He wanted to attack Pigma, but was too injured to even move.

It was during the same time that Falco flew into Titania's atmosphere as Nami looked through the windshield to see Starwolf in trouble. "What's going on down there! Are they under attack?"

"That's Pigma!" Falco said, "So this is where he was! I don't know if I should be happy or pissed that you dragged me here now!"

"Oi, take me down there right now!" Nami demanded, "Don't you dare leave me here in this planet! I want you wait here until I am done what I have to do here!"

"What!" Falco asked, "Pigma is down there! I need to-"

"JUST DROP ME OFF!" Nami yelled at the top of her lungs. Falco was irritated, but shrugged it off.

"You asked for it! Watch your step!" Falco said. Nami blinked in confusion as Falco turned his ship upside down, and opened the cockpit windshields. This was a bad thing for Nami since she didn't had a seatbelt on.

"I DIDN'T MEAN IT LIKE THIS! WAAAAAAAAAAAAAHH!" Nami fell off the arwing, and fell all the way down towards the desert.

Pigma then flew his ship in front of the Starwolf team, and teased them by firing some small shots that knocked Leon and Panther off balance as they fell back on the sand beside Wolf. Pigma laughed as he flew turned his ship in front of the team as it's boosters faced downwards in order for it stay afloat.

"Ohoho, boy; I hadn't had so much fun with you guys in years! I'm glad we've been catching up ever since you threw me out." Pigma said.

"You are cowardly man!" Panther yelled, "To attack a man after a hard fought battle is the lowest thing anyone would ever do!"

"Thank you! I feel so touched hearing you say that!" Pigma said gratefully, "Playtime's over, I'm afraid, so let's end this with a bang!" Pigma's ship then started to tranform into a rusty old robot, with mechanical arms and legs, and the body forming underneath the cockpit. The boosters positioned itself on the robot's back as the cockpit turned out to be the head as Pigma laughed proudly, "Behold, the Pigmona! This work of art will destroy the three of you!"

"You think that piece of junk is going to kill us! It looks like it's about to fall apart!" Leon yelled.

"That's why it's perfect to kill you off with!" Pigma explained while he made Pigmona aim at the trio with it's left arm cannon, "What's worse than dying by something they think is worthless? Bweh heh! Bye, bye, Wolf!" Pigmona was about to fire at the trio until…

BAM!

Nami landed on Pigma's cockpit with her rear, fracturing the glass a bit as Pigmona nearly lost it's balance. "Whoa, whoa!" As Pigma tried to regain the balance of his poorly designed mech, Nami fell on the sand in front of it in pain.

"Ow! That hurt! That stupid bird is going to pay for this!" Nami muttered while rubbing her butt. "Huh?" She then looked up, and noticed the Starwolf team, who were surprised to see Nami again.

"N-Nami! You came back!" Panther exclaimed happily, but sooned groaned in pain due to his wounds. Leon wasn't so happy to see her as he simply looked away out of irritance. Wolf, on the other hand, lowered his head to notice Nami.

"Tsk! You came back to mock me? Get outta here…" Wolf looked away angrily as Nami got on her feet.

"Wolf, I didn't come here to join you! I came here so I can give you a piece of my mind!" Nami replied angrily.

"Ergh… that was a cheap shot…" Pigma said as his mech, Pigmona, regained it's balance. "Huh?" He noticed Nami as he then smirked, "Hey, weren't you with that boy who defeated Wolf earlier? What's someone like you doing back here?"

Nami frowned, and glanced at Pigma over her shoulder with an icy stare, "Shut up." She said sternly.

"Whoa! That's cold…" Pigma said in shock. He then saw Nami looking back at the Starwolf, which made him angry, "Hey, I'm not done talking to you! You're in my way, you know!"

"Didn't I just tell you to shut up?" Nami asked without turning back, "It's awfully rude to interrupt someone when they are trying to do something."

"That's what you did to me just now!" Pigma exclaimed. He was then getting angrier, "Look, if you're just going to stand there, I'll shoot you down too! I want to be rich already!" Pigmona then fired a cannon blast at Nami, and exploded upon impact.

"NAMI!" Panther cried. Pigma smiled, but it soon faded as he saw that Nami was nowhere in sight.

"CLOUDY TEMPO!" From out of nowhere, a dark cloud appeared ontop of Pigma, and his mech. Nami was standing on a sandy cliff after using a mirage tempo to escape the blast as she already had her PCT out, "The weather is rainy! RAIN TEMPO!" Nami threw a cool ball at the cloud, causing it to rain water on the Pigma's mech.

"What is this!" Pigma asked while his mech was getting wet.

"THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami charged up her PCT with electricity, and charged at Pigma while spinning the end of her weapon like a flail, "SWING ARM!" Nami swunged her PCT at Pigmona, electrifying it and Pigma as it staggered back.

"Gorgh!" Pigma cried as he then noticed several heat balls and cool balls flying above him, and forming a thundercloud. "Another rain cloud!"

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunderball at the cloud, causing it to unleash a thunderstorm upon Pigma, electrifying him even more. Pigma cried in pain again as his mech staggered back even more. Leon and Panther were amazed at how Nami was handling things.

"Incredible… how does she do that?" Leon asked.

"Her strength reflects on her beauty!" Panther said romantically, "It's no surpise she'd be this strong!"

Wolf simply watched with an emotionless look as Pigma was panting heavily. He noticed that he was inches away from falling into the big hole of former underground base as he then nervously looked at Nami, noticing how angry she looked, "W-Wait, just hold on a second!" Pigma cried, "I can make this worthwhile for you! You see, I am promised to obtain a fortune if I kill those guys! I am willing to share atleast 40 percent of the amount with you if you spare my life!"

"… This is more important than money." Nami said while connecting her PCT back together, "And more importantly, I always get the bigger cut! If you intend to bribe me, you are going to have to do better than that!" The end of her PCT started emitting electricity.

"No wait, please! My ship can take more of this!" Pigma begged. He then turned aroun to see a dark electrical cloud behind him, "Not another one! I can't take it! Wait!"

"THUNDER LANCE TEMPO!" The electricity from the cloud shot through Pigma's mech, and into Nami's PCT. The electricity was incredibly painful to both the mech, and Pigma. It was so devestating, that the mech lost it's balance, and fell into the big hole behind it.

"NO! IT CAN'T END LIKE THIS!… I WANT MY MONEYYYY!" Pigma cried as he fell deeper and deeper into the hole until crashed into the bottom before exploding into bits.

Pigma was gone as Nami turned away, and walked towards the Starwolf team. "Huh! You managed to beat him." Leon said as he then smirked, "Is that why you came back? Just so you can insult us by saving us?"

"Don't listen to him, Nami! You're were absolutely wonderful! I couldn't have done it better myself!" Panther exclaimed happily. Nami ignored the both of them, and walked up to Wolf, who was still laying on the ground. She looked down at him as Wolf raised an eyebrow.

"What?" Wolf asked sternly. Nami squinted her eyes as she raised up her PCT, and brought it down between Wolf's legs, hitting him in you-know-where.

BAM!

"Ugh!" Leon and Panther gasped as they saw Wolf's jaw dropping.

"OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHHH
HHHHHHHH HHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHHH!"

Wolf cringed in pain as he held his private parts while curling himself into a ball while getting on his left side.

"Have you gone mad, woman!" Leon asked Nami.

"N-N-Nami, I know he has done terrible things to you, but this is going over the line!" Panther said while shivering from Wolf's pain.

As Wolf tried to recuperate, Nami pointed her PCT at him.

"You will listen to what I have to say!" Nami said sternly, "If you ignore me, I will hit you 'there' again!"

Wolf was silent, but didn't argue for what he has been told to do. He listened carefully to what Nami was about to say, "I had such a terrible time with you! Ever since you kidnapped me, you've been threatening me, annoying me constantly, and worst of all; you have been giving me orders! I was sick of that! I wanted to get back to my comrades as quickly as possible, but not because I wanted to get away from you, but because I wanted to be back with my family!"

Nami then puts her PCT away, "You used me just so you could get to Luffy, and tell him that he is posing as a captain. Well, let me say this; that's a load of crap!" Nami yelled as she pointed at Wolf, "You don't know anything about us! You have no right to talk to Luffy that way! Sure, he might not have the intelligence of a leader, but he knows how to act like one when he needs to be! He may not be important to you, but he has done so much for me and my friends during our time of need! Nobody paid or forced him to help us, but he helped us out anyway! That's why we will follow him to the end, and that's why he will always be a better leader than you!"

Wolf noticed Nami was trying not to cry as he then saw her pointing up at the sky behind her, "You know what he is doing now! He's fighting! That's right! After everything he went through to save me, he placed his life on the line again to stop what's trying to destroy the lives of billions of people! And we are fighting alongside him even if it means losing our lives! Don't you understand! He is not an ordinary leader; he is the best one ever! And that's something a regular leader like you would never understand!"

Nami panted heavily after her speech as she wiped the tears off her eyes. "Nami…" Panther, even Leon was astounded by Nami's words. Wolf, however, didn't seem like he cared. It was hard for Nami to tell how Wolf was feeling since the light was shading over his eyes. This caused her to clench her hand into fist as Falco then landed his arwing behind her.

"Sheesh… that was quick." Falco said while opening the cockpit, "Hey, are you done! Let's get going; They need us out there!"

Nami looked down at Wolf for a while before turning her back to him, "I wasn't trying to change your mind about Luffy. I only came here to say what I wanted to say to you. Whether you think I said was true or not, I could care less." Nami then looked over her shoulder, "I hope this is the last time we see eachother; I don't want to see you ever again."

Nami then walked away. Wolf, and the gang watched her enter Falco's cockpit before closed as Falco flew his arwing out of Titania's atmosphere. Leon and Panther then looked at Wolf, who sat up while thinking deeply what Nami said to him. Unknown to them, Dimentio saw the whole event took place on a cliff far away from the trio.

"Such touching words… it almost made me cry." Dimentio said optimistically. He then looked up at the stars, "It seems like Xemnas-kun is done. It's time to take my leave. Ah ha ha ha!" A blurry square then appeared as Dimentio walked into it before it disappeared into thin air, leaving Titania in the process.

Wolf looked down at the sand, until he then noticed something on his left side. It was Luffy's straw hat, which was half buried in a small sandhill next to him. "The best, huh…?"

Meanwhile…

"Gergh… Gah!" Zoro tried to stand up, but his wounds were too hard for him withstand. Tricky, and the Earthwalkers were worried as Scales laughed while approaching Zoro from behind.

"You have reached your limit!" Scales said with a smirk, "Your efforts to defeat me were meaningless from the start! Victory is almost mine!"

As Scales stood behind Zoro, Tricky have seen enough, "Everyone, we have to help Zoro!" Tricky yelled to his kind.

"NO! BACK OFF!" Zoro yelled in response. Everyone watched Zoro groggily getting up on his feet as he panted heavily afterwards, "This is my fight… don't interfere! I can still win this…"

"Zoro, you can't fight with those wounds anymore!" Tricky said, "We already have this war won! Just let us take care of Scales from here!"

"I will kill anyone who interrupts my battle, so back off!" Zoro replied as he then faced towards Scales, "I can.. eh.. still fight!" The Earthwalkers were amazed at Zoro's determination to win, including the Sharpclaw.

"I can't believe this guy. Can't he accept defeat already?" Asked a sharpclaw.

"I don't know… but he is still standing after all he is been through so far. I don't think even the General could even stand if he was in that guy's position…"

"Ha ha ha ha ha! You have become so pathetic, little human!" Scales mocked, "Are you so numb from your injuries, that you cannot feel your fear of me? I am truly the rightful ruler of this world that will bring fear to all who oppose me! Afterall, fear is good! Without fear, this world cannot be controlled. I will bring this world into balance since nothing can stop the great General Scales!" Scales raised his sabre, and brought it down at Zoro.

"Zoro!" Tricky cried.

CLASH!

"What the!" Scales attack was blocked by Zoro, who was pushing back Scales sabre with his swords.

"Even though you are annoyingly weak, I have to agree that fear is sometimes good." Zoro stated, "Without it, I wouldn't be the man I am today." Zoro then pushed away Scales before getting into his stance, "However, I still can't let you get the best out of me. I will beat you, and remain alive until after I become the greatest swordsman ever! Prepare yourself, Scales!"

"Ergh… I don't care of your intentions!" Scales yelled as he charged at Zoro, "One more hit, and that will be the end for you, and your pathetic life! HOOK BREAK!" Scales lowered his hook down at Zoro, who quickly jumped back to avoid the dreadful slash.

Zoro took a deep breath before exhaling the air out, "ICHI GORILLA!" His left arm muscles grew bigger, "NI GORILLA!" His right arm muscles grew bigger. He then crossed his swords above his head as Scales leaped towards with jumping slash, "NIGORI ZAKE!" Zoro swunged both of his swords at Scales, who parried with his sabre and hook, but Zoro's attack was so strong, that it sended Scales flying, and crashing back up against the pyramid wall.

"Ugh!" Scales cried as he then got up, "HOOK DRIVER!" Scales drove his hook across the ground, creating shockwaves that headed towards Zoro. Zoro dodged them by sidejumping as he then charged at Scales, who instantly tried to cut Zoro in half with his sabre, "Die!"

Zoro avoided the downward slash, and placed his swords around Scales neck while his head was still lowered, "GAZAMI DORI!" Scales quickly pulled his head back as Zoro nearly could cut it off. Scales then countered with a tail whip, which Zoro backflipped to avoid, but immediately fell on his knees due to his wound again. "Ugh…"

"I got you now!" Scales raised his sabre, and brought it down at Zoro.

"TORA GARI!" Zoro raised his swords, and slashed at Scales, leaving two cuts on his chest. Scales gritted his teeth in agony as he staggered back, while Zoro instantly ducked in front of him, "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro spinned around with his swords, creating a tornado of cutting waves that knocked Scales off into the air. Zoro jumped after Scales, who instantly retaliated with a downward slash of his sabre, which Zoro parried with his swords, but the force knocked him back to the ground. Fortunately, Zoro landed on his feet as Scales landed on top of the pyramid.

"Grr! SCALES SLASH!" Scales leaped from ontop of the pryamid with his sabre raised above his head, and headed down towards Zoro.

Zoro ran up the pyramid, and leaped towards Scales as they were about to make impact, "KARASUMA GARI!" Zoro performs a multiple flying slash at Scales at the same time Scales brought his sabre down at him. They went past eachother as they both seemed emotionless for several seconds.

SLASH!

"GRRRR!" Scales reacted upon getting slashed hard as he went crash down to the ground below. Zoro landed on the pyramid wall, and slid down to get back on the ground. He watched as Scales was struggling to get back up. He held his sabre tightly as he faced towards Zoro, "I will not give up that easily! Yahhh!"

Scales charged at Zoro, who pointed his swords at him, "GYUUKI YUUZEME!" Zoro then lunged forward, and hits Scales with a great impact of his swords. Scales tumbled backwards until he crashed into a tree around a corner. Scales panted heavily as he was now frusterated at Zoro. He then frowned as he got up, and pulled the tree off the ground before swinging at Zoro behind him. "Ha!" Zoro jumped to avoid the tree, and ran across it before leaping above Scales upside-down. "TOU ROU NAGASHI!" Zoro delivered multiple slashes across Scales' body before landing on the ground.

"Guah!" Scales coughed up blood as he fell on his knees. Despite this, he got up, and tried to attack Zoro again with his hook, but missed as Zoro got in front of him while positioning the bottom hilts of his blade towards him.

"NITORYU: TSUCHI-HOKOUSHA GORATEKKUSU!" Zoro hits Scales in the gut with the bottom hilts of his blade, creating an invisible force that sended Scales flying.

"GUUUUUUGHH!"

CRASH!

Scales crashed into the pyramid wall, leaving a big crack on it as Scales was left out of breath. His army watched in awe as they know that their general can't fight anymore. "Scales… has lost." A Sharpclaw said. They then grew shock as they saw Scales slowly getting back up again. "Wait, don't do it! You'll die!"

"Shut up!" Scales yelled. He took one step forward, but he didn't had the strength to go on as he collapsed forwardly. His army looked at him sadly as they saw him barely getting up on his knees. Scales took one look at Zoro, but once he did, he felt a chill going down his spine. Just by looking at him made him feel… scared. "Ah! Hergh…" Scales couldn't hide it; he was scared of Zoro now, and his army noticed it. They looked at him in disbelief as Scales then looked at them back angrily. "Don't just stand there! Go after Tricky!"

His army blinked in surprise hearing that, "If you go after Tricky like last time, I can win this fight! Our victory is at hand here! If you attack Tricky, this human will have no choice but to surrender! Now, hurry up, and get that fool of a king!" Scales demanded. But for a strange reason, his army hesitated to follow his orders. Scales eyes widened in anger upon this, "What's wrong! Do it already! Attack Tricky! It is the only way we can win! Do it right now!" He saw that his army was still hesitating, "You fools… how dare you defy me! Go attack Tricky now, or I'll kill you where you stand!"

After hearing that, the Sharpclaw army heard enough. They dropped their weapons, and began to take their leave, shocking everyone, including Scales the most. "Where are you going! You can't leave! You have nowhere else to go!" Scales yelled, but to get no response, "You ungrateful fools! I was the one who raised you all from being neglected from other tribes! We were suppose to conquer this world, not be afraid of it! You'll never get anywhere without me! You hear me!" His cries were left in vain as the Sharpclaw have left the Walled City.

"They don't want to follow you anymore." Zoro said, "You showed fear… and you begged for help. You should've accepted your defeat in your condition. I would have left too if my captain was a pathetic as you…"

Scales gritted his teeth, "… You are in no position to say that to me! I am the king of this planet! I will rule it all! All hail General Scales!" Scales mustered up the remaining energy he had left to go after Zoro, who sheathed two of his swords before grabbing the one he was holding with his teeth.

"ITTORYU IAI:…" Zoro sheathed the sword he was holding as he placed his hand around the hilt as Scales was getting closer, "SHISHI SONSON!" In a blink of an eye, Zoro slashed through Scales, leaving a huge a cut on his chest before sheathing his sword again.

"Ahh!" Scales began to collapse again, "… All… hail… General… Scales!" And with that said, Scales collapsed. Zoro has won the battle.

Meanwhile…

The Thousand Sunny paddled in circles around the Andrew mech as it shot cannonballs at it in the process. The mech couldn't do much since it only had one arm left. "We're almost there, bros! Keep firing!" Franky exclaimed. As the ship continued it's assault, Andrew was completely frusterated by all this.

"It's just a stupid ship… so why I am losing against it!" Andrew asked as he then got up from his chair, "I don't care what happens; destroy that ship now!"

The Andrew mech pulled back it's left arm, and swunged it towards the the Thousand Sunny from it's back side. "PADDLE SUNNY!" the ship accelerated, moving the ship out of harms way as the Andrew mech started pounding it's arm on the water surface. Franky turned around to see the Andrew mech gaining up to his ship from the rear. "Brace yourselves!" Franky yelled as the Andrew mech pounded it's arm on the ocean surface, creating a humongous wave that was about to level the ship. Franky used all his strength to turn the helm to the side as the ship was moving towards the right as fast as it could. Before he knew it, he managed to get out of the wave's direction in time.

"Got ya!" Andrew yelled as the mech appeared from the left side of the Thousand Sunny, and swunged it's arm towards the ship's frontal side.

"COUP DE BURST!" The Thousand Sunny activated it's booster, making it fly over the mech's attacking arm, and into the air. However, Andrew planned this from the start as his mech pulled back it's arm, and was about to slap the ship diagonally downward to the water. "Oi, you guys in the engine room! Bring all the cola power to the mane; We are going to blow that arm away!"

"Yes sir!" The soldiers inside the engine transferred the cola power to the front of the ship with a pull of lever. The figurehead opened it's mouth as cannon sticked out of it. The tip of the cannon was growing red from the massive cola power it was gathering as everyone onboard the ship held on tight for what is about to happen next. "OOOWW! TAKE THIS! SUPAAA GAON CANNON!"

BOOOOOOOOOM!

The figurehead fired a super powerful current of air that completely the mech's left hand into pieces. However, the cannon was so powerful, that it sended the Thousand Sunny flying backwards like a rocket as it crashlanded onto the water surface many meters away from the mech afterwards. Everyone onboard the ship was alright as Franky placed his hand over his eyes to take a good look at his opponent. "Did that stop him…?" He asked.

From inside the mech, Andrew had his head lowered until he then smirked wickedly before laughing, "EYAH HA HA HA HA HA HA! Is that all you fools have got! I am the only true heir of my uncle, Andross! You can't stop me even if you wanted to! And I think it's now time to end our little relationship! PREPARE TO DIE!"

The mech then opened it's mouth as red sphere of energy was slowly being formed in front of it. The sphere grew bigger and bigger over time as Franky was getting a little worried, "Shoot… Horseface has gone insane this time…" Franky said.

"Sir, we don't have enough fuel to fight much longer! What do we do!" Asked a soldier. Franky rubbed his chin while thinking, until he remembered something.

"Oi, tell the guys in the engine room to use the red barrels! We are going to finish that thing off in one shot!" Franky yelled. The soldier nodded before he went to do what was instructed to him as Franky faced forward, "Those barrels contain the soda that lame cook from Dreamland made for me the other day. When I used them, I felt such great power. I don't know what it will do to the ship, but it's all we got now! Tsk! It's now or never!"

The soldiers in the engine room carefully placed the red barrels into engine. "There we go… huh?" As soon as they did, though, the entire ship was starting to glow faintly red. Before they know it, the entire ship was covered in a blazing amount of energy, which made Franky smirk.

"Ha ha… you like this, huh, Sunny?" Franky asked the ship, "Let's tear that thing up into smithereens! Ow! Let's gooo!" The Thousand Sunny was going atleast three times faster than it did before as it headed straight towards the mech. The mech already formed a huge sphere of energy from it's mouth as it was about to fire it on the ship.

"NOW! FIRE!" Andrew demanded. The mech fired a humongous beam at the ship.

"THAT WON'T STOP US! COUP DE BURST!" The ship bursted into the skies, and hits the mech's laser beam head on. Andrew laughed upon seeing that, but his amusement didn't last long as the ship was actually going through the beam thanks to the energy around it.

"Wha… wha… WHAT!" Andrew gasped as the mech's control room was losing power due to firing the laser over a period amount of time. The pilots were panicking as Andrew fell on his knees in disbelief, "It's just a stupid ship… it can't beat me… IT CAN'T BEAT ME!"

Franky could hear Andrew's cry as he then smirked, "You know something, bro! You're dead wrong… again! A ship is only as strong as their makers! You cannot just make something so powerful that you can't control it! You have to be one with it in order to surpass every obstacle! And now, Horseface, it's time to show you the life of the Thousand Sunny!"

The ship continued to fly towards the mech like a rocket as the energy around the ship was forming into something. Andrew's eyes widened within each second as the energy around the ship formed into a form of spiritual lion, which was three times as big as Andrew's mech. Andrew was at a lost of words as Franky did his victory pose.

"SUUUUPAAA! Now it's time that we end our relationship in my own fashion! Go! SUNNY DE LION!"

The spiritual lion opened it's mouth, and swallowed the mech whole, bursting it into flames. From inside, everyone was running around in circles, yelling how hot it was as Andrew stopped crying once he saw the Thousand Sunny was about to crash through his mech.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHH HHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHHHH!"

CRAAAAAASSSSSSHHHHH!

The Thousand Sunny teared right through the center of the mech's face, leaving a big hole on it before the ship landed back on the ocean floor. The ship's energy then disappeared, while the mech was then short circuiting as it could no longer stay afloat.

KAAAABOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOMM!

The mech exploded several times before it's remains fell over the ocean. Andrew and his pilots could be seen flying across the sky before landing right into the water.

"Buah!" Andrew was the first to emerge from the water as he frantically moved his arms, "Help! I am going to drown! Someone save me!" Andrew then saw the Thousand Sunny in front of him, and noticed a rope from it's side. He quickly swam towards the rope ladder, and pulled himself up before pulling himself up on the side ledge of the ship. He panted a little while until someone stepped on his hand. "OOOWWW!" Andrew cried. He looked up to see Franky smirking down at him.

"Well, well, well… what do we have here?" Franky asked while putting his sunglasses on his forehead. Andrew had a horrified look as Franky just laughed at his misery.

Meanwhile…

Back in outer space, things were getting really rough between Luffy and Andross. Andross was panting heavily while some of his blood was flowing down from his mouth. He wiped the blood off his lips to look at it as he looked dumbfounded, and shock over something.

"You…" He snarled as he looked through some asteroids, "What exactly are you!

He was talking to Luffy, who was standing on a asteroid while having his right hand placed on right knee. "Heh… heh… what's wrong? I'm just getting started!" Luffy replied.

He appeared a little exhausted; not only by the battle, but by something really REALLY big that was behind him.

Chapter 114: A blast from the past!, Where we go from here…

Several minutes ago…

Luffy jumped onto the asteroid behind him right before Andross smashed the asteroid Luffy stood on seconds ago. Luffy then ran to the right before stretching his leg to the side.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy swung his stretched leg towards Andross' head. Andross simply raised his left hand, easily blocking Luffy's attacking leg as Luffy almost lost his balance because of that.

"This is ridiculous!" Andross yelled as he swung his fist towards Luffy. Luffy inflated his body to soften the blow, but it didn't help much as Andross punched him hard towards an asteroid towards an asteroid behind him.

CRASH!

Luffy crashed into the asteroid, creating a small crater as Andross smirked, "Hmph! What a fool." Andross mocked. "Hmm?" He then noticed Luffy getting up while rubbing his head dazedly.

"Ow… that actually hurt." Luffy said as he then looked at Andross, "But it's going to take more than that to beat me!"

"That blow should have done more than just hurt you…" Andross said with a curious look while frowning, "How is it that you are still standing? No normal creature could have survived that!"

"Easy! I'm a rubberman!" Luffy explained as he then pulled his cheeks, "I can do anything no normal guy can do!"

"A rubberman?" Andross said curiously, "I have never heard of such thing!" Andross then pulled back his hand, "It matters less to me what you are; you will still die under my hands!" Andross swunged his fist towards Luffy again. Luffy quickly jumped onto an asteroid nearby as Andross destroyed the asteroid Luffy jumped off earlier. This went on for several seconds until Andross opened up his right hand, and swung it towards Luffy's direction.

"Whoa!" Luffy somehow jumped over the incoming palm as he then pulled his arm back, "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm towards Andross' face, but Andross blocked with the back of his humongous left hand.

"Yragh!" Andross then raised his left hand, and karate chopped the asteroid Luffy was on in half. Luffy nearly lost his balance, but managed to recover as he then stretched his arm towards of an asteroid above him, and pulled himself up on it. Andross looked up towards him, and swung his fist at Luffy again, only to miss as Luffy jumped off the asteroid, and stretched his arms to grab some strains of Andross' hair.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself towards Andross, and crashed into Andross's forehead. Andross grunted as he then swapped Luffy off his forehead, but Luffy was still holding onto Andross hair as his arms stretched in the process. "GOMU GOMU NO MISSILE!" Luffy sprung back towards the side of Andross' head, and double kicked Andross cheek hard to create a mild shockforce.

"Grr!" Andross retaliated with a downward slam from his left hand, knocking Luffy right off him as Luffy crashed into an asteroid below. "I'll crush you!" Andross yelled as Luffy dazedly got up as before seeing Andross was about to punch him again.

POW!

"Whoa! Whoa!" Luffy spiraled backwards before crashing into an asteroid that was a bit distant from where Andross was. Luffy then got up, and stretched his arms to grab the ledge of the asteroid while facing towards Andross. "GOMU GOMU NO MARUNOKO!" Luffy sprung himself forward while curling into a ball, and doing several front flips as he headed towards Andross. Andross covered his face with his right hand as Luffy stopped flipping, and gave Andross right hand a devastating headbutt, which somewhat injured Andross.

"You're strong for your size, but that's not enough!" Andross as he then backslapped Luffy with his right hand. As soon as he did, though, Luffy quickly stretched his arms to grab the back part Andross' index finger. "Hmm!" Luffy swung around the back of Andross head while his arm stretched even longer as he then landed on the back of Andross left hand. Andross saw, and tried squishing Luffy with his right hand, but missed as he hits own left hand instead. "Ah!" Andross cried while Luffy sprung himself back around the back of Andross head, and ended up heading in front of his face as Luffy lets go of Andross' index finger before stretching his arms back.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his palms, and hits Andross between the eyes with a great impact. Andross felt as if he was stung by a bee as Luffy jumped off of him, and tried to get on an asteroid behind himself.

"How dare you!" Andross yelled as he then opened his mouth, and started inhale almost everything in front of him.

"What the! Yah! Wah!" Luffy was nearly about to get on the asteroid, but Andross' inhaling power blew him back as he got sucked up inside Andross' mouth. "Ew! Oww! OWW!" Andross was now chewing Luffy without stop, but Andross was having trouble to stop.

"He's too chewy…" Andross commented while chewing. Then out of sheer desperation, Luffy stretched his arms out of Andross' mouth, and brought them back as he slammed his palms into Andross' upper lip. "OOH!" Andross cried as Luffy took the chance to get out his mouth, and land on an asteroid nearby.

"Ew, monkey drool! It's so gross!" Luffy cried while trying to get rid of Andross' drool off his clothes and body. He stopped crying as he soon realized that Andross was about to eat him again. "Yikes!" Luffy quickly jumped away as Andross took a big bite out of the big asteroid Luffy stood on just now. "That's how you want to play, huh!" Luffy asked as he then headed towards Andross' left hand, "GOMU GOMU NO BAKU BAKU!" Luffy opened his mouth wide as he could, and bit hard on Andross middle finger. Andross eyes widened in pain as he then tried to shake Luffy off his finger by shaking his hand up and down, but to no prevail. Luffy held on for a couple of more seconds until he let's go, and ends up above Andross head.

"GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy stretched his arm back while twisting it before thrusting it down on Andross head with great force. Andross gritted his teeth as he tried to catch Luffy above his head, but Luffy quickly stretched his arms up on asteroid above, and sprunged away from Andross' reach.

"METEOR SHOWER!" Andross faced upwards as he opened his mouth, and lets out multiple a shower of asteroids that headed towards Luffy's direction. As they came close, Luffy was starting to jump off the incoming asteroids while heading towards Andross. As he got closer, the more asteroids were starting to appear.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly punched all the asteroids that were in his way as he was slowly clearing the path. However, this took rather long as Luffy just noticed that Andross' hands closing in on him. "Eh!"

"I got you!" Andross yelled as he crushed Luffy like a sandwich. As Andross thought he won, he felt that Luffy was pushing his hands away from each other. Andross then applied all his strength into crushing Luffy, but that only separated his hands even more. Just when Luffy had enough room, he twisted his body around several times.

"GOMU GOMU NO HANABI!" Luffy untwisted his body, and punched his surroundings, hitting every single part of Andross' palms.

"AAHH!" Andross pulled away his hands as Luffy landed on asteroid beneath him, and stretched his arms to grab the end of Andross' beard.

"GOMU GOMU NO KAZAN!" Luffy sprunged himself towards the bottom of Andross, and stretched his leg upwards to kick Andross chin with great force. Andross cried as Luffy then stretched his arms to grab Andross' hair from behind his head. Luffy then swung himself from below Andross head, and swung up above it as Luffy repeatedly swung his arms back in forth in order for them to turn red. "GOMU GOMU NO CANNON!"

Luffy hits Andross hard on the head with his palms, which harmed Andross greatly as the force of the blow caused him to lower his head. "Damn you!" Andross then grabbed Luffy with his right hand, and tossed through three asteroids below before Luffy crashed onto the structure of the fourth one. Andross panted as he then rubbed his head, and looked at his hand he rubbed his with afterwards. There was his blood on it, signifying that his head must be bleeding. Andross then clenched his hand into a fist as he glared down at Luffy from a distance, "How dare you do this to me! You will die!"

Andross then faced his palm down, and fired out multiple rings of energy towards Luffy. Luffy groggily gets back on his feet as looked up to see the rings were about to hit him.

BOOM!

The rings exploded upon impact, destroying some asteroids around it. Andross smirked, but it was short lived, as he saw a blur jumping out of the explosion. He looked up to see that Luffy was still alive as he stood on an asteroid in front of Andross. "Persistent, aren't you!" Andross asked as he faced his palm towards Luffy while charging it with energy. Luffy leaped towards Andross as soon as he was about to fire.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg through Andross' fingers, and right into Andross' right eye.

"Gah!" Andross was shocked as he rubbed his eye with his right hand while accidentally firing some rings into some asteroids above him, destroying most of them into smaller pieces.

Luffy then jumped again, and stretched his legs while twisting them around each other to grab a big chunk of a destroyed asteroid above him. "GOMU GOMU NO SCREW!" Luffy brought down the chunk of the asteroid, and slammed it down on Andross' forehead.

"AAHHH!" Andross cried as Luffy landed on asteroid. Andross then gazed at him before trying to smash him with his palms. Luffy was running away as Andross was destroying the asteroids Luffy was jumping off of. Some of the chunks of the asteroids flew past Luffy, who noticed that two of them were pretty spikey. "YAAAAGHHH!" Andross was about to close his hands on Luffy again as Luffy grabbed the spikey chunks, and held one of them with his hands, and the other with his legs.

"Not this time! Hiya!" Luffy faced towards Andross left palm, and pierced the spikey chunk right into the center of it. He then did a handstand, and stretched his legs back to pierce the other chunk into the center of Andross' right palm.

"UWAAHHHH!" Andross cried in sheer pain as he brought his hands back, and was too hurt to use them for a couple of seconds, which was enough time for Luffy to do something he just came up with.

"GOMU GOMU NO TAKO!" Luffy inflated his head like a balloon, and then deflated, causing his arms to grow long and wobbly. Luffy then ran forward with his long, wobbly arms as Andross just barely noticed him coming, "GOMU GOMU NO TAKOHANABI!" Luffy thrusted his long arms, and repeatedly punched Andross in the face from a far distance. "YYYAAAAAHHHH!" Luffy punched and punched at every single part of Andross face without slowing down, and Andross was getting more irritated by the second.

"THAT'S IT! I HAD ENOUGH!" Andross replied. He swapped away Luffy's arms, causing Luffy to lose his balance as Andross clamped his fists together, and pounded Luffy through the asteroid he was standing on.

"GIYAAAAHH!" Luffy crashed to an asteroid below, adding more injuries besides the one he got from Wolf. Andross floated down towards Luffy's level, and smirked while panting.

"Ha… I must say, you are special." Andross said, "You are the only one who dared to face me in hand-to-hand combat… but that was pointless from the start." Andross then saw Luffy getting up, "There iss no way you could defeat me with pure strength alone. If you had a bigger fist, you may have a chance to beat me, but since you don't, then I will end your life here and now!"

Luffy then perked his head up as he just realized something upon what Andross just said to him, "Oh, that's right!" Luffy said while placing his fist on his palm, "I completely forgot about that! Thanks for reminding me that, old monkey head! Now I can do this alot easier!"

"What?" Andross asked while frowning.

Luffy then got into a stance as he stretched his left arm back. He then placed his thumb into his mouth, and bites the joint of it before taking a deep breath, and blowing all the into his right arm, which got bigger. Andross raised an eyebrow as Luffy's right arm was inflated like a balloon. "GEAR THIRD! HONE FUUSEN!"

"What are you doing?" Andross asked.

"I inflated my bones; making my body much bigger!" Luffy explained as he then transferred the air in his right arm through his body, and into his stretched left arm. Once all the air was transferred, his left arm was now as big as a giant's arm, and the fist was almost as big as Andross head. Luffy then charged towards Andross while dragging his giant arm behind him. "My fist will now break your face! Get ready, because here I come! GOMU GOMU NO…"

Despite Luffy's new form, Andross had his doubts about Luffy's arm, "It's impossible to inflate bones. It's just an inflated arm; it shouldn't-"

"GIGANT PISTOL!" Luffy brought his giant forward to Andross.

KAPOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOWWWWWWWWWWWWWWWW!

"GRAAAAAAAAGHHH!" Andross was punched hard in the left cheek as Luffy punched him through an asteroid bigger than Andross himself. The asteroid was broken into pieces as Andross was blown back while being stunned by Luffy's new power.

Meanwhile…

Chopper and Robin gazed at Kursed, who wasn't even breaking a sweat since the duel with the duo has started. "Hmm… tired already? Your weakness disgusts me…" Kursed mocked.

Chopper was in his arm point form as he faced his hooves towards Kursed while squatting, "Krystal… I'm sorry, but I need to do this to save you! Please, just don't fight back!" Chopper said. Kursed only smirked in response as Chopper then charged at her, "KOKUTEI CROSS!" Chopper thrusted his hooves at Kursed, who sidestepped to avoid, and countered with a devastating swing of her staff into Chopper's gut, "Ugh!"

Chopper crashed back into a wall as Kursed tried to finish him with a stab, but Robin quickly intervened by stopping Kursed's staff with her right hand, "VEINTE FLEUR, CALENDULA!" Robin sprouted several arms around her to original arms, making them form into shields as Robin tried to take the staff from Kursed's hands. Kursed frowned as she tried kicking Robin, but Robin used her shield of arms from getting kicked in the gut. Kursed then dropped down, and did a leg sweep, kicking Robin across the feet as she fell to her side. Kursed then brought back her staff, and tried to Robin, but Robin used her sprouted arms around her original arms to push the staff back.

"DIEZ FLEUR!" While pushing the staff back, Robin sprouted ten more arms out of Kursed's upper body. Kursed quickly retaliated by kicking Robin in the ribs several times, trying to force her to let go. "Eh… Chopper, now is your chance!"

Kursed then noticed Chopper getting up, and charged towards Kursed while she was almost binded in place, "KOKUTEI…" Chopper pulled back his hooves as he was about to strike Kursed, "Huh?" Chopper then realized that Kursed was crying.

"Chopper… help me…" Kursed cried.

"Krystal!" Chopper gasped while he stopped inches away from her as he believed that Krystal was turning back to normal, "Krystal, is it really you?"

"Chopper, don't believe her; it's a trick!" Robin warned, but it was too late. Kursed took the opportunity to kick Robin at the side of her face, forcing her to remove arms herself and Kursed. Chopper gasped as Kursed took hold of her staff again, and fired a fireball at Chopper in close range.

"GAAHH!" Chopper fell on his back with chest covered with burned marks. Kursed laughed for a bit, until Robin struck her from behind, and tried to bind her with by sprouting arms out of her body, but Kursed stopped her by getting up, and pushing her staff up against Robin's neck as Robin was then up against a wall. Chopper sat up in pain as he saw that Robin was getting choked to death. "Robin!" Chopper cried as he tried to help Robin, but the burned marks on his chest were too unbearable for him withstand as he couldn't get up.

"Agh!" Robin gasped for air as Kursed smirked upon reading her mind.

"So sad of your homeland, Ohara, to be destroyed so cruelly by your world government…" Kursed teased. Robin's eyes widened with shock upon hearing that, "But let's be honest; they all had it coming. Trying to read the Poneglyphs in order learn about the past was very foolish; what happened in the past stays in the past. Who cares what happened back then? It's because of those scholars that everyone in the island ended up dead, and ruined your life." Kursed's smirk then grew even wider, "Their blind search for knowledge destroyed everything you loved, so why do you even bother staying alive with your new family? They'll end up being killed anyway… just like the scholars… just like your mother… and just like that idiotic giant who took pity over your life!"

Robin was angry.

She kneed into Kursed's gut hard, causing her to stagger back. Before Kursed could retaliate, Robin gave her a strong kick across the face, causing Kursed to tumble backwards across the ground. The look in Robin's showed nothing but rage and hatred as she then crossed her limbs. "TREINTA FLEUR!" Thirty arms sprouted out of Kursed's body, forcing Kursed to stand on her knees as she couldn't escape. The arms slowly arched Kursed's body back as Robin tried to break her back.

"Robin, stop! You're going to kill her!" Chopper cried. Robin then looked shock as she realized what she was doing. She panted heavily, but kept the arms binding Kursed in place. Chopper panted as he turned into his Heavy point, and went over to Kursed before hugging her.

"Ah! Let go of me! I'll kill you all!" Kursed cried. Chopper continued hugging her as he started to cry a bit.

"Krystal… please come back!" Chopper pleaded, "I don't want to see you like this anymore! I want you turn back to the way you were! You were so nice and caring; we liked you because of that! Please… come back… !"

"AAAAAAGHHH!" Kursed yelled in anger as she somehow broke free of the arms around her, and knocked Chopper away from her. Chopper and Robin gasped as they could see a big dark aura emitting out of Kursed's body as Kursed's eyes were glowing purple. "Don't you dare touch me again! It's time that I kill you where you stand! CERINIAN CRY!" Kursed held her staff above her head horizontally, and spinned it around as one end was shooting out a big stream of ice, while the other was shooting out a big stream of fire. Chopper and Robin quickly grabbed Sanji, who was still unconcious, and brought him away from Kursed as she was damaging the structure around here. "I WILL KILL YOU!"

"Ergh… no! You won't stop me, Krystal!" Chopper yelled as he ran towards Kursed, despite the danger.

"Chopper!" Robin cried out as Chopper ran closer to Kursed while lowering himself to avoid the streams of fire and ice. As Chopper continued to get closer, the more hot and cold he felt. Chopper then fell on his knees as Kursed then stopped spinning her staff to bring down towards Chopper.

"DIE!" Kursed was about to hit Chopper with her staff, until Chopper turned into his original form, avoiding Kursed's attack as Chopper got underneath while turning into his Arm point.

"Please forgive me, Krystal! KOKUTEI ROSEO!" Chopper thrusted his hoove upward, and hits Kursed up across her jaw. Kursed cried in pain as Chopper's thrust was so strong, that the streams of fire and ice created by Kursed flew up towards Kursed, and knocked her into the air. This completely knocked her out as the black aura around her was coming out of her body, and exploded into tiny particles before Kursed crash landed on the floor.

"Krystal!" Chopper cried as he turned back to his original while Robin went to check on Kursed.

"She seems to be alright." Robin said, "She is just worn out…"

"Mmm… wha? What happened?" Kursed asked. Chopper went to check on her, and noticed that Kursed looked like Krystal again; the hateful look that she had before appeared to be gone now. "Chopper… is that you?"

"Krystal, you're alright!" Chopper cried in relief. "J-Just hold on; I'll go get Fox!" Chopper then ran to the side of the port as he looked down to see Fox and Xemnas still fighting. "Fox! Krystal is okay! She is back to normal again."

Fox did a leg sweep to Xemnas, who simply backflipped to avoid. Fox was about to attack again, until he realized what Chopper just said. "She is! Krystal is alright!" Fox asked while looking up at Chopper. His anger then disappeared; he felt so relieved hearing Krystal is alright as he gazed back at Xemnas, "Did you hear that! Krystal is back the way she was! That will teach you that you can't change people the way they are, especially when it comes to my friends!"

Xemnas was rather disappointed hearing that Krystal was back to normal, and yet, he didn't seem to care that much, "So what if she did; it's not like it will change anything." Xemnas said, "She only took one step back away from her true destiny. It would only be a matter of time before she acts violent again. And when she does, you will suffer. If I were in your position, I would've taken her life, and end a tragedy before it commences."

Fox was pissed hearing that. He pushed several buttons on his wrist communicator before jumping up high in the air, "LANDMASTER!" Suddenly, a landmaster formed up in the sky out of nowhere as Fox got into the cockpit before the landmaster fell to the bottom floor of the hangar.

"Wow!" Chopper said in awe as Xemnas raised an eyebrow upon seeing the landmaster in front of him. Fox aimed the turret towards Xemnas, and locked onto him as the turret charged up it's beam until it turned red.

"Hmph! Isn't this going over the top?" Xemnas asked while smirking.

"FULL POWER BLAST!" Fox fired a fully-charged red beam at Xemnas, who spreaded his arms as the beam headed right towards him.

KABOOOOOOOOOMMM!

The front of bottom floor exploded into flames. Fox got out of the cockpit, and so no sign of Xemnas anywhere, but he wasn't worried about him, "Krystal!" Fox cried as he ran out of the landmaster, and ran up towards the docks to see Chopper and Robin around Krystal, who was on her back. Fox had tears coming out of his eyes as he quickly went towards her, "Krystal!"

Krystal lifted her head, and smiled to see Fox coming to her. Fox got on one knee, and helped Krystal sit up. "Fox… I'm glad you're okay." Krystal said with a weak tone.

"It's alright, Krystal, I'm here! I won't let anything happen to you ever again!" Fox said, trying not to cry. Krystal then looked as she was about to cry herself as she looked away from her friends.

"I must've done something terrible just now…" Krystal cried, "I don't even remember what I did, but… I'm sorry!… I am very sorry if I have done or said something horrible to you all; I never meant it! I'm sorry…"

Robin sadly looked at Krystal. She then gave a kind smile, "It's alright; we knew you weren't yourself. Just rest for now…"

Krystal smiled as Fox gave her a big hug that lasted for a while. He then stopped hugging her before letting out a sigh, "… Where is Luffy?" Fox asked.

"Oh yeah! He went out there to fight Andross!" Chopper exclaimed. Fox was shocked as he looked through the hangar doors to see Andross, and Luffy with his inflated hand.

"Wh-What the! What is he doing out there by himself!" Fox asked as he then got up, "You guys take care of things here; I'm going out there to help Luffy!"

"Be careful, Fox." Krystal said. Fox looked down at her, and smiled as he gave her the thumbs up. Fox then ran into the cockpit of his arwing, and flew his arwing out of the hangar to assist Luffy in battle.

Meanwhile…

Oikonny's battle fleet were still having trouble trying to make their motherships work again as Slippy was flying around those ships as he was trying to escape some small enemy ships that were still working. The enemy ships were chasing Slippy as Usopp, who had his hook that was still stuck in the back of Slippy's arwing, was screaming like crazy as the enemy ships were firing at him too.

"Oi! Oi! Get rid of these guys! They're trying to kill me!" Usopp cried.

"I'm trying to, but I can't shake them off!" Slippy panicked.

"How is it hard for you to get away from these guys! Aren't you good flying these things!" Usopp asked.

"I'm only an engineer, so my flight skills are a little rusty!" Slippy explained as he then did a U-turn, with Usopp screaming loudly in the process.

"A little! WHAAAAAHHHEHHEHH!" Usopp cried as Slippy was doing several loops and U-turns to get past some obstacles. Slippy then brought up his radar, which showed yellow dot in the center.

"Okay, this is the best spot to fire my special Smartbomb! Get ready, Usopp!" Slippy said, while Usopp was still screaming. "Please, let this work! Haaa!" Slippy fired the blue Smartbomb into the center of the fleet. Slippy then flew his arwing away, but as time passed, the bomb didn't explode. "What the! Don't tell me it turned out to be a dud! Tsk! We'll have to go back, and shoot it!"

"WOOOOOOOOHHH!" Usopp cried as Slippy did another U-turn, and headed straight back towards where the bomb was shot, while the enemy ships were still chasing them. Usopp then regained some composure as he looked into his bag, and took out some caltrops. "Leave us alone!" Usopp said before throwing the caltrops behind him towards the enemy ships. Somehow, the caltrops hits the windshields of the enemy shields, startling the pilots inside as they lost control of their ships, and crashed into their own fleets.

"I hope this works…" Slippy said as he was close enough to bomb to shoot at it. He fired some beams at the bomb, causing it to explode into cybernetic particles, affecting the entire battle fleet. "It worked! We did it, Usopp!"

"Aye…" Usopp said nearly concious. The particles caused the ship to short circuit again, but since the ships were already messed up, the circuits were going haywire, and started to explode several seconds afterwards. Before you knew it, the entire battle fleet were exploding one by one, startling both Usopp and Slippy as they gawked at the sight of this. "Whoa! What in the world!"

"Ahh! I didn't design my bomb to do that!" Slippy exclaimed. He and Usopp cried as Slippy activated his boosters to get out of the explosion's range. They flew of into a safe distance as the battle fleet was slowly being destroyed as they exploded loudly across the cosmos.

"Ergh!" Andross looked back to see his nephew's fleet was blowing up into bits. "What's happening!"

"DON'T GET DISTRACTED!" Luffy yelled while jumping onto an asteroid close to Andross. He then ran towards Andross while dragging his giant arm across the ground as Andross glared at him.

"This boy has gotten stronger over the last couple of minutes! How is it possible!" Andross asked.

"GOMU GOMU NO GIGANT PISTOL!" Luffy swunged his giant arm forward at Andross. Since Andross was too big and slow, he could only guard with his hands. Luffy punched Andross' hands hard, smashing them into Andross' face as he was knocked back.

"UGHHH!" Andross cried as Luffy then transferred all the air into his chest, making it bigger than the other parts of his body. "Grr! He's coming again!" Andross yelled as Luffy let's out some air from his mouth, which allowed him to fly above Andross, who tried slapping him away, but missed as Luffy then transferred all the air into his right leg, turning it into a giant leg.

"GOMU GOMU NO GIGANT AXE!" Luffy brought down his giant leg, slamming his giant foot down at Andross' skull. Andross cried in pain again as blood started to flow down his head.

"Why you little runt!" Andross grabbed Luffy's giant leg with both hands, and were about to slam him into an asteroid, until Luffy transferred the air from his leg into his left arm, startling Andross in the process.

"GOMU GOMU NO GIGANT PISTOL!" Luffy punched Andross hard in the face, causing his mouth to bleed as Andross let's go of Luffy's leg, allowing him to transfer the air into to make it big again as Luffy swunged his giant leg horizontally, "GOMU GOMU NO GIGANT WHIP!" Luffy kicked Andross from the side of his face, bringing him crashing into a big asteroid next to him. Andross panted heavily as he fired several energy rings towards Luffy, who leaped out of asteroid transferring the air right arm while twisting it. "GOMU GOMU NO GIGANT RIFLE!" Luffy swunged his giant twisted arm forward, and punched right through the rings before punching Andross hard in the face again.

"GAAHHHHH!" Andross cried as he was punched up against the asteroid. Luffy then untwisted his giant, drilling Andross right through the hard structure of the asteroid as he was nearly blown away into Corneria's orbit. However, Andross managed to save himself by flying forward. Andross was still breathing, but just barely as he had several wounds over his entire head and face; he didn't seem like he could go on anymore. "Ahhh… ehhh.. ohh.. grr, you… huh!"

Andross noticed that Luffy couldn't keep the air inside him for much longer, "Must… hold it in… OOOFF!" Luffy exhaled all the air out from his mouth as he propelled backwards until crashing into asteroid behind him, creating a mild dust cloud. After the dust cloud faded, Luffy looked as if he shrunked in size as he now looks like a chibi.

"Ehh.. oh no! I've shrunk!" Chibi Luffy said in panic, "Well… this isn't too bad. I think I have enough time to get back to normal before that monkey head gets here." Luffy then looked up, and saw Andross right in front of him, "Eh?" Luffy blinked in confusion. Andross didn't say anything of Luffy's new appearence, but instead, he gave off such a deadly glare that looked terrifying due to the blood around his eyes.

"AAAAAAAAAHHHHHHH!" Andross yelled as he karate chopped the asteroid Luffy stood on in half.

"WAAAAAAH!" Luffy cried as he was about to fall, until Andross caught him by the vest. He held Luffy up in front of his face as growled at him.

"I don't know why you're here, or why you would risk your life for these fools… but I will not let you stand in my way much longer!" Andross yelled, "A long time ago, I was the most brilliant scientist Corneria has ever had! But I was banished into the planet Venom, and do you know why! Because I was too smart for them to handle!

They envied my great intellect, and rejected me after all I have done for them! Those ungrateful worms shouldn't deserve to be alive, and as Emperor of the Lylat System, it is my sworn duty to wipe this planet out of existance, and you will not stop me!"

Luffy spat in Andross' face, startling Andross as Luffy gazed at him, "I don't care what happened to you! They probably didn't like you because of your big ugly head, and because you're so mean! I will stop you even if it means dying!"

"Grr… then I'll kill you now!" Andross yelled. He lifted Luffy up above his head, but suddenly, a smartbomb exploded at the back of his head. "AHHH!" This caused Andross to drop Luffy to an asteroid next to him as Andross turned around, and saw none other than an Arwing. "Fox…"

"Andross, it's time I take you down again!" Fox exclaimed as he started shooting beam at Andross. Andross tried knocking him away, but kept missing as Fox countered with several beams to Andross' palms afterwards. This went for several seconds until Andross tricked Fox with a fake slap, causing him to do a loop, which allowed Andross to slap the arwing away. "Ugh!" Fox lost control of his arwing as it propelled backwards.

"Don't you dare ruin things for me again, Fox! Take this!" Andross then punched Fox's arwing hard, knocking it right out of the asteroid field.

"Fox!" Luffy cried. Andross then faced towards Luffy, and grabbed him from the asteroid he was on. "Eh!" As Luffy struggled to break free, Andross faced towards Corneria, and smirked,

"Allow me to kill you along with this planet! Have a nice fall!" Andross laughed as he then threw Luffy towards the planet, Corneria.

"WHOOOOAAAAAA!" Luffy got caught by Corneria's gravitational force as he was being pulled into the planet with great speed.

Andross panted a bit before laughing wickedly as Luffy seemed he was a goner.

"Now there is no one in this universe that will stop my rule as Emperor! Ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Andross laughed. He looked at Corneria, and was about to head towards it, until a laser beam passed right by his face. "Hergh? Where did that… !" Andross squinted his eyes to see something coming from out of Corneria's atmosphere.

It appeared to be an arwing, and Luffy was semiconcious on the windshield. Andross frowned upon seeing this, but he wasn't angy at Luffy; he was angry at the pilot that looked very familiar to him, and it wasn't Fox McCloud.

Luffy's body then turned back to normal as he raised his head while holding onto the windshield. "Whoa… I thought I was a goner." Luffy said while rubbing his head.

"You alright, kid?"

"Huh?" Luffy looked down through the windshield he was on, and saw somebody he wasn't familiar with. "Fox… no wait, you're not Fox. Who are you?" Luffy asked. He noticed that the pilot looked very similar to Fox, only the difference was the pilot was wearing sunglasses.

"Ask me that later; I'm going to need your help beating Andross." Said the pilot. He flew the arwing towards the asteroid field as Andross was furious upon seeing this.

"You…" Andross snarled, "You're suppose to be dead!" Andross tried punching the arwing, but the pilot was pretty skilled as he dodged the fist easily. Luffy held on tight as the pilot did a U-turn, and fired a smartbomb at Andross' right hand. The bomb exploded as the hand was blown into pieces. "AAAAAAEEEEEHH!" Andross tried shooting the arwing down by firing energy rings at it, but the pilot flew in the center of them to avoid getting hit as he countered by firing another smartbomb towards the palm of Andross' hand. The pilot then flew the arwing away as the bomb exploded, and destroyed Andross' last hand. "AAAAHHH! THIS ISN'T POSSIBLE!"

"Whoa! You're so good at this!" Luffy said excitedly.

"We're not done yet; we have to finish him off once and for all." The pilot said, "Once I give the signal, you hit him with everything you got!"

"Okay!" Luffy replied. The pilot then did a U-turn as Andross faced towards the ship, and tried inhaling it.

"I WILL KILL YOU BOTH FOR GOOD THIS TIME!" Andross yelled as he pulled in the ship. The pilot only smirked as he fired a smartbomb into Andross mouth as it then exploded from within. "UUUUAAAAGHHH!" Suddenly, Andross head became transperant as his big brain could be seen inside. Luffy gawked upon seeing that.

"His brain! Oh man, it looks so big and disgusting than that other guy's brain!" Luffy yelled, referring to Deathborn.

"Now is your chance! Hit him hard!" Yelled the pilot. Luffy then stood straight while smirking at Andross.

"I don't know who you are, but thanks for helping me out! I can take care of things from here!" Luffy said confidently. He then jumped off the pilot's arwing, and headed down towards Andross while placing his thumbs into his mouth, "GEAR THIRD!" Luffy inflated both of his arms, turning them into gigantic arms as he pulled them back, "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy got closer and closer to Andross as he was yelling in agony, "GIGANT BAZOOKA!"

KAPOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOWWWWW WWWWWWWWWW WWWWWW WWWWWWW!

"GRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAGGHHHHHHHH!" Luffy smashed his giant palms into Andross' brain, crushing it into smaller size as Andross was in sheer agony, "AAUUUEEAGHHH! IT WASN'T TO SUPPOSE TO END THIS WAY… GERREAAGHH… GAAAAAAAAHHH!"

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Andross then exploded, knocking Luffy back to an asteroid. His arms deflated as he turned back into his chibi size form. The pilot smiled in relief as he then flew his arwing away as Luffy watched him left.

"Was that… a ghost?" Luffy asked. After the pilot left, Fox came in from another direction, and landed his arwing on the asteroid Luffy was on. He puts on his Smash airspace pin on his jacket, and got out of his arwing as he bewildered at what just happened.

"Andross is gone!" Fox asked in shock before noticing Luffy, "Luffy!" Fox approached Luffy, and was a little baffled at his small form, "What happened to you! Why are you so small!… Did you defeat Andross all by yourself? That's incredible…"

"I…" Luffy began to say as Fox listened in, "I… WANT MEAT!" Fox blinked in confusion until he then chuckled. He then bursted into laughter as Luffy then had his usual big smile on his face.

Meanwhile…

Back in the Cornerian capitol, all the civilians in town were all gathered into the side of town as Peppy was with one of his lieutenants, who wore binoculars as he looked through them to look for something. "Can you see them? What's going on over there?" Peppy asked.

"I'm not sure…" Replied the lieutenant, "Hmm? Oh wait; I think I see them!"

"Really!" Peppy asked. He placed his hand over his eyes, and saw the Thousand Sunny coming into his view. He borrowed the lieutenant's goggles, and saw Franky dancing on the figurehead. "Oh, thank goodness; he's still alive!"

"Oww! We're back, and we're supaaa than ever! Ow!" Franky said joyfully as he did his victory pose. The men onboard cheered upon their success as they had Andrew, and his pilots, handcuffed behind their backs while sitting down on the deck in shame. The people of Corneria also cheered in joy as the Thousand Sunny anchored to the side of the stairway leading up to the town. Peppy hurried down the stairs as Franky got off his ship to greet him, "Here he is, rabbit bro. All captured and miserable, just how you like it."

"I couldn't thank you enough for what you have done for us, Franky. You truly our the savior of this town." Peppy said happily.

"It was nothin'. And I should get all the credit; your men here did a good job out there too." Franky said.

"I'm glad to hear that." Peppy replied. The soldiers onboard the ship then brought Andrew and his pilots into the stairways as Peppy then looked at Andrew, "I told you that you couldn't defeat us. I'm sure your lifetime in jail will teach you some manners."

"Pfft!" Andrew muttered under his breath as the soldiers then walked him up the stairs.

"Ah, don't bother with him, bro." Franky said with a smirk, "Let's just watch him get taken away; I ain't done watching him suffer just yet."

"You're one strange man, but I guess that couldn't be helped. Hmm hmm!" Peppy chuckled, "Let's go upstairs, and greet the citizens of Corneria. They want to share their gratitude with you as well."

"Aw, bro, that's too much, but alright. Ha ha!" Franky laughed. He and Peppy then walked up the stairs, and as soon as they got to top, the civilians clapped upon seeing Franky. "Ow! Supaaa!" Franky said excitedly as he did his victory pose.

During the same time, the Great Fox was already entering Corneria's orbit as it descended through the clouds. Everyone, except for Falco and Nami, who still haven't returned yet, were in the bridge of the Great Fox as they all looked exhausted.

"Oh boy… I'll never do that again." Usopp said while wiping the sweat off his brow. Robin was looking through the window while laying her back up against the wall. Krystal and Sanji were sitting down as Chopper were checking their injuries as Luffy and Fox stood behind the control panel.

"Looks like the town is doing alright." Fox said while looking through the window, "I don't see Oikonny's ship anywhere; I hope Peppy is still okay."

"I'm sure he's fine." Luffy said, who was back in usual form, by the way, "Franky must've rescued him, and defeated that guy."

"Yeah, you could be right…" Fox said as he then looked at Luffy, "Hey… I don't know how you did it, but thank you for defeating Andross. He could've done some serious damage here if it wasn't for you."

"Hee hee! No problem!" Luffy replied happily, "That ghost was pretty helpful too."

"Ghost?" Fox asked.

"Hey, there is Peppy!" Slippy interrupted them as he could see Peppy through the windshield, "And Franky is with him!"

"Ugh, so they're alright." Sanji said while getting up.

The Great Fox made it's way down to the side of town as Franky and Peppy noticed them arriving. Everyone inside got off through the hangar doors as they rushed over to their friends.

"Franky! You're okay!" Chopper cried happily while running towards Franky.

"Ow! Where have you guys been! You made me do all the hardwork!" Franky said as he got in front of his crew. As they talked, the Starfox team rushed over to Peppy.

"Peppy, you're not hurt, are you!" Fox asked.

"Relax, Fox. It was all thanks to Franky that I was able to come back safely." Peppy explained, "He defeated Andrew with his ship. It was truly fascinating what he done for us."

"Thanks goodness your alright…" Krystal sighed in relief.

Back with the crew, Usopp covered his eyes as he cried in relief upon seeing the Thousand Sunny, "I'm so glad the ship made it out alive! I was so terrified when it was taken away!"

"It's okay; I already taught that guy a lesson for taking it in the first place!" Franky said. He pointed towards Andrew, and everyone looked at him as he was about to walk into a jail transport vehicle.

"So that's the guy…" Luffy said, "He looks uglier than that big monkey head I just beat up a while ago." Andrew overheard this, and looked at the Strawhat crew.

"What did you say!" Andrew gasped, "My uncle was defeated by you people! HOW!"

"Ahahahaha! You lose again, Horseface!" Franky mocked. Andrew was so angry, he was trying to escape, but the cornerian soldiers dogpiled him to prevent him from getting away. At the same time, Falco's arwing flew down to the town, and landed on the concrete. Nami and Falco got out, and saw all their friends.

"Oh… I'm so tired." Nami sighed.

"Nami-swan! You're here at last! Oh joooyyy!" Sanji said happily while tapdancing.

"Where did you go, Nami?" Chopper asked as Nami approached her comrades.

"I had a little business to take care of. It's all done now." Nami explained. Falco then noticed Peppy and his comrades as he rushed over to them.

"Seems like you're all okay." Falco said, "You feeling better now, Krystal?"

"I'm fine, thank you. I just feel a little dazed, that's all." Krystal explained. Peppy then took a step forward, and took note of Franky's comrades.

"Fox, are those Franky's friends?" Peppy asked.

"Yeah, they were a big help. It's all thanks to Luffy over there." Fox said pointing at Luffy.

"I see… well then." Peppy then walked over to the Strawhat crew. Franky noticed him coming as he, and comrades looked at Peppy, "Hello there. My name is Peppy Hare; the General of Corneria."

"Whoa! So the general is a talking rabbit? Cool!" Luffy said in awe.

"I want to thank you for all you have done for us; your courageous acts have truly saved us all. I'm glad that I was able to see the good side of you people when you arrived onto this planet." Peppy said happily. The Strawhat pirates were happy to hear that as Peppy then took out a golden medal, "For your act of bravery upon saving our way of life, I present to you this medal of honor. This is on behalf of all the good people in the Lylat system that thanks you for your hard work."

"Rabbit bro…" Franky said in awe. Luffy took the medal, and looked at it oddly as Nami wanted to hold it too.

"Can I eat this?" Luffy asked.

"Of course not!" Franky yelled while whacking Luffy upside the head. He then took the medal, and looked at Peppy, "Dammit, rabbit bro, you didn't had to do all this… you didn't had to.. eh.. eh.. WAAAAAAAAAHHHH! I'M NOT CRYING, YOU MORONS! AAAAAAAHH!" Franky cried in joy as tears poured of his eyes. Franky then stopped crying as he then raised the medal into the air, making the crowd cheer in joy. "Thanks, bro! I won't forget this!"

The Starfox team, and Peppy smiled in gratitude as everyone was happy… well except for one person. "Put me down!" Andrew yelled as the cornerian were holding him up until they threw into the back of the transport vehicle. Andrew frowned in sadness as he sat on a seat as the soldiers were about to take him away.

"Wait, hold up!" Franky said, stopping the soldiers as Franky approached Oikonny, "Heh heh! Here you go, Horseface!" Franky said as he tossed a banana into the vehicle, "That's your reward for being a great Emperor… the Emperor of losers, of course! Ahahahaha! Have a great time in jail, and don't mess with other people's ships from now on, got that? Ahahaha!"

Andrew gritted his teeth as he was about to lunge at Franky, but the soldiers slammed the vehicle doors on him. Andrew then got up to look through the bar openings of the door, "I'LL GET YOU, FRANKY! I'LL MAKE YOU PAY DEARLY FOR THIS! THIS ISN'T THE LAST TIME YOU'LL HEAR FROM ME; I'LL BE BACK, AND I'LL DESTROY YOU ALL! I WILL BE EMPEROR OF THE LYLAT SYSTEM!… UNCLE ANDROSS, SAVE ME!"

The vehicle then drove him away as Franky waved goodbye to him. Robin then approached Peppy, "Mr. General, one of our companions is still in the planet, Sauria." Robin explained.

"Oh yeah, Zoro!" Slippy exclaimed, "He is still in Sauria doing community service. Maybe it's about time we get him back here."

"Yes, I agree completely." Peppy said, "I will send a transport there immediately to bring him back here." Peppy then looked at the Strawhat team, "In the meantime, why don't we celebrate? You all truly deserve it."

"Really! Thanks, old rabbit guy!" Luffy said excitedly, "Okay, let's party! I am going to eat all the meat here in Cornyera!"

"Corneria!" Almost all the citizens corrected him.

Meanwhile…

Zoro unsheathed his swords as he looked down the unconcious Scales. Zoro then sighed, "I guess that's that. He ended up gaining nothing after all. Poor idiot…" Zoro said bluntly. The Earthwalkers then cheered in excitement as they celeberated their victory over the Sharpclaw. Zoro looked at them, and smiled, "Looks like everything is okay now…"

Zoro then noticed a shadow below him getting bigger as he looked up to see Tricky was about to fall on him, "Zoro, you did it!" Tricky exclaimed happily.

"What the!" Zoro gasped.

CRASH!

Tricky landed right ontop of Zoro as Tricky looked pretty happy, "You rock, Zoro! You sure showed Scales' who's boss! Ha ha ha!… eh?" Tricky then looked down, and noticed that Zoro was nearly unconcious just by noticing the swirls he had over his eyes. "Oh my god, Zoro! Are you dead! I didn't mean to kill you! Hold on, I'll give you mouth to mouth!"

"JUST GET OFF ME!" Zoro yelled furiously.

After some time, the sun was beginning to set over Sauria as Tricky helped Zoro go back to Thorntail hollow by allowing him to rest on his back.

"You should stay here, Zoro." Tricky said while walking, "I mean, you're the hero of this planet; everyone would be so happy if you did. You could be my personal bodyguard, or something like that."

"Thanks, but I'll pass." Zoro replied while resting his eyes, "This isn't my world, and I have to get back to my comrades anyway." Zoro said, "Besides, you can handle things by yourself now. You've won your peoples' respect by confronting that weakling."

"Well…" Tricky blushed at that comment, "I wouldn't have done that without your support."

"Speaking of which, what do you plan to do with the Sharpclaw now?" Zoro asked curiously.

"I'm thinking that we should help them; they only want a little guidance. I'm sure we can work things out, and allow them to help us make this world a better place to live in." Tricky said.

"Heh… too afraid to face them with me gone, huh?" Zoro teased.

"Hey!" Tricky replied before chuckling. He then looked forward with a smile, "But really… thanks alot for you help, Zoro. I will make sure the Cornerian government accepts the way you are."

"I couldn't care less what they think of me and my comrades," Zoro said as he then placed his hands on his swords, "I only fought for what was mine. Nothing more…"

"Hmm hmm… I guess you're right…" Tricky said as they have arrived at Thorntail hollow. Upon arrival, they saw some Cornerian soldiers standing near a transport big enough for five people. "Oh? I think that's your ride."

"Mmm…" Zoro got off of Trick as they both walked up to the soldiers. The soldiers gasped upon seeing Zoro's injuries.

"Wha! Are you okay!" Asked a soldier.

"Yeah, I'm fine; nothing much happened here." Zoro replied.

"Are you kidding! You should've seen Zoro in action!" Tricky said happily to the soldiers, "He was all 'I don't fear death.' and I was all 'He's so cool!'; He's has been the greatest help here, so give Fox the thanks for me, okay?"

"Um… sure. Anyway, we were ordered to bring you back to Corneria, sir." Said the guard, "Your friends are waiting for you."

"It's about time; I was getting a little bored down here." Zoro said as he was about to walk inside the ship.

"Hey, Zoro!" Tricky said, stopping Zoro in his tracks, "Will I ever see you again?" Zoro was quiet at first, until he turned around, and smirked.

"Perhaps… after I became the greatest swordsman, I'll find a way to come back here, and tell you all about my success." Zoro said.

"Heh heh! I'll count on that." Tricky replied. He then watched Zoro enter the ship along with the Cornerian soldiers before the ship's doors closed. The ship then ascended away, "Bye, Zoro! Take care!"

Zoro looked down through the window, and smiled as the ship then left the orbit. Tricky then sighed as he turned around to face his land.

"Okay… time to get back to work!"

Meanwhile…

It was now night time in Corneria as the whole town was having a big party. The Strawhat pirates were doing their usual thing during parties; Luffy was finally eating everything he ordered in that restaurant several chapters ago for free; Usopp was standing on a table, singing songs about great he is; Sanji was happily dancing around some anthromorphic females again; and Franky dancing around in the center of the crowd. Chopper and Robin were sitting with Krystal, simply chatting about some things, while Nami sighed in relaxation while getting next to Luffy.

"I'm glad everything turned out okay in the end." Nami said, "The only thing left to do is to find that last heart."

"Oif, Namith! Trtyth thifth; ift's voery tafsty!" Luffy said while his mouth was filled with food while offering Nami some. Nami only pushed his head away as the Peppy noticed them having a good time.

"General Peppy, we brought back one the pirate's crewmembers." Said a soldier who just walked up to Peppy from behind.

"Good, bring him… here?" Peppy turned around to see Zoro, and noticed the wounds he had over his body. He didn't know what to say as Chopper also noticed Zoro.

"Waaaaaahh!" Chopper cried as he approached Zoro in a hurry, "Zoro, what happened to you!"

"What're you talking about; I'm fine." Zoro said plainly. He then noticed the party, "Are we celebrating something? Good, I could use some booze."

"No, you can't just go out there looking like that! I need to treat your wounds immediately!" Chopper yelled.

"Uh… what the heck happened to him?" Falco asked a little disgust while walking up to his team.

"I don't know… let's hope Tricky didn't had anything to do with that." Fox said while sweating in surprise.

The party resumed for a couple of more hours as Krystal and Robin talked, "So that's what happened… I am very sorry that I said that." Krystal said sadly.

"It's alright; you don't have to keep apologizing." Robin said as he then looked at the Starfox team, talking to Peppy as Luffy tried offering some food, "You have a wonderful team… don't ever let go of them. Nobody was ever born to be alone. Enjoy your life as much as you can."

Krystal smiled gratefully hearing that, and was about to reply, until she sensed something. "These thought patterns… someone is coming."

"Hey, what's that!" Usopp asked while pointing up at the dark sky. Almost everyone stopped celebrating to see three ships approaching the town from above the clouds. Nami gasped as she immediately recognized those ships.

"It's Wolf!" Nami cried. The Strawhat pirates, and the Starfox were then saw the ships land outside of town.

"What could Wolf want this time!" Fox asked.

"Fox, we should head over there!" Slippy said. The Starfox team quickly made their towards Starwolf, while Luffy was about to go as well.

"Come on, we should help them!" Luffy said to his crew. They nodded, and went to outside of town as they got in front of the Wolfens.

Leon and Panther got out of their ships, and rushed to Wolf's ship. Wolf's cockpit window then opened up as Wolf stepped out slowly as his team helped get off his ship. Leon and Panther helped Wolf walk forward as they got in front of the two teams.

"Who is that guy?" Zoro asked.

"It's a long story…" Usopp whimpered.

"What is this about, Wolf! Haven't you done enough to these guys already?" Fox asked.

"Yeah, just leave them alone already!" Slippy said. Wolf didn't reply; he only took a brief look at Nami, who frowned as she then looked away. He then looked at Luffy, who stared back at him as they shared gazes for several seconds. He then pushed Leon and Panther aside as he walked up to Luffy face to face.

"… I heard you defeated Andross." Wolf said bluntly, "Pfft!… To think that I said that even an idiot can beat a guy like him. Never thought that would actually happen, though…"

"Are you here to fight me again?" Luffy asked sternly. Wolf then grew serious.

"I am not going to waste my time with that again; you weaklings don't deserve a second round with me." Wolf explained.

"We don't deserve it!" Sanji asked angrily, "It was your fault for kidnapping Nami-san in the first place, you bastard!"

Wolf ignored that statement, and continued, "Look… your princess came to me, and argued what I said to you back in Titania. It was pitiful attempt to make me sob over something I could care less about."

"What did you say!" Nami asked angrily.

"But…" Wolf continued as he then sighed, "She seemed overly dramatic about it when she told me the story. That's something I would never see from someone like her." Wolf then looked away, "I don't know what your 'crew' sees in you, but you seem to hold something really precious to them; something a little similar of what my team sees in me as a leader. So… I guess that… uh… damn…"

"Are you trying to say you're sorry?" Luffy asked.

"Whoa? That's something you don't see everyday. The big bad wolf has finally got soft." Falco teased.

"Shut up." Wolf replied sternly, "All I'm saying is that you should keep on doing what you do best. Your crew respects that, so I suppose that makes you somewhat of a true captain." Luffy had nothing to say, but instead, he smiled as Wolf felt disgusted for saying such a kind thing, "Ergh, by the way, you dropped this back there."

Wolf took out Luffy's straw hat, which immediately shocked Luffy. "My hat! Oh man, I was so caught up with the party, that I didn't even realized that I lost it!" Luffy exclaimed as he then grew angry, "You bastard! You better not mess up my-huh?" Wolf then placed Luffy's hat into Luffy's face in order to make him quiet.

"Don't insult me, boy." Wolf said, "You first beat me, and now you're ungrateful after I brought that hat back to you? Ridiculous…" Wolf then smirked, "You did say it was your treasure back in that bar, right? I have no use for stuff like that unless it was actually worth something to me."

Luffy placed his hat back on his head as he then smiled in gratitude. Nami was pretty surpised for what Wolf did as she also smiled. Wolf noticed, and felt very uncomfortable, "Okay… I am getting sick of this gratitude. Leon, bring that thing out here."

"Right." Leon replied. He went into Wolf's arwing, and took out something that shocked the Strawhat pirates.

"I-Is that a Mystery heart!" Nami asked. What Leon was holding was indeed the last Mystery heart. It was blue, and had the Starfox symbol in the front, including two cross-shaped halos floating around it. Leon gave the heart to Wolf as Wolf then gave it to Luffy. "Wait a minute; you had that this whole time!"

"Yes, I did." Wolf said, "Once you guys left Port town, I immediately recognized what that door was for, and what it needed in order for it to be used. Some time ago, Master Hand entrusted me to take care of the heart for him; he never told me why. I hid it here in Corneria in order for you guys to come here in this planet. Once you did, I came back for the heart that was hidden around this area before I took the princess into custody. I planned this confrontation for a while now, so that's why I knew you would end up here sooner or later."

"Unbelievable… you're so crazy, you know!" Usopp said.

"But this is good news!" Nami said happily, "Now we can go back to our world now! This nightmare is finally over! Isn't that right, Luffy?" Nami looked at Luffy, who seemed rather sad hearing that.

"… Yeah, I guess so." Luffy replied. Nami was concerned until Luffy raised the 8th Mystery heart in the air, "Yosh! We've got the last Mystery heart! Let's go eat!"

Luffy then ran back to the party as everyone else joined him. "Wolf, would you like to join us?" Krystal asked.

"I would certaintly love to join you, Krystal!" Panther said happily, "Come along, you two!"

"Ergh… whatever." Wolf sighed as he and Leon joined the others into the party, which seemed like it was going to last all night.

Meanwhile…

In the Unknown world, Dimentio happily returns to his fellow Obscurum rulers, who didn't look happy. "Well… what happened?" Hojo asked as Dimentio sat on his chair.

"Ah ha ha ha! We seemed to have lost again!" Dimentio said happily.

"What! You're kidding me!" Kefka said angrily. It was then that Xemnas entered the eerie meeting room, "Well, if it isn't 'I'm going to take care of those pirates myself' guy! How could you come back without killing those guys! You said you were going to take care of them!"

"Rest assured; fate has other plans for them." Xemnas said while going around the meeting table.

"Needless to say that those pirates have all the hearts in their disposal now." Sigma said with his arms crossed, "What do you plan to do about this, Xemnas?"

"No matter what they intend to do with them, they will lose in the end. Let's not worry about them any longer." Xemnas said while sitting down on his chair.

"So you're saying we should just forget about them? After all they did to us!" Sweet Tooth asked bitterly.

"This is not like you, Xemnas." Bison said, "You know perfectly well that we musn't tolerate those who interfere with our plans, even if it was accidental."

"I too wish to see them gone! So why are you sparing their lives!" Hojo asked. The room was then quiet as Yojimbo, who stood up against the wall, looked at Xemnas out of curiousity. He, and everyone else noticed that Xemnas was smiling.

"Because… there is nothing they can do stop us now." Xemnas said as he then stood up, "My fellow rulers, the time has now come; It is now time that we finish what we started so long ago." The Obscurum rulers then looked shocked.

"I-Is it that time already?" Sigma asked.

"Finally! I want to get this over with!" Kefka said with a smirk.

"So our destiny will soon be realized? Perfect." Bison said.

"Ho ho, how exciting this will be!" Hojo said with a wicked smirk.

"This better not take long." Sweet Tooth said while cracking his knuckles.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! How wonderful! Our work will finally pay off at last!" Dimentio said happily. Yojimbo didn't say anything as Xemnas turned around, and looked through the stained-glass window, showing the planet Obscurum up in space.

"Yes… it is now time." Xemnas said while spreading his arms, "Very soon, Obscurum's wishes will finally be fulfilled!"

Meanwhile…

A portal opened up from the ground as Bowser came flying out of it before crashing into a pile of grabage cans. He popped out of them as he rubbed his head in pain, "Oooh, that stupid penguin!" He cried, "That no good fattie cheated on me! I'll teach him a thing or two later!" He then lifted his head, "Where am I now?"

Bowser now appeared to be in an abandoned base as it currently night time from where he was. He walked around some abandoned, and destroyed buildings, seeing nothing but trash along the way. "Gee, what is with this place? It's giving me the creeps. Maybe I should sit down somewhere." He looked at his surroundings, and noticed a cardboard box next to a building. "I'll sit there." Bowser turned, and was about to sit on the cardboard box, but he suddenly fell on his butt. "What the!" He looked to his right to see the cardboard box was on a different spot. "Wha… wait a second! Third-party guy, is that you!"

Suddenly, the cardboard was lifted from underneath, and was tossed aside as none other than Solid Snake was under the box this whole time. Bowser got up, and confronted him, "I knew it was you! What are you doing here!"

"Not that it matters to you, but I am just doing a little investigation around here." Snake replied.

"Oh…" Bowser replied unimpressed, "Well, did you-"

"I know why you're here, Bowser, and no, they're not here." Snake interrupted, "I think they went to Corneria." Bowser was a little surprised hearing such a quick answer.

"H-How did.. you know, you always seem to know everything, but I could care less about that." Bowser said as he then took out his remote, "You know how to fix this thing? It's been driving me crazy ever since it broked."

"Snake, are you over here?"

Snake turned around to see Otacon, holding some gadgets as he walked up to the duo. "Here you are, Snake. I was able to find some clues about the whereabouts of… uh?" Otacon then noticed Bowser, "Oh, I remember you."

"The anime geek is here too?" Bowser said as he rolled his eyes, "You two always seem to be together. Are you a couple?"

"Don't you have to leave already? You're an eyesore." Snake said sternly.

"Fine, I'll leave." Bowser said as he then walked away, "Oh, and here's an idea; why don't you two make out in that cardboard box since you like being under there so much? Gwa ha ha ha ha ha!"

Snake was a little upset hearing that, "Hey, over there is dangerous. If you plan on leaving, go over here instead." Snake said.

"Heh heh… yeah, right." Bowser said, until he stopped, "Wait, he may be right. I don't know much about this place anyway." Bowser then walked the other way, "Have fun smooching, you two! Gwa ha ha ha!" Bowser walked away into a narrow corridor as Otacon looked concerned.

"But isn't that place where the minefield is?" Otacon asked.

"Nobody calls me gay, and gets away it." Snake explained while walking away, "He'll soon figure that out."

Bowser walked out of the narrow corridor, and saw a vast area before him. "This seems like a good spot." He said while walking forward, going past a sign that reads 'danger' on it. "Okay, now work this time! Work!" Bowser pushed some buttons on the remote, and to his surprise, the remote opened up a portal over the ground in front of him, "Oh? It actually worked, and I didn't even get hurt this time! This must be my lucky day!" Bowser then happily took one step forward to the portal, but felt something lumpy along the way. "Eh?"

KABOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!
BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

Bowser have stepped on a landmine, causing it to explode afterwards. The explosion also engulfed the other landmines in the area, causing all of them to explode at once. The explosion was so powerful, that it sended Bowser flying up high in the air.

"GWAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAHHHHH!" Bowser screamed as he fell all the way back down, and through the portal before it closed.

Meanwhile…

It was time to say goodbye to Corneria as the Strawhat pirates were ready to leave as the Starfox team, and Peppy where there to see them off. "We wish you good luck on your journey, everyone. Do be safe out there." Peppy said.

"Geh! Dammit, I am not gonna go cry over this! Eeehh!" Franky cried, "Take good care of this town, bro!"

"You have all been so wonderful. Thank you for everything you have done." Krystal then knelt to Chopper, "Especially you, Chopper. Without you, I wouldn't have known what would have happened.

Thank you so much." Krystal then gave Chopper a kiss on the cheek.

"Ah! I… eh!" Chopper was so happy, that he actually fainted. Nami laughed until she then noticed Starwolf at the upper stairs. She sighed as she walked up to them.

"Well, I am going to leave. I hope you've learned your lesson, you mutt." Nami said.

"Whatever, just get lost already." Wolf said as he then smiled, "Oh, and if you ever change your mind, you can come join my team again. I could still use you as bait."

"No, thanks." Nami said, "I still feel sick of you guys, but don't get yourselves killed, okay? Or I might be end up saving you guys again."

"Oh, Nami. You have been such wonderful team member. I hope you have a wonderful life, and make sure that child over there takes care of you from here on out." Panther said happily.

"Good luck out there, you little brat. I won't be missing you anytime soon." Leon said with a smirk.

"Sure, whatever. See ya!" Nami said as she then left the trio.

"I have to say, you guys were pretty strong for a couple of pirates." Falco said to the crew, "I guess this was fun while it lasted."

"Yeah, you guys should come back again! We'll be waiting right here for you!" Slippy said happily.

"So long, Luffy. I hope for the best of you guys in the future." Fox said as he shook Luffy's hand, "I'm sure you will be the Pirate King someday."

"Thanks! Hee hee." Luffy said. The crew then got aboard the ship as Luffy then waved goodbye to the Starfox team. They entered the crosswalk as Usopp sighed out of relief.

"We're finally going back home! I can't believe I'm saying this, but I'm so eager to get back to that crazy sea of the Grand Line again!" Usopp said.

"Yeah, I know!" Chopper said excitedly until he then felt sad, "But we might not be able to come back to these worlds again if we do."

"This is not our place, so quit whining. We had to go back somehow." Nami said as she then walked up to Luffy, "You ready?"

"Yeah, I guess…" Luffy said unenthustiastically. Luffy went to get the 8th Mystery heart as the crew seemed ready to go.

"This is it, huh? Back to our world we go." Sanji said while smoking a cigarette.

"We had a nice run all the way here, but it's time for us to go back." Zoro said, with his body wounds covered in bandages.

"Even if we do leave, I still worry about the Obscurum rulers…" Robin said.

"Dont worry about that, Robin. It's not going to be our problem anymore." Nami said happily.

The crew didn't look as they agreed as Franky unanchored the ship, and sailed forward to the sea. Everyone on town watched them faced towards the ocean as Luffy got in front of the ship, and raised the 8th Mystery heart in the air.

"MYSTERY DOOR, OPEN!" The heart then let out a blue beam in front of Luffy. The beam then spreaded out in five direction as a portal was formed in between the rays. The portal then was replaced by the humongous double door with 1 empty slot shaped as a heart, while one of them was filled with red energy, the other one filled with green energy, the other one filled with orange energy, the other one filled with brown energy, the other one filled with yellow energy, and the other one filled with pink energy, and the last one filled with purple energy. The heart then shot another blue beam at the slot under the purple energy and next to the brown energy, filling it up with blue energy.

All slots of the door were finally filled with energy of the Mystery hearts as they glowed brightly. The crew watched in awe upon the colorful brightness of the energy before them. "So… now what?" Usopp asked. The crew then just realized they didn't know how to get back home once they got all the hearts.

"Well… I think we need to say something, right?" Nami asked.

"I don't know, we were never told what to do afterwards." Zoro said, "And how come the door isn't opening."

"Oh no, please don't tell me we have to do something else!" Usopp whimpered.

"But we got all the hearts! We should be done by now!" Chopper said.

Suddenly, the heart Luffy held was starting to move on it's own. "Whoa!" Luffy let's go of it as the heart was moving out of control.

"Ah! What's happening!" Usopp asked. The heart then remained floating in the air as an image of a person could be seen inside.

"Hello? Hello! Is this on? Is this contraption even working?"

Luffy and his crew were shocked as they know who the person was. "Merlon?" Luffy asked. It was indeed Merlon, the man that helped Luffy and his crew back in the Mushroom Kingdom.

"Oh, Luffy! I've finally got through to you! It's been a while." Merlon said. Everyone gathered around the heart, and couldn't believe their eyes.

"It's the magician weeny!" Franky said, "What are you doing in there?"

"I am speaking to you from my crystal ball." Merlon said, "I have been trying to contact you guys for a while, but I couldn't find the right transmission. I was lucky to even find you."

"Why? Did you wanted to say something to us?" Chopper asked.

"Yes, as a matter of fact, I do." Merlon said, "I have forgot to mention something really important to you once you have gathered all the hearts."

Suddenly, the energy of the Master door then started to flash repeatedly. One by one, the energies turned from their original colors into the color gold. Once it did, the door slowly opened, and instead of the white streams of light inside, there were now golden streams of light.

"What's going on!" Sanji asked.

"That's what I wanted to talk to you about!" Merlon said, "In order for you to get back to your own world, you need to go to one more world once you've obtained all the hearts."

"What! Why didn't you say this before!" Nami asked.

"I'm sorry, but it must've slipped my mind during the time." Merlon explained.

"So what world are we going to then?" Robin asked.

"Oh, it's one of the most important worlds ever!" Merlon exclaimed, "This world is where the smash tournaments always took place, and it's also of the homeworld of the tournament's founder, Master Hand."

"Really! So we're going to his world!" Luffy asked excitedly.

"Yes! You will be going to Master Hand's homeworld, The Smash World. Once you get there, ask Master Hand to take you back to your planet. He is the only one who can, and dont worry; he won't say 'no' to good kids such as yourselves!"

"So we're going to that planet! I didn't think we would do that!" Usopp said.

"Aw man, I thought we were done for sure!" Nami said sadly.

"Ha ha ha ha! Yosh, let's get going then! I want to go that world, and meet that guy!" Luffy said excitedly.

"I wish you all the best of luck!" Merlon said, "I have to go now! Take care of yourselves!" The heart then fell down as Merlon broke transmission. The crew looked at eachother in worry as the Thousand Sunny sailed towards the door.

"I guess we have no choice; we must go, and meet this Master hand." Robin said.

"Yosh! Sail towards the door, Sunny!" Luffy said excitedly. As the ship was heading into the door, the crew rushed to the back to wave goodbye to their friends. "Bye, guys!"

"Bye, Krystal! Bye!" Chopper waved.

"I always remember you guys! Bye!" Franky cried. The Thousand Sunny then entered through the door as it then closed before disappearing into thin air.

"They're gone." Fox said. The team smiled happily as Wolf's team just walked off. Wolf then looked back where the Strawhat crew disappeared to.

"Let's hope that boy doesn't stir up more trouble for us in the future…" Wolf said as he then took out something from his pocket, and looked at it sternly, "If he does, he's going to be hearing from me again…"

TO BE CONTINUED…

And that ends this arc. Hope you all enjoyed it, and my next chapters wont be as big as this one in the future. So… that's it for the Nintendo arcs. There is still one more, and you already know what it is. The Strawhats are going to the Super Smash Bros. world, where anything could happen. Since you already know what it is, there is no point in playing "GUESS THAT ARC!" now, but you can tell me which arc was your favorite in your review if you like. The arc which get the majority of favoritism, I will give the reviewers who voted for that arc an imaginary pizza.

Next arc will show more of the story's plot, so stay tuned for my next update. Ciao for now!

Super Smash Bros Pt 1

Hello! It's me again with the first chapter of the new arc ready to go. First off, upon reading the reviews, it seems that the Metal Gear arc has won the favoritism, so for those who chose Metal Gear, have this imaginary pizza of your favorite topping. For those reviewed, you get an imaginary pizza too… you know what, since I am in such a good mood, everyone who has read the last chapter gets an imaginary pizza as well!

Let me say this now that this arc is going to be the shortest one, but it will also be the most informative one. I did everything I could for this chapter, so I hope you enjoy it!

All the Mystery hearts have been collected! After rescuing a princess from a dreadful koopa; defeating a warlock from taking over Hyrule; stopping an evil organization from taking control over the pokemon; saving a massive town from total destruction; beating the heck out of some loathsome space pirates from destroying the Luminoth race; casting away a nightmare that could've engulfed the land of dreams for all eternity; eliminating a terrorist group that planned to change the lives of billions of people; and destroying the remaining threats to the Lylat System, the Strawhat pirates have finally achieved the items they needed to get back to their world… or so they thought. It turns out, they need to go to the Smash world, and ask for Master Hand's help in order to get back home. As it easy as that sounds; will the Strawhat crew have such an easy voyage there, or will they encounter problems that they never expect to face?

Chapter 115: Where Smashers collide!, The world of Super Smash Bros.!

The Thousand Sunny sailed along the streams of gold, which were much more beautiful to behold in comparison to the streams of light the Strawhat crew are used to. It has been days since the Strawhat crew have departed from Corneria, but most of them didn't even care.

Luffy, however, was actually very excited to get to the Smash World. He was on the Thousand Sunny's figurehead, eagerly wanting to arrive at Master Hand's world, and meet Master hand for the very first time. Luffy has spent almost every hour a day on that figurehead, and he only gets off as soon it was time to eat, which only takes him atleast four or five seconds to finish his big meal before rushing back on the figurehead.

His crew were also holding up quite nicely. Zoro was sleeping in Chopper's sick bay room as he had bandages nearly covering his whole body after the battle he had with Scales. He snored loudly on the bed as he seemed that he was recovering well.

Usopp, Chopper, and Robin were on the lawn deck, with Robin sitting on a beach chair, while the other two laid their backs on the lawn while gazing up upon the streams of gold.

"It's so beautiful." Chopper said in awe, "I have never seen something so amazing such as this."

"Heh heh! This is nothing." Usopp said while sitting up, and a cocky look, "I should tell you the time where I sailed through a sea made of pure gold while riding on ostrich when I was only five years old."

"Ehhhhhhhh! Only five! Amazing!" Chopper said excitedly.

Robin only giggled as Usopp continued to tell more lies to Chopper. She then looked at the streams of gold over the ledge of the ship, and let out a soft sigh, "It's truly amazing that all this exists. I'm actually somewhat excited to arrive at this world that awaits us." Robin said with a smile.

Inside the workshop, Franky placed his medal that was given to him by Peppy on a hook out of a wall in front of him. He then taped a picture of him and Peppy doing the peace sign next to the medal. "Ha… I miss the old guy already." Franky sighed.

Lastly, Nami was in the dining room, sitting on a chair at the bottom end of the table with a glum look. Sanji finished making her an elegant fruit beverage as he placed the drink in front of Nami. "There you go, Nami-san." Sanji said happily, "I hope that cheers you up."

"Hmm…" Nami muttered as she looked at the drink. She then took hold of the drink, and took a small sip before letting out a sigh.

Sanji didn't like seeing Nami so upset as he sat on a chair next to her, "I know this isn't how it was suppose to be, but it's not like this is a bad thing, or anything like that." Sanji said in a comforting way.

"I know… it's just that we went through so much getting all those hearts together, and I was so happy to get back home." Nami explained resting her cheek on her palm, "Then Merlon tells us to go to one more world and… ugh, it was just too sudden. It completely ruined my day."

"Cheer up, Nami-san." Sanji said while standing up from his chair, "It's only one little small thing. All we have to do is ask this Master hand guy to put us back in our world, and this trip will be a thing of the past. We won't have to worry about this anymore."

"I guess so…" Nami replied. She then drank her beverage as Sanji then looked somewhat depressed.

"Although… I probably won't be able to see woman as beautiful as the ones we met on our way here." Sanji said as tears came out of his eyes while thinking of the woman in the past worlds he has been on, "Peach-san, Zelda-swan, Samus-san, Krystal-chan… ooohh, I will miss you all terriblyyyyehhehhh!"

Sanji's cry of sorrow annoyed Nami as she slammed her cup on the table, and walked out of the dining room, leaving the cook to cry by himself. Nami walked down the stairs to the lawn deck, and by the time she got down there, she looked pissed off.

"I HAVE HAD IT!" Nami yelled furiously. Her yell startled Usopp and Chopper as they hugged eachother in fear. Robin stared at Nami as Franky came out into the lawn deck.

"What is it this time?" Franky asked with an annoyed look.

"I've had it with this stupid journey!" Nami said, "I felt like we've been going through these stupid worlds for more than a year now! I'm sorry, I just can't take this anymore! I want to get back to the Grand line, and not do this anymore!"

"Um… but we will." Chopper said a little nervously, "We just have to ask Master Hand for his help, and we can get back home in no time."

"That's just it! What if he doesn't help us?" Nami asked concernedly, "I'm worried that he just might say no, and we might get stuck in his world for the rest of our lives!"

"I'm sure he won't let that happen, Miss Navigator." Robin said calmly, "Perhaps you just need to calm down, and wait until we arrive to his world. There is no point in worrying about these things if doesn't help the cause. I suggest we relax until we know what awaits us in the future."

Nami then felt calm, and lets out a sigh before resting her back on the ledge of the ship, "You're probably right, but there is still something that bugs me about this."

"… You talkin' about those stupid rulers?" Franky asked. It was then silent; everyone in the conversation didn't had much to say about the Obscurum rulers. "They'll probably fail like the rest of those desperate idiots out there. They won't be our problem anymore." Franky said while crossing his arms. It was then that Usopp stood up.

"I have an idea; why don't we tell Master Hand that there are these guys that are messing up with people's lives?" Usopp asked, "He could do something about them since he probably knows about worlds than all of us put together."

"Yeah, that's a great idea, Usopp!" Chopper agreed.

"That sounds good, but we are not sure that will work without flaws." Robin said as she then rubbed her chin, "If we only know a way to stop them for good, then this will be a whole lot easier for all of us."

The crew were then silent again, having nothing else to say afterwards. Luffy overheard them from the figurehead he was on, but he didn't seem as worried as they were. "Hmm?" Luffy blinked as he noticed something far from a distance. He squinted, and placed his hand above his eyes to see the image of the Smash world could be seen, which made him completely excited. "Oh boy, oh boy, oh boy, OH BOY!" He stood up, and turned around towards his crew, "OOOOIII! We're almost there! We're going to get to the Master Hand world in just a couple of seconds! Get ready, guys! Oh boy!"

Luffy's crew heard him as Nami and Franky peered over the ledge of the ship to see the image in front of him. "Okay… there is no turning back now. Let's get this over with quickly!"

"I can't wait to see what the Smash world looks like!" Chopper said excitedly.

"I hope there isn't anything creepy in that place." Usopp whimpered before having a brave look, "Not that it would matter, since I am the strongest of the crew! Ha ha ha!"

The Thousand Sunny sailed closer and closer to the image of the planet as everyone on deck was ready to land. "Yosh! Smash world, here we come! Yahoooo!" Luffy exclaimed with his arms raised.

The ship went through the image as a bright, golden light blinded the crew after going through it. The light then dimmed afterwards as Luffy and his crew opened their eyes to see the new surroundings before them.

"Huh?" Luffy blinked in confusion as he and his crew only saw that they were on the ocean floor on a bright, sunny day. "Is this it?"

"That's funny; you'd think we would see something different in a world like this." Franky said while scratching his head.

"We'll have to find land again." Nami said, "Usopp, get to it."

"I know, I know." Usopp said as he then puts on his goggles to search for land. While he did that, Zoro and Sanji came out of the kitchen, and noticed their new surroundings.

"Is this the place?" Sanji asked while walking down to the lawn deck, "It doesn't look all that special."

"We always end up on oceans these days; it's getting a little repetitive." Zoro said on his way down the stairs while removing his bandages. Chopper gasped when he saw him do that.

"Hey, you're not completely healed! Put your bandages back on, and get back to bed!" Chopper ordered while Zoro just walked past him.

"I feel fine; get off my back." Zoro replied bluntly. Chopper was about to reply, until Usopp spoke up.

"Hey, I see some land straight ahead!" Usopp said.

"Yosh! Let's get over there right away, guys!" Luffy said while pointing the land in front of him. Franky got behind the helm, and sailed the ship towards the land ahead. When the ship was close, the crew could see that there was absolutely nothing on the land but a grassy field. They were pretty confused as the ship then sailed across the river between the grassy fields.

"Nothing on land either, huh? What kind of place does this guy even live in? There is nothing but land and water here." Nami said while placing her hands on her hips.

"I can see some mountains over there!" Usopp said. Everyone looked towards their right, and noticed a weird shaped mountain from a far distance.

"Does Master Hand live there?" Chopper asked while peering over the ledge of the ship.

"We'll find out after we see where this river takes us." Nami said, "The current won't seem to accelerate anytime soon, so we should be fine with this path."

And so, the Thousand Sunny sailed through the river for more than a half an hour, but they didn't seem to be getting anywhere. Robin was relaxing on her beach chair again, reading another book until a little breeze flew by. She raised her head up, and noticed something over the horizon. The rest of the crew noticed this too as they all got in front of the ship, while Luffy stood up on the figurehead with a surprised look on his face.

"Whoa…" Luffy said in awe. Usopp raised his goggles over his head as he and his comrades were also amazed by what they saw.

"No way…" Nami said in disbelief.

"Huh! Wow." Zoro said with an impressed look.

"Now that looks rather special." Sanji said with a smirk. Chopper gawked at what he saw as Robin smiled.

"It truly is amazing." Robin said.

"Heh heh! Now that's pretty cool!" Franky stated.

What lied in front of the crew was a town, but not just any town they have seen before. It was town that had countless of elements that the crew have seen throughout there entire journey, including more stuff that they have never seen before. This town was enormous, with buildings that were big or small, made of brick or wood, probably some of them having all of those elements combined. There were also many kinds of villages inside the town, and giant billboards advertising things like Pokemon or Kirby stuff. This town had everything from the universe of Nintendo. This town was known as "Smashtown".

"OoooooooooooOOOHHH! THIS IS SO COOL!" Luffy exclaimed with sparks of joy forming around his eyes. Usopp and Chopper had the same feeling, while everyone else were pretty amazed by the looks of the town as well.

"Incredible! I didn't expect a town like this could exist!" Nami exclaimed. As the ship sailed forward into the town, Nami noticed some blocks with question marks on them staying afloat from the grassy field next to her. "Hey, aren't those blocks from the Mushroom kingdom!"

"I see them, but why are they in this world?" Sanji asked. The ship continued to sail across the river as it led into town. Inside the town, they could see more of the spectacular city as Chopper saw some flying blocks with wings flying over the ship.

"There is more of them up there too!" Chopper said while pointing at the blocks. Robin looked up and noticed the blocks, but then noticed a some bridges connected to some buildings that resembled the huge bridges from Hyrule.

"I don't suppose this is all a coincidence." Robin said a little baffled. Zoro looked around town, and noticed some light posts that their bulbs are in shape of pokeballs as the ship sailed past them. Franky noticed them too as he then looked ahead, and gasped.

"O-Oi! What is this!" Franky asked. Everyone was shocked as they saw the river's current flowing diagonally upward.

"Huh! Why is the river like that!" Usopp asked, "Whoaaa!" Everyone held on the ship continued along the current, but strangely, the ship was moving just fine, despite the altitude. Usopp, Nami, and Chopper were baffled as the ship were sailing on a floating river.

"Okay, this is getting really strange! How is the river floating!" Nami asked nervously.

"This is so fun! Ha ha! We are so high up now!" Luffy exclaimed excitedly.

"Man… this place is just getting weirder and weirder." Sanji commented while trying not to lose his balance. The ship went up and up until it reached to the town square, where lied a huge, blue skyscraper, that had bright, floating words moving in circles above it.

"'Smashtown'." Robin read the words, "I suppose that's the name of this strange place."

The river led the ship around the skyscraper three times before reaching back down to the floor again as the ship got back down with a minimal of fuss. Some of the crew were dizzy upon landing down as some of them noticed an odd-looking street that had several loops. Some of the streets also head towards a giant warp pipe under a bridge, moving them up to a floating circuit that was suspended in the air thanks to small boosters underneath it.

"This all looks so familiar, yet it's all so different here." Nami said, "It's like this town is made up of the things we saw in the worlds we've been on before."

"Why would they be here, though?" Zoro asked. The crew shrugged as the ship finally arrived at a lake, where there was a regular harbor at the end of it.

"Let's anchor there. We'll see what this place is about." Franky said. He sailed the ship towards the harbor, but as he did, small roundish machines popped out of the water, and formed a barrier around the ship to help it dock onto a port. "Geez! I can do this myself, you know!"

"Those almost look like the machines in that hangar from Corneria." Zoro said upon realization, "Something really strange is going on around here."

The machines sailed the ship towards a port, and dispersed their barrier before going back into the water again. After they left, several star blocks popped out from the sky next to the Thousand Sunny, forming a staircase so that the crew could get off without using the crosswalk.

"Hoo hooo! That is so cool!" Luffy exclaimed happily. Luffy jumped off the ship, and walked around the harbor as the crew walked down the star block staircase. As soon as they were all off, the blocks turned into stardust before disappearing completely.

"Are you sure it's a good idea to come here? It's all very freaky here!" Usopp whimpered.

"It's not like we have a choice. Come on, let's walk around town, and see what we can find." Nami said. Luffy excitedly ran ahead first before looking at a welcoming sign.

"'Welcome to Smashtown; the town that is not related to Smashville.'." Luffy read before smiling, "I don't know what that means, but I could care less! Hya hya hya! Wooo!" Luffy ran towards town while Usopp and Chopper followed him.

"Don't go too far! Remember, we are here to find Master Hand!" Nami yelled. Sanji then walked in front of Nami and Robin with a courageous look.

"Do not worry, Nami-san! I will guide you and Robin-chwan through this weird town without trouble!" Sanji said determinedly. Nami sighed while Robin just giggled as Sanji led them towards town, leaving Zoro and Franky by themselves.

"Where do we go now?" Franky asked.

"I don't care. Let's just find someone that could help us." Zoro said as he and Franky then left too.

Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper ran around an empty street, passing through some holographic billboards, showing some images of mystical swords and emblems. "Oooh! Check it out!" Luffy approached a display window of a small toy store, and saw several helmets that were similar to the one Captain Falcon wears. Luffy saw more stuff through the window like toys of F-Zero merchandise, and there were also plushies of Kirby or even Metaknight. Usopp and Chopper took a look for themselves while Luffy then ran off to the building next door.

"Oh, yeah! I see so many stuff in there! Look, there's even a life-sized suit that Samus wears!" Usopp said, noticing a limited edition Samus' armor.

"That's so amazing! Too bad this place looks closed." Chopper said.

"Whoa! Hey, guys! Come over here; I found a cardboard box store!" Luffy said excitedly. Usopp and Chopper approached where Luffy was, and noticed a building that looked exactly like a cardboard box, only it wasn't made of cardboard. Through the windows, they could see many kinds of cardboard boxes that cardboard box fans would die to have. "So many boxes! I definitely want one."

Usopp and Chopper weren't all that impressed as they left Luffy to see another building across the street. Usopp then read the sign next to the building's entrance. "'The DP store; a place where you buy stuff so you can throw them away later.' Okay?" Usopp was confused as he then opened the door to the store, "I guess they're open. Let's see what's inside, Chopper."

"Okay." Chopper replied. They walked inside, and saw lots of merchandise. "Hello?" Chopper said, but there was no one attending the store. "Strange, nobody is in here." Chopper looked around, and saw some badges that read 'Franklin' on them, and saw some sticks, shoes, gloves, and even dog collars, including some charms and bracelets.

Usopp approached in front of strange looking rope as he tried to read the information about the item, "'Used Rope Snake. Warning, it's very annoying.'… What?" Usopp asked. Suddenly, the rope started to move as it turned out to be a snake.

"What are you looking at, bub!" Asked the rope snake. This startled Usopp as he fell through some merchandise on display. Chopper helped him up as they both looked at the snake with nervous looks. "What! You have a problem! I'm really important, you know, so you better buy me or else!"

"It's talking… why is it talking!" Usopp asked.

"BUY ME! BUY ME! BUY ME! BUY MEEEEE!" Yelled the rope snake with a demonic voice. This scared the duo as they left the store in a split second. "… Fine! I didn't wanted to be bought anyway!" The snake said before going back to sleep.

Nami, Sanji, and Robin walked around the town square, which had a nice garden that various kinds of flowers, including big ones with big happy faces. Nami was a little freaked out by those flowers as she then walked up to a floating monitor, with a red frame, and a green screen.

"What is this?" Nami asked as she touched the screen. The screen then showed the map of the entire city, and pinpointed Nami's current location. "A map? This could be useful…"

While Nami looked at the map, Robin noticed some ice sculptures around the gardens. "I wonder how they remain in that shape in a day such as this." Robin said curiously.

"They are certainly beautiful, but not as much as you, Robin-chwan." Sanji said romantically, "If I would've made an ice sculpture of you, all of these sculptures would melt of envy!" Before Sanji could happily imagine making a sculpture for Robin, a random yoshi egg bounced off his head before bouncing away. "Ugh?… What the heck was that all about?"

Zoro and Franky walked across a sidewalk, passing by a building that actually looked much like a giant barrel, which was next to a very modern building that look like the ones from Corneria. "Tch! Who designed this place? Everything is so confusing here!" Franky said.

Zoro only looked at a screen that showed a strange 2D character, moving around the screen in a strange pattern. "Yeah, this is too confusing." Zoro replied. His eyes then slightly widened as he just noticed something else about the town.

"What's up?" Franky asked.

"… Let's go find the others." Zoro replied. Franky blinked in confusion, but then shrugged as he followed Zoro to the town square. They saw their comrades there as they approached them. "Hey, did you guys find anything useful?"

"Nami-san has been looking at that floating thing for a while; I'm sure she is on to something." Sanji said.

"Good, because there is something else that concerns me about this place." Zoro said while looking at his surroundings. It was then that Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper came into the square, having a good time as they approached the others.

"Did you see those bouncing eggs pass by earlier? I wanted to see how they tasted like!" Luffy said to Usopp.

"That may not be a good idea; who knows what those things could do to you." Usopp replied a bit worryingly.

"Oi, what you guys find?" Franky asked the trio.

"We saw many stuff around here!" Chopper said happily, "But I don't think there is anything we could use now."

"Forget about that for now; didn't you guys noticed anything strange about this town?" Zoro asked.

"You just realized that now? This whole town is strange. A snake just yelled at me for no reason." Usopp said.

"That's not what I'm talking about." Zoro said as he then looked out at the empty streets, "Ever since we got here, we haven't seen a single person here; not even a wild animal."

It was true; there was not a single soul in Smashtown. The town was really quiet, and the only thing that could be heard was the sound of the wind whistling by the empty streets of this empty town.

"Now that you mention it; where is everyone?" Robin asked.

"Oh… this place is so creepy. All the stuff here must have distracted us from realizing this sooner." Usopp whimpered.

"Cool, a ghost town!" Luffy said happily, "It'd be cool if some zombies were to pop out of the ground by now!"

"Shut up, Luffy!" Usopp and Chopper said in unison.

"I have a bad feeling about this place… we should find a way out of here." Sanji said.

"Don't worry; I just found one." Nami said while working on the screen. She pushed an 'OK' button, which made some wireframes appear behind the crew. The frames turned into a F-Zero vehicle, which was big enough for eight people to get in. Luffy and the others looked at the vehicle in awe as Nami walked up to them, "Thanks to that map, it showed me the location where Master Hand lives. That weird thing also gave me instructions to how get there…" Nami then frowned upon looking at the F-Zero vehicle, "But I didn't expect to use this vehicle thing again!"

"Oh man, this was so cool!" Luffy said while getting inside the vehicle, "I want to drive!"

"OH NO, YOU WON'T!" Zoro, Usopp, Sanji, and Franky said simultaneously while pushing Luffy away from the front seats. The vehicle was being maneuvered automatically as it started to float from the ground as soon as everyone got inside, and buckled up.

"Now, If I did it right, I instructed this thing to lead us just outside of town; I don't know what lies ahead, so it's best that we'd walk to Master Hand's place once we're out of here." Nami explained.

"How long do you think it will take to get out of this town?" Chopper asked Nami sitting next to her.

"Well, this town is pretty big from the looks of the map, and I have already experienced a ride like this before, so you can say we can make out of here in a couple of minutes. Heh heh." Nami said, sounding a little nervous.

Unbeknown to the crew, a dash panel suddenly appeared in front of the vehicle. The vehicle then ignited it's boosters, and zoomed forward, going over the dash panel that allowed the vehicle to move in sonic speed.

"DAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH HHHHHHHHHHHHHH!"

The entire crew, except for Robin, were surprised to move at such speeds, including Nami, who seemed to have passed out. The vehicle was turning within every corner of the road that came in it's way, and it even jumped over some roads to get out of town even quicker. As soon as it finally made it's way out town, the vehicle came to sudden halt, which the crew would've crashed the windshields if they hadn't had their seatbelts on. The cockpit opened as everyone was gasping for air as they made way out of the car in dazedly fashion.

"Ooooh, I so hate these things!" Nami muttered while falling on her hands and knees.

"Ha ha ha! It was so fun! Let's go in again!" Luffy said excitedly, but soon changed his mind after receiving a death glare from Nami. Once everyone was out of the vehicle, it turned around, and zoomed back into town.

"Looks like we're walking from here." Franky stated while rubbing his head.

The crew were able to regain their composure, and started along the path towards Master Hand supposedly is. They walked along the path for several minutes, passing by some few trees along the way as Usopp then thought of something.

"Say, what do you think this Master Hand looks like?" Usopp asked.

"Merlon did say that he was a hand." Robin explained.

"Eh, I don't think that's possible. I mean, a floating hand? It has to be something more than that." Usopp said.

"What do you think he looks like, Usopp?" Chopper asked.

"I don't know; probably a really old guy with a long beard." Usopp said, "The 'hand' thing must resemble something important to him, I think."

"Nah, that's so lame! I'm sure he's an actual hand." Luffy said with a big smile, "Maybe he's a giant hand! That sounds better, right?"

"N-No, I think that sounds pretty creepy." Usopp said.

"Who cares what he looks like? We just need to make sure if he'll help us or not." Zoro said.

"Yeah, he can start by helping you, Marimo. You're filled with problems." Sanji replied with a smirk, while Zoro just frowned at him.

"Whatever the case may be, I'm sure he will be kind enough to help us." Robin said.

"Let's hope so; I'm already annoyed by this place." Nami said with a sigh. The crew then walked up a small hill, and as soon as they reached the top, they have at their destination.

"Wow…" Chopper said in awe.

What lied before the crew was an enormous mansion, probably as big as any ordinary castle, or probably even bigger. The mansion lied past a double-fenced gate, that also had a brick wall that was so long that the crew couldn't even see how far it goes around the mansion.

"This place is pretty big." Franky said while raising his sunglasses over his head, "Even I probably can't build something like that in less than a week."

"It looks amazing. So this is where Master Hand lives." Robin said.

"Hellooooooooo?" Luffy said loudly as he just opened the gate, and walked through.

"Luffy, don't just barge in!" Usopp yelled. He and his team followed Luffy through the gate as they could got a closer look at the mansion. From the front side, there was a clean road, with bushes along the sides, and a field of flowers past those bushes. Ahead of the road lied a white tiled floor with a black-colored super smash bros. symbol on it's center, and past it lied some steps that lead into the mansion.

The mansion was big and wide. It had a slight dark peach color, and it was atleast three floors tall, with the first floor being the tallest floor of the building. In the top center of the mansion, there was a glass wall that was about as big as the second and third floor combined, and below it's bottom corners lied two big front doors that were big enough for a semi-giant to go through, and in between those doors, lied another Super Smash bros. symbol, only it had a rainbowish color. The crew made their way up the stairs, walked up to the front door on the right.

"The door is so big." Nami said in awe, "You'd think they he'll hear us knock?"

"Let's find out." Usopp said while taking a step forward. He cleared his throat in a cocky manner, and knocked on the door the lightest way possible. He then turned around, and walked away in a proudly fashion, "Well, nobody's home! Let's get outta here while we still can!"

"I'll knock!" Luffy said as he then knocked on the door so hardly, that it sounded like the door was about to break.

"Luffy, stop that! Do you want to get us killed!" Usopp asked as he pulled Luffy away with the door. Luffy was able to give one more knock at the door before being pulled back. Once he did, a certain spot of the door opened inwardly like a door for regular-sized people. "Eh? Ah!" Usopp couldn't hold Luffy back as he fell backwards, while Luffy wandered into the mansion.

"Luffy, get back here!" Nami said. The crew followed Luffy into the mansion as Nami nagged at Luffy from behind, "Listen, you can't just wander around here; we might get in trouble because of your reckless attitude!"

"But look at this place… It's so big…" Luffy said in awe.

The crew looked at their surroundings, and saw the inside of the mansion. What they found surprising that the whole floor looked much bigger than it appeared from the outside. There was a white-colored carpet covering the whole floor, and there was also a big plasma screen TV from the wall between the front entrances, and in front of the television lied a round coffee table, which was in front of a crescent-shaped sofa, big enough for a whole family to sit on. Beyond this furniture were two sets of stairs that lead up to the front part of the second floor, which also had a Super Smash bros emblem on the front wall there.

Pass the stairs lied the dining room, which had a huge rectangular table that was big enough for more than 30 people to dine in. To the table's right lied kitchen, which looked neatly decorated and organized as it also had a big counter just in case if somebody wanted to eat there. To the table's left was a wall, which had the symbols of the Smasher's origins on it, like the mushroom, triforce, etc.

Pass the dining room lied another set of stairs, which leads up to a window between some more stairs that lead up to the back part of the second floor. The Strawhat pirates walked around past the sofa as they were still amazed how the mansion looked from the inside.

"Wow! This place is the coolest!" Luffy said.

"It looks okay." Zoro commented, "But it looks a little too good."

"Master Hand must be pretty rich to have all this stuff." Chopper said.

"We can't say that this all his." Nami said while looking around, "Just like all that stuff back in that strange town, all this must be a part of someone else's world as well."

Luffy laughed until he then noticed a green door with a chest symbol on it, and below it read the word 'Vault', "Hey, look at that! They're must be something cool in there." Nami looked towards the door Luffy referred to, and smiled while having berri signs over her eyes.

"Well, let's not just stand here! Let's take a look see!" Nami said happily as she approached the door in a hurry, while Usopp and Franky only sighed at her greediness. "It's already open!" Nami opened the door, and stepped right into the room. "Huh?" Her smile faded as Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper walked past her.

"OoooooOOOOOHH!" Their jaws dropped to the floor in amazement as they were in a huge room that looked like it had almost everything, except for money. The room had two aisles: One was for trophies, and other one was for items. The room also a had a huge book in front of the door way. "What's that?" Luffy asked while grabbing the book from it's pedestal. As soon as he opened, he noticed that it contained hundreds and hundreds of stickers.

"Look at all the stickers!" Usopp said in awe. Luffy started to taking out some stickers, and stick them on his clothes and body. He then placed some stickers on Usopp and Chopper as they laughed. Nami then sighed in depression.

"Why call it a vault if it doesn't have any real money?" Nami asked. Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper then walked around the trophy while their bodies were covered in stickers as they then gasped upon seeing the trophies behind a glass wall.

"Whoa! It's Mario!" Luffy said, pointing at a Mario trophy.

"Hey, that's Captain Falcon over there!" Usopp said while pointing at a Captain Falcon trophy. Chopper eyes widened as he saw a Krystal trophy in front of him.

"They have so many good things here." Chopper said happily. Luffy eyes then widened in shock upon seeing what he believed that was the best trophy in the room.

"No way… a ten foot bug-eye person trophy!" Luffy exclaimed upon seeing a Luminoth trophy. Luffy wanted to hold it so badly, but the glass wall was durable enough to hold against Luffy's punches. Nami had enough of the ruckus, and pulled the trio out of the vault room before tossing them down to the floor.

"Will you guys stop being so stupid! Don't touch anything until I say so!" Nami said. The trio got up, and bowed down at Nami for forgiveness. Franky then realized something about the mansion.

"Say, don't you think that this place is like a hotel?" Franky asked as his comrades looked at him, "I mean, all this seems more suitable for a group to live in. Since this Master Hand guy hosts tournaments, don't you think that he might let people participating it would spend their time here or something?"

"How should we know?" Zoro asked, "But you do have a point there. All this wouldn't be necessary for one guy only."

"You're right, Mr. Swordsman." Robin said while looking up, "Look up there, everyone."

Everyone looked way up above the television set, and saw a humongous portrait, and it wasn't just any kind of portrait. It was a portrait of all the Smashers, and unlike the one Dedede has, this one showed everyone in their actual size.

"Whoa…" Luffy said in a lost of words. The portrait had Mario in the center; Luigi, Link, Zelda, Wario, Wolf, Samus, and Kirby on Mario's left side; Snake, Fox, Falco, Metaknight, Pikachu, Peach, and Captain Falcon on Mario's right side; and Bowser, Ganondorf, and Dedede behind Mario. There were many more on the portrait as well, but the crew didn't know who they were. The crew smiled upon seeing this great portrait.

"I guess you were right, Franky." Zoro said with a smile.

"Ha! It was a lucky guess, bro!" Franky said with a smirk.

"They are so amazing!" Chopper said.

"I'd never imagined to see them all in one place… well, in regular size, of course." Usopp said in awe.

"They seem to get along quite well." Robin said with a smile.

"Peach-san, Zelda-san, and Samus-swan look so beautiful in that portrait, I could just steal it!" Sanji said happily with a heart over his visible eye.

"Even though some of them aren't good… I have to say, they appear to be a team. It's weird, yet it's very nice." Nami said with a smile.

"Ha ha ha! This is the best world ever!" Luffy said with his arms held high, "Oh man, I can't wait to meet Master Hand already!"

Meanwhile…

In one of the rooms of the mansion, lied a humongous door, which pass it lied the biggest room in the entire mansion. The side walls were covered with wooden book shelves, and the room itself appeared to be a quarter of a mile long. At the end of the room lied an ordinary desk, which was in front of the big glass wall I mentioned earlier. The only thing that was moving there was something that was hiding behind the wooden desk, but appeared too big to hide behind it completely.

"Oh geez… this really sucks! I reeeeally don't want to do this anymore!"

The thing then came out of hiding from the desk as it could then be seen completely. It wasn't human, and it doesn't even have a body. In fact, it doesn't even have a face or a mouth, or anything that every creature should have.

It was a giant, floating hand.

To be more precise, it was a floating glove in shape of a human hand, and it was a left hand at that. It's immense size was something to behold, and it appeared to be a 'he'. It's characteristics would make anyone think he is crazy, and ironically, that's just what he is--Crazy Hand.

"Dang it! Nothing is going to happen! It's been like that for a while now! Why should I be so scared!" Crazy Hand clenched himself into a fist, since he is hand anyway, "I am the almighty one around here, and I am not going to let anything scare me to death!"

A leaf from a tree then fell off from it's branch, and gently touched the glass wall behind Crazy Hand. "UWAAAAAAH!" Crazy Hand heard the sound of the leaf touching the glass wall, which he thought it was something else as he cowered behind desk again. "Okay, fine! I'll let everything scare me! Just please don't let it kill me; I'm too gorgeous to die!"

Had a little trouble with this chapter, but it's all settled now. Hope you like it! Enjoy!

The wonderful world of Smash. The Strawhat pirates have finally arrived at the Smash world, where many things they have seen before are all in one town known as Smashtown. Once they found a way out, the crew made their towards a mansion, where Master Hand lives. Thanks to Luffy, they went inside uninvited, and saw all the priceless valuables inside. Unbeknown to them, there was somebody inside the mansion, and it's not who they expect. Will that somebody cause problems to the Strawhats?

Chapter 116: The craziest guy ever!, Crazy Hand's retaliation!

The crew looked away from the portrait as Franky whistled out of amazement, "So this place really is some kind of hotel. It looks good so far." Franky said with his hands on his hips.

"It does look amazing, but where is Master Hand?" Nami asked while looking at her surroundings, "It looks like there isn't anyone home by the looks of this place." Nami then noticed somebody missing from the crew, "Where's Luffy?"

"He went back to the vault room, along with Usopp and Chopper." Robin replied. Nami looked frustrated upon hearing that.

"Again! What more could they be doing in there!" Nami asked.

Inside the vault room, Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper were looking around the item aisle, which was obviously filled with different kinds of items. Luffy noticed a spiked ball with pupiless eyes, and touched it, but once he did, the ball's spikes grew longer, startling Luffy as he took a step back.

"Whoa, cool!" Luffy said.

Usopp was looking at the bomb-ombs behind a display window while holding a baseball bat he found at another part of the aisle. While he did that, Chopper, who was next to Usopp, picked up a weird creature that resembled a head with a big nose, and also had whiskers while having a bowtie around it's only strain of hair. Chopper squeezed it, causing it to make a funny sound.

"Ha ha!" Chopper laughed while squeezing the creature nonstop.

Luffy walked around the aisle, and noticed a hilt hanging from the wall. He grabbed it, and noticed a red button on it's front side. He pushed it, which caused a blue beam form from the top of it, making Luffy realize that it was a lightsa-, I mean, some kind of blade beam.

"Awesome!" Luffy exclaimed while swinging the blade beam around. He then looked at Usopp, and smirked, "Oi, Usopp! I am your master! Bow down before me, or I will use my shiny sword on you!"

Usopp blinked in confusion until he decided to play along, "Oh, but you underestimate me, Luffy-san!" Usopp said as he too grabbed a blade beam from the wall next to him, and turned it on, "For I am the greatest blade wielder in the entire universe! Bow down before my greatness!"

"There could only be one blade master here, and that will be me!" Luffy said in a playful manner as he charged at Usopp with a blade beam in hand.

"Ah ha ha ha! Prepare to lose, Luffy-san! Hiya!" Usopp said. He and Luffy charged at each other in a dramatic fashion, and clashed their blade beams together. They swung their blades at each other continuously, but they could only hit their opponent's blades as with each clash made a noise that you are probably most familiar with.

Chopper didn't know that those two were just playing around as he was gawking at the scene while holding the weird creature tightly, which was a Mr. Saturn if you didn't figured it out.

Nami barged into the room, and drifted in front of the item aisle to see the whole 'battle' going on, which irritated her. "What are you two morons doing now! This isn't the time to be playing around!"

"We're fighting to see who's the greatest swordsman of all!" Luffy said while swinging his blade at Usopp. This caused Zoro, who was outside the room, to sneeze for some strange reason.

"Yeah, so stand back; I have yet to unleash my finishing move!" Usopp replied with several lousy thrusts to Luffy, who managed to dodge quite easily.

"Nami, stop them! They are going to kill each other!" Chopper cried.

"Oh, I'll stop them alright!" Nami muttered while grabbing something out of a barrel next to her, which turned out to be a white and pink capsule, "You two stop it, right now!" Nami threw the capsule towards the duo as they raised the blades above their heads.

KABOOM!

"Huh?" Zoro and Franky looked towards the vault room to see black smoke coming out from the entrance. Sanji got worried, but sighed in relief as he saw Nami dragging out Luffy and Usopp across the ground, while Chopper walked next to her while still holding the Mr. Saturn.

"If you two go back in there behind my back again, I'm going to make sure you will regret it! Do you understand!" Nami asked Luffy and Usopp without looking at them.

"Yeah… we're sorry…" Luffy and Usopp said simultaneously while feeling a bit dazed. Nami then dropped them on their backs without warning, and walked to the middle of the front staircases.

"This is getting me a little nervous," Nami said, "Not even all that ruckus made somebody show up."

"We should try looking around, and see what's going on." Sanji suggested, "There has to be somebody in this place."

Meanwhile…

Crazy Hand slowly peeked over the table, and saw nothing out of the ordinary. He turned back towards the glass wall, and saw that everything was peaceful as ever.

"I must be imagining things again." Crazy Hand said as he got out of hiding behind the desk, "I swear, living in a big mansion that's even bigger from the inside is really freaky; especially when you are all alone…" Crazy Hand then looked sad, which was hard to tell since he was just a floating hand. He then perked up upon realizing something, "Maybe I'm not alone? Maybe there is somebody here… like zombies! Or even worse… maybe there are clown zombies here instead! Ehh!"

Crazy Hand then started move around the room in a worried fashion, "Having that big town just ahead of this place was a bad idea! Everyone knows that if there was an empty town, there would be zombies lurking around there!" Crazy Hand then stopped, "But the town wouldn't be empty if there were zombies, so… there are no zombies? Or maybe there are, and the town is filled with them, but would the town still be empty?"

Crazy Hand stood still without moving for several seconds until he then looked out through the glass wall, and could barely see the image of Smashtown from afar, "Ah, what a lovely view of the town! I wonder if there is anybody there." Crazy Hand said happily, until he then gasped, "What if the town's empty! If it is, then there are sure to be zombies! But wait, it wouldn't be empty if there are!… Wasn't I just talking about this just a second ago?… Nah!"

Crazy Hand then looked away from the glass wall as his fingers shivered in fear, "I'm starting to lose it! Alright, Crazy Hand, calm down; don't let your gorgEOUS figure get all ruined for no reason! You are da man of this place! You got to keep your cool!" Crazy Hand then tried to act cool, but he was shaking like a cell phone vibrating. As he did this, he looked through the glass wall again. "S-S-S-See! All c-c-cool!" He said nervously, "Nothing is going to come here, and try to-dehhhhhhhhhhhhh!"

Crazy Hand saw something that completely threw him off guard. He saw the front gates that looked close, but he noticed that the right side of the gate was 0.1 inch open. "OH.. EHM.. GEEEE!" Crazy Hand gasped as he cowered behind the desk again, "Somebody is definitely in here! I could sense it! This is freaking me out!" Crazy Hand then got quiet as thanks to extra sense of hearing, he could hear faint voices coming from the first floor.

"What's that? Is someone inside the mansion?" Crazy Hand asked as he faced his back against the floor to hear better, which I don't know how that works, "There is somebody down there! It sounds like a girl, with orange hair and big boobs, talking to some guys that one of them has grassy hair, the other one with a curly eyebrow, and the last one wearing panties. And there is also another girl with bigger boobs listening in the conversation, standing next to a chibi reindeer with a blue nose, and there is another guy that sounds like he knows alot, and another weird guy with a straw hat just walking right into the kitchen…"

As surprisingly accurate Crazy Hand was, he started laugh in an insane manner, "HAAAAHAHAHAHAHAA! That sounded so retarded; there is no way that weirdos like that are in here!" Crazy Hand laughed, "I'm sure it was just a violin or something. Hoo, I would be scared to death if people like that are in here. Ha ha ha-hmm!" Crazy Hand instantly doubted himself, and quickly listened into the conversation coming from below.

Meanwhile…

"So where do we start first?" Franky asked with his arms crossed.

"Master Hand doesn't seem to be down here." Nami said as she then looked up at the second floor, "Let's go upstairs, and see what we can find; even if he's not here, he's bound to come back here at some point."

"We should all look around together; we don't want to take any reckless risks here." Robin explained.

"Speaking of reckless, Luffy disappeared again." Franky said.

"I saw him go into a room over there." Zoro said while looking at the entrance to the kitchen, "I think he found something to eat."

"-sigh-, That moron doesn't know how to stay put." Sanji said irritatedly. Luffy then barged out of the kitchen, with his mouth filled with food, and carried some more food back to his crew. Luffy then swallowed everything in his mouth before he showed how excited he was.

"Guys, you wouldn't believe what I just found!" Luffy exclaimed, "I found a kitchen, and there is a refrigerator there! I opened it, and it was filled with food, but the best part was that once I took a turkey out of it, another cooked turkey appeared right in it! So, I started taking all the food out, and the refrigerator kept refilling itself up with more food! It's like it's a mystery refrigerator! We have to take it back with us!"

"A bottomless refrigerator, huh?" Sanji said a little amused, "We could save plenty if we had that."

"Knock it off, you two!" Nami said before looking at Luffy, "Luffy, this isn't the time to be stealing! We have to find Master Hand!"

Luffy tilted his head sideways in confusion, "Huh? We're still doing that?" Luffy asked, "Fine, I'll get him here." Luffy said. He then gave all the food he was holding to Usopp, who instantly fell due to the massive weight of the food once grabbing it. Luffy then took a deep breath, and shouted, "MASTER HAND! COME ON OUT! WE WANT TO MEET YOU!"

Meanwhile…

Luffy's shout echoed throughout the entire mansion, and into the room where Crazy Hand was. Once Crazy Hand heard the shout, he gasped as he bounced off to the smooth ceiling as he stopped himself crashing into by using his fingers.

"Holy cow, there are guys like that in the mansion!" Crazy Hand cried. He stood holding onto the ceiling for several seconds, until he then forgot that he wasn't spiderman as he suddenly fell back on the floor with a loud thud. Crazy Hand did not get up, but acted as if nothing happened, "… They are here for me! They've come to get rid of me! Oh, why must the beautiful ones always suffer, and not the smart ones!"

Crazy Hand shivered again, until he then came up with an idea. "That's it!" Crazy Hand exclaimed as he then pushed a glass vase off the desk for no reason as it shattered into pieces upon hitting the ground, "I remember we installed a security program a looonng time ago just incase of an emergency! My god, if I only used that a long time ago, I wouldn't have been hiding behind this stupid desk this whole freakin' time!"

Crazy Hand then flew behind the desk as he started to look for something, "I have to activate it now before it's too late!" He said in a hurry, "Hey, maybe I should just turn him on just incase; he could really help me in a time like this! Now, where is that red button!" Crazy Hand searched around the desk, until he saw a red button on the desk. He pushed it rather hardly, accidentally destroying the table with his index finger, but he was too rushed to even care.

He turned to his left, and saw part of the bookcase open sideways. Behind it was a really big red button, encased in a glass case that read 'In case of emergency, break glass. P.S.: DO NOT BREAK THIS GLASS, CRAZY!'.

"I REGRET NOTHING!" Crazy Hand yelled insanely as he then punched through the glass, and punched the button. This caused an alarm to go off as the center of the room, the bookcase to the right opened sideways, revealing nothing but a dark room. Something then came out of the darkness as it's eyes glew yellow.

Meanwhile…

Everyone on the first floor were startled upon hearing the sound of the alarm going off. "What's going on!" Chopper asked nervously.

"Luffy, look what you did!" Nami yelled.

"I didn't do anything! All I did was yell!" Luffy cried.

Suddenly, the front door they went through in the last chapter closed shut. Not only that, all the exits, including the windows were sealed off, preventing anything from coming in or out of the mansion. Usopp hurried to the door, and tried to get it open, but to no prevail.

"It's locked!" Usopp cried, "We can't get out!"

"Not if I could help it!" Sanji yelled as he ran to a window, "COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji did a powerful front side kick to window, but to his surprise, the window didn't shatter, nor did Sanji even leave a scratch on it. "The hell? What are these windows made of!"

"Forget about the windows; what's that noise!" Zoro asked while unsheathing his swords. The crew could hear a loud rumbling noise coming from several directions of the floor they were in. Before they knew it, four blue portals appeared, with two of them appearing from the ground in front of the crew, and the other two from the wall close to the top of the two staircases.

"Something is coming!" Robin said with an alarmed tone. The crew prepared themselves as they faced towards the portals, but before they could act, two blurs came out from the portals that were on the ground.

"Ugh!" Luffy gasped as two more blurs jumped out from the portals on the second. The four blurs jumped around the room with great haste, jumping around the crew to startle them a bit. The blurs then jumped into one spot, and that was the front part of the second floor. Once they finally stopped moving, the crew could finally see who they were.

"Who are those guys! And more importantly, what are those guys!" Usopp asked in shock.

The four beings stood up from their knees, and faced towards the crew. From the looks of things, those beings were not human. One of them appeared to have a manly figure that sported a red body with darker red lines on it. It had white orbs for fists, and also have those on the back of it's heels. It also had a hollow face, showing a white orb inside his head- Red Alloy.

The one next to him appeared to be female, and also had a hollow face showing a white orb inside her head, including for her hands and the back of her heels. The difference is that her body was blue with dark blueish lines on it- Blue Alloy.

Next to her was another male alloy, but was smaller, and had horns from the side of his head. He had yellow body with dark yellow lines on it, and had the same looking orbs just like the previous two mentioned- Yellow Alloy.

And lastly, the one next to the Yellow Alloy was a green one, but unlike the others, his whole head is the body, and has little arms and legs just like Kirby. He had a green body with green lines on it, and he was the smallest of the team- Green Alloy.

They were known as the Fighting Alloy team as the foursome then did some heroic pose while a rainbow-ish background formed behind them. Luffy's jaw dropped down to the floor upon seeing that.

"Whoever they are, they are so awesome!" Luffy exclaimed as Chopper was also impressed.

"But what are they!" Nami asked, "And what do they want from us!" Nami asked worryingly.

It was then that another portal formed behind the Alloy team. The team stepped aside as another strange creature appeared, only it didn't look like an alloy. It appeared to be a man wearing a green robe that covered his entire body. He also wore a pointy green hat, and a purple robe around his lower body. The only thing that you can see from this man was his round, yellow eyes that glowed brightly in the dark parts of his face. He also didn't have any legs as he somehow moved in front of the rail to look down at the Strawhat crew. The crew was silent as the robed man spoke.

"Who dares disturb the peace and tranquility of my land!" The robed man said with a low, and scary voice. The crew didn't reply as this disturbed the man, "I said, WHAT DO YOU WANT!" Yelled the man as his shout caused the floor to tremor a bit.

The crew was startled, except for Luffy, who just stared at the man without showing any signs of being afraid. Chopper was leaning on Usopp's leg as Usopp was still holding onto the bat he got from the vault room.

"Wh-Wh-Who are you!" Usopp asked nervously.

"Who am I? WHO AM I! How dare you ask me such things out of curiosity!" The robed man said, "I am the Ancient Minister; I am the ruler of this world. You have trespassed into my lair, the Smash Mansion, and that I cannot overlook! For trespassing into this mansion, you shall die where you stand!"

"W-Wait, we didn't mean to barge in like this!" Nami explained, "We are only here to ask for Master Hand's help!"

"Huh? Master Hand?" The Ancient Minister said curiously.

"Yeah, that guy." Franky said while taking a step forward, "We were in town earlier, and we gathered information that Master Hand lives here."

"… Is this some kind of joke?" The Ancient Minister asked.

"Huh? What do you mean?" Franky asked.

"Whatever you're playing at, I ain't falling for it!" The Ancient Minister said, "There is no such thing as Master Hand in this mansion; there never was! Even if he did exist, his brother, which I am not saying he has one, wouldn't be hiding in here for several weeks for the obvious reasons! Now leave this place at once, and never return, or I will strike you down!"

"What are you saying! We need to see Master Hand this instant!" Nami replied, "If you know where he is, please tell us! We really need his help!"

"Siiiiileeencee!" The Ancient Minister yelled as a sound of lightning could be heard in the background afterwards, "I will give you one last chance! Leave now, and your lives will be spared!"

"We would've been gone a long time ago if you hadn't locked the doors!" Usopp said while pointing at the Ancient Minister, "If you really want us out, could you do something to get us out of here!"

The Ancient Minister remained quiet after being asked that, "Um… just a sec." He said. He then got quiet again, but for some strange reason, there were loud noises coming from him that sounded like books falling from bookcases. The crew looked at each other in confusion as this went on for several more seconds. "Let's see, let's see… WHAT! That's what '24 Hour Lockdown' means! That's so stupid!" He suddenly yelled out of the blue.

"Huh?" Luffy looked confused as the Ancient Minister looked down at his crew again.

"Um, ugh, nice try, but I won't fall for that one either!" The Ancient Minister said with a weak laugh, "You just plan to go outside, so you can just barge in again, and destroy me for good!"

"That didn't even make any sense!" Usopp exclaimed while doing an anime slap.

"Look, we don't have time for this! Just take us to see Master Hand right now!" Nami demanded.

"Yeah, right! How about I just wipe the floor with your face! Get them, Alloys!" The Ancient Minister commanded. The Alloy team then jumped over the rail, and headed down towards Nami, who gasped as she backed away. Sanji then jumped above her, and flew towards the Red Alloy.

"JOUE SHOT!" Sanji did an upside-down kick, kicking the Red Alloy in the cheek as hard as he could. The Red Alloy crashed into the wall from the side as Sanji landed on his feet afterwards, "Don't you dare lay a hand on Nami!" Sanji said as he turned around, only to see the Blue Alloy was about to strike him with a kick.

"Ha!" Nami saved Sanji by hitting the Blue Alloy across the face with her PCT as the Blue Alloy crashed into the floor face-first. Sanji was happy that Nami saved him as he danced in joy as the Red Alloy emerged from the wall, and leaped towards Zoro from behind.

"Heh!" Zoro sidestepped to avoid a downward thrust kick by the Red Alloy as Zoro countered with a diagonal slash across the Red Alloy's chest. The Red Alloy staggered back until Franky showed up out of nowhere, and slammed his head down at the carpet floor.

"If it's a fight you want, it's fight you'll get!" Franky said while cracking his knuckles. The Yellow Alloy then leaped right in front of Franky, and delivered a spinning kick to his chest, "Ugh!" Franky staggered as the Yellow Alloy jumped in front of Franky again, and punched him in the face, knocking him over the sofa as he crashed through the coffee table. Franky got up while glaring at the Yellow Alloy, "Why you little runt!"

"Hey, watch the furniture, man!" The Ancient Minister cried.

The Green Alloy tried kicking Luffy from the right side, but Luffy simply stepped back to avoid, and countered with a knee to the alloy's hollow face. The Green Alloy fell back as Luffy stretched his arm, and grabbed the alloy. "Huughhaaahh!" Luffy swung the Green Alloy around, and threw him up at the second, where he crashed into the wall after going past the Ancient Minister.

"Whoa, what the!" The Ancient Minister gasped, "What am I dealing with here!"

The Yellow Alloy jumped over the sofa to attack Franky again, but Robin sprouted arms out of alloy's small body. "CLUTCH!" The arms broke the Yellow Alloy's back as Franky removed the skin off his right hand as the alloy limplessly flew towards him.

"STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched the Yellow Alloy in the chest, sending him flying across the dining table in the center of the hallway before crashing down at the floor. It was then that the Red and Blue Alloys were getting back up on their feet.

"Still moving, huh?" Sanji snarled as he charged at the Red Alloy with several kicks. The Red Alloy fought back by blocking all of Sanji's kicks with his arms. The Alloy then countered with a shoulder barge, which Sanji avoided with sidestep, and did a 360 degree spin to kick the Alloy in the face with his heel. The Alloy crashed into the wall hard, and fell down to the floor limplessly as Sanji brushed the dust off his pants.

The Blue Alloy attacked Nami with several chops and side kicks, with her last kick knocking Nami on her rear. "Eh!" Nami fell as she looked up to see that the Blue Alloy thrusts her foot at her, but once she did, Nami turned transparent as she disappeared. "MIRAGE TEMPO!" Nami said as she charged at the Blue Alloy from behind, "THUNDER CHARGE, SWING ARM!" Nami swung her PCT with the front end of it covered with electricity, electrifying the Alloy as she crashed into the wall next to her limplessly.

All four Alloys were now down as the crew managed to finish them off, while Usopp and Chopper did nothing to help. "Yosh, they followed my battle strategy exactly the way as I envisioned it!" Usopp said with a thumbs up.

"Whoa, really!" Chopper asked in surprise.

The crew then looked up at the Ancient Minister, who sounded pretty upset, "We took down your men, now get take us to Master Hand, or do we have to come up there, and force you to do what we want!" Nami asked.

"Oh, whoop-dee-doo! You managed to beat the alloy team; I'm so scared!" The Ancient Minister said sarcastically, "Since four of them are too easy for you, I'll just have to raise the numbers a bit! MULTIPLY!"

The alloys then got stood up from the ground, and to the crew's shock, they started to multiply. "No way!" Luffy said in awe as the alloys multiplied until there were a total of 40 alloys, with ten of each color.

"Smash them!" The Ancient Minister ordered. The alloys charged at the crew like an army.

Zoro wrapped his bandanna around his head as he quickly held his third sword with his teeth before he crossed his swords against his chest, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed through some Red Alloys, instantly knocking them. He then did several slashes to the other Red Alloys in front of him, but was having a hard time fending for himself as all the Red Alloys were ganging up on him.

"QUASI!" Sanji jumped in the middle of the the Red Alloys, and did a handstand as he spun in circles with his legs spread out, kicking every Red Alloy that was in the way. Zoro managed to regain his ground again as he leaped towards the staggered alloys.

"HYOU KINDAMA!" Zoro spun with his swords in midair, slashing through the alloys as they were blown away one after the other. Inspite of this, the Red Alloys that were knocked down multiplied by 2, growing more in numbers as Zoro and Sanji were getting irritated.

"Wahh!" Chopper cried as the Yellow Alloy army charged at him, "Take this!" Chopper threw the Mr. Saturn he was holding onto as it hits a Yellow Alloy in the chest, but it only bounced of it. Chopper gasped as he quickly hid behind Usopp, who shivered while holding the bat he found tightly.

"St-Stay back! I'll use this!" Usopp said. Without a second thought, Usopp pulled back the bat, and swung it horizontally at some of the Yellow Alloys.

SMAAAAAAAAAAAAASHHH!

To Usopp's surprise, the bat knocked away the Yellow Alloys right across the hall. Usopp blinked in confusion until he looked at his bat, "This really is one strong bat!" He said before getting into a heroic pose, "Anyone who comes near me, I will send them flying outta here!"

Green Alloys then jumped from the second floor as Franky rapidly shot them as they fell down. "Whoa!" A Red Alloy suddenly struck Franky from behind, causing him to stagger as he countered with a backhand of his right fist. The Green Alloys that managed to land on the ground unharmed ran towards Robin, who sprouted two rows of arms from the ground.

"DELPHINIUM!" The arms rolled the Green Alloys around the ground as the last arms of the rows threw them into their companions like projectiles. Chopper then helped as he transformed into his Heavy point while getting in front of the incoming alloys. Chopper punched the alloys as they flew close as most of them crashed into their companions.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy stretched his arms up in the air, "EARTHQUAKE!" Luffy rapidly pounded his arms down at the ground in front of him, causing the ground to shake as this made most of the alloys close to him to lose their balance, and get pounded by Luffy's fists afterwards.

The Blue Alloys then jumped in the air, and dived down towards from Robin, but to their surprise, arms sprouted from their bodies as Robin faced towards them. "TWIST!" The arms twisted the alloys' bodies as they limplessly fell down on the floor like big chunks of hale. Usopp ran past her while swinging his bat like crazy as he knocked most of the alloys that were in his way.

"Take that! I am unstoppable with this bat! Ha ha ha!" Usopp praised while holding his bat in the air. He was so busy praising himself, that he didn't even notice a Red Alloy that was about to kick from behind.

"LONGE!" Sanji thrusts his foot against the side of the alloys neck as he crashed into the window without breaking it. Usopp gasped as Sanji ran past him, "Keep your eyes open; we can't afford to stop moving!" Sanji yelled.

"Uh-uh, yeah!" Usopp replied nervously while running around the place again.

Franky then clotheslined three Red Alloys simultaneously as he then opened up his left wrist, "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired several blasts at the incoming yellow alloys, but no matter how much he fired, there were more of them coming his way. "Tsk!" Franky then took a deep breath, "MASTER NAIL!" Franky spat out multiple needles, knocking most of the alloys back as he then pulled his right arm back, "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm through the alloys, clearing the path to the center of the hallway.

Despite the crew's efforts, more and more of the alloys showed up, and it didn't look like it was going to stop anytime soon, "Oi, how much more are there!" Zoro asked while slashing through five Blue Alloys at a time.

"They just keep coming! We're never going to survive this way!" Chopper cried while punching some alloys in front of him.

"Guys, stand back; I got them!" Nami said from the front side of the dining table. Apparently, while her comrades were fighting, she was making a big thundercloud that covered the front part of the first floor. The Ancient Minister was so astounded by this, he was screaming.

"Whoa, wait a second! Let's not go overboard!" Usopp cried while he, and the others moved out of the way.

"Here I go! THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunderball at the cloud, causing it to unleash a dreadful thunderstorm that struck the entire alloy fleet. Luffy was also struck by it, but since he was a rubberman, it didn't effect him at all as he stood tall while all the alloys around them limplessly fell on the ground. The thunderstorm stopped as all the alloys seemed to be defeated for good this time. All the furniture, including couch and big TV, were destroyed thanks to the storm. The crew then regrouped while panting a bit.

"That was so scary." Usopp panted, "Atleast it's over."

"Whoa! You guys are stronger than I thought!" The Ancient Minister said in amazement. The crew looked up at him as Luffy then pointed at him.

"Oi! If you don't tell us where Master Hand is, I'm coming up there to kick your ass!" Luffy yelled.

The Ancient Minister only laughed at this, "Haaaaa ha ha ha! You know, for a second there, I'd thought this would be easy." He said, "But now that I see that this is a problem, there is no reason to hold back! Get ready for round 3, and that round is always the hardest! CRRRUUUUEEEELLL MOODDEEE!"

The Minister's shout echoed throughout the entire mansion, with the crew wondering what was going to happen. Zoro then looked at the ground, and gasped, "Guys, look!" He said.

Everyone was seeing that the alloys were getting back up again, and they seemed to be twitching while getting on their feet. "Oh no, not again! How much more do we have to do this!" Usopp cried.

"What's wrong with them! They are moving weird!" Chopper said upon observation. All the alloys then stopped twitching as they turned towards the crew, and did not move a muscle afterwards.

"I don't care how many times they get up; seeing them moving just pisses me off!" Sanji yelled as he dashed towards a Red Alloy, "COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji did a powerful side kick, but to his surprise, the Red Alloy dodged swiftly. Sanji raised an eyebrow as he was about to strike again, only a Yellow Alloy leaped towards him, and kicked him hard on the chest. "GUOH!" Sanji went flying across the room until he crashed into the wall behind him.

"Sanji!" Luffy cried while turning his back. Before he knew it, a Blue Alloy appeared in his sights, and kicked him in the face, knocking Luffy off his feet as he crashed into the right corner of the floor. "Ah!… Ugh!"

"Dammit!" Zoro tried to attack a green alloy, but the alloy struck first with a headbutt to Zoro's gut, sending Zoro flying to the center of the room.

"What's going on! Why are you guys letting them beat you!" Nami asked.

Sanji dazedly got back on his feet while holding his chest in pain, "I don't know how, but they've gotten stronger than before!" He said.

"Are you serious! How is that possible!" Usopp asked.

"He must have something to do with it!" Robin said while glaring at the Ancient Minister, "He must be giving some kind of power to these creatures somehow! We must stop him before it's too late!"

"Grr! I'll get him!" Luffy yelled while getting, and tried to go after the Minister, but the alloys stopped him, and started beating him down.

"Luffy!" Chopper went to Luffy's aid, and punched away the alloys as far as he could. It was then that all the alloys began their move. The crew gathered around each other as Usopp panicked while taking something out of his bag.

"KEMURI BOSHI!" Usopp threw a smoke bomb to the ground as it exploded into a giant smokescreen. The alloys couldn't see anything as Zoro slashed right through most of them while they weren't looking.

"Split up! We'll meet up in the second floor!" Zoro yelled. Everyone then moved out as Usopp, Chopper, and Franky ran up the front staircase, while Zoro, Nami, Sanji, and Robin ran past the dining table, and went up to the second floor from the back staircases. Luffy was a little lost as he ended up fighting with the alloys like a raged monkey.

"Uh oh! Gotta get out of here!" The Ancient Minister cried as he ran away.

"Get him!" Usopp cried as he, Chopper, and Franky chased the Minister to the second floor. As they chased him, they passed some long hallways with brown doors that had symbols of the Smashers. They continued the chase until the Ancient Minister turned around, and faced them, "Oh, so you finally decided to face us, huh!" Usopp said while he readied his bat, "Get ready; I'm going to knock you out of this-"

ZAP!

The Ancient Minister fired a red laser beam out of his eyes, and burned Usopp's bat into ashes. Usopp and Chopper frozed in fear as Franky aimed at the Minister.

"Go ahead, and shoot me; I will defeat you without any-HEY!" The Ancient Minister yelled as he suddenly ran away again.

"What the? Let's go!" Franky said as he and his comrades chased after minister again.

The Ancient Minister ran as fast as he could as he turned around a corner of the hallway, and ran faster. He stopped midway as soon as he saw the other Strawhat crew appearing from the opposite corner he was about to run into.

"There he is!" Zoro said.

The Ancient Minister turned around, and tried to run escape, but saw Usopp and the others caught up with him. The Minister was trapped as the crew cautiously approached him. The Minister appeared to be shivering as he looked to his left, and noticed a big door with glass windows, but you couldn't see through them.

"Uhm, I think it's best that I fight these guys, instead of going through the big door I'm looking at!" The Ancient Minister said rather loudly. But for some reason, he started head towards the door, "DUDE, I'm so stupid approaching the door! Perhaps I should back away if I don't want a certain someone locked in a broom closet for the next billion years!"

Then the Ancient Minister suddenly backed away from the door after saying that as the Strawhats got him surrounded. "Okay, no more tricks!" Nami said, "Tell us where Master Hand is!"

"Never!" The Ancient Minister replied, "As long as I stand firm on this spot, none of you will make me squeal!"

BOOOOOOOOOM!

"AIEEEEEEEEEEEEE!" The floor was suddenly kicked through as the Ancient Minister got kicked from underneath, and spiraled all the way back before crashing into the big door. Luffy then popped out from the hole he created, and pulled himself up on the floor.

"Luffy, where did you come from!" Chopper asked.

"Heh.. heh… I was fighting all those guys by myself, and I couldn't see where I was going, so I busted my way here!" Luffy said proudly, "So where is the minister guy!"

"He's… right there." Robin said. Everyone else looked towards the Ancient Minister, but his robes seemed to have come off after crashing. Just after he got up, the crew were shocked to see what he actually looked like.

"Is that… a robot?" Sanji asked.

The Ancient Minister was indeed a robot. It had a white cylinder-shaped body, with a white chest around it that also had red and black plain handle-bar arms, and it also had a white and red hexagon-shaped base for movement. It had two big robotic eyes, and a black face while the rest of it's head was white, with the inclusion of a little red bulb on his head-- R.O.B.

R.O.B. turned towards the crew, and was aware that it no longer wore it's robe. R.O.B. then shivered in fear upon noticing this as the crew approached the robot.

"We've been fighting with a robot this whole time?" Usopp asked a little frustrated.

"C-C-Curse you! How dare you strip me naked! You perverts can look all you want; I'm not going to put on a show for you!" R.O.B. said, or so it seemed. Robin noticed that there was something on R.O.B.'s chest.

"He seems to be talking with that." Robin said while approaching R.O.B., who stood back a bit. Robin smiled kindly to R.O.B. as she then reached for the small black mechanism that was on R.O.B.'s chest.

"No, don't touch me; I'm too soft to be violated!" A voice yelled from the small mechanism once Robin took it, which proved that R.O.B. wasn't the one speaking to the crew this whole time. Luffy and the others then looked at the mechanism.

"So this robot couldn't talk at all?" Franky asked.

"He didn't seem to be the one doing all this." Robin said, "But whoever it is must be the one talking from here."

"You're wrong; I'm just a part of your imagination!" The mechanism yelled. Luffy then took the small mechanism, and started squeezing it, "Gah! I want my lawyer!"

Luffy destroyed the mechanism with his palm as the voice was gone.

The moment he destroyed it caused trouble for a particular someone in another place. That someone was Crazy Hand as he was the one making those threatening speeches by speaking into a small microphone that made R.O.B. looked like he was talking.

"Oh, shoot, shoot, SHOOT!" Crazy Hand cried while hitting the microphone away, "I'm so screwed! They are going to find me, and do some nassstyyyy things to me!" Crazy Hand then looked calm, "Although, I kinda hope that it's only the dirty kind of nasty, and not the I-am-going-to-kill-you kind of nasty! Oh, what am I saying! I have to get outta here! But I can't since the mansion is in Lock-down mode, which is a very stupid name!"

Crazy Hand's tantrum wasn't helping him at all, but what he forgot was that the crew were right in front of the entrance to where he was.

"Hmm? Is somebody in there?" Chopper asked upon hearing the yelling. The crew looked towards the big door, and approached it.

"I think we found our friend here." Zoro said as he could hear some ranting about the lockdown thing.

"Alright, let's see who is inside." Luffy said as he placed his hand on the door. Just like the front door of the mansion, the small bottom part of the door opened up inwardly. It creaked as it opened as this immediately caught Crazy Hand's attention.

"Oh!" Crazy Hand faced towards the entrance as he could see that the crew was about to come in. He quickly thought of an idea, and did what he had in mind right before Luffy opened the door completely.

Nobody was in the long room as Luffy and his crew entered. They were amazed to see such a huge room that looked bigger than the front part of the mansion.

"Wooooooow! This place is huge!" Luffy exclaimed happily. Everyone entered the big room, except for Usopp, who was nervous just to step a foot inside.

"You guys go ahead; I got your backs!" Usopp said as he turned away from the door, seeing nobody but R.O.B. in front of him, "No funny tricks, or else!" R.O.B. only tilted his head sideways in response.

The rest of the crew walked along the huge floor of the room, seeing variety of books on the bookcased walls, which impressed Robin alot.

"This place looks like a library." Franky commented.

"Ha ha, this room is so awesome! I wonder where that screaming guy is?" Luffy asked curiously. Zoro then stopped walking upon noticing something strange in the room as he then sighed in distress.

"I think that's where he is." Zoro said while pointing forward. He pointed at a huge green blanket that was covering something big and shaky underneath. On the front view of the blanket, there was a sign that read 'Don't look under here, pwease.' with a scribbled smiley face at the end of the sentence. The crew walked up to it, but were a little cautious due to it's size.

"It's very big!" Chopper said a bit nervously, "Is it okay to see what's hiding there?"

"It has to be the guy that has been trying to kill us!" Nami said, "Luffy, pull the blanket away, and beat him up!"

"Right!" Luffy replied. He grabbed the blanket from the front, causing what was underneath to shake even more. The crew backed away as Luffy took a deep breath before pulling the blanket away, and once he did, a quick breeze blew into his face. "Ha… ugh!" Once the blanket was off, it showed that nothing was underneath it, confusing the crew.

"There is nothing there!" Sanji said with a baffled look.

"That's strange… and what was with that breeze just now?" Zoro asked. Unbeknown to the crew, Crazy Hand was hiding under the blanket, only he dashed away from their sights as quickly as he could, which explains the breeze. He was now behind the crew as he had his palm up against the bookcase in the left side of the room. He slowly moved to the sides with his middle fingers, not making a peep as he tried to get away undetected.

"I guess it was just some dirty trick to lure us in here." Nami said with her hands on her hips, "Let's look elsewhere."

"Wait, Miss Navigator, this place seems to have some information. We should stay here and investigate; we might find something that could help us here." Robin suggested. As she and her comrades discussed this, Crazy Hand slowly moved away from the bookcase, and got on his fingertips to crawl backwards to the exit, where he had no idea that Usopp was in the way.

"I'm not going to drop my sights on you, so I am going inside while walking back!" Usopp said to R.O.B.. Usopp then slowly walked backwards, but he didn't realized that he was about to bump into Crazy Hand. R.O.B. saw this, and tried to warn Usopp by waving his mechanical arms, "What are you doing! Are you trying to-doh!" Usopp and Crazy Hand bumped their backs against each other, breaking them into a sudden halt.

Usopp and Crazy Hand gulped as they slowly turned around while shivering, and took a good look at eachother.

"WAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAHHHHHHHH!"

The both of them screamed as Usopp had his eyes popping out of his head while his tongue was flailing out, while Crazy Hand had his fingers separated from eachother out of shock. The entire looked back, and gasped upon seeing Crazy Hand, with Luffy and Chopper being the most surprised as they also had their eyes popping out of their heads, and their tongues flailing out.

"What the! What the hell is that thing!" Zoro asked.

"WAAAAAAAAAAHHH! IT'S A GIANT HAND MONSTER! IT'S GOING TO KILL ME!" Usopp cried.

"WAAAAAAAAAAHHH! IT'S THE REINCARNATION OF PINOCCHIO! MY WORST NIGHTMARE IS COMING TRUE!" Crazy Hand cried. Crazy Hand then turned around, and tried fly away, but screamed upon seeing the other crew members as he used his fingers to scurry up against the bookcase wall. He shivered in fear as the rest of crew were just as surprised as he was. Luffy, on the other hand, was so shocked and astounded by all this.

"AWWWWESSSOOOOMMMEE! A GIANT FLOATING HAND!" Luffy cried out in pure joy.

"I-I-Impossible! It's really a floating hand!" Nami gasped as he she fell into her knees.

"Amazing…" Robin said in awe.

"… And I thought it was just a name. I didn't expect this at all!" Sanji said a little baffled. Crazy Hand's fingers then got wobbly as he was too scared to remain standing.

"L-L-L-L-Listen! Don't do anything to me, maaan!" Crazy Hand pleaded, "Take the furniture, take the robot, take my collection of dirty underwear, just don't abuse me; I'm too gorgeous to die!"

Crazy Hand's response confused the crew, "… Huh?" Franky said.

"You don't want any of that? Fine, you can take this whole mansion!" Crazy Hand cried, "Just please let me hide somewhere where I can be alone! Respond quick; I'm freakin' out, man!"

"This is Master Hand? He's an idiot…" Nami said.

"I think he's funny!" Luffy said happily.

"What! You don't want the mansion either! WHAT MORE DO YOU WANT FROM ME!" Crazy Hand yelled, which caused Luffy to laugh.

"We should probably leave; he's acting very strange." Chopper said while trying to hide behind Luffy, but leaned on his leg instead.

"STRANGE! I'm not strange! You're the the guys that are strange; barging in here like a bunch of luna… wait a minute, I know who you guys are!" Crazy Hand exclaimed while floating again.

"You do?" Nami asked as she then approached Crazy Hand, "Well, if you do, then you know why-"

"Back off, Sister!" Crazy Hand said with a threatening tone. Nami backed away in confusion as Crazy Hand pointed at the crew, "You guys had me fooled for a second there, but I should have known that you were to come back here, and cause more trouble!"

"What are you talking about?" Zoro asked.

"Don't act like you don't know; you guys are the most dreadful kinds of creatures that should stay dead!" Crazy Hand yelled as he then growled, "You guys are… TAX COLLECTORS!"

"Huh?" The crew baffled.

"We're not tax collectors! We're not even here to take anything!" Nami said.

"How many times do I have to tell you people; you'll get your dang money when you get it! Stop coming here already!" Crazy Hand yelled as he then folded into a fist, and flew toward the crew.

"Watch out!" Usopp cried as he, and his comrades jumped out of the way, while Crazy Hand flew past them, and hits the bookcase in front of him hard, causing the entire room to shake violently. Luffy and his crew nearly lost their balance, but managed to stay on their feet as Crazy Hand turned towards with open palm.

"I'M GOING TO SQUASH YOU GUYS LIKE BUGS THIS TIME!

Preview: I knew Master Hand was a hand this whole time, but why is he attacking us? Isn't he a good guy? Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 117: A dream come true!, The story of the Smash world. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

I bet you were pretty surprised to see R.O.B. in here, huh? I decided to add him a long time ago after he was confirmed as a playable character in brawl; I just felt like I needed to put him here. And don't go saying 'You should've put Sonic instead of R.O.B.', because it would seem random for Sonic to show up in the Smash World all of sudden. Sorry…

Anyway, I hope you liked this chapter! Ciao for now!

Super Smash Bros Pt 3

Okay, I think this chapter turned out very good. I hope you all like it! Enjoy!

One crazy mansion. Entering the Smash mansion not only turned out great for the Strawhat crew, but also a little hectic. Crazy Hand thought they were people ought to get him, and sends out his Fighting Alloy team, including R.O.B., to stop them. Crazy Hand failed as the crew managed to meet up with him, and that's where things got even more insane as Crazy Hand attacked them, thinking that they were tax collectors. Will the Strawhats be able to reason with this demented hand?

Chapter 117: A dream come true!, The story of the Smash world

R.O.B. immediately entered the big room, and saw the commotion going on between the Strawhat pirates, and Crazy Hand. Crazy Hand cracked his own fingers by folding into a fist as he was eager to start a fight. As he did that, Nami took a stepped towards him, "Why are you attacking us! We're not here to cause trouble!" She said.

"Your existence is the trouble here!" Crazy Hand replied while shaking his fingers, "You Tax collectors always come barging into peoples houses, and taking their money for no good reason! You guys make bad guys look good, and they are not!"

"Bro, we are not tax collectors!" Franky yelled, "We just want to know where this Master Hand guy is!"

"I know, and you are definitely tax collectors, because you guys always go to him for money!" Crazy Hand explained as he then moved his fingers around, "You guys take most of our time for stupid reasons these days, but I am going to end it today! I'm going to kick all your buttocks so hard, you'd be flying right out of this planet, and right back to the stupid stupidland you guys hatched from! Let's get this show started, compadres!"

Crazy Hand flew above the crew, and head straight down at Nami with an open palm. "Look out, Nami!" Luffy yelled while stretching his arm, and pulling Nami out of the way as Crazy Hand crashed into the floor. Sanji then got angry as he confronted Crazy Hand, who got back up.

"You bastard; will you stop acting so stupid!" Sanji asked.

"DYAAABBLBLBLLBLLBLBLBL BLBAAAHHH!" Crazy Hand yelled as a reply as he then tried smashing Sanji with his middle finger, but Sanji jumped back to dodge, with Crazy Hand hitting the floor instead, "I'LL SHOW YOU! I'LL SHOW YOU ALL!"

Zoro got his three swords ready while getting into his stance, "He's not listening to us anymore! We have to knock him out!" Zoro said as he charged at Crazy Hand from the right side.

"Huh!" Crazy Hand noticed Zoro coming as Zoro then raised his swords.

"TORA GARI!" Zoro lowered his swords down at Crazy Hand, but to his surprise, Crazy Hand swiftly dodged to the left side, which was quick for someone as big as him.

"Missed!" Crazy Hand exclaimed as he then opened up his palm, and slapped Zoro right into the bookcased wall. Crazy Hand backed away as Zoro limplessly fell to the floor.

"Zoro!" Luffy cried as he angrily charged towards Crazy Hand, "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy rapidly attacked Crazy Hand with his fists, and was hitting multiple times, but Crazy Hand wasn't even flinching.

"Go away!" Crazy Hand said as he then flicked Luffy away with his index finger. Luffy cried in pain as he skidded across the ground upon landing. Crazy Hand then got in front of Luffy while pointing at him, "I'm going to poke you in the face, AND IT'S GOING TO HURT!"

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired some consecutive blasts at Crazy Hand from behind, which they all made contact with him. However, Crazy Hand didn't look he was fazed at all as he turned towards Franky.

"Play with this!" Crazy Hand yelled as he created a bomb as big as Franky from his palm, and tossed it towards Franky, who tried blasting it away, but when he did, the bomb exploded on him. Franky crashed to the glass wall behind him before falling to the ground.

"He's too powerful for us!" Usopp shrieked with his hands on his head. Crazy Hand then went towards the other crew members, until Robin got in front of him.

"VEINTE FLEUR!" Robin sprouted twenty arms from out Crazy hand's… hand, since he doesn't have a body. As the arms grew, Crazy Hand was heaving in panicking fashion.

"Oh my god; I'm mutating! AAAAAAAAHHHHHH!" Crazy Hand then laid on the ground, and had violent spasms; rolling back and forth like some demented person. He was rolling on the sprouted arms on him, crushing them within every second as this caused Robin to scream while collapsing onto her knees.

"I had enough of you!" Sanji yelled as he jumped above Crazy Hand right after he stopped with his spasm attack, "BROCHETTE!" Sanji pointed his right leg at Crazy Hand as he drilled down towards him. Crazy Hand yelled as he then pointed his fingers up before drilling up in the air, going past Sanji as Sanji lost his balance. "Wha!" Sanji then looked, only to get drilled hard down at the floor by Crazy Hand, who kept drilling Sanji until Sanji got knocked into the bookcased wall next to Zoro, who was barely conscious while standing on his hands and knees.

"Stop hurting my friends!" Chopper yelled as he turned into his Heavy point, and charged at Crazy Hand, who noticed Chopper coming. "HEAVY GO-!" Chopper was about to punch Crazy Hand in midair, but Crazy Hand countered by grabbing Chopper out of the air before he could get hit. "AHHHH!" Chopper cried as Crazy Hand was crushing him with his palm and fingers. Crazy Hand then slammed Chopper down to the floor.

"Chopper!" Usopp cried while coming Chopper's aid. Usopp lifted Chopper by the head, but he gasped as soon as he did upon noticing something strange growing out of Chopper's hat, "Chopper, there is a flower growing out of your hat!"

"Ugh…" Chopper was too hurt to reply. Usopp quickly removed the flower out of Chopper's hat, and faced towards Crazy Hand while taking out his Kabuto slingshot.

"I can't just stand here, and watch you hurt my friends! HISSATSU KOSHOU BOSHI!" Usopp fired several pellets at Crazy Hand, and exploded into clouds of pepper upon contact.

"Hey, that's cheating! I can't kick your buttocks like this! I need to see you get squashed like bugs, or I won't sleep so soundly tonight!" Crazy Hand exclaimed while trying to get out of the pepper cloud. The cloud eventually faded as Crazy Hand could see again, "Ha! Your mischievous plan failed! I can still see you!"

"Great! Now, look up!" Nami suddenly exclaimed while holding parts of her PCT. Crazy Hand looked up to see a big thunder cloud, that was atleast twice as big as Crazy Hand.

"Dhuuuhhhh!" Crazy Hand gasped as Nami then threw a thunderball at the cloud.

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!"

ZAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAPP!

The cloud unleashed a powerful thunderstorm, striking Crazy Hand in a point blank range.

"NYAHYAHYAHYAHYAHYAHYA HWOAHHAOOAOOAAAHHH!" Crazy Hand cried while being electrocuted.

"Yosha! We did it! We got him!" Usopp exclaimed excitedly.

"Oh, what a pain he was!" Nami muttered, "I'm sure he'll calm down now!"

"YAANYEHNYEHNYEHNYEHN YEH! OOOOOOOOOOOHHH!" While being electrocuted, Crazy Hand lifted his index finger diagonally upwards. Nami and Usopp were curious by this as Crazy Hand somehow transferred all the electricity coursing around his body, and the electricity striking down at him, to the tip of his index finger, creating a humongous thunderball.

Nami and Usopp gawked at the sight of this as Crazy Hand raised the thunderball above him, "TIIIMBERRRR!" Crazy Hand yelled as he dropped the thunderball in the center of the room.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOM!

The thunderball exploded into a giant shockwave of lightning, electrifying everything that was on the ground. The Strawhat crew got hit by this shockwave as all of them were being electrified immensely. They didn't scream, but they were heavily wounded from the shock as they all collapsed afterwards.

None of them were moving; they appeared to be unconscious. Just after a few seconds during the battle, the Strawhat crew were defeated miserably. This showed how powerful Crazy Hand was, as he was staring at the crew, standing inches away from the exit, remaining silent as he panted a little.

"Ha… damn! That was shocking!" Crazy Hand said while cracking his knuckle, "But that takes care of that problem. Now I just have to squish them! Let's see… where did I leave that fly swatter?"

Crazy Hand was about to look for his giant-sized fly swatter, until he heard sounds coming from behind him. He turned around, and saw Luffy standing up. Since he was made of rubber, the electric shockwave did not harm him. He looked at his surroundings, and saw that the whole crew was nearly knocked out.

"… Oi." Luffy said bluntly while cracking his knuckles, "Don't leave just yet."

Luffy then placed his arms to the sides of his body, with his hands clenched into fists as he gave a cold stare to Crazy Hand. Crazy Hand was about to react, until he noticed that Luffy's crew were slowly getting back up on their feet as well. They all surrounded Crazy Hand, who was a little surprised.

"Hmm… looks they finally sended someone decent here." Crazy Hand said before moving his fingers in circles, "I have no choice, but to go a little tougher on you guys, huh? Well, let's get ready to rumble! HAAAHAHAHAHAHAHA!"

Crazy Hand lifted his finger tips in the air as the whole room started to shake. The crew were startled by this as they nearly lost their balance due to the tremor. "What's going on!" Zoro asked.

"The whole place is shaking!" Usopp cried out.

R.O.B. noticed was Crazy Hand was up too, and immediately closed the door on his way out. Luffy noticed him leave as the room shook more violently then before. It was then that something finally happened.

"Hey, the room is falling apart!" Sanji yelled.

The walls and the ceiling were turning into dust as it gusted all over the room floor, blinding the crew, while Crazy Hand remained in the same spot. As soon as the tremor was gone, and the dust has disappeared, Luffy opened his eyes, and gasped upon where he and his crew were now located.

"Are we in space!" Luffy asked.

The Strawhat pirates no longer appeared to be in the mansion, but in outer space. They were all standing on the very large floor, which was now a floating platform in the middle of the limitless cosmos, with a good view of a galaxy in the background. This platform is well-known as Brawl's Final Destination.

"How in the world did we get out here!" Nami cried while placing her hands on her head.

Franky reached his hand over the ledge of the platform, and realized it was no imagination, "This is the real thing, guys! We're not in the fancy mansion anymore!"

"That's impossible…" Sanji gasped as he looked towards Crazy Hand, "Just what the hell is this guy!"

"Ah, the perfect place to smash the living daylights out of some worthless tax collectors." Crazy Hand sighed in joy, "Okay, I'm ready to go! Give me your best shot!"

Luffy was still baffled at the sight of this, but decided to ignore this for now as he got into his fighting stance, "I don't know where we are, but this place won't stop me from kicking your ass! GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!"

Luffy charged at Crazy Hand as he stretched his arm at him. Crazy Hand lowered himself as he spreads his fingers apart, avoiding Luffy's stretched arm as it passed between. Crazy Hand then closed his fingers onto Luffy's arms, and pulled Luffy towards himself. "Oof! Ahh!" Crazy Hand was bouncing Luffy back and forth like a yo-yo ball, and he kept on doing it for several seconds more.

"HISSATSU SHURIKEN SUISEI!" Usopp attempted to save Luffy by shooting a string of shurikens at Crazy Hand from behind. They all made contact to Crazy Hand as they slashed at the back of his hand, causing him to let go of Luffy.

Crazy Hand tried shaking the pain off himself as Luffy managed to land on his feet, and leaped towards Crazy Hand while he was distracted. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg hard into Crazy Hand's palm. Crazy Hand didn't flinch, but he did grunted a bit, signifying that he does get hurt by some strong attacks.

"Owww!" Crazy Hand cried as he retaliated with a sweep, knocking Luffy all the way over to the ledge of the platform. Once the crew saw this, they immediately recovered from their previous beating from Crazy Hand as Zoro got right behind him.

"OUTOUROU!" Zoro slashed his swords upwards, slashing Crazy Hand from behind. Crazy Hand growled in anger as he turned towards Zoro while pointing his finger at him.

"I'm gonna poke you!" Crazy Hand laughed as he did a triple poke at Zoro, who managed to dodge the first two with sidesteps, and the last one with a backflip, making Crazy Hand poke the platform so hard, that some of it froze.

"Whoa!" Zoro landed on the icy surface, which nearly caused him to lose his balance as he plunged his swords into the ground to prevent falling down. Crazy Hand then flew up high before disappearing into thin air. Zoro's eyes widened as he looked to his right, and saw Crazy hand was about smash him with his palm. "Dammit!"

"Robin, hurry!" Franky yelled while getting on the ledge of the icy part of the platform. Robin nodded as she sprouted a line of arms out of her palm, and wrapped them around Franky's stomach.

"SLALOM VINE!" Robin pulled the arms back, propelling Franky along the icy surface as Franky then leaped in midair while removing the skin off his right arm. Franky continued along the air as Crazy Hand was about to slam Zoro from above.

"FRANKY SPINNING HAMMER!" Franky punched Crazy Hand right in the center of his pinky as hard as he could. This caused Crazy Hand to lose balance as he faced his left side towards Zoro, which gave him enough to jump back as Crazy Hand karate chopped the icy floor into little pieces. As Zoro jumped back, Sanji ran past him as he headed towards Crazy Hand with great speed.

"ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji leaped towards Crazy Hand, and kicked his back with a flying thrust kick, which was strong enough that Crazy Hand was opening his palm even bigger.

"GRRRR!" Crazy Hand countered by folding himself into a fist, bouncing Sanji off of him as he then floated in midair again. "I'll BLOW you away!" Crazy Hand then floated above the crew, and dropped several bombs he created out of his palms. Sanji and Robin got out of the way, while Usopp aimed carefully at the bombs, while Franky did the same with his left arm.

"HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired consecutive explosive pellets at the bombs, which exploded in midair between him and Crazy Hand. Franky helped out by firing some blasts at the bombs too, which were starting to blow up closer to Crazy Hand. Crazy Hand then sounded like he sneezed as ten simultaneous bombs flew down at the duo. "Fire! Fire! FIRE!" Usopp cried as he and Franky fired quicker than usual, and blew up all the incoming bombs at the same time, creating a big explosion afterwards.

Usopp and Franky smirked, but that didn't last long as Crazy Hand flew down past the explosion while folded into a fist. "ROCKET PUNCH!" Crazy Hand punched the platform right between Usopp and Franky, creating a mild explosion that knocked both of them back in seperate directions.

"Yah!" Usopp and Franky fell on their backs as Crazy Hand floated in midair again to see Luffy charging at him with his arms stretched back.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms at Crazy Hand, who dodged by floating higher in the air. He faced his back towards the platform before he descended, and placed his fingertips on it. He then crawled quickly towards the crew, shaking the platform within every step he took.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro slashed diagonally, creating a big cutting wave that struck Crazy Hand head on, but this only made Crazy Hand to move even faster. "Look out!" Zoro yelled before he got run over. Robin sprouted multiple arms from the side of the platform, creating a big ledge that allowed the crew to get past Crazy Hand without getting stepped on. The only ones who didn't follow were Luffy and Chopper as they were both trying to run away from Crazy Hand.

"Chopper, let's hit him hard!" Luffy yelled while he and Chopper faced towards the incoming hand, while the galaxy background faded into a starry sky background.

"Right!" Chopper said while taking out a rumble ball, "RUMBLE BALL!" Chopper ate the rumble as he and Luffy then charged at Crazy Hand. At the precise time, they leaped right through an opening, which allowed them to end up under Crazy Hand's palm as Chopper turned into his Arm point afterwards.

"LUFCHO GOMU GOMU NO CROSS!" Luffy thrusted his palms at the same time Chopper thrusted his hooves as they both attacked Crazy Hand's palm simultaneously.

SMAAAAAASSHHHHH!

Luffy and Chopper's attack were strong enough to knock Crazy Hand out of the ground as he was now a little ticked off while floating over the right ledge of the platform.

"I'M FIRIN MAH LAZAH!" Crazy Hand yelled as he fired some streams of lasers from his finger tips. The crew did their best to avoid the beams while Crazy Hand was floating back in the stage. He stopped firing his lasers, and stood on his index and middle finger, using them as he feet as he walked towards Chopper, and flicked him off the platform.

"Chopper!" Nami cried as Chopper was hit hard enough to turn back into his original form, and caught the ledge of the platform to prevent from falling into the endless depths of space. Robin and Franky were about to help him, but Crazy Hand flew past them so fast, he knocked them off balance as he looked down at Chopper, who screamed upon seeing him.

"Aw, did the little baby fell off the stage?" Crazy Hand mocked, sounding more insane than usual while his fingers twitched, "Here, let me give you a HAND!" But before Crazy hand could finish off Chopper, Zoro slid underneath him, while Sanji jumped over him.

"TATSU MAKI!"

"TROISIEME HACHE!"

Zoro spun to unleash a tornado of cutting wave underneath Crazy Hand, while Sanji repeatedly kicked Crazy Hand's back faster than a firing machine gun. The cuts to the palm, and pounds on the back were devastating Crazy Hand as he couldn't break free from it as Nami emitted a small fire from the tip of her PCT.

"FIRE LANCE TEMPO!" Nami swung her PCT diagonally downward, slashing Crazy Hand from behind as his behind was on fire.

"YEEEOOOWWW!" This caused Crazy Hand to leap out of Zoro and Sanji's continuous attack as Crazy Hand was flying around the platform screaming, "My behind is on fire! I know I'm hot, but this is ridiculous! Yeowww!" Zoro and Sanji then helped Chopper up on the platform as the starry sky background turned into a wormhole background.

"GRAN FLEUR!" Robin sprouted an immense amount of arms from the from the platform that was facing towards the wormhole background as the arms formed into one gigantic arm, which was bigger than Crazy Hand. Crazy hand stopped moving as soon as he the gigantic arm coming towards him, "GRAN HIT!"

KAPOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOWWWW!

The gigantic arm hits Crazy Hand with a great impact as Usopp jumped out of excitement, "Yeah! Way to go, Robin! You got him!" Usopp exclaimed happily. The crew watched how Robin took over, but then noticed that Robin was shivering.

"Eh! He's… fighting back!" Robin cried.

"Grr…" It appears that Crazy Hand was pushing back the oversized arm once he got hit with it. Despite the difference in size, Crazy Hand overpowered Robin's gigantic arm as Crazy Hand pushed it away to knock it off balance. Crazy Hand then folded into a fist, and spun in circles while being covered in flames as he punched through the wrist of the gigantic arm, causing it to collapse before they all disappeared. Robin cried in pain as she nearly fainted from the immense hit.

"Robin-chwan!" Sanji cried while coming to Robin's aid.

Crazy then turned towards the crew while facing upward. "Houston, we're ready for takeoff!" He yelled as he pressed his middle and index finger up against his palm as his behind ignited like a booster as he then flew towards the crew like a jet. The crew saw him coming, and ducked as Crazy Hand flew past them with great speed, creating a strong gust of wind that nearly blew the crew off the platform. Crazy hand then repeated this procedure several times, knocking the crew off balance even more.

"We're not getting anywhere like this! He's too strong!" Nami yelled covering her head with her arms.

"Grr… I'll beat him then!" Luffy yelled while standing up, and slamming his right fist in the ground. His legs pumped the flow of his blood to make his skin turn while letting out steam, "GEAR SECOND!" Luffy then stood straight with his gear second form ready to go.

"Ergh, even with that, I doubt that we can get through this!" Nami said. Luffy then looked at Nami over his shoulder.

"Then we'll have to beat him altogether! It's now or never!" Luffy yelled.

"What's that you guys say!" Crazy Hand yelled from afar, "You are going to make me pay in advance! Oh no, you di'nt! I'm going to mop the floor with all of your faces!" Crazy Hand then flew into the crew from the left side of the platform.

"Franky!" Luffy yelled.

"I'm on it!" Franky yelled while getting in front of his comrades, while connecting his arms to a tube before aiming at Crazy Hand. "Let's give it all we got! 1.5 MAX COLA HOU, COUP DE VENT!" Franky fired a powerful current of air through his tube as it blew into Crazy Hand with great force. The current was only strong enough to make Crazy Hand to lose control of his flight as he was about to crash into the platform, until Chopper suddenly ran into him while in his Arm point form.

"KOKUTEI ROSEO METEI!" Chopper thrusted his hooves at Crazy Hand with great speed, leaving several hoove marks on Crazy Hands palm no longer than three seconds. Crazy Hand grunted as he was slighty knocked up in the air by Chopper's attack.

"CUATRO MANO!" As Chopper got out of the way, Robin sprouted multiple arms that formed into four big arms, which were as half as big as Crazy Hand, as they grabbed Crazy Hand, and slammed him hard on the floor.

"DARK CLOUD TEMPO!" Nami was making some dark clouds, and throwing them past Crazy Hand as Robin's sprouted arms tossed him up in the air, where there were seven dark clouds behind him, "The weather is stormy! THUNDER LANCE TEMPO!" Nami brought down her PCT, extracting the electricity from the dark clouds right through the back of Crazy Hand, and back into her PCT.

"OOOOOWWWWW!" Crazy Hand cried loudly as he staggered forward while twitching out of the shock. Before he could retaliate, Usopp aimed at him with his slingshot.

"HISSATSU FIRE BIRD STAR!" Usopp fired a flaming pellet, with the fire taking shape of a phoenix as it exploded into a ring of fire, engulfing Crazy Hand in flames.

"YaaaahhAHHHHH!" Crazy Hand fell on his back as he did rolled back and forth along the ground, trying to die off the flames. Speaking of flames, Sanji took a step forward, with his right leg on fire as his Diable Jambe form was active He walked alongside Luffy and Zoro as they slowly approached Crazy Hand.

"Go!" The trio ran towards Crazy Hand with great speed.

"SANTORYU…"

"GOMU GOMU NO…"

"DIABLE…"

Zoro unleashed a cutting wave with his swords, Sanji thrusted his blazing leg, and Luffy thrusted both of his palms forward all in the same time to hit Crazy Hand with one powerful combination, "JET MOUTON 600 POUND CANNON!"

KAPOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOWW WWWWWWWWW!

All attacks collided at Crazy Hand in the same time, which actually harmed him alot for once.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH HH!"

Crazy Hand then started to explode from the outside of his figure as the trio's attack sends him flying way up high. A few seconds have passed as the trio turned away while Zoro sheathed his swords, Sanji's fire died out, and Luffy's body turning back to it's original color. After that, Crazy Hand crashed into the platform behind them, and appeared to be finally unconscious while covered in soot. It was then that the background changed into a lovely view of the ocean with the sun setting over the horizon.

"We did it! We beat him!" Chopper exclaimed happily.

"Oh, thank god! I really thought we were going to die for a second there!" Usopp said while crying in joy. Luffy, Zoro, and Sanji then panted as Nami, and the others approached them.

"Good job, you guys! Couldn't have done it better myself." Nami said with a thumbs up.

"The pleasure is all mine, Nami-swan. Phew…" Sanji sighed.

"Ow… that guy was pretty strong!" Luffy said while rubbing his head, "I actually felt hurt when he first attacked me."

"If a floating hand can do all this, I'm wouldn't be surprised if he killed all of us." Zoro said with his eyes closed.

"Well, the good thing is that we've won." Franky said with a smirk.

"Yes, but… ! It can't be!" Robin gasped. The crew looked at her confusedly as she was staring at something behind the Luffy, and the others. Usopp and Chopper noticed this as they had their jaws dropping to the floor, while Nami covered her mouth in surprise.

"Impossible!" Nami gasped. Luffy, Zoro, and Sanji looked over their shoulders, and saw that Crazy Hand was still moving.

"What the! He's still alive!" Luffy asked.

"That's insane! After all that, he is still getting up!" Franky asked. Crazy Hand slowly floated in midair again while his fingers were hanging low.

"No way! We did everything we could to stop him, and he is still has some energy in him!" Usopp panicked.

"Dammit…" Zoro muttered while unsheathing one of his swords again. The crew silently observed Crazy Hand, who still hasn't said anything upon getting up. His fingers then started twitching again as the crew could hear a soft mutter coming from him.

"Duuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuu uuuuuuuuuueeeeeeeeeee eeeeeeeeeeaaaaaaAAAAAA AAAAAHHHHHHHHHIIIIII AM FREAKISHLY PISSED OFF!"

Crazy Hand's loud roar shook the platform a little bit as he then faced his palm upwards. The background then started to change into a dreadful scene of a wall of fire surrounding the platform. Crazy Hand then created a giant sphere of rainbowish energy from his palm. The energy was atleast five times bigger than Crazy Hand, which was very big. "I'm going to destroy you, even if it means blowing up the planet!" Crazy Hand yelled demonically.

"Noooooo! We're dead!" Usopp cried as he and Chopper ducked for cover. The crew were fatigued to do anything to stop Crazy Hand as they could see the energy sphere growing even bigger. Luffy got angry as he approached Crazy Hand.

"You can't kill us all, even if you do blow up this world!" Luffy yelled, "Give us your best shot!"

"Oh, I will!" Crazy Hand replied, "I'll make sure that their will be nothing left of you, Strawhat! And when I do, I'll…" Crazy Hand then stopped talking. He lifted the energy ball above his back to take a good look at Luffy, "Huh?… Wait a second…"

Crazy Hand then snapped his fingers, which made the giant energy ball to disappear out of thin air. It also made the background to disappear as the ceiling, and the walls suddenly came back to place. Everyone was now back in the mansion again as R.O.B. entered the room to see what was happening.

"We're back in the mansion." Robin said upon observation. The crew were confused as Crazy Hand sounded more confused than they were.

"This is so weird…" Crazy Hand said while scratching his index finger with his thumb, "Let's see… Straw hat guy… Green hair man… Boobs… Pinnochio… Eyebrow guru… Chibi blue-nose… Bigger Boobs… and Panty lad…. Um, what was your name again?"

"Hmm? I'm Luffy." Luffy said plainly. Crazy Hand then froze upon hearing hat.

"DAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AHAHAHAHAHAHHAHAHHHAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAA!

The crew was startled by Crazy hand's sudden laughter as Crazy Hand suddenly swooped in, and picked Luffy up from the ground. "What the! Geh!" Zoro gasped as Crazy Hand also picked him, and held him tight along with Luffy.

"He's gone insane! Run!" Usopp yelled as he, Nami, and Chopper tried to runaway, but Crazy Hand grabbed them in one swoop. Sanji leaped towards him to kick him, but he also grabbed him as well. Lastly, Crazy hand grabbed Robin and Franky from the ground as he was now holding the entire crew in his hand.

"Oi, put us down!" Luffy cried, but Crazy Hand didn't hear him as he was pretty happy.

"I'M SO GLAD YOU GUYS ARE FINALLY HERE! I'VE BEEN WAITING FOR SO LONG TO MEET YOU!" Crazy Hand yelled. The crew blinked in confusion upon hearing that.

"What? You know who we are?" Nami asked in shock.

"Who doesn't know you who you are! I am so relieved that you made it!" Crazy Hand replied. He then started feeling the crew while holding them, "Hey, you guys are so soft." He said seductively. Nami and the others tried breaking free of Crazy Hand's grip, until they then heard noise from the outside.

R.O.B. turned around, and startled as the fighting alloy team from the first floor barged into the room, and charged at the crew.

"Not those guys again!" Sanji yelled. Crazy Hand dropped the crew on the floor, and faced his palm towards the alloys, causing them to stop inches away from him.

"False alarm, guys. You can go away now." Crazy Hand said. The alloys simply stood still for a second, until they walked out of the room as they were ordered to. Luffy and his crew were more confused now as Crazy Hand slowly turned towards them again.

"Hee hee… hi!"

Sometime later…

The Strawhat pirates were able to relax now after Crazy Hand sincerely promised not to do anything to them. Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper were sitting in front of Crazy Hand with their legs crossed as they were having a nice chat with Crazy Hand. The others were talking amongst themselves as they obviously don't trust Crazy Hand after what he tried to do.

"And I said; that's not a wiener, that's a pickle!" Crazy Hand stated. Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper laughed as Crazy Hand joined into the laughter. Nami gave a smugg-ish look at the group.

"I can't believe they're now friends with that psycho after what he tried to do." Nami pouted.

"Atleast we know he's on our side." Zoro said with his arms crossed, "Although, I can't say that I'm relieved about this. He may be up to something."

"Perhaps not, Mr. Swordsman." Robin said as he then looked at Crazy Hand, "He is probably just… energetic."

"Hey, Big hand guy, can you poop?" Luffy asked with a big smile.

"Oi, Luffy; don't ask those kind of stupid questions to him!" Usopp scolded.

"Well, of course I can poop! What else makes you think there are mountains around here?" Crazy Hand asked happily. This caused Usopp and Chopper to nearly gag.

"Ugh… I feel sick now." Usopp said dazedly.

"If it makes you feel any better, I keep my dirty underwear collection in my poop mountains." Crazy Hand said.

"We don't care…" Usopp and Chopper said simultaneously with their heads lowered.

"… Yeah, I guess he is just a moron afterall." Zoro said with a shrug.

"But he can't be Master Hand." Sanji said, "I mean, I know now that floating hands exist, but I expected the guy to be somebody really special. This guy here is just an idiot."

"Idiot or not, he may be the only who can help us right now." Nami said.

"You are so lucky for being so big." Luffy said, "You know, you can probably flip off a giant if you raised your middle finger at them."

"Whoa! I never thought of that before! You sure are smarter in person!" Crazy Hand said happily.

"Luffy smart? Can that even fit in a sentence? And there is nothing smart about flipping off a giant, you know." Usopp said with a smuggish frown. Nami sighed as she looked back to the others.

"Let's ask him what we need to know; I'm sure he can explain to us what has." Nami said.

"This better end well…" Zoro sighed. The rest of the crew then walked up to Crazy Hand, and stood behind Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper.

"Ha ha ha… hey, it's about time you joined in!" Crazy Hand said cheerfully, "I was about to talk about why mangos are so funny."

"Right, but what we want to ask you something first." Nami said with a stern look, "Are you Master Hand?" Crazy hand did not reply as he only sighed.

"Well, not really. I mean, I look like him, but totally different." Crazy Hand said as he then cleared his throat, which was strange since he doesn't have one, "By the way, I don't think I have introduced myself yet. I am Crazy Hand; Master Hand's gorgeous-looking brother." Crazy Hand then peered closed into Chopper's face, "Do you know why they call me Crazy?" Chopper gulped as he shook his head, "No, seriously; do you know why? I had no idea how I got that name. For some reason, I like to be called Yzarc better."

"Master Hand has a brother?" Nami asked.

"I believe Samus once told us about Master Hand having one before." Robin said while rubbing her chin.

"Oh yeah, no wonder she sounded so annoyed talking about that; this guy is a moron." Franky said.

"Hey, don't hate on me just because I'm beautiful, alright?" Crazy Hand said while pointing at Franky.

"Anyway…" Nami said a little annoyed, "Crazy, do you know why we're here? We've been traveling through many worlds because a big door took us out of our world. We've been trying to find a way back to our home planet for some time now, and we've been told that the only way to get back to our world was that your brother would help us get there. If that's true, then please tell us where to find him."

Crazy Hand looked down, having trouble following Nami's request. The crew was curious upon seeing this, "What's wrong? You don't know where he is?" Sanji asked.

"Um, my bro is always out of town, or better yet, out of this world these days." Crazy Hand explained, "He always goes out, and brings in some cool people for the tournament we have going on around here."

"Oooh! The tournament! That's right, I forgot!" Luffy exclaimed with a shocked face, "Can you tell us how those tournaments began!"

"Luffy, don't bother him with that!" Nami said.

"Ha ha, actually, I won't mind telling the story!" Crazy Hand said, "But first, sit down on the floor together; that way, I'll be more comfortable telling the history of this place."

The crew sat on the floor, sitting next to each other in front of Crazy Hand, who shook his fingers a bit before telling the story of Super Smash Bros.

"It all started a long time ago; where my brother wanted to make a change into everyone's way of life." Crazy Hand said dramatically,

"He wanted to gather strong warriors from several dimensions, and have them fight each other in a matter of peace and harmony."

"How does fighting bring peace?" Usopp asked.

"I'm getting to that!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, "My brother believed that if people from different worlds were to bond by fighting, they will understand that everyone is the same no matter how different they are from each other. If everyone were to have the same thoughts, everything in existence would be peaceful!"

"So Master Hand brings people here to fight each other to bring peace and harmony amongst each other? Does it work?" Robin asked.

"Hell yeah! It works wonders here!" Crazy Hand replied, "So anyway, to bring the warriors here, we use a transportation method, that's based on a door that could only be activated by eight keys in shape of hearts."

"We used that door to get here." Zoro said, "The Merlon guy told us that we had to gather all eight hearts to get here."

"Oh man, thank goodness you met with him!" Crazy Hand sighed in relief, "Master Hand and I created that door with our own powers. The keys to the door were created by my brother, and can only be used by the purest of heart… which was my idea to make the keys look like hearts, since it would it make sense."

"Luffy was using the hearts to open the door up to this point; no wonder it seemed to work for him." Sanji said.

"But I'm glad that you guys ended up in the Mushroom Kingdom to meet Merlon. I was very worried what might've happened to you after you left your world…" Crazy Hand said.

"Excuse me?" Nami asked a little shocked.

"Ah, um, a-anyway…" Crazy Hand stuttered, changing the subject, "Master Hand and I always observe a warrior that is fit enough to join in this little tournament my brother wanted to sponsor. After such a long time thinking about it, we finally gathered some perfect guys for our first of our everlasting tournaments, known as the Super Smash Bros."

"Super Smash Bros.!" Luffy said excitedly as he and Chopper had sparks of joy forming around their eyes.

"We started out with a few guys, which turned out to be known as 'The original Smashers'." Crazy Hand said, "The original Smashers were Mario, Luigi, Donkey Kong, Link, Pikachu, Kirby, Fox, Captain Falcon, Samus, Yoshi, Ness, and Jigglypuff. These guys were the first to experience a battle between different lands, and it turned out much better than we expected it to be!"

"Samus is an original Smasher! Oh, how amazing!" Sanji said happily while pressing up against his cheeks.

"We've met most of those guys you mentioned! They are all really strong!" Luffy said.

"Oh, you should've seen how they got through this; they've gotten so much stronger, and were more motivated to take on anything we threw at them. Why, sometimes my brother would face them in a one on one battle. Of course, he tones his power down to fight with them equally."

"He must have god-like powers." Usopp said in awe, "If we couldn't beat you with all we had, then you guys must be really strong."

"Ha! I wasn't even going all-out on you guys! If I did, you'd be dead by now!" Crazy Hand laughed, "So as I was saying, as the tournaments went on, we decided to expand the properties of this world we created such a long time ago."

"You made this world! That's so cool!" Luffy exclaimed.

"It was the first thing we ever created together; it was tough at first, but we've managed to make this place right." Crazy Hand said, "This world was nothing but grass and water, but we created more terrain, like Smashtown, for instance. Once every tournament goes on, we usually bring people that the Smashers originated from, and bring them to our town, filled with things they are familiar with, and stuff that are new to them. They stayed as long as the tournaments went on, and even though the people were all different, they enjoyed being with each other just like the Smashers."

Crazy Hand then tapped the floor, "The Smashers also live here during the daily tournaments. This place is called the Smash Mansion, the place that my brother and I created too. You might've realized that this place is bigger than from the outside. That's because this place is maaaagicaaaalll; everything in here is special."

"I thought it was; I have never seen such great work of art in this place before." Franky said with a smirk.

"So what do the Smashers get when they win tournaments?" Chopper asked.

"Well, they get trophies of themselves, and trophies of other creatures and stuff." Crazy Hand said, "They also get paid for their matches with Smash coins, the currency of this place. You use them to buy trophies, or stickers, or anything you might want from Smashtown. But I think the matches are more important to them since they hardly ever spend anything unless they are gifts for their friends."

"It must be really exciting to be a part of that here." Robin said with a pleasant smile.

"It is. The only flaw of it is it had to end sometime." Crazy Hand said with his fingers lowered, "When it's time to say goodbye, the residents leave using the door that leads back into their worlds. But to make sure that they won't research or do anything stupid to come back here without our permission, we use a special door that my brother helped me made. I call it the Crazy door!

"The Crazy door?" Luffy asked. Crazy Hand then imagined a silouhette of a door in shape of the Master Hand, but since it was a silouhette, you cannot see the details of it.

"It's a door that once you go through it, your memories of your time here in the Smash World will be sealed off. The only thing that won't be sealed away will be the pleasant feelings you had here. This helps them be happy and peaceful with their peers most of the time, and helps their world to be a great place to live in. The Smashers never use this door, though; they can get back to their world with their memories of this place thanks to my bro's power. He can adjust the setting of the Master Door to return the Smashers into their respective worlds. I'm jealous, since he never teached me how he does that. He rarely trusts me for some reason…"

"I can't imagine why…" Nami said sarcastically.

"So that's how the tournaments ended?" Luffy asked a little sad.

"No way, the ending of a tournament is always a beginning of a new one!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, "My brother started to search for more people to join as Smashers, and when he finally made his decision, we had plenty more Smashers than ever, and the best part is that I fight too! We've got Peach, Ice Climbers, Falco, Zelda, Pichu, Marth, Roy, Mr. Game & Watch, Mewtwo, Ganondorf, and Bowser. We've even had Smashers from different eras, like we also had a kid version of Link, and we called him Young Link. We also had a doctor version of Mario known as Dr. Mario, who was a copy from Mario we made just for the tournaments. It was freaky for Mario and Link looking at themselves at first, but they've gotten used to it. We've also added more stuff to the tournaments, and property to the Smashtown. It was then that we decided to call these tournaments from Super Smash Bros. into Super Smash Bros. Melee."

"Even people from different eras are in here… but I have one question; why would you have Bowser, or even Ganondorf for that matter, to be a Smasher?" Usopp asked, "They're bad guys that tried to kill us on the way here, and how did Ganondorf become one if he was dead?"

"My brother wanted everyone to join in the tournaments, including the bad guys." Crazy Hand said, "He made sure they wouldn't cause any trouble since we can always kick their butts whenever we wanted to. As for Ganondorf, we brought in his spirit, and materialized it here. We couldn't change his attitude, however, but we easily forced him to play it cool, or else he would regret it forever."

"You make that sound so easy…" Zoro said while rolling his eyes.

"The results of these new Smashers turned out as we thought; they all got along with eachother. It even made Bowser and Ganondorf to back off while my brother and I weren't forcing them to. It shows that even the ruthless of guys can act calm once and a while."

"I don't think I can ever imagine those two being nice! They were really scary…" Chopper said.

"And those two are only a small part of the scariest things I have seen yet." Crazy Hand said, "Well anyway, time passed again, and we got in some more Smashers, and we decided to call this new brand of tournaments, Super Smash Bros. Brawl; which is our latest one for now. We've now got Ike, Lucario, Lucas, Wario, King Dedede, a new Link known as Toon Link, Pokemon Trainer, who I like to call 'Red' for some reason. And we also have Metaknight, Pit, Diddy Kong, Olimar, and Wolf. The coolest part of these tournaments is that we allow Samus without her armor on!"

Sanji then bursted into happiness, while Nami smuggishly frowned, "Is that the only reason why 'Brawl' is so special?" Nami asked as R.O.B. then came into the room while holding a cup of tea with both of his hands.

"No, there are more stuff I forgot to mention." Crazy Hand said as R.O.B. kindly gave Robin the cup of tea, "Like we also allowed some more of our creations to be a Smasher, like R.O.B., he's a Smasher too."

"Oh, so you are one too?" Robin asked kindly, while R.O.B. only blinked in response.

"Yep, he's pretty strong. R.O.B. stands for Robotic Operating Buddy, but I like to call him R.O.P., as in Robotic Operating Pinhead, because he is such a pinhead for running away from you guys earlier." Crazy Hand laughed, while R.O.B. only tilted his head sideways, "As I was saying, the main reason why these Brawl tournaments were special is that, for the very first time, we decided to pick up two Smashers coming from two different universes. We got the cardboard box guy, Solid Snake; and we got a very fast and cool guy, Sonic the Hedgehog. These guys made an awesome debut in the tournaments, kinda like the time when Mario was the first Smasher to win the very first tournament match against Link. Yeah, those three are like the toughest Smashers yet; I like to call them the M.S.S. team, which stands for Mega Super Somebodies."

"It seems that everything was under control here. It's a little freaky, but I have to say, it's quite unique." Zoro commented.

"Of course, we don't always have a good time with eachother." Crazy Hand said, "One time, there were several guys that wanted to drop their status as Smashers forever. Like Pichu, for example, he said he had a really good time, but he wants to be back with his old friends, and his brother. Mewtwo wanted to leave to find his purpose in life. Young Link wanted to go back to his time, so Toon Link replaced him. Dr. Mario dissolved into dust, because I accidently zapped him a little too hard during a match with him. Roy had to go back to his kingdom to keep his land organized and stuff, oh, did I mention he has dragon blood in him?"

"Oo! Oo! My dad's name is Dragon!" Luffy said while raising his hand up.

"I KNOW! THAT'S AWESOME!" Crazy Hand yelled insanely, until he suddenly got quieter, "… Right now, we're sorta upgrading more things, like a new version of the Master Door! It's suppose to be better and less expensive when using it, which I think is great so that those stupid tax collectors won't rip us off anymore! Those guys are so annoying, I don't even want to talk about them…" Crazy Hand then yawned, "Well, there ya have it! The great wonders of the Smash World all explained by yours truly."

Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper clapped out of excitement as Crazy Hand bowed down to them. Nami, on the other hand, wasn't truly satisfied. "You said you were making a new Master Door…" Nami began to say, "What did it looked like?"

"My brother and I didn't exactly finished with it yet." Crazy Hand explained, "It looks as big as the Master Door, only it looked antique, and there was a marking in shape of a hand in front of it."

The crew was shocked upon hearing this, "That's the same door that took us out of our world!" Sanji exclaimed. Nami then looked stern as she stood up on her feet.

"Did you know that because of that door, we've nearly died several times!" Nami asked, "I want a full explanation why that door showed up to us that day, and took us out of our planet!" Crazy Hand was shivering until he finally screamed.

"DYAAAH, Okay, I confess!" Crazy Hand yelled, "I have always known you guys ever since Luffy started his adventure to become the Pirate King! I have been spying on you guys using a magical thingy that me and my brother use to observe some strong fighters, and I have been using it to spy on you this whole time! I knew it was wrong, but I am a dirty guy, so I am sorry!"

"That doesn't answer my question, and I would've killed you right now if I wasn't so pissed off at you!" Nami yelled, fumed about Crazy Hand did, "Tell us what happened that day! I wan't to know exactly how this whole thing happened!"

"Hold on, Sis; maybe it wasn't a bad thing." Franky said, "Maybe Master Hand wanted us to be Smashers."

"That's cool! I want to be a Smasher!" Luffy jumped in joy.

"I want to be a Smasher too!" Chopper exclaimed excitedly.

"I'm sure I could've been the strongest if I was a Smasher." Zoro said with a smirk.

"But guys, don't you remember how scary it was that day!" Usopp asked, "The door opened, and we could see nothing in there unlike the door we've been using until now! It was way too scary and odd for Master Hand to use that door on us!"

"Um…" Crazy Hand lifted his finger to grab attention, "My brother didn't summon that door in your world; I did."

The room was quiet. Everyone, except for Luffy, Chopper, and Robin, looked towards Crazy hand with an intense glare, and the background turned black and eerie. Crazy Hand gulped in fear as Nami pointed at him.

"You did this!" Nami yelled furiously, "We've went through hell because of you!" Nami then tried lunging at Crazy, but the others held her back as best as they could. Crazy Hand could only whimper up against the glass at the end of the room. "Not only you spied on us, but you were the blame to all this!"

"I HAVE A GOOD REASON!" Crazy Hand cried out. Everyone, including Nami, calmed down as Crazy Hand rised up again, "… I have a good reason." Crazy Hand said, sounding serious for once, "… Listen carefully… If I could, I would have brought you out here just for an autograph, or things like that, but… this is bigger than that. I want you guys to just hear me out on this. It's very important, and I really do want you to listen…"

The crew then peered in towards Crazy Hand, anxiously waiting what he has to say.

TO BE CONTIN-

"WHAT ARE YOU DOING OVER THERE! JUST TELL US ALREADY!" Sanji yelled. The crew was seeing Crazy Hand, typing on a small computer, with the monitor that read 'HACKING' on it.

Crazy Hand turned around, and sighed irritably, "Geez, man! Don't go yelling at me like that; you're so rude!" He yelled before he then pushed the computer aside before getting serious, "… Okay, I'll tell you now. It all started on that same day you've been taken out of your world… the day… when my brother got kidnapped by those Obscurum rulers!"

"What!" The crew asked in shock.

Meanwhile…

The Obscurum rulers stood around the round table as Xemnas placed his hands on it. "Now then… are we ready to begin?" He asked.

"I have been waiting for this day a long time! Let's get this done now!" Kefka demanded.

"Our moment of triumph is soon upon us! Let us not delay this moment any further." Bison said sternly.

"At last, the day has finally come to rule it all!" Sigma laughed.

"Ker ha ha ha! Our wishes will soon be fulfilled! All hail the power of Obscurum!" Hojo praised with a malicious smirk.

"Everything will be in our grasp! We will kill anybody that defies us!" Sweet Tooth growled.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha! Such a glorious to remember for all eternity." Dimentio laughed optimistically.

Yojimbo didn't say anything, but he looked at Xemnas as he raised his head with a smirk. "Yes… the day is finally here." Xemnas said as he turned around, and spreaded his arms upon looking at Obscurum through the stained-glass window, "Obscurum's purpose… is finally at hand."

TO BE CONTINUED… FOR REAL, THIS TIME…

Preview: What! Master Hand has been kidnapped! I don't believe it! How could this have happened! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 118: Obscurum's true history, The Emperor Gods. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Damn, Crazy Hand hacking into my chapter… ahem, anyway, the next chapter… VERY IMPORTANT! Everything you wanted to know about the plot is in the next chapter! I'll try to update as fast as I can, so be prepared when I update next time. Ciao for now!

Super Smash Bros Pt 4

Hi! Just incase you didn't know, I forgot to mention Pokemon Trainer in the last chapter, but I fixed that now. You can go reread that part if you want to. Now, I made a whopper out of this chapter, and it has some serious stuff that I have been wanting to let out for a long time now! I really, really, REALLY hope you like it!

Oh, and before you start reading, let me remind you that this story has almost nothing to do with Subspace Emissary. This story came before the game, and I already had the plot ready before Super Smash Bros. Dojo revealed that adventure mode. The only thing I copied from SSE was the ancient minister part, and something else, but I will not mention it now.

Anyway, enough chatter; time to reveal the plot! Enjoy!

The story of smash. The Strawhat pirates battled Crazy Hand with all their might, but surprisingly, Crazy Hand was too powerful for them to handle. Just as about Crazy Hand was about to deliver the finishing blow, he instantly recognized the crew, and was thrilled to see them alive, since he was the one responsible for taking them out of their world. After Crazy Hand explained of the history of the Smash world, he tells the crew that his brother was kidnapped by the Obscurum rulers. How could this have happened? And just what exactly is Obscurum?

Chapter 118: Obscurum's true history, The Emperor Gods

Xemnas slowly approached the stained-glass window in front of him. His fellow rulers watched Xemnas quietly as he placed his right hand on the window before putting left hand on the window as well. Xemnas leaned on the window, looking at his reflection at the stained glass. He then looked up, and saw the planet, Obscurum, looking at the dark glow the planet was emitting.

"Now then… let us begin."

Meanwhile…

Luffy and his crew stood silently, surprised for what they just heard. Luffy was the most silent one out of the bunch as the light shaded his eyes.

"Master Hand… kidnapped!" Usopp asked while backing away.

"And by those rulers too." Franky growled with a clenched fist, "Tch! Those bastards; to think they'd go this far…"

Crazy Hand turned away towards the glass wall, not saying a single word while the crew were still talking. "They are much stronger than what we anticipated." Robin said concernedly as she looked at Crazy Hand, "We barely stood a chance against Master Hand's brother, yet the Obscurum rulers were somehow able to take Master Hand captive… this is certainly frightening."

"If those guys were strong enough to take Master Hand, who knows what would've happened if they took us seriously a long time ago!" Usopp said nervously.

"What do we do! We have to do something to save him!" Chopper said worryingly. Nami then walked up to Crazy Hand with a concerned look.

"How did this happen? Surely, you two must be incredibly strong to take on anybody! Why not those guys!" Nami asked.

"Calm down, it's not like Master Hand would lose on purpose." Zoro said sternly.

"Then why did he? There must be a reason!" Nami replied while looking at Zoro. The room the got quiet again. Luffy tilted his head up, noticing that the crew were at a lost of words. He even saw R.O.B. looking sad while looking down at the ground. Luffy sighed as he slowly approached Crazy Hand, with his crew looking at him as he walked by.

"We want to know what happened here." Luffy said bluntly, "We want to know why exactly did you bring us here."

Crazy Hand turned towards Luffy, and couldn't help, but to sigh, "… So you met up with those guys too, huh? Figures…" Crazy Hand then looked at everyone, "… It's not like my brother and I were careless or anything, it was just that we didn't expect something like this to ever happen. We always predicted that it would happen again someday, but not this fast."

"What do you mean?" Robin asked.

"Well… back then, during that day, those rulers came here, and tried to defeat us. We were pretty much outnumbered, but that didn't matter to my brother and me…" Crazy Hand then lowered his fingers, "As far as I know, they were eight of them that showed up here… but that wasn't the case. It was actually nine against two."

"Nine?" Sanji asked, "So far, I think we've met eight of them too. Was there another ruler with them?"

"Yes and no… technically, it was only eight at the time, but when the ninth one came to help… I lost my brother." Crazy Hand said sadly, "That ninth one… was that stupid planet that caused all this to happen from the start."

"Obscurum!" Robin said in shock, which caused Usopp and Chopper to shiver upon hearing that, while the others remained stoic.

"So you do know about the new world that revives bad guys?" Luffy asked. Crazy Hand then sounded confused.

"New world? Is that what they told you?" Crazy Hand asked curiously, "Huh… either they were hiding the rest of the details, or they are just plain retarded."

"What are you talking about?" Nami asked.

"Obscurum is everything, but new!" Crazy Hand stated, "In fact… it was one of the very first worlds that have come to existence. Not to mention that my brother and I were given life thanks to that world, including you guys!"

The crew were shocked to hear this, "Wh-What! What are you saying!" Nami asked in shock.

"We exist thanks to that stupid planet! That world is nothing but trouble! How do you expect us to believe that stupid planet out there has given us life!" Sanji asked furiously. The whole crew were baffled for what they just heard, but Crazy Hand wasn't surprised about this.

"I knew you guys were going to react that way, and trust me, of all the times that I could be messing with your heads, this precise moment is when I am freakishly serious! I swear; I am not kidding around!" Crazy Hand said with an open palm, "If I had a body with a heart, I would place myself on it, and swear to you guys that I have never been more serious than ever! You have to trust me on this!"

The crew were reluctant to believe, until Luffy spoke up, "He doesn't sound to be lying to me." Luffy said with a plain face, "I believe him." The crew looked at each other, and slowly nodded as they looked back at Crazy Hand.

"So we exist thanks to the dark world. Why is that, bro?" Franky asked with his arms crossed. Crazy Hand sighed again as he approached the bookcased wall to his left.

"… I guess I have no choice, but to tell you everything from the start. Curse exposition…" Crazy Hand said while looking for a certain book, "It will all make sense to why you guys are here to begin with, and not just because I wanted an autograph, or to touch you seductively…" Crazy Hand then looked towards the crew, "By the way, can I touch you guys naked after I'm done explaining?"

"Just tell us what you are going to say already!" Nami growled with a clenched fist, and with a deadly look on her face.

"Sheesh, you can atleast say 'no' like normal people. Duurrhh…" Crazy Hand mocked while facing back at the bookcase, "Now where are you… ah, here you are!" Crazy Hand picked a small rainbow-colored book from the bookcase with his index finger and thumb. As he pulled it out, though, the book was getting bigger from the end Crazy Hand was holding. Luffy, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky's jaws dropped down to the floor as once Crazy Hand pulled out the book, the book was now as big for him to hold with his entire hand.

"WAAHH!" The crew got out of the way as Crazy Hand carelessly dropped the book hard on the ground, causing a slight tremor that knocked Nami and Usopp on their rears. Nami and Usopp were then angry afterwards.

"You could've atleast warned us that the book would turn big!" Nami barked. Crazy Hand moved his fingers around in circles as he then patted the book on it's cover, which had a Super Smash Bros. emblem on it.

"This book has a list of every single planet in existence. It also has every name of galaxies, universes, and they're all in alphabetical order, and they contain a good description of each planet, and their history so far." Crazy Hand said as he then pointed his finger upwards, "Think of this book like the greatest history book of all time."

"It's humongous, and it's bigger than all of us." Zoro said with his eye twitching, "Not even historians would waste there life reading that whole thing."

"I must disagree." Robin said with an awe expression, "In fact, I would certainly love to see what that book contains."

"You're kidding…" Zoro muttered while slapping his forehead.

"So this book has everything in it?" Chopper asked while getting a closer view at the big book.

"It sure does!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, "And you know what the best part of this book it! You don't have to read it… but you can experience it! This book has a video documentary of anything that has happened so far, and all you have to do is flipped towards a certain page, and touch it. After that, you get to see what really happened in the past as if you were a part of it!"

"That's… really amazing, actually." Nami said with a smile.

"You mean we can see the events that happened before we born!" Franky asked in shock.

"Long before that, man!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, "I can even show you which came first: The chicken or the egg! Huh! Ain't that fantastic!"

"Well, what are we waiting for! Open it! Open it!" Luffy exclaimed while bouncing up and down. Crazy Hand then opened the book to a certain page, which contained countless of small words, written in cursive. The pages also contain pictures of some universes.

"Okay, brace yourselves for some easy learning!" Crazy Hand yelled. He then touched a page of the book, which caused the page to glow brightly blue before the entire room disappeared.

"What the!" The whole crew were shocked to see whole room gone, and see nothing but black everywhere. R.O.B. and Crazy Hand weren't surprised as the everyone was now in space again. "Hey, we're back in space!" Sanji exclaimed. Unlike before, they were not standing on the Final Destination platform, but on nothing. It's as if they were standing on solid ground, but there was nothing under their feet.

"Whoooooaaaa…" Luffy and his crew looked at their surroundings, and saw the great view of space, with various stars and galaxies.

Luffy was then yelling out 'Cool' and 'Awesome' every two seconds as Zoro walked up to a galaxy as big as he was, and tried touching it, but his hand went through it.

"This isn't real." Zoro said.

"That's right; we're not really in space. We are all just inside a humongous illusion of the real thing." Crazy Hand said, "And we are zoomed out of the actual size we usually see of this place, so that's why everything looks so small here."

"Hya ha ha! This is so cool!" Luffy said while waving his hand through some stars.

"Truly outstanding!" Robin said in awe, "This goes beyond everything I studied before. It's so amazing…" Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper then played around while trying to grab some stars, even though they are just an illusion.

"I have to say, this is pretty awesome." Franky said with his hands on hips, "But what place is this exactly?"

"Why, this is your universe!" Crazy Hand exclaimed. The crew were shocked to hear this, "This is what you guys have been living in throughout your whole life!"

"No way! That's awesome!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Where's our planet then! I want to see what our world looks like from out here!" Usopp exclaimed.

"I can show you where, but my brother always told me to never meddle with one's dreams, and that they could only discover out on their own." Crazy Hand pointed out, "And I remember a certain someone who wants to draw a map of the entire world one day, and I don't want to spoil that out."

The crew then looked at Nami, who only smiled, "I'm somewhat glad you said that." She said, "I can figure what our world looks like on my own."

"Good! You see, I'm not that irresponsibibleh as everyone thinks I am." Crazy Hand said, mispronouncing 'Irresponsible' wrong as he sighed upon looking at the stars, "Yep, it's truly nice looking at all this. You can see how worlds are made, and what kind of people they have in it."

"Oh, that reminds me of something important!" Luffy said upon realization, "Isn't it true that worlds have to do sex to make new worlds?"

"That again, Luffy!" Sanji asked furiously, "We already agreed that's not how worlds are born!"

"Actually, he's right; worlds have to do sex to make new ones." Crazy Hand said plainly.

"WHAT!" The whole crew, except for Luffy and Robin, exclaimed in disbelief.

"I knew it! I told you guys that I was right!" Luffy said with his usual happy smile.

"Well, to be honest, that's not the only way worlds are born." Crazy Hand said. With a twirl of his finger, the scenario of space then had more stars, and more galaxies to behold. "There are actually billions and billions of ways for worlds to be born, depending what kind of universe they are in. Star creatures turning into worlds; Magical hands like me creating one world; you name it, it happened."

"So, any kind of world can be born differently, even though we think it's just ridiculous?" Zoro asked.

"Exactly." Crazy Hand said, "But you know, even though that we might exist in different universes, we all share the same thing at the same time, and people don't even realize this. For example, you read a comic book about some dark-looking hero beating up an evil clown, of course, you may think it's just some fake story, but actually, that whole story is real in another dimension, or even in another world in some different universe. Another example would be a guy making a video game out of me and my brother with the smashers fighting each other all the time just for fun or for some hardcore competition; that's fake for the people that live in that guy's world, but it's real to most others. I mean, come on; I'm right here in the flesh, aren't I!"

"It's true then… we all share the same qualities, but use them differently depending on the universe we live in." Robin said, looking more amazed at this than ever.

"And everything you see here is just a small part of the entire cosmos population." Crazy Hand stated, "In fact, I actually know how many planets there are as of now."

"Really! How many are there!" Chopper asked anxiously.

"I'm so glad that you asked that…" Crazy Hand chuckled before clearing his throat, "Approximately, the number of worlds out there are… OVER NINE-THOUSSAAANNNDDDD!" Crazy Hand then bursted into laughter while falling on his back, "HAAAHAHAHAHHAHAA! OH MY GOD, THAT NEVER GET'S OLD! HAAAHAHAAAA!"

"Hya hya hya! I don't know why, but that sounded so funny!" Luffy laughed while clapping, while everyone else didn't get it.

"Ohohooo… ooh, that was great; I remembered some guy saying that a long time ago." Crazy Hand said before floating again, "Ahem, so like I was saying, there are like billions and billions of worlds out there, and I don't really know myself how many they are."

"This is all very interesting, but what does this have to do with Obscurum?" Nami asked. Crazy Hand lets out a sigh again.

"I'm getting to that. Sheesh…" Crazy Hand said. He then snapped his fingers, causing the stars and the galaxies to grow even smaller, but this also made more stars to appear. The Strawhat pirates watched in awe as they were now seeing a whole collage of different kinds of stars and galaxies than ever before. The cloudless night where you can see the stars is nothing compared to this spectacular scenery.

"Whoa! What universe is this!" Franky asked.

"This is not just a universe… this is all of them! What you're seeing here is everything that life has to offer." Crazy Hand said happily.

"This is so amazing! I never knew something so big could exist!" Chopper exclaimed happily.

"Okay, this is starting to look a little extreme." Zoro said, a little impressed at his surroundings. Zoro then noticed some transparent walls that were all connected, and were formed around most of the space background. "Oi, what are those walls for?"

"Those are the cosmical boundaries; they are what keep everything in place like a jigsaw puzzle." Crazy Hand explained, "There are three kinds of boundaries: The white ones are the dimensional boundaries; they bound dimensions from each other. Say if you exploring in space, and you end up on a dimension boundary. If you go through it, you'll end up in the opposite end of the dimension you are in. It's kinda like going around the world, but you always end up going in circles."

"I see, it's like an endless loop with no way to get out of it." Robin said.

"Yep, but there are ways to make loopholes, but that is getting common on some worlds; I don't want to get into details, though." Crazy Hand said, "Anyway, the black ones are the universal boundaries; they are what keep their dimensions, including their universes in place. They have the same properties like the dimension ones, only they are stronger to penetrate through, and tough to come by. It's really rare to find your way through them." Crazy Hand then pointed at some white boundaries, which were many, by the way, "And lastly, the golden ones are what my brother and I like to call, 'The Unlimited boundaries.'; these are what keep multiple realities in their place. Every reality has their own category, and they are all lined up as you can see here."

"I can rarely tell which one is which; they all look the same to me." Usopp said.

"This place is part of the layout of the entire thing." Crazy Hand explained, "There are atleast eight kinds of realities. You guys are from the top unlimited reality, 'Ganmaenima'." Crazy Hand said, pointing at the unlimited universes in the north section, "Now, the Master door has the ability to get through these boundaries, and it is the only transport of it's kind that is so easy to use. Thanks to that door, you ended up from here," Crazy Hand moved his finger, and pointed to the unlimited universes in the northeast section, "To all the way over here, in the unlimited reality, 'Egasm', and right into the Mushroom Kingdom of the Nintendo universe; one of Egasm's populated universes."

"We went that far?" Sanji said in awe.

"The worlds we been on are mostly separated in different dimensions from the looks of things here. How did we keep crossing the boundaries though?" Nami asked.

"Whenever you use the Master Door with a single heart, the door leads to next one that is close by from where you are." Crazy hand explained, "Even if the next heart may be in the same dimension you are in, another heart from another dimension may be closer. You see, not all dimensions are separated from each other; they sometimes occupy the same place and time, so you might actually be transported to the same space, but in a different dimension. You might have just gone back and forth looking for all those hearts upon trying to get here. And you must have crossed over to the Konami universe, where Snake lives since my bro hid a heart there too."

"Whoa… so this is a mystery space." Luffy concluded with a straight face.

"And where are we now out all of these planets?" Franky asked.

"We're right here…" Crazy Hand said, pointing at the very center between all of the eight unlimited realities. "You see that big shiny star? That's where we are now. We're are in the center of everything, man!"

"That's so cool!" Luffy said excitedly.

"I think I can see unlimited boundaries around that star." Nami said while squinting her eyes.

"Yep, there are boundaries around it." Crazy Hand said proudly, "Let me say this now, and that we are in the first universe that was ever born, 'The Grand Universe'; the only universe with no dimensions and is the smallest one in existence. This universe is the heart of everything! Think of everything here as a tree; this universe is the tree, and everything else are the branches. The tree is the heart to keep the branches alive. Without the tree, there are no branches. So, if this universe is gone, the rest of the universes will be too."

"Th-That sounds a little scary." Chopper said worryingly.

"Don't worry, this universe can never be destroyed!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, "But… all of this wasn't here from the start. Let me show you what all of space looks like from the very beginning." Crazy Hand then snapped his fingers, and all of a sudden, all the stars and galaxies were gone, including all of the boundaries.

"What happened! Where did everything go!" Usopp asked.

"This is how it all started. We are now looking at the Grand Universe from it's birth." Crazy Hand said as he then pointed forward, "And right there in the center… are what I want you to pay close attention to."

The Strawhat crew looked forward, and saw six silhouettes, facing their backs against each other. They all had their own body colors: yellow, green, blue, red, white, and black. Their eye colors were darker colors of their bodies as the silhouettes remained stationary in the center of space.

"Who are they?" Luffy asked. Crazy Hand watched the silhouettes in silence before responding.

"… The Emperor Gods; the creators of everything: Terran, Ventos, Stillidia, Adusto, Luminarious, and Obscus." Crazy Hand said bluntly, "They were the first living creatures that the Grand Universe gave life too upon it's birth. These gods have powers beyond anything I have seen before, and I have seen alot. They are what made everything we are today."

"Just those six! This is incredible…" Robin said in awe. The crew then watched how the Emperor Gods slowly flew away from each other, and faced their palms together.

"What are they doing?" Zoro asked.

"They're making their own worlds, so they can live as spirits inside them for all eternity." Crazy Hand said.

The Emperor Gods created a sphere, which had the same color as their bodies as they created their own worlds as big as their chests. As soon as they created a proper structure of the worlds, they raised their hands, and released their energies throughout the Grand universe, creating massive shockwaves that collided upon each other, turning into streams. The Strawhat pirates were at alert, but since it was just an illusion, they didn't felt anything from the waves. This went on for a while until the Gods' worlds were finally complete.

"Those are the first six planets that were ever made by the Emperor Gods." Crazy Hand explained, "All these worlds are a part of space system known as, 'The Monarch Ring.'; a ring of the worlds created by the Emperor Gods." Crazy Hand then pointed at the yellow world Terran made, "That world is Terrenus, which Terran made." Crazy Hand then pointed to the other worlds, "That one is Ventosus; created by Ventos. Stillicidia; created by Stillidia. Adustum; created by Adusto. Luminarium; created by Luminarious." Crazy Hand then hesitatingly pointed at the last world. "And Obscurum; created by Obscus."

"Wait, so Obscurum is one of the first worlds created!" Sanji asked.

"That means that Emperor God guy is a bad guy!" Luffy yelled out.

"No, no! He is not a bad guy! Just let me finish!" Crazy Hand yelled furiously, "When the Emperor Gods created these worlds, they created the elements we see in our everyday lives, which is earth, wind, water, fire, light, and darkness. Each of those worlds represent one of those elements, which is obvious which is which from the start thanks to their respective colors." Crazy Hand then pointed at the colorful streams around the cosmos the Emperor Gods created, "Those streams are what makes living creatures come to existence. Watch as how they make life in these worlds."

The streams of the each element flew towards every planet close to them, with each one of a different element combining, creating a living creature on the surface. More of them came to life as all the streams disappeared. Chopper noticed that a massive amount of streams were combining between the center of the six planets.

"What's going on down there!" Chopper asked. Crazy Hand looked down, and chuckled upon seeing the streams.

"Ooohh… this is how my brother and I was born." Crazy Hand said happily. The crew looked at him in shock before looking back at the center. The Emperor Gods turned around to see it as well as a bright light of rainbow-ish colors blinded everyone until it dimmed into two small creatures, which appeared to be two small hands.

"Is that… you!" Franky asked.

"Yeah! That's me and my brother as babies! Oh, look at me; I was so cute!" Crazy Hand said, looking at his past self, who was moving his fingers and himself uncontrollably like a crazy baby. The one next to him was the Master Hand's past self, but unlike his brother, he was in perfect control of himself as he raised himself to look at his creators.

"Hey, that must be Master Hand! He looks so cool!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Hold on, if that's you and Master Hand, then that must mean… !" Usopp gasped.

"Yep, we are immortal! We can never die, man! That gives me a heck loads of time to do whatever I want!" Crazy Hand said as he then rubbed the back of his index finger with his thumb, "So, yeah; we were like the pets to the Emperor Gods, and my brother always looked up to them as his role models, or something like that."

The young Master Hand happily flew around his creators, while Crazy Hand stopped shaking, and barely noticed them with a closed fist. The crew then observed as the Emperor Gods suddenly started to disappear, much to the young Master Hand's dismay. They turned into streams of their respective elements, and flew into their own worlds, never to be seen again. The young Master Hand then looked sad as the young Crazy Hand went to comfort him. This made Luffy, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky to cry.

"Ughh… that's so sad! They practically left you guys alone! Waaaahhh!" Franky cried as tears poured out of his eyes.

"Naturally, if they intended to become spirits of their worlds, they would obviously disappear." Zoro said bluntly.

"Meh, it's not like they were really gone; they were just part of their own planets now." Crazy Hand said, "So we weren't alone at all. In fact, we never felt better letting us watch over the worlds for them." Crazy Hand then twirled his finger around, causing time to accelerate as the crew saw the young hands grew into adults. "Milleniums have passed, and my brother and I finally stopped growing to this point of immortality, where I will forever remain gorgeous, and him forever to be smart and ugly. We got bored just watching the worlds in the middle of nowhere, so we finally used our powers to create our own world, the Smashworld."

The crew then see the hands facing each other while creating a mass of energy throughout their palms. The energy grew bigger until it became a world, which was right above the center of the Monarch Ring. Past Master Hand and Crazy Hand flew into it's atmosphere, and started making some terrain.

"Our world is above the worlds Emperor gods created, so we can watch over them. That makes sense, huh?" Crazy Hand asked as he then snapped his fingers again. The scenery then changed into Terrenus' land, which was mostly of earth, and had cities that looked ancient, but new at the same time. Various kinds of creatures coexisted upon these lands as they all seemed happy and peaceful. "This is what Terrenus looked like after 10,000 years upon it's creation. You can see that people adapted to the element of earth."

Crazy Hand snapped his fingers again, and the scenery changed into Ventosus' atmosphere. The lands were actually floating in midair, and most of the buildings and houses looked like various kinds of windmills. There was always a hard wind whistling by, but the people didn't care. In fact, they had the ability to walk on air to get to different lands, so falling down to endless pits below the lands were out of the question for them. "This is Ventosus. As you can see, it's always windy here, and flying around here is a normal thing."

"Awesome!" Luffy and Chopper exclaimed with big happy eyes.

The scenery then changed into Stillicidium's atmosphere. The whole world was covered in water, but in the inside, it appeared that the water was like clouds as their was land right through the water surface, kinda like the city of Atlantis. There are several water fountains in water parks, which were everywhere, and there was a giant blue castle in the center of a town capitol. "Stillicidium; the world of water. Everyone here are also cool with each other, and are pretty smart in how to use their infinite water supply."

The scenery then changed into Adustum's atmosphere. The sky was dark, and the towns were big, filled with strong warriors. There was even molten lava flowing around some villages and towns. The crew could see warriors meditating, while standing on their poles that were fire-proofed, and they also were supported from the ground where the lava flowed, giving off a radiating heat to the warriors above, but they didn't seem to be bothered with that. "The world of fire, Adustum. This place is nothing but hot, hot, HOT! These people train hard to one day grow as strong as fire itself."

"This sounds like my kind of world." Zoro said with a smirk.

The scenery then changed into Luminarium's atmosphere. It was a bright day, with white skies and grey clouds as the environment looked like the city of ancient greece, only the towns looked bigger and advanced. Just like the previous worlds mentioned, this world was very peaceful as all the people were very happy with each other. "Luminarium, the world of eternal light! It's always daytime here, because the world emits it's own light everyday."

The scenery then changed into the atmosphere the crew have been wanting to see. "Huh! Is this… !" Nami asked in shock. They were now looking Obscurum's atmosphere, but to the crew's surprise, it wasn't anything as they imagined it. The world actually looked peaceful, with black buildings with white outlines. It was always night time and the towns itself looked eerie, yet relaxing to be in. The streets were filled with lamp posts with purple flames to illuminate the streets, and the people there were also good with each other, and they have grown used to the dark that they can even see through it.

"Obscurum… this is how it looked like back then." Crazy Hand said, "There was nothing evil about, there was nothing scary about it; it was just another world that has a dark look, that's all."

"I never imagined the world to look like this." Sanji said. The scenery then changed back into the perfect outview of the Monarch Ring.

"The people of these worlds all have the elements from the Emperor Gods, so they were all alike, despite living in different worlds. Even the newborns after the worlds' creations have these elements; whenever a couple have a baby, that baby will have some of the elements from his or her dad and mom. To put it simple, everyone is completely the same, only different in thoughts. Heh heh…" Crazy Hand explained. Nami was a little baffled as she looked at Crazy Hand.

"This is all wonderful… but this still doesn't make any sense. What does all this have to do with us? You said that Obscurum was the reason why we exist, but if the Emperor Gods only made these planets, how did the other realities exist in the first place?" Nami asked.

R.O.B. then lowered his head sadly as Crazy Hand then lowered his fingers again, "… Well, let's just say that the peace of all the planets didn't last forever… especially those two." Crazy Hand said as he pointed at Luminarium and Obscurum. The scenery changed into one Luminarium's parks, where the crew the could see some kids playing with a ball. One of them couldn't catch the ball, and went over to pick up. As he did though, he looked up, and noticed a black star, which was Obscurum.

"The people of Luminarium are always fond of the light, but it bothered them seeing a dark world just next to theirs." Crazy Hand explained as the crew could see some people looking at Obscurum with a concerned look. The scenery changed back into Obscurum's town, where the people of Obscurum acted the same towards Luminarium, "Same goes with Obscurum; they like the dark so much, they couldn't stand Luminarium's light. It was like poison to them, and they didn't know how to cure it."

The crew could then see time shifting to the several decades more, and saw the people of Luminarium having arguments and fights, including Obscurum, with people in hospitals crying over their losses of family members. "Time moved on, and everything was getting a little nuts. Whenever someone has an accident, a dreadful loss, or losing your will to live, they blame it on their counterpart world. As every generation passed by, the peace between the planets were growing extremely thin. They couldn't take it anymore!"

"What did you and Master Hand do?" Robin asked.

"We couldn't do anything! We only exist to watch over the planets, not tell it's people what to do." Crazy Hand said, "But luckily, there were some guys that were against this hatred to the opposite worlds."

The crew then saw two old men with long beards reaching down to their knee levels. They were standing on a floating platform in the middle of space between Luminarium and Obscurum. They were accompanied by their knights as they stood alongside their masters.

"Those two are the rulers of their planets. The one on the right is Luminare VII; ruler of Luminarium. And the one on the left is Obstenine XII; the ruler of Obscurum. These two were the pure-blooded descendants of their ancestors, who were praised by billions due to them being chosen to rule the world in peace by their respective Emperor gods; Luminarious and Obscus. And the guys with them are their most-trusted men, willing to do anything for their masters and their worlds."

The two elders smiled at each other as they extended their hands for a shake. "These two were the only guys that could have brought peace to both planets, and all they had to do was to shake hands." Crazy Hand said, "But… some things are not that easy."

STAB!

The elders cried in pain as they could see a blade piercing through their chests. They both slowly looked over their shoulder to see their own trusted knight, stabbing them in the back. The crew watched in horror, with Nami covering her mouth in shock as the knights pulled back their blades, allowing the elders to collapse on the platforms dead.

"… Stabbed in the back by their own kind. Those two had no regrets, for they, and the rest of the people of their worlds didn't agree with their elders' point of view, and they believed that the only way to live in peace was to destroy one another… and that was how the very first war began." Crazy Hand said sternly.

The knights glared at each other, and yelled as they clashed swords at each other, creating a blinding light that blinded the crew for a second. When the light was gone, the crew looked forward, and couldn't believe their eyes. They saw white and black battleships blowing up each other, and then the scenery constantly changed from Luminarium and Obscurum, showing how everything was getting destroyed by the war.

"What the hell is all this!" Franky asked.

"The first war ever." Crazy Hand said, "It's the first one, yet it may seem to be the worst one of all. There was never a cease fire, and people were killing each other everyday. They all have created powerful resources, and had powerful warriors that can't die from several gunshots and dismemberment. These guys lost all emotion, and couldn't stop what they were doing. It's nothing but destruction here, and this lasted nearly a century."

"A century…" Luffy said in disbelief.

"All of this is wrong… they are all fighting just because they don't like each other? Why live for that?" Chopper asked sadly.

"Don't ask me… that's just how most mortals are, I guess." Crazy Hand replied, "… The war was reaching towards it's end, and each side were preparing something big… they were going to summon their Emperor Gods to destroy their enemies."

The scenery changed into a split screen of Luminarium and Obscurum, with countless of their priests praying around a giant summoning circle, where there were there tons of people, even children, chained to the floor, "In order to summon their Emperor Gods, they had to sacrifice countless of lives, and the strange part… was that the sacrifices weren't forced to take their lives away, but they insisted on it to make that long war go away."

The crew then saw the priests raise their arms as the summoning circles on both glowed white in Luminarium, and black at Obscurum. The people on the circles collapsed instantly as the element corresponding to their Emperor God flew out of their bodies, and combined together as they flew out of the planet like a rocket. The both planet's elements then remained afloat just outside their worlds, standing in opposite ends of the space fleet between them.

The elements then formed into the Emperor Gods; Luminarium and Obscus. The people from both planets were thrilled to see their gods alive again, and applauded while cheering to crush their enemy. The two gigantic beings looked at each other as the space fleets between suddenly stopped firing, and looked at them in awe. Luminarious then created a giant sword of light from his palm, while Obscus raised his hands as they became sharp claws.

"My brother was shocked to see this happen, and tried to stop the Emperor Gods from attacking each other." The crew could then see the past Master Hand flying inbetween the gods, and tried reasoning with them, but to no avail as they moved towards each other. Luminarium and Obscus flew through their people, knocking most of them off course as their own ships collided with eachother before exploding. They both then engaged in a tremendous battle between light and dark as they clashed their weapons, creating a god-like shockwave that knocked the past Master Hand away. The crew could see the past Crazy Hand catching him before forcefully taking his brother away from the fight.

"This is absolutely terrible. Couldn't they just stop!" Usopp asked.

"They couldn't; they were just summons, and had to do what their summoners wanted them to do." Crazy Hand said as the battle between the two Emperor gods waged on. "These two were evenly matched, and the only way that one of them could win was by sheer luck."

"Who won then?" Nami asked.

"… Have you ever heard of a phrase that the light will always triumph against the darkness? This is where it came from." Crazy Hand explained. The crew saw Luminarious swinging his sword up, knocking Obscus' claws away from his chest, leaving him wide open. Luminarious then grabbed his sword with both hands, and brought it down on Obscus. "The Emperor God of Light, Luminarious, won the battle, and ended the war… but with a price."

SLASH!

Obscus was slashed vertically across his body as he was separating while Luminarious just watched him die. Obscus then let out a loud roar before glowing in darkness. Both the people of Luminarium and Obscurum watched in fear as Obscus fell into his planet, crushing everything he landed on. The people of Obscurum cried in agony as their world was falling apart due to that crash, and then the whole planet, including Obscus, exploded.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!

Obscurum exploded into dark energy, engulfing everything in it's path. Even though it was just an illusion, the crew covered themselves from the great explosion. Luminarious then sacrificed himself to protect the worlds as he self destructed, engulfing every world of the Monarch Ring with a light barrier, including the Smashworld from the dreaded darkness. The people from all the worlds panicked as Obscurum's explosion did something else. Luminarious may have saved the worlds from the darkness, but once the explosion touched the worlds' light barriers, it released some of the worlds elemental properties into the far depths of space.

"Oi, look what's happening!" Sanji yelled. He and the crew watched as the elements that were released from their worlds started to combine to make some new worlds that we are all familiar with. The light and dark elements then formed into the cosmical boundaries Crazy Hand spoke earlier, and formed around to where they were made. Every star was born in it's own way and time slowly afterwards as the Obscurum's explosion then stopped.

"… No way." Usopp said in disbelief. The entire crew were shocked to see how every other reality was created.

"So… it was thanks to that war, we are all here?" Nami asked in shock.

"Uh-huh…" Crazy Hand said, "Every new world was created by the same elements the Emperor Gods used to make their own worlds. All the living creatures from those worlds, and the worlds that have yet to come during that time, have the same elemental properties as the people from the original worlds. You guys also have them too."

"Really! Whoa!" Chopper said while touching his tummy to try and feel the elements in him.

"I understand now… we're all just an accident from some war." Robin said sternly.

"Okay, if you're going to put it like that, then that will sound bad." Crazy Hand stated, "Come on, you're alive and happy, aren't ya? That's all that matters."

The crew were silent as they looked back at the Monarch ring, "What happened to the people in Luminarium?" Luffy asked.

Crazy Hand snapped his fingers, and the scenery changed into one of Luminarium's towns precisely after the explosion. Homes were destroyed, many people were dead, everything was almost in ruin.

"This is what happened after the war. Even though these guys won, they didn't feel like they did." Crazy Hand said. The crew could see many soldiers from Obscurum, who invaded Luminarium before the explosion, seeing that their homeworld was no longer there. Many of them started to weep and collapse on their knees as the Luminariums watched in horror upon their grief.

"The people of Luminarium realized that the whole war was a mistake. They lost their resources, their families, and for what; just to experience destruction for the first time, that's what!" Crazy Hand said furiously, "But out all of this chaos, there was one good thing that came out of it."

The crew could see one person of Luminarium walking up to an Obscurum soldier that weeped on his hands and knees. The soldier looked up to see the Luminarium, who was looking back at him. The Luminarium gave off a weak smile, and slowly reached his hand towards the Obscurum soldier. The soldier was reluctant at first, but upon looking at the man's eyes, he knew that it was no trick, and that the man looked very sincere.

The soldier smiled, and reached out for the Luminarium's hand, and shook it upon getting up. Both the people of Luminarium, and the remaining people of Obscurum there, smiled as they then applauded.

"After all that time hating each other, they finally made peace with that handshake that could have prevented this war from ever happening. They then began to rebuild Luminarium's nation, where both the people of Luminarium and Obscurum could both live peacefully from now on. As the generations went on, they soon forgot about the whole war ever happened, and most people decided to forget about Obscurum too, since it does remind them of the war. It was sad and stupid, but they were finally happy together, and that's all that counts."

"Ugh… that's truly great! Ahhh!" Franky cried in joy.

"I'm glad they worked it out." Nami said, "But was Obscurum truly destroyed that day?"

"Not exactly." Crazy Hand said. The scenery changed into the outview of what remained of Obscurum after it exploded. There was nothing but a perfectly shaped sphere. "That used to be Obscurum's core, but now it's just a floating rock. Nothing lives on it, and it's just there as part of something to remember Obscurum by. My brother examined it up close, and said that he couldn't sense anything inside. He was pretty sad about what happened that day after the war, but he got over it."

"He seemed to be very fond with the Emperor Gods; I'm not surprised he was upset." Zoro said with his arms crossed.

"That war was truly a disaster. Did something like that ever happened here again?" Robin asked.

"No, no… everything was all cool later on." Crazy Hand said, "Until several millenniums after the war, something else happened."

"Like what?" Luffy asked.

"Well, do you remember when I said that when a couple gives birth, the baby receives a combination of elements from it's parents? There is a little more to that." Crazy Hand explained, "When you get born, the elements you have affect your life. Every element you possess is very important: four of the elements, earth, wind, water, and fire are what you are made of. Light and darkness, however, are like the most important elements, because they affect the way you are. The light element reflects on the good things, and the darkness reflects on the bad things. You need a perfect balance between the two, or you'll be messed up. If you have one element bigger than the other, you'll have no control over most of your actions, but at the same time, you would care less, making you a total jerkface."

"Ohh, I see. So they're like mystery feelings." Luffy said while nodding.

"But I'm not saying that you have to be completely in balance of them! Almost nobody in this entire cosmos has balanced their light and darkness, especially you guys!" Crazy Hand said cheerfully.

"Thanks…" Nami said sarcastically.

"Oh, and there is one more thing you should know." Crazy Hand said as the scenery changed into a good view of Monarch Ring system, "Whenever someone dies, their elements go back to their respective worlds of the Monarch ring." The crew then noticed the streams of each element going back to their worlds, and then some time later, they see streams of each element leaving the worlds, and going back to the other realities, "You can only see the element life in this universe, not the other ones. Whenever an element life returns to their worlds, you see, the worlds feed upon the element energy from people that just died, and gives off new element life to creatures that can't be born as you guys were. Think of the Monarch Ring System as a life cycle; there can be no life at all if it weren't for these worlds the Emperor Gods made a long time ago."

"That's pretty big." Sanji commented, "But if that's true, where do the dark element life go if Obscurum was destroyed?"

"That's the thing I was going to talk about." Crazy Hand said while clearing his throat. The scenery changed as the crew could see the perfect view of Obscurum's core. "Usually, the worlds give off new element life once after gaining old ones, but in Obscurum's case… it only receives and never gives back."

The crew could then see the dark elemental lifestreams going into Obscurum's core, but none were coming out. The core was then growing darker, and somewhat bigger in the process. "Since Obscurum had nothing to give back, it just kept receiving dark element life. My brother and I thought that this was a good thing, and that if Obscurum get's enough element life, it would return to the beautiful land it once was, and give off the element life like just like the other worlds, but we were wrong. Many millenniums have passed, and the world just kept growing into this big black ball of dark energy. We didn't know if this was bad, but we found out it was as we saw what it was doing to Luminarium."

The scenery changed into one of Luminarium's towns, and the crew could see people going berserk at each other, while those who were calm remained safe inside their houses. "We noticed that Obscurum was now letting out some dark elemental life at Luminarium, but those didn't make life, it just revived people, and not the very nice kind, might I mention. This was also happening to other four worlds, and things were in chaos again! We figured that Obscurum was reviving the people with the most darkness inside them. And the scariest part of all, is that the host doesn't have to be dead! People that are near deathpoint sometimes allow their element life to escape from their bodies, and Obscurum absorbs their dark element life, and makes an exact clone of them, only in perfect shape."

"That's insane! Having one of them back is already enough for me!" Usopp exclaimed nervously.

"That's not all!" Crazy Hand continued, "You can also get messed up if you just look at Obscurum for a certain amount of time. Obscurum gives off this radiating feeling when you look at it. What you're feeling is your darkness level rising over it's peak, and that's very bad. Those who are not to used to such high levels will go berserk, and destroy anything they see. Not only that, but if you have an evil kind of spirit inside you, and you look at Obscurum for some time, that spirit will wake up, and take control over your body as your darkness."

"That explains what happened to Ocelot back on Arsenal! Ocelot must have looked at Obscurum long enough to awake the spirit of Liquid inside him!" Nami realized.

"This is getting scary!" Chopper said nervously.

"Don't worry; Luminarium did find a way to stop this." Crazy Hand pointed out. The scenery then changed into many people working together to find a way to stop Obscurum as they observed a man embracing a pure light from the skies. "A brave hero of Luminarium discovered a way to destroy Obscurum's power, and that way was to destroy the core itself using one of Luminarium's sacred powers, The Ray of Hope."

The hero's body then glowed brightly as his light elemental life streamed towards the skies into the ray of light from above the clouds. The light then shot out into outerspace, and formed a giant spell circle aiming towards Obscurum.

"The hero sacrificed himself in order to use the Ray of Hope. It's power was measured by the hope of countless of people, whether they are from Luminarium, or the other worlds of the Monarch Ring, the people's hope powered the ray of light strong enough to destroy the evil within Obscurum once and for all!"

The spell circle then created three additional circles as they all charged up a bright light before firing a gigantic beam, big enough to cover an entire world. The beam blasted through Obscurum's dark energy, and engulfed the core with pure light. The energy covering the world soon disintegrated as the beam vanished afterwards. The crew could see that the only thing remained was the core again.

"The plan worked, but it didn't finish the job. Obscurum's core was still active, but lost all it's elemental energy it gathered. The threat was gone, but it could come back again. Luminarium figured it was best to be prepared for the next time Obscurum acts all nuts, but they could still relax, since Obscurum takes milleniums just to gather some power again."

"I read some of this in a book I read in Dreamland." Robin said, "It stated that they knew nothing about Obscurum, but I find it strange that they were able to figure out how to destroy it."

"Oh, I knew that Dedede took that book from here!" Crazy Hand yelled, "He wanted the big book of everything, so he can look at his past 'accomplishments', but he ended up taking the hero's journal instead." Crazy Hand then remembered the hero of Luminarium, "Just like most others of Luminarium, he didn't knew what Obscurum was either, but he was hanging out with the people that did knew. They suggested him many ideas to stop it, but all of them involved sacrificing innocent people, and he didn't wanted to take lives away. When he was told about the ray of hope needing only one person of complete control of his light and dark properties, he insisted in becoming the sacrifice. After that day, nobody has forgotten about his heroic actions. That day turned out to be a holiday in the name of that hero. And they also have neat statues of him, including bronze ones!"

"A bronze statue! Cool!" Luffy said excitedly.

"What was the hero's name?" Zoro asked.

The scenery then changed into a steep cliff, where the hero stood tall and heroically. The crew couldn't see him well enough, but he was wearing short-sleeved leather jacket and pants, golden cuffs on his wrists and ankles, and he wore black gloves and shoes. Luffy looked in awe of the hero's appearance, even though he couldn't see him clearly.

"That's the hero that saved us all. His name was… Vorago Tabuu." Crazy Hand said. The crew then watched Vorago leave into the capitol. The scenery then once again changed back into the outview of the Monarch Ring system. "And that's that. That's all there is to this universe's history. We sure learned alot, huh, kiddies?"

"I liked the part where the hero saved everyone!" Chopper said happily.

"Yeah, me too! I wish I could have met him in person!" Luffy exclaimed happily.

"He was supaa for doing all that stuff for the worlds! He sure has some guts!" Franky praised.

"Heh heh, yeah! He was very great!" Crazy Hand said, before he then sounded serious, "He was really great… that his existence was crucial to our survival." The crew then looked at Crazy in confusion, "Imagine if he never existed; what do you think would've happened?"

"Um… I suppose somebody else would've taken the credit for sacrificing for the ray of hope, right?" Sanji said, "Afterall, he couldn't have been the only one with a perfect light and dark property. You said so yourself, that there are some people with that perfect balance, and he might've just been one of the few in his world.

"True… but during that time… he was the only one with that perfection. No one else in this universe, but him." Crazy Hand said, "He was the only person who could use the Ray of Hope out of his entire generation in the Grand Universe, because it could only be activated with the perfection of the user's elements, and no one else had that perfect balance. If he didn't exist, we wouldn't be having this discussion right now."

"What are you trying to tell us, Crazy?" Nami asked a little worried.

"You guys need to know how scary the Obscurum of now truly is." Crazy Hand said as the scenery then changed into the laying of all the unlimited realities, with the grand universe in the center of it all. "You know that you can see stars from other dimensions and universes? You can also see worlds from other realities, meaning that no matter where you lived, you can always see Obscurum throughout those stars. If Vorago didn't exist, Obscurum would've continued recieving more dark element life, and reviving more fiends to every planet in existence. That is because Obscurum is part of the Grand Universe, the heart and lifeforce to all the other realities. If something were to happen in this universe that day, it would affect every other universe as well."

"But it didn't; we're okay now!" Usopp exclaimed, "Sure, Obscurum is alive again, but Luminarium could just call out the Ray of Hope again! I'm sure there is somebody in Luminarium with a perfect balance of their elements by now, right!"

"No… no, it's not that easy." Crazy Hand said, "The Ray of Hope only shines every ten thousand years on Luminarium, and we were just several months away until that ten thousandth year day approaches, but it's going to be too late by then. My brother calculated that Obscurum would revive again on that day I mentioned, but it's somehow came back sooner than he thought!" Crazy Hand then grew silent, "… And if we don't do anything to stop it, it's going to keep growing and growing. There is no limit to it's power, and if it gets big enough, it will have the ability to fully suck the dark elemental life out of a world nearby, including the ones from the unlimited realities."

"Obscurum takes life out of planets too!" Franky asked.
